MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff Arceli Yamido (“Plaintiff” or “Class Representative”) respectfully moves for final approval of a $235,000.00 non-reversionary, Gross Settlement Amount (“GSA”) memorialized in the Parties’ Third Amended Class and PAGA Action Settlement Agreement (“Agreement”, “Settlement Agreement” or “S.A.”) which after deductions for attorneys’ fees and costs, the Class Representative Service Awards, Settlement Administration fees, and the payment to the LWDA, will provide an estimated Net Settlement Amount (“NSA”) to the participating Class Members of approximately $100,339.88 as follows:

	Total Amount
Gross Settlement Fund	$235,000.00
Attorneys’ Fees (1/3 of GSA)	$77,550.00
Actual Litigation Costs	$17,460.12
Administrator Costs	$8,650.00
PAGA Payment	$23,500.00
Class Representative Payment	$7,500.00
Net Class Settlement Amount	$100,339.88

The Settlement was preliminarily approved on December 23, 2025. On February 23, 2026 the Court-approved Notice Packet (consisting of the Notice of Class Action and PAGA Settlement, Change of Address form, and pre-printed return envelope) was sent to 235 Class Members via U.S. First Class Mail.¹ Through these means, the Notice Packet informed the Class Members of their rights and benefits under the Settlement, including their estimated Settlement Payments if they did not request exclusion, and the April 9, 2026 deadline to dispute workweeks, request exclusion, or object to the Settlement.² Following the April 9, 2026 deadline, zero (0) objections have been raised and zero (0) Class Member opted out. These results demonstrate the overall tremendous support for this Settlement which represents a 100% participation rate.³ As a result of

² Id., ¶¶ 11-12.

³ Id., ¶ 13.

1 the successful Notice campaign, the compendium of information available to the Parties and their 2 counsel, and Class Counsel's and Class Members' support for this Settlement as fair and 3 reasonable, it now merits final approval.

4 II. RELEVANT PROCEDURAL HISTORY AND FACTUAL BACKGROUND

5 For a discussion of relevant procedural history and facts regarding this case, please see the 6 Declaration of James Hawkins In Support of Final Approval ("Hawkins Decl.") at paragraphs 2 to 8.

7 III. SUMMARY OF SETTLEMENT AND NOTICE PROCESS

8 Under the preliminarily-approved Settlement, Defendants will pay $235,000.00 ("Gross 9 Settlement Amount" or "GSA") for the release of Class Members' claims, which are only those 10 claims actually alleged in the action or that could have been alleged based on the facts stated in 11 the operative Complaint, consistent with principles of res judicata. (See, Rangel v. PLS Check
12 Cashers of California, Inc., 899 F.3d 1106 (9th Cir. 2018).⁴ Further key terms include:

13 "Class Members" means "all individuals who are or who have been employed by 14 Defendants in California employed at the San Francisco Courtyard Downtown, The Clancy, or 15 both for any period of time during the Class Period from August 19, 2018 through June 1, 2024.
16 (Settlement Agreement ¶¶ 1.3, 1.5). There are 235 Class Members in the Class Period.⁵

17 "PAGA Members" means "all individuals who are or who have been employed by 18 Defendants in California employed at the San Francisco Courtyard Downtown, The Clancy, or 19 both for any period of time during the PAGA Period from August 19, 2021 through June 1, 2024.
20 (Settlement Agreement ¶¶ 1.17, 1.20). There are 189 PAGA Members in the PAGA Period.⁶

21 Attorneys' Fees and Litigation Costs. The Settlement provides for an attorneys' fees of 22 1/3 of GSA (i.e. $77,550.00), a typical percentage⁷ and costs award in the resolution of common

24 ⁴This Motion occasionally cites federal case law and commentaries thereon which construe authority for conditional 25 class certification and settlement approval in California courts. The California Supreme Court has authorized and 26 urged California's trial courts to use federal resources for guidance in considering class issues. Vasquez v. Superior Court, 4 Cal.3d 800, 821 (1971); Green v. Obledo, 29 Cal.3d 126, 145-46 (1981).

26 ⁵ Hernandez Decl., ¶ 5.

27 ⁶ Id.

27 ⁷See, e.g., Davis v. The Money Store, Inc., Case No. 99AS01716 (Sacramento Super. Ct. 2000)
28 (33 1/3 % fee award); Haitz v. Meyer, et al., No. 572968-3 (Alameda Super. Ct., 1990) (45% fee award); Ibrahimi v.
Walgreen, (Contra Costa Super. Ct. 2019) Case No. MSC16-02120) (35% fee award in wage and hour class action);

1 fund wage and hour cases. Class Counsel have devoted numerous hours to and faced significant
2 risk in the prosecution of these matters and, more importantly, made a substantial fund available
3 to a large number of otherwise-underrepresented, low-paid workers. Class Counsel also incurred
4 ordinary litigation costs over the past 4 years and now seeks costs of $17,460.12. Notably, this 5 amount does not account for additional future expenses in overseeing the settlement process,
6 making appearances, filing court documents, ensuring claims administration compliance with this 7 Court's orders, responding to Class Members, etc. Since costs in the amount of $17,460.12 are 8 reasonable and served to benefit the Class, they warrant reimbursement. (Settlement Agreement ¶ 9 9.5).

