1 Plaintiff JESUS ARAMBURO, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated and
2 the State of California under the Private Attorneys General Act (“Plaintiff”) brings this FIRST
3 AMENDED CLASS AND REPRESENTATIVE ACTION COMPLAINT against Defendants
4 JACKSONS FOOD STORES, INC. and DOES 1 through 50, inclusive (collectively “Defendants” or 5 “Jacksons Food Stores”), alleging as follows:

6 INTRODUCTION

7 1. This is a class and representative action filed for wage and hour violations of the 8 California Labor Code against Jacksons Food Stores, which owns and operates gas station
9 convenience stores across San Diego County and the State of California.

10 2. Jacksons Food Stores underpaid Plaintiff and class members by failing to include
11 bonuses in the “regular rate” used to calculate and pay overtime, sick wages and meal/rest period 12 premiums.

13 3. As a result, Jacksons Food Stores is liable to Plaintiff and class members for the 14 underlying wages, interest and penalties, including waiting time, late payment of wages, and wage 15 statement penalties, in amounts according to proof.

16 JURISDICTION & VENUE

17 4. Jurisdiction of this action is proper in this Court under Article VI, Section 10 of the 18 California Constitution as the causes of action are premised upon violations of California law.

19 5. The monetary damages and restitution sought exceed the minimal jurisdiction limits of 20 the Superior Court.

21 6. This Court has jurisdiction over Defendants because, upon information and belief,
22 Defendants have sufficient minimum contacts in California, or otherwise intentionally avail
23 themselves to the California economy so as to render the exercise of jurisdiction over them by the 24 California courts consistent with traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

25 7. Venue is proper in this Court under Code of Civil Procedure sections 393(a), 395,
26 and/or 395.5 because, upon information and belief, Defendants conduct business and committed some 27 of the alleged violations in this county.

PARTIES

A. Plaintiff Jesus Aramburo

8. Plaintiff Aramburo is an individual over 18 years of age who worked for Defendants in California as a non-exempt employee from about August 2021 to October 2022. Plaintiff worked as a Cashier and Customer Sales Representative.

9. The State of California, via the Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”), is the real party in interest in this action. (Kim v. Reins Int’l California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal. 5th 73, 81 [The “government entity on whose behalf the plaintiff files suit is always the real party in interest.”])

B. Defendants

10. Defendant Jacksons Food Stores, Inc. is a Nevada corporation that maintains operations and conducts business throughout the State of California, including in this county.

11. The true names and capacities, whether individual, corporate, or otherwise, of the parties sued as DOES 1 through 50, are presently unknown, unascertainable, or uncertain, and are sued by such fictitious names under Code of Civil Procedure section 474. Upon information and belief, each of DOES 1 through 50 constitutes a legal employer or is otherwise legally responsible in some manner for the acts and omissions alleged herein. This Complaint may be amended to reflect their true names and capacities once ascertained.

12. Upon information and belief, Defendants in this action are employers, co-employers, joint employers, and/or part of an integrated employer enterprise, as each of the Defendants exercised control over the wages, hours, and working conditions of the employees, suffered and permitted them to work, and otherwise engaged them as employees under California law.

13. Upon information and belief, at least some of the Defendants have common ownership, common management, interrelationship of operations, and centralized control over labor relations and are therefore part of an integrated enterprise and thus jointly and severally responsible for the acts and omissions alleged herein, including pursuant to Labor Code sections 558, 558.1, and 1197.1.

14. Upon information and belief, Defendants acted in all respects pertinent to this action as an alter-ego, agent, servant, joint employer, joint venturer, co-conspirator, partner, in an integrated enterprise, or in some other capacity on behalf of all other co-defendants, such that the acts and omissions of each defendant may be legally attributable to all others.

CLASS ALLEGATIONS

15. This action is brought individually and on behalf of the following class pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 382:

- a. All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendants in California at any time from four years (plus the additional 178-day statutory tolling period under Emergency Rule 9) prior to the filing of this action through date of class certification.

16. Plaintiff reserves the right to establish various subclass definitions as appropriate at the class certification stage, according to proof.

17. The class is ascertainable and shares a well-defined community of interest in this litigation:

- a. Numerosity: The class is estimated to exceed 50 individuals, although the precise membership of the entire class is unknown at this time. The class is so numerous that joinder of all class members is impracticable. The identities of class members is ascertainable by inspection of Defendants' employment and payroll records.
- b. Typicality: Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the other class members. They were subject to the same policies and practices of Defendants, which resulted in losses to the class. Proof of common unlawful business practices, which Plaintiff experienced, will establish the right of the class to recover on the causes of action alleged herein.
- c. Adequacy: Plaintiff is an adequate class representative; will take all necessary steps to protect the class members' interests adequately and fairly; has no interest antagonistic to other class members; and is represented by attorneys who have substantial experience prosecuting, defending, resolving, and litigating wage and hour class, collective, and representative actions in California state and federal courts.

d. Superiority: A class action is superior to other means for adjudicating this dispute. Individual joinder is impractical. Class treatment will allow for common issues to be resolved in a single forum, simultaneously, and without duplication of effort and expense.

e. Public Policy Considerations: Certification of this lawsuit as a class action advances the State of California's strong public interest in ensuring its approximately millions of employed residents are properly paid the wages they earned for the hours they worked. Class actions provide a mechanism for enforcement of labor laws and allow for vindication of employee rights by unnamed class members.

18. Common questions of law and fact as to the class members predominate over questions affecting only individual members. The common questions of law and fact exist as to whether the employment policies and practices formulated by Defendants and applied to the class members constitute violate California law.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

19. Defendants failed to provide fully compliant meal periods to Plaintiff and class members and failed to pay meal period premiums at the regular rate, as required by Labor Code section 226.7.

