1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 Plaintiff seeks preliminary approval of a proposed Settlement Agreement entered into 4 between Plaintiff (on behalf of the Class) and Defendant. The Settlement Agreement will provide 5 substantial monetary payments to approximately 26 Class Members. And, as set forth more fully 6 below, the proposed Settlement satisfies all the criteria for settlement approval under California law.
7 The Settlement was reached after extensive investigation, discovery, and negotiations. The 8 negotiations were at arm's-length and were facilitated by an experienced class action mediator. After 9 extensive negotiations and discussions regarding the strengths and weaknesses of Plaintiff's claims 10 and Defendant's defenses, the Parties reached a Settlement on February 6, 2026. Accordingly, 11 Plaintiff requests that the Court preliminarily approve the proposed Settlement, certify the Class, 12 approve the proposed Class Notice, and set a final approval hearing.

13 II. SUMMARY OF THE LITIGATION AND SETTLEMENT

14 A. Plaintiff's Claims

15 Plaintiff alleges that Defendant's payroll, timekeeping, and wage and hour practices 16 resulted in Labor Code violations. Specifically, Plaintiff alleges that Defendant failed to pay for 17 all hours worked. Plaintiff further alleges that Defendant failed to provide meal periods, failed 18 to authorize and permit rest periods, failed to timely pay final wages, failed to furnish accurate 19 wage statements, and failed to indemnify employees for expenditures. (Class Counsel Decl. ¶ 20 3.)

21 Based on these allegations, on June 28, 2024, Plaintiff filed a putative wage and hour class
22 action complaint against Defendant for: (1) failure to pay minimum and straight time wages (Labor 23 Code §§ 204, 1194, 1194.2, and 1197); (2) failure to pay overtime wages (Labor Code §§ 1194 24 and 1198); (3) failure to provide meal periods (Labor Code §§ 226.7 and 512); (4) failure to 25 authorize and permit rest periods (Labor Code § 226.7); (5) failure to timely pay final wages at 26 termination (Labor Code §§ 201-203); (6) failure to provide accurate itemized wage statements 27 (Labor Code § 226); (7) failure to indemnify employees for expenditures (Labor Code § 2802); 28 and (8) unfair business practices (Business and Professions Code §§ 17200, et seq.). (Class

1 Counsel Decl. ¶ 4.) On May 27, 2025, pursuant to Labor Code §2699.3, subd. (a), Plaintiff gave 2 notice to the LWDA and Defendant that Plaintiff intended to proceed with a representative 3 action under PAGA. (Id.) On August 26, 2025, after the 65-day statutory period passed, Plaintiff
4 filed the PAGA Action, alleging claims for penalties pursuant to Labor Code § 2699, et seq.
5 (Id.) On January 16, 2026, the Class Action and the PAGA action were related, with the Class
6 Action designated as the lead case. (Id.)

7 B. Discovery and Investigation

8 Following the filing of the Action, the Parties exchanged documents and information 9 before going to mediation. Defendant produced a sample of time and pay records for Class 10 Members. Defendant also provided documents of its wage and hour policies and practices during 11 the Class Period, and information regarding the total number of current and former employees
12 in its informal discovery responses. (Id. at ¶ 5.)

13 After reviewing documents regarding Defendant’s wage and hour policies and practices 14 and analyzing Defendant’s timekeeping and payroll records, Class Counsel was able to evaluate 15 the probability of class certification, success on the merits, and Defendant’s maximum monetary 16 exposure for all claims. (Id. at ¶ 6.) Class Counsel also investigated the applicable law regarding 17 the claims and defenses asserted in the Action. (Id.) Class Counsel reviewed these records and 18 prepared a damage analysis prior to mediation. (Id.) This extensive investigation and discovery 19 allowed Class Counsel to act intelligently and effectively in negotiating the Settlement.

20 C. Settlement Negotiations

21 On November 20, 2025, the Parties participated in private mediation with experienced 22 class action mediator Hon. Daniel Buckley (Ret.). (Id. at ¶ 7.) The mediation was conducted via 23 Zoom. The settlement negotiations were at arm’s length and, although conducted in a 24 professional manner, were adversarial. (Id.) The Parties went into the mediation willing to 25 explore the potential for a settlement of the Action, but the Parties were also prepared to litigate
26 their position through trial and appeal if a settlement had not been reached. (Id.) With the help 27 of the mediator, the Parties were able to reach an agreement on general settlement terms at 28 mediation and executed a Settlement Agreement thereafter. (Id.) After extensive negotiations

1 and discussions regarding the strengths and weaknesses of Plaintiff's claims and Defendant's 2 defenses, the Parties agreed to settle the Action, the material terms of which are encompassed
3 within the Settlement. (Id. at ¶ 8, Ex. 1, Settlement Agreement.)

4 Class Counsel has conducted a thorough investigation into the facts of this case. Based 5 on the foregoing discovery and their own independent investigation and evaluation, Class 6 Counsel is of the opinion that the Settlement is fair, just, reasonable, and adequate and is in the 7 best interests of the Class Members in light of all known facts and circumstances, the risk of 8 significant delay, the defenses that could be asserted by Defendant both to certification and on 9 the merits, trial risk, and appellate risk. (Id. at ¶ 14.)

