MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff Arden Whips ("Plaintiff") reached a settlement of the California Private Attorneys General Act, Cal. Labor Code §2699, et seq. ("PAGA") claim asserted in this action against Defendants IME Resources, LLC; ExamWorks Compliance Solutions, LLC; Exam Works, LLC; and Exam Works Group, LLC, ("Defendants") (collectively, the "Parties") which provides for a "Gross PAGA Settlement Amount" payment in the amount of $300,000. In accordance with California Labor Code §2699 et. seq., Plaintiff now ask this Court to review and approve the settlement of Plaintiff's PAGA claims.[1] This is only a settlement of the PAGA claims for civil penalties and is not a class settlement and does not release the individual wage claims, if any, of the affected employees other than the Plaintiff herself. Cal. Labor Code § 2699(k)(1); Iskanian v. CLS Transportation, 59 Cal. 4th 348, 381 (2014); ZB, N.A. v. Superior Court, 8 Cal. 5th 175, 182 (2019) (unpaid wages are not recoverable under PAGA).

The PAGA settlement is set forth in the accompanying PAGA Settlement Agreement ("Settlement Agreement" or "Agreement") and the form used for the Agreement is the Los Angeles Superior Court's model form. A true and correct copy of the Agreement which sets forth the terms for the settlement of the PAGA claims is attached as Exhibit #1 to the Declaration of Sergio J. Puche, filed herewith. Capitalized terms shall have the same meaning as defined in the Agreement. The LWDA received notice of this Settlement, and this motion as set forth in the accompanying proof of service.

A proposed order confirming review and approval of the PAGA settlement is submitted herewith.

II. RELEVANT FACTS

PAGA Counsel sent the necessary correspondence to the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency ("LWDA") on August 8, 2024, on behalf of Plaintiff Arden Whips requesting authorization from the LWDA to seek civil penalties as provided by the Private Attorney General Act

[1] Section 2699(s)(2) provides as follows: "The superior court shall review and approve any settlement of any civil action pursuant to this part."

of 2004 ("PAGA") for the wage and hour violations alleged in the PAGA Notice.[2] (Declaration of Sergio J. Puche ("Puche Decl."), at ¶ 3.) The 65-day notice period for the LWDA to notify of its intent to investigate expired on October 12, 2024. On December 2, 2025, Plaintiff filed a Representative Action Complaint in this Court against IME Resources, LLC; ExamWorks Compliance Solutions, LLC; Exam Works, LLC; and Exam Works Group, LLC, alleging a single cause of action for recovery of civil penalties for Violation of the PAGA [Labor Code §§ 2698, et seq.]. (Puche Decl. at ¶ 3(a).)

Plaintiff and Defendants agreed to mediate with Dan Turner, Esq. Prior to the mediation, the Parties conducted significant investigation and informal discovery of the facts and law. Defendants produced documents relating to employee payroll spreadsheets, their policies, practices, and procedures regarding paying non-exempt employees for all hours worked, overtime, meal and rest period policies, payroll and operations policies and more. The Parties agree that the above-described investigation and evaluation, as well as the information exchanged during the settlement negotiations, are sufficient to assess the merits of the Parties' positions and to compromise the issues on a fair and equitable basis. (Puche Decl., at ¶ 3(a).)

Plaintiff's theory of PAGA liability as argued at mediation alleged that Defendants are liable for off the clock claims due to pre-shift computer boot-up time, daily temporal temperature checks as well as post shift shut down time. Plaintiff asserted that daily temperature checks took 3-5 minutes depending on how many employees were waiting in line, and that Defendants required employees to fill out a paper questionnaire and respond an email certifying the employee had no Covid symptoms needed to be completed daily before clocking in. Additionally, Plaintiff argued that nearly 50% (47.1%) of Meal breaks provided in the data were exactly 30 minutes in length and that 17.9% of all shifts greater than 12 hours did not have a recorded 2nd Meal break. Further, Plaintiff alleged Defendants paid Plaintiff a nondiscretionary Bonus payments during three separate pay periods but failed to pay overtime at the regular rate of pay in all three. Finaly, Plaintiff argued that Defendants required all employees to provide their personal cell phone numbers in order to authenticate their login several times a day. With regard to cell phone use, Plaintiff alleged that, aggrieved employees received phone calls and texts messages from time to time from Human Resources and Management about work related issues and were instructed to call the IT department from their fell phones when they were faced with computer issues, such as being locked out, which occurred from time to time. Finally, Plaintiff alleged that despite working from home, she was never reimbursed for the desk ($300) keyboard ($120) nor chair ($300) and home internet expenses made for Defendant's benefit to work from home. (Puche Decl. ¶¶ 3(b), 14(a).)

