MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff Freddy Johnson ("Plaintiff"), on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated and aggrieved, hereby applies for preliminary approval of the Class and PAGA Settlement Agreement ("Settlement," "Agreement" or "Settlement Agreement") upon the terms and conditions set forth in the Settlement Agreement, attached to the Declaration of Keaton Mendoza as Exhibit "1."

On December 11, 2024, Plaintiff filed with the Labor and Workforce Development Agency ("LWDA") and served on defendant The ASC Charitable Foundation ("ASCCF") a notice under Labor Code section 2699.3 (the "PAGA Notice"), stating Plaintiff intended to serve as a proxy of the LWDA to recover civil penalties on behalf of other non-exempt, hourly paid employees for alleged Labor Code violations ("PAGA Notice"). A true and correct copy of the PAGA Notice is attached to the Declaration of Keaton Mendoza as Exhibit "2."

On February 10, 2025, Plaintiff commenced this action by filing a class action complaint against ASCCF in the Superior Court of California, County of Kern, Case No. BCV-25-100487, for: (1) failure to pay overtime wages; (2) failure to pay minimum wages; (3) failure to provide meal breaks; (4) failure to provide rest periods; (5) waiting time penalties; (6) wage statement violations; (7) failure to timely pay wages; (8) failure to indemnify; (9) Failure to Pay Interest on Deposits; (10) violation of labor code § 227.3; and (11) unfair competition. (the "Class Action"). On December 24, 2025, Plaintiff filed a first amended complaint ("FAC") to add a cause of action under the Private Attorney General Act of 2004 ("PAGA").

Thereafter, Plaintiff and ASCCF agreed to exchange informal discovery and attend mediation. Prior to mediation, Plaintiff obtained, through informal discovery: (a) time and payroll records for the of putative class members through mediation; (b) wage and hour policy documents; and (c) all documents pertaining to Plaintiff available to Defendants.

Plaintiff's investigation was sufficient to satisfy the criteria for court approval set forth in Dunk v. Foot Locker Retail, Inc. (1996) 48 Cal. App. 4th 1794, 1801 and Kullar v. Foot Locker Retail, Inc. (2008) 168 Cal. App. 4th 116, 129-130 (Dunk/Kullar).

On April 23, 2026, the Parties participated in an all-day mediation presided over by Marc Feder. The mediation was successful, and the Parties agreed to globally resolve all class and PAGA claims asserted in the Operative Complaint.

As part of the Agreement, the Parties agreed to stipulate to the filing of a Second Amended Complaint ("SAC") adding defendant ASC Treatment Group ("ASTG and with ASCFF, "Defendants" and with Plaintiff, the "Parties") as a named Defendant before or concurrently with this Motion for Preliminary Approval. The SAC will be "Operative Complaint."

Class Counsel have conducted significant investigation of the law and facts relating to the claims asserted in the Action and the PAGA Notice, and have concluded that the Settlement set forth herein is fair, reasonable, adequate and in the best interests of the Settlement Class, taking into account the sharply contested issues involved, the expense and time necessary to litigate the Action through trial and any appeals, the risks and costs of further litigation of the Action, the risk of an adverse outcome, the uncertainties of complex litigation, the information learned through discovery regarding Plaintiff's allegations, and the substantial benefits to be received by Settlement Class Members.

II. THE SETTLEMENT

Subject to Court approval pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 382 and California Rules of Court, rule 3.679, et seq., the Parties have agreed to settle the Action by agreement upon the terms and conditions and for the consideration set forth in the Settlement Agreement, a copy of which is attached to the Declaration of Keaton Mendoza as Exhibit "1" thereto. A summary of the terms of the settlement are as follows:

Defendants will stipulate, for purpose of the Settlement only, as follows:

- Certification of a class ("Settlement Class," "Settlement Class Members" or "Class Members") defined as: all persons currently or formerly employed by defendants The ASC Charitable Foundation and ASC Treatment Group (collectively, "Defendants") either directly or through any subsidiary, staffing agency, or professional employer organization, as non-exempt, hourly-paid employees during the period from February 10, 2021, through June 12, 2026 ("Class Period") in the State of California.

