1 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT on January 10, 2025 at 2:00p.m., in Department 10 of 2 the above-entitled court located at Spring Street Courthouse, 312 North Spring Street, Los 3 Angeles, CA 90012, Lucas Lee (“Plaintiff”) will and hereby does move the Court for an Order:
4 (1) provisionally certifying the Class for Settlement purposes only; (2) provisionally approving 5 James R. Hawkins, Isandra Fernandez, and Anthony Draper of James Hawkins APLC; counsel
6 for Plaintiff as Class Counsel in this matter, (3) provisionally approving Plaintiff as the Class
7 Representative; (4) approving Phoenix Class Action Administration Solutions as the Settlement
8 Administrator; (5) preliminarily approving the Class Action and PAGA Settlement Agreement; 9 (6) approving and directing distribution of the Notice of Class Action Settlement and Release; 10 and (7) scheduling a Hearing Date for Final Approval.

11 This Motion is made pursuant to Rule 3.769 of the California Rules of Court, which 12 provides for court approval of the settlement of a purported class action and allows the Court to 13 preliminarily certify a class for settlement purposes. The basis for this Motion is that the proposed 14 Settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable and the procedures proposed by the Parties are 15 adequate to ensure the opportunity of Class Members to participate in, opt out of, or object to the 16 Settlement.

17 This Motion will be based on the Memorandum of Points and Authorities included herein, 18 the Declaration of Anthony L. Draper, the Joint Stipulation Re: Class Action Settlement attached 19 to the Declaration of Anthony L. Draper as Exhibit 1, the Declaration of Lucas Lee, the 20 Declaration of Jodey Lawrence of Phoenix Class Action Administration, and upon the oral 21 arguments of counsel (should there be any) and upon the complete records and file herein.

1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 On April 21, 2023, Plaintiff Lucas Lee filed a wage and hour class action on behalf of 4 himself and all employees erroneously classified as salaried exempt who are currently employed, 5 or were formerly employed in California by Defendant GN Transportation LLC, formerly known 6 as GN Transportation Corporation and now CJ Logistics Transportation, LLC (hereinafter 7 “Defendant” and/or “GN”) (Plaintiff and Defendant hereinafter collectively referred to as 8 “Parties”).¹ That same day, Plaintiff also provided notice to the LWDA of his intent to bring Private 9 Attorney General Act (“PAGA”) claims against Defendant. Plaintiff’s wage and hour class action
10 was removed on June 14, 2023 pursuant to the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005, 28 U.S.C. section 11 1332, 1453, 1711-15 (“CAFA”). On June 27, 2023, Plaintiff separately brought his PAGA claim 12 in the present action. On August 8, 2024, Plaintiff filed an amended complaint in this action 13 incorporating his wage and hour claims from his removed federal case and subsequently dismissed 14 his federal class action.

15 After hard-fought negotiations facilitated by highly-regarded private mediator Lisa 16 Klerman, the Parties ultimately agreed to resolve the putative class and PAGA representative 17 actions for a total of Two Hundred and Seventy Five Thousand Dollars ($275,000) (hereinafter 18 “Gross Settlement Amount” or “GSA”), which includes Individual Class Payments to Class 19 Members, PAGA Payments to the LWDA, Individual PAGA Payments to PAGA Employees, the 20 Class Counsel’s attorney fees and costs, the Class Representative Service Payment, and the 21 Settlement Administration Expenses.² This is a cash settlement. Every Class Member who does 22 not opt out of the Settlement will automatically be mailed an Individual Class Settlement Amount.
23 However, every Class Member who is also within the PAGA group will be mailed their respective 24 Individual PAGA Payment associated with the PAGA penalty portion of the settlement amount 25 regardless of opt-out status. Class Members do not have to file a claim to be mailed a payment.

26 _____
27 ¹ CJ Logistics America, LLC is no longer a defendant in this action, as Plaintiff and the employees at issue were not employed by Defendant, not CJ Logistics America, LLC.

28 ² Capitalized terms herein have the same meaning as those terms in the Joint Stipulation Re: Class Action Settlement attached as Exhibit 1 of the Declaration of Anthony L. Draper (“Draper Decl.”)

As discussed more thoroughly below, the proposed Settlement satisfies all of the criteria for preliminary settlement approval under California law and falls well within the range of proper approval. The Settlement represents an excellent outcome for the settlement group, particularly in light of the substantial risks, challenges, and costs to both sides were the case to proceed to trial. As such, Plaintiff moves this Court to: (i) provisionally certify the proposed Class; (ii) provisionally approve James R. Hawkins, Isandra Fernandez, and Anthony Draper of James Hawkins APLC class counsel for Plaintiff and the Class in this matter; (iii) provisionally approve named Plaintiff Eloy Mondragon as the Class Representative; (iv) appoint Phoenix Class Action Administration Solutions, as the Settlement Administrator; (v) preliminarily grant approval of the Class & PAGA Settlement Agreement (hereinafter “Settlement Agreement”); (vi) direct distribution of the Class Notice and; (vii) schedule a final approval hearing on the terms and conditions set forth in the Settlement Agreement.

II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

On April 21, 2023, Plaintiff Lucas Lee filed a wage and hour class action on behalf of himself and all employees erroneously classified as salaried exempt who are currently employed, or formerly employed by, Defendant GN Transportation LLC (hereinafter “Defendant” and/or “GN”) (Plaintiff and Defendant hereinafter collectively referred to as “Parties”). That same day, Plaintiff also provided notice to the LWDA of his intent to bring PAGA claims against Defendant. Plaintiff’s wage and hour class action was removed on June 14, 2023 pursuant to the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005, 28 U.S.C. section 1332, 1453, 1711-15 (“CAFA”). On June 27, 2023, Plaintiff separately brought his PAGA claim in the present action. During discovery in the federal action, the Parties discovered that the putative class members were not employees of CJ Logistics America, LLC, and that the size of the putative class was therefore significantly smaller than the Parties initially believed, and Plaintiff was preparing to remand the federal action back to the California Superior Court, Los Angeles County when settlement discussions began. On August 8, 2024, Plaintiff filed an amended complaint in this action incorporating his wage and hour claims from his federal case and subsequently dismissed his federal class action. (Draper Decl. ¶ 2.).

1 The First Amended Complaint is the operative complaint, which alleges California claims 2 for (1) failure to pay lawful wages including overtime; (2) failure to provide lawful meal periods; 3 (3) failure to reimburse necessary business expenses; (4) failure to timely pay wages during 4 employment; (5) failure to timely pay wages at termination; (6) failure to provide accurate 5 itemized wage statements; (7) unfair competition, and (8) a request for civil penalties pursuant to 6 the PAGA. (Draper Decl. ¶ 3.).

7 Throughout this litigation, Defendant has denied Plaintiff's allegations, denies any failure
8 to comply with the laws identified in the First Amended Complaint, denies any and all liability 9 for the causes of action that are or reasonably could have been alleged based on the facts in the 10 First Amended Complaint, and denies the case is manageable or amenable to class treatment and 11 raised defenses to his claims, both individually and on a representative basis (Draper Decl. ¶ 4).
12 Defendant maintains that its employment policies and practices meet the requirements of the 13 Labor Code and applicable Wage Orders (Id.) To date, no class has been certified and the Court
14 has not made any findings that Defendant engaged in any wrongdoing or in violation of any state 15 law, rule or regulation, with respect to the issues presented in the litigation (Draper Decl. ¶ 5.)

