1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 Plaintiff Bladimir Lopez Millan (“Plaintiff”) seeks final approval of the Class Action and 4 PAGA Settlement Agreement reached with Defendant BOUTON CONSTRUCTION, INC.
5 (“Defendant”). On March 2, 2026, this Court preliminarily approved the Gross Settlement 6 Amount of Eight Hundred Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars ($825,000.00) as fair, adequate, and 7 reasonable. The Court also preliminarily appointed James R. Hawkins, Isandra Fernandez, and 8 Anthony Draper of James Hawkins APLC as Class Counsel and Plaintiff Bladimir Lopez Millan 9 as Class Representative.

10 For settlement purposes only, the Court further preliminarily certified the Class defined 11 as: All current and former hourly, non-exempt employees employed by Defendant in California 12 during October 19, 2016 to October 27, 2025 (“Class Member(s)”). The Court also preliminarily 13 approved Apex Class Action, LLC (“Apex”) as the Administrator.

14 On April 13, 2026, Apex mailed the Court-approved Notice of Class Action and PAGA 15 Settlement to Class Members. (Tran Decl., ¶ 8.) The deadline for requesting exclusion from or 16 objecting to the Settlement expired on May 28, 2026. An extended response deadline of June 11, 17 2026, applied only to Class Members who received re-mailed Notices. (Tran Decl., ¶ 11.) As set 18 forth in Plaintiff’s Motion for Preliminary Approval, this is a non-reversionary settlement.
19 Subject to final approval, Participating Class Members will automatically receive Individual 20 Class Payments without the need to submit a claim form.

21 Most importantly, the Settlement and its terms received unanimous support from the 22 Class. Out of 241 Class Members, not a single Class Member requested exclusion from the 23 Settlement and no Class Members objected to the Settlement. (Tran Decl., ¶¶ 12-13.)
24 Accordingly, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court grant final approval of the Settlement, 25 approve the requested attorneys’ fees and litigation costs, approve the requested Class 26 Representative Service Payment, approve the Administration Expenses Payment, and enter 27 judgment consistent with the terms of the Settlement Agreement.

1 and random samples of time records and wage reports of putative Class Members. Plaintiff also 2 took the deposition of Defendant's person most knowledgeable and retained and worked with third-3 party consultants to evaluate class-wide damages. (Draper Decl., ¶ 7.)

4 The Parties participated in two separate full-day mediations. On December 2, 2024, the 5 Parties participated in a mediation with Daniel Turner, Esq., an experienced wage and hour class 6 action mediator, but were unable to reach a settlement. The Parties continued the litigation and their 7 discussions and subsequently participated in a second private mediation on October 27, 2025, also 8 before Mr. Turner. (Draper Decl., ¶¶ 8-9.)

9 On or about October 30, 2025, the Parties accepted a mediator's proposal, resulting in a 10 settlement in principle. The Parties thereafter exchanged drafts of the Settlement Agreement and 11 class notice documents, negotiated the final settlement terms, and executed the Settlement 12 Agreement that is now before the Court on December 2, 2025. (Draper Decl., ¶¶ 9-10.)

13 C. The Preliminarily Approved Settlement

14 Plaintiff thereafter filed a Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action and PAGA 15 Settlement, seeking approval of the Settlement Agreement reached between the Parties. The 16 motion came on for hearing on February 18, 2026, and the Court entered its Order Granting 17 Preliminary Approval of Class Action and PAGA Settlement on March 2, 2026. (Draper Decl., ¶ 18 11.)

19 In granting preliminary approval, the Court preliminarily appointed James R. Hawkins, 20 Isandra Fernandez, and Anthony Draper of James Hawkins APLC as Class Counsel; appointed 21 Plaintiff Bladimir Lopez Millan as Class Representative; and approved Apex Class Action, LLC
22 as the Administrator. The Court also approved the form and content of the Notice of Class Action
23 and PAGA Settlement and authorized dissemination of notice to the Class. (Draper Decl., ¶ 11.)

24 Pursuant to the Settlement Agreement and subject to final approval by the Court, 25 payments will be made from the Gross Settlement Amount of Eight Hundred Twenty-Five 26 Thousand Dollars ($825,000.00) as follows:

1. Subject to Court approval, Class Counsel seek attorneys' fees in the amount of Two Hundred Eighty-Eight Thousand Seven Hundred Fifty Dollars ($288,750.00), together with litigation costs in the amount of $30,543.74, not to exceed Forty Thousand Dollars ($40,000.00). (Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3.2.2.)

2. Subject to Court approval, Plaintiff Bladimir Lopez Millan shall receive a Class Representative Service Payment of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00). (Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3.2.1.)

3. Subject to Court approval, Apex Class Action, LLC shall receive an Administration Expenses Payment of Seven Thousand Four Hundred Ninety Dollars ($7,490.00). (Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3.2.3.)

4. Subject to Court approval, Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00) shall be allocated to PAGA penalties, of which Thirty-Seven Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($37,500.00) shall be paid to the LWDA and Twelve Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($12,500.00) shall be distributed to Aggrieved Employees. (Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3.2.5.) There are 168 Aggrieved Employees who worked a total of 10,782 pay periods during the PAGA Period, and the average Individual PAGA Payment is estimated at approximately $74.40. (Tran Decl., ¶¶ 18-19.)

