I. SUMMARY OF MOTION

This is a "Wage and Hour" representative action, under California's Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 ("PAGA"). Plaintiffs respectfully submit the instant Points and Authorities in support of their motion for Approval of the PAGA Settlement. This Request is Unopposed. The LWDA was timely notified of this proposal, and does not object to the allocations. (See concurrently filed Proof of Service on LWDA).

II. SUMMARY OF SETTLEMENT TERMS

This is a Labor Code §2698 et seq. "Wage and Hour" ("PAGA") action brought against HLT CONRAD DOMESTIC EMPLOYER LLC, (Hereinafter, "Defendant" or "HLT"). As this is a "PAGA" action only, the Limitations Period begins on December 26, 2022 and runs through September 22, 2026. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶3).

Following the exchange of discovery, analysis of numerous sets of time and wage data, a full day mediation before Steve Serratore, and extensive "arms length" negotiations, on July 24, 2026, the Parties reached a proposed settlement that includes a payment of penalties to the LWDA. (Yaeckel, ¶4). Attached to the Declaration of Eric K. Yaeckel as Exhibit 1 is a true and correct copy of the parties Settlement Agreement.

On September 10, 2026, Plaintiffs' counsel gave notice of the hearing and instant Settlement to the LWDA. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶ 5). To date, Plaintiffs' counsel has not received notice that the LWDA would intervene. (Id.)

On September 10, 2026, Plaintiffs' counsel uploaded via the LWDA's electronic filing portal copies of an entire ex parte application to get the settlement approved, including the Notice, this supporting Memorandum, Declaration, and Proposed Order & Judgment. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶ 6). To date, Plaintiffs' counsel has not received any response. (Id.) While the ex parte application was denied, the Court did move up the hearing for approval of this Motion. (Id.)

On October 16, 2026, Plaintiffs' counsel uploaded via the LWDA's electronic filing portal copies of this Motion, including the Notice, this supporting Memorandum, Declaration, and Proposed Order & Judgment. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶7). To date, Plaintiffs' counsel has not received any opposition from the LWDA. (Id.).

Defendant has confirmed that as of the date of this settlement, there are approximately 1,300 PAGA group members and 64,210 pay periods at issue. (Yaeckel Decl.¶8). After deduction of all "contingent costs" set forth below, each PAGA member will receive an average payment of $110.51. (Id.)

The Total Value of the proposed Settlement is $925,000.00 which is broken down as follows:

* $24,045.89 Costs of Litigation
* $10,000.00 Payment for Plaintiffs' Enhancement Award ($5,000 each)
* $7,919.20 Administration Expenses
* $308,333.33 Attorneys' Fees (1/3 of total settlement value);
* Sub-Total of $574,701.58. 75% ($431,026.18) shall be assigned/paid to the LWDA as penalties; and
* The remaining 25% ($143,675.40) will be disbursed among all employees based on work weeks employed during the PAGA period. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶9).

There are no restrictions for any of the approximately 1,300 employees to file individual actions, as the settlement agreement covers PAGA claims only. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶10; Exhibit 1, ¶37).

Plaintiffs' counsel authoring the instant motion is well versed in class and representative (PAGA) litigation. Based on that experience, counsel submits this settlement represents a fair and adequate payment to the LWDA and aggrieved employees. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶11-18).

Should the Court deem it necessary, a lodestar cross-check confirms the propriety of the requested attorneys fees. Given the attorneys fees incurred – in the approximate amount of $227,377.50 – a multiplier of approximately 1.35 is necessary for the full award requested (and undisputed) by Plaintiff. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶¶19-20).

Plaintiffs also seek reimbursement for reasonable litigation expenses incurred in the amount of $24,045.89. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶29).

The parties proposed notice, to accompany the settlement checks following approval, is attached to the Declaration of Eric K. Yaeckel as Exhibit 4.

III. CONTROLLING LAW

PAGA "authorizes an employee to bring an action for civil penalties on behalf of the state against his or her employer for Labor Code violations committed against the employee and fellow employees." (Iskanian v. CLS Trans. Los Angeles, LLC (2014) 59 Cal. 4th 348, 360). "To compensate for the lack of'[a]dequate financing of essential labor law enforcement functions,' the California legislature enacted PAGA to permit aggrieved employees to act as private attorneys general to collect civil penalties for violations of the Labor Code." (Sakkab v. Luxottica Retail N. Am., Inc. (9th Cir. 2015) 803 F.3d 425, 430).