16 Through formal and informal discovery, Plaintiff and Defendant have exchanged 17 extensive documents and information related to the claims asserted (Draper Decl. ¶ 6.) Defendant 18 has produced hundreds of pages of information, including handbooks and related policy 19 materials, any existing time data, and wage reports of putative Class Members (Id.) Defendant 20 also provided Plaintiff with comprehensive pay and attestation data for the putative group, wage 21 statements, job titles and descriptions, and information regarding the number of exempt
22 employees during the relevant time-period. Plaintiff also utilized an expert for a detailed review 23 of the data provided and for damages models for the number of identified employees whom 24 Plaintiff contends were misclassified (Id.).

25 On April 1, 2024, after conducting formal and informal discovery, exchanging relevant 26 information, and engaging in numerous discussions regarding the claims alleged, the Parties 27 participated in a full-day, hard fought and arms-length mediation before Lisa Klerman, Esq. and 28 were able to reach a settlement soon after, with the assistance of the mediator and a mediator's

1 proposal (Draper Decl. ¶ 7). Thereafter, the Parties exchanged multiple drafts of the proposed 2 settlement agreement and class notice documents and engaged in numerous communications 3 regarding the settlement terms (Id.) The final terms and provisions of the settlement agreement 4 were approved and executed by all the Parties on or about August 15, 2024 (Draper Decl. ¶ 7; 5 Exhibit A - Settlement Agreement).

6 Based on their own respective independent investigations and evaluations and after taking 7 into account the sharply disputed factual and legal issues involved in this matter, the risks 8 attending further prosecution in light of certification issues faced due to the Brinker Rest. Corp. v.
9 Super. Ct., (2012) 53 Cal. 4th 1004 (“Brinker”) decision, the discovery and investigation 10 conducted to date, Plaintiff and his counsel are of the opinion that settlement for the consideration 11 and on the terms set forth in the Settlement Agreement is fair, reasonable and adequate and is in 12 the best interests of the named Plaintiff and Class Members (Draper Decl. ¶ 8).

13 III. SUMMARY OF SETTLEMENT TERMS

14 A. Settlement Class

15 The “Class” includes the Class Representative and all putative class members covered by 16 the First Amended Complaint, which is defined as follows: All current and former exempt 17 employees who worked in California for Defendant at any time between April 21, 2019 and the 18 date of preliminary approval. (Settlement Agreement, p.1, ¶ 1.5.)

19 B. Aggrieved Employees

20 Aggrieved Employees are Plaintiff and all current and former exempt employees 21 employed in California at any time between April 21, 2022 and the date of preliminary approval
22 (the “PAGA Period”). (Settlement Agreement, p. 4.)

23 C. Allocation of the Maximum Settlement Amount

24 1. The total maximum amount of settlement is Two Hundred and Seventy Five 25 Thousand Dollars ($275,000) (Settlement Agreement, p. 2, ¶ 1.22.) This Settlement Amount is 26 inclusive of all settlement payments to Participating Class Members and Aggrieved Employees, 27 Class Counsel’s Court-approved attorneys’ fees and out-of-pocket litigation expenses, the Court-28

1 approved Service Enhancement to the Class Representative, Settlement Administration Expenses, 2 interest and the LWDA's share of PAGA penalties. (Settlement Agreement, pp. 5-6, ¶¶ 3.1-3.2.4)

3 2. Subject to Court approval, Class Counsel may seek approval from the Court of a 4 maximum of Ninety Six Thousand Two Hundred Fifty Dollars and Zero Cents ($96,250.00) in 5 attorneys' fees (35% of the Settlement Amount), and a maximum of Twenty Thousand Dollars 6 ($20,000) in actual litigation costs, for serving as Class Counsel, neither of which Defendant will 7 oppose (Settlement Agreement, pp. 5-6, ¶ 3.2.2.)

8 3. Subject to Court approval, Plaintiff may seek approval from the Court for a Class 9 Representative Service Payment not to exceed Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) from the 10 Settlement Amount for a general release of his claims and for serving as a Class Representative, 11 which Defendant will not oppose. (Settlement Agreement, p. 5, ¶ 3.2.1.)

12 4. Subject to Court approval, reasonable Settlement Administration Expenses to be 13 taken from the Settlement Amount which are estimated not to exceed Ten Thousand Dollars
14 ($10,000). (Settlement Agreement, p. 6, ¶ 3.2.3.)

15 5. Subject to Court approval, Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) shall be allocated to 16 PAGA penalties, from which Seven Thousand Five Hundred Dollars and Zero Cents ($7,500.00)
17 (75%) shall be payable to the LWDA, representing the LWDA's share of PAGA penalties
18 ("PAGA Allocation") and Two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars and Zero Cents ($2,500.00)
19 (25%) to the PAGA Employees. (Settlement Agreement, p. 6, ¶ 3.2.4.)

20 6. "Individual Class Payment" means the amount allocated to each Class Member 21 (Settlement Agreement, p. 6, ¶ 3.3.1 and shall be allocated as follows: 100% to non-wage 22 compensation which shall be reported on an IRS 1099 without withholdings (Settlement 23 Agreement, pp. 6-7, ¶ 3.2.2.) The Claims Administrator will calculate the Individual Class 24 Settlement Amount for each Class Member based on each Participating Class Member's 25 workweeks, and the amount to be paid to each PAGA Employee based on the PAGA Employee's 26 PAGA Pay Periods as reflected in GN's internal records. The Individual Class Payments shall be 27 calculated by dividing the Net Settlement Amount by the total number of workweeks worked by 28 all Participating Class Members during the Class Period and multiplying the result by each

1 Participating Class Member's workweeks, provided that the Participating Class Member has not 2 submitted a Request for Exclusion. (Settlement Agreement, p. 6, ¶¶ 3.3.1 and 3.3.3.) The 3 Individual PAGA Payments will be calculated by dividing the amount of the Aggrieved
4 Employees' 25% share of PAGA Penalties ($2,500) by the total number of PAGA Period Pay 5 Periods worked by all Aggrieved Employees during the PAGA Period and multiplying the result 6 by each Aggrieved Employee's PAGA Period Pay Periods. (Settlement Agreement, p. 6, ¶ 7 3.2.4.1.)

8 7. The portion of the Settlement Amount remaining after subtracting the Settlement 9 Administration Expenses, Court-approved attorneys' fees and litigation costs, Court-approved 10 Service Enhancement, and the portion of PAGA penalties payable to the LWDA, shall be 11 designated the "Net Settlement Amount" or "NSA" (Settlement Agreement, p. 3, ¶ 1.28.)

12 8. Here, there are estimated to be 13 putative Class Members (and thus, the estimated 13 average net recovery of Class Members will be approximately Ten Thousand Three Hundred 14 Sixty Five Dollars ($10,365).³ These average net recovery amounts are significantly more than 15 other wage and hour class action settlements approved by California state and federal courts. See,
16 e.g., Ressler v. Federated Department Stores, Inc., Case No. BC335018 (L.A. County Super. Ct.)
17 (average net recovery of approximately $90); Doty v. Costco Wholesale Corp., Case No. CV05-18 3241 FMC-JWJx (C.D. Cal.) (average net recovery of approximately $65); Sorenson v.
19 Defendants, Inc., Case No. 2:06-CV-02674-JAM-DAD (E.D. Cal.) (average net recovery of 20 approximately $60); Lim v. Victoria's Secret Stores, Inc., Case No. 04CC00213 (Orange County
21 Super. Ct.) (average net recovery of approximately $35); Gomez v. Amadeus Salon, Inc., Case 22 No. BC392297 (L.A. Super. Ct.) (average net recovery of approximately $20); and Jones v.
23 Bath & Body Works, Inc., No. 2:13-cv-05206-FMO-AJW (C.D. Cal.) (average net recovery of 24 approximately $50).

25 D. Releases

26 1) Class Member Released Claims

27
28 ³ This figure is calculated based on the NSA ($134,750) divided by the number of putative Class Members (13).