5. Individual Class Payments shall be allocated as follows: twenty-five percent (25%) shall be treated as wages subject to applicable tax withholdings and reported on an IRS Form W-2; the remaining seventy-five percent (75%) shall be treated as interest and penalties and reported on an IRS Form 1099. (Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3.2.4.1.)

6. Defendant shall separately pay any and all employer-side payroll taxes owed on the wage portions of the Individual Class Payments. (Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3.1.)

D. Dissemination of Notice Packet

Pursuant to the Court’s Order Granting Preliminary Approval, Defendant provided the Class Data to Apex Class Action, LLC (“Apex”), the Court-approved Administrator. (Tran Decl., ¶ 6.)

Apex processed the Class Data, updated addresses through the National Change of

1 Address (“NCOA”) database, and mailed the Court-approved Notice of Class Action and PAGA
2 Settlement in English and Spanish to Class Members on April 13, 2026. (Tran Decl., ¶¶ 6-8.)

3 A total of 241 Notices were mailed to Class Members. Following the initial mailing, 34 4 Notices were returned as undeliverable. Apex performed skip traces and re-mailing efforts where 5 appropriate, resulting in the re-mailing of Notices to 19 Class Members. (Tran Decl., ¶¶ 8-9.)

6 Ultimately, only 15 Notices remained undeliverable, such that approximately 94% of 7 Class Members received the Notice. (Tran Decl., ¶ 10.)

8 The notice program was completed in accordance with the Preliminary Approval Order 9 and provided the best notice practicable under the circumstances. (Tran Decl., ¶¶ 5-11.)

10 E. The Settlement Provides Reasonable Compensation to the Class Members

11 Even without the presumption of fairness and reasonableness, the Settlement is clearly 12 well within the range of reasonableness. All Participating Class Members will be paid their 13 portion of the Net Settlement Amount (“NSA”). Subject to Court approval, the NSA available to 14 pay the Participating Class Members is approximately Four Hundred Thirty-Eight Thousand Two 15 Hundred Sixteen Dollars and Twenty-Six Cents ($438,216.26). (Tran Decl., ¶ 16.) All 241 Class 16 Members are Participating Class Members (100% of the Class) and are to be paid Individual 17 Class Payment amounts. (Tran Decl., ¶ 15.) Participating Class Members will receive an 18 estimated average gross payment of approximately One Thousand Eight Hundred Eighteen 19 Dollars and Thirty-Two Cents ($1,818.32), with the estimated highest gross payment being 20 $6,919.37, and the estimated lowest gross payment being $8.38. (Tran Decl., ¶ 17.) These are 21 favorable amounts especially given the size of the Class and complexities of this case.

22 The Settlement clearly is within the range of reasonableness as thoroughly discussed in 23 detail in the Motion for Preliminary Approval, and as considered by the Court in granting 24 preliminary approval. As explained at preliminary approval, accounting for the risks of continued 25 litigation, Plaintiff determined that a settlement amounting to Eight Hundred Twenty-Five 26 Thousand Dollars ($825,000.00) was fair, adequate and reasonable as it represents a significant 27 percentage of Defendant’s potential exposure. Given Defendant’s defenses and all other potential

1 risks of continued litigation, a total recovery for the Class of $825,000.00 which will result in an 2 average award of about $1,818.32 per Participating Class Member, plus additional sums under 3 PAGA, is a meaningful result well within the range of reasonableness and it will provide direct 4 monetary awards to all Class Members without further delay. The specific details of the claims 5 and their valuations addressed in the Motion for Preliminary Approval are set forth in the 6 Declaration of Anthony Draper filed in support of said Motion. (Draper Decl., ¶ 12.)

7 This is a fair and reasonable recovery far exceeding settlements previously approved by 8 courts. (See, e.g., In re Warfarin Sodium Antitrust Litigation (D. Del. 2002) 212 F.R.D. 231, 256– 9 258 [reasonable settlement amount can be 1.6% to 14% of total estimated damages]; In re 10 Armored Car Antitrust Litigation (N.D. Ga. 1979) 472 F.Supp. 1357, 1373 [settlements valued at 11 1% to 8% of estimated total damages approved]; In re Four Seasons Securities Laws Litigation
12 (W.D. Okla. 1972) 58 F.R.D. 19, 37 [approving 8% of damages]; Balderas v. Massage Envy
13 Franchising, LLP (N.D. Cal., July 21, 2014, No. 12-cv-06327 NC) 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 88804, 14 *5 [settlement amounting to 8% of maximum recovery “fell within the range of possible initial 15 approval based on the strength of plaintiff’s case and the risk and expense of continued 16 litigation”]; In re Omnivision Technologies, Inc. (N.D. Cal. 2008) 559 F.Supp.2d 1036, 1042 17 [approving settlement of 6% to 8% of estimated damages].)

18 Through his counsel, Plaintiff took into consideration the significant risks that class 19 certification could be denied on the central claim due to the Brinker decision, and/or that a merits 20 decision on the central claim would not favor the Class. (Draper Decl., ¶ 12.) Plaintiff’s counsel 21 also considered the expense and length of continued proceedings necessary to continue the Action 22 against Defendant through trial and any possible appeals and the difficulties in establishing the 23 alleged damages. (Id.) The Settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate, given the significant risks 24 to Plaintiff and Class Members of prevailing on class certification or at trial, and thus leaving 25 employees with no recovery. (Id.)

