Date:	November 13, 2024
Time:	10:30 a.m.
Dept.:	1
Complaint Filed:	November 10, 2021
FAC Filed:	March 29, 2022
Trial Date:	Not Set

TO ALL PARTIES AND THEIR ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT on November 13, 2024 at 10:30 a.m. in Department 1 of the above-captioned Court located at Spring Street Courthouse, 312 North Spring Street, Los Angeles, California 90012 pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure section 382 and Rule 3.769 of the California Rules of Court, Plaintiff Aaron Coffey ("Plaintiff") will and hereby does move the Court for an Order granting preliminary approval of the proposed class action and PAGA settlement between Plaintiff and Defendant Catalina Channel Express, Inc. ("Defendant").

Plaintiff requests that the Court enter an Order:

1. Preliminarily approving the Joint Stipulation of Class Action and PAGA Settlement ("Settlement" or "Settlement Agreement") attached as Exhibit 2 to the Declaration of Jonathan M. Genish in Support of Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action and PAGA Settlement ("Genish Decl.");

2. Certifying the Class for Settlement purposes;

3. Appointing Plaintiff Aaron Coffey as the Class Representative for Settlement purposes;

4. Appointing Jonathan M. Genish, Miriam L. Schimmel, Joana Fang, Alexandra Rose, and Jared C. Osborne of Blackstone Law, APC as Class Counsel for Settlement purposes;

5. Approving the proposed Notice of Class Action Settlement ("Class Notice"), attached as Exhibit A to the Settlement Agreement, to be mailed to the Class;

6. Approving the opt-out and objection procedures provided in the Settlement Agreement and set forth in the Class Notice;

7. For each Class Member, directing Defendant to furnish their full name, last known mailing address, Social Security number, dates worked for Defendant during the Class Period, and such other information as is necessary for the Settlement Administrator to calculate Workweeks and PAGA Workweeks (if applicable) to the Settlement Administrator within fourteen (14) calendar days after entry of the order granting preliminary approval of the Settlement;

8. Approving the proposed deadlines for the settlement administration process; and

9. Setting a Final Approval Hearing.

Pursuant to California Labor Code section 2699(1)(2) and concurrently with the filing of this Motion, a copy of the Settlement was submitted to the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency ("LWDA") via online submission through the LWDA's website. (Genish Decl., ¶ 49).

This Motion is based upon this Notice, the attached Memorandum of Points and Authorities, the Declaration of Jonathan M. Genish, the Declaration of Plaintiff Aaron Coffey, the Declaration of Julie Green of CPT Group, Inc., the pleadings and other records on file with the Court in this matter, and any other further evidence or argument that the Court may properly receive at or before the hearing.

Respectfully submitted,

Dated: July 26, 2024

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff Aaron Coffey ("Plaintiff") seeks preliminary approval of the Joint Stipulation of Class Action and PAGA Settlement ("Settlement" or "Settlement Agreement") entered into between Plaintiff and Defendant Catalina Channel Express, Inc. ("Defendant") (together, with Plaintiff, the "Parties"). (Declaration of Jonathan M. Genish in Support of Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action and PAGA Settlement ["Genish Decl."], Exh. 2). The Settlement terms are outlined as follows:

- Class Size: Approximately 715 individuals.
- Gross Settlement Amount: One Million Dollars and Zero Cents ($1,000,000.00).
- Attorneys' Fees and Costs: Attorneys' fees of one-third (1/3) of the Gross Settlement Amount ($333,333.33 if the Gross Settlement Amount is $1,000,000.00) plus actual litigation costs and expenses not to exceed Thirty Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($30,000.00), to be paid from the Gross Settlement Amount.
- Enhancement Payment: Five Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($5,000.00), to be paid from the Gross Settlement Amount.
- Settlement Administration Costs: Not to exceed Thirteen Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($13,000.00), to be paid from the Gross Settlement Amount.
- PAGA Amount: One Hundred Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($100,000.00) from the Gross Settlement Amount, 75% of which will be paid to the Labor and Workforce Development Agency ("LWDA") and the remaining 25% to be paid to the PAGA Employees.
- Estimated Net Settlement Amount: Five Hundred Eighteen Thousand Six Hundred Sixty-Six Dollars and Sixty-Seven Cents ($518,666.67) to be distributed to Settlement Class Members.

As set forth herein, the Settlement is the product of informed discovery and arms-length negotiations, and provides a fair, adequate, and reasonable recovery for the Class. Plaintiff therefore respectfully requests that the Court grant preliminary approval of the Settlement, conditionally certify the Class, approve the proposed Notice of Class Action Settlement ("Class Notice"), and set a hearing date for final settlement approval, among other requested relief.

II. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

Defendant is a passenger ferry service that operates scheduled tripes between Catalina Island and mainland California. Plaintiff was employed by Defendant as an hourly-paid, non-exempt Deckhand since approximately July 2007. (Declaration of Aaron Coffey in Support of Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action and PAGA Settlement ["Coffey Decl."], ¶ 2).

On November 8, 2021, Plaintiff provided written notice to the LWDA by online submission and to Defendant by U.S. Certified Mail, pursuant to California Labor Code Section 2699.3, of the specified provisions of the California Labor Code alleged to have been violated by Defendant ("PAGA Letter"). (Genish Decl., ¶ 9 & Exh. 1).

On November 10, 2021, Plaintiff filed a Class Action Complaint in the action entitled Aaron Coffey v. Catalina Channel Express, Inc., Los Angeles County Superior Court Case No. 21STCV41396 ("Action"), thereby commencing a putative class action against Defendant. (Id., ¶ 10).

On March 29, 2022, Plaintiff filed a First Amended Class Action and Representative Action Complaint ("Operative Complaint") in the Action, which added a cause of action under the Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 pursuant to California Labor Code Section 2698 et seq. ("PAGA"). (Id., ¶ 11). The Operative Complaint alleges ten (10) causes of action for violations of the California Labor Code for failure to pay overtime wages, failure to provide compliant meal periods and premium payments in lieu thereof, failure to provide compliant rest periods and premiums payments in lieu thereof, failure to pay minimum wages, failure to timely pay wages upon termination, failure to timely pay wages during employment, failure to provide accurate wage statements, and failure to reimburse necessary business expenses, for violations of California Business & Professions Code Section 17200, et seq. based on the aforementioned California Labor Code violations, and for civil penalties under PAGA based on the aforementioned California Labor Code violations. (Ibid).

