Attorneys for Plaintiff Ernesto Macias Martinez

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA FOR THE COUNTY OF SAN DIEGO

ERNESTO MACIAS MARTINEZ, on behalf of others similarly situated and the State of California under the Private Attorneys General
Act,

Plaintiffs,

vs.

VICTORIA POST ACUTE CARE; THE
ENSIGN GROUP, INC.; and DOES 1 through 50, inclusive,

Defendants.

Case No. 25CU020565C

REPRESENTATIVE ACTION COMPLAINT

1. Civil Penalties under the Private Attorneys
General Act (Labor Code §§ 2698 et seq.)

1 Plaintiff ERNESTO MACIAS MARTINEZ, on behalf of all others similarly situated and the 2 State of California under the Private Attorneys General Act (“Plaintiff”) brings this
3 REPRESENTATIVE ACTION COMPLAINT against Defendants VICTORIA POST ACUTE
4 CARE; THE ENSIGN GROUP, INC.; and DOES 1 through 50, inclusive (collectively “Defendants”),
5 alleging as follows:

6 INTRODUCTION

7 1. This is representative action complaint brought under the California Private Attorneys
8 General Act (Labor Code 2968 et seq.).

9 2. Defendants failed to compensate Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees for all hours
10 suffered or permitted to work in violation of the applicable IWC Wage Order.

11 3. Defendants failed to reimburse Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees for necessary
12 expenses incurred in furtherance of the aggrieved employees’ job duties.

13 4. Defendants failed to provide, authorize, and/or permit Plaintiff and the aggrieved
14 employees to take compliant meal and rest periods to which they were entitled. Further, Defendants 15 failed to pay meal and rest period premiums.

16 5. Defendants failed to provide all paid sick leave.

17 6. Defendants’ employment policies, practices, and payroll administration systems
18 enabled and facilitated these violations on a company-wide basis with respect to the aggrieved 19 employees.

20 7. Defendants are further liable for derivative claims for wage statements, untimely 21 payment, and other associated violations.

22 JURISDICTION & VENUE

23 8. Jurisdiction of this action is proper in this Court under Article VI, Section 10 of the 24 California Constitution as the causes of action are premised upon violations of California law.

25 9. The monetary damages and restitution sought exceed the minimal jurisdiction limits of 26 the Superior Court.

27 10. This Court has jurisdiction over Defendants because, upon information and belief,
28 Defendants have sufficient minimum contacts in California, or otherwise intentionally avail

1 themselves to the California economy so as to render the exercise of jurisdiction over them by the 2 California courts consistent with traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

3 11. Venue is proper in this Court under Code of Civil Procedure sections 393(a), 395,
4 and/or 395.5 because, upon information and belief, Defendants conducted business and committed
5 some of the alleged violations in this County.

6 PARTIES

7 A. Plaintiff Ernesto Macias Martinez

8 12. Plaintiff Macias Martinez is an individual over 18 years of age who worked for 9 Defendants in California as a non-exempt employee from about November 2024 to December 2024.
10 Plaintiff worked as a Licensed Vocational Nurse.

11 13. The State of California, via the Labor and Workforce Development Agency
12 (“LWDA”), is the real party in interest in this action. (Kim v. Reins Int’l California, Inc. (2020) 9
13 Cal. 5th 73, 81 [The “government entity on whose behalf the plaintiff files suit is always the real party 14 in interest.”]). To the extent permitted by law, including pursuant Balderas v. Fresh Start Harvesting, 15 Inc. (2024) 101 Cal. App. 5th 533 and Rodriguez v. Packers Sanitation Services Ltd. (Feb. 26, 2025, 16 D083400) ___ Cal.Rptr.3d ___ [2025 WL 615064], the PAGA claim is brought exclusively as a 17 representative action and does not include arbitrable claims.

18 B. Defendants

19 14. Defendant Victoria Post Acute Care is a California corporation that maintains 20 operations and conducts business throughout the State of California, including in this county.

21 15. Defendant The Ensign Group, Inc. is a Delaware corporation that maintains operations
22 and conducts business throughout the State of California, including in this county.