- Defendants will pay $420,000.00 ("Gross Settlement Amount" or "GSA") to resolve the matter.
- Defendants represent that there are no more than 21,000 workweeks during the Class Period. In the event the number of workweeks during the Class Period increases by more than 10%, or 2,100 additional workweeks, for a total of 23,100 workweeks, then the GSA shall be increased proportionally by the workweeks in excess of 23,100 multiplied by the workweek value. The workweek value shall be calculated by dividing the GSA by 21,000. The Parties agree that the workweek value amounts to $20.00 per workweek ($420,000 divided by 21,000 workweeks). Thus, for example, should there be 24,000 workweeks in the Class Period, then the GSA shall be increased by $18,000.00. ((24,000 workweeks 23,100 workweeks) x $20.00/workweek.).
- Defendants will pay the employer's share of taxes separate and apart from the Gross Settlement Amount.
- This is a non-reversionary settlement.
- Class Members will be paid their pro rata share of the class action settlement based on the total number of Workweeks[1] worked during the Class Period.
- The Settlement Administration costs, estimated not to exceed $5,420.00, will be paid out of the Gross Settlement Amount.
- Class Counsel, comprised of David D. Bibiyan and Sarah Cohen of Bibiyan Law Group, P.C., may apply for, and Defendants will not oppose, attorneys' fees of not more than thirty-five percent (35%) of the Gross Settlement Amount, which, unless escalated pursuant to the Settlement Agreement, amounts to $147,000.00, and actual costs, not to exceed $30,000.00, all of which will be paid out of the Gross Settlement Amount.

- Class Counsel hereby apply for, and Defendants will not oppose, a service award of not more than $7,500.00 to Plaintiff, which will be paid out of the Gross Settlement Amount.
- "Aggrieved Employees" means all persons currently or formerly employed by Defendants, either directly or through any subsidiary, staffing agency, or professional employer organization, as non-exempt, hourly-paid employees during the period December 11, 2023, through June 12, 2026 ("PAGA Period") in the State of California.
- Defendants have agreed to pay $42,000.00 as PAGA penalties, seventy-five percent (75%) or $31,500.00 of which will be paid to the LWDA out of the Gross Settlement Amount, and twenty-five percent (25%) or $10,500.00 of which will be distributed to the Aggrieved Employees.
- Class Members' and Aggrieved Employees' checks shall remain valid and negotiable for one hundred and eighty (180) calendar days after the date of their issuance. Thereafter, checks for such payments shall be canceled and funds associated with such checks shall be transmitted to the California Controller's Unclaimed Property Fund in the name of the Class Member and Aggrieved Employee.

III. THE TWO-STEP APPROVAL PROCESS AND THE PRESUMPTION OF FAIRNESS

Any settlement of class litigation must be reviewed and approved by the Court. (See Cal. Rules of Court, rule 3.769). This is done in two steps: (1) an early (preliminary) review by the trial court; and (2) a final review after notice has been distributed to the class members for their comment or objections. (See id.). Courts presume the absence of fraud or collusion in the negotiation of a settlement unless evidence to the contrary is offered. In short, there is a presumption that the negotiations were conducted in good faith. (Newberg on Class Actions, § 11.51; In re Volkswagen "Clean Diesel" Marketing, Sales Practices, and Products Liability Litigation (N.D. Cal. May 17, 2017) No. 16-cv-00295, 2017 WL 2214655, quoting United States

v. Oregon (9th Cir. 1990) 913 F.2d 576, 580.) Here, the Settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate and negotiations were conducted in good faith with the aid of a well-respected and neutral mediator.

IV. SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND ACCOMPANYING DOCUMENTS

A notice of settlement of a class action "must contain an explanation of the proposed settlement and procedures for class members to follow in filing written objections to it and in arranging to appear at the settlement hearing and state any objections to the proposed settlement." (Cal. Rules of Court, rule 3.769, subd. (f).)