Recently the Court of Appeal has given guidance to trial courts in reviewing a PAGA settlement:

> We therefore hold that a trial court should evaluate a PAGA settlement to determine whether it is fair, reasonable, and adequate in view of PAGA's purposes to remediate present labor law violations, deter future ones, and to maximize enforcement of state labor laws. (See Williams , supra , 3 Cal.5th at p. 546, 220 Cal.Rptr.3d 472, 398 P.3d 69 (PAGA "sought to remediate present violations and deter future ones"); Arias , supra , 46 Cal.4th at p. 980, 95 Cal.Rptr.3d 588, 209 P.3d 923 (the declared purpose of PAGA was to augment state enforcement efforts to achieve maximum compliance with labor laws).)

(Moniz v. Adecco USA, Inc. (2021) 72 Cal. App. 5th 56, 77).

Prior to Moniz, other Courts have followed the rationale in O'Connor v. Uber Techs., Inc. (N.D. Cal. 2016) 201 F.Supp.3d 1110, 132-35, which states a court is permitted to approve a PAGA settlement if it is "fair and adequate in view of the purposes and policies of the statute." (Id.)

A court may award a lesser amount than the maximum civil penalty amount if, based on the facts and circumstances of the particular case, to do otherwise would result in an award that is unjust, arbitrary and oppressive, or confiscatory. (Lab. Code, § 2699(e)(2); Amaral v. Cintas Corp. No. 2 (2008) 163 Cal.App.4th 1157, 1213-1214; See e.g., Fleming v. Covidien Inc. (C.D. Cal. Aug. 12, 2011) 2011 WL 7563047, at *4 [reducing PAGA penalties by 82%]).

In Flores v. Starwood Hotels & Resorts Worldwide, Inc. ("Flores"), the court was asked to approve a PAGA settlement (the "Settlement"). (Flores v. Starwood Hotels & Resorts Worldwide, Inc. (C.D. Cal. 2017) 253 F. Supp. 3d 1074, 1075–76). In deciding whether the court should approve the Settlement, the court looked to the California legislature, the California Courts of Appeal, the California Supreme Court, and the California Labor & Workforce Development Agency for a definitive answer as to what precedent the court should follow in either approving or denying the settlement. (Id.) The court was not able to find a definitive answer. (Id.) As such, the court followed the rationale in O'Connor v. Uber Techs. Inc. (N.D. Cal. 2016) 201 F.Supp.3d 1110, 132-35, which states a court is permitted to approve a PAGA settlement if the settlement is "fair and adequate in view of the purposes and policies of the statute." (Id.)

In deciding whether the settlement was "fair and adequate," the court's have looked at how the parties divvied up the civil penalties under Section 2699(i) of the California Labor Code. (Flores, 253 F. Supp. 3d at 1076–77). As the court felt the parties' division of penalties was fair and adequate pursuant to the statute, the court approved the Settlement. (Id.)

IV. DISCUSSION

The parties reached the terms of their proposed settlement agreement following the exchange of extensive information and employment records. The parties submit the proposed settlement of PAGA penalties is fair, adequate, and reasonable.

A. THE NATURE AND SCOPE OF THE ALLEGED VIOLATIONS

The Complaint alleges Labor Code violations which triggered penalties under the PAGA statute. (Labor Code §2698 et seq.; See ROA #1 [Civil Complaint]). Plaintiffs also alleged all employees were denied compliant Meal and Rest Periods, minimum wages, overtime, accurate wage statements, reimbursements, and suffered waiting time violations. (See ROA #1 [Civil Complaint]; Exhibit 1, ¶25).

Specifically, Plaintiffs allege that they – and other employees – received "short," "late," or "missing" Meal Periods, including those documented within Defendant's Time Records. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶ 30). Plaintiffs also challenged whether Defendant maintained lawful meal and rest periods. Plaintiffs alleged they – and other employees – were not properly compensated due to Defendant's failure to maintain accurate time records. (Id.)

