Judgment filed concurrently herewith]

Date: December 15, 2022
Time: 8:30 a.m.
Department: 12

Complaint Filed: April 27, 2021
Trial Date: None Set

1. Granting approval, pursuant to California Labor Code section 2699(l)(2), of the settlement between Plaintiff and Defendant Fairfield Health Care, Inc. dba Fairfield Post-Acute Rehab (“Defendant”) of the claims brought pursuant to the Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 (“PAGA”), as set forth in the Private Attorneys General Act Settlement Agreement and Release (“Settlement,” “or “Settlement Agreement”), attached as “EXHIBIT 1” to the Declaration of Edwin Aiwarzian, including and not limited to, the plan of allocation and distribution of the PAGA Settlement Amount for payment of the LWDA Payment to the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”), Individual Settlement Shares to the PAGA Settlement Members, Attorneys’ Fees and Costs to Plaintiff’s Counsel, Settlement Administration Costs to the PAGA Settlement Administrator, and Enhancement Award to Plaintiff;
2. Approving the PAGA Fund, estimated to be no less than $175,677.67, of which seventy-five percent (75%) will be paid to the LWDA (“LWDA Payment”) and twenty-five percent (25%) will be paid to the PAGA Settlement Members (“Employees’ Portion”), pursuant to California Labor Code section 2699(i);
3. Appointing Atticus Administration, LLC (“Atticus”) as the PAGA Settlement Administrator;
4. Directing Defendant to transmit the PAGA Settlement Amount of $350,000.00 into a qualified settlement account established by the PAGA Settlement Administrator for administration of the Settlement, and directing the PAGA Settlement Administrator to distribute the PAGA Settlement Amount in accordance with the Settlement

Agreement;

5. Directing the mailing of Individual Settlement Share checks to the PAGA Settlement Members along with the Cover Letter, substantially similar in content and form to that attached as “EXHIBIT 1” to the [Proposed] Order and Judgment Granting Approval of Private Attorneys General Act (Cal. Labor Code § 2698, Et Seq.) Settlement Agreement and Award of Attorneys’ Fees and Costs, Enhancement Award, and Settlement Administration Costs (“[Proposed] Order and Judgement”) filed concurrently herewith and as “EXHIBIT A” to the Settlement Agreement;
6. Awarding $10,000.00 to Plaintiff Maria Cain as an Enhancement Award;
7. Awarding up to $5,000.00 to the PAGA Settlement Administrator as Settlement Administration Costs; and
8. Awarding to Plaintiff’s Counsel, Lawyers for Justice, PC, $140,000.00 as compensation for reasonable attorneys’ fees and $19,322.33 for reimbursement of litigation costs and expenses (“Attorneys’ Fees and Costs”), pursuant to California Labor Code section 2699(g)(1).

The Settlement Agreement and moving and supporting papers for this motion are being concurrently submitted to the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency in conformity with California Labor Code section 2699(l)(2).

This motion is made pursuant to California Labor Code section 2699(l)(2), which provides for review and approval by the Court of the settlement of a civil action filed pursuant to PAGA, and Rule 3.1113(e) of the California Rules of Court, which permits the Court to extend the page limit for memoranda.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. SUMMARY OF MOTION

Plaintiff Maria Cain (“Plaintiff”) seeks approval of the Private Attorneys General Act Settlement Agreement and Release (“Settlement,” “Agreement,” or “Settlement Agreement”)¹ entered into between Plaintiff, individually and on behalf of the State of California and other PAGA Settlement Members, and Defendant Fairfield Health, Care Inc. dba Fairfield Post-Acute Rehab (“Defendant”), pursuant to California Labor Code section 2699(l)(2).

Subject to approval by the Court, Plaintiff and Defendant (together, the “Parties”) have agreed to resolve the above-captioned action, brought pursuant to the Private Attorneys General Act of 2004, California Labor Code section 2698, et seq. (“PAGA”), for a PAGA Settlement Amount of $350,000.00.²

The PAGA Settlement Amount is inclusive of: (1) Attorneys’ Fees and Costs to be paid to Lawyers for Justice, PC (“Plaintiff’s Counsel”), (2) Enhancement Award to Plaintiff, (3) Settlement Administration Costs to be paid to the PAGA Settlement Administrator, and (4) PAGA Fund to be paid to the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”) and all persons employed by Defendant as non-exempt employees in the State of California at any time during the PAGA Period (“PAGA Settlement Members”).³

The PAGA Fund will be the PAGA Settlement Amount less the Court-approved Attorneys’ Fees and Costs, Settlement Administration Costs, and the Enhancement Award, and is currently estimated to be no less than $175,677.67.⁴ The PAGA Fund will be distributed as follows: seventy-five percent (75%) to the LWDA (“LWDA Payment”) and twenty-five percent (25%) to the PAGA Settlement Members (“Employees’ Portion”).⁵ Each PAGA Settlement Member will be entitled to payment of his or her pro rata share of the Employees’ Portion, based on the number pay periods they each worked during the PAGA Period, excluding leaves of absence, any other absences, vacation, and any pay periods when the PAGA Settlement Member did not do any work (“Compensable Pay Periods”).⁶

The payment to PAGA Settlement Members will be treated and reported for tax purposes as non-wage payments and the PAGA Settlement Administrator will be responsible for issuing IRS Form 1099s as required.⁷

Plaintiff submits that the Settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable, and meets the requirements for approval by the Court based upon the relevant fairness factors, the relative strengths of the PAGA claims, the risk, expense, and complexity of further litigation, the benefit conferred by the Settlement, the scope of the release of claims, the experience and views of counsel, and the reasonableness of the PAGA Fund (consisting of the LWDA Payment and the Employees’ Portion), Attorneys’ Fees and Costs, Settlement Administration Costs, and Enhancement Award. Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court approve the Settlement, award the Attorneys’ Fees and Costs, Settlement Administration Costs, and Enhancement Award and approve the LWDA Payment, which are provided for by the Settlement and requested herein.

In order to efficiently present the Court with adequate information to determine whether to grant approval of the Settlement, Plaintiff also moves for an order permitting the filing of this memorandum, although it exceeds the page limit established by California Rules of Court, Rule 3.1113(d).

II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND AND RELEVANT PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Defendant is a nursing facility located in Fairfield, California that provides 24-hour nursing and short rehabilitation to its residents. Plaintiff Maria Cain is a former employee of Defendant.

⁶ Settlement Agreement, § 7(b)

⁷ Id., § 3(b)

Prior to commencing this lawsuit, on February 19, 2021, as required by California Labor Code section 2699.3, Plaintiff Maria Cain provided the LWDA with written notice (“PAGA Notice”) of her intent to assert claims under PAGA and the basis for those claims, to which the LWDA did not respond.⁸

On April 27, 2021, Plaintiff filed a Complaint for Enforcement Under the Private Attorneys General Act, California Labor Code § 2698, Et Seq. (“Operative Complaint”) against Defendant in the Solano County Superior Court (“Court”), Case No. FCS056452 (the “Action”). Plaintiff’s core allegation is that Defendant has violated the California Labor Code by engaging in a uniform practice and procedure, with respect to Plaintiff and other PAGA Settlement Members, of, inter alia, failing to pay overtime and minimum wages, failing to provide compliant meal and rest periods and associated premiums, failing to pay timely wages during employment and upon termination of employment, failing to provide complete and accurate itemized wage statements, failing to keep complete and accurate payroll records, and failing to reimburse necessary business-related expenses and costs.

On June 23, 2021, Defendant filed an Answer to the Operative Complaint. Defendant maintained, and continues to maintain, that it has, and continues to have, legally-compliant employment policies and practices throughout the time period at issue. Defendant denies that it ever violated any provision of the California Labor Code, including, but not limited to, those sections for which Plaintiff seeks penalties under the PAGA.

On February 3, 2022, the Parties participated in a full-day mediation conducted by Jeffrey A. Ross, Esq., a well-respected mediator experienced in mediating complex labor and employment matters.⁹ With the aid of the mediator, the Parties were able to reach the Settlement described herein.¹⁰

Plaintiff now moves for an order granting approval of the Settlement pursuant to California Labor Code section 2699(l)(2). The Settlement Agreement and moving and supporting papers for this motion are being submitted to the LWDA in conformity with California Labor Code section 2699(l)(2), concurrently with this filing.¹¹

III. SUMMARY OF THE SETTLEMENT TERMS

A. PAGA Settlement Members

The PAGA Settlement Members who are covered by the Settlement are:

All persons employed by Defendant as non-exempt employees in the State of California at any time during the PAGA Period.¹²

B. Distribution of the PAGA Settlement Amount

Under the terms of the Settlement Agreement, Defendant will pay a PAGA Settlement Amount of $350,000.00.¹³ The PAGA Fund will be the PAGA Settlement Amount less the following amounts: (1) Attorneys' Fees and Costs consisting of attorneys' fees of $140,000.00 and reimbursement of litigation costs and expenses of $19,322.33 to Plaintiff's Counsel; (2) Enhancement Award of $10,000.00 to Plaintiff; and (3) Settlement Administration Costs of up to $5,000.00 to Atticus Administration, LLC ("Atticus" or "PAGA Settlement Administrator").¹⁴ The PAGA Fund will be fully distributed to the PAGA Settlement Members and the LWDA, as described in Section III.C, infra.

