DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

COMES NOW, Plaintiff MARKITA LAW (“Plaintiff”), individually, and on behalf of other members of the general public similarly situated, and alleges as follows:

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. This class action is brought pursuant to the California Code of Civil Procedure section 382. The monetary damages and restitution sought by Plaintiff exceeds the minimal jurisdiction limits of the Superior Court and will be established according to proof at trial.

2. This Court has jurisdiction over this action pursuant to the California Constitution, Article VI, Section 10, which grants the superior court “original jurisdiction in all other causes” except those given by statute to other courts. The statutes under which this action is brought do not specify any other basis for jurisdiction.

3. This Court has jurisdiction over Defendants because, upon information and belief, Defendants are citizens of California, have sufficient minimum contacts in California, or otherwise intentionally avail themselves of the California market so as to render the exercise of jurisdiction over them by the California courts consistent with traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

4. Venue is proper in this Court because, upon information and belief, Defendants maintain offices, have agents, and/or transact business in the State of California, including the County of Santa Clara. The majority of the acts and omissions alleged herein relating to Plaintiff took place in the State of California. Defendants employed Plaintiff within the State of California, County of Santa Clara.

PARTIES

5. Plaintiff MARKITA LAW is an individual residing in the State of California, County of Santa Clara.

6. Defendants XILINX, INC. at all times herein mentioned, was and is, upon information and belief, a Delaware corporation, and at all times herein mentioned, was and is, an employer whose employees are engaged throughout the State of California, including the County of Santa Clara.

1 7. At all relevant times, Defendant XILINX, INC. was the “employer” of Plaintiff
2 within the meaning of all applicable California laws and statutes.

3 8. At all times herein relevant, Defendants XILINX, INC. and DOES 1 through 4 100, and each of them, were the agents, partners, joint venturers, joint employers,
5 representatives, servants, employees, successors-in-interest, co-conspirators and assigns, each
6 of the other, and at all times relevant hereto were acting within the course and scope of their
7 authority as such agents, partners, joint venturers, joint employers, representatives, servants,
8 employees, successors, co-conspirators and assigns, and all acts or omissions alleged herein
9 were duly committed with the ratification, knowledge, permission, encouragement,
10 authorization, and consent of each defendant designated herein.

11 9. The true names and capacities, whether corporate, associate, individual or 12 otherwise, of Defendants DOES 1 through 100, inclusive, are unknown to Plaintiff, who sues
13 said defendants by such fictitious names. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and based on that 14 information and belief alleges, that each of the Defendants designated as a DOE is legally
15 responsible for the events and happenings referred to in this Complaint, and unlawfully caused 16 the injuries and damages to Plaintiff and the other class members as alleged in this Complaint.
17 Plaintiff will seek leave of court to amend this Complaint to show the true names and 18 capacities when the same have been ascertained.

19 10. Defendants XILINX, INC. and DOES 1 through 100 will hereinafter collectively
20 be referred to as “Defendants.”

21 11. Plaintiff further alleges that Defendants directly or indirectly controlled or 22 affected the working conditions, wages, working hours, and conditions of employment of 23 Plaintiff and the other class members so as to make each of said Defendants employers and 24 employers liable under the statutory provisions set forth herein.

25 CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

26 12. Plaintiff brings this action on his own behalf and on behalf of all other members
27 of the general public similarly situated, and, thus, seeks class certification under Code of Civil 28 Procedure section 382.

1 13. The proposed class is defined as follows:

2 All current and former California-based (i.e., currently residing in California
3 with an intent to remain in California indefinitely) hourly-paid or non-exempt
4 employees of Defendants during the period from February 8, 2017¹ to final 5 judgment.

6 14. Plaintiff reserves the right to establish subclasses as appropriate.

7 15. The class is ascertainable and there is a well-defined community of interest in 8 the litigation:

9 a. Numerosity: The class members are so numerous that joinder of all class
10 members is impracticable. The membership of the entire class is 11 unknown to Plaintiff at this time; however, the class is estimated to be 12 greater than fifty (50) individuals and the identity of such membership is 13 readily ascertainable by inspection of Defendants' employment records.

14 b. Typicality: Plaintiff's claims are typical of all other class members'
15 claims as demonstrated herein. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately
16 protect the interests of the other class members with whom she has a 17 well-defined community of interest.

¹ Per Emergency Rule 9 (Tolling statute of limitations for civil causes of action) of the Judicial 27 Council's Emergency Rules Related to COVID-19, all statute of limitations for civil causes of 28 action that exceed 180 days are tolled from April 6, 2020 until October 1, 2020. Accordingly,
 Plaintiff's claims were tolled during that time period.