Attached to the Declaration of Keaton Mendoza as Exhibit "1" thereto is the Settlement Agreement between the Parties. Attached to the Settlement Agreement as internal Exhibit "A" is the proposed Class Notice to be distributed to Class Members in English and Spanish. The proposed Class Notice satisfies these requirements.

The Parties respectfully request that this Court approve the above-referenced Class Notice and dissemination of the Class Notice to the Class Members, consistent with the manner and timing as set forth in the Settlement Agreement. The Parties have agreed to use Apex Class Action LLC ("Apex"), an experienced Settlement Administrator, to administer the Settlement. Apex Class Action LLC was selected as the Settlement Administrator after a competitive bidding process wherein Apex's bid was the least expensive option.

V. THE SETTLEMENT IS FAIR AND REASONABLE BASED UPON OBJECTIVE EVIDENCE

A. The Settlement was Negotiated at Arm's-Length and is not Collusive

The Settlement that has been reached, subject to this Court's approval, is a product of substantial efforts by the Parties and their counsel. The Settlement was reached after extensive factual and legal investigation and research; the exchange of informal discovery; substantial negotiation regarding the scope of informal discovery; exchange of documents and information that included review of time and pay records and analysis thereof with the aid of Plaintiff and expert consultants; analysis of shifts and Workweeks worked by Class Members in the Class Period, analysis of the number of pay periods and number of Aggrieved Employees in the PAGA Period for calculating PAGA penalties, number of Class Members eligible for wage statement penalties and waiting time penalties; an analysis of Plaintiff's employment records; extensive correspondence and communication between counsel; a review of pleadings, evidence and rulings in similar actions litigated elsewhere in the state; a review of similar cases in the same industry elsewhere in the country; and preparation for and attendance at a full-day mediation, followed by further discussions and coordination to finalize the terms and conditions of the general settlement parameters agreed to by the Parties.

While Class Counsel believes in the chance of success of certifying the claims, Class Counsel recognized the potential risk, expense and complexity posed by further litigation. Moreover, litigating Plaintiff's claims in this litigation—claims that involve approximately 82 Class Members during the Class Period—would require substantial preparation and discovery, and ultimately would involve the deposition and presentation of numerous more witnesses (including Class Members and expert witnesses), as well as the consideration, preparation and analysis of expert reports. Therefore, should litigation have progressed any further, there would have been significant expense incurred by each side (above and beyond the expense already incurred).

B. The Settlement Amount is Well Within the Range of Reasonableness

The settlement amount reached in this case provides significant recovery to Class Members and Aggrieved Employees, and easily falls within the range of reasonableness. Based on documents and information provided by Defendants, Class Counsel understands there are no more than 21,000 Workweeks during the Class Period.

1. Recovery of Damages for Failure to Pay Wages for All Time Worked

Class Counsel theorized, based on Plaintiff's narrative evidence and documents produced by Defendants, that Defendants failed to pay all wages due to Class Members because Defendants rounded Class Members' time. Specifically, Class Counsel theorized that Defendants policy of rounding, despite technological advances, resulting in Class Members' working off the clock thereby resulting in overtime and minimum wage violations.

One theory advanced by Class Counsel alleged, based on Plaintiff's narrative evidence, that Defendants' rounding policy led to Class Members working off-the-clock approximately five (5) minutes each shift throughout the Class Period, without pay. Class Counsel understand, based on time and payroll records produced by Defendants and analysis thereof by expert data consultants retained by Class Counsel, that there were approximately 95,596 shifts during the Class Period, 71.4% of which were over eight (8) hours in length, and Class Members had an average hourly rate of pay of $19.33. Thus, one calculation performed by Class Counsel at mediation resulted in Defendants' exposure for unpaid off-the-clock work in an approximate amount of $251,992 ([95,596 shifts x 0.714 shifts over eight hours x 0.083 hour x $19.33 x 1.5 overtime rate] + [95,596 shifts x 0.286 shifts under eight hours x 0.083 hour x $19.33 x 2 in liquidated damages]).

