1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 Plaintiff Ximena Garcia (“Plaintiff” or “Class Representative”) hereby submits this 4 Memorandum of Points and Authorities in support of her Motion for Final Approval of this class 5 and representative action settlement on behalf of all persons currently or formerly employed as non-6 exempt employees by Defendant Hilty’s Electric-California, Inc. (“Defendant”) within the State of 7 California during the Class Period, which is defined as the period beginning on May 10, 2019 and 8 ending on July 31, 2025 (the “Class” or “Class Members;” “Participating Class Members” are Class 9 Members who do not opt out of the settlement).

10 The Amended Joint Stipulation of Class Action and PAGA Settlement (“Settlement 11 Agreement”)¹ entered into between Plaintiff and Defendant (the “Parties”), if approved, will resolve 12 specific claims of Plaintiff, Participating Class Members, and Aggrieved Employees² in exchange 13 for Defendant’s agreement to pay One Million Ten Thousand Dollars ($1,010,000) into a non-14 reversionary common settlement fund. This is a favorable resolution of the disputed wage and hour 15 claims in this case. As of the date of filing of this Motion, not a single Class Member has objected 16 to the settlement after receiving notice of the proposed settlement and the projected individual 17 settlement payments, and only two (2) Class Members have requested exclusion from the settlement, 18 resulting in a 99.64% settlement participation rate. (See Declaration of Laura Singh of CPT Group, 19 Inc. (“CPT”) Regarding Notification and Settlement Administration (“Singh Decl.”), filed 20 concurrently herewith, at ¶¶ 12-15.)

21 The Court should grant Plaintiff’s motion because: (1) the conditionally certified Class 22 continues to meet the requirements for class certification for settlement purposes under Code of Civil 23 Procedure section 382; (2) the settlement is a fair, adequate, and reasonable compromise of the 24 disputed claims in this case; and (3) the amounts requested for Class Counsel’s attorneys’ fees and

25 _____
26 ¹ A copy of the Settlement Agreement is attached to the Declaration of Anthony J. Orshansky 27 (“Orshansky Decl.”), filed concurrently herewith, as Exh. A.

28 ² “Aggrieved Employees” are defined as all persons currently or formerly employed as non-exempt employees in California by Defendant at any time during the PAGA Period. (Settlement Agreement
at § I(V).)

1 costs, Plaintiff's enhancement award, and settlement administration costs are all fair, adequate, and 2 reasonable. In light of the foregoing, this Court should enter the Proposed Final Order and Judgment
3 Granting Plaintiff's Motion for Final Approval of Class and Representative Action Settlement, 4 Attorneys' Fees and Costs, Administration Costs, and Class Representative's Enhancement Award, 5 submitted concurrently herewith.

6 II. BACKGROUND

7 This action seeks to recover unpaid wages, premiums for non-compliant meal and rest 8 breaks, restitution, penalties for improper wage statements, reimbursement of business expenses, 9 waiting time penalties, civil penalties pursuant to California's Private Attorneys General Act of 10 2004, Labor Code section 2698 et seq. ("PAGA"), injunctive and other equitable relief, prejudgment
11 interest, and attorneys' fees and costs. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 26.) Defendant denied Plaintiff's 12 allegations of wrongdoing, but in an effort to reach a compromise, the Parties participated in a full-13 day mediation before Gig Kyriacou, Esq. (Id. at ¶¶ 27, 30.) The Parties engaged in extensive 14 discovery, exchanging information and documents, and reviewing and analyzing extensive data 15 made available by Defendant, all of which enabled the Parties to thoroughly evaluate Plaintiff's 16 claims, the claims of the Class Members, and the aggrieved employees' PAGA claim, along with 17 Defendant's affirmative defenses, and the likely outcomes, risks, and expense of pursuing litigation.
18 (Id. at ¶¶ 28-29.) Pursuant to the mediator's proposal, the Parties came to an agreement on all 19 material terms of the settlement. (Id. at ¶ 31.)

20 Following the filing of Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Approval of the Settlement, in 21 response to points raised by this Court in its July 3, 2025 Minute Order, the Parties entered into the 22 Amended Settlement Agreement and submitted supplemental papers to advise the Court of the same.
23 (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 16.) This Court, finding that the supplemental papers sufficiently addressed the 24 issues that it had raised, issued a minute order on August 21, 2025, granting Plaintiff's Motion for 25 Preliminary Approval and scheduling a final approval hearing. (Ibid.) The Court also entered a 26 separate formal Order Granting Preliminary Approval of Class and PAGA Representative Action 27 Settlement on September 9, 2025 (see ROA #97). Now, through this Motion, Plaintiff seeks final 28 approval of the settlement that the Court preliminarily approved, as described herein.