26 III. FINAL SETTLEMENT APPROVAL IS APPROPRIATE

27 The law favors settlement, particularly in class actions and other complex cases in which 1 substantial resources can be conserved by avoiding the time, cost and rigors of formal litigation.

2 (Class Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle (9th Cir. 1992) 955 F.2d 1268, 1276; Potter v. Pacific Coast
3 Lumber Company (1951) 37 Cal.2d 592, 602-603; 4 NEWBERG §11.41.) When faced with a 4 motion for final approval of a class action settlement under Code of Civil Procedure section 382, 5 a court inquires whether the settlement is “fair, adequate, and reasonable.” (See e.g., Munoz v.
6 BCI Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Los Angeles (2010) 186 Cal.App.4th 399, 407-408; Kullar v. Foot
7 Locker Retail, Inc. (2008) 168 Cal.App.4th 116, 129-130; Dunk v. Ford Motor Company (1996)
8 48 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1801.)

9 A. This Court Preliminarily Found This Settlement to be Fair, Adequate and 10 Reasonable and Nothing Has Changed to Disturb That

11 Before granting final approval of a class action settlement, courts must determine that the 12 proposed settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate—and not a product of fraud, overreaching, 13 or collusion. (Cal. Rules of Court, rule 3.769(g); Code Civ. Proc., § 382; Dunk v. Ford Motor 14 Co., supra, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801.) Courts must presume that a settlement is fair, reasonable, 15 and adequate, and thus appropriate for final approval when the following three factors are 16 satisfied: (1) the Parties reached settlement via arms-length negotiations; (2) counsel conducted 17 sufficient investigation and discovery to allow themselves and the Court to act intelligently; and 18 (3) counsel is experienced in similar litigation. (Dunk, supra, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1802; see also 7-19 Eleven Owners for Fair Franchising v. Southland Corp. (2000) 85 Cal.App.4th 1135, 1146.) 20 Further, as discussed below, although not determinative, courts consider the percentage of 21 objectors in determining whether a presumption of fairness exists. (Id.) There is no question that 22 these factors are satisfied here. The Parties conducted a sufficient amount of discovery, 23 participated in private mediation, and numerous conferences of counsel that ultimately led to an 24 arms-length settlement that provides for substantial recovery. Moreover, out of 241 Class 25 Members, there were no requests for exclusion from, and no objections to, the Settlement. (Tran 26 Decl., ¶¶ 12-13.)

1 represented, mediated, and settled other employee class actions in wage and hour litigation and 2 have knowledge of the strengths and weaknesses of the claims against Defendant and the benefits
3 of the proposed settlement under the circumstances of the case. (Draper Decl., ¶¶ 13-23.) Class 4 Counsel contend that the Settlement is fair, adequate, reasonable, and in the best interests of the 5 Class as a whole.

6 E. Class Members' Positive Reaction to the Settlement Favors Final Approval

7 Finally, courts look at the reaction of class members to determine if a settlement that 8 directly affects their interests should be approved as fair, adequate, and reasonable. As noted 9 above, out of 241 Class Members, there were no requests for exclusion and no objections. (Tran
10 Decl., ¶¶ 12-13.)

11 A court may appropriately infer that a class action settlement is fair, adequate, and 12 reasonable even when class members object to it. Indeed, a court may approve a class action 13 settlement as fair, adequate, and reasonable even over the objections of a significant percentage of 14 class members. (See Boyd v. Bechtel Corp. (D.C. Cal. 1976) 485 F. Supp. 610, 624; Reed v.
15 General Motors (5th Cir. 1983) 703 F.2d 170, 174; In re Washington Public Power Supply
16 System Securities Litigation (D. Ariz. 1989) 720 F. Supp. 1379, 1394.) In this case, there were no 17 requests for exclusion from, and no objections to, the Settlement. The Court should construe this 18 as a further indication of Class Members' support for the Settlement as fair, adequate, and 19 reasonable.

20 IV. CLASS REPRESENTATIVE ENHANCEMENT PAYMENT IS 21 REASONABLE

22 The settlement provides for a Class Representative Service Payment to be paid to the 23 named Plaintiff and Class Representative. The purpose is to provide an additional incentive 24 payment, taking into consideration the risks, time and effort in coming forward to fulfill all the 25 duties associated with being a Class Representative. Awarding incentive awards to compensate 26 named plaintiffs in class actions has been specifically recognized. (See, e.g., Clark v. American 27 Residential Services, LLC (2009) 175 Cal.App.4th 785, 804 (incentive awards to named plaintiffs appropriate for participation in class action); Bell v. Farmers Ins. Exchange (2004) 115 Cal.App.4th 715, 726 (upholding "service payments" to named plaintiffs for their efforts in bringing class case).)

As stated by the Court of Appeal in the Cellphone Termination Fee Cases: incentive awards are "intended to compensate class representatives for work done on behalf of the class, to make up for financial or reputational risk undertaken in bringing the action, and, sometimes, to recognize their willingness to act as a private attorney general." (Cellphone Termination Fee Cases (2010) 186 Cal.App.4th 1380, 1394 (approving an incentive award of $10,000).)