20. Plaintiff and class members experienced missed, late, short, and interrupted meal periods due to understaffing and in order to keep up with the high demands of the job. When Plaintiff and class members experienced these noncompliant meal periods, they were entitled to a meal period premium at the regular rate of pay.

21. Defendants underpaid Plaintiff and class members who earned a meal period premium in the same pay period where they earned a store bonus (or other non-excludable forms of remuneration) because these premiums were not paid at the "regular rate of compensation" as the

1 premiums paid did not factor in all forms of remuneration including commissions, bonuses, or other
2 types of remuneration.

3 22. Plaintiff's records show Defendants instead elected to pay class members at an
4 approximate blended rate between the "Regular Hourly" rate and the "Regular Nightshift" rate
5 (calculated by taking the average of the two rates) rather than the regular rate of pay. An illustrative
6 example of this regular rate of pay violation is found on Plaintiff's wage statement from the pay period
7 9/24/2022 to 9/30/2022.

8 23. The failure to pay meal period premiums at the regular rate resulted in an underpayment
9 of meal period premium wages pursuant to Labor Code § 226.7's obligation to pay premiums at the 10 "regular rate of compensation," rather than a lesser hourly rate. See Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel,
11 LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 858, 862.

12 24. Defendants committed the same regular rate of pay violations against Plaintiff and 13 other class members as a matter of common payroll administration and company policy in a manner
14 susceptible to common proof.

15 25. Similarly, Defendants failed to authorize and permit compliant rest periods and failed
16 to pay rest period premiums at the regular rate as required by Labor Code section 226.7.

17 26. Plaintiff and class members experienced interrupted and missed rest periods due to 18 understaffing by Defendants and due to Defendants' unlawful policies. This practice was particularly 19 heightened during night shifts where class members were not afforded to duly take all 10-minute rest 20 periods.

21 27. On information and belief, Defendants had a policy and practice of not paying rest
22 period premiums to employees who were unauthorized from taking rest periods. To the extent
23 Defendants ever paid a rest period premium, Defendants violated Labor Code section 226.7 because 24 such premiums were not paid at the correct regular rate of compensation to class members, which 25 would have factored in bonuses and other forms of compensation.

26 28. Based on Defendants non-complaint policy and practice of miscalculating and 27 underpaying the regular rate of pay applicable to overtime and other premiums, Plaintiff alleges the 28 rest period premiums were equally deficient with respect to payments made to the class members.

29. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and class members overtime at the “regular rate of pay” because they failed to include “store bonuses” and other forms of remuneration into the overtime rate.

30. For each overtime hour worked during the period in which Plaintiff and the class members earned store bonuses or other forms of non-excludable remuneration, Defendants should have (but failed to) pay overtime “at a rate of no less than one and one-half the regular rate of pay for an employee” and “twice the regular rate of pay” for double time hours as required by the plain language of Labor Code section 510(a) and the IWC Wage Orders.

31. An illustrative example of the overtime regular rate of pay violation is found on Plaintiff’s wage statement from the pay period 9/17/2022 to 9/23/2022. Plaintiff’s overtime rates were calculated based on 1.5x Plaintiff’s approximate blended rate, but failed to factor in the bonus Plaintiff earned and Defendants failed to pay overtime at a 1.5x (or 2x, as applicable) multiple of the regular rate of pay.

32. The failure to pay overtime at the regular rate resulted in an underpayment of overtime wages pursuant to Labor Code § 510’s obligation to pay overtime at one and one-half times the regular rate of pay.

33. Defendants committed the same regular rate of pay violations against Plaintiff and other class members as a matter of common payroll administration and company policy in a manner susceptible to common proof.

34. Based on Defendants’ noncompliance with the regular rate of pay requirements applicable to overtime and meal/rest period premiums, Plaintiff alleges on information and belief that the regular rate miscalculation equally applied to paid sick leave with respect to the class, resulting in underpayments of paid sick leave wages.

35. The failure to calculate and pay paid sick leave at one of the lawful rates set forth in Labor Code § 246(1)(1)-(3) and 247 et seq., 248 et seq. was applied as a matter of common policy and practice to class members in those pay period where they earned additional payments, commissions, bonuses, and other forms of non-excludable remuneration and also paid sick leave.

1 36. Defendants had a policy and practice of paying Plaintiff and, on information and belief,
2 class members at the incorrect rate of pay for the shifts they worked. Defendants offered Plaintiff and
3 class members different rates for day and night shifts, where night shifts were paid at a higher rate.

4 37. Specifically, Plaintiff noticed and informed Defendants he was being underpaid as he
5 was being paid day rates for night shifts. On information and belief, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff
6 and class members all wages at the correct rate for all night shifts they completed during their 7 employment.

8 38. Defendants' failure to pay regular and overtime, paid sick leave, and premium
9 payments each period or upon separation of employment, rendered the payments untimely and subject
10 to civil penalties for the violations committed against the class members under Labor Code §§ 201
11 through 203.

12 39. Furthermore, Defendants failed to provide accurate itemized wage statements to the 13 class members each pay period as a result of these policies and practices.

14 40. Specifically, Defendants violated Labor Code section 226(a)(1) and (5) by not listing
15 the correct "gross wages earned" or "net wages earned" on those statements because the amounts listed
16 failed to include and account for the unpaid meal and rest period premiums Plaintiff and class members 17 earned but were not paid.

18 41. Likewise, in violation of Labor Code section 226(a)(9), Defendants failed to state on 19 employee statements each pay period the applicable hourly rates and the number of hours worked at 20 that rate, as Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to employees each pay period
21 (i.e., overtime, sick pay, meal and rest period premiums). The amounts and rates stated are instead 22 depreciated and underpaid, resulting in an inaccurate reflection to the pay stub.

