Attorneys for Plaintiffs

SUMMONS ISSUED

Per local Rule, This case is assigned to Judge Treat, Charles S, for all purposes.

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
FOR THE COUNTY OF CONTRA COSTA

HASAN ALJANABI and MICHAEL YOUNG, on behalf of the State of California and other
aggrieved persons,

Plaintiffs,

v.

AMERICAN AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION
OF NORTHERN CALIFORNIA, NEVADA &
UTAH, a California Corporation; and DOES 1 through 10, inclusive,

Defendants.

Case No.: C23-01578

PAGA REPRESENTATIVE ACTION COMPLAINT:

1. Civil Penalties Under PAGA [Cal. Lab.
Code § 2699, et seq.]

1 Plaintiffs Hasan Aljanabi and Michael Young (“Plaintiffs”), based upon facts that either 2 have evidentiary support or are likely to have evidentiary support after a reasonable opportunity 3 for further investigation and discovery, alleges as follows:

4 INTRODUCTION & PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

5 1. Plaintiffs brings this action against Defendant AMERICAN AUTOMOBILE
6 ASSOCIATION OF NORTHERN CALIFORNIA, NEVADA & UTAH and DOES 1 through 10 7 (AMERICAN AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION OF NORTHERN CALIFORNIA, NEVADA &
8 UTAH and DOES 1 through 10 are collectively referred to as “Defendants”) for civil penalties
9 under the Private Attorneys General Act of 2004, California Labor Code §§ 2698 et seq. (“PAGA”)
10 stemming from Defendants’ failure to pay for all hours worked (including minimum wages, 11 straight time wages, and overtime wages), failure to provide meal periods, failure to authorize and 12 permit rest periods, failure to pay all earned wages twice per month, failure to maintain accurate 13 records of hours worked and meal periods, failure to timely pay final wages, failure to furnish 14 accurate wage statements, and failure to indemnify for necessary expenditures or losses.

15 2. For over 50 years, California’s courts and legislature have recognized that this 16 State’s wage-and-hour laws serve a compelling public interest of fostering a stable job market.
17 Wages are not ordinary debts. Because of the economic position of the average worker and his or 18 her family, it is essential to the public welfare that employers obey the wage-and-hour laws so that 19 employees are promptly paid the minimum/overtime wages that the Legislature has required for 20 employees. So fundamental are California’s wage-and-hour laws that the Legislature has 21 criminalized certain types of violations. In extending extra protection to deter violations of these 22 underlying statutes—since Plaintiffs are not seeking general and/or special damages, restitution, 23 or other damages other than civil penalties—California has enacted the PAGA to permit an 24 individual to bring an action for PAGA penalties only, which is the precise and sole nature of this 25 action.

26 3. All California employees during the relevant statutes of limitations who are or were 27 harmed by Defendants’ illegal practices are “Aggrieved Employees.” The Aggrieved Employees 28 worked for Defendants as hourly-paid or non-exempt employees within the applicable statutory 1 period.

2 4. Plaintiffs bring this action against Defendants seeking only to recover penalties on 3 behalf of all Aggrieved Employees that worked for Defendants, and on behalf of the State of 4 California. Plaintiffs do not seek to recover anything other than penalties as permitted by California 5 Labor Code Section 2699 at this time. To the extent that statutory violations are mentioned for 6 wage violations, Plaintiffs do not seek underlying general and/or special damages for those 7 violations, but simply penalties as permitted by California Labor Code Section 2699, declaratory 8 relief, and injunctive relief for themselves, and all Aggrieved Employees as permitted by the 9 PAGA.

10 5. Defendants own/owned and operate/operated an industry, business, and 11 establishment within the State of California, including Contra Costa County. As such and based 12 upon all the facts and circumstances incident to Defendants' business in California, Defendants are 13 subject to the California Labor Code, Wage Orders issued by the Industrial Welfare Commission 14 ("IWC"), and the California Business & Professions Code.

