DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

COME NOW, Plaintiffs NICHOLAS CARLTON, RICHARD FLORES, ROBERT LARKIN, LENNY MARTINEZ, GUILIAN MORENO, and JUAN CARLOS PINEDA (collectively, “Plaintiffs”), individually, on behalf of other members of the general public similarly situated, and on behalf of aggrieved employees pursuant to the Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 (“PAGA”) and allege as follows:

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. This class action is brought pursuant to the California Code of Civil Procedure section 382. The monetary damages and restitution sought by Plaintiffs exceeds the minimal jurisdiction limits of the Superior Court and will be established according to proof at trial.

2. This Court has jurisdiction over this action pursuant to the California Constitution, Article VI, Section 10, which grants the superior court “original jurisdiction in all other causes” except those given by statute to other courts. The statutes under which this action is brought do not specify any other basis for jurisdiction.

3. This Court has jurisdiction over Defendants because, upon information and belief, Defendants are citizens of California, have sufficient minimum contacts in California, or otherwise intentionally avail themselves of the California market so as to render the exercise of jurisdiction over them by the California courts consistent with traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

4. Venue is proper in this Court because, upon information and belief, Defendants maintain offices, have agents, and/or transact business in the State of California, including the County of San Diego. The majority of the acts and omissions alleged herein relating to Plaintiffs took place in the State of California. Defendants employed Plaintiffs within the State of California.

PARTIES

5. Plaintiff NICHOLAS CARLTON is an individual residing in the State of California, County of San Bernardino.

6. Plaintiff RICHARD FLORES is an individual residing in the State of California, County of Sacramento.

1           7.       Plaintiff ROBERT LARKIN is an individual residing in the State of California,
2 County of San Joaquin.

3           8.       Plaintiff LENNY MARTINEZ is an individual residing in the State of
4 California, County of San Bernardino.

5           9.       Plaintiff GUILIAN MORENO is an individual residing in the State of 6 California, County of Riverside.

7           10.      Plaintiff JUAN CARLOS PINEDA is an individual residing in the State of
8 California, County of San Bernardino.

9           11.      Defendant WAXIE’S ENTERPRISES, LLC, at all times herein mentioned, is 10 and was, upon information and belief, a Delaware limited liability company, and at all times
11 herein mentioned, was and is, an employer whose employees are engaged throughout the State
12 of California, including the County of San Diego.

13          12.      At all relevant times, Defendant WAXIE’S ENTERPRISES, LLC was the 14 “employer” of Plaintiffs within the meaning of all applicable California laws and statutes.

15          13.      At all times herein relevant, Defendants WAXIE’S ENTERPRISES, LLC and 16 DOES 1 through 100, and each of them, were the agents, partners, joint venturers, joint 17 employers, representatives, servants, employees, successors-in-interest, co-conspirators and 18 assigns, each of the other, and at all times relevant hereto were acting within the course and 19 scope of their authority as such agents, partners, joint venturers, joint employers, 20 representatives, servants, employees, successors, co-conspirators and assigns, and all acts or 21 omissions alleged herein were duly committed with the ratification, knowledge, permission,
22 encouragement, authorization, and consent of each defendant designated herein.

23       ///

24       ///

25       ///

14. The true names and capacities, whether corporate, associate, individual or otherwise, of Defendants DOES 1 through 100, inclusive, are unknown to Plaintiffs, who sue said defendants by such fictitious names. Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based on that information and belief allege, that each of the Defendants designated as a DOE is legally responsible for the events and happenings referred to in this Complaint, and unlawfully caused the injuries and damages to Plaintiffs and the other class members as alleged in this Complaint. Plaintiffs will seek leave of court to amend this Complaint to show the true names and capacities when the same have been ascertained.

15. Defendants WAXIE’S ENTERPRISES, LLC and DOES 1 through 100 will hereinafter collectively be referred to as “Defendants.”

16. Plaintiffs further allege that Defendants directly or indirectly controlled or affected the working conditions, wages, working hours, and conditions of employment of Plaintiffs and the other class members so as to make each of said Defendants employers and employers liable under the statutory provisions set forth herein.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

17. Plaintiffs bring this action individually and on behalf of all other members of the general public similarly situated, and, thus, seek class certification under Code of Civil Procedure section 382.

18. The proposed class is defined as follows:

All current and former hourly-paid or non-exempt employees of Defendants who worked for Defendants in the State of California at any time during the period from June 16, 2017, through July 1, 2022.

19. Plaintiffs reserve the right to establish subclasses as appropriate.

20. The class is ascertainable and there is a well-defined community of interest in the litigation:

/ / /

/ / /

- 1 a. Numerosity: The class members are so numerous that joinder of all class
2 members is impracticable. The membership of the entire class is 3 unknown to Plaintiffs at this time; however, the class is estimated to be 4 greater than fifty (50) individuals and the identity of such membership is 5 readily ascertainable by inspection of Defendants' employment records.
- 6 b. Typicality: Plaintiffs' claims are typical of all other class members'
7 claims as demonstrated herein. Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately
8 protect the interests of the other class members with whom they have a 9 well-defined community of interest.
- 10 c. Adequacy: Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately protect the interests of 11 each class member, with whom they have a well-defined community of 12 interest and typicality of claims, as demonstrated herein. Plaintiffs have 13 no interest that is antagonistic to the other class members. Plaintiffs'
14 attorneys, the proposed class counsel, are versed in the rules governing 15 class action discovery, certification, and settlement. Plaintiffs have 16 incurred, and during the pendency of this action will continue to incur, 17 costs and attorneys' fees, that have been, are, and will be necessarily 18 expended for the prosecution of this action for the substantial benefit of 19 each class member.
- 20 d. Superiority: A class action is superior to other available methods for the 21 fair and efficient adjudication of this litigation because individual joinder
22 of all class members is impractical.

23 ///

24 ///

25 ///

1 e. Public Policy Considerations: Certification of this lawsuit as a class
2 action will advance public policy objectives. Employers of this great
3 state violate employment and labor laws every day. Current employees
4 are often afraid to assert their rights out of fear of direct or indirect
5 retaliation. However, class actions provide the class members who are 6 not named in the complaint anonymity that allows for the vindication of 7 their rights.

8 21. There are common questions of law and fact as to the class members that 9 predominate over questions affecting only individual members. The following common 10 questions of law or fact, among others, exist as to the members of the class:

- 11 a. Whether Defendants' failure to pay wages, without abatement or 12 reduction, in accordance with the California Labor Code, was willful;
- 13 b. Whether Defendants failed to pay their hourly-paid or non-exempt
14 employees within the State of California for all hours worked and missed
15 meal periods and rest breaks in violation of California law;
- 16 c. Whether Defendants required Plaintiffs and the other class members to 17 work over eight (8) hours per day and/or over forty (40) hours per week
18 and failed to pay the legally required overtime compensation to Plaintiffs 19 and the other class members;
- 20 d. Whether Defendants properly calculated the regular rate for Plaintiffs 21 and the other class members who worked overtime and earned incentive 22 pay;
- 23 e. Whether Defendants deprived Plaintiffs and the other class members of 24 meal and/or rest periods or required Plaintiffs and the other class
25 members to work during meal and/or rest periods without compensation;
- 26 f. Whether Defendants failed to pay minimum wages to Plaintiffs and the 27 other class members for all hours worked;

28 ///

- 1 g. Whether Defendants failed to pay all wages due to Plaintiffs and the 2 other class members within the required time upon their discharge or 3 resignation;
- 4 h. Whether Defendants failed to timely pay all wages due to Plaintiffs and 5 the other class members during their employment;
- 6 i. Whether Defendants complied with wage reporting as required by the 7 California Labor Code, including, inter alia, section 226;
- 8 j. Whether Defendants failed to reimburse Plaintiffs and the other class 9 members for necessary business-related expenses and costs;
- 10 k. Whether Defendants' conduct was willful or reckless;
- 11 l. Whether Defendants engaged in unfair business practices in violation of 12 California Business & Professions Code section 17200, et seq.;
- 13 m. The appropriate amount of damages, restitution, and/or monetary 14 penalties resulting from Defendants' violation of California law; and
- 15 n. Whether Plaintiffs and the other class members are entitled to 16 compensatory damages pursuant to the California Labor Code.

