DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

COMES NOW Plaintiffs ANGELA HOWARD, MONIQUE GALLEGOS, PATRICIA RICO, and YVONNE SAZMA ("Plaintiffs"), who allege and complain against Defendants ANTELOPE VALLEY HOSPITAL, INC.; ANTELOPE VALLEY HOSPITAL FOUNDATION; and DOES 1 to 100, inclusive (collectively, "Defendants") as follows:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. This is a class action lawsuit seeking unpaid wages and interest thereon for failure to pay wages for all hours worked at minimum and straight time wages; failure to pay overtime wages at the proper overtime rate of pay; failure to authorize or permit all legally required and/or compliant meal periods or pay meal period premium wages; failure to authorize or permit all legally required and/or compliant rest periods or pay rest period premium wages; indemnification for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred by employees in direct consequence of discharging their duties; statutory penalties for failure to timely pay earned wages during employment; statutory penalties for failure to provide accurate wage statements; statutory waiting time penalties in the form of continuation wages for failure to timely pay employees all wages due upon separation of employment; injunctive relief and other equitable relief; reasonable attorneys' fees pursuant to Labor Code sections 218.5, 226(e) and 1194; costs; and interest brought on behalf of Plaintiffs and others similarly situated.

2. Further, this is also a Private Attorneys' General Act of 2004, Lab. Code §§ 2698, et seq. ("PAGA") representative action brought by Plaintiff ANGELA HOWARD, Plaintiff MONIQUE GALLEGOS, and Plaintiff YVONNE SAZMA (together, the "PAGA Plaintiffs") on behalf of the State of California, themselves, and other current and former aggrieved employees of Defendants who worked as hourly non-exempt employees in California during the relevant time period seeking civil penalties associated with Defendants' violation of the Labor Code based on Defendants' failure to pay wages for all hours worked at minimum wage; failure to authorize or permit all legally required and/or compliant meal periods or pay meal period premium wages; failure to authorize or permit all legally required and/or compliant rest periods or pay rest period premium wages; indemnification for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred by employees in direct consequence of discharging their duties; failure to timely pay earned wages during employment; failure to provide accurate wage statements; and failure to timely pay employees all wages due upon separation of employment. PAGA Plaintiffs seek on a representative basis, following notice to the Labor and Workforce Development Agency, civil penalties, reasonable attorneys' fees pursuant to Labor Code section 2699(g)(1) and costs brought on behalf of PAGA Plaintiffs, the State of California, and others aggrieved employees.

3. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Judicial Council of California enacted Emergency Rule 9 to the California Rules of Court, which provided that, notwithstanding any other law, the statutes of limitations and repose for civil causes of action that exceed 180 days are tolled from April 6, 2020, until October 1, 2020.

II. JURIDISCTION AND VENUE

Avenue J, Lancaster, CA 93534,; more than two-thirds of putative class members are California citizens; the principal violations of California law occurred in California; no other class actions have been filed against Defendants in the last four (4) years alleging wage and hour violations; the conduct of Defendants forms a significant basis for Plaintiffs' and putative class members' claims; and Plaintiffs and putative class members seek significant relief from Defendants.

5. This Court further has jurisdiction over the claims of PAGA Plaintiffs and all other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees because PAGA Plaintiffs' lawsuit seeks civil penalties on behalf of themselves, all other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees, and the State of California in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000); Defendants employed PAGA Plaintiffs and all other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees; and the injuries to PAGA Plaintiffs and all other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees occurred in locations throughout California, including but not limited to Los Angeles County, at 1600 W. IV. DESCRIPTION OF ILLEGAL PAY PRACTICES

20. Pursuant to the applicable Industrial Welfare Commission ("IWC") Wage Order ("Wage Order"), codified at California Code of Regulations, title 8, section 11050, Defendants are employers of Plaintiffs within the meaning of Wage Order 5 and applicable Labor Code sections. Therefore, each of these Defendants is jointly and severally liable for the wrongs complained of herein in violation of the Wage Order and the Labor Code.

21. Failure to pay wages for all hours worked at the legal minimum and straight time wages: Defendants employed many of their employees, including Plaintiffs, as hourly non-exempt employees. In California, an employer is required to pay hourly employees for all "hours worked," which includes all time that an employee is under the control of the employer and all time the employee is suffered and permitted to work. This includes the time an employee spends, either directly or indirectly, performing services which inure to the benefit of the employer.

22. Labor Code sections 1194 and 1197 require an employer to compensate employees for all "hours worked" at least at the minimum wage rate of pay as established by the IWC and the Wage Orders.

23. Plaintiffs and similarly situated hourly non-exempt employees worked more minutes per shift than Defendants credited them with having worked. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees all wages at the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked due to Defendants' policies, practices, and/or procedures including, but not limited to:

(a) Since the outbreak of COVID-19, requiring Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees to arrive prior to their start shift to undergo off-the-clock COVID-19 screenings, including temperature checks and medical questionnaires, prior to being permitted to clock in before their start shift; and

(b) Requiring Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees to keep and/or monitor their employer-issued cellphones during their off-the-clock meal breaks resulting in interrupted and/or on-duty meal periods.

24. Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees were not paid for this time resulting in Defendants' failure to pay minimum and straight time wages for all the hours Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees worked.

25. Therefore, Defendants suffered, permitted, and required their hourly non-exempt employees to be subject to Defendants' control without paying wages for that time. This resulted in Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees working time for which they were not compensated any wages, in violation of Labor Code sections 1194, 1197, and Wage Order 5.

26. Failure to pay wages for overtime hours worked at the overtime rate of pay and/or failure to pay overtime wages at the proper overtime rate of pay: California Labor Code § 510 provides that employees in California shall not be employed more than eight hours in any workday or forty (40) hours in a workweek unless they receive additional compensation beyond their regular wages in amounts specified by law.

27. California Labor Code §§ 1194 and 1198 provide that employees in California shall not be employed more than eight hours in any workday unless they receive additional compensation beyond their regular wages in amounts specified by law. Additionally, California Labor Code § 1198 states that the employment of an employee for longer hours than those fixed by the IWC is unlawful.

28. At all times relevant hereto, Plaintiffs and the Class have worked more than eight hours in a workday and/or more than forty (40) hours in a workweek, as employees of Defendants.

29. At all times relevant hereto, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and the Class overtime compensation for the hours they have worked in excess of the maximum hours permissible by law as required by California Labor Code §§ 510 and 1198.

30. By virtue of Defendants' unlawful failure to pay additional premium rate compensation to the Plaintiff and the Class for their overtime hours worked, Plaintiffs and the Class have suffered, and will continue to suffer, damages in amounts which are presently unknown to them but which exceed the jurisdictional minimum of this Court and which will be ascertained according to proof at trial.

31. By failing to keep adequate time records required by Labor Code § 1174(d), Defendants have made it difficult to calculate the full extent of overtime compensation due to Plaintiffs and the Class.

32. Plaintiffs and the Class also request recovery of overtime compensation according to proof, interest, attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to California Labor Code § 1194(a), as well as the assessment of any statutory penalties against Defendants, in a sum as provided by the California Labor Code and/or other statutes.