23 16. The true names and capacities, whether individual, corporate, or otherwise, of the 24 parties sued as DOES 1 through 50, are presently unknown, unascertainable, or uncertain, and are sued
25 by such fictitious names under Code of Civil Procedure section 474. Upon information and belief, 26 each of DOES 1 through 50 constitutes a legal employer or is otherwise legally responsible in some 27 manner for the acts and omissions alleged herein. This Complaint may be amended to reflect their 28 true names and capacities once ascertained.

1 17. Upon information and belief, Defendants in this action are employers, co-employers,
2 joint employers, and/or part of an integrated employer enterprise, as each of the Defendants exercised
3 control over the wages, hours, and working conditions of the employees, suffered and permitted them
4 to work, and otherwise engaged them as employees under California law.

5 18. Upon information and belief, at least some of the Defendants have common ownership,
6 common management, interrelationship of operations, and centralized control over labor relations and 7 are therefore part of an integrated enterprise and thus jointly and severally responsible for the acts and 8 omissions alleged herein, including pursuant to Labor Code sections 558, 558.1, and 1197.1.

9 19. Upon information and belief, Defendants acted in all respects pertinent to this action as 10 an alter-ego, agent, servant, joint employer, joint venturer, co-conspirator, partner, in an integrated 11 enterprise, or in some other capacity on behalf of all other co-defendants, such that the acts and 12 omissions of each defendant may be legally attributable to all others.

13 GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

14 20. Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees worked for Defendants as non-exempt
15 employees and were compensated on an hourly basis.

16 21. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees at the lawful minimum
17 wage rate for all hours worked, resulting in unpaid minimum wages. For example, Defendants failed
18 to account for all hours that Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees worked, resulting in unpaid
19 minimum wages. Specifically, Defendants did not provide a reliable time clock system, often resulting 20 in misplaced time sheets. When Defendants misplaced these timesheets, Defendants filled out new 21 time sheets retroactively. When Defendants filled out the new timesheets, they reported hours worked 22 to reflect Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees' scheduled hours and not additional hours worked,
23 resulting in unpaid minimum wages. Defendants' practice of retroactively completing time sheets
24 often resulted in unreported hours worked and therefore, underpaid wages.

25 22. Defendants also failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees overtime wages
26 and the lawful rate of pay for overtime hours worked, resulting in unpaid overtime wages. As stated
27 above, Defendants often completed Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees' timecards retroactively.
28 This practice often resulted in the under-reporting of hours worked more than 8 hours in a day or 40

1 hours in a week, resulting in unpaid overtime.

2 23. Defendants failed to comply with California's paid sick leave laws with respect to the 3 aggrieved employees. As discussed above, Defendants often completed Plaintiff and the aggrieved
4 employees' timecards retroactively. This practice often resulted in under-reported hours worked,
5 resulting in underpaid paid sick leave.

6 24. Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees routinely experienced missed, late, short, and 7 interrupted meal periods due to the demands of the job. Specifically, Defendants engaged in a policy
8 and practice of understaffing and over-assigning responsibilities. For example, Plaintiff worked as a
9 Licensed Vocational Nurse and was assigned to 30 patients. Each patient required individualized care
10 including administering medication, providing wound and diabetic care, documenting changed
11 conditions and conducting COVID-19 and tuberculosis tests. Due to the time-sensitive nature of 12 Plaintiff's job duties and his elevated caseload, Plaintiff often took meal periods after his sixth hour
13 of work. However, due to Defendants' practice of retroactively completing Plaintiff and the aggrieved
14 employees' time sheets, these late meal periods often went unreported, resulting in unpaid meal period 15 premiums.

16 25. Likewise, due to Defendants' practice of understaffing and over-assigning 17 responsibilities, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees often experienced non-compliant rest periods.
18 Specifically, Defendants engaged in an unlawful policy and practice of discouraging Plaintiff and the 19 aggrieved employees from taking rest periods to avoid paying overtime premiums. However, as 20 mentioned above, Plaintiff was required to address the individual care for 30 patients per day. Plaintiff
21 and the aggrieved employees often worked through their shifts without taking rest periods to complete
22 all necessary duties without working more than 8 hours in a day or 40 hours in a week because 23 Defendants strongly discouraged overtime work. Each time Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees
24 experienced a non-compliant rest period, Defendants owed a rest period premium. However, as a 25 matter of policy and practice, Defendants failed to pay these rest period premiums.