Class Counsel understand from the mediator and the mediation process that Defendants make the following defenses in connection with this claim: Defendants contend that their policies specifically prohibit off-the-clock work. Defendants contend that they did not require Class Members to work off-the-clock, they were paid for all time suffered or permitted to work. Defendants contend that any allegations that Class Members were required to be under Defendants' control off-the-clock would necessitate an individualized inquiry into when and why, making this claim not subject to class treatment and any trial in this litigation unmanageable. Thus, Defendants contend that no damages can be recovered here, and, even if, arguendo, they could, an estimate of five (5) minutes of unpaid work off-the-clock of Class Members for every single shift during the Class Period is a wild exaggeration of time spent working off-the-clock if any such time was spent.

2. Recovery of Damages for Non-Compliant Meal Periods

Class Counsel theorized that Defendants' meal period practices throughout the Class Period were non-compliant. Class Counsel theorized that Defendants' meal period practices were non-compliant because, based on Plaintiff's narrative evidence, Class Members did not receive full thirty (30) minute meal periods, and meal periods were late, or missed entirely. Class Counsel also theorized that meal periods were frequently interrupted by managers. Class Counsel understand from Defendants' records, and analyzed by expert data consultants, that there are 46,705 unique facial meal period violations (i.e. meal periods that are missed, short, or late) in the Class Period through mediation. Class Counsel note that no meal period premiums were paid throughout the Class Period. Thus, one theory advanced by Class Counsel, based solely on facial violations, resulted in Defendants' maximum exposure for non-compliant meal periods in an amount of $1,805,615 (93,410 meal period violations x $19.33/hour).

Class Counsel understand from the mediator and the mediation process that Defendants make the following defenses in connection with this claim: Defendants argued that they had compliant meal period policies and practices and that its policy requires their employees to take timely and full meal periods. Defendants argued that Class Members took timely and full meal periods or received the required meal period premium for each instance of meal period violations. Defendants further contends that any instance of a Class Member failing to take a compliant meal period was voluntary, in violation of its meal period policy, would necessitate an individualized inquiry and would not lend itself to a manageable trial. Thus, Defendants contend that no monies are owed for this account but, even if any amounts were due, the amount calculated by Class Counsel is excessive.

3. Recovery of Damages for Non-Compliant Rest Periods

Class Counsel theorized, based on documents and information produced by Defendants and Plaintiff's narrative evidence, that Defendants' rest period practices throughout the Class Period were non-compliant. Class Counsel theorized that Defendants' practices were non-compliant for many of the reasons discussed for meal period violations, including frequent interruptions. Notably, there were no rest period premiums ever issued throughout the Class Period.

Thus, one calculation performed by Class Counsel at mediation resulted in, assuming a 40% violation rate for the 47,481 rest-eligible shifts, Defendants' exposure for failure to provide compliant rest periods in a conservative amount of $734,246 (94,962 shifts x 0.40 violation rate x $19.33/hour).

Class Counsel understand from the mediator and the mediation process that Defendants make the following defenses in connection with this claim: Defendants argued that they had compliant rest break policies and practices and that its policy requires their employees to take timely and full rest breaks. Defendants argued that Class Members took timely and full rest periods. Defendants further contend that any instance of a Class Member failing to take a compliant rest break was voluntary and therefore would necessitate an individualized inquiry and would not lend itself to a manageable trial. Defendants also argued that Class Members were provided a reasonable opportunity to take uninterrupted rest breaks and the employer is not required to "police" such rest breaks. Thus, Defendants contend that no monies are owed for this account but, even if any amounts were due, the amount calculated by Class Counsel is excessive.

4. Wage Statement Violations

Class Counsel theorized that Class Members are entitled to recover penalties for Defendants' alleged failure to issue compliant wage statements under Labor Code section 226, subdivision (e), for the derivative impact of the failure to pay all wages owed on providing accurate information on wage statements. Specifically, Class Counsel theorized that penalties are owed under Labor Code section 226 due to, at minimum, Defendants' failure to pay premium wages. A non-exempt employee suffering injury as a result of a knowing and intentional failure by an employer to comply with Labor Code section 226, subdivision (a), is entitled to recover the greater of all actual damages or fifty dollars ($50) for the initial pay period in which a violation occurs and one hundred dollars ($100) per employee for each violation in a subsequent pay period. Class Counsel understand from the data provided by Defendants that there were 4,405 pay periods during the relevant statutory time period for Class Members. Thus, one calculation performed by Class Counsel at mediation, based on the initial violation rate of $50 for each violation, resulted in Defendants' exposure for wage statement violations for Class Members in the approximate amount of $202,700 (4,405 pay periods x $50/pay period).