23 42. These wage statement violations created significant confusion among Plaintiff and 24 other class members with respect to what amounts were owed and paid, at what rates, the number of 25 hours worked, and how those amounts were or should be calculated. The wage statements reflect a 26 false statement of earnings and concealed the underlying problems of underpayments of employee
27 wages.

43. Plaintiff is informed, believes, and alleges that Defendants' acts and omissions have knowingly and intentionally caused harm to Plaintiff and the Class. Plaintiff is informed, believes, and alleges that Defendants have engages in systemic violations of the Labor Code and IWC Wage Order by maintaining practices, policies, and customs that are inconsistent with their obligations under California Law.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO PAY ALL OVERTIME WAGES

Violation of Labor Code §§ 510 and 1194

44. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

45. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code §§ 204, 510, 558, 1194, and 1198, which require non-exempt employees be timely paid overtime wages all overtime hours worked, and which further provide a private right of action for an employer's failure to pay all overtime compensation for overtime hours worked.

46. Defendants failed in their affirmative obligation to pay Plaintiff and class members no less than one and one-half times their respective “regular rate of pay” for all hours worked in excess of eight hours in one day, 40 hours in one week, or the first eight hours worked on the seventh day of work in any one workweek, and no less than twice their respective “regular rate of pay” for all hours over 12 hours in one day and any work in excess of eight hours on any seventh day of a workweek for such hours worked, in violation of Labor Code sections 204, 510, 558, 1194, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the “Hours and Days of Work” sections of the applicable orders).

47. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover to the full amount of the unpaid overtime, in addition to interest, statutory and civil penalties, and attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

MEAL PERIOD VIOLATIONS

Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7 and 512

48. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

49. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code §§ 226.7, 558 and 512, which require non-exempt employees be provided complaint meal periods (or meal period premiums in lieu thereof), and which further provide a private right of action for an employer's failure to lawfully provide all meal periods and/or pay meal period premiums at the lawful regular rate of compensation.

50. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to consistently provide Plaintiff and class members compliant, duty-free meal periods of not less than 30 minutes beginning before the fifth hour of hour for each work period of more than five hours per day and a second duty-free meal period of not less than 30 minutes beginning before the tenth hour of hour of work in violation of Labor Code sections 226.7, 512, 558, 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the “Meal Periods” sections of the applicable orders).

51. Further, Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to consistently pay Plaintiff and class members one additional hour of pay at the respective regular rate of compensation for each workday that a fully compliant meal period was not provided, in violation of Labor Code sections 226.7, 512, 558, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the “Meal Periods” sections of the applicable orders).

52. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover to the full amount of the meal period premiums owed, in addition to interest, statutory and civil penalties, and attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

REST PERIOD VIOLATIONS

Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7

53. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

54. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code §§ 226.7 and 516, which require non-exempt employees be authorized to take complaint rest periods (or rest period premiums in lieu thereof), and which further provide a private right of action for an employer's failure to lawfully provide all rest periods and/or pay rest period premiums at the lawful regular rate of compensation.

55. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to consistently authorize and permit Plaintiff and class members to receive compliant, duty-free rest periods of not less than ten (10) minutes for every four hours worked (or major fraction thereof) in violation of Labor Code sections 226.7, 516, 558, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the “Rest Periods” sections of the applicable orders).

56. Further, Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to consistently pay Plaintiff and class members one additional hour of pay at the respective regular rate of compensation for each workday that a fully compliant rest period was not provided, in violation of Labor Code sections 226.7, 516, 558, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO PAY ALL PAID SICK LEAVE WAGES

Violation of Labor Code §§ 200, 218, 246 et seq.

57. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

58. Defendants knowingly and intentionally failed in their affirmative obligation to pay sick leave wages to Plaintiff and the Paid Sick Leave Class in violation of Labor Code section 246 et seq. Paid sick leave earnings constitute wages for purposes of California wage and hour law. (Murphy v. Kenneth Cole Productions, Inc. (2007) 40 Cal.4th 1094, 1103 [“Courts have recognized that ‘wages’ also include those benefits to which an employee is entitled as a part of his or her compensation, including money, room, board, clothing, vacation pay, and sick pay”].)

59. Labor Code section 246(l) governs how Defendants were required to calculate paid sick leave:

[A]n employer shall calculate paid sick leave using any of the following calculations:

(1) Paid sick time for nonexempt employees shall be calculated in the same manner as the regular rate of pay for the workweek in which the employee uses paid sick time, whether or not the employee actually works overtime in that workweek.

(2) Paid sick time for nonexempt employees shall be calculated by dividing the employee's total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee's total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days of employment.

(3) Paid sick time for exempt employees shall be calculated in the same manner as the employer calculates wages for other forms of paid leave time.

60. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the Paid Sick Leave Class their paid sick leave wages at one of the lawful rates set forth in the statute because Defendants failed to include in their sick leave calculation the additional remuneration received by Plaintiff and the Paid Sick Leave Class.

61. Furthermore, to the extent the paid sick leave paid constitutes Covid-related paid sick leave, Defendants knowingly and intentionally failed in their affirmative obligation to pay Covid-19 Supplemental Sick Leave wages to the Paid Sick Leave Class at the correct rate in violation of Labor Code sections 246, 248.1, 248.2, and 248 et seq.

