SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
COUNTY OF SACRAMENTO

JUAN CARLOS ROSALES, as an individual and on behalf of all employees similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

v.

BASKERVILLE-PARSONS CONTRACTORS,
INC., a California Corporation; and DOES 1
through 50, inclusive,

Defendants.

Case No.: 25CV004198

[Assigned for all purposes to Hon. Lauri A.
Damrell, Dept. 22]

CLASS AND PAGA REPRESENTATIVE ACTION

PLAINTIFF'S NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION FOR PRELIMINARY
APPROVAL OF CLASS AND PAGA
REPRESENTATIVE ACTION
SETTLEMENT; MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

Date: January 30, 2026
Time: 9:00 a.m.
Courtroom: Dept. 22
Judge: Hon. Lauri A. Damrell

Action Filed: February 20, 2025
Trial Date: Not Set

1 TO THE COURT, ALL PARTIES, AND THEIR COUNSEL OF RECORD:

2 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on January 30, 2026, at 9:00 a.m., or as soon thereafter as the
3 matter may be heard, in Department 22 of the above-captioned Court, located at 720 Ninth Street,
4 Sacramento, CA 95814, Plaintiff JUAN CARLOS ROSALES (“Plaintiff”) will and hereby does move
5 this Court for an order:

6 1. Granting class certification of the Class, solely for settlement purposes pursuant to 7 Code of Civil Procedure § 382;

8 2. Preliminarily approving the CLASS ACTION AND PAGA SETTLEMENT
9 AGREEMENT (“Settlement” or “Agreement”);

10 3. Appointing counsel for Plaintiff, Tunyan Law, APC as Class Counsel;

11 4. Appointing Plaintiff JUAN CARLOS ROSALES as the Class Representative;

12 5. Approving the use of the proposed notice procedure and related notice form;

13 6. Approving Phoenix Class Action Administration Solutions as the third-party
14 administrator;

15 7. Directing that notice be mailed to the Class; and,

16 8. Scheduling a hearing date for motions for final approval of class action settlement
17 and awards of attorneys’ fees and costs.

18 Good cause exists to grant this Motion because:

19 1. The Class meets all of the requirements for class certification for settlement
20 purposes under Code of Civil Procedure § 382;

21 2. The Settlement Agreement is a fair, adequate, and reasonable compromise of the 22 disputed wage and hour claims asserted by Plaintiff;

23 3. Plaintiff and Class Counsel are adequate to represent the Class;

24 4. The proposed notice procedures and related forms comply with California Rules of 25 Court 3.766(d) and (e), adequately apprise Class Members of their rights, and fully comport
26 with due process; and

27 5. Based on the foregoing, notice should be directed to the Class Members and a final 28 fairness hearing should be scheduled (Plaintiff suggests about 130 days after preliminary

1 approval is granted).

2 This Motion is made pursuant to Rule 3.769 and Rule 3.1113(e) of the California Rules of Court,
3 which require approval by the Court of a class action settlement and permit the Court to extend the page
4 limit for memoranda.

5 This Motion is based on this Notice of Motion and Motion, the attached Memorandum of Points
6 and Authorities, the Declarations of Plaintiff's counsel, Plaintiff and the Settlement Administrator in
7 support thereof, all papers and pleadings on file with the Court in this action, all matters judicially
8 noticeable, and on such oral and documentary evidence as may be presented in connection with the 9 hearing on the Motion.

10 Respectfully submitted,

11 Dated: January 6, 2026

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Pursuant to California Rules of Court, Rules 3.769(d) and (e), Plaintiff JUAN CARLOS
3 ROSALES (“Plaintiff”) respectfully requests that this Court preliminarily approve the proposed class
4 action settlement set forth in the CLASS ACTION AND PAGA SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT
5 (“Settlement”, “Settlement Agreement” or “Agreement”) with Defendant BASKERVILLE-PARSONS
6 CONTRACTORS, INC. (“Defendant”). The CLASS ACTION AND PAGA SETTLEMENT
7 AGREEMENT used by the Parties is based upon the model agreement template made available by the 8 Los Angeles Superior Court.

9 After informal discovery, the exchange of documents, and an arm’s-length mediation session
10 with an experienced mediator Lynn S. Frank, Esq., Plaintiff and Defendant (collectively referred to 11 herein as the “Parties”) reached a proposed class action settlement with a gross settlement amount
12 (“GSA”) of $650,000.00 in compromise of disputed claims asserted on behalf of the below-defined
13 Class consisting of 156 class members. Plaintiff believes that this settlement is a fair, adequate, and 14 reasonable compromise of the disputed claims for alleged unpaid wage and hour violations and penalties
15 asserted in this case.

16 Plaintiff now submits this Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action and PAGA
17 Settlement, along with the Settlement (attached to the Declaration of Lilit Tunyan [“Tunyan Decl.”], 18 Exhibit 1 thereto). For the Court’s convenience, below is a summary of the key provisions of the 19 Settlement.

20 II. THE MAJOR TERMS OF SETTLEMENT

21 The provisions of the proposed Settlement include the following:

- 22 • Defendant agrees not to oppose certification of a Class for purposes of Settlement only
23 (Settlement, ¶ 12.1);
- 24 • Class or Class Members: means all current and former hourly-paid, non-exempt
25 employees of Defendant who worked for Defendant in California at any time during the 26 Class Period . (Settlement, ¶ 1.5);
- 27 • Class Period: the period from February 20, 2021 through December 21, 2025 or as 28 modified pursuant to Paragraph 8 of the Agreement (Settlement, ¶1.12.) ;

- Participating Class Members: Those Class Members who do not submit timely exclusion requests to the Settlement Administrator. (Settlement, ¶ 1.9, 1.35);
- Settlement Amount: Defendant will pay a maximum of $650,000.00, referred to as the Gross Settlement Amount (or GSA herein), resulting in an estimated average gross payment per Class Member of approximately $4,166.67 (Settlement, ¶ 1.22);
- Class Size: approximately 140 individuals who worked approximately 14,050 workweeks as of October 21, 2025. As represented by Defendant, there are 156 individuals who worked 14,470 workweeks as of December 21, 2025, i.e. during the Class Period (Settlement, ¶ 4.1, 8);
- PAGA Group Size: approximately 73 individuals, who worked approximately 4,509 pay periods as of October 21, 2025. As represented by Defendant, there are 89 individuals, who worked 5,123 pay periods as of December 21, 2025, i.e. during the PAGA Period (Settlement, ¶ 4.1);
- PAGA Period: the period from February 20, 2024 through December 21, 2025 or as modified pursuant to Paragraph 8 of the Agreement (Settlement, ¶ 1.31);
- Escalator Clause: Based on its records, Defendant estimates that, as of October 21, 2025, the number of Workweeks during the Class Period is estimated to be 14,050. The parties stipulate to a 10% escalation of the estimated Workweeks without any increase to the GSA. If the number of actual Workweeks during the Class Period exceeds this 10% cushion above the estimated workweek total of 14,050 (i.e., exceeds 15,455 workweeks), Defendant shall have the option to either (1) increase the GSA by a pro-rata dollar value equal to the number of workweeks in excess of 15,455 workweeks; or (2) have the Class Period and PAGA Period end on the date the workweeks meet the 15,455 threshold. For example, if there is a 1% increase over 10% then the GSA increases by 1%. Defendant shall provide the estimated Workweeks total for the entire Class Period at least twenty (20) court days prior to filing preliminary approval motion, for determining the exact Class and PAGA

Periods for court approval in case the escalator clause is triggered. (the “Escalator Clause”) (Settlement, ¶ 8); As represented by Defendant, there are 156 individuals who worked 14,470 workweeks as of December 21, 2025. Therefore, the Class Period ended on December 21, 2025, and the Escalator Clause has not been triggered.

