Attorneys for Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA FOR THE COUNTY OF KERN

MARICOR MARIA GARCHITORENA, an individual, on behalf of herself, the State of California, as a private attorney general, and on behalf of all others similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

v.

O'GRADY-PEYTON INTERNATIONAL
(USA), INC., a Massachusetts Corporation;
AMN HEALTHCARE, INC., a Nevada
Corporation; and DOES 1 TO 50,

Defendants.

Case Number: BCV-23-101036

Second Amended PAGA Representative Action Complaint For:

1. Penalties Pursuant to the Labor Code
Private Attorneys General Act of 2004
("PAGA") for Violations of California
Labor Code Sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 210, 218, 221, 226, 226.3, 226.7, 227.3,
246, 510, 512, 558(a)(1)(2), 1174, 1185,
1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 1198.5, 1199, 2100 et seq., 2802, and Other
Provisions of the Labor Code.

1 Plaintiff Maricor Maria Garchitorena (“Plaintiff”), on behalf of herself and the State of 2 California, as a private attorney general, complains and alleges of defendants O'Grady-Peyton 3 International (USA), Inc., AMN Healthcare, Inc., and Does 1 to 50 (collectively, “Defendants”), and 4 each of them, as follows:

5 I. INTRODUCTION

6 1. This action is a representative action brought pursuant to the California Labor Code 7 Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 (“PAGA”), codified at California Labor Code sections 2698 8 through 2699.6.

9 2. The “PAGA Period” as used herein, is defined as the period from April 4, 2022, and 10 continuing into the present and ongoing.

11 3. This PAGA action is brought on behalf of Plaintiff, the State of California as private 12 attorney general, and on behalf of the following aggrieved employees: All individuals who are or were 13 employed by OGP as non-exempt clinicians in California during the PAGA Period (the “Aggrieved 14 Employees”).

15 4. Plaintiff is informed and believes and thereon alleges that the California Industrial 16 Welfare Commission (“IWC”) Wage Order applicable to the facts of this case is IWC Wage Order 4-17 2001 (the “Applicable Wage Order”) and possibly others that may be applicable. (Cal. Code of Regs., 18 tit. 8, § 11040.) Plaintiff reserves the right to amend or modify the definition of “Applicable Wage 19 Order” with greater specificity or add additional IWC Wage Orders if additional applicable wage orders 20 are discovered in litigation.

21 II. JURISDICTION & VENUE

22 5. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over all causes of action asserted herein 23 pursuant to Article VI, section 10, of the California Constitution and Code of Civil Procedure section 24 410.10 because this is a civil action in which the matter in controversy, exclusive of interest, exceeds 25 $25,000, and because each cause of action asserted arises under the laws of the State of California or 26 is subject to adjudication in the courts of the State of California.

27 6. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendants because Defendants have caused 28 injuries in the County of Kern and the State of California through their acts, and by their violation of 1 the California Labor Code and California state common law. Defendants transact millions of dollars of 2 business within the State of California. Defendants own, maintain offices, transact business, have an 3 agent or agents within the County of Kern, and/or otherwise are found within the County of Kern, and 4 Defendants are within the jurisdiction of this Court for purposes of service of process.

5 7. Venue as to Defendants is proper in this judicial district, pursuant to section 395 of the 6 Code of Civil Procedure. Defendants operate within California and do business within Kern County, 7 California. The unlawful acts alleged herein have a direct effect on Plaintiff and all of Defendants' 8 employees identified above within Kern County and surrounding counties where Defendants may 9 remotely operate.

10 III. THE PARTIES

11 A. PLAINTIFF

12 8. At all relevant times, Plaintiff, who is over the age of 18, was and currently is a citizen 13 of California residing in the State of California. Defendants employed Plaintiff as a non-exempt hourly 14 employee in the County of Kern.

15 B. DEFENDANTS

16 9. Plaintiff is informed and believes and thereon alleges that Defendants were authorized 17 to and doing business in Kern County and is and/or was the legal employer of Plaintiff and the other 18 Aggrieved Employees during the applicable statutory periods. Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved 19 Employees were, and are, subject to Defendants' policies and/or practices complained of herein and 20 have been deprived of the rights guaranteed to them by: California Labor Code sections 201, 202, 203, 21 204, 210, 218, 221, 226, 226.3, 226.7, 227.3, 246, 510, 512, 558(a)(1)(2), 1174, 1185, 1194, 1194.2, 22 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 1198.5, 1199, 2100 et seq., 2802, and others that may be applicable; and the 23 Applicable Wage Order (Cal. Code of Regs., tit. 8, § 11040).

24 10. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and based thereon alleges, that during the PAGA 25 Period, Defendants did (and continue to do) business in the State of California, County of Kern.

26 11. Plaintiff does not know the true names or capacities, whether individual, partner, or 27 corporate, of the defendants sued herein as Does 1 to 50, inclusive, and for that reason, said defendants 28 are sued under such fictitious names, and Plaintiff will seek leave from this Court to amend this

1 complaint when such true names and capacities are discovered. Plaintiff is informed, and believes, and 2 thereon alleges, that each of said fictitious defendants, whether individual, partners, or corporate, were 3 responsible in some manner for the acts and omissions alleged herein, and proximately caused Plaintiff 4 and the other Aggrieved Employees to be subject to the unlawful employment practices, wrongs, 5 injuries, and damages complained of herein.

6 12. Plaintiff is informed, and believes, and thereon alleges, that at all times mentioned 7 herein, Defendants were and/or are the employers of Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved Employees. At 8 all times herein mentioned, each of said Defendants participated in the doing of the acts hereinafter 9 alleged to have been done by the named Defendants. Furthermore, the Defendants, and each of them, 10 were the agents, servants, and employees of each and every one of the other Defendants, as well as the 11 agents of all Defendants, and at all times herein mentioned were acting within the course and scope of 12 said agency and employment. Defendants, and each of them, approved of, condoned, or otherwise 13 ratified every one of the acts or omissions complained of herein.