15 6. On information and belief, Defendants, and each of them were on actual and 16 constructive notice of the improprieties alleged herein and intentionally refused to rectify their 17 unlawful policies. Defendants' violations, as alleged above, during all relevant times herein were 18 willful and deliberate.

19 7. At all relevant times, Defendants were and are legally responsible for all of the 20 unlawful conduct, policies, practices, acts and omissions as described in each and all of the 21 foregoing paragraphs as the employer of Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees. Further, 22 Defendants are responsible for each of the unlawful acts or omissions complained of herein under 23 the doctrine of "respondeat superior".

24 THE PARTIES

25 A. Plaintiffs

26 8. Plaintiff HASAN ALJANABI is a resident of Contra Costa County, California who 27 worked for Defendants in Contra Costa County, California as a non-exempt employee from 28 approximately February 2022 to October 2022.

1 9. Plaintiff MICHAEL YOUNG is a resident of Santa Cruz County, California who 2 worked for Defendants in Santa Clara County, California as a non-exempt employee from 3 approximately November 2021 to December 2022.

4 B. Defendants

5 10. Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based upon that information and belief
6 alleges, that AMERICAN AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION OF NORTHERN CALIFORNIA, 7 NEVADA & UTAH is, and at all times herein mentioned, was:

8 (a) A business entity conducting business in numerous counties throughout the 9 State of California, including Sacramento County; and 10 (b) The former employer of Plaintiffs and the current and/or former employer 11 of the Aggrieved Employees because Defendant AMERICAN 12 AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION OF NORTHERN CALIFORNIA, 13 NEVADA & UTAH suffered and permitted Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved 14 Employees to work, and/or controlled their wages, hours, or working 15 conditions.

16 11. Plaintiffs do not know the true names or capacities of the persons or entities sued 17 herein as Does 1-10, inclusive, and therefore sue said Defendants by such fictitious names. Each 18 of the Doe Defendants was in some manner legally responsible for the damages suffered by 19 Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees as alleged herein. Plaintiffs will amend this complaint to 20 set forth the true names and capacities of these Defendants when they have been ascertained, 21 together with appropriate charging allegations, as may be necessary.

22 12. At all times mentioned herein, the Defendants named as Does 1-10, inclusive, and 23 each of them, were residents of, doing business in, availed themselves of the jurisdiction of, and/or 24 injured a significant number of the Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees in the State of 25 California.

26 13. Plaintiffs are informed and believe and thereon allege that at all relevant times each 27 Defendant, directly or indirectly, or through agents or other persons, employed Plaintiffs and the 28 other employees and exercised control over their wages, hours, and working conditions. Plaintiffs

1 are informed and believe and thereon allege that, at all relevant times, each Defendant was the 2 principal, agent, partner, joint venturer, officer, director, controlling shareholder, subsidiary, 3 affiliate, parent corporation, successor in interest and/or predecessor in interest of some or all of 4 the other Defendants, and was engaged with some or all of the other Defendants in a joint enterprise
5 for profit, and bore such other relationships to some or all of the other Defendants so as to be liable 6 for their conduct with respect to the matters alleged below. Plaintiffs are informed and believe and 7 thereon allege that each Defendant acted pursuant to and within the scope of the relationships 8 alleged above, that each Defendant knew or should have known about, and authorized, ratified, 9 adopted, approved, controlled, aided, and abetted the conduct of all other Defendants.

10 ALLEGATIONS COMMON TO ALL CAUSES OF ACTION

11 14. During Plaintiffs' employment for Defendants, Defendants paid Plaintiffs an hourly 12 wage and classified Plaintiffs as non-exempt from overtime. Defendants typically scheduled 13 Plaintiffs to work five days in a workweek, with Plaintiffs working overtime.

14 15. Throughout Plaintiffs' employment, Defendants committed numerous labor code 15 violations under state law. As discussed below, Plaintiffs' experience working for Defendants was 16 typical and illustrative.

