1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Plaintiff Noah T. Hodgin hereby moves the Court for an order granting preliminary 3 approval to a proposed non-reversionary class action settlement to resolve wage and hour claims 4 on behalf of 1,696 individuals employed by Defendant Preferred Hospitality, Inc. (“Preferred” or 5 “Defendant”) who worked for Defendant in California and/or were placed to work at a client 6 employer through Defendant, during the period of October 5, 2018 through October 30, 2022. The 7 proposed $1,000,000 settlement will provide approximately $547,672 in cash payments to the 8 class, with an average award estimated at about $323. The balance of approximately $452,328 will 9 cover reasonable attorney’s fees and actual litigation costs, settlement administration costs, an 10 enhancement award to the named plaintiff, and payment of civil penalties to the State and aggrieved 11 employees. The settlement is the product of Plaintiff’s pre-filing investigation, formal discovery 12 and a pre-mediation exchange of information, and arms-length negotiations overseen by 13 experienced mediator Hon. Carl West (Ret.).

14 The proposed settlement is within the “range of reasonableness” for approval and.
15 Plaintiff’s counsel believes the settlement is a fair result for the class given the substantial risks 16 inherent in this matter. Accordingly, Plaintiff requests the Court enter an order: (1) granting 17 preliminary approval to the proposed class action settlement; (2) conditionally certifying the 18 settlement class as defined below; (3) appointing Zachary M. Crosner and Brandon Brouillette, 19 and Crosner Legal, P.C. as Class Counsel; (4) appointing Plaintiff Noah T. Hodgin as the Class
20 Representative; (5) appointing Phoenix Settlement Administrators as the Settlement
21 Administrator; (6) approving the form of notice to the class and the notice procedure; and (7) 22 scheduling a final fairness hearing.

23 II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND AND PROCEDURAL POSTURE

24 Defendant Preferred is the managing company for Provider Contract Food Service, 25 Market Broiler/Market Broiler Grille, and a General Partner in a majority of Bluewater Grill 26 restaurants. Preferred has six Market Broiler Grille locations in California (Orange, Huntington 27 Beach, Riverside, Simi Valley, Ontario, and Fremont) that are the subject of the action and 28 proposed settlement. Plaintiff Hodgin worked for Defendant at the Orange, California Market

1 Broiler Grille location as a server from October 2021 to May 2022. [Declaration of Brandon
2 Brouillette (“Brouillette Decl., ¶ 4.]

3 Plaintiff alleges Preferred committed a number of Labor Code violations. First, he alleges 4 Preferred rounds all time punches to nearest quarter hour, and that rounding favored Preferred in 5 its overall application and systematically deprived Plaintiff and the class members of 6 compensable hours worked. Plaintiff also alleges meal break violations based on an alleged 7 failure to maintain a compliant written policy for at least part of the class period, and “de facto” 8 violations for missed lunch breaks (especially 2nd meal periods), as well as short and late lunches.
9 For these same reasons, Plaintiff also contends Preferred did not provide proper rest breaks as 10 well. Finally, he alleges he had to use his own phone for work purposes, including downloading 11 apps for scheduling and payroll purposes, without any reimbursement. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 5.]

12 Based on these allegations, on October 5, 2022 Plaintiff filed his class action complaint
13 against Preferred alleging causes of action against Defendant for (1) recovery of unpaid minimum 14 wages and liquidated damages; (2) recovery of unpaid overtime wages; (3) failure to provide 15 meal periods or compensation in lieu thereof; (4) failure to provide rest periods or compensation 16 in lieu thereof; (5) failure to furnish accurate itemized wage statements; (6) failure to timely pay 17 all wages due upon separation of employment; (7) failure to reimburse business expenses; and (8) 18 unfair competition. Subsequently, after exhausting administrative remedies, on January 20, 2023, 19 Plaintiff filed a separate PAGA representative complaint alleging a cause of action against 20 Defendant based on the same allegations and alleged Labor Code violations. The two matters 21 have been deemed related, and both the Class and PAGA complaints are collectively the 22 “Operative Complaint” for purposes of settlement. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 6; Exh.3.]