The Class Representative Service Payment is intended to compensate named Plaintiff Bladimir Lopez Millan as Class Representative for his willingness to accept the responsibility of representing the interests of all Class Members. The purpose is to provide an incentive payment, taking into consideration the risks, time, and effort expended by him coming forward to provide invaluable information, spending approximately 40 to 45 hours assisting his attorneys in the litigation of this matter, and litigating this matter on behalf of all Class Members. (See Lopez Millan Decl., ¶¶ 4-5.)

Plaintiff has also given up any personal claim he had or may have had in reaching this Settlement on behalf of the other employees. Plaintiff's release of claims given in this Settlement is much broader and includes a California Civil Code section 1542 waiver, which is not given by any of the other Class Members. (Lopez Millan Decl., ¶ 6; Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 5.1, 5.1.1.)

Plaintiff also risked potential judgment against him if this case had been unsuccessful. In class action losses, class representatives are deemed the losing party that is liable for the prevailing party's costs. (Earley v. Superior Court (2000) 79 Cal.App.4th 1420, 1433-1434.) Finally, Plaintiff also risked this lawsuit having a negative impact on future employment opportunities, as prospective employers may be less inclined to hire an employee who has served as a class representative. (Lopez Millan Decl., ¶ 7.) (See, e.g., Staton v. Boeing (9th Cir. 2003) 327 F.3d 938, 977.) As such, Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court approve the Class Representative Service Payment in the amount of $10,000.00 (a fraction of the Gross Settlement Amount).

V. CLASS COUNSEL’S REQUEST FOR FEES IS REASONABLE

Subject to Court approval, the Gross Settlement Amount of Eight Hundred Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars ($825,000.00) includes an allocation of up to Two Hundred Eighty-Eight Thousand Seven Hundred Fifty Dollars ($288,750.00) in Class Counsel fees (35% of the Gross Settlement Amount). Plaintiffs and Class Members are entitled to recover their attorneys' fees and costs. (Code Civ. Proc., § 1021.5(a); Earley, supra, 79 Cal.App.4th at 1420.) A fee award is justified when class benefits are obtained via settlement. (Maria P. v. Riles (1987) 43 Cal.3d 1281, 1290-91; Westside Community for Independent Living, Inc. v. Obledo (1983) 33 Cal.3d 348, 352-53.) Fee awards may be based on (1) the percentage-of-the-benefit method; or (2) the lodestar plus multiplier method. (Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc. (2001) 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 254; Lealao v. Beneficial California, Inc. (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 19, 27.) Both methods are proper in California, with courts often only using a lodestar-multiplier method as a check against the reasonableness of a percentage fee award. (See, e.g., Serrano v. Priest (1977) 20 Cal.3d 25, 48-49 fn. 23; People ex rel. Dept. of Transportation v. Yuki (1995) 31 Cal.App.4th 1754, 1769-1772; Salton Bay Marina, Inc. v. Imperial Irrigation Dist. (1985) 172 Cal.App.3d 914, 954.) Regardless of the method used to analyze attorneys' fees, the main inquiry is to determine whether the end result is fair and reasonable. (Powers v. Eichen (9th Cir. 2000) 229 F.3d 1249, 1258.)

A. Class Counsel’s Requested Fees Are Reasonable Under the Lodestar/Multiplier Analysis

When fees are allocated by percentage method, courts have discretion to "cross-check" the fees awarded through the lodestar method. However, the Supreme Court in Laffitte v. Robert Half International Inc. (2016) 1 Cal.5th 480, 505, emphasized that "the lodestar calculation, when used in this manner, does not override the trial court's primary determination of the fee as a percentage of the common fund and thus does not impose an absolute maximum or minimum on the potential

1 fee award."

2 In determining the outcome of a fee award in a class action matter, one of the main 3 benchmarks to consider is the result for the Class. The Supreme Court has said that in an award of 4 attorney's fees the "most critical factor is the degree of success obtained." (Hensley v. Eckerhart 5 (1983) 461 U.S. 424, 436.) The "benefit obtained for the class" is considered the "foremost" 6 consideration in determining the appropriate fee in a common fund case. (In re Bluetooth Headset 7 Products Liability Litigation (9th Cir. 2011) 654 F.3d 935, 942.)

8 The lodestar-multiplier method begins with a calculation of time spent and reasonable 9 hourly compensation of each attorney and paralegal who worked on the case. Then to compensate 10 counsel for risk, quality, and result, courts commonly apply a multiplier to the lodestar in 11 awarding attorneys' fees. California courts often increase the base lodestar with a multiplier after 12 considering: (1) the continuing obligation of plaintiff's counsel to devote time and effort to the 13 litigation; (2) the extent to which the litigation precluded other employment by the attorneys; (3) 14 the contingent nature of the fee agreement, both from the point of view of eventual success on the 15 merits and securing an award; (4) the experience, reputation, and ability of the attorneys who 16 performed the services, and the skill they displayed in litigation; (5) the amount involved and the 17 results obtained on behalf of the Class by plaintiff's counsel; and (6) the reaction of the Class 18 Members. (See, e.g., Serrano, supra, 20 Cal.3d at 49; Dunk v. Ford Motor Co., supra, 48 19 Cal.App.4th at 1810 fn. 21.) However, no rigid formula applies, and each factor should be 20 considered only "where appropriate." (See Dept. of Transportation v. Yuki (1995) 31 Cal.App.4th 21 1754, 1771; see also Serrano, supra, 20 Cal.3d at 49.)