Class Counsel understand from the mediator and the mediation process that Defendants make the following defenses in connection with this claim: Defendants contend that the wage statements issued to the employees fully complied with Labor Code section 226. Defendants contend that because it believes no wages are unpaid that, thus, there can be no derivative penalties. However, Class Counsel also understand the risks inherent in this claim if the above claims were not certified. Class Counsel also had to factor in, and did factor in, the risk that the Court would find there was no injury to Class Members even if the wage statements were inaccurate or that Defendants' conduct was not intentional, both of which are requirements of Labor Code section 226 before penalties can issue. Class Counsel also note that the calculation used does not take into account the fact that all Class Members did not work all pay periods and, therefore, Class Counsels' calculation does not take into account the maximum penalty of $4,000 in Plaintiff's exposure model used at mediation.

5. Waiting Time Penalties

Pursuant to Labor Code sections 201, 202 and 203, each employee in the relevant statutory period (i.e., three years before the filing of the initial Complaint) is entitled to 30 days' worth of wages as waiting time penalty for not being paid all wages due upon separation from employment. Class Counsel theorized at mediation, based on relevant documents provided by Defendants, that, under Labor Code section 203, Defendants are liable to pay each Class Member, who was terminated during the relevant statutory period, a full 30-day worth of wages as waiting time penalty for failure to pay compensation in lieu of compliant meal and rest periods, and failure to timely pay all wages due at the time of termination or resignation. Based on relevant documents provided by Defendants, there were approximately 31 Class Members who were terminated or resigned during the relevant statutory period. Thus, one calculation performed at mediation by Class Counsel resulted in Defendants' exposure for waiting time penalties to be approximately $143,815 (31 separated Class Members x $19.33/hour x 8 hours x 30 days).

Class Counsel understand from the mediator and the mediation process that Defendants make the following defenses in connection with this claim: Defendants contend that there is no credence to Plaintiff's off-the-clock theory and that, thus, no waiting time penalties are owed based on that theory. Finally, Defendants contend that their actions were not "willful" and that, thus, waiting time penalties cannot be awarded. Thus, Defendants argued that no waiting time penalties are owed.

6. Failure to Indemnify, Failure to Pay Interest on Deposits, and Failure to Pay Vested Vacation

Class Counsel initially theorized that Defendants failed to indemnify Class Members for necessary business expenses, failed to pay interest on deposits, and failed to pay vested vacation pay. However, after diligent investigation and informal discovery, Class Counsel did not attribute significant value to these claims for purposes of the Settlement. Rather, the driving force behind the Settlement were the claims discussed and valued above.

7. PAGA Penalties

Class Counsel understand from the time and payroll data provided by Defendants that there are approximately 63 Aggrieved Employees who collectively worked 2,254 pay periods in the PAGA Period. Plaintiff's claims in the Action under PAGA are substantially similar to those described herein. PAGA penalties include penalties for initial violations and subsequent violations. Defendants contend that only initial violation rates may be used instead of the subsequent violation rates initially used by Class Counsel. With this in mind and because Class Counsel through investigation and discovery did not come to the conclusion that Defendants at any time was notified by any governmental entity that they violated any Labor Code sections presented in the PAGA Notice and PAGA claims, Class Counsel adjusted the exposure model for Defendants to include only initial violation rates.