1 The claims released by the Participating Class Members shall be the following: All 2 Participating Class Members, on behalf of themselves and their respective former and present
3 representatives, agents, attorneys, heirs, administrators, successors, and assigns, release Released 4 Parties from all claims that were alleged, or reasonably could have been alleged, based on the 5 facts stated in the Operative Complaint and ascertained in the course of the Action, including, 6 e.g., any failure to pay all wages due (including minimum wage, straight time, and overtime 7 wages), failure to pay for all hours worked, failure to provide meal or rest periods, failure to 8 timely pay wages and final wages, failure to maintain accurate records of hours worked and meal 9 periods, failure to furnish accurate wage statements, and failure to provide expense 10 reimbursements (including claims derivative and/or related to these claims). This Release shall 11 include all claims and theories arising under the California Labor Code, the Fair Labor Standards
12 Act, California wage orders, and applicable regulations, including California Labor Code sections 13 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 210, 221, 225, 226, 226.2, 226.3, 226.7, 246, 510, 512, 551, 558, 558.1, 14 1174, 1174.5, 1182.12, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1, 1197.5, 1198, 1199, 2800 and 2802, as well
15 as claims under Business and Professions Code section 17200, et seq., and/or California Labor 16 Code section 2698, et seq. based on alleged violations of the above Labor Code provisions, as 17 alleged in the Action. Except as set forth in Paragraph 5.3 of the Settlement Agreement, 18 Participating Class Members do not release any other claims, including claims for vested benefits, 19 wrongful termination, violation of the Fair Employment and Housing Act, unemployment 20 insurance, disability, social security, workers' compensation, or claims based on facts occurring 21 outside the Class Period. (Settlement Agreement, p. 9, ¶ 5.2.)

22 2) PAGA-Released Claims

23 All Aggrieved Employees (regardless of whether they are Participating Class Members) 24 are deemed to release, on behalf of themselves and their respective former and present 25 representatives, agents, attorneys, heirs, administrators, successors, and assigns, the Released 26 Parties from all claims for PAGA penalties that were alleged, or reasonably could have been 27 alleged, based on the facts stated in the Operative Complaint during the PAGA Period, Plaintiff's 28 PAGA Notice, and ascertained in the course of the Action, including, e.g., any failure to pay all

1 wages due (including minimum wage, straight time, and overtime wages), failure to pay for all 2 hours worked, failure to provide meal or rest periods, failure to timely pay wages and final wages, 3 failure to maintain accurate records of hours worked and meal periods, failure to furnish accurate 4 wage statements, and failure to provide expense reimbursements (including claims derivative 5 and/or related to these claims). (Settlement Agreement, p. 10, ¶ 5.3.)

6 3) Class Representative Released Claims

7 Plaintiff and each of his respective former and present spouses, representatives, agents, 8 attorneys, heirs, administrators, successors, and assigns generally, release and discharge Released 9 Parties from all claims, debts, liabilities, demands, obligations, penalties, premium pay, 10 guarantees, costs, expenses, attorneys' fees, damages, actions or causes of action of whatever 11 kind or nature, contingent or accrued, that occurred in connection with his employment with 12 Defendant, including, but not limited to: (a) all claims that were or reasonably could have been 13 alleged based on the facts contained in the Operative Complaint; and (b) all PAGA claims that 14 were or reasonably could have been alleged based on facts contained in the Operative Complaint, 15 Plaintiff's PAGA Notice, or ascertained during the Action and released under Paragraph 5.3, 16 below, including under any legal theory that was alleged or that could have been alleged for any 17 failure to pay all wages due (including minimum wage, straight time, and overtime wages), 18 failure to pay for all hours worked, failure to provide meal or rest periods, failure to timely pay 19 wages and final wages, failure to maintain accurate records of hours worked and meal periods, 20 failure to furnish accurate wage statements, and failure to provide expense reimbursements 21 (including claims derivative and/or related to these claims) ("Plaintiff's Release"). This Release 22 shall include all claims and theories arising under the California Labor Code, the Fair Labor 23 Standards Act, California wage orders, and applicable regulations, including California Labor 24 Code sections 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 210, 221, 225, 226, 226.2, 226.3, 226.7, 246, 510, 512, 25 551, 558, 558.1, 1174, 1174.5, 1182.12, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1, 1197.5, 1198, 1199, 2800 26 and 2802, as well as claims under Business and Professions Code section 17200, et seq., and/or 27 California Labor Code section 2698, et seq. based on alleged violations of the above Labor Code 28 provisions, as alleged in the Action. Plaintiff's Release does not extend to any claims or actions

1 to enforce this Agreement, or to any claims for vested benefits, unemployment benefits, disability 2 benefits, social security benefits, or workers' compensation benefits that arose at any time, or 3 based on occurrences outside of his employment with Defendant. Plaintiff acknowledged that he 4 may discover facts or law different from, or in addition to, the facts or law that he now knows or 5 believes to be true but agrees, nonetheless, that Plaintiff's Release shall be and remain effective in 6 all respects, notwithstanding such different or additional facts or Plaintiff's discovery of them.
7 (Settlement Agreement, pp. 8-9, ¶ 5.1.) For purposes of Plaintiff's Release, Plaintiff expressly 8 waives and relinquishes the provisions, rights, and benefits, if any, of section 1542 of the 9 California Civil Code, which reads:

10 A general release does not extend to claims that the creditor or releasing party does 11 not know or suspect to exist in his or her favor at the time of executing the release, 12 and that if known by him or her would have materially affected his or her 13 settlement with the debtor or Released Party.

14 (Settlement Agreement, p. 9, ¶ 5.1.1.)

15 E. Notice Procedure

16 GN will provide the Settlement Administrator, in the form of Microsoft Excel
17 spreadsheet: (a) the Class Member/PAGA Group Member's name; (b) the Class Member/PAGA
18 Group Member's last known mailing address; (c) the Class Member/PAGA Group Member's 19 social security number; (d) the number of workweeks and pay periods in which the Class 20 Member/PAGA Group Member performed work for Defendant during the respective class and 21 PAGA Periods according to the timekeeping data ("Class Data"). GN will provide the Class Data 22 to the Settlement Administrator no later than twenty (20) calendar days after the Court grants
23 Preliminary Approval of the settlement. (Settlement Agreement, p. 7, ¶ 4.2.)

24 Within twenty (20) calendar days from the date the Settlement Administrator receives the 25 Class Data, the Settlement Administrator shall mail the Class Notice to the Class/PAGA
26 Members described herein. (Settlement Agreement, p.11, ¶ 7.4.2.)

27 The Settlement Administrator shall mail the Class Notice to Class Members by First Class 28 regular U.S.P.S. Mail. With respect to any returned envelopes, the Settlement Administrator shall re-mail the Class Notice using any forwarding address provided by the USPS not later than 3

1 business days after receiving the returned Class Notice. If the USPS does not provide a 2 forwarding address, the Administrator shall conduct a Class member Address Search, and re-mail
3 the Class Notice to the most current address obtained. (Settlement Agreement, pp. 11-12, ¶ 4 7.4.3.)

5 Class Members shall have sixty (60) days from the date of mailing of the Class Notice to 6 return a valid Request for Exclusion from the Settlement to the Settlement Administrator (the 7 “Opt-Out Period”). (Settlement Agreement, p. 12, ¶ 7.5.1.) The deadline for written objections, 8 challenges to workweeks and/or pay periods, and Requests for Exclusion will be extended an 9 additional 14 days beyond the 60 days otherwise provided in the Class Notice for all Class 10 Members whose notice is re-mailed. (Settlement Agreement, p. 12, ¶ 7.4.4.) Class Members who 11 do not submit a timely or valid Request for Exclusions shall be bound by the Settlement
12 Agreement and its releases (Settlement Agreement, pp. 12-13, ¶¶ 7.5.2-4.)

