1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. SUMMARY OF MOTION

3 Plaintiff seeks approval of the Settlement Agreement entered between Plaintiff and 4 Defendant Illumina, Inc. (“Defendant”). Plaintiff entered the Settlement Agreement on behalf of 5 himself and all current and former hourly-paid or non-exempt employees (whether hired directly 6 or through staffing agencies) of Defendant within the State of California at any time during the 7 period from November 2, 2019, through July 10, 2025.

8 II. PROCEDURAL HISTORY AND FACTUAL BACKGROUND

9 On November 2, 2020, Plaintiff provided a written notice to the California Labor and 10 Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”) and Defendant. On January 11, 2021, Plaintiff filed
11 a representative Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 (“PAGA”) action against Defendant.¹

12 After engaging in extensive discovery, investigations, and negotiations, on April 10, 2025,
13 the Parties participated in mediation with the mediator Mike Ludwig that resulted in a settlement.²

14 III. SUMMARY OF THE SETTLEMENT TERMS

15 A. Allocation of the Gross Settlement Amount

16 The Settlement Agreement provides that Defendant will pay a non-reversionary Gross
17 Settlement Amount of $2,100,000. The PAGA Penalties Fund will be the Gross Settlement
18 Amount less: (1) Attorneys’ Fees Award of $735,000; (2) Litigation Costs Award of $22,690.54;
19 (3) Enhancement Payment of $10,000; and (4) Administration Costs of $15,000.³

26 ² (Id. at ¶¶ 12-16.)

27 ³ (Settlement Agreement attached as Exhibit 2 to the Declaration of Douglas Han 28 (“Settlement Agreement”), §§ 7(a), 7(b).)

1 The current sum of the PAGA Penalties Fund is estimated to be $1,317,309.46. Seventy-
2 five percent (75%) of the PAGA Penalties Fund will be transmitted to the LWDA as the LWDA
3 Payment pursuant to Labor Code section 2699(i). The remaining twenty-five percent (25%) of 4 the PAGA Penalties Fund will be distributed to the Settlement Group Members.⁴

5 B. Distribution of the PAGA Penalties Fund

6 Defendant shall provide the Settlement Administrator a list of Settlement Group Members
7 in the manner and timeline set forth in the Agreement. The Gross Settlement Amount will be 8 deposited into a qualified settlement fund created by the Settlement Administrator and will be 9 disbursed to the appropriate entities and persons in the manner and timeline set forth in the 10 Agreement. The uncashed settlement checks will be directed to the California State Controller
11 for deposit in the Unclaimed Property Fund in the name of the Settlement Group Member.⁵

12 C. The Scope of the Release

13 Upon Defendant's funding of the Gross Settlement Amount, Plaintiff, LWDA, and all 14 Settlement Group Members are deemed to release, on behalf of themselves and their former and 15 present representatives, agents, attorneys, heirs, administrators, successors, and assigns, the 16 Released Parties from all claims for PAGA penalties that were alleged, or could have been 17 alleged, based on the facts stated in the operative complaint and PAGA Notice and that occurred
18 during the Settlement Period.⁶ (Arias v. Sup. Ct. (2009) 46 Cal.4th 969, 980, 986 [a plaintiff suing 19 under PAGA "does so as the proxy or agent of the state's labor law enforcement agencies," and,
20 as such, "represents the same legal right and interest as state labor law enforcement agencies ...
21 ."].) A judgment in a PAGA action "binds not only that [plaintiff] employee but also the state
22 labor law enforcement agencies." (Ibid.) Furthermore, "[b]ecause an aggrieved employee's action
23 under [PAGA] functions as a substitute for an action brought by the government itself, a judgment 24 in that action binds all those, including nonparty aggrieved employees, who would be bound by

2 986) “Accordingly, with respect to the recovery of civil penalties, nonparty employees as well as
3 the government are bound by the judgment in an action brought under [PAGA]” (Ibid.)

4 D. No Right to Object to or Opt Out of the Settlement

5 “[A] PAGA action is a statutory action for penalties brought as a proxy for the state ...
6 there is no need to protect absent employees’ due process rights[.]” (Williams v. Sup. Ct. (2017)
7 3 Cal.5th 531, 546.) “Unnamed employees need not be given notice of the PAGA claim, nor do
8 they have the ability to opt-out of the representative PAGA claim.” (Ochoa-Hernandez v.
9 CJADERS Foods, Inc. (N.D. Cal. Apr. 2, 2010), 2010 WL 3570777, at *5.) “PAGA does not 10 make other potentially aggrieved employees parties” and no “due process concerns arise under 11 PAGA because absent employees do not own a personal claim for PAGA civil penalties and 12 whatever personal claims the absent employees might have for relief are not at stake.” (Williams, 13 at pp. 546-547 (internal references omitted, citing Amalgamated Transit Union, Local 1756, AFL-
14 CIO v. Sup. Ct. (2009) 46th Cal.4th 993, 1003 and Iskanian v. CLS Trans. Los Angeles, LLC, 15 (2014) 58 Cal.4th 348, 381.)) “[A]bsent fellow employees will be bound by the outcome of any 16 PAGA action[.]” (Williams, at p. 548 (internal references omitted, citing Arias v. Sup. Ct., supra, 17 46 Cal.4th at pp. 980-981; Fireside Bank v. Sup. Ct. (2007) 40 Cal.4th 1069, 1074 and Richmond
18 v. Dart Indus., Inc. (1981) 29 Cal, 3d 462, 474.)