10 PAGA Payment. The Settlement also provides for $23,500.00 to be paid to settle any and 11 all claims for which penalties under PAGA may be sought or are otherwise available. Of the 12 $23,500.00 PAGA Payment, 75% will be paid to the LWDA in the amount of $17,625.00. The 13 remaining 25% will be paid to the PAGA Members in the amount of $5,875.00. (Settlement 14 Agreement ¶ 9.4).

15 Class Representative Payment. The Settlement also provides for a Class Representative
16 Payment as a service payment to the Plaintiff for her role as Class Representative in the amount of 17 $7,500.00 each for her time, risk and effort in bringing the lawsuit, representing the large Class,
18 and in consideration for the claims released.⁸ The proposed $7,500.00 Class Representative
19 Payment is also reasonable given the minimal impact this amount will have on any settling Class 20 Member's level of recovery. (Settlement Agreement ¶ 9.3).

21 Settlement Administration Costs. The settlement provides for administration fees not to 22 exceed $10,000.00. To date the administrator fees total $8,650.00 which is reasonable given the 23 size of the Class and the work required to send the Notice, process settlement checks, set up and

2 and perform post Final Approval administration.⁹

3 Results of the Notice Process. In accordance with the Court’s granting of preliminary 4 approval, the Settlement Administrator sent the Notices by first class mail to all Class Members at 5 their last known addresses, updated using the National Change of Address (“NCOA”) Database.
6 As detailed below, when Notices were returned by the post office, the claims administrator
7 researched further, performed “skip traces” and then, when possible, re-mailed those Notices to 8 better mailing addresses. Only 3 Notice Packets out of the 235 Notices were deemed undeliverable 9 – an excellent result in wage and hour actions.¹⁰ The deadline for Settlement Class Members to 10 exclude themselves or object to the Settlement was April 9, 2026. Zero (0) Class Members opted
11 out and zero (0) Class Members objected, resulting in 100% participation.¹¹

12 The Participating Class Members are expected to receive an estimated, average Individual 13 Settlement Payment of $426.98 with the highest Individual Settlement Payment currently estimated to be 14 $1,083.09 and the lowest estimated to be $3.59.¹² The average PAGA Payment to the eligible PAGA
15 Member is currently estimated to be $31.08 with the highest PAGA payment currently estimated 16 to be $53.86 with the lowest estimated to be $0.37.¹³ These are significant individual recoveries, 17 particularly in light of the risks of litigation.

18 IV. THE SETTLEMENT MERITS FINAL APPROVAL

19 When evaluating a class action settlement under California Code of Civil Procedure § 382 20 for final approval, a court’s inquiry focuses upon whether the settlement is “fair, adequate and 21 reasonable.” Wershba v. Apple Computer Inc., 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 244-245 (2004); Dunk v. Ford
22 Motor Co., 48 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1801 (1996). A settlement is “fair, adequate and reasonable” 23 and, therefore, merits final approval when “the interests of the class are better served by the 24 settlement than by further litigation.” Manual for Complex Litigation (4th ed. 2008) § 21.61, 462
25 (“Manual”). These conditions are met here.

26 ⁹ Hernandez Decl., ¶ 16.

27 ¹⁰ Id., ¶¶ 8-10.

28 ¹¹ Id., ¶ 13.

¹² Id., ¶ 14.

¹³ Id., ¶ 15.

1 While the Court possesses “broad discretion” in determining whether a proposed class
2 action settlement is fair, the Court’s inquiry “must be limited to the extent necessary to reach a 3 reasoned judgment that the agreement is not the product of fraud or overreaching by, or collusion
4 between, the negotiation Parties, and that the settlement, taken as a whole, is fair, reasonable and 5 adequate to all concerned.” Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801 (quoting Officers for Justice Civil Serv.
6 Comm’n, 688 F.2d 615, 625 (9th Cir. 1982)). A court’s approval of a class action settlement will 7 only be reversed for a clear abuse of discretion. Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1802.

8 A. THE SETTLEMENT IS PRESUMED FAIR

9 “[A] presumption of fairness exists where: (1) the settlement is reached through arm’s-10 length bargaining; (2) investigation and discovery are sufficient to allow counsel and the court to 11 act intelligently; (3) counsel is experienced in similar litigation; and (4) the percentage of objectors
12 is small. Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1802 (citing Newberg & Conte, Newberg on Class Actions 13 (2002) § 11.41, pp. 11-91). Here, the Settlement clearly meets these points and, as this Court noted 14 in its preliminary approval Order, it is, thus, presumed fair.