17 A. Failure to Pay for All Hours Worked, Including Minimum Wages, Straight 18 Time Wages, and Overtime Wages

19 16. Under California law, an employer must pay for all hours worked by an employee.
20 "Hours worked" is the time during which an employee is subject to the control of an employer and 21 includes all the time the employee is suffered or permitted to work, whether or not required to do 22 so.

23 17. Labor Code § 510 provides that employees in California shall not be employed more 24 than eight hours in any workday or forty (40) hours in a workweek unless they receive additional 25 compensation beyond their regular wages in amounts specified by law.

26 18. Labor Code §§ 1194 and 1198 also provide that employees in California shall not 27 be employed more than eight hours in any workday unless they receive additional compensation 28 beyond their regular wages in amounts specified by law. Additionally, Labor Code § 1198 states

1 that the employment of an employee for longer hours than those fixed by the IWC is unlawful.

2 19. Throughout the statutory period, Defendants maintained a policy and practice of not 3 paying Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees for all hours worked, including minimum, straight
4 time, and overtime wages. Defendants required Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees to work
5 “off-the-clock”, uncompensated, by, for example, requiring Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved
6 Employees to perform work during legally required meals periods and after their work shifts 7 ended. Some of this unpaid work should have been paid at the overtime rate. In failing to pay for 8 all hours worked Defendants also failed to maintain accurate records of the hours Plaintiffs and the 9 Aggrieved Employees worked.

10 B. Failure to Provide Meal Periods

11 20. Under California law, employers have an affirmative obligation to relieve 12 employees of all duty in order to take their first 30-minute, duty-free meal periods no later than the 13 start of the sixth hour of work in a workday, and to allow employees to take their second 30-minute, 14 duty-free meal period no later than the start of the eleventh hour of work in a workday. Further, 15 employees are entitled to be paid one hour of additional wages for each workday they were not 16 provided with a required meal period(s).

17 21. Despite these legal requirements, Defendants wrongfully failed to provide Plaintiffs 18 and the Aggrieved Employees with their legally mandated 30-minute, uninterrupted, and duty-free 19 meal period. Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees routinely worked through meal periods “off-20 the-clock,” and Defendants frequently paid Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees less than all 21 their work time. Much of this unpaid work should have been paid at the overtime rate. In failing 22 to pay for all hours worked, Defendants also failed to maintain accurate records of the hours 23 Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees worked. Defendants also regularly, but not always, 24 required Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees to work in excess of five consecutive hours a day 25 without providing a 30-minute, uninterrupted, and duty-free meal period for every five hours of 26 work, or without compensating Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees for meal periods that were 27 not provided by the end of the fifth hour of work or tenth hour of work. Instead, Defendants 28 continued to assert control over Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees by requiring, pressuring,

1 or encouraging them to perform work tasks which could not be completed without working in lieu 2 of taking mandatory meal periods, or by denying Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees 3 permission to take a meal period. Defendants also never informed Plaintiffs of his right to, nor 4 permitted him to take, a second meal period when Plaintiffs worked at least ten hours of work in a 5 workday. Accordingly, Defendants' policy and practice was not to provide meal periods to 6 Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees in compliance with California law.

7 22. Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees are thus entitled to be paid one hour of 8 additional wages for each workday he or she was not provided with all required meal period(s).
9 Defendants, however, regularly failed to pay Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees the additional 10 wages to which they were entitled for meal periods that were not provided.

11 C. Failure to Authorize and Permit Rest Periods

12 23. Employers are required by California law to authorize and permit breaks of ten 13 uninterrupted minutes for each four hours of work or major fraction of four hours (i.e. more than 14 two hours). Thus, for example, if an employee's work time is six hours and ten minutes, the 15 employee is entitled to two rest breaks. Each failure to authorize rest breaks as so required is itself 16 a violation of California's rest break laws.