26 26. Defendants required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to incur costs for work-
27 related purposes without full reimbursement. In direct consequence of their job duties, Plaintiff and 28 the aggrieved employees unavoidably and necessarily incurred these losses, expenditures, costs, and as a matter of policy and practice. Specifically, Defendants required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to download the Workday and Covr applications onto their personal cell phones. Defendants required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to use these applications for scheduling, benefits and payment tracking, and vacation requests. However, Defendants failed to reimburse Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees for these expenses incurred in direct consequence of their job duties.

27. These violations create derivative liability for failure to timely pay all wages owed each payday or upon separation of employment.

28. Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to the aggrieved employees during their employment and also failed to timely pay those amounts to departing employees upon separation of employment. For example, Defendants failed to provide Plaintiff with his last paycheck on his final day of work. When Plaintiff reported to work on December 7, 2024, Defendants informed Plaintiff that he was terminated, but did not provide his last paycheck. Instead, Defendants did not provide Plaintiff's final check until December 9, 2024, after Plaintiff's repeated requests.

29. Defendant also failed to provide accurate itemized wage statements to the aggrieved employees each pay period. Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees cannot promptly and easily determine from the wage statement alone the wages paid or earned without reference to other documents or information. Indeed, these wage statement violations are significant because they sow confusion among Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees with respect to what amounts were owed and paid, at what rates, the number of hours worked, and how those amounts were or should be calculated. The wage statements reflect a false statement of earnings and concealed the underlying problems and underpayments of employee wages.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

CIVIL PENALTIES UNDER THE PRIVATE ATTORNEYS GENERAL ACT

Violation of Labor Code §§ 2698 et seq.

(By Plaintiff on Behalf of the State and the Aggrieved Employees Against All Defendants)

30. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

31. Plaintiff brings this cause of action as a proxy for the State of California on behalf of the following “aggrieved employees” pursuant to the Private Attorneys General Act (“PAGA”), codified as Labor Code section 2698 et seq.:

- a. All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendants in California at any time from one year prior to the postmark date of the initial PAGA notice through date of trial.

32. Plaintiff reserves the right to amend, supplement, or add to this description of the aggrieved employees, according to proof.

33. The State of California, via the Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”), is the real party in interest in this action with respect to this cause of action. (Kim v. Reins Int’l California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal. 5th 73, 81 [The “government entity on whose behalf the plaintiff files suit is always the real party in interest.”])

34. Labor Code section 2699(a) provides: “Notwithstanding any other provision of law,, any provision of this code that provides for a civil penalty to be assessed and collected by the Labor and Workforce Development Agency or any of its departments, divisions, commissions, boards, agencies, or employees, for a violation of this code, may, as an alternative, be recovered through a civil action brought by an aggrieved employee on behalf of the employee and other current or former employees against whom a violation of the same provision was committed pursuant to the procedures specified in Section 2699.3. “

35. Any allegations regarding violations of the IWC Wage Orders are enforceable as violations of Labor Code section 1198, which states: “[t]he employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the order is unlawful.”

36. Labor Code section 2699.3 sets forth the procedure for commencing an action for civil penalties under the PAGA.

37. On or about February 13, 2025, Plaintiff paid the requisite PAGA filing fee and provided written notice (by online electronic filing with the LWDA and by certified mail to Defendants) of Defendants’ alleged Labor Code violations, including the facts and theories to support the alleged violations.

38. A true and correct copy of Plaintiff’s written PAGA notice, entitled “Notice of Labor Code Violations” is attached hereto as Exhibit 1 and incorporated by reference as though fully set forth herein (the “PAGA notice”).

39. To date, neither Plaintiff nor Plaintiff’s counsel has received a response to Plaintiff’s written PAGA notice from the LWDA.

40. Within 33 calendar days of the postmark date of the notice sent by Plaintiff, neither Plaintiff nor Plaintiff’s counsel has received written notice by certified mail from any defendant providing a description of any actions taken to cure the alleged violations.

41. Now that at least 65 days have passed from Plaintiff notifying Defendants of these violations, without notice of cure from Defendants or notice from the LWDA of its intent to investigate the alleged allegations and issue the appropriate citations to Defendants, Plaintiff exhausted all prerequisites and commenced this civil action under Labor Code section 2699 et seq.