13 IV. PRELIMINARY APPROVAL OF SETTLEMENT IS APPROPRIATE

14 The law favors settlement, particularly in class actions and other complex cases in which 15 substantial resources can be conserved by avoiding the time, cost and rigors of formal litigation.
16 (Class Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle (9th Cir. 1992) 955 F.2d 1268, 1276; Potter v. Pacific Coast 17 Lumber Company (1951) 37 Cal. 2d. 592, 602-603; 4 NEWBERG § 11.41.) To grant preliminary 18 approval of this class action settlement, the Court need find only that the settlement falls within 19 the “range of reasonableness.” (North County Contractor’s Ass. Inc. v. Touchstone Ins. Svcs.
20 (1994) 27 Cal. App. 4th 1085, 1089-1090.) In determining whether a class settlement is fair, 21 adequate and reasonable, courts must consider the following relevant factors: the strength of the 22 Plaintiff’s case, the risk, expense, complexity and likely duration of further litigation, the risk of 23 maintaining class action status through trial, the amount of offered settlement, the extent of 24 discovery completed and the range of the proceedings, and the experience and views of counsel.
25 (Dunk v. Ford Motor Co. (1996) 48 Cal. App. 4th 1794, 1801; Clark v. American Residential 26 Services, LLC (2009) 175 Cal. App. 4th 785, 799.) The list of factors is not exclusive and the 27 court is free to engage in a balancing and weighing of the factors depending on the circumstances 28 of each case.” (Clark, 175 Cal. App. 4th at 799; Wershba, 91 Cal. App. 4th at 245.)

1 Furthermore, courts must give “proper deference to the private consensual decision of the 2 parties,” since “the court’s intrusion upon what is otherwise a private consensual agreement 3 negotiated between the parties to a lawsuit must be limited to the extent necessary to reach a 4 reasoned judgment that the agreement is not the product of fraud or overreaching by, or collusion 5 between, the negotiating parties, and that the settlement, taken as a whole, is fair, reasonable and 6 adequate to all concerned.” (Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp. (9th Cir. 1998) 150 F.3d 1011, 1027.)

7 A. The Terms of the Proposed Settlement are Fair

8 A preliminary review of the terms of the Settlement Agreement provides no reason to 9 doubt its fairness. A presumption of fairness exists where: 1) the settlement is reached through 10 arms-length negotiations; 2) investigation and discovery are sufficient to allow counsel and the 11 court to act intelligently; 3) counsel is experienced in similar litigation; and 4) the percentage of 12 objectors is small (Dunk v. Ford Motor Co., supra, at 1802.) The first three of these factors apply 13 at the preliminary approval stage; the percentage of objectors is determinable only at the final 14 approval stage.

15 1. The Settlement was Reached Through Extensive Arm’s Length Bargaining and 16 Based on the Recommendation Proposed by the Mediator

17 As already discussed herein, the Parties have conducted themselves in informed, good 18 faith arm's-length negotiations after exchanging extensive information about the claims and 19 defenses of this lawsuit and engaging in pre-mediation and post-mediation discussions aimed at 20 settling their dispute. In attempts to settle this lawsuit, the Parties participated in a full day 21 mediation with Lisa Klerman Esq, and were able to reach a settlement with the assistance of the 22 mediator. (Draper Decl., ¶ 7.) In sum, armed with all of the relevant information and with the help 23 of an experienced mediator, counsel for the parties participated in lengthy, serious and informed 24 negotiations which have resulted in the proposed Settlement Agreement that is now placed before 25 this Court.

1 2. Investigation and Discovery Were Sufficient for the Parties to Evaluate the Risks
2 Intelligently

3 Plaintiff conducted significant investigation of the facts and law both before and after the 4 Action was filed. Plaintiff's counsel reviewed voluminous supporting documents and data 5 provided by Defendant through informal discovery and in exchanges of information in 6 preparation for mediation (Draper Decl., ¶¶ 6,7). Plaintiff also undertook an extensive expert 7 analysis of employee data for the class. (Id.)

8 3. Plaintiff's Counsel is Experienced in Similar Litigation

9 Moreover, counsel for Plaintiff has knowledge of the strengths and weaknesses of the 10 claims against Defendant and the benefits of the proposed Settlement under the circumstances of 11 the case. (Draper Decl. ¶ 9).

12 4. The Settlement Provides For Reasonable Compensation To Class Members

13 In seeking approval, a settling party must provide sufficient information to "enable the 14 court to make an independent assessment of the adequacy of the settlement terms." Kullar v.
15 Foot Locker Retail, Inc., 168 Cal. App. 4th 116, 131-32 (2008). However, "[i]t is well-settled law 16 that a cash settlement amounting to only a fraction of the potential recovery will not per se render 17 the settlement inadequate or unfair." Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm'n of City & Cty. of 18 San Francisco, 688 F.2d 615, 628 (9th Cir. 1982). "The proposed settlement is not to be judged 19 against a hypothetical or speculative measure of what might have been achieved by the 20 negotiators." Id. at 625. "Estimates of a fair settlement figure are tempered by factors such as the 21 risk of losing at trial, the expense of litigating the case, and the expected delay in recovery (often 22 measured in years)." In re Toys R Us-Delaware, Inc.-- Fair & Accurate Credit Transactions Act
23 (FACTA) Litig., 295 F.R.D. 438, 453 (C.D. Cal. 2014). In other words, in valuing the claims 24 within a realistic range of outcomes, the settling Plaintiff should discount the value of the settled 25 claims for risks such as changes in the law, the probability of success, and other factors.

26 Settling parties are not, however, required to partake in a hypothetical accounting 27 exercise: "Kullar does not ... require any such explicit statement of [maximum] value; it 28 requires a record which allows 'an understanding of the amount that is in controversy and the

1 realistic range of outcomes of the litigation.” Munoz v. BCI Coca-Cola Bottling Co. (2010) 186 2 Cal. App. 4th 399, 409-10 (citing Kullar, 168 Cal. App. 4th at 120) (emphasis added). Overall, 3 “the most important factor” in determining “whether a settlement is fair and reasonable” is the 4 “strength of the case for Plaintiff on the merits, balanced against the amount offered in the 5 settlement.” Id. at 409 n.6 (quoting Kullar, 168 Cal. App. 4th at 130). As discussed further 6 below, the recovery of $275,000 for the Class and PAGA Employees is well within the range of 7 reasonableness and undeniably fair, adequate and reasonable considering the risks and hurdles of 8 continued litigation.

9 Plaintiff’s counsel analyzed the potential liability in this matter based on documents and 10 information produced by Defendant in informal discovery and in preparation for mediation, 11 expert analysis of timekeeping records and payroll data, and took into account the nature of the 12 claims and Defendant’s defenses thereto (Draper Decl., ¶ 10).