19 Consistent with this law, the Settlement Agreement does not have a procedure for the 20 Settlement Group Members to object to or exclude themselves from the Settlement Agreement.

21 IV. STANDARD FOR APPROVAL OF PAGA SETTLEMENT

22 The PAGA allows an “aggrieved employee” to bring a civil action on behalf of himself, 23 other aggrieved employees, and State of California to recover civil penalties with respect to 24 provisions of the Labor Code that do not provide for civil penalties. Before bringing a civil action
25 under PAGA, an employee must comply with Labor Code section 2699.3. (Lab. Code § 2699(a).)
26 A court “may award a lesser amount than the maximum civil penalty amount specified by this 27 part if, based on the facts and circumstances of the particular case, to do otherwise would result 28

1 in an award that is unjust, arbitrary and oppressive, or confiscatory.” (Lab. Code § 2699(e)(2).)

2 The settlement of a PAGA claim requires court approval. (Lab. Code § 2699(l)(2).) “A
3 PAGA claim asserted on a non-class representative basis . . . is not considered a class action but 4 a law enforcement action” and does not have to meet the requirements of a class action. (Casida
5 v. Sears Holdings Corp. (E.D. Cal. Jan. 26, 2012) 2012 WL 253217, at *3; Thomas v. Aetna
6 Health of Cal., Inc. (E.D. Cal. June 2, 2011) 2011 WL 2173715, at *11; Arias v. Sup. Ct., supra,
7 46 Cal.4th at pp. 980-988 (affirming lower court’s holding that “plaintiff need not satisfy class
8 action requirements” to assert a PAGA claim); Pedroza v PetSmart, Inc. (C.D. Cal. Jan. 28, 2013)
9 2013 WL 1490667, at *15.) A court’s review of a PAGA settlement involves analysis of several 10 unique features that render the approval process distinct from approval of a class action
11 settlement. A court reviewing a PAGA settlement only needs to “ensur[e] that a negotiated 12 resolution is fair to those affected.” (Williams v. Sup. Ct., supra, 3 Cal.5th at p. 549 (citing Lab.
13 Code § 2699(l)(2)).) The Court of Appeal has held that “a trial court should evaluate a PAGA
14 settlement to determine whether it is fair, reasonable, and adequate in view of PAGA’s purposes
15 to remediate present labor law violations, deter future ones, and to maximize enforcement of state
16 labor laws.” (Moniz v. Adecco USA, Inc. (2021) 72 Cal.App.5th 56, 77.)

17 The court’s focus is whether the total settlement amount achieves PAGA’s objectives.
18 PAGA’s purpose “to incentivize private parties to recover civil penalties for the government that 19 otherwise may not have been assessed and collected by overburdened state enforcement
20 agencies.” (Ochoa-Hernandez, supra, 2010 WL 3570777, at *4 (citing Arias v. Sup. Ct., supra, 21 46 Cal.4th at p. 986).) The penalties recovered under the PAGA are, in part, to “be distributed to 22 the [LWDA] for enforcement of labor laws . . . and for education of employers and employees 23 about their rights and responsibilities under this code, to be continuously appropriated to 24 supplement and not supplant the funding to the agency for those purposes.” (Lab. Code § 2699(j).)

25 ///

26 ///

27 ///

1 V. THE SETTLEMENT IS FAIR AND SHOULD BE APPROVED.

2 A. The Factors Giving Rise to a Presumption of Fairness Exist.

3 A settlement agreement that is “the product of extensive and hard-fought adversarial
4 negotiations between the parties” is entitled to a presumption of fairness. (Wershba v. Apple
5 Computer, Inc. (2001) 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 245.)

6 The Court should give considerable weight to the competency, experience, and opinion
7 of counsel and the involvement of a neutral mediator in assuring that the Settlement is a product
8 of hard-fought negotiations that was entered without collusion. (Kirkorian v. Borelli (N.D. Cal.
9 1988) 695 F.Supp. 446, 451 (opinion of experienced counsel is entitled to considerable weight); 10 Boyd v. Bechtel Corp. (N.D. Cal. 1979) 485 F.Supp. 610, 616-617, 622 (recommendations of 11 Plaintiff’s Counsel should be given a presumption of reasonableness); see also Satchell v. Fed.
12 Express Corp. (N.D. Cal. Apr. 13, 2007) 2007 WL 1114010, at *4 (stating the “assistance of an 13 experienced mediator in the settlement process confirms that the settlement is non-collusive”).)