- Kullar/Munoz Analysis: Plaintiff addresses the claims analysis herein, at Part V.B.3, and in more detail the Declaration of Lilit Tunyan, at Paragraph 18;
- No Reversion: The Settlement is a non-reversionary settlement (Settlement, ¶ 3.1);
- Certification: Plaintiff addresses certification requisites herein, at Part V.A., and in the Declaration of Lilit Tunyan, at Paragraphs 34-40;
- No Claim Form: No claim form is required (Settlement, ¶ 3.1);
- Class Release: The Settlement will release specified wage-and-hour claims for Class Members (those Class Members who do not opt out of the Settlement) (Settlement, ¶¶ 1.39, 5.2);
- PAGA Release: The Class Members will release the PAGA Claims set forth in this Action, that were identified in the First Amended Complaint and Plaintiff’s LWDA Notice Letter, regardless of whether they opt out of the class portion of the Settlement (Settlement, ¶¶ 1.40, 5.3);
- Release Effective Date: The Release is not active until Defendant funds all payments required under the Settlement to the Settlement Administrator (Settlement, ¶ 5);
- Net Settlement Amount Available to the Class: After deducting Class Counsel’s attorneys’ fees and costs, Service Payment to Plaintiff, administration costs, and the payment to the LWDA, the remainder will be available for distribution to Class Members who do not opt out, with each Class Member receiving a share based on the number of workweeks each Class Member worked for Defendant within the Class Period. The Net Settlement Amount inclusive of PAGA settlement allocation to PAGA Employees is estimated to be at least $362,333.33, resulting in an average net payment per Class Member of at least $2,322.65 before any tax withholdings. (Settlement, ¶ 3);

- Tax Allocation: The amounts distributed to Class Members will be characterized as 20% alleged unpaid wages, 80% to penalties and interest, and PAGA Settlement Payments will be allocated as 100% penalties. (Settlement, ¶ 3.2.4.1, 3.2.5.2);
- Employer’s Portion of Payroll Taxes Paid Separately: Defendant’s portion of payroll taxes (e.g., FICA, FUTA, etc.) owed on any settlement payments to Class Members that constitute wages will be paid separate and apart from the GSM (Settlement, ¶ 3.1);
- Settlement Administrator: The notice portion of the Settlement will be administered by a third-party Administrator, Phoenix Class Action Administration Solutions as Phoenix Class Action Administration Solutions’ low bid for settlement administration services in the amount of $6,500.00 was selected as the lowest bid from a competitive bidding process (Settlement, ¶ 3.2.3);
- Class Data for Administration: The Settlement Administrator will receive the Class List within 14 calendar days of Preliminary Approval, use the NCOA database to update the Class List, and then use skip tracing on returned Notices (Settlement, ¶ 4.2);
- Notice: The Notice will be sent to Class Members within 14 days of receipt of the Class List (Settlement, ¶ 7.4.2). The Notice describes how to dispute workweeks, submit an objection in writing, in person, or through an attorney, or request exclusion (Settlement, ¶¶ 7.4 – 7.7);
- Notice Language: Notice will issue in English and Spanish (Settlement, ¶ 1.11);
- Objections: Objections can be submitted in person, through an attorney, or in writing to the Settlement Administrator (Settlement, ¶ 7.7);
- Exclusion Requests: The procedure for exclusion requests, mailing a request to the Settlement Administrator, is the same as the procedure for submitting a written objection (Settlement, ¶¶ 7.5 and 7.7);
- PAGA Allocation: From the GSA, $50,000.00 will be allocated to settle claims brought pursuant to the California Private Attorneys General Act, Labor Code § 2699 et seq. (“PAGA”), and sixty-five percent (65%), or $32,500.00, will be paid to the California

Labor & Workforce Development Agency (Settlement, ¶¶ 1.34, 3.2.5.);

- Enhancement/Service Payment to Plaintiff: Defendant will not oppose the application for Class Representative Service Payment of up to $10,000.00 for Plaintiff, to be paid from the GSA (Settlement, ¶ 3.2.1);
- Fees and Costs: Defendant will not oppose Class Counsel’s application for fees not to exceed 33 1/3% of the GSA ($216,666.67), and actual costs, in an amount not to exceed $22,000.00, to be paid out of the GSA (Settlement, ¶ 3.2.2);
- Check Void Period: Settlement checks will be valid for 180 days (Settlement, ¶ 4.4.3);
- Uncashed Checks: Any settlement checks that are mailed to the Class Members and remain uncashed after 180 days of the date of issuance will be cancelled, and the moneys will be directed to the California Controller's Unclaimed Property Fund (Settlement, ¶¶ 4.4.1, 4.4.3);
- Judgment Notice: Settlement Agreement, Class Notice and Judgment will be posted on the Settlement Administrator’s website after entry (Settlement ¶ 7.8.1);
- Confidentiality Provisions: The Settlement permits Class Counsel to discuss the Settlement with Class Members (Settlement ¶ 12.2)
- Notice to LWDA: Notice was provided prior to the filing of this Motion. Evidence is attached to the Declaration of Lilit Tunyan.

(Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 10-11 and Exhibit 1 thereto.)

III. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

A. Plaintiff’s Claims

On February 20, 2025, Plaintiff commenced this Action by filing a complaint alleging causes of action against Defendant for: (1) Failure to Pay All Wages and Sick Pay; (2) Failure to Provide Meal Periods; (3) Failure to Provide Rest Periods; (4) Failure to Keep Accurate Itemized Wage Statements; (5) Failure to Pay Wages Upon Termination of Employment; (6) Failure to Reimburse For Necessary Expenditures; and (7) Unfair Business Practices. On April 28, 2025, Plaintiff filed a First Amended Complaint adding a cause of action for Civil Penalties under PAGA [Cal. Lab. Code § 2699, et seq.].

1 The First Amended Complaint is the operative complaint in the Action (the “Operative
2 Complaint.”) (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 3.)

3 Pursuant to Labor Code § 2699.3(a), Plaintiff gave timely written notice to Defendant and the 4 LWDA by sending the PAGA Notice. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 4.)