C. Distribution of the PAGA Fund

Within twenty-one (21) calendar days of the Effective Date, Defendant shall transmit the PAGA Settlement Amount to a qualified settlement account established by the PAGA Settlement Administrator for administration of the Settlement.¹⁵ No later than twenty-one (21) calendar days after the Court's order granting approval of the Settlement, Defendant shall provide the PAGA Settlement Administrator with a list of all PAGA Settlement Members ("PAGA Settlement Members List”), containing the following information for each PAGA Settlement Member: (i) first and last name; (ii) last known address; (iii) last known telephone number; (iv) Social Security number; and (v) Compensable Pay Periods.¹⁶

Seventy-five percent (75%) of the PAGA Fund (or approximately $131,758.25) will be distributed to the LWDA (i.e., LWDA Payment) and twenty-five percent (25%) of the PAGA Fund (or approximately $43,919.42) will be distributed to the PAGA Settlement Members on a pro rata basis, based on their Compensable Pay Periods (i.e., the Employees’ Portion).¹⁷ To calculate each PAGA Settlement Member’s share of the Employees’ Portion (“Individual Settlement Share”), the PAGA Settlement Administrator shall: (i) for each PAGA Settlement Member, divide the number of Compensable Pay Periods he or she individually worked by the total aggregate number of Compensable Pay Periods worked by all PAGA Settlement Members, and then (ii) multiply this amount by the Employees’ Portion to arrive at each PAGA Settlement Member’s Individual Settlement Share.¹⁸ One hundred percent (100%) of all Individual Settlement Shares are to be considered penalties and are to be reported on IRS Form 1099 (if required).¹⁹

No later than nine (9) calendar days after receiving the PAGA Settlement Amount from Defendant, the PAGA Settlement Administrator shall mail the agreed-upon Cover Letter and Individual Settlement Share checks (together, the “PAGA Settlement Package”) to all PAGA Settlement Members by First Class U.S. Mail.²⁰ For each PAGA Settlement Package that is returned as undeliverable within thirty (30) calendar days of the initial mailing, the PAGA Settlement Administrator shall promptly attempt to locate an alternate, updated address for the PAGA Settlement Member at issue, by using a skip-trace search and shall attempt one (1) re-mailing of the PAGA Settlement Package.²¹

¹⁷ Id., § 3(a)(5).

¹⁸ Id., § 7(b).

¹⁹ Id., § 7(b)(1).

²⁰ Id., § 7(c)(3).

²¹ Settlement Agreement, § 7(c)(3).

Individual Settlement Share checks issued to PAGA Settlement Members shall remain valid for ninety (90) calendar days from the date of mailing, and thereafter, shall be cancelled.²² Funds associated with cancelled checks shall be transmitted to the State Controller's Office Unclaimed Property Division in the name of the PAGA Settlement Member(s) at issue and in the amount of his or her respective Individual Settlement Share(s).²³

D. The Scope of the Release in the Settlement Agreement

Upon the date the Court has entered an order approving the Settlement Agreement and full funding of the PAGA Settlement Amount, Plaintiff and the State of California with respect to PAGA Settlement Members, will be deemed to have knowingly and voluntarily released and forever discharged the Released Parties from the Released Claims.²⁴

The "Released Claims" are any and all claims pertaining to Plaintiff or the PAGA Settlement Members arising during the PAGA Period for civil penalties under California Labor Code section 2698, et seq. ("PAGA") as well as any interest, fees, and costs available under PAGA, based on the factual allegations in the Operative Complaint or the PAGA Notice, or both, including but not limited to, for failure to pay minimum, regular, and overtime wages, failure to provide compliant meal periods and associated premiums, failure to provide compliant rest periods and associated premiums, failure to timely pay wages during employment, failure to timely pay wages upon termination, failure to provide compliant and accurate wage statements, failure to maintain complete and accurate payroll records, failure to reimburse necessary business-related expenses and costs, and for violations of Labor Code sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 226(a), 226.7, 510, 512(a), 551, 552, 1174(d), 1194, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 2800, and 2802 and Industrial Welfare Commission Wage Orders, including inter alia, Wage Orders 4-2001 and 5-2001.²⁵

The "Released Parties" are Defendant and its past, present, and future subsidiaries, ²² Id., § 7(c)(4).

²³ Ibid.

²⁴ Id., § 8(a).

²⁵ Settlement Agreement, § 8(a).

parents, affiliates, predecessors, insurers, agents, employees, successors, assigns, officers, officials, directors, attorneys, personal representatives, executors, and shareholders, including their respective pension, profit sharing, savings, health, and other employee benefits plans of any nature, the successors of such plans, and those plans' respective current or former trustees and administrators, agents employees, and fiduciaries.²⁶

E. No Right to Object to, or Opt Out of, the Settlement

“[A] PAGA action is a statutory action for penalties brought as a proxy for the State,” as such, “there is no need to protect absent employees’ due process rights[.]” Williams v. Superior Court (2017) 3 Cal.5th 531, 546. “Unnamed employees need not be given notice of the PAGA claim, nor do they have the ability to opt-out of the representative PAGA claim.” Ochoa-Hernandez v. CJADERS Foods, Inc. (N.D. Cal. Apr. 2, 2010), 2010 WL 1340777, at *5. A representative PAGA action need not satisfy class action requirements, and no due process concern arises from the fact that there are “nonparty PAGA Settlement Members who are not given notice of, and an opportunity to be heard in, a representative action that is not brought as a class action.” Arias v. Superior Court (2009) 46 Cal.4th 969, 984. “PAGA does not make other potentially aggrieved employees parties” to the action and no “due process concerns arise under PAGA because absent employees do not own a personal claim for PAGA civil penalties and whatever personal claims the absent employees might have for relief are not at stake.” Williams, supra, 546-547 (internal references omitted, citing Amalgamated Transit Union, Local 1756, AFL-CIO v. Superior Court (2009) 46 Cal.4th 993, 1003 and Iskanian v. CLS Transportation Los Angeles, LLC, (2014) 58 Cal.4th 348, 381.)

“[A]bsent fellow employees will be bound by the outcome of any PAGA action[.]” Williams at 548 (internal references omitted, citing Arias, supra, 980-981; Fireside Bank v. Superior Court (2007) 40 Cal.4th 1069, 1074 and Richmond v. Dart Industries, Inc. (1981) 29 Cal, 3d 462, 474.) A “judgment in such an action is binding not only on the named employee plaintiff but also on government agencies and any aggrieved employee not a party to the proceeding” because “the employee plaintiff represents the same legal right and interest as state labor law enforcement agencies[,]” “collateral estoppel applies [...] against those for whom the party acted as an agent or proxy[,]” and “[w]hen a government agency is authorized to bring an action on behalf of an individual or in the public interest, and a private person lacks an independent right to bring the action, a person who is not a party but who is represented by the agency is bound by the judgment as though the person were a party.” Arias, supra, at 985-86 (citations omitted); see also Robinson v. Southern Counties Oil Co. (2020) 53 Cal.App.5th 476 (PAGA Settlement Member cannot opt out of a PAGA settlement).

As such, the Settlement is consistent with the law, and there is no requirement that the PAGA Settlement Members be provided with a mechanism to opt out of or object to the Settlement.

IV. STANDARDS FOR APPROVAL OF PAGA SETTLEMENT

The PAGA allows an “Aggrieved Employee” to bring a civil action on behalf of himself or herself and on behalf of other Aggrieved Employees and the State of California to recover civil penalties which, outside of PAGA, only the LWDA can assess upon and collect from an employer (Cal. Labor Code § 2699(a)). Before bringing a civil action under PAGA, an employee must comply with California Labor Code section 2699.3. See Cal. Labor Code § 2699(a). Plaintiff has complied.

The settlement of a PAGA action requires court approval. See Cal. Lab. Code § 2699(l)(2) (“The superior court shall review and approve any settlement of any civil action filed pursuant to this part.”). However, “[a] PAGA claim asserted on a non-class representative basis . . . is not considered a class action but a law enforcement action” and therefore does not have to meet the requirements of a class action. Casida v. Sears Holdings Corp. (E.D. Cal. Jan. 26, 2012) 2012 WL 253217, at *3; Thomas v. Aetna Health of Cal., Inc. (E.D. Cal. June 2, 2011) 2011 WL 2173715, at *11; Arias, supra, 46 Cal.4th at 980-88 (affirming lower court’s holding that “plaintiff need not satisfy class action requirements” to assert a PAGA claim); Pedroza v. PetSmart, Inc. (C.D. Cal. Jan. 28, 2013) 2013 WL 1490667, at *15. As such, a court’s review of

1 a PAGA settlement involves analysis of several unique features that render the approval process
2 distinct from, and simpler than, the process for approval of a class action settlement. A court
3 reviewing a PAGA settlement need only “ensur[e] that a negotiated resolution is fair to those 4 affected.” Williams, supra, 549 (citing Cal. Lab. Code § 2699(l)(2)). Although California Labor
5 Code section 2699(l) does not set forth the criteria on which a PAGA settlement is to be judged,
6 courts have approved settlements of PAGA claims.²⁷ See, e.g., Resendez v. Bridgestone Retail
7 Operations, LLC, Los Angeles Superior Court, Case No. BC596892 (June 2016), DCH Auto
8 Wage and Hour Cases, Los Angeles Superior Court, Case No. JCCP4833 (May 2017); Garcia v.
9 Gordon Trucking (E.D. Cal. Oct. 31, 2012) 2012 WL 5364575, at *3; Schiller v. David’s Bridal,
10 Inc. (E.D. Cal. June 11, 2012) 2012 WL 2117001, at *14; Chu v. Wells Fargo Invs., LLC (N.D.
11 Cal. Feb. 16, 2011) 2011 WL 672645, at *1; Franco v. Ruiz Food Prods. (E.D. Cal Nov. 27, 12 2012) 2012 WL 5941801, at *14; Nordstrom Commissions Case (2010) 186 Cal.App.4th 576, 13 589.