14 The Agreement is presumptively fair. This is because the Agreement: (1) is the product 15 of non-collusive, arm’s-length negotiations; (2) was negotiated by counsel with experience in 16 similar wage-and-hour litigation; and (3) occurred after the Parties’ counsel engaged in thorough 17 investigation of the strengths of this case and risks of continued litigation.

18 B. The Relative Strength of the PAGA Claim and Range of Possible Outcomes.

19 Defendant maintained that it had compliant employment policies and practices throughout 20 the statutory period. If this case had not been settled, Defendant would have challenged Plaintiff’s
21 standing as Settlement Group Members and denied that the other employees were aggrieved.
22 Defendant further argued that the Court was unlikely to assess cumulative penalties for the 23 maximum number of possible separate Labor Code violations because the “subsequent violation”
24 theory of PAGA recovery would not be triggered in this case, and it would be unjust, arbitrary,
25 oppressive, and/or confiscatory. (See e.g. Bernstein v. Virgin Am., Inc. (9th Cir. 2021) 3 F.4th 26 1127, 1144.) Defendant even asserted that the PAGA penalties are not mandatory but permissive
27 and discretionary and maintained that it had a strong argument that it would be unjust to award
28

1 the maximum PAGA penalties. (Thurman v. Bayshore Transit Mgmt., Inc. (2012) 203
2 Cal.App.4th 1112 [reducing penalties by 30% under this authority].)⁷

3 The provisions of the Labor Code triggering the PAGA penalties include, but are not
4 limited to, Labor Code sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 218.5, 221, 226(a), 226.3, 226.7, 510, 512(a),
5 558, 1174(d), 1194, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 2800, and 2802. To recover civil penalties, it must be 6 proven that the underlying Labor Code violations with respect to the Settlement Group Members
7 and show that Defendant's conduct gave rise to the penalties. (See e.g. Elliot v. Spherion Pac.
8 Work, LLC (C.D. Cal. 2008) 572 F.Supp.2d 1169, 1181-1182.)⁸

9 If the PAGA penalties are granted on any of the violations alleged in the operative 10 complaint, the penalties exposure for the eligible pay periods could be about $9,960,300 ([63 11 average pay periods x $100 per penalty] x 1,581 employees). But Plaintiff's Counsel had to 12 consider the possibility that the Court could assess only the initial violation rate. Plaintiff's
13 Counsel also had to consider Defendant's potential counterargument, such as making remedial
14 efforts to comply with the violations set forth in the written notice sent to the LWDA, in addition 15 to the amendments made to Labor Code section 2699. Plaintiff's Counsel considered all these 16 potential obstacles, counterarguments, and defenses prior to and during mediation and settlement 17 negotiations when calculating the PAGA penalties and applied several discounts when 18 calculating the PAGA penalties.⁹

19 Plaintiff recognized the risk that any PAGA award could be reduced, and many of the 20 claimed Labor Code violations underlying the PAGA claim were cumulative. Thus, the Gross
21 Settlement Amount to the PAGA civil penalties was reasonable and significant. When the PAGA
22 penalties are negotiated in good faith and "there is no indication that [the] amount was the result
23 of self-interest at the expense of other Class Members," such amounts are generally considered 24 reasonable. (Hopson v. Hanesbrands Inc. (N.D. Cal. Apr. 3, 2009) No. 08-00844, 2009 U.S. Dist.

25 ⁷ (Han Decl., supra, at ¶¶ 20-23.)

26 ⁸ (Id. at ¶ 24.)

27 ⁹ (Id. at ¶¶ 25-28.)

1 LEXIS 33900 at *24; see e.g. Nordstrom Com. Cases (2010) 186 Cal.App.4th 576, 579 (“[T]rial
2 court did not abuse its discretion in approving a settlement which does not allocate any damages
3 to the PAGA claims.”).) Plaintiff’s Counsel negotiated an average of $20.88 in penalties per pay
4 period, which would be fair and reasonable [$$2,100,000 \div 100,585$ total pay periods in Settlement
5 Period]. Considering previous cases justifying $5 per pay period (see e.g. Carrington v. Starbucks
6 Corp. (2018) 30 Cal.App.5th 504), this recovery is fair and reasonable.¹⁰

7 C. The Settlement Avoids Risky, Complex, and Lengthy Litigation.

8 The courts favor voluntary conciliation and settlement of complex litigation. (Class
9 Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle (9th Cir. 1992) 955 F.2d 1268, 1276.) Generally, “unless the settlement
10 is clearly inadequate, its acceptance and approval are preferable to lengthy and expensive
11 litigation with uncertain results.” (Nat’l Rural Telecomms. Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc. (C.D. Cal.
12 Jan. 5, 2004) 221 F.R.D. 523, 526 (citation omitted).)