33. California Labor Code § 204 requires employers to provide employees with all wages due and payable twice a month. The Wage Orders also provide that every employer shall pay to each employee, on the established payday for the period involved, overtime wages for all overtime hours worked in the payroll period. Defendants failed to provide Plaintiffs and the Class with all compensation due, in violation of California Labor Code § 204.

34. Failure to authorize or permit all legally required and compliant meal periods and/or failure to pay meal period premium wages: Defendants often employed hourly non-exempt employees, including the named Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees, for shifts longer than five (5) hours in length and shifts longer than ten (10) hours in length.

35. California law requires an employer to authorize or permit an uninterrupted meal period of no less than thirty (30) minutes no later than the end of the employee's fifth hour of work and a second meal period no later than the employee's tenth hour of work. Labor Code §512; Wage Order 5, §11. If the employee is not relieved of all duties during a meal period, the meal period shall be considered an "on duty" meal period and counted as time worked. A paid "on duty" meal period is only permitted when (1) the nature of the work prevents an employee from being relieved of all duty and (2) the parties have a written agreement agreeing to on-duty meal periods. If the employee is not free to leave the work premises or worksite during the meal period, even if the employee is relieved of all other duty during the meal period, the employee is subject to the employer's control and the meal period is counted as time worked. If an employer fails to provide an employee a meal period in accordance with the law, the employer must pay the employee one (1) hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of pay for each workday that a legally required and compliant meal period was not provided. Labor Code §226.7; Wage Order 5, §11.

36. Here, Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees worked shifts long enough to entitle them to meal periods under California law. Nevertheless, Defendants employed policies, practices, and/or procedures that resulted in their failure to authorize or permit meal periods to Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees of no less than thirty (30) minutes for each five-hour period of work as required by law. Such policies, practices, and/or procedures included, but were not limited to:

(a) Requiring Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees to keep and/or monitor their employer-issued cellphones during their off-the-clock meal breaks resulting in interrupted and/or on-duty meal periods; and

(b) Failing to provide Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees a second uninterrupted duty-free meal period of no less than thirty (30) minutes for each workday that Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees work shifts over ten (10) hours.

37. Additionally, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees a meal period premium wage of one (1) additional hour of pay at their regular rate of compensation for each workday the employees did not receive all legally required and compliant meal periods. Defendants employed policies and procedures which ensured that employees did not receive any meal period premium wages to compensate them for workdays in which they did not receive all legally required and compliant meal periods.

38. The aforementioned policies, practices, and/or procedures of Defendants resulted in Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees not being provided with all legally required and compliant meal periods and/or not receiving premium wages to compensate them for such instances, all in violation of California law.

39. Failure to authorize and permit all legally required and compliant rest periods and/or failure to pay rest period premiums: Defendants often employed non-exempt employees, including the named Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees, for shifts of least three-and-a-half (3.5) hours.

40. California law requires every employer to authorize and permit an employee a rest period of ten (10) net minutes for every four (4) hours worked or major fraction thereof. Labor Code §226.7; Wage Order 5, §12. If the employer fails to authorize or permit a required rest period, the employer must pay the employee one (1) hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for each workday the employer did not authorize or permit a legally required rest period. Id. Under California law, "[e]mployees are entitled to 10 minutes' rest for shifts from three and one-half to six hours in length, 20 minutes for shifts of more than six hours up to 10 hours, 30 minutes for shifts of more than 10 hours up to 14 hours, and so on." Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Sup. Ct. (Hohnbaum) (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1029; Labor Code §226.7; Wage Order 5, §12. Rest periods, insofar as practicable, shall be in the middle of each work period. Wage Order 5, §12. Additionally, the rest period requirement "obligates employers to permit – and authorizes employees to take – off-duty rest periods." Augustus v. ABM Security Services, Inc., (2016) 5 Cal.5th 257, 269. That is, during rest periods employers must relieve employees of all duties and relinquish control over how employees spend their time. Id.

41. In this case, Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees regularly worked shifts of more than three-and-a-half (3.5) hours. Nevertheless, Defendants employed policies, practices, and/or procedures that resulted in their failure to authorize or permit all legally required and compliant rest periods to Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees. Such policies, practices, and/or procedures included, but were not limited to:

(a) Requiring Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees to keep and/or monitor their employer- issued cellphones during their off-the-clock rest breaks resulting in an uninterrupted duty-free rest periods; and

(b) Failing to provide Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees a third uninterrupted duty-free rest period of no less than ten (10) minutes for each workday that Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees work shifts over ten (10) hours.

42. Additionally, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees a rest period premium wage of one (1) additional hour of pay at their regular rate of compensation for each workday the employees did not receive all legally required and compliant rest periods. Defendants employed policies and procedures which ensured that employees did not receive any rest period premium wages to compensate them for workdays in which they did not receive all legally required and compliant rest periods.

43. The aforementioned policies, practices, and/or procedures of Defendants resulted in Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees not being provided with all legally required and compliant rest periods and/or not receiving premium wages to compensate them for such instances, all in violation of California law.

44. Failure to indemnify employees for losses and expenditures incurred as part of their employment: Labor Code section 2802(a) states that "[a]n employer shall indemnify his or her employee for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred by the employee in direct consequence of the discharge of his or her duties, or of his or her obedience to the directions of the employer…" An employer is prohibited from passing the ordinary business expenses and losses of the employer onto the employee. (Labor Code section 2802).

45. Defendants employed policies, practices, and/or procedures of impermissibly passing business-related expenses to Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees. These policies, practices, and/or procedures included, but were not limited to, requiring Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees to use or purchase their own tools and/or resources in order to work for Defendants, including but not limited to personal protective equipment for work-related purposes - without reimbursing Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees for such use.

46. The costs incurred by Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees to use or purchase their own tools and/or resources for their mandatory compliance with Defendants' aforementioned policies, practices, and/or procedures were significant as a result of their employment with Defendants.

47. Defendants employed policies and procedures which ensured Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees would not receive indemnification for the aforementioned necessary expenditures incurred as a result of their employment with Defendants.

48. Defendants' aforementioned policies, practices, and/or procedures resulted in Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees not receiving indemnification for employment-related expenditures, in violation of Labor Code section 2802.

49. Failure to timely pay earned wages during employment: In California, wages must be paid at least twice during each calendar month on days designated in advance by the employer as regular paydays, subject to some exceptions. Labor Code §204(a). Wages earned between the 1st and 15th days, inclusive, of any calendar month must be paid between the 16th and the 26th day of that month and wages earned between the 16th and the last day, inclusive, of any calendar month must be paid between the 1st and 10th day of the following month. Id. Other payroll periods such as those that are weekly, biweekly, or semimonthly, must be paid within seven (7) calendar days following the close of the payroll period in which wages were earned. Labor Code §204(d).

50. As a derivative of Plaintiffs' claims above, Plaintiffs alleges that Defendants failed to timely pay Plaintiffs' and similarly situated employees' earned wages (including minimum wages, meal period premium wages, and/or rest period premium wages), in violation of Labor Code section 204.

51. Defendants' aforementioned policies, practices, and/or procedures resulted in their failure to pay Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees their earned wages within the applicable time frames outlined in Labor Code section 204.

