1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Plaintiff and Class Representative Johnny Garcia seeks final approval of a non-3 reversionary class action settlement resolving wage and hour claims on behalf of 859 individuals 4 employed by Defendant Win-Dor, Inc. (“WDI” or “Defendant”) as non-exempt employees, either 5 directly or via a staffing agency, in California during the period of November 4, 2018 through July 6 24, 2023. The proposed $1,025,000 total settlement provides about $610,735 in cash payments to 7 the Class, with an average award of about $711, plus additional amounts payable under PAGA.
8 The remaining balance will cover a modest service award to Plaintiff, settlement administration 9 costs, civil penalties to the state, and reasonable attorney’s fees and costs. The parties and their 10 counsel finalized the settlement after extensive and difficult arms-length negotiations overseen by 11 an experienced and highly-regarded mediator. The Court conditionally certified the Class and 12 preliminarily approved the settlement on March 21, 2024. Since then, the Court-approved notice 13 form was mailed to the Class Members and they have reacted very favorably to the settlement. As 14 of the filing of this motion, there are no objections and only one Class Member has requested 15 exclusion.

16 Class Counsel secured an excellent settlement with Defendant after extensive 17 investigation, litigation, and settlement negotiation and administration, all without any 18 compensation for services rendered or costs expended. The class notice duly informed the 19 class members that Class Counsel would request attorney’s fees not to exceed one-third 20 of the Gross Settlement Amount, or $341,666.67, along with reimbursement of no more 21 than $20,000 for actual costs incurred litigating this matter. As of the filing of this 22 motion, not one Class Member objected to the proposed fee award. Consistent with the 23 Settlement and notice, Plaintiff now respectfully requests the Court award Class 24 Counsel's fees in the amount of $341,666.67 and costs in the amount of $15,098.33, as 25 described in the Declaration of Nikki Trenner (“Trenner Decl.”) filed herewith. The 26 requested attorney’s fees are well within the range of reasonableness, especially 27 considering the complex and risky nature of this litigation, the contingent risk assumed, 28 the nearly two-plus year delay in payment and, when subjected to a lodestar crosscheck,

1 reflect an award on the base lodestar with a reasonable 2.09 upward modifier – entirely in 2 line with California precedent.

3 Accordingly, on behalf of herself and the Settlement Class, Plaintiff respectfully 4 requests the Court grant this motion, give full and final approval to the settlement, grant Class 5 Counsel’s request for attorney’s fees and costs, and enter judgment accordingly.

6 II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND AND PROCEDURAL POSTURE

7 Defendant WDI manufactures windows and doors for homes and businesses throughout 8 Southern California, and is based in Brea. WDI employed Plaintiff Garcia as a non-exempt 9 general warehouse worker from May 2022 to 2023. Plaintiff typically worked 8-11 hours per day, 10 five days per week. [Declaration of Nikki Trenner (“Trenner Decl., ¶ 2.)]

11 Plaintiff alleges WDI committed a number of Labor Code violations. First, he alleges WD 12 rounds all time punches to nearest quarter hour, and that rounding favored WDI in its overall 13 application and systematically deprived Plaintiff and the class members of compensable hours 14 worked. Plaintiff also alleges WDI required employees to don and doff protective gear while off 15 the clock, and that WDI “auto deducted” 30 minutes for employee meal breaks even though 16 employees did not always receive a fully 30 minute lunch break. Plaintiff also alleges meal break 17 violations based on an alleged failure to maintain a compliant written policy for at least part of the 18 class period, and “de facto” violations for missed lunch breaks (especially 2nd meal periods), as 19 well as short and late lunches. He also contends WDI’s policies prevented employees from 20 receiving their breaks completely free from all employer control, and they were prohibited from 21 inter alia using social media, taking a nap, leaving the premises, etc., while clocked out on a lunch 22 break. For these same reasons, Plaintiff also contends WDI did not provide proper rest breaks as 23 well. Finally, he alleges he had to purchase his own protective equipment, and us his personal 24 phone for work purposes, all without any reimbursement. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 3.]

25 Based on these allegations, on November 4, 2022, Plaintiff filed a class action complaint 26 brining claims for (1) unpaid minimum and overtime wages, (2) meal and rest break violations, (3) 27 failure to reimburse expenses, and (4) derivative claims for inaccurate wage statements, failure to 28 pay wages due on separation of employment, and Unfair Competition. On February 16, 2023,

1 Plaintiff filed a first amended complaint that added claims under PAGA based on the same alleged 2 Labor Code violations. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 4.]

3 WDI has at all times denied Plaintiff's allegations and maintained its payroll policies and 4 procedures comply with California law, that it paid the class members all wages due and that its 5 compensation policies properly compensate the class members for all hours worked. WDI further 6 maintains its and meal/rest break policies likewise comply with California law, and that it
7 provided its employees with all required breaks on a fully compliant basis. WDI likewise argues 8 there was no need for any employee to use a cell phone for work purposes, and no reimbursement 9 is owed for basic work equipment such as boots or gloves. Defendant also strongly contends the 10 case cannot be maintained as any kind of class or representative action, arguing determining the 11 number of potential off the clock hours worked by each class member, or the reasons for any 12 alleged missed or non-compliant breaks, would result in individualized issues predominating and 13 that a trial on a representative basis would be unmanageable. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 5.]

14 After Plaintiff filed his complaint, the Parties met and conferred on discovery, potential 15 law and motion, and other case management issues, and ultimately agreed to attempt early 16 mediation. The Parties also engaged in extensive informal discovery to facilitate an exchange of 17 information necessary to engage in a meaningful mediation. The Parties then engaged Steve 18 Mehta, Esq., a highly respected mediator with extensive wage and hour class action experience 19 and, in April 2024, participated in a full day mediation with Mr. Mehta. By the end of the day, the 20 Parties were able to reach agreement on all major issues. [Trenner Decl., ¶¶ 6-7.] The Court 21 granted preliminary approval to the settlement on March 24, 2024.

22 Class Notices initially were mailed to certain class members on April 19, 2024.
23 Shortly thereafter, however, Defendant determined it inadvertently omitted a number of 24 individuals from the class list, and the Parties agreed a re-mail of the class notice was 25 necessary to the fully, updated class list. The administrator then mailed the notices on 26 February 7, 2025, with a 60-day window (to April 8, 2025) for class members to opt out or 27 object to the proposed settlement. [Declaration of Lluvia Islas ("Islas Decl."), ¶¶ 4-7, 10-12.]

