[Assigned to Hon. Maren Nelson, Dept.17]

CLASS AND PAGA REPRESENTATIVE ACTION

PLAINTIFF'S NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION FOR PRELIMINARY
APPROVAL OF CLASS AND PAGA
REPRESENTATIVE ACTION
SETTLEMENT; MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

Date: May 29, 2024
Time: 9 a.m.
Courtroom: Dept. 17
Judge: Hon. Maren Nelson

Action Filed: May 4, 2023
Trial Date: Not Set

1 TO THE COURT, ALL PARTIES, AND THEIR COUNSEL OF RECORD:

2 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on May 29, 2024, at 9 a.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter
3 may be heard, in Department 17 of the above-captioned Court, located at 312 North Spring Street, Los 4 Angeles, California 90012, Plaintiff EFRAIN VIVEROS (“Plaintiff”) will and hereby does move this 5 Court for an order:

6 1. Granting class certification of the Class, solely for settlement purposes pursuant to 7 Code of Civil Procedure § 382;

8 2. Preliminarily approving the CLASS ACTION AND PAGA SETTLEMENT
9 AGREEMENT (“Settlement” or “Agreement”);

10 3. Appointing counsel for Plaintiff, Tunyan Law, APC, as Class Counsel;

11 4. Appointing Plaintiff as the Class Representative;

12 5. Approving the use of the proposed notice procedure and related notice form;

13 6. Approving Phoenix Class Action Administration Solutions as the third-party
14 administrator;

15 7. Directing that notice be mailed to the Class; and,

16 8. Scheduling a hearing date for motions for final approval of class action settlement 17 and awards of attorneys’ fees and costs.

18 Good cause exists to grant this Motion because:

19 1. The Class meets all of the requirements for class certification for settlement
20 purposes under Code of Civil Procedure § 382;

21 2. The Settlement Agreement is a fair, adequate, and reasonable compromise of the 22 disputed wage and hour claims asserted by Plaintiff;

23 3. Plaintiff and Class Counsel are adequate to represent the Class;

24 4. The proposed notice procedures and related forms comply with California Rules of 25 Court 3.766(d) and (e), adequately apprise Class Members of their rights, and fully comport 26 with due process; and

27 5. Based on the foregoing, notice should be directed to the Class Members and a final 28 fairness hearing should be scheduled (Plaintiff suggests about 135 days after preliminary

1 approval is granted).

2 This Motion is made pursuant to Rule 3.769 and Rule 3.1113(e) of the California Rules of Court,
3 which require approval by the Court of a class action settlement and permit the Court to extend the page 4 limit for memoranda.

5 This Motion is based on this Notice of Motion and Motion, the attached Memorandum of Points
6 and Authorities, the Declarations of Lilit Tunyan, Plaintiff, Defendants, Defendants' attorney and the 7 Settlement Administrator in support thereof, all papers and pleadings on file with the Court in this action,
8 all matters judicially noticeable, and on such oral and documentary evidence as may be presented in 9 connection with the hearing on the Motion.

10 Respectfully submitted,

11 Dated: March 13, 2024

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Pursuant to California Rules of Court, Rules 3.769(d) and (e), Plaintiff EFRAIN VIVEROS
3 (“Plaintiff”) respectfully requests that this Court preliminarily approve the proposed class action
4 settlement set forth in the CLASS ACTION AND PAGA SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT (“Settlement”
5 or “Agreement”) with Defendants D AND T RESTAURANTS, INC., MCSURF, Inc., BLADE
6 ENTERPRISES III, Inc., BLADE ENTERPRISES IV, Inc., BLADE ENTERPRISES V, Inc., BLADE
7 ENTERPRISES VI, Inc., BLADE ENTERPRISES VII, Inc., BLADE ENTERPRISES VIII
8 (“Defendants”). The CLASS ACTION AND PAGA SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT used by the Parties
9 is based upon the model agreement template made available by the Los Angeles Superior Court.

10 After informal discovery, the exchange of documents, and an arm’s-length mediation session 11 with an experienced mediator Mark LeHocky, Esq., Plaintiff and Defendants (collectively referred to 12 herein as the “Parties”) reached a proposed class action settlement with a gross settlement amount
13 (“GSA”) of $900,000.00 in compromise of disputed claims asserted on behalf of the below-defined Class
14 consisting of approximately 1,917 members. Plaintiff believes that this settlement is a fair, adequate, and 15 reasonable compromise of the disputed claims for alleged unpaid wage and hour violations and penalties 16 asserted in this case.

17 Plaintiff now submits this Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action and PAGA
18 Settlement, along with the Settlement (attached to the Declaration of Lilit Tunyan [“Tunyan Decl.”], 19 Exhibit 1 thereto). For the Court’s convenience, below is a summary of the key provisions of the 20 Settlement.

21 II. THE MAJOR TERMS OF SETTLEMENT

22 The provisions of the proposed Settlement include the following:

- 23 • Defendants agree not to oppose certification of a Class for purposes of Settlement only 24 (Settlement, ¶ 12.1);
- 25 • Class: All non-exempt, hourly employees of Defendants who worked for Defendants in 26 California during the Class Period (the “Class Period” is May 4, 2019 through the date of 27 granting preliminary approval of this settlement). (Settlement, ¶ 1.5, 1.12.) “Participating 28 Class Members” are those Class Members who do not submit timely exclusion requests to the Settlement Administrator. (Settlement, ¶ 1.9, 1.35);

- Settlement Amount: Defendants will pay a maximum of $900,000.00, referred to as the Gross Settlement Amount (or GSA herein), resulting in an estimated average gross payment per Class Member of approximately $469.48 (Settlement, ¶ 1.22);
- Class Size: approximately 1,917 individuals who worked an approximately 122,386 workweeks as of January 11, 2024 during Class Period. (Settlement, ¶ 8);
- PAGA Group Size: an estimated 1,261 individuals, who worked roughly 25,757 pay periods as of January 11, 2024 during PAGA period (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 18);
- PAGA Period: May 4, 2022 through the date of granting preliminary approval of this settlement. (Settlement, ¶ 1.31);
- Escalator Clause: Based on its records, Defendants estimate that, as of the date of the pre-mediation document and data production, there are 1,917 Class Members and 122,386 total workweeks during the Class period. If the total number of workweeks during the Class Period exceeds 122,386 by more than 10%, then Defendants can either have the Class Period end on the date that the Workweeks exceed 134,625 or increase the Gross Settlement Amount on a pro rata basis a pro-rata dollar value equal to the number of workweeks in excess of 134,625 workweeks. (the “Escalator Clause”). (Settlement, ¶ 8);
- Kullar/Munoz Analysis: Plaintiff addresses the claims analysis herein, at Part V.B.3, and in more detail the Declaration of Lilit Tunyan, at Paragraph 18;
- No Reversion: The Settlement is a non-reversionary settlement (Settlement, ¶ 3.1);
- Certification: Plaintiff addresses certification requisites herein, at Part V.A., and in the Declaration of Lilit Tunyan, at Paragraphs 34-40;
- No Claim Form: No claim form is required (Settlement, ¶ 3.1);
- Class Release: The Settlement will release specified wage-and-hour claims for Class Members (those Class Members who do not opt out of the Settlement) (Settlement, ¶¶ 1.39, 5.2);
- PAGA Release: The Class Members will release the PAGA Claims set forth in this Action, that were identified in the First Amended Complaint and Plaintiff’s LWDA Notice Letter,