At Mediation, Plaintiff argued that Defendants are liable for a myriad of PAGA Penalties, including PAGA waiting time penalties for 120 former employees in the PAGA Period as indicated in the data sample received; PAGA penalties for Unpaid Wages, Failure to pay Rest Period Premiums, and 226 Wage Statement Violations for 361 employees; Penalties for failure to Pay Overtime to 225 employees; PAGA penalties for failure to pay sick pay at the regular rate of pay to 217 employees; and PAGA penalties for failure to pay Meal Premiums to 183 employees as identified from the sample data received. (Id.)

On January 28, 2026, the Parties participated in an all-day mediation presided over by Dan Turner, Esq., a respected private mediator of wage and hour representative and class actions. Following the mediation and additional post-mediation negotiations, each side, represented by its respective counsel, was able to agree to settle the Action based upon a mediator's proposal which was memorialized in the form of a Memorandum of Understanding.[3] (Puche Decl., at ¶ 3(c)).

The settlement was negotiated in light of all known facts and circumstances and the uncertainty associated with litigation – including the risk of Plaintiff not being able to maintain representative

[3] Pursuant to a separate confidential settlement agreement, in addition to the Gross PAGA Settlement Amount, Defendants have agreed to separately pay Plaintiff an individual settlement to resolve all of her individual non-PAGA claims. The individual settlement is made in exchange for a general release of all of Plaintiff's individual non-PAGA claims arising out of her respective employment with Defendants, including a waiver of any unknown claims pursuant to California Civil Code § 1542, which will be detailed in a separate confidential settlement agreement. (Agreement at ¶ 5.2). The individual claims are not at issue in this action and exist independent and apart from the PAGA claims at issue before the Court. See Kim v. Reins Int'l Cal., Inc., 9 Cal. 5th 73, 80 (2020) (the "[s]ettlement of individual claims does not strip an Aggrieved Employee of standing, as the state's authorized representative, to pursue PAGA remedies" nor resolve the PAGA claims.). (Puche Decl. ¶ 3(d)).

claims, the difficulty of proving Plaintiff' claims in a manageable trial, the merits of Defendants' potential defenses, and the significant delay and potential appellate issues inherent to litigation – and was reached after extensive arm's length negotiations, with the assistance of the Mediator. (Puche Decl., at ¶¶ 3,6.).

III. TERMS OF THE PAGA SETTLEMENT

The PAGA settlement is subject to Court approval consistent with Labor Code §2699(1)(2) (2016). (Agreement at ¶ 6.1). The Agreement negotiated by the Parties provides for a "Gross PAGA Settlement Amount" payment in the amount of $300,000 to resolve the Released PAGA Claims (hereinafter referred to as the "PAGA Settlement"). From this PAGA Gross PAGA Settlement Amount of $300,0000, there is a deduction of attorneys' fees ("PAGA Counsel Fees Payment")[4] up to $100,000 (which is one-third of the PAGA Settlement), reimbursement of incurred costs ("PAGA Counsel Litigation Expenses Payment") in an amount not to exceed $25,000, Service Award payment to Plaintiff of not more than $10,000, and Settlement Administration Costs ("Administration Expenses Payment") not to exceed $5,775. (Agreement at ¶¶ 3.2.1-3.2.3).[5] After these deductions, the amount remaining is the "PAGA Payment", which is estimated to be no less than $145,661.

Of the PAGA Payment amount, sixty-five percent (65%) (no less than $103,496.25) will be paid to the LWDA and the remaining thirty-five percent (35%) (no less than $55,728.75) will be paid

[4] The PAGA Counsel Fees Payment shall be allocated among PAGA Counsel as follows: 77.5% to BNBD and 22.5% to CTA. (Puche Decl. at ¶ 7).