17 GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

18 22. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants employed Plaintiffs 19 and other persons as hourly-paid or non-exempt employees within the State of California.

20 23. Defendants, jointly and severally, employed Plaintiffs as hourly-paid non-
21 exempt employees during the relevant time period in the State of California.

22 24. Defendants had the authority to hire and terminate Plaintiffs and the other class
23 members; to set work rules and conditions governing Plaintiffs' and the other class members'
24 employment; and to supervise their daily employment activities.

25 25. Defendants exercised sufficient authority over the terms and conditions of 26 Plaintiffs' and the other class members' employment for them to be joint employers of 27 Plaintiffs and the other class members.

28 ///

1           26. Defendants directly hired and paid wages and benefits to Plaintiffs and the other
2 class members.

3           27. Defendants continue to employ hourly-paid or non-exempt employees within the 4 State of California.

5           28. Plaintiffs and the other class members worked over eight (8) hours in a day,
6 and/or forty (40) hours in a week during their employment with Defendants.

7           29. Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based thereon allege, that Defendants
8 engaged in a uniform policy and systematic scheme of wage abuse against their hourly-paid or 9 non-exempt employees within the State of California. This scheme involved, inter alia, failing 10 to pay them for all hours worked, missed meal periods, and missed rest breaks in violation of 11 California law.

12           30. Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based thereon allege, that Defendants
13 knew or should have known that Plaintiffs and the other class members were entitled to receive
14 certain wages for overtime compensation and that Plaintiffs and the other class members were 15 not receiving wages for overtime compensation.

16           31. Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based thereon alleges, that Defendants
17 failed to provide Plaintiffs and the other class members the required rest and meal periods
18 during the relevant time period as required under the Industrial Welfare Commission Wage 19 Orders and thus they are entitled to any and all applicable penalties.

20           32. Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based thereon allege, that Defendants
21 knew or should have known that Plaintiffs and the other class members were entitled to receive
22 all timely and complete meal periods or payment of one additional hour of pay at Plaintiffs'
23 and the other class members' regular rates of pay when a meal period was missed, late or 24 interrupted, and that Plaintiffs and the other class members did not receive all timely and 25 proper meal periods or payment of one additional hour of pay at their regular rates of pay when 26 a meal period was missed.

27 ///

28 ///

1           33.     Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based thereon allege, that Defendants
2 knew or should have known that Plaintiffs and the other class members were entitled to receive 3 all timely rest periods without interruption or payment of one additional hour of pay at 4 Plaintiffs' and the other class members' regular rates of pay when a rest period was missed,
5 late or interrupted, and that Plaintiffs and the other class members did not receive all rest
6 periods or payment of one additional hour of pay at their regular rates of pay when a rest
7 period was missed.

8           34.     Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based thereon allege, that Defendants
9 knew or should have known that Plaintiffs and the other class members were entitled to receive
10 at least minimum wages for compensation and that Plaintiffs and the other class members were 11 not receiving at least minimum wages for all hours worked.

12           35.     Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based thereon allege, that Defendants
13 knew or should have known that Plaintiffs and the other class members were entitled to receive
14 the wages owed to them upon discharge or resignation, including overtime and minimum
15 wages and meal and rest period premiums, and that Plaintiffs and the other class members did
16 not, in fact, receive such wages owed to them at the time of their discharge or resignation.

17           36.     Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based thereon allege, that Defendants
18 knew or should have known that Plaintiffs and the other class members were entitled to receive
19 complete and accurate wage statements in accordance with California law, but, in fact,
20 Plaintiffs and the other class members did not receive complete and accurate wage statements
21 from Defendants. The deficiencies included, inter alia, the failure to include the total number
22 of hours worked by Plaintiffs and the other class members.

23           37.     Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based thereon alleges, that Defendants
24 knew or should have known that Plaintiffs and the other class members were entitled to 25 reimbursement for necessary business-related expenses.

26     ///

27     ///

28     ///

1           38.     Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based thereon allege, that Defendants
2 knew or should have known that Defendants had to keep complete and accurate payroll records
3 for Plaintiffs and the other class members in accordance with California law, but, in fact, did
4 not keep complete and accurate payroll records for Plaintiffs and the other class members.

5           39.     Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based thereon allege, that Defendants
6 knew or should have known that they had a duty to compensate Plaintiffs and the other class
7 members pursuant to California law, and that Defendants had the financial ability to pay such
8 compensation, but willfully, knowingly, and intentionally failed to do so, and falsely
9 represented to Plaintiffs and the other class members that they were properly denied wages, all 10 in order to increase Defendants' profits.

11           40.     During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants failed to pay
12 overtime wages to Plaintiffs and the other class members for all hours worked. Plaintiffs and 13 the other class members were required to work more than eight (8) hours per day and/or forty 14 (40) hours per week without overtime compensation.

15           41.     During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants failed to provide the 16 requisite uninterrupted and timely meal and rest periods to Plaintiffs and the other class
17 members.

18           42.     During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants failed to pay
19 Plaintiffs and the other class members at least minimum wages for all hours worked.

20           43.     During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants failed to pay
21 Plaintiffs and the other class members the wages owed to them upon discharge or resignation.

22           44.     During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants failed to provide 23 complete or accurate wage statements to Plaintiffs and the other class members.

24           45.     During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants failed to reimburse
25 Plaintiffs and the other class members for necessary business-related expenses.

26           46.     During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants failed to keep 27 complete or accurate payroll records for Plaintiffs and the other class members.

28     ///

47. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants failed to properly compensate Plaintiffs and the other class members pursuant to California law in order to increase Defendants' profits.

48. California Labor Code section 218 states that nothing in Article 1 of the Labor Code shall limit the right of any wage claimant to “sue directly . . . for any wages or penalty due to him [or her] under this article.”

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of California Labor Code §§ 510 and 1198)

(Against WAXIE'S ENTERPRISES, LLC and DOES 1 through 100)

49. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations contained in Paragraphs 1 through 48, and each and every part thereof with the same force and effect as though fully set forth herein.

50. California Labor Code section 1198 and the applicable Industrial Welfare Commission (“IWC”) Wage Order provide that it is unlawful to employ persons without compensating them at a rate of pay either time-and-one-half or two-times that person’s regular rate of pay, depending on the number of hours worked by the person on a daily or weekly basis.

51. Specifically, the applicable IWC Wage Order provides that Defendants are and were required to pay Plaintiffs and the other class members employed by Defendants, who work(ed) more than eight (8) hours in a day or more than forty (40) hours in a workweek, at the rate of time-and-one-half for all hours worked in excess of eight (8) hours in a day or more than forty (40) hours in a workweek.