1 regardless of whether they opt out of the class portion of the Settlement (Settlement, ¶¶ 2 1.40, 5.3);

- 3 • Release Effective Date: The Release is not active until Defendants tender all payments
4 required under the Settlement to the Settlement Administrator (Settlement, ¶ 5);
- 5 • Net Settlement Amount Available to the Class: After deducting Class Counsel's attorneys'
6 fees and costs, service payment to Plaintiff, administration costs, and the payment to the 7 LWDA, the remainder will be available for distribution to Class Members who do not opt
8 out, with each Class Member receiving a share based on the number of workweeks each
9 Class Member worked for Defendants within the Class Period. The Net Settlement
10 Amount is estimated to be at least $493,000.00, resulting in an average gross payment per 11 Class Member of $469.48 and net payment per Class Member of at least $257.17 before 12 any tax withholdings. (Settlement, ¶ 3);
- 13 • Tax Allocation: The amounts distributed to Class Members will be characterized as 20% 14 alleged unpaid wages, 80% to penalties and interest, and PAGA Settlement Payments will 15 be allocated as 100% penalties. (Settlement, ¶ 3.2.4.1, 3.2.5.2);
- 16 • Employer's Portion of Payroll Taxes Paid Separately: Defendants' portion of payroll taxes
17 (e.g., FICA, FUTA, etc.) owed on any settlement payments to Class Members that 18 constitute wages will be paid separate and apart from the GSM (Settlement, ¶ 3.1);
- 19 • Settlement Administrator: The notice portion of the Settlement will be administered by a 20 third-party Administrator, Phoenix Class Action Administration Solutions and the Parties
21 estimated that the costs of administration should not reasonably exceed $30,000.00.
22 Phoenix Class Action Administration Solutions' low bid for settlement administration
23 services in the amount of $17,000.00 was selected as the lowest bid from a competitive
24 bidding process. (Settlement, ¶ 3.2.3);
- 25 • Class Data for Administration: The Settlement Administrator will receive the Class List
26 within 20 calendar days of Preliminary Approval, use the NCOA database to update the 27 Class List, and then use skip tracing on returned Notices (Settlement, ¶ 4.2);

- 1 • Notice: The Notice will issue within 14 days of receipt of the Class List (Settlement, ¶
- 2 7.4.2). The Notice describes how to dispute workweeks, submit an objection in writing, in
- 3 person, or through an attorney, or request exclusion (Settlement, ¶¶ 7.4 – 7.7);
- 4 • Notice Language: Notice will issue in English and Spanish (Settlement, ¶ 1.11);
- 5 • Objections: Objections can be submitted in person, through an attorney, or in writing to the
- 6 Settlement Administrator (Settlement, ¶ 7.7);
- 7 • Exclusion Requests: The procedure for exclusion requests, mailing a request to the
- 8 Settlement Administrator, is the same as the procedure for submitting a written objection
- 9 (Settlement, ¶¶ 7.5 and 7.7);
- 10 • PAGA Allocation: From the GSA, $80,000.00 will be allocated to settle claims brought
- 11 pursuant to the California Private Attorneys General Act, Labor Code § 2699 et seq.
- 12 (“PAGA”), and seventy-five percent (75%), or $60,000.00, will be paid to the California
- 13 Labor & Workforce Development Agency. (Settlement, ¶¶ 1.34, 3.2.5.);
- 14 • Notice to LWDA: Notice was provided prior to the filing of this Motion. Evidence is
- 15 attached to the Declaration of Lilit Tunyan;
- 16 • Enhancement/Service Award to Plaintiff: Defendants will not oppose the application for
- 17 Class Representative Service Payment of up to $10,000.00 for Plaintiff, to be paid from the
- 18 GSA (Settlement, ¶ 3.2.1);
- 19 • Fees and Costs: Defendants will not oppose Class Counsel’s application for fees not to
- 20 exceed 33 1/3% of the GSA ($300,000.00), and actual costs, in an amount not to exceed
- 21 $20,000.00, to be paid out of the GSA (Settlement, ¶ 3.2.2);
- 22 • Check Void Period: Settlement checks will be valid for 180 days (Settlement, ¶ 4.4.3);
- 23 • Uncashed Checks: Any settlement checks that are mailed to the Class Members and remain
- 24 uncashed after 180 days of the date of issuance will be cancelled, and the moneys will be
- 25 directed to the California Controller's Unclaimed Property Fund (Settlement, ¶ 4.4.3);
- 26 • Judgment Notice: Settlement Agreement, Class Notice and Judgment will be posted on the
- 27 Settlement Administrator’s website after entry (Settlement, ¶ 7.8.1);
- 28

- Confidentiality Provisions: The Settlement permits Class Counsel to discuss the Settlement with Class Members (Settlement ¶ 12.2).

(Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 10-11 and Exhibit 1 thereto.)

III. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

A. Plaintiff's Claims

On May 4, 2023, Plaintiff commenced this Action by filing a Complaint alleging causes of action against Defendants for: (1) Violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 510, 1194, 1198 (Failure to Pay All Wages; (2) Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 512 (Failure to Provide Meal Periods); (3) Violation of Labor Code § 226.7 (Failure to Provide Rest Periods); (4) Violation of Labor Code § 226, (Failure to Keep Accurate Itemized Wage Statements); (5) Violation of Labor Code §§ 201-203 (Failure to Pay Wages Upon Termination of Employment); (6) Violation of Labor Code § 2802 (Failure to Reimburse For Necessary Expenditures); (7) Violation of Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200 et seq. (Unfair Business Practices). On July 11, 2023, Plaintiff filed a First Amended Complaint adding a cause of action for Civil Penalties Under PAGA [Cal. Lab. Code § 2699, et seq.]. The First Amended Complaint is the operative complaint in the Action (the “Operative Complaint.”) (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 3.)

Pursuant to Labor Code § 2699.3(a), Plaintiff gave timely written notice to Defendants and the LWDA by sending the PAGA Notice. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 4.)

