[Assigned for all purposes to Hon. Melissa R.
McCormick, Dept. CX104]

CLASS AND PAGA REPRESENTATIVE ACTION

PLAINTIFFS' NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION FOR PRELIMINARY APPROVAL
OF CLASS AND PAGA REPRESENTATIVE
ACTION SETTLEMENT; MEMORANDUM
OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT THEREOF

Reservation N: 74214837

Date: May 16, 2024

Time: 2 p.m.

Courtroom: Dept. CX104

Judge: Hon. Melissa R. McCormick

Action Filed: March 20, 2023

Trial: Not Set

1 TO THE COURT, ALL PARTIES, AND THEIR COUNSEL OF RECORD:

2 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on May 16, 2024, at 2p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter
3 may be heard, in Department CX104 of the above-captioned Court, located at 751 W. Santa Ana
4 Boulevard, Santa Ana, California 92701, Plaintiffs ISABEL RODRIGUEZ and DANIEL TOVAR
5 (“Plaintiffs”) will and hereby do move this Court for an order:

- 6 1. Granting class certification of the Class, solely for settlement purposes pursuant to 7 Code of Civil Procedure § 382;
- 8 2. Preliminarily approving the JOINT STIPULATION OF CLASS AND PAGA
9 REPRESENTATIVE ACTION SETTLEMENT (“Settlement” or “Agreement”);
- 10 3. Appointing counsel for Plaintiffs, Tunyan Law, APC, as Class Counsel;
- 11 4. Appointing Plaintiffs as the Class Representatives;
- 12 5. Approving the use of the proposed notice procedure and related notice form;
- 13 6. Approving ILYM GROUP, Inc. as the third-party administrator;
- 14 7. Directing that notice be mailed to the Class; and,
- 15 8. Scheduling a hearing date for motion for final approval of class action settlement
16 and awards of attorneys’ fees and costs.

17 Good cause exists to grant this Motion because:

- 18 1. The Class meets all of the requirements for class certification for settlement 19 purposes under Code of Civil Procedure § 382;
- 20 2. The Settlement Agreement is a fair, adequate, and reasonable compromise of the 21 disputed wage and hour claims asserted by Plaintiffs;
- 22 3. Plaintiffs and Class Counsel are adequate to represent the Class;
- 23 4. The proposed notice procedures and related forms comply with California Rules of 24 Court 3.766(d) and (e), adequately apprise Class Members of their rights, and fully comport 25 with due process; and
- 26 5. Based on the foregoing, notice should be directed to the Class Members and a final 27 fairness hearing should be scheduled (Plaintiffs suggest about 140 days after preliminary 28 approval is granted).

1 This Motion is made pursuant to Rule 3.769 and Rule 3.1113(e) of the California Rules of Court,
2 which require approval by the Court of a class action settlement and permit the Court to extend the page 3 limit for memoranda.

4 This Motion is based on this Notice of Motion and Motion, the attached Memorandum of Points
5 and Authorities, the Declarations of Lilit Tunyan, Plaintiffs, and the Settlement Administrator in support
6 thereof, all papers and pleadings on file with the Court in this action, all matters judicially noticeable, and 7 on such oral and documentary evidence as may be presented in connection with the hearing on the 8 Motion.

10 Respectfully submitted,

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Pursuant to California Rules of Court, Rules 3.769(d) and (e), Plaintiffs ISABEL RODRIGUEZ
3 and DANIEL TOVAR (“Plaintiffs”) respectfully request that this Court preliminarily approve the 4 proposed class action settlement set forth in the JOINT STIPULATION OF CLASS AND PAGA
5 REPRESENTATIVE ACTION SETTLEMENT (“Settlement” or “Agreement”) with Defendant ROY 6 MILLER PAINTING, INC. (“Defendant”).

7 Defendant provides painting and protective and decorative coating services in the State of 8 California for over 40 years. Plaintiffs were employed by Defendant and alleged various wage and hour
9 violations, which Defendant denies. After informal discovery, the exchange of documents, and an arm’s-
10 length mediation session with an experienced mediator, Eve H. Wagner, Esq., Plaintiffs and Defendant
11 (collectively referred to herein as the “Parties”) reached a proposed class action settlement with a gross
12 settlement amount (“GSA”) of $181,000.00 in compromise of disputed claims asserted on behalf of the 13 below-defined Class consisting of approximately 155 members as of November 18, 2023. Plaintiffs 14 believe that this settlement is a fair, adequate, and reasonable compromise of the disputed claims for 15 alleged unpaid wage and hour violations and penalties asserted in this case.

16 Plaintiffs now submit this Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class and PAGA Representative
17 Action Settlement, along with the Settlement (attached to the Declaration of Lilit Tunyan [“Tunyan 18 Decl.”], Exhibit 1 thereto). For the Court’s convenience, below is a summary of the key provisions of 19 the Settlement.

20 II. THE MAJOR TERMS OF SETTLEMENT

21 The provisions of the proposed Settlement include the following:

- 22 • Defendant agrees not to oppose certification of a Class for purposes of Settlement only 23 (Settlement, ¶ 17);
- 24 • Settlement Amount: Defendant will pay a maximum of $181,000.00, referred to as the 25 Gross Settlement Amount (or GSA herein), resulting in an estimated average gross
26 payment per Class Member of approximately $1,167.74 (Settlement, ¶ 23(b));
- 27 • Class Size: Approximately 155 individuals as of the date of mediation. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 16.)
- 28 • PAGA Group Size: Approximately 115 individuals as of the date of mediation (Tunyan

Decl., ¶ 17);

- Escalator Clause: Defendant represents that the number of workweeks worked in the Class Period for those Class Members was estimated to be nine thousand fifty (9,050). The parties stipulate to a 10% escalation of the estimated workweeks without an increase to the Gross Settlement Amount. If the number of actual workweeks during the Class Period exceeds 10% of the estimated workweeks (i.e. exceeds 9,955 workweeks), Defendant can either have the Class Period end on the date that the workweeks exceed 9,955 or increase the Gross Settlement Amount by a pro-rata dollar value equal to the number of workweeks in excess of 9,955 workweeks. For example, if there is a 1% increase over 10%, then Defendant could choose to increase the Gross Settlement Amount increases by 1% (the “Escalator Clause”). (Settlement, ¶ 23(c).)
- Kullar/Munoz Analysis: Plaintiffs addresses the claims analysis herein, at Part V.B.3, and in more detail the Declaration of Tunyan, at Paragraph 18;
- No Reversion: The Settlement is a non-reversionary settlement (Settlement, ¶ 23(d));
- Certification: Plaintiffs addresses certification requisites herein, at Part V.A., and in the Declaration of Tunyan, at Paragraphs 34-40;
- No Claim Form: No claim form is required (Settlement, ¶ 23(e));
- Class Release: The Settlement will release specified wage-and-hour claims for Class Members (those Class Members who do not opt out of the Settlement) (Settlement, ¶ 34);
- PAGA Release: PAGA Employees will release the PAGA Claims set forth in this Action, that were identified in the Complaint and Plaintiffs’ LWDA Notice Letter, regardless of whether they opt out of the class portion of the Settlement (Settlement, ¶ 35);
- Release Effective Date: The Release is not active until Defendant tenders all payments required under the Settlement to the Settlement Administrator (Settlement, ¶¶ 34, 35);
- Net Settlement Amount Available to the Class: After deducting Class Counsel’s attorneys’ fees and costs, service payment to Plaintiffs, administration costs, and the payment to the LWDA, the remainder will be used to pay Settlement Class Payments to Class Members who do not opt out and PAGA Settlement Payments to PAGA Employees.