22 1. Time and Effort

23 Class Counsel, who are experienced wage and hour class action attorneys, have put a 24 significant number of hours into this case. Class Counsel had to conduct substantial investigation, 25 research numerous issues, review and analyze policies, independently analyze time records and 26 wage reports, as well as dedicate substantial time to analyzing class data. (Draper Decl., ¶ 21.)
27 Those efforts, along with participating in two mediations, negotiating settlement, obtaining

1 preliminary approval, and preparing and filing the final approval papers, required a significant 2 amount of time and labor. (Id.)

3 The total amount of attorney and staff time expended thus far, and estimated to be 4 expended in finalizing this matter, is approximately 468 hours, and Class Counsel's total lodestar 5 is approximately Two Hundred Ninety-Six Thousand Six Hundred Dollars ($296,600.00).
6 (Draper Decl., ¶ 22.) The fee sought under the Settlement, $288,750.00, is $7,850.00 less than 7 that lodestar, yielding a negative multiplier of approximately 0.97. Class Counsel seek no 8 multiplier or enhancement of any kind.

9 Class Counsel request no multiplier, which places the fee request well below what 10 California courts routinely allow. Courts have defined reasonable multipliers on a lodestar cross-11 check to "range from 2 to 4 or even higher." (Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc. (2001) 91 12 Cal.App.4th 224, 255.) Courts have also approved multipliers over 9. (See e.g., Weiss v.
13 Mercedes-Benz of N. Am., Inc. (D.N.J. 1995) 899 F.Supp. 1297, 1304, aff'd, 66 F.3d 314 (3d Cir.
14 1995); Glendora Cmty. Redev. Agency v. Demeter (1984) 155 Cal.App.3d 465, 480-81; Nat. Gas 15 Anti-Trust Cases I, II, III & IV (Cal. Super. Ct. Dec. 11, 2006) No. 4221, 2006 WL 5377849, at 16 *4; Moreno v. Pretium Packaging L.L.C. (C.D. Cal. Aug. 6, 2021) No. 8:19-cv-02500-SB.) Here, 17 the tasks and work performed by Class Counsel were reasonable and necessary to the prosecution 18 of this case and justified, particularly in light of the result achieved. Accordingly, Class Counsel's 19 fee request of Two Hundred Eighty-Eight Thousand Seven Hundred Fifty Dollars ($288,750.00), 20 which entails no multiplier and is $7,850.00 below the lodestar of $296,600.00, is reasonable, 21 fair, and should be approved.

22 2. Extent Litigation Precluded Other Employment

23 Inherent to class action litigation is the amount of time and labor required to properly 24 adjudicate the case. From start to settlement, judgment or verdict, class action litigation 25 commands commitment, an extensive amount of time, labor and resources to successfully litigate.
26 Although this litigation did not conclusively preclude other employment, it did impact Class 27

1 Counsel's ability to take on other class action cases. Class Counsel work in a boutique law firm
2 with few attorneys and staff. (Draper Decl., ¶ 15.)

3 3. Contingent Nature of the Agreement

4 In Ketchum v. Moses (2001) 24 Cal.4th 1122, 1132, the court noted, the economic 5 rationale for contingency cases has been explained as follows: "A contingent fee must be higher 6 than a fee for the same legal services paid as they are performed. As discussed further below, the 7 contingent fee compensates the lawyer not only for the legal services he renders but also for the 8 loan of those services. The implicit interest rate on such a loan is higher because the risk of 9 default (the loss of the case, which cancels the debt of the client to the lawyer) is much higher 10 than that of conventional loans." (Posner, Economic Analysis of Law (4th ed. 1992) pp. 534, 567.) 11 "A lawyer who both bears the risk of not being paid and provides legal services is not receiving 12 the fair market value of his work if he is paid only for the second of these functions. If he is paid 13 no more, competent counsel will be reluctant to accept fee award cases." (Id.) Here, Class 14 Counsel took this matter on a contingent basis. (Draper Decl., ¶ 23.)

15 4. Experience, Reputation, and Ability of Plaintiff's Counsel

16 Class Counsel also have considerable experience and have demonstrated competence with 17 litigating wage and hour class actions. (Draper Decl., ¶¶ 13-20.) Class Counsel's skill and 18 experience in litigating wage and hour class actions, in state and federal forums, contributed to 19 the results obtained on behalf of the Class Members. (Id.)

20 5. Results Obtained on Behalf of the Class by Plaintiff's Counsel

21 The award of attorney fees should reflect the successful outcome of the case. (Hensley v.
22 Eckerhart (1983) 461 U.S. 424, 440.) As already discussed herein and in the Motion for Preliminary 23 Approval, this case involves numerous and difficult issues largely precluding a clear-cut outcome 24 as to liability. There also were significant class certification issues stemming from questions 25 concerning whether individual issues predominate and whether representative evidence, 26 declarations, and statistical sampling could support certification. Defendant recognized the 27 uncertainty of Plaintiff's claims and vigorously disputed liability and the amount of damages.