14 13. At all relevant times, Defendants, and each of them, were members of and engaged in a 15 joint venture, partnership, and common enterprise, and acting within the course and scope of and in 16 pursuance of said joint venture, partnership, and common enterprise. Further, Plaintiff is informed, and 17 believes, and thereon alleges, that all Defendants were joint employers for all purposes of Plaintiff and 18 the other Aggrieved Employees.

19 IV. COMMON FACTS & ALLEGATIONS

20 14. Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved Employees are, and were at all relevant times, 21 employed by the Defendants within the State of California.

22 15. Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved Employees are, and were, at all relevant times, non-23 exempt employees for the purposes of minimum wages, overtime, rest breaks, meal periods, and the 24 other claims alleged in this complaint.

25 16. Specifically, Plaintiff was employed by Defendants within the PAGA Period, working 26 as an hourly, non-exempt clinician for Defendants. Plaintiff's duties included performing nursing duties 27 where she was assigned.
28

1 A. MINIMUM WAGE VIOLATIONS

2 17. Labor Code section 1197 requires employees to be paid at least the minimum wage fixed 3 by the IWC, and any payment of less than the minimum wage is unlawful. Similarly, Labor Code 4 section 1194 entitles “any employee receiving less than the legal minimum wage . . . to recover in a 5 civil action the unpaid balance of the full amount of this minimum wage.” Likewise, the Applicable 6 Wage Order also obligates employers to pay each employee minimum wages for all hours worked.
7 (Cal. Code of Regs., tit. 8, § 11040.) Labor Code section 1198 makes unlawful the employment of an 8 employee under conditions that the IWC Wage Orders prohibit.

9 18. These minimum wage standards apply to each hour that employees work. Therefore, an 10 employer’s failure to pay for any particular time worked by an employee is unlawful, even if averaging 11 an employee’s total pay over all hours worked, paid or not, results in an average hourly wage above 12 minimum wage. (Armenta v. Osmose, Inc. (2005) 135 Cal.App.4th 314, 324.)

13 19. Here, Defendants failed to fully conform their pay practices to the requirements of the 14 law during the relevant statutory periods. Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved Employees were not 15 compensated for all hours worked including, but not limited to, all hours they were subject to the control 16 of Defendants and/or suffered or permitted to work under the California Labor Code and the Applicable 17 Wage Order. Among other violations, Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved Employees were subject to the 18 control of Defendants while off-the-clock and did not receive minimum wage for each hour worked.

19 20. Further, upon entering the premises, Defendants required Plaintiff and the Aggrieved 20 Employees to undergo a temperature check during the COVID-19 pandemic. However, Plaintiff and 21 the Aggrieved Employees were not paid for this time; rather, they did not receive any payment until 22 they began working after they completed their duties of putting on their protective gear and completing 23 the temperature check.

24 21. In addition, Defendants rounded the work time of Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees 25 to their detriment and Defendants’ benefit.

26 22. Labor Code sections 1194, subdivision (a), and 1194.2, subdivision (a), provide that an 27 employer who has failed to pay its employees the legal minimum wage is liable to pay those employees 28

1 the unpaid balance of the unpaid wages as well as liquidated damages in an amount equal to the wages 2 due and interest thereon.

3 23. When employees, such as Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved Employees, are not paid for 4 all hours worked under Labor Code section 1194, they are entitled to recover minimum wages for the 5 time which they received no compensation. (See Sillah v. Command International Security Services
6 (N.D. Cal. 2015) 154 F.Supp.3d 891 [employees suing for failure to pay overtime could recover 7 liquidated damages under Labor Code section 1194.2 if they also showed they were paid less than 8 minimum wage].)

9 24. Labor Code section 1197.1 authorizes employees who are paid less than the minimum 10 wage fixed by an applicable state or local law, or by an order of the IWC, a civil penalty, among other 11 damages, as follows:

12 (1) “For any initial violation that is intentionally committed, one 13 hundred dollars ($100) for each underpaid employee for each pay period 14 for which the employee is underpaid.”

15 (2) “For each subsequent violation for the same specific offense, two 16 hundred fifty dollars ($250) for each underpaid employee for each pay 17 period for which the employee is underpaid regardless of whether the 18 initial violation is intentionally committed.” (Lab. Code, § 1197.1, subd.

19 (a).)

20 25. As set forth above, Defendants failed to fully compensate Plaintiff and the other 21 Aggrieved Employees for all minimum wages. Accordingly Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved 22 Employees are entitled to recover liquidated damages for violations of Labor Code section 1197.1.

23 26. Based upon these same factual allegations, Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved Employees 24 are likewise entitled to penalties under Labor Code sections 1199.

25 B. OVERTIME VIOLATIONS

26 27. Labor Code section 510 requires employers to compensate employees who work more 27 than eight hours in one workday, forty hours in a workweek, and for the first eight hours worked on 28 the seventh consecutive day no less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for an employee.

1 (Lab. Code, § 510, subd. (a).) Further, Labor Code section 510 obligates employers to compensate 2 employees at no less than twice the regular rate of pay when an employee works more than twelve 3 hours in a day or more than eight hours on the seventh consecutive day of work. (Lab. Code, § 510, 4 subd. (a).) These rules are also reflected in the Applicable Wage Order.

5 28. In accordance with Labor Code section 1194 and the Applicable Wage Order, Plaintiff 6 and the other Aggrieved Employees could not then agree and cannot now agree to work for a lesser 7 wage than the amount provided by Labor Code sections 510 or the Applicable Wage Order.