52. The applicable IWC Wage Order further provides that Defendants are and were required to pay Plaintiffs and the other class members overtime compensation at a rate of two times their regular rates of pay for all hours worked in excess of twelve (12) hours in a day.

53. California Labor Code section 510 codifies the right to overtime compensation at one-and-one-half times the regular hourly rate for hours worked in excess of eight (8) hours in a day or forty (40) hours in a week or for the first eight (8) hours worked on the seventh day of work, and overtime compensation at twice the regular hourly rate for hours worked in excess of twelve (12) hours in a day or in excess of eight (8) hours in a day on the seventh day of work.

54. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Plaintiffs and the other class members worked in excess of eight (8) hours in a day, and/or in excess of forty (40) hours in a week.

55. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants intentionally and willfully failed to pay overtime wages owed to Plaintiffs and the other class members.

56. Defendants' failure to pay Plaintiffs and the other class members the unpaid balance of overtime compensation, as required by California laws, violates the provisions of California Labor Code sections 510 and 1198, and is therefore unlawful.

57. Pursuant to California Labor Code section 1194, Plaintiffs and the other class members are entitled to recover unpaid overtime compensation, as well as interest, costs, and attorneys' fees.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of California Labor Code §§ 226.7 and 512(a))

(Against WAXIE'S ENTERPRISES, LLC and DOES 1 through 100)

58. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 57, and each and every part thereof with the same force and effect as though fully set forth herein.

59. During the relevant time period set forth herein, the IWC Order and California Labor Code sections 226.7 and 512(a) were applicable to Plaintiffs' and the other class members' employment by Defendants.

1           60. During the relevant time period set forth herein, California Labor Code section
2 226.7 provides that no employer shall require an employee to work during any meal or rest
3 period mandated by an applicable order of the California IWC.

4           61. During the relevant time period set forth herein, the applicable IWC Wage
5 Order and California Labor Code section 512(a) provide that an employer may not require,
6 cause or permit an employee to work for a work period of more than five (5) hours per day
7 without providing the employee with a meal period of not less than thirty (30) minutes, except
8 that if the total work period per day of the employee is no more than six (6) hours, the meal
9 period may be waived by mutual consent of both the employer and employee.

10           62. During the relevant time period set forth herein, the applicable IWC Wage
11 Order and California Labor Code section 512(a) further provide that an employer may not
12 require, cause, or permit an employee to work for a work period of more than ten (10) hours
13 per day without providing the employee with a second uninterrupted meal period of not less
14 than thirty (30) minutes, except that if the total hours worked is no more than twelve (12)
15 hours, the second meal period may be waived by mutual consent of the employer and the 16 employee only if the first meal period was not waived.

17           63. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Plaintiffs and the other class
18 members who were scheduled to work for a period of time no longer than six (6) hours, and 19 who did not waive their legally mandated meal periods by mutual consent, were required to 20 work for periods longer than five (5) hours without an uninterrupted meal period of not less
21 than thirty (30) minutes and/or without a rest period.

22           64. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Plaintiffs and the other class
23 members who were scheduled to work for a period of time no longer than twelve (12) hours,
24 and who did not waive their legally mandated meal periods by mutual consent, were required
25 to work for periods longer than ten (10) hours without an uninterrupted meal period of not less
26 than thirty (30) minutes and/or without a rest period.

27 ///

28 ///

65. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Plaintiffs and the other class members who were scheduled to work for a period of time in excess of six (6) hours were required to work for periods longer than five (5) hours without an uninterrupted meal period of not less than thirty (30) minutes and/or without a rest period.

66. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Plaintiffs and the other class members who were scheduled to work for a period of time in excess of twelve (12) hours were required to work for periods longer than ten (10) hours without an uninterrupted meal period of not less than thirty (30) minutes and/or without a rest period.

67. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants intentionally and willfully required Plaintiffs and the other class members to work during meal periods and failed to compensate Plaintiffs and the other class members the full meal period premium for work performed during meal periods.

68. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and the other class members the full meal period premium due pursuant to California Labor Code section 226.7.

69. Defendants' conduct violates applicable IWC Wage Order and California Labor Code sections 226.7 and 512(a).

70. Pursuant to the applicable IWC Wage Order and California Labor Code section 226.7(b), Plaintiffs and the other class members are entitled to recover from Defendants one additional hour of pay at the employees' regular rates of compensation for each workday that the meal or rest period is not provided.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of California Labor Code § 226.7)

(Against WAXIE'S ENTERPRISES, LLC and DOES 1 through 100)

71. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 70, and each and every part thereof with the same force and effect as though fully set forth herein.

/ / /

1           72. During the relevant time period set forth herein, the applicable IWC Wage
2 Order and California Labor Code section 226.7 were applicable to Plaintiffs' and the other
3 class members' employment by Defendants.

4           73. During the relevant time period set forth herein, California Labor Code section
5 226.7 provides that no employer shall require an employee to work during any rest period
6 mandated by an applicable order of the California IWC.

7           74. During the relevant time period set forth herein, the applicable IWC Wage
8 Order provides that "[e]very employer shall authorize and permit all employees to take rest 9 periods, which insofar as practicable shall be in the middle of each work period" and that the 10 "rest period time shall be based on the total hours worked daily at the rate of ten (10) minutes 11 net rest time per four (4) hours or major fraction thereof" unless the total daily work time is 12 less than three and one-half (3 ½) hours.

13           75. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants required Plaintiffs 14 and the other class members to work four (4) or more hours without authorizing or permitting a 15 ten (10) minute rest period per each four (4) hour period worked.

16           76. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants willfully required
17 Plaintiffs and the other class members to work during rest periods and failed to pay Plaintiffs
18 and the other class members the full rest period premium for work performed during rest 19 periods.

20           77. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants failed to pay
21 Plaintiffs and the other class members the full rest period premium due pursuant to California
22 Labor Code section 226.7.

23           78. Defendants' conduct violates applicable IWC Wage Orders and California
24 Labor Code section 226.7.

25           79. Pursuant to the applicable IWC Wage Orders and California Labor Code section
26 226.7(b), Plaintiffs and the other class members are entitled to recover from Defendants one 27 additional hour of pay at the employees' regular rates of compensation for each workday that 28 the rest period was not provided.

1 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

2 (Violation of California Labor Code §§ 1194 and 1197)

3 (Against WAXIE’S ENTERPRISES, LLC and DOES 1 through 100)

4 80. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1
5 through 79, and each and every part thereof with the same force and effect as though fully set
6 forth herein.

7 81. During the relevant time period set forth herein, California Labor Code sections
8 1194 and 1197 provide that the minimum wage to be paid to employees, and the payment of a 9 lesser wage than the minimum so fixed, is unlawful.

10 82. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants failed to pay
11 minimum wages to Plaintiffs and the other class members as required, pursuant to California
12 Labor Code sections 1194 and 1197.

13 83. Defendants’ failure to pay Plaintiffs and the other class members the minimum
14 wage as required violates California Labor Code sections 1194 and 1197. Pursuant to those 15 sections, Plaintiffs and the other class members are entitled to recover the unpaid balance of 16 their minimum wage compensation as well as interest, costs, and attorneys’ fees, and 17 liquidated damages in an amount equal to the wages unlawfully unpaid and interest thereon.

18 84. Pursuant to California Labor Code section 1194.2, Plaintiffs and the other class
19 members are entitled to recover liquidated damages in an amount equal to the wages
20 unlawfully unpaid and interest thereon.