14 In a PAGA case, the court’s focus is not the monetary amount which aggrieved
15 employees, or the State of California stand to receive, but instead, whether the settlement 16 achieves the PAGA’s objectives. The purpose of the PAGA is “to incentivize private parties to 17 recover civil penalties for the government that otherwise may not have been assessed and 18 collected by overburdened state enforcement agencies.” See Ochoa-Hernandez, supra, 2010 WL
19 1340777, at *4 (citing Arias, supra, 46 Cal.4th at 986). Penalties recovered under the PAGA are, 20 in part, to “be distributed to the [LWDA] for enforcement of labor laws . . . and for education of 21 employers and employees about their rights and responsibilities under this code, to be 22 continuously appropriated to supplement and not supplant the funding to the agency for those 23 purposes.” See Cal. Lab. Code § 2699(j). The recovery of penalties on behalf of the State, by 24 way of a PAGA claim, is essentially a law enforcement action. See Amalgamated, supra, 46
25 Cal.4th at 1003 (stating that the PAGA is a mechanism for “an PAGA Settlement Member to 26 recover civil penalties—for Labor Code violations—that otherwise would be sought by state labor law enforcement agencies”); see also Iskanian, supra, at 381.

27 ²⁷ Aiwazian Decl., ¶ 7.

A PAGA settlement is a settlement of claims for penalties and other remedies which the LWDA could assess and collect on behalf of employees without their involvement or approval. “[U]nnamed employees need not be given notice of the PAGA claim, nor do they have the ability to opt-out of the representative PAGA claim.” Ochoa-Hernandez, supra, 2010 WL 1340777, at *5. This renders the approval process of a PAGA settlement distinct from a class action settlement, and the Court need not employ the two-step approval process that applies to a class action settlement, under both state and federal law.

V. THE SETTLEMENT IS FAIR AND SHOULD BE APPROVED

The Settlement resulted from hard-fought negotiations, fulfills the objectives of the PAGA statute, is fair, adequate, and reasonable, and meets all of the criteria for approval for the reasons discussed below.

A. The Factors Giving Rise to a Presumption of Fairness Exist

The Parties reached the Settlement through arm’s-length negotiations, after a mediation with an experienced and respected mediator, Jeffrey A. Ross, Esq.²⁸ A settlement that is “the product of extensive and hard-fought adversarial negotiations between the parties” is entitled to a presumption of fairness. Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc. (2001) 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 245.

The Settlement is presumptively fair because: (1) it is the product of non-collusive, arm’s-length negotiations with the assistance of an independent mediator knowledgeable in complex labor and employment matters; (2) it was negotiated by counsel with significant experience in similar complex labor and employment matters; and (3) it occurred after counsel for the Parties engaged in significant investigation to evaluate the strength and potential value of the PAGA claims, and the risks associated with possible arbitration proceedings and of litigating these claims through trial.²⁹

After engaging in extensive informal discovery, the Parties participated in settlement

²⁸ Aiwazian Decl., ¶ 13.

²⁹ Aiwazian Decl., ¶¶ 2-7, 11-14, & 16-21.

1 negotiations to try to resolve the lawsuit.³⁰ These efforts included participating in formal
2 mediation conducted by Jeffrey A. Ross, Esq., a well-respected mediator experienced in 3 mediating complex labor and employment matters.³¹ During mediation, the Parties discussed all
4 aspects of the case, including the risks and delays of further litigation, the risks to the Parties of 5 proceeding with trial, possible arbitration proceedings, as well as the law relating to
6 representative PAGA actions, off-the-clock theory, wage-and-hour enforcement, and arbitration
7 agreements, the evidence produced and analyzed, and the possibility of bifurcation of discovery
8 and/or trial and appeals, among other things.³² During all settlement discussions, the Parties
9 conducted their negotiations at arm's length in an adversarial position.³³

10 Based on all of the information available to the Parties and with the assistance of the 11 experienced mediator, the Parties agree that this matter is well-suited for settlement given the 12 strengths and weaknesses of the PAGA claim.³⁴ Plaintiff and Plaintiff's Counsel believe that the 13 settlement is a fair, adequate, and reasonable resolution of this matter.³⁵ Plaintiff's Counsel has 14 extensive experience handling representative and class action wage-and-hour litigation and used
15 that experience to achieve a great result for Plaintiff, the State of California, and the PAGA
16 Settlement Members.³⁶ Therefore, the Court should give considerable weight to the competency, 17 experience, and opinion of counsel and the involvement of a neutral mediator in assuring that the 18 settlement is a product of arm's length bargaining. See Kirkorian v. Borelli (N.D. Cal. 1988)
19 695 F.Supp. 446, 451 (opinion of experienced counsel is entitled to considerable weight); Boyd
20 v. Bechtel Corp. (N.D. Cal. 1979) 485 F.Supp. 610, 616-17, 622 (recommendations of plaintiffs' 21 counsel should be given a presumption of reasonableness); see also Satchell v. Fed. Express 22 Corp. (N.D. Cal. Apr. 13, 2007) 2007 WL 1114010, at *4 (stating that the "assistance of an 23 experienced mediator in the settlement process confirms that the settlement is non-collusive").

B. The Relative Strength of the PAGA Claims and the Range of Possible Outcomes in the Litigation Strongly Favor Approval of the Settlement

In order for Plaintiff to prevail on the PAGA claims, she would have to prove that Defendant engaged in the alleged California Labor Code violations and demonstrate that Defendant's conduct warrants the imposition of penalties. See, e.g., Elliot v. Spherion Pac. Work, LLC (C.D. Cal. 2008) 572 F.Supp.2d 1169, 1181-82 ("Plaintiff's claim under [PAGA] is wholly dependent upon her other claims. Because all of plaintiff's other claims fail as a matter of law, so does her PAGA claim.").

Plaintiff's core allegation is that Defendant has systematically violated the California Labor Code, with respect to Plaintiff and the PAGA Settlement Members, by, inter alia, failing to properly pay minimum, regular, and overtime wages, failing to provide compliant meal and rest periods and associated premiums, failing to timely pay wages during employment and upon termination of employment, failing to provide complete and accurate wage statements, failing to keep complete and accurate payroll records, and failing to reimburse necessary business-related expenses and costs.

Although wage-and-hour actions are amenable to resolution as to a group of employees,³⁷ some courts have also found that, for various reasons, the issues raised by Plaintiff raise ³⁷ See, e.g., Martinez vs. Joe's Crab Shack Holdings, et al. (2014) 231 Cal.App.4th 362, 383-84, modified on other grounds by Martinez v. Joe's Crab Shack Holdings, et al. (Dec. 3, 2014, B242807) 2014 Cal.App. LEXIS 1102, *1-2 (stating that difficult issues of proof do not vitiate the preference for efficient and effective means of resolving wage-and-hour claims, including misclassification and overtime, recognizing that "statistical sampling may provide assistance in identifying the realistic demands of the job and illuminating whether the typical employee was able to meet those expectations" and that "[b]y refocusing its analysis on the policies and practices of the employer and the effect those policies and practices have on the [employees] . . . the trial court may in fact find class analysis a more efficient and effective means of resolving plaintiffs' overtime claim"); Sav-On Drug Stores, Inc. v. Superior Court (2004) 34 Cal.4th 319, 330-31 (Court successfully managed and adjudicated wage-and-hour claims made on behalf of a group of employees, utilizing, among other things, statistics and surveying.); Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1033 ("Claims alleging that a uniform policy consistently applied to a group of employees is in violation of the wage and hour laws are of the sort routinely, and properly, found suitable for class treatment [...] The theory of liability – that [the employer] has a uniform policy, and that that policy, measured against wage order requirements, allegedly violates the law - is by its nature a common question eminently suited for class treatment."); Safeway v. Superior Court (2015) 238 Cal.App.4th 1138, 1159 (finding that real parties demonstrated that the existence of the practice and the fact of damage were matters suitable for determination on behalf of a group of employees and that, "[r]eal parties' evidence supports the reasonable inference that [...] they could establish that petitioners engaged in the alleged practice, that is, they never paid meal break premium wages, even though a significant number of employees accrued them. Furthermore, in view of real parties' theory of restitution, those facts would also suffice to demonstrate the fact of damage. Under that theory, the fact of damage does not require a showing

individualized issues and/or are unmanageable and thus not suitable for adjudication as to a group of employees.³⁸

Defendant contended that courts have required, and that due process requires, that the adjudication of PAGA claims meet a “manageability” requirement. See, e.g., Wesson v. Staples the Office Superstore, LLC (2021) 68 Cal.App.5th 746, 756 (“courts have inherent authority to ensure that PAGA claims can be fairly and efficiently tried and, if necessary, may strike claims that cannot be rendered manageable”)³⁹; but cf. Estrada v. Royalty Carpet Mills, Inc. (2022) 76 Cal.App.5th 685⁴⁰, 712, petition for cert. pending (May 2, 2022) (“[i]mposing a manageability that all -- or virtually all -- class members accrued unpaid meal break premium wages, but only that on a system-wide basis, petitioners denied the class members the benefits of the compensation guarantee and enhanced enforcement implemented by section 226.7.”); Tyson Foods, Inc. v. Bouaphakeo (2016) 136 S.Ct. 1036 (holding that statistical evidence is admissible to support class action certification because it is also admissible to prove liability and damages across a group of employees, where the defendant employer had not kept records of time spent by employees with respect to donning and doffing protective clothing).

³⁸ See, e.g., Duran v. U.S. Bank Nat. Assn. (2014) 59 Cal.4th 1, 25, 29, 31, and 34-35 (stating that even where it has been alleged “that the employer consistently imposed a uniform policy or de facto practice” as to its employees, “the party must still demonstrate that the illegal effects of this conduct can be proven efficiently and manageably” and in litigating representative actions the procedures utilized by the court “may not be used to abridge a party’s substantive rights,” including “abridge[ing] the defendant’s] presentation of [a defense] simply because that defense was cumbersome to litigate,” because of “principles of due process”); Ali v. U.S.A. Cab Ltd. (2009) 176 Cal.App.4th 1333, 1341 (affirming denial of certification because employees’ declarations attesting to having taken meal and rest breaks demonstrated that individualized inquiries were required to show harm); Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1018 (stating that employers must authorize, permit, or “relieve the employee of all duty for [a] designated meal [or rest] period,” and “relinquish [full] control over [the employee’s] activities” and “afford” employees an “opportunity to take an uninterrupted thirty-minute break,” but are not obligated to affirmatively ensure that no work related tasks are performed during such periods).

