CASE NO. 30-2020-01172801-CU-OE-CXC

LABOR CODE PRIVATE ATTORNEYS
GENERAL ACT REPRESENTATIVE ACTION

COMPLAINT FOR CIVIL PENALTIES
PURSUANT TO LABOR CODE PRIVATE
ATTORNEYS GENERAL ACT,
CALIFORNIA LABOR CODE §§ 2698 ET SEQ.

Assigned for all purposes to:

Judge Randall J. Sherman

Dept : CX105

1 Plaintiff Cheryl Burleigh (“Plaintiff”), on behalf of herself and all others similarly situated,
2 complains and alleges the following:

3 INTRODUCTION

4 1. This is a representative action under the Private Attorneys General Act of 2004, codified
5 at California Labor Code (“Labor Code”) §§ 2698 et seq. (“PAGA”) for civil penalties, attorneys fees
6 and costs on behalf of Plaintiff and all other adjunct instructors employed by Brandman University
7 (“Brandman” or “Defendant”) in California (“Aggrieved Employees”) from September 25, 2019 to the 8 trial date (“PAGA Period”) for the following Labor Code violations: (a) failure to issue accurate itemized
9 wage statements in violation of Labor Code § 226(a) and 226.2(a)(2); (b) failure to pay hourly and 10 separately for rest breaks at the average hourly rate in violation of Labor Code §§ 226.2, 226.7 and/or 11 failure to authorize and permit paid off-duty rest breaks in violation of § 12 of IWC Wage Order No. 4-
12 2001 and Labor Code § 226.7; and failure to pay missed rest break premium pay in violation of Labor
13 Code § 226.7, and § 12 of IWC Wage Order No. 4-2001; and (c) failure to reimburse business related 14 expenses in violation of Labor Code § 2802.

15 2. During the PAGA Period, Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees were non-exempt employees
16 because they did not earn the monthly equivalent of at least two times the state minimum wage for full-
17 time employment as required by Labor Code § 515(a) and Wage Order No. 4-2001 § 1. Plaintiff and 18 Aggrieved Employees were also piece-rate workers because they were paid on a piece-rate basis or 19 “Course Rate” – a set amount for each course taught.

20 3. As non-exempt piece-rate employees, Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees were entitled to 21 certain protections under the Labor Code, including to be provided with accurate itemized wage
22 statements pursuant to Labor Code §§ 226.2(a) and 226(a), and to be authorized and permitted to take off-
23 duty rest periods and/or to be paid for time spent on rest periods separate and apart from the piece, pursuant 24 to Labor Code §§ 226.2 and 226.7 and Wage Order No. 4-2001, § 12.

25 4. During the PAGA Period, Defendant failed to provide Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees
26 with accurate itemized wage statements in violation of Labor Code §§ 226(a) and 226.2(a) including but 27 not limited to, failing to list the total hours worked, the applicable hourly rate in effect during each pay 28 period, and piece-rate information.

5. During the PAGA Period, Defendant failed to pay Aggrieved Employees for their rest breaks separately and apart from the Course Rate and failed to pay premium pay, in violation of Labor Code §§ 226.2, 226.7 and Wage Order No. 4-2001 § 12.

6. Even if not piece rate workers, as non-exempt employees, Aggrieved Employees were entitled to be permitted and authorized to take off-duty rest breaks under Labor Code § 226.7 and Wage Order No. 4-2001 § 12. However, Defendant failed to authorize and permit Aggrieved Employees to take off-duty rest breaks as required under Wage Order No. 4-2001 § 12, and failed to pay premium pay for missed rest breaks in violation of Labor Code § 226.7 and Wage Order No. 4-2001 § 12.

7. During the PAGA Period, Aggrieved Employees were required by Defendant to teach online course from home. Aggrieved Employees incurred business expenses in direct consequence of the discharge of their job duties, including home internet, home or cellular phone expenses, ink toner/cartridges and paper and other expenses associated with working from home. Defendant did not reimburse Aggrieved Employees for any of these necessarily incurred business expenses in violation of Labor Code § 2802.

PARTIES

8. Plaintiff has been employed by Defendant as an adjunct instructor since 2017. During her employment, Plaintiff was subject to Defendant's unlawful conduct described herein.

9. Defendant is a private non-profit university, with its headquarters located in Irvine.

JURISDICTION

10. This Court has jurisdiction over Plaintiff's PAGA claim pursuant to Labor Code § 2699.

11. On September 25, 2020 Plaintiff provided Notice pursuant to Labor Code § 2699.3 to the LWDA and to Defendant. The LWDA has not provided notice to Plaintiff regarding its intentions to investigate or not investigate Plaintiff's claims.