On March 30, 2022, Plaintiff propounded written formal discovery onto Defendant (specifically, Form Interrogatories – General (Set One), Special Interrogatories (Set One), and Requests for Production of Documents (Set One)), noticed the deposition of Defendant's Person Most Qualified, and served a proposed Belaire-West notice. (Id., ¶ 12). Thereafter, On May 17, 2022, Defendant served responses to Plaintiff's discovery requests. (Ibid).

On June 22, 2022, a Belaire-West notice was mailed to six hundred fifty-eight (658) putative class members by a third-party administrator. (Id., ¶ 13). Twenty-one (21) putative class members timely opted out by the response deadline. (Ibid).

On July 7, 2022, Defendant served supplemental responses to Plaintiff's discovery requests. (Id., ¶ 14). On July 26, 2022, Defendant served a second supplemental response to Plaintiff's Requests for Production of Documents (Set One). (Ibid). On August 26, 2022, Defendant served a production of documents in response to Plaintiff's Requests for Production of Documents (Set One). (Ibid).

On January 3, 2023, Plaintiff served an amended notice of deposition of Defendant's Person Most Qualified. (Id., ¶ 15). On January 24, 2023, Plaintiff served a second amended notice of deposition of Defendant's Person Most Qualified. (Ibid). On February 3, 2023, Defendant served an objection to Plaintiff's second amended notice of objection of Defendant's Person Most Qualified. (Ibid). On March 1, 2023, Plaintiff served a third amended notice of deposition of Defendant's Person Most Qualified. (Ibid). On November 14, 2023, Plaintiff served a fourth amended notice of deposition of Defendant's Person Most Qualified. (Ibid). On November 29, 2023, Defendant served an objection to Plaintiff's fourth amended notice of deposition of Defendant's Person Most Qualified. (Ibid).

On October 23, 2023, the Parties participated in a formal mediation conducted by Todd A. Smith, Esq. ("Mediator"), a neutral and respected mediator with extensive experience in complex wage and hour matters, which did not result in a settlement at that time. (Id., ¶ 16). After continued negotiations, and with the assistance of the Mediator's evaluations, the Parties were able to reach an agreement to resolve this dispute on a class and representative basis. (Ibid). The Parties then worked diligently to negotiate and memorialize the terms in a long form settlement agreement. (Ibid).

On May 10, 2024, the Parties executed the Settlement Agreement. (Id., ¶ 17 & Exh. 2).

III. THE SETTLEMENT TERMS

A. Class Definition

For purposes of settlement only, the Parties have agreed that the Class shall be defined as "all current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendant within the State of California at any time during the Class Period" ("Class Members" or "Class"). (Genish Decl., ¶ 18; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 6.b). The Class Period is defined as the period from November 10, 2017 through March 13, 2024 or the date on which the total number of workweeks reaches 30,000, whichever is earlier. (Genish Decl., ¶ 18; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 6.f). Based on information provided by Defendant, it is estimated that there are a total of seven hundred and fifteen (715) Class Members. (Genish Decl., ¶ 18).

B. Amount of Settlement

The Parties have agreed to settle the class and PAGA claims at issue in the Operative Complaint for a non-reversionary Gross Settlement Amount of One Million Dollars and Zero Cents ($1,000,000.00), exclusive of employer-side payroll taxes. (Genish Decl., ¶ 19; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 6.p).

C. Allocation and Funding of the Gross Settlement Amount

The Gross Settlement Amount is a common fund and therefore includes all requested costs, fees, and other allocations. (Genish Decl., ¶ 19; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 6.p). The Gross Settlement Amount includes: (1) Class Counsel's fees in the amount of one-third (1/3) of the Gross Settlement Amount (i.e., $333,333.33 if the Gross Settlement Amount is $1,000,000.00); (2) Class Counsel's actual litigation costs and expenses, not to exceed Thirty Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($30,000.00); (3) Settlement Administration Costs, not to exceed Thirteen Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($13,000.00); (4) Enhancement Payment in the amount of Five Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($5,000.00); and (5) PAGA Amount of One Hundred Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($100,000.00). (Genish Decl., ¶ 19; Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 6.p, 9, 10, 11, and 12). After the above-estimated amounts are deducted from the Gross Settlement Amount, the Net Settlement Amount that will be available for Class Members is currently estimated to be Five Hundred Eighteen Thousand Six Hundred Sixty-Six Dollars and Sixty-Seven Cents ($518,666.67). (Genish Decl., ¶ 19). Additionally, 25% of the PAGA Amount ("PAGA Employee Amount"), which is $25,000.00 out of $100,000.00 will be fully distributed to "all current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendant within the State of California at any time during the PAGA Period" ("PAGA Employees"). (Genish Decl., ¶ 19; Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 6.p, 6.x, 6.y, and 11). The "PAGA Period" is defined as the period from November 8, 2020 through March 13, 2024 or the date on which the total number of workweeks reaches 30,000, whichever is earlier. (Genish Decl., ¶ 19; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 6.z).

The Net Settlement Amount will be distributed and paid to all Class Members who do not submit a timely and valid Request for Exclusion ("Settlement Class Members") on a pro rata basis based on the number of weeks each Class Member worked for Defendant as a non-exempt employee in California during the Class Period ("Workweeks"). (Genish Decl., ¶ 20; Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 6.ll and 6.mm). In order to be counted as a Workweek, the Class Member must have worked at least one day in that week. (Genish Decl., ¶ 20; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 6.mm). The pro rata share of the Net Settlement Amount that a Class Member may be eligible to receive under the Class Settlement ("Individual Settlement Share") will be calculated by the Settlement Administrator, in accordance with the Settlement Agreement. (Genish Decl., ¶ 20; Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 6.s and 13).

The PAGA Employee Amount will be distributed and paid to all PAGA Employees on a pro rata basis based on the number of weeks each PAGA Employee worked for Defendant as a non-exempt employee in California during the PAGA Period ("PAGA Workweeks"). (Genish Decl., ¶ 21; Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 6.bb and 11). In order to be counted as a PAGA Workweek, the PAGA Employee must have worked at least one day in that week. (Genish Decl., ¶ 21; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 6.bb). The pro rata share of the PAGA Employee Amount that a PAGA Employee may be eligible to receive under the PAGA Settlement ("Individual PAGA Payment") will be calculated by the Settlement Administrator, in accordance with the Settlement Agreement. (Genish Decl., ¶ 21; Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 6.q and 14).