62. Pursuant to Labor Code section 248.1, Defendants were required to provide up to 80 hours of Covid-19 Supplemental Paid Sick Leave to employees for the period of April 20, 2020 to December 31, 2020. Labor Code section 248.2 required Defendants to provide up to 80 hours of Covid-19 Supplemental Paid Sick Leave for the period of January 1, 2021 through at least September 30, 2021. Labor Code section 248.6 extended Covid sick leave protections and requires employers to provide up to 80 hours of Covid-19 Supplemental Paid Sick Leave for the period of January 1, 2022 to September 30, 2022, and may be extended thereafter.

63. Under Labor Code section 248.1, employees must be paid for Covid-19 Supplemental Paid Sick Leave at the highest of the following: (1) the regular rate of pay for the last pay period, (2) state minimum wage, (3) local minimum wage.

64. Under Labor Code section 248.2, non-exempt employees must be paid supplemental paid sick leave according to the highest of the following four methods:

(I) Calculated in the same manner as the regular rate of pay for the workweek in which the covered employee uses COVID-19 supplemental paid sick leave, whether or not the employee actually works overtime in that workweek.

(II) Calculated by dividing the covered employee's total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee's total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days of employment.

(III) The state minimum wage.

(IV) The local minimum wage to which the covered employee is entitled.

65. Labor Code section 248.6 requires employers to pay supplemental sick leave using either method (I) or (II), as identified above.

66. On information and belief, Defendants failed to pay Covid-19 Supplemental Sick Leave in the manner described above because Defendants failed to include in their sick leave calculation the additional remuneration received by the Paid Sick Leave Class.

67. As a result, Defendants violated the Labor Code and are liable to Plaintiff and the Paid Sick Leave Class for underpaid sick leave wages, in addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

UNTIMELY PAYMENT OF WAGES

Violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 210, 218

68. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

69. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code §§ 204, 204b, and 210 which require non-exempt employees be timely paid all wages owed each pay period, and which further provide a private right of action for an employer's failure to comply with this obligation. Labor Code § 218 authorizes individuals to sue directly for wages and penalties due under these sections, including Labor Code § 210(c)'s statutory late payment penalties.

70. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to timely pay all wages, including paid sick leave and meal and rest premiums, earned by Plaintiff and class members twice during each calendar month on days designated in advance by the employer as regular paydays (for employees paid on a non-weekly basis) and on the regularly-scheduled weekly payday weekly employees, if any, in violation of Labor Code sections 204 and 204b and the IWC Wage Orders (the "Minimum Wages" sections of the applicable orders).

71. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the full amount of the unpaid wages, in addition to a statutory penalty in the amount of $100 for the initial violation for each failure to pay each employee and $200 for all subsequent violations and for all willful or intentional violations for each failure to pay each employee, plus 25 percent of the amount unlawfully withheld under provided in Labor Code § 210, in addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

WAGE STATEMENT VIOLATIONS

Violation of Labor Code § 226

72. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

73. This cause of action is brought by the Wage Statement Subclass pursuant to Labor Code § 226(a) which requires non-exempt employees be provided accurate itemized wage statements each pay period, and which further provide a private right of action for an employer's failure to comply with this obligation.

74. Defendants knowingly and intentionally failed in their affirmative obligation provide accurate itemized wage statements to Plaintiff and class members resulting in injury to Plaintiff and class members. Specifically, the wage statements issued to Plaintiff and class members did not accurately state each pay period all of the information required by Labor Code § 226(a)(1)-(9).

75. Defendants' unlawful acts and omissions deprived Plaintiff and class members of accurate itemized wage statements, causing confusion and concealing wage and premium underpayments.

76. As a result, Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the statutory penalty of $50 per employee for the initial pay period in which a violation occurred and $100 per employee for each violation in a subsequent pay period, up to an aggregate penalty of $4,000 per employee, in addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law, including under Labor Code section 226(e).

1 SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

2 WAITING TIME PENALTIES

3 Violation of Labor Code §§ 201 *et seq.

4 77. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

5 78. This cause of action is brought by the Waiting Time Class pursuant to Labor Code
6 §§ 201 through 203, which require an employer to timely pay all wages earned upon termination of 7 employment, and which further provide a private right of action to recover statutory waiting time
8 penalties each day an employer fails to comply with this obligation, up to a maximum of 30 days
9 wages.

10 79. Defendants willfully failed and continue to fail in their affirmative obligation to pay all
11 wages earned and unpaid to Plaintiff and members of the Waiting Time Class immediately upon 12 termination of employment or within 72 hours thereafter for employees who did not provide at least
13 72 hours prior notice of his or her intention to quit, and further failed to pay those sums for 30 days
14 thereafter in violation of Labor Code sections 201 through 203 and the IWC Wage Orders.

15 80. Plaintiff and the Waiting Time Class are entitled to recover to a waiting time penalty
16 for a period of up to 30 days, in addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted 17 by law.

18 EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION

19 UNFAIR COMPETITION

20 Violation of Business and Professions Code §§ 17200 *et seq.

21 81. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

22 82. Defendants have engaged and continue to engage in unfair and/or unlawful business
23 practices in the State of California in violation of California Business and Professions Code § 17200
24 by committing the foregoing wage and hour violations alleged throughout this Complaint.

25 83. Defendants' dependence on these unfair and/or unlawful business practices deprived
26 Plaintiff and continue to deprive other class members of compensation to which they are legally 27 entitled, constitutes unfair and/or unlawful competition, and provides an unfair advantage to 28 Defendants over competitors who have been and/or are currently employing workers in compliance with California's wage and hour laws. These failures constitute unlawful, deceptive, and unfair business acts and practices in violation of Business and Professions Code section 17200 et seq.

84. Plaintiff is a victim of Defendants' unfair and/or unlawful conduct alleged in this Complaint, and Plaintiff, as an individual and on behalf of others similarly situated, seeks full restitution of the moneys as necessary and according to proof to restore all monies withheld, acquired, and/or converted by Defendants pursuant to Business and Professions Code §§ 17203 and 17208.

