NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION FOR APPROVAL OF PAGA SETTLEMENT AND AWARD OF ATTORNEYS' FEES AND COSTS, ENHANCEMENT PAYMENT, AND SETTLEMENT ADMINISTRATION COSTS

Date:	March 23, 2027
Time:	8:30 a.m.
Dept:	S28
Complaint Filed:	July 1, 2024
Trial Date:	Not Set

TO ALL PARTIES AND THEIR ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT on March 23, 2027at 8:30 a.m. in Department S28 of the above-captioned Court located at the San Bernardino Justice Center, 247 West 3rd Street, San Bernardino, California 92415, Plaintiff Vanessa Baltazar ("Plaintiff") will and hereby does move the Court for an Order granting approval of the California Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act of 2004, California Labor Code sections 2698, et seq. ("PAGA") settlement. Specifically, Plaintiff requests that the Court enter an Order:

1. Granting approval pursuant to California Labor Code section 2699(s)(2) of the Private Attorneys General Act Settlement Agreement and Release ("Settlement," "Agreement," or "Settlement Agreement") attached as Exhibit 2 to the Declaration of James S. Winn Jr. in Support of Plaintiff's Motion for Approval of PAGA Settlement and Award of Attorneys' Fees and Costs, Enhancement Payment, and Settlement Administration Costs ("Winn Decl.");
2. Directing the distribution of the Gross Settlement Amount of Three Hundred Fifty-One Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($351,000.00) pursuant to the terms of the Agreement;
3. Approving the Net Settlement Amount, estimated to be One Hundred Ninety Thousand Ninety-One Dollars and Eight-Six Cents ($190,091.86), of which seventy-five percent (75%) will be distributed to the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency ("LWDA") and twenty-five percent (25%) of which will be distributed to the Aggrieved Employees;
4. Approving an award of reasonable attorneys' fees of thirty-five percent (35%) of the Gross Settlement Amount (i.e., $122,850.00 if the Gross Settlement Amount is $351,000.00) to Plaintiff's Counsel;
5. Approving the amount of Twenty-Four Thousand One Hundred Sixty-Eight Dollars and Fourteen Cents ($24,168.14) to Plaintiff's Counsel for reimbursement of actual litigation expenses payment pursuant to California Labor Code section 2699(k)(1);
6. Approving an Enhancement Payment in the amount of up to Seven Thousand Five Hundred Dollars and Zero Cents ($7,500.00) to Plaintiff;

7. Appointing Apex Class Action LLC as the Settlement Administrator; and

8. Approving an award of up to Six Thousand Three Hundred Ninety Dollars and Zero Cents ($6,390.00) in anticipated costs to Apex Class Action LLC for its settlement administration services.

In accordance with California Labor Code sections 2699 et. seq., on November 6, 2026, a copy of the proposed Settlement Agreement was submitted to the LWDA via online submission through the LWDA's website. (Winn Decl., ¶ 14 and Exh. 3).

This Motion is based upon this Notice, the attached Memorandum of Points and Authorities, the Declarations of James S. Winn Jr., Plaintiff Vanessa Baltazar, and the Settlement Administrator (Kimberly Sutherland of Apex Class Action LLC), the pleadings and other records on file with the Court in this matter, and any other further evidence or argument that the Court may properly receive at or before the hearing.

Respectfully submitted,

Dated: November 6, 2026

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

Pursuant to the California Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act, California Labor Code sections 2698, et seq. ("PAGA"), Plaintiff Vanessa Baltazar ("Plaintiff") seeks approval of the Private Attorneys General Act Settlement Agreement and Release ("Settlement," "Agreement," or "Settlement Agreement") entered into with Defendant SA Food Service, LLC ("Defendant") (together, with Plaintiff, the "Parties"), which is attached as Exhibit 2 to the Declaration of James S. Winn Jr. in Support of Plaintiff's Motion for Approval of PAGA Settlement, Attorneys' Fees and Costs, Enhancement Payment, and Settlement Administration Costs ("Winn Decl."). The Agreement terms are outlined as follows:

- Gross Settlement Amount: Three Hundred Fifty-One Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($351,000.00).
- Attorneys' Fees and Costs: Attorneys' fees of thirty-five percent (35%) of the Gross Settlement Amount (i.e., $122,850.00 if the Gross Settlement Amount is $351,000.00) and reimbursement of actual litigation costs and expenses in the amount of Twenty-Four Thousand One Hundred Sixty-Eight Dollars and Fourteen Cents ($24,168.14), to be paid from the Gross Settlement Amount.
- Enhancement Payment: Up to Seven Thousand Five Hundred Dollars and Zero Cents ($7,500.00) to Plaintiff, to be paid from the Gross Settlement Amount.
- Settlement Administration Costs: Up to Six Thousand Three Hundred Ninety Dollars and Zero Cents ($6,390.00), to be paid from the Gross Settlement Amount.
- Estimated Net Settlement Amount: One Hundred Ninety Thousand Ninety-One Dollars and Eight-Six Cents ($190,091.86), of which seventy-five percent (75%) ($142,568.90) will be paid to the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency ("LWDA") and the remaining twenty-five percent (25%) ($47,522.96) will be paid to the Aggrieved Employees.

As set forth herein, the Settlement Agreement is the product of informed discovery, arms-length negotiations, and provides a fair, adequate, and reasonable recovery for the State of California and Aggrieved Employees. Plaintiff therefore respectfully requests that the Court grant approval of the proposed Settlement Agreement, among other requested relief.

II. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

Defendant is a privately held company operating several franchise locations of Arby's Restaurant. (Winn Decl., ¶ 2). Defendant employed Plaintiff as an hourly-paid, non-exempt General Manager from approximately May 2018 through approximately March 2024. (Winn Decl., ¶ 2; Baltazar Decl., ¶ 2).