23 Preferred has at all times denied Plaintiff’s allegations and maintained its payroll policies 24 and procedures comply with California law, that it paid the class members all wages due and that 25 its compensation policies properly compensate the class members for all hours worked. Preferred 26 further maintains its and meal/rest break policies likewise comply with California law, and that it 27 provided its employees with all required breaks on a fully compliant basis. Preferred likewise 28 argues there was no need for any employee to use a cell phone for work purposes, Defendant also

1 strongly contends the case cannot be maintained as any kind of class or representative action, 2 arguing determining the number of potential off the clock hours worked by each class member, or 3 the reasons for any alleged missed or non-compliant breaks, would result in individualized issues
4 predominating and that a trial on a representative basis would be unmanageable. [Brouillette
5 Decl., ¶ 7.]

6 Once the case was at issue, the Parties initiated written discovery and engaged in meet and 7 confer discussions about pending discovery and law and motion issues, as well as the merits of 8 the case. Following these discussions, the Parties agreed to attempt mediation, and further agreed 9 on a protocol for an informal exchange of additional documents and information before the 10 mediation. Consequently, Plaintiff's counsel reviewed payroll records, personnel 11 policies/handbooks, personnel files, and a random of sampling paystubs and time records for 12 about 25% of the pay periods at issue. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 8.]

13 The Parties then engaged the Hon. Carl West (Ret.), a highly respected mediator with 14 substantial wage and hour and class action experience, and in October 2023, participated in a full 15 day mediation with Judge West. Throughout the day, the arms-length negotiations were hard-16 fought and adversarial as the Parties exchanged extensive information on their legal and factual 17 positions, and made numerous offers and counter-offers. By the end of the day the Parties reached 18 agreement on all major issues. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 9.] They then collaboratively drafted the 19 Class Action and PAGA Settlement Agreement and Class Notice ("Settlement Agreement") 20 setting forth the full and final settlement terms now before the Court for approval, and a true and 21 correct copy of the Settlement Agreement is attached to the Brouillette Declaration as Exhibit 1.

22 III. THE PROPOSED SETTLEMENT TERMS

23 Under the settlement, Preferred will pay $1,000,000¹ into a common fund, the Maximum 24 Settlement Amount ("MSA"). Attorney's fees of up to $333,333.33 (1/3 of the MSA), litigation 25 costs of up to $20,000, settlement administration costs of no more than $18,995, a service award to 26

27
28 ¹ Defendant has the option of paying the MSA in three installments over a period of 180 days, subject to 7% interest, to pay in one lump sum, or in some combination thereof. Settlement Agreement, § 27.

1 Plaintiff of no more than $10,000, and $80,000 for alleged civil penalties under PAGA,² all will be 2 paid from the MSA. The remainder of around $547,672 will be allocated pro rata among the Class 3 Members based on their total weeks worked during the Class Period. No portion of the MSA will 4 revert to Preferred. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 10.]

5 A. Certification of the Settlement Class

6 The settlement provides for conditional certification of a settlement class including all 7 current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendant in California and/or were 8 placed to work at a client employer through Defendant in California during the Class Period of 9 October 5, 2018 through October 30, 2022. The Settlement Class consisted of approximately 1,696
10 individuals. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 11.]

11 B. The Benefit Conferred on the Settlement Class

12 As noted, the settlement obligates Preferred to pay $1,000,000 to resolve the claims of the 13 Settlement, inclusive of attorney's fees and costs. A minimum of approximately $547,672 from 14 the MSA will be distributed to the Participating Class Members. This is a cash settlement that does 15 not require Participating Class Members to submit a claim form to receive their settlement share.
16 Participating Class Members will receive their settlement checks automatically via First Class U.S.
17 Mail. Fifteen percent of each settlement share will be allocated to wages and the remaining eighty-18 five percent will be allocated to unreimbursed expenses, penalties, and interest. Preferred will pay 19 any and all applicable employer-side payroll taxes separately and in addition to the MSA. Subject 20 to the Court's approval, any amounts not claimed (because a class member does not cash a 21 settlement check) will be forwarded to the State Controller's Unclaimed Property Fund.
22 [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 12.]