52. Failure to provide accurate wage statements: Labor Code section 226(a) provides, inter alia, that, upon paying an employee his or her wages, the employer must "furnish each of his or her employees ... an itemized statement in writing showing (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked by the employee, except for any employee whose compensation is solely based on a salary and who is exempt from payment of overtime under subdivision (a) of Section 515 or any applicable order of the Industrial Welfare Commission, (3) the number of piece-rate units earned and any applicable piece rate if the employee is paid on a piece-rate basis, (4) all deductions, provided, that all deductions made on written orders of the employee may be aggregated and shown as one item, (5) net wages earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the pay period for which the employee is paid, (7) the name of the employee and his or her social security number, (8) the name and address of the legal entity that is the employer, and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee."

53. As a derivative of Plaintiffs' claims above, Plaintiffs alleges that Defendants failed to provide accurate wage and hour statements to them and other similarly situated employees who were subject to Defendants' control for uncompensated time and who did not receive all their earned wages (including minimum wages, meal period premium wages, and/or rest period premium wages), in violation of Labor Code section 226.

54. Failure to timely pay final wages: An employer is required to pay all unpaid wages timely after an employee's employment ends. The wages are due immediately upon termination or within seventy-two (72) hours of resignation. Labor Code §§201, 202.

55. As a result of the aforementioned violations of the Labor Code, Plaintiffs allege that they, and on information and belief, other similarly situated employees, were not paid their final wages in a timely manner as required by Labor Code section 203. Minimum wages for all hours worked, meal period premium wages, and/or rest period premium wages (all described above), were not paid at the time of Plaintiffs' and other similarly situated employees' separation of employment, whether voluntarily or involuntarily, as required by Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203.

56. Plaintiffs brings this action on behalf of themselves, on behalf of others similarly situated, and on behalf of the general public, and as members of a Class defined as follows:

B. Common Questions Predominate: Common questions of law and fact exist as to all members of the Plaintiff classes and predominate over any questions that affect only individual members of each class. The common questions of law and fact include, but are not limited to:

iv. Whether Defendants violated Labor Code section 2802 by failing to provide Indemnification Class Members with reimbursement of costs to compensate them for the necessary expenditures incurred in the discharge of their duties;

v. Whether Defendants violated Labor Code section 204 by employing Pay Day Class Members without timely paying them all earned wages during their employment;

vi. Whether Defendants failed to provide the Wage Statement Class Members with accurate itemized statements at the time they received their itemized statements;

vii. Whether Defendants failed to provide the Waiting Time Class Members with all of their earned wages upon separation of employment within the statutory time period;

viii. Whether Defendants committed unlawful business acts or practice within the meaning of Business and Professions Code sections 17200, et seq.;

ix. Whether Class Members are entitled to unpaid wages, penalties, and other relief pursuant to their claims;

x. Whether, as a consequence of Defendants' unlawful conduct, the Class Members are entitled to restitution, and/or equitable relief; and

xi. Whether Defendants' affirmative defenses, if any, raise any common issues of law or fact as to Plaintiffs and as to Class Members as a whole.

C. Typicality: Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the claims of the class members in each of the classes. Plaintiffs and members of the Wages Class sustained damages arising out of Defendants' failure to pay for all hours worked, including minimum, straight time, and overtime wages, for all time the employees were subject to Defendants' control. Plaintiffs and members of the Meal Period Class sustained damages arising out of Defendants' failure to provide non-exempt employees with all required meal periods and/or meal periods that were duty-free and not less than thirty (30) minutes and/or failure to pay meal period premium wages as compensation. Plaintiffs and members of the Rest Period Class sustained damages arising out of Defendants' failure to provide non-exempt employees with all required rest periods and/or rest periods that were duty-free and of a net ten (10) minutes and/or failure to pay rest period premium wages as compensation. Plaintiffs and members of the Indemnification Class sustained damages from Defendants' failure to provide reimbursement of costs to compensate them for the necessary expenditures incurred in the discharge of their duties. Plaintiffs and members of the Pay Day Class sustained damages arising out of Defendants' failure to timely pay them all wages earned during their employment in compliance with Labor Code section 204. Plaintiffs and members of the Wage Statement Class sustained damages arising out of Defendants' failure to furnish them with accurate itemized wage statements in compliance with Labor Code section 226. Plaintiffs and members of the Waiting Time Class sustained damages arising out of Defendants' failure to provide all unpaid yet earned wages due upon separation of employment within the statutory time limit.

D. Adequacy of Representation: Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the members of each class. Plaintiffs have no interest that is adverse to the interests of the other class members.

E. Superiority: A class action is superior to other available means for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy. Because individual joinder of all members of each class is impractical, class action treatment will permit a large number of similarly situated persons to prosecute their common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently, and without the unnecessary duplication of effort and expense that numerous individual actions would engender. The expenses and burdens of individual litigation would make it difficult or impossible for individual members of each class to redress the wrongs done to them, while important public interests will be served by addressing the matter as a class action. The cost to and burden on the court system of adjudication of individualized litigation would be substantial, and substantially more than the costs and burdens of a class action. Individualized litigation would also present the potential for inconsistent or contradictory judgments.

F. Public Policy Consideration: Employers throughout the state violate wage and hour laws. Current employees often are afraid to assert their rights out of fear of direct or indirect retaliation. Former employees fear bringing actions because they perceive their former employers can blacklist them in their future endeavors with negative references or by other means. Class actions provide the class members who are not named in the Complaint with a type of anonymity that allows for vindication of their rights.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO PAY WAGES FOR ALL HOURS OF WORK AT THE LEGAL MINIMUM WAGE RATE IN VIOLATION OF LABOR CODE SECTIONS 1194 AND 1197

(Against All Defendants by Plaintiffs and the Wages Class)

58. Plaintiffs incorporate all paragraphs above as though fully set forth herein.

59. At all times relevant to this Complaint, Plaintiffs and the Wages Class were hourly non-exempt employees of Defendants.

60. Pursuant to Labor Code sections 1194, 1197, and the Wage Order, Plaintiffs and the Wages Class are entitled to receive wages for all hours worked, i.e., all time they were subject to Defendants' control, and those wages must be paid at least at the minimum wage rate in effect during the time the employees earned the wages.

61. Defendants' policies, practices, and/or procedures required Plaintiffs and the Minimum Wage Class to be engaged, suffered, or permitted to work without being paid wages for all of the time in which they were subject to Defendants' control.

62. Defendants employed policies, practices, and/or procedures including, but not limited to:

(a) Since the outbreak of COVID-19, requiring Plaintiffs and the Wages Class to arrive prior to their start shift to undergo off-the-clock COVID-19 screenings, including temperature checks and medical questionnaires, prior to being permitted to clock in before their start shift; and

(b) Requiring Plaintiffs and the Wages Class to keep and/or monitor their employer-issued cellphones during their off-the-clock meal breaks resulting in interrupted and/or on-duty meal periods.

63. Plaintiffs and the Wages Class were not paid for this time resulting in Defendants' failure to pay minimum and straight time wage for all the hours Plaintiffs and the Wages Class worked.

64. As a result of Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and the Wages Class have suffered damages in an amount subject to proof, to the extent that they were not paid wages at a minimum and straight time wage rate for all hours worked.