1 III. SUMMARY OF THE SETTLEMENT

2 The settlement provides for a release on behalf of Plaintiff, Participating Class Members, and 3 Aggrieved Employees in exchange for the creation by Defendant of a non-reversionary common 4 fund of One Million Ten Thousand Dollars ($1,010,000)³ (“Gross Settlement Amount”). The 5 amount available for distribution to Participating Class Members is determined by deducting the 6 following from the Gross Settlement Amount:

- 7 • Up to $336,666.67—which is one-third of the Gross Settlement Amount—in attorneys’
8 fees, and up to $25,000 in litigation costs to Class Counsel⁴ [actual costs are $16,098.35] 9 (“Attorneys’ Fees and Costs”);
- 10 • Up to $10,000 to Plaintiff (“Enhancement Award”)—in recognition of her service as the 11 Class Representative and in exchange for a general release of claims ;
- 12 • Up to $80,000 to settle all claims under the PAGA (“PAGA Penalties”)—of which 75%
13 ($60,000) is allocated for payment to the LWDA for civil penalties pursuant to statute 14 (“LWDA Payment”), and 25% ($20,000) is allocated to Aggrieved Employees; and
- 15 • Up to $20,000 to the Settlement Administrator to notify Class Members and administer 16 the settlement [actual costs are $17,500] (“Settlement Administration Costs”).

17 (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 8; Settlement Agreement § 54.) The amount remaining after the foregoing 18 deductions (“Net Settlement Amount”), approximately $549,734.98, will be paid out pro rata to 19 Participating Class Members based on the number of workweeks worked during the Class Period, 20 and Aggrieved Employees will receive their pro rata share of the 25% of the PAGA Payment based 21 on the number of pay periods worked during the PAGA Period. (Settlement Agreement § III(D)(7).)
22 Participating Class Members shall receive payments (“Individual Settlement Payments”) without the 23 need to submit a claim form, and Aggrieved Employees shall receive their pro rata share of the 25% 24

25 ³ The Gross Settlement Amount at preliminary approval was $965,000. However, because the 26 number of workweeks worked by Class Members during the Class Period increased by more than 27 10% through July 31, 2025, pursuant to the Settlement Agreement’s escalator clause, Defendant increased the Gross Settlement Amount to $1,010,000 to account for the additional workweeks through July 31, 2025. (See Settlement Agreement § III(D)(5).)

28 ⁴ CounselOne and the Law Offices of Sahag Majarian II are referred to herein separately and together for ease of reference as “Class Counsel.”

1 of the PAGA Penalties (“PAGA Settlement Payments”) irrespective of whether or not they opt-out
2 of the class settlement. (Id. at §§ I(W), III(D)(2).)

3 IV. NOTICE AND ADMINISTRATION

4 On October 9, 2025, CPT, the Court-approved settlement administrator, mailed the Court
5 Approved Notice of Class and Representative Action Settlement and Hearing Date for Final Court
6 Approval (“Class Notice”), Request for Exclusion Form, Dispute Form, and Objection Form 7 (collectively “Notice Packet”) to all Class Members and Aggrieved Employees via first class U.S.
8 mail. (Singh Decl. ¶ 8 and Exh. A.) CPT made reasonable efforts to obtain current mailing addresses 9 before the mailing, and performed skip traces on and re-mailed returned Class Notices. (Id. at ¶¶ 7, 10 9.) Class Members had until November 24, 2025 to submit disputes, requests for exclusion, or 11 objections. (Id. at ¶ 11.) Not a single Class Member has objected to the settlement, and only two (2) 12 Class Members requested exclusion from the class settlement; accordingly, this results in a 99.64% 13 settlement participation rate. (Id. at ¶¶ 12-15.) CPT received two (2) workweek disputes, however, 14 both were invalid because no supporting documentation was provided. (Id. at ¶ 13.) The average 15 Individual Settlement Payment to Participating Class Members is $972.72, and the average PAGA
16 Settlement Payment to Aggrieved Employees is $35.97. (Id. at ¶¶ 16, 18; Orshansky Decl. ¶ 15.)

17 V. ARGUMENT

18 A. This Court Should Confirm Its Conditional Certification of the Settlement Class
19 under Code Civ. Proc., § 382

20 Under Code of Civil Procedure section 382, a class may be certified if: (1) it is ascertainable 21 and its members are too numerous for joinder to be practical; (2) the representative and absent class 22 members share a community of interest, and questions of law and fact common to the class 23 predominate over questions unique to individual class members; (3) the representative’s claims are 24 typical of the class’s claims; and (4) the representative will fairly and adequately represent the class’s 25 interests. (See Richmond v. Dart Industries, Inc. (1981) 29 Cal.3d 462, 470.) Here, this Court found 26 that the proposed Class meets all the requirements for class certification for settlement purposes 27 when it granted preliminary approval of the Settlement Agreement on September 9, 2025. (See 28 Orshansky Decl. ¶ 16; ROA #97.) Since then, no events have cast doubt on this determination, and

1 in fact the reaction of the Class Members has been overwhelmingly supportive of the settlement, 2 with not a single Class Member objecting to the settlement, and only two (2) Class Members opting 3 out of the settlement, for a 99.64% settlement participation rate. (See Singh Decl. ¶¶ 12-15.) This 4 Court should therefore confirm its conditional certification of the Class.

5 B. The Court Should Finally Approve the Settlement Because It Is a Fair,
6 Adequate, and Reasonable Compromise of Disputed Claims

7 California courts have a strong policy in favor of settlement. (See, e.g., Stambaugh v.
8 Superior Court (1976) 62 Cal.App.3d 231, 236.) Unlike individual settlements, class action 9 settlements involve a court-approval process that exists to prevent fraud, collusion, and unfairness 10 to class members. (Malibu Outrigger Bd. of Governors v. Superior Court (1980) 103 Cal.App.3d 11 573, 578-79.) This approval process consists of preliminary settlement approval, notice being given 12 to class members, and a final fairness and approval hearing being held, at which class members have 13 the opportunity to be heard with respect to the settlement. (Ibid.) Now that notice has been provided 14 to the Class Members, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court approve the settlement as fair, 15 adequate, and reasonable.