8 29. Here, Defendants violated their duty to accurately and completely compensate Plaintiff 9 and the other Aggrieved Employees for all overtime worked. Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved 10 Employees periodically worked hours that entitled them to overtime compensation under the law but 11 were not fully compensated for those hours.

12 30. Moreover, during the relevant statutory periods, Defendants had a policy and practice 13 of failing to pay overtime wages at the proper rate when it actually paid overtime. Specifically, when 14 Defendants paid overtime wages to the Aggrieved Employees, Defendants failed to include all 15 compensation when calculating the regular rate of pay used in overtime calculations and when paying 16 overtime.

17 31. For instance, Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees would often receive, along with 18 their hourly rates of pay for their working hours, additional remuneration and/or non-discretionary 19 bonus pay. Defendants, however, calculated the regular rate of pay for the Plaintiff and the Aggrieved 20 Employees without factoring into the regular rate of pay all other non-hourly pay earnings received 21 during the pay period, including but not limited to, shift differentials, bonuses, and other non-22 discretionary earnings. As a result, Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees were underpaid overtime 23 wages when they worked in excess of eight hours in any workday and/or forty hours in a workweek 24 when such additional forms of remuneration were earned. By its practice of periodically requiring 25 Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees to work in excess of eight hours in a workday and/or forty hours 26 in a workweek without compensating them at the rate of one and one-half (1½) their regular rate of 27 pay, Defendants willfully violated the provisions of Labor Code sections 510, 1194, and 1199.
28

1 32. These actions were and are in clear violation of California’s overtime laws as set forth 2 in Labor Code sections 510, 558(a)(1)(2), 1194, 1199, and the Applicable Wage Order. (Cal. Code of 3 Regs., tit. 8, § 11040.) As a result of Defendants’ faulty policies and practices, Plaintiff and the other 4 Aggrieved Employees were not compensated for all hours worked or paid accurate overtime 5 compensation.

6 33. Pursuant to Labor Code section 558(a)(1)(2), “[a]ny employer or other person acting on 7 behalf of an employer who violates, or causes to be violated, a section of this chapter or any provision
8 regulating hours and days of work in any order of the Industrial Welfare Commission shall be subject
9 to a civil penalty as follows: (1) For any initial violation, fifty dollars ($50) for each underpaid
10 employee for each pay period for which the employee was underpaid in addition to an amount sufficient
11 to recover underpaid wages. (2) For each subsequent violation, one hundred dollars ($100) for each 12 underpaid employee for each pay period for which the employee was underpaid in addition to an 13 amount sufficient to recover underpaid wages.”

14 C. REST BREAK VIOLATIONS

15 34. Pursuant to Labor Code section 226.7 and the Applicable Wage Order, Defendants were 16 and are required to provide Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved Employees with compensated, duty-free 17 rest periods of not less than ten minutes for every major fraction of four hours worked. Under the 18 Applicable Wage Order, an employer must authorize and permit all employees to take ten minute duty
19 free rest periods for every major fraction of four hours worked. (Cal. Code of Regs., tit. 8, § 11040.)

20 35. Likewise, Labor Code section 226.7 provides that “[a]n employer shall not require an 21 employee to work during a meal or rest or recovery period mandated pursuant to an applicable statute, 22 or applicable regulation, standard, or order of the Industrial Welfare Commission” (Lab. Code, § 23 226.7, subd. (b).) Labor Code section 226.7 also provides that employers must pay their employees one 24 additional hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate for each workday that a “meal or rest or recovery 25 period is not provided.” (Lab. Code, § 226.7, subd. (c).) The “regular rate” for these purposes must 26 factor in all nondiscretionary payments for work performed by the employee, including non-27 discretionary bonuses, commissions, and other forms of wage payments exceeding the employees’ base 28 hourly rate. (Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal.5th 858, 878.) Thus, the Wage

1 Orders set when and for how long the rest period must take place and the Labor Code establishes that 2 violations of the IWC Wage Orders are unlawful and sets forth the premium pay employer must pay 3 their employees when employers fail to provide rest periods.

4 36. The California Supreme Court has held that, during required rest periods, “employers 5 must relieve their employees of all duties and relinquish any control over how employees spend their 6 break time.” (Augustus v. ABM Security Services, Inc. (2016) 2 Cal.5th 257, 260.) Relinquishing 7 control over employees during rest periods requires that employees be “free to leave the employer’s 8 premises” and be “permitted to attend to personal business.” (Id. at p. 275.) The Brinker Court 9 explained in the context of rest breaks that employer liability attaches from adopting an unlawful 10 policy:

11 “An employer is required to authorize and permit the amount of rest break time 12 called for under the wage order for its industry. If it does not—if, for example, 13 it adopts a uniform policy authorizing and permitting only one rest break for 14 employees working a seven-hour shift when two are required—it has violated 15 the wage order and is liable.” (Brinker Rest. Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 16 Cal.4th 1004, 1033.)

17 37. Here, Defendants periodically did not permit Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees to 18 take compliant duty-free rest breaks, free from Defendants’ control as required by Labor Code section 19 226.7, the Applicable Wage Order, and applicable precedent. (See Augustus v. ABM Security Services, 20 Inc. (2016) 2 Cal.5th 257, 269 [concluding that “during rest periods employers must relieve employees 21 of all duties and relinquish control over how employees spend their time.”].) At all relevant times 22 Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees were periodically not provided with legally-compliant and 23 timely rest periods of at least ten minutes for each four hour work period, or major fraction thereof due 24 to Defendants’ unlawful rest period policies/practices. Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees were 25 often expected and required to continue working through rest periods to meet the expectations 26 Defendants and finish the workday. In some cases when Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees worked 27 more than ten hours in a shift, Defendants failed to authorize and/or permit a third mandated rest period.
28

1 In addition, Defendants did not allow Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees to take unconstrained rest 2 periods.

3 38. As a result, Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees were periodically unable to take 4 compliant rest periods.