65. Pursuant to Labor Code sections 1194 and 1194.2, Plaintiffs and the Minimum Wage Class are entitled to recover unpaid minimum and straight time wages, interest thereon, liquidated damages in the amount of their unpaid minimum and straight time wages, and attorneys' fees and costs.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO PAY OVERTIME WAGES IN VIOLATION OF LABOR CODE SECTION 1194 AND 1198

(Against All Defendants by Plaintiffs and the Wages Class)

66. Plaintiffs incorporate all paragraphs above as though fully set forth herein.

67. California Labor Code § 510 provides that employees in California shall not be employed more than eight hours in any workday or forty (40) hours in a workweek unless they receive additional compensation beyond their regular wages in amounts specified by law.

68. California Labor Code §§ 1194 and 1198 provide that employees in California shall not be employed more than eight hours in any workday unless they receive additional compensation beyond their regular wages in amounts specified by law. Additionally, California Labor Code § 1198 states that the employment of an employee for longer hours than those fixed by the IWC is unlawful.

69. At all times relevant hereto, Plaintiffs and the Wages Class have worked more than eight hours in a workday and/or more than forty (40) hours in a workweek, as employees of Defendants.

70. At all times relevant hereto, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and the Wages Class overtime compensation for the hours they have worked in excess of the maximum hours permissible by law as required by California Labor Code §§ 510 and 1198.

71. By virtue of Defendants' unlawful failure to pay additional premium rate compensation to the Plaintiffs and the Wages Class for their overtime hours worked, Plaintiffs and the Wages Class have suffered, and will continue to suffer, damages in amounts which are presently unknown to them but which exceed the jurisdictional minimum of this Court and which will be ascertained according to proof at trial.

72. By failing to keep adequate time records required by Labor Code § 1174(d), Defendants have made it difficult to calculate the full extent of overtime compensation due to Plaintiffs and the Wages Class.

73. Plaintiffs and the Wages Class also request recovery of overtime compensation according to proof, interest, attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to California Labor Code § 1194(a), as well as the assessment of any statutory penalties against Defendants, in a sum as provided by the California Labor Code and/or other statutes.

74. California Labor Code § 204 requires employers to provide employees with all wages due and payable twice a month. The Wage Orders also provide that every employer shall pay to each employee, on the established payday for the period involved, overtime wages for all overtime hours worked in the payroll period. Defendants failed to provide Plaintiffs and the Wages Class with all compensation due, in violation of California Labor Code § 204.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO AUTHORIZE OR PERMIT MEAL PERIODS IN VIOLATION OF LABOR CODE SECTIONS 512 AND 226.7

(Against All Defendants by Plaintiffs and the Meal Period Class)

75. Plaintiffs incorporate all paragraphs above as though fully set forth herein.

76. At all times relevant to this Complaint, Plaintiffs and the Meal Period Class were hourly non-exempt employees of Defendants, covered by Labor Code sections 512 and 226.7 and the Wage Order.

77. California law requires an employer to authorize or permit an employee an uninterrupted meal period of no less than thirty (30) minutes in which the employee is relieved of all duties and the employer relinquishes control over the employee's activities no later than the end of the employee's fifth hour of work and a second meal period no later than the employee's tenth hour of work. Labor Code sections 226.7, 512; Wage Order 5, §11; Brinker Rest. Corp. v. Super Ct. (Hohnbaum) (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004. If the employer requires the employee to remain at the work site or facility during the meal period, the meal period must be paid. This is true even where the employee is relieved of all work duties during the meal period. Bono Enterprises, Inc. v. Bradshaw (1995) 32 Cal.App.4th 968. Labor Code section 226.7 provides that if an employee does not receive a required meal or rest period that "the employer shall pay the employee one additional hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for each work day that the meal or rest period is not provided."

78. In this case, Plaintiffs and the Meal Period Class worked shifts long enough to entitle them to meal periods under California law. Nevertheless, Defendants employed policies, practices, and/or procedures that resulted in their failure to authorize or permit meal periods to Plaintiffs and the Meal Period Class of no less than thirty (30) minutes for each five-hour period of work as required by law. Such policies, practices, and/or procedures included, but were not limited to:

(a) Requiring Plaintiffs and the Meal Period Class to keep and/or monitor their employer-issued cellphones during their off-the-clock meal breaks resulting in interrupted and/or on-duty meal periods; and

(b) Failing to provide Plaintiffs and the Meal Period Class a second uninterrupted duty-free meal period of no less than thirty (30) minutes for each workday that Plaintiffs and the Meal Period Class work shifts over ten (10) hours.

79. Additionally, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and the Meal Period Class one (1) hour of pay at their regular rate of pay for each workday they did not receive all legally required and legally compliant meal periods. Defendants lacked a policy and procedure for compensating Plaintiffs and the Meal Period Class with premium wages when they did not receive all legally required and legally compliant meal periods.

80. Defendants' unlawful conduct alleged herein occurred in the course of employment of Plaintiffs and the Meal Period Class and such conduct has continued through the filing of this Complaint.

81. Because Defendants failed to provide employees with meal periods in compliance with the law, Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs and the Meal Period Class for one (1) hour of additional pay at the regular rate of compensation for each workday that Defendants did not provide all legally required and legally compliant meal periods, pursuant to Labor Code section 226.7 and the Wage Order.

82. Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves and the Meal Period Class seeks damages and all other relief allowable, including a meal period premium wage for each workday Defendants failed to provide all legally required and legally compliant meal periods, plus pre-judgment interest.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO AUTHORIZE OR PERMIT REQUIRED REST PERIODS IN VIOLATION OF LABOR CODE SECTION 226.7

(Against All Defendants by Plaintiffs and the Rest Period Class)

83. Plaintiffs incorporate all paragraphs above as though fully set forth herein.

84. At all times relevant to this Complaint, Plaintiffs and the Rest Period Class were employees of Defendants, covered by Labor Code section 226.7 and Wage Order 5.

85. California law requires that "[e]very employer shall authorize and permit all employees to take rest periods, which insofar as practicable shall be in the middle of each work period. The authorized rest period time shall be based on the total hours worked daily at the rate of ten (10) minutes net rest time per four (4) hours or major fraction thereof…." Wage Order 5, §12. Employees are entitled to 10 minutes rest for shifts from three and one-half to six hours in length, 20 minutes for shifts of more than six hours up to 10 hours, 30 minutes for shifts of more than 10 hours up to 14 hours, and so on." Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Sup. Ct. (Hohnbaum) (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1029; Labor Code §226.7. Additionally, the rest period requirement "obligates employers to permit – and authorizes employees to take – off-duty rest periods." Augustus v. ABM Security Services, Inc., (2016) 5 Cal.5th 257, 269. That is, during rest periods employers must relieve employees of all duties and relinquish control over how employees spend their time. Id. If an employer fails to provide an employee a rest period in accordance with the applicable provisions of this Order, the employer shall pay the employee one (1) hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for each work day that the rest period is not provided." Wage Order 5, §12; Labor Code §226.7.