³⁹ In Wesson, the appellate court determined that trial courts may dismiss PAGA actions if they are unmanageable. The employer moved to strike the PAGA claim, arguing that the misclassification allegations were “highly fact dependent” and would require individualized inquiries to evaluate the company’s affirmative defenses, and that the number of employees and the nature of the allegations made the PAGA action “unmanageable,” which would violate Staples’ due process rights. Wesson, 68 Cal.App.5th 746, 755-756 and 772-773. The trial court invited the plaintiff to submit a trial plan showing that his PAGA action would be manageable at trial, but the plaintiff insisted the trial court lacked authority to require that his claim was manageable. Id. at 755-756. Following this response, the trial court concluded that the PAGA claim could not be managed at trial and granted the employer’s motion to strike the PAGA claim. Ibid. The appellate court affirmed, holding that trial “courts have inherent authority to ensure that PAGA claims can be fairly and efficiently tried and, if necessary, may strike claims that cannot be rendered manageable;” “as a matter of due process, defendants are entitled to a fair opportunity to litigate available affirmative defenses, and a court’s manageability assessment should account for them;” and “given the state of the record and [plaintiff’s] lack of cooperation with the trial court’s manageability inquiry, the court did not abuse its discretion in striking his PAGA claim as unmanageable.” Id. at 755-756 and 764-766. The appellate court noted that because PAGA claims lack the basic requirements that control class actions, such as a well-defined community of interest and a showing that common questions predominate over individual ones, PAGA claims “may well present more significant manageability concerns than those involved in class actions.” Id. at 766. In other words, the appellate court noted, because PAGA actions may include “disparate groups of employees and involve different kinds of violations raising distinct questions,” there is a heightened need to consider manageability and that “a need for individualized proof pertaining to a very large number of employees will raise manageability concerns.” Ibid.

⁴⁰ In Estrada, the plaintiffs alleged representative claims under PAGA and class claims primarily based on purported meal and rest period violations. The trial court initially certified two classes and denied the employer’s pre-trial motion requirement would create an extra hurdle in PAGA cases that does not apply to LWDA enforcement actions.”); Litty v. Merrill Lynch & Co. (C.D. Cal. Nov. 10, 2014) No. CV-l4-0425-PA, WL 5904904 at 3-4 (Court dismissed the PAGA claim because a multitude of individualized assessments would be necessary, making the PAGA claim unmanageable).

Defendant also maintained several defenses to Plaintiff’s theory of liability, which, if successfully argued and proven, had the potential to eliminate or substantially reduce recovery. Throughout this litigation, Defendant maintained, and continues to maintain, that it had, and continues to have, legally-compliant employment policies and practices throughout the time period at issue.⁴¹ Defendant denies that it ever violated any provision of the California Labor Code, including, but not limited to, those sections for which Plaintiff seeks penalties under the PAGA.⁴² Defendant further denied, and continues to deny, that the lawsuit is appropriate for to decertify the class, due to the employer’s failure to show changed circumstances warranting decertification. Estrada, 76 Cal.App.5th 685, 700. However, following the presentation of evidence at trial, the trial court decertified one of the classes (and in relevant part, this also involved dismissing the PAGA meal period claims of this class, due to their being “unmanageable”), and entered judgment. Id. at 701-702. Both sides appealed. The Fourth District Court of Appeal determined, in relevant part, that the trial court erred in dismissing the PAGA claims as unmanageable, and in doing so, specifically acknowledged that it was reaching “the opposite conclusion” to that reached in Wesson v. Staples the Office Superstore, LLC (2021) 68 Cal.App.5th 746 (where it was concluded that courts have inherent authority to strike unmanageable PAGA claims). Id. at 697. The appellate court relied on Arias v. Superior Court (2009) 46 Cal.4th 969 and Kim v. Reins International California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal.5th 73, to find that a court cannot strike a PAGA claim based on manageability, because:

“[t]hese cases have made clear that PAGA claims are unlike conventional civil suits and, in particular, are not class actions. Allowing dismissal of unmanageable PAGA claims would effectively graft a class action requirement onto PAGA claims, undermining a core principle of these authorities. It would also interfere with PAGA’s purpose as a law enforcement mechanism by placing an extra hurdle on PAGA plaintiffs that is not placed on the state. That said, courts are not powerless when facing unwieldy PAGA claims. Courts may still, where appropriate and within reason, limit the amount of evidence PAGA plaintiffs may introduce at trial to prove alleged violations to other unrepresented employees. If plaintiffs are unable to show widespread violations in an efficient and reasonable manner, that will just reduce the amount of penalties awarded rather than lead to dismissal.” Id. at 697.

For this and other reasons, the appellate court reversed the trial court’s order decertifying the class and dismissing the related PAGA claim as unmanageable. However, the appellate court also acknowledged that “[s]ome PAGA claims involve hundreds or thousands of alleged PAGA Settlement Members, each with unique factual circumstances” and to address this, where appropriate and within reason, trial courts may “limit witness testimony and other forms of evidence when determining the number of violations that occurred and the amount of penalties to assess[.]” and plaintiffs’ counsel should “work with the trial courts during trial planning to define a workable group or groups of PAGA Settlement Members for which violations can be more easily shown[.]” Id. at 712-713. Otherwise, the appellate court noted, a PAGA plaintiff seeking to try their claim “risk[s] being awarded a paltry sum of penalties, if any,” due to problems of proof. Id. at 713. The appellate court’s comments regarding the practical limitations of actually trying a PAGA lawsuit are being used by employers to argue that PAGA lawsuits are unmanageable or that the scope of such lawsuits should be narrowed for purposes of trial.

⁴¹ Aiwasian Decl., ¶ 17.

representative treatment for any purpose other than settlement.⁴³

Defendant also challenged Plaintiff's standing as an aggrieved employee and denied that any of Defendant's other employees whom Plaintiff seeks to represent are aggrieved.⁴⁴ Also, multiple courts have required a plaintiff to establish standing and face the possibility of bifurcation of discovery and/or trial of the PAGA claim. See Amalgamated Transit Union, supra, 46 Cal.4th at 1001 (noting that PAGA "require[s] a plaintiff to have suffered an injury resulting from an unlawful action"); Stafford v. Dollar Tree Stores, Inc. (E.D. Cal. Nov. 21, 2014) 2014 WL 6633396, at *4 (finding that judicial economy supported bifurcation because of the difficulties and inherent uncertainties of being able to establish liability with respect to a large number of potentially aggrieved employees and noted that "PAGA's public purpose would be ill-served if the court finds [the plaintiff] has not been aggrieved by a Labor Code violation"); Horton v. Jones (1972) 26 Cal.App.3d 952, 955 (stating that bifurcation and sequencing of litigation is allowed to avoid wasting time and money on trial when litigation of issues could be rendered moot).

Defendant also argued that an important feature of PAGA is that the Court retains discretion to lower the penalties if, based on the facts and circumstances of the particular case, to do otherwise would result in an award that is "unjust, arbitrary and oppressive, or confiscatory." See Cal. Lab. Code § 2699(e)(2); see also Thurman v. Bayshore Transit Management, Inc. (2012) 203 Cal.App.4th 1112, 1136 (holding that a court may reduce the amount of PAGA penalties awarded to an employee based upon discretionary factors). Defendant maintained, and continues to maintain, that it has and continues to have, legally-compliant employment policies and practices throughout the time period at issue.⁴⁵ Defendant denies that it ever violated any provision of the California Labor Code.⁴⁶ Even if, arguendo, such violations occurred, which Defendant denies, Defendant contended that said violations would only be considered "initial

⁴⁴ Id., ¶ 19.

⁴⁵ Aiwazian Decl., ¶ 17.

violations” and thus heightened “subsequent violation” penalties were not warranted. See Cal. Lab. Code § 2699(f)(2); see also Amaral v. Cintas Corp. No. 2 (2008) 163 Cal.App.4th 1157, 1208-09 (“Until the employer has been notified that it is violating a Labor Code provision [...], the employer cannot be presumed to be aware that its continuing underpayment of employees is a ‘violation’ subject to penalties.”).

Defendant also contended that, with respect to PAGA claims, the Court was unlikely to assess cumulative penalties for the maximum number of possible, separate California Labor Code violations, because it would be unjust, arbitrary, oppressive, and/or confiscatory, especially where certain conduct may be regulated by multiple provisions of the California Labor Code that are interrelated and work in tandem. As such, Defendant contended that cumulative penalties and heightened penalties would be unjust, arbitrary, oppressive, and confiscatory.