23 Each participating Class Member will receive a share of the Net Settlement Amount based 24 on his or her total weeks worked for Preferred during the Class Period while employed in a non-25 exempt position. Thus, each individual Settlement Payment will be calculated using criteria 26 typically used in determining appropriate amounts of unpaid wages, premium wages for meal/rest

27 ² Per PAGA, this will be allocated $60,000 (75%) to the Labor & Workforce Development Agency, and 28 the remaining $20,000 (25%) will go to the 971 eligible Aggrieved Employee (as defined in the Settlement Agreement).

1 break violations, unreimbursed expenses, etc., under applicable law. These methods will ensure each 2 Class Member receives a portion of the settlement funds relative to the value of their potential 3 claims. The proposed allocation provides a reasonable way to compensate Class Members based 4 on the amount of time they worked for Preferred and the potential hours worked lost due to 5 rounding, the number of missed or non-compliant breaks, and so forth. The average gross award 6 is estimated to be approximately $323, and the awards will range from approximately $6.85 to 7 $1,440. The average PAGA award will be about $20, and will range from about $1.11 to $57.
8 Plaintiff's individual settlement share is estimated at about $267. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 13.]

9 As discussed below, the overall settlement amount is reasonable in light of the considerable 10 risks associated with Plaintiff's claims, and the delay and risk posed by continuing to litigate such 11 disputed allegations. In counsel's judgment, the total value recovered for the class is substantial 12 and within the range of reasonableness.

13 C. Settlement Administration

14 Subject to Court approval, the Parties have agreed on Phoenix Settlement Administrators 15 as the Settlement Administrator. Phoenix is qualified and has significant experience administering 16 class action settlements, including numerous wage and hour matters. Phoenix's fees and costs will 17 not exceed $18,995.00. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 14; Declaration of Jodey Lawrence, ¶¶ 2-16; Exhs.
18 A-B.]

19 D. The Class Notice

20 The proposed Notice of Class Action Settlement (Exhibit A to the Settlement Agreement) 21 sets out information about this case and explains the basic settlement terms in plain language, and 22 will go out in both English and Spanish. The Notice will be accompanied with both a Request for 23 Exclusion Form and Objection Form (Exhibits B and C to the Settlement Agreement). The Notice
24 also sets forth the individualized information used to calculate Class Members' Individual 25 Settlement Payments and each Class Member's estimated settlement award. The Notice likewise 26 details the procedures for Class Members to dispute their individual information, the procedure 27 for submitting an objection to the Settlement, the procedure to request exclusion, and the fact that 28 any final judgment will bind all class members who do not opt out. Cal. Rules of Court 3.769(f)

1 and 3.766(d). In sum, the Notice provides the Class Members with the information necessary to 2 evaluate the Settlement and decide to participate in, opt out of, or object, and meets all 3 requirements imposed by the California Rules of Court. Coupled with the notice procedure, the 4 Notice provides the best notice practicable. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 15.]

5 E. Right to Correct Information, Opt Out, or Object

6 Class Members will have sixty (60) days to dispute the information in their Notice used to 7 calculate their settlement award, and also have 60 days to submit any objections to the settlement
8 or to request exclusion. If a Class Member disputes their individual information, the Settlement 9 Administrator will review the Class Member's records and any other information submitted, and 10 make a final determination subject to review by the Court. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 16.]

11 F. Release of Claims

12 All Participating Class Members will release Preferred and its subsidiary restaurants from 13 all claims alleged in the Operative Complaint, or that could have been brought based on the 14 factual allegations in the operative complaint during the Class Period. The class release is limited 15 to the claims that were actually pleaded or could have been pleaded based on the alleged facts in 16 the Operative Complaint. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 17.]