28 /////

1 III. THE PROPOSED SETTLEMENT TERMS

2 Under the settlement, WDI will pay $1,025,000 into a common fund, the Gross Settlement 3 Amount (“GSA”). Attorney’s fees of up to $341,666.67 (1/3 of the GSA), litigation costs of up to 4 $20,000 (only $15,098.33 is requested), settlement administration costs of $11,082.50, a service
5 award to Plaintiff of no more than $7,500, and $30,000 for alleged civil penalties under PAGA,¹ all 6 will be paid from the GSA. The remainder of around $610,735 will be allocated pro rata among the 7 Class Members based on their total weeks worked during the Class Period. No portion of the GSA
8 will revert to WDI. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 8.]

9 A. Certification of the Settlement Class

10 The Court conditionally certified a settlement class including all current and former non-11 exempt employees that worked either directly or via a staffing agency for WDI at any location in 12 California at any time during the Class Period of November 4, 2018 through July 24, 2023. The 13 Settlement Administrator ultimately mailed class notices to 859 individuals identified as members
14 of the class. [Islas Decl., ¶ 7.] Nothing has changed to warrant reconsideration of the Court’s 15 certification of the class for settlement purposes.

16 B. The Benefit Conferred on the Settlement Class

17 As noted, the settlement obligates WDI to pay $1,025,000 to resolve the claims of the 18 Settlement, inclusive of attorney’s fees and costs. A minimum of approximately $610,735 from the 19 GSA will be distributed to the Participating Class Members. This is a cash settlement that does not 20 require Participating Class Members to submit a claim form to receive their settlement share.
21 Participating Class Members will receive their settlement checks automatically via First Class U.S.
22 Mail. Twenty Four (24%) percent of each settlement share will be allocated to wages and the 23 remaining Seventy Six (76%) percent will be allocated to expenses, penalties, and interest, which 24 allocation is consistent with WDI’s potential liability as discussed below. WDI will pay any and all 25 applicable employer-side payroll taxes separately and in addition to the GSA. Subject to the Court’s 26

27 ¹ Per PAGA, this will be allocated $22,500 (75%) to the Labor & Workforce Development Agency, and the 28 remaining $7,500 (25%) will go to the eligible Aggrieved Employee (as defined in the Settlement Agreement).

1 approval, any amounts not claimed (because a class member does not cash a settlement check) will 2 be forwarded to the State Controller's Unclaimed Property Fund. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 9.]

3 Each participating Class Member will receive a share of the Net Settlement Amount based 4 on his or her total weeks worked for WDI during the Class Period while employed in a non-exempt
5 position. Thus, each individual Settlement Payment will be calculated using criteria typically used 6 in determining appropriate amounts of unpaid wages, premium wages for meal/rest break violations, 7 unreimbursed expenses, etc., under applicable law. These methods will ensure each Class Member 8 receives a portion of the settlement funds relative to the value of their potential claims. The proposed 9 allocation provides a reasonable way to compensate Class Members based on the amount of time 10 they worked for WDI and the potential hours worked lost due to off the clock work, the number of 11 missed or non-compliant breaks, and so forth. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 10.]

12 The average class award will be approximately $711, and the awards will range from 13 approximately $15 to over $3,850. The average PAGA award will be about $20, and PAGA awards
14 will range from about $0.50 to a maximum of about $48. [Islas Decl., ¶¶ 16-17.]

15 C. Settlement Administration

16 Phoenix Settlement Administrators, as the Court-approved Settlement Administrator, 17 mailed the Notice Packet to the Class members after making all reasonable effort to ascertain 18 the best mailing address, including running each address through the National Change of 19 Address database and "skip-tracing" any Notice Packets returned as undeliverable. [Islas Decl., 20 ¶¶ 3-8.] The Class Notice, previously approved by the Court, duly informed Class Members of 21 the settlement terms, including the estimated relief each Class Member will receive, the 22 amounts to be requested for attorney's fees and the class representative enhancement awards, 23 and the right to opt out of or object to the settlement. [Islas Decl., ¶ 7, Exh. B.] Phoenix mailed 24 859 Notice Packets on February 7, 2025. [Islas Decl., ¶ 7.] Ultimately, twenty-one Notice 25 Packets were deemed undeliverable, representing a 97.5% success rate. [Islas Decl., ¶ 9.] The 26 60-day response window for objecting to the settlement expired on April 8, 2025. [Islas Decl., 27 ¶¶ 10-12.] As of the filing of this motion, Phoenix has received one request for exclusion (for 28 a 99.9% participation rate), and zero objections to the settlement. One dispute was submitted

1 regarding the information used to calculate class member settlement shares, which dispute has 2 been resolved. [Islas Decl., ¶¶ 10-12.]

3 D. Release of Claims

4 All Participating Class Members will release WDI from all claims alleged in the Operative 5 Complaint, or that could have been brought based on the factual allegations in the operative 6 complaint, including FLSA and PAGA claims, during the Class Period. The class and PAGA 7 releases are limited to the claims that were actually pleaded or could have been pleaded based on 8 the alleged facts in the Operative Complaint. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 11.]

9 E. PAGA Claims and Notice to the LWDA

10 The Parties allocated $30,000 of the GSA to payment of civil penalties under PAGA, as 11 addressed below, which amount Plaintiff submits is fair, reasonable and adequate, and consistent 12 with PAGA's underlying purposes. Per Labor Code section 2699(I)(2), Plaintiff gave notice of the 13 settlement and the approval hearing to the LWDA via its online portal, and further served the motion 14 papers on the LWDA as reflected on the accompanying proof of service. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 12;
15 Exh. 1.]

16 IV. ARGUMENT

17 A. Standard of Review for a Class Action Settlement

18 The law favors settlement, particularly in class actions where substantial resources can 19 be conserved by avoiding the time, cost, and rigors of formal litigation. H. Newberg & A.
20 Conte, 4 Newberg on Class Actions (4th ed. 2002), § 11.41; Class Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle
21 (9th Cir. 1992) 955 F.2d 1268, 1276, cert. denied, 506 U.S. 953; Van Bronkhorst v. Safeco
22 Corp. (9th Cir. 1976) 529 F.2d 943,950; Potter v. Pacific Coast Lumber Co. (1951) 37 Cal.2d 23 592, 602. Nevertheless, to make certain the rights of absent parties are not unjustly 24 compromised, the settlement of a class action requires court approval. Cal. Rule of Court 25 3.769; Dunk v. McCoy Motor Co. (1996) 48 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1801; Wershba v. Apple 26 Computer (2001) 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 245. The purpose of that judicial review is to protect 27 against fraud or collusion, and to ensure fairness to absent class members. Dunk, 48
28 Cal.App.4th at 1800-01; Newberg, at §§ 11.22, et seq. Review is accomplished through a

1 two-step process intended to determine whether, under the totality of circumstances, the 2 settlement is fair, reasonable and adequate. Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801; Wershba, 91
3 Cal.App.4th at 245.

