CLASS & REPRESENTATIVE ACTION

DECLARATION OF PAT MCFADDEN IN SUPPORT OF PLAINTIFF YUNUEN GUTIERREZ BAUTISTA'S UNOPPOSED MOTION FOR APPROVAL OF PAGA SETTLEMENT AND APPLICATION FOR ATTORNEYS' FEES, COSTS, ADMINISTRATION COSTS AND PAGA REPRESENTATIVE SERVICE PAYMENT

Complaint Filed: November 11, 2024
FAC Filed: October 14, 2026

I, PAT MCFADDEN, declare as follows:

1. I am the Co-CEO at Atticus Administration, LLC ("Atticus"). My business address is 1295 Northland Drive, Suite 300, Mendota Heights, Minnesota 55120. I am over twenty-one years of age and am authorized to make this declaration on behalf of Atticus and myself.

2. Atticus was founded in 2016 by a team of legal, financial, digital marketing professionals and brand managers to provide innovative and cost-effective notice campaigns and settlement administration services to the class action legal sector. Atticus provides services in class action settlements involving inter alia, antitrust consumer fraud, financial services, data breach, insurance, civil rights, and employment wage and hour, PAGA, and FLSA collective actions, as well as class certification, Belaire West notifications and CAFA Notices.

3. Atticus' core competencies include pre-certification mailings, notice dissemination, claim form processing, validation, and anti-fraud detection, data preparations and management, accounting services, class member communications, award calculations, tax reporting, qualified settlement fund management and award distribution.

4. Since its inception, Atticus has provided administrative services in over 1,500 class, collective and PAGA settlements and has disbursed approximately $1.5 billion in settlement funds. Collectively, the founders and employees of Atticus have administered over 3,000 settlements and have dispersed over $3.0 billion in settlement funds. Atticus' curriculum vitae is attached to this declaration as Exhibit A.

5. Typically, Atticus will send direct mail notice to class or collective members or PAGA awards to aggrieved employees when they are known, as per the Federal Judicial Center's, "Judges' Class Action Notice and Claims Process Checklist and Plain Language Guide," 2010. Based on my experience, delivery rates for such plans can be anywhere from 64% to 98% depending on the age of the data file, the demographic profile of recipients, and the amount of cleaning performed on the list prior to mailing.

6. With the Court's approval in this matter, Atticus will send PAGA awards and an accompanying cover letter to the last known address of each aggrieved employee via U.S. first class mail. Prior to mailing notice, Atticus will review the employee data and work with counsel to resolve any discrepancies in the file's content. The final data will be processed through the National Change of Address database maintained by the United States Postal Service ("USPS"). This process provides address updates for anyone in the data file who has filed a change of address postcard with the USPS anytime in the past four years.

7. Payments that are returned as undeliverable are processed, skip-traced and remailed on an ongoing basis. Atticus has access to a variety of tools for skip-tracing purposes to find addresses for undeliverable records that do not have forwarding information. These tools include professional services like Experian or IDI to locate aggrieved employees with undeliverable address records. More extensive and in-depth manual tracing through services such as Experian or IDI can also be utilized, and in some instances, Atticus will hire a professional firm to assist in locating missing aggrieved employees. Until Atticus reviews the data for this matter, we do not know the extent of the locality efforts required to reach the aggrieved employees.

8. Atticus has agreed to administer the above captioned case for $4,700. If the scope of work increases or decreases significantly, Atticus will notify the parties and request approval of an adjustment. The fee includes all normal costs to administer a PAGA settlement, including the data and mail preparations described above, payment calculations, qualified settlement account management, tax reporting, aggrieved employee communications, and project management. A true and correct copy of the estimate is attached hereto as Exhibit B.

9. Atticus maintains insurance with AAA rated insurance carriers for professional liability and cybersecurity. Atticus warrants the work performed on all errors and omissions, on all projects, including PAGA distributions, without additional charges to our clients.

10. Atticus takes its obligation to secure its information systems and to protect the privacy of client data received for received for all administrative matters very seriously. A copy of Atticus' Data Security Information & Privacy Policy that outlines the standard operating procedures for the handling of data collection, storage, and use is attached to this declaration as Exhibit C.

11. Further, I attest to the fact that Atticus has no independent financial relationship with the parties to this matter or any known or potential conflicts with any of the aggrieved employees in this matter.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the state of California that the foregoing is true and correct and that this declaration was executed on this 20th day of October, 2026 in Saint Paul, Minnesota.

I. Overview

Atticus Administration, LLC ("Atticus"), in fulfilling the requirement as a third-party administrator under the terms of a court order and/or settlement agreement for specific court class action cases, is required to encrypt data considered {PROTECTED} or {RESTRICTED} including, but not limited to: Personally Identifiable Information (PII), Protected Health Information (PHI), credit card numbers, passwords, intellectual property, budget or contract proposals, legal correspondence and research and development information. This document contains policy and technical controls pertaining to Data Security and Information Privacy in order to protect the confidentiality and integrity of client data, protected data, or restricted data. This policy should be read in conjunction with Atticus Administration's Information Security Policy, which governs enterprise-wide security controls and requirements.