42. As set forth in the PAGA notice attached as Exhibit 1 and incorporated into this Complaint, Defendants committed the following violations and are liable for all corresponding civil penalties:

- a. Unpaid Hours Worked/Minimum Wage. Violation of Labor Code §§ 1194, 1197, 1198; IWC Wage Orders.
- b. Unpaid Overtime. Violation of Labor Code §§ 510, 1194, 1198; IWC Wage Orders.
- c. Unpaid Paid Sick Leave. Violation of Labor Code §§ 246 through 248.7.
- d. Unpaid Meal Period Premium Wages. Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 512, 1198; IWC Wage Orders.
- e. Unpaid Rest Period Premium Wages. Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 516, 1198; IWC Wage Orders.
- f. Untimely Payment of Wages During Employment. Violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 204b, 210.
- g. Untimely Payment of Wages Upon Separation of Employment. Violation of Labor Code §§ 201, 202, 203, 256.
- h. Non-Compliant Wage Statements. Violation of Labor Code §§ 226, 226.3.

- i. Unreimbursed Employee Expenses. Violation of Labor Code §§ 2802, 2804.
- j. Failure to Maintain Accurate Records. Violation of Labor Code § 1174; IWC Wage Orders.

43. Plaintiff seeks to collect all recoverable civil penalties for the Labor Code violations alleged in this Complaint and the PAGA notice (including amendments thereto) against Defendants pursuant to Labor Code section 2699(a) and (f), in addition to attorneys' fees, costs, and interest to the extent permitted by law, including under Labor Code section 2699(k).

PRAYER

Plaintiff prays for judgment as follows:

- a. For this action to be maintained as a representative action under the PAGA;
- b. For Plaintiff and counsel of record to be provided with all enforcement capability as if the action were brought by the State of California or the California Division of Labor Enforcement;
- c. For recovery of all civil penalties and other recoverable amounts under the PAGA;
- d. For reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit, including expert fees, to the extent permitted by law, associated with the PAGA claims pursuant to Labor Code § 2699, and Code of Civil Procedure section 1021.5 and any other applicable sections; and
- e. For such other relief the Court deems just and proper.

San Juan Capistrano, CA 92675

Dear LWDA Officer and Company Representatives:

This letter serves as written notice under Labor Code section 2699.3 on behalf of ERNESTO MACIAS MARTINEZ (“Plaintiff”) and all other “aggrieved employees” of the following “Defendants”:

VICTORIA POST ACUTE CARE; THE ENSIGN GROUP, INC.

Defendants shall mean and include the foregoing in addition to any other related employer entities, individuals under Labor Code sections 558 and 558.1, and all others who may be later added upon further investigation and discovery as liable employers.

This office serves as legal counsel for Plaintiff. If the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”) does not investigate the facts, allegations, and violations set forth in this notice within the statutorily prescribed 65-day period under Labor Code section 2699.3, Plaintiff intends to commence a civil action against Defendants as a proxy and agent of the State of California under the Private Attorneys General Act (“PAGA”). “PAGA allows an ‘aggrieved employee’—a person affected by at least one Labor Code violation committed by an employer—to pursue penalties for all the Labor Code violations committed by that employer.” Huff v. Securitas Security Services USA, Inc. (2018) 23 Cal. App. 5th 745, 751; Kim v.

Reins International California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal. 73, 79. Plaintiff maintains standing to pursue these claims against Defendants as an aggrieved employee.

Through this notice, Plaintiff requests that Defendants complete an internal investigation and audit of the wage and hour and employment practices at issue and make a good faith effort to correct any violations. Plaintiff attempts to identify the non-compliant policies and practices affecting the aggrieved employees so that the parties may resolve the underlying damages and penalties in judgment or settlement approved by the Superior Court of California under Labor Code section 2699(s). Defendants are notified that any attempt to resolve this case should be conducted in coordination with Plaintiff's counsel to protect the interests of Plaintiff, the aggrieved employees, and the State of California via the LWDA. Plaintiff advises Defendants this letter should be also considered a reasonable attempt at settlement of this matter, subject to an exchange of additional documents and information. Graham v. Daimler Chrysler Corp. (2004) 24 Cal. 4th 553, 561.