16 A settlement is presumptively fair where it is reached through arm's-length bargaining, it is 17 based on sufficient discovery and investigation to allow counsel and the court to act intelligently, 18 counsel is experienced in similar litigation, and the percentage of objectors to the settlement is small.
19 (Dunk v. Ford Motor Co. (1996) 48 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1802.) In deciding whether to approve a 20 proposed settlement, a trial court has broad powers to determine if the proposed settlement is fair 21 under the circumstances of the case. (Mallick v. Superior Court (1979) 89 Cal.App.3d 434, 438.) In 22 exercising these powers, the overriding concern is to ensure that a proposed settlement is "fair, 23 adequate, and reasonable." (Dunk, supra, 48 Cal.App.4th at p. 1801, internal quotations omitted.)
24 Relevant factors for the Court to consider include, but are not limited to:

25 [T]he strength of plaintiffs' case, the risk, expense, complexity and likely duration of 26 further litigation, the risk of maintaining class action status through trial, the amount 27 offered in settlement, the extent of discovery completed and the stage of the proceedings, the experience and views of counsel, the presence of a governmental participant, and the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement.

(Ibid.) The trial court should tailor the factors to each case and give due regard to “what is otherwise a private consensual agreement between the parties.” (Ibid.)

1. The Strength of Plaintiff’s Case

Although Plaintiff steadfastly maintains that her claims are meritorious, she acknowledges that there were substantial risks and uncertainty in proceeding with class certification and trial. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 36.) Defendant presented numerous defenses to Plaintiff’s claims, both on the merits and with respect to certification. (Id. at ¶ 37.) Defendant contended that it maintained compliant policies; that determining the incidence and amount of off-the-clock work would be difficult and result in a series of mini-trials, especially because Class Members worked in a variety of departments with different requirements and managers; that alleged off-the-clock work was de minimis; that Defendant “provided” meal and rest breaks as required under Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, by making them available; that individualized issues arise from determining whether Class Members voluntarily waived their breaks; and that any class or representative litigation would be unmanageable. (Orshansky Decl., passim.) Although Plaintiff was prepared to litigate such claims through certification and, ultimately, trial, given the substantial amount offered in settlement, it was far from certain that she would recover more.

2. Risk, Expense, Complexity, and Duration of Further Litigation

Although Plaintiff investigated the claims prior to settlement, the Parties agreed to focus on exhausting early settlement efforts before launching into full-fledged and hotly contested litigation. Therefore, absent settlement, the Parties would have needed to conduct substantial additional discovery, such as the production of voluminous records and numerous depositions of experts and percipient witnesses and prepare the case for class certification and trial. The Parties would have had to depose a number of people such as managers, supervisors, human resource representatives, and employees in order to establish liability. Discovery disputes would have been in the offing and liability likely would have entailed a battle of experts. This settlement avoids the considerable time, attorneys’ fees and costs, and party resources associated with conducting additional discovery, moving for class certification, summary judgment or adjudication, and trial, as well as the risks and the accompanying burden of continued litigation on the Court. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 38.)

3. Risk of Maintaining Class Action Status

Settlement was reached prior to class certification, and the result was a successful outcome for the Class. Yet, class certification was by no means a foregone conclusion. For example, Class Members worked in different job positions with different requirements and different managers, and, as a result, Defendant contended there was variation to the circumstances that could allegedly cause the employees to work off the clock and/or be deprived of the opportunity to take compliant, duty-free meal and rest periods, and this variation in circumstances raised highly individualized questions of fact. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 39.) Defendant disputed Plaintiff's characterization of working conditions, liability, and damages, and possessed documentary and testimonial evidence rebutting Plaintiff's allegations. (Id. at ¶ 40.) If the Court either denied class certification or later decertified it, the Class would recover nothing, and Class Members would be forced to retain their own counsel and proceed on the basis of individual claims only.

Although Plaintiff was prepared to litigate these claims through certification and ultimately through trial, given the substantial amount offered in settlement, Class Counsel predicted that it was far from certain that Plaintiff would be able to recover a greater amount at trial, particularly after considering the increased litigation costs that would accrue. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 41.)

4. Amount Offered in Settlement Given Realistic Value of Claims

The settlement provides a fair and reasonable monetary recovery for the settlement class in the face of disputed claims. A settlement is not judged against what might have been recovered had a plaintiff prevailed at trial, nor does the settlement have to provide 100 percent of the damages to be fair and reasonable. (Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc. (2001) 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 246, 250.)

Plaintiff's estimate of the settlement recovery is a reasonable percentage of possible recoverable damages at trial. Utilizing a class-wide damages study to assess the nature and magnitude of the claims in question (see Kullar v. Foot Locker Retail, Inc. (2008) 168 Cal.App.4th 116, 129-131), this case meets requirements establishing that the class settlement is within the "ballpark" of reasonableness. Based on discovery and their investigation, Class Counsel determined Defendant's degree of liability, prepared an exposure analysis, and forecasted the expected recovery

1 for each claim. (Orshansky Decl. ¶¶ 43-82.) The proposed settlement amount⁵ represents 2 approximately 26% of Plaintiff's potential realistic recovery, while avoiding the further expense and 3 serious risk of proceeding toward class certification and trial. (Ibid.) Taking into account the risk of 4 non-certification, failure to prevail on the merits, and the Court's power to reduce civil penalties 5 under PAGA, the settlement falls within the realm of being fair, reasonable, and adequate.