4 On a motion for final approval, the trial court is charged with determining whether, in 5 light of the total circumstances of the action and the response of the class members to the 6 proposed settlement, the settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate. Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 7 1801-02; Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 244-45. The court has broad discretion in making that 8 determination and may consider a number of relevant factors, including: the strength of 9 plaintiff's case; the likelihood of potential recovery; the risk, expense and likely duration of 10 further litigation; the amount offered in settlement; the extent of discovery and stage of the 11 proceedings; the experience and opinion of counsel; and the reaction of class members to the 12 settlement. Id. In light of the strong judicial policy favoring the settlement of class actions, 13 courts generally apply a presumption of fairness to a proposed class action settlement when:
14 (1) the settlement is reached through arm's-length bargaining; (2) investigation and discovery 15 are sufficient to allow counsel and the court to act intelligently; (3) counsel is experienced in 16 similar litigation; and (4) the percentage of objectors is small. Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1802; 17 Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 245.

18 B. The Proposed Settlement Merits Final Approval

19 The proposed settlement of this action warrants final approval under the standards 20 summarized above. The settlement is fair, reasonable and adequate, and represents a 21 favorable resolution of highly disputed claims. Further, the settlement thus far has been 22 overwhelmingly approved by the class members, as there are no objections and no Class 23 Member requested exclusion.

24 1. The Settlement Is the Product of Arm's-Length, Informed Negotiations

25 The settlement is not the result of fraud or collusion. Rather, the proposed settlement 26 was reached following arm's-length negotiations presided over by Steve Mehta, Esq., a highly 27 respected and well-known mediator with extensive experience mediating wage and hour class 28 actions. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 7.] Moreover, Plaintiff and his counsel were well-informed about the

1 facts and the law, and counsel Zachary Crosner, Nikki Trenner, and Jamie Serb have years of 2 litigation experience, including litigating wage and hour class actions. Plaintiff's counsel are well-3 qualified to evaluate the risks and benefits of pursuing further litigation or settling the matter.
4 [Trenner Decl., ¶¶ 28-36.] Defendants likewise were represented by highly-qualified and 5 experienced defense counsel. Both sides advocated vigorously for their clients, and nothing 6 was "left on the table."

7 2. The Class Reacted Favorably to the Settlement

8 The settlement was well-received by the class. As of the filing of this motion, no 9 objections have been filed, and only one Class Member requested exclusion out of 859 settlement 10 class members. [Islas Decl., ¶¶ 10-11.] As many courts recognize, class member reaction to the 11 settlement is one of the most important factors to consider in determining if final approval should 12 be granted. Mandujano v. Basic Vegetable Prods., Inc., 541 F.2d 832, 837 (9th Cir. 1976); see also 13 In re: American Bank Note Holographics, 127 F.Supp.2d 418, 425 (S.D.N.Y. 2001) ("It is well-14 settled that the reaction of the class to the settlement is perhaps the most significant factor to be 15 weighed in considering its adequacy") (internal quotation marks omitted).

16 C. The Proposed Settlement Meets the Kullar Factors and is within the Range of 17 Reasonableness

18 Prior to mediation, the parties engaged in formal and informal discovery to facilitate 19 settlement discussions. Thus, Plaintiff reviewed documents and information regarding WDI's 20 payroll practices, a random sampling of pay stubs and time records for sampling of about 12% of 21 the class members, applicable compensation plans, etc., and information from Defendant regarding 22 class size and breakdown, work weeks/pay periods, rates of pay, and other relevant information.
23 Plaintiff then had that information analyzed by a consulting expert to assist in determining potential 24 violation rates and other data used to formulate a damages model. Plaintiff's counsel are confident 25 they obtained sufficient information to understand the law and facts of this case and make an 26 informed decision regarding the proposed settlement. [Trenner Decl., ¶¶ 6, 13.]

27 Using that data, Plaintiff's experts estimated WDI's likely maximum exposure 28 approximately $9,775,500, including about $160,000 on the unpaid wage claims, about

1 $1,868,000 on the meal break claims, about $2,940,000 for the rest break violations, around 2 $186,500 for unreimbursed expenses, $1,505,000 for inaccurate wage statements, and about 3 $3,116,000 in waiting time penalties. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 14.] Plaintiff and his counsel substantially 4 discounted the value of these claims, however, in light of the multiple and considerable risks
5 posed by proceeding with the litigation, as Defendant raised numerous defenses and vigorously 6 defended against these claims.

7 On the minimum wage issue, Plaintiff claims that he and class members were not paid for 8 all hours worked because WDI's time rounding, donning and doffing, and other de facto policies
9 resulted in "off the clock" work with a corresponding loss of pay. For example, Plaintiff's expert's 10 analysis suggests the time rounding policy favored WDI around 66% of the time, resulting in the 11 loss of over 3,200 compensable hours to the class. In response, WDI argued its timekeeping and 12 payroll practices comply with California law and that any rounding was completely neutral in 13 effect and thus permissible under the law. See's Candy Shops, Inc. v. Superior Court (2012) 210 14 Cal.App.4th 889. It also argued any donning and doffing of safety equipment, consisting of 15 gloves, goggles, and reflective vests, did not result in any compensable time, and that it otherwise 16 properly paid all non-exempt employees for all hours worked consistent with California law. Per 17 Defendant, any off the clock work the clock was against company policy and done without the 18 WDI's knowledge. White v. Starbucks Corp. (N.D. Cal. 2007) 497 F.Supp.2d 1080, 1083 19 (employer must have actual or constructive knowledge of the off the clock work). WDI also 20 argued, individualized inquiries would be required to determine if any such time was 21 compensable, and class certification would be inappropriate and any PAGA trial would be 22 unmanageable. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 15.]

23 On the meal break issue, prior to about September 2021, Plaintiff contends WDI's meal 24 policy wasn't compliant and did not inform employees as to the number and timing of their meal 25 periods, nor did it specify 30 minute uninterrupted meal periods. Even after WDI revised that 26 policy, Plaintiff contends it remained problematic in that it still didn't advise employees of the 27 duty-free nature of their meal periods. Coupled with WDI's policies restricting employees from 28 accessing social media while at work, from taking a nap at any point in a shift, from leaving the 1 premises, etc., Plaintiff contends he and the class members received non-compliant meal periods.