On April 25, 2024, Plaintiff provided written notice by electronic submission to the LWDA and by U.S. Certified Mail to Defendant, pursuant to California Labor Code § 2699.3, of the specific provisions of the California Labor Code alleged to have been violated by Defendant ("PAGA Notice"). (Winn Decl., ¶ 3 and Exh. 1).

On April 26, 2024, Plaintiff filed a Class Action Complaint in the action entitled Vanessa Baltazar v. SA Food Service, LLC, San Bernardino County Superior Court Case No. CIVSB2415059 ("Class Action"), thereby commencing a putative class action against Defendant. (Id., ¶ 4).

On July 1, 2024, Plaintiff filed a Complaint for Enforcement Action Under the Private Attorneys General Act, Cal. Labor Code §§ 2698 Et Seq. ("Operative Complaint") in the action entitled Vanessa Baltazar v. SA Food Service, LLC, San Bernardino County Superior Court Case No. CIVSB2421571 ("Action"). (Id., ¶ 5). The Operative Complaint asserts a single cause of action for civil penalties under PAGA for violations of multiple provisions of the California Labor Code and the applicable Industrial Welfare Commission Wage Orders. (Ibid).

On November 19, 2024, Plaintiff propounded formal written discovery onto Defendant (specifically, Form Interrogatories – General (Set One), Form Interrogatories – Employment Law (Set One), Special Interrogatories (Set One), Requests for Admission (Set One), and Requests for Production of Documents (Set One)), and noticed the deposition of Defendant's Person Most Knowledgeable. (Id., ¶ 6).

On November 4, 2025, the Parties participated in a formal mediation conducted by Monique Ngo-Bonnici, Esq., a neutral and respected mediator with extensive experience in complex wage and hour matters, which did not result in a settlement at that time. (Id., ¶ 7). However, after further negotiations and with the aid of the mediator's evaluation, the Parties were ultimately able to reach an agreement to resolve the Action in its entirety. (Ibid).

On June 18, 2026, the Parties executed the Settlement Agreement. (Id., ¶ 8 and Exh. 2).

On October 12, 2026, Plaintiff filed request for dismissal papers in the Class Action. (Id., ¶ 9).

During the course of informal discovery in the Action, Plaintiff's Counsel conducted an intense investigation into the facts of the Action. (Id., ¶ 10). This included obtaining data, information, and documents relating to the underlying alleged violations, including, but not limited to, Plaintiff's employee file, a sampling of Aggrieved Employees' time and payroll data, relevant wage and hour policies, and Aggrieved Employees' data points so that Plaintiff could assess the number of alleged potential violations and value of the recoverable penalties, as well as evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of her claims. (Ibid).

B Based on the data, information, and documents received, as well as thorough discussions with Defendant's counsel, Plaintiff's Counsel was able to (i) determine the total number of distinct individuals falling within the definition of "Aggrieved Employees" for the relevant statutory period, (ii) the number of affected pay periods at issue among them, and (iii) construct a damages model that calculated the maximum realistic amount of PAGA penalties that could be levied against Defendant within the relevant statutory period. (Id., ¶ 11). Defendant, however, disputed Plaintiff's claims and disputed both the existence of and extent of liability as alleged by Plaintiff, which allowed Plaintiff's Counsel to further assess the strength of Plaintiff's claims. (Ibid). Plaintiff's Counsel's experience in litigating similar representative wage and hour claims, the degree of investigation that was conducted here, and the amount of data, information, and documents that was obtained, was sufficient to determine the potential value of the PAGA claims, and to evaluate the strength of these claims for purposes of settlement. (Ibid).

The Parties believe the Settlement Agreement is fair, reasonable, and adequate. (Id., ¶ 12). The Parties understand, acknowledge, and agree that the Settlement Agreement constitutes a compromise of Plaintiff's PAGA claims, and that it is the desire and intention of the Parties to affect a final and complete resolution of the Action. (Ibid).

Defendant denies all of the claims in the Action, and does not waive, but rather expressly reserves, all rights to challenge all such claims and allegations upon all legal, procedural, and factual grounds should the Settlement Agreement not become final. (Id., ¶ 13). The Settlement Agreement reflects a compromise reached to end litigation in the Action. (Ibid). Following significant investigation and extensive settlement negotiations, Plaintiff now seeks approval of the proposed Settlement Agreement, which will resolve all representative claims alleged in the Action. (Ibid).

III. THE SETTLEMENT TERMS

A. Definition of the Aggrieved Employees

For purposes of settlement only, the Parties have agreed that the "Aggrieved Employees" shall be defined as "all current and former hourly-paid and/or non-exempt employees who worked for Defendant in the State of California at any time during the PAGA Period." (Winn Decl., ¶ 15; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3(a)(5)). The "PAGA Period" is the period from April 25, 2023 to February 24, 2026. (Winn Decl., ¶ 15; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3(a)(5)). There are approximately Five Hundred Ninety-Five (595) Aggrieved Employees. (Winn Decl., ¶ 15).

B. Amount of Settlement

The Parties have agreed to settle the PAGA claims at issue in the Action for a non-reversionary Gross Settlement Amount of Three Hundred Fifty-One Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($351,000.00). (Winn Decl., ¶ 16; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3(a)(1)).