17 G. Plaintiff's Enhancement

18 A modest incentive award for Plaintiff is appropriate under applicable law. See Staton v.
19 Boeing (9th Cir. 2003) 327 F.3d 938, 977 (collecting cases awarding class representatives service 20 and incentive payments ranging from $2,000 to $25,000). He devoted time and resources to the 21 litigation, provided documents, assisted Class Counsel with investigating the claims asserted and 22 in preparing for mediation. The service payment provided to Plaintiff as the class representative is 23 typical in class action cases and reasonable. Rodriguez v. W Publ'g Corp. (9th Cir. 2009) 563 F.3d 24 948, 958-59 (incentive awards are "intended to compensate class representatives for work done 25 on behalf of the class, to make up for financial or reputational risk undertaken in bringing the 26 action, and, sometimes, to recognize their willingness to act as a private attorney general.").

27 Here, the Settlement Agreement provides for an enhancement of up to $10,000.00 to 28 Plaintiff. This request is reasonable given the risks he undertook on behalf of the Class Members.

1 By contacting and retaining counsel to pursue these claims, Plaintiff helped make this settlement
2 possible for the absent Class Members, while shouldering the risk of being liable for Defendant's 3 litigation costs. Plaintiff also exposed himself to unwanted notoriety related to filing a public 4 lawsuit (discoverable even through a simple google search) for the benefit of other employees, 5 placing herself at risk of discrimination by future prospective employers. Among taking many 6 other actions assisting in the successful litigation of this case, Plaintiff provided substantial 7 factual information and documents to counsel, attended numerous meetings/phone conferences 8 with counsel to discuss the case, and kept abreast of all significant developments, as set forth in 9 his declaration filed herewith. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 18; Declaration of Noah Hodgkin, ¶¶ 2-9.]

10 H. Attorney's Fees and Costs

11 The terms of the Parties' settlement also allow Plaintiff's counsel to apply for an award of 12 attorney's fees of up to 1/3 of the MSA, or $333,333.33, and reimbursement of actual costs up to 13 $20,000.00. In advance of the Final Approval Hearing, Plaintiff's counsel will submit a request 14 for attorney's fees and actual litigation costs per the terms of the Settlement Agreement and 15 applicable law, and will provide the Court with appropriate information and evidence regarding 16 hourly rates, tasks performed, and time expended on the case. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 19.]

17 I. PAGA Claims and Notice to the LWDA

18 The Parties allocated $80,000 of the MSA to payment of civil penalties under PAGA, as 19 addressed below, and Plaintiff submits that amount is fair, reasonable and adequate, and consistent 20 with PAGA's underlying purposes. Per Labor Code section 2699(l)(2), Plaintiff gave notice of the 21 settlement and the approval hearing to the LWDA via its online portal. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 20; 22 Exh. 4.]

23 IV. ARGUMENT

24 A. Standard of Review for a Class Action Settlement

25 The law favors settlement, particularly in class actions where substantial resources can be 26 conserved by avoiding the time, costs and rigors of formal litigation. H. Newberg & A. Conte, 4 27 Newberg on Class Actions (4th ed. 2002) § 11.41; Class Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle (9th Cir. 1992)
28 955 F.2d 1268, 1276, cert. denied, 506 U.S. 953; Potter v. Pacific Coast Lumber Co. (1951) 37

1 Cal.2d 592, 602. Nevertheless, to ensure the rights of absent class members are not unjustly 2 compromised, settlement of a class action requires court approval. Cal. Rule of Court. 3.769;
3 Wershba v. Apple Computer (2001) 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 245; Dunk v. Ford Motor Co. (1996) 48
4 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1801. This judicial review protects against fraud or collusion, and ensures 5 fairness to the absent class members. Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1800-01. Judicial review occurs 6 via a two-step process to determine, under all the circumstances, if the proposed settlement is fair, 7 reasonable and adequate. Id. at 1801; Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 245.

8 The first step is a motion for preliminary approval, through which the parties present the 9 court with the proposed settlement and seek a determination that it is sufficiently fair and reasonable 10 to warrant notice to the class and further proceedings as to its fairness and adequacy. Cal. Rule of 11 Court 3.769(c). This preliminary evaluation determines if the proposed settlement is within the 12 “range of reasonableness” and if notice should be provided to the class regarding the settlement’s 13 proposed terms and conditions, and whether a final fairness hearing should be scheduled. Wershba, 14 91 Cal.App.4th at 234-35; North County Contractors Ass’n, Inc. v. Touchstone Ins. Servs. (1994)
15 27 Cal.App.4th 1085, 1089-90. Considering the strong judicial policy favoring settlement of class 16 actions, courts apply a presumption of fairness to class action settlements when (1) the settlement 17 results from arms-length bargaining, (2) investigation and discovery are sufficient to allow counsel 18 and the court to act intelligently, (3) counsel is experienced in similar litigation, and (4) the 19 percentage of objectors is small. Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1802; Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 245.