10 Indeed, the Gross Settlement Amount represents approximately 152% of the realistic 11 maximum recovery of $82,363.60. (Id. at ¶ 23.) Although Class Counsel estimated that 12 Defendant's maximum potential liability for all claims was approximately $411,817.99, when 13 the risks of prevailing at class certification and trial are factored into the equation, Class Counsel 14 concluded that Defendant's realistic exposure was $82,363.60, meaning the Settlement achieves 15 a significant recovery. (Id. at ¶¶ 15-22.) Considering the risks and uncertainties of prevailing 16 at class certification and at trial, the Settlement is an excellent result for the Class. (Id. at ¶ 23.)
17 Indeed, because of the proposed Settlement, Class Members will receive timely, guaranteed 18 relief and will avoid the risk of an unfavorable judgment.

19 D. Key Terms of the Proposed Settlement

20 The Settlement's key terms include:

21 1. Class Period or Class Settlement Period: "means the period from January 2, 2020, 22 through January 7, 2026. ("Settlement Class Period")." (Settlement, § 1.13.)

23 2. Participating Class Members: "means a Class Member who does not submit a valid and 24 timely Request for Exclusion from the Class." (Settlement, § 1.38.)

25 3. Aggrieved Employees: "means all persons who performed work for Defendant in 26 California as an hourly-paid or non-exempt employee at any time during the PAGA Period, 27 including current and former employees." (Settlement, § 1.4.) 28

1 4. Gross Settlement Amount or GSA: “means $125,000.00, which is the total amount 2 Defendant agrees to pay under the Settlement.” (Settlement, § 1.23.)

3 5. Uncashed Checks: “For any Class Member whose Individual Class Payment check or 4 Individual PAGA Payment check is uncashed and canceled after the void date, the Administrator
5 shall transmit the funds represented by such checks to the California Controller's Unclaimed 6 Property Fund in the name of the Class Member thereby leaving no “unpaid residue” subject to 7 the requirements of California Code of Civil Procedure Section 384, subd. (b).” (Settlement, § 8 4.4.3.)

9 6. Release Class Claims: “All Participating Class Members will waive and release all 10 claims arising during the Class Period which were asserted in the complaint filed in the Class 11 Action or which reasonably could have been asserted based on the factual allegations asserted in 12 the complaint filed in the Class Action (collectively the “Released Class Claims”).” (Settlement, 13 § 5.2.)

14 7. Release by PAGA Claims: “The claims released by Aggrieved Employees, including 15 Non-Participating Class Members who are Aggrieved Employees, are all claims for civil penalties 16 under PAGA arising during the PAGA Period that were alleged in Plaintiff’s PAGA Notice to the 17 LWDA and the complaint filed in the PAGA Action, or that could have been asserted based on the 18 facts asserted in the PAGA Notice and the complaint filed in the PAGA Action against Released
19 Parties (collectively the “Released PAGA Claims”). (Settlement, § 5.3.)

20 8. No Reversion: “The Gross Settlement Amount is non-reversionary and does not include 21 employer payroll taxes owed on the wage portions of the Individual Class Payments, which 22 Defendant will pay separately.” (Settlement, § 3.2.)

23 9. PAGA Penalties: “means the total amount of PAGA civil penalties to be paid from the 24 Gross Settlement Amount ($6,250.00), allocated 35% to the Aggrieved Employees ($2,187.50)
25 and 65% to LWDA ($4,062.50) in settlement of PAGA claims.” (Settlement, § 1.37.)

26 10. Net Settlement Amount: “means the Gross Settlement Amount, less the following 27 payments in the amounts approved by the Court: PAGA Penalties payment, Enhancement, Class
28 Counsel Fees Payment, Class Counsel Litigation Expenses Payment, and the Administration

Costs Payment. The remainder is to be paid to Participating Class Members as Individual Class Payments.” (Settlement, § 1.29.)

11. Distribution Formula: “An Individual Class Payment is calculated by (a) dividing the Net Settlement Amount by the total number of Workweeks worked by all Participating Class Members during the Class Period; and (b) multiplying the result by each Participating Class Member’s Workweeks.” (Settlement, § 3.2.4.) As to PAGA: “The Administrator will calculate each Individual PAGA Payment by (a) dividing the amount of the Aggrieved Employees’ 35% share of PAGA Penalties ($2187.50) by the total number of PAGA Period Pay Periods worked by all Aggrieved Employees during the PAGA Period, and (b) multiplying the result by each individual Aggrieved Employee’s PAGA Pay Periods.” (Settlement, § 3.2.5.1.)

12. Tax Allocation: “Twenty percent (20%) of each Participating Class Member’s Individual Class Payment will be allocated to the Settlement of wage claims (the “Wage Portion”). The Wage Portion is subject to tax withholding and will be reported on an IRS W-2 Form. The remaining 80% of each Participating Class Member’s Individual Class Payment will be allocated to the settlement of claims for interest and penalties (the “Non-Wage Portion”).” (Settlement, § 3.2.4.1.)

13. Class Representative Service Payment or Enhancement Award(s): “means the payment to the Class Representatives for initiating the Actions and providing services in support of the Action.” (Settlement, § 1.15.)

14. Class Counsel Litigation Expenses Payment: “means the amount allocated to Class Counsel for reimbursement of reasonable expenses and costs incurred to prosecute the Action, not to exceed $27,500.00, and paid from the Gross Settlement Amount.” (Settlement, § 1.8.)

15. Administrator: “means Phoenix Class Action Administration Solutions, the neutral entity the Parties have agreed to appoint to administer the Settlement.” (Settlement, § 1.2.)

16. Administration Costs: “means the amount the Administrator will be paid from the Gross Settlement Amount to reimburse its reasonable fees and expenses in accordance with the Administrator’s “not to exceed” bid submitted to the Court in connection with Preliminary Approval of the Settlement.” (Settlement, § 1.3.)