[5] If the Court does not approve or approves less than the amounts requested for the PAGA Counsel Fees Payment and/or the PAGA Counsel Litigation Expenses Payment, the Administrator will allocate the remainder to the PAGA Payment, and this will not affect approval of the settlement. Released Parties shall have no liability to PAGA Counsel or any other Plaintiff's counsel arising from any claim to any portion of any PAGA Counsel Fee Payment and/or PAGA Counsel Litigation Expenses Payment. PAGA Counsel may choose to appeal any reduction in the award of fees by the Court, but regardless of the appeal's outcome, the other Settlement terms will not be affected. (Agreement at ¶3.2.1). To the extent the Administration Expenses are less, or the Court approves payment less than $5,775, the Administrator will retain the remainder in the PAGA Payment. (Id. at ¶ 3.2.2).

to the Aggrieved Employees (Agreement at ¶ 3.2.3).[6] This 65/35 allocation is required by Labor Code §2699(m).

The Individual PAGA Payment for each Aggrieved Employee means the Aggrieved Employees' pro rata share of 35% of the PAGA Payment calculated according to the number of Pay Periods the Aggrieved Employee worked during the PAGA Period compared to the total PAGA Pay Periods all Aggrieved Employees worked.[7] The PAGA Period is the period commencing on August 8, 2023, and ending on March 30, 2026. (Agreement at ¶ 1.23).

Defendants have represented that, through the date of mediation, there were 363 Aggrieved Employees who worked approximately 14,500 PAGA Pay Periods during the PAGA Period. (Puche Decl. ¶¶ 4, 14(b)(c)); Agreement at ¶ 4.1).

Upon entry of final judgment, the Released Parties shall be entitled to a release from the Aggrieved Employees for any "Released PAGA Claims", means any and all claims for PAGA penalties that were alleged, or reasonably could have been alleged, based on the facts stated in the Operative Complaint, and the PAGA Notice submitted by Plaintiff to the LWDA, which occurred during the PAGA Period (collectively the "Released PAGA Claims"). (Agreement at ¶¶ 1.25). The "Released Parties" means Defendants and each of their parents, subsidiaries, affiliates, shareholders, members, agents, predecessors, successors and assigns. (Agreement at ¶ 1.26). The Released PAGA Claims expressly excluding all other claims, including claims for vested benefits, wrongful termination, violation of the Fair Employment and Housing Act, unemployment insurance, disability, social security, workers' compensation, California class claims, and PAGA claims outside of the PAGA period. The Released PAGA Claims also expressly exclude Plaintiff's non-PAGA claims which are subject to a separate release, which will be set forth in a separate individual settlement agreement. (Agreement at ¶¶ 1.25).

[6] "Aggrieved Employee" means all individuals who are or previously were employed by Defendants in California and classified as a non-exempt employee at any time at any time during the PAGA Period. (Agreement at ¶¶ 1.4).

[7] See Agreement at ¶ 3.2.3 ("The Administrator will calculate each Individual PAGA Payment by (a) dividing the amount of the Aggrieved Employees' 35% share of PAGA Payment by the total number of PAGA Period Pay Periods worked by all Aggrieved Employees during the PAGA Period and (b) multiplying the result by each Aggrieved Employee's PAGA Period Pay Periods.")

Defendants shall fully fund the Gross PAGA Settlement Amount by transmitting the funds to the Administrator no later than twenty-one (21) days after the Effective Date. "Effective Date" means the date upon which the Court signs an Order approving the Settlement. (Agreement at ¶¶ 1.11; 4.3).[8]

The Administrator will issue checks for the Individual PAGA Payments and send them to the Aggrieved Employees via First Class U.S. Mail, postage prepaid. The face of each check shall prominently state the void date, which is one hundred eighty (180) days after the date of mailing) when the check will be voided. The Administrator will cancel all checks not cashed by the void date. Before mailing any checks, the Settlement Administrator must update the recipients' mailing addresses using the National Change of Address Database. (Id. at ¶ 4.4.1).

For any Aggrieved Employee whose Individual PAGA Payment check is uncashed and cancelled after the void date, the Administrator shall transmit the funds represented by such checks to a Court-approved nonprofit organization or foundation consistent with Code of Civil Procedure § 384(b) ("Cy Pres Recipient") The Parties propose Community Law Project as the Cy Pres Recipient. The Parties, PAGA Counsel and Defense Counsel represent that they have no interest or relationship, financial or otherwise, with the intended Cy Pres Recipient. (Id. at ¶ 4.4.3)

Pursuant to California Labor Code Section 2699(1), Plaintiff is providing a copy of the Agreement and this motion to the LWDA concurrently with the filing of the instant motion for settlement approval as set forth in the accompanying proof of service in compliance with Labor Code section 2699(1). In addition, Plaintiff shall submit to the LWDA a copy of the Court's judgment and order approving the Agreement within ten (10) days after entry of judgment or order.