85. Plaintiff does not have an adequate remedy at law for past or future violations, to the extent the statute of limitations on each of the alleged causes of action do not extend to the four year limitation provided under the UCL or to the extent the underlying Labor Code and IWC Wage Order violations do not provide a private right of action.

86. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to injunctive relief against Defendants, restitution, and other equitable relief to return all funds over which Plaintiff and class members have an ownership interest and to prevent future damage and the public interest under Business and Professions Code § 17200 et seq. Plaintiff and class members are further entitled to recover interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law, including under Code of Civil Procedure § 1021.5.

NINTH CAUSE OF ACTION

CIVIL PENALTIES UNDER THE PRIVATE ATTORNEYS GENERAL ACT

Violation of Labor Code §§ 2698 et seq.

(By Plaintiff on Behalf of the State and the Aggrieved Employees Against All Defendants)

87. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

88. Plaintiff brings this cause of action as a proxy for the State of California on behalf of the following "aggrieved employees" pursuant to the Private Attorneys General Act ("PAGA"), codified as Labor Code section 2698 et seq.:

- a. All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendants in California at any time from one year prior to the postmark date of the initial PAGA notice through date of trial.

1 89. Plaintiff reserves the right to amend, supplement, or add to this description of the 2 aggrieved employees, according to proof.

3 90. The State of California, via the Labor and Workforce Development Agency
4 (“LWDA”), is the real party in interest in this action with respect to this cause of action. (Kim v. Reins
5 Int’l California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal. 5th 73, 81 [The “government entity on whose behalf the plaintiff
6 files suit is always the real party in interest.”])

7 91. Labor Code section 2699(a) provides: “Notwithstanding any other provision of law,,
8 any provision of this code that provides for a civil penalty to be assessed and collected by the Labor
9 and Workforce Development Agency or any of its departments, divisions, commissions, boards,
10 agencies, or employees, for a violation of this code, may, as an alternative, be recovered through a civil 11 action brought by an aggrieved employee on behalf of himself or herself and other current or former 12 employees pursuant to the procedures specified in Section 2699.3. “

13 92. Labor Code section 2699(f) provides: “For all provisions of this code except those for 14 which a civil penalty is specifically provided, there is established a civil penalty for a violation of these
15 provisions, as follows: ... (2) If, at the time of the alleged violation, the person employs one or more
16 employees, the civil penalty is one hundred dollars ($100) for each aggrieved employee per pay period
17 for the initial violation and two hundred dollars ($200) for each aggrieved employee per pay period for 18 each subsequent violation.”

19 93. Any allegations regarding violations of the IWC Wage Orders are enforceable as 20 violations of Labor Code section 1198, which states: “[t]he employment of any employee for longer 21 hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the order is unlawful.”

22 94. Labor Code section 2699.3 sets forth the procedure for commencing an action for civil 23 penalties under the PAGA.

24 95. On or about March 1, 2023, Plaintiff paid the requisite PAGA filing fee and provided 25 written notice (by online electronic filing with the LWDA and by certified mail to Defendants) of 26 Defendants’ alleged Labor Code violations, including the facts and theories to support the alleged 27 violations.
28

1 96. A true and correct copy of Plaintiff's written PAGA notice, entitled "Notice of Labor
2 Code Violations" is attached hereto as Exhibit 1 and incorporated by reference as though fully set
3 forth herein (the "PAGA notice").

4 97. To date, neither Plaintiff nor Plaintiff's counsel has received a response to Plaintiff's
5 written PAGA notice from the LWDA.

6 98. Within 33 calendar days of the postmark date of the notice sent by Plaintiff, neither
7 Plaintiff nor Plaintiff's counsel has received written notice by certified mail from any defendant
8 providing a description of any actions taken to cure the alleged violations.

9 99. Now that at least 65 days have passed from Plaintiff notifying Defendants of these
10 violations, without notice of cure from Defendants or notice from the LWDA of its intent to investigate
11 the alleged allegations and issue the appropriate citations to Defendants, Plaintiff exhausted all 12 prerequisites and commenced this civil action under Labor Code section 2699 et seq.

13 100. As set forth in the PAGA notice attached as Exhibit 1 and incorporated into this 14 Complaint, Defendants committed the following violations and are liable for all corresponding civil

- Electronic Return Receipt -

Jacksons Food Stores, Inc.
3450 E Commercial Court
Meridian, Idaho 83642

- PAGA Notice & Filing Fee -
Submitted electronically to the Labor and Workforce Development Agency

Dear LWDA Officer and Company Representatives:

This letter serves as written notice under Labor Code section 2699.3 on behalf of JESUS ARAMBURO (“Plaintiff(s)”) and all other “aggrieved employees” of the following “Defendant(s)”:

JACKSONS FOOD STORES, INC.

Defendant(s) shall mean and include the foregoing in addition to any other related employer entities, individuals under Labor Code sections 558 and 558.1, and all others who may be later added upon further investigation and discovery as liable employers.

This office serves as legal counsel for Plaintiff. If the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”) does not investigate the facts, allegations, and violations set forth in this notice within the statutorily prescribed 65-day period under Labor Code section 2699.3, Plaintiff intends to commence a civil action against Defendants as a proxy and agent of the State of California under the Private Attorneys General Act (“PAGA”). “PAGA allows an ‘aggrieved employee’—a person affected by at least one Labor Code violation committed by an employer—to pursue penalties for all the Labor Code violations committed by that employer.” Huff v. Securitas Security Services USA, Inc. (2018) 23 Cal. App. 5th 745, 751; Kim v. Reins International California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal. 73, 79.