12. The amount in controversy for Plaintiff, including claims for civil penalties and pro rata share of attorney's fees, is less than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000).

VENUE

13. Venue is proper in the County of Orange pursuant to Cal. Civ. Proc. Code §§ 395(a) and 395.5. Defendant's headquarters are in Irvine, California.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

14. Defendant is a private, non-profit university that offers both undergraduate and graduate programs at its main campus in Irvine, California and over 20 satellite campuses located throughout California. Defendant offers undergraduate and graduate degrees and certificate programs. These programs are offered throughout the year during the fall, spring and summer sessions. In order to teach these programs, Defendant employs adjunct faculty members including Aggrieved Employees.

1           15. Defendant employs Aggrieved Employees pursuant to a uniform employment contract.
2 This uniform Contract contained the compensation Aggrieved Employees were entitled to be paid in the 3 form of the flat per course compensation for teaching the assigned course (“Course Rate”).

4           Aggrieved Employees Were Non-Exempt Piece-Rate Employees

5           16. During the PAGA Period, Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees were non-exempt employees
6 because they did not earn the monthly equivalent of at least two times the state minimum wage for full-
7 time employment as required by Labor Code § 515(a) and Wage Order No. 4-2001 § 1. See Wage Order
8 No. 4-2001, § 1(A). Aggrieved Employees are therefore entitled to certain protections under the labor
9 code, including to receive accurate itemized wage statements containing entries for, including but not 10 limited to, total hours worked and applicable hourly rate in effect during each pay period, and to be 11 permitted and authorized to take compliant rest breaks, and to be paid premium pay for missed breaks, 12 pursuant to Labor Code §§ 226.7 and 226(a), and Wage Order No. 4-2001, § 12.

13           17. Additionally, Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees were piece rate workers because 14 Defendant compensated them a set amount per course. The more courses Aggrieved Employees 15 taught/teach, the more they are paid. The per course compensation rates are standardized and vary based 16 on objective criteria such as number of credits in the course, number of students enrolled, type of course
17 taught (e.g. undergraduate, graduate), and experience of the instructor. This type of compensation is a 18 form of piece-rate compensation. Accordingly, Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees were paid on a piece
19 rate and thus subject to the requirements of Labor Code § 226.2 that governs piece-rate worker pay in 20 California.

21           18. As a result, during the PAGA Period, Defendant was required to comply with California’s
22 wage and hour laws, including but not limited to, the obligation to pay Aggrieved Employees for rest
23 break time separate and apart from the piece rate, and to issue accurate itemized wage statements
24 containing entries for, including but not limited to, piece-rate information, pursuant to Labor Code §§
25 226.2 and 226.2(a).

26           Defendant Failed to Issue Accurate Itemized Wage Statements

27           19. During the PAGA Period, Defendant was required to issue accurate itemized wage 28 statements to Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees semimonthly or at the time of each payment of wages containing (1) gross wages earned pursuant to subdivision (a)(1) of Labor Code § 226(a); (2) total number of hours worked during each period, pursuant to subdivision (a)(2) of § 226(a); (3) net wages earned pursuant to subdivision (a)(5) of Labor Code § 226(a); (4) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the

1 pay period and corresponding number of hours worked pursuant to subdivision (a)(9) of Labor Code §
2 226(a).

3 20. Additionally, because Aggrieved Employees were piece-rate workers, Defendant was also 4 required to furnish wage statements to them that contained, including but not limited to, the following
5 information: the number of piece-rate units earned and any applicable piece rate; compensable rest
6 periods, the rate of compensation, and gross wages paid for those rest break periods; and hours of 7 nonproductive time, the rate of compensation, and gross wages paid for nonproductive time during the 8 pay period pursuant to Labor Code §§ 226(a)(3) and 226.2(a).

9 21. During the PAGA Period, rather than issue Aggrieved Employees accurate itemized wage
10 statements showing the actual hours worked, and applicable hourly rates, Defendant issued wage 11 statements that included only a lump sum earned during each pay period with a “0” listed for hours and 12 hourly rates. Further, as result of Defendant’s failure to authorize and permit rest breaks, and pay premium
13 pay for missed rest breaks, Defendant also failed to include accurate gross and net wages earned.

14 22. Defendant’s wage statements also failed to include the number of piece-rates earned and 15 applicable piece rate, and, as result of Defendant’s failure to pay for rest breaks separate and hourly from 16 the piece, and pay premium pay for missed rest breaks, also failed to include accurate gross and net wages 17 earned.

18 Defendant Violated California’s Rest Break Law

19 23. Because Aggrieved Employees are non-exempt piece-rate workers, pursuant to Labor
20 Code §§ 226.2 and 226.7 Defendant was required to permit and authorize them to take a paid 10-minute
21 for every 3.5 hours of work, and to pay them separately and hourly, at their average hourly rate, for their 22 rest break time.