6 5. Investigation Was Sufficient to Allow Counsel to Act Intelligently

7 Courts review the discovery process and information received through it to assist them in 8 assessing whether the parties sufficiently developed the claims and their supporting factual basis 9 before reaching settlement. (Kullar, supra, 168 Cal.App.4th at pp. 129-131.) Information is 10 sufficient where it allows the parties and the court to form "an understanding of the amount that is 11 in controversy and the realistic range of outcomes of the litigation." (Clark v. American Residential 12 Services LLC (2009) 175 Cal.App.4th 785, 801.) This requirement exists so that the parties can 13 provide the court with "a meaningful and substantiated explanation of the manner in which the 14 factual and legal issues have been evaluated." (Kullar, supra, 168 Cal.App.4th at pp. 132-133.)

15 Class Counsel conducted a thorough investigation to enable them to assess the strength of 16 Plaintiff's claims and calculate Defendant's exposure. Defendant produced information and 17 documentation concerning the alleged violations, such as Defendant's written policies concerning 18 those claims, including Defendant's employee handbook, policies and procedures regarding the 19 payment of wages, the provision of meal and rest breaks, and time keeping policies, such as 20 recording hours, issuance of wage statements, and providing all wages at separation, as well as 21 composite data regarding the number of Class Members and Aggrieved Employees and the mix of 22 current versus former employees, total number of pay periods, total number of workweeks, and the 23 average hourly rate. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 28.) Class Counsel also interviewed Class Members,

24
25 ⁵ The damages analysis in Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Approval stated that the settlement 26 amount reflected an estimated 26% of the maximum potential damages recoverable at trial.
27 However, this percentage was based on the Gross Settlement Amount at the time of $965,000. In 28 the Amended Settlement Agreement, and in Plaintiff's Supplemental Brief in Support of the Motion for Preliminary Approval (ROA #86), the Parties explained that, to account for the increase in workweeks, Defendant had elected to trigger the Escalator Clause in the Settlement Agreement and raise the Gross Settlement Amount to $1,010,000. (See Settlement Agreement §§ III.D.1-3.)

1 analyzed the documents and data produced, and spent significant time consulting with an expert, to 2 determine Defendant’s degree of liability and potential amounts due in damages. (Id. at ¶ 29.)

3 6. The Experience and Views of Counsel

4 Class Counsel have extensive experience litigating wage-and-hour class and representative 5 actions, and have been appointed as class counsel in numerous cases. (Orshansky Decl. ¶¶ 83-87; 6 Declaration of Sahag Majarian II (“Majarian Decl.”), filed concurrently herewith, at ¶¶ 2-4.) Based 7 on this experience, Class Counsel believe that the settlement is fair and reasonable and serves the 8 best interests of the Participating Class Members and Aggrieved Employees. (Orshansky Decl. ¶¶ 9 34; 86; Majarian Decl. ¶ 6.)

10 7. The Presence of a Governmental Participant

11 Plaintiff has provided notice of the settlement to the LWDA, the decision of which not to 12 intervene suggests approval of the settlement. (Orshansky Decl. ¶¶ 24, 131-135.)

13 8. The Reaction of the Class Members to the Proposed Settlement

14 As described above, not a single Class Member has objected to the settlement, and only two 15 Class Members opted out. (Singh Decl. ¶¶ 12, 14.) Thus, this factor significantly supports settlement 16 approval.

17 C. The Requested Award of Attorneys’ Fees Is Reasonable as a Percentage of the 18 Common-Fund Total Settlement Amount

19 A percentage method may be used to calculate a reasonable fee in a common fund case such 20 as this. (Laffitte v. Robert Half Int’l, Inc. (2016) 1 Cal.5th 480, 503.) A fee award is justified where 21 the legal action has produced its benefits by way of a voluntary settlement. (See, e.g., Maria P. v.
22 Riles (1987) 43 Cal.3d 1281, 1290-91; Westside Community for Independent Living, Inc. v. Obledo 23 (1983) 33 Cal.3d 348, 352-53.) When a settlement results in a common fund for the benefit of a 24 class, class counsel may be awarded fees as a percentage of the common fund. (See Wershba, supra, 25 91 Cal.App.4th at p. 254 [recognizing the “percentage of recovery” method].) The California 26 Supreme Court confirmed in Laffitte v. Robert Half Int’l, Inc. that “[t]he percentage of fund method 27 survives in California class action cases.” (1 Cal.5th at p. 506.) Specifically, the Laffitte Court held:

1 The recognized advantages of the percentage method—including relative ease of 2 calculation, alignment of incentives between counsel and the class, a better 3 approximation of market conditions in a contingency case, and the encouragement it 4 provides counsel to seek an early settlement and avoid unnecessarily prolonging the litigation—convince us the percentage method is a valuable tool that should not be denied our trial courts.