II. Scope

It governs requirements for safeguarding data classified as {PROTECTED} or {RESTRICTED}, including but not limited to PII, PHI, financial data, authentication data, legal documents, and other sensitive records.

This policy supplements and operates under the authority of Atticus Administration's Information Security Policy, which defines overarching security governance, system-level security controls, logging requirements, risk management, network security, and access control standards. IV. Policy

1. Data Governance

Atticus is committed to protecting and safeguarding the data that it collects and recognizes this data as a critical asset. Atticus maintains a tiered data governance structure, managed by the Information Security Program Owner and enforced by Atticus executive leadership, that governs individual Users access to data. This governance structure is further maintained through enforced processes, standards, and procedures to ultimately ensure appropriate use of data and/or management of data. Data governance processes are executed in alignment with the IT Risk Management Program.

2. Internal Use of Data

Any client data and class member data records that Atticus collects, and stores are used only to fulfill Atticus' requirement as a third-party administrator under the terms of the Case Court Documents. This information is only available to Users as set forth by Atticus' tiered data governance structure.

3. External Use and Disclosure of Data

Atticus follows the direction and instructions outlined in the Case Court Documents for handling class member data records. All sensitive and non-public client data, class member data, and information for a case provided by Atticus Administration to a third party, and to which that third party does not otherwise have independent access, shall be treated as confidential and may not be shared, used, or otherwise communicated outside the scope of the applicable services agreement, court order, or settlement documents. In cases where a contractor partner is used, only those who have been approved and authorized by Atticus management and have a privacy policy (or data security policy) consistent with Atticus' Data Security & Information Privacy Policy are allowed to be used. Contractor use must comply with Atticus' Vendor Management Policy. Nothing in this policy is intended to alter or limit the independent ethical, professional, or legal obligations of Class Counsel with respect to data obtained outside of Atticus Administration.

4. Data Collection and Retention

Electronic transmission, delivery or receipt of sensitive data is only permitted using SFTP technology. Delivery or receipt of hardcopy sensitive data is only permitted using the US Mail System or a courier as approved by Atticus management. Atticus complies with all state and federal regulations that apply to data security. Once a case has closed, Atticus will destroy all hardcopy documents containing sensitive data within twelve months. Regarding all electronic case data (including sensitive data), Atticus maintains this data for up to seven years following the closure of the case. In the event Court Case Documents specify unique data retention/return requirements, those requirements shall prevail over Atticus' standard retention/return policy.

5. Computing Devices and Access to Atticus Information Database and Network

Only Atticus IT approved devices may be used to access Atticus' information database and network. All devices must be protected with an employee's user access level systems username and password required at the time the device is powered on.

Access to database and network information must be authenticated using two-factor authentication.

Sensitive data shall not be stored on the device. However, in the event there is no alternative to device storage, all sensitive data must be encrypted with password protection. Atticus prohibits the use of public cloud storage for any client specific data.

Unattended devices must be logged out and locked when unattended, and additionally configured to automatically be logged out of and screen locked after 10 minute or more of inactivity.

All devices that access Atticus' information database and network infrastructure shall have active and up-to-date anti-malware and firewall protection.

6. Data Classification

Atticus Administration classifies sensitive information as {PROTECTED} or {RESTRICTED} depending on the sensitivity type. All data containing sensitive information must be properly transmitted and encrypted in accordance with Atticus Administration's data encryption standards. Atticus maintains an inventory of all systems where client or sensitive data is stored. The client and sensitive data includes, but not exclusive to:

- Personally Identifiable Information (PII)
- Protected Health Information (PHI)
- Credit Card Numbers
- Passwords
- Intellectual Property
- Budget or Contract Proposals
- Legal Correspondence
- Research and Development Information

7. Data Encryption Standards

a. Cryptographic Control Use

Cryptographic controls must be utilized for sensitive information classified by Atticus Administration as {PROTECTED} or {RESTRICTED} including, but not limited to: Personally Identifiable Information (PII), Protected Health Information (PHI), credit card numbers, passwords, intellectual property, budget or contract proposals, legal correspondence, and research and development information.

All encryption mechanisms utilized by Atticus must be authorized by the Information Security Program Owner before use.

Users must not attempt to utilize any form of cryptography, including, but not limited to, encryption, digital signatures, and digital certificates, which has not been approved and installed/implemented by an authorized agent of Atticus Administration.