B. Pre-Settlement Data Production and Analysis

The Parties have conducted informal discovery and investigation of the facts and law. Such discovery and investigation have included, inter alia, the exchange of informal data and discoverable information in preparation for the settlement negotiations. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 5.) The Parties have analyzed payroll and other data pertaining to Plaintiff and the Class during the relevant Settlement Period, including but not limited to the numbers of former and current members of the Class, average workweeks, sample size time and pay records and average rate of hourly pay, wage and hour policies. (Id.)

After reviewing documents regarding Defendants’ wage and hour policies and practices and other information obtained during the informal exchange of discovery, Class Counsel were able to evaluate the probability of class certification, success on the merits, and the reasonably obtainable

1 maximum monetary exposure for all claims. Class Counsel reviewed these records and prepared a 2 damage analysis prior to engaging in settlement negotiations. Class Counsel also investigated the 3 applicable law regarding the claims and defenses asserted in the litigation. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 6.)

4 C. Settlement

5 On January 11, 2024, the Parties mediated before a mediator Mark LeHocky, Esq. who is a
6 highly experienced and well-regarded mediator for wage and hour class action litigation. (Tunyan Decl., 7 ¶ 7.) At the mediation, the Parties discussed at length the burdens and risks of continuing with the 8 litigation considering Defendants' limited ability to pay settlement funds in an amount exceeding the 9 Gross Settlement Amount due to McDonald's Corporation reinvestment requirements as well as the 10 merits of the claims and defenses. (See Declaration of Jim Howard, ¶ 2.) (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 7.) The 11 Parties have been able to reach a settlement at the mediation. The Parties have reached an agreement
12 regarding the substantive terms of a class-wide settlement, pending the Parties' agreement on a long-
13 form class settlement agreement. The Parties then signed a long form settlement agreement
14 ("Agreement"). (Id.)

15 Plaintiff and Class Counsel are aware of the burdens of proof necessary to establish liability for 16 the claims asserted in the Action, both generally and in response to Defendants' defenses thereto.
17 Plaintiff and Class Counsel have also taken into account Defendant's agreement to enter into a
18 Settlement that confers substantial relief upon the Class. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 8.)

19 Based on the foregoing, Plaintiff and Class Counsel have determined that the Settlement set forth
20 in this Agreement is a fair, adequate, and reasonable Settlement and is in the best interests of the Class.
21 (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 9.) Solely for the purpose of settling this case, the parties agree that the requirements
22 for establishing class action certification with respect to this class have been met and are met. (Id.) If 23 this Settlement is not approved by the Court for any reason, Defendants reserve their right to contest
24 class certification. (Id.) This Settlement, if approved by the Court, will result in the termination with 25 prejudice of the litigation through the entry of the Judgment and the release of all Released Claims for all
26 Class Members, including all within the class definition who have not elected to exclude themselves
27 from the Class. (Id.)
28

1 IV. CLASS DEFINITION

2 The Class is defined as follows:

3 All non-exempt, hourly employees of Defendants who worked for Defendants in
4 California during the Class Period (the “Class Period” is May 4, 2019 through the date
5 of granting preliminary approval of this settlement.) “Participating Class Members” are 6 those Class Members who do not submit timely exclusion requests to the Settlement
7 Administrator. (Settlement, ¶ 1.35.)(Tunyan Decl., ¶ 34 and Exhibit 1.)

8 The Aggrieved Employees are defined as follows:

9 All non-exempt, hourly employees of Defendants who worked for Defendants in 10 California during the PAGA Period (the “PAGA Period” is May 4, 2022 through the 11 date of granting preliminary approval of this settlement.) Aggrieved Employees cannot 12 opt out of the settlement of the PAGA claim. (Settlement, ¶ 7.5.4.)

13 V. DISCUSSION

14 A. The Court Should Conditionally Certify the Class Because It Meets All the 15 Requirements for Certification for Settlement Purposes Under CCP § 382

16 The Class should be provisionally certified for settlement because: (1) the Class is ascertainable 17 and sufficiently numerous; (2) there exists a well-defined community of interest; and (3) a class action is 18 the superior method of adjudication for this settlement. Code of Civ. Proc. § 382; Brinker Rest. Corp. v.
19 Super. Ct., 53 Cal. 4th 1004, 1021 (2012); Linder v. Thrifty Oil Co., 23 Cal. 4th 429, 435 (2000).

20 Under Code of Civil Procedure § 382, class certification is warranted so long as there is a 21 numerous and ascertainable class with a well-defined community of interest among its members and a 22 “class action proceeding is superior to other means for a fair and efficient adjudication of the litigation.”
23 See, e.g., Sav-on Drug Stores, Inc. v. Superior Court, 34 Cal.4th 319, 326, 332 (2004). For purposes of 24 this Settlement only, Defendants stipulated to conditional certification. (Settlement ¶ 12.1.)

25 “The certification question is ‘essentially a procedural one that does not ask whether an action is 26 legally or factually meritorious.’” Id., at 326, quoting Linder v. Thrifty Oil Co., 23 Cal. 4th 429, 439-440
27 (2000). Indeed, the certification question simply asks whether the theory of recovery advanced by the 28 plaintiff is likely to prove amenable to class treatment. See, e.g., Jaimez v. Daiohs USA, Inc., 181 Cal.
App. 4th 1286, 1298 (2010). “[I]t is also well established that trial courts should use different standards to determine the propriety of a settlement class, as opposed to a litigation class certification. Specifically,

1 a lesser standard of scrutiny is used for settlement cases.” Global Minerals & Metals Corp. v. Superior
2 Court, 113 Cal. App. 4th 836, 859 (2003), citing Dunk v. Ford Motor Co. 48 Cal. App. 4th 1794, 1807 n.
3 19 (1996). As the court noted in Dunk, although certification requirements are intended “to protect the 4 interests of the non-representative class members,” that concern is “protected by the trial court’s fairness
5 review of the settlement.” Dunk, 48 Cal. App. 4th at 1807 n.19.

6 In view of these standards, and as shown below, the Class should be certified for purposes of 7 settlement. Code Civ. Proc. § 382; Rules of Court, Rule 3.769(c).

8 1. The Members of the Class Are Both Objectively Ascertainable and 9 Sufficiently Numerous.

10 Whether an ascertainable class exists turns on three factors: (1) the class definition, (2) the size of 11 the class, and (3) the means of identifying the class members. See Miller v. Woods, 148 Cal. App. 3d 12 862, 873 (1983). In this case, Plaintiff contends that all three considerations favor class certification.