- BACKGROUND -

Defendants employed Plaintiff during the PAGA Period in the position of Licensed Vocational Nurse from about November 2024 to December 2024. During their employment Plaintiff and the other aggrieved employees were subject to the wage and hour and employment protections set forth in the California Labor Code and IWC Wage Orders.

Through this notice, Plaintiff informs the LWDA of the Labor Code violations set forth herein. The “aggrieved employees” include Plaintiff and the following individuals:

All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendants in the State of California during one-year period preceding the date of this notice through the current date and the date of trial in any pending action (the “aggrieved employees” and the “PAGA Period”).

Plaintiff reserves the right to expand or narrow the definition of the “aggrieved employees” in the forthcoming civil action. Furthermore, Plaintiff seeks all recoverable civil penalties for Defendants’ violations and reserves the right to supplement this notice as further investigation is completed and further facts, witnesses, and violations are uncovered.

- PAGA CLAIMS -

Unpaid Hours Worked/Minimum Wage Violation of Labor Code §§ 1194, 1197, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 1194, 1197, and 1198, along with the California Minimum Wage Order, the applicable local minimum wage ordinances, and the “Hours and Days of Work” and “Minimum Wages” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Orders with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 1194 renders it unlawful for an employee to receive less than the legal minimum wage for hours worked in California. Labor Code section 1197 further mandates that “[t]he minimum wage for employees fixed by the commission is the minimum wage to be paid to employees, and the payment of a lower wage than the minimum so fixed is unlawful.” Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The California Minimum Wage Order and the applicable sections of the IWC Wage Orders further require payment of minimum wages for all hours worked. The “Minimum Wages” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Order provide that “[e]very employer shall pay to each employee, on the established payday for the period involved, not less than the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked in the payroll period, whether the remuneration is measured by time, piece, commission, or otherwise.” The foregoing California wage laws require payment of “not less than the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked in the payroll period” and California law does not allow averaging of pay over the hours worked in the pay period, even if the total pay results in an average above the minimum wage. Armenta v. Osmose, Inc. (2005) 135 Cal. App. 3d 314, 324.

Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees at the lawful minimum wage rate for all hours worked, resulting in unpaid minimum wages.

Defendants failed to account for all hours that Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees worked, resulting in unpaid minimum wages. Specifically, Defendants did not provide a reliable time clock system, often resulting in misplaced time sheets. When Defendants misplaced these time sheets, Defendants filled out new time sheets retroactively. When Defendants filled out the new time sheets, they reported hours worked to reflect Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees scheduled hours and not additional hours worked, resulting in unpaid minimum wages. Defendant’s practice of retroactively completing time sheets often resulted in unreported hours worked and therefore, underpaid wages.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Unpaid Overtime Violation of Labor Code §§ 510, 1194, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 510, 1194, and 1198, along with the “Hours and Days of Work” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Orders with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 510 requires “[a]ny work in excess of eight hours in one workday and any work in excess of 40 hours in any one workweek and the first eight hours worked on the seventh day of work in any one workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for an employee;” and “any work in excess of 12 hours in one day shall be compensated at the rate of no less than twice the regular rate of pay for an employee;” and “any work in excess of eight hours on any seventh day of a workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than twice the regular rate of pay of an employee.” Labor Code section 1194 renders it unlawful for an employee to receive less than the legal overtime rate for overtime hours worked in California. Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders further require payment of overtime wages for all overtime hours worked, including the “Hours and Days of Work” sections.

Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees overtime wages and the lawful rate of pay for overtime hours worked, resulting in unpaid overtime wages. As stated in the “Unpaid Hours Worked” section above, Defendants often completed Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees’ time cards retroactively. This practice often resulted in the under-reporting of hours worked more than 8 hours in a day or 40 hours in a week, resulting in unpaid overtime.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Unpaid Paid Sick Leave Violation of Labor Code §§ 246 through 248.7

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 246 through 248.7 with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 246 requires employers to provide paid sick leave to its workforce on the terms set forth in the statute. Employers must comply with the accrual, use, and notice provisions of Labor Code sections 246, 246.5, 247, and must further ensure that they maintain the paid sick leave records required by Labor Code section 247.5. Employers have the option of providing 24 hours of paid sick leave to employees or to allow employees to accrue paid sick leave each pay period. If an employer chooses the accrual method, employees must accrue sick leave at a rate of one hour for every thirty hours worked in a given pay period as set forth in Labor Code section 246(b)(1). Under the accrual method, employees must begin accruing paid sick leave at the commencement of employment.