1 17. Class Notice: The Class Notice sets forth in plain terms, a statement of the Action, the 2 terms of the Settlement Agreement, the approximate amount of the Class Counsel Fees, Class 3 Counsel Costs, and Class Representative Enhancement Award being sought, and an explanation of 4 how the Settlement allocations are calculated. (Settlement, Ex. A, Class Notice.) Class Members
5 will be notified by First Class U.S. Mail of the Settlement. (Settlement, § 4.4.1.) The Settlement 6 Administrator will undertake its best efforts to ensure that the Class Notice is provided to the 7 current addresses of Class Members, including conducting a national change of address search and 8 re-mailing the Class Notice to updated addresses. (Id.; Ex. 2 [Phoenix Class Action Administration 9 Solutions Bid].)

10 III. DISCUSSION

11 To prevent fraud, collusion, or unfairness to the class, the settlement of a class action 12 requires court approval. (Dunk v. Ford Motor Co. (1996) 48 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1800-01.) This 13 Court has wide discretion to determine whether the proposed Settlement is fair. (Mallick v. Super.
14 Ct. (1979) 89 Cal.App.3d 434, 438.)

15 A. A Presumption of Fairness Exists Over The Settlement

16 Fairness is presumed when: (1) the settlement is reached through arm's-length bargaining; 17 (2) investigation is sufficient to allow counsel and the court to act intelligently; (3) counsel is 18 experienced in similar litigation; and (4) the percentage of objectors is small. (Dunk at p. 1800.)

19 1. The Settlement Is the Product of Arm's-Length Negotiations

20 Courts presume the absence of fraud or collusion in the negotiation of a settlement, unless 21 evidence to the contrary is offered. No evidence to the contrary has been offered here; thus, there 22 is a presumption that the negotiations were conducted in good faith. (Conte & Newberg, Newberg 23 on Class Actions (3rd Ed.) § 11.51.)

24 The Settlement was reached following extensive negotiations following one day of 25 mediation with experienced employment mediator, Hon. Daniel Buckley (Ret.). (Class Counsel 26 Decl., ¶ 7.) The settlement negotiations were at arm's length and, although conducted in a 27 professional manner, were adversarial. (Id.) The Parties went into the mediation willing to explore 28 the potential for a settlement of the dispute, but each side was also prepared to litigate their or its

1 position through trial and appeal if a settlement had not been reached. (Id.) With the help of the 2 mediator, the Parties were able to reach an agreement on general settlement terms at mediation and 3 executed a Settlement Agreement thereafter. (Id.) After extensive negotiations and discussions
4 regarding the strengths and weaknesses of Plaintiff's claims and Defendant's defenses, the Parties
5 reached an agreement. (Id. at ¶ 8.)

6 2. The Parties Conducted Sufficient Investigation

7 Prior to reaching this Settlement, Class Counsel conducted informal discovery concerning 8 the claims set forth in the Action, such as a sample of Class Member timekeeping and payroll 9 records, Defendant's policies and procedures concerning the payment of wages, the provision of 10 meal and rest breaks, issuance of wage statements, and providing all wages at separation, as well 11 as information regarding the number of putative Class Members and the mix of current versus 12 former employees, the wage rates in effect, and the amount of meal and rest period premium wages 13 paid to Class Members. (Id. at ¶¶ 5-6.) In conjunction with their extensive factual investigation, 14 Class Counsel investigated the applicable law regarding the claims and defenses asserted in the 15 Action. (Id.) Thus, Plaintiff and Class Counsel were able to act intelligently and effectively in 16 negotiating the proposed Settlement. (Id.)

17 3. Class Counsel Has Extensive Experience in Class Action Litigation

18 The settlement negotiations were conducted by highly capable and experienced counsel.
19 Class Counsel have a strong record of vigorous and effective advocacy for their clients and are 20 experienced in handling complex wage and hour class action litigation. (Id. at ¶¶ 37-65.) Although 21 Plaintiff and Class Counsel were prepared to litigate the claims alleged in the Action, they believe 22 the proposed Settlement is in the best interests of the Class.

23 4. The Percentage of Objectors Is Small

24 This factor cannot yet be determined unless and until the Court preliminarily approves the 25 Motion and the Class Notice. This factor will be properly addressed in Class Counsel's Motion for 26 Final Approval of Class Action Settlement, should this Court grant the instant Motion.

27 B. The Settlement Is Fair, Just, Reasonable, and Adequate

28 In considering whether a settlement is fair, just, reasonable, and adequate the trial court

1 should consider relevant factors, which may include the strength of plaintiff’s case, the risk, 2 expense, complexity and likely duration of further litigation, the risk of maintaining class action 3 status through trial, the amount offered in settlement, the extent of discovery completed and the 4 stage of the proceedings, the experience and views of counsel, ... and the reaction of the class
5 members to the proposed settlement. (Kullar v. Foot Locker Retail, Inc. (2008) 168 Cal.App.4th 6 116, 128.) Settlement is favored, and settlement agreements are realistically assessed. (Stamburgh
7 v. Super. Ct. (1976) 62 Cal.App.3d 231, 236.)

8 As discussed below, Class Counsel has provided information exceeding the threshold 9 required to provide this Court with materials and information necessary to determine that the 10 proposed Settlement is fair, just, adequate, and reasonable.

11 1. Plaintiff’s Strengths and Risks of Continued Litigation

12 Based on Plaintiff’s discovery and investigation, Class Counsel reached the conclusion that 13 Defendant maintained policies and practice of: requiring its employees to work “off-the-clock” 14 prior to clocking in for the workday, during meal periods, and after clocking out for the workday 15 without compensation; failing to provide California compliant meal and rest periods and failing to 16 pay the required premium payments for such violations; and failing to reimburse employees for 17 necessary business-related expenses. Defendant denies these claims. (Class Counsel Decl., ¶ 16.)