There is also uncertainty regarding PAGA claims due to the United States Supreme Court’s decision in Viking River Cruises, Inc. v. Moriana (2022) 142 S. Ct. 1906, 2022 U.S. LEXIS 2940. As a result of that decision, it may be more likely that employer agreements containing arbitration terms will impact the viability of adjudication of PAGA claims in the judicial forum, which is relevant to this matter in light of the arbitration agreements that Defendant obtained from its employees. Viking River Cruises, Inc. v. Moriana (2022) 142 S. Ct. 1906, 2022 U.S. LEXIS 2940).⁴⁷

While Plaintiff disagrees with Defendant’s contentions and maintains that her PAGA

⁴⁷ Id., ¶ 18. In Viking River Cruises, the U.S. Supreme Court determined that PAGA claims can be split into individual claims based on California Labor Code violations suffered by the plaintiff (that can then be subject to arbitration) and non-individual claims (that are representative in nature) and that the “indivisibility rule” recognized by the California Supreme Court in Iskanian v. CLS Transp. Los Angeles, LLC (2014) 59 Cal.4th 348 is preempted by the Federal Arbitration Act (FAA) to the extent it circumscribes the freedom of parties to agree to such contractual division or splitting of PAGA actions. Viking River Cruises, Inc., 1923-1925. The U.S. Supreme Court also determined that, important structural differences between PAGA actions and class actions preclude any straightforward application of U.S. Supreme Court precedents invalidating prohibitions on class-action waivers, to Iskanian’s ban on wholesale PAGA representative action waivers, and thus this aspect of Iskanian is not preempted by the FAA. Id. at 1919, 1922-1925. The U.S. Supreme Court also expressed its understanding of California state law, and the impact of its ruling on, PAGA’s standing requirement, regarding which California courts will have the last word, as noted by a concurring opinion. Id. at 1925-1926 (concurring opinion). Taken together, the substantive statutory right to pursue a PAGA claim has not been eviscerated and has been preserved, however, arbitration agreements may be used to select the forum and procedure to be used to resolve PAGA claims to some extent, and the California courts and legislature have yet to weigh in on and articulate where California law stands.

claim has merit, in reaching the settlement, Plaintiff and her counsel took into account the strengths and weaknesses of each side's position and the uncertainty of how the case might have concluded as litigation continued, at trial, in arbitration proceedings, and/or appeals.⁴⁸

C. The Settlement Avoids Risky, Complex, and Lengthy Further Litigation

Courts favor the voluntary conciliation and settlement of complex litigation. Class Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle (9th Cir. 1992) 955 F.2d 1268, 1276. Generally, "unless the settlement is clearly inadequate, its acceptance and approval are preferable to lengthy and expensive litigation with uncertain results." Nat'l Rural Telecomms. Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc. (C.D. Cal. Jan. 5, 2004) 221 F.R.D. 523, 526 (citation omitted).

Both sides used the pre-mediation time period to investigate the veracity, strength, and scope of the PAGA claim and allegations.⁴⁹ In addition, the Parties exchanged a large volume of documents and data relevant to Plaintiff's claims and Defendant's defenses thereto, including, and not limited to, the employment records of Plaintiff, a sampling of aggrieved employees' time and pay data, a redacted list of PAGA Settlement Members (with employee ID numbers, hire dates, termination dates and pay rates), meal and rest break attestation records, training materials, multiple iterations of Defendant's Employee Handbook, multiple iterations of Defendant's Arbitration Agreement (and related acknowledgment of receipt of Arbitration Agreement), job descriptions, training acknowledgments, Defendant's employment and operations practices, policies, and procedures documents (such as, Defendant's Meal and Rest Break Policy, Paid Time Off Policy, Timesheet Correction Form, Voluntary Meal Period Waiver Form, Time Adjustment Request Form, Employee Nondisclosure Agreement, and Mission Statement and Values Statement), among other documents.⁵⁰ Counsel for the Parties undertook significant investigation, and also invested time reviewing and analyzing relevant documents and data to evaluate Plaintiff's claims, including, and not limited to, calculating the potential monetary ⁴⁸ Id., ¶ 20.

⁴⁹ Aiwazian Decl., ¶ 14.

⁵⁰ Aiwazian Decl., ¶¶ 14

1 recovery under PAGA.⁵¹ Other work performed by Plaintiff's Counsel included, but was not
2 limited to: meeting and conferring with Defendant's counsel regarding the production of 3 documents and data, mediation, and settlement, among other issues; case strategy and analysis;
4 drafting, reviewing, and revising the mediation brief; and preparing for and attending court
5 proceedings and the mediation and settlement negotiations. Counsel for the parties have further 6 invested time to research the applicable law, which is constantly evolving as it relates to
7 representative PAGA actions, off-the-clock theory, wage-and-hour enforcement, and arbitration
8 agreements, Plaintiff's claims and allegations, and Defendant's defenses, as well as facts
9 discovered.

10 Had the case not settled, the Parties would have conducted extensive formal discovery, 11 including propounding written discovery requests as well as multiple depositions of party and 12 percipient witnesses all over the State of California, to prepare the case for trial. From the 13 inception of this litigation, Defendant indicated that it would aggressively litigate this case.⁵²
14 Even if Defendant failed on its defenses, litigating a complex PAGA action is inherently 15 expensive, and the litigation could continue beyond entry of judgment if either party were to 16 appeal adverse rulings.⁵³ Additionally, there is a real possibility that Plaintiff would recover
17 nothing, either for herself or on behalf of the State of California or other PAGA Settlement 18 Members, after years of costly and labor-intensive litigation. Avoiding these risks and the 19 likelihood of future contentious litigation, which would involve significant costs, favors 20 settlement.

21 D. The Settlement Is Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable

22 "[T]he very essence of a settlement is compromise, 'a yielding of absolutes and an 23 abandoning of highest hopes.'" Officers for Justice v. Civil Service Comm'n (9th Cir. 1981) 688 24 F.2d 615, 624. "The proposed settlement is not to be judged against a hypothetical or 25 speculative measure of what might have been achieved by the negotiators." Id. at 625.

26 ⁵¹ Ibid.

27 ⁵² Id., ¶ 17.

28 ⁵³ Id., ¶¶ 12, 13, 14, 16 & 21.

The Settlement provides significant benefits to the State of California and the PAGA Settlement Members and falls well-within the range of acceptable settlements under the circumstances. Under the Agreement, Defendant has agreed to pay a PAGA Settlement Amount of $350,000.00, which encompasses the PAGA Fund, Attorneys' Fees and Costs, Settlement Administration Costs, and Enhancement Award.⁵⁴ Subject to approval by the Court, the following amounts will be subtracted from the PAGA Settlement Amount to yield the PAGA Fund: (1) Attorneys' Fees and Costs, consisting of attorneys' fees in the amount of $140,000.00, and reimbursement of litigation costs and expenses in the amount of $19,322.33 to Plaintiff's Counsel⁵⁵; (2) the Settlement Administration Costs of up to $5,000.00; and (3) Enhancement Award of up to $10,000.00 to Plaintiff.⁵⁶

The PAGA Fund is currently estimated to be $175,677.67 of which an estimated $43,919.42 is to be distributed to PAGA Settlement Members on a pro rata basis, based on their Compensable Pay Periods and $131,758.25 is to be distributed to the LWDA. There is no reason to doubt the fairness of the proposed plan of allocation of the PAGA Fund as it fully complies with California Labor Code section 2699(i).

The Settlement is a compromise of highly disputed claims. Plaintiff and her counsel recognize the expense and length of continued proceedings necessary to litigate the matter through trial and any possible appeals.⁵⁷ Plaintiff and her counsel have also taken into account the uncertainty and risk of the outcome of further litigation, and the difficulties and delays inherent in such litigation.⁵⁸ Plaintiff and her counsel are also aware of the burdens of proof necessary to establish liability, both generally and in response to Defendant's defenses thereto, and the difficulties in establishing Defendant's liability for, and the right to recover, penalties on ⁵⁴ Settlement Agreement, §§ 3(a) & 3(a)(1-4).

⁵⁵ Id., § 3(a)(1). Although the Settlement Agreement provides that Plaintiff's Counsel can seek up to $25,000.00 for reimbursement of litigation costs and expenses, Plaintiff's Counsel only seeks the amount of $19,322.33 for this payment, which is less than $25,000.00. The difference between the amount sought and the maximum allocated amount available under the settlement (i.e., the difference of $5,677.67), will be a part of the PAGA Fund.

1 behalf of Plaintiff, the State of California, and other PAGA Settlement Members.⁵⁹ Plaintiff and 2 her counsel have also taken into account Defendant's agreement to enter into a settlement that
3 confers significant relief upon the PAGA Settlement Members and the State of California.⁶⁰

4 Considering all of the facts in this case, Plaintiff and her counsel have determined that the 5 Settlement represents a fair, adequate, and reasonable resolution of the PAGA claims, and that it
6 is in the best interests of the PAGA Settlement Members and the State of California.⁶¹

7 The result achieved in this case, and the monetary recovery provided by this settlement, 8 are well-within the range of an acceptable settlement under the circumstances, especially when 9 compared to the settlement of PAGA claims in other cases. See, e.g., DCH Auto Wage and Hour
10 Cases, Los Angeles Superior Court, Case No. JCCP4833 (May 2017) (approving the amount of 11 $15,000 out of $4 million toward settlement of PAGA claims); Garcia, supra, 2012 WL wage-and-hour litigation.⁶² In the view of Plaintiff’s Counsel, the benefits conferred by the settlement are eminently fair and reasonable, and in the best interests of the State of California and the PAGA Settlement Members in light of the risk, delay, and uncertainty of continued litigation and the substantial monetary benefits provided for by the Settlement.⁶³ Furthermore, courts have acknowledged that “the interests of plaintiff, counsel and other potentially aggrieved employees are largely aligned. All stand to gain from proving as convincingly as possible as many Labor Code violations as the evidence will sustain[.]” Williams, supra, 548 (citing Cal. Lab. Code § 2699(g)(1)(i)).