C. Allocation and Funding of the Gross Settlement Amount

The Gross Settlement Amount is a common fund and therefore includes all requested costs, fees, and other allocations. (Winn Decl., ¶ 16). The Gross Settlement Amount includes: (1) attorneys' fees in the amount of thirty-five percent (35%) of the Gross Settlement Amount ($122,850.00 if the Gross Settlement Amount is $351,000.00); (2) attorneys' actual litigation costs and expenses in the amount of Twenty-Four Thousand One Hundred Sixty-Eight Dollars and Fourteen Cents ($24,168.14); (3) Enhancement Payment in the amount of up to Seven Thousand Five Hundred Dollars and Zero Cents ($7,500.00); and (4) Settlement Administration Costs, not to exceed Six Thousand Three Hundred Ninety Dollars and Zero Cents ($6,390.00). (Winn Decl., ¶ 16; Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 3(a)(1) - 3(a)(3)).

After the above-estimated amounts are deducted from the Gross Settlement Amount, the Net Settlement Amount will amount to One Hundred Ninety Thousand Ninety-One Dollars and Eight-Six Cents ($190,091.86), of which seventy-five percent (75%), or One Hundred Forty-Two Thousand Five Hundred Sixty-Eight Dollars and Ninety Cents ($142,568.90), will be paid to the LWDA ("LWDA Payment"), and twenty-five percent (25%), or Forty-Seven Thousand Five Hundred Twenty-Two Dollars and Ninety-Six Cents ($47,522.96), will be distributed and paid to Aggrieved Employees ("Employees' Portion") on a pro rata basis based upon the number of pay periods they each worked during the PAGA Period ("Pay Periods"). (Winn Decl., ¶ 17; Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 3(a)(5) and 5(b)).

No later than seven (7) calendar days after the Court's order granting approval of the Settlement, Defendant shall provide the Settlement Administrator with a list of all Aggrieved Employees (the "Aggrieved Employees List"), containing each Aggrieved Employee's: (i) first and last name; (ii) last known address; (iii) last known telephone number; (iv) Social Security number; and (v) dates worked during the PAGA Period. (Winn Decl., ¶ 18; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 5(c)(1)).

Within twenty-one (21) calendar days of the Court's order granting approval of the Settlement Agreement, Defendant will transmit the Gross Settlement Amount to a qualified settlement account established by the Settlement Administrator. (Winn Decl., ¶ 19; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 5(a)).

No later than ten (10) business days after the Settlement Administrator receives the Aggrieved Employees List and Gross Settlement Amount, the Settlement Administrator will distribute the Individual PAGA Payments, the LWDA Payment, the Enhancement Payment, the Settlement Administration Costs, and the Attorneys' Fees and Costs. (Winn Decl., ¶ 20; Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 5(c)(3), 5(c)(5)-5(c)(8)).

Each Individual PAGA Payment check will be valid and negotiable for one hundred and eighty (180) calendar days from the date the checks are issued, and thereafter, will be canceled. (Winn Decl., ¶ 21; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 5(c)(4)). Any funds associated with such canceled checks will be distributed by the Settlement Administrator to the State Controller's Office Unclaimed Property Division in the name of the Aggrieved Employee(s) at issue and in the amount of their respective Individual PAGA Payment(s). (Winn Decl., ¶ 21; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 5(c)(4)).

The Aggrieved Employees are estimated to have worked 14,500 pay periods during the period April 25, 2023 to February 24, 2025. (Winn Decl., ¶ 22; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3(6)). If the actual number of Pay Periods is more than ten percent (10%) above14,500, the Gross Settlement Amount will be increased by the percentage that the actual number exceeds 15,950 Pay Periods. (Winn Decl., ¶ 22; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3(6)).

IV. STANDARD FOR APPROVAL OF PAGA SETTLEMENT

The settlement of a PAGA claim requires court approval. (California Labor Code ("Lab. Code") § 2699(l)). The Court must be mindful that a "[s]ettlement is a compromise, which balances the possible recovery against the risks inherent in litigating further." (In re TD Ameritrade Account Holder Litig., 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 103222 at *24 (N.D. Cal. Sep. 12, 2011)). "[T]he very essence of a settlement is ... 'a yielding of absolutes and an abandoning of highest hopes,'" as "it is the very uncertainty of outcome in litigation and avoidance of wasteful and expensive litigation that induce consensual settlements." (Officers for Justice v. Civil Service Com., 688 F.2d 615, 624-26 (9th Cir. 1982)). As such, "the settlement or fairness hearing is not to be turned into a trial or rehearsal for trial on the merits," or "judged against a hypothetical or speculative measure of what might have been achieved." (Ibid).

Although the California Labor Code does not set forth the criteria by which a PAGA settlement is to be evaluated, it is presumed that a reviewing court may take into consideration some of the factors that courts use when reviewing a class action settlement. However, "a PAGA claim asserted on a non-class representative basis...is not considered a class action but a law enforcement action, and therefore does not have to meet the requirements of [a class action]." (Casida v. Sears Holdings Corp., 2012 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 9302 at *8 (E.D. Cal. Jan. 25, 2012)).

A court's review of a PAGA settlement necessarily implicates the following unique features that render the approval process distinct from approval of a class action settlement under Code of Civil Procedure Section 382 and California Rules of Court Rule 3.769. First, in evaluating the adequacy of the settlement amount, the Court's focus is not concerned with the amount aggrieved employees are to receive, but rather, must focus on the total settlement amount in achieving PAGA's objective. Indeed, "[t]he remedy sought in a PAGA suit consists of civil penalties, not individual or class damages," and while a "[PAGA] action is ... designed to protect the public and penalize the employer for past illegal conduct," a reviewing court must be mindful of the fact that settlement of a PAGA claim involves a compromise. (Mendez v. Tween Brands, Inc., 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 66454 at *11 (E.D. Cal. June 30, 2010)). "Unlike class actions, these civil penalties are not meant to compensate unnamed employees because the action is fundamentally a law enforcement action." (Ochoa-Hernandez v. Cjaders Foods, Inc., 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 32774 at *12 (Apr. 2, 2010)). The Court should not lose sight of the fact that, "[u]nlike a class action seeking damages or injunctive relief for injured employees, the purpose of PAGA is to incentivize private parties to recover civil penalties for the government that otherwise may not have been assessed and collected by overburdened state enforcement agencies." (Ibid).