For the Settlement Class Payments, each Class Member will receive a share based on the number of workweeks each Class Member worked for Defendant within the Class Period. The Net Settlement Amount which also includes PAGA Settlement Payments to PAGA Employees is estimated to be at least $70,916.67, resulting in an average net payment per Class Member of at least $457.53, before any tax withholdings. (Settlement, ¶ 24(f));

- Tax Allocation: The amounts distributed to Class Members will be characterized as 20% alleged unpaid wages, 40% as unpaid penalties and 40% as unpaid interest, and PAGA Settlement Payments will be allocated as 100% penalties. (Settlement, ¶ 24(j));
- Employer's Portion of Payroll Taxes Paid Separately: Defendant's portion of payroll taxes (e.g., FICA, FUTA, etc.) owed on any settlement payments to Class Members that constitute wages will be paid separate and apart from the GSM (Settlement, ¶ 24(g));
- Settlement Administrator: The notice portion of the Settlement and distribution of funds will be administered by a third-party Administrator, ILYM GROUP, Inc., and the Parties estimated that the costs of administration should not reasonably exceed $15,000.00. ILYM GROUP, Inc.'s low bid for settlement administration services in the amount of $6,500.00 was selected as the lowest bid from a competitive bidding process. (Settlement, ¶ 24(p));
- Class Data for Administration: The Settlement Administrator will receive the Class List within 20 calendar days of Preliminary Approval, use the NCOA database to update the Class List, and then use skip tracing on returned Notices (Settlement, ¶ 29(a));
- Notice: The Notice will issue within 14 days of receipt of the Class List (Settlement, ¶ 29(b)). The Notice describes how to dispute workweeks, submit and objection, or request exclusion (Settlement, ¶ 24(s)).
- Notice Language: Notice will issue in English and Spanish (Settlement, ¶ 24(t));
- Objections: Objections can be submitted to the Settlement Administrator in writing via the Objection Form, or at the Final Approval Hearing. (Settlement, ¶ 24(x));
- Exclusion Requests: Requests for exclusion can be submitted to the Settlement Administrator in writing on the Request for Exclusion Form (Settlement, ¶ 24(w));
- PAGA Allocation: From the GSA, $15,000.00 will be allocated to settle claims brought pursuant to the California Private Attorneys General Act, Labor Code § 2699 et seq.

(“PAGA”), and seventy-five percent (75%), or $11,250.00 will be paid to the California Labor & Workforce Development Agency. (Settlement, ¶ 9.)

- Notice to LWDA: Notice was provided prior to the filing of this Motion. Evidence is attached to Tunyan Declaration.
- Enhancement/Service Award to Plaintiffs: Defendant will not oppose the application for Class Representatives Service Payments of $5,000.00 to each Plaintiff for service as a Class Representative, total of $10,000.00 to both Plaintiffs, to be paid from the GSA (Settlement, ¶ 24(m));
- Fees and Costs: Defendant will not oppose Class Counsel’s application for fees not to exceed 33 1/3% of the GSA ($60,333.33), and actual costs, in an amount not to exceed $22,000, to be paid out of the GSA (Settlement, ¶ 24(l)).
- Check Void Period: Settlement checks will be valid for 180 days (Settlement, ¶ 31);
- Uncashed Checks: Any settlement checks that are mailed to the Class Members and remain uncashed after 180 days of the date of issuance will be cancelled, and the moneys will be directed to the California State Controller’s Office for Unclaimed Property in the name of each Class Member who failed to cash their Settlement Payment (Settlement, ¶¶ 32-33);
- Judgment Notice: Judgment will be posted on the Settlement Administrator’s website after entry for 180 days (Settlement, ¶ 27);
- Confidentiality Provisions: Plaintiffs and Class Counsel agree to keep settlement terms confidential prior to preliminary approval of the Settlement (Settlement ¶ 55).

(Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 10-11 and Exhibit 1 thereto.)

III. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

A. Plaintiffs’ Claims

On March 20, 2023, Plaintiffs filed a putative Class Action alleging the following labelled causes of action: (1) failure to pay all wages (Lab. Code §§ 204, 510, 1194, 1998); (2) failure to provide meal periods (Lab. Code §§ 226.7, 512 and Wage Order); (3) failure to provide rest periods (Lab. Code §§

226.7 and Wage Order); (3); (4) failure to maintain and provide accurate itemized wage statements (Lab. Code §§ 226(a) and 1174); (5) failure to indemnify necessary business expenses (Lab. Code § 2802); (6) failure to timely pay all wages and final wages (Lab. Code §§ 201, 202, 203, 204 and 210); (7) Unfair Business Practices in violation of Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200 et seq. On May 25, 2023, Plaintiffs filed their First Amended Complaint adding the eighth case of action for civil penalties under the Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 [Lab. Code § 2699, et seq.] (“PAGA”). (The “Action.”) In the Complaint, Plaintiffs sought to represent all persons that worked for Defendant in California as an hourly-paid, non-exempt employee at any time during the period beginning four years before the filing of the initial complaint. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 3.)

Plaintiffs satisfied the administrative exhaustion requirement that is a prerequisite to filing a claim for Civil Penalties under the Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 [Lab. Code § 2699, et seq.] (“PAGA”). (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 4.)

B. Pre-Mediation Data Production and Analysis

The Parties have conducted informal discovery and investigation of the facts and law. Such discovery and investigation have included, inter alia, the exchange of data and discoverable information in preparation for the mediation session. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 5.) The Parties have analyzed payroll and other data pertaining to Plaintiffs and the Class during the relevant Settlement Period, including but not limited to the numbers of former and current members of the Class, average workweeks, and average rate of hourly pay. (Id.) In addition, Defendant also provided documents reflecting their wage and hour policies and practices during the Settlement Period as well as confidential financial data for evaluation of Defendant’s financial condition and ability to make settlement funds distribution in one installment. (Id.)

After reviewing documents regarding Defendant’s wage and hour policies and practices and other information obtained during the exchange of discovery, Class Counsel were able to evaluate the probability of class certification, success on the merits, and the reasonably obtainable maximum monetary exposure for all claims. Class Counsel reviewed these records and prepared a damage analysis prior to mediation. Class Counsel also investigated the applicable law regarding the claims and defenses asserted in the litigation as well as confidential financial data for evaluation of Defendant’s financial condition. (Tunyan Decl., at ¶ 6.)