16 The Settlement was reached through arm’s-length negotiations. On January 25, 2024, the 17 Parties participated in an all-day mediation presided over by Hon. Amy Hogue, Ret. although the 18 Parties reached an impasse at mediation, the Parties, with the help of the mediator, continued
19 negotiations which resulted in the class-wide resolution of this matter to fully resolve the Class
20 and PAGA Actions.¹⁴ See In re Bluetooth Headset Prod. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 948 (9th Cir.
21 2011) (the presence of a neutral mediator is a factor weighing in favor of finding of no collusion);
22 In re Apple Computer, Inc. Derivative Litig., No. C 06-4128 JF (HRL), 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS
23 108195 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 5, 2008) (mediator’s participation weighs considerably against any 24 inference of a collusive settlement); D’Amato v. Deutsche Bank, 236 F.3d 78, 85 (2d Cir. 2001) (a 25 “mediator’s involvement in pre-certification settlement negotiations helps to ensure that the 26 proceedings were free of collusion and undue pressure.”); Villegas v. J.P. Morgan Chase & Co.,

27
28 ¹⁴ Hawkins Decl., ¶ 4.

1 No. 09–00261, 2012 WL 5878390, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 21, 2012) (participation in mediation
2 “tends to support the conclusion that the settlement process was not collusive”); Ogbuehi v.
3 Comcast of California/Colorado/Fla./Oregon, Inc., 303 F.R.D. 337, 350 (E.D. Cal. 2014)
4 (participation in mediation “tends to support the conclusion that the settlement process was not 5 collusive”). At all times, the Parties’ negotiations were adversarial and non-collusive. Finally, as 6 discussed infra, zero Class Members objected, and zero opted out. Accordingly, the 7 presumption that the Settlement is fair applies.

8 B. AS THIS COURT PREVIOUSLY FOUND, THE RELEVANT CRITERIA
9 SUPPORT FINAL APPROVAL

10 California Courts consider several factors in deciding whether to grant final approval of a 11 class action settlement, including (1) the amount offered in settlement, (2) the risks inherent in 12 continued litigation, (3) the complexity, expense, and likely duration of the litigation absent
13 settlement, (4) the extent of discovery completed and the stage of the proceedings when settlement 14 was reached, (5) the experience and views of class counsel, and (6) the reaction of class members.
15 Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801; Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 244-45; Kullar v. Foot Locker Retail,
16 Inc., 168 Cal.App.4th 116, 119 (2008). Here, evaluation on each of these factors favors final 17 approval of the Settlement.

18 1. The Value of the Settlement and the Risks Inherent in Continued
19 Litigation Favor Final Approval

20 In seeking approval, a settling party must provide sufficient information to “enable the 21 court to make an independent assessment of the adequacy of the settlement terms.” Kullar v.
22 Foot Locker Retail, Inc., 168 Cal. App. 4th 116, 131-32 (2008). However, “[i]t is well-settled 23 law that a cash settlement amounting to only a fraction of the potential recovery will not per se 24 render the settlement inadequate or unfair.” See Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n of

27 by the negotiators.” Id. at 625. “Estimates of a fair settlement figure are tempered by factors

1 Transactions Act (FACTA) Litig., 295 F.R.D. 438, 453 (C.D. Cal. 2014). In other words, in 2 valuing the claims within a realistic range of outcomes, the settling plaintiff should discount the 3 value of the settled claims for risks such as changes in the law, the probability of success, and 4 other factors.¹⁵

5 Settling parties are not, however, required to partake in a hypothetical accounting
6 exercise: “Kullar does not ... require any such explicit statement of [maximum] value; it 7 requires a record which allows ‘an understanding of the amount that is in controversy and the 8 realistic range of outcomes of the litigation.’” Munoz v. BCI Coca-Cola Bottling Co., 186 Cal.

10 Overall, “the most important factor” in determining “whether a settlement is fair and reasonable” 11 is the “strength of the case for plaintiffs on the merits, balanced against the amount offered in 12 the settlement.” Id. at 409 n.6 (quoting Kullar, 168 Cal. App. 4th at 130). As explained in detail
13 below, the Gross Settlement Amount is within the range of reasonableness in light of the nature
14 and magnitude of the claims being settled and the various potential impediments to recovery.

16 Defendants deny any wrongdoing and deny liability with respect to the matters alleged 17 in the Complaint and believe that they have valid defenses to all of Plaintiff’s claims. Defendants 18 further contend that they complied with all wage and hour laws applicable to the employment of 19 Plaintiff and other Class Members. To date, no class has been certified and no court has made 20 any findings that Defendants engaged in any wrongdoing or in any wrongful conduct, or 21

22 ¹⁵ Federal district courts also recognize that there is an inherent “range of reasonableness” in determining whether to 24 risks and costs necessarily inherent in taking any litigation to completion.” In re World Trade Ctr. Lower Manhattan