Employers must pay sick leave in accordance with one of the three permissible methods provided in Labor Code section 246(l): (1) “the same manner as the regular rate of pay for the workweek;” (2) “by dividing the employee’s total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee's total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days;" or (3) "for exempt employee ... in the same manner as the employer calculates wages for other forms of paid leave time." Labor Code sections 248.6 and 248.7 similarly require paid sick leave to be paid at a regular rate-based calculation in excess of the base hourly rate and at the lawful accrual rate.

Under Labor Code section 246(i), employers must provide employees "with written notice of the amount of paid sick leave available ... for use on either the employee's itemized wage statement ... or in a separate writing provided on the designated pay date with the employee's payment of wages."

Defendants failed to comply with California's paid sick leave laws with respect to the aggrieved employees. As stated in the "Unpaid Hours Worked" section above, Defendants often completed Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees' time cards retroactively. This practice often resulted in under-reported hours worked, resulting in underpaid paid sick leave.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Unpaid Meal Period Premium Wages Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 512, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226.7, 512, and 1198, along with the related sections of the IWC Wage Orders with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 512 and the IWC Wage Orders require that employers provide an uninterrupted 30-minute meal period after no more than five hours of work and a second meal period after no more than 10 hours of work. See Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal. 4th 1004, 1049. Labor Code section 226.7 requires that if a meal period is late, missed, short, or interrupted, the employer must pay one additional hour of pay at the employee's "regular rate" of compensation. Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 858, 862 ("We hold that the terms are synonymous: "regular rate of compensation" under section 226.7(c), like "regular rate of pay" under section 510(a), encompasses all nondiscretionary payments, not just hourly wages"). "[T]ime records showing noncompliant meal periods raise a rebuttable presumption of meal period violations, including at the summary judgment stage." Donohue v. AMN Services, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 58, 61. Labor Code section 1198 renders "employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]" unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders, including Section 11 (Meal Periods), further require one uninterrupted 30-minute meal period after no more than five hours of work and a second meal period after no more than 10 hours of work and an additional hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for each workday that a compliant meal period is not provided. Pursuant to Section 11(A) of the IWC Wage Orders, the California Supreme Court has held that the on-duty meal period exception is “exceedingly narrow” and applies only when (1) “the nature of the work prevents the employee from being relieved of all duty” and (2) both “the employer and employee have agreed, in writing, to the on-duty meal period.” Augustus v. AMB Security Services, Inc. (2016) 2 Cal. 5th 257, 266-276 (emphasis added). If these two requirements are not met, then the employer owes the employee one hour of premium pay for each non-compliant meal period taken under the purported on-duty meal arrangement. Naranjo v. Spectrum Security Services, Inc. (2019) 40 Cal. 5th 444, 459.

Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees routinely experienced, missed, late, short, and interrupted meal periods due to the demands of the job. Specifically, Defendants engaged in a policy and practice of understaffing and over-assigning responsibilities. For example, Plaintiff worked as a Licensed Vocational Nurse and was assigned to 30 patients. Each patient required individualized care including administering medication, providing wound and diabetic care, documenting changed conditions and conducting COVID-19 and tuberculosis tests. Due to the time-sensitive nature of Plaintiff’s job duties and his elevated caseload, Plaintiff often took meal periods after his sixth hour of work. However, due to Defendants’ practice of retroactively completing Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees’ time sheets, these late meal periods often went unreported, resulting in unpaid meal period premiums.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Unpaid Rest Period Premium Wages Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 516, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226.7, 516, and 1198, and the related sections of the IWC Wage Orders with respect to Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code sections 226.7 and 516 and the IWC Wage Orders require that employers authorize and permit an uninterrupted 10-minute rest period for each four-hour period (or major fraction thereof) that an employee works. Labor Code section 226.7 requires that if a rest period is non-compliant, the employer must pay one additional hour of pay at the employee’s “regular rate” of compensation. Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 858, 862 (“We hold that the terms are synonymous: “regular rate of compensation” under section 226.7(c), like “regular rate of pay” under section 510(a), encompasses all nondiscretionary payments, not just hourly wages”). Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders, including Section 12 (Rest Periods), further require one uninterrupted 10-minute rest period for each four-hour period (or major fraction thereof) worked and an additional hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate of compensation for each workday that a compliant rest period is not authorized or permitted.