86. During the relevant time period set forth herein, California Labor Code sections 201 and 202 provide that if an employer discharges an employee, the wages earned and unpaid at the time of discharge are due and payable immediately, and if an employee quits his or her employment, his or her wages shall become due and payable not later than seventy-two (72) hours thereafter, unless the employee has given seventy-two (72) hours' notice of his or her intention to quit, in which case the employee is entitled to his or her wages at the time of quitting.

87. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants intentionally and willfully failed to pay Plaintiffs and the other class members who are no longer employed by Defendants their wages, earned and unpaid, within seventy-two (72) hours of their leaving Defendants' employ.

88. Defendants' failure to pay Plaintiffs and the other class members who are no longer employed by Defendants their wages, earned and unpaid, within seventy-two (72) hours of their leaving Defendants' employ, is in violation of California Labor Code sections 201 and 202.

89. California Labor Code section 203 provides that if an employer willfully fails to pay wages owed, in accordance with sections 201 and 202, then the wages of the employee shall continue as a penalty from the due date thereof at the same rate until paid or until an action is commenced; but the wages shall not continue for more than thirty (30) days.

90. Plaintiffs and the other class members are entitled to recover from Defendants the statutory penalty wages for each day they were not paid, up to the thirty (30) day maximum as provided by Labor Code section 203.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of California Labor Code § 226(a))

(Against WAXIE'S ENTERPRISES, LLC and DOES 1 through 100)

91. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 90, and each and every part thereof with the same force and effect as though fully set forth herein.

1           92.     During the relevant time period set forth herein, California Labor Code section
2 226(a) provides that every employer shall furnish each of his or her employees an accurate
3 itemized statement in writing showing (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked by the 4 employee, (3) the number of piece-rate units earned and any applicable piece rate if the 5 employee is paid on a piece-rate basis, (4) all deductions, provided that all deductions made on 6 written orders of the employee may be aggregated and shown as one item, (5) net wages
7 earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the period for which the employee is paid, (7) the name of the 8 employee and his or her Social Security number, (8) the name and address of the legal entity
9 that is the employer, and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the 10 corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee. The deductions
11 made from payments of wages shall be recorded in ink or other indelible form, properly dated,
12 showing the month, day, and year, and a copy of the statement or a record of the deductions
13 shall be kept on file by the employer for at least three years at the place of employment or at a
14 central location within the State of California.

15           93.     Defendants have intentionally and willfully failed to provide Plaintiffs and the 16 other class members with complete and accurate wage statements. The deficiencies include but 17 are not limited to, the failure to include the total number of hours worked by Plaintiffs and the 18 other class members.

19           94.     As a result of Defendants' violation of California Labor Code section 226(a),
20 Plaintiffs and the other class members have suffered injury and damage to their statutorily
21 protected rights.

22           95.     More specifically, Plaintiffs and the other class members have been injured by 23 Defendants' intentional and willful violation of California Labor Code section 226(a) because 24 they were denied both their legal right to receive, and their protected interest in receiving,
25 accurate and itemized wage statements pursuant to California Labor Code section 226(a).

26 ///

27 ///

28 ///

1           96.     Plaintiffs and the other class members are entitled to recover from Defendants
2 the greater of their actual damages caused by Defendants' failure to comply with California
3 Labor Code section 226(a), or an aggregate penalty not exceeding four thousand dollars per 4 employee.

5           97.     Plaintiffs and the other class members are also entitled to injunctive relief to 6 ensure compliance with this section, pursuant to California Labor Code section 226(g).

7                                   SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

8                                   (Violation of California Labor Code §§ 2800 and 2802)

9                                   (Against WAXIE'S ENTERPRISES, LLC and DOES 1 through 100)

10          98.     Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1
11 through 97, and each and every part thereof with the same force and effect as though fully set
12 forth herein.

13          99.     During the relevant time period set forth herein, California Labor Code sections
14 2800 and 2802 provide that an employer must reimburse its employee for all necessary
15 expenditures incurred by the employee in direct consequence of the discharge of his or her job
16 duties or in direct consequence of his or her obedience to the directions of the employer.

17          100.    Defendants have intentionally and willfully failed to reimburse Plaintiffs and the 18 other class members for all necessary business-related expenses and costs.

19          101.    Pursuant to California Labor Code sections 2800 and 2802, Plaintiffs and the 20 other class members are entitled to recover from Defendants their business-related expenses and 21 costs incurred during the course and scope of their employment, plus interest accrued from the 22 date on which the employee incurred the necessary expenditures at the same rate as judgments in 23 civil actions in the State of California.

1 EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION

2 (Violation of Labor Code § 2698, et seq. (“PAGA”))

3 (Against WAXIE’S ENTERPRISES, LLC and DOES 1 through 100)

4 102. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1
5 through 101, and each and every part thereof with the same force and effect as though fully set
6 forth herein.

7 103. The Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 (“PAGA”) expressly establishes that 8 any provision of the California Labor Code which provides for a civil penalty to be assessed and 9 collected by the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”), or any of its 10 departments, divisions, commissions, boards, agencies or employees for a violation of the 11 California Labor Code, may be recovered through a civil action brought by an aggrieved
12 employee on behalf of himself or herself, and other current or former employees.

13 104. On April 9, 2021, Plaintiff NICHOLS CARLTON provided written notice to the 14 LWDA and Defendants of the specific provisions of the Labor Code he contends were violated,
15 and the theories supporting his contentions. Attached hereto as Exhibit 1 and incorporated by 16 reference is a copy of the April 9, 2021 written notice to the LWDA. On July 2, 2021, Plaintiff
17 NICHOLAS CARLTON submitted an amended written notice to the LWDA to reflect the 18 correct name of the employer, Waxie’s Enterprises, LLC (previously erroneously named “Waxie
19 Way, LLC”), which is attached hereto as Exhibit 2. Plaintiffs believes that on or about June 13,
20 2021, the sixty-five (65) days’ notice period expired as to all Defendants, and the LWDA did not 21 take any action to investigate or prosecute this matter. Therefore, Plaintiffs exhausted the 22 statutory time period to bring this action.

23 105. Plaintiffs and the other non-exempt employees are “aggrieved employees” as 24 defined by California Labor Code section 2699(c) in that they all are or were hourly-paid or 25 non-exempt employees of Defendants who worked for Defendants in the State of California at 26 any time during the period from April 9, 2020, through July 1, 2022, and one or more of the 27 alleged violations was committed against them.

28 ///

1                                   Failure to Pay Minimum and Overtime Wages

2           106.   At all times relevant herein, Defendants were required to compensate their non-
3 exempt employees minimum wages for all hours worked and overtime wages for all hours
4 worked in excess of eight (8) hours in a day or forty (40) hours in a workweek, pursuant to the 5 mandate of Labor Code sections 510, 1194, 1197, and 1198.

6           107.   As a policy and practice, Defendants failed to compensate Plaintiffs and the other
7 aggrieved current and former employees for all hours worked, resulting in a failure to pay all
8 minimum wages and overtime wages, where applicable.

9                                   Failure to Provide Meal Periods and Rest Breaks

10          108.   At all times relevant herein, Defendants were required to authorize and permit
11 their non-exempt employees to take a 10-minute rest break for every four (4) hours worked or 12 major fraction thereof and were further required to provide their non-exempt employees with a
13 30-minute meal period for every five (5) hours worked, pursuant to the mandates of Labor
14 Code sections 226.7 and 512.

15          109.   As a policy and practice, Defendants failed to provide Plaintiffs and the other
16 aggrieved current and former employees with legally mandated meal periods and rest breaks
17 and failed to pay proper compensation for this failure.