B. ANALYSIS OF POTENTIAL LIABILITY, ON A REPRESENTATIVE BASIS

The catalyst of this litigation concerned allegations that Mr. Andrade and Mr. Magnarelli were denied legally compliant meal and rest periods, and was not paid for all Overtime hours worked. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶31). Plaintiffs claim that investigations completed by Plaintiffs' counsel support Plaintiffs' allegations that Defendant's timekeeping policies and employee records were not in compliance with California law. (Id.) Defendant disputes this allegation. However, Plaintiff concedes these investigations also revealed that the "rate of violation" by Defendant was significantly less than 100%. (Id.) On many of those occasions, it appears that Defendant did comply with the law. (Id.)

1. The Parameters of the Proposed PAGA Group

Plaintiffs' counsel have independently verified, that there are approximately 1,300 employees who worked a total of 64,210 pay periods from December 26, 2022 to September 22, 2026. (Yaeckel decl. ¶ 3; Exhibit 1, ¶¶32.a.iii, 32.e).

If the Court approves the "contingent costs" as requested in the moving papers, the total amount of PAGA penalties will be $574,701.58. 75% ($431,026.18) shall be assigned/paid to the LWDA as penalties. The remaining 25% ($143,675.40) will be disbursed among all employees based on pay periods worked during the PAGA period. If you divide the $143,675.40 in penalties between the 1,300 employees, it results in an average payout of $110.51 per employee. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶ 7).

Please Note: This is an average only. The actual payout per employee will vary based on the total pay periods worked during the PAGA period. (Exhibit 1, ¶32).

2. The Analysis of the Claims and Scope of Liability

Prior to settlement, Plaintiffs conducted a through analysis of the documents and data produced by Defendant. This included an analysis of all relevant written policies and a sampling of time and wage records for other putative aggrieved employees. Plaintiffs' Counsel were able to realistically assess the value of Plaintiffs' claims, and intelligently engage Defense Counsel in settlement discussions that culminated in the proposed settlement now before the Court. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶32).

Plaintiffs' calculated the estimated maximum scope of liability as being between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000. Defendant disputed this calculation. However, as is set forth more fully below, all counsel are aware that "maximum" awards in PAGA only cases are exceedingly rare. Moreover, most trial Courts (including this Trial Court, in the Carrington matter) decline to "stack" PAGA penalties. "Stacking" refers to imposing multiple penalties for one alleged "harm" (e.g. one single late meal period could arguably violate at least four Labor Code provisions that allow for separate penalties pursuant to PAGA). (Yaeckel Decl. ¶33).

Taking these facts into consideration, if penalties were awarded for only three out of the six claims (i.e. the non-derivative claims), and the penalties were further reduced from $100 per employee to $5 per employee, in line with the Carrington decision, the maximum recovery would be reduced to $700,000 - $800,000. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶34). Accordingly, Plaintiff submits this settlement is properly valued given this more realistic range of settlement.

i. Meal and Rest Period Claims

Plaintiffs alleged that Defendants denied its employees of compliant Meal and Rest Periods – and Meal and Rest Period payments – and failed to possess compliant Meal and Rest Period policies and practices based on Defendant's Time Records. Plaintiff claimed that many pay periods were missing, late, or short meal periods in violation of, inter alia, Labor Code sections 226.7 and 512. Defendant denied these allegations and Defendant asserted that employees were given the opportunity for breaks and self recorded their meal periods in compliance with California law. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶ 35).

Plaintiffs also alleged that Defendant's written rest period policies failed to fully inform employees of their rights with respect to rest periods. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶ 36). Defendant disputed these allegations and disputed that its written policies violate the Labor Code. (Id.)

ii. Unpaid Wage Claims

Plaintiffs claimed that HLT failed to pay its employees all compensation due in violation of, among other statutes, Labor Code section 1197. Plaintiffs alleged that although HLT would receive "to-the-minute" start and end times (due to the mandated timekeeping practices required of employees), HLT would thereafter alter – and deduct time from – the Time Records, prior to payment of compensation to the employees. Plaintiffs alleged that Defendant failed to pay its employees all compensation due. HLT disputed these claims. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶ 37).