17 24. Throughout the statutory period, Defendants wrongfully failed to authorize and 18 permit Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees to take legally compliant rest periods. Defendants 19 regularly required Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees to work in excess of four consecutive 20 hours a day without Defendants authorizing and permitting them to take a 10-minute, 21 uninterrupted, duty-free rest period for every four hours of work (or major fraction of four hours), 22 or without compensating Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees for rest periods that were not 23 authorized or permitted. Instead, Defendants continued to assert control over Plaintiffs and the 24 Aggrieved Employees by requiring, pressuring, or encouraging them to perform work tasks which 25 could not be completed without working in lieu of taking mandatory rest periods, or by denying 26 Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees permission to take a rest period. Accordingly, Defendants' 27 policy and practice was to not authorize and permit Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees to take 28 rest periods in compliance with California law.

1 25. Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees are thus entitled to be paid one hour of 2 additional wages for each workday he or she was not authorized and permitted to take all required
3 rest periods. Defendants, however, regularly failed to pay Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees 4 the additional wages to which they were entitled for rest periods and that they were not authorized 5 and permitted to take.

6 D. Failure to Pay All Earned Wages Twice Per Month

7 26. Based on its failure to pay Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees for all wages as 8 discussed above, Defendants also violated Labor Code § 204.

9 27. Labor Code § 204 requires employers to pay employees all earned wages two times 10 per month. Throughout the statute of limitations period applicable to this cause of action, 11 employees were entitled to be paid twice a month at their regular rates, including all meal period 12 premium wages owed, rest period premium wages owed, and wages owed for overtime hours 13 worked. However, during all such times, Defendants systematically failed and refused to pay the 14 employees all wages due, and failed to pay those wages twice a month, in that employees were not 15 paid all wages for all meal periods not provided by Defendants, all wages for all rest periods not 16 authorized and permitted by Defendants, and all wages for all hours worked. As a result, 17 Defendants owe employees the legally required wages not paid, and Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved 18 Employees suffered damages in those amounts.

19 E. Failure to Maintain Accurate Records of Hours Worked and Meal Periods

20 28. Plaintiffs seeks penalties under California Labor Code § 1174(d). Pursuant to 21 California Labor Code § 1174.5, any person, including any entity, employing labor who willfully 22 fails to maintain accurate and complete records required by California Labor Code § 1174 is subject 23 to a penalty under § 1174.5. Pursuant to the applicable IWC Order § 7(A)(3), every employer shall 24 keep time records showing when the employee begins and ends each work period. Meal periods 25 and total hours worked daily shall also be recorded

26 29. Defendants, however, failed to maintain accurate records of hours worked and all 27 meal periods taken or missed by Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees.

28 30. Defendants' failure to provide and maintain records required by the California

1 Labor Code and applicable IWC Wage Orders deprived Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees 2 the ability to know, understand and question the accuracy and frequency of meal periods, and the 3 accuracy of their hours worked stated in Defendants' records. Therefore, Plaintiffs and the 4 Aggrieved Employees had no way to dispute the resulting failure to pay wages, all of which 5 resulted in an unjustified economic enrichment to Defendants. As a direct result, Plaintiffs and the 6 Aggrieved Employees have suffered and continue to suffer, substantial losses related to the use 7 and enjoyment of such wages, lost interest on such wages and expenses and attorney's fees in 8 seeking to compel Defendants to fully perform its obligation under state law, all to their respective 9 damage in amounts according to proof at trial. As a result of Defendants' knowing failure to 10 comply with the California Labor Code and applicable IWC Wage Orders, Plaintiffs and the 11 Aggrieved Employees have also suffered an injury in that they were prevented from knowing, 12 understanding, and disputing the wage payments paid to them.

13 F. Failure to Timely Pay All Wages at Termination

14 31. Labor Code §§ 201 and 202 provide that if an employer discharges an employee, 15 the wages earned and unpaid at the time of discharge are due and payable immediately, and that if 16 an employee voluntarily leaves his or her employment, his or her wages shall become due and 17 payable not later than seventy-two (72) hours thereafter, unless the employee has given seventy-18 two (72) hours previous notice of his or her intention to quit, in which case the employee is entitled 19 to his or her wages at the time of quitting.