5 39. In such cases where Defendants did not offer Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees 6 the opportunity to receive a compliant off-duty rest period, “the court may not conclude employees 7 voluntarily chose to skip those breaks.” (Alberts v. Aurora Behavioral Health Care (2015) 241 8 Cal.App.4th 388, 410 (2015) [“If an employer fails to provide legally compliant meal or rest breaks, 9 the court may not conclude employees voluntarily chose to skip those breaks.”]; Brinker Rest. Corp. v.
10 Superior Court, supra, 53 Cal.4th at p. 1033 [“No issue of waiver ever arises for a rest break that was 11 required by law but never authorized; if a break is not authorized, an employee has no opportunity to 12 decline to take it.”].)

13 40. In addition to failing to authorize and permit compliant rest periods, Plaintiff and the 14 Aggrieved Employees were not compensated with one hour’s worth of pay at their regular rate of 15 compensation when they were not provided with a compliant rest period in accordance with Labor 16 Code section 226.7, subdivision (c). Thus, Defendants have violated Labor Code section 226.7 and the 17 Applicable Wage Order. Moreover, during the relevant statutory periods, Defendants had a policy and 18 practice of failing to pay rest period premiums at the proper rate when it actually paid them.
19 Specifically, when Defendants paid rest period premiums to the Aggrieved Employees, Defendants 20 failed to include all compensation when calculating the regular rate of pay.

21 D. MEAL BREAK VIOLATIONS

22 41. Labor Code section 512 and the Applicable Wage Order require employers to provide 23 employees with a thirty-minute uninterrupted and duty-free meal period within the first five hours of 24 work. (Lab. Code, § 512, subd. (a) [“An employer shall not employ an employee for a work period of 25 more than five hours per day without providing the employee with a meal period of not less than 30 26 minutes”]; Cal. Code of Regs., tit. 8, § 11040 [“No employer shall employ any person for a work 27 period of more than five (5) hours without a meal period of not less than 30 minutes”].)
28 Additionally, an employee who works more than ten hours per day is entitled to receive a second thirty-

1 minute uninterrupted and duty-free meal period. (Lab. Code, § 512, subd. (a) [“An employer shall not 2 employ an employee for a work period of more than 10 hours per day without providing the employee 3 with a second meal period of not less than 30 minutes”].)

4 42. “An on-duty meal period is permitted only when the nature of the work prevents an 5 employee from being relieved of all duty and the parties agree in writing to an on-duty paid meal 6 break.” (Lubin v. The Wackenhut Corp. (2016) 5 Cal.App.5th 926, 932.) The written agreement must 7 include a provision allowing the employee to revoke it at any time. (Ibid.) Generally, the California
8 Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Labor Standards Enforcement (“DLSE”) and courts 9 have “found that the nature of the work exception applies: (1) where the work has some particular 10 external force that requires the employee to be on duty at all times, and (2) where the employee is the 11 sole employee of a particular employer.” (Id. at p. 945, internal quotation marks omitted; Abdullah v.
12 U.S. Security Associates, Inc. (9th Cir. 2013) 731 F.3d 952, 958–959.) “[I]t is the employer’s obligation 13 to determine whether the nature of the work prevents an employee from being relieved before requiring 14 an employee to take an on-duty meal period.” (Lubin v. The Wackenhut Corp., supra, 5 Cal.App.5th at 15 p. 946.)

16 43. Here, Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees were never asked to sign any enforceable 17 document agreeing to an on-duty meal period. Moreover, nothing in the nature of their work involved 18 the kind of “external force” that might justify on-duty meal breaks. (Lubin v. The Wackenhut Corp., 19 supra, 5 Cal.App.5th at p. 945.) Nevertheless, Defendants periodically did not provide compliant off-20 duty meal periods within the first five hours of work for Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees.

21 44. As with rest breaks, meal breaks must be duty-free. (Brinker Restaurant Corp. v.
22 Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1035 [“The IWC’s wage orders have long made a meal period’s 23 duty-free nature its defining characteristic.”].) Relinquishing control over employees during meal 24 periods requires that employees be “free to leave the employer’s premises” and be “permitted to attend 25 to personal business.” (Augustus v. ABM Security Services, Inc., supra, 2 Cal.5th at p. 275.) Under 26 Labor Code section 512, if an employer maintains a uniform policy that does not authorize and permit 27 the amount of meal time called for under the law (as specified in the Labor Code and/or applicable 28

1 IWC Wage Order), “it has violated the wage order and is liable.” (Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior
2 Court, supra, 53 Cal.4th at p. 1033.)

3 45. During the applicable statutory periods here, Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees 4 were periodically denied legally-compliant and timely off-duty meal periods of at least thirty minutes 5 due to Defendants’ unlawful meal period policy and practices. As a result of Defendants’ uniform meal 6 period policies and practices, Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees were often not permitted to take 7 compliant first meal periods before the end of the fifth hour of work. Plaintiff and the Aggrieved 8 Employees were also periodically not permitted to take second meal periods for shifts in excess of ten 9 hours. Defendants thus violated Labor Code section 512 and the Applicable Wage Order by failing to 10 advise, authorize, or permit Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees to receive thirty-minute, off-duty 11 meal periods within the first five hours of their shifts. In addition, Defendants rounded the meal period 12 start and end times of Plaintiff and Aggrieved Employees.