5 (Id. at p. 503, internal citation omitted; see also, e.g., Serrano v. Priest (1977) 20 Cal.3d 25, 34 6 [“when a number of persons are entitled in common to a specific fund, and an action brought by a 7 plaintiff or plaintiffs for the benefit of all results in the creation or preservation of that fund, such 8 plaintiff or plaintiffs may be awarded attorney’s fees out of the fund.”]; Serrano v. Unruh (1982) 32 9 Cal.3d 621, 627 [in awarding a fee from the common fund obtained for the benefit of all parties, the 10 trial court acts within its equitable power to prevent the other parties’ unjust enrichment]; Rawlings
11 v. Prudential-Bache Properties, Inc. (6th Cir. 1993) 9 F.3d 513, 516 [the percentage of the fund 12 method for calculating attorneys’ fees more accurately reflects the results achieved for the class than 13 the lodestar method and “establishes reasonable expectations on the part of plaintiffs’ attorneys as 14 to their expected recovery; and it encourages early settlement, which avoids protracted litigation.”]; 15 In re Rite Aid Corp. Securities Litigation (3d Cir. 2005) 396 F.3d 294, 300 [“The percentage-of-16 recovery method is generally favored in common fund cases because it allows courts to award fees 17 from the fund ‘in a manner that rewards counsel for success and penalizes it for failure.’”].)

18 The settlement calls for the payment of up to one-third of the Gross Settlement Amount in 19 attorneys’ fees and up to $25,000 in litigation costs, for which only $16,093.85 is sought for actual 20 reimbursement. (Settlement Agreement § III(D)(7)(b); Orshansky Decl. ¶ 95.) The fee award will 21 be split between the two firms as follows: sixty percent (60%) to CounselOne and forty percent
22 (40%) to the Law Offices of Sahag Majarian II. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 95.) Class Counsel’s fee request
23 is fair and reasonable based on a percentage of the recovery, and adequate to compensate Class
24 Counsel for the substantial work they have put into this case and the risk they assumed by taking it 25 in the first place. (Id. at ¶ 96.)

26 This request is fair, reasonable, and adequate to compensate Class Counsel for the excellent 27 results achieved in a wage-and-hour case with substantial payments to Participating Class Members.
28 In fact, not a single Participating Class Member objected to the settlement or to Class Counsel’s

1 requested fees. (Singh Decl. ¶ 12.) That Class Counsel achieved these results in the face of serious 2 defense challenges and an uncertain legal landscape confirms the strength of the results achieved.
3 (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 96.) The attorneys' fees award requested is also consistent with Class Counsel's 4 experience in similar wage and hour class action matters. (Id. at ¶ 98.) Indeed, the attorneys' fees 5 award requested is also consistent with what courts generally have awarded in other class and 6 representative action cases. The following list shows PAGA/class action cases where attorney's fees 7 were awarded on a common fund basis in a range between 33.33% and 40%:

- 8 • Banda v. Verizon California, Inc., Los Angeles Superior Court Case No. BC434587 9 (35% fee awarded on $15,000,000 settlement of mixed PAGA/class claims);
- 10 • Padilla v. Staffmark Investment, Inc., San Bernardino County Superior Court Case No.
11 CIVDS1408641 (33.33% fee awarded on $2,000,000 settlement of a PAGA only 12 case);
- 13 • Birch v. Office Depot, United States District Court for the Southern District of 14 California, Case No. 06cv1690 DMS (40% fee awarded on $16,000,000 settlement 15 of mixed PAGA/class claims); and
- 16 • Zelada v. Majestic Terminal Services, San Bernardino Superior Court Case No.
17 CIVDS1916968 (38% fee awarded on $1,800,000 settlement of a PAGA only case).

18 Class Counsel's application for attorneys' fees in light of the facts and circumstances 19 surrounding the case is well within the range of reasonableness. In fact, historically courts have 20 awarded fees as high as fifty percent (50%) of the settlement in complex actions. (See In re
21 Ampicillin Antitrust Litig. (D.D.C. 1981) 526 F.Supp. 494 [awarding attorneys' fees in the amount 22 of 45% of the $7.3 million total settlement amount]; Beech Cinema, Inc. v. Twentieth- Century Fox 23 Film Corp. (S.D.N.Y. 1979) 480 F.Supp. 1195 [awarding approximately 53% of the settlement as 24 attorneys' fees]; Chavez v. Netflix, Inc. (2008) 162 Cal.App.4th 43, 66 fn. 11 [lower court found the 25 range of contingency fees in marketplace to be up to 40 percent and determined such a percentage 26 fee was appropriate]; Van Vranken v. Atlantic Richfield Co. (N.D.Cal. 1995) 901 F.Supp. 294, 297-27 298 [observing that "[m]ost of the cases Class Counsel have cited in which high percentages such 28 as 30-50 percent of the fund were awarded involved relatively smaller funds of less than $10 million”]; see also 4 Conte & Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions (4th Ed. 2002) § 14.6 [“No general rule can be articulated on what is a reasonable percentage of a common fund. Usually 50% of the fund is the upper limit on a reasonable fee award from a common fund in order to assure that the fees do not consume a disproportionate part of the recovery obtained for the class, although somewhat larger percentages are not unprecedented.”].)