13 During the pre-mediation period, the Parties undertook extensive investigation into the 14 validity, strength, and scope of the PAGA claim. Both formal and informal discovery processes
15 were utilized where documents and data were exchanged to address the claims related to Labor 16 Code violations and pertinent defenses. This was in addition to Plaintiff’s Counsel engaging in 17 motions practice with Defendant. Plaintiff’s Counsel concluded that pursuing a settlement was 18 more advantageous than opting for the uncertain and potentially risky trial route. Moreover, even 19 if a similar settlement had been negotiated down the line, it would have been undercut and offset
20 by the costs and expenses incurred. In other words, the Settlement offers an immediate recovery
21 rather than the mere possibility of a future recovery at an unspecified time.¹¹

D. The Settlement Is Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable.

“[T]he very essence of a settlement is compromise, ‘a yielding of absolutes and an abandoning of highest hopes.’” (Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n (9th Cir. 1981) 688 F.2d 615, 624.) “The proposed settlement is not to be judged against a hypothetical or speculative measure of what might have been achieved by the negotiators.” (Id. at p. 625.)

The Settlement Agreement provides a significant monetary benefit to the LWDA and Settlement Group Members. The proposed plan of allocation of the PAGA Penalties Fund to the LWDA and Settlement Group Members complies with Labor Code section 2699(i). Moreover, Plaintiff and Plaintiff's Counsel acknowledge the expense, duration, risk, and uncertainty associated with the continued proceedings required to litigate this dispute. As previously mentioned, to recover civil penalties, Plaintiff would need to demonstrate that the Settlement Group Members experienced the underlying Labor Code violations and that Defendant's actions resulted in the penalties. This process could extend over a period of several months or even years. Plaintiff and Plaintiff's Counsel have also considered Defendant's agreement to settle in a manner that provides substantial relief. Thus, Plaintiff and Plaintiff's Counsel concluded that the Settlement constitutes a fair, adequate, and reasonable resolution.¹²

E. Experience and Views of Plaintiff's Counsel Favor Settlement Approval.

Plaintiff's Counsel are experienced in complex representative and class action wage-and-hour litigation. Plaintiff's Counsel believe that the benefit offered by the Settlement is fair and reasonable and in the best interests of the LWDA and Settlement Group Members.¹³

13 (Id. at ¶¶ 2-8; Exhibits 1, 4.)

1 VI. APPROVAL OF THE ATTORNEYS' FEES AWARD.

2 A. A Fee Award of Percentage of the Entire Fund is Appropriate.

3 The Settlement Agreement provides for the payment of Attorneys' Fees Award of 4 $735,000 (35% of the Gross Settlement Amount) to Plaintiff's Counsel. The Attorneys' Fees
5 Award is commensurate with the: (1) risks undertaken; (2) time, effort, and expense dedicated;
6 (3) skills and determination shown; (4) results achieved; and (5) other cases turned down to focus
7 on this matter. Plaintiff's Counsel have been routinely awarded at least thirty-five percent (35%)
8 fee requests or more in similar class action and representative matters throughout California.¹⁴

9 The propriety of calculating and awarding attorneys' fees as a percentage of a monetary
10 fund preserved or recovered for the benefit of others has been confirmed by the California
11 Supreme Court. (Laffitte v. Robert Half Int'l, Inc. (2016) 1 Cal.5th 480, 486, 506.) While trial 12 courts have discretion to apply either a lodestar method or percentage of-the-fund method, the 13 California Supreme Court has taken the position that trial courts "retain the discretion to forgo a 14 lodestar cross-check and use other means to evaluate the reasonableness of a requested percentage
15 fee[.]" and "[t]he percentage of fund method survives in California." (Ibid. (internal quotes
16 omitted); see also Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc., supra, 91 Cal.App.4th at p. 253.)

17 The percentage fee method is preferred in representative actions because "it better 18 approximates the workings of the marketplace than the lodestar approach." (Lealao v. Beneficial
19 Cal., Inc. (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 19, 48.) California law provides that the award for attorneys'
20 fees should be equivalent to fees freely negotiated in the legal marketplace and paid in comparable 21 litigation based on the result achieved and risk incurred. (Lealao v. Beneficial Cal., Inc., supra, 22 82 Cal.App.4th at pp. 47, 50; Laffitte v. Robert Half Int'l, Inc., supra, 1 Cal.5th at p. 503.) In 23 cases where the agreement provides the defendant agrees to pay the attorneys a percentage of the 24 fund created by the agreement, use of that percentage method is appropriate. (Lealao, at p. 32.)
25 The fees in class and representative actions should approximate the probable terms of a contingent
26 fee contract negotiated by a sophisticated attorney and client in similar litigation. (Id. at p. 48.)