Each Individual Settlement Share will be allocated as twenty percent (20%) wages and eighty percent (80%) penalties, interest, and non-wage damages. (Genish Decl., ¶ 22; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 15). The portion allocated to wages will be reported on an IRS Form W-2 and the portions allocated to penalties, interest, and non-wage damages will be reported on an IRS Form 1099 (if applicable) by the Settlement Administrator. (Genish Decl., ¶ 22; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 15). The Settlement Administrator will withhold the employee's share of taxes and withholdings with respect to the wages portion of the Individual Settlement Shares, and issue checks to Settlement Class Members for their net payment of their Individual Settlement Share ("Individual Settlement Payment"). (Genish Decl., ¶ 22; Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 6.r and 15). The employer's share of taxes and contributions in connection with the wages portion of Individual Settlement Shares will be paid by Defendant separately and in addition to the Gross Settlement Amount. (Genish Decl., ¶ 22; Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 6.p and 15).

Each Individual PAGA Payment will be allocated as one hundred percent (100%) penalties and will be reported on an IRS Form 1099 (if applicable) by the Settlement Administrator. (Genish Decl., ¶ 22; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 15).

The Settlement Agreement is a non-reversionary and non-claims made settlement. (Genish Decl., ¶ 23; Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 6.p and 33). The Net Settlement Amount will be fully distributed to Settlement Class Members and the PAGA Amount will be fully distributed to the LWDA and PAGA Employees, in accordance with the Settlement Agreement. (Genish Decl., ¶ 23; Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 13 and 14). No money will revert to Defendant. (Genish Decl., ¶ 23; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 6.p).

Each Individual Settlement Payment and Individual PAGA Payment check will be valid and negotiable for one hundred and eighty (180) calendar days from the date the checks are issued, and thereafter, shall be canceled. (Genish Decl., ¶ 24; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 33). Any funds associated with such canceled checks will be distributed by the Settlement Administrator to the State of California's Unclaimed Property Fund in the name of the Settlement Class Member and/or PAGA Employee. (Genish Decl., ¶ 24; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 33).

D. Released Claims

Upon the full funding of the Gross Settlement Amount, Plaintiff and all Settlement Class Members will be deemed to have fully, finally, and forever released, settled, compromised, relinquished, and discharged the Released Parties of all Released Class Claims. (Settlement Agreement, ¶ 34).

Upon the full funding of the Gross Settlement Amount, Plaintiff, the State of California with respect to all PAGA Employees, and all PAGA Employees will be deemed to have fully, finally, and forever released, settled, compromised, relinquished, and discharged the Released Parties of all Released PAGA Claims. (Id., ¶ 35).

"Released Class Claims" means any and all claims, debts, liabilities, demands, obligations, guarantees, costs, expenses, attorneys' fees, damages, or causes of action which were alleged or which could have been alleged based on the factual allegations in the Operative Complaint, arising during the Class Period, under any federal, state, or local law, and shall specifically include claims for Defendant's alleged failure to pay overtime and minimum wages, provide compliant meal and rest periods and associated premium payments, timely pay wages during employment and upon termination, provide accurate wage statements, and reimburse necessary business-related expenses in violation of California Labor Code Sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 226(a), 226.7, 510, 512(a), 1194, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 2800, and 2802, and any other claims which were alleged or which could have been alleged based on the factual allegations in the Operative Complaint, arising during the Class Period, for failure to properly pay wages or compensate employees under the California Labor Code or the applicable Industrial Welfare Commission Wage Order(s), and all claims for attorneys' fees and costs and statutory interest in connection therewith, California Business and Professions Code sections 17200, et seq., and any other claims, including claims for statutory penalties, pertaining to the Class Members. (Id., ¶ 6.ee).

"Released PAGA Claims" means any and all claims arising from any of the factual allegations in the PAGA Letter, arising during the PAGA Period, for civil penalties under the Private Attorneys General Act of 2004, California Labor Code Sections 2698 et seq., including all claims for attorneys' fees and costs related thereto, for Defendant's alleged failure to pay overtime and minimum wages, provide compliant meal and rest periods and associated premium payments, timely pay wages during employment and upon termination, provide accurate wage statements, maintain complete and accurate payroll records, and reimburse necessary business-related expenses in violation of California Labor Code Sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 226(a), 226.7, 510, 512(a), 1174(d), 1194, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 2800, and 2802, and the applicable Industrial Welfare Commission Wage Order(s), including inter alia, Wage Order 9-2001. (Id., ¶ 6.ff).

"Released Parties" means Defendant and its current and former officers, directors, members, insurers, shareholders, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors, and assigns. (Id., ¶ 6.gg).

IV. STANDARD OF REVIEW FOR PRELIMINARY APPROVAL

The settlement of a class action requires court approval. (See Dunk v. Ford Motor Co., 48 Cal. App. 4th 1794 (1996)). "In general, questions whether a settlement was fair and reasonable, whether notice to the class was adequate, whether certification of the class was proper, and whether the attorney fee award was proper are matters addressed to the trial court's broad discretion." (Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc., 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 234-35 (2001) (disapproved on other grounds)).

The review and approval of a proposed class action settlement involves a two-step process. (See Cal. Rules of Court, Rule 3.769(c)). First, counsel submit the proposed terms of the settlement and the Court makes a preliminary assessment of whether the settlement appears to be sufficiently within the range of a fair settlement to justify providing notice of the proposed settlement to class members. After notice is provided to the class, the Court must conduct a second inquiry into whether the proposed settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate. (Ibid).

The initial evaluation of the settlement at the preliminary approval step "is not a fairness hearing." (Armstrong v. Board of School Directors of City of Milwaukee, 616 F.2d 305, 314 (7th Cir. 1980)). Rather, the limited purpose of this initial inquiry is to determine, at a threshold level, only whether the proposed settlement is within the range of possible approval and, as a result, "whether there is any reason to notify the class members of the proposed settlement and to proceed with a fairness hearing." A presumption of fairness exists where: (1) the settlement is reached through arm's length bargaining; (2) investigation and discovery are sufficient to allow counsel and the court to act intelligently; (3) counsel is experienced in similar litigation; and (4) the percentage of objectors is small. (See In re Microsoft I-V Cases, 135 Cal. App. 4th 706, 723 (2006)).