1 c. Adequacy: Plaintiff will fairly and adequately protect the interests of 2 each class member, with whom she has a well-defined community of
3 interest and typicality of claims, as demonstrated herein. Plaintiff has no
4 interest that is antagonistic to the other class members. Plaintiff's
5 attorneys, the proposed class counsel, are versed in the rules governing
6 class action discovery, certification, and settlement. Plaintiff has 7 incurred, and during the pendency of this action will continue to incur,
8 costs and attorneys' fees, that have been, are, and will be necessarily 9 expended for the prosecution of this action for the substantial benefit of 10 each class member.

11 d. Superiority: A class action is superior to other available methods for the 12 fair and efficient adjudication of this litigation because individual joinder
13 of all class members is impractical.

14 e. Public Policy Considerations: Certification of this lawsuit as a class
15 action will advance public policy objectives. Employers of this great 16 state violate employment and labor laws every day. Current employees
17 are often afraid to assert their rights out of fear of direct or indirect
18 retaliation. However, class actions provide the class members who are 19 not named in the complaint anonymity that allows for the vindication of 20 their rights.

21 16. There are common questions of law and fact as to the class members that 22 predominate over questions affecting only individual members. The following common
23 questions of law or fact, among others, exist as to the members of the class:

24 a. Whether Defendants' failure to pay wages, without abatement or 25 reduction, in accordance with the California Labor Code, was willful;

26 b. Whether Defendants failed to pay their hourly-paid or non-exempt
27 employees within the State of California for all hours worked, missed
28 meal periods and rest breaks in violation of California law;

- 1 c. Whether Defendants required Plaintiff and the other class members to 2 work over eight (8) hours per day and/or over forty (40) hours per week
3 and failed to pay the legally required overtime compensation to Plaintiff
4 and the other class members;
- 5 d. Whether Defendants properly calculated the regular rate for Plaintiff and 6 the other class members to worked overtime and earned incentive pay;
- 7 e. Whether Defendants deprived Plaintiff and the other class members of 8 meal and/or rest periods or required Plaintiff and the other class
9 members to work during meal and/or rest periods without compensation;
- 10 f. Whether Defendants failed to pay minimum wages to Plaintiff and the 11 other class members for all hours worked;
- 12 g. Whether Defendants failed to pay all wages due to Plaintiff and the other 13 class members within the required time upon their discharge or 14 resignation;
- 15 h. Whether Defendants failed to timely pay all wages due to Plaintiff and 16 the other class members during their employment;
- 17 i. Whether Defendants complied with wage reporting as required by the 18 California Labor Code, including, inter alia, section 226;
- 19 j. Whether Defendants' conduct was willful or reckless;
- 20 k. Whether Defendants engaged in unfair business practices in violation of 21 California Business & Professions Code section 17200, et seq.;
- 22 l. The appropriate amount of damages, restitution, and/or monetary 23 penalties resulting from Defendants' violation of California law; and
- 24 m. Whether Plaintiff and the other class members are entitled to 25 compensatory damages pursuant to the California Labor Code.

25. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and based thereon alleges, that Defendants knew or should have known that Plaintiff and the other class members were entitled to receive certain wages for overtime compensation and that Plaintiff and the other class members were not receiving wages for overtime compensation.

18 missed.

19 29. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and based thereon alleges, that Defendants
20 knew or should have known that Plaintiff and the other class members were entitled to receive
21 at least minimum wages for compensation and that Plaintiff and the other class members were 22 not receiving at least minimum wages for all hours worked.

23 30. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and based thereon alleges, that Defendants
24 knew or should have known that Plaintiff and the other class members were entitled to receive

2 knew or should have known that Plaintiff and the other class members were entitled to receive
3 complete and accurate wage statements in accordance with California law, but, in fact, Plaintiff

5 Defendants. The deficiencies included, inter alia, the failure to include the total number of 6 hours worked by Plaintiff and the other class members.

7 32. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and based thereon alleges, that Defendants
8 knew or should have known that Defendants had to keep complete and accurate payroll records
9 for Plaintiff and the other class members in accordance with California law, but, in fact, did not 10 keep complete and accurate payroll records for Plaintiff and the other class members.

11 33. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and based thereon alleges, that Defendants
12 knew or should have known that they had a duty to compensate Plaintiff and the other class
13 members pursuant to California law, and that Defendants had the financial ability to pay such 14 compensation, but willfully, knowingly, and intentionally failed to do so, and falsely
15 represented to Plaintiff and the other class members that they were properly denied wages, all
16 in order to increase Defendants' profits.