2 Plaintiff's expert's analysis supported this conclusion and found approximately a 62-63%
3 violation rate for meal periods. Thus, even if WDI's policies were compliant, it still faced 4 significant exposure for "de facto" violations. For the same reasons, Plaintiff contends WDI's rest 5 break policy likewise was non-compliant and that he and the class members did not receive proper 6 breaks. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 16.]

7 Defendant denies Plaintiff's contentions, claiming they made meal and rest breaks
8 available to Class Members in compliance with California law, including implementing a Bell 9 Schedule system. Defendant contends their meal and rest break policies are lawful and that Class 10 Members were frequently reminded via training and supervisors, that they were required to take 11 all meal and rest breaks. Defendant also contends that time records and signed declarations 12 demonstrate that Class Members took duty-free, timely meal and rest breaks. Defendant contends 13 their meal and rest break policies and practices comported with the flexibility the Brinker court 14 held was integral to California's meal and rest period requirements. Finally, Defendant argued that 15 Plaintiff's meal and rest break claims are not susceptible to common proof, as the claims would 16 require individualized inquiry, including whether there was an unlawful companywide policy, 17 whether employees had the opportunity to take meal and rest periods, whether they voluntarily 18 chose to forego their meal and rest periods, and whether Defendant ever prevented them from 19 taking meal and rest periods. Accordingly, Defendant contends these claims are vulnerable to a 20 ruling that class treatment is not appropriate. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 17.]

21 On the expense reimbursement claims, Plaintiff alleges he and class members were 22 required to purchase their own safety gear such as steel-toed boots, grip gloves, safety goggles, 23 and a reflective vest, without reimbursement. WDI requires employees to use their personal cell 24 phones to access company information and communicate with supervisors but has failed to 25 reimburse them for the use of their personal cell phones. Per WDI, however, the "safety gear" is 26 nothing more than basic work boots, gloves, etc. and not any kind of specialized gear for which an 27 employer must provide reimbursement. As far as cell phone use, WDI argued there would be no 28 conceivable requirement for employees to use their own phone while at work and, to the extent

1 they did, it would have been purely for personal convenience and therefore not reimbursable.

2 [Trenner Decl., ¶ 18.]

3 Plaintiff's claims for inaccurate wage statements and waiting time penalties are derivative
4 of the unpaid wage claims. Should those claims fail, Plaintiff's claim for inaccurate wage statements 5 and waiting time penalties would also fail. Defendant also contends they would not be liable for 6 waiting time penalties because a "good faith dispute" exists over the payment of past wages. Cal.
7 Code Regs. Tit. 8 § 13520; Amaral v. Cintas Corp. No. 2 (2008) 163 Cal.App.4th 1157, 1201.
8 Further, Defendant contends Plaintiff would have to prove that Defendant "willfully" failed to pay 9 Class Members appropriate wages due upon separation of employment. Defendant contends that 10 any failure to pay wages upon separation was not willful. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 19.]

11 As far as potential PAGA liability, the theoretical penalties totaled at least $5.8 million 12 should Plaintiff prevail and establish the alleged minimum wage violations at issue for each pay 13 period. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 20.] As with the class claims, Plaintiff discounted the potential PAGA 14 penalties for the multi-layered defenses proffered by Defendant on the merits, and further 15 discounted these claims since the Court possesses wide discretion to reduce such penalties even if 16 Plaintiff ultimately prevailed. Labor Code § 2699(e)(2); Fleming v. Covidien (C.D. Cal. 2011)
17 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 154590, *8-9 (court reduced the potential penalties by over 82% after a 18 bench trial); Carrington v. Starbucks Corp. (2018) 30 Cal.App.5th 504 (after a bench trial, the trial 19 court awarded penalties of just $5 per pay period, a 90% reduction, which decision was upheld on 20 appeal); In re Taco Bell Wage and Hour Actions (E.D. Cal. Apr. 8, 2016) 2016 U.S. Dist. Lexis 21 48557 (PAGA penalties denied after trial).

22 Accordingly, the Parties allocated $30,000 to PAGA penalties, which amount is reasonable 23 and in line with comparable settlements in other class actions in California. Van Kempen v.
24 Matheson Tri-Gas, Inc. (N.D. Cal. Aug. 25, 2017) 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 137182 (granting final 25 approval of $5,000 PAGA penalty from $370,000 settlement, or 1.4 percent of total settlement); 26 Slavkov v. First Water Heater Partners I (N.D. Cal. July 25, 2017) 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 116303 27 (finding a $7,500 PAGA payment reasonable when measured against the overall settlement of 28 $345,000 and the possible weaknesses in plaintiffs' case, or 2.2 percent of total settlement).

1 Further, the amount of PAGA penalties should not be evaluated in a vacuum but rather in 2 connection with the total amount be paid to resolve the entire matter, and whether that amount
3 and/or any other relief secured serves PAGA's purposes such as deterring future Labor Code 4 violations.

5 Where PAGA claims are settled in the same agreement with the underlying Labor 6 Code claims, courts have also looked to the interplay of the two recoveries to 7 determine whether PAGA's purposes have been served. The O'Connor court, for 8 instance, adopted a "sliding scale," noting that "[b]y providing fair compensation to 9 the aggrieved employees as employees and substantial monetary relief, a settlement 10 not only vindicates the rights of the aggrieved employees as employees, but may 11 have a deterrent effect upon the defendant employer and other employers, an 12 objective of PAGA." In other words, where the settlement of Labor Code claims 13 under Rule 23 provides "robust" relief to the class, it supports a greater reduction in 14 PAGA penalties.

11 Haralson v. U.S. Aviation Servs. Corp. (N.D. Cal. 2019) 383 F.Supp.3d 959, 972 (internal 12 punctuation and citations omitted).