18 While Plaintiff is confident in the merits of Plaintiff’s claims, a legitimate controversy 19 exists as to each cause of action. (Class Counsel Decl., ¶ 24.) Plaintiff also recognizes that proving 20 the amount of wages owed to each Class Member would be expensive, time-consuming, and 21 uncertain. (Id.) Although the Parties had engaged in a significant amount of investigation, informal 22 discovery and class-wide data analysis, the Parties had not yet completed formal written discovery.
23 (Class Counsel Decl., ¶ 25.) Plaintiff intended to depose Defendant’s corporate officers and 24 managers. (Id.) Moreover, preparation for class certification and trial remained for the Parties, as 25 well as the prospect of appeals following any disputed class certification ruling for Plaintiff and/or 26 adverse summary judgment ruling. (Id.) As a result, the Parties would incur considerably more 27 attorneys’ fees and costs through trial. (Id.) This Settlement avoids the risks and the accompanying 28 expense of further litigation. (Class Counsel Decl., ¶ 25.)

1 Balancing the strengths of Plaintiff’s claims against the risks of continued litigation of the 2 Action, Plaintiff and Class Counsel determined that the proposed Settlement was in the best 3 interests of the Class.

4 2. The Gross Settlement Amount Is Reasonable

5 In order to approve a class action settlement, the Court must satisfy itself that the class
6 settlement is within the “ballpark” of reasonableness. (Kullar, at 133.) The fact that a plaintiff 7 might have received more if the case had been fully litigated is no reason not to approve the 8 settlement. (Priddy v. Edelman (6th Cir. 1989) 883 F.2d 438, 447.) The record need not contain an 9 explicit statement of the maximum theoretical recovery. (Munoz v. BCI Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of 10 Los Angeles (2010) 186 Cal.App.4th 399, 408-9 [holding that Kullar does not require “an explicit 11 statement of the maximum amount the plaintiff class could recover if it prevailed on all its claims”, 12 but instead, only an “understanding of the amount that is in controversy and the realistic range of 13 outcomes of the litigation.”].)

14 A settlement is not judged against what might plaintiff recover had he prevailed at trial, nor 15 does the settlement have to provide 100% of the damages sought to be fair and reasonable.
16 (Wershba v. Apple Computers, Inc. (2001) 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 246, 250 [“Compromise is inherent 17 and necessary in the settlement process . . . even if the relief afforded by the proposed settlement 18 is substantially narrower than it would be if the suits were to be successfully litigated, this is no 19 bar to a class settlement because the public interest may indeed be served by a voluntary settlement 20 in which each side gives ground in the interest of avoiding litigation.”].)

21 The proposed Gross Settlement Amount represents a substantial recovery when compared 22 to Plaintiff’s reasonably forecasted recovery. (Class Counsel Decl. at ¶¶ 15-23.) Because of the 23 proposed Settlement, Class Members will receive timely and guaranteed relief and will avoid the 24 risk of an unfavorable judgment. When considering the risks of litigation, the uncertainties 25 involved in achieving class certification, the burdens of proof necessary to establish liability, the 26 probability of appeal of a favorable judgment, the Settlement falls within the “ballpark” of 27 reasonableness, and preliminary settlement approval is appropriate. (Id.) Indeed, each Class
28 Member is eligible to receive an average net benefit of approximately $1,346.15. (Id. at ¶ 27.)

1 C. The Proposed Attorneys’ Fees and Costs Are Reasonable

2 Under the Settlement, subject to the Court’s approval, Defendant agrees to pay Class 3 Counsel the Class Counsel Fees Payment and Class Counsel Litigation Expenses Payment. These 4 amounts are disclosed to all Class Members in the proposed Class Notice and are reasonable. (Class 5 Counsel Decl., ¶ 33.)

6 1. Class Counsel Request an Award of the Class Counsel Fees Based on the 7 “Common Fund” Method

8 California courts have long awarded attorneys’ fees as a percentage of the benefit created 9 by counsel in creating a common fund. The California Supreme Court held that “when a number 10 of persons is entitled in common to a specific fund, and an action brought by a plaintiff or plaintiffs 11 for the benefit of all results in the creation or preservation of that fund, such plaintiff or plaintiffs 12 may be awarded attorneys’ fees out of the fund.” (Serrano v. Priest (1977) 20 Cal.3d 25, 34, 13 quoting D’Amico v. Bd. of Medical Examiners (1974) 11 Cal.3d 1.)

14 Class Counsel seeks approval of the Class Counsel Fees based on the “percentage of 15 recovery/common fund” theory. The purpose of this approach is to “spread litigation costs 16 proportionally among all the beneficiaries so that the active beneficiary does not bear the entire 17 burden alone.” (Vincent v. Hughes Air West, Inc. (9th Cir. 1977) 557 F.2d 759, 769.) In Quinn v.
18 State of California (1995) 15 Cal.3d 162, the California Supreme Court stated: “[O]ne who expends 19 attorneys’ fees in winning a suit which creates a fund from which others derive benefits may require 20 those passive beneficiaries to bear a fair share of the litigation costs.” (Id. at p. 167.) Similarly, 21 in City and County of San Francisco v. Sweet (1995) 12 Cal.4th 105, the California Supreme Court 22 recognized that the common fund doctrine has been applied “consistently in California when an 23 action brought by one party creates a fund in which other persons are entitled to share.” (Id. at p.
24 110.)