1 C. Settlement

2 On November 18, 2023, the Parties mediated before a mediator, Eve H. Wagner, Esq., who is a
3 highly experienced and well-regarded mediator for wage and hour class action litigation. (Tunyan Decl., 4 ¶ 7.) At the mediation, the Parties discussed at length the burdens and risks of continuing with the 5 litigation as well as the merits of the claims and defenses and Defendant’s financial condition. (Id.) The 6 Parties have been able to reach a settlement at the mediation. The Parties have reached an agreement
7 regarding the substantive terms of a class-wide settlement, pending the Parties’ agreement on a long-
8 form class settlement agreement. The Parties then signed a long form settlement agreement
9 (“Agreement”). (Id.)

10 Plaintiffs and Class Counsel are aware of the burdens of proof necessary to establish liability for 11 the claims asserted in the Action, both generally and in response to Defendant’s defenses thereto.
12 (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 8.) Plaintiffs and Class Counsel have also taken into account Defendant’s agreement to 13 enter into a Settlement that confers substantial relief upon the Class.

14 Based on the foregoing, Plaintiffs and Class Counsel have determined that the Settlement set 15 forth in this Agreement is a fair, adequate, and reasonable Settlement and is in the best interests of the 16 Class. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 9.) Solely for the purpose of settling this case, the parties agree that the 17 requirements for establishing class action certification with respect to this class have been met and are 18 met. (Id.) If this Settlement is not approved by the Court for any reason, Defendant reserves its right to 19 contest class certification. (Id.) This Settlement, if approved by the Court, will result in the termination
20 with prejudice of the litigation through the entry of the Judgment and the release of all Released Claims
21 for all Class Members, including all within the class definition who have not elected to exclude
22 themselves from the Class. (Id.)

23 IV. CLASS DEFINITION

24 The Class is defined as follows:

25 All current and former non-exempt employees employed by Defendant in California at 26 any time during the Class Period (the “Class Period” is March 20, 2019 through May 1, 27 2023). “Settlement Class Members” are those Class Members who do not submit timely
28 exclusion requests to the Settlement Administrator. (Settlement, ¶¶ 3-4.)

(Tunyan Decl., ¶ 34 and Exhibit 1.)

1 The PAGA Employee is defined as follows:

2 All current and former non-exempt employees of Defendant who worked in California
3 at any time during the PAGA Period (the “PAGA Period” is March 20, 2022 through 4 May 1, 2023.) PAGA Employees cannot opt out of the settlement of the PAGA claim.

5 (Settlement, ¶¶ 10-11.)

6 V. DISCUSSION

7 A. The Court Should Conditionally Certify the Class Because It Meets All the 8 Requirements for Certification for Settlement Purposes Under CCP § 382

9 Under Code of Civil Procedure § 382,¹ class certification is warranted so long as there is a 10 numerous and ascertainable class with a well-defined community of interest among its members and that 11 a “class action proceeding is superior to other means for a fair and efficient adjudication of the 12 litigation.” See, e.g., Sav-on Drug Stores, Inc. v. Superior Court, 34 Cal.4th 319, 326, 332 (2004). Any 13 doubts as to the appropriateness of class treatment must be resolved in favor of certification, subject to 14 later modification. Richmond v. Dart Indus. Inc., 29 Cal. 3d 462, 473-475 (1981). For purposes of this 15 Settlement only, Defendant has agreed not to oppose conditional certification of the proposed class
16 action. (Settlement ¶ 19.)

17 “The certification question is ‘essentially a procedural one that does not ask whether an action is 18 legally or factually meritorious.’” Id., at 326, quoting Linder v. Thrifty Oil Co., 23 Cal. 4th 429, 439-440
19 (2000). Indeed, the certification question simply asks whether the theory of recovery advanced by the 20 Plaintiffs is likely to prove amenable to class treatment. See, e.g., Jaimez v. Daiohs USA, Inc., 181 Cal.
21 App. 4th 1286, 1298 (2010). In ruling on certification, a trial court’s task is to determine “whether ... the 22 issues which may be jointly tried, when compared with those requiring separate adjudication, are so 23 numerous or substantial that the maintenance of a class action would be advantageous to the judicial 24 process and to the litigants.” Id. Thus, “[t]he relevant comparison lies between the costs and benefits of 25 adjudicating Plaintiffs’ claims in a class action and the costs and benefits of proceeding by numerous 26 separate actions” See, e.g., id.

27 ¹ Code Civ. Proc. § 382, which is the statutory basis for the maintenance of class actions under 28 California law, states in relevant part, “[W]hen the question is one of a common or general interest, of many persons, or when the parties are numerous, and it is impracticable to bring them all before the court, one or more may sue or defend for the benefit of all.”

1 “[I]t is also well established that trial courts should use different standards to determine the 2 propriety of a settlement class, as opposed to a litigation class certification. Specifically, a lesser standard
3 of scrutiny is used for settlement cases.” Global Minerals & Metals Corp. v. Superior Court, 113 Cal.
4 App. 4th 836, 859 (2003), citing Dunk v. Ford Motor Co. 48 Cal. App. 4th 1794, 1807 n. 19 (1996). As 5 the court noted in Dunk, although certification requirements are intended “to protect the interests of the 6 non-representative class members,” that concern is “protected by the trial court’s fairness review of the 7 settlement.” Dunk, 48 Cal. App. 4th at 1807 n.19.

8 Indeed, numerous courts have certified settlement classes. For example, the court in In re Drexel
9 Burnham Lambert Group, Inc., 960 F.2d 285 (2d Cir. 1992), cert. dismissed, 506 U.S. 1088, 122 L. Ed.
10 497, 113 S. Ct 1070 (1993), addressed settlement before a class was certified. After a hearing, the 11 “district court issued an order certifying the class and approving the settlement agreement.” Id. at 289;
12 see also Alaniz v. California Processors, Inc., 73 F.R.D. 269, 278 (N.D. Cal. 1976) (“the use of the 13 tentative settlement class procedure was appropriate in this case”), aff’d, 572 F.2d 657 (9th Cir.), cert.
14 denied, 439 U.S. 837 (1978). Certification of a settlement class is a regular feature of class action
15 litigation and an approved procedure which ought to be followed in this case. See Newberg on Class 16 Actions (3d ed. 1991) § 11.27, pp. 11-40 to 11-56; Manual for Complex Litigation, 2d (1993) § 30.45.

17 In view of these standards, and as shown below, the Class should be certified for purposes of 18 settlement. Code Civ. Proc. § 382; Rules of Court, Rule 3.769(c).

19 1. The Members of the Class Are Both Objectively Ascertainable and 20 Sufficiently Numerous.