13 A class is ascertainable when “it is defined ‘in terms of objective characteristics and common 14 transactional facts’ that make ‘the ultimate identification of class members possible when that 15 identification becomes necessary.’” Noel v. Thrifty Payless, Inc., 7 Cal. 5th 955, 980 (2019). No set
16 number of class members is required to maintain a class action. Hebbard v. Colgrove, 28 Cal. App. 3d
17 1017, 1030 (1972). In fact, the California Supreme Court has upheld a class of as few as ten members.
18 Bowles v. Superior Court, 44 Cal. 2d 574 (1955).

19 The class definition is sufficiently specific to enable the Parties, Class Members, and the Court to 20 readily determine the parameters of the class. See Clothesrigger, Inc. v. GTE Corp., 191 Cal. App. 3d 21 605, 617 (1987). In this case, there are approximately 1,917 Class Members, all of whom may be 22 identified by reference to Defendants’ records that pertain to non-exempt status and dates of 23 employment. In addition, to facilitate the administration of the Settlement, Defendants have agreed to 24 share the information from their records and have already demonstrated that they can do so when 25 providing class-wide discovery to Plaintiff to facilitate settlement discussions and respond to discovery.
26 Accordingly, the Class is not only ascertainable, but also sufficiently numerous. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 35.)
27
28

1 2. There Are Common Questions That Predominate Over Any Questions That
2 May Be Unique to Individual Class Members.

3 The community of interest requirement embodies three factors: (1) predominant questions of law
4 and fact; (2) class representatives with claims or defenses typical of the class; and (3) class
5 representatives who can adequately represent the class. Dunk, 48 Cal. App. 4th at 1806; Richmond, 29
6 Cal. 3d at 473-75. A question of law or fact is common to the members of a class if it may be resolved
7 through common proof. See, Jaimez, 181 Cal.App.4th at 1305. As for predominance, it “is a comparative 8 concept, and ‘the necessity for class members to individually establish eligibility and damages does not 9 mean individual fact questions predominate.’” Sav-on, 34 Cal. 4th at 334, quoting Reyes v. Los Angeles
10 County Bd. of Supervisors, 196 Cal. App. 3d 1263, 1278 (1979).

11 In this case, common questions include, but are not limited to: i. Whether or not Defendants paid 12 proper wages to the Class; ii. Whether or not Defendants provided meal periods to the Class; iii. Whether 13 or not Defendants provided rest periods to the Class; iv. Whether or not Defendants paid compensation
14 timely upon separation of employment to former Class Members; v. Whether or not Defendants paid
15 compensation timely throughout Class Members’ employment; vi. Whether or not Defendants provided
16 accurate itemized wage statements to the Class; vii. Whether or not Defendants reimbursed necessary
17 business expenses in compliance with California Labor Code §2802; viii. Whether or not waiting-time
18 penalties are available to the Class for violation of California Labor Code § 203; ix. Whether or not 19 Defendants engaged in unlawful or unfair business practices affecting the Class in violation of California 20 Business and Professions Code §§ 17200-17208; and x. Whether or not Plaintiff and the Class are 21 entitled to penalties pursuant to PAGA (Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 37-38.)

22 In the Action, Plaintiff’s claims present sufficient common issues of law and fact that 23 predominate over individual issues and warrant class certification. From their review of the 24 documentation provided, Class Counsel determined that for purposes of these claims, Defendants
25 policies and practices are either identical, or sufficiently similar, to raise the same questions of liability,
26 and applied to all Class Members. Because Class Members would have to prove the same issues of law 27 and fact to prevail, and because their potential legal remedies are identical, it would be preferable to 28 resolve all Class Members’ claims by means of the Settlement than to require each Class Member to

1 litigate his or her individual claims. Therefore, common questions predominate over any questions that
2 may be unique to individual Class Members, and class-wide settlement is superior to any other method
3 of resolution.

4 3. Plaintiff's Claims Are Typical of Those of the Class.

5 Typicality “requires a showing that the class representative has claims or defenses typical of the 6 class.” See, e.g., Ghazaryan v. Diva Limousine, Ltd., 169 Cal. App. 4th 1524, 1534 (2008), citing
7 Fireside Bank v. Superior Court, 40 Cal. 4th 1069, 1089 (2007), and Sav-On, 34 Cal. 4th at 326,
8 approved by Brinker Rest. Corp. v. Super. Ct., 53 Cal. 4th 1004 (2012). California law does not require
9 that plaintiffs have claims identical to the other class members. Rather, the test of typicality for a class 10 representative is whether other members have the same or similar injury, whether the action is based on 11 conduct which is not unique to the named plaintiffs, and whether other class members have been injured
12 by the same course of conduct. Seastrom v. Neways, Inc., 149 Cal. App. 4th 1496, 1502 (2007).

13 In light of these standards, Plaintiff is typical of class members. Like other Class Members, 14 Defendants employed Plaintiff in a non-exempt position during the Class Period, and Plaintiff claims that 15 he was subject to the same policies alleged to have impacted the entire class. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 36.)
16 Plaintiff alleges that he and other Class Members share the same claims stemming from Defendants’
17 alleged violations of the Labor Code and relevant wage order. In addition, Defendants’ main defenses,
18 including that the wage and hour policies and practices fully comply with California law, apply equally 19 to the claims of all Class Members. Thus, Plaintiff is typical of the Class.

20 4. Plaintiff and Plaintiff's Counsel Will Adequately Represent the Class.

21 The adequacy requirement is met where the plaintiff is represented by counsel qualified to 22 conduct the litigation and the plaintiff’s interest in the litigation is not antagonistic to class members’
23 interests. McGhee v. Bank of America, 60 Cal.App.3d 442, 451(1976). In other words, where the plaintiff
24 has adequate counsel, the plaintiff may represent the entire class absent any disabling conflicts of interest
25 that might hinder the plaintiff’s ability to represent the class. Id.

26 In the Action, Plaintiff has no conflicts of interest with other Class Members and has agreed to 27 place Class interests above Plaintiff’s own. (Viveros Decl., ¶¶ 4-22; Tunyan Decl., ¶ 39.) Moreover,
28 Plaintiff’s counsel are experienced in wage and hour class action litigation and have no conflicts of

1 interest with absent Class Members. (Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 20-26, 39.) As such, this Court should appoint
2 Plaintiff as Class Representative for the Class and appoint Plaintiff's Counsel as Class Counsel.

3 5. Proceeding as a Class Action is Superior to Individual Actions

4 Plaintiff contends that proceeding as a class action is a superior means of resolving this dispute,
5 as the Class Members and the Court will derive substantial benefits. Class certification would serve as 6 the only means to deter and redress the alleged Labor Code violations. See Linder v. Thrifty Oil Co. 23
7 Cal. 4th at 434. Furthermore, individual actions arising out of the same operative facts would unduly 8 burden the courts and could result in inconsistent results, which may be avoided by class certification.