IV. THE PARTIES HAVE SETTLED THE PAGA CLAIMS

The claim before this Court on this motion is solely the representative claim under PAGA on behalf of the State of California for civil penalties pursuant to the PAGA. The Parties have agreed to [8] Within fourteen (14) days after Defendants fund the Gross PAGA Settlement Amount, the Administrator will mail checks for all Individual PAGA Payments, the LWDA PAGA Payment, the Administration Expenses Payment, and the PAGA Counsel Expenses Payment. Disbursement of the PAGA Counsel Litigation Expenses Payment shall not precede disbursement of Individual PAGA Payments. (Agreement at ¶4.4).

settle this PAGA claim in its entirety after investigation and an arm's length mediation session. (Puche Decl., at ¶¶ 2, 3.) The settlement is intended to fully and finally resolve the Released PAGA Claims asserted by Plaintiff on behalf of the State of California. This is only a settlement of the PAGA claims for civil penalties and is not a class settlement and does not release the individual claims, if any, of the Aggrieved Employees, other than any claims under PAGA. This settlement does not release any claim that is not a PAGA claim.[9] PAGA Counsel Fees equal to one-third of the Gross PAGA Settlement amount ($100,000), and PAGA Counsel Litigation Expenses in an amount of $17,786.88 will also be paid to PAGA Counsel as part of the settlement in accordance with California Labor Code § 2699(g)(1), as set forth in the Agreement, along with Service Award Payments to Plaintiff of not more than $10,000).[10] Lastly, payment to the Administrator in the amount of $5,250.00 to perform the administrative duties to distribute the settlement money shall also be paid. (Puche Decl., at ¶ 4.)

V. THE PARTIES REQUEST REVIEW AND APPROVAL OF THE SETTLEMENT OF THE PAGA CLAIM

Labor Code § 2699(l) requires that the Court "shall review and approve any settlement of any civil [PAGA] action filed pursuant to this part. The proposed settlement shall be submitted to the agency at the same time that it is submitted to the court." Cal. Lab. Code § 2699 (1) (2016). Consequently, the Parties respectfully ask the Court to review and approve the settlement of the PAGA claims and the PAGA Payment to be paid as part of the proposed settlement.

A. The PAGA Settlement Amount To Be Paid Is Fair And Reasonable

The Parties believe that the PAGA Settlement amount is fair and reasonable and therefore "shall" be reviewed and approved. Here, the Gross PAGA Settlement Amount of $300,000 is more than other PAGA settlements as it constitutes approximately $20.68 per pay period. (Declaration of Puche, at ¶ 5.)

[9] As explained by the Supreme Court in ZB, N.A., 8 Cal. 5th at 196: "Nonparty employees are bound by the judgment in an action under the PAGA, but only with respect to recovery of civil penalties."

[10] As set forth in the accompanying Declaration of Sergio J. Puche, PAGA Counsel incurred costs in the current amount of $17, 786.88 which is less than the cost allocation in the Agreement. See Declaration of Puche at ¶8.

This PAGA Settlement amount compares favorably to the estimated amount of PAGA penalties. With the assistance of an expert, Plaintiff calculated that the maximum amount of statutory PAGA civil penalties was potentially $1,450,000 based on 14,000 pay periods applicable to the Aggrieved Employees during the PAGA Period.[11] (Declaration of Puche, at ¶¶ 5,14(b)-(c)). Importantly, however, these calculations were performed at the maximum statutory rate for the penalties, when in fact, it is likely that any penalties awarded would be at a lower rate. California Labor Code Section 2699(e)(1) permits a Court to award a lesser amount than the maximum civil penalty if based on the facts and circumstances to do otherwise would result in an award that is "unjust, arbitrary and oppressive or confiscatory."

In Carrington v. Starbucks Corp., 30 Cal. App. 5th 504 (2018), the Court of Appeal affirmed a judgment after trial which only provided for a PAGA penalty of $5 per pay period. Therefore, at trial, any PAGA penalties awarded could be comparable to Plaintiff's calculation even where Plaintiff prevailed on the PAGA claim. If the amount of $5 per pay period from Carrington v. Starbucks is used, the potential recovery of civil penalties would be $72,500, which is far less than this settlement provides. (Declaration of Puche, at ¶¶ 5, 14(d).)