Through this notice, Plaintiff requests that Defendants complete an internal investigation and audit of the wage and hour and employment practices at issue and make a good faith effort to correct any violations. Plaintiff attempts to identify the non-compliant policies and practices affecting the aggrieved employees so that the parties may resolve the underlying damages and penalties in a settlement approved by the Superior Court of California under Labor Code section 2699(k). Defendants are notified that any attempt to resolve this case be conducted in coordination with Plaintiff's counsel to protect the interests of Plaintiff, the aggrieved employees, and the State of California via the LWDA. This settlement attempt is in compliance with relevant California law. Graham v. Daimler Chrysler Corp. (2004) 24 Cal. 4th 553, 561.

- BACKGROUND -

Defendants employed Plaintiff during the PAGA Period in the positions of Cashier and Customer Sales Representative from about August 2021 to October 2022. During their employment Plaintiff and the other aggrieved employees were subject to the wage and hour and employment protections set forth in the California Labor Code and IWC Wage Orders.

Through this notice, Plaintiff informs the LWDA of the Labor Code violations set forth herein. The “aggrieved employees” include Plaintiff and the following individuals:

All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendants in the State of California during one-year period preceding the date of this notice through the current date and the date of trial in any pending action (the “aggrieved employees” and the “PAGA Period”).

Plaintiff reserves the right to expand or narrow the definition of the “aggrieved employees” in the forthcoming civil action. Furthermore, Plaintiff seeks all recoverable civil penalties for Defendants’ violations and reserves the right to supplement this notice as further investigation is completed and further facts, witnesses, and violations are uncovered.

- PAGA CLAIMS -

Unpaid Meal Period Premium Wages Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 512, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226.7, 512, and 1198, along with the related sections of the IWC Wage Orders with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 512 and the IWC Wage Orders require that employers provide an uninterrupted 30-minute meal period after no more than five hours of work and a second meal period after no more than 10 hours of work. See Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal. 4th 1004, 1049. Labor Code section 226.7 requires that if a meal period is late, missed, short, or interrupted, the employer must pay one additional hour of pay at the employee’s “regular rate” of compensation. Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 858, 862 (“We hold that the terms are synonymous: “regular rate of compensation” under section 226.7(c), like “regular rate of pay” under section 510(a), encompasses all nondiscretionary payments, not just hourly wages”). “[T]ime records showing noncompliant meal periods raise a rebuttable presumption of meal period violations, including at the summary judgment stage.” Donohue v. AMN Services, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 58, 61. Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders, including Section 11 (Meal Periods), further require one uninterrupted 30-minute meal period after no more than five hours of work and a second meal period after no more than 10 hours of work and an additional hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate of compensation for each workday that a compliant meal period is not provided. Pursuant to Section 11(A) of the IWC Wage Orders, the California Supreme Court has held that the on-duty meal period exception is “exceedingly narrow” and applies only when (1) “the nature of the work prevents the employee from being relieved of all duty” and (2) both “the employer and employee have agreed, in writing, to the on-duty meal period.” Augustus v. AMB Security Services, Inc. (2016) 2 Cal. 5th 257, 266-276 (emphasis added). If these two requirements are not met, then the employer owes the employee one hour of premium pay for each non-compliant meal period taken under the purported on-duty meal arrangement. Naranjo v. Spectrum Security Services, Inc. (2019) 40 Cal. 5th 444, 459.

Plaintiff and other employees experienced missed, late, short, and interrupted meal periods due to understaffing and to keep up with the high demand of the job. When Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees experienced these missed, late, short, and interrupted meal periods, Defendants failed to pay meal period premiums at the regular rate as required by Labor Code section 226.7.

Defendants underpaid Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees who earned a meal period premium in the same pay period where they earned a store bonus (or other non-excludable forms of remuneration) because these premiums were not paid at the “regular rate of compensation” as the premiums paid did not factor in all forms of remuneration including commissions, bonuses, or other types of remuneration, instead electing to pay aggrieved employees at an approximate of the base blended rate.

An illustrative example of the regular rate of pay violation is found on Plaintiff’s wage statement below:

Extract from Plaintiff's Wage Statement from the Pay Period 9/24/2022-9/30/2022

Plaintiff's records show that Plaintiff earned a $273.55 bonus in the same period he earned 6 one-hour meal premium payments. Defendants failed to pay meal premiums at the lawful rate by electing to pay an approximate of the blended rate rather than at the regular rate of pay. Plaintiff was paid $17.1495 which is an approximate number of the blended rate between the "Regular Hourly" and "Regular Nightshift" rates (calculated by the taking the average of the two rates). Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff his meal period premium at the regular rate of pay, which in this pay period was approximately $23.96 (or higher). The failure to pay meal period premiums at the regular rate resulted in an underpayment of meal period premium wages pursuant to Labor Code § 226.7's obligation to pay premiums at the "regular rate of compensation," rather than the base hourly rate. See Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 858, 862.

Defendants committed the same regular rate of pay violations against Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees as a matter of common payroll administration and company policy in a manner susceptible to common proof.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unpaid Rest Period Premium Wages
Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 516, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226.7, 516, and 1198, and the related sections of the IWC Wage Orders with respect to Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code sections 226.7 and 516 and the IWC Wage Orders require that employers authorize and permit an uninterrupted 10-minute rest period for each four-hour period (or major fraction thereof) that an employee works. Labor Code section 226.7 requires that if a rest period is non-compliant, the employer must pay one additional hour of pay at the employee's "regular rate" of compensation. Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 858, 862 ("We hold that the terms are synonymous: "regular rate of compensation" under section 226.7(c), like "regular rate of pay" under section 510(a), encompasses all nondiscretionary payments, not just hourly wages"). Labor Code section 1198 renders "employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]" unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders, including Section 12 (Rest Periods), further require one uninterrupted 10-minute rest period for each four-hour period (or major fraction thereof) worked and an additional hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for each workday that a compliant rest period is not authorized or permitted.