17 34. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants failed to pay
18 overtime wages to Plaintiff and the other class members for all hours worked. Plaintiff and 19 other class members were required to work more than eight (8) hours per day and/or forty (40)
20 hours per week without overtime compensation.

21 35. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants failed to provide the

42. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the allegations contained in Paragraphs 1 through 41, and each and every part thereof with the same force and effect as though fully set forth herein.

43. California Labor Code section 1198 and the applicable Industrial Welfare Commission (“IWC”) Wage Order provide that it is unlawful to employ persons without compensating them at a rate of pay either time-and-one-half or two-times that person’s regular rate of pay, depending on the number of hours worked by the person on a daily or weekly basis.

7 of work, and overtime compensation at twice the regular hourly rate for hours worked in 9 of work.

10 47. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Plaintiff and the other class
11 members worked in excess of eight (8) hours in a day, and/or in excess of forty (40) hours in a 12 week.

13 48. During the relevant time period set forth herein, Defendants intentionally and 14 willfully failed to pay overtime wages owed to Plaintiff and the other class members.

15 49. Defendants' failure to pay Plaintiff and the other class members the unpaid
16 balance of overtime compensation, as required by California laws, violates the provisions of 17 California Labor Code sections 510 and 1198, and is therefore unlawful.

18 50. Pursuant to California Labor Code section 1194, Plaintiff and the other class 19 members are entitled to recover unpaid overtime compensation, as well as interest, costs, and

1 FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

2 (Violation of California Labor Code §§ 201 and 202)

3 (Against XILINX, INC. and DOES 1 through 100)

88. More specifically, Plaintiff and the other class members have been injured by Defendants' intentional and willful violation of California Labor Code section 226(a) because they were denied both their legal right to receive, and their protected interest in receiving, accurate and itemized wage statements pursuant to California Labor Code section 226(a).

89. Plaintiff and the other class members are entitled to recover from Defendants the greater of their actual damages caused by Defendants' failure to comply with California Labor Code section 226(a), or an aggregate penalty not exceeding four thousand dollars per employee.

90. Plaintiff and the other class members are also entitled to injunctive relief to ensure compliance with this section, pursuant to California Labor Code section 226(g).

SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of California Labor Code §§ 2698, et seq.)

(Against XILINX, INC. and DOES 1 through 100)

91. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 90, and each and every part thereof with the same force and effect as though fully set forth herein.

92. PAGA expressly establishes that any provision of the California Labor Code which provides for a civil penalty to be assessed and collected by the LWDA, or any of its departments, divisions, commissions, boards, agencies or employees for a violation of the California Labor Code, may be recovered through a civil action brought by an aggrieved employee on behalf of himself or herself, and other current or former employees.

93. On June 02, 2021, Plaintiff provided written notice to the LWDA and Defendants of the specific provisions of the Labor Code she contends were violated, and the theories supporting his contentions. Attached hereto as Exhibit 1 and incorporated by reference is a copy of the June 02 , 2021 written notice to the LWDA. Plaintiff believes that on or about August 06, 2021 the sixty-five (65) day notice period expired as to all Defendants and the LWDA did not take any action to investigate or prosecute this matter. Therefore, Plaintiff exhausted the statutory time period to bring this action.

1 94. Plaintiff and the other hourly-paid or non-exempt employees are “aggrieved
2 employees” as defined by California Labor Code § 2699(c) in that they are all current and former
3 hourly-paid or non-exempt employees of Defendants within the State of California who worked
4 for Defendants at any time during the period from June 02, 2020 to the present, and one or more
5 of the alleged violations was committed against them.

6 Failure to Pay Minimum and Overtime Wages

7 95. At all times relevant herein, Defendants were required to compensate their non-
8 exempt employees minimum wages for all hours worked and overtime wages for all hours
9 worked in excess of eight (8) hours in a day or forty (40) hours in a workweek, pursuant to the 10 mandate of Labor Code §§ 510, 1194, 1197, and 1198.

11 Failure to Provide Meal Periods and Rest Breaks

12 96. As a policy and practice, Defendants failed to compensate Plaintiff and the other
13 aggrieved current and former employees for all hours worked, resulting in a failure to pay all 14 minimum wages and overtime wages, where applicable.

15 97. In accordance with the mandates of Labor Code §§ 226.7 and 512, Defendants
16 were required to authorize and permit their non-exempt employees to take a 10-minute rest break
17 for every four (4) hours worked or major fraction thereof and were further required to provide 18 their non-exempt employees with a 30-minute meal period for every five (5) hours worked.