1 Nevertheless, despite the obstacles as already discussed in the Motion for Preliminary 2 Approval and herein, Class Counsel obtained favorable financial compensation for the Class 3 Members. Not a single Class Member requested exclusion from the Settlement. Thus, all 241
4 Participating Class Members are to be paid Individual Class Payments out of the Net Settlement
5 Amount. (Tran Decl., ¶ 15.) Participating Class Members will receive an estimated average gross 6 payment of approximately $1,818.32, with the estimated highest gross payment being $6,919.37, 7 and the estimated lowest gross payment being $8.38. (Tran Decl., ¶ 17.) These are favorable 8 amounts especially given the size of the Class and potential hurdles to recovery. (Draper Decl., ¶ 9 12.)

10 Despite the complexity and hurdles of the case, Class Counsel have, through the investment 11 of substantial effort and the resources of their boutique law firm, been able to secure a favorable 12 Settlement on behalf of the Class Members.

13 6. Reaction of Putative Class Members

14 As already discussed herein, the reaction of the Class Members has been positive.
15 Specifically, there were no objections to Class Counsel's request for attorneys' fees and no 16 requests for exclusion, which also provides compelling evidence that the request is fair, adequate, 17 and reasonable.

18 In sum, based on the six factors discussed above, Class Counsel's requested fee is 19 reasonable without any enhancement of the lodestar whatsoever. Additionally, by settling this 20 case prior to trial rather than continuing to litigate issues that remain somewhat unsettled, counsel 21 obtained exceptional results for the Class at far less expense to the Parties, counsel, and this 22 Court. Accordingly, a fee request that applies no multiplier at all to Class Counsel's lodestar is 23 plainly warranted. "Considering that our Supreme Court has placed an extraordinarily high value 24 on settlement, it would seem counsel should be rewarded, not punished, for helping to achieve 25 that goal." (Lealao, supra, 82 Cal.App.4th at 52.) Multipliers of two to four are commonplace in 26 California class actions and can range even higher. (Wershba, supra, 91 Cal.App.4th at 255; In re 27 California Indirect Purchases (Oct. 22, 1998) WL 1031494 at *10, fn. 5.) Again, in this case, as

1 noted above, Class Counsel seek no multiplier, and the fee request is correspondingly 2 conservative.

3 B. Class Counsel's Requested Fees Are Reasonable Under the Percentage of the 4 Benefit Method

5 1. Attorneys' Fees Should be Based Upon the Total Benefit to the Class

6 Under California law, courts have the discretion to award fees under the percentage 7 method when fees are drawn from an ascertainable fund. (See Laffitte v. Robert Half Int'l (2016) 8 1 Cal.5th 480, 503 ("Laffitte II") ("We join the overwhelming majority of federal and state courts 9 in holding that when class action litigation establishes a monetary fund for the benefit of the class 10 members, and the trial court in its equitable powers awards class counsel a fee out of that fund, 11 the court may determine the amount of a reasonable fee by choosing an appropriate percentage of 12 the fund created."). The common fund method "better approximates the workings of the 13 marketplace than the lodestar approach" in setting the price of contingent fees. (See Lealao v.
14 Beneficial Cal., Inc. (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 19, 48 ("Lealao"). The percentage method "provide[s] 15 incentives roughly comparable to those negotiated in the private bargaining that takes place in the 16 legal marketplace." (Id.)

17 The primary benefit of the percentage method is that it focuses on the benefit conferred on 18 the class as a result of the efforts of Class Counsel. Awarding Class Counsel fees based on a 19 percentage of the recovery has the advantages of eliminating the incentive for attorneys to 20 increase hours unnecessarily, encouraging early settlement of disputes, and preserving judicial 21 resources otherwise used to monitor attorneys' billable hours. (See In re Activision Sec. Litig.
22 (N.D. Cal. 1989) 723 F.Supp. 1373, 1378-79; Manual for Complex Litigation (4th ed. 2004) § 23 14.121 ("in practice, the lodestar method is difficult to apply, time consuming to administer, 24 inconsistent in result... capable of manipulation... [and] creates inherent incentive to prolong the 25 litigation"); see also In re Quantum Health Resources, Inc. (C.D. Cal. 1997) 962 F.Supp. 1254, 26 1256 (noting that lodestar "creates an incentive to keep litigation going in order to maximize the 27 number of hours included in the court's lodestar calculation").)

1 The percentage of the fund method survives in California class action cases. (Laffitte v.
2 Robert Half Intern., Inc. (2016) 1 Cal.5th 480, 506; see also Chavez v. Netflix, Inc. (2008) 162
3 Cal.App.4th 43, 65-66; Consumer Cause, Inc. v. Mrs. Gooch's Natural Food Markets, Inc. (2005) 4 127 Cal.App.4th 387, 397 [the common fund doctrine is "frequently applied in class actions when 5 the efforts of the attorney for the named class representatives produce monetary benefits for the 6 entire class"]; Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc., supra, 91 Cal.App.4th at 254.)

10 2. The Contingent Nature of Class Counsel's Representation Supports the 11 Requested Fees Based on a Percentage of the Percentage of the Gross 12 Settlement Amount

13 Further, the contingent nature of Class Counsel's representation also warrants the 14 requested attorney fees based on the percentage of the Gross Settlement Amount. The risks in 15 taking on any class action are enormous especially in regard to wage-and-hour class actions 16 because the wage laws are still developing and a change in the law could wipe out a plaintiff's 17 recovery. Litigating a class action through trial takes years and requires the investment of 18 hundreds of thousands of dollars. Attorneys willing to undertake this risk deserve appropriate 19 compensation. As elaborated by the California Supreme Court in Graham v. DaimlerChrysler 20 Corp. (2004) 34 Cal.4th 553, 579-580, counsel should be awarded a fee enhancer for taking on 21 contingent cases because a "contingent fee compensates the lawyer not only for the legal services 22 he renders but for the loan of those services. The implicit interest rate on such a loan is higher 23 because the risk of default (the loss of the case, which cancels the debt of the client to the lawyer) 24 is much higher than that of conventional loans."