Preliminary approval does not require a court to make a final determination that the settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate. Rather, that decision is made only at the final approval stage, after notice of the settlement has been given to the class members and they have had an opportunity to object or exclude themselves from the settlement. (See Cal. Rules of Court, Rule 3.769(g)). In considering a potential class settlement, the court need not reach any ultimate conclusions on the issues of fact and law which underlie the merits of the dispute and need not engage in a trial on the merits. (See Officers for Justice v. Civil Service Commission, 688 F.2d 615, 625 (9th Cir. 1982)).

V. THE SETTLEMENT IS PRESUMED FAIR

A. The Settlement Was Reached as a Result of Arm's-Length Bargaining

California courts recognize that "a presumption of fairness exists where . . . [a] settlement is reached through arm's-length bargaining." (Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 245; see also Clark v. Am. Residential Servs. LLC, 175 Cal.App.4th 785, 799 (2009)). Here, the Parties' settlement negotiations were at all times made at arm's-length and were adversarial. (Genish Decl., ¶ 25). The Settlement was reached after continued negotiations following a full day of mediation with a highly respected mediator with substantial experience mediating wage and hour cases, and Plaintiff engaged in additional negotiations in order to finalize the long-form agreement presently before the Court. (Ibid). At all times, Plaintiff was willing and prepared to litigate this matter through class certification and trial if the Parties had been unable to reach a favorable resolution. (Id., ¶ 46).

B. Sufficient Investigation and Discovery by Experienced Class Counsel

Courts typically assess the status of discovery in determining whether a class action settlement agreement is fair, reasonable, and adequate. (Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801). Prior to mediation, Defendant produced a random 25% sampling of putative class members' time and pay records. (Genish Decl., ¶ 26). The random sampling was conducted by sorting putative class members' last names alphabetically, then selecting every third employee until the 25% sampling was met. (Ibid). Defendant also produced employee handbooks, relevant wage and hour policies, and information regarding the total number of putative class members, the number of current versus former employees, the total workweeks worked by the putative class members, and the average rate of pay for the putative class members. (Ibid).

This allowed Plaintiff's counsel to conduct an informed assessment and analysis of the strengths and weaknesses of the claims and the potential class-wide damages. (Id., ¶ 27). Based on information exchanged, the Parties extensively briefed issues regarding class certification and liability and provided their analyses to the Mediator who helped the Parties debate the strengths and weakness of their respective positions. (Id., ¶ 28). Additionally, settlement negotiations were conducted by highly capable and experienced counsel. (Genish Decl., ¶¶ 1-8). Accordingly, Class Counsel had sufficient information and experience to act intelligently in negotiating the Settlement.

C. The Settlement is Fair and Reasonable in Light of the Parties' Respective Legal Positions and Recovery Risks

A settlement is not judged against what might have been recovered had a plaintiff prevailed at trial, nor does the settlement have to obtain 100% of the damages sought to be fair and reasonable. (Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 246, 250). In evaluating the reasonableness of a settlement, a trial court must consider "the strength of plaintiffs' case, the risk, expense, complexity and likely duration of further litigation, the risk of maintaining class action status through trial, the amount offered in settlement, the extent of discovery completed and the stage of the proceedings, the experience and views of counsel, the presence of a governmental participant, and the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement." (Kullar v. Foot Locker Retail, Inc., 168 Cal.App.4th 116, 128 (2008)).

Here, the reasonableness of the Settlement is underscored by the fact that Defendant has legal and factual grounds for defending the Action. Based upon Class Counsel's experience litigating similar complex matters, Plaintiff reasonably expected a vigorous and lengthy defense to both class certification and the merits of the Action absent a settlement.

1. Class Counsel's Analysis of the Maximum Available Liability and Damages

Class Counsel analyzed all available data and estimated Defendant's maximum potential exposure to be approximately $6,237,889, assuming the litigation was successful at trial on all claims at issue and every employee had a violation for each claim on every shift worked, and then reduced this exposure analysis based on the challenges facing the likelihood of obtaining class certification, prevailing at trial, and other attendant risks. (Genish Decl., ¶ 29). This estimate is based off an estimated maximum liability for all claims at issue and the total aggregate workweeks during the relevant time period, less interest, and based on the analysis of the data which was extrapolated out for all class members across the entire putative class period, which included: $1,078,274 for meal period violations less meal period premiums paid; $2,100,112 for rest period violations; $19,867 for unpaid wages (regular, overtime, and double time wages) due to rounding; $617,781 for unpaid off-the-clock work ($337,308 in regular wages and $280,473 in overtime wages for 1 hour per workweek of off-the-clock work); $1,336,370 for waiting time penalties; $938,200 for wage statement penalties; and $147,285 for unreimbursed business expenses. (Ibid). Plaintiff further estimated that Defendant faced an additional exposure of $961,400 in potential, non-stacked (i.e., one penalty, per employee, per pay period during the PAGA statutory period) PAGA penalties. (Ibid). Together with the PAGA penalties, Defendant's maximum potential exposure totaled $7,199,289 in damages. (Ibid).

2. Class Counsel's Risk-Based Analysis and Risk-Based Adjustments

While Plaintiff believes that Defendant faced significant exposure, substantial barriers to a recovery existed. Defendant contended that Plaintiff's claims are not suitable for class certification because individual issues and affirmative defenses would predominate should this case go to trial.

(Genish Decl., ¶ 32; See Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior Court, 53 Cal.4th 1004 (2012); Duran v. U.S. Bank Nat. Assn., 59 Cal.4th 1, 35-36 (2014); Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Dukes, 131 S.Ct. 2541, 2551 (2011)). While Plaintiff and Class Counsel disagree with Defendant's predictions, they also recognize that there is a significant risk that the Court may deny class certification. (Genish Decl., ¶ 32; see also, Findings of the Study of California Class Action Litigation, 2000-2006, available at http://www.courts.ca.gov/documents/class-action-lit-study.pdf (finding that only 21.4% of all class actions were certified either as part of a settlement or as part of a contested certification motion)).