The use of all encryption mechanisms must meet relevant regulatory and legal requirements, including any import/export restrictions or government requirements specific to the use of cryptographic software.

b. Cryptographic Control Standards

Cryptographic controls must only use secure cipher suites to protect data in transit and at rest. Any cipher suites that are considered vulnerable or deprecated through cybersecurity intelligence, reputable industry standards publishers (such as NIST), or flagged as a finding through vulnerability scanning are prohibited from use. The Data Protection Officer has final authority to approve or deny the use of any cipher suites or cryptographic control implementations on an as-needed basis.

c. Encryption in Transit

All sensitive information classified by Atticus Administration as PROTECTED or RESTRICTED including, but not limited to, PII, PHI, credit card numbers, passwords, and research and development information, must be encrypted when transmitted externally to or from Atticus Administration's information system boundaries. Access to protected or restricted data stored on Atticus Administration's servers must be done through secure, encrypted communications protocols such as TLS 1.3 (EDH or DHE) and TLS 1.2 (EDCHE with DHE as a fallback).

d. Encryption at Rest

All sensitive information classified by Atticus Administration as PROTECTED or RESTRICTED including, but not limited to PII, PHI, credit card numbers, and passwords, must be encrypted at rest using Full Disk Encryption technology or Virtual Disk Encryption. When feasible, hardware-backed encryption must be utilized over software encryption.

Atticus Administration requires IT endpoints that could store or transmit sensitive data to utilize Full Disk Encryption or Azure Server-Side Encryption (SSE).

SAINT PAUL MN 55120
WWW.ATTICUSADMIN.COM
1-844-728-8428

Atticus Administration may also implement File-based encryption for sensitive files at-rest on a per-client basis to provide additional data protection.

e. Training and Awareness

All employees, interns, and contractors receive training on data privacy, classification, and handling requirements as part of onboarding and through recurring security awareness programs. Training includes guidance on identifying PII, applying classification labels, and reporting suspected data handling violations. Refresher training is provided annually or as needed based on policy updates or emerging threats.

8. Key Management Standards

Atticus Administration securely manages encryption keys using centralized key management systems. Keys are generated, stored, rotated, and retired in accordance with industry best practices. Access to encryption keys is restricted to authorized personnel based on role and business need, and all key usage is logged and monitored. Keys are rotated periodically and immediately upon suspected compromise, with procedures in place to ensure continuity and data integrity during key lifecycle events.

Atticus Administration utilizes Azure Key Vault with HSM-backed (hardware security module) Customer Managed Keys (CMK) for Server-side Encryption (SSE) in accordance with Microsoft's published guidance for secure best practices. Accordingly, all data on the servers is encrypted using 256-bit AES and is FIPS 140-2 compliant.

Atticus Administration partners with a Managed Service Provider (MSP) to restrict access to the Azure Key Vault so that only the small number of staff requiring access for job duty or function with Infrastructure Management and Configuration are given access to keys.

9. Data Backup and Recovery

Atticus Administration partners with a Managed Service Provider (MSP) for administration of automated data backups for critical servers and IT infrastructure.

SAINT PAUL MN 55120
WWW.ATTICUSADMIN.COM

10. Security Incident and Privacy Violation Reporting

Any cybersecurity incidents, whether actual or suspected, must be reported immediately to the Information Security Program Owner or designated security personnel. The Information Security Program Owner and executive management will execute Atticus Administration's Incident Response Plan to assess the breach for scope and severity and take appropriate action to contain and/or mitigate the incident. Full and timely compliance with investigation procedures and all requests for information is required.

If there is a data breach involving a vendor or contractor, the contractor must comply with all applicable state and federal laws that require notification to individuals or affected parties in the event of unauthorized release of sensitive personal information or confidential data. Contractors must notify Atticus within 24 hours of the incident. Atticus reserves all rights under applicable contracts, including indemnification and termination.

All incident response activities are carried out in accordance with Atticus Administration's Incident Response Plan (IRP v1.2), which defines procedures for detection, escalation, containment, investigation, communication, and post-incident analysis

11. Data Loss Prevention (DLP)

Atticus employs Data Loss Prevention (DLP) controls to reduce the risk of unauthorized disclosure of information classified as {PROTECTED} or {RESTRICTED}. DLP policies are triggered by sensitivity labels applied to content such as Social Security numbers, financial account numbers, credentials, and other personally identifiable information.

When a user attempts to share labeled content with an external recipient, the DLP policy blocks the action and notifies the user. A user may proceed only by providing a documented business justification, which is logged for review. This control applies to email and cloud file-sharing. It enforces review of external disclosures while allowing legitimate business needs to proceed with accountability.

Security alerting notifies administrators when matching activity exceeds defined thresholds, supporting detection of compromised accounts or potential data exfiltration. Alerts are monitored by IT with support from the Managed Service Provider.

User-facing guidance for this control is communicated to staff through internal security awareness communications.

V. Enforcement

Any User found to have violated this policy may be subject to disciplinary action. Such action may be as severe as termination of employment or termination of contract and/or further legal action.