20 32. Within the applicable statute of limitations, the employment of Plaintiffs and many 21 other Aggrieved Employees ended, i.e., was terminated by quitting or being discharged, and the 22 employment of others will be terminated. However, during the relevant time period, Defendants 23 failed, and continue to fail to pay Plaintiffs and terminated Aggrieved Employees, without 24 abatement, all wages required to be paid by Labor Code sections 201 and 202 either at the time of 25 discharge, or within seventy-two (72) hours of their leaving Defendants' employment. These 26 unpaid wages include wages for unpaid work time (including minimum wages, straight time wages, 27 overtime wages, rest and recovery periods, and other nonproductive time), missed meal period 28 premium wages, and missed rest period premium wages.

1 33. Defendants' conduct violates Labor Code §§ 201 and 202. Labor Code § 203 2 provides that if an employer willfully fails to pay wages owed, in accordance with sections 201 3 and 202, then the wages of the employee shall continue as a penalty wage from the due date, and 4 at the same rate until paid or until an action is commenced; but the wages shall not continue for 5 more than thirty (30) days.

6 34. Accordingly, Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees are entitled to recover from 7 Defendants their additionally accruing wages for each day they were not paid, at their regular 8 hourly rate of pay, up to thirty (30) days maximum pursuant to Labor Code § 203.

9 G. Failure to Furnish Accurate Itemized Wage Statements

10 35. Labor Code § 226(a) provides that every employer shall furnish each of his or her 11 employees an accurate itemized wage statement in writing showing nine pieces of information, 12 including: (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked by the employee, (3) the number of piece-13 rate units earned and any applicable piece rate if the employee is paid on a piece-rate basis, (4) all 14 deductions, provided that all deductions made on written orders of the employee may be aggregated 15 and shown as one item, (5) net wages earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the period for which the 16 employee is paid, (7) the name of the employee and the last four digits of his or her social security 17 number or an employee identification number other than a social security number, (8) the name 18 and address of the legal entity that is the employer, and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect 19 during the pay period and the corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the 20 employee. An employee is presumed to suffer an injury if this information is missing. (Labor Code 21 § 226(e)(2)(B)(iii).)

22 36. The statute further provides: "An employee suffering injury as a result of a knowing 23 and intentional failure by an employer to comply with subdivision (a) is entitled to recover the 24 greater of all actual damages or fifty dollars ($50) for the initial pay period in which a violation 25 occurs and one hundred dollars ($100) per employee for each violation in a subsequent pay period, 26 not to exceed an aggregate penalty of four thousand dollars ($4,000), and is entitled to an award 27 of costs and reasonable attorney's fees." (Labor Code § 226(e)(1).)

28 37. Throughout the statutory period, Defendants failed to furnish Plaintiffs and the 1 Aggrieved Employees with accurate, itemized wage statements showing all applicable hourly rates, 2 and all gross and net wages earned (including correct hours worked, correct wages for meal periods 3 that were not provided in accordance with California law, and correct wages for rest periods that 4 were not authorized and permitted to take in accordance with California law).

5 38. Because Defendants violated Labor Code § 226, Plaintiffs and similarly Aggrieved
6 Employees suffered injury and damage to their statutorily protected rights. Accordingly, Plaintiffs 7 and similarly Aggrieved Employees are entitled to recover from Defendants the greater of their 8 actual damages caused by Defendants' failure to comply with Labor Code § 226(a), or an aggregate 9 penalty not exceeding four thousand dollars ($4,000) dollars per employee.

10 H. Failure to Indemnify for Necessary Expenditures

11 39. Labor Code § 2802(a) provides that employers shall indemnify his or her employees 12 for all necessary business expenditures or losses that have been incurred by the employees in direct 13 discharge of his or her duties. Throughout the statute of limitations period applicable to this cause 14 of action, Defendants wrongfully required Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees to pay expenses 15 that they incurred in direct discharge of their duties for Defendants. Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved 16 Employees regularly paid out-of-pocket for necessary business expenses, including, without 17 limitation, use of personal cell phones. Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees incurred 18 substantial expenses as a direct result of performing their job duties for Defendants, but Defendants 19 failed to indemnify Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees for these employment-related 20 expenses.