For example, Plaintiff's meal period claims, which were based on Defendant's alleged failure to provide lawful meal periods, have been increasingly difficult to certify in recent years. (Genish Decl., ¶ 33; See Brinker, 53 Cal. 4th at 1034-35). Plaintiff's theory of liability for meal period violations was based on allegations that Defendant had failed to implement its policies and that its practices failed to allow Class Members to take meal breaks in the manner required under California law. (Genish Decl., ¶ 33; See Bradley v. Networkers Int'l, LLC, 211 Cal.App.4th 1129, 1150 (2012) (holding that "the lack of a meal/rest break policy and uniform failure to authorize such breaks are matters of common proof.")). Specifically, Plaintiff asserted that employees who worked aboard the sailing vessels were too busy to be permitted to take meal breaks and those employees who did attempt to take them were frequently interrupted with work requests. (Genish Decl., ¶ 33). Based on the sampling of time and pay records, Plaintiff's analysis showed a 56.8% violation rate where meal breaks were either short, less than 30 minutes, or nonexistent. (Ibid). Defendant contended that its policies and practices at all times during the Class Period were lawful. (Ibid). Defendant further argued that the rate of purported meal period violations reflected in the data would require individualized inquiry and that such inquiry would prohibit a class from being certified. (Ibid). Indeed, the records reflected that Defendant had paid meal period premiums for 5.3% of the recorded meal break violations. (Ibid). Defendant also argued that Class Members signed valid on-duty meal period waivers. (Ibid). Class Counsel also had to consider the risk that the Court would find validity in an individualized proof defense to certification of Plaintiff's meal period claim. (Ibid).

Additionally, a large portion of Defendant's overall liability lies in Plaintiff's rest period allegations. (Id., ¶ 34). As with the meal period allegations, Defendant contended that it had a lawful written rest period policy, provided compliant rest breaks, and relieved Class Members of all duties as required under California law. (Ibid). Additionally, this claim was even more uncertain given the difficulties associated with proving the alleged rest period violations, as Defendant was not required to record these breaks. (Ibid). Given the lack of records demonstrating rest period violations, there were legitimate concerns Plaintiff would not be able to certify these claims or prove substantial damages with requisite certainty, which made the estimated value of this claim subject to much challenge. (Ibid).

Plaintiff also faced challenges certifying and proving liability for his minimum wage and overtime claims. (Id., ¶ 35). These claims were largely based on Defendant's rounding policy and unrecorded, off-the-clock work performed by the Class Members. (Ibid). Plaintiff argued that Defendant rounded employees' time in a manner which was entirely in favor of Defendant and to the detriment of the employees. (Ibid). While Defendant did round employees' time to the nearest quarter-hour in a non-neutral manner, the analysis of time records revealed that a total of only approximately 1,318 hours (or 4.3 minutes per shift) were underpaid to employees and a total of approximately 473.5 hours (or 3.7 minutes per shift) were overpaid to employees. (Ibid). Plaintiff's off-the-clock claims rested on unrecorded, off-the-clock work performed by the Class Members both before and after their shifts and during purported meal and rest periods. (Ibid). Additionally, it was reported that Plaintiff and Class Members were told by their supervisor to clock out when traveling (i.e., driving) between Defendant's terminals at different ports in Southern California. (Ibid). However, the individualized nature of why this work was performed and the individualized nature of damages presented substantial concerns regarding the manageability of the case and the risk the Court could find these issues prevented certification, and the estimated damages for this claim were based on an assumption that all Class Members worked off the clock for at least one hour per week. (Ibid).

There are also substantial risks associated with Plaintiff's waiting time penalties and wage statement claims. (Id., ¶ 36). First, these claims were derivative of Plaintiff's claims for unpaid meal period premiums, unpaid rest period premiums, unpaid minimum wages, and unpaid overtime wages, and if certification was denied on those underlying claims, these derivative claims for penalties would also likely fail. (Ibid). Further, even if Plaintiff prevailed on his underlying claims, he would still be required to demonstrate that Defendant's violations of California Labor Code section 203 were willful violations. (Genish Decl., ¶ 36; See, e.g., Choate v. Celite Corp., 215 Cal App. 4th 1460, 1468 (2013) (holding that "an employer's reasonable, good faith belief that wages are not owed may negate a finding of willfulness")). Wage statement claims have also seen varying treatment at the appellate level because such claims have an element of discretion attached to them rather than a pure calculation of damages after liability is proven. (Genish Decl. ¶ 36; Jaimez v. DAIOHS USA, Inc., 181 Cal.App.4th 1286 (2010) with Price v. Starbucks Corp., 192 Cal.App.4th 1136 (2011)). Accordingly, these derivative claims, which comprised a substantial portion of Defendant's estimated liability, were therefore uncertain. (Genish Decl., ¶ 36).

Plaintiff also contended that Defendant failed to reimburse Plaintiff and the other Class Members for necessary business-related expenses. (Id., ¶ 37). Based on Class Counsel's investigations and analysis, Class Members incurred expenses for using personal cell phones for work-related purposes and using personal vehicles to travel in between Defendant's terminals without being compensated for mileage. (Ibid). However, it was determined that only approximately 10% of the Class Members used their personal vehicles for traveling in between the terminals.

Class Counsel also recognized that, even if Plaintiff prevailed at class certification, proving the amount of wages due to Class Members would be an expensive, time-consuming, and uncertain proposition. (Id., ¶ 38). In order to prove liability and damages, Class Counsel would need to obtain and analyze thousands of pages of documents and conduct additional and more in-depth investigations with Class Members to obtain declarations at great expense. (Ibid). Obtaining the cooperation of current employees may also be difficult, given the likely reluctance to aid prosecution of a lawsuit against a current employer. (Ibid). On the other hand, Defendant would likely be able to obtain the cooperation of its employees. (Ibid). Moreover, even if Plaintiff prevailed at class certification and trial, possible appeals would substantially delay any recovery by the Class. (Ibid).

Therefore, taking into account how each of the above risks potentially effected Plaintiff's ability to obtain class certification, thereafter prove the underlying violations, and the cost and delay in recovering the alleged potential damages, Class Counsel discounted Defendant's estimated liability by 50% to $3,599,644. (Id., ¶ 39). The merits-based risk factors further reduced Defendant's estimated liability by an additional 50%. (Ibid). This resulted in an adjusted estimated liability of $1,799,822. In light thereof, the settlement amount of $1,000,000.00 is a significant settlement. (Ibid).