While Class Counsel are informed and believe that reasonable minds differ with regard to calculation of PAGA penalties, Class Counsel believe it is reasonable to calculate Defendants' maximum exposure in PAGA penalties as follows:

a. Overtime Violations: Labor Code section 558 prescribes penalties of $50 for an initial violation and $100 for each subsequent violation. Using the initial pay period rate for all violations, and a violation every single pay period for every single non-exempt employee in the PAGA Period, this amounts to a maximum exposure of $112,700 (2,254 pay periods x $50).

b. Minimum Wage Violations: Labor Code section 1197.1 prescribes penalties of $100 for an initial violation and $250 for each subsequent violation. Using the initial pay period rate for all violations and a violation every single pay period for every single Aggrieved Employee in the PAGA Period, this amounts to a maximum exposure of $225,400 (2,254 pay periods x $100).

c. Meal Period Violations: Labor Code section 558 prescribes penalties of $50 for an initial violation and $100 for each subsequent violation. Using the initial pay period rate for all violations and a violation every single pay period for every single non-exempt employee in the PAGA Period, this amounts to a maximum exposure of $112,700 (2,254 pay periods x $50).

d. Rest Period Violations: Labor Code section 558 prescribes penalties of $50 for an initial violation and $100 for each subsequent violation. Using the initial pay period rate for all violations and a violation every single pay period for every single non-exempt employee in the PAGA Period, this amounts to a maximum exposure of $112,700 (2,254 pay periods x $50).

e. Wage Statement Violations: According to Gunther v. Alaska Airlines, Inc. (2021) 287 Cal.Rptr.3d 229, in this instance, Labor Code section 2699 would be the appropriate penalty for wage statement violations that are inaccurate, which prescribes penalties of $100 for an initial violation and $200 for each subsequent violation (Id. at 247-248). Using the initial pay period rate for all violations and a violation every single pay period for every single Aggrieved Employee in the PAGA Period, this amounts to a maximum exposure of $225,400 (2,254 pay periods x $100).

f. Waiting Time Penalties: Labor Code section 2699 prescribes penalties of $100 for an initial violation and $200 for each subsequent violation. Because this violation is merited only at separation of employment, a 100% violation rate would likely include just one violation per employee. The data produced by Defendants indicate that there were 19 Aggrieved Employees whose employment was separated during the PAGA Period. This amounts to a maximum exposure of $1,900 (19 Aggrieved Employees x $100).

h. Conclusion: In sum, Class Counsel calculated Defendants' total maximum exposure for PAGA violations if the Court were to find a 100% violation rate for every Aggrieved Employee every pay period and not exercise its discretion to reduce any of those penalties to be $790,800. Class Counsel understand from the mediator and the mediation process that Defendants argued the following in connection with this claim: Defendants contend that no PAGA penalties are likely to be awarded and, even if they were, the maximum exposure calculated by Class Counsel is vastly overstated. First, Defendants defend that PAGA penalties cannot and should not be stacked. Second, Defendants assert that individualized issues predominate the PAGA claims, making the claims unmanageable for trial. Third, Defendants deny that a violation for each pay period can be established. Fourth, Defendants contend that a Court is unlikely to exercise its discretion to award civil penalties under PAGA where, as here, there is no conduct shown by Plaintiff that would show any Labor Code violation by Defendants is knowing and intentional. Defendants insist that this is especially true in this Action where class action damages are available to Class Members, rendering an award of PAGA penalties in addition to class action damages to be double recovery.

Class Counsel maintain that it is possible to recover the subsequent violation rate for penalties, that stacking is permissible, and that there is no manageability requirement under PAGA (citing Estrada v. Royalty Carpet Mills, Inc.). As such, Class Counsel believe a 90% discount of this claim to be reasonable, resulting in a valuation of $79,080 as a reasonable estimate of the likelihood of what Plaintiff may recover at trial for PAGA penalties ($790,800 x .10). See also Carrington v. Starbucks Corp., 30 Cal.App.5th 504, 529 (2018) (upholding trial courts 90% reduction in maximum penalties, from $50 to $5 per initial violation).

7. Conclusion

When including derivative penalties, such as waiting time penalties, wage statement violations, and discretionary PAGA penalties, Class Counsel theorized Defendants' maximum exposure to be approximately $3,217,448. In all, Class Counsel obtained a Gross Settlement Amount of $420,000.00. Particularly in light of the risks involving obstacles to class certification, all issues and risks related to liability, the issues with manageability at trial, the discretionary nature of PAGA penalties, and considering the case law regarding fair, reasonable and adequate settlements, Class Counsel strongly believe that the settlement reached is fair, reasonable and adequate, and in the best interest of Class Members.