21 Whether an ascertainable class exists turns on three factors: (1) the class definition, (2) the size of 22 the class, and (3) the means of identifying class members. See Miller v. Woods, 148 Cal. App. 3d 862, 23 873 (1983). In this case, Plaintiffs contends that all three considerations strongly favor class certification.

24 A class is ascertainable when “it is defined ‘in terms of objective characteristics and common 25 transactional facts’ that make ‘the ultimate identification of class members possible when that 26 identification becomes necessary.’” Noel v. Thrifty Payless, Inc., 7 Cal. 5th 955, 980 (2019). No set
27 number of class members is required to maintain a class action. Hebbard v. Colgrove, 28 Cal. App. 3d
28 1017, 1030 (1972). In fact, the California Supreme Court has upheld a class of as few as ten members.

1 Bowles v. Superior Court, 44 Cal. 2d 574 (1955).

2 The class definition is sufficiently specific to enable the Parties, Class Members, and the Court to 3 determine makeup of the class. See Clothesrigger, Inc. v. GTE Corp., 191 Cal. App. 3d 605, 617 (1987)
4 (proposed class defined as all persons nationwide subscribing to telephone service since January 1, 1981,
5 who were charged for one or more unanswered long distance calls, deemed “plainly” ascertainable).

6 The question of whether class members are easily identifiable turns on whether a Plaintiffs can 7 establish “the existence of an ascertainable class,” not whether the Plaintiffs can “identify the individual 8 members of such class as prerequisite to the class suit.” Daar, 67 Cal.2d at 706; see also, Reyes v. San 9 Diego County Bd. of Supervisors, 196 Cal. App. 3d 1263, 1275 (1987).

10 In this case, there are approximately 155 Class Members as of November 18, 2023, all of whom 11 may be identified by reference to Defendant’s records. In addition, to facilitate the administration of the 12 Settlement, Defendant has agreed to share information as to the class size from records and has already 13 demonstrated that it can do so when providing class-wide discovery to Plaintiffs to facilitate settlement
14 discussions. Accordingly, the Class is not only ascertainable, but also sufficiently numerous. (Tunyan
15 Decl., ¶ 35.)

16 2. There Are Common Questions That Predominate Over Any Questions That 17 May Be Unique to Individual Class Members.

18 The community of interest requirement embodies three factors: (1) predominant questions of law
19 and fact; (2) class representatives with claims or defenses typical of the class; and (3) class
20 representatives who can adequately represent the class. Dunk, 48 Cal. App. 4th at 1806; Richmond, 29
21 Cal. 3d at 473-75. In this case, Plaintiffs’s claims satisfy all three factors.

22 A question of law or fact is common to the members of a class if it may be resolved through 23 common proof. See, Jaimez, 181 Cal.App.4th at 1305. As for predominance, it “is a comparative 24 concept, and ‘the necessity for class members to individually establish eligibility and damages does not 25 mean individual fact questions predominate.’” Sav-on, 34 Cal. 4th at 334, quoting Reyes v. Los Angeles
26 County Bd. of Supervisors, 196 Cal. App. 3d 1263, 1278 (1979). Thus, “[i]ndividual issues do not render 27 class certification inappropriate so long as such issues may effectively be managed.” Id. This is 28 especially so where the key difference between class members solely concerns their damages. See id.

1 In this case, common questions include, but are not limited to: i. Whether or not Defendant paid
2 proper wages to the Class; ii. Whether or not Defendant provided meal periods to the Class; iii. Whether 3 or not Defendant provided rest periods to the Class; iv. Whether or not Defendant paid compensation
4 timely upon separation of employment to former Class Members; v. Whether or not Defendant paid
5 compensation timely throughout Class Members' employment; vi. Whether or not Defendant provided
6 accurate itemized wage statements to the Class; vii. Whether or not waiting-time penalties are available
7 to the Class for violation of California Labor Code § 203; viii. Whether or not Defendant reimbursed for 8 necessary business expenses pursuant to California Labor Code § 2802; ix. Whether or not Defendant
9 engaged in unlawful or unfair business practices affecting the Class in violation of California Business
10 and Professions Code §§ 17200-17208; and x. Whether or not Plaintiffs and the Class are entitled to 11 penalties pursuant to PAGA (Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 37-38.)

12 In the Action, Plaintiffs' claims present sufficient common issues of law and fact that 13 predominate over individual issues and warrant class certification. From their review of the 14 documentation provided, Class Counsel determined that for purposes of these claims, Defendant's
15 policies and practices are either identical, or sufficiently similar, to raise the same questions of liability,
16 and applied to all Class Members. Because Class Members would have to prove the same issues of law 17 and fact to prevail, and because their potential legal remedies are identical, it would be preferable to 18 resolve all Class Members' claims by means of the Settlement than to require each Class Member to 19 litigate his or her individual claims. Therefore, common questions predominate over any questions that 20 may be unique to individual Class Members, and class-wide settlement is superior to any other method 21 of resolution.

22 3. Plaintiffs's Claims Are Typical of Those of the Class.

23 Typicality "requires a showing that the class representative has claims or defenses typical of the 24 class." See, e.g., Ghazaryan v. Diva Limousine, Ltd., 169 Cal. App. 4th 1524, 1534 (2008), citing 25 Fireside Bank v. Super. Ct., 40 Cal. 4th 1069, 1089 (2007), and Sav-On, 34 Cal. 4th at 326, approved by 26 Jaimez, 181 Cal. App. 4th at 1298 and Brinker Rest. Corp. v. Super. Ct., 53 Cal. 4th 1004 (2012).

27 To satisfy the typicality requirement, California law does not require that Plaintiffs has claims
28 identical to the other class members. Rather, the test of typicality for a class representative is whether

1 other members have the same or similar injury, whether the action is based on conduct which is not
2 unique to the named Plaintiffs, and whether other class members have been injured by the same course of 3 conduct. Seastrom v. Neways, Inc., 149 Cal. App. 4th 1496, 1502 (2007). The typicality requirement for 4 a class representative refers to the nature of the claim or defense of the representative, and not to the 5 specific facts from which it arose or the relief sought. Id.; Hanon v. Dataproducts Corp., 976 F.2d 497, 6 508 (9th Cir. 1992).

7 The purpose of this requirement is to ensure that the representative Plaintiffs has interests that are 8 reasonably co-extensive with those of absent class members. See id. “The test of typicality ‘is whether 9 other members have the same or similar injury, whether the action is based on conduct which is not
10 unique to the named Plaintiffs, and whether other class members have been injured by the same course of 11 conduct.’” Id., quoting Schwartz v. Harp 108 F.R.D. 279, 282 (C.D. Cal. 1985). Notably, “it has never 12 been the law in California that the class representative must have identical interest with the class 13 members.” Classen v. Weller, 145 Cal. App. 3d 27, 46 (1983). In light of these standards, Plaintiffs is 14 typical of class members.