27
28 ¹⁴ (Han Decl., supra, at ¶ 37.)

1 “The ultimate goal ... is the award of a ‘reasonable’ fee to compensate counsel for their efforts,
2 irrespective of the method of calculation.” (Consumer Privacy Cases (2009) 175 Cal.App.4th
3 545, 557-558 (quotation omitted).)

4 Plaintiff’s Counsel are entitled to recover reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs as a matter
5 of right. (Lab. Code § 2699(g)(1).) Plaintiff’s Counsel are entitled to fees and costs under Code
6 of Civil Procedure section 1021.5 as this case is by definition “for the benefit” of others and has 7 secured monetary awards for the Settlement Group.¹⁵ The payment to the LWDA will benefit the 8 agency in enforcing labor laws and educating “employers and employees about their rights and 9 responsibilities under [the Labor Code].” (Lab. Code § 2699(i).)

10 B. The Attorneys’ Fees Award is Reasonable Based on the Factors Considered in 11 Determination of Fee Awards.

12 The factors courts consider in determining whether fee awards are reasonable are: (1) time 13 and labor required; (2) novelty and difficulty of the questions; (3) requisite skills to perform the 14 legal services; (4) preclusion of other employment by the attorney; (5) customary fee; (6) whether 15 the fee is fixed or contingent; (7) time limitation imposed; (8) amount involved and results
16 obtained; (9) experience, reputation and ability of the attorney; (10) undesirability of the case;
17 (11) nature and length of the professional relationship; and (12) awards in similar cases. (Camden 18 I Condo. Ass’n, Inc. v. Dunkel (11th Cir. 1991) 946 F.2d 768, 772.) It should be highlighted that 19 the percentage award sought is commensurate with the following factors: (1) results obtained; (2)
20 risks undertaken; (3) difficulty of this case; and (4) skills displayed and quality of work.

21 ///

22 ///

23 ///

26 ¹⁵ (Estrada v. FedEx Ground Package Sys. Inc. (2007) 154 Cal.App.4th 1, 16-17 27 (recognizing that recovery obtained on behalf of 209 individual satisfies the “significant benefit,”
28 “public interest,” and “large class of persons” requirements of Code of Civil Procedure section 1021.5, regardless of plaintiff’s personal motivation).)

1 1. The Results Obtained

2 The results attorneys obtain for their clients is an important factor when determining the 3 reasonability of a percentage-based fee. (Laffitte v. Robert Half Int'l, Inc., supra, 1 Cal.5th at p.
4 489.) Law firms that obtain exceptional results expect those results to be reflected in their fees.

5 The results obtained herein are reasonable as Plaintiff's Counsel obtained a settlement of 6 $2,100,000 without the need for extended litigation (or trial). If this case went to trial, there was 7 no guarantee that it would have been short or that either party would have prevailed. The 8 resolution of this dispute at this stage is preferred as the Parties were moving to a phase where 9 significant time and money would inevitably have to be spent to prepare for trial.

10 By avoiding the uncertainties associated with conducting trial and Defendant's responses
11 to the allegations, Plaintiff's Counsel obtained those results more quickly and surely than if the 12 matter had been litigated to final resolution. Under the law, this factor supports the Attorneys'
13 Fees Award. (Lealao v. Beneficial Cal., Inc., supra, 82 Cal.App.4th at p. 51.)

14 2. The Risks Undertaken

15 Whether or not representation is provided on a contingency basis is an important factor:

16 A contingent fee must be higher than a fee for the same legal services paid as they 17 are performed [and] [...] compensates the lawyer not only for the legal services he 18 renders but for the loan of those services. A lawyer who both bears the risk of not 19 being paid and provides legal services is not receiving the fair market value of his 20 work if he is paid only for the second of these functions. If he is paid no more, 21 competent counsel will be reluctant to accept fee award cases.

22 (Cates v. Chiang (2013) 213 Cal.App.4th 791, 823.)