9 6. The Proposed Class Notice Complies with Rule 3.766(d) and (e)

10 Notice requirements are set forth in Rules of Court, Rule 3.766. In determining the manner of 11 the notice, the court must consider the interests of the class, the type of relief requested, the stake of the 12 individual class members, the cost of notifying class members, the resources of the parties, the possible
13 prejudice to class members who do not receive notice, and the res judicata effect on class members.
14 Rules of Court, Rule 3.766(e).

15 a) The Notice Procedure Satisfies Due Process

16 The proposed procedure for distributing the Proposed Notice is robust and more than meets the 17 minimal requirement that it have "a reasonable chance of reaching a substantial percentage of the class
18 members." Cartt v. Sup. Ct., 50 Cal.App.3d 960, 974 (1975). There is no statutory or due process 19 requirement that all class members receive actual notice, but in this matter, the Class Members will 20 receive direct mailed notice. Here, the proposed procedure includes safeguards, including, but not 21 limited to, mailing notice to Class Members' last known addresses; skip tracing; searches for address
22 changes; and the re-mailing of returned notices to any forwarding addresses. This manner of giving
23 notice complies with Rule of Court 3.766(c) because it provides a reasonable chance that Class Notice
24 will reach most if not all Class Members.

25 b) The Notice is Accurate and Informative

26 The proposed Notice of Class Action Settlement should be approved for dissemination to the 27 Class Members because its content complies with Rule of Court 3.766(d) in that it contains a brief
28 explanation of the case, including the basic contentions or denials of the Parties, detailed information

1 about Class Members’ rights to be excluded from the Settlement and object to the Settlement; a 2 statement that the Settlement will bind all members who do not timely opt-out. Thus, the Notice also 3 satisfies Rule of Court 3.769(f) regarding the contents of settlement notices.

4 The Notice also fulfills the requirement of neutrality in class notices. 3 NEWBERG § 8.39. It
5 summarizes the proceedings and the terms and conditions of the proposed Settlement, in an informative
6 and coherent manner, in compliance with the Manual for Complex Litigation (“MANUAL”), (2d Ed.
7 1993), which states that “the notice should be accurate, objective, and understandable to Class Members .
8 ..” MANUAL, § 30.211. It makes clear that the Settlement does not constitute an admission of liability
9 by Defendants and recognizes that this Court has not ruled on the merits. It also states that the final 10 settlement approval decision has yet to be made. Accordingly, the Notice complies with the standards of 11 fairness, completeness, and neutrality required of a combined settlement-certification class notice.

12 B. The Court Should Preliminarily Approve the Settlement Because It Is a Fair, 13 Adequate, and Reasonable Compromise of Disputed Wage Claims in View of 14 Defendants’ Potential Liability Exposure and the Risks of Continued Litigation

15 California courts favor settlement. See, e.g., Stambaugh v. Superior Court, 62 Cal. App. 3d 231,
16 236 (1976). Unlike most settlements, class action settlements involve a court approval process that exists
17 to prevent fraud, collusion, and unfairness to class members. Malibu Outrigger Bd. of Governors v.
18 Superior Court, 103 Cal.App.3d 573, 578-579 (1980). This approval process consists of preliminary 19 settlement approval, notice being given to class members, and a final fairness and approval hearing being 20 held at which class members may be heard with respect to the settlement. Id. For the reasons discussed
21 below, this Court should preliminarily approve the Settlement, allow the Parties to give notice to the 22 Class as proposed, and schedule a final fairness and final approval hearing.

23 1. Class Action Settlements Are Subject to Review and Approval.

24 Any settlement of class litigation must be reviewed and approved by the presiding court. Rules
25 of Court, Rule 3.769(a). Approval occurs in two steps: (1) an early (preliminary) review by the trial
26 court and (2) a subsequent (final) review after notice has been distributed to the class members. The 27 Preliminary Approval Hearing and Final Approval Hearing coincide with these two steps. The present
28 motion seeks preliminary approval and the setting of a Final Approval Hearing.

1 To evaluate a settlement, the trial court must receive “basic information about the nature and 2 magnitude of the claims in question and the basis for concluding that the consideration being paid for the 3 release of those claims represents a reasonable compromise.” Kullar v. Foot Locker Retail, Inc., 168 Cal.
4 App. 4th 116, 133 (2008). However, the record need not contain an explicit statement of the maximum
5 theoretical amount that the class could recover. Munoz v. BCI Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Los Angeles, 6 186 Cal. App. 4th 399, 409 (2010).

7 2. The Parties Reached the Settlement Through Arms’ Length Negotiations
8 Between Experienced Counsel After Sufficient Data Was Exchanged to 9 Evaluate Settlement.

10 A settlement is presumptively fair where it is reached through arms’ length bargaining, based on 11 sufficient discovery and investigation to allow counsel and the court to act intelligently, counsel is 12 experienced in similar litigation, and the percentage of objectors is small.¹ Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1802;
13 In re Microsoft I-V Cases, 135 Cal. App. 4th 706, 723 (2006); 7-Eleven Owners for Fair Franchising v.
14 Southland Corp., 85 Cal. App. 4th 1135, 1146 (2000). In deciding whether to approve a settlement, a 15 trial court has broad powers to determine whether it is fair under the circumstances of the case. See, e.g.,
16 Mallick v. Superior Court, 89 Cal. App. 3d 434, 438 (1979). In exercising these powers, the overriding
17 concern is to ensure that a proposed settlement is “fair, adequate, and reasonable.” Dunk, at 1801, 18 quoting Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n of San Francisco, 688 F.2d 615, 625 (9th Cir. 1982).

19 Relevant factors in making this determination, include, but are not limited to:

20 [T]he complexity and likely duration of further litigation, the risk of maintaining class
21 action status through trial, the amount offered in settlement, the extent of discovery 22 completed and the state of the proceedings, the experience and views of counsel, the presence of a governmental participant, and the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement.

23 Id. These factors require balancing, are non-exhaustive, and, as such, trial courts should tailor the factors 24 considered to each case and give due regard to “what is otherwise a private consensual agreement 25 between the parties.” Id.

26
27 ¹ Because the fourth prerequisite for the presumption to arise cannot be addressed until the final 28 approval hearing, only the first three prerequisites are relevant at this preliminary stage of the settlement approval process.

1 Here, the Settlement resulted from thorough, arms' length negotiations between experienced
2 counsel with the assistance of highly regarded mediator. (Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 8-10.) With respect to the 3 claims at issue in this case, Plaintiff obtained employees' pay and time data from Defendants and then 4 carefully reviewed that information. Counsel for Plaintiff also examined relevant policies.