5 B. Pre-Settlement Data Production and Analysis

6 The Parties have conducted informal discovery and investigation of the facts and law. Such
7 discovery and investigation have included, inter alia, the exchange of informal data and discoverable
8 information in preparation for the settlement negotiations. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 5.) The Parties have 9 analyzed payroll and other data pertaining to Plaintiff and the Class during the relevant Settlement
10 Period, including but not limited to the numbers of former and current members of the Class, average
11 workweeks, a sample size time and pay records and average rate of hourly pay, wage and hour policies.
12 (Id.)

13 After reviewing documents regarding Defendant’s wage and hour policies and practices and 14 other information obtained during the exchange of discovery, Class Counsel were able to evaluate the 15 probability of class certification, success on the merits, and the reasonably obtainable maximum
16 monetary exposure for all claims. Class Counsel reviewed these records and prepared a damage analysis
17 prior to engaging in settlement negotiations. Class Counsel also investigated the applicable law regarding 18 the claims and defenses asserted in the litigation. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 6.)

19 C. Settlement

20 On October 21, 2025, the Parties mediated before a mediator Lynn S. Frank, Esq. who is a highly 21 experienced and well-regarded mediator for wage and hour class action litigation. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 7.)
22 At the mediation, the Parties discussed at length the burdens and risks of continuing with the litigation
23 considering Defendant’s defenses. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 7.) The Parties have been able to reach a settlement
24 at the mediation. The Parties have reached an agreement regarding the substantive terms of a class-wide
25 settlement, pending the Parties’ agreement on a long-form class settlement agreement. The Parties then
26 signed a long form settlement agreement (“Agreement”). (Id.)

27 Plaintiff and Class Counsel are aware of the burdens of proof necessary to establish liability for the claims asserted in the Action, both generally and in response to Defendant’s defenses thereto.
28

Plaintiff and Class Counsel have also taken into account Defendant’s agreement to enter into a Settlement that confers substantial relief upon the Class. (Tunyan Decl., ¶8.)

Based on the foregoing, Plaintiff and Class Counsel have determined that the Settlement set forth in the Agreement is a fair, adequate, and reasonable Settlement and is in the best interests of the Class. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 9.) Solely for the purpose of settling this case, the parties agree that the requirements for establishing class action certification with respect to this class have been met and are met. (Id.) If this Settlement is not approved by the Court for any reason, Defendant reserves its right to contest class certification. (Id.) This Settlement, if approved by the Court, will result in the entry of the Judgment and the release of all Released Claims for all Class Members, including all within the class definition who have not elected to exclude themselves from the Class. (Id.)

IV. CLASS DEFINITION

The Class is defined as follows:

All current and former hourly-paid, non-exempt employees of Defendant who worked for Defendant in California at any time during the Class Period (the “Class Period” is from February 20, 2021 through December 21, 2025 or as modified pursuant to Paragraph 8 of the Agreement.) “Participating Class Members” are those Class Members who do not submit timely exclusion requests to the Administrator. (Settlement, ¶¶1.5, 1.9, 1.12, 1.35.)

The Aggrieved Employees or PAGA Group Members are defined as follows:

All current and former hourly-paid, non-exempt employees of Defendant who worked for Defendant in California at any time during the PAGA Period (the “PAGA Period” is from February 20, 2024 through December 21, 2025 or as modified pursuant to Paragraph 8 of the Agreement.) PAGA Group Members cannot opt out of the settlement of the PAGA claim. (Settlement, ¶¶ 1.4, 1.31, 7.5.4.)

V. DISCUSSION

A. The Court Should Conditionally Certify the Class Because It Meets All the Requirements for Certification for Settlement Purposes Under CCP § 382

The Class should be provisionally certified for settlement because: (1) the Class is ascertainable and sufficiently numerous; (2) there exists a well-defined community of interest; and (3) a class action is the superior method of adjudication for this settlement. Code of Civ. Proc. § 382; Brinker Rest. Corp. v.

1 Super. Ct., 53 Cal. 4th 1004, 1021 (2012); Linder v. Thrifty Oil Co., 23 Cal. 4th 429, 435 (2000).

2 Under Code of Civil Procedure § 382, class certification is warranted so long as there is a
3 numerous and ascertainable class with a well-defined community of interest among its members and a
4 “class action proceeding is superior to other means for a fair and efficient adjudication of the litigation.”
5 See, e.g., Sav-on Drug Stores, Inc. v. Superior Court, 34 Cal.4th 319, 326, 332 (2004). For purposes of 6 this Settlement only, Defendant stipulated to conditional certification. (Settlement ¶ 12.1.)

7 “The certification question is ‘essentially a procedural one that does not ask whether an action is 8 legally or factually meritorious.’” Id., at 326, quoting Linder v. Thrifty Oil Co., 23 Cal. 4th 429, 439-440
9 (2000). Indeed, the certification question simply asks whether the theory of recovery advanced by the 10 plaintiff is likely to prove amenable to class treatment. See, e.g., Jaimez v. Daiohs USA, Inc., 181 Cal.
11 App. 4th 1286, 1298 (2010). “[I]t is also well established that trial courts should use different standards
12 to determine the propriety of a settlement class, as opposed to a litigation class certification. Specifically,
13 a lesser standard of scrutiny is used for settlement cases.” Global Minerals & Metals Corp. v. Superior
14 Court, 113 Cal. App. 4th 836, 859 (2003), citing Dunk v. Ford Motor Co. 48 Cal. App. 4th 1794, 1807 n.
15 19 (1996). As the court noted in Dunk, although certification requirements are intended “to protect the 16 interests of the non-representative class members,” that concern is “protected by the trial court’s fairness
17 review of the settlement.” Dunk, 48 Cal. App. 4th at 1807 n.19.

18 In view of these standards, and as shown below, the Class should be certified for purposes of 19 settlement. Code Civ. Proc. § 382; Rules of Court, Rule 3.769(c).

20 1. The Members of the Class Are Both Objectively Ascertainable and 21 Sufficiently Numerous.

22 Whether an ascertainable class exists turns on three factors: (1) the class definition, (2) the size of 23 the class, and (3) the means of identifying the class members. See Miller v. Woods, 148 Cal. App. 3d
24 862, 873 (1983). In this case, Plaintiff contends that all three considerations favor class certification.

25 A class is ascertainable when “it is defined ‘in terms of objective characteristics and common
26 transactional facts’ that make ‘the ultimate identification of class members possible when that 27 identification becomes necessary.’” Noel v. Thrifty Payless, Inc., 7 Cal. 5th 955, 980 (2019). No set number of class members is required to maintain a class action. Hebbard v. Colgrove, 28 Cal. App. 3d 1017, 1030 (1972). In fact, the California Supreme Court has upheld a class of as few as ten members. Bowles v. Superior Court, 44 Cal. 2d 574 (1955).
28

The class definition is sufficiently specific to enable the Parties, Class Members, and the Court to readily determine the parameters of the class. See Clothesrigger, Inc. v. GTE Corp., 191 Cal. App. 3d 605, 617 (1987). In this case, there are approximately 140 Class Members, all of whom may be identified by reference to Defendant's records that pertain to non-exempt status and dates of employment. In addition, to facilitate the administration of the Settlement, Defendant has agreed to share the information from its records and has already demonstrated that they can do so when providing class-wide discovery to Plaintiff to facilitate settlement discussions and respond to discovery. Accordingly, the Class is not only ascertainable, but also sufficiently numerous. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 36.)