25 As the California Supreme Court specifically explained:

26 A contingent fee must be higher than a fee for the same legal services 27 paid as they are performed. The contingent fee compensates the 28 lawyer not only for the legal services he renders but for the loan of 1 those services. The implicit interest rate on such a loan is higher 2 because the risk of default (the loss of the case, which cancels the 3 debt of the client to the lawyer) is much higher than that of 4 conventional loans. A lawyer who both bears the risk of not being 5 paid and provides legal services is not receiving the fair market value 6 of his work if he is paid only for the second of these functions. If he 7 is paid no more, competent counsel will be reluctant to accept fee 8 award cases. Id. at 580. (citing Ketchum v. Moses, (2001) 24 Cal. 4th 9 1122, 1132-33).

10 In the legal marketplace, an attorney whose compensation is entirely dependent on 11 success—who takes a significant risk—should and does expect a significantly higher fee than an 12 attorney who is paid a market rate as the case goes along, win or lose. (See, e.g., Rader v.
13 Thrasher (1962) 57 Cal.2d 244, 253 ("[a] contingent fee contract, since it involves a gamble on 14 the result, may properly provide for a larger compensation than would otherwise be reasonable" 15 (citation omitted)); Salton Bay Marina v. Imperial Irrig. Dist. (1985) 172 Cal.App.3d 914, 955 16 (contingent nature of the litigation is a relevant factor in determining a reasonable attorney fee 17 award).)

18 Class Counsel represented the Class Members in this matter and have borne the entire risk 19 and cost of litigation on a pure contingency basis. To date, Class Counsel have not received any 20 compensation and yet have expended litigation costs on behalf of the Class. Class action 21 contingency cases are inherently risky. Upon retention, Class Counsel make a commitment to 22 litigate the case through trial. These types of cases can take years, hundreds of hours of work and 23 cost an enormous amount of money; these risks are known upon retention. The risks involved 24 coupled with the contingency basis of this case further support Class Counsel's request for 25 attorneys' fees and costs. (Draper Decl., ¶ 23.)

26 3. Additional Factors Regarding Contingency Market Rate Justify the 27 Requested Fee Award

28 Further, important public policies underlie a court's determination of a motion for attorneys' fees in class actions. Employees who are wronged by an employer's violation of state and federal labor laws should have access to counsel with the ability and resources necessary to

1 litigate complex cases. (See e.g., Sav-On Drug Stores, Inc. v. Superior Court (2004) 34 Cal.4th 2 319, 340 (enforcement of labor laws and class action device are both matters of public policy).) 3 Our legal system places unique reliance on private litigants to enforce substantive provisions of 4 employment law through class actions. (See, e.g., Gentry v. Superior Court (2007) 42 Cal.4th 5 443, 450-56 (confirming the public importance of private enforcement of overtime laws through 6 class actions); Lealao, 82 Cal.App.4th at 48 (legal system relies on private litigants to enforce 7 substantive provisions of law through class and derivative actions; attorneys providing the 8 essential enforcement services must be provided incentives roughly comparable to those 9 negotiated in the private bargaining that takes place in the legal marketplace).)

10 As the California Court of Appeal recognized in Thayer v. Wells Fargo Bank (2001) 92 11 Cal.App.4th 819, 839: "Adequate fee awards are perhaps the most effective means of achieving 12 [the] salutary goal [of encouraging private attorney general actions and] [c]ourts should not be 13 indifferent to the realities of the legal marketplace or unduly parsimonious in the calculation of 14 such fees."

15 (See also Lealao, 82 Cal.App.4th at 53 (cautioning against fee awards that are too small 16 and therefore "chill the private enforcement essential to vindication of many rights..."). At a 17 minimum, attorneys providing these substantial benefits should be paid an award equal to the 18 amount negotiated in private bargaining that take place in the legal marketplace. (Deposit 19 Guaranty Nat. Bank, Jackson, Miss. v. Roper (1980) 445 U.S. 326, 338; Lealao, 82 Cal.App.4th 20 at 49-50.)

21 4. Counsel's Requested Fee Award is Within California's Benchmark Awards
22 and Thus Reasonable

23 In addition to the foregoing, Class Counsel's request for attorneys' fees in the amount of 24 up to Two Hundred Eighty-Eight Thousand Seven Hundred Fifty Dollars ($288,750.00), or not 25 more than thirty-five percent (35%) of the Eight Hundred Twenty-Five Thousand Dollar 26 ($825,000.00) Gross Settlement Amount, is within the "zone of reasonableness." The fee amount 27 presently sought is not extraordinary but actually falls at the "average" fee deemed reasonable

1 under California state court authority, as it is recognized that "courts may award attorney's fees in 2 the 30-40% range in wage and hour class actions that result in recovery of a common fund under 3 $10 million." (See, e.g., Martin v. AmeriPride Servs., 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 61796, 23 (S.D.
4 Cal. June 9, 2011); Birch v. Office Depot, Inc., USDC Southern District, Case No. 06cv1690
5 DMS (WMC) (awarding 40% fee on a $16 million wage and hour class action settlement); Rippee
6 v. Boston Mkt. Corp., USDC Southern District, Case No. 05cv1359 BTM (JMA) (awarding a 7 40% fee on a $3.75 million wage and hour class action settlement).)