1 otherwise acted improperly or in violation of any law, rule or regulation with respect to any of 2 the issues presented in this action. Defendants contend it implemented written policies and 3 maintained practices that complied with the requirements of the California Labor Code and 4 applicable California Wage Orders. Defendants contend all minimum wages, overtime wages,
5 and double time wages were paid and that all meal and rest periods were provided in compliance
6 with California law and applicable California Wage Orders. In addition, an individualized 7 investigation into the circumstances surrounding failure to pay wages is warranted because such 8 claims can only be decided on a case-by-case basis, common issues do not predominate and class
9 certification is neither superior nor proper. Defendants contend that Plaintiff and Class Members
10 were not subject to any bonuses or other remuneration requiring recalculation of the regular rate 11 for overtime. Lastly, Defendants assert it maintained a policy of no off-the-clock work, and the 12 facts and circumstances regarding off-the-clock were not supported in this case.¹⁶

13
14 Moreover, Defendants contend Plaintiff could not successfully argue that derivative
15 waiting time penalties were owed. Further, Plaintiff would still face a difficult, if not impossible, 16 hurdle to overcome the willfulness threshold required by Labor Code section 203. Plaintiffs 17 evaluated and considered the former Class Members who have separated from Defendants’
18 employ during the Class Period. Plaintiff applied the three-year statute of limitations and argued 19 that the employer’s underlying violation was willful. Defendants disagreed with this analysis, 20 with respect to the “willfulness” prong and argued that Plaintiffs could not show willfulness.
21 The considerable risk that Defendants could defeat certification and prevail on their defenses
22 defeating any and all recovery to the class warranted a compromise of the class claims. Similarly,
23 Defendants contend that they have complied with all such requirements with respect to payroll
24 records and wage statements at all times. Further, Plaintiff would still face a difficult, if not 25 impossible, hurdle to overcome the willfulness threshold required by Labor Code section 226.
26 Defendants also contend its practices have been in compliance with applicable law as set forth

2 Accounting for the risks of continued litigation and impediments to discovery, Plaintiff

5 approved settlements that provided a similar discounted range of the maximum potential

6 compromise and settlement of disputes”)). The alternative to a class action, namely numerous 7 individual actions, could tax private and judicial resources for years. Given the relatively modest,
8 though not inconsequential, amount of damages individual Class Members allegedly incurred, it
9 would be uneconomical to secure individual legal representation, even for those with the resources
10 to do so. But, here, the Settlement provides all Class Members, regardless of their means, the 11 opportunity of monetary recovery in a prompt and efficient manner, without the risk of the Court 12 denying class certification and/or finding no liability, and these workers recovering nothing at all.

14 Class Counsel also considered that, even if Plaintiff prevailed, on both class certification
15 and liability, the remaining processes could be lengthy and costly, potentially including appeals.
16 As such, even a successful judicial resolution at the trial court level can be just the beginning of a
17 lengthy, expensive process, stalling payments to class members for years. This judicial purgatory
18 is compounded by the risk of adverse appellate rulings, which would remand the action to the trial
19 court for further litigation, possibly with negative precedent.²⁰ The complexity, expense, and delay
20 of continued litigation in this matter supports final approval of the Settlement.

21 D. THE DISCOVERY AND FACTUAL INVESTIGATION SUPPORT
22 APPROVAL

23 The Settlement comes at a point in the litigation where counsel for Plaintiff and Defendants 24 had clear views of the strengths and weaknesses of their respective cases. “[T]he extent of 25 discovery completed and the stage of the proceedings” are factors courts consider in determining 26 the fairness, adequacy and reasonableness of a settlement.” Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1794. Class 27

28 ²⁰ See, e.g., Chau v. Starbucks Corp., 174 Cal.App.4th 688 (2009) (appellate court reversed an $86 million restitution award to a certified class of hourly employees).

1 Counsel conducted extensive pre-filing due diligence and engaged in informal discovery. The 2 parties also engaged in substantial discovery, including Defendant's production of all of its written 3 wage and hour policies, and data consisting of time records, payroll records, and other data for 4 employees of Defendants, including tens of thousands of lines of data and hundreds of pages of 5 other employment related documents. Undoubtedly, the parties have thoroughly investigated, and 6 are sufficiently knowledgeable of the facts to form educated assessments regarding their respective 7 positions and the value of the case.²¹

8 All of this was confirmed by the extensive mediation, during which all of the claims and 9 defenses were thoroughly argued and vetted by the experienced mediator, which led directly to the 10 mediator's proposal that is the basis of the agreed settlement.

11 E. THE EXPERIENCE AND VIEWS OF COUNSEL FAVOR FINAL
12 APPROVAL

13 Class Counsel supports the Settlement as fair, reasonable, and adequate, and believes it in 14 the best interest of the Class as a whole.²² Class Counsel has substantial experience prosecuting 15 complex litigation and/or class action lawsuits, has prosecuted a multitude of such cases involving 16 the same issues as presented here.²³ As discussed above, Class Counsel is intimately familiar with 17 the litigation, having conducted extensive investigation and negotiation on behalf of the class. The 18 endorsement by well-informed and qualified counsel of a settlement as fair, adequate, and 19 reasonable is entitled to significant weight. Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1802; Ellis Naval Air Rework
20 Facility, 87 F.R.D. 15 (N.D. Cal. 1980); Boyd, 485 F. Supp 610, 617 (N.D. Cal. 1979).