19 98. As a policy and practice, Defendants failed to provide Plaintiff and the other 20 aggrieved current and former employees with legally-mandated meal periods and rest breaks and 21 failed to pay proper compensation for this failure.

22 Failure to Timely Pay Wages During Employment

23 99. At all times relevant herein, Defendants were required to pay their employees
24 within a specified time period pursuant to the mandate of Labor Code § 204.

25 100. As a policy and practice, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the other
26 aggrieved current and former employees all wages due and owing them within the required time 27 period.

- f. Attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to Labor Code §§ 210, 1194, and 2699, and any other applicable statute.

RE: XILINX, INC. AND ADVANCED MICRO DEVICES, INC.

Dear Representative:

We have been retained to represent Markita Law against Xilinx, Inc. and Advanced Micro Devices, Inc. (including any and all affiliates, managers, members, subsidiaries, and parents, and their shareholders, officers, directors, and employees), any individual, owner, officer and managing agent, DOES 1-10 as an "Employer" or person acting on behalf of an "Employer" pursuant to California Labor Code section 558.1, and DOES 11-20¹ for violations of California wage-and-hour laws (hereinafter collectively referred to as "XILINX").

Ms. Law is pursuing her California Labor Code section 2698, et seq., the Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 ("PAGA") claim on a representative basis. Therefore, Ms. Law may seek penalties and wages for violations of the Labor Code on behalf of the State of California and aggrieved employees, which are recoverable under PAGA. This letter is sent in compliance with the reporting requirements of California Labor Code section 2699.3.

Xilinx, Inc. is a Delaware corporation located at 2100 Logic Drive, San Jose, California 95124. Advanced Micro Devices, Inc. is a Delaware corporation located at 2485 Augustine Dr., Santa Clara, California 95054.

XILINX employed Ms. Law as an hourly-paid non-exempt Security Guard within one year of the date of this letter (until in or about August of 2020) in the State of California. XILINX directly controlled the wages, hours and/or working conditions of Ms. Law's employment, including direction, retention, scheduling, supervision, and termination.

¹ Ms. Law does not know the true names or capacities, whether individual, partner or corporate, of DOES 1 through 20, inclusive, and for that reason, said DOES are designated under such fictitious names. Ms. Law will amend this notice when the true names and capacities are known. Ms. Law is informed and believes that each DOE was responsible in some way for the matters alleged herein and proximately caused Ms. Law and other current and former aggrieved employees to be subject to the illegal employment practices, wrongs and injuries complained of herein.

California Labor Code section 246 requires that employers provide employees with paid sick leave of not less than one hour per every 30 hours worked. California Labor Code section 246(l) also requires that paid sick leave be paid at a non-exempt employee's regular rate of pay for the workweek in which the employee uses paid sick time or at a rate calculated by dividing the employee's total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee's total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days of employment. During the relevant time period, XILINX failed to pay aggrieved employees with paid sick leave that complied with California Labor Code section 246, by, for example, failing to pay paid sick leave at non-exempt employee's regular rate of pay or at a rate calculated by dividing the employee's total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee's total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days of employment.

California Labor Code sections 226.7 and 512 require employers to pay an employee one additional hour of pay at the employee's regular rate for each workday that a meal or rest break is not provided. During the relevant time period, XILINX routinely required Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees to work through, interrupt, cut short, and/or delay their meal and rest breaks to comply with XILINX policies and expectations. Additionally, XILINX failed to provide adequate coverage to Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees, so they may be relieved of all work duties and take legally mandated meal and rest breaks. Moreover, XILINX failed to authorize and permit Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees to take the requisite number of meal and rest breaks, including second meal breaks and third rest breaks, when working shifts exceeding 10 hours in length. Despite these facts, XILINX failed to compensate Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees all the premium wages they were owed.

California Labor Code section 201 requires that if an employer discharges an employee, the wages earned and unpaid at the time of discharge are due and payable immediately. California Labor Code section 202 requires that if an employee not having a written contract for a definite period quits his or her employment, his or her wages shall become due and payable not later than 72 hours thereafter, unless the employee has given 72 hours previous notice of his or her intention to quit, in which case the employee is entitled to his or her wages at the time of quitting. California Labor Code section 203 provides that if an employer willfully fails to pay, without abatement or reduction, in accordance with Labor Code sections 201, 201.3, 201.5, 201.6, 201.8, 201.9, 202, and 205.5, any wages of an employee who is discharged or who quits, the wages of the employee shall continue as a penalty from the due date thereof at the same rate until paid or until an action therefor is commenced; but the wages shall not continue for more than 30 days. During the relevant time period, XILINX failed to pay Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees all wages, including for uncompensated off-the-clock work and premium wages for failing to provide legally mandated meal and rest breaks as explained above, due to them within any time period specified by California Labor Code sections 201 and 203 and therefore is liable under California Labor Code section 203.