20 If the court grants preliminary approval, it then orders the class be given notice in an 21 appropriate manner, establishes a schedule and procedures for class members to request exclusion 22 or object, and sets the matter for a final fairness hearing. Typically, any motion for attorney’s fees 23 and costs is filed subsequent to preliminary approval and heard with the motion for final approval, 24 as part of the second step of the two-step approval process. Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1800;
25 Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 232. The proposed settlement in this matter warrants preliminary 26 approval under the liberal standard discussed above, as it is fair, reasonable and adequate under all 27 the circumstances, and represents a favorable result for the class.

28 /////

1 B. The Proposed Settlement Class Should Be Conditionally Certified

2 The purpose of conditional class certification for purposes of settlement is to facilitate 3 provision of notice of the proposed settlement’s terms, and the date and time of the final fairness 4 hearing. In this context, courts apply lesser scrutiny than they would otherwise in the context of 5 certifying a class. Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1807, n.19; Global Minerals & Metals Corp. v.
6 Superior Court (2003) 113 Cal.App.4th 836, 839 (“[I]t is well established that trial courts should 7 use different standards to determine the propriety of a settlement class.”)

8 In the present matter, conditional certification is proper since this matter satisfies all 9 requirements for class certification under Code of Civil Procedure section 382. First, the class is 10 both sufficiently numerous, consisting of at least 1,696 individuals, and ascertainable by 11 reference to Defendant’s personnel and payroll records. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 21.] Next, Plaintiff 12 is an adequate class representative, as his claims do not conflict with and are not antagonistic to 13 the claims of other class members. Further, his claims are typical given he is a member of the 14 class and his claims arise from the same employment practices giving rise to the claims of the 15 other class members. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 22; Hodgin Decl., ¶¶ 2-7.] Lastly, his counsel are 16 experienced and adequate class counsel. [Brouillette Decl., ¶¶ 35-45.]

17 Next, common questions of law and fact predominate – particularly for purposes of a 18 settlement class – as the Class Members all were subject to the same payroll scheme and policies, 19 same meal and rest break policies, etc., that Plaintiff contends violate California labor law. Since 20 the focus of the claims against Preferred concerns the legality of common policies applied 21 uniformly to the entire class, common issues predominate over individualized inquiries 22 concerning liability. For instance, whether Preferred’s time rounding and “auto-deduct” policies 23 raise common questions that will decide liability for all class members one way or another.
24 Similarly, whether Preferred had policies that unduly restricted how employees were able to 25 spend their break time raises another common issue, determination of which will help decide 26 liability for all Class Members one way or the other. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 23.]

27 By now it is well-settled a theory of recovery asserting the existence of a uniform policy 28 violating California law is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for class certification. Jones v.

1 Farmers Ins. Exch. (2013) 221 Cal.App.4th 986, 996 (“Claims alleging that a uniform policy 2 consistently applied to a group of employees is in violation of the wage and hour laws are of the 3 sort routinely, and properly, found suitable for class treatment”); Williams v. Superior Court 4 (2013) 221 Cal.App.4th 1353 (“A company-wide practice can sustain a common question of fact 5 or law that supports commonality for class certification”). Lastly, a class action is superior to 6 other means for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 24.]

7 C. The Proposed Settlement Meets the Kullar Factors and is within the Range of 8 Reasonableness

9 The proposed settlement resulted from serious, arms-length negotiations facilitated by 10 respected mediator, the Hon. Carl West (Ret.), who has considerable experience mediating wage 11 and hour class action cases. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 9.] Plaintiff’s counsel Zachary M. Crosner and 12 Brandon Brouillette of Crosner Legal, P.C. have years of experience litigating wage and hour class 13 actions. Plaintiff’s counsel are well-qualified to evaluate the risks and benefits of further litigation 14 versus settling the matter. [Brouillette Decl., ¶¶ 35-45.]