23 Plaintiff executed a contingent fee agreement. This meant that no recovery would have 24 equated to no compensation for 652.3 hours of work and $22,690.54 in litigation costs incurred.
25 Moreover, several factors also made this case difficult, thereby contributing to the risks
26 undertaken by Plaintiff's Counsel. These factors included: (1) difficulties in pinning down job 27 responsibilities, wages paid, and meal and rest breaks taken; (2) number of documents that had 28 to be analyzed; (3) shifting wage-and-hour laws; (4) drafting and propounding formal discovery requests and reviewing the responses; (5) gathering the necessary documents to respond to the

1 formal discovery requests; (6) engaging in motions practice with Defendant; (7) several
2 employees working for Defendant through temporary employment agencies; and (8) Defendant's
3 initial firm resistance to the relief sought.¹⁶

4 Attorneys being paid on an hourly basis as opposed to being paid on a contingent basis are 5 assuming less risks. (See e.g. Ketchum v. Moses (2001) 24 Cal.4th 1122, 1132-1133.) The 6 contingent risks are a major factor when determining attorneys' fees. (See e.g. Laffitte v. Robert
7 Half Int'l, Inc., supra, 1 Cal.5th at p. 504 (noting that trial court had carefully considered risks
8 and contingency involved in awarding 33 and 1/3% fee).)

9 3. The Difficulty of the Litigation

10 The unsettled state of the law, factual complexities underlying the policies and practices
11 in place, engaging in formal discovery with Defendant, engaging in motion practice with 12 Defendant, and other issues made this case complex and difficult. Plaintiff's Counsel overcame
13 these obstacles by obtaining a settlement that is fair, adequate, and reasonable. Plaintiff's Counsel 14 obtaining a fair settlement despite these roadblocks speaks volumes of their skill and experience.
15 (Lealao v. Beneficial Cal., Inc., supra, 82 Cal.App.4th at p. 42 ("special skill and experience of 16 counsel" is a relevant factor when determining fee award).)

17 Due to the difficulties of this case, Plaintiff's Counsel devoted several hours to this matter.
18 The Task & Time Chart sets forth the hours, allocating the total time to the tasks required to 19 conclude this matter. As stated in the previous section, this was not a clear-cut case. Plaintiff's 20 Counsel had to overcome roadblocks and obstacles before they could reach the settlement, which 21 further illustrates the difficulty of this case.¹⁷

22 4. The Skill Displayed and Quality of Work

23 The level of skill displayed and excellent quality of work it produced justify the 24 Attorneys' Fees Award. Plaintiff's Counsel are skilled and experienced representatives and class
25 action wage-and-hour litigators, and the Task & Time Chart further illustrates this assertion.

26 ¹⁶ (Han Decl., supra, at ¶¶ 30, 32, 33, 38.)

27 ¹⁷ (Id. at ¶ 32; Exhibit 3.)

1 Plaintiff's Counsel used the pre-mediation time to investigate the veracity, strength, and 2 scope of the PAGA claim and to prepare for representative adjudication. This investigation
3 included: (1) engaging in case strategy and analysis; (2) drafting, reviewing, and revising 4 pleadings, formal discovery requests, motions, and mediation brief; (3) preparing for and 5 appearing at court proceedings; (4) calculating potential damages for mediation purposes; (5) 6 preparing for and attending mediation and settlement negotiations; and (6) working with 7 Defendant's counsel to draft and finalize the Settlement Agreement (and exhibit). Plaintiff's
8 Counsel also undertook the arduous task of locating and interviewing putative aggrieved
9 employees to verify if the PAGA claim raised individualized issues.¹⁸

10 Plaintiff's Counsel's accumulated skill and expertise contributed to the Settlement in this 11 case. Under California law, this factor (skills displayed and quality of work) supports the 12 Attorneys' Fees Award. (Lealao v. Beneficial Cal., Inc., supra, 82 Cal.App.4th at p. 51.)

13 C. The Lodestar Methodology Justifies the Attorneys' Fees Award.

14 When a common fund is involved, the courts may use the lodestar method. A court tasked 15 with cross-checking a percentage-based fee considers the reasonableness of the lodestar figure, 16 which is the time reasonably spent multiplied by the reasonable hourly compensation of the 17 attorneys. (Serrano v. Priest (1977) 20 Cal.3d 25, 48.) The court may then adjust, increase, or 18 decrease that figure after considering factors like the novelty and complexity of the issues, skill
19 and expertise, extent the litigation precluded other employment, and risk involved. (Id. at p. 49.)

20 As indicated in the Task & Time Chart, Plaintiff's Counsel worked 652.3 hours on this 21 matter, resulting in a base lodestar fees calculation of $566,490. When cross-checked with the 22 Attorneys' Fees Award, it results in a multiplier of 1.30.¹⁹

23 ///

24 ///

25 ///

26 ¹⁸ (Han Decl., supra, at ¶ 14.)

27 ¹⁹ (Id. at ¶¶ 32, 33, 35.)

1 1. Work Performed for a Reasonable Number of Hours.

2 Counsel is entitled to compensation for every hour reasonably spent. (Ketchum v. Moses,
3 supra, 24 Cal.4th at p. 1133.) The reasonableness is assessed by “the entire course of the 4 litigation, including pretrial matters, settlement negotiations, discovery, litigation tactics, and the 5 trial itself[.]” (Vo v. Las Virgenes Municipal Water Dist. (2000) 79 Cal.App.4th 440, 447.)