13 The damages model used in calculating potential liability was largely based on the number 14 of class members, the number of pay periods and workweeks, the average rate of pay and a pay 15 information, wage statements, job descriptions and duties, and documents produced by Defendant 16 in preparation for mediation. Based on the information provided by Defendant, the estimated 17 number of work weeks is 2,182 during the Class Period. (Draper Decl., ¶ 11). Plaintiff’s counsel 18 estimated the maximum potential liability as follows:

19 a. Alleged Failure to Pay Lawful Wages for All Hours Worked

20 Plaintiff’s claim for failure to pay all lawful wages owed is premised on allegations that, 21 during the Class Period, Defendant failed to pay one-and-a-half times the regular rate when 22 Plaintiff and Class Members worked more than eight hours in one day, and more than forty hours 23 in one week due to their misclassification as exempt employees. Thus, Plaintiff alleged that he 24 and Class Members were underpaid overtime compensation when required to work more than 25 eight (8) hours in a day or more than forty (40) hours in a workweek and were not paid for all 26 hours worked (Draper Decl., ¶ 12). Defendant disputes the allegations that it did not pay the 27 correct overtime compensation to its non-exempt employees and disputes that any of its exempt 28 employees were misclassified and thus owed any overtime. In analyzing the administrative

1 exemption test, Lee and the putative class members were properly classified as exempt employees 2 because they engaged in management like duties (i.e. making recommendations on hiring and 3 firing drivers), acted in a supervisory capacity (i.e. assigning drivers and scheduling breaks), and 4 they had substantial discretion on important matters. Further, all of the putative class members 5 met the salary threshold required for the exemptions because their salaries were greater than twice 6 the California state minimum wage. See Perine v. ABF Freight Sys., Inc., 457 F. Supp. 2d 1004, 7 1015-16 (C.D. Cal. 2006). (Id.) Based on Plaintiff's expert's analysis, Plaintiff contends and 8 believes that GN's alleged failure to pay all wages and underpayment of overtime, based on 9 regular rate, was estimated to be $218,200 (Id.).

10 b. Meal and Rest Period Claim

11 During the Class Period, due to the alleged work load requirements and time constraints 12 resulting from the demands of work shift, Plaintiff contends that he and Class Members were 13 required to work in excess of five (5) hours without being provided an uninterrupted thirty (30) 14 minute meal period by the end of the fifth hour. (Draper Decl., ¶ 13).

15 Defendant disputes the allegations that it misclassified any exempt employees and thus 16 they have no entitlement to meal and rest period premiums. Further, Defendant disputes that any 17 allegedly misclassified employees would have been unable to take an uninterrupted, thirty-minute
18 meal break before the fifth hour of their shift. (Id.) Defendant gave Lee and the putative class 19 members significant discretion over how they organized and scheduled their day. They were 20 encouraged to take meal and rest breaks whenever needed or desired, and had full opportunity to 21 do so. If they declined to take such breaks, that was a voluntary decision that created no liability 22 to Defendant. And, in fact, the evidence did show that Lee often went to lunch and took breaks.
23 Under California law, an employer need not require or monitor that hourly employees take meal 24 or rest breaks. Rather, employees need only have the opportunity to take those breaks. If 25 employees voluntarily elect not to take breaks, that creates no employer liability. See Brinker
26 Rest. Corp. v. Super. Ct., 53 Cal. 4th 1004, 1034 (2012) (rule for meal periods); see also Augustus 27 v. ABM Sec. Servs., Inc., 2 Cal. 5th 257, 265 (2016) (same rule for rest periods). (Id.).

28 Defendant also disputes the propriety of certification on this claim as well, under the holding in Brinker and other state and federal decisions. See also Lampe v. Queen of the Valley

1 Medical Center, 19 Cal. App. 5th 832 (2018) (affirming denial of class certification because the 2 “question of whether a missed meal break was due to the employer’s failure to allow it or from 3 the employee’s voluntary choice not to take it requires an individualized inquiry. . . . The expert’s 4 analysis does not change the nature of the claims.”). (Id.).

5 Based upon Plaintiff’s review of the documents and information provided in anticipation 6 of mediation and the analysis provided by the expert, Plaintiff contends and believes that the 7 estimated maximum potential of the meal break claim was $80,734. This was calculated by 8 multiplying the total number of workweeks (2,182) by an estimate average regular rate of pay 9 ($37) which equals $80,734. However, taking into consideration the nature of the claim, 10 Defendant’s defenses (as described above) and issues faced due to Brinker, for purposes of 11 settlement, the meal break claim was valued by Plaintiff between $40,367 (50%) and $8,073.40 12 (10%) (Id.).

13 c. Alleged Failure to Provide Accurate Itemized Wage Statements

14 Under Lab. Code § 226(e), an employee suffering “injury as a result of a knowing and 15 intentional failure by an employer” to provide accurate wage statements is entitled to $50 for the 16 initial violation and $100 for each subsequent violation up to $4,000. For example, Plaintiff 17 alleges Defendant issued wage statements to Plaintiff and Class Members that provided payment 18 of overtime wages without indicating the applicable hourly rate or hours worked. (Draper Decl. ¶ 19 14).

20 Per information provided by Defendant, Plaintiff believes there were approximately 13 21 Class Members working during the relevant time period for this claim. Thus, if a calculation is 22 performed using the maximum exposure permitted per Class Member under Labor Code section 23 226, Plaintiff contends and believes that this amounts to a maximum exposure for Defendant of 24 $52,000 based on 13 Class Members x $4,000. However, some of the Class Members working 25 during the relevant time period may have worked for only one pay period during the relevant 26 time period and some may have worked for tens of pay periods. (Id.).

27 Defendant denies that it provided inaccurate wage statements, and instead contends that 28 applicable hourly rates and hours worked were correctly stated on its wage statements. Moreover,

1 so long as the wage statements accurately show the amount Defendant actually paid, employees 2 may not sue on derivative claims that the wage should have reflected additional payments that the 3 employer owed but did not make. See Maldonado v. Epsilon Plastics, Inc., 22 Cal. App. 5th 1308, 4 1337 (2018). Further, Defendant argues that, even assuming arguendo that any wage statements
5 were in fact inaccurate, Defendant did not “knowingly and intentionally” fail to provide accurate 6 statements and Defendant reasonably and in good faith believed it did not owe any additional 7 wages to the class members. Also, Plaintiff and the class did not suffer any “injury” from such 8 inaccurate wage statements. For purposes of settlement negotiations, Plaintiff valued said claim 9 between an estimated maximum of $52,000 (100%) and $10,400 (20%) (Id.).

10 d. Alleged Failure to Timely Pay Wages

11 This claim is derivative of the other claims asserted. Pursuant to Labor Code sections 201, 12 202, 203, 204, and 210, each employee in the relevant statutory period (i.e., three years before the 13 filing of the initial Complaint) is entitled to 30 days’ worth of wages as a waiting time penalty for 14 not being paid all wages during employment and upon the separation of employment. Plaintiff 15 alleges that penalties are owed under Labor Code section 203 due to, at a minimum, Defendant’s 16 alleged failure to pay wages for all hours worked and failure to pay premium wages. With respect 17 to Lab. Code § 203 claim, there were an estimated total of 9 former Class Members to whom this 18 claim applied. Plaintiff contends and believes that the estimated maximum potential liability was 19 determined to be $99,900 using the formula (# of terminated/former employees) x (30 x estimated 20 average hourly rate x estimated average number of hours worked per day). (9) x (30 x $37 x 10)
(Draper Decl., ¶ 15).

21 For its part, Defendant strongly disputes that there is any evidence that it failed to pay 22 wages that were due. Defendant further argues that Plaintiff would be unable to show willfulness, 23 as required for penalties to issue, because there is a good-faith dispute whether any additional 24 wages are owed given the putative class members were properly classified. See Takacs v. A.G.
25 Edwards and Sons, Inc., 444 F. Supp. 2d 1100, 1126 (S.D. Cal. 2006). Thus, waiting time 26 penalties for the alleged failure to timely wages during employment and at separation cannot be 27 awarded. Further, Defendant employs a robust policy in which it provides final pay on or before 28 the last day of work, and includes penalty payments in the final check if it expects that a

1 terminated employee might be paid after their final day. Moreover, Defendant contends that none 2 of the former employees were misclassified and therefore they were not owed any of the wages
3 allegedly unpaid. (Id.)