18                                   Failure to Timely Pay Wages During Employment

19          110.   At all times relevant herein, Defendants were required to pay their employees
20 within a specified time period pursuant to the mandate of Labor Code section 204.

21          111.   As a policy and practice, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and the other
22 aggrieved current and former employees all wages due and owing them within the required time
23 period.

24                                   Failure to Timely Pay Wages Upon Termination

25          112.   At all times relevant herein, Defendants were required to pay their employees all
26 wages owed in a timely fashion at the end of employment pursuant to the mandates of Labor
27 Code sections 201 to 204.

28   ///

1           113. As a policy and practice, as a result of Defendants' Labor Code violations
2 alleged above, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and the other aggrieved former employees
3 their final wages, pursuant to the mandates of Labor Code sections 201 through 204.
4 Accordingly, Defendants owe waiting time penalties pursuant to Labor Code section 203.

5                           Failure to Provide Complete and Accurate Wage Statements

6           114. At all times relevant herein, Defendants were required to keep accurate records
7 regarding their California employees, pursuant to the mandates of Labor Code sections 226 and 8 1174.

9           115. As a result of Defendants' various Labor Code violations, Defendants failed to 10 keep accurate records regarding Plaintiffs and the other aggrieved current and former employees.
11 For example, Defendants failed in their affirmative obligation to keep accurate records regarding 12 Plaintiffs and the other aggrieved current and former employees' gross wages earned, total hours 13 worked, all deductions, net wages earned, and all applicable hourly rates and the number of 14 hours worked at each hourly rate.

15                           Failure to Reimburse Business Expenses

16           116. At all times relevant herein, Defendants were required to reimburse their 17 employees for any and all necessary expenditures or losses incurred by the employees in direct
18 consequences of the discharge of their duties, pursuant to the mandates of Labor Code sections
19 2800 and 2802.

20           117. As a policy and practice, Defendants regularly failed to reimburse Plaintiffs and 21 the other aggrieved current and former employees for all business expenses incurred and owed
22 to them within the required time period.

23                           Penalties

24           118. Pursuant to California Labor Code section 2699, Plaintiffs, individually, and on 25 behalf of other current and former aggrieved employees, request and are entitled to recover from 26 Defendants, and each of them, civil penalties, interest, attorneys' fees and costs pursuant,
27 including but not limited to:

28   ///

- 1 a. Penalties under California Labor Code section 2699 in the amount of one
2 hundred dollars ($100) for each aggrieved employee per pay period for
3 the initial violation, and two hundred dollars ($200) for each aggrieved
4 employee per pay period for each subsequent violation;
- 5 b. Penalties under California Code of Regulations Title 8 section 11040 in 6 the amount of fifty dollars ($50) for each aggrieved employee per pay
7 period for the initial violation, and one hundred dollars ($100) for each
8 aggrieved employee per pay period for each subsequent violation;
- 9 c. Penalties under California Labor Code section 210 in addition to, and 10 entirely independent and apart from, any other penalty provided in the 11 California Labor Code in the amount of one hundred dollars ($100) for 12 each aggrieved employee per pay period for the initial violation, and two 13 hundred dollars ($200) for each aggrieved employee per pay period for 14 each subsequent violation;
- 15 d. Penalties under Labor Code section 1197.1 in the amount of a hundred 16 dollars ($100) for each aggrieved employee per pay period for the initial 17 violation, and two hundred fifty dollars ($250) for each aggrieved
18 employee per pay period for each subsequent violation;
- 19 e. Wages under California Labor Code section 558 in addition to, and 20 entirely independent and apart from, any other penalty provided in the 21 California Labor Code;
- 22 f. Any and all additional penalties as provided by the Labor Code and/or 23 other statutes; and
- 24 g. Attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code sections 210, 1194,
25 and 2699, and any other applicable statute.

1 NINTH CAUSE OF ACTION

2 (Violation of California Business & Professions Code § 17200, et seq.)

3 (Against WAXIE'S ENTERPRISES, LLC and DOES 1 through 100)

4 119. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1
5 through 118, and each and every part thereof with the same force and effect as though fully set
6 forth herein.

7 120. Defendants' conduct, as alleged herein, has been, and continues to be unfair,
8 unlawful and harmful to Plaintiffs, the other class members, the general public, and 9 Defendants' competitors. Accordingly, Plaintiffs seek to enforce important rights affecting the 10 public interest within the meaning of Code of Civil Procedure section 1021.5.

11 121. Defendants' activities as alleged herein are violations of California law, and 12 constitute unlawful business acts and practices in violation of California Business &
13 Professions Code section 17200, et seq.

14 122. A violation of California Business & Professions Code section 17200, et seq.
15 may be predicated on the violation of any state or federal law. In this instant case, Defendants'
16 policy and practice of requiring Plaintiffs and the other class members to work overtime hours
17 without paying them proper compensation violates California Labor Code sections 510 and 18 1198. Additionally, Defendants' policy and practice of requiring Plaintiffs and the other class
19 members to work through their meal and rest periods without paying them proper 20 compensation violates California Labor Code sections 226.7 and 512(a). Moreover,
21 Defendants' policy and practice of failing to timely pay wages to Plaintiffs and the other class
22 members violates California Labor Code sections 201 and 202. Defendants also violated
23 California Labor Code sections 226(a), 1194, 1197, 2800 and 2802.

24 123. As a result of the herein described violations of California law, Defendants
25 unlawfully gained an unfair advantage over other businesses.

26 124. Plaintiffs and the other class members have been personally injured by 27 Defendants' unlawful business acts and practices as alleged herein, including but not 28 necessarily limited to the loss of money and/or property.

1           125. Pursuant to California Business & Professions Code section 17200, et seq.,
2 Plaintiffs and the other class members are entitled to restitution of the wages withheld and
3 retained by Defendants during a period that commences four years prior to the filing of this
4 Complaint; an award of attorneys' fees pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure section
5 1021.5 and other applicable laws; and an award of costs.

6                                   DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

7           Plaintiffs, individually, and on behalf of other members of the general public similarly 8 situated, request a trial by jury.

9                                   PRAYER FOR RELIEF

10          WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs, individually and on behalf of all other members of the 11 general public similarly situated, pray for relief and judgment against Defendants, jointly and 12 severally, as follows:

13                                   Class Certification

- 14           1. That this action be certified as a class action;
15           2. That Plaintiffs be appointed as representatives of the Class;
16           3. That counsel for Plaintiffs be appointed as Class Counsel; and 17           4. That Defendants provide to Class Counsel immediately the names and most 18 current contact information (address, e-mail and telephone numbers) of all class members.