2. There Are Common Questions That Predominate Over Any Questions That May Be Unique to Individual Class Members.

The community of interest requirement embodies three factors: (1) predominant questions of law and fact; (2) class representatives with claims or defenses typical of the class; and (3) class representatives who can adequately represent the class. Dunk, 48 Cal. App. 4th at 1806; Richmond, 29 Cal. 3d at 473-75. A question of law or fact is common to the members of a class if it may be resolved through common proof. See, Jaimez, 181 Cal.App.4th at 1305. As for predominance, it "is a comparative concept, and 'the necessity for class members to individually establish eligibility and damages does not mean individual fact questions predominate.'" Sav-on, 34 Cal. 4th at 334, quoting Reyes v. Los Angeles County Bd. of Supervisors, 196 Cal. App. 3d 1263, 1278 (1979).

In this case, common questions include, but are not limited to: i. Whether or not Defendant paid proper wages and sick pay to the Class; ii. Whether or not Defendant provided meal periods to the Class; iii. Whether or not Defendant provided rest periods to the Class; iv. Whether or not Defendant paid compensation timely upon separation of employment to former Class Members; v. Whether or not Defendant paid compensation timely throughout Class Members' employment; vi. Whether or not Defendant provided accurate itemized wage statements to the Class; vii. Whether or not Defendant reimbursed necessary business expenses in compliance with California Labor Code §2802; viii. Whether or not waiting-time penalties are available to the Class for violation of California Labor Code § 203; ix. Whether or not Defendant engaged in unlawful or unfair business practices affecting the Class in violation of California Business and Professions Code §§ 17200-17208; and x. Whether or not Plaintiff and the Class are entitled to penalties pursuant to PAGA (Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 37-38.)

In the Action, Plaintiff's claims present sufficient common issues of law and fact that predominate over individual issues and warrant class certification. From their review of the documentation provided, Class Counsel determined that for purposes of these claims, Defendant's policies and practices are either identical, or sufficiently similar, to raise the same questions of liability, and applied to all Class Members. Because Class Members would have to prove the same issues of law and fact to prevail, and because their potential legal remedies are identical, it would be preferable to resolve all Class Members' claims by means of the Settlement than to require each Class Member to litigate his or her individual claims. Therefore, common questions predominate over any questions that may be unique to individual Class Members, and class-wide settlement is superior to any other method of resolution.

3. Plaintiff's Claims Are Typical of Those of the Class.

Typicality "requires a showing that the class representative has claims or defenses typical of the class." See, e.g., Ghazaryan v. Diva Limousine, Ltd., 169 Cal. App. 4th 1524, 1534 (2008), citing Fireside Bank v. Superior Court, 40 Cal. 4th 1069, 1089 (2007), and Sav-On, 34 Cal. 4th at 326, approved by Brinker Rest. Corp. v. Super. Ct., 53 Cal. 4th 1004 (2012). California law does not require that plaintiffs have claims identical to the other class members. Rather, the test of typicality for a class representative is whether other members have the same or similar injury, whether the action is based on conduct which is not unique to the named plaintiffs, and whether other class members have been injured by the same course of conduct. Seastrom v. Neways, Inc., 149 Cal. App. 4th 1496, 1502 (2007).

In light of these standards, Plaintiff is typical of class members. Like other Class Members, Defendant employed Plaintiff in a non-exempt position during the Class Period, and Plaintiff claims that he was subject to the same policies alleged to have impacted the entire class. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 37.)

1 Plaintiff alleges that he and other Class Members share the same claims stemming from
2 Defendant's alleged violations of the Labor Code and relevant wage order. In addition, Defendant's
3 main defenses, including that the wage and hour policies and practices fully comply with California law,
4 apply equally to the claims of all Class Members. Thus, Plaintiff is typical of the Class.

5 4. Plaintiff and Plaintiff's Counsel Will Adequately Represent the Class.

6 The adequacy requirement is met where the plaintiff is represented by counsel qualified to 7 conduct the litigation and the plaintiff's interest in the litigation is not antagonistic to class members'
8 interests. McGhee v. Bank of America, 60 Cal.App.3d 442, 451(1976). In other words, where the plaintiff
9 has adequate counsel, the plaintiff may represent the entire class absent any disabling conflicts of interest
10 that might hinder the plaintiff's ability to represent the class. Id.

11 In the Action, Plaintiff has no conflicts of interest with other Class Members and has agreed to 12 place Class interests above Plaintiff's own (Rosales Decl., ¶¶ 4-21; Tunyan Decl., ¶ 40.) Moreover,
13 Plaintiff's counsel is experienced in wage and hour class action litigation and have no conflicts of interest
14 with absent Class Members. (Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 20-26, 40.) As such, this Court should appoint Plaintiff
15 as Class Representative for the Class and appoint Plaintiff's Counsel as Class Counsel.

16 5. Proceeding as a Class Action is Superior to Individual Actions

17 Plaintiff contends that proceeding as a class action is a superior means of resolving this dispute,
18 as the Class Members and the Court will derive substantial benefits. Class certification would serve as 19 the only means to deter and redress the alleged Labor Code violations. See Linder v. Thrifty Oil Co. 23
20 Cal. 4th at 434. Furthermore, individual actions arising out of the same operative facts would unduly 21 burden the courts and could result in inconsistent results, which may be avoided by class certification.

22 6. The Proposed Class Notice Complies with Rule 3.766(d) and (e)

23 Notice requirements are set forth in Rules of Court, Rule 3.766. In determining the manner of 24 the notice, the court must consider the interests of the class, the type of relief requested, the stake of the 25 individual class members, the cost of notifying class members, the resources of the parties, the possible
26 prejudice to class members who do not receive notice, and the res judicata effect on class members.
27 Rules of Court, Rule 3.766(e).

1 a) The Notice Procedure Satisfies Due Process

2 The proposed procedure for distributing the Proposed Notice is robust and more than meets the
3 minimal requirement that it have “a reasonable chance of reaching a substantial percentage of the class
4 members.” Cartt v. Sup. Ct., 50 Cal.App.3d 960, 974 (1975). There is no statutory or due process
5 requirement that all class members receive actual notice, but in this matter, the Class Members will
6 receive direct mailed notice. Here, the proposed procedure includes safeguards, including, but not
7 limited to, mailing notice to Class Members’ last known addresses; skip tracing; searches for address
8 changes; and the re-mailing of returned notices to any forwarding addresses. This manner of giving
9 notice complies with Rule of Court 3.766(c) because it provides a reasonable chance that Class Notice
10 will reach most if not all Class Members.

11 b) The Notice is Accurate and Informative

12 The proposed Notice of Class Action Settlement should be approved for dissemination to the 13 Class Members because its content complies with Rule of Court 3.766(d) in that it contains a brief
14 explanation of the case, including the basic contentions or denials of the Parties, detailed information
15 about Class Members’ rights to be excluded from the Settlement and object to the Settlement; a 16 statement that the Settlement will bind all members who do not timely opt-out. Thus, the Notice also 17 satisfies Rule of Court 3.769(f) regarding the contents of settlement notices.