4 For purposes of settlement negotiations, Plaintiff valued said claim between $79,920
5 (80%) and $9,990. (10%) (Id.)

6 e. Failure to Reimburse Business Expenses

7 The business expense reimbursement claim is based on allegations that Plaintiff and class 8 members were required to utilize their personal cell phones and were not reimbursed by 9 Defendant. (Draper Decl., ¶ 16).

10 Plaintiff calculated a maximum potential liability at $1,300 assuming an estimated 11 average $100 in unreimbursed expenses per Class Member. However, this claim would be 12 difficult to certify given the predominance of the individualized inquiry as to whether and to what 13 extent each class member was required to utilize their personal cell phones as well as the defenses 14 raised. As such, for purposes of settlement, this claim was valued at $0. (Id.)

15 Defendant disputes that the putative class members were not reimbursed for business 16 expenses. (Id.) Defendant requested its employees to submit paperwork to receive a phone stipend 17 every pay period and the majority of the class members did submit and receive the stipend.
18 Furthermore, Defendant offered phones, WiFi, and computers at the office; thus, there would 19 have been very little reason for employees to use their personal phones at work.

20 f. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200 Claim

21 The only remedies available under the unfair competition law (“UCL”) Business and 22 Professions Code Section § 17200 et seq. are restitution and injunction, as opposed to damages 23 Clark v. Superior Court (2010) 50 Cal. 4th 605, 610. The UCL provides that “[t]he court may 24 make such orders or judgments . . . as may be necessary to restore to any person in interest any 25 money or property, real or personal, which may have been acquired by means of such unfair 26 competition.” (Bus. & Prof. Code, § 17203.) Restitution under the UCL includes “earned wages.” 27 Cortez v. Purolator Air Filtration Prods. Co. (2000) 23 Cal. 4th 163, 177-78.

1 Restitution under the UCL is not available for all violations of the Labor Code. See 2 Pineda v. Bank of Am., N.A., (2010) 50 Cal. 4th 1389, 1401-02. In Pineda, the California
3 Supreme Court held Labor Code § 203 is “not designed to compensate employees for work 4 performed [but] it is intended to encourage employers to pay final wages on time, and to punish 5 employers who fail to do so.” (Id.) Like Labor Code section 203, section 226 for wage statement 6 violations is also intended to “punish” the employer and is not an action brought to recover
7 wages. See Gomez v. Jacobo Farm Labor Contractor, Inc. (2019) 334 FRD. 234, 267-268.

8 Here, Plaintiff’s UCL claim is solely premised on the failure to pay lawful wages and 9 premium wages claims discussed above. Class Counsel assigned a zero-dollar value to the UCL 10 claim because it does not provide any additional value in this Action other than to increase the 11 statute of limitations to four years for the underlying claims. Those claims are valued and 12 analyzed above based on the four-year statute of limitations provided by the UCL. However, the 13 UCL claim in and of itself does not provide any additional damages. Therefore, there is no 14 additional or separate monetary value that this statute provides based on the facts of this Action
15 (Draper Decl., ¶ 17).

16 Defendant disputes the UCL claim because Plaintiff cannot establish that he lacks an 17 adequate remedy at law; thus, necessitating equitable restitution for a past harm. See Sonner v.
18 Premier Nutrition Corp., 971 F.3d 834, 844 (9th Cir. 2020). Further, because Lee bases his 19 Section 17200 claim on the same causes of action discussed above, his Section 17200 claim will 20 fail when the foregoing claims fail. See Cal. Consumer Health Care Council v. Kaiser Found.
21 Health Plan, Inc., 142 Cal. App. 4th 21, 27 (2006) (claims brought under Section 17200 22 “borrow[] violations of other laws and treat[] them as unlawful practices that the unfair 23 competition law makes independently actionable” (internal quotations omitted)).

24 h. Lab. Code § 2699 et seq. (PAGA Claim)

25 Plaintiff’s claims under PAGA are primarily predicated on or derivative of the other 26 claims asserted. Plaintiff’s estimated maximum PAGA penalty was calculated as $109,100. This 27 figure attributes a $100 penalty to each of the estimated 1,091 pay periods in scope during the 28 PAGA period. The figure also assumes that there is a 100% violation rate during the PAGA

1 period, such that every single pay period in question involved at least one Labor Code violation,
2 despite disputes regarding Defendant's liability (Draper Decl., ¶ 18). However, PAGA claims 3 under the facts and circumstance of this case may result in no award or at best a very minimal 4 award by the trial court. See specifically §2699(e)(2) which states in its pertinent part:

5 "... a court may award a lesser amount than the maximum civil penalty amount specified 6 by this part if, based on the facts and circumstances of the particular case, to do otherwise 7 would result in an award that is unjust, arbitrary and oppressive, or confiscatory."

8 For instance, in Fleming v. Covidien, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 154590 (C.D. Cal. 2011), a federal 9 court reduced PAGA penalties from $2,800,000 to $500,000, a reduction of 82.2%, because the 10 court found maximum penalties "unjust" because the employees had suffered no injuries. Some 11 trial courts have actually awarded no civil penalties, even when Labor Code violations are 12 established. See Makabi v. Gedalia, 2016 Cal. App. Unpub. 1489, *5 7 (2nd Dist. Ct. of App.
13 Mar. 6, 2016) (no PAGA penalties were awarded by the Los Angeles County Superior Court)
14 (unpublished decision); In re Taco Bell Wage & Hour Actions, 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 48557, 15 *40 43 (E.D. Cal. Apr. 6, 2016) (PAGA penalties denied after trial).

16 In order to recover any PAGA penalties, Plaintiff would be required at trial to prove each 17 of the underlying Labor Code violations. See Cardenas v. McLane Foodservice, Inc., 2011 U.S.
18 Dist. LEXIS 13126, *10 (C.D. Cal. 2011) ("Given the statutory language [of PAGA], a Plaintiff 19 cannot recover on behalf of individuals whom the Plaintiff has not proven suffered a violation of 20 the Labor Code by the defendant.") Here, Plaintiff would need to prove that each PAGA 21 Employee suffered all violations for each pay period the employee worked. As discussed herein, 22 the nature of the PAGA based claims (i.e. meal period, wage statement, failure to pay all wages 23 owed, and to timely pay wages) and Defendant's asserted defenses thereto present a risk that 24 some or all of the PAGA penalties sought may not be awarded. Given the nature of these claims, 25 as analyzed above, Class Counsel believes it to be likely that if there would be any award it would 26 be a minimal amount. Therefore, the amount of $10,000 (which has been reserved for the PAGA 27 claim) is both fair and reasonable (Draper Decl., ¶ 18).

1 Defendant denies that a violation for each pay period can be established, and contends that 2 Plaintiff's PAGA claim was untimely and his PAGA notice was defective. Defendant states that 3 because the PAGA Action heavily relies on the same allegations made in the Class Action, they 4 are subject to the same defenses, and, thus, for the same reason Defendant believes there will be 5 no damages collectible in the class action, no PAGA penalties would be awarded, either. Further, 6 if any damages were collectible as PAGA penalties then they would be nominal in that they 7 would be limited to the initial $100 penalty under Labor Code Section 26999 since the $200 8 penalty is limited to subsequent violations after a court informs the employer of the violation. See 9 Bernstein v. Virgin Am., 3 F. 4th 1127, 1144 (9th Cir. 2021) ("Until the employer has been 10 notified that it is violating a Labor Code provision . . . the employer cannot be presumed to be 11 aware that its continuing underpayment of employees is a 'violation' subject to penalties."").
12 Defendant also asserts that individualized issues predominate the PAGA claims, making the 13 claims unmanageable for trial. Defendant further contends that it has demonstrated good faith and 14 robust efforts to comply with the California Labor Code, and thus a Court would use its discretion 15 to not award and/or substantially reduce any PAGA penalties that Plaintiff was able to establish.