Due to Defendants' practice of understaffing and over-assigning responsibilities, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees often experienced non-compliant rest periods. Specifically, Defendants engaged in an unlawful policy and practice of discouraging Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees from taking rest periods to avoid paying overtime premiums. However, as mentioned in above section, Plaintiff was required to address the individual care for 30 patients per day. Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees often worked through their shifts without taking rest periods to complete all necessary duties without working more than 8 hours in a day or 40 hours in a week because Defendants strongly discouraged overtime work. Each time Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees experienced a non-compliant rest period, Defendants owed a rest period premium. However, as a matter of policy and practice, Defendants failed to pay these rest period premiums in violation of Labor Code section 226.7.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Untimely Payment of Wages During Employment
Violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 204b, 210

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 204 and/or 204b and 210, as applicable, with respect to Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 204(a) requires payment of "all wages" for non-exempt employees at least twice each calendar month. Labor Code section 204(d) states all wages due must be paid "not more than seven calendar days following the close of the payroll period." Labor Code section 204b applies to employees paid on a weekly basis and also requires the payment for all labor within the required pay periods. Labor Code section 210 provides "every person who fails to pay the wages of an employee as provided in Section ... 204 ... shall be subject to a civil penalty" of $100 for an initial violation and $200 plus 25% of the amount unlawfully withheld for a subsequent violation.

Because Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums in each pay period in which such wages were earned at the lawful rate, Defendants violated Labor Code section 204 and/or 204b (for weekly employees, as applicable). Defendants violated Labor Code sections 204 and 204b by failing to pay all wages and premiums owed on the regular pay days scheduled each pay period within seven calendar days of the close of the payroll period, as a result of the policies and practices set forth in this notice.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Untimely Payment of Wages Upon Separation of Employment
Violation of Labor Code §§ 201, 202, 203, 256

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203 with respect to the aggrieved employees by failing to pay all wages and premiums owed upon termination of employment.

Labor Code section 201 requires that if an employer fires an employee, the wages must be paid immediately. Labor Code section 202 requires that if an employee quits without providing 72 hours' notice, his or her wages must be paid no later than 72 hours thereafter. Labor Code section 202 states that if an employee provides 72 hours' notice, the final wages are payable upon his or her final day of employment. Labor Code section 203 requires an employer who fails to comply with Labor Code sections 201 or 202 to pay a waiting time penalty for each employee, up to a period of 30 days additional compensation.

Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to aggrieved employees during their employment as set forth in this notice and also failed to timely pay those amounts to departing employees upon separation of employment. Defendants did not pay waiting time penalties for the late payments. As a result, Defendants violated Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203.

For example, Defendants failed to provide Plaintiff with his last paycheck on his final day of work. When Plaintiff reported to work on December 7, 2024, Defendants informed Plaintiff that he was terminated, but did not provide his last paycheck. Instead, Defendants failed to provide Plaintiff's final check until December 9, 2024 after Plaintiff's repeated requests.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Non-Compliant Wage Statements
Violation of Labor Code §§ 226, 226.3

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226(a) and 226.3 with respect to the aggrieved employees by failing to furnish itemized wage statements each pay period that accurately list all information required by Labor Code section 226(a)(1) through (9).

Labor Code section 226(a) requires an employer to furnish wage statements to employees semimonthly or at the time of each payment of wages, "an accurate itemized statement in writing showing:" (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked, (3) the number of piece rate units earned and applicable piece-rate in effect, (4) all deductions, (5) net wages earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the pay period, (7) the name of the employee and last four digits of SSN or an EIN, (8) the name and address of the legal name of the employer, and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee.

Defendants failed to provide accurate itemized wage statements to the aggrieved employees each pay period as a result of the policies and practices set forth in this notice. Defendants violated Labor Code section 226(a)(1) and (5) by not listing the correct “gross wages earned” or “net wages earned,” as the employees earned wages and premiums that were not paid, resulting in an inaccurate reflection, and recording of “gross wages earned” on those wage statements.

Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees cannot promptly and easily determine from the wage statement alone the wages paid or earned without reference to other documents or information. Indeed, these wage statement violations are significant because they sow confusion among Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees with respect to what amounts were owed and paid, at what rates, the number of hours worked, and how those amounts were or should be calculated. The wage statements reflect a false statement of earnings and concealed the underlying problems and underpayments of employee wages.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Unreimbursed Employee Expenses Violation of Labor Code §§ 2802, 2804

Defendants violated Labor Code section 2802 with respect to the aggrieved employees by failing to reimburse the aggrieved employees for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred as part of their job duties.

Labor Code section 2802 requires an employer to “indemnify his or her employee for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred by the employee in direct consequence of the discharge of his or her duties, or of his or her obedience to the directions of the employer, even though unlawful, unless the employee, at the time of obeying the directions, believed them to be unlawful.” See, e.g., Espinoza v. West Coast Tomato Growers, LLC, 2016 WL 4468175 at *4, n.2 (S.D. Cal. Aug. 24, 2016, No. 14-CV-2984 W (KSC)).

Labor Code section 2804 affirms that “[a]ny contract or agreement, express or implied, made by any employee to waive the benefits of this article or any part thereof, is null and void, and this article shall not deprive any employee or his personal representative of any right or remedy to which he is entitled under the laws of this State.”

Defendants required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to incur costs for work-related purposes without full reimbursement. In direct consequence of their job duties, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees unavoidably and necessarily incurred these losses, expenditures, costs, and as a matter of policy and practice. Specifically, Defendants required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to download the Workday and Covr applications onto their personal cell phones. Defendants required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to use these applications for scheduling, benefits and payment tracking, and vacation requests. However, Defendants failed to reimburse Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees for these expenses incurred in direct consequence of their job duties.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Failure to Maintain Accurate Records
Violation of Labor Code § 1174; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 1174 and the IWC Wage Orders by failing to maintain accurate employee payroll records with respect to Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 1174 requires that employers maintain accurate “payroll records showing the hours worked daily by and the wages paid to, and the number of piece-rate units earned by and any applicable piece rate paid to, employees employed at the respective plants or establishments.” Section 7(A) of the IWC Wage Orders, which may be enforced through Labor Code section 1198, mandates similar recordkeeping obligations.

Because of the policies and practices set forth in this notice, including the failure to accurately account for wages earned or hours worked, Defendants failed to accurately maintain records in accordance with Labor Code section 1174 and the IWC Wage Orders.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Attorneys’ Fees and Costs
Labor Code § 2699(k)(1)

Plaintiff has been compelled to retain the services of counsel to protect the interests of other aggrieved employees and the State of California. Plaintiff continues to incur attorneys’ fees and costs, which are recoverable under California law, including Labor Code section 2699(k)(1).

- LITIGATION HOLD NOTICE -

This letter imposes a duty upon all defendants and their respective employees, officers, directors, executives, attorneys, human resource and payroll personnel, accountants, and other agents to preserve all physical and electronic evidence, including electronically stored information and emails, which relate to the employment of Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees specified in this notice. Evidence includes, but is not limited to, Defendants' written employment and payroll policies and handbooks; the aggrieved employees' personnel files and payroll records, such as paystubs, time records, wage statements, compensation reports, as well as the underlying electronically data in Excel or similar format. Memoranda and internal and external correspondence relating to the subject matter of this notice shall also be maintained. Failure to preserve and retain relevant evidence may constitute spoliation of evidence and result in an adverse inference or sanctions.

If you have any questions regarding the scope of your obligations to preserve evidence, please consult your legal counsel and always err on the side of caution. Periodic or regularly scheduled purges or deletions of information covered by this hold must be suspended immediately.

- CONCLUSION -

If the LWDA does not pursue enforcement, Plaintiff intends to bring representative claims on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees seeking civil penalties for violations of the Labor Code and the IWC Wage Orders, along with attorneys' fees, costs, interest, and other appropriate relief.

Please advise if the LWDA intends to investigate any of the factual or legal allegations set forth in this notice. Defendants may contact Plaintiff's counsel with any questions regarding this letter or the forthcoming lawsuit.

Sincerely,