Second, consistent with the fact that unnamed employees have no property interest in a PAGA claim, "[u]nnamed employees need not be given notice of the PAGA claim, nor do they have the ability to opt-out of the representative PAGA claim." (Ochoa-Hernandez, 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 32774 at *13). Indeed, "[PAGA] does not create property rights or any other substantive rights" as "[i]t is simply a procedural statute allowing an aggrieved employee to recover civil penalties – for Labor Code violations – that otherwise would be sought by state labor law enforcement agencies." (Amalgamated Transit Union, Local 1756, AFL-CIO v. Sup. Ct., 46 Cal.4th 993, 1003 (2009)). This renders the approval process of a PAGA settlement distinct from a class action settlement, as there is no need for the Court to employ the "two-step approval process" required under California Rules of Court Rule 3.769.

Finally, unlike class action settlements, the scope of release permitted in a PAGA settlement is limited. While "judgment in [a PAGA] action is binding not only on the named employee plaintiff but also on government agencies and any aggrieved employee not a party to the proceeding...the nonparty employees, because they were not given notice of the action or afforded any opportunity to be heard, would not be bound by the judgment as to remedies other than civil penalties." (Arias v. Sup. Ct., 46 Cal.4th 969, 985-87 (2009)). Thus, the scope of a release in a PAGA settlement is confined to the PAGA penalties alleged in the complaint and/or the plaintiff's notice to the LWDA and to the claims that were, or could have been, alleged pursuant to PAGA based on the factual allegations in the complaint and/or the plaintiff's notice to the LWDA. In the case at hand, as the only claims at issue are PAGA claims, those will be the only claims extinguished through the Settlement.

V. THE AGREEMENT IS FAIR AND SHOULD BE APPROVED

A. The Agreement is Presumed to Be Fair

California courts recognize that "a presumption of fairness exists where . . . [a] settlement is reached through arm's-length bargaining." (Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc., 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 245 (2001); see also Clark v. Am. Residential Servs. LLC, 175 Cal. App. 4th 785, 799 (2009)). Here, the Agreement is presumptively fair because: (1) it occurred after counsel for the Parties engaged in significant investigation to evaluate the strength and potential value of the PAGA claims, and the risks of litigating these claims through trial; and (2) it was negotiated at great length and effort by counsel with significant experience in similar complex labor and employment matters. (Winn Decl., ¶ 23).

B. The Agreement is Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable in Light of the Parties' Respective Legal Positions and Recovery Risks

In deciding whether to approve a proposed settlement, a trial court has broad powers to determine if it is fair given the circumstances of the case. (Mallick v. Sup. Ct., 89 Cal.App.3d 434, 438 (1979)). In exercising these powers, the overriding concern is to ensure that a proposed settlement is "fair, adequate, and reasonable." (Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801 (internal quotations omitted)). A settlement is not judged against what might have been recovered had a plaintiff prevailed at trial, nor does the settlement have to obtain one hundred percent of the damages sought to be fair and reasonable. (Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 246, 250). In evaluating the reasonableness of a settlement, a trial court must consider "the strength of plaintiffs' case, the risk, expense, complexity and likely duration of further litigation, the risk of maintaining class action status through trial, the amount offered in settlement, the extent of discovery completed and the stage of the proceedings, the experience and views of counsel, the presence of a governmental participant, and the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement."[1] (Kullar v. Foot Locker Retail, Inc., 168 Cal.App.4th 116, 128 (2008)). Even though a Kullar analysis is not required for approval of a PAGA settlement, a brief analysis is included to support approval of the Settlement Agreement. (See Winn Decl., ¶¶ 29-43).

These factors require balancing and are non-exhaustive. Trial courts should therefore tailor the factors to each case and give due regard to "what is otherwise a private consensual agreement between the parties." (Dunk, supra, 48 Cal. App. 4th at 1801).

1. Strength of Plaintiff's Case

In order to prevail at trial, Plaintiff would have to prove violations of the California Labor Code underlying her PAGA claims, demonstrate that Aggrieved Employees suffered, and demonstrate that Defendant's conduct gives rise to penalties. (See Elliot v. Spherion Pac. Work, LLC, 572 F.Supp.2d 1169, 1181-82 (C.D. Cal. 2008) ["Plaintiff's claim under [PAGA] is wholly dependent upon her other claims. Because all of Plaintiff's other claims fail as a matter of law, so does her PAGA claim."]).

Here, Plaintiff's core allegations are that Defendant systematically violated the California Labor Code by, inter alia, failing to properly pay wages for all hours worked, failing to pay overtime at the correct rate, failing to provide compliant meal and rest periods, failing to pay premiums at the correct rate of pay, failing to timely pay wages during employment and upon termination, failing to maintain accurate payroll records, failing to provide accurate wage statements, and failing to reimburse necessary business expenses. (Winn Decl., ¶ 24).