VI. THE PROPOSED ATTORNEYS’ FEES PAYMENT IS FAIR AND REASONABLE, AND SHOULD BE APPROVED

A. A Fee Award of a Percentage of the Entire Fund Is Appropriate

The Settlement provides for a PAGA Settlement Amount of $350,000.00.⁶⁴ The Settlement provides for attorneys’ fees in an amount of forty percent (40%) of the PAGA Settlement Amount, which is $140,000.00, subject to approval and award by the Court.⁶⁵ The requested attorneys’ fees award is commensurate with: (1) the risk that Plaintiff’s Counsel took in bringing and litigating the case, (2) the time, effort, and expense dedicated to the case, (3) the skill and determination that Plaintiff’s Counsel has shown, (4) the results that Plaintiff’s Counsel has achieved throughout the litigation, (5) the value that Plaintiff’s Counsel has achieved for in the case, and (6) the other cases that Plaintiff’s Counsel has turned down in order to devote its time and effort to the case.

Plaintiff’s Counsel is entitled to recover reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs as a matter of right under PAGA. See Cal. Lab. Code § 2699(g)(1) (“Any employee who prevails in any [PAGA] action shall be entitled to an award of reasonable attorney’s fees and costs”). Plaintiff’s Counsel is also entitled to fees and costs under California Code of Civil Procedure section

⁶² Aiwazian Decl., ¶¶ 2-7.

⁶³ Id., ¶ 27.

⁶⁴ Settlement Agreement, § 3(a).

⁶⁵ Id., § 3(a)(1).

1021.5, as the instant PAGA action is by definition “for the benefit” of others and secures monetary recovery for a large number of aggrieved employees, as well as the State of California. See Estrada v. FedEx Ground Package Sys. Inc. (2007) 154 Cal.App4th 1, 16-17 (recognizing that recovery obtained on behalf of 209 individuals satisfies the “significant benefit,” “public interest,” and “large class of persons” requirements of Code of Civil Procedure section 1021.5, regardless of plaintiff’s personal motivation). The settlement will also benefit the state labor agency in enforcing labor laws and educating “employers and employees about their rights and responsibilities under [the California Labor Code].” Cal. Lab. Code § 2699(i).

The propriety of calculating and awarding attorneys’ fees as a percentage of a monetary fund that has, by litigation, been preserved or recovered for the benefit of others, has been confirmed by the California Supreme Court. Laffitte v. Robert Half Int’l, Inc. (2016) 1 Cal.5th 480 at 486 & 506. While trial courts have discretion to apply either a lodestar method or percentage-of-the-fund method, the California Supreme Court has taken the position that trial courts also “retain the discretion to forgo a lodestar cross-check and use other means to evaluate the reasonableness of a requested percentage fee” and “[t]he percentage of fund method survives in California.” Id. (internal quotes omitted); see also Wershba, supra, 91 Cal.App. 4th at 253.

Courts award fees to serve as an economic incentive for lawyers to undertake litigation, and thereby enhance and facilitate access to the judicial system for adjudication of meritorious claims, and to deter wrongdoing. This is especially true in situations where multiple similar alleged wrongs would not be economically feasible to pursue individually, such as here. See A. Conte, Attorney Fee Awards (2d ed. 1993) 104, at 6.

Trial courts have “wide latitude” in assessing the value of attorneys’ fees and their decisions will “not be disturbed on appeal absent a manifest abuse of discretion.” Lealao v. Beneficial Cal., Inc. (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 19, 41; see also Laffitte, supra, 1 Cal.5th 480 at 506 (holding that “trial court did not abuse its discretion in using [the percentage of fund method], in part to approve the fee request”). Indeed, it is long settled that the “experienced trial judge is the best judge of the value of professional services rendered in his court.” Ketchum v. Moses (2001)

24 Cal.4th 1122, 1132.

The percentage method is particularly appropriate where a monetary settlement has been recovered and “the benefit [recovered can be] easily quantified.” In re Bluetooth Headset Prods. Liab. Litig. (9th Cir. 2011) 654 F.3d 935, 942. Where the amount of a settlement is a “certain easily calculable sum of money,” California courts may calculate attorneys’ fees as a reasonable percentage of the settlement created. Weil and Brown, California Practice Guide, Civil Procedure Before Trial, Chapter 14, section 14:145; Dunk, supra, 48 Cal. App. 4th at 1808.

The percentage fee method is preferred in representative actions because “it better approximates the workings of the marketplace than the lodestar approach.” Lealao, supra, 82 Cal.App.4th at 49. California law provides that the award for attorneys’ fees should be equivalent to fees freely negotiated in the legal marketplace and paid in comparable litigation based on the result achieved and risk incurred. See Lealao, supra, 82 Cal.App.4th at 47-50; Laffitte, supra, 1 Cal.5th 480 at 503. In cases where the settlement agreement provides that the defendant will pay the plaintiff’s attorneys a percentage of the fund created by the settlement, use of that percentage method is appropriate. Lealao, supra, 82 Cal.App.4th at 32. Fee awards that are too small will “chill the private enforcement essential to the vindication of many legal rights and obstruct the representative actions that often relieve the courts of the need to separately adjudicate numerous claims.” Id. at 53. Therefore, fees in representative actions should approximate the probable terms of a contingent fee contract negotiated by a sophisticated attorney and client in comparable litigation. Id. at 48. “The ultimate goal . . . is the award of a ‘reasonable’ fee to compensate counsel for their efforts, irrespective of the method of calculation.” Consumer Privacy Cases (2009) 175 Cal.App.4th 545, 557-58 (quoting Apple Computer, Inc. v. Superior Court, supra, 126 Cal.App.4th at 1270).

Plaintiff’s Counsel’s application for attorneys’ fees in light of the facts and circumstances surrounding the case is well-within the range of reasonableness. Historically, courts have awarded fees as high as fifty percent (50%) of the settlement in complex actions, depending on the circumstances of the case. See In re Ampicillin Antitrust Litig. (D.D.C. 1981) 526 F.Supp.

494 (awarding attorneys’ fees in the amount of 45% of the $7.3 million Gross Settlement Fund); Beech Cinema, Inc. v. Twentieth-Century Fox Film Corp. (S.D.N.Y. 1979) 480 F.Supp. 1195 (awarding approximately 53% of the settlement as attorneys’ fees). California courts routinely approve attorneys’ fees awards “average[ing] around one-third of the recovery.” Chavez v. Netflix, Inc. (2008) 162 Cal.App.4th 43, 66 n.11 (lower court found the range of contingency fees in marketplace to be 20 to 40 percent and determined such a percentage fee was appropriate); see also, e.g., Resendez v. Bridgestone Retail Operations, LLC, Los Angeles County Superior Court, Case No. BC596892 (June 2016) (citing Chavez, supra, 162 Cal.App.4th at 66, n.11) (approving a fee award of one-third of the settlement amount of $950,000, in a PAGA action, because it was “reasonable and consistent with fee awards in class action cases”).

Plaintiff’s Counsel has litigated this matter since it was commenced, with the very real possibility of an unsuccessful outcome and no fee recovery of any kind.⁶⁶ Counsel for the Parties undertook significant investigation, and also invested time reviewing and analyzing relevant documents and data to evaluate Plaintiff’s claims, including, and not limited to, calculating the potential monetary recovery under PAGA.⁶⁷ Other work performed by Plaintiff’s Counsel included, but was not limited to: meeting and conferring with Defendant’s counsel regarding production of documents and data, mediation, and settlement, among other issues; participating in case strategy and analysis; drafting, reviewing, and revising the mediation brief; and preparing for and attending court proceedings and mediation settlement negotiations.⁶⁸

In the present case, Plaintiff’s Counsel has borne all of the risks and costs of litigation.⁶⁹ Plaintiff’s Counsel is experienced in complex wage-and-hour litigation and used that experience to obtain a great result for Plaintiff, the PAGA Settlement Members and the State of California.⁷⁰ Considering the amount of fees requested, work performed, risks incurred, results obtained, and experience of Plaintiff’s Counsel in handling similar matters, Plaintiff maintains that the requested attorneys' fees are reasonable and should be awarded.

B. The Fee Award Requested by Plaintiff's Counsel Is Reasonable Based on the Factors Considered in Determination of Fee Awards

The factors which courts consider in determining whether fee awards are reasonable, all of which support the fee award requested by Plaintiff's Counsel, are: (1) the time and labor required; (2) the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved; (3) the skill requisite to perform the legal services properly; (4) the preclusion of other employment by the attorney due to the acceptance of the case; (5) the customary fee; (6) whether the fee is fixed or contingent; (7) the time limitation imposed by the client or the circumstances; (8) the amount involved and results obtained; (9) the experience, reputation, and ability of the attorney; (10) the undesirability of the case; (11) the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client; and (12) awards in similar cases. Camden I Condominium Association, Inc. v. Dunkel (11th Cir. 1991) 946 F. 2d 768, 772. Some of the most relevant factors to this Court's fee determination will be addressed below.

It should be highlighted that the percentage award sought is commensurate with the time, effort, and expense dedicated to the case, the contingent nature of Plaintiff's Counsel's representation and the risks taken in commencing the Action, the skill and determination required, the results that Plaintiff's Counsel has achieved, and the value of the settlement that Plaintiff's Counsel has obtained on behalf of Plaintiff, the PAGA Settlement Members, and the State of California. For the reasons discussed herein, an award of attorneys' fees in the amount of forty percent (40%) of the PAGA Settlement Amount is reasonable.