Under PAGA, Courts have considerable discretion to reduce the penalty award. In Fleming v. Covidien, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 154590 (C.D. Cal. 2011), a federal court reduced PAGA penalties from $2,800,000 to $500,000, a reduction of 82.2%, because the court found maximum penalties "unjust" because the employees had suffered no injuries. Some trial courts have actually awarded no civil penalties, even when Labor Code violations are established. See Makabi v. Gedalia, 2016 Cal. App. Unpub. 1489, *5-7 (2nd Dist. Ct. of App. Mar. 6, 2016) (no PAGA penalties were awarded by the Los Angeles County Superior Court) (unpublished decision); In re Taco Bell Wage & Hour

[11] Stacking is where more than one civil penalty is imposed in a pay period for the same conduct. The valuation of $1,450,000 is the civil penalty amount without stacking. If stacking is permitted, then the valuation increases with each additional penalty added to each pay period. Plaintiff, however, is not aware of any PAGA award which permitted stacking and in the cases cited herein, only one penalty per pay period was assessed. In addition, the recent amendment of PAGA casts further doubt on the availability of stacking penalties.

Actions, 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 48557, *40-43 (E.D. Cal. Apr. 6, 2016) (PAGA penalties denied after trial).

In order to recover any PAGA penalties, Plaintiff would be required at trial to prove each of the underlying Labor Code violations. See Cardenas v. McLane Foodservice, Inc., 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 13126, *10 (C.D. Cal. 2011) ("Given the statutory language [of PAGA], a plaintiff cannot recover on behalf of individuals whom the plaintiff has not proven suffered a violation of the Labor Code by the defendant."). Here, Plaintiff would need to prove that each Aggrieved Employee suffered a violation for each period the employee worked in relation to meal or rest period violations, failure to pay minimum wages, failure to pay overtime and sick pay wages, failure to provide accurate itemized wage statements, failure to reimburse employees for required expenses, and failure to pay wages when due.

Defendants maintain that Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees were properly compensated, and that it did not violate the Labor Code. Accordingly, Defendants dispute and deny Plaintiff' allegations and claims asserted in both the PAGA Notice and the Operative Complaint, which are resolved by the Agreement. Defendants asserted additional defenses to the PAGA claim, not only as to liability but also as to the amount of the penalties. Defendants could argue that no penalties prior to the PAGA notification should be awarded because the violations were not intentional, and at least one Court has so ruled. These defenses present a risk to the PAGA claims and the potential that some or all of the PAGA penalties sought may not be awarded. (Declaration of Puche, at ¶¶ 6, 14(g).)

Given Defendant's potential defenses to the violations at issue, the risks and costs of continued litigation, Plaintiff and their attorneys believe that the PAGA Settlement is fair and reasonable. (Declaration of Puche, at ¶¶ 5, 6, 14(g).) Defendants have similarly concluded that it is desirable that the action is settled in the manner and upon the terms and conditions set forth in the Agreement in order to avoid further expense, inconvenience and distraction of further legal proceedings, as well as the uncertainty of litigation. Defendants have determined that it is desirable and beneficial to put to rest the claims in this action and Defendants agree that the PAGA Settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate.

PAGA Counsel have significant experience litigating wage and hour claims including claims for PAGA penalties, and the PAGA Settlement here is similar to or greater than similar settlements that courts have approved. (Declaration of Puche, at ¶ 6.) The PAGA Settlement, along with the other terms of the proposed settlement, were negotiated by experienced counsel at arm's length with the assistance of the Mediator. (Declaration of Puche, at ¶¶ 2, 3, 6.)

As set forth in the accompanying proof of service, the LWDA has been provided notice of this motion and the PAGA settlement. The decision of the LWDA to accept the PAGA Settlement and not oppose the motion should be given considerable weight. This is not a situation where the Court needs to be concerned about the rights of absent employees as in a class settlement, as this PAGA-only settlement does not release the individual claims of absent employees other than PAGA claims, and the LWDA is a sophisticated government entity that is more than able to look out for its own rights.

B. The Remaining Settlement Terms Are Fair And Reasonable

Although PAGA requires that a court approve the proposed PAGA settlement, Labor Code § 2699(s) does not require that a court approve any other elements of the proposed settlement. Because there are no class allegations for which Plaintiff seeks approval, the approval provisions applicable to class settlements under Cal. Code Civil Proc. §382 do not apply. Accordingly, the Court only needs to approve the settlement of the civil penalties sought in the PAGA claim. Nevertheless, as explained herein, the settlement terms for attorneys' fees and costs are reasonable.