Class Counsel also contemplated the risks of proceeding with the PAGA action and potential liability Defendant could face from this claim as part of the global resolution. (Id., ¶ 40). Existing case law makes PAGA claims subject to the same defenses and risks as Plaintiff's underlying wage claims. (Genish Decl., ¶ 40; see, Elliot v. Spherion Pac. Work, LLC, 572 F.Supp.2d 1169, 1181-82 (C.D. Cal. 2008) ("Plaintiff's claim under [PAGA] is wholly dependent upon her other claims. Because all of Plaintiff's other claims fail as a matter of law, so does her PAGA claim")). Moreover, although California case law clearly states that PAGA actions need not satisfy class action requirements, Class Counsel remained mindful of the fact that some courts have nevertheless held that PAGA claims must meet a threshold "manageability" requirement. (Genish Decl., ¶ 40; See, e.g., Wesson v. Staples the Office Superstore, LLC, 68 Cal.App.5th 746 (2021)). Class Counsel also anticipated that even if successful on the merits at trial, the imposition of cumulative civil penalties based on the alleged wage and hour violations could be considered unjust, arbitrary and oppressive, or confiscatory, and that Defendant would argue that it made a good faith attempt to comply with its legal obligations warranting a reduction in penalties. (Genish Decl., ¶ 40).[1] Class Counsel also anticipated Defendant would argue that it made a good faith attempt to comply with its legal obligations and that the violations per pay period were low, warranting an additional reduction in civil penalties. (Ibid). Finally, Class Counsel was also mindful of the fact that PAGA is fundamentally not intended to be compensatory in nature but is instead intended to facilitate enforcement of California's labor laws by financing state activities and educating and deterring non-compliance. (Ibid).

[1] See, e.g., Thurman v. Bayshore Transit Management, Inc., 203 Cal.App.4th 1112, 1131 (2012) (imposition of both statutory and civil penalties for same conduct is impermissible double recovery) (disapproved on other grounds); Aguirre v. Genesis Logistics, 2013 WL 10936035, at *3 (C.D. Cal. 2013) ("duplicative effect" of penalties is a factor in favor of "reducing ...the PAGA penalty"); Smith v. Lux Retail North America, Inc., 2013 WL 2932243, at *3 (N.D. Cal. June 13, 2013) (declining to stack penalties based on the same conduct); Castillo v. ADT, LLC, 2017 WL 363108, at *4 (E.D. Cal. Jan. 25, 2017); Sanchez v. McDonalds Restaurants of California, Inc., 2017 WL 4620746 (LA Super. Ct. July 6, 2017) (declining to stack penalties arising out of the same conduct); Fleming v. Covidien, Inc., 2011 WL 756304718, at *4 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 12, 2011) (reducing PAGA penalties by 80%); Cotter v. Lyft, Inc., 193 F.Supp.3d 1030 (N.D. Cal. 2016) (indicating that a substantial reduction is warranted where good faith dispute exists in legal obligations); Carrington v. Starbucks Corp., 30 Cal.App.5th 504, 529 (2018) (approving reduction in penalties from $50 per pay period to $5 per pay period based on good faith attempts to comply with obligations and minimal violations).

Therefore, after considering this multitude of factors, Plaintiff and Class Counsel concluded that it was in the best interest of the State of California and the PAGA Employees to enter into the Settlement, and to allocate One Hundred Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($100,000.00) of the Gross Settlement Amount towards the PAGA claim, which represents approximately 10% of the Gross Settlement Amount. (Id., ¶ 41). This percentage of the settlement is well within the range of wage and hour settlements regularly approved in both state and federal court for cases that include both a class and PAGA action. (Ibid). Typically, such hybrid cases allocate only 1% of the gross settlement value to resolve PAGA claims, and, indeed, settlements allocations as little as 0.22% of the gross settlement amount have been approved as reasonable by courts. (Ibid). Moreover, the overall relief obtained by the Settlement is significant, not only from a monetary perspective, but also because it fulfills the public policy objectives of PAGA—to promote enforcement of California's labor laws, provide funds to the state, and deter future non-compliance by the employer. (Ibid).

The Settlement is in the best interest of the Class Members, the PAGA Employees, and the State of California and is within the accepted range of recoveries for this type of litigation given the inherent risk of litigation, the risk of obtaining and maintaining class certification, and the costs of further litigation. (Id., ¶ 42).

VI. CERTIFICATION FOR SETTLEMENT PURPOSES IS WARRANTED

Code of Civil Procedure Section 382 provides that three basic requirements must be met in order to sustain any class action: (1) there must be an ascertainable class; (2) there must be a well-defined community of interest in the question of law or fact affecting the parties to be represented; and (3) certification will provide substantial benefits to litigants and the courts, i.e., proceeding as a class action is superior to other methods. (See Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1806). Plaintiff contends that the Action, which is based upon Defendant's wage and hour policies and practices, satisfies the class certification requirements under California Code of Civil Procedure section 382. Defendant denies Plaintiff's allegations, but for purposes of the Settlement only, Defendant has stipulated to certification of the Class.

A. An Ascertainable Class Exists Which is So Numerous That Joinder of All Members is Impracticable

Whether an ascertainable class exists turns on three factors: (1) the class definition, (2) the size of the class, and (3) the means of identifying the class members. (See Miller v. Woods, 148 Cal.App.3d 862, 873 (1983)). In this case, all three considerations strongly favor class certification. Here, the Class is defined as "all current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendant within the State of California at any time during the Class Period." (Genish Decl., ¶ 18; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 6.b). This provides a clear and definite scope for the proposed class.

Next, the Class is sufficiently numerous. There is no magic number that satisfies the numerosity requirement. Courts have certified classes with as few as ten or twenty-eight class members. (Rose v. City of Hayward, 126 Cal.App.3d 926, 934 (1981); Bowles v. Superior Court, 44 Cal. 2d 574 (1995); Hebbard v. Colgrove, 28 Cal.App.3d 1017, 1030 (1972)). Here, the estimated Class size of seven hundred and fifteen (715) individuals meets the numerosity requirement.