13 Plaintiff submits the overall settlement, including the amounts allocated to PAGA, has "a 14 substantial deterrent effect . . . [and] encourages compliance with the specific requirements of the 15 Labor Code, which has the effect of protecting workers from unlawful employment practices and 16 working conditions." Jordan v NCI Grp., Inc. (C.D. Cal. Jan. 5, 2018) 2018 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17 25297, at *7-8. Plaintiff notes further that, assuming the LWDA does not comment and/or appear 18 on the proposed. settlement, it suggests "tacit approval" as to its terms vis-à-vis PAGA. Echavez 19 v. Abercrombie & Fitch Co., 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 141134, at *10 (C.D. Cal. March 23, 2017)
20 ("The Court infers LWDA's non-response is tantamount to its consent to the proposed settlement 21 terms, namely the proposed PAGA penalty amount"); Jennings v. Open Door Mktg., LLC, 2018 22 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 171356, at *27 (N. D Cal. Oct. 3, 2018) (approving PAGA settlement where 23 "[p]laintiffs [have] submitted the settlement agreement to the LWDA, and the LWDA has not 24 objected to the settlement"); Jordan, 2018 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 25297, at *7 ("Additionally, the Court 25 finds it persuasive that the LWDA was permitted to file a response to the proposed settlement and 26 no comment or objection has been received"). For these reasons, the PAGA component of the 27 settlement should be approved.
28

1 Thus, Defendant raised significant procedural and merits defenses to Plaintiff's claims, any 2 one of which, if successful, could have derailed Plaintiff's case. Accordingly, Plaintiff faced risky 3 issues going forward with this litigation, and given the need to secure class certification, try the 4 case, and deal with post-trial appeals, it would have taken years to realize any recovery in this 5 action. Plaintiff's counsel discounted the value of the class claims consistent with the risks 6 discussed above, and carefully weighed the likelihood of the class receiving substantially greater 7 benefit if the litigation continued. Plaintiff's counsel concluded – in light of these very real and 8 substantial risks – settlement on the proposed terms and without prolonged and costly litigation 9 was in the best interests of the class. The overall $1,025,000 recovery represents a significant 10 percentage of Defendant's potential exposure and given these risks addressed above, a total 11 recovery for the class of $1,025,000 is a fair result within the range of reasonableness considering 12 all potential outcomes. [Trenner Decl., ¶¶ 21-23.]

13 Importantly, the mere fact that a settlement does not provide the same recovery as might be 14 achieved at trial is not a proper indicator of whether the settlement is fair, reasonable, and 15 adequate. Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 246, 250 (“even if the relief afforded by the proposed 16 settlement is substantially narrower than it would be if the suits were to be successfully litigated, 17 this is no bar to a class settlement because the public interest may indeed be served by a voluntary 18 settlement in which each side gives ground in the interest of avoiding litigation”); 7-Eleven 19 Owners for Fair Franchising v. Southland Corp. (2000) 85 Cal.App.4th 1135, 1150 (“The fact that 20 a proposed settlement may amount to only a fraction of the potential recovery does not, in and of 21 itself, mean that the proposed settlement is grossly inadequate and should be disapproved”); Lane 22 v. Facebook, Inc. (9th Cir. 2012) 696 F.3d 811, 819 (“[T]he question whether a settlement is 23 fundamentally fair . . . is different from the question whether the settlement is perfect in the 24 estimation of the reviewing court”); White v. Experian Information Solutions, Inc. (C.D. Cal.
25 2011) 803 F.Supp.2d 1086, 1098 (rejecting contention settlement was not fair and reasonable even 26 though it represented 99% discount off the maximum value of the claims). Importantly as well, 27 the proposed settlement is non-reversionary and will provide benefits to the Class Members 28 without a claims process. White, 803 F.Supp.2d at 1098; c.f., Federal Judicial Center, Managing

1 Class Action Litigation: A Pocket Guide for Judges (3d ed. 2010) at 20, available at 2 www.fjc.gov/sites/default/files/2012/ClassGd3.pdf (reversionary provisions and/or cumbersome 3 claims process may indicate lack of fairness). Plaintiff and her counsel submit the settlement is 4 within the “range of reasonableness,” and is fair and adequate for the Class.

5 V. PLAINTIFF’S ENHANCEMENT

6 A modest incentive award for Plaintiff is appropriate under applicable law. See Staton v.
7 Boeing (9th Cir. 2003) 327 F.3d 938, 977 (collecting cases awarding class representatives service 8 and incentive payments ranging from $2,000 to $25,000). He devoted time and resources to the 9 litigation, provided documents, assisted Class Counsel with investigating the claims asserted and 10 in preparing for mediation. The service payment provided to Plaintiff as the class representative is 11 typical in class action cases and reasonable. Rodriguez v. W Publ'g Corp. (9th Cir. 2009) 563 F.3d 12 948, 958-59 (incentive awards are “intended to compensate class representatives for work done on 13 behalf of the class, to make up for financial or reputational risk undertaken in bringing the action, 14 and, sometimes, to recognize their willingness to act as a private attorney general.”).

15 Here, the Settlement Agreement provides for an enhancement of up to $7,500.00 to 16 Plaintiff. This request is reasonable given the risks he undertook on behalf of the Class Members.
17 By contacting and retaining counsel to pursue these claims, Plaintiff helped make this settlement
18 possible for the absent Class Members, while shouldering the risk of being liable for Defendant’s 19 litigation costs. Plaintiff also exposed himself to unwanted notoriety related to filing a public 20 lawsuit (discoverable even through a simple google search) for the benefit of other employees, 21 placing himself at risk of discrimination by future prospective employers. Among taking many 22 other actions assisting in the successful litigation of this case, Plaintiff provided substantial factual 23 information and documents to counsel, attended numerous meetings/phone conferences with 24 counsel to discuss the case, and kept abreast of all significant developments. He will provide the 25 Court with a detailed declaration for the Final Approval Hearing. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 24.]

26 VI. SETTLEMENT ADMINISTRATION COSTS

27 The settlement provides for a payment to Phoenix for its services as the Settlement 28 Administrator. As set forth in the Declaration of Lluvia Islas, Phoenix has performed and will

1 continue to perform its required duties through final distribution of the settlement funds and 2 incurred $11,082.50 in fees and expenses. [Islas Decl., ¶ 19.] Accordingly, Plaintiff respectfully
3 requests the Court approve payment of $11,082.50 to Phoenix from the GSA. [Trenner Decl., 4 ¶ 25.]