6 This matter required a significant amount of time and labor. The Task & Time Chart
7 evidenced the numerous tasks that were performed by Plaintiff’s Counsel to seek all necessary
8 information. The Task & Time Chart further illustrates that Plaintiff’s Counsel spent a reasonable 9 number of hours working on this matter, thereby demonstrating that the application for attorneys’
10 fees is reasonable. The case involved gathering and analyzing data from Defendant and other 11 sources, and Plaintiff’s Counsel undertook intense preparation to resolve the matter through 12 mediation. These preparations ranged from locating and interviewing putative aggrieved 13 employees, engaging in formal and informal discovery and motions practice, gathering and 14 reviewing a myriad of documents, determining the scope of the Settlement Group, verifying the 15 strengths of the PAGA claim, etc.²⁰

16 The hours and tasks devoted to this matter were both reasonable and necessary, as detailed 17 below. This was not a quick settlement because this matter began back in January 2021 and took 18 over four (4) years active litigation to resolve. Plaintiff’s Counsel engaged in discovery, engaged 19 in motions practice, prepared for and attended a full day of mediation, and participated in frequent
20 negotiations before reaching a settlement in April 2025. Even after settling, Plaintiff’s Counsel 21 continued to prepare, update, and finalize the settlement documents up until the approval hearing.
22 Furthermore, it was necessary for multiple attorneys to work on the same (or similar) tasks in this 23 matter. Plaintiff’s Counsel have a duty to thoroughly review documents produced by Defendant.
24 Missing key information could have a negative effect on negotiating a proper settlement for 25 Plaintiff and putative aggrieved employees. In other words, having multiple attorneys work on 26 the same (or similar) tasks helps to ensure a comprehensive review and reduces errors.

27
28 ²⁰ (Han Decl., supra, at ¶ 32; Exhibit 3.)

1 Plaintiff's Counsel needed multiple attorneys to request, gather, and review documents
2 from Defendant to identify and address all the relevant issues. Plaintiff's Counsel also needed
3 multiple attorneys at mediation to negotiate a reasonable settlement, leveraging diverse 4 backgrounds and experiences to refine their arguments, counterarguments, and strategies. Lastly,
5 multiple attorneys were needed for drafting, updating, and finalizing the Settlement Agreement
6 and Motion for Approval of the PAGA Settlement Agreement to ensure a thorough review, 7 accuracy, and comprehensive consideration of the relevant issues, thereby reducing the risk of 8 errors and possible delays in obtaining approval.

9 2. Class Counsel's Hourly Rates are Reasonable.

10 Plaintiff's Counsel's hourly rates are supported by the 2022 Real Rate Report that was 11 compiled by Wolters Kluwer, which surveyed the hourly rates charged in 2022 by hundreds of 12 attorneys in California. Plaintiff's Counsel's hourly rates are also in line with the Laffey Matrix.
13 Plaintiff's Counsel's hourly rates are also reasonable for the following reasons: (1) several courts
14 in California have awarded Plaintiff's Counsel fees at similar rates; (2) comparable hourly rates
15 for similar services have been deemed reasonable in several cases in California; and (3) surveys
16 of legal rates have supported Plaintiff's Counsel's hourly rates. This shows that Plaintiff 17 Counsel's hourly rates used for the lodestar calculation are well within the range of non-
18 contingent rates charged by comparable attorneys performing similar work in California.²¹

19 Limiting counsel's hourly rates to the local rates is outdated and impractical. Firstly, many 20 of the Settlement Group Members reside in and have worked throughout California (e.g., 21 Sacramento County, San Mateo, Alameda County, San Diego County). Secondly, the legal 22 practice is no longer geographically constrained post-COVID since many attorneys are able to 23 litigate remotely across California. The courts have also been willing to approve attorneys' fees 24 based on the statewide market rather than restricting themselves to the local rates. Finally,
25 attorneys based outside of San Mateo County who secure favorable outcomes for aggrieved
26 employees throughout California should not have their attorneys' fees (and hourly rates) reduced

27
28 ²¹ (Han Decl., supra, at ¶¶ 33-35; Exhibits 5, 6.)

1 because of the court's location.