13 46. Labor Code section 226.7 provides that “[a]n employer shall not require an employee 14 to work during a meal or rest or recovery period mandated pursuant to an applicable statute, or 15 applicable regulation, standard, or order of the Industrial Welfare Commission.” (Lab. Code, § 226.7, 16 subd. (b).) Labor Code section 226.7, subdivision (c), and the Applicable Wage Order further obligate 17 employers to pay employees one additional hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate of compensation 18 for each workday that the meal period is not provided. (Lab. Code, § 226.7, subd. (c); Cal. Code of 19 Regs., tit. 8, § 11040 [“If an employer fails to provide an employee a meal period in accordance with 20 the applicable provisions of this order, the employer shall pay the employee one (1) hour of pay at the 21 employee’s regular rate of compensation for each workday that the meal period is not provided.”].)
22 The “regular rate” for these purposes must factor in all nondiscretionary payments for work performed 23 by the employee, including non-discretionary bonuses, commissions, and other forms of wage 24 payments exceeding the employees’ base hourly rate. (Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 25 11 Cal.5th 858, 878.)

26 47. Accordingly, for each day that Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees did not receive 27 compliant meal periods, they were and are entitled to receive meal period premiums pursuant to Labor 28 Code section 226.7 and the Applicable Wage Order. Defendants, however, failed to pay Plaintiff and

1 the Aggrieved Employees applicable meal period premiums for many workdays that the employees did 2 not receive a compliant meal period. Thus, Defendants have violated Labor Code section 226.7 and the 3 Applicable Wage Order. Moreover, during the relevant statutory periods, Defendants had a policy and 4 practice of failing to pay meal period premiums at the proper rate when it actually paid them.
5 Specifically, when Defendants paid meal period premiums to the Aggrieved Employees, Defendants 6 failed to include all compensation when calculating the regular rate of pay.

7 48. Pursuant to Labor Code section 558(a)(1)(2), “[a]ny employer or other person acting on 8 behalf of an employer who violates, or causes to be violated, a section of this chapter or any provision
9 regulating hours and days of work in any order of the Industrial Welfare Commission shall be subject
10 to a civil penalty as follows: (1) For any initial violation, fifty dollars ($50) for each underpaid
11 employee for each pay period for which the employee was underpaid in addition to an amount sufficient
12 to recover underpaid wages. (2) For each subsequent violation, one hundred dollars ($100) for each 13 underpaid employee for each pay period for which the employee was underpaid in addition to an 14 amount sufficient to recover underpaid wages.”

15 E. UNTIMELY WAGES DURING EMPLOYMENT

16 49. Labor Code section 204 expressly requires employers who pay employees on a weekly, 17 biweekly, or semimonthly basis to pay all wages “not more than seven calendar days following the 18 close of the payroll period.” Labor Code section 210, subdivision (a), makes employers who violate 19 Labor Code section 204 subject to a penalty of:

20 “(1) For any initial violation, one hundred dollars ($100) for each 21 failure to pay each employee.

22 “(2) For each subsequent violation, or any willful or intentional 23 violation, two hundred dollars ($200) for each failure to pay each 24 employee, plus 25 percent of the amount unlawfully withheld.” (Lab.
25 Code, § 210, subd. (a).)

26 50. Notably, the penalty provided by Labor Code section 210 is “[i]n addition to, and 27 entirely independent and apart from, any other penalty provided in this article” (Lab. Code, § 210, 28 subd. (a).)

1 Due to Defendants' failure to pay Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees the wages described above, 2 along with rest and meal break premiums, Defendants failed to timely pay Plaintiff and the Aggrieved
3 Employees within seven calendar days following the close of payroll in accordance with Labor Code 4 section 204 on a regular and consistent basis. (See Parson v. Golden State FC, LLC (N.D. Cal., May 5 2, 2016, No. 16-CV-00405-JST) 2016 WL 1734010, at p. *3–5, 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 58299 [finding 6 that a failure to pay rest period premiums can support claims under Labor Code sections 203 and 204].)

7 F. UNLAWFUL DEDUCTIONS

8 51. Plaintiff alleges that Defendants have a policy and practice of making unlawful 9 deductions from Plaintiff's and the Aggrieved Employees' wages and wage statements. These alleged 10 unlawful deductions include Defendants' failure to pay employees all wages owed based on their 11 regular rate of pay. Such policy and practice are in violation of California Labor Code sections 212, 12 213, 221, 226.7, 510, 558, 1197.1.

13 G. UNPAID ACCRUED VACATION TIME

14 52. California Labor Code section 227.3 states that:

15 "[W]henever a contract of employment or employer policy provides for paid 16 vacations, and an employee is terminated without having taken off his vested 17 vacation time, all vested vacation shall be paid to him as wages at his final rate 18 in accordance with such contract of employment or employer policy respecting 19 eligibility or time served; provided, however, that an employment contract or 20 employer policy shall not provide for forfeiture of vested vacation time upon 21 termination."

22 53. Thus, when an employer has a vacation policy, it must pay out all accrued but unused 23 vacation time upon termination. An employer may not adopt policies that require forfeiture of vested 24 vacation time without compensation. (Rhea v. General Atomics (2014) 227 Cal.App.4th 1560, 1571 25 ["California law prohibits an employer from requiring the forfeiture of vacation time"].)

26 54. Here, Defendants had a vacation policy, and the Aggrieved Employees had completed 27 all prerequisites and/or necessary limitations of service required by Defendants' vacation policy to 28 accumulate vested vacation pay. Despite that fact, many of the Aggrieved Employees were denied all

1 accrued but unused vacation time at termination in violation of California law. Defendants also failed 2 to pay vacation pay at the proper “final rate.”

3 55. By failing to pay accrued vacation time at termination of employment, Defendants have 4 violated California Labor Code provisions including, but not limited to, sections 201, 202, and 227.3.

5 H. UNTIMELY WAGES AT SEPARATION

6 56. Labor Code section 203 provides “if an employer willfully fails to pay . . . any wages 7 of an employee who is discharged or who quits, the wages of the employee shall continue as a penalty” 8 for up to thirty days. (Lab. Code § 203; Mamika v. Barca (1998) 68 Cal.App.4th 487, 492.) As a result 9 of Defendants’ failure to pay the Aggrieved Employees for the wages described above, along with rest 10 and meal break premiums, Defendants violated and continue to violate Labor Code section 203.