Finally, the question of whether class members are easily identifiable turns on whether a plaintiff can establish "the existence of an ascertainable class." (Daar v. Yellow Cab Co., 67 Cal.2d 695 at 706 (1967)). The existence of an ascertainable class in this case can be established through Defendant's payroll records, and the Class definition is sufficiently specific to enable the Parties, Class Members, and the Court to determine the parameters of the Class. (See Clothesrigger, Inc. v. GTE Corp., 191 Cal.App.3d 605, 617 (1987)).

B. The Class Shares a Well-Defined Community of Interest

The community of interest requirement embodies three factors: (1) predominant questions of law and fact; (2) class representatives with claims or defenses typical of the class; and (3) class representatives who can adequately represent the class. (Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1806). Here, all three requirements are easily satisfied.

The commonality criterion requires the existence of common question of law or fact and is generally established with the issues of predominance and typicality. (See Daar, 67 Cal.2d 695, 706). What is required is that a common question of fact or law exists which predominates over issues unique to individual plaintiffs. The existence of individual issues or facts—generally present in any case arising from employment—is not a bar to class certification as long as they do not render class litigation unmanageable or predominate over the common issues. (See B.W.I. Custom Kitchen v. Owens-Illinois, Inc., 191 Cal.App.3d 1341, 1354 (1987)).

Here, Plaintiff's claims present common issues of law and fact that predominate and warrant class certification. Plaintiff alleges that Defendant denied compliant meal and rest periods to employees, required employees to perform work off-the-clock, and failed to fully compensate employees for all time actually worked. These policies and practices meant that Defendant allegedly failed to pay minimum and overtime wages, and other related claims. Plaintiff alleges that Defendant's policies and practices were uniform as to all Class Members. Thus, class treatment is appropriate.

To satisfy the typicality requirement, California law does not require that plaintiffs' claims be identical to the other class members. Rather, the test of typicality for a class representative is whether other members have the same or similar injury, whether the action is based on conduct which is not unique to the named plaintiff, and whether other class members have been injured by the same course of conduct. (See Seastrom v. Neways, Inc., 149 Cal.App.4th 1496, 1502 (2007)). The typicality requirement for a class representative refers to the nature of the claim or defense of the representative, and not to the specific facts from which it arose or the relief sought. (See Ibid).

Here, Plaintiff alleges that his claims are similar to that of the other Class Members and that Plaintiff's claims arise out of the same alleged course of conduct giving rise to the claims of the other Class Members. Because Plaintiff's claims are based upon the same alleged conduct and business practices as those of Class Members, the typicality requirement has been satisfied.

Finally, the question of adequacy of representation "depends on whether the plaintiff's attorney qualifies to conduct the proposed litigation in the plaintiff's interest or not antagonistic to the interests of the class." (McGee v. Bank of America, 60 Cal.App.3d 442, 450 (1976)). Here, these considerations are satisfied. Class Counsel is well-regarded and is qualified and experienced in employment-related, class-action litigation. (Genish Decl., ¶¶ 1-8). Plaintiff will vigorously, adequately, and fairly represent the interests of the Class. Plaintiff has, at all times, throughout the course of the litigation considered the interests of the Class and understood that he must take steps to adequately represent the Class and their interests. (Coffey Decl., ¶ 10). Because Plaintiff's claims are typical of other Class Members and are not based on unique circumstances, there is no antagonism between the interests of Plaintiff and the Class.

C. A Class Action is Superior to a Multiplicity of Litigation

Under the circumstances, proceeding as a class action is a superior means of resolving this dispute, as the Class Members and the Court will derive substantial benefits. Class certification would serve as the only means to deter and redress the alleged violations. (See Linder v. Thrifty Oil Co., 23 Cal.4th 429, 434 (2000) (relevant considerations include the probability that each class member will come forward to prove his or her separate claim and whether the class approach would actually serve to deter and redress the alleged wrongdoing)). Further, individual actions arising out of the same operative facts would unduly burden the courts and could result in inconsistent results. Therefore, class action proceedings are superior to individual litigation.

VII. THE REQUESTED ENHANCEMENT PAYMENT IS REASONABLE

Plaintiffs in class action lawsuits are eligible for reasonable incentive payments as compensation "for the expense or risk they have incurred in conferring a benefit on other members of the class." (Munoz v. BCI Coca-Cola Bottling Co., 186 Cal.App.4th 399, 412 (2010)). Courts routinely grant approval of class action settlement agreements containing enhancements for the class representative, which are necessary to provide incentive to represent the class and are appropriate given the benefit the class representatives help to bring about for the class. (See In re Online DVD Rental, 779 F.3d 934, 947-948 (9th Cir. 2014) (approving incentive award 417 times larger than individual payments where incentive award made up a mere .17% of the settlement); Gaudin v. Saxon Mortgage Servs., Inc., 2015 WL 7454183, at *10 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 23, 2015) (finding service award of $15,000 to be "fair and reasonable")).

Plaintiff initiated this litigation on behalf of his former co-workers who will now be entitled to receive payment from the Settlement. Plaintiff invested substantial time and effort into litigation, including his own research, reviewing documents, and extensive discussions with Class Counsel. (Coffey Decl., ¶¶ 3-5). Further, the requested amount for Plaintiff is also reasonable given the average award and the benefit gained by other Class Members. For these reasons, Plaintiff requests that an Enhancement Payment of Five Dollars and Zero Cents ($5,000.00) to Plaintiff be preliminarily approved by the Court. (Genish Decl., ¶ 43; Coffey Decl., ¶ 12).

VIII. THE REQUESTED ATTORNEYS' FEES AND COSTS ARE REASONABLE

Trial courts have "wide latitude" in assessing the value of attorneys' fees and their decisions will "not be disturbed on appeal absent a manifest abuse of discretion." (Lealao v. Beneficial Cal, Inc., 82 Cal.App.4th 19, 41 (2000)). California law provides that attorney fee awards should be equivalent to fees paid in the legal marketplace to compensate for the result achieved and risk incurred. (Id. at 47). In cases where class members present claims against a common fund and the defendant agrees to a percentage of the fund as part of the settlement, use of the percentage method is appropriate. (Id. at 32).