The attorneys’ fees award is intended to reimburse Class Counsel for all the uncompensated work that they have already done and for all the work they will continue to do. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 100.) To investigate, litigate, and ultimately negotiate and craft the settlement, Class Counsel spent a significant amount of time involved in activities, including but not limited to, the following: (1) thorough pre-litigation investigation of facts with a focus on class certification elements; (2) investigation of Defendant’s organizational and corporate structure as it relates to the employment and management of employees; (3) comparative analysis and cross-checking of all available job postings by Defendant in order to determine any variation and identify job duties and responsibilities that would be susceptible to being performed off the clock or during meal or rest breaks; (4) research and investigation regarding staffing models and staffing levels; (5) drafting the PAGA notice to the LWDA and pleadings; (6) legal research and analysis into substantive law; (7) interviewing Class Members; (8) reviewing Defendant’s policies and procedures regarding payment of wages, provision and tracking of meal and rest breaks, and timekeeping protocol, including recording hours, issuance of wage statements, and providing all wages at separation; (9) examining Class Members’ time records and wage statements in conjunction with Class Member interviews to determine Defendant’s degree of liability; (10) meeting and conferring with defense counsel; (11) engaging a consultant; (12) building a comprehensive damages model; (13) preparing the mediation brief; (14) preparing for and attending mediation; (15) negotiating and preparing the long-form Settlement Agreement; (16) preparing the motion for preliminary approval and supporting documents; (17) conferring with defense counsel, and preparing the Amended Settlement Agreement and supplemental paperwork submitted to the Court in support of preliminary approval; (18) overseeing the notice process; (19) responding to questions from Class Members; and (20) preparing the motion for final approval and supporting documents. (Ibid.) It bears mentioning that Class Counsel’s responsibilities will not end

1 with final approval. (Ibid.) Class Counsel will remain available to answer any Participating Class 2 Member inquiries and to work with Defendant’s counsel and the Settlement Administrator to 3 complete administration and finalize this settlement. (Ibid.) Based on prior experience, this will 4 likely add further hours of work by Class Counsel and their staff. (Ibid.)

5 The fee award requested here is also justified because Class Counsel achieved a significant 6 monetary recovery for Participating Class Members and Aggrieved Employees in an uncertain, 7 complex, and risky case while bearing the substantial burdens of representation on a contingency
8 basis, and the fees requested are in line with the market rate. (See Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp. (9th 9 Cir. 2002) 290 F.3d 1043, 1048-1051 [finding that exceptional results in a contingency case, 10 significant risk, and the absence of supporting precedents are proper considerations in awarding 11 attorneys’ fees]; Orshansky Decl. ¶ 101.) Here, Class Counsel negotiated a substantial recovery for 12 the settlement class, and not a single Class Member objected to the settlement, nor to Class Counsel’s 13 requested fees. (See Singh Decl. ¶ 12.) The average Individual Settlement Payment to Participating 14 Class Members in this case far exceeds average settlement payments in similar wage and hour class 15 settlements.⁶ (Singh Decl. ¶ 16; Orshansky Decl. ¶ 101.) Class Counsel achieved these results in the 16 face of serious defense challenges, and in the face of an uncertain legal landscape. (Id. at ¶ 103.)

17 Since this case presented significant risk as to both class certification and merits 18 considerations, it is fair and reasonable to account for these risks in compensating Class Counsel.
19 (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 106.) Class Counsel should be compensated for the risks involved in undertaking 20 this litigation and expending considerable effort, all while working on a pure contingency basis.

22 ⁶ (See, e.g., Sorenson v. PetSmart, Inc. (E.D.Cal. 2008) Case No. 2:06-CV-02674-JAM-DAD [wage 23 and hour class action settlement approved where average class member recovery was approximately 24 $60]; Ressler v. Federated Department Stores, Inc. (L.A. County Super. Ct. Jan. 2, 2009) Case No.
25 BC335018 [average recovery of $90]; Palencia v. 99 Cents Only Stores (Sacramento County Super.
26 Ct. 2010) Case No. 34-2010-00079619 [average recovery of $80]; Lim v. Victoria’s Secret Stores, 27 Inc. (Orange County Super. Ct. Jan. 20, 2006) Case No. 04CC00213 [average recovery of $35]; 28 Gomez v. Amadeus Salon, Inc. (L.A. County Super. Ct. July 23, 2010) Case No. BC392297 [average recovery of $20]; Schiller v. David’s Bridal, Inc. (E.D.Cal. 2012) 2012 WL 2117001, at *17 [finding that average payment to class members of less than $200 was a “good” result]; Williams v.
Centerplate, Inc. (S.D.Cal. 2013) 2013 WL 4525428, at *4 [granting final approval of class action settlement where average recovery for each class member was approximately $108].)

1 (Ibid.) Since undertaking representation of Plaintiff, Class Counsel bore all the costs of litigation
2 without receiving any compensation to date. (Ibid.) Given the considerable potential for adverse 3 outcomes in this case, including, but not limited to, being unable to proceed on a class-wide basis
4 and/or risking unfavorable adjudication on the merits, the contingent risk borne by Class Counsel
5 was great. (Id. at ¶ 109.)

6 Class Counsel’s previous experience litigating wage-and-hour class and representative 7 actions also supports the reasonableness of the fee request. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 104.) Class Counsel 8 are well-versed in plaintiff-side wage and hour class action litigation, with substantial experience 9 litigating claims for unpaid wages, meal and rest period violations, and related penalties, and have 10 been certified as class counsel in numerous other cases. (Id. at ¶¶ 83-87; 104; Majarian Decl. ¶¶ 2-11 3.) Class Counsel’s experience in similar matters was integral to evaluating the strengths and 12 weaknesses of this case and the reasonableness of the settlement. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 105.) Practice 13 in the narrow field requires skill and knowledge concerning the rapidly evolving substantive state
14 and federal law, as well as the procedural law of class action litigation. (Ibid.)