VI. THE ATTORNEYS' FEES AND COSTS ARE FAIR AND REASONABLE

PAGA Counsel seek approval of attorneys' fees from the PAGA settlement in the amount of $100,000 representing one-third of the $300,000 Gross PAGA Settlement Amount. PAGA does not have any requirements for reviewing attorneys' fees, and Plaintiff's position is that the payment of attorneys' fees and costs in this settlement is a matter of contract for contingent representation. Nevertheless, should this Court review the requested attorneys' fees, it is clear that the requested fees and costs are reasonable.

First, the requested fees are justified by the result achieved. PAGA Counsel negotiated a recovery of $300,000 and this result justifies the requested fees equal to one third of this recovery. This percentage is within the standard contingent recovery percentage of one-third, and this percentage is what was expressly approved by the Supreme Court in Laffitte v. Robert Half Int'l Inc., 1 Cal.5th 480, 504, (2016); Amaro v. Anaheim Arena Mgmt., LLC, 69 Cal. App. 5th 521, 545 (2021) (recognizing that "'fee awards in class actions average around one-third of the recovery'" regardless of "'whether the percentage method or the lodestar method is used.'" (quoting Chavez v. Netflix, Inc., 162 Cal.App.4th 43, 66, fn. 11 (2008)).

Second, the fee award is justified by the work performed and contributions to the case. As detailed in the accompanying Puche Decl. at ¶ 7, the fee award is less than PAGA Counsel's current lodestar of $93,080.00 representing only a 1.07 multiplier, with significant additional work to be performed.[12]

Generally, the Ninth Circuit and California Courts award positive multipliers between 2 to 4 times the lodestar to reward counsel for accepting the contingent risks of the litigation or obtaining good results. See, e.g., Laffitte, 1 Cal. 5th at 506 (approving one-third fee award with multiplier between 2.03 and 2.13); Pellegrino v. Robert Half Intern., Inc., 182 Cal.App.4th 278 (2010) (noting reasonable multipliers of 2.0 to 4.0 are often applied and affirming 1.75 multiplier); Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc., 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 254 (2001) (noting that multipliers can range from 2 to 4 or higher); Vandervort v. Balboa Capital Corp., 8 F. Supp. 3d 1200, 1210 (C.D. Cal. 2014) (awarding one-third of fund, which was a 2.52 multiplier of lodestar); Boyd v. Bank of America, 2014 WL 6473804, at *11 (C.D. Cal. 2014) (awarding one-third of fund, which was a 2.58 multiplier of lodestar); Hopkins v. Stryker Sales Corp., No. 11-CV-02786-LHK, 2013 WL 496358, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 6, 2013) (approving fee award that represented a multiplier of 2.76 as falling within the "majority" range for risk multipliers).

Third, consideration of the service factors justify the service of the lodestar. Courts multiply the lodestar by a factor to account for the risk of non-payment, delay in payment, the quality of work, and the novelty and difficulty of the issues involved. See Ketchum v. Moses, 24 Cal.4th 1122, 1132 (2001). Failure to apply a risk multiplier in cases that meet these criteria is an abuse of discretion. Stetson v. Grissom, 821 F.3d 1157, 1166 (9th Cir. 2016).

Finally, as to litigation expenses, PAGA Counsel will be recovering litigation expenses in the total amount of $17,786.88which is less than the $25,000 allocation for costs in the Agreement, so the difference of $7,213.12 will be added to the PAGA Payment amount. These expenses are documented in the accompanying Declaration of Puche at ¶8.