23 24. During the PAGA Period, Aggrieved Employees routinely worked at least 3.5 hours or 24 more on any given day because Defendant scheduled them to teach classes that were 3.5 hours or longer 25 without a 10-minute break, or scheduled them to teach back-to-back classes that were 3.5 hours long when 26 combined and that had less than 10 minutes between them.

27 25. Defendant also had policies and/or practices in place which impeded Aggrieved 28 Employees’ ability to take off-duty rest breaks during these times, including the policy and/or practice of requiring Aggrieved Employees to be available to students during class.

29 26. Defendant failed to pay Aggrieved Employees at their average hourly rate for their time spent on rest breaks separately and apart from the piece in violation of Labor Code § 226.2, thereby triggering an obligation to make premium payments to Aggrieved Employees under Labor Code § 226.7

1 and Wage Order No. 4-2001, § 12. Defendant did not pay premium pay in violation of Labor Code §
2 226.7.

3 27. Even if Aggrieved Employees are not piece-rate workers, Defendant was required but 4 failed, as alleged above, to permit and authorize them to take off-duty rest breaks for shifts of 3.5 hours
5 or longer, pursuant to Labor Code § 226.7 and Wage Order No. 4-2001, § 12, thereby triggering an
6 obligation to make premium payments under Labor Code § 226.7 and Wage Order No. 4-2001, § 12(B),
7 which it also did not pay.

8 D. Defendant Violated California's Expense Reimbursement Law

9 28. During the PAGA Period, Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees were required to teach
10 online courses from homes. Aggrieved Employees incurred expenses carrying out their work-related 11 duties teaching online courses from their homes including internet access, home or mobile telephone
12 expenses, ink toner/cartridges and paper. Defendant did not maintain policies or practices of reimbursing
13 Aggrieved Employees for these necessarily incurred business expenses fully or at all.

14 29. Defendant was aware, or should have been aware, that Aggrieved Employees incurred
15 these expenses in direct consequence of the discharge of their job duties because Defendant required
16 and/or expected Aggrieved Employees to teach online courses from home. Defendant, however, did not 17 reimburse Aggrieved Employees in any amount for any such expenses incurred throughout the Aggrieved
18 Employees as required under Labor Code § 2802.

19 30. As a result, Defendant knowingly permitted Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees to pay for 20 expenses incurred in direct consequence of discharging their duties for Defendant, without any 21 reimbursement or reimbursement in full by Defendant for such expenses, in violation of Labor Code 22 § 2802.

23 CAUSE OF ACTION FOR PAGA CIVIL PENALTIES

24 31. Plaintiff seeks PAGA penalties on behalf of herself and Aggrieved Employees as follows:

25 Violation of Labor Code §§ 226(a) and 226.2(a)

26 32. During the PAGA Period, Defendant failed to issue accurate itemized wage statements for 27 each pay period during which Aggrieved Employees worked, in violation of Labor Code §§ 226(a) and 28 226.2(a)(2).

33. Under Labor Code § 226.3, Plaintiff is entitled to a PAGA penalty equal to two hundred fifty dollars ($250) per pay period for the initial violation and one thousand dollars ($1,000) per pay period for each subsequent violation.

34. Alternatively, Aggrieved Employees are entitled to one hundred dollars ($100) for each initial violation and two hundred dollars ($200) for each subsequent violation, pursuant to Labor Code § 2699(f)(2).

Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.2 and 226.7 and IWC Wage Order 4-2001, § 12

35. As discussed above, throughout the PAGA Period, Defendant failed to permit and authorize paid off-duty rest breaks in violation of IWC Wage Order 4-2001, § 12, failed to pay separately and hourly for rest breaks in violation of Labor Code § 226.2, and failed to pay Aggrieved Employees premium pay for unpaid and/or missed breaks in violation of Labor Code § 226.7.

36. As a result of Defendant's violation of Labor Code §§ 226.2 and 226.7, Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees are entitled to one hundred dollars ($100) for each initial violation and two hundred dollars ($200) for each subsequent violation, pursuant to Labor Code § 2699(f)(2).

Violation of Labor Code § 2802

37. During the PAGA Period, Defendant failed to reimburse Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees for necessarily incurred business expenses, including cellphone, internet, and home office expenses, they incurred in carrying out their job duties to Defendant.

38. Pursuant to Labor Code § 2699(f)(2), Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees are entitled to one hundred dollars ($100) for each initial violation and two hundred dollars ($200) for each subsequent violation.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff requests the following relief:

- A. Civil penalties pursuant to PAGA;
- B. Reasonable attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code § 2699(g); and
- C. All other relief as this Court deems proper.