19                                   As to the First Cause of Action

- 20           5. That the Court declare, adjudge and decree that Defendants violated California
21 Labor Code sections 510 and 1198 and applicable IWC Wage Orders by willfully failing to pay
22 all overtime wages due to Plaintiffs and the other class members;

- 23           6. For general unpaid wages at overtime wage rates and such general and special 24 damages as may be appropriate;

- 25           7. For pre-judgment interest on any unpaid overtime compensation commencing 26 from the date such amounts were due;

- 27           8. For reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit incurred herein pursuant to 28 California Labor Code section 1194; and

1           9.       For such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

2                               As to the Second Cause of Action

3           10.       That the Court declare, adjudge and decree that Defendants violated California
4 Labor Code sections 226.7 and 512 and applicable IWC Wage Orders by willfully failing to 5 provide all meal periods (including second meal periods) to Plaintiffs and the other class
6 members;

7           11.       That the Court make an award to Plaintiffs and the other class members of one
8 (1) hour of pay at each employee's regular rate of compensation for each workday that a meal
9 period was not provided;

10          12.       For all actual, consequential, and incidental losses and damages, according to 11 proof;

12          13.       For premium wages pursuant to California Labor Code section 226.7(b);

13          14.       For pre-judgment interest on any unpaid wages from the date such amounts
14 were due;

15          15.       For reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit incurred herein; and

16          16.       For such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

17                               As to the Third Cause of Action

18          17.       That the Court declare, adjudge and decree that Defendants violated California
19 Labor Code section 226.7 and applicable IWC Wage Orders by willfully failing to provide all
20 rest periods to Plaintiffs and the other class members;

21          18.       That the Court make an award to Plaintiffs and the other class members of one
22 (1) hour of pay at each employee's regular rate of compensation for each workday that a rest
23 period was not provided;

24          19.       For all actual, consequential, and incidental losses and damages, according to
25 proof;

26          20.       For premium wages pursuant to California Labor Code section 226.7(b);

27          21.       For pre-judgment interest on any unpaid wages from the date such amounts
28 were due; and

22. For such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

As to the Fourth Cause of Action

23. That the Court declare, adjudge and decree that Defendants violated California Labor Code sections 1194 and 1197 by willfully failing to pay minimum wages to Plaintiffs and the other class members;

24. For general unpaid wages and such general and special damages as may be appropriate;

25. For pre-judgment interest on any unpaid compensation from the date such amounts were due;

26. For reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit incurred herein pursuant to California Labor Code section 1194(a);

27. For liquidated damages pursuant to California Labor Code section 1194.2; and

28. For such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

As to the Fifth Cause of Action

29. That the Court declare, adjudge and decree that Defendants violated California Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203 by willfully failing to pay all compensation owed at the time of termination of the employment of Plaintiffs and the other class members no longer employed by Defendants;

30. For all actual, consequential, and incidental losses and damages, according to proof;

31. For statutory wage penalties pursuant to California Labor Code section 203 for the other class members who have left Defendants' employ;

32. For pre-judgment interest on any unpaid compensation from the date such amounts were due; and

33. For such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

Re: WAXIE WAY, LLC

Dear Representative:

We have been retained to represent Nicholas Carlton against Waxie Way, LLC (including any and all affiliates, managers, members, subsidiaries, and parents, and their shareholders, officers, directors, and employees), any individual, owner, officer and managing agent, DOES 1-10 as an "Employer" or person acting on behalf of an "Employer" pursuant to California Labor Code section 558.1, and DOES 11-20<sup>1</sup> for violations of California wage-and-hour laws (hereinafter collectively referred to as "WAXIE").

Mr. Carlton is pursuing his California Labor Code section 2698, et seq., the Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 ("PAGA") claim on a representative basis. Therefore, Mr. Carlton may seek penalties and wages for violations of the Labor Code on behalf of the State of California and aggrieved employees, which are recoverable under PAGA. This letter is sent in compliance with the reporting requirements of California Labor Code section 2699.3.

Waxie Way, LLC is a California limited liability company located at 9353 Waxie Way, San Diego, California 92123.

WAXIE employed Mr. Carlton as an hourly-paid non-exempt Receiver within one year of the date of this letter (until in or around September of 2020<sup>2</sup>) in the State of California. WAXIE directly controlled the wages, hours and working conditions of Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees' employment, including direction, retention, scheduling, supervision, and termination.

<sup>1</sup> Mr. Carlton does not know the true names or capacities, whether individual, partner or corporate, of DOES 1 through 20, inclusive, and for that reason, said DOES are designated under such fictitious names. Mr. Carlton will amend this notice when the true names and capacities are known. Mr. Carlton is informed and believes that each DOE was responsible in some way for the matters alleged herein and proximately caused Mr. Carlton and other current and former aggrieved employees to be subject to the illegal employment practices, wrongs and injuries complained of herein.

<sup>2</sup> Per Emergency Rule 9 (Tolling statute of limitations for civil causes of action) of the Judicial Council's Emergency Rules Related to COVID-19, all statute of limitations for civil causes of action that exceed 180 days are tolled from April 6, 2020 until October 1, 2020. Therefore, the one (1) year statute of limitations for Mr. Carlton's PAGA cause of action is tolled.

The “aggrieved employees” that Mr. Carlton may seek penalties on behalf of are all current and former hourly-paid or non-exempt employees (whether hired directly or through staffing agencies) of WAXIE within the State of California.

WAXIE failed to properly pay its hourly-paid or non-exempt employees for all hours worked, failed to properly provide or compensate minimum and overtime wages and for meal and rest breaks, failed to issue compliant wage statements and failed to reimburse for all necessary business-related costs and expenses, thus resulting in other Labor Code violations as stated below.

Pursuant to Huff v. Securitas Security Services, 23 Cal. App. 5th 745, 751 (2018), an employee who brings a representative action and was affected by at least one of the violations alleged in the complaint has standing to pursue penalties on behalf of the state not only for that violation, but for violations affecting other employees as well. Accordingly, Mr. Carlton has standing to pursue penalties on behalf of the state for violations affecting all the aggrieved employees at WAXIE, regardless of their classification, job title, location, or whether they were hired directly or through a staffing agency.

WAXIE has violated and/or continues to violate, among other provisions of the California Labor Code and applicable wage law, California Labor Code sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 218.5, 221, 226(a), 226.3, 226.7, 246, 510, 512(a), 558, 1174(d), 1194, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 2800 and 2802, and the IWC Wage Orders.

California Labor Code sections 510, 1194, and 1198 require employers to pay at least minimum wage for all hours worked, pay time-and-a-half, or double-time overtime wages, and make it unlawful to work employees for hours longer than eight hours in one day and/or over forty hours in one week without paying the premium overtime rates. During the relevant time period, Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees routinely worked in excess of 8 hours in a day and 40 hours in a week. WAXIE failed to compensate Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees for all hours worked and performing off-the-clock work, including pre- and post-shift, waiting in line to clock-in, and during meal breaks. WAXIE also failed to include non-discretionary bonuses and incentives in aggrieved employees’ regular rate of pay for purposes of overtime compensation. Therefore, Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees were entitled to receive certain wages for overtime compensation, but they were not paid for all overtime hours worked.

California Labor Code section 246 requires that employers provide employees with paid sick leave of not less than one hour per every 30 hours worked. California Labor Code section 246(l) also requires that paid sick leave be paid at a non-exempt employee's regular rate of pay for the workweek in which the employee uses paid sick time or at a rate calculated by dividing the employee's total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee's total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days of employment. During the relevant time period, WAXIE failed to pay Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees with paid sick leave that complied with California Labor Code section 246, by, for example, failing to pay paid sick leave at non-exempt employee's regular rate of pay or at a rate calculated by dividing the employee's total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee's total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days of employment.

California Labor Code sections 226.7 and 512 require employers to pay an employee one additional hour of pay at the employee's regular rate for each workday that a meal or rest break is not provided. During the relevant time period, WAXIE routinely required Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees to work through, interrupt, cut short, and/or delay their meal and rest breaks to comply with WAXIE's policies and expectations and meet time sensitive deadlines. Additionally, WAXIE failed to provide coverage to Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees so they may be relieved of all work duties and take legally mandated meal and rest breaks. Lastly, WAXIE failed to authorize and permit Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees to take the requisite number of meal and rest breaks, including second meal breaks and third rest breaks, when working shifts exceeding 10 hours in length. Despite these facts, WAXIE failed to compensate Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees all the premium wages they were owed.