15 Next, California law recognizes several factors bearing on the fairness, adequacy, and 16 reasonableness of a proposed class settlement. Kullar v. Foot Locker Retail, Inc. (2008) 168 17 Cal.App.4th 116, 128. In relevant part, these factors include: 1) the amount offered in settlement 18 2) the strength of plaintiff’s case; 3) the risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further 19 litigation; 4) the risk of maintaining class action status throughout trial; and 5) the experience and 20 views of counsel. Id. Here, the proposed settlement satisfies these requirements.

21 Prior to mediation, the parties engaged in formal and informal discovery to facilitate 22 settlement discussions. Thus, Plaintiff reviewed documents and information regarding Preferred’s 23 payroll practices, a random sampling of pay stubs and time records for sampling of about 25% of 24 the pay periods at issue, applicable compensation plans, etc., and information from Defendant 25 regarding class size and breakdown, work weeks/pay periods, rates of pay, and other relevant 26 information. Plaintiff’s counsel are confident they obtained sufficient information to understand the 27 law and facts of this case and make an informed decision regarding the proposed settlement.
28 [Brouillette Decl., ¶¶ 8, 25.]

1 Using that data, Plaintiff and his experts estimated Preferred's likely maximum exposure 2 approximately $11,709,210, including about $491,200 on the unpaid wage claims, about 3 $3,120,000 on the meal break claims, about $3,120,000 for the rest break violations, around 4 $400,000 for unreimbursed expenses, $1,651,450 for inaccurate wage statements, and about 5 $2,926,200 in waiting time penalties. [Brouillette Decl., ¶¶ 26-27.] Plaintiff and his counsel 6 substantially discounted the value of these claims, however, in light of the multiple and 7 considerable risks posed by proceeding with the litigation, as Defendant raised numerous 8 defenses and vigorously defended against these claims.

9 On the minimum wage issue, Plaintiff claims that he and class members were not paid for 10 all hours worked because Preferred's time rounding resulted in "off the clock" work with a 11 corresponding loss of pay. Donohue v. AMN Services, LLC (2021) 11 Cal.5th 58, 72; Camp v.
12 Home Depot U.S.A., Inc. (2022) 84 Cal.App.5th 638, 660; Woodworth v. Loma Linda Univ.
13 Med. Ctr. (2023) 93 Cal.App.5th 1038, 1056 (endorsing Camp's departure from See's Candy).
14 Defendants maintained strict attendance policies that required employees be at their work stations 15 and "ready to work" at the beginning of their assigned daily work hours suggest that a proper 16 analysis of the time records would show that the rounding favored Defendants over time. This is 17 because employees that arrived to work early to be "ready to work" at the beginning of their shift 18 would have more often than not seen the few minutes they showed up early rounded off due to 19 Defendants' quarter hour rounding policy. In response, Preferred argued is timekeeping and 20 payroll practices comply with California law and that any rounding was completely neutral in 21 effect and thus permissible under the law. See's Candy Shops, Inc. v. Superior Court (2012) 210
22 Cal.App.4th 889. Preferred also argued individualized inquiries would be required to determine 23 if any such time was compensable, and class certification would be inappropriate and any PAGA
24 trial would be unmanageable. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 28.]

25 On the meal break issue, Plaintiff argued that Defendants systematically understaffed their 26 restaurants, which resulted in employees routinely having their breaks cut short or interrupted.
27 Per Plaintiff, unlike many other restaurants, Defendants failed to employ a 'breaker' position that 28 could cover for other employees so that they could take their breaks in an uninterrupted fashion.