5 VII. ATTORNEY'S FEES AND COSTS

6 A. The Attorney's Fees Requested Are Fair and Reasonable and Should Be 7 Approved

8 This Court has discretion over the amount of attorneys' fees awarded and court 9 approval is required for Class Counsel's fees. Cal. Rule of Court 3.769; Levy v. Toyota 10 Motor Sales, U.S.A. (1992) 4 Cal.App.4th 807, 813; Lealao v. Beneficial Cal., Inc. (2000) 82 11 Cal.App.4th 19. In defining a reasonable fee, the Court should attempt to mimic the 12 marketplace for cases involving significant contingent risk, such as this one. Deposit 13 Guaranty Nat'l Bank, Jackson, Miss. v. Roper (1980) 445 U.S. 326, 338, rehg. den. 446 U.S.
14 947; Lealao, 82 Cal.App.4th at 49-50 (court should attempt "to award the fee that informed 15 private bargaining, if it were truly possible, might have reached" in determining a reasonable 16 fee, and a fee award should approximate a "range of fees freely negotiated in comparable 17 litigation"). Here, Class Counsel's request for attorney's fees and costs is reasonable and 18 justified by the work performed, the benefits obtained, and the contingent risk assumed.

19 As addressed in detail above, at the time the parties reached the tentative settlement 20 success for Plaintiff and the putative class was far from certain. Plaintiff faced a real risk that 21 some or all the claims would not be certified for class treatment, as Defendant had strong 22 arguments that its compensation policies were legal and properly compensated the class 23 members. Even if Plaintiff certified some or all of the claims and ultimately prevailed on the 24 merits, it undoubtedly would have taken several years to realize any recovery while they 25 pursued class certification, trial, and an almost certain appeal. [Trenner Decl., ¶¶ 15-20.]

26 Nonetheless, Plaintiff succeeded and expeditiously obtained the relief he set out to 27 obtain, and the settlement provides substantial cash payments to Class Members, with an 28 average award of about $706, and with a maximum award of over $3,800. Importantly as

1 well, the Class Members have been overwhelmingly supportive of the Settlement – as of the 2 filing of this motion, there are no objections to the settlement and only one opt out. [Islas
3 Decl., ¶¶ 10-11.]

4 B. The Requested Fee Award Is Reasonable and Appropriate

5 The United States Supreme Court has ruled the parties to a class action properly may 6 negotiate not only the settlement of the action itself but also the payment of attorney's fees.
7 Evans v. Jeff D. (1986) 475 U.S. 717, 734-35, 738, fn. 30.) In Hensley v. Eckerhart (1983)
8 461 U.S. 424, 437, the Supreme Court explained that negotiated, agreed-upon attorney's fee 9 provisions are the ideal towards which the parties should strive: "A request for attorney's fees 10 should not result in a second major litigation. Ideally, of course, litigants will settle the 11 amount of a fee." The United States Supreme Court has reemphasized this policy and further 12 stressed trial courts have "a responsibility to encourage agreement" on fees. Blum v. Stenson 13 (1984) 465 U.S. 886, 902 n.19.

14 As part of the Settlement, Defendants agreed not to object to an award of no more than 15 1/3 of the GSA for attorney's fees, or $341,666.67, and up to $20,000 in reimbursement for 16 litigation costs and expenses (only $15,098.33 is requested). Such a fee is commensurate with 17 what the market would provide for similar services and the Court therefore can most certainly 18 enforce the agreement. As California's Court of Appeal has instructed:

19 Given the unique reliance of our legal system on private litigants to enforce substantive 20 provisions of law through class and derivative actions, attorneys providing the essential 21 enforcement services must be provided incentives roughly comparable to those negotiated 22 in the private bargaining that takes place in the legal marketplace, as it will otherwise be economic for defendants to increase injurious behavior.

23 Lealao, 82 Cal.App.4th at 47.

24 Here, the parties did not negotiate the inclusion of attorney's fees until after extensive 25 arms-length bargaining regarding relief to the Class was completed. [Trenner Decl., ¶ 26.]
26 The requested fee and cost award was a product of these arms-length negotiations and fairly 27 reflects the marketplace value of the services rendered by Class Counsel in this case. As a 28 result, the fee agreed to by the parties should be approved.

1 C. Class Counsel's Fees are Justified When Calculated as a Percentage of the 2 Common Fund

3 In approving fee applications, courts typically apply either a percentage-of-recovery 4 method or the lodestar method. Laffitte v. Robert Half Int'l, Inc. (2016) 1 Cal.5th 480, 489;
5 Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc. (2001) 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 254, disapproved on other 6 grounds, Hernandez v. Restoration Hardware, Inc. (2018) 4 Cal.5th 260. The California
7 Supreme Court recently recognized the advantages and equities of calculating attorney's fees 8 using the percentage-of-the-common-fund method in another wage-and-hour case:

9 The recognized advantages of the percentage method-including relative ease of 10 calculation, alignment of incentives between counsel and the class, a better 11 approximation of market conditions in a contingency case, and the encouragement it 12 provides counsel to seek an early settlement and avoid unnecessarily prolonging the 13 litigation convince us the percentage method is a valuable tool that should not be 14 denied our trial courts.

15 Laffitte, 1 Cal.5th at 503 (citations omitted).

16 Indeed, both California and federal courts have long recognized an appropriate method 17 for determining the award of attorney's fees is based on a percentage of the total value of 18 benefits afforded to class members by the settlement. Serrano v. Priest (1977) 20 Cal.3d 25, 19 34; Boeing Co. v. Van Gernert (1980) 444 U.S. 472, 478; Vincent v. Hughes Air West, Inc.
20 (9th Cir. 1977) 557 F.2d 759, 769. Awarding a fee based on a percentage of the common fund 21 recovered operates to "spread litigation costs proportionately among all the beneficiaries so 22 that the active beneficiary does not bear the entire burden alone." Vincent, 557 F.2d at 769.

23 In determining a reasonable common fund fee award, courts should also consider the 24 fact that fees serve as an economic incentive for lawyers to bring class action litigation to 25 achieve increased access to the judicial system for meritorious claims and to enhance 26 deterrents to wrongdoing. Conte, Attorney Fee Awards (2d ed. 1993) § 104. Without 27 prosecution on a contingent basis and use of the class action mechanism, the courthouse door 28 would effectively be closed to most class members due to the relatively small size of their individual claims in relation to the enormous time and cost associated with class action litigation.

1 Here, Class Counsel seek a fee award for their successful prosecution and resolution of 2 this action of 1/3 of the total amount recovered by the Class via the lawsuit, or $341,666.67.
3 The percentage requested is justified for the reasons set forth further below, comports with 4 this Court's standard fee award as set forth in the Preliminary Approval Order, and further is 5 in line with fee awards calculated on a percentage-of-the-benefit basis. Indeed, review of 6 class action settlements shows that courts have historically awarded fees in the range of 20 to 7 50 percent, depending upon the circumstances of the case. In re Warner Communications Sec.
8 Litig. (S.D.N.Y. 1985) 618 F.Supp. 735, 749-50 (concluding that percentage fees in common 9 fund cases range from 20 to 50 percent); Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions (3d ed.) § 10 14.03, pp. 13-14 ("Usually 50% of the fund is the upper limit on a reasonable fee award from 11 a common fund in order to assure that the fees do not consume a disproportionate part of the 12 recovery obtained for the class, although somewhat larger percentages are not 13 unprecedented.").