15 Here, like other Class Members, Defendant employed Plaintiffs in a non-exempt position during 16 the Class Period, and Plaintiffs were subject to the same policies alleged to have impacted the entire 17 class. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 36.) Plaintiffs and other Class Members share the same claims stemming from 18 Defendant’s alleged violations of the Labor Code and relevant wage order. In addition, Defendant’s 19 main defense, namely that its policies and practices comply with California law, apply equally to the 20 claims of all Class Members. Thus, Plaintiffs are typical of the Class.

21 4. Plaintiffs and Plaintiffs’s Counsel Will Adequately Represent the Class.

22 The adequacy requirement is met where the Plaintiffs is represented by counsel qualified to 23 conduct the litigation and the Plaintiffs’s interest in the litigation is not antagonistic to class members’
24 interests. McGhee v. Bank of America, 60 Cal.App.3d 442, 451(1976). In other words, where the 25 Plaintiffs has adequate counsel, the Plaintiffs may represent the entire class absent any disabling conflicts
26 of interest that might hinder the Plaintiffs’s ability to represent the class. Id.

27 In the Action, Plaintiffs has no conflicts of interest with other Class Members and has agreed to 28 place Class interests above Plaintiffs’s own. (Rodriguez Decl., ¶¶ 5-20; Tovar Decl., ¶¶ 5-20; Tunyan Decl., ¶ 39.) Moreover, Plaintiffs’s counsel are experienced in wage and hour class action litigation and have no conflicts of interest with absent Class Members. (Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 20-26, 39.) As such, this Court should appoint Plaintiffs as Class Representatives for the Class and appoint Plaintiffs’ Counsel as Class Counsel.

5. Proceeding as a Class Action is Superior to Individual Actions

Under the circumstances, proceeding as a class action is a superior means of resolving this dispute, as the Class Members and the Court will derive substantial benefits. Class certification would serve as the only means to deter and redress the alleged Labor Code violations. See Linder v. Thrifty Oil Co. 23 Cal. 4th at 434 (relevant considerations include the probability that each class member will come forward ultimately to prove his or her separate claim to a portion of the total recovery and whether the class approach would actually serve to deter and redress the alleged wrongdoing). Furthermore, individual actions arising out of the same operative facts would unduly burden the courts and could result in inconsistent results, which may be avoided by class certification.

B. The Court Should Preliminarily Approve the Settlement Because It Is a Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable Compromise of Disputed Wage Claims in View of Defendant’s Potential Liability Exposure and the Risks of Continued Litigation

California courts favor settlement. See, e.g., Stambaugh v. Superior Court, 62 Cal. App. 3d 231, 236 (1976). Unlike most settlements, class action settlements involve a court approval process that exists to prevent fraud, collusion, and unfairness to class members. Malibu Outrigger Bd. of Governors v. Superior Court, 103 Cal.App.3d 573, 578-579 (1980). This approval process consists of preliminary settlement approval, notice being given to class members, and a final fairness and approval hearing being held at which class members may be heard with respect to the settlement. Id. For the reasons discussed below, this Court should preliminarily approve the Settlement, allow the Parties to give notice to the Class as proposed, and schedule a final fairness and final approval hearing.

1. Class Action Settlements Are Subject to Review and Approval.

Any settlement of class litigation must be reviewed and approved by the presiding court. Rules of Court, Rule 3.769(a). Approval occurs in two steps: (1) an early (preliminary) review by the trial court and (2) a subsequent (final) review after notice has been distributed to the class members. The

1 Preliminary Approval Hearing and Final Approval Hearing coincide with these two steps. The present
2 motion seeks preliminary approval and the setting of a Final Approval Hearing.

3 To evaluate a settlement, the trial court must receive “basic information about the nature and 4 magnitude of the claims in question and the basis for concluding that the consideration being paid for the 5 release of those claims represents a reasonable compromise.” Kullar v. Foot Locker Retail, Inc., 168 Cal.
6 App. 4th 116, 133 (2008). However, the record need not contain an explicit statement of the maximum 7 theoretical amount that the class could recover:

8 Greenwell misunderstands Kullar, apparently interpreting it to require the record in all 9 cases to contain evidence in the form of an explicit statement of the maximum amount 10 the Plaintiffs class could recover if it prevailed on all its claims—a number which 11 appears nowhere in the record of this case. But Kullar does not, as Greenwell claims, require any such explicit statement of value; it requires a record which allows “an understanding of the amount that is in controversy and the realistic range of outcomes of the litigation.”

12 Munoz v. BCI Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Los Angeles, 186 Cal. App. 4th 399, 409 (2010).

13 2. The Parties Reached the Settlement Through Arms’ Length Negotiations
14 Between Experienced Counsel with the Assistance of a Highly Qualified 15 Mediator After Sufficient Data Was Exchanged to Evaluate Settlement.

16 A settlement is presumptively fair where it is reached through arms’ length bargaining, based on 17 sufficient discovery and investigation to allow counsel and the court to act intelligently, counsel is 18 experienced in similar litigation, and the percentage of objectors is small.² Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1802;
19 In re Microsoft I-V Cases, 135 Cal. App. 4th 706, 723 (2006); 7-Eleven Owners for Fair Franchising v.
20 Southland Corp., 85 Cal. App. 4th 1135, 1146 (2000). In deciding whether to approve a settlement, a 21 trial court has broad powers to determine whether it is fair under the circumstances of the case. See, e.g.,
22 Mallick v. Superior Court, 89 Cal. App. 3d 434, 438 (1979). In exercising these powers, the overriding 23 concern is to ensure that a proposed settlement is “fair, adequate, and reasonable.” Dunk, at 1801, 24 quoting Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n of San Francisco, 688 F.2d 615, 625 (9th Cir. 1982).

25 Relevant factors in making this determination, include, but are not limited to:

26
27 ² Because the fourth prerequisite for the presumption to arise cannot be addressed until the final 28 approval hearing, only the first three prerequisites are relevant at this preliminary stage of the settlement approval process.

[T]he complexity and likely duration of further litigation, the risk of maintaining class action status through trial, the amount offered in settlement, the extent of discovery completed and the state of the proceedings, the experience and views of counsel, the presence of a governmental participant, and the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement.

Id. These factors require balancing, are non-exhaustive, and, as such, trial courts should tailor the factors considered to each case and give due regard to “what is otherwise a private consensual agreement between the parties.” Id.

Here, the Settlement resulted from thorough, arms’ length negotiations between experienced counsel with the assistance of highly regarded mediator. (Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 8-9.) With respect to the claims at issue in this case, Plaintiffs obtained data from Defendant and then carefully reviewed that information. Counsel for Plaintiffs also examined relevant policies in detail about their work experiences and Defendant’s practices and Defendant’s financial data.

Based on the totality of that review, Plaintiffs estimated the potential exposure and then estimated risk factors to adjust the reasonable expected outcome. The investigation and discovery that Plaintiffs’ counsel conducted were sufficient to provide them with enough information to intelligently evaluate the estimated exposure in this action for purposes of negotiating the Settlement in view of the risks discussed below and are also sufficient to allow this Court to do the same. See, e.g., Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc., 91 Cal. App. 4th 224, 245 (2001).