VII. THE SERVICE AWARD IS REASONABLE

In the Agreement at paragraph 1.27, "Service Award" means the service payment made to Plaintiff in order to compensate her for initiating the Action, performing work in support of the Action, undertaking the risk of liability for Defendants' expenses, and for the release of individual PAGA claims by Plaintiff. Plaintiff requests from the Court a Service Award payment in the amount of $10,000. (Agreement ¶¶ 1.27, 3.2.4). This amount shall be paid exclusively from the Gross PAGA Settlement Amount. Defendants shall not oppose Plaintiff's requests for a Service Award in this amount. (Id.) In the event the Service Award is approved for less than $10,000, the unawarded difference will be added to the PAGA Payment and not to Plaintiff, PAGA Counsel, or Defendant. (Id.) In the event the Service Award is approved for less than $10,000, the unawarded difference will be added to the PAGA Payment and not to Plaintiff, PAGA Counsel, or Defendant. (Agreement ¶¶ 1.28, 3.2.4). Plaintiff requests the Service Award of $10,000 as recognition for Plaintiff' efforts in securing this Settlement for the benefit of the Aggrieved Employees and the LWDA. (Puche Decl. ¶19; see also, Declaration of Arden Whips ("Whips Decl.") at ¶¶ 2- 9). The Agreement provides for a service award as the named Plaintiff not only served as the representative for these claims, but also is justified in light of the reputational risk that Plaintiff assumed by litigating claims against a former employer. See Billinghausen v. Tractor Supply Co., 306 F.R.D. 245, 267-68 (N.D. Cal. 2015) (finding "personal detriment" upon testimony that future employers can easily learn that a prospective employee served as a plaintiff through the internet); see also Guippone v. BH S&B Holdings LLC, No. 09 Civ. 1029, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 126026, at 4, 20 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 28, 2011) ("[T]he fact that a plaintiff has filed a federal lawsuit is searchable on the internet and may become known to prospective employers when evaluating the person . . . Even where there is not a record of actual retaliation, notoriety, or personal difficulties, [representative Plaintiff] merit recognition for assuming the risk of such for the sake of absent [parties].”). (Puche Decl. ¶ 19; Whips Decl. ¶¶ 2-9).

Employers commonly screen employee candidates to determine whether they have ever filed suit, and employee candidates who might be branded “litigious” are likely to be screened out of the process. In fact, an entire industry has developed for providing employers with background information on employee candidates. By bringing this action against an employer, Plaintiff have assumed considerable reputational risk that may impact their ability to find employment in the future. La Fleur v. Medical Management Intern, Inc., No. 13-00398-VAP, 2014 WL 2967475, *8 (C.D. Cal. June 25, 2014) (awarding $15,000 to each named plaintiff in part for attesting to their fear that the lawsuit will harm their future job prospects in the industry). (Id.)

Moreover, the separate settlement payment is reasonable because Plaintiff “remained fully involved and expended considerable time and energy during the course of the litigation.” See In Re Toys ‘R’ Us-Del FACTA Litig., 295 F.R.D. at 471 (citation omitted). Plaintiff devoted their time and effort toward assisting their attorneys with the prosecution of the claims, including the prosecution of an individual arbitration action and assisted counsel with finalizing the settlement. Service awards are regularly awarded in this amount. See e.g. Andrews v. Plains All Am. Pipeline L.P., 2022 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 172183, at *11 (C.D. Cal. 2022) (finding that the requested service awards of $15,000 each are appropriate). (Id. Whips Decl., ¶¶ 2-9.)

Lastly, because PAGA is a “type of qui tam action,” it is appropriate for the Plaintiff to receive a modest additional payment from the settlement as a “bounty” for her special effort in vindicating the State’s interests by enforcing its labor laws. See Iskanian, 59 Cal. 4th at 382 (“A PAGA representative action is therefore a type of qui tam action.”); see also People ex rel. Strathmann v. Acacia Research Corp., 210 Cal. App. 4th 487, 500 (2012) (“The person who brings the qui tam action, called the ‘relator,’ stands in the shoes of the People of the State of California, who are deemed to be the real party in interest . . . The relator in a qui tam action under section 1871.7 does not personally recover damages but, if successful, receives [a portion] of the recovery as a bounty.") (internal citations omitted). (Id.)

Such a payment incentivizes employees to step forward to enforce the Labor Code. See MMM Holdings, Inc. v. Reich, 21 Cal. App. 5th 167, 180 (2018) ("The bounty advances the public purpose and benefit by encouraging private qui tam actions; indeed, this prospect of reward may be the only means of inducing such private parties to come forward with their information.") (internal quotations omitted). This is especially important in this context, as "the lack of government resources to enforce the Labor Code led to a legislative choice to deputize and incentivize employees uniquely positioned to detect and prosecute such violations through the PAGA." Iskanian, 59 Cal. 4th at 390. Absent the incentive payment, fewer employees would be willing to step forward, and PAGA's primary purpose—enforcement of the Labor Code—would be substantially undermined. (Id.)

VIII. CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, Plaintiff respectfully requests this Court approve the PAGA settlement as set forth in the Agreement and enter the proposed order and judgment submitted herewith.