11 57. Due to Defendants’ faulty pay policies, those Aggrieved Employees whose employment 12 with Defendants concluded were not compensated for each and every hour worked at the appropriate 13 rate. Defendants have failed to pay formerly-employed Aggrieved Employees whose sums were certain 14 at the time of termination within at least seventy-two hours of their resignation and have failed to pay 15 those sums for thirty days thereafter.

16 I. WAGE STATEMENT VIOLATIONS

17 58. Defendants also failed to provide accurate itemized wage statements in accordance with 18 Labor Code sections 226, subdivisions (a)(1), (2), (5), and (9). Labor Code section 226, subdivision 19 (a), obligates employers, semi-monthly or at the time of each payment to furnish an itemized wage 20 statement in writing showing:

- 21 (1) The gross wages earned;
- 22 (2) The total hours worked by the employee;
- 23 (3) The number of piece-rate units earned and any applicable piece 24 rate if the employee is paid on a piece rate basis;
- 25 (4) All deductions, provided that all deductions made on written 26 orders of the employee may be aggregated and shown as one item;
- 27 (5) The net wages earned;
- 28 (6) The inclusive dates of the period for which the employee is paid;

1 (7) The name of the employee and only the last four digits of his or 2 her social security number or an employee identification number other 3 than a social security number;

4 (8) The name and address of the legal entity that is the employer; and 5 (9) All applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the 6 corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the 7 employee.

8 59. Due to Defendants' failure to pay Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees properly as 9 described above, the wage statements issued do not indicate the correct amount of gross wages earned, 10 total hours worked, or the net wages earned, or the applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay 11 period and the corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate. Thus, Defendants have 12 violated Labor Code section 226, subdivisions (a)(1), (2), (5), and (9).

13 60. In addition to Labor Code section 226, subdivision (a), Defendants also knowingly and 14 intentionally failed to provide Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees with accurate itemized wage 15 statements in violation of Labor Code section 226, subdivision (e). Defendants knew that they were 16 not providing Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees with wage statements required by California law 17 but nevertheless failed to correct their unlawful practices and policies. (See Garnett v. ADT LLC (E.D.
18 Cal. 2015) 139 F.Supp.3d 1121, 1134 [finding the defendant knowingly and intentionally violated 19 Labor Code section 226 because the "[d]efendant knew that it was not providing total hours worked to 20 plaintiff or other employees paid on commission" even though it believed that employees paid solely 21 on commission or commission and salary "are exempt and therefore we do not record hours on a wage 22 statement."].)

23 J. RECORDKEEPING VIOLATIONS

24 61. Labor Code section 226, subdivision (a), requires employers to keep an accurate record 25 of, among other things, all hours worked by employees. Labor Code section 226.3 provides, in pertinent 26 part, as follows:

27 "Any employer who violates subdivision (a) of Section 226 shall be subject to a 28 civil penalty in the amount of two hundred fifty dollars ($250) per employee per

1 violation in an initial citation and one thousand dollars ($1,000) per employee 2 for each violation in a subsequent citation, for which the employer fails to 3 provide the employee a wage deduction statement or fails to keep the records 4 required in subdivision (a) of Section 226. The civil penalties provided for in 5 this section are in addition to any other penalty provided by law.” (Lab. Code, § 6 226.3, emphasis added.)

7 62. Likewise, Labor Code section 1174, subdivision (d), requires every employer, including 8 Defendants, to:

9 “Keep, at a central location in the state or at the plants or establishments at which 10 employees are employed, payroll records showing the hours worked daily by 11 and the wages paid to, and the number of piece-rate units earned by and any 12 applicable piece rate paid to, employees employed at the respective plants or 13 establishments. These records shall be kept in accordance with rules established 14 for this purpose by the commission, but in any case shall be kept on file for not 15 less than three years. An employer shall not prohibit an employee from 16 maintaining a personal record of hours worked, or, if paid on a piece-rate basis, 17 piece-rate units earned.” (Lab. Code, § 1174, subd. (d), emphasis added.)

18 63. As explained in detail above, Defendants failed to provide Plaintiff and the Aggrieved 19 Employees with accurate itemized wage statements. Defendants did so, in part, because they failed to 20 accurately track hours worked by Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees. Defendants have thus failed 21 to keep accurate records of the “total hours worked by the employee[s]” in violation of Labor Code 22 section 226, subdivision (a), and are therefore subject to the penalties provided by Labor Code section 23 226.3. These penalties are “in addition to any other penalty provided by law.” (Lab. Code, § 226.3.)

24 64. The failure to accurately track hours worked also resulted in a failure of Defendants to 25 keep a record of all “payroll records showing the hours worked daily by” Defendants’ employees, 26 including Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved Employees, in violation of Labor Code section 1174, 27 subdivision (d).
28

1 K. FAILURE TO REIMBURSE BUSINESS EXPENSES

2 65. At all relevant times herein, Defendants were subject to Labor Code section 2802, which 3 states that “an employer shall indemnify his or her employees for all necessary expenditures or losses 4 incurred by the employee in direct consequence of the discharge of his or her duties, or of his or her 5 obedience to the directions of the employer.” The purpose of this section is to “prevent employers from 6 passing along their operating expenses onto their employees.” (Gattuso v. Harte-Hanks Shoppers, Inc.
7 (2007) 42 Cal.4th 554, 562.)

8 66. At all relevant times herein, Defendants were subject to Labor Code section 2804, which 9 states that “any contract or agreement, express or implied, made by any employee to waive the benefits 10 of this article or any part thereof, is null and void, and this article shall not deprive any employee or his 11 personal representative of any right or remedy to which he is entitled under the laws of this State.”