Plaintiffs alleged that HLT's payments for non-compliant Meal Periods were not paid at the employee's regular rate. Instead, Plaintiffs alleged that these payments were made at an employee's base rate and did not include the value of, inter alia, all actual compensation owed, and/or all employee benefits such as, for example, non-discretionary compensation and other employee benefits. HLT disputed that it incorrectly calculated the regular rate and further disputed any shortcoming in paying meal period premiums. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶38).

iii. Wage Statements, Reimbursement and Other Derivative Penalties

The remaining claims are largely derivative, in that Wage Statement and Labor Code § 203 penalties would only be permissible if the above claims are proven. Plaintiffs have also alleged violations for failure to reimburse business expenses pursuant to Labor Code § 2802.However, any un-reimbursed expenses would have been very minimal. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶39).

iv. The Arguments for Mitigation of PAGA Penalties

Moreover, Plaintiffs' counsel is aware of the Court's discretion to mitigate penalties pursuant to California Labor Code section 2699(e)(2). (Yaeckel Decl., ¶40). To confirm, Plaintiffs' counsel experienced the mitigation of "PAGA" penalties in Carrington v. Starbucks Corp. (2018) 30 Cal.App.5th 504. (Id.) In Carrington, Judge Bacal significantly mitigated PAGA penalties ($5 per violation), due to the efforts made by the employer to comply with the law. (Id.)

Plaintiffs' counsel agrees with the Court, and with the provision of the Labor Code, that penalties should be mitigated where violations are minimal (or rare), or where the employer makes significant efforts to comply with the Labor Code. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶41).

As the above factors exist in this case, it is the opinion of Plaintiff's counsel that the settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶42).

3. Counsel Are Well Experienced in PAGA Matters and Recommend the Settlement

Plaintiffs' counsel, William B. Sullivan has approximately 30 years of experience in "class action" litigation, both as plaintiff and defense counsel. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶¶11-14). Plaintiffs' counsel, Eric K. Yaeckel, has over 15 years of experience prosecuting class and representative action claims under the California Labor Code. (Id.) Plaintiffs' counsel, Eric K. Yaeckel and William B. Sullivan, are the attorneys of record in a matter that was recently heard (and favorably decided) before the California Supreme Court titled Donohue v. AMN Servs., LLC (2021) 11 Cal.5th 58. (Id.) The Donohue matter was a certified class and PAGA action. (Id.)

Plaintiffs' counsel were lead counsel on approximately 50 employment "wage and hour" claims with class action, or representative action allegations. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶¶15-18). Based on said experience, it is the opinion of Plaintiffs' counsel that this settlement represents a fair and adequate payment. (Id.)

C. THE ALLOCATION OF PENALTIES, AND LIMITED RELEASE OF CLAIMS

While Labor Code section 2699(l) requires a court to "review and approve any penalties sought as part of a proposed settlement agreement," it does not provide any guidance as to what is considered an 'adequate' allocation of these penalties. However, Trial Courts have held that where the division of penalties was fair and adequate and in accordance with the PAGA statute, the court should approved the settlement. (Flores, 253 F. Supp. 3d at 1076–77.)

After subtracting the contingent costs set forth above, the parties seek to allocate $574,701.58 of the total settlement to the Total Value of the PAGA Fund. 75% ($431,026.18) shall be assigned/paid to the LWDA as penalties. The remaining 25% ($143,675.40) will be allocated and distributed among the current or ex-employees within the PAGA representation period. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶9).

The parties contend the settlement agreement amount is fair, adequate, and reasonable. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶¶18, 42). Moreover, the PAGA settlement does not bar any employee from pursuing their own individual Labor Code claims. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶10). The release only applies to the PAGA claims for penalties, based upon the allegations in Plaintiffs' operative Complaint. (Exhibit 1, ¶38).

D. REQUEST FOR ATTORNEYS' FEES, COSTS & ENHANCEMENT AWARDS

Plaintiffs also request the Court approve the requested attorneys' fees, costs reimbursement and plaintiffs' enhancement awards for the reasons set forth below.

1. Request for Reasonable Costs of Litigation

Plaintiffs' Counsel are entitled to reimbursement of their discretionary litigation costs. Cal. Lab. Code § 2699(g)(1). Out-of-pocket discretionary expenses are compensable if they would normally be billed to a fee-paying client. (See Beasley v. Wells Fargo Bank (1991) 235 Cal.App.3d 1407, 1419 [overruled in part on other grounds in Olson v. Automobile Club of Southern Calif. (2008) 42 Cal.4th 1142].) Such discretionary costs may be claimed as part of an attorneys' fees motion when seeking statutory fees under the Labor Code. (See Amaral v. Cintas Corp. No. 2 (2008) 163 Cal.App.4th 1157, 1218 n.27 [awarding costs that are necessarily incurred].)