Defendant maintained several defenses to Plaintiff's theories of liability, which, if successfully argued and proven, had the potential to eliminate or substantially reduce recovery. (Id., ¶ 25). Throughout this litigation, Defendant maintained, and continues to maintain, that it had, and continues to have, compliant employment policies and practices throughout the time period at issue. (Ibid). Defendant denies that it ever violated any provision of the California Labor Code, including, but not limited to, those sections for which Plaintiff seeks penalties under PAGA. (Ibid). Defendant further denied, and continues to deny, that the lawsuit is appropriate for representative treatment for any purpose other than settlement. (Ibid). Defendant also challenged Plaintiff's standing as an aggrieved employee and denied that any of Defendant's other employees whom Plaintiff seeks to represent are aggrieved. (Ibid).

Defendant also argued that an important feature of PAGA is that the Court retains discretion to lower the penalties if, based on the facts and circumstances of the particular case, to do otherwise would result in an award that is "unjust, arbitrary and oppressive, or confiscatory." (Ibid; Lab. Code § 2699(e)(2); see also Thurman v. Bayshore Transit Management, Inc., 203 Cal.App.4th 1112, 1136 (2012) [holding that a court may reduce the amount of PAGA penalties awarded to an employee based upon discretionary factors]).

Even if violations of the California Labor Code occurred, which Defendant denies, Defendant contended that said violations would only be considered "initial violations" and thus heightened "subsequent violation" penalties were not warranted. (Winn Decl., ¶ 26; Lab. Code § 2699(f)(2); see also Amaral v. Cintas Corp. No. 2, 163 Cal.App.4th 1157, 1208-09 (2008) ["Until the employer has been notified that it is violating a Labor Code provision [...], the employer cannot be presumed to be aware that its continuing underpayment of employees is a 'violation' subject to penalties."]).

Defendant also contended that, with respect to PAGA claims, the Court was unlikely to assess cumulative penalties for the maximum number of possible, separate California Labor Code violations, because it would be unjust, arbitrary, oppressive, and/or confiscatory, especially where certain conduct may be regulated by multiple provisions of the California Labor Code that are interrelated and work in tandem. (Winn Decl., ¶ 27). While the PAGA does provide the potential for a heightened penalty for subsequent violations, courts are often hesitant to award a heightened penalty where there is no prior citation by the Labor Commissioner, as is the case here. (See Bernstein v. Virgin Am., Inc., 3 F.4th 1127, 1144 (9th Cir. 2021) (holding no heightened penalty where defendant was not notified by Labor Commissioner or any court that it was subject to the California Labor Code)). The Ninth Circuit's holding in Bernstein also supports that a settlement valuation that does not "stack" penalties. (Ibid).

While Plaintiff maintains that her PAGA claims have merit, in reaching the Agreement, Plaintiff and her counsel took into account the strengths and weaknesses of each side's position, and the uncertainty of how the case might have concluded as litigation continued, at trial, and/or upon appeal. (Winn Decl., ¶ 28). Based on these disputes, which had the potential to completely eliminate Plaintiff's recovery, the range of realistic "litigation outcomes" on Plaintiff's PAGA claims was defined by a "maximum possible liability" amount of approximately $1,349,400 and a "risk-adjusted realistic value" amount of approximately $371,085. (Id., ¶ 43). In light thereof, the Gross Settlement Amount of $351,000 is a significant settlement. (Ibid).

2. Risk, Expense, Complexity, and Likely Duration of Further Litigation

Approval of the Settlement Agreement is also appropriate in light of the risk, expense, and complexity of further litigation. As discussed above, the Settlement Agreement takes into consideration the specific factual and legal hurdles faced by Plaintiff in establishing Defendant's penalty-liability in this case, which may have resulted in a net-zero recovery. Any recovery on these claims is not certain. And even when liability is found, PAGA claims are discretionary, such that the Court could decline to award their full value. Some of Plaintiff's claims are also derivative, and as such, Plaintiff must prevail on her underlying California Labor Code claims in order to prevail on the derivative claims. These risks – when balanced with the fact that the Agreement achieved a very significant recovery (as demonstrated below), and that further litigation posed a risk of diminishing such recovery by increasing litigation expenses – weigh strongly in favor of settlement approval.

3. The Benefits Conferred by the Agreement Balance in Favor of Approval

The Settlement Agreement provides a significant monetary benefit that falls well within the range of an acceptable settlement under the circumstances, which is the standard on which the instant Agreement must be judged. As held by the Ninth Circuit: "The proposed settlement is not to be judged against a hypothetical or speculative measure of what might have been achieved by the negotiators." (Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm'n, 688 F.2d at 625 (emphasis in original)). As the Second Circuit has pointed out: "The fact that a proposed settlement may only amount to a fraction of the potential recovery does not, in and of itself, mean that the proposed settlement is grossly inadequate and should be disapproved." (City of Detroit v. Grinnell Corp., 495 F.2d 448, 455 & n.2 (2nd Cir. 1974)).

The Net Settlement Amount is currently estimated to be One Hundred Ninety Thousand Ninety-One Dollars and Eight-Six Cents ($190,091.86). After all deductions are made from the Gross Settlement Amount for the Attorneys' Fees and Costs, the Enhancement Payment, and the Settlement Administration Costs, One Hundred Forty-Two Thousand Five Hundred Sixty-Eight Dollars and Ninety Cents ($142,568.90) (i.e., seventy-five percent (75%) of the Net Settlement Amount) will go to the LWDA, and Forty-Seven Thousand Five Hundred Twenty-Two Dollars and Ninety-Six Cents ($47,522.96) (i.e., twenty-five percent (25%) of the Net Settlement Amount) will go to the Aggrieved Employees, as required by California Labor Code § 2699(i) in effect at the time of this matter ("civil penalties recovered by aggrieved employees shall be distributed as follows: 75 percent to the Labor and Workforce Development Agency . . . and 25 percent to the aggrieved employees."). (Winn Decl., ¶ 44). There is no reason to doubt the fairness of the proposed plan of allocation of the Net Settlement Amount as it fully complies with California Labor Code section 2699(i). (Ibid).