16 g. Summary

17 Through his counsel, Plaintiff took into consideration the significant risks that class 18 certification could be denied on the central claim, or that a merits decision on the central claim 19 would not favor the Class. Plaintiff has considered the expense and length of continued 20 proceedings necessary to continue the Action against Defendant through trial and any possible 21 appeals. Plaintiff is also aware of the burdens of proof necessary to establish liability for the 22 claims asserted in the Action, Defendant's defenses thereto, and the difficulties in establishing 23 Plaintiff's damages (Draper Decl., ¶ 19).

24 The proposed Settlement requires Defendant to pay each Class Member who does not opt 25 out a portion of the Settlement Amount as specifically set forth in the Settlement Agreement 26 (Draper Decl., ¶ 20). The amount to be paid to the Class is undoubtedly fair, adequate and 27 reasonable especially in light of the significant risk to Plaintiff and Class Members in continuing 28 with the litigation and not prevailing on class certification or at trial (Id.)

1 For all the foregoing reasons, the proposed Settlement Agreement is fair, adequate and 2 reasonable, and is in the best interests of the Class Members.

3 B. The Plaintiff's Class Representative Enhancement Payment and Class
4 Counsel Attorneys' Fees Are Reasonable and Should be Awarded

5 The Settlement Agreement provides for an award to be paid to the Class Representative.
6 The primary purpose is to provide Plaintiff an enhancement payment, taking into consideration 7 the risks, time, effort and expenses incurred by their coming forward to provide invaluable
8 information and negotiate and litigate this matter on behalf of all Class Members (Draper Decl., ¶ 9 21). Plaintiff actively participated in this litigation by providing significant supporting documents 10 and information and assisting counsel in developing information necessary to litigate and settle 11 this case which has resulted in a favorable settlement for the putative Class Members (Id.) Thus, 12 the payment to the Class Representative of $10,000 represents a small portion of the aggregate 13 settlement amount and should be awarded.⁴

14 Further, as will be discussed in more detail in Plaintiff's Motion for Final Approval of 15 Class Action and PAGA Settlement, class counsel fees in the amount of $96,250 is reasonable 16 within California's standard benchmark and well within the range customarily approved by the 17 California courts in comparable class actions.

18 V. PROVISIONAL CLASS CERTIFICATION IS APPROPRIATE

19 In addition to such terms as class definition, settlement amounts and payment procedures, 20 the Settlement Agreement reached between the Parties contains a provision by which the Parties 21 stipulate to the Court's provisional certification of the Class, but do so for the purposes of this 22 settlement only. Plaintiff now request that this Court to provisionally certify the Class.

23 It is well established that trial courts should use a lower standard for determining the 24 propriety of certifying a settlement class, as opposed to a litigation class. (Dunk v. Ford Motor 25 Co. (1996) 48 Cal.App.4th at 1794, 1807, fn. 19.) Under California law, a class action is 26 appropriate when the Class is ascertainable and there is a "well defined community of interest in 27

28 ⁴ Plaintiff will provide a declaration in support of the Class Representative Enhancement in advance of the Final Approval Hearing.

1 the questions of law and fact affecting the parties to be represented.” (Code Civ. Proc., §382; 2 Dunk, 48 Cal. App. 4th at 1806.) State law requirements under California Code of Civil 3 Procedure section 382 for class certification largely mirrors Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 4 Rule 23 – namely, numerosity and typicality of the class representative’s claims, adequacy of 5 representation, predominance of common issues and superiority. As discussed below, although 6 Defendant adamantly disputed and continues to dispute Plaintiff’s ability to certify a litigation 7 class, Plaintiff contends that all of the requirements of certification for settlement purposes are 8 met for the proposed settlement Class.

9 A. The Proposed Class is Ascertainable

10 Here, Plaintiff contends that the proposed class is ascertainable because all of the Class 11 Members are/were employed by Defendant and received their compensation from Defendant.
12 Plaintiff contends that the Class Members have been identified through Defendant’s employee 13 and personnel files. (See Rose v. City of Hayward (1981) 126 Cal. App. 3d 926, 932 [“Class
14 Members are ‘ascertainable’ where they may be readily identified without unreasonable expense 15 or time by reference to official records”].)

16 B. Numerosity of the Class is Sufficient

17 If the class is sufficiently large that joinder of all members is impractical or that individual 18 joinder is impractical, the numerosity requirement is met. (Hebberd v. Colgrove (1972) 28 19 Cal.App.3d 1017, 1030.) “[N]o set number is required as a matter of law for the maintenance of a 20 class action.” (Rose, supra, 126 Cal. App. 3d at 934; see, e.g., Dale Electronics, Inc. v. R.C.L.
21 Electronics, Inc. (D.C.N.H. 1971) 53 F.R.D. 531, 534, 536 (13 members).) Here, the proposed 22 settlement class consists of approximately 13 members, consisting of Plaintiff and current and 23 former employees of Defendant. Defendant is not disputing numerosity for purposes of 24 settlement. It would be expensive, time-consuming, and duplicative to proceed with 13 different 25 individual lawsuits based on the same claims. Therefore, joinder of individual claims would be 26 impractical and the numerosity requirement is met.

1 C. There are Common Questions of Law and Fact to the Class

2 Commonality is met if there are common questions of fact and law to the class. (Hanlon v.
3 Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d at 1019 [“The existence of shared legal issues with divergent legal 4 factual predicates is sufficient, as is a common core of salient facts coupled with disparate legal 5 remedies within the class”].) Here, Plaintiff alleges that the proposed Class Members’ claims all 6 stem from the same alleged conduct. Specifically, Plaintiff alleges that Defendant violated 7 California wage and hour law (1) failure to pay lawful wages including overtime; (2) failure to 8 provide meal and rest periods; (3) failure to reimburse necessary business expenses; (4) failure to 9 timely pay wages during employment; (5) failure to timely pay wages at termination; and (6) 10 failure to provide accurate wage statements. Plaintiff seeks recovery of all alleged wages, 11 premium wages, penalties, and interest pursuant to the California Labor Code, the California 12 Industrial Welfare Commission (“IWC”) Wage Orders, Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200 et seq., and 13 PAGA. Although Defendant disagrees with these contentions for purposes of certifying a 14 litigation class, for purposes of a settlement class, Plaintiff contends that these circumstances 15 create questions of law and fact common to all proposed Class Members.

16 D. The Typicality Requirement is Met

17 The typicality requirement is met if the claims of the named Class Representative(s) are 18 typical of those of the class, though “they need not be substantially identical.” (Hanlon, 150 F.3d 19 at 1020.) Factual differences may exist between the Class and the Class Representative(s) so long 20 as the claims arise from the same events or course of conduct and are based on the same legal 21 theories (Id.) Here, Plaintiff contends that the claims of the Class Representative are typical of the 22 other Class Members because he believes that they arise from the same factual basis and are 23 based on the same legal theories as those applicable to all Class Members. (Wherner v. Syntex 24 (N.D. Cal. 1987) 117 F.R.D. 641, 644.) Thus, for purposes of a settlement class, Plaintiff submits 25 that the typicality requirement is met.