18 The Notice also fulfills the requirement of neutrality in class notices. 3 NEWBERG § 8.39. It
19 summarizes the proceedings and the terms and conditions of the proposed Settlement, in an informative
20 and coherent manner, in compliance with the Manual for Complex Litigation (“MANUAL”), (2d Ed.
21 1993), which states that “the notice should be accurate, objective, and understandable to Class Members .
22 . . .” MANUAL, § 30.211. It makes clear that the Settlement does not constitute an admission of liability
23 by Defendant and recognizes that this Court has not ruled on the merits. It also states that the final 24 settlement approval decision has yet to be made. Accordingly, the Notice complies with the standards of 25 fairness, completeness, and neutrality required of a combined settlement-certification class notice.

1 B. The Court Should Preliminarily Approve the Settlement Because It Is a Fair,
2 Adequate, and Reasonable Compromise of Disputed Wage Claims in View of 3 Defendant’s Potential Liability Exposure and the Risks of Continued Litigation

4 California courts favor settlement. See, e.g., Stambaugh v. Superior Court, 62 Cal. App. 3d 231,
5 236 (1976). Unlike most settlements, class action settlements involve a court approval process that exists
6 to prevent fraud, collusion, and unfairness to class members. Malibu Outrigger Bd. of Governors v.
7 Superior Court, 103 Cal.App.3d 573, 578-579 (1980). This approval process consists of preliminary 8 settlement approval, notice being given to class members, and a final fairness and approval hearing being
9 held at which class members may be heard with respect to the settlement. Id. For the reasons discussed
10 below, this Court should preliminarily approve the Settlement, allow the Parties to give notice to the 11 Class as proposed, and schedule a final fairness and final approval hearing.

12 1. Class Action Settlements Are Subject to Review and Approval.

13 Any settlement of class litigation must be reviewed and approved by the presiding court. Rules
14 of Court, Rule 3.769(a). Approval occurs in two steps: (1) an early (preliminary) review by the trial
15 court and (2) a subsequent (final) review after notice has been distributed to the class members. The 16 Preliminary Approval Hearing and Final Approval Hearing coincide with these two steps. The present
17 motion seeks preliminary approval and the setting of a Final Approval Hearing.

18 To evaluate a settlement, the trial court must receive “basic information about the nature and 19 magnitude of the claims in question and the basis for concluding that the consideration being paid for the 20 release of those claims represents a reasonable compromise.” Kullar v. Foot Locker Retail, Inc., 168 Cal.
21 App. 4th 116, 133 (2008). However, the record need not contain an explicit statement of the maximum
22 theoretical amount that the class could recover. Munoz v. BCI Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Los Angeles,
23 186 Cal. App. 4th 399, 409 (2010).

24 2. The Parties Reached the Settlement Through Arms’ Length Negotiations
25 Between Experienced Counsel After Sufficient Data Was Exchanged to 26 Evaluate Settlement.

27 A settlement is presumptively fair where it is reached through arms’ length bargaining, based on 28

1 sufficient discovery and investigation to allow counsel and the court to act intelligently, counsel is
2 experienced in similar litigation, and the percentage of objectors is small. Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1802;
3 In re Microsoft I-V Cases, 135 Cal. App. 4th 706, 723 (2006); 7-Eleven Owners for Fair Franchising v.
4 Southland Corp., 85 Cal. App. 4th 1135, 1146 (2000). In deciding whether to approve a settlement, a
5 trial court has broad powers to determine whether it is fair under the circumstances of the case. See, e.g.,
6 Mallick v. Superior Court, 89 Cal. App. 3d 434, 438 (1979). In exercising these powers, the overriding
7 concern is to ensure that a proposed settlement is “fair, adequate, and reasonable.” Dunk, at 1801,
8 quoting Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n of San Francisco, 688 F.2d 615, 625 (9th Cir. 1982).
9 Relevant factors in making this determination, include, but are not limited to:

10 [T]he complexity and likely duration of further litigation, the risk of maintaining class
11 action status through trial, the amount offered in settlement, the extent of discovery 12 completed and the state of the proceedings, the experience and views of counsel, the presence of a governmental participant, and the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement.

13 Id. These factors require balancing, are non-exhaustive, and, as such, trial courts should tailor the factors
14 considered to each case and give due regard to “what is otherwise a private consensual agreement 15 between the parties.” Id.

16 Here, the Settlement resulted from thorough, arms’ length negotiations between experienced 17 counsel with the assistance of highly regarded mediator. (Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 7-9.) With respect to the 18 claims at issue in this case, Plaintiff obtained employees’ pay and time data from Defendant and then 19 carefully reviewed that information. Counsel for Plaintiff also examined relevant policies.

20 Based on the totality of that review, Plaintiff estimated the potential exposure and then estimated
21 risk factors to adjust the reasonable expected outcome. The investigation and discovery that Plaintiff’s 22 counsel conducted were sufficient to provide them with enough information to intelligently evaluate the 23 estimated exposure in this action for purposes of negotiating the Settlement in view of the risks discussed
24 below and are also sufficient to allow this Court to do the same. See, e.g., Wershba v. Apple Computer,
25 Inc., 91 Cal. App. 4th 224, 245 (2001).

26 ///

27 ///

1 3. The Settlement Represents a Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable Compromise
2 of Class Members’ Claims Based on Defendant’s Estimated Liability
3 Exposure Given the Risks Continued Litigation Would Entail.

4 A settlement is not judged against what might have been recovered had a plaintiff prevailed at 5 trial and does not have to provide 100% of damages sought to be fair and reasonable. “In the context of a
6 settlement agreement, the test is not the maximum amount plaintiffs might have obtained at trial on the 7 complaint, but rather whether the settlement is reasonable under all of the circumstances.” Wershba, 91
8 Cal. App. 4th at 250. Accordingly, because settlements involve compromise, even one that provides for 9 substantially narrower relief than would likely be obtained if the suit were successfully litigated can be
10 reasonable given that “the public interest may indeed be served by a voluntary settlement in which each 11 side gives ground in the interest of avoiding litigation.” Id., quoting Air Line Stewards & Stewardesses
12 Ass’n, Local 550 v. American Airlines, Inc., 455 F.2d 101, 109 (7th Cir. 1972).