5 Based on the totality of that review, Plaintiff estimated the potential exposure and then estimated
6 risk factors to adjust the reasonable expected outcome. The investigation and discovery that Plaintiff's 7 counsel conducted were sufficient to provide them with enough information to intelligently evaluate the 8 estimated exposure in this action for purposes of negotiating the Settlement in view of the risks discussed
9 below and are also sufficient to allow this Court to do the same. See, e.g., Wershba v. Apple Computer,
10 Inc., 91 Cal. App. 4th 224, 245 (2001).

11 3. The Settlement Represents a Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable Compromise
12 of Class Members' Claims Based on Defendants' Estimated Liability
13 Exposure Given the Risks Continued Litigation Would Entail.

14 A settlement is not judged against what might have been recovered had a plaintiff prevailed at 15 trial and does not have to provide 100% of damages sought to be fair and reasonable. "In the context of a 16 settlement agreement, the test is not the maximum amount plaintiffs might have obtained at trial on the 17 complaint, but rather whether the settlement is reasonable under all of the circumstances." Wershba, 91
18 Cal. App. 4th at 250. Accordingly, because settlements involve compromise, even one that provides for 19 substantially narrower relief than would likely be obtained if the suit were successfully litigated can be 20 reasonable given that "the public interest may indeed be served by a voluntary settlement in which each 21 side gives ground in the interest of avoiding litigation." Id., quoting Air Line Stewards & Stewardesses 22 Ass'n, Local 550 v. American Airlines, Inc., 455 F.2d 101, 109 (7th Cir. 1972).

23 With respect to the claims asserted on behalf of the Class in this case, there are serious risks that 24 support the reduced compromise amount. These risks include, but are not limited to: (i) the risk that 25 Plaintiff would be unable to establish liability for unpaid straight time or overtime wages, see Duran v.
26 US Bank Nat'l Ass'n, 59 Cal. 4th 1, 39 & n. 33 (2014) ("Duran"), citing Dilts v. Penske Logistics, LLC
27 2014 WL 205039 (S.D. Cal. 2014) (dismissing certified off-the-clock claims based on proof at trial); (ii)
28 the risk that Defendants' meal and rest period policies might not ultimately support class certification or

1 a class-wide liability finding, see Duran, 59 Cal. 4th at 14, n. 28 (citing Court of Appeal decisions
2 favorable on class certification issue without expressing opinion as to ultimate viability of proposition);
3 (iii) the risk that uncertainties pertaining to the ultimate legality of Defendants' policies and practices
4 could preclude class-wide awards of statutory penalties under Labor Code §§ 203 and 226(e); (iv) the 5 risk that individual differences between Class Members could be construed as pertaining to liability and 6 not solely to damages, see Duran, 59 Cal. 4th at 19; (v) the risk that any civil penalties award under the 7 PAGA could be reduced by the Court in its discretion, see Labor Code § 2699(e)(1); (vi) the risk that 8 class treatment could be deemed improper as to one or more claims, except for settlement purposes; and,
9 (vii) the risk that appellate litigation could ensue; (viii) the risk that violation rate estimates would prove 10 much lower than expected. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 15.) These risks are non-exhaustive.

11 In light of the uncertainties of protracted litigation, the settlement amount reflects a fair and 12 reasonable recovery for the Class Members. (Tunyan Decl. ¶¶ 12-19.) The settlement amount is, of 13 course, a compromise figure. (Tunyan Decl. ¶ 16.) By necessity it took into account risks related to 14 liability, damages, and the defenses asserted by Defendants. (Id.) Moreover, each Class Member will be 15 given the opportunity to opt-out of the Settlement, allowing those who feel they have claims that are 16 greater than the benefits they can receive under this Settlement to pursue their own claims. (Id.) For the 17 approximately 1,917 members of the Class, the average gross recovery is at least $469.48 per class
18 member, and the estimated average net recovery for each Class Member is approximately $257.17 (Id.)
19 Given that Defendants could challenge certification and liability and Defendants' limited ability to pay
20 settlement amount exceeding the Gross Settlement Amount due to McDonald's Corporation
21 reinvestment requirements, this is a significant sum to have achieved in settlement. Moreover, a Class 22 Member who worked a greater number of weeks for Defendants will receive a larger share of the 23 Settlement than a Class Member who worked for a shorter amount of time during the class period. (Id.)

24 After analyzing the claims in this matter, Plaintiff has concluded that the Gross Settlement
25 Amount of $900,000.00 is about 75% of the $1,206,799.52 estimate of risk-adjusted recovery (excluding 26 interest) at this stage in the litigation. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 17.) This assessment is based on a carefully 27 constructed model of the current fair value of the case, using estimated risks, average wage rates,
28 numbers of employees, and the amount of time covered by the class period. (Id.) The maximum

1 calculated reasonable exposure is $6,331,610.50, including PAGA penalties. (Id.)

- 2 • A reasonably estimated exposure for unpaid off-the-clock work was calculated, with the 3 assistance of an expert, to be approximately $1,180,138.50. However, with the risk factor
4 discounts for certification and liability proof, the value of that claim is estimated by 5 Plaintiff's counsel to be approximately $141,616.62, assuming certification probability of 6 40% and merits success at 30%.
- 7 • A reasonably estimated exposure for rest break violations over the class period was 8 calculated at $67,509.00, but with chances of certification and proof of liability (50% and 9 40% respectively) for a risk-adjusted exposure of $13,501.80.
- 10 • A reasonably estimated exposure for meal break violations over the class period was 11 calculated at $394,483.00 with chances of certification and liability risks (50% and 40% 12 respectively) resulting in a risk-adjusted exposure of $78,896.60.
- 13 • Risk-adjusted penalty recoveries for wage statement and Labor Code § 203 penalties were 14 estimated to be approximately $28,930.00 and $151,632.50, respectively, on maximum 15 exposures of $289,300.00 and $1,516.325.00, respectively (50% and 20% respectively).
- 16 • A reasonably estimated exposure for unreimbursed expenses was calculated at 17 $598,475.00, with chances of certification and liability risks (80% and 70% respectively) 18 resulting in a risk-adjusted exposure of $335,146.00.
- 19 • Performing risk-adjusted valuations for all claims yields a total value in the range of 20 $749,723.52, excluding PAGA. (Id.)
- 21 • PAGA penalties were calculated as having a maximum realistic exposure of $2,285,380.00,
22 but a risk adjusted value of $457,076.00, after factoring in risks of reduction in penalties
23 pursuant to Court discretion and the high risk of the inability to prove violations for all 24 aggrieved employees.

25 The concurrently filed Declaration of Lilit Tunyan sets forth claim valuation in additional detail. (See, 26 Tunyan Decl., ¶ 17.)