Plaintiff and other employees experienced interrupted and missed rest periods due to understaffing by the Defendants and because of Defendants unlawful policies. When Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees experienced these missed and interrupted rest periods, Defendants failed to pay rest period premiums at the regular rate as required by Labor Code section 226.7. This practice was particularly heightened during night shifts where aggrieved employees were not afforded coverage to duly take all 10-minute rest breaks.

On information and belief, Defendants had a policy and practice of not paying rest period premiums to employees who were unable to take rest periods. To the extent Defendants ever paid a rest period premium, Defendants violated Labor Code section 226.7 because such premiums were not paid at the correct regular rate of compensation to aggrieved employees, which would have factored in bonuses and other forms of compensation. As discussed throughout this correspondence, Defendants had a non-compliant policy and practice of miscalculating and underpaying the regular rate of pay applicable to overtime and other premiums. Based on this practice, Plaintiff alleges the rest period premiums were equally deficient with respect to payments made to the aggrieved employees.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unpaid Overtime
Violation of Labor Code §§ 510, 1194, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 510, 1194, and 1198, along with the “Hours and Days of Work” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Orders with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 510 requires “[a]ny work in excess of eight hours in one workday and any work in excess of 40 hours in any one workweek and the first eight hours worked on the seventh day of work in any one workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for an employee;” and “any work in excess of 12 hours in one day shall be compensated at the rate of no less than twice the regular rate of pay for an employee;” and “any work in excess of eight hours on any seventh day of a workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than twice the regular rate of pay of an employee.” Labor Code section 1194 renders it unlawful for an employee to receive less than the legal overtime rate for overtime hours worked in California. Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders further require payment of overtime wages for all overtime hours worked, including the “Hours and Days of Work” sections.

Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees overtime wages and the lawful rate of pay for overtime hours worked, resulting in unpaid overtime wages.

When Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees worked overtime, Defendants failed to pay overtime at the “regular rate of pay.” Defendants paid Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees “Store Bonuses” and other forms of remuneration that Defendants failed to include in the overtime rate when employees worked overtime hours. Defendants paid overtime to Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees at a rate less than 1.5x the regular rate which would have factored in remuneration payments. For each overtime hour worked during the period in which Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees earned store bonuses, or other forms of non-excludable remuneration. Defendants should have (but failed to) pay overtime “at a rate of no less than one and one-half the regular rate of pay for an employee” and “twice the regular rate of pay” for double time hours are required by the plain language of Labor Code section 510(a) and the IWC Wage Orders.

An illustrative example of the regular rate of pay violation is found on Plaintiff’s wage statement below:

	Current 9/17/2022 - 9/23/2022

Extract from Plaintiff's Wage Statement from the Pay Period 9/17/2022 to 9/23/2022

Plaintiff's records show that Plaintiff was paid a store bonus of $350.00 in the same period he worked overtime. Plaintiff's overtime rates were calculated based on 1.5x Plaintiff's approximate blended rate, but failed to factor in the bonus Plaintiff earned in the amount of $350. As such, Defendants failed to pay overtime at a 1.5x (or 2x, as applicable) multiple of the regular rate of pay. The failure to pay overtime at the regular rate resulted in an underpayment of meal period premium wages pursuant to Labor Code § 510's obligation to pay overtime at one and one-half times the regular rate of pay.

Defendants committed the same regular rate of pay violations against Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees as a matter of common payroll administration and company policy in a manner susceptible to common proof.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code sections 558 ($50/$100), 1199 / "Penalties" section of the IWC Wage Orders) ($50/$100), and 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unpaid Paid Sick Leave
Violation of Labor Code §§ 246 through 248.7

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 246 through 248.7 with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 246 requires employers to provide paid sick leave to its workforce on the terms set forth in the statute. Employers must comply with the accrual, use, and notice provisions of Labor Code sections 246, 246.5, 247, and must further ensure that they maintain the paid sick leave records required by Labor Code section 247.5. Employers have the option of providing 24 hours of paid sick leave to employees or to allow employees to accrue paid sick leave each pay period. If an employer chooses the accrual method, employees must accrue sick leave at a rate of one hour for every thirty hours worked in a given pay period as set forth in Labor Code section 246(b)(1). Under the accrual method, employees must begin accruing paid sick leave at the commencement of employment.

Employers must pay sick leave in accordance with one of the three permissible methods provided in Labor Code section 246(l): (1) “the same manner as the regular rate of pay for the workweek;” (2) “by dividing the employee’s total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee’s total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days;” or (3) “for exempt employee ... in the same manner as the employer calculates wages for other forms of paid leave time.” Labor Code sections 248.6 and 248.7 similarly require paid sick leave to be paid at a regular rate-based calculation in excess of the base hourly rate and at the lawful accrual rate.

Under Labor Code section 246(i), employers must provide employees “with written notice of the amount of paid sick leave available ... for use on either the employee’s itemized wage statement ... or in a separate writing provided on the designated pay date with the employee’s payment of wages.”

To the extent aggrieved employees earned paid sick leave, Defendants violated Labor Code section 246(l) because sick leave was not paid at the lawful regular rate of pay throughout the relevant period. The lawful regular rate of pay must factor in bonuses, commissions, and all other forms of non-excludable remuneration. Based on Defendants’ noncompliance with the regular rate of pay requirements applicable to overtime and meal /rest period premiums, Plaintiff alleges on information and belief that the regular rate miscalculation equally applied to paid sick leave with respect to the aggrieved employees, resulting in underpayments.