13 With respect to the claims asserted on behalf of the Class in this case, there are serious risks that 14 support the reduced compromise amount. These risks include, but are not limited to: (i) the risk that 15 Plaintiff would be unable to establish liability for unpaid straight time or overtime wages, see Duran v.
16 US Bank Nat’l Ass’n, 59 Cal. 4th 1, 39 & n. 33 (2014) (“Duran”), citing Dilts v. Penske Logistics, LLC
17 2014 WL 205039 (S.D. Cal. 2014) (dismissing certified off-the-clock claims based on proof at trial); (ii)
18 the risk that Defendant’ meal and rest period policies might not ultimately support class certification or a
19 class-wide liability finding, see Duran, 59 Cal. 4th at 14, n. 28 (citing Court of Appeal decisions 20 favorable on class certification issue without expressing opinion as to ultimate viability of proposition);
21 (iii) the risk that uncertainties pertaining to the ultimate legality of Defendant’s policies and practices
22 could preclude class-wide awards of statutory penalties under Labor Code §§ 203 and 226(e); (iv) the 23 risk that individual differences between Class Members could be construed as pertaining to liability and 24 not solely to damages, see Duran, 59 Cal. 4th at 19; (v) the risk that any civil penalties award under the 25 PAGA could be reduced by the Court in its discretion, see Labor Code § 2699(e)(1); (vi) the risk that 26 class treatment could be deemed improper as to one or more claims, except for settlement purposes; and,
27 (vii) the risk that appellate litigation could ensue; (viii) the risk that violation rate estimates would prove 28

1 much lower than expected. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 15.) These risks are non-exhaustive.

2 In light of the uncertainties of protracted litigation, the settlement amount reflects a fair and
3 reasonable recovery for the Class Members. (Tunyan Decl. ¶¶ 12-19.) The settlement amount is, of 4 course, a compromise figure. (Tunyan Decl. ¶ 16.) By necessity it took into account risks related to 5 liability, damages, and the defenses asserted by Defendant. (Id.) Moreover, each Class Member will be
6 given the opportunity to opt-out of the Settlement, allowing those who feel they have claims that are 7 greater than the benefits they can receive under this Settlement to pursue their own claims. (Id.)
8 For the approximately 156 members of the Class, the average gross recovery is at least $4,166.66 per 9 class member, and the estimated average net recovery for each Class Member is approximately 10 $2,322.65 (Id.) Given that Defendant could challenge certification and liability, this is a significant sum
11 to have achieved in settlement. Moreover, a Class Member who worked a greater number of weeks for 12 Defendant will receive a larger share of the Settlement than a Class Member who worked for a shorter
13 amount of time during the class period. (Id.)

14 After analyzing the claims in this matter, Plaintiff has concluded that the Gross Settlement
15 Amount of $650,000.00 is about 72% of the $905,047.50 estimate of risk-adjusted recovery (excluding 16 interest) at this stage in the litigation. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 17.) This assessment is based on a carefully
17 constructed model of the current fair value of the case, using estimated risks, average wage rates,
18 numbers of employees, and the amount of time covered by the class period. (Id.)

- 19 • A reasonably estimated exposure for unpaid off-the-clock work was calculated, with the 20 assistance of an expert, to be approximately $737,625.00. However, with the risk factor
21 discounts for certification and liability proof, the value of that claim is estimated by 22 Plaintiff's counsel to be approximately $88,515.00, assuming certification probability of 40%
23 and merits success at 30%.
- 24 • A reasonably estimated exposure for rest break violations over the class period was 25 calculated at $983,500.00, but with chances of certification and proof of liability (40% and 26 30% respectively) for a risk-adjusted exposure of $118,020.00.
- 27 • A reasonably estimated exposure for meal break violations over the class period was calculated at $1,475,250.00 with chances of certification and liability risks (50% and 70% respectively) resulting in a risk-adjusted exposure of $516,337.50.

- Risk-adjusted penalty recoveries for wage statement and Labor Code § 203 penalties were estimated to be approximately $44,725.00 (with chances of certification and liability risks of 50% and 20% respectively) and $54,600.00 (with chances of certification and liability risks of 50% and 20% respectively), respectively, on maximum exposures of $447,250.00 and $546,000.00.
- A reasonably estimated exposure for unreimbursed expenses was calculated at $140,500.00, with chances of certification and liability risks (50% and 40% respectively) resulting in a risk-adjusted exposure of $28,100.00.
- Performing risk-adjusted valuations for all claims yields a total value in the range of $850,297.50, excluding PAGA. (Id.)
- PAGA penalties were calculated as having a maximum realistic exposure of $365,000.00, but a risk adjusted value of $54,750.00, after factoring in risks of reduction in penalties pursuant to Court discretion and the high risk of the inability to prove violations for all aggrieved employees.

The concurrently filed Declaration of Lilit Tunyan sets forth claim valuation in additional detail. (See, Tunyan Decl., ¶ 17.)

This result here is fully supportable as reasonable. First, it is important to recognize the wilfulness finding required for Labor Code §§ 203 and 226 is challenging to establish. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 18.) Second, rest break and meal period claims have been challenging to certify for many years, even after Brinker. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 18.) Third, the certification rates in California are lower than conventional wisdom holds. See, H. Scott Leviant, Second Interim Report on class actions in California sheds new light on certification (February 19, 2010), www.thecomplexlitigator.com, available at <http://www.thecomplexlitigator.com/post-data/2010/2/19/second-interim-report-on-class-actions-in-california-sheds-n.html>; see also, Findings of the Study of California Class Action Litigation, 2000-2006, available at <http://www.courtinfo.ca.gov/reference/documents/class-action-lit-study.pdf> (finding, at page 5, and in Table 9, at page 15, that only 21.4% of all class actions were certified either as part of a settlement or as part of a contested certification motion).

Here, the estimated certification probabilities are above the average rate at which cases were certified in California over the study years, based upon data available through the California Courts websites. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 18.) In sum, well under 20% of all cases filed as proposed class actions are ultimately certified by way of a contested motion. (Id.) The recovery is roughly 14% of the maximum plausible recovery (estimated to be approximately $4,695,125.00 including PAGA), which falls within the expected outcome under the likelihood of success metric. (Id.) This Settlement achieves the goals of the litigation.

4. The Proposed Method for Allocating Settlement Funds Is Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable.

The proposed method of allocating the Settlement Fund to Class Members also is fair and reasonable. As noted, the parties agreed to allocate the Settlement Fund between all Class Members based on time worked by the Class Member during the Class Period, in relation to the total amount of time worked by all participating Class Members collectively during the class period. This proposed method is fair and reasonable because each Class Member's actual potential damages vary based on the number of workweeks he or she actually worked (e.g., Lab. Code § 226.7 provides for an extra hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of pay for each violation, resulting in a higher potential damage when a higher number of incidents occur). A Class Member who worked a greater number of weeks for Defendant will receive a larger payment under the Settlement than a Class Member who worked for a shorter amount of time during the relevant period. (Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 11, 17.)

5. The Proposed Service Payment to Plaintiff Is Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable and Warrants Preliminary Approval.

The proposed enhancement payment to Plaintiff is intended to recognize the substantial initiative and significant efforts on behalf of the Class. Courts routinely approve incentive awards to compensate named plaintiffs for the services they provide and the risks they incur during class action litigation, often in much higher amounts than that sought here. See, e.g., Bell v. Farmers Ins. Exchange, 115 Cal. App.