21 F. THE CLASS MEMBERS' REACTION FAVORS FINAL APPROVAL

22 Finally, when determining if a settlement is reasonable, a court looks to "the reaction of 23 class members to the proposed settlement." Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801; Wershba, 91 Cal. 2008) (citing Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at 625 and In re Washington Public Power Supply System Securities Litigation, 720 F. Supp. 1379, 1392 (D. Ariz. 1989)).

²³ Hawkins Decl., ¶¶ 66-70.

1 Cal.App.4th at 244-245; Kullar, 168 Cal.App.4th at 119. Here, Class Members’ response to the 2 Settlement has been favorable as there no objections and no opt outs. The result speaks volumes
3 about the fairness, reasonableness, and adequacy of this Settlement. Class Members’ reaction thus 4 shows tremendous support for the Settlement. Accordingly, the Settlement as a whole is presumed to 5 be fair, reasonable, and adequate, and the Court should grant final approval of the Settlement in its entirety.
6 Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1802.

7 V. THE COURT-ORDERED NOTICE PROGRAM IS CONSTITUTIONALLY
8 SOUND AND HAS BEEN FULLY IMPLEMENTED

9 California statutory and case law vests the Court with discretion in fashioning an 10 appropriate notice program. Cal. Civ. Code § 1781; Cartt v. Superior Court, 50 Cal.App.3d 960, 11 973-974 (1975). To protect the rights of absent class members, the parties must provide the class 12 with the best notice practicable, but due process does not require actual notice to parties who 13 cannot reasonably be identified. See, Phillips Petroleum Co. v. Shutts, 472 U.S. 797, 811-812
14 (1985); Eisen v. Carlisle & Jacquelin, 417 U.S. 156 (U.S. 1974); Manual § 21.311, n. 882 at 432;
15 Cal. Rules of Ct., Rule 3.766(d).

16 The Court-approved Notice program met this standard and has now been fully 17 implemented. The Settlement Administrator mailed the Notice Package to the entire class on 18 February 23, 2026. Only 3 Notice Packets out of the 235 mailed Notices were deemed 19 undeliverable. This is unquestionably an excellent result.²⁴ Moreover, as there are no objections
20 and not a single opt-out request to the Settlement, it demonstrates that the Class does overall 21 support the Settlement. It is a good result for those Class Members who were harmed.

22 VI. AN AWARD OF ATTORNEYS’ FEES AND COSTS IS APPROPRIATE

23 A. A COMMON FUND FEE AWARD IS WARRANTED

24 Public policy promotes approval of fee requests since “[t]he function of an award of 25 attorney’s fees is to encourage the bringing of meritorious...claims which might otherwise be 26 abandoned because of the financial imperatives surrounding the hiring of competent counsel.” City
27

28 ²⁴ Hernandez Decl., ¶¶ 7-10.

1 of Riverside v. Rivera, 477 U.S. 561, 578 (1986) (internal quotation marks and citations omitted).
2 Additionally, attorneys' fees are awarded based on the value of the common benefit made available
3 to the class, regardless of whether the settlement contains a reversion provision. Williams v. MGM-
4 Pathe Communs. Co., 129 F.3d 1026, 1027 (9th Cir. 1997); Boeing Co. v. Van Gemert, 44 U.S.
5 472, 480-81 (1980). In this case, there will be no reversion of any kind to the Defendants, further
6 rendering the fees request appropriate. Specifically, the Settlement provides for an attorneys' fee
7 award of 1/3 of the Gross Settlement Amount (i.e. $77,550.00), a typical percentage in the 8 resolution of common fund cases.²⁵ Class Counsel has devoted numerous hours to and faced 9 significant risk²⁶ in the prosecution of this matter and, more importantly, made a substantial fund 10 available to a large number of otherwise-underrepresented, low-paid workers.

11 The "common fund" method, or "percentage-of-the-benefit" analysis, calculates attorneys'
12 fees based on a percentage of the common benefit to the class. In re Consumer Privacy Cases, 175
13 Cal.App.4th 545 (2009); Serrano v. Priest, 20 Cal.3d 25 (1977). In cases where a common fund 14 has been created—i.e., where each class member will "receive a mathematically ascertainable
15 payment"²⁷—California state courts,²⁸ the Ninth Circuit²⁹ and the United States Supreme Court³⁰
16 agree that awarding attorneys' fees as a percentage of the common fund is the proper method.³¹
17

19 ²⁵See, e.g., Barbosa v. Cargill Meat Solutions Corp., 2013 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 93194 (E.D. Cal. 2013) (33% fee award
20 of gross fund); Boyd v. Bank of Am. Corp., No. SACV 13-0561-DOC, 2014 WL 6473804, at *9 (C.D. Cal. 2014)

23 266 F.R.D. 482 (E.D. Cal. 2010) (33 1/3% award in wage and hour class action)

24 ²⁶ Class Counsel undertook this matter solely on a contingent basis, with no guarantee regarding the potential
25 duration of the litigation or even the ultimate reimbursement of fees or costs. Looking, ad hoc, at the fact that if a 26 settlement did occur, that doesn't change the risks accepted at the inception of the case or at any point along its 27 timeline. Nor, looking more broadly, does it account for the countless cases that do not settle, do not settle well and/or 28 are dismissed after sometimes thousands of hours of work thereon.