12 67. Thus, Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees were and are entitled to reimbursement 13 for the expenses they incurred during the course of their duties. The duty to reimburse even extends to 14 the use of equipment the employee may already own and would be required to pay for anyway.
15 (Cochran v. Schwan’s Home Serv., Inc. (2014) 228 Cal.App.4th 1137, 1144 [“The threshold question 16 in this case is this: Does an employer always have to reimburse an employee for the reasonable expense 17 of the mandatory use of a personal cell phone, or is the reimbursement obligation limited to the situation 18 in which the employee incurred an extra expense that he or she would not have otherwise incurred 19 absent the job? The answer is that reimbursement is always required. Otherwise, the employer would 20 receive a windfall because it would be passing its operating expenses on to the employee.”].)

21 68. Here, Defendants failed to fully reimburse Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees for 22 necessary expenditures incurred as a direct consequence and requirement of performing their job duties, 23 including the costs associated with their personal cell phone they required to perform their work, in 24 violation of Labor Code sections 2800 and 2802.

25 L. FAILURE TO PROVIDE NOTICE OF AVAILABLE PAID SICK LEAVE AND 26 FAILURE TO PAY PAID SICK LEAVE AT CORRECT RATE

27 69. California Labor Code section 246 provides that an employee who works for the same 28 employer for more than 30 days is entitled to paid sick days. Paid sick leave is to accrue at a rate not

1 less than one (1) hour per every 30 hours worked, such accrual beginning at the commencement of 2 employment. Employers must provide employees with written notice setting the amount of sick leave 3 available for use (or paid time off in lieu thereof) on either itemized wage statements (as described in 4 Labor Code section 226) or in a separate writing accompanying such wage statements.

5 70. Defendants failed in some instances to include the amount of available sick leave on the 6 wage statements of Plaintiff and other Aggrieved Employees in violation of Labor Code section 246(i).

7 71. Additionally, Defendants are liable for violations of Labor Code sections 245.5(e) and 8 246(1), which requires “paid sick days” to be “calculated in the same manner as the regular rate of pay 9 for the workweek in which the employee uses paid sick time, whether or not the employee actually 10 works overtime in that workweek” or “by dividing the employee’s total wages, not including overtime 11 premium pay, by the employee’s total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days of 12 employment.” However, Defendants failed to properly provide and/or properly compensate all wages 13 owed to Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved Employees because it had a uniform policy or practice of 14 paying paid sick time at the employee’s base rate of pay without including earned incentive pay, 15 including non-discretionary bonuses, shift differentials, premium pay, and/or other forms of pay that 16 cannot be excluded from the regular rate of pay for the purposes of paid sick pay under Labor Code 17 sections 245.5(e) and 246(1).

18 M. FAILURE TO PAY REPORTING TIME PAY

19 72. California Code of Regulations, Title 8, section 11050(5)(A) provides that for each 20 workday when an employee is required to and does in fact report to work, but is either not put to work 21 or is furnished with less than half of said employee’s usual scheduled day’s work, that employee should 22 be paid for no less than half, and in no event less than two (2) hours, of the employee’s regular rate of 23 pay.

24 73. Plaintiff and other Aggrieved Employees were told by Defendants to report to work and 25 were either not put to work or were furnished with less than half of said employee’s usual scheduled 26 day’s work. Defendants routinely failed to pay the required reporting time wages to Plaintiff and other 27 Aggrieved Employees for each of these instances.
28

1 V. EXHAUSTION OF REMEDIES

2 74. Plaintiff has fully and completely exhausted administrative remedies under PAGA prior 3 to proceeding with the PAGA claims stated in this complaint. Plaintiff filed a PAGA notice and 4 Supplemental PAGA Notice online with the Labor Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”) and 5 sent a letter by certified mail to Defendants setting forth the facts and theories of the violations alleged 6 against Defendants, as prescribed by PAGA. (Lab. Code, §§ 2698–2699.6.)

7 75. As required by PAGA, Plaintiff submitted the $75.00 filing fee with the LWDA by 8 regular mail. Pursuant to Labor Code section 2699.3, subdivision (a)(2)(A), no notice was received by 9 Plaintiff from the LWDA evidencing its intention to investigate within sixty-five calendar days of the 10 postmark date of the PAGA notice. Plaintiff is therefore entitled to commence and proceed with a civil 11 action pursuant to Labor Code section 2699.

12 VI. CAUSES OF ACTION

13 First Cause of Action

14 Penalties Pursuant to PAGA for Violations of California Labor Code Sections 201, 15 202, 203, 204, 210, 218, 221, 226, 226.3, 226.7, 227.3, 246, 510, 512, 558(a)(1)(2), 16 1174, 1185, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 1198.5, 1199, 2100 et seq., 2802, and 17 Other Provisions of the Labor Code
18 (Against All Defendants)

19 76. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference all previous paragraphs.

20 77. Based on the above allegations incorporated by reference, Defendants violated Labor 21 Code sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 210, 218, 221, 226, 226.3, 226.7, 227.3, 246, 510, 512, 558(a)(1)(2), 22 1174, 1185, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 1198.5, 1199, 2100 et seq., 2802, and others that may 23 be applicable; and the Applicable Wage Order (Cal. Code of Regs., tit. 8, § 11040), and others that 24 may be applicable.

25 78. Defendants also failed to provide suitable seating under the Wage Order and in violation 26 of Labor Code section 1198.

27 79. As a result of the acts alleged above, Plaintiff seeks penalties under Labor Code sections 28 2698 through 2699.6 because of Defendants’ violation of Labor Code sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 210,

1 218, 221, 226, 226.3, 226.7, 227.3, 246, 510, 512, 558(a)(1)(2), 1174, 1185, 1194, 1194.2, 1197,
2 1197.1, 1198, 1198.5, 1199, 2100 et seq., 2802, and others that may be applicable; and the Applicable
3 Wage Order (Cal. Code of Regs., tit. 8, § 11040), and others that may be applicable.