As itemized in Plaintiffs' Counsel's declaration, Counsel advanced $24,045.89 in out-of-pocket costs to the State for, among other things, filing fees, and mediation fees. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶29; Ex. 3). Because these reasonable costs were necessarily incurred during the case's pendency, these costs are reasonable and should be awarded. (See also Cal. Civ. Pro. Code § 1033.5(c)(4) ["[i]tems not mentioned in this section and items assessed upon application may be allowed or denied in the court's discretion”].)

2. Request for Reasonable Attorneys’ Fees

For the reasons discussed in detail below, an award of attorneys' fees in the amount of one third of the gross settlement fund is fair and reasonable, and in line with what other California courts, both state and federal, have awarded in settlements of similar litigation.

The PAGA statute provides that a plaintiff is entitled to recover reasonable attorneys' fees, expenses, and costs. Section 2699(g)(1) of the California Labor Code provides that "[a]ny employee who prevails in any action shall be entitled to an award of reasonable attorney's fees and costs." In a qui tam action, reasonable attorneys' fees and costs are typically awarded under the common fund doctrine where, as here, the litigation creates a common fund of money in a specific amount for the benefit of others. PAGA "is a type of qui tam action." See Iskanian, 59 Cal. 4th at 382. "A qui tam action 'is a type of private attorney general lawsuit' [citation], in which 'the qui tam plaintiff stands in the shoes of the state or political subdivision [citation].'" People ex rei. Stratham v. Acacia Research Corp., 210 Cal. App. 4th 487, 501 (2012).

Where, as here, a common fund is created in a qui tam action by the successful litigation of a plaintiff and her attorneys, the plaintiff's attorneys are entitled to recover their fees from the common fund:

> Those benefitting from the recovery of the fund, in this case some depositors and eventually the People of the State of California, must bear their share of the cost of litigation. Fees for taxpayers' attorneys will be deducted from the judgment, and each claimant's share reduced proportionately. To the extent the judgment relies upon section 1021.5 for recovery of attorney fees, it must be modified to confine the award of fees to the common fund theory.

Bank of America v. Cory, 164 Cal. App. 3d 66, 91 (1985) (authorizing common fund fees in a qui tam taxpayer suit against certain banks).

Likewise, through the successful efforts of Plaintiffs and their attorneys, a common fund was created in the amount of $925,000.00 for the benefit of the employees and the State of California.

The California Supreme Court recently upheld the use of the common fund theory of recovery for attorneys' fees in Laffitte v. Robert Half Int'l Inc., 1 Cal. 5th 480, 506 (2016). In Laffitte, the settlement created a common fund of $19 million. The Court approved the award of attorneys' fees in the amount of one third of the gross $19 million settlement (e.g., an award of $6.33 million) under the common fund theory. Id. By awarding counsel a percentage of the total recovery, rather than fees based on hours worked, the common fund method encourages attorneys to efficiently litigate to achieve the best results possible. See Laffitte, 1 Cal. 5th at 492-494. Indeed, "the percentage method is generally favored in common fund cases because it allows courts to award fees from the fund in a manner that rewards counsel for success and penalizes it for failure. Id. at 493 (quoting In re Rite Aid Corp. Securities Litig., 396 F.3d 294, 300 (3d Cir. 2005) (internal quotations omitted).

California state and federal courts routinely award attorneys' fees approximating one-third of the common fund. See, e.g. Laffitte v. Robert Half Internat. Inc., 231 Cal. App. 4th 860, 871 (2016) ("33 1/3 percent of the common fund is consistent with, and in the range of, awards in other class action lawsuits"); Chavez, 162 Cal. App. 4th at 66 n.11 ("Empirical studies show that, regardless whether the percentage method or the lodestar method is used, fee awards in class actions average around one-third of the recovery.")