Here, the requested attorneys' fees of one-third (1/3) the Gross Settlement Amount (i.e., $333,333.33 if the Gross Settlement Amount is $1,000,000.00) is disclosed to Class Members in the proposed Class Notice. (Settlement Agreement, Exh. A). The requested fee was freely negotiated, is common in the legal marketplace, and is not opposed by Defendant. The Motion for Final Approval will elaborate on the nature of the legal services provided and will also support Class Counsel's request for the reimbursement of litigation costs and expenses not to exceed Thirty Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($30,000.00). (Genish Decl., ¶¶ 44 and 46). The Attorneys' Fees and Costs that are not ultimately approved by the Court shall instead be included in the Net Settlement Amount to be distributed to Settlement Class Members. (Settlement Agreement, ¶ 9).

IX. THE CLASS NOTICE AND THE OPT-OUT AND OBJECTION PROCESS MEETS DUE PROCESS REQUIREMENTS

The Parties have jointly drafted the Class Notice, which will be mailed to the Class Members. (Id., Exh. A). The Class Notice will include information regarding the nature of the Action, a summary of the terms of the Settlement, the Class definition, information on how to object to and/or opt-out of the Class Settlement and to dispute Workweeks and/or PAGA Workweeks, and the date of the Final Approval Hearing. (Ibid). The Class Notice will list each Class Member's total Workweeks and their estimated Individual Settlement Share and each PAGA Employee's total PAGA Workweeks and their estimated Individual PAGA Payment. (Ibid).

Within fourteen (14) calendar days after entry of the preliminary approval order, Defendant will provide a list in a formatted readable Microsoft Office Excel spreadsheet to the Settlement Administrator containing the following information for each Class Member: full name; last known mailing address;

Social Security number; dates worked for Defendant during the Class Period; and such other information as is necessary for the Settlement Administrator to calculate Workweeks and PAGA Workweeks (if applicable) (collectively referred to as the "Class List"). (Id., ¶¶ 6.d and 22). Within seven (7) calendar days after receiving the Class List from Defendant, the Settlement Administrator will perform a search based on the National Change of Address Database or other similar services available, such as provided by Experian, for information to update and correct for any known or identifiable address changes, and will mail a Class Notice in English and Spanish to all Class Members via First-Class U.S. Mail, using the most current, known mailing addresses identified by the Settlement Administrator. (Id., ¶ 23.a). The Parties have agreed to use CPT Group, Inc. as the Settlement Administrator. (Genish Decl., ¶ 47; Settlement Agreement, ¶ 6.jj).

In determining whether to approve a settlement of a class action, a trial court has virtually complete discretion as to the manner of giving notice to class members, and review on appeal is governed by the abuse of discretion standard. (See In re Cellphone Fee Termination Cases, 186 Cal.App.4th 1380 (2010)). Here, Class Counsel is not aware of an alternative method of providing notice to the Class which would result in a higher likelihood of actual notice. (Genish Decl., ¶ 48). The original source of the mailing addresses is from Class Members, who provided the information to Defendant. (Ibid).

Class Members will have forty-five (45) calendar days from the initial mailing of the Class Notice by the Settlement Administrator to submit a Request for Exclusion, Notice of Objection, and/or Workweeks Dispute ("Response Deadline"). (Settlement Agreement, ¶ 6.ii).

Any Class Notice returned to the Settlement Administrator as undeliverable on or before the Response Deadline will be sent promptly via First-Class U.S. Mail to the forwarding address affixed thereto and the Settlement Administrator will indicate the date of such re-mailing on the Class Notice. (Id., ¶ 23.b). If no forwarding address is provided, the Settlement Administrator will promptly attempt to determine a correct address using a skip-trace or other search, using the name, address, and/or Social Security number of the Class Member, and perform a single re-mailing within five (5) calendar days. (Ibid). In the event that a Class Notice is re-mailed to a Class Member, the Response Deadline for that Class Member shall be extended fifteen (15) calendar days from the original Response Deadline. (Id., ¶ 6.ii).

Class Members will have an opportunity to dispute the number of Workweeks and/or PAGA Workweeks to which they have been credited, as reflected in their respective Class Notices, by submitting a timely and valid letter ("Workweeks Dispute") to the Settlement Administrator, by mail, postmarked on or before the Response Deadline. (Id., ¶¶ 6.nn and 24). A Workweeks Dispute must: (a) contain the case name and number of the Action; (b) contain the Class Member's full name, signature, address, telephone number, and the last four (4) digits of the Class Member's Social Security number; (c) clearly state that the Class Member disputes the number of Workweeks and/or PAGA Workweeks credited to that Class Member and what the Class Member contends is the correct number; and (d) be returned by mail to the Settlement Administrator at the specified address, postmarked on or before the Response Deadline. (Id., ¶ 6.nn).

Any Class Member wishing to be excluded from the Class Settlement must submit a timely and valid letter ("Request for Exclusion") to the Settlement Administrator, by mail, postmarked on or before the Response Deadline. (Id., ¶¶ 6.hh & 25). A Request for Exclusion must: (a) contain the case name and number of the Action; (b) contain the Class Member's full name, signature, address, telephone number, and last four (4) digits of the Class Member's Social Security number; (c) clearly state that the Class Member does not wish to be included in the Class Settlement; and (3) be returned by mail to the Settlement Administrator at the specified address, postmarked on or before the Response Deadline. (Id., ¶ 6.hh). Notwithstanding the above, all PAGA Employees will be bound by the PAGA Settlement and will be issued their Individual PAGA Payment, irrespective of whether they submit a Request for Exclusion. (Id., ¶ 25).

To object to the Class Settlement, Settlement Class Members must submit a timely and complete written objection ("Notice of Objection") to the Settlement Administrator, by mail, postmarked on or before the Response Deadline. (Id., ¶¶ 6.v & 26). A Notice of Objection must: (a) contain the case name and number of the Action; (b) contain the objector's full name, signature, address, telephone number, and the last four (4) digits of the objector's Social Security number; (c) contain a written statement of all grounds for the objection accompanied by any legal support for such objection; (d) contain copies of any papers, briefs, or other documents upon which the objection is based; and (e) be returned by mail to the Settlement Administrator at the specified address, postmarked on or before the Response Deadline. (Id., 6.v). Settlement Class Members, individually or through counsel, may also present their objection orally at the Final Approval Hearing, regardless of whether they have submitted a Notice of Objection. (Id., ¶ 26).

X. CONCLUSION

For all of the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court grant Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action and PAGA Settlement and the relief requested herein.

Respectfully submitted,