15 Because it is reasonable to compensate Class Counsel commensurate with their skill, 16 reputation, and experience, the requested fee award is fair and reasonable, and in accord with the 17 principles outlined by the California Supreme Court in Laffitte, and should therefore be approved.

18 D. The Lodestar Cross-Check Confirms That the Requested Award of Attorneys’ 19 Fees Is Reasonable

20 Trial courts have discretion to assess reasonableness of fee awards with tools such as the 21 lodestar cross-check, though they are not required to do so. (Laffitte, supra, 1 Cal.5th at p. 506.) A 22 lodestar cross-check analysis typically happens in three steps. First, a trial court must determine a 23 baseline guide or “lodestar” figure based on the time spent and reasonable hourly compensation for 24 each attorney involved in the case. (Serrano, supra, 20 Cal.3d at p. 48.) The court then sets a 25 reasonable hourly fee to apply to the time expended, with reference to the prevailing rates in the 26 geographical area. (Bihun v. AT&T Information Systems, Inc. (1993) 13 Cal.App.4th 976, 997.)
27 Finally, a “multiplier” is selected with reference to factors substantially similar to those applied to 28 the common-fund analysis: (1) the novelty and difficulty of issues involved, (2) the skill displayed

1 in presenting them, (3) the extent to which the nature of the litigation precluded other employment 2 by attorneys, and (4) the contingent nature of the fee award, based on the uncertainty of prevailing 3 on the merits and of establishing eligibility for the award. (Serrano, supra, 20 Cal.3d at p. 49.)

4 The lodestar “cross-check” supports the fee request here. First, Class Counsel have spent a 5 significant amount of time on this case and expect to spend additional time overseeing this case
6 through completion. (Orshansky Decl. ¶¶ 100, 114 and Exh. B; Majarian Decl. ¶¶ 8-10 and Exh. A.)
7 Next, Class Counsel’s hourly rates are commensurate with the prevailing market rates for attorneys
8 of comparable experience and skill handling complex litigation. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 115; Majarian 9 Decl. ¶ 4.) The reasonableness of Class Counsel’s hourly rates are further confirmed in light of the 10 hourly rates identified based on years of experience in the inflation-adjusted Laffey Matrix.
11 (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 116; Majarian Decl. ¶ 4.)

12 As set forth in more detail in the concurrently submitted Orshansky and Majarian
13 Declarations, the lodestar figure for CounselOne is $157,936.00, and the lodestar figure for the Law
14 Offices of Sahag Majarian II is $30,855.00. (See Orshansky Decl. ¶¶ 117-118; Majarian Decl. ¶ 10.)
15 Thus, Class Counsel’s total lodestar amount is $188,791.00. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 118.)

16 Based on the above total lodestar figure, Class Counsel respectfully request a multiplier of 17 approximately 1.78, which yields the requested attorneys’ fees. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 119-120.) This 18 multiplier is fair and reasonable based on the contingent nature of the case, the risks and difficulties 19 presented, and the result achieved. As discussed above, Defendant argued that Plaintiff would be 20 unable to certify a class outside of the settlement context because Plaintiff’s claims on the merits
21 would require a series of individualized mini-trials. There were factual risks and evidentiary 22 challenges of substantiating Defendant’s failure to authorize and permit breaks on a class-wide basis.
23 Additionally, Plaintiff would face significant hurdles to certification given that Defendant raised 24 individualized issues regarding whether meal and rest breaks were “provided” under Brinker, supra, 25 53 Cal.4th 10, whether employees voluntarily waived their meal and rest breaks (including the 26 existence of written voluntary waivers by some employees of their meal periods), the occurrence of 27 off-the-clock work in light of what Defendant contended were legally compliant policies, and so 28 forth. If Plaintiff prevailed and certified a class action, there is no guarantee that Defendant would

1 not later move for and obtain decertification. If the Court either denied class certification or later 2 decertified it, the Class would recover nothing and Class Members would be forced to retain their 3 own counsel and proceed on the basis of individual claims only.

4 Class Counsel invested a significant amount of time in this case and advanced all costs
5 incurred by Plaintiff to date. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 106.) As described above, Class Counsel performed 6 this work, diligently prosecuting this action for Plaintiff against a sophisticated corporate entity 7 represented by experienced employment attorneys, all while facing an uncertain legal landscape with 8 no guarantee of recovery. (Id. at ¶ 110.) Further, their work on this case prevented them from taking 9 on other matters, including hourly and flat-fee work. (Ibid.) Despite these circumstances, Class 10 Counsel zealously represented Plaintiff and Class Members and negotiated a settlement providing 11 for significant recovery to Class Members. (Ibid.) That Class Counsel achieved these results without 12 engaging in a protracted legal battle, in the face of serious defense challenges and an uncertain legal 13 landscape, confirms the strength of the results achieved. (Id. at ¶ 96.)

