12 4. Representative Plaintiff is unaware of the true names and capacities, whether 13 corporate or individual, or otherwise, of defendants named as DOES 1 through 100, inclusive.
14 Pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure section 474, Representative Plaintiff will seek leave

16 have been ascertained. Representative Plaintiff is informed and believes and based on such 17 information and belief alleges that said fictitiously-named defendants are responsible in some 18 manner for the injuries and damages to Representative Plaintiff, and other aggrieved employees as 19 further alleged herein.

20 5. This is only a Private Attorney General Action Complaint, pursuant to California

18 6. Venue is proper under California Code of Civil Procedure section 395 and under 19 California Government Code section 12965(b), in that Representative Plaintiff's injuries were 20 incurred within the County of Los Angeles, the actions giving rise to Representative Plaintiff's 21 complaint arose within the County of Los Angeles, and Defendant is located in the County of Los 22 Angeles.

23 STATEMENT OF FACTS

24 7. Representative Plaintiff was hired by Defendants as a Brand Ambassador on or 25 about February 26, 2018. Representative Plaintiff worked for Defendants up until approximately 26 December of 2019 when his employment terminated. Defendants are doing business in California 27 as a peer-to-peer carsharing service that allows drivers to rent cars from private owners, and 28 owners to rent out their cars for payment.

1 8. While employed with Defendants, Representative Plaintiff and other aggrieved
2 employees that worked with him at the Company's California locations, which include other 3 aggrieved employees that he seeks to represent in this action, working as non-exempt, hourly
4 employees (herein collectively identified as "other aggrieved employees") were regularly required
5 to work off-the-clock, and during their rest and meal periods.

6 9. Defendants failed to pay its aggrieved employees' overtime in accordance with 7 California law when they worked in excess of eight (8) hours in a day and/or 40 hours within a 8 workweek. Defendants also failed to pay its aggrieved employees' double time in accordance with 9 California law when they worked in excess of 12 hours in a workday.

10 10. Defendants failed to provide Representative Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees
11 with meal periods in accordance with Labor Code Sections 512(a) and 226.7, as aggrieved
12 employees were often not afforded an opportunity to take an off-duty meal period of at least 30
13 minutes within the first five (5) hours of their shift, because of work understaffing, inadequate 14 coverage, unreasonably high workload and expectations, and/or other actions, inactions, or 15 decisions made by and within the sole control and discretion of Defendants.

16 11. Additionally, when Representative Plaintiff and aggrieved employees worked in 17 excess of 10 hours in a day, they were not offered an opportunity to take a second meal period in 18 accordance with Labor Code section 512(a).

19 12. Defendants also failed to pay its aggrieved employees a premium pursuant to Labor 20 Code section 226.7 when it failed to provide its employees with legally adequate meal periods as 21 described above.

22 13. Defendants also failed to provide Representative Plaintiff and other aggrieved
23 employees with a 10-minute rest break for every four hours of work, or every major fraction 24 thereof, as employees were forced to work extended periods without rest breaks due to 25 understaffing, inadequate coverage, unreasonably high workload and expectations, and/or other 26 actions, inactions, or decisions made by and within the sole control and discretion of Defendants.
27 Defendants also failed to provide its employees with a premium payment pursuant to Labor Code 28 section 226.7 when it failed to provide its employees with legally adequate rest breaks.

1 14. Additionally, Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees were not provided a premium
2 wage pursuant to Labor Code section 226.7 for their legally inadequate meal and rest periods, as 3 they were not relieved of all duties and responsibilities for the respective time periods as required
4 by the law. Defendants' failure to properly pay Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees for all 5 hours worked in these instances violates Labor Code sections 226.7, 512(a), 1198 and the 6 applicable Wage Orders.

7 15. Representative Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees were often required to work 8 off-the-clock before their shifts started, after their shifts were completed, and during their meal and 9 rest periods. During this off-the-clock time and these so-called "working lunches", employees were 10 required by Defendants to finish work tasks that they did not have time to finish during their shift
11 because of understaffing, inadequate coverage, unreasonably high workload and expectations, 12 and/or other actions, inactions, or decisions made by and within the sole control and discretion of 13 Defendants'.