86. In this case, Plaintiffs and the Rest Period Class regularly worked shifts of more than three-and-a-half (3.5) hours. Nevertheless, Defendants employed policies, practices, and/or procedures that resulted in their failure to authorize or permit all legally required and compliant rest periods to Plaintiffs and the Rest Period Class. Such policies, practices, and/or procedures included, but were not limited to:

(a) Requiring Plaintiffs and the Rest Period Class to keep and/or monitor their employer- issued cellphones during their off-the-clock rest breaks resulting in an uninterrupted duty-free rest periods; and

(b) Failing to provide Plaintiffs and the Rest Period Class a third uninterrupted duty-free rest period of no less than ten (10) minutes for each workday that Plaintiffs and the Rest Period Class work shifts over ten (10) hours.

87. Additionally, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and the Rest Period Class one (1) hour of pay at their regular rate of pay for each workday they did not receive all legally required and legally compliant rest periods. Defendants lacked a policy and procedure for compensating Plaintiffs and the Rest Period Class with premium wages when they did not receive all legally required and legally compliant rest periods.

88. Defendants' unlawful conduct alleged herein occurred in the course of employment of Plaintiffs and the Rest Period Class and such conduct has continued through the filing of this Complaint.

89. Because Defendants failed to provide employees with rest periods in compliance with the law, Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs and the Rest Period Class for one (1) hour of additional pay at the regular rate of compensation for each workday that Defendants did not provide all legally required and legally compliant rest periods, pursuant to Labor Code section 226.7 and the Wage Order.

90. Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves and the Rest Period Class seeks damages and all other relief allowable, including a rest period premium wage for each workday Defendants failed to provide all legally required and legally compliant rest periods, plus pre-judgment interest.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO INDEMNIFY EMPLOYEES FOR EMPLOYMENT-RELATED LOSSES AND EXPENDITURES IN VIOLATION OF LABOR CODE SECTION 2802

(Against All Defendants by Plaintiffs and the Indemnification Class)

91. Plaintiffs incorporate all paragraphs above as though fully set forth herein.

92. Plaintiffs and members of the Indemnification Class have been employed by Defendants in the State of California. Labor Code section 2802(a) states that "[a]n employer shall indemnify his or her employee for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred by the employee in direct consequence of the discharge of his or her duties, or of his or her obedience to the directions of the employer…" An employer is prohibited from passing the ordinary business expenses and losses of the employer onto the employee. (Labor Code section 2802).

93. Defendants violated Labor Code section 2802 by employing policies, practices, and/or procedures of impermissibly passing business-related expenses to Plaintiffs and Indemnification Class Members. These policies, practices, and/or procedures included, but were not limited to, requiring Plaintiffs and Indemnification Class Members to use or purchase their own tools and/or resources in order to work for Defendants, including but not limited to personal protective equipment for work-related purposes-without reimbursing Plaintiffs and Indemnification Class Members for such use.

94. The costs incurred by Plaintiffs and Indemnification Class Members to use or purchase their own tools and/or resources for their mandatory compliance with Defendants' aforementioned policies, practices, and/or procedures were significant as a result of their employment with Defendants.

95. Moreover, Defendants employed policies and procedures which ensured that Plaintiffs and Indemnification Class Members would not receive indemnification for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred by them in direct consequence of discharging their duties. Defendants' aforementioned policies, practices, and/or procedures resulted in Plaintiffs and Indemnification Class Members not receiving indemnification for employment-related expenditures in compliance with California law.

96. Because Defendants failed to indemnify employees for the necessary expenditures incurred in the discharge of their duties, they are liable to Plaintiffs and Indemnification Class Members for monies to compensate them for such expenditures or losses pursuant to Labor Code section 2802.

97. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' violation of Labor Code section 2802, Plaintiffs and Indemnification Class Members have suffered irreparable harm and monetary damages entitling them to both injunctive relief and restitution. Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves and on behalf of the Indemnification Class, seek damages and all other relief allowable including indemnification for all employment-related expenses as well as ordinary business expenses incurred by Defendants and passed on to Plaintiffs and Indemnification Class Members, pursuant to Labor Code section 2802.

98. Pursuant to Labor Code Section 2802, Plaintiffs and Indemnification Class Members are entitled to recover full indemnification, reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO TIMELY PAY EARNED WAGES DURING EMPLOYMENT IN VIOLATION OF LABOR CODE SECTION 204

(Against All Defendants by Plaintiffs and the Pay Day Class)

100. Plaintiffs and the Pay Day Class have been employed by Defendants in the State of California. In California, wages must be paid at least twice during each calendar month on days designated in advance by the employer as regular paydays, subject to some exceptions. Labor Code §204(a). Wages earned between the 1st and 15th days, inclusive, of any calendar month must be paid between the 16th and the 26th day of that month and wages earned between the 16th and the last day, inclusive, of any calendar month must be paid between the 1st and 10th day of the following month. Id. Other payroll periods such as those that are weekly, biweekly, or semimonthly, must be paid within seven (7) calendar days following the close of the payroll period in which wages were earned. Labor Code §204(d).

101. As a derivative of Plaintiffs' claims above, Plaintiffs allege that Defendants failed to timely pay Plaintiffs' and the Pay Day Class' earned wages (including minimum wages, meal period premium wages, and/or rest period premium wages), in violation of Labor Code section 204.

102. Defendants' aforementioned policies, practices, and/or procedures resulted in their failure to pay Plaintiffs and the Pay Day Class their earned wages within the applicable time frames outlined in Labor Code section 204.

103. Defendants' failure to timely pay Plaintiffs and the Pay Day Class their earned wages in accordance with Labor Code section 204 was willful. Defendants had the ability to timely pay all wages earned by hourly workers in accordance with Labor Code section 204, but intentionally adopted policies or practices incompatible with the requirements of Labor Code section 204. When Defendants failed to timely pay Plaintiffs and the Pay Day Class all earned wages, they knew what they were doing and intended to do what they did.

104. As a result of Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and the Pay Day Class have suffered damages in an amount subject to proof, to the extent that they were not timely paid their earned wages pursuant to Labor Code section 204.

105. Pursuant to Labor Code section 210, Plaintiffs and the Pay Day Class are entitled to recover civil penalties as follows: (1) for any initial violation, one hundred dollars ($100) for each failure to pay each employee; and (2) for each subsequent violation, or any willful or intentional violation, two hundred dollars ($200) for each failure to pay each employee, plus twenty-five (25%) percent of the amount unlawfully withheld.

SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO PROVIDE COMPLETE AND ACCURATE WAGE STATEMENTS IN VIOLATION OF LABOR CODE SECTION 226

(Against All Defendants by Plaintiffs and the Wage Statement Class)

106. Plaintiffs incorporate all paragraphs above as though fully set forth herein.

107. At all times relevant to this Complaint, Plaintiffs and the Wage Statement Class were hourly, non-exempt employees of Defendants, covered by Labor Code section 226.

108. Pursuant to Labor Code section 226, subdivision (a), Plaintiffs and the Wage Statement Class were entitled to receive, semimonthly or at the time of each payment of wages, an itemized wage statement accurately stating the following:

> (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked by the employee, except for any employee whose compensation is solely based on a salary and who is exempt from payment of overtime under subdivision (a) of Section 515 or any applicable order of the Industrial Welfare Commission, (3) the number of piece-rate units earned and any applicable piece rate if the employee is paid on a piece-rate basis, (4) all deductions, provided that all deductions made on written orders of the employee may be aggregated and shown as one item, (5) net wages earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the period for which the employee is paid, (7) the name of the employee and his or her social security number, except that by January 1, 2008, only the last four digits of his or her social security number or an employee identification number > other than a social security number may be shown on the itemized statement, (8) the name and address of the legal entity that is the employer, and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee.