14 Finally, the requested multiplier of 1.78 is within even the modest multipliers that are 15 awarded by California courts, and in fact is much lower than in many comparable cases. (See 16 Vizcaino, supra, 290 F.3d at pp. 1050-1051 [looking to multipliers awarded in comparable cases as 17 evidence of reasonableness; affirming 3.65 multiplier].) Multipliers routinely range from 3 to 5, and 18 it is not uncommon that multipliers of between 5 and 10, or higher, are applied. (See, e.g., Wilson v.
19 Bank of Am. Natl. Trust & Savs. Assn. (Cal. Sup. Ct. Aug. 16, 1982) Case No. 643872 [multiplier of 20 10]; Glendora Comm. Redev. Agency v. Demeter (1984) 155 Cal.App.3d 456, 465 [affirming 21 multiplier of 12, and expressly rejecting argument that fee was either exorbitant or unconscionable]; 22 Wershba, supra, 91 Cal.App.4th at p. 255 [noting that “[m]ultipliers can range from 2 to 4 or even 23 higher”]; Van Vranken, supra, 901 F.Supp. at p. 298 [multipliers of 3-4 are in the “range [of] 24 common” multipliers for class actions]; Holleran v. Rita Medical Systems, Inc. (Cal. Super. Oct. 04, 25 2007, No. RG06302394) 2007 WL 7759253 [multiplier of 4.57]; Gutierrez v. Wells Fargo Bank, 26 N.A. (N.D.Cal. May 21, 2015, No. C 07-05923 WHA) 2015 WL 2438274, at *7 & 8 fn. 3 [multiplier 27 of 4.53]; Johnson v. Fujitsu Tech. & Bus. of Am., Inc. (N.D.Cal. May 11, 2018, No. 16-CV-03698-28 NC) 2018 WL 2183253, at *7 [multiplier of 4.375]; Buccellato v. AT & T Operations, Inc. (N.D.Cal.

1 Jun. 30, 2011, No. C10-00463-LHK) 2011 WL 3348055, at *2 [multiplier of 4.3]; Chau v. CVS RX
2 Services, Inc., Los Angeles County Superior Court No. BC349224, Order Granting Final Approval
3 of Class Action Settlement, Reasonable Attorneys' Fees and Costs and Service Payments to the 4 Class Representatives [a 3.8 multiplier was applied based primarily on contingent risk and the 5 "excellent results [] obtained [] with relative efficiency"].)

6 Therefore, the requested multiplier is warranted in this case. The lodestar cross-check affirms 7 that the fee award requested does in fact fall within the range of reasonableness.

8 E. The Court Should Approve the Requested Reimbursement for Litigation Costs

9 The Settlement Agreement provides for reimbursement of up to $25,000 to Class Counsel in 10 litigation costs. (Settlement Agreement § III(D)(7)(b).) Class Counsel respectfully request 11 reimbursement of $16,098.35 in litigation costs. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 123 and Exh. C; Majarian Decl.
12 ¶ 11.) The costs for which Plaintiff seeks reimbursement are the types of costs routinely approved 13 by courts. (See, e.g., Harris v. Marhoefer (9th Cir. 1994) 24 F.3d 16, 19 [counsel should recover 14 "those out-of-pocket expenses that would normally be charged to a fee paying client"].)

15 F. The Court Should Approve the Requested Administration Costs

16 Plaintiff also requests that the Court approve $17,500 in Settlement Administration Costs to 17 the Settlement Administrator. (Settlement Agreement § I(DD) [agreeing to an amount up to 18 $20,000]; Singh Decl. ¶ 19.) CPT performed and will continue to perform all duties required under 19 the Settlement Agreement. and discounted its costs to below the allotted amount. (Id. at ¶ 19 and 20 Exh. B.) The administration costs are fair, reasonable, and adequate, and should be finally approved.

21 G. The Court Should Approve the Requested Enhancement Award to the Class
22 Representative

23 Courts routinely approve enhancement payments to compensate named plaintiffs for the 24 services they provide and the risks they incur during class action litigation. (See, e.g., Bell v. Farmers 25 Ins. Exchange (2004) 115 Cal.App.4th 715, 726.) Plaintiff's request for an enhancement award is 26 reasonable given her efforts in prosecuting the action, the time and effort involved, the substantial 27 benefits conferred on the Participating Class Members and Aggrieved Employees, and the risks
28 assumed by her, and the fact that Plaintiff agreed to a general release of all claims subject to a waiver

1 of Civil Code section 1542. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 128.) Plaintiff actively participated in the 2 prosecution of this matter, in particular but not exclusively through her discussions with Class 3 Counsel, identifying potential witnesses, providing factual information to Class Counsel about 4 Defendant's business, policies, practices, and procedures, monitoring the progress of the case, 5 evaluating the terms of the settlement, and reviewing and signing the Settlement Agreement. (See 6 Orshansky Decl. ¶ 128; Declaration of Ximena Garcia ("Garcia Decl."), filed concurrently herewith, 7 at ¶¶ 9, 13-16.)

8 Plaintiff has diligently, adequately, and fairly represented Class Members, is a member of 9 the Class, has no conflicts as outlined above, and has not placed her interests above those of any 10 member of the Class. (Orshansky Decl. ¶ 129; Garcia Decl. ¶ 8.) Furthermore, the requested 11 enhancement award was fully disclosed to Class Members in the Class Notice and no objections 12 have been made. (Singh Decl. ¶ 12.) Thus, Plaintiff's request for an enhancement award is 13 appropriate and justified as part of the settlement and should be finally approved.