27 This result here is fully supportable as reasonable. First, it is important to recognize the 28 wilfulness finding required for Labor Code §§ 203 and 226 is challenging to establish. (Tunyan Decl., ¶

18.) Second, rest break and meal period claims have been challenging to certify for many years, even after Brinker. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 18.) Third, the certification rates in California are lower than conventional wisdom holds. See, H. Scott Leviant, Second Interim Report on class actions in California sheds new light on certification (February 19, 2010), www.thecomplexlitigator.com, available at <http://www.thecomplexlitigator.com/post-data/2010/2/19/second-interim-report-on-class-actions-in-california-sheds-n.html>; see also, Findings of the Study of California Class Action Litigation, 2000-2006, available at <http://www.courtinfo.ca.gov/reference/documents/class-action-lit-study.pdf> (finding, at page 5, and in Table 9, at page 15, that only 21.4% of all class actions were certified either as part of a settlement or as part of a contested certification motion).

Here, the estimated certification probabilities are above the average rate at which cases were certified in California over the study years, based upon data available through the California Courts websites. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 18.) In sum, well under 20% of all cases filed as proposed class actions are ultimately certified by way of a contested motion. (Id.) The recovery is roughly 14% of the maximum plausible recovery (estimated to be approximately $6,331,610.00, including PAGA), which falls within the expected outcome under the likelihood of success metric. (Id.) It would also be appropriate to evaluate the result by examining only the premium wages at issue (approximately $1,642,130.50, with no risk reduction), excluding penalties and interest; the settlement is about 54.9% of the premium wages (unpaid wages, meal period premiums, and rest break premiums) at maximum realistic exposure value.² This Settlement achieves the goals of the litigation.

4. The Proposed Method for Allocating Settlement Funds Is Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable.

The proposed method of allocating the Settlement Fund to Class Members also is fair and reasonable. As noted, the parties agreed to allocate the Settlement Fund between all Class Members

² The exclusion of interest and penalties from the fairness evaluation is proper because, first, PAGA penalties are discretionary (see Lab. Code § 2699(e)(2) (the court in its discretion “may award a lesser amount than the maximum civil penalty amount specified by this part...”)), and, second, courts evaluate the strength of a proposed settlement without taking potential penalties or interest into consideration. See Rodriguez v. West Publishing Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 955 (9th Cir. 2000); see also Miller v. CEVA Logistics U.S.A., Inc., 2015 WL 729638, at *7 (E.D. Cal. Feb. 19, 2015) (court utilized calculation of a Defendants’s exposure exclusive of interest and penalties to determine whether the settlement fell within the range of possible approval).

1 based on time worked by the Class Member during the Class Period, in relation to the total amount of 2 time worked by all participating Class Members collectively during the class period. This proposed
3 method is fair and reasonable because each Class Member's actual potential damages vary based on the 4 number of workweeks he or she actually worked (e.g., Lab. Code § 226.7 provides for an extra hour of 5 pay at the employee's regular rate of pay for each violation, resulting in a higher potential damage when 6 a higher number of incidents occur). A Class Member who worked a greater number of weeks for 7 Defendants will receive a larger payment under the Settlement than a Class Member who worked for a
8 shorter amount of time during the relevant period. (Tunyan Decl., ¶¶ 11, 17.)

9 5. The Proposed Enhancement Award to Plaintiff Is Fair, Adequate, and 10 Reasonable and Warrants Preliminary Approval.

11 The proposed enhancement payment to Plaintiff is intended to recognize the substantial initiative
12 and significant efforts on behalf of the Class. Courts routinely approve incentive awards to compensate 13 named plaintiffs for the services they provide and the risks they incur during class action litigation, often 14 in much higher amounts than that sought here. See, e.g., Bell v. Farmers Ins. Exchange, 115 Cal. App.
15 4th 715, 726 (2004) (upholding "service payments" to named plaintiffs for their efforts in bringing the 16 case); Van Vranken v. Atlantic Richfield Co., 901 F. Supp. 294 (N.D.Cal. 1995) (approving a $50,000
17 enhancement award). Plaintiff contributed time to the prosecution of this matter, including assistance
18 prior to the settlement negotiations and during settlement negotiations with information and substantial 19 time conferring with counsel over the course of this litigation and before it was filed. (Viveros Decl., ¶¶ 20 4-22; Tunyan Decl., ¶ 32.) The enhancement also recognizes the considerable risks Plaintiff undertook 21 on behalf of the Class as well as the personal risk of facing intrusive discovery and potential disclosure to 22 future employers that Plaintiff sued a former employer, making future employment prospects uncertain
23 and general release of all claims beyond wage-and-hour claims released in this action.

24 6. The Proposed Award of Attorneys' Fees and Costs Is Also Fair, Adequate, 25 and Reasonable and Merits Preliminary Approval.

26 The California Supreme Court removed any lingering doubt about the use of the percentage of 27 the fund method to award attorney's fees in California Courts:

28 We join the overwhelming majority of federal and state courts in holding that when

1 class action litigation establishes a monetary fund for the benefit of the class members,
2 and the trial court in its equitable powers awards class counsel a fee out of that fund, the 3 court may determine the amount of a reasonable fee by choosing an appropriate
4 percentage of the fund created. The recognized advantages of the percentage method—5 including relative ease of calculation, alignment of incentives between counsel and the 6 class, a better approximation of market conditions in a contingency case, and the 7 encouragement it provides counsel to seek an early settlement and avoid unnecessarily
8 prolonging the litigation (See pt. I, ante; Lealao, supra, 82 Cal.App.4th at pp. 48–49, 97
9 Cal.Rptr.2d 797; Rawlings v. Prudential–Bache Properties, Inc., supra, 9 F.3d at p.
10 516)—convince us the percentage method is a valuable tool that should not be denied 11 our trial courts.

12 Laffitte v. Robert Half Intern. Inc., 1 Cal. 5th 480, 503 (2016).³ Thus, this Court may and, pursuant to 13 Laffitte, should award fees to Plaintiff’s counsel based upon the percentage of the fund methodology.

14 Setting Laffitte aside, whether the once-again-confirmed percentage of the fund method or the 15 lodestar method is used, the outcome is roughly the same: “[F]ee awards in class actions average around 16 one-third of the recovery’ regardless of ‘whether the percentage method or the lodestar method is used.’”
17 Amaro v. Anaheim Arena Mgmt., LLC, 69 Cal. App. 5th 521 (2021). This is also consistent with 18 counsels’ experience in class cases. Here, Plaintiff’s attorneys intend to request attorneys’ fees of up to 19 $300,000.00 (one-third of the GSA), and costs capped at $20,000 (which includes payment for filing
20 fees, service of process fees, mediation fees, expert fees and other standard expenses). (Tunyan Decl., ¶
21 31.) Given the efforts and risks involved in this case, as well as the results achieved, these amounts are 22 within the range of reasonableness and warrant preliminary approval.