4th 715, 726 (2004) (upholding “service payments” to named plaintiffs for their efforts in bringing the case); Van Vranken v. Atlantic Richfield Co., 901 F. Supp. 294 (N.D.Cal. 1995) (approving a $50,000 enhancement award). Plaintiff contributed time to the prosecution of this matter, including assistance prior to the settlement negotiations and during settlement negotiations with information and substantial time conferring with counsel over the course of this litigation and before it was filed. (Rosales Decl., ¶¶ 4-21; Tunyan Decl., ¶ 33.) Most importantly, the average gross payment per Class Member is $4,166.67 and average net payment per Class Member is at least $2,322.65 before any tax withholdings, which is an excellent settlement result achieved due to Plaintiff’s efforts in bringing this action. The enhancement also recognizes the considerable risks Plaintiff undertook on behalf of the Class as well as the personal risk of facing intrusive discovery and potential disclosure to future employers that Plaintiff sued a former employer, making future employment prospects uncertain and general release of all claims beyond wage- and-hour claims released in this action.

6. The Proposed Award of Attorneys’ Fees and Costs Is Also Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable and Merits Preliminary Approval.

The California Supreme Court removed any lingering doubt about the use of the percentage of the fund method to award attorney’s fees in California Courts:

We join the overwhelming majority of federal and state courts in holding that when class action litigation establishes a monetary fund for the benefit of the class members, and the trial court in its equitable powers awards class counsel a fee out of that fund, the court may determine the amount of a reasonable fee by choosing an appropriate percentage of the fund created. The recognized advantages of the percentage method—including relative ease of calculation, alignment of incentives between counsel and the class, a better approximation of market conditions in a contingency case, and the encouragement it provides counsel to seek an early settlement and avoid unnecessarily prolonging the litigation (See pt. I, ante; Lealao, supra, 82 Cal.App.4th at pp. 48–49, 97 Cal.Rptr.2d 797; Rawlings v. Prudential–Bache Properties, Inc., supra, 9 F.3d at p. 516)—convince us the percentage method is a valuable tool that should not be denied our trial courts.

Laffitte v. Robert Half Intern. Inc., 1 Cal. 5th 480, 503 (2016). Thus, this Court may and, pursuant to Laffitte, should award fees to Plaintiff’s counsel based upon the percentage of the fund methodology.

Setting Laffitte aside, whether the once-again-confirmed percentage of the fund method or the lodestar method is used, the outcome is roughly the same: “[F]ee awards in class actions average around one-third of the recovery’ regardless of ‘whether the percentage method or the lodestar method is used.’” Amaro v. Anaheim Arena Mgmt., LLC, 69 Cal. App. 5th 521 (2021). This is also consistent with counsels’ experience in class cases. Here, Plaintiff’s attorneys intend to request attorneys’ fees of up to $216,666.67 (one-third of the GSA), and costs capped at $22,000 (which includes payment for filing fees, service of process fees, mediation fees, expert fees and other standard expenses). (Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 31-32.)

Given the efforts and risks involved in this case, as well as the results achieved, these amounts are within the range of reasonableness and warrant preliminary approval.

7. The Proposed Payment to the Administrator Is Fair and Reasonable

In deciding whether to approve a proposed settlement, a trial court must determine if the proposed settlement is fair under the circumstances of the case. Mallick, 89 Cal.App.3d at 438. In exercising this power, the overriding concern is to ensure that a proposed settlement is “fair, adequate, and reasonable.” Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801 (internal quotations omitted). Phoenix Class Action Administration Solutions, which has been selected due to its competitive bid, estimates that administration can be performed for $6,500.00. In counsel’s experience, based on similar wage-and-hour actions, an estimated cost of $6,500.00 is a fair and reasonable amount for administration fees and should be preliminarily approved. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 34.)

8. The PAGA Allocation is Reasonable

The ultimate decision as to the amount of PAGA penalties is always up to the discretion of the Court. Labor Code § 2699(e)(2) states: “In any action by an aggrieved employee seeking recovery of a civil penalty available under subdivision (a) or (f), a court may award a lesser amount than the maximum civil penalty amount specified by this part if, based on the facts and circumstances of the particular case, to do otherwise would result in an award that is unjust, arbitrary and oppressive, or confiscatory.”

Prior to the issuance of Moniz v. Adecco USA, Inc., 72 Cal. App. 5th 56 (2021), the only sources of persuasive guidance as to how to assess the reasonableness of a PAGA allocation were found in federal court decisions addressing that question. In their view, a PAGA allocation, even if a small portion of the total settlement, could be reasonable if the settlement of the underlying wage and hour claims is robust and serves the deterrent purpose of the PAGA statute. O'Connor v. Uber Technologies, Inc., 201 F.Supp.3d 1110, 1135 (N.D. Cal. 2016) (“By providing fair compensation to the class members as employees and substantial monetary relief, a settlement not only vindicates the rights of class members as employees, but may have a deterrent effect upon the Defendant employer and other employers, an objective of PAGA.”); see also Viceria v. Mistras Group, 2016 WL 5907869 *9 (N.D. Cal. 2016) (“Applying O’Connor’s sliding scale approach, settlement of the PAGA claim may be substantially reduced below its standalone settlement value without sacrificing its statutory purposes because the non PAGA settlement is relatively substantial.”)

Moniz then provided explicit confirmation that this was an appropriate yardstick by which to measure reasonableness of a PAGA settlement. Moniz said:

[W]hile PAGA does not require the trial court to act as a fiduciary for aggrieved employees, adoption of a standard of review for settlements that prevents “ ‘ ‘ ‘fraud, collusion or unfairness’ ” (Dunk, supra, 48 Cal.App.4th at pp. 1800–1801, 56 Cal.Rptr.2d 483), and protects the interests of the public and the LWDA in the enforcement of state labor laws is warranted. Because many of the factors used to evaluate class action settlements bear on a settlement’s fairness—including the strength of the plaintiff’s case, the risk, the stage of the proceeding, the complexity and likely duration of further litigation, and the settlement amount—these factors can be useful in evaluating the fairness of a PAGA settlement.

Given PAGA’s purpose to protect the public interest, we also agree with the LWDA and federal district courts that have found it appropriate to review a PAGA settlement to ascertain whether a settlement is fair in view of PAGA’s purposes and policies. (O’Connor v. Uber Technologies, Inc. (N.D. Cal. 2016) 201 F.Supp.3d 1110, 1132–1134; Jordan v. NCI Group, Inc. (Jan. 5, 2018, No. EDCV 16-1701-JVS) 2018 WL 1409590, at *1–*2, 2018 U.S. Dist. Lexis 25297, at *3–*4; Chamberlain v. Baker Hughes, a GE Co., LLC, supra, 2020 WL 4350207 at *3–*4, 2020 U.S. Dist. Lexis 134582 at *10–*11; see Consumer Advocacy Group, Inc. v. Kintetsu Enterprises of America (2006) 141 Cal.App.4th 46, 59, 61–62, 45 Cal.Rptr.3d 647 [where the Legislature required court approval of private settlements of Proposition 65 actions brought to vindicate the public interest, court must evaluate the resulting consent decree to determine if it is “just” and “serves the public interest”].) We therefore hold that a trial court should evaluate a PAGA settlement to determine whether it is fair, reasonable, and adequate in view of PAGA’s purposes to remediate present labor law violations, deter future ones, and to maximize enforcement of state labor laws. (See Williams, supra, 3 Cal.5th at p. 546, 220 Cal.Rptr.3d 472, 398 P.3d 69 [PAGA “sought to remediate present violations and deter future ones”]; Arias, supra, 46 Cal.4th at p. 980, 95 Cal.Rptr.3d 588, 209 P.3d 923 [the declared purpose of PAGA was to augment state enforcement efforts to achieve maximum compliance with labor laws].) The trial court below used this standard.