14 16. Defendants, being aware of these occurrences, still deducted 30 minutes from their 15 pay on these days that they were required to continue working without a legal meal period. The 16 Companies altered and adjusted time-sheets and time-cards in order to obfuscate this fact.

17 17. Defendants required Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees to work without 18 appropriate compensation, including the payment of at least minimum wage, for such work time as 19 described above in violation of Labor Code sections 1182.12, 1194, 1197, 1197.1 and 1198, and 20 the applicable Wage Orders.

21 18. California Labor Code section 226(a) provides that every employer shall furnish to 22 each of its employees an accurate, itemized wage statement in writing, showing, among other 23 things, all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the corresponding correct 24 number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee. Defendants' wage statements fail to 25 comply with this section of the Labor Code as they list the incorrect rates of pay and the incorrect
26 number of hours worked at each rate of pay. The number of hours that the employees actually spent 27 working for the Companies, which are listed on the pay stubs, is incorrect because of, among other 28 things, the Companies' failure to properly compensate its employees for all of the time that they

1 spent working under their employer's control.

2 19. Defendants wage statements listed the incorrect rates of pay and earnings. Thus, the 3 total earnings and the overtime hours listed on the employee's pay stubs are incorrect. The number
4 of hours that the employees actually spent working for the Companies that is listed on the wage
5 statement is also incorrect because of the Companies' failure to record and compensate its 6 employees for all of the time that they are under its control, including, but not limited to, time that 7 they spend complying with the Companies' required "working lunches" and off-the-clock work,
8 and when Defendants deducted 30-minutes for meal periods that were not legally adequate.

9 20. Defendants regularly scheduled and required Representative Plaintiff and the other 10 aggrieved employees to work "split shifts". California Code of Regulations 11050(4)(C) requires 11 employer to furnish to employees one (1) hour's pay at the minimum wage in addition to the wages 12 for that work day for any day in which an employee works a "split shift". However, despite 13 regularly scheduling Representative Plaintiff and the other aggrieved employees for "split shifts", 14 Defendants failed to pay Representative Plaintiff and the other aggrieved employees one (1) hour's 15 pay at the minimum wage in addition to the wages for that work day as required by law.

16 21. Representative Plaintiff and all aggrieved employees who worked for Defendants
17 did not receive all wages earned on time as defined by California Labor Code section 204. As a 18 consequence of Defendants failures as described above, Representative Plaintiff and other 19 aggrieved employees did not receive, among other things, their straight time, overtime, or double 20 time pay, minimum wages for off-the-clock work, rest period premium wages, meal period 21 premium wages.

22 22. Representative Plaintiff and all aggrieved employees who were separated from their 23 employment with Defendants, to whom Defendants willfully failed to pay for all hours worked as 24 described herein, are also entitled to up to thirty days of wages pursuant to California Labor Code 25 sections 201, 202, and 203.

26 23. Defendants failed to provide employees with basic information at the time of hiring 27 and when changes occurred to their employment, including, rate of pay (including overtime), 28 whether employee would be paid hourly, salary, piece rate, or by shift, day, week, commission, or

1 otherwise, and information regarding allowances, such as for as meals and lodging, and 2 information regarding the right to accrue and use paid sick leave and the legal protections for 3 employee when so doing.

4 24. Defendants directed Representative Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees to incur 5 personal expenses on behalf of Defendants while performing their respective job duties. Such 6 personal expenses include, but are not limited to: use of personal cell phone, travel expenses, and 7 parking expenses. Without incurring these expenses, Representative Plaintiff and other aggrieved
8 employees would not be able to accomplish their job duties. Defendants failed to indemnify
9 Representative Plaintiff and other aggrieved for all of these necessary expenditures.

10 25. Defendants failed to provide to Representative Plaintiff and other aggrieved 11 employees who worked for them for more than 30 days with written notice setting the amount of 12 sick leave available, or paid time off in lieu thereof, on either their itemized wage statements or in a 13 separate writing accompanying such statements.