109. As a derivative of Defendants' claims above, Plaintiffs allege that Defendants failed to provide accurate wage and hour statements to them and the Wage Statement Class who were subject to Defendants' control for uncompensated time and who did not receive all their earned wages (including minimum wages, meal period premium wages, and/or rest period premium wages), in violation of Labor Code section 226.

110. Defendants provided Plaintiffs and the Wage Statement Class with itemized statements which stated inaccurate information including, but not limited to, the number of hours worked, the gross wages earned, and the net wages earned.

111. Defendants' failure to provide Plaintiffs and the Wage Statement Class with accurate wage statements was knowing and intentional. Defendants had the ability to provide Plaintiffs and the Wage Statement Class with accurate wage statements but intentionally provided wage statements they knew were not accurate. Defendants knowingly and intentionally put in place practices which deprived employees of wages and resulted in Defendants knowingly and intentionally providing inaccurate wage statements. These practices included Defendants' failure to include all hours worked and all wages due.

112. As a result of Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and the Wage Statement Class have suffered injury. The absence of accurate information on their wage statements has prevented earlier challenges to Defendants' unlawful pay practices, will require discovery and mathematical computations to determine the amount of wages owed, and will cause difficulty and expense in attempting to reconstruct time and pay records. Defendants' conduct led to the submission of inaccurate information about wages and amounts deducted from wages to state and federal government agencies. As a result, Plaintiffs and the Wage Statement Class are required to participate in this lawsuit and create more difficulty and expense for Plaintiffs and the Wage Statement Class from having to reconstruct time and pay records than if Defendants had complied with their legal obligations.

113. Pursuant to Labor Code section 226(e), Plaintiffs and the Wage Statement Class are entitled to recover fifty (50) dollars per employee for the initial pay period in which a section 226 violation occurred and one hundred dollars per employee per violation for each subsequent pay period, not to exceed an aggregate penalty of four thousand (4,000) dollars per employee.

114. Pursuant to Labor Code section 226(h), Plaintiffs and the Wage Statement Class are entitled to bring an action for injunctive relief to ensure Defendants' compliance with Labor Code section 226(a). Injunctive relief is warranted because Defendants continue to provide currently employed Wage Statement Class members with inaccurate wage statements in violation of Labor Code section 226(a) and currently employed Wage Statement Class members have no adequate legal remedy for the continuing injuries that will be suffered as a result of Defendants' ongoing unlawful conduct. Injunctive relief is the only remedy available for ensuring Defendants' compliance with Labor Code section 226(a).

115. Pursuant to Labor Code sections 226(e) and 226(h), Plaintiffs and the Wage Statement Class are entitled to recover the full amount of penalties due under Section 226(e), reasonable attorneys' fees, and costs of suit.

EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO PAY ALL WAGES TIMELY UPON SEPARATION OF EMPLOYMENT IN VIOLATION OF LABOR CODE SECTIONS 201, 202, AND 203

(Against All Defendants by Plaintiffs and the Waiting Time Class)

116. Plaintiffs incorporate all paragraphs above as though fully set forth herein.

117. At all times relevant to this Complaint, Plaintiffs and the Waiting Time Class were employees of Defendants, covered by Labor Code sections 201 and 202.

118. An employer is required to pay all unpaid wages timely after an employee's employment ends. The wages are due immediately upon termination or within seventy-two (72) hours of resignation. Labor Code §§201, 202. If an employee gave seventy-two (72) hours previous notice, they were entitled to payment of all wages earned and unpaid at the time of resignation. Id.

119. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and on information and belief, the Waiting Time Class, with all wages earned and unpaid prior to separation of employment, in accordance with either Labor Code section 201 or 202. Plaintiffs are informed and believe and thereon allege that at all relevant times within the limitations period applicable to this cause of action, Defendants maintained a policy or practice of not paying hourly employees all earned wages timely upon separation of employment.

120. Defendants' failure to pay Plaintiffs and the Waiting Time Class with all wages earned prior to separation of employment timely in accordance with Labor Code sections 201 and 202 was willful. Defendants had the ability to pay all wages earned by hourly workers prior to separation of employment in accordance with Labor Code sections 201 and 202, but intentionally adopted policies or practices incompatible with the requirements of Labor Code sections 201 and 202. Defendants' practices include failing to pay at least minimum wage for all time worked, meal period premium wages, and/or rest period premium wages. When Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and the Waiting Time Class all earned wages timely upon separation of employment, they knew what they were doing and intended to do what they did.

121. Pursuant to either Labor Code section 201 or 202, Plaintiffs and the Waiting Time Class are entitled to all wages earned prior to separation of employment that Defendants have yet to pay them.

122. Pursuant to Labor Code section 203, Plaintiffs and the Waiting Time Class are entitled to continuation of their wages, from the day their earned and unpaid wages were due until paid, up to a maximum of thirty (30) days.

123. As a result of Defendants' conduct, Plaintiffs and the Waiting Time Class have suffered damages in an amount, subject to proof, to the extent they were not paid for all wages earned prior to separation.

124. As a result of Defendants' conduct, Plaintiffs and the Waiting Time Class have suffered damages in an amount, subject to proof, to the extent they were not paid all continuation wages owed under Labor Code section 203.

125. Plaintiffs and the Waiting Time Class are entitled to recover the full amount of their unpaid wages, continuation wages under Labor Code section 203, and interest thereon.

NINTH CAUSE OF ACTION

UNFAIR BUSINESS PRACTICES, IN VIOLATION OF BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONS CODE SECTION 17200, et seq.

(Against All Defendants by Plaintiffs and the California Class)

126. Plaintiffs incorporate all paragraphs above as though fully set forth herein.

127. The unlawful conduct of Defendants alleged herein constitutes unfair competition within the meaning of Business and Professions Code section 17200. This unfair conduct includes Defendants' use of policies, practices, and/or procedures which resulted in: failure to pay employees at the minimum, straight time, and overtime wage rate for all hours which they worked; failure to authorize or permit all legally required and compliant meal periods or pay meal period premium wages; failure to authorize or permit all legally required and compliant rest periods or pay rest period premium wages; failure to indemnify all necessary expenditures or losses incurred in direct consequence of discharging duties; failure to timely pay wages; failure to provide accurate wage and hour statements; and failure to timely pay all wages due upon separation of employment. Due to their unfair and unlawful business practices in violation of the Labor Code, Defendants have gained a competitive advantage over other comparable companies doing business in the State of California that comply with their obligations to pay minimum, straight time, and overtime wages for all hours worked; authorize or permit all legally required and compliant meal periods or pay meal period premium wages; authorize or permit all legally required and compliant rest periods or pay rest period premium wages; indemnify all necessary expenditures or losses incurred in direct consequence of discharging duties; timely pay wages; provide accurate wage and hour statements; and timely pay all wages due upon separation of employment.

128. As a result of Defendants' unfair competition as alleged herein, Plaintiffs and the California Class have suffered injury in fact and lost money or property, as described in more detail above.