14 D. A Lodestar Cross-Check Also Supports Class Counsel's Fee Request

15 To ensure the fairness of an attorney's fee award, courts frequently conduct a lodestar 16 cross check of counsel's fees. "A lodestar cross-check thus provides a mechanism for bringing 17 an objective measure of the work performed into the calculation of a reasonable attorney fee."
18 Laffitte, 1 Cal.5th at 504. Here, Class Counsel spent 222 hours of time on this matter, 19 resulting in a modest and very reasonable lodestar of $163,310.00.

20 As is fully detailed in the Trenner Declaration, Class Counsel's efforts included:
21 (1) extensive pre-lawsuit investigation of the claims of Plaintiff and the putative class, including 22 legal research, obtaining Plaintiff's employment records, research into similar claims and claims 23 against other employers in the same industry, and attempts to locate and contact other employees 24 of Defendants; (2) drafting a PAGA notice letter; (3) drafting the initial complaint and related 25 documents; (4) case management, including communications with defense counsel, meeting and 26 conferring/preparing case management statements, etc.; (5) lengthy discussions with defense 27 counsel regarding settlement/mediation and informal discovery needed for meaningful settlement 28 discussions; (6) engaging in substantial informal discovery, including propounding informal

1 discovery “requests” and reviewing documents and other information produced; (7) drafting a 2 mediation brief and accompanying damages model after review and analysis of defendant’s 3 informal discovery production; (8) attending an all-day mediation; (9) negotiating and drafting the 4 settlement agreement and related documents; (10) drafting the amended complaint; (11) drafting 5 the motion for preliminary approval and supplemental papers re: changing the notice period; 6 (12) administration of the settlement, communications with the Settlement Administrator and 7 settlement class members; (13) drafting the motion for final approval and motion for attorney’s 8 fees, and attending the final approval hearing; and (14) extensive communications with the 9 Plaintiff regarding case status, case investigation and document review, mediation, and settlement 10 terms. Additionally, Class Counsel will incur additional time to attend the final approval hearing 11 and following final approval to, inter alia, respond to class member inquiries, work with the 12 Settlement Administrator on the distribution of settlement funds, and on the compliance hearing.
13 [Trenner Decl., ¶ 27, Exh. 2.]

14 In pursuing this matter, Class Counsel incurred total attorney’s fees of $163,310.00 15 and the lodestar is based on a very reasonable number of hours worked to litigate this matter to a 16 successful conclusion (222.0 attorney hours), and the requested attorney hourly rates are 17 reasonable and comport with hourly rates charged by other attorneys with similar experience in 18 this practice area in California. [Trenner Decl., ¶¶ 28-41.] On a lodestar basis, the fee request of 19 $341,666.67 results in a multiplier of 2.09, which is a modest enhancement entirely in line 20 with California law. [Id.] Indeed, California courts routinely approve multipliers in the in the 21 2-4 range to compensate for the time and risk of class action cases. Chavez v. Netflix, Inc.
22 (2008) 162 Cal.App.4th 43, 66 (affirming attorneys' fee award including an upward multiplier 23 of 2.5); Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 255 ("Multipliers can range from 2 to 4 or even higher."); 24 City of Oakland Oakland Raiders (1988) 203 Cal.App.3d 78, 85 (affirming a multiplier of 25 2.34).) Class Counsel submits that the requested 2.09 multiplier effectively operates to show 26 that the percentage fee request is reasonable considering the challenges presented in this 27 contingency fee matter, and appropriately compensates Class Counsel for the contingent risk 28 assumed and delay in payment during the approximately three years counsel has been

1 representing Plaintiff. Thus, the multiplier results in a fee constituting a fair return on the 2 contingency.

3 E. The Award is Supported By 1) the Results Achieved; 2) the Risk, 3) the Skill 4 Required, 4) the Contingent Nature of the Fee and 5) Awards in Similar Cases

5 What has now emerged in most fee award decisions is the recognition that fee 6 determinations in both common fund and statutory fee situations are incapable of 7 mathematical precision because of the intangible factors that must be resolved in the court's 8 discretion based on the circumstances of each particular case. Conte, § 207, p. 44. In 9 determining an appropriate fee in a common fund case, a Court must decide, based on the 10 unique posture of each case, what percentage of the common fund would most reasonably 11 compensate Class Counsel given the nature of the litigation and the performance of counsel.
12 Paul, Johnson, Alston & Hunt v. Graulity (9th Cir. 1989 886 F.2d 268, 272) (the benchmark 13 percentage fee may be adjusted to account for the circumstances involved in a case).

14 Courts apply a five-part test in calculating a reasonable percentage fee in common 15 fund cases: (1) the results achieved; (2) the risk of litigation; (3) the skill required and the 16 quality of work; (4) the contingent nature of the fee and the financial burden carried by the 17 plaintiffs; and (5) awards made in similar cases. Laffitte, 1 Cal.5th at 489.

18 1. The Results Achieved.

19 Class Counsel obtained an excellent result in this case for the Class Members. The 20 Settlement provides real monetary benefits to the Class Members, and the Settlement is 21 particularly advantageous to the Class Member because the proceeds will be distributed 22 shortly as opposed to waiting additional years for a similar, or possibly, less favorable result.
23 Considering many individual claims would be very modest and would not be cost-effective to 24 pursue successfully, the Settlement provided them with fair compensation for their claims.
25 Moreover, the absence of any objection to either the Settlement or the attorney's fee request 26 bolsters the excellent results. Indeed, the approval of the Class is overwhelming as indicated 27 by the fact that only one class member opted out. Additionally, the settlement amounts to a 28 substantial percentage of the maximum value of the amount the Class might have obtained if 1 it had tried the case and recovered on all theories seeking recovery of wages and penalties.

2 "It is well-settled law that a cash settlement amounting to only a fraction of the potential 3 recovery does not per se render the settlement inadequate or unfair." In re Omnivision Techs., 4 Inc., 559 (N.D. Cal. 2008) F.Supp.2d 1036, 1042.

5 2. Class Counsel Bore Considerable Risk.