25 The California Supreme Court affirmed in Laffitte v. Robert Half Int’l Inc. (2016) 1 Cal.5th 26 480 that, “when class action litigation establishes a monetary fund for the benefit of the class 27 members, and the trial court in its equitable powers awards class counsel a fee out of that fund, the 28 court may determine the amount of a reasonable fee by choosing an appropriate percentage of the

1 fund created.” (Id. at p. 503.) The court explained: “The recognized advantages of the percentage 2 method—including relative ease of calculation, alignment of incentives between counsel and the 3 class, a better approximation of market conditions in a contingency case, and the encouragement 4 it provides counsel to seek an early settlement and avoid unnecessarily prolonging the litigation—5 convince us the percentage method is a valuable tool that should not be denied our trial courts.”
6 (Id. [internal citations omitted].)

7 2. The Requested Fee Award Is in Line with Typical Cases

8 According to a leading treatise on class actions, “[n]o general rule can be articulated on 9 what is a reasonable percentage of a common fund. Usually, 50% of the fund is the upper limit on 10 a reasonable fee award from a common fund in order to assure that the fees do not consume a 11 disproportionate part of the recovery obtained for the class, although somewhat larger percentages 12 are not unprecedented.” (See Conte & Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions (3rd Ed.) § 14.03.)
13 Attorneys’ fees that are fifty percent of the fund are typically considered the upper limit, with thirty 14 to forty percent commonly awarded in cases where the settlement is relatively small. (Id.; see also 15 Van Vranken v. Atlantic Richfield Company (N.D. Cal. 1995) 901 F. Supp. 294 [stating that most 16 cases where 30-50 percent was awarded involved “smaller” settlement funds of under $10 17 million].)

18 Here, Class Counsel seeks fees equal to 1/3 of the Gross Settlement Amount, which is in 19 line with the prevailing guidelines established in California case law and academic literature and 20 is consistent with awards in California. (See Chavez v. Netflix, Inc. (2008) 162 Cal.App.4th 43, 66, 21 n.11 [“Empirical studies show that, regardless whether the percentage method or the lodestar 22 method is used, fee awards in class actions average around one-third of the recovery.”].)
23 Accordingly, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court approve the attorneys’ fees as negotiated 24 by the Parties and requested herein.

25 3. This Matter Involves A “Fee-Shifting” Provision of the Labor Code

26 Labor Code § 1194 (a) provides for the recovery of “minimum wage or overtime 27 compensation, including interest thereon, reasonable attorney’s fees, and costs of suit.” Under this 28 section, Plaintiff would be permitted to recover their actual attorneys’ fees, even if those fees were larger than the total Class recovery at the conclusion of this Action should it proceed. The Settlement is beneficial in that it limits the risk of continued expenses and consumption of time, energy, and resources facing Defendant while at the same time rewarding Class Counsel for their decision to assume risk by taking on this Action. In fact, prosecution of this Action involved significant financial risk for Class Counsel. (Class Counsel Decl., ¶¶ 33-36.) Class Counsel undertook this matter solely on a contingent basis, with no guarantee of recovery. (Id.) Once Class Counsel undertook this Action on behalf of the Class, Class Counsel committed to pursue it to its conclusion, placing its fiduciary duty to the Class ahead of all other concerns.

4. Experience, Reputation and Ability of Class Counsel Support the Requested Fee Award

As demonstrated by their past experience in pursuing class actions on behalf of consumers and employees, Class Counsel possess considerable expertise in litigating class actions. (Class Counsel Decl., ¶¶ 37-63.) Class Counsel has been involved as lead counsel or co-counsel in several class actions that resulted in millions in recovery. (Id.) Because it is reasonable to compensate class counsel commensurate with their skill, reputation and experience, Class Counsel's requested fee award is supported here.

Class Counsel's experience in wage and hour class actions was integral in evaluating the strengths and weaknesses of the case against Defendant and the reasonableness of the Settlement. Practice in the narrow field of wage and hour litigation requires skill and knowledge concerning the rapidly evolving substantive law (state and federal), as well as the procedural law of class action litigation. Based on these and other factors, Class Counsel has frequently received fee awards of this percentage from the gross recovery for the class. Therefore, the requested Class Counsel Fees are reasonable and fair.

D. The PAGA Allocation is Reasonable

Where settlements negotiate a good faith amount for PAGA penalties and "there is no indication that this amount was the result of self-interest at the expense of other" class members, such amounts are generally considered reasonable. (Hopson v. Hanesbrands Inc. (N.D. Cal. Apr. 3, 2009) No. CV-08-0844 EDL, 2009 WL 928133 at *1, 9.) Courts have approved amounts for

1 PAGA penalties in the range of zero to two percent of the total maximum amount of the Settlement.
2 (Id. [approving a PAGA payment of 0.3%, or $1,500]; see also Jack v. Hartford Fire Ins. Co. (S.D.
3 Cal. Oct. 13, 2011) 2011 WL 4899942 at *6 [approving a PAGA payment of 0.25%]; McKenzie v.
4 Fed. Express Corp. (C.D. Cal. Jan. 23, 2012) 2012 WL 12882124 at *5 [acknowledging that courts
5 approve PAGA claim settlements in the range of zero to two percent of the total settlement].)