1. Time & Labor

Plaintiff's Counsel has used its experience and skills in litigating complex wage-and-hour actions to bring this matter to a successful conclusion. Prior to commencing this lawsuit, Plaintiff's Counsel conducted a significant amount of investigation into the factual and legal issues, Defendant's business, and its operations and employment policies, practices, and procedures.⁷¹ During the litigation of the Action, Plaintiff's Counsel had the opportunity to interview and obtain information from Plaintiff and other PAGA Settlement Members, conducted legal research, reviewed and analyzed a large volume of documents and data, prepared for and attended mediation, evaluated the PAGA claim, and calculated the potential monetary recovery under PAGA.⁷² Plaintiff's Counsel also met and conferred with Defendant's counsel over issues relating to production of documents and data, the mediation, and settlement.⁷³ Plaintiff's Counsel performed other work including, inter alia, case strategy and analysis; and engaging in extensive settlement negotiations.⁷⁴

Plaintiff's Counsel dedicated the full extent of staffing and monetary resources necessary to prosecute the case with maximum efficiency and has fully and actively participated in the litigation process. The Attorney Task and Time Chart, which is attached as "EXHIBIT 2" to the accompanying Declaration of Edwin Aiwazian, sets forth in detail the hours that Plaintiff's Counsel has spent performing tasks in this matter. Attorneys at Lawyers for Justice, PC have spent 300.20 hours to obtain a recovery on behalf of Plaintiff, the PAGA Settlement Members, and the State of California. These hours were required to bring the case to its successful conclusion.

In light of the value of time expended and the carrying of costs involved in this litigation, the requested attorneys' fees award is fair, adequate, and reasonable.

2. The Skill Required to Perform Legal Services Properly

The skill required to properly litigate this case is evident not only in the results achieved, but in the steps necessary to reach the same. Defendant retained highly-respected counsel to represent its defenses. Defendant and its counsel felt very strongly about Defendant's ability to prevail on the merits and avoid representative adjudication of the PAGA claim. Plaintiff and ⁷¹ Aiwazian Decl., ¶ 14.

Plaintiff's Counsel believe that the PAGA claim has merit and that Plaintiff will prevail at trial. Plaintiff's Counsel undertook extensive investigation, analysis, and research prior to filing the lawsuit and during the litigation. Plaintiff's Counsel took steps to prepare the case for trial and had every intention of taking the case to trial if Defendant did not offer an appropriate settlement.

Plaintiff's Counsel's effort and skill were used to, among other things, investigate the allegations and gather facts, research the legal issues, analyze data and information obtained from Defendant, Plaintiff, and through other sources, evaluate the PAGA claim, and negotiate the settlement. Despite all of the obstacles that had to be overcome, Plaintiff's Counsel used its extensive experience and skill in the handling of complex wage-and-hour matters to advocate for and obtain PAGA Settlement Members and the State of California a recovery now, with maximum efficiency, as opposed to the possibility of recovery in the future, after significant expense and time.⁷⁵

3. The Value of the Settlement

The Settlement represents an excellent resolution of this lawsuit, given the uncertainty and risks of further litigation.⁷⁶ Had the case not settled, Defendant would have vigorously challenged manageability and liability, and sought a reduction in the amount assessed as penalties. Defendant, however, faced risks too, including and not limited to, the risk of having the Court assess penalties. Additionally, preparing the case for trial would have been extraordinarily expensive for the Parties.

At this stage, the settlement is preferred over continued litigation because such resolution saves time and money that would otherwise go to litigation. The risks and expenses of further litigation outweighed any benefit that might have been gained otherwise. The Settlement provides an immediate recovery, as opposed to an uncertain result in the future after prolonged litigation involving expert discovery, trial preparation, and appellate review of those ⁷⁵ Aiwazian Decl., ¶¶ 16-20.

⁷⁶ Id., ¶¶ 15, 16, 20, & 26.

proceedings. The Settlement offers present and considerable monetary relief to Plaintiff, the PAGA Settlement Members, and the State of California while avoiding additional expense, risk, and delay in obtaining possible further recovery.

4. Whether the Fee Is Fixed or Contingent

The representation provided by Plaintiff's Counsel has been on a contingent basis and Plaintiff's Counsel took on this matter without knowing whether any recovery would be obtained. Plaintiff's Counsel has invested 300.20 hours of time to obtain relief on behalf of Plaintiff, the PAGA Settlement Members, and the State of California. Plaintiff's Counsel is also requesting reimbursement of litigation costs and expenses in the amount of $19,322.33.⁷⁷

In this case, Plaintiff's Counsel has borne all of the risks and costs of litigation.⁷⁸ If Plaintiff's Counsel had not been successful, the time that they have devoted to litigating the case would have been for naught and would not have produced any fee or any reimbursement of costs or expenses. Plaintiff's Counsel is well-experienced in complex wage-and-hour litigation and used that experience to obtain a great result for Plaintiff, the PAGA Settlement Members, and the State of California.⁷⁹ The skill and determination that Plaintiff's Counsel has shown throughout the Action justify the requested attorneys' fees and costs. Considering the amounts requested, work performed, and risks incurred, the requested fees and costs are reasonable and should be awarded.

5. The Amount Involved and the Results Achieved

The results achieved, in light of the difficulties inherent in similar cases and the specific difficulties faced in this case, are considerable. Here, the results achieved, and the recovery obtained on behalf of Plaintiff, the PAGA Settlement Members, and the State of California represent a fair and reasonable resolution of this lawsuit. Plaintiff's Counsel's efforts have resulted in a settlement that provides for a PAGA Settlement Amount of $350,000.00, and it is currently estimated that the PAGA Fund available for distribution to the PAGA Settlement ⁷⁹ Id., ¶¶ 2-7.

Members and the State of California, as set forth in Part III.C infra, is approximately $175,677.67.⁸⁰

6. The Reputation and Ability of the Attorneys

Plaintiff's Counsel is a recognized class action and complex litigation law firm, and its attorneys employed their knowledge, skill, and experience to bring the case to a successful conclusion. Plaintiff's Counsel has years of wage-and-hour class action and complex litigation experience, has recovered millions of dollars on behalf of thousands of individuals in California, and has successfully handled numerous significant wage-and-hour class action and representative action cases.⁸¹

C. The Lodestar Methodology Also Justifies Approval of the Requested Fees, Because Plaintiff's Counsel Has Performed Work That Is of Significant Value Based on Reasonable Hours and Prevailing Hourly Rates of Compensation

While the percentage-of-the-benefit approach is endorsed as the better approximation of the workings of the marketplace than the lodestar approach, courts may also use the lodestar method to "cross-check" the results of the other. See Laffitte, supra, 1 Cal.5th at 505 (explaining that "[a] lodestar cross-check is simply a quantitative method for bringing a measure of the time spent by counsel into the trial court's reasonableness determination"); see also, e.g., Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1050 ("[W]hile the primary basis of the fee award remains the percentage method, the lodestar may provide a useful perspective on the reasonableness of a given percentage award."). Importantly, "the lodestar calculation . . . does not override the trial court's primary determination of the fee as a percentage" and "does not impose an absolute maximum or minimum on the potential fee award." Laffitte, supra, 1 Cal.5th at 505.

⁸⁰ Aiwazian Decl., ¶ 11.

⁸¹ Id., ¶¶ 2-7.

The lodestar is calculated based on reasonable hours at reasonable prevailing hourly rates for the attorneys. Ketchum, supra, 24 Cal.4th at 1131-32. Under California law, counsel is entitled to compensation for every hour reasonably spent on the matter. Id. at 1133.

1. Plaintiff's Counsel Performed Work for a Reasonable Number of Hours

The reasonableness of hours is assessed by “the entire course of the litigation, including pretrial matters, settlement negotiations, discovery, litigation tactics, and the trial itself[.]” Vo v. Las Virgenes Municipal Water Dist. (2000) 79 Cal.App.4th 440, 447.

As discussed above, this case was highly contested and required a significant amount of time and labor. Defendant made it clear very early on that it disputed all of Plaintiff's allegations and disputed that representative adjudication was appropriate. Defendant also argued, inter alia, that it had facially-compliant employment policies and practices throughout the time period at issue.⁸² Defendant raised affirmative defenses and denied liability, and the pursuit of this case involved gathering and analyzing data from Defendant as well as other sources.⁸³ The handling of this litigation involved a great amount of effort, and also required and involved the exercise of a high level of skill, which Plaintiff's Counsel has, as a result of its extensive experience in complex wage-and-hour litigation. Long and difficult battles would have followed as the case moved toward trial, including taking and defending declarant and expert depositions, depositions of person most knowledgeable designees, conducting formal discovery, and engaging in extensive motion practice. As Plaintiff's Counsel geared up for these battles, Plaintiff's Counsel undertook intense preparation in an attempt to resolve the entire matter through settlement negotiations.

Plaintiff's Counsel had to bring together a large volume of data and documents that were produced by Defendant and obtained from Plaintiff, PAGA Settlement Members, and through other sources. Plaintiff's Counsel conducted extensive review and analysis of these documents and data to strategize and evaluate the case and engage in settlement discussions.

⁸² Aiwazian Decl., ¶ 17.

⁸³ Id., ¶¶ 14 & 20.

As set forth above in Part VI.B.1 supra, attached to the Declaration of Edwin Aiwarzian is the Attorney Task and Time Chart that sets forth in detail the numerous tasks that Plaintiff's Counsel performed in this matter, and the time required for completing those tasks.⁸⁴ The chart demonstrates that Plaintiff's Counsel has spent a total of 300.20 hours on this matter. In light of the facts and circumstances of this case, as well as the results Plaintiff's Counsel has achieved on behalf of Plaintiff, the PAGA Settlement Members, and the State of California, Plaintiff's Counsel has spent a reasonable number of hours on this matter.

2. The Fees Requested Represent a Reasonable Hourly Rate of Compensation in Light of Plaintiff's Counsel's Efforts and Experience

Both California and federal courts recognize that attorneys should be compensated for providing representation on a contingency basis and for taking on the risks associated with said representation, as well as being provided with financial incentives to enforce important rights and protections like those at issue in this matter. See Ketchum, supra, 24 Cal.4th at 1132-33. In awarding attorneys' fees, the aim is to mirror "the established practice in the private legal market of rewarding attorneys for taking the risk of nonpayment by paying them a premium over their normal hourly rates for winning contingency cases." See id.