Moniz, 72 Cal. App. 5th at 77. Moniz, in agreeing with the federal courts that have considered how to evaluate a PAGA settlement, concluded that the class action factors are appropriately considered, along

1 with a consideration of whether the settlement furthers “PAGA’s purposes to remediate present labor law
2 violations, deter future ones, and to maximize enforcement of state labor laws.”

3 As to the first set of elements (the class-type analysis), it is embodied in Plaintiff’s discussion of 4 the adequacy of the settlement generally. Using class settlements as a source of analogous settlement
5 review standards, to assess the fairness, adequacy, and reasonableness of a settlement, the court should 6 also consider the expense, complexity and likely duration of further litigation. Dunk, 48 Cal. App. 4th at 7 1801. Here, the expense, complexity and likely duration of future litigation as it pertained to Plaintiff’s
8 PAGA claims was to some extent an unknown. However, what is certain is that to adequately establish 9 the foundational violations that would support a substantial penalty award, tremendous time and expense
10 would be invested. To adequately establish that aggrieved employees experience the alleged violations, 11 and at what frequency, most of the aggrieved employees would need to be interviewed in a systematic 12 fashion and their testimony cataloged in way sufficiently meaningful to permit the submission of 13 summary evidence at trial, such as via survey. First, the burdensome nature of such a process would be 14 expensive and time-consuming. Second, substantial risk that the Court would either substantially reduce 15 any penalty ultimately awarded or conclude that the conduct was insufficient to support a penalty award.
16 Third, it would be essentially impossible to formulate an objectively reliable means of summarizing
17 testimonial experiences, other than by an extraordinarily detailed survey. And formulating such a survey
18 would have been important, since frequency of violations would need to be established before any 19 penalties could be recovered. At least as to claims such as meal period and rest break violations, the 20 decisions of aggrieved employees are a major factor in assessing liability. Proof of this sort gives rise to 21 a manageability argument that could substantially reduce the size of the aggrieved employee group.

22 The second element (the PAGA purposes element) is also satisfied here. As held by Moniz,
23 PAGA’s purposes include (1) remediation of present labor law violations, (2) deterrence of future
24 violations, and (3) maximization of enforcement of state labor laws. Here the allocation of a major
25 portion of settlement funds to class members still advances the goal of labor law violation remediation.

26 Class members benefit from payments intended to offset the harm of alleged violations of wage and 27 hour requirements. The allocation of a major portion of settlement funds to class members also deters
28

1 future violations, since, from the perspective of an employer, where settlement funds go is less
2 significant than the fact that settlement funds are issuing at all. Finally, allocation of a major portion of
3 settlement funds to class members still advances the goal of enforcement of state labor law. This 4 settlement is, by definition, a response to alleged violations of state labor laws, balanced against the 5 competing factors of uncertainty of proof and other risks.

6 A final note on the analysis discussion in Moniz is appropriate. Moniz was concerned with the 7 standard applied to a standalone PAGA action, not a settlement in which money was allocated between 8 class and PAGA claims. Here, the adequacy of the settlement as a whole impacts the factors approved of 9 by Moniz. It would be misleading to examine only the PAGA portion of the settlement without asking
10 how this Settlement as a whole is consistent with the purposes of PAGA. Second, the discussion of 11 “fairness” to those impacted by the settlement in Moniz does not play a role in this matter. In Moniz, the 12 Court found the record lacked any support for the disparate allocation of PAGA penalties between 13 different types of employees: “[T]he settlement’s allocation of shares of civil penalties to Colleagues that
14 are fifteen times greater than the shares allocated to Associates does not seem to have been justified
15 below and may be contrary to PAGA’s purposes.” Moniz, 72 Cal. App. 5th at 87. Here, PAGA
16 penalties are allocated by pay period, irrespective of job classification, an equitable method of allocation.

17 In addition, there is no evidence that a court or a commissioner had informed Defendant that any 18 conduct violated the Labor Code. Amaral v. Cintas Corp., 163 Cal. App. 4th 1157, 1209 (2008); Willis
19 v. Xerox Bus. Servs., LLC, 2013 WL 6053831, *7-8 (E.D. Cal. 2013) (“Under California law, courts have 20 held that employers are not subject to heightened penalties for subsequent violations until and unless a
21 court or commissioner notified the employer that it is in violation of the Labor Code.”) And in Cotter,
22 the court found a significant reduction of the PAGA claim would be appropriate because “[t]his does not
23 appear to be a case where a company has deliberately sought to evade the law.” Cotter v. Lyft, Inc., 176
24 5 F. Supp. 3d 930, 941 (N.D. Cal. 2016). Here, Defendant can state a strong case that, as the Court
25 concluded in Cotter, the efforts to devise compliant operational policies do not indicate an organization
26 that has deliberately sought to evade the law. This is a very significant risk factor.

27 Finally, the PAGA allocation is fair. The LWDA is receiving $32,500.00. The Class is 28

1 receiving, net, an estimated $362,333.33 for the releases for seven theories of recovery (excluding the
2 17,500.00 as the aggrieved employees' share of the PAGA Allocation). An allocation to the LWDA
3 equal to roughly 9% of the Net Settlement Amount is not unfair and satisfies the policies underlying
4 California's wage and hour laws.

5 VI. THE COURT SHOULD SCHEDULE A FINAL FAIRNESS HEARING

6 The last step in the settlement approval process is the fairness hearing, where the Court makes a
7 final determination about the propriety of settlement. Plaintiff requests that the fairness hearing in this
8 case be scheduled for about 130 days after issuance of the Court's Order granting preliminary approval
9 of the Settlement. Under the Settlement, the Defendant will have 14 days to provide the mailing data to 10 the Settlement Administrator, which will then have 14 days to mail out class notice. Class Members
11 have 60 days after mailing of the notice to submit exclusions or objections (with a 14-day extension
12 available for late-returned and re-mailed notices). Therefore, Plaintiff proposes a final approval hearing
13 scheduled for the first available hearing date that is about 130 days after preliminary approval is granted.

14 VII. CONCLUSION

15 For all the foregoing reasons, because the Class meets the requirements for certification, because 16 the Settlement bears all requisite indicia of fairness, reasonableness, and adequacy, and because the 17 proposed notice procedure and forms comport with Rule 3.766 and due process, this Court should grant
18 this Motion for Preliminary Approval, adopt the [Proposed] Order Granting Preliminary Approval of 19 Class Action Settlement submitted herewith, and schedule a Final Fairness Hearing.