6 Here, the PAGA Penalties are larger than many other PAGA settlement amounts approved 7 by courts where seemingly nominal amounts were allocated for such claims. (See, e.g., Zubia v.
8 Shamrock Foods Co. (C.D. Cal. Dec. 21, 2017) No. CV1603128ABAGRX, 2017 WL 10541431, 9 at *14 [approving a PAGA settlement of 0.1%]; Hopson, supra, 2008 WL 3385452, at *1 10 [approving a PAGA settlement of 0.3% or $1,500]; Garcia v. Gordon Trucking, Inc. (E.D. Cal.
11 Oct. 31, 2012) No. 1:10-CV-0324 AWI SKO, 2012 WL 5364575, at *3 [approving a PAGA 12 settlement of 0.27%].) The Parties negotiated the PAGA Penalties in the amount of $6,250.00 to 13 be paid from the Gross Settlement Amount, with 65% ($4,062.50) allocated to the LWDA and 14 35% ($2,187.50) allocated to the Individual PAGA Payments. (Settlement, § 3.2.5.) The PAGA
15 Penalties equate to approximately 5% of the Gross Settlement Amount, which far exceeds amounts 16 that are routinely approved. The Parties negotiated to allocate 5% of the Settlement to PAGA
17 Penalties in good faith and this amount is reasonable considering that the maximum PAGA 18 penalties were estimated at $23,800.00 (which assumed $100 per pay period). (Class Counsel 19 Decl., ¶ 22.)

20 E. The Enhancement Awards to Named Plaintiff is Reasonable

21 Named plaintiff in class action lawsuits “are eligible for reasonable incentive payments to 22 compensate them for the expense or risk they have incurred in conferring a benefit on other 23 members of the class.” (Munoz, supra, 186 Cal.App.4th at p. 412.) Courts routinely grant approval 24 of class action settlement agreements containing enhancements for the class representatives, which 25 are necessary to provide incentive to represent the class, and are appropriate given the benefit the 26 class representatives help to bring about for the class. (See Rodriguez v. W. Publ'g Corp. (9th Cir.
27 2009) 563 F.3d 948, 958-59.)

1 Service awards are particularly important to plaintiff in wage and hour cases because they 2 promote important public policies underlying the wage and hour laws. This strong policy is 3 codified in California Labor Code § 90.5, which provides, “it is the policy of this state to vigorously 4 enforce minimum labor standards in order to ensure employees are not required or permitted to 5 work under substandard unlawful conditions” Nonetheless, the California Supreme Court has 6 noted that “retaliation against employees for asserting statutory rights under the Labor Code is 7 widespread,” despite anti-retaliation statutes designed to protect employees. (Gentry v. Super. Ct.
8 (2007) 42 Cal.4th 443, 460-61.) In this context, class representatives should be rewarded for 9 assuming the risk of retaliation for the sake of class members. (See Frank v. Eastman Kodak Co.
10 (W.D.N.Y. 2005) 228 F.R.D. 174, 187.)

11 Under the Settlement Agreement, subject to the Court’s approval, Defendant agreed to pay 12 the Class Representative Service Payment in the amount of $10,000.00 to Plaintiff. This amount is 13 also in exchange for Plaintiff’s general release of all claims against Defendant. Courts routinely 14 approve service awards of $10,000.00 for plaintiffs represented by counsel. (See, e.g., Moreno v.
15 Pretium Packaging, L.L.C. (C.D. Cal. Aug. 6, 2021) 2021 WL 3673845, *3 [“The Court concludes 16 a $10,000 incentive award is appropriate.”]; Suarez v. Bank of America, National Association (N.D.
17 Cal., Jan. 11, 2024, No. 18-CV-01202-LB) 2024 WL 150721, at *4 [“The court approves awards 18 of $10,000 for each class representative.”].)

19 A 2006 study examining the average incentive award given to class action plaintiffs from 20 1993 to 2002 found that the “average award per class representative was $15,992 and the median 21 award per class representative was $4,357.” (Eisenberg & Miller, Incentive Awards to Class Action 22 Plaintiffs: An Empirical Study (2006) 53 UCLA L.Rev. 1303, 1308.) That same study found that 23 named plaintiffs in employment discrimination class actions received an average award of $69,850 24 and a median award of $31,081, while named plaintiffs in other employment class actions received 25 an average award of $12,121 and a median award of $13,059. (Id. at p. 1334.) The authors of the 26 study found that higher awards in employment cases reflected the “courts’ wish to make 27 representative plaintiffs whole by compensating them for the high costs of their service to the class, 28 including risks of stigmatization or retaliation on the job.” (Id. at p. 1308.)

1 Class Counsel represents that Plaintiff devoted a great deal of time and work assisting Class 2 Counsel in litigating the Action, and Plaintiff communicated with Class Counsel during the 3 mediation and the preparation leading up to mediation. (See generally Plaintiff’s declaration; Class 4 Counsel Decl., ¶¶ 28-32.) The Class Representative Service Award is reasonable particularly in 5 light of the substantial benefits Plaintiff generated for all Class Members and as compared to 6 similarly situated plaintiff in other employment class and representative actions. (Id.)

7 IV. CERTIFICATION FOR SETTLEMENT PURPOSES IS WARRANTED

8 A. Legal Standard

9 The proposed Class is well suited for class certification. All of the claims derive from a 10 core set of alleged violations of California’s wage and hour laws and regulations. For the reasons 11 set forth more fully below, for purposes of settlement only, the Class satisfies the prerequisites for 12 certification under Code of Civil Procedure § 382. Section 382 provides: “when the question is one 13 of a common or general interest, of many persons, or when the parties are numerous, and it is 14 impracticable to bring them all before the court, one or more may sue or defend for the benefit of 15 all.” (Code Civ. Proc., § 382). There are three requirements to section 382: Class certification 16 requires proof (1) of a sufficiently numerous, ascertainable class, (2) of a well-defined community 17 of interest, and (3) that certification will provide substantial benefits to litigants and the courts, i.e., 18 that proceeding as a class is superior to other methods. (In re Tobacco II Cases, (2009) 46 19 Cal.App.4th 298, 313.)