21 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

22 (Against all Defendants for Civil Penalties Under the Private Attorneys General Act of 23 2004, Cal. Lab. Code § 2698 et seq.)

24 40. Plaintiffs incorporates by reference and re-alleges all preceding paragraphs as 25 though fully set forth herein.

26 41. At all times herein mentioned, Defendants were subject to the Labor Code of the 27 State of California and the applicable IWC Orders.

28 42. California Labor Code § 2699(a) specifically provides for a private right of action

1 to recover penalties for violations of the Labor Code: “Notwithstanding any other provision of law, 2 any provision of this code that provides for a civil penalty to be assessed and collected by the Labor
3 and Workforce Development Agency or any of its departments, divisions, commissions, boards, 4 agencies, or employees, for a violation of this code, may, as an alternative, be recovered through a 5 civil action brought by an aggrieved employee on behalf of himself and other current or former 6 employees pursuant to the procedures specified in Section 2699.3.”

7 43. Plaintiffs has exhausted their administrative remedies pursuant to California Labor 8 Code § 2699.3. On March 9, 2023, they gave written notice by online filing to the Labor and 9 Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”) and by certified mail to Defendants of the specific 10 provisions of the Labor Code that Defendants have violated against Plaintiffs and current and 11 former Aggrieved Employees, including the facts and theories to support the violations. Plaintiffs 12 also paid the filing fee on March 9, 2023. Plaintiffs’ PAGA case number is LWDA-CM-941040-13 23 (Aljanabi, et al. v. American Automobile Association of Northern California, Nevada & Utah).

14 44. The statute of limitations is tolled while a Plaintiffs exhausts his or her 15 administrative remedies with California’s LWDA prior to suit, which is required by the statute.
16 (See Labor Code § 2699.3(d).)

17 45. More than sixty-five (65) days have elapsed since Plaintiffs provided notice, but the 18 LWDA has not indicated that it intends to investigate Defendants’ Labor Code violations discussed 19 in the notice. Accordingly, Plaintiffs may commence a civil action to recover penalties under Labor 20 Code § 2699 pursuant to § 2699.3 for the violations of the Labor Code described in this Complaint.
21 These penalties include, but are not limited to, penalties under California Labor Code §§ 210, 22 226.3, 1174.5, 1197.1, and 2699(f)(2).

23 46. Based on the conduct described in this Complaint, Plaintiffs are entitled to an award 24 of civil penalties on behalf of the State of California and similarly Aggrieved Employees of 25 Defendants. The exact amount of the applicable penalties, in all, is in an amount to be shown 26 according to proof at trial. These penalties are in addition to all other remedies permitted by law.

27 47. In addition, Plaintiffs seek an award of reasonable attorney’s fees and costs pursuant 28 to Labor Code § 2699(g)(1), which states, “Any employee who prevails in any action shall be entitled to an award of reasonable attorney's fees and costs."

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

Plaintiffs, on behalf of all similarly aggrieved employees, pray for relief and judgment against Defendants, jointly and severally, as follows:

1. That the Court declare, adjudge and decree that Defendants violated the California Labor Code by failing to pay for all hours worked (minimum wages, straight time wages, and overtime wages), failing to provide meal periods, failing to authorize and permit rest periods, failing to pay all earned wages twice per month, failing to maintain accurate records of hours worked and meal periods, failing to timely pay final wages, failing to furnish accurate wage statements, and failing to indemnify for necessary expenditures;

2. An award of civil penalties on behalf of himself and all similarly aggrieved employees pursuant to PAGA;

3. Pre-judgment and post-judgment interest at the maximum rate allowed;

4. Attorneys' fees and costs reasonably incurred;

5. Injunctive and declaratory relief to the extent allowed by PAGA; and,

6. Such other and further relief that the Court deems proper.

Respectfully submitted,