3. The Settlement Represents a Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable Compromise of Class Members’ Claims Based on Defendant’s Estimated Liability Exposure Given the Risks Continued Litigation Would Entail.

A settlement is not judged against what might have been recovered had a Plaintiffs prevailed at trial and does not have to provide 100% of damages sought to be fair and reasonable. “In the context of a settlement agreement, the test is not the maximum amount Plaintiffs might have obtained at trial on the complaint, but rather whether the settlement is reasonable under all of the circumstances.” Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 250. Accordingly, because settlements involve compromise, even one that provides for substantially narrower relief than would likely be obtained if the suit were successfully litigated can be reasonable given that “the public interest may indeed be served by a voluntary settlement in which each side gives ground in the interest of avoiding litigation.” Id., quoting Air Line Stewards & Stewardesses

1 Ass'n, Local 550 v. American Airlines, Inc., 455 F.2d 101, 109 (7th Cir. 1972).

2 With respect to the claims asserted on behalf of the Class in this case, there are serious risks that 3 support the reduced compromise amount. These risks include, but are not limited to: (i) the risk that 4 Plaintiffs would be unable to establish liability for unpaid straight time or overtime wages, see Duran v.
5 US Bank Nat'l Ass'n, 59 Cal. 4th 1, 39 & n. 33 (2014) ("Duran"), citing Dilts v. Penske Logistics, LLC
6 2014 WL 205039 (S.D. Cal. 2014); (ii) the risk that Defendant's meal and rest period policies might not
7 ultimately support class certification or a class-wide liability finding, see Duran, 59 Cal. 4th at 14, n. 28
8 (citing Court of Appeal decisions favorable on class certification issue without expressing opinion as to 9 ultimate viability of proposition); (iii) the risk that uncertainties pertaining to the ultimate legality of 10 Defendant's policies and practices could preclude class-wide awards of statutory penalties under Labor
11 Code §§ 203 and 226(e); (iv) the risk that individual differences between Class Members could be 12 construed as pertaining to liability and not solely to damages, see Duran, 59 Cal. 4th at 19; (v) the risk
13 that any civil penalties award under the PAGA could be reduced by the Court in its discretion, see Labor
14 Code § 2699(e)(1); (vi) the risk that class treatment could be deemed improper as to one or more claims,
15 except for settlement purposes; (vii) the risk that lengthy appellate litigation could ensue, and (viii) the 16 risk that due to Defendant's cashflow issues Defendant will not be able to cover class certification and 17 trial costs and fund settlement (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 15.) These risks are non-exhaustive.

18 In light of the uncertainties of protracted litigation, the settlement amount reflects a fair and 19 reasonable recovery for the Class Members. (Tunyan Decl. ¶¶ 12-19.) The settlement amount is, of 20 course, a compromise figure. (Tunyan Decl. ¶ 16.) By necessity it took into account risks related to 21 liability, damages, and the defenses asserted by Defendant and Defendant's financial condition. (Id.)
22 Moreover, each Class Member will be given the opportunity to opt-out of the Settlement, allowing those 23 who feel they have claims that are greater than the benefits they can receive under this Settlement to 24 pursue their own claims. (Id.) For the approximately 155 members of the Class, the average gross
25 recovery including PAGA individual payment is at least $1,167.74 per class member, and the estimated 26 average net recovery for each Class Member including PAGA individual payment is approximately 27 $457.53. (Id.) Given that Defendant could challenge certification and liability, this is a significant sum to 28 have achieved in settlement. Moreover, a Class Member who worked a greater number of weeks for

1 Defendant will receive a larger share of the Settlement than a Class Member who worked for a shorter
2 amount of time during the class period. (Id.)

3 After analyzing the claims in this matter, Plaintiffs have concluded that the value of this 4 Settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 17.) The Gross Settlement Amount of 5 $181,000.00 is about 66.4% of the $272,735.01 estimate of risk-adjusted recovery (excluding interest) at 6 this stage in the litigation. On that basis, it would be unwise to pass up this settlement opportunity. This 7 assessment is based on a carefully constructed model of the current fair value of the case, using estimated 8 risks, average wage rates, numbers of employees, and the amount of time covered by the class period.
9 (Id.) The maximum calculated reasonable exposure is $1,353,008.86, including PAGA penalties. (Id.)

- 10 • A reasonably estimated exposure for unpaid wages for unlawful rounding was 11 calculated, with the assistance of an expert, to be approximately $10,914.00. However,
12 with the risk factor discounts for certification and liability proof, the value of that claim
13 is estimated by Plaintiffs's counsel to be approximately $6,111.84, assuming 14 certification probability of 80% and merits success at 70%.
- 15 • A reasonably estimated exposure for unpaid wages for the off-the clock work was 16 calculated, with the assistance of an expert, to be approximately $168,763.00. However,
17 with the risk factor discounts for certification and liability proof, the value of that claim
18 is estimated by Plaintiffs's counsel to be approximately $33,752.60, assuming 19 certification probability of 40% and merits success at 30%.
- 20 • A reasonably estimated exposure for rest break violations over the class period was 21 calculated at $407,488.67 with chances of certification and proof of liability (50% and 22 40% respectively) for a risk-adjusted exposure of $81,497.73.
- 23 • A reasonably estimated exposure for meal break violations over the class period was 24 calculated at $168,763.00, with chances of certification and liability risks (50% and 40% 25 respectively) resulting in a risk-adjusted exposure of $33,752.60.
- 26 • Risk-adjusted penalty recoveries for wage statement and Labor Code § 203 penalties 27 with chances of certification and liability risks (50% and 20% respectively) were 28 estimated to be approximately $7,666.67 and $6,783.64, respectively, on maximum exposures of $76,666.67 and $67,836.43, respectively.

- A reasonably estimated exposure for unreimbursed expenses over the class period was calculated at $80,265.00, with chances of certification and liability risks (80% and 70% respectively) resulting in a risk-adjusted exposure of $44,948.40.
- Performing risk-adjusted valuations for all claims yields a total value in the range of $205,121.32, excluding PAGA.³ (Id.)
- PAGA penalties were calculated as having a maximum realistic exposure of $338,071.43, but a risk adjusted value of $67,614.29, after factoring in risks of reduction in penalties pursuant to Court discretion and the high risk of the inability to prove violations for all aggrieved employees.

The concurrently filed Declaration of Lilit Tunyan sets forth claim valuation in additional detail. (See, Tunyan Decl., ¶ 17.)