California Labor Code section 204 requires that all wages earned by any person in any employment between the 1st and the 15th days, inclusive, of any calendar month, other than those wages due upon termination of an employee, are due and payable between the 16th and the 26th day of the month during which the labor was performed, and that all wages earned by any person in any employment between the 16th and the last day, inclusive, of any calendar month, other than those wages due upon termination of an employee, are due and payable between the 1st and the 10th day of the following month. California Labor Code section 204 also requires that all wages earned for labor in excess of the normal work period shall be paid no later than the payday for the next regular payroll period. During the relevant time period, XILINX failed to pay Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees all wages due to them, including for uncompensated off-the-clock work and premium wages as explained above, within any time period specified by California Labor Code section 204.

California Labor Code section 226 requires employers to make, keep and provide complete and accurate itemized wage statements to their employees. During the relevant time period, XILINX did not provide Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees with complete and accurate itemized wage statements. The wage statements they received from XILINX were in violation of California Labor Code section 226(a). The violations include, but are not limited to, the failure to include (1) gross wages earned by Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees, (2) total hours worked by Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees, (3) the number of piece-rate units earned and any applicable piece rate by Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees (4) all deductions for Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees, (5) net wages earned by Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees, (6) the inclusive dates of the period for which Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees are paid, (7) the name of the aggrieved employee and only the last four digits of his or her social security number or an employee identification number other than a social security number, (8) the name and address of the legal entity that is the employer and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate by Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees.

California Labor Code section 558 allows recovery of penalties. (a) Any employer or other person acting on behalf of an employer who violates, or causes to be violated, a section of this chapter or any provision regulating hours and days of work in any order of the Industrial Welfare Commission shall be subject to a civil penalty as follows: (1) For any initial violation, fifty dollars ($50) for each underpaid employee for each pay period for which the employee was underpaid in addition to an amount sufficient to recover underpaid wages. (2) For each subsequent violation, one hundred dollars ($100) for each underpaid employee for each pay period for which the employee was underpaid in addition to an amount sufficient to recover underpaid wages. (3) Wages recovered pursuant to this section shall be paid to the affected employee. Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees have been denied their wages and premium wages and, therefore, are entitled to penalties.

California Labor Code sections 1174(d) requires an employer to keep, at a central location in the state or at the plants or establishments at which employees are employed, payroll records showing the hours worked daily by and the wages paid to, and the number of piece-rate units earned by and any applicable piece rate paid to, employees employed at the respective plants or establishments. These records shall be kept with rules established for this purpose by the commission, but in any case, shall be kept on file for not less than two years. During the relevant time period, XILINX failed to keep accurate and complete payroll records showing the hours worked daily and the wages paid, to Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees.

California Labor Code sections 1194, 1197 and 1197.1 provide the minimum wage to be paid to employees, and the payment of a lesser wage than the minimum so fixed is unlawful. During the relevant time period, XILINX did not provide Ms. Law and other aggrieved employees with the minimum wages to which they were entitled despite constructive and actual knowledge of off-the-clock work, including pre- and post-shift, and during meal breaks.

California Labor Code sections 2800 and 2802 require an employer to reimburse its employee for all necessary expenditures incurred by the employee in direct consequence of the discharge of his or her job duties or in direct consequence of his or her obedience to the directions of the employer. During their employment, aggrieved employees incurred necessary business-related expenses and costs that were not fully reimbursed by XILINX.

We believe that Ms. Law and other current and former California-based hourly-paid or non-exempt employees are entitled to penalties and wages as allowed under California Labor Code section 2698, et seq. for violations of Labor Code sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 218.5, 221, 226(a), 226.3, 226.7, 246, 510, 512(a), 558, 1174(d), 1194, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 2800 and 2802, and the IWC Wage Orders.

California Labor Code section 2699.3 requires that a claimant send a certified letter to the employer in questions and the California Labor & Workforce Development Agency setting forth the claims, and the basis for the claims, thereby giving the California Labor & Workforce Development Agency an opportunity to investigate the claims and/or take any action it deems appropriate.

The purpose of this letter is to satisfy the requirement created by California Labor code section 2699 prior to seeking penalties allowed by law for the aforementioned statutory violations. We look forward to determining whether California Labor & Workforce Development Agency intends to take any action in reference to these claims. We kindly request that you respond to this notice according to the time frame contemplated by the California Labor Code.