26 E. The Adequacy Requirement is Met

27 If the named representative and his counsel have no interests adverse to the interest of the 28 proposed Class Members and are committed to vigorously prosecuting the case on behalf of the

1 class, then the adequacy requirement is met. (McGhee v. Bank of America (1976) 60 Cal. App. 3d
2 442,450.) Here, under the proposed settlement, the Class Representative will receive a reasonable 3 award for his time and efforts assisting counsel with factual issues surrounding the case and risk
4 incurred in bringing this action on behalf of the Class Members. Other than this specific payment, 5 all Class Members will receive a percentage of the Net Settlement Amount based on his or her 6 respective number of covered work weeks. Therefore, no “settlement allocation” questions are 7 raised. (Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1020.)

8 Any Class Member who wishes to opt-out of the settlement shall have sixty (60) days
9 from the date of mailing of the Settlement Documents to return a valid Request for Exclusion 10 from the Settlement to the Settlement Administrator (Settlement Agreement, p. 12, ¶ 7.4.4.) As a 11 result, there is no conflict of interest between the Class Representative and the Class Members.
12 Additionally, the Class Representative and his counsel have been committed to prosecuting this 13 action on behalf of the Class.

14 F. Common Issues Predominate and Class-wide Settlement is Superior to Other 15 Available Methods of Resolution

16 Class certification is authorized where common questions of law and fact predominate 17 over individual questions and where class-wide treatment of a dispute is superior to individual 18 litigation. (Richmond v. Dart Industries, Inc. (1981) 29 Cal.3d 462, 469.) The test is whether the 19 proposed class is sufficiently cohesive to warrant adjudication by representation. (Hanlon, supra, 20 at p. 1022.) Plaintiff contends that the proposed Class in this case is sufficiently cohesive since all 21 Class Members share a “common nucleus of facts and potential legal remedies.” Specifically, 22 Plaintiff contends that the Class Members and the Class Representative seek compensation for 23 alleged unpaid wages, premium wages for failure to provide compliant meal and rest breaks, as 24 well as penalties and interest for the allegations described herein; common questions about 25 compensation or lack thereof for worked performed by Class Members predominate over 26 individual questions, and the Class Members’ potential legal remedies are identical (Id.) Although 27 Defendant disagrees with Plaintiff’s contentions, it has agreed the Class may be certified for 28 settlement purposes only.

1 Additionally, particularly in the settlement context, class resolution is superior to other 2 methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy. (Hanlon, 150 F. 3d at p. 1023; 3 Dunk, supra, 45 Cal. App. 4th at p. 1087.) The superiority requirement involves a “comparative 4 evaluation of alternative mechanisms of dispute resolution.” (Hanlon, supra, at p. 1023.) Here, 5 the alternative methods of resolution are numerous individual claims. The class action device can 6 thus conserve judicial resources by avoiding the waste and delay of repetitive proceedings and 7 prevent inconsistent adjudication of similar issues and claims. (Sav-On Drug Stores, Inc. v
8 Superior Court (2004) 34 Cal. 4th 319, 340; Bell v Farmers Ins. Exchange (2004) 115 9 Cal.App.4th 715, 741.) Moreover, the claims of each individual are not high-value. A class suit is 10 appropriate when the injury is of insufficient size to warrant individual action. (See Aguiar v.
11 Cintas Corp. No. 2 (2006) 144 Cal.App.4th 121, 132-133.) Therefore, settlement on a class-wide 12 basis is superior.

13 VI. THE PROPOSED CLASS NOTICE IS APPROPRIATE

14 The Class Notice is attached as Exhibit A to the Settlement Agreement. The Class Notice 15 provides the requisite, pertinent information to Class Members and the options available to them.
16 Should any Class Members wish to exclude themselves from the Settlement, they can send a 17 timely and valid Request for Exclusion to the Settlement Administrator. Should a Class Member 18 wish to object to the Settlement, they can object as described in the Notice. If a Class Member 19 does nothing in response to the Notice, the Class Member will be mailed an individual settlement 20 payment.

21 A. The Class Notice Satisfies Due Process

22 California statutory and case law vests the Court with broad authority to fashion an 23 appropriate notice process. (Cal. Rules of Court 3.760 et seq.) A proposed method of notice of a 24 proposed settlement is fair, adequate and reasonable if it has “a reasonable chance of reaching a 25 substantial percentage of the Class Members. (Cartt v. Superior Court (1975) 50 Cal. App. 3d 26 960, 974.) The Class Notice plan described herein entails mailing the Class Notice to all known 27 and reasonably ascertainable Class Members based on Defendant’s records and provides for a 28 reasonable chance of reaching a significant percentage of Class Members. (See Settlement

1 Agreement, pp.16, 17 ¶¶ 59-60.) Further, such individual notice by first class mail is routinely
2 approved as consistent with due process. (See, e.g., MANUAL at §§21.311, 21.312; Wright &
3 Miller, Fed. Practice & Procedure §1797.6 [“Of course, notice by mail to all of the identified 4 Class Members . . . will suffice.”] (citing cases).) The Class Notice is consistent with the class 5 certification notices approved by numerous state and federal courts and is the best notice 6 practicable under circumstances of this case.

7 B. The Proposed Class Notice is Accurate and Informative

8 Not only is the manner of the proposed notice proper, so too is the content of the said 9 notice. The proposed notice provides information on the meaning and the nature of the proposed 10 settlement, the terms and provisions of the settlement, the relief the settlement will provide the 11 Class Members, the application of Plaintiff’s counsel for reimbursement of costs and attorneys’ 12 fees from the settlement amount, the date, the time and place of the Final Fairness and Approval 13 Hearing, and the procedure and deadlines for opting out of the Settlement or for submitting 14 comments and objections. (Cal. Rule of Court 3.769(f).)

15 The Class Notice also fulfills the requirement of neutrality in class notices. (2 NEWBERG 16 §8.39.) It summarizes the proceedings to date and the terms and conditions of the settlement in an 17 informative and coherent manner, in compliance with the MANUAL’S statement, “the notice 18 should be accurate, objective, and understandable to class members.....” (MANUAL at §30.21.) 19 The Class Notice clearly states the settlement does not constitute an admission of liability by 20 Defendant and recognizes the Court has not ruled on the merits. It also states the final settlement 21 approval decision has yet to be made. Accordingly, the Notice complies with the standards of 22 fairness, completeness and neutrality required of a settlement class notice disseminated under the 23 authority of the Court.

24 Moreover, the Class Notice comports with CA Rules of Court, Rule 3.766(d). As per Rule
25 3.766, the contents of the Class Notice providing for an opt out procedure for the Class Members 26 must include the following:

- 27 (1) A brief explanation of the case, including the basic contentions or denials of 28 the Parties;

- 1 (2) A statement that the Court will exclude the member from the class if the 2 member so requests by a specified date;
3 (3) A procedure for the member to follow in requesting exclusion from the class;
4 (4) A statement that the judgment, whether favorable or not, will bind all members 5 who do not request exclusion; and 6 (5) A statement that any member who does not request exclusion may, if the 7 member so desires, enter an appearance through counsel.

8 The Class Notice contains the information required under Rule 3.766(d). (See Ex. A 9 attached to the Settlement Agreement.)

10 VII. CONCLUSION

11 Based on the foregoing, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court enter the [Proposed] 12 Order Granting Preliminary Approval submitted concurrently herewith, and thus:

- 13 1. Grant preliminary approval of the Settlement Agreement, and certify the 14 Settlement Class for the purposes of settlement only; 15 2. Confirm named Plaintiff Lucas Lee as the Class Representative; 16 3. Confirm attorneys James R. Hawkins, Isandra Fernandez, and Anthony Draper of 17 James Hawkins APLC as Class Counsel; 18 4. Approve and appoint Phoenix Class Action Administration Solutions as the 19 Settlement Administrator;
20 5. Enter an Order granting preliminary approval of the proposed settlement and the 21 Notice, and;
22 7. Schedule the Final Approval Hearing Date on _____, 202__.