8 Moreover, the percentage should be measured against the full fund established by the 9 settlement and not upon the total value of the net settlement fund. (Williams v. MGM-Pathe 10 Communications Co. (9th Cir. 1997) 129 F.3d 1026, 1027.) This method recognizes that the 11 efforts of class counsel established the entire settlement, including non-monetary benefits, for the 12 benefit of the class. (Id.) In the Ninth Circuit's decision in Williams, the parties settled class action 13 claims in favor of the class for a total settlement fund of $4.5 million, and the district court 14 awarded class counsel attorneys' fees based upon the class members' claims against that fund.
15 (Williams, 129 F.3d at 1027.) The class counsel in Williams contended that the district court erred
16 and should have calculated their fee as one-third of the entire $4.5 million settlement fund. (Id.)
17 The Ninth Circuit agreed with class counsel and determined that the district court's award of a fee 18 based solely upon the claims against the settlement fund was an abuse of its discretion.

19 Ninth Circuit courts have applied Williams in a variety of contexts, including claims-made 20 settlements without a minimum or maximum recovery. (See, e.g., Browning v. Yahoo! Inc. (N.D.
21 Cal. Nov. 16, 2007) WL 4105971 at *13-14; Young v. Polo Retail (N.D. Cal. Mar. 28, 2007) WL
22 951821 at *14-24; Lopez v. Youngblood (E.D. Cal. Sept. 1, 2011) WL 10483569 at *32-43; 23 Hopson v. Hanesbrands Inc. (N.D. Cal. Apr. 3, 2009) 2009 WL 928133 at *11; Glass v. UBS
24 Financial Services (N.D. Cal. Jan. 26, 2007) WL 221862 at *16.) In sum, Class Counsel's request 25 for an award of attorneys' fees is reasonable.

26 VI. CLASS COUNSEL'S REQUESTED COSTS ARE REASONABLE

1 Attorneys who create a common fund for the benefit of a class are entitled to payment 2 from the fund of reasonable litigation expenses and costs. Common fund fee and expense awards 3 include the expenses necessarily incurred as a result of the litigation because those who benefit 4 from counsel's effort should share in the cost. See Rider v. County of San Diego (1992) 11 5 Cal.App.4th 1410, 1423 fn. 6. The appropriate analysis to determine whether costs are 6 compensable is whether the costs are of the type typically billed by attorneys to paying clients in 7 the marketplace, such as costs for consultants, copying, postage, long distance charges, travel 8 expenses, filing fees, mediation fees, and investigation fees. See Harris v. Marhoefer (9th Cir.
9 1994) 24 F.3d 16, 19-20; see also Hartless v. Clorox Co. (S.D. Cal. 2011) 273 F.R.D. 630, 641.

10 Here, the Settlement provides for repayment of Class Counsel's actual and reasonable 11 costs of litigation in an amount not to exceed Forty Thousand Dollars ($40,000.00). Class 12 Counsel incurred reasonable litigation costs in bringing this matter to a resolution before trial.
13 The total costs incurred and to be incurred by Class Counsel in this litigation are $30,543.74, 14 which is less than the maximum Forty Thousand Dollars ($40,000.00) litigation cost amount set 15 forth in the Settlement Agreement. (Draper Decl., ¶ 24.)

16 VII. THE SETTLEMENT ADMINISTRATOR'S FEES ARE REASONABLE

17 Apex Class Action, LLC was retained to administer the notice and settlement process.
18 Apex's duties included, but were not limited to: (a) printing and mailing the Court-Approved 19 Notice of Class Action and PAGA Settlement; (b) receiving undeliverable Notices; (c) receiving 20 any requests for exclusion; (d) receiving objections; and (e) answering questions from Class 21 Members. Should the Court grant final approval of this Settlement, Apex will be responsible for 22 further duties, including but not limited to: (f) calculating Individual Class Payment amounts; (g)
23 calculating Individual PAGA Payments; (h) distributing settlement funds; (i) tax reporting 24 following final approval; (j) mailing settlement checks; and (k) performing such other tasks as the 25 Parties mutually agree or the Court orders Apex to perform. (Tran Decl., ¶ 3.)

26 Thus, Plaintiff respectfully requests that Apex Class Action, LLC be awarded 27 Administration Expenses in the amount of Seven Thousand Four Hundred Ninety Dollars

1 ($7,490.00), pursuant to the Settlement Agreement. (Settlement Agreement, ¶ 3.2.3; Tran Decl., ¶ 2 20.)

3 VIII. CONCLUSION

4 The Parties have negotiated a fair Settlement of the wage and hour claims that likely 5 would not have been brought, let alone successfully resolved, but for the effort and resolve of 6 Plaintiff and his counsel. The Class Members' positive response indicates that the Settlement is 7 fair and reasonable. Accordingly, Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court grant final 8 approval of the Settlement Agreement and enter judgment.