³¹A lodestar approach (enhanced by a multiplier) can be used as an alternative to the common fund theory when "there is no way to gauge the net value of the settlement or any percentage thereof." Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1029 (9th Cir. 1998).

1 The Serrano factors further justify the common fund fee award.³² Serrano explained the 2 trial courts may consider additional factors when considering a fee award: (1) time and labor
3 required, (2) the contingent nature of the fee agreement, (3) extent to which the nature of the 4 litigation precluded other employment by the attorneys, (4) experience, reputation, and ability of 5 the attorneys who performed services in the litigation and their displayed skill, (5) amount involved
6 and the results obtained, and (6) the informed consent of the client to the fee agreement. Serrano, 7 20 Cal.3d at 49.

8 1. Time and Labor

9 Class Counsel has invested considerable amounts of time and labor in litigating the Class'
10 claims, incurring approximately 127.1 hours in prosecuting this litigation.³³ In so doing, Class
11 Counsel drew on their experience litigating wage and hour class actions against employers very 12 much like this one in order to minimize wasted effort. Class Counsel's efforts include, inter alia, 13 conducting written discovery (both formal and informal), production and review of documents, 14 obtaining data for mediation, interviews with putative Class Members, a mediation session and 15 continued hard-fought negotiations.³⁴

16 2. Contingent Nature of Fees, Preclusion of Other Employment and 17 Informed Consent of Plaintiff

18 The fee award is further supported by the contingency risk assumed in prosecuting the 19 case.³⁵ The California Supreme Court has recognized that attorney fee awards should be enhanced 20 to compensate attorneys for the risks of loss involved in contingency cases. Ketchum v. Moses, 24

21 ³²*Serrano v. Priest*, 20 Cal.3d 25 (1977); Dunk v. Ford Motor Co., 48 Cal.App.4th 1794 (1996).

22 ³³ Hawkins Decl., ¶ 73.

23 ³⁴Attorney fee awards in common funds cases are intended to compensate class counsel for work performed both
24 before and after the date of judgment. In nearly every class action, the efforts during litigation and in pursuing approval
25 of the settlement are only part of the overall work picture. Post-judgment, class counsel is required to stay in close
26 contact with the claims administrator to ensure payment of the settlement proceeds, to communicate with class
27 members, with their CPAs (regarding the tax treatment of settlement proceeds), even with other attorneys, to report 28 compliance with the terms of the Court's final approval order thereon and myriad other tasks. Although rarely discussed in connection with requests for attorneys' fees and costs, it's not unusual for some of these efforts to take place years after judgment. With a class of this magnitude, these are efforts that will assuredly be required by Class Counsel.

³⁵California courts "agree...that 'riskiness,' difficulty or contingent nature of the litigation is a relevant factor in determining a reasonable attorney fee award." Salton Bay Marina, Inc., 172 Cal.App.3d at 955 (citing La Mesa-Spring
Valley School Dist. of San Diego County v. Nobuo Otsuka, 57 Cal. 2d 309, 316 (1962); See also, In re Quantum Health
Resources, Inc. Sec. Litig., 962 F. Supp. 1254, 1257 (C.D. Cal. 1997).

1 Cal.4th 1122, 1133 (2001); Graciano v. Robinson Ford Sales, Inc., 144 Cal.App.4th 140, 154
2 (2006); See also, In re Consumer Privacy Cases, 175 Cal.App.4th at 556.

3 Class Counsel undertook this matter solely on a contingent basis, with no guarantee
4 regarding the potential duration of the litigation or the ultimate recovery of fees or costs. While 5 Class Counsel believes the claims in this case are meritorious, it also recognized the factual and 6 legal challenges involved in complex litigation, generally, as well as the specific risks posed by 7 the facts in this case. While attorneys who represent corporations are routinely paid on an hourly
8 basis, plaintiffs in wage and hour cases can rarely afford to pay their attorneys by the hour, 9 especially if they expect to be represented by a law firm well known for achieving good results.
10 As firms committed to wage and hour class actions, including the one at hand, Class Counsel must 11 accept these cases on a wholly contingent basis, with no guarantee of recovery of fees, or even the 12 reimbursement of litigation costs. As California case law recognizes, Class Counsel's commitment 13 to this litigation should not be assessed in a vacuum.³⁶ The 127.1 hours Class Counsel spent on 14 litigation, investigation and settlement efforts in this case prevented them from pursuing other 15 hourly or contingency fee-based work.