California Labor Code section 201 requires that if an employer discharges an employee, the wages earned and unpaid at the time of discharge are due and payable immediately. California Labor Code section 202 requires that if an employee not having a written contract for a definite period quits his or her employment, his or her wages shall become due and payable not later than 72 hours thereafter, unless the employee has given 72 hours previous notice of his or her intention to quit, in which case the employee is entitled to his or her wages at the time of quitting. California Labor Code section 203 provides that if an employer willfully fails to pay, without abatement or reduction, in accordance with Labor Code sections 201, 201.3, 201.5, 201.6, 201.8, 201.9, 202, and 205.5, any wages of an employee who is discharged or who quits, the wages of the employee shall continue as a penalty from the due date thereof at the same rate until paid or until an action therefor is commenced; but the wages shall not continue for more than 30 days. During the relevant time period, WAXIE failed to pay Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees all wages, including for uncompensated off-the-clock work, unpaid overtime premiums and premium wages for failing to provide legally mandated meal and rest breaks, due to them within any time period specified by California Labor Code sections 201 and 203 and therefore is liable under California Labor Code section 203.

California Labor Code section 204 requires that all wages earned by any person in any employment between the 1st and the 15th days, inclusive, of any calendar month, other than those wages due upon termination of an employee, are due and payable between the 16th and the 26th day of the month during which the labor was performed, and that all wages earned by any person in any employment between the 16th and the last day, inclusive, of any calendar month, other than those wages due upon termination of an employee, are due and payable between the 1st and the 10th day of the following month. California Labor Code section 204 also requires that all wages earned for labor in excess of the normal work period shall be paid no later than the payday for the next regular payroll period. During the relevant time period, WAXIE failed to pay Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees all wages due to them, including for uncompensated off-the-clock work, unpaid overtime premiums and premium wages for failing to provide legally mandated meal and rest breaks within any time period specified by California Labor Code section 204.

California Labor Code section 226 requires employers to make, keep and provide complete and accurate itemized wage statements to their employees. During the relevant time period, WAXIE did not provide Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees with complete and accurate itemized wage statements. The wage statements they received from WAXIE were in violation of California Labor Code section 226(a). The violations include, but are not limited to, the failure to include (1) gross wages earned by Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees, (2) total hours worked by Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees, (3) the number of piece-rate units earned and any applicable piece rate by Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees (4) all deductions for Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees, (5) net wages earned by Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees, (6) the inclusive dates of the period for which Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees are paid, (7) the name of the aggrieved employee and only the last four digits of his or her social security number or an employee identification number other than a social security number, (8) the name and address of the legal entity that is the employer and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate by Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees.

California Labor Code section 558 allows recovery of penalties. (a) Any employer or other person acting on behalf of an employer who violates, or causes to be violated, a section of this chapter or any provision regulating hours and days of work in any order of the Industrial Welfare Commission shall be subject to a civil penalty as follows: (1) For any initial violation, fifty dollars ($50) for each underpaid employee for each pay period for which the employee was underpaid in addition to an amount sufficient to recover underpaid wages. (2) For each subsequent violation, one hundred dollars ($100) for each underpaid employee for each pay period for which the employee was underpaid in addition to an amount sufficient to recover underpaid wages. (3) Wages recovered pursuant to this section shall be paid to the affected employee. Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees have been denied their wages and premium wages and, therefore, are entitled to penalties.

California Labor Code sections 1174(d) requires an employer to keep, at a central location in the state or at the plants or establishments at which employees are employed, payroll records showing the hours worked daily by and the wages paid to, and the number of piece-rate units earned by and any applicable piece rate paid to, employees employed at the respective plants or establishments. These records shall be kept with rules established for this purpose by the commission, but in any case, shall be kept on file for not less than two years. During the relevant time period, WAXIE failed to keep accurate and complete payroll records showing the hours worked daily and the wages paid, to Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees.

California Labor Code sections 1194, 1197 and 1197.1 provide the minimum wage to be paid to employees, and the payment of a lesser wage than the minimum so fixed is unlawful. During the relevant time period, WAXIE did not provide Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees with the minimum wages to which they were entitled despite constructive and actual knowledge of off-the-clock work, including pre- and post-shift, waiting in line to clock-in, and during meal breaks.

California Labor Code sections 2800 and 2802 require an employer to reimburse its employee for all necessary expenditures incurred by the employee in direct consequence of the discharge of his or her job duties or in direct consequence of his or her obedience to the directions of the employer. During their employment, Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees incurred necessary business-related expenses and costs that were not fully reimbursed by WAXIE, including for purchasing personal protective equipment (like boots) they needed to perform their jobs and using their personal cellular phones to communicate with management and drivers.

We believe that Mr. Carlton and other current and former California-based hourly-paid or non-exempt employees are entitled to penalties as allowed under California Labor Code section 2698, et seq. for violations of Labor Code sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 218.5, 221, 226(a), 226.3, 226.7, 246, 510, 512(a), 558, 1174(d), 1194, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 2800 and 2802, and the IWC Wage Orders.

California Labor Code section 2699.3 requires that a claimant send a certified letter to the employer in questions and the California Labor & Workforce Development Agency setting forth the claims, and the basis for the claims, thereby giving the California Labor & Workforce Development Agency an opportunity to investigate the claims and/or take any action it deems appropriate.

The purpose of this letter is to satisfy the requirement created by California Labor code section 2699 prior to seeking penalties allowed by law for the aforementioned statutory violations. We look forward to determining whether California Labor & Workforce Development Agency intends to take any action in reference to these claims. We kindly request that you respond to this notice according to the time frame contemplated by the California Labor Code.

Mr. Carlton will seek these penalties on his own behalf and on behalf of other similarly situated California-based hourly-paid or non-exempt employees of WAXIE within one year of the date of this letter, as allowed by law.

LWDA Case No. LWDA-CM-828848-21

Dear Representative:

We hereby amend our April 9, 2021 letter sent to your office in compliance with the reporting requirements of California Labor Code section 2699.3. A true and correct copy of the April 9, 2021 letter is attached to this submission as Exhibit A for reference. We are amending that notice to reflect the correct name of the employer Waxie's Enterprises, LLC (erroneously named "Waxie Way, LLC").

We have been retained to represent Nicholas Carlton against Waxie's Enterprises, LLC (including any and all affiliates, managers, members, subsidiaries, and parents, and their shareholders, officers, directors, and employees), any individual, owner, officer and managing agent, DOES 1-10 as an "Employer" or person acting on behalf of an "Employer" pursuant to California Labor Code section 558.1, and DOES 11-20<sup>1</sup> for violations of California wage-and-hour laws (hereinafter collectively referred to as "WAXIE").

<sup>2</sup> Per Emergency Rule 9 (Tolling statute of limitations for civil causes of action) of the Judicial Council's Emergency Rules Related to COVID-19, all statute of limitations for civil causes of action that exceed 180 days are tolled from April 6, 2020 until October 1, 2020. Therefore, the one (1) year statute of limitations for Mr. Carlton's PAGA cause of action is tolled.

<sup>3</sup> Waxie's Enterprises, Inc., the entity that hired Mr. Carlton, was subsequently converted to a limited liability company (Waxie's Enterprises, LLC.).