A fee award in the amount of one-third of the common fund is also reasonable because it best reflects the market rate for contingency fees. See Lealao v. Beneficial Cal. Inc., 82 Cal. App. 4th 19, 47 (2000) ("attorneys providing the essential enforcement services must be provided incentives roughly comparable to those negotiated in the private bargaining that takes place in the legal marketplace. . . ."). Fees representing one-third of the recovery reflect the rate negotiated in "typical contingency fee agreements [which] provide that class counsel will recover 33% if the case is resolved before trial and 40% if the case is tried." Fernandez v. Victoria Secret Stores, LLC, No. CV 06-04149 MMM SHX, 2008 WL 8150856, at *16 (C.D. Cal. July 21, 2008) (citing an academic study collecting contingency fee agreements and finding that a fee award constituting 34% of the fund is reasonable on that basis). Because the negotiated fee structure mimics the marketplace, it is reasonable and should be approved.

For all of these reasons, a common fund fee award in the amount of one third of the total settlement ($308,333.33) is fair and reasonable.

3. A Lodestar Cross Check Further Confirms the Reasonableness of the Fee

Given the attorneys fees incurred – in the approximate amount of $227,377.50– a multiplier of approximately 1.35 is necessary for the full award requested (and undisputed) by Plaintiff. (Yaeckel decl. ¶¶19-20).

California courts and the Ninth Circuit hold that the trial court in determining whether to apply a multiplier should look at the case and its results as a whole. Historically, California courts have approved multipliers of 1.5 to 4. See Coalition for Los Angeles County Planning v. Board of Supervisors, (1977) 76 Cal. App. 3d 241, 251 (multiplier of 2+); Kern River Public Access Committee v. City of Bakersfield, (1985) 170 Cal. App. 3d 1205, 1228 (multiplier of 1.5); Downey Cares v. Downey Community Development Commission, (1987) 196 Cal. App. 3d 983, 994 (multiplier of 1.5); Sternwest Com. v. Ash, (1986) 183 Cal. App. 3d 74, 75.

Furthermore, the Federal courts have applied multipliers ranging from 1.7 to 4.0, even when the class action involved relatively routine issues. See Rabin v. Concord Assets Grouo. Inc., (S.D.N.Y. 1991) Fed. Sec. L. Rep. (CCH) Par. 96,471 at 92, 091 (multiplier of 4.4); Behrens v. Wometco, (S.D.Fla 1988) 118 F.R.D. 534, 549 (multiplier of 3); Rievman v. Burlington Northern Railroad Co., (S.D.N.Y. 1987) 118 F.R.D. 29, 35 (noting multiplier~ between 3 and 4.5 are common).

Here, the multiplier requested is within the range of what California and federal courts often apply in class action or representative action cases. Moreover, the results obtained here, versus the risk of a zero recovery, given the numerous asserted defenses, support this modest multiplier request. (Yaeckel decl. ¶21).

In the event the Court deems a lodestar analysis is necessary it will confirm that Plaintiffs' counsels' fees are reasonable. Counsel submits its fees are reasonable and in line with (or lower) than rates charged in the community by attorneys with similar experience. (See Yaeckel Decl. ¶21).

Please Note: there is no authority Plaintiff is aware of requiring a lodestar analysis in a PAGA only settlement, which is why Plaintiff has relied upon the Class Action authority cited above. Moreover, the results obtained here, including the average net recovery per PAGA Member exceed those normally observed in PAGA only settlements. (See Yaeckel Decl. ¶19).

4. Request for PAGA Representative Enhancement

The named Plaintiffs request an enhancement payment of $5,000 each for their service as the PAGA representatives and for recognition that they were also required to release all of their underlying Labor Code claims via a full section 1542 release. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶9). There is no such restriction on the other alleged aggrieved employees. (Id. at ¶10).

An enhancement is justified in light of the "reputational risk" that Plaintiff assumed by litigating claims against a former employer. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶¶45-48; See Billinghausen v. Tractor Supply Co. (N.D. Cal. 2015) 306 F.R.D. 245, 267-68 [finding "personal detriment" upon testimony that future employers can easily learn that a prospective employee served as a plaintiff through the internet]).

Second, the separate settlement payment is reasonable because Plaintiffs "remained fully involved and expended considerable time and energy during the course of the litigation. (See In re Toys "R" Us-Del FACTA Litig., 295 F.R.D. at 471 [citation omitted].) Plaintiffs devoted their time and effort toward assisting their attorneys with the prosecution of the claims, and assisted counsel with finalizing the settlement. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶ 45).