This result here is fully supportable as reasonable. First, it is important to recognize the wilfulness finding required for Labor Code §§ 203 and 226 is challenging to establish. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 18.) Second, rest break and meal period claims have been challenging to certify for many years, even after Brinker. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 18.) Third, the certification rates in California are lower than conventional wisdom holds. See, H. Scott Leviant, Second Interim Report on class actions in California sheds new light on certification (February 19, 2010), www.thecomplexlitigator.com, available at <http://www.thecomplexlitigator.com/post-data/2010/2/19/second-interim-report-on-class-actions-in-california-sheds-n.html>; see also, Findings of the Study of California Class Action Litigation, 2000-2006, available at <http://www.courtinfo.ca.gov/reference/documents/class-action-lit-study.pdf> (finding, at page 5, and in Table 9, at page 15, that only 21.4% of all class actions were certified either as part of a settlement or as part of a contested certification motion).

Here, the estimated certification probabilities are above the average rate at which cases were ³ In a sense, it is nonsensical to assign specific percentages to future events, but it does provide a specific method for attempting to reduce the concept of “very high risk” or “high risk” to a quantifiable amount. Certification of a claim is typically a binary event. One does not obtain a 20% certification; a claim is either certified or it is not. But the current expected value is best quantified by applying a risk reduction, based on the total experience of counsel.

certified in California over the study years, based upon data available through the California Courts websites. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 18.) In sum, well under 20% of all cases filed as proposed class actions are ultimately certified by way of a contested motion. (Id.) The recovery is roughly 13% of the maximum theoretical recovery (estimated to be approximately $1,353,008.86, including PAGA), which falls within the expected outcome under the likelihood of success metric. (Id.) It would also be appropriate to evaluate the result by examining only the premium wages at issue (approximately $790,169.33, with no risk reduction), excluding penalties and interest. This Settlement achieves the goals of the litigation.

4. The Proposed Method for Allocating Settlement Funds Is Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable.

The proposed method of allocating the Net Settlement to Class Members also is fair and reasonable. As noted, the parties agreed to allocate the Settlement Fund between all Class Members based on time worked by the Class Member during the Class Period, in relation to the total amount of time worked by all participating Class Members collectively during the class period. This proposed method is fair and reasonable because each Class Member's actual potential damages vary based on the number of workweeks he or she actually worked (e.g., Lab. Code § 226.7 provides for an extra hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of pay for each violation, resulting in a higher potential damage when a higher number of incidents occur). A Class Member who worked a greater number of weeks for Defendant will receive a larger payment under the Settlement than a Class Member who worked for a shorter amount of time during the relevant period. (Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 10, 16.)

5. The Proposed Enhancement Awards to Plaintiffs Are Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable and Warrants Preliminary Approval.

The proposed enhancement payments to Plaintiffs are intended to recognize the substantial initiative and significant efforts on behalf of the Class. Courts routinely approve incentive awards to compensate named Plaintiffs for the services they provide and the risks they incur during class action litigation, often in much higher amounts than that sought here. See, e.g., Bell v. Farmers Ins. Exchange, 115 Cal. App. 4th 715, 726 (2004) (upholding "service payments" to named Plaintiffs for their efforts in bringing the case); Van Vranken v. Atlantic Richfield Co., 901 F. Supp. 294 (N.D.Cal. 1995) (approving a $50,000 enhancement award). Plaintiffs contributed time to the prosecution of this matter, including

1 assistance prior to the mediation with discovery, information and substantial time conferring with 2 counsel over the course of this litigation and before it was filed. (Rodriguez Decl., ¶¶ 5-20; Tovar Decl.,
3 ¶¶ 5-20; Tunyan Decl., ¶ 32.) The enhancement also recognizes the considerable risks Plaintiffs
4 undertook on behalf of the Class to be personally liable for all costs incurred regardless of the success of 5 the litigation or class certification, as well as the personal risk of facing intrusive discovery and potential
6 disclosure to future employers that Plaintiffs sued a former employer, making future employment 7 prospects uncertain.

8 6. The Proposed Award of Attorneys’ Fees and Costs Is Also Fair, Adequate, 9 and Reasonable and Merits Preliminary Approval.

10 The California Supreme Court removed any lingering doubt about the use of the percentage of 11 the fund method to award attorney’s fees in California Courts:

12 We join the overwhelming majority of federal and state courts in holding that when 13 class action litigation establishes a monetary fund for the benefit of the class members, 14 and the trial court in its equitable powers awards class counsel a fee out of that fund, the 15 court may determine the amount of a reasonable fee by choosing an appropriate
16 percentage of the fund created. The recognized advantages of the percentage method—17 including relative ease of calculation, alignment of incentives between counsel and the 18 class, a better approximation of market conditions in a contingency case, and the 19 encouragement it provides counsel to seek an early settlement and avoid unnecessarily
20 prolonging the litigation (See pt. I, ante; Lealao, supra, 82 Cal.App.4th at pp. 48–49, 97
21 Cal.Rptr.2d 797; Rawlings v. Prudential–Bache Properties, Inc., supra, 9 F.3d at p.
22 516)—convince us the percentage method is a valuable tool that should not be denied 23 our trial courts.

24 Laffitte v. Robert Half Intern. Inc., 1 Cal. 5th 480, 503 (2016).⁴ Thus, this Court may and, as strongly 25 encouraged by the California Supreme Court, should award attorney’s fees to Plaintiffs’ counsel based 26 upon the percentage of the fund methodology.

27 Setting Laffitte aside, whether the once-again-confirmed percentage of the fund method or the 28 lodestar method is used, the outcome is roughly the same: “Empirical studies show that, regardless whether the percentage method or the lodestar method is used, fee awards in class actions average around one-third of the recovery.” Chavez v. Netflix, Inc., 162 Cal. App. 4th 43, 47 n. 11 (2008), quoting

⁴ The Supreme Court also corrected the misconception that Dunk should be viewed as expressing doubt about the use of the percentage method: “The Dunk court, while finding the percentage method inapplicable to the settlement before it due to the lack of a readily valued common fund, did not purport to bar its usage generally in common fund cases.” Laffitte, 1 Cal. 5th at 501.

1 Shaw v. Toshiba America Information Systems, Inc., 91 F.Supp.2d 942, 972 (E.D. Tex. 2000). This is
2 also consistent with Plaintiffs’ counsels’ experience in these types of cases. Here, Plaintiffs’ attorneys
3 intend to request attorneys’ fees of up to $60,333.33 (one-third of the GSA), and costs capped at $22,000
4 (which includes payment for mediation, filing fees, and other standard expenses). (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 31.)
5 Given the efforts and risks involved in this case, as well as the results achieved, these amounts are within 6 the range of reasonableness and warrant preliminary approval.

7 7. The Proposed Payment to the Administrator Is Fair and Reasonable

8 In deciding whether to approve a proposed settlement, a trial court must determine if the 9 proposed settlement is fair under the circumstances of the case. Mallick, 89 Cal.App.3d at 438. In 10 exercising this power, the overriding concern is to ensure that a proposed settlement is “fair, adequate,
11 and reasonable.” Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801 (internal quotations omitted). ILYM GROUP, Inc., 12 which has been selected due to its competitive bid, estimates that administration can be performed for 13 $6,500.00 flat fee which includes two settlement distributions. In counsel’s experience, based on similar 14 wage-and-hour actions, an estimated cost of $6,500.00 is a fair and reasonable amount for administration
15 fees and should be preliminarily approved. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 33.)