1 As a result, Plaintiff alleged employees would be interrupted during unpaid meal breaks by 2 patrons (such as when a server requests a bill) or by other employees who needed assistance 3 during a busy spell or had a question of another employee that was taking an unpaid break.
4 Plaintiff also noted that Defendants' timekeeping system locked out employees during their 30-5 minute meal periods, which prevented them from clocking back in early if their meal break was 6 interrupted. This ensured that employees would not be paid for any time worked during meal 7 periods and would not receive a requisite meal period premium for any meal that was cut short or 8 interrupted. Plaintiff's expert's analysis supported this conclusion and found approximately a 62-9 63% violation rate for meal periods. Thus, even if Preferred's policies were compliant, it still 10 faced significant exposure for "de facto" violations. For the same reasons, Plaintiff contends 11 Preferred's rest break policy likewise was non-compliant and frequently missed or cut short, and 12 that he and the class members did not receive proper breaks. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 29.]

13 Defendants deny Plaintiff's contentions, claiming they made meal and rest breaks 14 available to Class Members in compliance with California law. Defendants contend their meal 15 and rest break policies are lawful and that Class Members were frequently reminded via training 16 and supervisors, that they were required to take all meal and rest breaks. Defendants also contend 17 that time records demonstrate that Class Members took duty-free, timely meal and rest breaks.
18 Defendants contend their meal and rest break policies and practices comported with the flexibility 19 the Brinker court held was integral to California's meal and rest period requirements. Finally, 20 Defendants argued that Plaintiff's meal and rest break claims are not susceptible to common 21 proof, as the claims would require individualized inquiry, including whether there was an 22 unlawful companywide policy, whether employees had the opportunity to take meal and rest 23 periods, whether they voluntarily chose to forego their meal and rest periods, and whether 24 Defendants ever prevented them from taking meal and rest periods. Accordingly, Defendants 25 contend these claims are vulnerable to a ruling that class treatment is not appropriate. [Brouillette
26 Decl., ¶ 30.]

27 On the expense reimbursement claims, Plaintiff alleges he and class members were 28 required to use their personal cell phones to access company information, such as a scheduling

1 app and payroll information, but failed to reimburse them for the use of their personal cell
2 phones. Per Preferred, however, accessing schedules or payroll info on a phone was entirely 3 voluntary, and otherwise there would be no conceivable requirement for employees to use their 4 own phone while at work and, to the extent they did, it would have been purely for personal 5 convenience and therefore not reimbursable. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 31.]

6 Plaintiff's claims for inaccurate wage statements and waiting time penalties are derivative
7 of the unpaid wage claims. Should those claims fail, Plaintiff's claim for inaccurate wage 8 statements and waiting time penalties would also fail. Defendants also contend they would not be 9 liable for waiting time penalties because a "good faith dispute" exists over the payment of past 10 wages. Cal. Code Regs. Tit. 8 § 13520; Amaral v. Cintas Corp. No. 2 (2008) 163 Cal.App.4th 1157,
11 1201. Further, Defendants contend Plaintiff would have to prove that Defendants "willfully" failed 12 to pay Class Members appropriate wages due upon separation of employment. Defendants contend 13 that any failure to pay wages upon separation was not willful. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 32.]

14 As far as potential PAGA liability, the theoretical penalties totaled at least $8.5 million 15 should Plaintiff prevail and establish the alleged minimum wage violations at issue for each pay 16 period. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 33.] As with the class claims, Plaintiff discounted the potential 17 PAGA penalties for the multi-layered defenses proffered by Defendant on the merits, and further 18 discounted these claims since the Court possesses wide discretion to reduce such penalties even if 19 Plaintiff ultimately prevailed. Labor Code § 2699(e)(2); Fleming v. Covidien (C.D. Cal. 2011)
20 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 154590, *8-9 (court reduced the potential penalties by over 82% after a 21 bench trial); Carrington v. Starbucks Corp. (2018) 30 Cal.App.5th 504 (after a bench trial, the 22 trial court awarded penalties of just $5 per pay period, a 90% reduction, which decision was 23 upheld on appeal); In re Taco Bell Wage and Hour Actions (E.D. Cal. Apr. 8, 2016) 2016 U.S.
24 Dist. Lexis 48557 (PAGA penalties denied after trial).