The separate payment is also appropriate because Plaintiffs otherwise "will not gain any benefit beyond that [they] would receive as an ordinary [Aggrieved Employee]." (In re Toys "R" Us FACTA Litig., 295 F.R.D. at 472; Van Vranken, 901 F.Supp. at 299 [holding that a substantial award is appropriate where a [representative's] claim made up "only a fraction of the common fund"].

Lastly, because PAGA is a "type of qui tam action," it is appropriate for the Plaintiff to receive a modest additional payment from the settlement as a "bounty" for her special effort in vindicating the State's interests by enforcing its labor laws. (See Iskanian, 59 Cal.4th at 382 ["A PAGA representative action is therefore a type of qui tam action"]; see also People ex rel. Strathmann v. Acacia Research Corp. (2012) 210 Cal.App.4th 487, 500 ["The person who brings the qui tam action, called the 'relator,' stands in the shoes of the People of the State of California, who are deemed to be the real party in interest . . . the relator in a qui tam action under section 1871.7 does not personally recover damages but, if successful, receives [a portion] of the recovery as a bounty" (internal citations omitted)].)

Here, by "sticking their neck out" as PAGA Representatives in a publicly filed lawsuit, Plaintiffs took a substantial risk that may adversely impact their ability to work in this field in the future. Any company who does a detailed background check, will be able to determine that Plaintiffs asserted legal claims against their former employer. An entire industry exists that allows employers to run extensive background searches on potential employees. Companies who provide these services specifically highlight the fact that their services allow employers to weed out litigious employment candidates. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶47).

Plaintiffs also risked personally owing a large cost award, into the tens of thousands of dollars, had their claims been unsuccessful. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶49).

The enhancement also recognizes that although this involves a PAGA only settlement, Plaintiffs agreed to release all claims as a part of the proposed settlement. (Exhibit 1, ¶37). In addition to the PAGA claims, Plaintiffs possessed individual Labor Code violations that were required to be released as a result of this settlement. All other employees are subjected to a limited release of PAGA claims only.

The Enhancement Award Payment will be issued using an IRS 1099 Form. (Exhibit 1, ¶32.a.iv).

5. CAC Services Group, LLC Will Serve as the Settlement Administrator

The parties have agreed to engage CAC Services Group, LLC ("CAC") as the Settlement Administrator. CAC has agreed to carry out all Administration duties for an amount not to exceed $7,919.20. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶51; Exhibit 1, ¶32.e).

CAC has extensive experience acting as a Settlement Administrator and is prepared to carry out all Settlement Administration duties consistent with the parties Agreement and the Final Order of this Court. (Yaeckel Decl. ¶52).

E. THE LWDA WAS NOTIFIED MULTIPLE TIMES, AND DOES NOT OBJECT

On September 10, 2026, Plaintiffs' counsel gave notice of the hearing and instant Settlement to the LWDA. (Yaeckel Decl., ¶ 5). To date, Plaintiffs' counsel has not received notice that the LWDA

would intervene. (Id.)

On September 10, 2026, Plaintiffs' counsel uploaded via the LWDA's electronic filing portal copies of an entire ex parte application to get the settlement approved, including the Notice, this supporting Memorandum, Declaration, and Proposed Order & Judgment. Yaeckel Decl., ¶ 6). To date, Plaintiffs' counsel has not received any response. (Id.) While the ex parte application was denied, the Court did move up the hearing for approval of this Motion. (Id.)

On October 16, 2026, Plaintiffs' counsel uploaded via the LWDA's electronic filing portal copies of this Motion, including the Notice, this supporting Memorandum, Declaration, and Proposed Order & Judgment. (Decl. Yaeckel ¶7).

To date, Plaintiffs have not received a response from the LWDA regarding the proposed settlement. If the LWDA contacts Plaintiffs' counsel at any time prior to the hearing, Plaintiffs' counsel will provide an updated declaration to the Court. (Decl. Yaeckel ¶7).

V. CONCLUSION

The parties respectfully request that the Court approve their settlement and proposed allocation of PAGA penalties to the LWDA and the represented employees.