4 80. Under Labor Code section 2699, subdivision (f)(2), and 2699.5, for each such violation, 5 Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees are entitled to penalties in an amount to be shown at the time 6 of trial subject to the following formula:

7 A. $100 for the initial violation per employee per pay period; and 8 B. $200 for each subsequent violation per employee per pay period.

9 81. These penalties must be allocated seventy-five percent to the Labor and Workforce 10 Development Agency (“LWDA”) and twenty-five percent to the affected employees. These penalties 11 may be stacked separately for each of Defendants violations of the California Labor Code. (Lopez v.
12 Friant & Associates, LLC (2017) 15 Cal.App.5th 773, 780–781 [citing with approval Stoddart v.
13 Express Services, Inc. (E.D. Cal., Sept. 16, 2015, No. 2:12-CV-01054-KJM) 2015 WL 5522142, at *9, 14 for the proposition that plaintiff could pursue separate claims for penalties under Labor Code section 15 226, subdivision (e), and penalties for Labor Code section 226, subdivision (a), violations]; see also 16 Hernandez v. Towne Park, Ltd. (C.D. Cal., June 22, 2012, No. CV 12-02972 MMM JCGX) 2012 WL
17 2373372, at *17 fn. 70 [noting that federal courts applying California law have found that “PAGA 18 penalties can be stacked, i.e., multiple PAGA penalties can be assessed for the same pay period for 19 different Labor Code violations.”], internal quotation marks omitted).

20 82. In addition, to the extent permitted by law, Defendants failed to provide Plaintiff and all 21 Aggrieved Employees with accurate itemized wage statements in compliance with Labor Code section 22 226, subdivision (a). Plaintiff seeks separate PAGA penalties for Defendants’ violations of Labor Code 23 section 226, subdivisions (a) and (e). (Lopez v. Friant & Associates, LLC, supra, 15 Cal.App.5th at pp.
24 780, 788.)

25 83. For violations of Labor Code section 226, subdivision (a), Plaintiff seeks the default 26 penalty provided by Labor Code section 226.3. Labor Code section 226.3 provides that “[a]ny 27 employer who violates subdivision (a) of Section 226 shall be subject to a civil penalty in the amount 28 of two hundred fifty dollars ($250) per employee per violation in an initial violation and one thousand

1 dollars ($1,000) per employee for each violation in a subsequent citation, for which the employer fails 2 to provide the employee a wage deduction statement or fails to keep the required in subdivision (a) of 3 Section 226.” Accordingly, through PAGA and to the extent permitted by law Plaintiff and the 4 Aggrieved Employees are entitled to recover penalties for violations of Labor Code section 226.3 and 5 seeks default PAGA penalties for each of Defendants’ numerous violations of Labor Code section 226, 6 subdivision (e).

7 84. Labor Code section 210 provides that “in addition to, an entirely independent and apart 8 from, any other penalty provided in this article, every person who fails to pay the wages of each 9 employee as provided in Sections . . . 204 . . . shall be subject to a civil penalty as follows: (1) For any 10 initial violation, one hundred dollars ($100) for each failure to pay each employee; (2) For each 11 subsequent violation, or any willful or intentional violation, two hundred dollars ($200) for each failure 12 to pay each employee, plus 25% of the amount unlawfully withheld.” As a result of the faulty 13 compensation policies and practices, Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees are also entitled to recover 14 penalties under Labor Code section 210 through PAGA.

15 85. Labor Code section 1197.1 authorizes a civil penalty, restitution of wages, and 16 liquidated damages, in the amount of: (1) one hundred dollars ($100) for any initial violation that is 17 intentionally committed for each underpaid employee for each pay period for which the employee is 18 underpaid, and (2) two hundred fifty dollars ($250) for each subsequent violation for the same specific 19 offense for each underpaid employee for each pay period for which the employee is underpaid 20 regardless of whether the initial violation is intentionally committed. Accordingly, through PAGA and 21 to the extent permitted by law, Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees are entitled to recover pursuant 22 to Labor Code section 1197.1.

23 86. Plaintiff was compelled to retain the services of counsel to file this action to protect her 24 interests and those of the Aggrieved Employees, and to assess and collect the wages and penalties owed 25 by Defendants. Plaintiff has thereby incurred attorneys’ fees and costs, which Plaintiff is also entitled 26 to recover under Labor Code section 2699, subdivision (g)(1).
27
28

1 VII. DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

2 87. Plaintiff hereby demands trial by jury of Plaintiff's and the Aggrieved Employees' 3 claims against Defendants.

4 VIII. PRAYER FOR RELIEF

5 Plaintiff prays for judgment for herself and for all others on whose behalf this suit is brought 6 against Defendants, as follows:

- 7 1. For the claim of penalties pursuant to PAGA and other provisions of the California 8 Labor Code, a civil penalty in the amount specified in the operative Labor Code section, 9 or, if no penalty is specified, PAGA's default penalties as specified in Labor Code 10 section 2699, subdivision (f);
- 11 2. Prejudgment interest on all due and unpaid amounts in this action pursuant to Labor 12 Code section 218.6 and Civil Code sections 3287 and 3289;
- 13 3. On all causes of action for which attorneys' fees may be available, for attorneys' fees 14 and costs as provided by Labor Code sections 218.5, 226, 2699, Code of Civil Procedure 15 section 1021.5, and others as may be applicable;
- 16 4. For an order enjoining Defendants, and each of them, and their agents, servants, and 17 employees, and all persons acting under, in concert with, or for them, from acting in 18 derogation of any rights or duties enumerated in this complaint; and
- 19 5. For such other and further relief, this Court may deem just and proper.