16 Therefore, the agreement of Plaintiff to enter contingency fee arrangements supports the 17 requested attorney fee award. Glendora, 155 Cal.App.3d at 472. Here, Plaintiff entered into 18 consensual contingency fee agreements and expressly endorse Class Counsel's request for 19 attorneys' fees and costs. Additionally, Class Members have been notified of the requested
20 attorneys' fees and costs by means of the Notice.³⁷ In light of the work performed, risks assumed 21 and results achieved, it is clear that Class Counsel's fee request is supported and should be 22 approved.

24 ³⁶*Glendora Community Redevelopment Agency*, 155 Cal.App.3d at 475 (recognizing that "a busy lawyer" with a good 25 "reputation" might be "reluctant to accept the employment because of the preclusion of other business"); Cal. Rules

27 "[t]he likelihood, if apparent to the client, that the acceptance of the particular employment will preclude other 28 employment by the member").

26 ³⁷ Litigants are familiar with one-third fee recoveries being the norm—this percentage (or higher awards of 35% or 27 40%) being common in employment, personal injury and other areas of litigation within the commonplace experience 28 of these class members. Also, as suggested by the compendium of examples cited throughout this brief, it is a judicial benchmark as well. Indeed, "[e]mpirical studies show that...fee awards in class actions average around one-third of the recovery." 4 Newberg § 14.6

1 3. Experience of Class Counsel

2 The experience and ability of Class Counsel were essential to the settlement achieved here.
3 Class Counsel developed an extensive factual record, convinced Defendants of their exposure, and 4 expertly negotiated the terms of the Settlement. Only counsel who have a successful history
5 litigating these types of cases and who are well versed in class action litigation and wage and hour
6 law in this jurisdiction could have effectively marshaled the evidence and presented it to achieve
7 this Settlement.³⁸ “The overall result and benefit to the class from the litigation is the most critical 8 factor in granting a fee award.” In re Omnivision Techs., 559 F. Supp. 2d 1036, 1046 (N.D. Cal.
9 2007). Here, Class Counsel was still able to secure a great result for Class Members despite the 10 risks in this case.

11 B. THE LODESTAR METHODOLOGY ALSO JUSTIFIES APPROVAL OF 12 THE REQUESTED FEES

13 While the percentage-of-the-benefit approach is endorsed as the better approximation of the 14 workings of the marketplace than the lodestar approach, courts may also use the lodestar method to “cross-
15 check” the results of the other.³⁹ The lodestar is calculated based on reasonable hours at reasonable 16 prevailing hourly rates for the attorneys, and counsel is entitled to compensation for every hour reasonably 17 spent on the matter. Ketchum v. Moses (2001) 24 Cal.4th 1122, 1131-33. The reasonableness of hours is 18 assessed by “the entire course of the litigation, including pretrial matters, settlement negotiations, discovery, 19 litigation tactics, and the trial itself[.]” Vo v. Las Virgenes Municipal Water Dist. (2000) 79 Cal.App.4th 20 440, 447.

21 Class Counsel’s fee request is reasonable when calculated using the lodestar method.
22 Under the lodestar method, a base fee amount is calculated from a compilation of time reasonably 23 spent on the case and the reasonable hourly compensation of the attorney. Serrano, 20 Cal. 3d at 24 48. The court then may enhance this lodestar figure by a “multiplier” to account for a range of 25

26 ³⁸Hawkins Decl., ¶¶ 66-70.

27 ³⁹ Laffitte, supra, 1 Cal.5th at 505 (explaining that “[a] lodestar cross-check is simply a quantitative method for bringing a measure
28 of the time spent by counsel into the trial court’s reasonableness determination” and “the lodestar calculation . . . does not override the trial court’s primary determination of the fee as a percentage” and “does not impose an absolute maximum or minimum on the potential fee award.”); see also, e.g., Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1050 (“[W]hile the primary basis of the fee award remains the percentage method, the lodestar may provide a useful perspective on the reasonableness of a given percentage award.”).

1 factors, such as the novelty and difficulty of the case, its contingent nature, and the degree of 2 success achieved. Id. at 49; see also Ketchum v. Moses, 24 Cal.4th 1122, 1132-36 (2001); Thayer
3 v. Wells Fargo Bank, 92 Cal.App.4th 819, 834 (2001), [“[t]here is no...rule limiting the factors 4 that may justify an exercise of judicial discretion to [adjust the] lodestar”].

5 Here, Class Counsel spent approximately 127.1 hours litigating this matter and finalizing the 6 Settlement for a lodestar value of approximately $107,642.50.⁴⁰ In light of the facts and circumstances
7 of this matter, as well as the results that Class Counsel have achieved, Class Counsel have spent a reasonable
8 number of hours performing work on this matter. In addition, Class Counsel will continue to perform work 9 on this matter through the date of final approval and in connection with the implementation of the 10 Settlement. Where “exceptional effort produced an exceptional benefit,” a fee award may be enhanced.
11 Thayer v. 92 Cal. App. 4th at 838; In re Vitamin Cases, 110 Cal. App. 4th 1041, 1058-1059 (2003) (high-12 quality work from counsel supports multiplier). Here, Class Counsel’s lodestar exceeds the requested 13 $77,550.00 fee amount, and is not seeking to apply a multiplier. Therefore, the requested attorneys’ fees in 14 the amount of $77,550.00 is reasonable and warranted.