6 At the time of filing the complaint, Class Counsel recognized that they would have to 7 expend a substantial amount of time and advance significant costs to prosecute a statewide 8 class action suit with no guarantee of compensation or reimbursement, in the hope of 9 prevailing against a sophisticated company represented by first-rate attorneys. Despite 10 their belief in the merits of Plaintiff's claims, they also knew they faced substantial risks of 11 class certification and the ability to prove class-wide and individual damages. In light of the 12 highly uncertain nature of this suit, Class Counsel also bore the risk that Defendant would dig 13 in and attempt to bury their small firm in work. Given the small size of Class Counsel's firm, 14 not receiving any compensation for several years while simultaneously advancing litigation
15 costs posed considerable risk and difficulty. [Trenner Decl., ¶¶ 42-43.]

16 3. The Skill Required and the Quality of Work.

17 Practice in the narrow area of wage and hour litigation requires skill, knowledge and 18 experience. The issues presented in this case required more than just a general appreciation of 19 wage and hour law and class action procedure. This Settlement was possible only because 20 counsel persuaded Defendant that Plaintiff and the putative class had a realistic chance of 21 prevailing on their claims despite Defendant's contrary arguments, and that the case 22 would be pursued through class certification and trial if necessary. In successfully 23 navigating these hurdles, Class Counsel displayed appropriate skill while pursuing a risky 24 and difficult case.

25 4. The Contingent Nature of the Fee and Risk Assumed

26 There is a substantial difference between the risk assumed by attorneys being paid 27 by the hour and attorneys working on a contingent fee basis. The attorney being paid by 28 the hour can go to the bank with his fee. Powers v. Eichen (9th Cir. 2000) 229 F.3d 1249,

1 1256. The attorney working on a contingent basis can only log hours while working 2 without pay towards a result that will hopefully entitle him to a market fee considering 3 the risk and other factors of the undertaking. Id. at 1257. Otherwise, the contingent fee 4 attorney receives nothing. Id. In this case, Class Counsel subjected themselves to this 5 risk in this all or nothing contingent fee case wherein the necessity and financial burden 6 of private enforcement makes the requested award appropriate.

7 Counsel retained on a contingency fee basis, whether in private matters or in class 8 action litigation, is entitled to a premium beyond their standard, hourly, non-contingent 9 fee schedule to compensate for both the contingent risk assumed and the delay in 10 payment. The simple fact is that despite the most vigorous and competent of efforts, 11 success is never guaranteed. McKittrick v. Gardner (4th Cir. 1967) 378 F.2d 872, 875.
12 Indeed, if counsel is not adequately compensated for the risks inherent in difficult class 13 actions, competent attorneys will be discouraged from prosecuting similar cases.
14 Ketchum v. Moses (2001) 24 Cal.4th 1122, 1132-33; Cazares v. Saenz (1989) 208 15 Cal.App.3d 279, 287.

16 Here, the contingent fee practices of Plaintiff's counsel simply do not accommodate 17 the investment of unnecessary time in a case, and the adverse resolution of any one of several 18 difficult issues present in this matter could have doomed the entire effort. As discussed, the 19 attorney's fees in this case were not only contingent but fairly risky, and there was always a 20 chance Plaintiff's counsel would receive nothing for any number of reasons. [Trenner Decl., 21 ¶¶ 42-43.] Accordingly, the contingent nature of the fee and the financial burdens on Class 22 Counsel and Plaintiff also support the fee requested.

23 5. Awards in Other Cases

24 As discussed, the attorney's fees requested by Class Counsel are within the range of 25 fees awarded in comparable cases, and review of class action settlements over the past 10 26 years shows that the courts have historically awarded fees in the range of 20 to 50 percent, 27 depending upon the circumstances of the case. In re Warner Communications Sec. Litig.
28 (S.D.N.Y. 1985) 618 F.Supp. 735, 749-50 (concluding that percentage fees in common fund

1 cases range from 20 to 50 percent); Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions (3d ed.) § 14.03, pp.
2 13-14 ("Usually 50% of the fund is the upper limit on a reasonable fee award from a common 3 fund in order to assure that the fees do not consume a disproportionate part of the recovery
4 obtained for the class, although somewhat larger percentages are not unprecedented."). Class 5 Counsel's requested fees equal to 1/3 of the gross amount recovered on behalf of the class and 6 are well within the range of reasonableness under either the percentage of the recovery or the 7 lodestar method in light of the contingent risk assumed, the delay in payment, the result 8 achieved, and the overall quality of the representation.

9 F. Class Counsel's Costs and Expenses are Reasonable

10 Plaintiff's counsel also requests reimbursement of actual out-of-pocket expenses incurred 11 to prosecute this action. These expenses were incidental and necessary to the effective 12 representation of the employees, and Plaintiff's counsel is permitted to recover litigation costs and 13 expenses under the common fund doctrine and the Settlement Agreement. Serrano, 20 Cal.3d at 35 14 (common fund doctrine permits recovery of fees and costs from the fund); Rider v. County of San 15 Diego (1992) 11 Cal.App.4th 1410, 1424 n.6 (costs are recoverable from the common fund "[o]f 16 necessity, and for precisely the same reasons discussed above with respect to the recovery of 17 attorneys' fees by ... [Plaintiffs'] attorneys"). Plaintiff's counsel also is entitled to recover "those 18 out-of-pocket expenses that would normally be charged to a fee-paying client." Harris v.
19 Marhoefer (9th Cir. 1994) 24 F.3d 16, 19.

20 Per the Trenner Declaration, Class Counsel incurred a total of $15,098.33 in 21 expenses in connection with this matter. These expenses include amounts paid for court 22 filing fees, service of process, expert fees, and mediation fees, all of which are costs 23 normally billed to and paid by the client. These costs were reasonably incurred in the 24 prosecution of this matter, and should be reimbursed in full. Plaintiff respectfully requests 25 that the Court authorize reimbursement of counsel's costs in the amount of $15,098.33.

26 [Trenner Decl., ¶¶ 44-45.]

1 VIII. CONCLUSION

2 For all the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff Pricilla Cooper respectfully requests that the Court 3 grant this motion and grant final approval of the proposed class action settlement and approve the 4 payment of PAGA penalties to the State. Plaintiff further requests the Court approve payment of 5 the Settlement Administrator's fees and expenses, approve the requested class representative 6 enhancement payment, approve the award of attorney's fees and costs as requested, and enter 7 judgment in this action. Finally, Plaintiff request the Court set a final compliance hearing for May 8 21, 2026, or a later date convenient for the Court.