129. Pursuant to Business and Professions Code section 17203, Plaintiffs and the California Class are entitled to restitution of all wages and other monies rightfully belonging to them that Defendants failed to pay and wrongfully retained by means of their unlawful and unfair business practices. Plaintiffs also seek an injunction against Defendants on behalf of the California

Class enjoining Defendants, and any and all persons acting in concert with them, from engaging in each of the unlawful policies, practices, and/or procedures set forth herein.

TENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

CIVIL PENALTIES AND WAGES PURSUANT TO THE PRIVATE ATTORNEYS GENERAL ACT OF 2004, LABOR CODE SECTIONS 2698, ET SEQ.

(Against All Defendants by Plaintiff HOWARD, Plaintiff GALLEGOS, and Plaintiff SAZMA on behalf of Themselves, the State of California, and Other Current and Former Aggrieved Employees)

130. PAGA Plaintiffs incorporate all paragraphs above as though fully set forth herein.

131. During the period beginning one (1) year preceding PAGA Plaintiffs sending the initial PAGA Claim Notice to the LWDA to the present, Defendants violated Labor Code sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 226, 226.7, 512, 1194, 1197, 2802, of the applicable Wage Orders.

132. Specifically, Defendants have committed the following violations of California Labor Code:

133. Failure to pay wages for all hours worked at the legal minimum, straight time, and overtime wages: Defendants employed many of their employees, including PAGA Plaintiffs, as hourly non-exempt employees. In California, an employer is required to pay hourly employees for all "hours worked," which includes all time that an employee is under control of the employer and all time the employee is suffered and permitted to work. This includes the time an employee spends, either directly or indirectly, performing services which inure to the benefit of the employer.

134. Labor Code sections 1194 and 1197 require an employer to compensate employees for all "hours worked" at least at a minimum wage rate of pay as established by the IWC and the Wage Orders.

135. Labor Code § 510 provides that employees in California shall not be employed more than eight hours in any workday or forty (40) hours in a workweek unless they receive additional compensation beyond their regular wages in amounts specified by law.

136. In this case, PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees worked more minutes per shift than Defendants credited them with having worked. Specifically, Defendants failed to pay PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees all wages at the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked due to Defendants' policies, practices, and/or procedures including, but not limited to: (1) Since the outbreak of COVID-19, requiring PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees to arrive prior to their start shift to undergo off-the-clock COVID-19 screenings, including temperature checks and medical questionnaires, prior to being permitted to clock in before their start shift; and (2) requiring PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees to keep and/or monitor their employer-issued cellphones during their off-the-clock meal breaks resulting in interrupted and/or on-duty meal periods.

137. Therefore, Defendants suffered, permitted, and required PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees to be subject to Defendants' control without paying wages for that time. This resulted in PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees working time for which they were not compensated any wages, in violation of Labor Code sections 510, 1194 and 1197 and the applicable Wage Order.

138. Failure to pay wages to hourly non-exempt employees for workdays that Defendants failed to provide legally required and compliant meal periods: PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees regularly worked shifts of more than five (5) hours in length and shifts of more than ten (10) hours in length.

139. California law requires an employer to authorize or permit an employee an uninterrupted meal period of no less than thirty (30) minutes in which the employee is relieved of all duties and the employer relinquishes control over the employee's activities prior to the employee's sixth hour of work. Labor Code sections 226.7, 512; Wage Order 5 at §11; Brinker Rest. Corp. v. Super Ct. (Hohnbaum) (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004. An employer may not employ an employee for a work period of more than ten (10) hours per day without providing the employee with a second such meal period of not less than thirty (30) minutes prior to the start of the eleventh hour of work. Id. If the employee is not relieved of all duty during a meal period, the meal period shall be considered an "on duty" meal period and counted as time worked. A paid "on duty" meal period is only permitted when: (1) the nature of the work prevents an employee from being relieved of all duty; and (2) the parties have a written agreement agreeing to on-duty meal periods.

140. If an employer fails to provide an employee a meal period in accordance with the law, the employer must pay the employee one (1) hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of pay for each workday that a legally required and compliant meal period was not provided. Labor Code section 226.7; Wage Order 5 at §11.

141. In this case, Defendants failed to authorize or permit legally required and compliant meal periods to PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees due to Defendants' policies, practices, and/or procedures, including but not limited to: (1) requiring PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly nonexempt employees to keep and/or monitor their employer-issued cellphones during their off-the-clock meal breaks resulting in interrupted and/or on-duty meal periods; and (2) failing to provide PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees a second uninterrupted duty-free meal period of no less than thirty (30) minutes for each workday that PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees work shifts over ten (10) hours.

142. Additionally, PAGA Plaintiffs allege that Defendants maintained a policy, practice, and/or procedure of failing to compensate PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees one (1) hour of pay at their regular rate of pay for each workday that PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees did not receive legally required and compliant meal periods, in violation of Labor Code section 226.7.

143. Defendants' foregoing policies, practices, and/or procedures resulted in PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees not receiving wages to compensate them for workdays during which Defendants did not provide them with meal periods in compliance with California law.

144. Failure to pay wages to hourly non-exempt employees for workdays that Defendants failed to provide legally required and compliant rest periods: PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees regularly worked shifts of more than three-and-a-half (3.5) hours.

145. California law requires every employer to authorize and permit an employee a rest period of ten (10) net minutes for every four (4) hours worked or major fraction thereof. Labor Code section 226.7; Wage Order 5 at §12. Under California law, "[e]mployees are entitled to 10 minutes' rest for shifts from three and one-half to six hours in length, 20 minutes for shifts of more than six hours up to 10 hours, 30 minutes for shifts of more than 10 hours up to 14 hours, and so on." Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Sup. Ct. (Hohnbaum) (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1029; Labor Code section 226.7; Wage Order 5 at §12. Rest periods, insofar as practicable, shall be in the middle of each work period. Wage Order 5 at §12. Additionally, the rest period requirement "obligates employers to permit – and authorizes employees to take – off-duty rest periods." Augustus v. ABM Security Services, Inc., (2016) 5 Cal.5th 257, 269. That is, during rest periods employers must relieve employees of all duties and relinquish control over how employees spend their time. Id.

146. If the employer fails to authorize or permit a required rest period, the employer must pay the employee one (1) hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of pay for each workday the employer did not authorize or permit a legally required rest period. Labor Code section 226.7; Wage Order 5 at § 12.

147. In this case, Defendants failed to authorize or permit all legally required and compliant rest periods to PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees due to Defendants' policies, practices, and/or procedures including, but not limited to: (1) requiring PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly nonexempt employees to keep and/or monitor their employer-issued cellphones during their off-the-clock rest breaks resulting in an uninterrupted duty-free rest periods; and (2) failing to provide PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees a third uninterrupted duty-free rest period of no less than ten (10) minutes for each workday that Employee and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees work shifts over ten (10) hours.

148. Additionally, PAGA Plaintiffs allege that Defendants maintained a policy, practice, and/or procedure of failing to compensate PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees with one (1) hour of pay at their regular rate of pay for each workday they did not receive legally required and compliant rest periods, in violation of Labor Code section 226.7.