The Settlement Agreement is a compromise of highly disputed claims. Plaintiff and her counsel recognize the expense and length of continued proceedings necessary to litigate the matter through trial and any possible appeals. Plaintiff and her counsel have also taken into account the uncertainty and risk of the outcome of further litigation, and the difficulties and delays inherent in such litigation. Plaintiff and her counsel are also aware of the burdens of proof necessary to establish liability, both generally and in response to Defendant's defenses thereto, and the difficulties in establishing Defendant's liability for, and the right to recover, penalties on behalf of Plaintiff, the State of California, and other Aggrieved Employees. Plaintiff and her counsel have also taken into account Defendant's agreement to enter into a settlement that confers significant relief upon the Aggrieved Employees and the State of California. Considering all of the facts in this case, Plaintiff and her counsel have determined that the Agreement represents a fair, adequate, and reasonable resolution of the PAGA claims, and that it is in the best interests of the Aggrieved Employees and the State of California. (Id., ¶ 45).

The result achieved in this case is well within the range of what is considered an acceptable settlement under the circumstances, especially when compared to the settlement of PAGA claims in other cases. (Id., ¶ 46). (See, e.g., DCH Auto Wage and Hour Cases, Los Angeles Superior Court, Case No. JCCP4833 (May 2017) [approving $15,000 out of $4 million toward settlement of PAGA claims]; Garcia v. Gordon Trucking, Inc., 2012 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 160052, at *9 (E.D. Cal. Oct. 29, 2012) [approving $10,000 out of $3.7 million toward settlement of PAGA claims]; Schiller v. David's Bridal, Inc., 2012 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 80776, at *40 (E.D. Cal. June 11, 2012) [approving $7,500 out of $518,245 toward settlement of PAGA claims]; Chu v. Wells Fargo Investments, LLC, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 15821, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 15, 2011) (approving $10,000 out of $6.9 million toward settlement of PAGA claims]; Franco v. Ruiz Food Prods., 2012 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 169057, at *14 (E.D. Cal. Nov. 27, 2021) [approving $10,000 out of $2.5 million toward settlement of PAGA claims]). Here, the value obtained for settlement of the PAGA claims is significant, and it will be distributed in accordance with and in fulfillment of the objectives of the PAGA statute.

4. The Scope of the Release is Narrowly Tailored

As discussed above, the California Supreme Court has concluded that in the context of PAGA "the nonparty employees, because they were not given notice of the action or afforded any opportunity to be heard, would not be bound by the judgment as to remedies other than civil penalties." (See Arias, 46 Cal. 4th, at 987). Thus, the scope of the limited release provided in exchange for the foregoing consideration is limited to the civil penalties asserted in the Operative Complaint and the PAGA Notice, under California Labor Code §§ 2698 et seq. (See Settlement Agreement, at ¶ 6).

As such, this factor balances strongly in favor of approval of the Agreement.

5. Experience and Views of Counsel Favor Approval

Plaintiff's Counsel is experienced in complex representative and class action wage-and-hour litigation. (Winn Decl., ¶ 52). In the view of Plaintiff's Counsel, the benefits conferred by the Agreement are eminently fair and reasonable, and in the best interests of the State of California and the Aggrieved Employees in light of the risk, delay, and uncertainty of continued litigation and the substantial monetary benefits provided for by the Agreement. (Id., ¶ 47). Furthermore, courts have acknowledged that "the interests of a plaintiff, counsel, and other potentially aggrieved employees are largely aligned. All stand to gain from proving as convincingly as possible as many Labor Code violations as the evidence will sustain[.]" (Williams v. Superior Court, 3 Cal. 5th 531, 548-549 (2017) [citing Labor Code § 2699(g)(l)(i)]).

6. The Extent of Discovery and Stage of Proceedings Favor Approval

In evaluating this element, the Court should be mindful that "'formal discovery is not a necessary ticket to the bargaining table'" [Linney v. Cellular Alaska P'ship, 151 F.3d 1234, 1239], as the relevant consideration is "whether 'the parties have sufficient information to make an informed decision about settlement.'" (See Sandoval v. Roadlink United States Pac., Inc., 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 130378, at 26 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 9, 2011)).

Here, the extent of informal discovery conducted was sufficient to enable Plaintiff's Counsel to evaluate the strength and value of the PAGA claims for purposes of settlement. (Winn Decl., ¶ 48). Prior to mediation, Defendant provided Plaintiff with data, information, and documents relating to the underlying alleged violations, including, but not limited to, Plaintiff's employee file, a sampling of Aggrieved Employees' time and payroll data, relevant wage and hour policies, and Aggrieved Employees' data points. (Id., ¶ 10). As discussed above, Plaintiff's Counsel's investigation was sufficient to, among other things, tabulate with precision the total number of alleged California Labor Code violations at issue during the relevant statutory period and identify the total number of individuals falling within the definition of "Aggrieved Employees" for the relevant statutory period. (Id., ¶ 11).

Based on Plaintiff's Counsel's experience litigating wage and hour claims, such investigation was sufficient to determine the potential value of the PAGA claims, and to evaluate the strength of these claims for purposes of settlement. (Ibid).