20 The California Supreme Court has looked to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 to further 21 explain that the community-of-interest requirement itself embodies three factors: “(1) predominant 22 questions of law or fact; (2) class representatives with claims or defenses typical of the class; and 23 (3) class representatives who can adequately represent the class.” (Richmond v. Dart Indus., Inc.
24 (1981) 29 Cal. 3d 462, 470.)

25 California law and policy favor the fullest and most flexible use of the class action device.
26 (Id. at pp. 469-73.) Indeed, “Courts long have acknowledged the importance of class actions as a 27 means to prevent a failure of justice in our judicial system.” (Linder v. Thrifty Oil Co. (2000) 23
28

Cal. 4th 429, 434.) Any doubt as to the appropriateness of class treatment should be resolved in favor of certification. (Richmond, supra, 29 Cal.3d at pp. 473-75.)

B. Plaintiff Maintains That the Criteria for Class Certification Are Satisfied for Settlement Purposes.

1. The Class is Ascertainable and Numerous

A class is ascertainable if a plaintiff supplies a reasonable means of identifying potential class members and the class is defined in terms of objective characteristics and common facts sufficient to allow a class member to identify himself or herself as having a right to recover based on that description. (ABM Industries Overtime Cases, (2017) 19 Cal.App.5th 277, 303.) Courts also consider the size or numerosity of the class when determining whether or not it is ascertainable. (Id. at 302).

a) Class Definition

When defining a class, the terminology used must convey “sufficient meaning to enables persons hearing to determine whether they are members of the class” and if the proposed class definition offers an objective way to identify those who will be bound by the results of the litigation. (Id. at 302-303.) Courts have routinely certified classes defined using language to that here. (Faulkinbury v. Boyd & Associates, Inc. (2013) 216 Cal.App.4th 220, 227; see also Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1019, defining several subclasses such as employees “who worked one or more work periods in excess of three and a half hours without receiving a paid 10 minute break” and those “who worked ‘off-the-clock’ or without pay.”)

Here, the Class definition (as stated above) is objective as it is limited in scope to a specific time frame (during the Class Period) and is limited to the potential class members’ employment classification (hourly or non-exempt employees). Further, there are common facts that exist here (such as those employees who worked without pay, were not given proper meal or rest periods, etc.) that are encapsulated by the causes of action alleged in the Action. This definition therefore provides sufficiently clear information to allow current and former employees to readily and reasonably determine whether or not they are a putative Class Member in this Action based upon this definition. (ABM at 304, stating “As long as the potential class members may be identified

1 without unreasonable expense or time and given notice of the litigation, and the proposed class 2 definition offers an objective means of identifying the persons who will be bound by the results of 3 the litigation, the ascertainability requirement is met.”) Thus, the proposed Class that Plaintiff 4 seeks to represent is easily ascertainable and includes approximately 26 former and current 5 employees of Defendant.

6 b) Numerosity

7 “The requirement of Code of Civil Procedure section 382 that there be ‘many’ parties to a 8 class action suit is indefinite and has been construed liberally.” (Rose v. City of Hayward (1981)
9 126 Cal.App.3d 926, 934.) “Where a question is of common interest to ‘many’ persons, an action 10 may be maintained as a class action even where the parties are numerous and it is in fact practicable 11 to join them all.” (Id.) “No set number is required as a matter of law for the maintenance of a 12 class action.” (Id.) “Thus, our Supreme Court has upheld a class representing the 10 beneficiaries 13 of a trust in an action for removal of the trustees.” (Id., citing Bowles v. Super. Ct. (1955) 44 Cal.2d 14 574; see also Collins v. Rocha (1972) 7 Cal.3d 232 [upholding a 35 member class.]) If even as 15 little as 10 persons can constitute a class, then certainly the 26 Class Members here satisfy the 16 numerosity requirement.

17 2. There is a Well-Defined Community of Interest in Questions of Law
18 and Fact

19 The community-of-interest requirement itself embodies three factors: “(1) predominant 20 questions of law or fact; (2) class representatives with claims or defenses typical of the class; and 21 (3) class representatives who can adequately represent the class.” (Richmond at 470.)

22 a) There are Many Common Issues of Law and Fact Which 23 Predominate

24 The Court should grant conditional Class certification for settlement purposes here on the 25 grounds that questions of law and fact common to all Class and subclass predominate over any 26 individual questions. This inquiry tests whether proposed classes are sufficiently cohesive to 27 warrant adjudication by representation. (See, e.g., Clothesrigger, Inc. v. GTE Corp. (1987) 191 28 Cal.App.3d 605.)

1 Here, the employment practices at issue are: whether Defendant had legally compliant 2 policies and practices for all hours worked, including overtime wages; whether Defendant had 3 legally compliant policies and practices to provide employees with meal periods; whether 4 Defendant had legally compliant policies and practices authorizing and permitting its employees 5 to take rest periods; whether Defendant reimbursed employees for business expenses; whether 6 payment of wages during employed was timely; whether final payment of wages was untimely and 7 excluded unpaid wages, including meal and rest period premium wages; whether wage statements 8 were consequently non-compliant; whether Defendant failed to pay wages at termination; and 9 whether Defendant failed to pay sick leave. Plaintiff contends that the factual and legal issues are 10 the same for all the identified Class Members, including Plaintiff. Further, all Class Members 11 suffered from, and seek redress for, the same alleged injuries.