Plaintiff's Counsel has been actively involved in the prosecution of this case, prior to the commencement of the Action and all the way up to approval of the settlement, and their dedication to the representation of Plaintiff, the PAGA Settlement Members, and the State of California has precluded other employment. Here, Plaintiff's Counsel bore the risk that, despite all of their efforts and skills employed, there may be no recovery. Ultimately, Plaintiff's Counsel was successful in reaching a settlement of $350,000.00.

As set forth in the Declaration of Edwin Aiwarzian, the professional backgrounds and experience of Plaintiff's Counsel support a reasonable blended hourly rate of compensation of at least $700 per hour for services provided by Plaintiff's Counsel.⁸⁵ Lawyers for Justice, PC has ⁸⁴ Aiwarzian Decl., Exh. 2.

⁸⁵ Aiwarzian Decl., ¶ 24.

1 been awarded attorneys' fees, compensating the firm at the blended rate of at least $700 for legal
2 services performed, by courts of this state.⁸⁶ While the circumstance of every case is unique, the 3 fact remains that the work performed and efforts undertaken by Plaintiff's Counsel in this matter
4 justify the requested attorneys' fees award.

5 The lodestar method, as a cross-check to the percentage fee sought, strongly supports the 6 reasonableness of the requested attorneys' fees award. Applying the rate of $700 per hour to 7 300.20 hours worked by Plaintiff's Counsel, would place a base lodestar value of $210,140.00 on 8 the services provided by Plaintiff's Counsel. However, Plaintiff's Counsel only seeks an 9 attorneys' fee award of $140,000.00 (equal to 40% of the PAGA Settlement Amount based on 10 the Settlement Agreement).

11 It also bears noting that a court may apply a multiplier in consideration for risk, efficiency, 12 and/or obtaining a substantial result, to enhance the lodestar for purpose of cross-check. See 13 Ketchum, 24 Cal.4th at 1133-34 (holding that a risk multiplier may be applied to compensate 14 contingency fee attorneys at a fair market rate). Such an enhancement "mirrors the established 15 practice in the private legal market of rewarding attorneys for taking the risk of nonpayment by 16 paying them a premium over their normal hourly rates for winning contingency cases." Vizcaino,
17 290 F.3d at 1051; accord Ketchum, supra, 24 Cal.4th 1122, 1132-34. A risk multiplier also serves

18 ⁸⁶ For example, final approval of the class and representative action settlement in David Dugan v. TEC Equipment,
19 Inc., et al. (Los Angeles Superior Court Case No. 19STCV01591) was granted on July 8, 2021, and the award of 20 attorneys' fees involved an hourly rate of $936.47; final approval of the class and representative action settlement in 21 Larry Greenwood, et al. v. Scan Health Plan (Los Angeles Superior Court Case No. BC715157) was granted on

26 et al. v. Healthport Technologies, LLC (Alameda County Superior Court Case No. RG16835813) was granted on 27 June 11, 2019, and the award of attorneys' fees involved an hourly rate of $764.82; final approval of the class and 28 representative action settlement in Seth Swan v. Pace Supply (Sonoma County Superior Court Case No. SCV258764) was granted on February 6, 2019, and the award of attorneys' fees involved an hourly rate of $855.96; final approval of the class and representative action settlement in Stanley Bland, et al. v. Telecare Corporation (Alameda County Superior Court Case No. RG16811450) was granted on November 21, 2018, and the award of attorneys' fees involved to bring the financial incentives for enforcing important rights “into line with incentives [attorneys] have to undertake claims for which they are paid on a fee-for-services basis.” Ketchum, 24 Cal.4th at 1132. Courts have also approved fee awards with multipliers of 2 and even higher. See, e.g., City of Oakland v. Oakland Raiders (1988) 203 Cal.App.3d 78 (affirming a 2.34 multiplier without remand); Wershba, supra, 91 Cal.App.4th at 255 (“Multipliers can range from 2 to 4 or even higher.”); Sutter Health Uninsured Pricing Cases (2009) 171 Cal.App.4th 495, 512 (applying a 2.52 multiplier on a lodestar cross-check); Chavez, supra, 162 Cal.App.4th at 66 (applying a 2.5 multiplier in a consumer class action).

The lodestar method as a cross-check to the percentage figure sought strongly supports the reasonableness of the requested attorneys’ fees. Accordingly, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court approve and grant an attorneys’ fees award in the amount of $140,000.00 to Plaintiff’s Counsel, which is reasonable and justified on a percentage-basis, but also based on a lodestar cross-check.

VII. COSTS TO BE REIMBURSED TO PLAINTIFF’S COUNSEL ARE FAIR AND REASONABLE, AND SHOULD BE APPROVED

The Settlement provides for reimbursement of litigation costs and expenses of up to $25,000.00. As set forth in the Declaration of Edwin Aiwarzian, Plaintiff’s Counsel has incurred a total of $19,322.33 in litigation costs and expenses.⁸⁷ These expenses were reasonable and necessary in the prosecution of this matter and to obtain the Settlement, and is less than the maximum amount allocated under the Settlement Agreement for reimbursement of litigation costs and expenses.⁸⁸ The costs savings of $5,677.67 will be part of the PAGA Fund.⁸⁹ Accordingly, Plaintiff’s Counsel requests that the Court award reimbursement of litigation costs and expenses in the amount of $19,322.33 to Plaintiff’s Counsel.

VIII. THE PROPOSED COVER LETTER TO THE PAGA SETTLEMENT MEMBERS SHOULD BE APPROVED

Although PAGA does not require notice to unnamed aggrieved employees of a settlement, the Parties prepared, and now present for the Court's consideration and approval, the Cover Letter for transmission to the PAGA Settlement Members along with their Individual Settlement Share checks (together, PAGA Settlement Package), substantially in the form attached as "EXHIBIT 1" to the [Proposed] Order and Judgment and as "EXHIBIT A" to the Settlement Agreement. The Cover Letter informs the PAGA Settlement Members about the Action and the Settlement. Accordingly, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court approve the Cover Letter for transmission to the PAGA Settlement Members at the time of disbursing their Individual Settlement Shares.

IX. THE PROPOSED SETTLEMENT ADMINISTRATION COSTS ARE FAIR AND REASONABLE, AND SHOULD BE APPROVED

As set forth in the Settlement Agreement, the Parties have agreed to retain, subject to approval by the Court, Atticus Administration, LLC to handle the administration of the Settlement. The fees and expenses of the PAGA Settlement Administrator are estimated not to exceed $5,000.00. These costs include, but are not limited to, expenses for preparing, printing, and mailing the Cover Letter and Individual Settlement Share checks to the PAGA Settlement Members (i.e., PAGA Settlement Package); performing skip-trace searches; re-mailing the returned PAGA Settlement Packages to any updated addresses located; and handling inquiries from PAGA Settlement Members regarding the Settlement, among other things. Accordingly, the Court should grant approval of the Settlement Administration Costs in the amount of up to $5,000.00 to Atticus Administration, LLC, a necessary third-party for handling the settlement process.

X. THE PROPOSED ENHANCEMENT AWARD IS FAIR, ADEQUATE, AND REASONABLE, AND SHOULD BE APPROVED

The Settlement provides for a Enhancement Award to be paid to Plaintiff in the amount of $10,000.00.⁹⁰ The purpose of such an award is to incentivize aggrieved employees to step into the shoes of the state labor agency and undertake the responsibilities associated with initiating a lawsuit and serving in a representative capacity. See Bell v. Farmers Ins. Exch. (2004) 115 Cal.App.4th 715, 726 (“service payments” compensate named plaintiff “for [her] efforts in bringing the action”); Clark v. Am. Residential Servs., LLC (2009) 175 Cal.App.4th 785, 804 (“an incentive award is appropriate ‘if it is necessary to induce an individual to participate in the suit’”); accord Ingram v. The Coca-Cola Co. (N.D. Ga. 2001) 200 F.R.D. 685, 694 (internal quotation marks omitted) (“Courts routinely approve incentive awards to compensate named plaintiffs for the services they provided and the risks they incurred during the course of the [...] litigation.”); see also, e.g., Resendez, supra, Los Angeles County Superior Court, Case No. BC59689 (approving $10,000 enhancement award in a PAGA action).

Here, Plaintiff contributed considerable time and effort to the litigation of this case in order to enforce the California Labor Code on behalf of the State of California and for the benefit of other PAGA Settlement Members. Plaintiff discussed her employment with her counsel, gathered and produced relevant documents and information, provided the facts and evidence necessary to attempt to prove the allegations.⁹¹ Plaintiff was available whenever her counsel needed her and tried to obtain documents and information that would aid in the litigation of the PAGA claims and pursuit of recovery on behalf of the State of California and PAGA Settlement Members.⁹² Additionally, as a part of the Settlement, Plaintiff has agreed to a broader release of claims than the release of claims that applies to the PAGA Settlement Members.⁹³

Accordingly, it is reasonable and just for Plaintiff to receive an Enhancement Award in the amount of $10,000.00, in addition to the Individual Settlement Share that she will receive as a PAGA Settlement Member.

⁹² Aiwasian Decl., ¶ 25. Cain Decl., ¶¶ 3 & 4.

⁹³ Settlement Agreement, § 8(b).

XI. CONCLUSION

The Settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable, as it represents a reasoned compromise of disputed claims that has been reached through arm's-length negotiations, in light of the risks, complexity, and expense of further litigation. Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court approve the Settlement, including the plan of allocation and distribution of the PAGA Settlement Amount, for the LWDA Payment to the LWDA, Individual Settlement Shares to the PAGA Settlement Members, Attorneys' Fees and Costs to Plaintiff's Counsel, Settlement Administration Costs to the PAGA Settlement Administrator, and Enhancement Award to Plaintiff, and permit the filing of a memorandum that exceeds the page limit.