149. Defendants' foregoing policies, practices, and/or procedures resulted in PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees not receiving wages to compensate them for workdays in which Defendants did not provide them with rest periods in compliance with California law.

150. Failure to indemnify for losses and expenditures incurred as part of employment: California law requires that every employer must indemnify its employees for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred by the employee in discharge of his or her duties or at the obedience of the directions of the employer. Moreover, an employer is prohibited from passing the ordinary business expenses and losses of the employer onto the employee. (Lab. Code, § 2802.)

151. Defendants have violated Labor Code Section 2802 by failing to indemnify PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based non-exempt hourly employees' necessary expenditures they incurred in the discharge of their duties. Specifically, Defendants employed a policy, practice, and procedure whereby PAGA Plaintiffs and aggrieved employees were required to use or purchase their own tools and/or resources in order to work for Defendants, including but not limited to personal protective equipment for work-related purposes - without reimbursing employees for such use.

152. Moreover, Defendants employed policies and procedures which ensured PAGA Plaintiffs and aggrieved employees would not receive indemnification for their employment related expenses. This practice resulted in PAGA Plaintiffs and aggrieved employees not receiving such indemnification in compliance with California law.

153. Therefore, Defendants are liable to PAGA Plaintiffs and aggrieved employees for their employment related expenses, including but not limited to costs related to use of their personal cell phones and costs associated with their uniforms pursuant to Labor Code section 2802.

154. Failure to timely pay earned wages during employment: In California, wages must be paid at least twice during each calendar month on days designated in advance by the employer as regular paydays, subject to some exceptions. Labor Code section 204(a). Wages earned between the 1st and 15th days, inclusive, of any calendar month must be paid between the 16th and the 26th day of that month and wages earned between the 16th and the last day, inclusive, of any calendar month must be paid between the 1st and 10th day of the following month. Id. Other payroll periods such as those that are weekly, biweekly, or semimonthly, must be paid within seven (7) calendar days following the close of the payroll period in which wages were earned. Labor Code section 204(d).

155. As a derivative of PAGA Plaintiffs' claims above, PAGA Plaintiffs allege that Defendants failed to timely pay PAGA Plaintiffs' and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees' earned wages (including minimum wages, reporting time pay, meal period premium wages and/or rest period premium wages), in violation of Labor Code section 204. Defendants' aforementioned policies, practices, and/or procedures resulted in their failure to pay PAGA Plaintiffs' and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees' their earned wages within the applicable time frames outlined in Labor Code section 204.

156. Failure to provide complete and accurate wage statements: Labor Code section 226, subdivision (a). Labor Code section 226(a) provides, inter alia, that, upon paying an employee his or her wages, the employer must "furnish each of his or her employees ... an itemized statement in writing showing (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked by the employee, except for any employee whose compensation is solely based on a salary and who is exempt from payment of overtime under subdivision (a) of Section 515 or any applicable order of the Industrial Welfare Commission, (3) the number of piece-rate units earned and any applicable piece rate if the employee is paid on a piece-rate basis, (4) all deductions, provided, that all deductions made on written orders of the employee may be aggregated and shown as one item, (5) net wages earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the pay period for which the employee is paid, (7) the name of the employee and his or her social security number, (8) the name and address of the legal entity that is the employer, and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee."

157. As a derivative of PAGA Plaintiffs' allegations above, Defendants' failure to pay PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees all wages earned (including minimum wages, overtime wages, meal period premium wages, and/or rest period premium wages) rendered PAGA Plaintiffs' and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees' wage statements inaccurate, in violation of Labor Code section 226.

158. Failure to pay employees all wages due at time of termination/resignation: An employer is required to pay all unpaid wages timely after an employee's employment ends. The wages are due immediately upon termination (Labor Code section 201) or within seventy-two (72) hours of resignation (Labor Code section 202).

159. As a derivative of PAGA Plaintiffs' allegations above, because Defendants failed to pay PAGA Plaintiffs and other current and former aggrieved California-based hourly non-exempt employees all their earned wages (including minimum wages, overtime wages, meal period premium wages, and/or rest period premium wages), Defendants failed to pay those employees timely after each employee's termination and/or resignation, in violation of Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203.

160. Defendants' violations of Wage Order 5 constituted violations of Labor Code section 1198, which prohibits employment under conditions of labor that violate the Wage Orders.

161. Labor Code sections 2699, subdivisions (a) and (g) authorize an aggrieved employee, on behalf of himself or herself and other current or former employees, to bring a civil action to recover civil penalties against all Defendants pursuant to the procedures specified in Labor Code section 2699.3.

162. PAGA Plaintiffs have complied with the procedures for bringing suit specified in Labor Code section 2699.3:

(a) On July 11, 2022, Plaintiff Howard filed a PAGA Claim Notice with the LWDA and provided notice to Defendants by certified mail which provided notice of the specific provisions of the Labor Code alleged to have been violated, including the facts and theories to support the violations alleged.

(b) On October 31, 2023, Plaintiff Sazma filed a PAGA Claim Notice with the LWDA and provided notice to Defendants by certified mail which provided notice of the specific provisions of the Labor Code alleged to have been violated, including the facts and theories to support the violations alleged.

(c) On December 1, 2023, Plaintiff Gallegos filed a PAGA Claim Notice with the LWDA and provided notice to Defendants by certified mail which provided notice of the specific provisions of the Labor Code alleged to have been violated, including the facts and theories to support the violations alleged.

163. Pursuant to Labor Code section 2699.3, the LWDA must give written notice by certified mail to the parties that it intends to investigate the alleged violations of the Labor Code within 60 days of the date of the complainant's written notice. The LWDA failed to provide the parties notice within 60 days of the date of PAGA Plaintiffs' PAGA Claim Notice that the LWDA intends to investigate PAGA Plaintiffs' claims.

164. Pursuant to Labor Code sections 2699(a) and (f), PAGA Plaintiffs are entitled to recover civil penalties for Defendants' violations of Labor Code sections 201, 202, 203, 204 226, 226.7, 512, 1194, 1197, and 2802, beginning one (1) year preceding PAGA Plaintiffs sending the initial PAGA Claim Notice to the LWDA to the present, in the following amounts:

(a) For violations of Labor Code sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 226.7, 2802, and 512; one hundred dollars ($100) for each aggrieved employee per pay period for the initial violation and two hundred dollars ($200) for each aggrieved employee per pay period for each subsequent violation [penalty amounts established by Labor Code section 2699(f)(2)].

a. For violations of Labor Code section 226, two hundred fifty dollars ($250) for each employee for each pay period for the initial violation, and for each subsequent violation, one thousand dollars ($1000) for each underpaid employee for each pay period [penalty amounts established by Labor Code section 226.3].

(b) For violations of Labor Code section 1194 and 1197, one hundred dollars ($100) for each underpaid employee for each pay period for the initial violation, and for each subsequent violation, two hundred fifty dollars ($250) for each underpaid employee for each pay period [penalty amounts established by Labor Code section 1197.1] and any unpaid wages.

165. Pursuant to Labor Code section 2699(g), PAGA Plaintiffs are entitled to an award of reasonable attorneys' fees and costs in connection with their claims for civil penalties.