12 b) *Plaintiff's Claims Are Typical of the Claims of the Class

13 The typicality requirement does not focus on the individual characteristics or circumstances 14 of the representative plaintiff compared to those of the remainder of the class, but rather upon the 15 typicality of the proposed representative's claims as they relate to the defendant's conduct and 16 activities. (Classen v. Weller (1983) 145 Cal.App.3d 27, 47 ["[t]he only requirements are that 17 common questions of law and fact predominate and that the class representative be similarly 18 situated" vis-à-vis the class.].) A representative plaintiff's claims are typical of the class if they 19 arise from the same event, practice or course of conduct, and if the claims rest on the same legal 20 theories. (Id.) That is precisely the case here. Plaintiff is a former employee of Defendant; as such, 21 Plaintiff alleges that Plaintiff was subject to the same policies and practices as other similarly 22 situated employees. Thus, Plaintiff's claims arise out of the same practices of Defendant and rest 23 on the same legal theories as those of the Class. Therefore, Plaintiff can easily meet the typicality 24 requirement in favor of certification.

25 c) *Plaintiff and Class Counsel Meet the Adequacy Requirement

26 The adequacy of representation requirements is met by fulfilling two conditions: first, a 27 named plaintiff must be represented by counsel qualified to conduct the pending litigation; second, 28

1 a named plaintiff's interests cannot be antagonistic to those of the class. (McGhee v. Bank of 2 America (1976) 60 Cal.App.3d 442, 451.)

3 All of these requirements are met here for settlement purposes. Plaintiff retained Class 4 Counsel, whom have extensive experience in prosecuting complex class actions, including similar 5 class actions that previously settled. (Class Counsel Decl., ¶¶ 35-63.) Class Counsel 6 unquestionably is "qualified, experienced and generally able to conduct the proposed litigation." 7 (Miller v. Woods (1983) 148 Cal.App.3d 862, 875.) In addition, Plaintiff has no conflicts, and 8 Plaintiff has, with Class Counsel, litigated this Action and diligently reviewed the Settlement
9 terms, showing their dedication. Plaintiff's willingness to serve as a Class Representative 10 demonstrates Plaintiff's serious commitment to bringing about the best results possible for the 11 Class, thereby demonstrating Plaintiff's interests are aligned with those of the Class and no conflict 12 exists. (McGhee, supra, 60 Cal.App.3d at p. 451.)

13 3. A Class Action is Superior to a Multiplicity of Litigation

14 Finally, in making its Class certification decision, the Court must determine that a class 15 action would be superior to alternative means for the fair and efficient adjudication of the litigation.
16 By consolidating many potential individual actions into a single proceeding, this Court's use of the 17 class action device enables it to manage this litigation in a manner that serves the economics of 18 time, effort and expense for the litigants and the judicial system. Absent class treatment, similarly-19 situated employees with small but nevertheless meritorious claims for damages would, as a 20 practical matter, have no means of redress because of the time, effort and expense required to 21 prosecute individual actions. (Gentry, supra, 42 Cal.4th at pp. 457-62; Leyva v. Medline Ind. (9th 22 Cir. 2013) 716 F.3d 510, 515.) Moreover, in the context of settlement, the superiority concerns 23 are essentially non-existent.

24 V. THE PROPOSED CLASS NOTICE IS CONSTITUTIONALLY SOUND

25 A. The Proposed Class Notice Plan Satisfies Due Process

26 Notice requirements are set forth in the California Rules of Court. (Cal. Rules of Court, 27 Rule 3.766 (e), (f).) California law vests the Court with broad discretion in fashioning an 28 appropriate notice program. (Cartt v. Super Ct. (1975) 50 Cal.App.3d 960, 973-74.) There is no

1 statutory or due process requirement that all class members receive actual notice, but in this Action,
2 the Class Notice will be disseminated through direct U.S. first class mail to the last known address
3 for each Class Member. As the Court of Appeals has explained, “[t]he notice given should have a 4 reasonable chance of reaching a substantial percentage of the class members” (Id. at p. 974.)
5 In this Action the Class Notice will be provided by direct mailing, which is the best possible form 6 of notice as it provides the most reasonable chance of reaching a substantial percentage of the 7 Class.

8 B. The Class Notice is Accurate and Informative

9 The proposed Class Notice is informative. It informs the Class Members of the terms of the 10 Settlement and their right to be excluded from the Settlement. If there are Class Members who 11 wish to object to this proposed Settlement, they will have the opportunity to file their objections 12 and be heard at the Final Approval Hearing.

13 The Class Notice also fulfills the requirement of neutrality in class notices. (Conte & 14 Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions (3rd Ed.) § 8.39.) It summarizes the proceedings to date 15 and the terms and conditions of the Settlement Agreement, in an informative and coherent 16 manner. It makes clear that the Settlement Agreement does not constitute an admission of 17 liability by the Defendant, who denies all liability, and it recognizes that this Court has not ruled 18 on the merits of the Action. It also states that the final settlement approval decision has yet to 19 be made. The Class Notice thus complies with the standards of fairness, completeness, and 20 neutrality required of a combined settlement-certification class notice.

21 C. The Proposed Class Notice of Settlement Should Be Approved

22 The proposed Class Notice, in the form attached to the Settlement Agreement, should be 23 approved for dissemination to the Class. The Class Notice informs the Class of the terms of the 24 Settlement and of their rights to be excluded from the Settlement. And if there are Class Members 25 who wish to object to the Settlement, they will have the opportunity to file their objections and be 26 heard at the final approval hearing. Accordingly, the proposed Class Notice meets all the 27 requirements of Rule 3.769(f) of the California Rules of Court and should be approved.

3 approval of the proposed Settlement and set a final approval hearing on September 24 2026.