Moreover, $42,000.00 of the Gross Settlement Amount was attributed to PAGA penalties. This allocation was decided mutually by the Parties and the mutual decision was based on: (1) the fact that damages are available for the failure to pay wage claims while only penalties are available for the PAGA claims; (2) the risk that the Court may exercise its discretion to decline to stack PAGA penalties; (3) the risk that the Court may exercise its discretion to not award the full amount of PAGA penalties available; and (4) the risk that the Court may decline to award any PAGA penalties at all in light of the fact that damages are available for Class Members and it may find any further liability against Defendants unnecessarily punitive.

VII. THE PROPOSED ATTORNEYS' FEES AND COSTS ARE REASONABLE

Class Counsel seeks an attorneys' fees award of not more than thirty-five percent (35%) of the Gross Settlement Amount, which, unless escalated pursuant to this Agreement, would amount to $147,000.00. Class Counsel also seeks reimbursement of costs not to exceed $30,000.00. The requested fees fall well within the historical range of attorney's fees awards under the common fund theory, which is generally from 25% to 50%. The requested fee is fair compensation for undertaking complex, risky, expensive and time-consuming litigation on a contingent fee basis. Thus, the Court should preliminarily approve the requested attorneys' fees and costs, which are justified by the results achieved, the complexity of the issues, the difficulty of the case and the great risks undertaken by Class Counsel. The requested attorneys' fees will not be opposed by Defendants and are well within established guidelines.

VIII. THE REQUESTED ENHANCEMENT AWARD TO THE NAMED PLAINTIFF AND CLASS REPRESENTATIVE IS REASONABLE

Plaintiff is entitled to enhanced award for his service as class representative, for answering extensive questions by Class Counsel, for being available and answering questions during mediation, for the risks in being the named plaintiff and for providing Defendants with a more expansive release of claims, including a waiver based upon California Civil Code section 1542, in exchange for the enhancement award. Defendants do not oppose the requested enhancement to Plaintiff. Plaintiff risked intrusive discovery and the payment of employer costs. In the experience of Class Counsel, the typical enhancement award in wage and hour class actions ranges from approximately $10,000.00 to $25,000.00, although some awards are higher. In contrast, Class Counsel seeks a limited enhancement of $7,500.00 to Plaintiff for his service.

IX. CONDITIONAL CERTIFICATION FOR SETTLEMENT PURPOSES

A. The Class should be Preliminarily Certified

In California, there are two certification prerequisites: (1) the existence of an "ascertainable class;" and (2) "a well-defined community of interest in the questions of law and fact involved affecting the parties to be represented." (Sotelo v. MediaNews Group, Inc. (2012) 207 Cal.App.4th 639, 647.) To certify a class, the party advocating class treatment must demonstrate: (1) a numerous class; (2) predominant common questions of law or fact; (3) class representatives with claims or defenses typical of the class; and (4) class representatives who can adequately represent the class." (Williams v. Sup. Ct. (2013) 221 Cal.App.4th 1353, citing Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Sup. Ct. (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1021.) Each of the criteria for class certification is satisfied in this instance:

1. Ascertainability – "Ascertainability" is a due process requirement that ensures it is possible to decide who will be bound by the judgment (res judica effect). The determination is made by examining the class definition and the size of the class. Here, the Class Members definition (i.e., all persons currently or formerly employed by Defendants, either directly or through any subsidiary, staffing agency, or professional employer organization, as non-exempt, hourly-paid employees during the Class Period in the State of California) is derived from the operative complaint, which complains of alleged violations of Labor Code sections that are chiefly and, in some instances, solely applicable to non-exempt, hourly paid employees. There is no difficulty ascertaining who is a Class Member based on the above-described definition as it is readily apparent to all involved who is a non-exempt, hourly-paid employee who worked in California for Defendants during the Class Period based solely from Defendants' payroll records, which amounts to approximately 82 persons.