2 Furthermore, "[F]ee enhancements are intended to compensate for the risk of loss
3 generally in contingency cases as a class." (Ketchum v. Moses, supra, 24 Cal.4th at p. 1133.) In 4 fact, under California law, "[m]ultipliers can range from 2 to 4 or even higher." (Wershba v. Apple
5 Computer, Inc., supra, 91 Cal.App.4th at p. 255.) For instance, in Building a Better Redondo, Inc.
6 v. City of Redondo Beach (2012) 203 Cal.App.4th 852, 874, the court noted, "[T]he modest 7 multiplier the trial court employed was justified by the contingent nature of counsel's
8 compensation." Similarly, the court in Pulliam v. HNL Automotive Inc. (2021) 60 Cal.App.5th
9 396, 409 even ruled, "The requested multiplier was modest and it accounted for the risk plaintiff's
10 counsel took in litigating the case against defendants whom the court found made the case
11 challenging and protracted." In other words, Plaintiff's Counsel undertaking this case on a 12 contingent basis and risking no payment justifies the attorneys' fees even if it results in a 13 multiplier under the lodestar analysis. The risk of no pay was exacerbated by the obstacles and 14 difficulties Plaintiff's Counsel encountered, as described above, making this case challenging.

15 Finally, the Declaration of Richard M. Pearl, Esq., has opined that Plaintiff's Counsel's
16 current hourly rates are reasonable and proper. Richard Pearl also opined that a multiplier 17 under the lodestar cross-check is reasonable when considering the excellent results achieved,
18 financial risks undertaken, novelty and difficulty of the case, skills required, percentage fees
19 awarded in other cases, and contingent fees charges in the private marketplace. Richard Pearl 20 even listed several cases with much higher multipliers than the instant case. In other words, even 21 if there was a multiplier under the lodestar cross-check, it would not be an automatic detriment
22 to the work performed by Plaintiff's Counsel or hourly rates in place.²²

1 VII. THE LITIGATION COSTS AWARD SHOULD BE APPROVED

2 The Settlement Agreement allows for Litigation Costs Award of up to $25,000. Plaintiff's
3 Counsel incurred $22,690.54 litigation in costs and expenses. Plaintiff's Counsel request that the 4 Court order the reimbursement of these costs and expenses.²³

5 VIII. THE ENHANCEMENT PAYMENT SHOULD BE APPROVED

6 The Settlement Agreement provides for the payment of the Enhancement Payment of 7 $10,000 to Plaintiff for the services and contributions on behalf of the Settlement Group. The 8 purpose of such an award is to incentivize plaintiffs to step into the shoes of the state labor agency
9 and undertake the risks associated with initiating a lawsuit and serving in a representative
10 capacity. (Bell v. Farmers Ins. Exch. (2004) 115 Cal.App.4th 715, 726 ("service payments" 11 compensate named plaintiff "for [her] efforts in bringing the action"); Clark v. Am. Residential 12 Servs., LLC (2009) 175 Cal.App.4th 785, 804 ("an incentive award is appropriate 'if it is 13 necessary to induce an individual to participate in the suit'"); accord Ingram v. The Coca-Cola
14 Co. (N.D. Ga. 2001) 200 F.R.D. 685, 694 (internal quotation marks omitted) ("Courts routinely 15 approve incentive awards to compensate named plaintiffs for the services they provided and the 16 risks they incurred during the course of the [...] litigation."))

17 Plaintiff spent time and effort locating and producing relevant documents and past 18 employment records, reviewing relevant documents, and providing the facts and evidence 19 supporting the allegations. Plaintiff was available whenever needed by Plaintiff's Counsel and 20 actively tried to obtain and provide as much information as possible. Plaintiff spent numerous 21 hours speaking with Plaintiff's Counsel about the alleged violations, discussing the work
22 experiences and work environment, helping Plaintiff's Counsel develop a strategy to obtain
23 additional documents, aiding Plaintiff's Counsel to determine the importance of the documents
24 produced, and reviewing the operative complaint, answer to the operative complaint, formal
25 discovery requests and responses, and Settlement Agreement (and exhibit). Plaintiff also made 26

27
28 ²³ (Han Decl., supra, at ¶ 38; Exhibit 8.)

1 himself available all day to participate in and assist with mediation.²⁴

2 Plaintiff was advised of and accepted the risks and sacrifices associated with serving as 3 the named plaintiff. Plaintiff is also not related to anyone associated with Plaintiff's Counsel.
4 This is further proof that Plaintiff's interests are not adverse to the Settlement Group Members.²⁵

5 IX. THE ADMINISTRATION COSTS SHOULD BE APPROVED

6 The Agreement provides for the payment of Administration Costs of up to $15,000. The 7 Administration Costs are intended to cover the costs incurred by the Settlement Administrator for 8 performing its duties outlined in the Agreement. Plaintiff's Counsel have previously worked with 9 the Settlement Administrator and are familiar with its superior reputation and work.

10 X. CONCLUSION

11 The Settlement Agreement is fair, adequate, and reasonable, as it represents a reasonable 12 compromise. Plaintiff requests that the Court approve the Settlement Agreement, including the 13 plan of allocation and distribution of the above-mentioned payments.