25 Accordingly, the Parties allocated $80,000 to PAGA penalties, which amount is 26 reasonable and in line with comparable settlements in other class actions in California. Van 27 Kempen v. Matheson Tri-Gas, Inc. (N.D. Cal. Aug. 25, 2017) 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 137182 28 (granting final approval of $5,000 PAGA penalty from $370,000 settlement, or 1.4 percent of 1 total settlement); Slavkov v. First Water Heater Partners I (N.D. Cal. July 25, 2017) 2017 U.S.

2 Dist. LEXIS 116303 (finding a $7,500 PAGA payment reasonable when measured against the 3 overall settlement of $345,000 and the possible weaknesses in plaintiffs' case, or 2.2 percent of 4 total settlement). Additionally, the LWDA has been informed of the terms of the PAGA portion 5 of the settlement, and will be able to weigh in as necessary. Jennings v. Open Door Mktg. Inc.
6 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 3, 2018) 2018 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 171356, at *27 (approving settlement with 7 PAGA penalties of 0.6% where "[p]laintiffs [have] submitted the settlement agreement to the 8 LWDA, and the LWDA has not objected to the settlement").

9 Thus, Defendant raised significant procedural and merits defenses to Plaintiff's claims, 10 any one of which, if successful, could have derailed Plaintiff's case. Accordingly, Plaintiff faced 11 risky issues going forward with this litigation, and given the need to secure class certification, try 12 the case, and deal with post-trial appeals, it would have taken years to realize any recovery in this 13 action. Plaintiff's counsel discounted the value of the class claims consistent with the risks 14 discussed above, and carefully weighed the likelihood of the class receiving substantially greater 15 benefit if the litigation continued. Plaintiff's counsel concluded – in light of these very real and 16 substantial risks – settlement on the proposed terms and without prolonged and costly litigation 17 was in the best interests of the class. The overall $1,000,000 recovery represents a significant 18 percentage of Defendant's potential exposure, and represents about 57% of the risk-discounted 19 $1,751,800 exposure on the class claims. Given these risks addressed above, a total recovery for 20 the class of $1,000,000 is a fair result within the range of reasonableness considering all potential
21 outcomes. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 34.]

22 Importantly, the mere fact that a settlement does not provide the same recovery as might 23 be achieved at trial is not a proper indicator of whether the settlement is fair, reasonable, and 24 adequate. Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 246, 250 ("even if the relief afforded by the proposed 25 settlement is substantially narrower than it would be if the suits were to be successfully litigated, 26 this is no bar to a class settlement because the public interest may indeed be served by a voluntary 27 settlement in which each side gives ground in the interest of avoiding litigation"); 7-Eleven 28 Owners for Fair Franchising v. Southland Corp. (2000) 85 Cal.App.4th 1135, 1150 ("The fact that

1 a proposed settlement may amount to only a fraction of the potential recovery does not, in and of 2 itself, mean that the proposed settlement is grossly inadequate and should be disapproved"); Lane 3 v. Facebook, Inc. (9th Cir. 2012) 696 F.3d 811, 819 ("[T]he question whether a settlement is 4 fundamentally fair . . . is different from the question whether the settlement is perfect in the 5 estimation of the reviewing court"); White v. Experian Information Solutions, Inc. (C.D. Cal.
6 2011) 803 F.Supp.2d 1086, 1098 (rejecting contention settlement was not fair and reasonable 7 even though it represented 99% discount off the maximum value of the claims). Importantly as 8 well, the proposed settlement is non-reversionary and will provide benefits to the Class Members 9 without a claims process. White, 803 F.Supp.2d at 1098; c.f., Federal Judicial Center, Managing 10 Class Action Litigation: A Pocket Guide for Judges (3d ed. 2010) at 20, available at 11 www.fjc.gov/sites/default/files/2012/ClassGd3.pdf (reversionary provisions and/or cumbersome 12 claims process may indicate lack of fairness). Plaintiff and her counsel submit the settlement is 13 within the "range of reasonableness," and is fair and adequate for the Class.

14 V. CONCLUSION

15 For all the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court grant this motion, 16 conditionally certify the settlement class, grant preliminary approval to the proposed class action 17 settlement, and enter the [Proposed] Order filed herewith.