VI. THE REQUESTED ATTORNEYS' FEES ARE FAIR AND REASONABLE

As the prevailing party in settlement, Plaintiff is entitled to recover attorneys' fees for bringing her PAGA claims. (Lab. Code § 2699(k) ["Any employee who prevails in any action shall be entitled to an award of reasonable attorney's fees and costs."]). Plaintiff's Counsel is also entitled to attorneys' fees pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 1021.5(a), as the instant action has resulted in the enforcement of important rights benefitting the public and secures monetary recovery for the State of California as well as the Aggrieved Employees. A fee award is justified where the legal action has produced its benefits by way of a voluntary settlement. (See, e.g., Maria P. v. Riles, 43 Cal.3d 1281, 1290-91 (1987); Westside Community for Independent Living, Inc. v. Obledo, 33 Cal.3d 348, 352-53 (1983); Serrano v. Priest, 20 Cal.3d 25, 34 (1977) ["when a number of persons are entitled in common to a specific fund, and an action brought by a plaintiff ... for the benefit of all results in the creation or preservation of that fund, such plaintiff ... may be awarded attorney's fees out of the fund."]).

In Laffitte v. Robert Half Int'l, Inc., 1 Cal.5th 480, 506 (2016), the California Supreme Court confirmed that "[t]he percentage of fund method survives in California class action cases." Specifically, the Laffitte Court held:

> The recognized advantages of the percentage method-including relative ease of calculation, alignment of incentives between counsel and the class, a better approximation of market conditions in a contingency case, and the encouragement it provides counsel to seek an early settlement and avoid unnecessarily prolonging the litigation-convince us the percentage method is a valuable tool that should not be denied our trial courts.

(Id., at 503 [internal citation omitted]).

While trial courts have discretion to apply either a lodestar method or percentage-of-the-fund method, the California Supreme Court has taken the position that trial courts also "retain the discretion to forgo a lodestar cross-check and use other means to evaluate the reasonableness of a requested percentage fee." (Lafitte, 1 Cal.5th at 506; see also Wershba, 91 Cal.App. 4th at 253). Courts award fees to serve as an economic incentive for lawyers to undertake litigation, and thereby enhance and facilitate access to the judicial system for adjudication of meritorious claims, and to deter wrongdoing. This is especially true in situations where multiple similar alleged wrongs would not be economically feasible to pursue individually, such as here. Trial courts have "wide latitude" in assessing the value of attorneys' fees and their decisions will "not be disturbed on appeal absent a manifest abuse of discretion." (Lealao v. Beneficial Cal., Inc., 82 Cal.App.4th 19, 41 (2000); see also Laffitte, l Cal.5th at 506 [holding that "trial court did not abuse its discretion in using [the percentage of fund method], in part to approve the fee request"]). Indeed, it is long settled that the "experienced trial judge is the best judge of the value of professional services rendered in his court." (Ketchum v. Moses, 24 Cal.4th 1122, 1132 (2001)).

The percentage method is particularly appropriate where a monetary settlement has been recovered and "the benefit [recovered can be] easily quantified." (In re Bluetooth Headset Prods. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 942 (9th Cir. 2011)). Where the amount of a settlement is a "certain or easily calculable sum of money," California courts may calculate attorneys' fees as a reasonable percentage of the settlement created. (Weil and Brown, California Practice Guide, Civil Procedure Before Trial, Chapter 14, section 14:145; Dunk, supra, 48 Cal. App. 4th at 1808). The percentage fee method is preferred in representative actions because "it better approximates the workings of the marketplace than the lodestar approach." (Lealao, supra, 82 Cal.App.4th at 49). California law provides that the award for attorneys' fees should be equivalent to fees freely negotiated in the legal marketplace and paid in comparable litigation based on the result achieved and risk incurred. (See Lealao, 82 Cal.App.4th at 47-50; Laffitte, l Cal.5th 480 at 503). In cases where the settlement agreement provides that the defendant will pay the plaintiffs' attorneys a percentage of the fund created by the settlement, use of that percentage method is appropriate. (Lealao, 82 Cal.App.4th at 32). Fee awards that are too small will "chill the private enforcement essential to the vindication of many legal rights and obstruct the representative actions that often relieve the courts of the need to separately adjudicate numerous claims." (Id. at 53). Therefore, fees in representative actions should approximate the probable terms of a contingent fee contract negotiated by a sophisticated attorney and client in comparable litigation. (Id. at 48). "The ultimate goal ... is the award of a 'reasonable' fee to compensate counsel for their efforts, irrespective of the method of calculation." (Consumer Privacy Cases, 175 Cal.App.4th 545, 557-58 (2009) [quoting Apple Computer, Inc. v. Superior Court, supra, 126 Cal.App.4th at 1270]).

Plaintiff's Counsel's application for attorneys' fees in light of the facts and circumstances surrounding the case is within the range of reasonableness. Historically, courts have awarded fees as high as fifty percent (50%) of the settlement in complex actions, depending on the circumstances of the case. (See In re Ampicillin Antitrust Litig., 526 F.Supp. 494 (D.D.C. 1981) [awarding attorneys' fees in the amount of 45% of the $7.3 million total settlement amount]; Beech Cinema, Inc. v. Twentieth-Century Fox Film Corp. 480 F.Supp. 1195 (S.D.N.Y. 1979) [awarding approximately 53% of the settlement as attorneys' fees]).

Here, Plaintiff's Counsel's request of thirty-five percent (35%) of the Gross Settlement Amount (i.e., $122,850.00 if the Gross Settlement Amount is $351,000.00) is fair and reasonable based on the percentage of the recovery method. Plaintiff's Counsel has vigorously litigated this case since it was commenced, with the very real possibility of an unsuccessful outcome and no fee recovery of any kind. (Winn Decl., ¶ 49). Counsel for Plaintiff undertook significant investigation and invested a significant amount of time analyzing relevant documents and data to evaluate the nature and extent of the alleged underlying California Labor Code violations and calculation of the potential monetary recovery as they relate to Plaintiff's PAGA claims under PAGA. (Winn Decl., ¶ 53). Plaintiff's Counsel possesses combined extensive experience litigating wage and hour and other complex litigation matters, and the attorneys who worked on this matter have been approved as class counsel and/or have had their billable rates approved in the settlement of other class and PAGA actions, numerous times. (Id., ¶ 52).