15
16 C. CLASS COUNSEL’S COSTS ARE REASONABLE

17 Over the course of this litigation, Class Counsel incurred ordinary litigation costs over the 18 past five years totaling $17,460.12. While the Settlement provided a ceiling for litigation costs of 19 $20,000.00, Class Counsel kept costs at bay and are now respectfully seeking litigation costs in 20 the amount of $17,460.12.⁴¹ Notably, this amount does not account for additional future expenses
21 in overseeing the settlement process, making appearances, filing court documents, ensuring claims 22 administration compliance with this Court’s orders, responding to Class Members, etc. Since these 23 costs are reasonable and serve to benefit the class, they warrant reimbursement.⁴² entitled to receive reimbursement of reasonable fees and expenses involved”); 1 Alba Conte, Attorney Fee Awards §

2:08 at 50-51 (“The prevailing view is that expenses are awarded in addition to the fee percentage.”); In re Warner

1 VII. REPRESENTATIVE PLAINTIFF DESERVES THE PROPOSED
2 ENHANCEMENT AWARD

3 The Settlement further provides for, and Plaintiff now requests and a Class Representative
4 payment of $7,500.00. Class Representative payments to lead plaintiffs in class action litigations
5 are commonplace and are “intended to compensate class representatives for work done on behalf 6 of the class, to make up for financial or reputational risk undertaken in bringing the action”.⁴³
7 Service Awards “are intended to advance public policy by encouraging individuals to come
8 forward and perform their civic duty in protecting the rights of the class and to compensate class
9 representatives for their time, effort and inconvenience ... Federal authority is in accord.”⁴⁴

10 Courts in California may consider the following factors in determining the appropriateness 11 of such an award: (1) the risk to the class representative in commencing suit, (2) the notoriety and 12 personal difficulties encountered by the class representative, (3) the amount of time and effort 13 spent by the class representative, (4) the duration of the litigation, and (5) the personal benefit (or 14 lack thereof) enjoyed by the class representative as a result of the litigation. Van Vranken v.
15 Atlantic Richfield Co., 901 F. Supp. 294, 299 (N.D. Cal. 1995).

16 The proposed Class Representative payment is reasonable given the work the Plaintiff
17 performed on behalf of fellow Class Members, the risks she faced and those continued to be faced 18 for their participation in the litigation (e.g., retaliation from future employers), and the minimal 19 impact the request will have on the amount of any class member’s level of recovery. As detailed 20 in Plaintiff’s declaration, previously submitted in support of Preliminary Approval, Plaintiff spent 21 considerable time prosecuting this action with Class Counsel. This included and was not limited 22 to frequent emails and telephone calls with counsel to address issues surrounding the 23 organizational structure of the company, job duties she and other Class Members performed, 24

25 ⁴³ Plaintiffs risked being “blacklisted” by other future employers for having sued this defendant in a class action.
26 As well stated by a New York Southern District Court: “[T]he fact that a plaintiff has filed a federal lawsuit is 27 searchable on the internet and may become known to prospective employers when evaluating the person . . . Even 28 where there is not a record of actual retaliation, notoriety, or personal difficulties, class representatives merit recognition for assuming the risk of such for the sake of absent class members.” Guippone v. BH S&B Holdings LLC, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 126026, at 4, 20 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 28, 2011).

omitted).

1 production of documents, responding to discovery, preparing and having her deposition taken, and 2 communications surrounding mediation and settlement.⁴⁵

3 VIII. REIMBURSEMENT OF ADMINISTRATION FEES IS APPROPRIATE

4 As set forth in the accompanying ILYM Group Inc. (“ILYM”) Declaration, the total costs incurred
5 and to be incurred by ILYM for the notice and settlement administration process are $8,650.00. This
6 amount includes the total cost for services in connection with the administration of the Settlement,
7 including fees incurred and anticipated future costs for completion of the administration. This
8 amount includes the total cost for services in connection with the administration of the Settlement,
9 including fees incurred and anticipated future costs for completion of the administration.⁴⁶

10 Accordingly, the Court should grant final approval of payment to ILYM, a necessary third-party
11 for its handling of the notice and settlement process, in the amount of $8,650.00

12 IX. CONCLUSION

13 Based upon the foregoing, Plaintiff respectfully requests the Court grant final approval of 14 the Settlement and approve Class Counsel’s application for attorneys’ fees and costs, the PAGA 15 Payment, the requested Class Representative payment to Plaintiff, and reimbursement of the 16 settlement administration costs.