16 8. The Proposed Class Notice Complies with Rule 3.766(d) and (e)

17 Notice requirements are set forth in Rules of Court, Rule 3.766. In determining the manner of 18 the notice, the court must consider the interests of the class, the type of relief requested, the stake of the 19 individual class members, the cost of notifying class members, the resources of the parties, the possible
20 prejudice to class members who do not receive notice, and the res judicata effect on class members.
21 Rules of Court, Rule 3.766(e).

22 a) The Notice Procedure Satisfies Due Process

23 Plaintiffs request that the Court approve the proposed plan for giving notice to the Class and 24 administering the Settlement. The notice process is set forth in the Settlement. The standard for 25 determining the adequacy of notice is whether the notice has “a reasonable chance of reaching a 26 substantial percentage of the class members.” Cartt v. Sup. Ct., 50 Cal.App.3d 960, 974 (1975).
27 California law vests the Court with broad discretion in fashioning an appropriate notice program. Cartt,
28 50 Cal. App. 3d at 973-74. There is no statutory or due process requirement that all class members

1 receive actual notice, but in this matter, the Class Members will receive direct mailed notice. Direct mail
2 notice to Class Members' last known address is the best possible notice under the circumstances.
3 Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306 (1950).

4 As the Court of Appeal has explained, "[t]he notice given should have a reasonable chance of 5 reaching a substantial percentage of the Class Members" Cartt, 50 Cal. App. 3d at 974. For class
6 claims "for money damages or similar relief at law, notice sent by first class mail to the last known
7 address of each member of the Plaintiffs class is sufficient." Phillips Petroleum Co. v. Shutts, 472 U.S.
8 797, 811 (1985). Here, the proposed procedure includes safeguards, including, but not limited to,
9 searches for address changes and the re-mailing of returned notices after skip traces. As such, the 10 proposed procedure provides a reasonable chance that Class members will receive notice.

11 b) The Notice is Accurate and Informative

12 The proposed Notice of Class Action Settlement should be approved for dissemination to the 13 Class Members. It will be disseminated through direct mail to the last known address for each Class 14 Member. It informs the Class Members of the terms of the settlement and their right to be excluded from 15 the Settlement. If there are Class Members who wish to object to this proposed class action settlement, 16 they will have the opportunity to file their objections and be heard at the Final Approval Hearing.

17 Rule 3.769(f) of the Rules of Court provides as follows:

18 If the court has certified the action as a class action, notice of the final approval hearing
19 must be given to the class members in the manner specified by the court. The notice 20 must contain an explanation of the proposed settlement and procedures for class members to follow in filing written objections to it and in arranging to appear at the settlement hearing and state any objections to the proposed settlement.

21 Rules of Court, rule 3.769(f).

22 The Notice also fulfills the requirement of neutrality in class notices. 3 NEWBERG § 8.39. It
23 summarizes the proceedings and the terms and conditions of the proposed Settlement, in an informative
24 and coherent manner, in compliance with the Manual for Complex Litigation ("MANUAL"), (2d Ed.
25 1993), which states that "the notice should be accurate, objective, and understandable to Class Members .
26 . ." MANUAL, § 30.211. It makes clear that the Settlement does not constitute an admission of liability
27 by the Defendant and recognizes that this Court has not ruled on the merits. It also states that the final 28 settlement approval decision has yet to be made. Accordingly, the Notice complies with the standards of 1 fairness, completeness, and neutrality required of a combined settlement-certification class notice.

2 Upon the Court's approval, the Notice of Class Action Settlement will be mailed by the 3 Administrator to each Class Member, in both English and Spanish.

4 9. The PAGA Allocation is Reasonable

5 The PAGA allocation is reasonable because the settlement of the underlying wage and hour
6 claims is robust and serves the deterrent purpose of the PAGA statute. O'Connor v. Uber Technologies,
7 Inc., 201 F.Supp.3d 1110, 1135 (N.D. Cal. 2016) ("By providing fair compensation to the class members
8 as employees and substantial monetary relief, a settlement not only vindicates the rights of class 9 members as employees, but may have a deterrent effect upon the defendant employer and other 10 employers, an objective of PAGA."); see also Visceral v. Mistras Group, 2016 WL 5907869 *9 (N.D.
11 Cal. 2016) ("Applying O'Connor's sliding scale approach, settlement of the PAGA claim may be 12 substantially reduced below its standalone settlement value without sacrificing its statutory purposes
13 because the non PAGA settlement is relatively substantial.")

14 In addition, there is no evidence that a court or a commissioner had informed Defendant that its 15 conduct violated the Labor Code. Amaral v. Cintas Corp., 163 Cal. App. 4th 1157, 1209 (2008); Willis v.
16 Xerox Bus. Servs., LLC, 2013 WL 6053831, *7-8 (E.D. Cal. 2013) ("Under California law, courts have 17 held that employers are not subject to heightened penalties for subsequent violations until and unless a 18 court or commissioner notified the employer that it is in violation of the Labor Code.").

19 Finally, the PAGA allocation is fair. The LWDA is receiving $11,250. PAGA Employees are 20 receiving $3,750 and Class Members are receiving, net, an estimated $70,916.67 for the releases for 21 eight theories of recovery (including the $3,750 as the aggrieved employees' share of the PAGA 22 Allocation). An allocation to the LWDA equal to 15.9% of the Net Settlement Amount is not unfair and 23 satisfies the policies underlying California's wage and hour laws.

24 VI. THE COURT SHOULD SCHEDULE A FINAL FAIRNESS HEARING

25 The last step in the settlement approval process is the fairness hearing, where the Court makes a 26 final determination about the propriety of settlement. Plaintiffs request that the fairness hearing in this 27 case be scheduled for about 140 days after issuance of the Court's Order granting preliminary approval
28 of the Settlement. Under the Settlement, Defendant will have twenty (20) days to provide the mailing

1 data to the Settlement Administrator, which will then have fourteen (14) days to mail out class notice.
2 Class Members have sixty (60) days after mailing of the notice to submit exclusions or objections (with a
3 14-day extension available for late-returned and re-mailed notices). Therefore, Plaintiffs propose a final 4 approval hearing scheduled for the first available hearing date that is about 140 days after preliminary
5 approval is granted.

6 VII. CONCLUSION

7 For all the foregoing reasons, because the Class meets the requirements for certification, because 8 the Settlement bears all requisite indicia of fairness, reasonableness, and adequacy, and because the 9 proposed notice procedure and forms comport with Rule 3.766 and due process, this Court should grant
10 this Motion for Preliminary Approval, adopt the [Proposed] Order Granting Preliminary Approval of 11 Class Action Settlement submitted herewith, and schedule a Final Fairness Hearing.