2. Numerosity – According to the California Supreme Court, a putative class is sufficiently numerous to achieve the numerosity requirement if their joinder is impracticable and thus substantial benefits accrue both to litigants and the courts if the action proceeds as a class action. (Linder v. Thrifty Oil Co. (2000) 23 Cal.4th 429, 435, 446.) Numerosity is presumed satisfied if there are forty (40) putative class members. (Miri v. Dillon (E.D. MI 2013) 292 F.R.D. 454, 461.) However, as few as 10 class members has been found sufficient. (See, e.g., Bowles v. Sup. Ct. (1955) 44 Cal.2d 574.) Class Counsel understand from documents provided by Defendants that there are at least 82 Class Members. That is sufficiently numerous to establish the numerosity requirement.

3. Commonality – California law also requires that "questions of law or fact common to the class [be] substantially similar and predominate over the questions affecting the individual members." (In re Steroid Hormone Product Cases (2010) 181 Cal.App.4th 145, 153.)

This litigation is brought to resolve common issues that include whether Defendants failed to pay for all hours worked; whether Defendants provided full, timely and un-interrupted meal and rest periods; whether Class Members are entitled to premium pay for incomplete, untimely or interrupted meal or rest periods, among other claims as set forth above.

4. Typicality – Typicality requires only that the named plaintiff's interests in the action be significantly similar to those of other class members. (Williams v. Sup. Ct. (2013) 221 Cal.App.4th 1353, citing Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Sup. Ct. (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1021.) Plaintiff's claims are typical of those of other Class Members as Plaintiff: (1) was a non-exempt, hourly-paid employee like other Class Members; (2) complains of not being paid for all time under Defendants' control or suffered and/or permitted to work for Defendants; (3) did not receive full premium pay for meal periods that were not compliant with the Labor Code; (4) did not receive premium pay for rest periods that were not provided, among others as set forth above.

5. Adequacy of Representation - To maintain a class action, the representative plaintiff must adequately protect the interests of the class. (Williams v. Sup. Ct. (2013) 221 Cal.App.4th 1353, citing Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Sup. Ct. (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1021.) Adequacy of representation consists of two components. First, there must be no disabling conflicts of interest between the class representatives and the class. Second, the class representative must be represented by counsel who are competent and experienced in the kind of litigation to be undertaken. (See McGhee v. Bank of Am. (1976) 60 Cal.App.3d 442, 450; accord In re Juniper Networks, Inc. Securities Litigation (N.D. Cal. 2009) 264 F.R.D. 584, 590.) Both criteria are met in this instance:

(i) No Disabling Conflict of Interest Exists Between the Class Representative and the Class

No conflicts, disabling or otherwise, exists between Plaintiff and Class Members because Plaintiff alleges to have been damaged by the same alleged conduct of Defendants (i.e., Plaintiff classified as non-exempt, hourly-paid employee, not paid premium pay, etc.) and thus has the incentive to fairly represent all Class Members' claims to achieve the maximum possible recovery.

(ii) Class Counsel are Experienced Class Action Attorneys

As set forth in the Declarations of Class Counsel, Class Counsel in this matter consist of experienced class action attorneys, have been appointed as class counsel in other class actions and have a successful "track record" in litigating class actions.

6. Superiority of Class Action - Also relevant to the Court's certification decision is whether a class action is the superior method of adjudication. (Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Sup. Ct. (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1021.)

It deals with common issues that are most efficiently adjudicated together, as indicated above. Moreover, with at least 82 Class Members, presentation of all of them before this Court may be problematic, impractical, and burdensome. On the contrary, a class action allows claims of many individuals to be resolved at the same time, eliminates the possibility of repetitious litigation and affords small claimants with a method of obtaining redress for claims which otherwise would be too insufficient to warrant individual litigation.

7. Conclusion – Thus, because this class action meets all criteria for certification and a lesser standard of scrutiny applies when evaluating these criteria for settlement purposes, it should be certified for purposes of effectuating this settlement.

X. CONCLUSION

Therefore, the Parties request the Court grant preliminary approval of the proposed settlement.