In the present case, Plaintiff's Counsel has borne all of the risks and costs of litigation and will not receive any compensation until recovery is obtained. Plaintiff's Counsel is experienced in complex wage-and-hour litigation and used that experience to obtain a favorable result for Plaintiff, the Aggrieved Employees, and the State of California. Considering the amount of fees requested, work performed, risks incurred, and experience of Plaintiff's Counsel in handling similar matters, Plaintiff maintains that the requested attorneys' fees of thirty-five percent (35%) of the Gross Settlement Amount (i.e., $122,850.00 if the Gross Settlement Amount is $351,000.00) are reasonable and should be awarded. (Ibid).

VII. THE REQUESTED ATTORNEYS' COSTS AND EXPENSES ARE FAIR AND REASONABLE

The Agreement provides for reimbursement of Plaintiff's Counsel's actual litigation costs and expenses of up to the amount of Thirty Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($30,000.00). (Winn Decl., ¶ 55; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3(a)(1)). However, Plaintiff's Counsel only seeks reimbursement of a total of Twenty-Four Thousand One Hundred Sixty-Eight Dollars and Fourteen Cents ($24,168.14) in litigation costs and expenses. (Winn Decl., ¶ 55 and Exh. 5). Accordingly, Plaintiff's Counsel respectfully requests that the Court reimburse it for actual litigation costs and expenses in the amount of Twenty-Four Thousand One Hundred Sixty-Eight Dollars and Fourteen Cents ($24,168.14).

VIII. THE SETTLEMENT ADMINISTRATION COSTS ARE FAIR AND REASONABLE

As set forth in the Settlement Agreement, the Parties have agreed to retain, subject to approval by the Court, Apex Class Action LLC to handle the administration of the Agreement. (Winn Decl., ¶ 56; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3(a)(3)). The fees and expenses of the Settlement Administrator are estimated not to exceed Six Thousand Three Hundred Ninety Dollars and Zero Cents ($6,390.00). (Winn Decl., ¶ 56; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3(a)(3)). These costs include, but are not limited to, expenses for preparing, printing, and mailing the Cover Letter and Individual PAGA Payment checks to the Aggrieved Employees, re-mailing the returned Individual PAGA Payment checks to any new addresses obtained, and handling inquiries from Aggrieved Employees regarding the Agreement, among other things. (Winn Decl., ¶ 56). Accordingly, the Court should grant approval of the Settlement Administration Costs in the amount of up to Six Thousand Three Hundred Ninety Dollars and Zero Cents ($6,390.00) to Apex Class Action LLC, a necessary third-party for handling the settlement process. (Ibid).

IX. THE REQUESTED ENHANCEMENT PAYMENT IS FAIR AND REASONABLE

As part of the Settlement Agreement, Plaintiff respectfully requests a reasonable Enhancement Payment of up to Seven Thousand Five Hundred Dollars and Zero Cents ($7,500.00) to Plaintiff. This Enhancement Payment is eminently reasonable given the time and effort Plaintiff spent on this matter and her services on behalf of the State of California and the Aggrieved Employees. (Winn Decl., ¶ 57).

By initiating and pursuing the Action, Plaintiff stepped into the shoes of the State of California and undertook the responsibilities of serving in a representative capacity. (Id., ¶ 58). Plaintiff was available whenever Plaintiff's Counsel needed her and actively tried to obtain information that would benefit the prosecution of the Action. (Ibid). Indeed, Plaintiff regularly conferred with her attorneys regarding the case, searched for and provided documents concerning her employment with Defendant, answered questions her attorneys had about those documents, provided information regarding the company's practices and the duties of other hourly-paid and/or non-exempt employees, and helped her attorneys develop strategy as to what additional documents and information they could seek to obtain from Defendant. (Baltazar Decl., ¶ 4). Plaintiff routinely checked in with her attorneys and their staff to make sure they had all of her most current information, made herself available to answer any questions about Defendant's practices and treatment of their employees whenever needed, and responded as quickly as possible. (Id., ¶ 5). Plaintiff also understood that in the event this matter did not settle and proceeded to trial, she would need to be in court to participate, and was ready to perform that role, as well as fulfill any responsibilities that are necessary for the lawsuit. (Id., ¶ 6). Plaintiff took a sizeable risk by bringing and pursuing this lawsuit, including the risk of potentially having to pay costs in the lawsuit if she lost, and the risk of losing income due to the time she would have to spend fulfilling her responsibilities in this matter. (Id., ¶ 7). At all times throughout the course of this litigation, Plaintiff considered the interests of the Aggrieved Employees above her own personal interests. (Id., ¶ 10)

Accordingly, Plaintiff respectfully submits that it is appropriate and just for Plaintiff to receive an Enhancement Payment in the amount of up to Seven Thousand Five Hundred Dollars and Zero Cents ($7,500.00) in addition to the Individual PAGA Payment she will receive as an Aggrieved Employee, for her services on behalf of the State of California and the other Aggrieved Employees. (Winn Decl., ¶ 59; Baltazar Decl., ¶ 11).

X. CONCLUSION

For all of the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court grant Plaintiff's Motion for Approval of PAGA Settlement, Attorneys' Fees and Costs, Enhancement Payment, and Settlement Administration Costs and grant the relief requested herein.

Respectfully submitted,