California Labor Code sections 510, 1194, and 1198 require employers to pay at least minimum wage for all hours worked, pay time-and-a-half, or double-time overtime wages, and make it unlawful to work employees for hours longer than eight hours in one day and/or over forty hours in one week without paying the premium overtime rates. During the relevant time period, Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees routinely worked in excess of 8 hours in a day and 40 hours in a week. WAXIE failed to compensate Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees for all hours worked and performing off-the-clock work, including pre- and post-shift, waiting in line to clock-in, and during meal breaks. WAXIE also failed to include non-discretionary bonuses and incentives in aggrieved employees' regular rate of pay for purposes of overtime compensation. Therefore, Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees were entitled to receive certain wages for overtime compensation, but they were not paid for all overtime hours worked.

California Labor Code section 246 requires that employers provide employees with paid sick leave of not less than one hour per every 30 hours worked. California Labor Code section 246(l) also requires that paid sick leave be paid at a non-exempt employee's regular rate of pay for the workweek in which the employee uses paid sick time or at a rate calculated by dividing the employee's total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee's total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days of employment. During the relevant time period, WAXIE failed to pay Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees with paid sick leave that complied with California Labor Code section 246, by, for example, failing to pay paid sick leave at non-exempt employee's regular rate of pay or at a rate calculated by dividing the employee's total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee's total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days of employment.

California Labor Code sections 226.7 and 512 require employers to pay an employee one additional hour of pay at the employee's regular rate for each workday that a meal or rest break is not provided. During the relevant time period, WAXIE routinely required Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees to work through, interrupt, cut short, and/or delay their meal and rest breaks to comply with WAXIE's policies and expectations and meet time sensitive deadlines. Additionally, WAXIE failed to provide coverage to Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees so they may be relieved of all work duties and take legally mandated meal and rest breaks. Lastly, WAXIE failed to authorize and permit Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees to take the requisite number of meal and rest breaks, including second meal breaks and third rest breaks, when working shifts exceeding 10 hours in length. Despite these facts, WAXIE failed to compensate Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees all the premium wages they were owed.

California Labor Code section 201 requires that if an employer discharges an employee, the wages earned and unpaid at the time of discharge are due and payable immediately. California Labor Code section 202 requires that if an employee not having a written contract for a definite period quits his or her employment, his or her wages shall become due and payable not later than 72 hours thereafter, unless the employee has given 72 hours previous notice of his or her intention to quit, in which case the employee is entitled to his or her wages at the time of quitting. California Labor Code section 203 provides that if an employer willfully fails to pay, without abatement or reduction, in accordance with Labor Code sections 201, 201.3, 201.5, 201.6, 201.8, 201.9, 202, and 205.5, any wages of an employee who is discharged or who quits, the wages of the employee shall continue as a penalty from the due date thereof at the same rate until paid or until an action therefor is commenced; but the wages shall not continue for more than 30 days. During the relevant time period, WAXIE failed to pay Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees all wages, including for uncompensated off-the-clock work, unpaid overtime premiums and premium wages for failing to provide legally mandated meal and rest breaks, due to them within any time period specified by California Labor Code sections 201 and 203 and therefore is liable under California Labor Code section 203.

California Labor Code section 204 requires that all wages earned by any person in any employment between the 1st and the 15th days, inclusive, of any calendar month, other than those wages due upon termination of an employee, are due and payable between the 16th and the 26th day of the month during which the labor was performed, and that all wages earned by any person in any employment between the 16th and the last day, inclusive, of any calendar month, other than those wages due upon termination of an employee, are due and payable between the 1st and the 10th day of the following month. California Labor Code section 204 also requires that all wages earned for labor in excess of the normal work period shall be paid no later than the payday for the next regular payroll period. California Labor Code section 226 requires employers to make, keep and provide complete and accurate itemized wage statements to their employees. During the relevant time period, WAXIE did not provide Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees with complete and accurate itemized wage statements. The wage statements they received from WAXIE were in violation of California Labor Code section 226(a). The violations include, but are not limited to, the failure to include (1) gross wages earned by Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees, (2) total hours worked by Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees, (3) the number of piece-rate units earned and any applicable piece rate by Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees (4) all deductions for Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees, (5) net wages earned by Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees, (6) the inclusive dates of the period for which Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees are paid, (7) the name of the aggrieved employee and only the last four digits of his or her social security number or an employee identification number other than a social security number, (8) the name and address of the legal entity that is the employer and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate by Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees.

California Labor Code section 558 allows recovery of penalties. (a) Any employer or other person acting on behalf of an employer who violates, or causes to be violated, a section of this chapter or any provision regulating hours and days of work in any order of the Industrial Welfare Commission shall be subject to a civil penalty as follows: (1) For any initial violation, fifty dollars ($50) for each underpaid employee for each pay period for which the employee was underpaid in addition to an amount sufficient to recover underpaid wages. (2) For each subsequent violation, one hundred dollars ($100) for each underpaid employee for each pay period for which the employee was underpaid in addition to an amount sufficient to recover underpaid wages. (3) Wages recovered pursuant to this section shall be paid to the affected employee. Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees have been denied their wages and premium wages and, therefore, are entitled to penalties.

California Labor Code sections 1174(d) requires an employer to keep, at a central location in the state or at the plants or establishments at which employees are employed, payroll records showing the hours worked daily by and the wages paid to, and the number of piece-rate units earned by and any applicable piece rate paid to, employees employed at the respective plants or establishments. These records shall be kept with rules established for this purpose by the commission, but in any case, shall be kept on file for not less than two years. During the relevant time period, WAXIE failed to keep accurate and complete payroll records showing the hours worked daily and the wages paid, to Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees.

California Labor Code sections 1194, 1197 and 1197.1 provide the minimum wage to be paid to employees, and the payment of a lesser wage than the minimum so fixed is unlawful. During the relevant time period, WAXIE did not provide Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees with the minimum wages to which they were entitled despite constructive and actual knowledge of off-the-clock work, including pre- and post-shift, waiting in line to clock-in, and during meal breaks.

California Labor Code sections 2800 and 2802 require an employer to reimburse its employee for all necessary expenditures incurred by the employee in direct consequence of the discharge of his or her job duties or in direct consequence of his or her obedience to the directions of the employer. During their employment, Mr. Carlton and other aggrieved employees incurred necessary business-related expenses and costs that were not fully reimbursed by WAXIE, including for purchasing personal protective equipment (like boots) they needed to perform their jobs and using their personal cellular phones to communicate with management and drivers.

We believe that Mr. Carlton and other current and former California-based hourly-paid or non-exempt employees are entitled to penalties as allowed under California Labor Code section 2698, et seq. for violations of Labor Code sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 218.5, 221, 226(a), 226.3, 226.7, 246, 510, 512(a), 558, 1174(d), 1194, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 2800 and 2802, and the IWC Wage Orders.

California Labor Code section 2699.3 requires that a claimant send a certified letter to the employer in questions and the California Labor & Workforce Development Agency setting forth the claims, and the basis for the claims, thereby giving the California Labor & Workforce Development Agency an opportunity to investigate the claims and/or take any action it deems appropriate.

The purpose of this letter is to satisfy the requirement created by California Labor code section 2699 prior to seeking penalties allowed by law for the aforementioned statutory violations. We look forward to determining whether California Labor & Workforce Development Agency intends to take any action in reference to these claims. We kindly request that you respond to this notice according to the time frame contemplated by the California Labor Code.

Mr. Carlton will seek these penalties on his own behalf and on behalf of other similarly situated California-based hourly-paid or non-exempt employees of WAXIE within one year of the date of the original April 9, 2021 letter, as allowed by law.