The failure to calculate and pay paid sick leave at one of the lawful rates set forth in Labor Code § 246(l)(1)-(3) and 247 et seq. was applies as a matter of common policy and practice to aggrieved employees in those periods where they earned additional payments, commissions, bonuses, or other forms of non-excludable remuneration and also paid sick leave.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Untimely Payment of Wages During Employment
Violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 204b, 210

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 204 and/or 204b and 210, as applicable, with respect to Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 204(a) requires payment of “all wages” for non-exempt employees at least twice each calendar month. Labor Code section 204(d) states all wages due must be paid “not more than seven calendar days following the close of the payroll period.” Labor Code section 204b applies to employees paid on a weekly basis and also requires the payment for all labor within the required pay periods. Labor Code section 210 provides “every person who fails to pay the wages of an employee as provided in Section ... 204 ... shall be subject to a civil penalty” of $100 for an initial violation and $200 plus 25% of the amount unlawfully withheld for a subsequent violation.

First, Defendants had a policy and practice of paying Plaintiff and, on information and belief, other aggrieved employees at the incorrect rate of pay for the shifts they worked. Defendants offered Plaintiff and aggrieved employees different rates for day and night shifts, where night shifts were to be paid out at a higher rate.

On multiple occasions, Plaintiff noticed and informed Defendants he was being underpaid as he was being paid day rates for night shifts. On information and belief, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees all wages at the correct rate for all night shifts they completed during their employment.

Second, because Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums in each pay period in which such wages were earned at the lawful rate, Defendants violated Labor Code section 204 and/or 204b (for weekly employees, as applicable). Defendants violated Labor Code sections 204 and 204b by failing to pay all wages, sick leave, and premiums owed on the regular pay days scheduled each pay period within seven calendar days of the close of the payroll period, as a result of the policies and practices set forth in this notice. Indeed, Defendants failed to pay all premiums, overtime, regular, sick leave, and other earnings on time each pay day.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, and Labor Code section 210 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Untimely Payment of Wages Upon Separation of Employment
Violation of Labor Code §§ 201, 202, 203, 256

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203 with respect to the aggrieved employees by failing to pay all wages and premiums owed upon termination of employment.

Labor Code section 201 requires that if an employer fires an employee, the wages must be paid immediately. Labor Code section 202 requires that if an employee quits without providing 72 hours' notice, his or her wages must be paid no later than 72 hours thereafter. Labor Code section 202 states that if an employee provides 72 hours' notice, the final wages are payable upon his or her final day of employment. Labor Code section 203 requires an employer who fails to comply with Labor Code sections 201 or 202 to pay a waiting time penalty for each employee, up to a period of 30 days additional compensation.

Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to aggrieved employees during their employment as set forth in this notice, and also failed to timely pay those amounts to departing employees upon separation of employment. Defendants did not pay waiting time penalties for the late payments. As a result, Defendants violated Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties on behalf of aggrieved employees and the State of California as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Non-Compliant Wage Statements Violation of Labor Code §§ 226, 226.3

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226(a) and 226.3 with respect to the aggrieved employees by failing to furnish itemized wage statements each pay period that accurately list all information required by Labor Code section 226(a)(1) through (9).

Labor Code section 226(a) requires an employer to furnish wage statements to employees semimonthly or at the time of each payment of wages, "an accurate itemized statement in writing showing:" (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked, (3) the number of piece rate units earned and applicable piece-rate in effect, (4) all deductions, (5) net wages earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the pay period, (7) the name of the employee and last four digits of SSN or an EIN, (8) the name and address of the legal name of the employer, and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee.

Defendants failed to provide accurate itemized wage statements to the aggrieved employees each pay period as a result of the policies and practices set forth in this notice. Defendants violated Labor Code section 226(a)(1) and (5) by not listing the correct "gross wages earned" or "net wages earned," as the employees earned wages and premiums that were not paid, resulting in an inaccurate reflection, and recording of "gross wages earned" on those wage statements. Likewise, in violation of Labor Code section 226(a)(9), Defendants failed to state on employee wage statements each pay period the applicable hourly rates in effect and the number of hours worked at that rate, as Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to employees. The amounts stated are instead depreciated and underpaid, resulting in an inaccurate reflection on the pay stub.

Defendants violated Labor Code section 226(a)(2) by failing to accurately list employees' "total hours worked," as the wage statements did not accurately include uncompensated time. Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees worked due to Defendants policy and practice of requiring employees to work off-the-clock during uncompensated meal periods.

Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees cannot promptly and easily determine from the wage statement alone the wages paid or earned without reference to other documents or information. Indeed, these wage statement violations are significant because they sow confusion among Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees with respect to what amounts were owed and paid, at what rates, the number of hours worked, and how those amounts were or should be calculated. The wage statements reflect a false statement of earnings and concealed the underlying problems and underpayments of employee wages.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code sections 226.3 ($250/$1,000) and 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Failure to Maintain Accurate Records Violation of Labor Code § 1174; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 1174 and the IWC Wage Orders by failing to maintain accurate employee payroll records with respect to Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 1174 requires that employers maintain accurate "payroll records showing the hours worked daily by and the wages paid to, and the number of piece-rate units earned by and any applicable piece rate paid to, employees employed at the respective plants or establishments." Section 7(A) of the IWC Wage Orders, which may be enforced through Labor Code section 1198, mandates similar recordkeeping obligations.

Because of the policies and practices set forth in this notice, including the failure to accurately account for wages earned or hours worked, Defendants failed to accurately maintain records in accordance with Labor Code section 1174 and the IWC Wage Orders.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code section 1174.5 ($500) and 2699 ($100/$200), along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.