19 7. The Proposed Payment to the Administrator Is Fair and Reasonable

20 In deciding whether to approve a proposed settlement, a trial court must determine if the 21 proposed settlement is fair under the circumstances of the case. Mallick, 89 Cal.App.3d at 438. In 22 exercising this power, the overriding concern is to ensure that a proposed settlement is “fair, adequate,
23 and reasonable.” Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801 (internal quotations omitted). Phoenix Class Action
24 Administration Solutions, which has been selected due to its competitive bid, estimates that 25 administration can be performed for $17,000.00. In counsel’s experience, based on similar wage-and-

26 ³ The Supreme Court also corrected the misconception that Dunk should be viewed as expressing 27 doubt about the use of the percentage method: “The Dunk court, while finding the percentage method 28 inapplicable to the settlement before it due to the lack of a readily valued common fund, did not purport to bar its usage generally in common fund cases.” Laffitte, 1 Cal. 5th at 501.

hour actions, an estimated cost of $17,000.00 is a fair and reasonable amount for administration fees and should be preliminarily approved. (Tunyan Decl., ¶ 33.)

8. The PAGA Allocation is Reasonable

The ultimate decision as to the amount of PAGA penalties is always up to the discretion of the Court. Labor Code § 2699(e)(2) states: “In any action by an aggrieved employee seeking recovery of a civil penalty available under subdivision (a) or (f), a court may award a lesser amount than the maximum civil penalty amount specified by this part if, based on the facts and circumstances of the particular case, to do otherwise would result in an award that is unjust, arbitrary and oppressive, or confiscatory.”

Prior to the issuance of Moniz v. Adecco USA, Inc., 72 Cal. App. 5th 56 (2021), the only sources of persuasive guidance as to how to assess the reasonableness of a PAGA allocation were found in federal court decisions addressing that question. In their view, a PAGA allocation, even if a small portion of the total settlement, could be reasonable if the settlement of the underlying wage and hour claims is robust and serves the deterrent purpose of the PAGA statute. O’Connor v. Uber Technologies, Inc., 201 F.Supp.3d 1110, 1135 (N.D. Cal. 2016) (“By providing fair compensation to the class members as employees and substantial monetary relief, a settlement not only vindicates the rights of class members as employees, but may have a deterrent effect upon the Defendants employer and other employers, an objective of PAGA.”); see also Visceral v. Mistras Group, 2016 WL 5907869 *9 (N.D. Cal. 2016) (“Applying O’Connor’s sliding scale approach, settlement of the PAGA claim may be substantially reduced below its standalone settlement value without sacrificing its statutory purposes because the non PAGA settlement is relatively substantial.”)

Moniz then provided explicit confirmation that this was an appropriate yardstick by which to measure reasonableness of a PAGA settlement. Moniz said:

[W]hile PAGA does not require the trial court to act as a fiduciary for aggrieved employees, adoption of a standard of review for settlements that prevents “ ‘fraud, collusion or unfairness’ ” (Dunk, supra, 48 Cal.App.4th at pp. 1800–1801, 56 Cal.Rptr.2d 483), and protects the interests of the public and the LWDA in the enforcement of state labor laws is warranted. Because many of the factors used to evaluate class action settlements bear on a settlement’s fairness—including the strength of the plaintiff’s case, the risk, the stage of the proceeding, the complexity and likely duration of further litigation, and the settlement amount—these factors can be useful in evaluating the fairness of a PAGA settlement.

Given PAGA’s purpose to protect the public interest, we also agree with the LWDA

1 and federal district courts that have found it appropriate to review a PAGA settlement to 2 ascertain whether a settlement is fair in view of PAGA's purposes and policies.
3 (O'Connor v. Uber Technologies, Inc. (N.D. Cal. 2016) 201 F.Supp.3d 1110, 1132–
4 1134; Jordan v. NCI Group, Inc. (Jan. 5, 2018, No. EDCV 16-1701-JVS) 2018 WL
5 1409590, at *1–*2, 2018 U.S. Dist. Lexis 25297, at *3–*4; Chamberlain v. Baker
6 Hughes, a GE Co., LLC, supra, 2020 WL 4350207 at *3–*4, 2020 U.S. Dist. Lexis
7 134582 at *10–*11; see Consumer Advocacy Group, Inc. v. Kintetsu Enterprises of 8 America (2006) 141 Cal.App.4th 46, 59, 61–62, 45 Cal.Rptr.3d 647 [where the 9 Legislature required court approval of private settlements of Proposition 65 actions
10 brought to vindicate the public interest, court must evaluate the resulting consent decree
11 to determine if it is “just” and “serves the public interest”].) We therefore hold that a 12 trial court should evaluate a PAGA settlement to determine whether it is fair,
13 reasonable, and adequate in view of PAGA’s purposes to remediate present labor law
14 violations, deter future ones, and to maximize enforcement of state labor laws. (See 15 Williams, supra, 3 Cal.5th at p. 546, 220 Cal.Rptr.3d 472, 398 P.3d 69 [PAGA “sought 16 to remediate present violations and deter future ones”]; Arias, supra, 46 Cal.4th at p.
17 980, 95 Cal.Rptr.3d 588, 209 P.3d 923 [the declared purpose of PAGA was to augment
18 state enforcement efforts to achieve maximum compliance with labor laws].) The trial 19 court below used this standard.

20 Moniz, 72 Cal. App. 5th at 77. Moniz, in agreeing with the federal courts that have considered how to 21 evaluate a PAGA settlement, concluded that the class action factors are appropriately considered, along
22 with a consideration of whether the settlement furthers “PAGA’s purposes to remediate present labor law 23 violations, deter future ones, and to maximize enforcement of state labor laws.”

24 As to the first set of elements (the class-type analysis), it is embodied in Plaintiff’s discussion of 25 the adequacy of the settlement generally. Using class settlements as a source of analogous settlement 26 review standards, to assess the fairness, adequacy, and reasonableness of a settlement, the court should 27 also consider the expense, complexity and likely duration of further litigation. Dunk, 48 Cal. App. 4th at 28 1801. Here, the expense, complexity and likely duration of future litigation as it pertained to Plaintiff’s PAGA claims was to some extent an unknown. However, what is certain is that to adequately establish the foundational violations that would support a substantial penalty award, tremendous time and expense would be invested. To adequately establish that aggrieved employees experience the alleged violations, and at what frequency, most of the aggrieved employees would need to be interviewed in a systematic fashion and their testimony cataloged in way sufficiently meaningful to permit the submission of summary evidence at trial, such as via survey. First, the burdensome nature of such a process would be expensive and time-consuming. Second, substantial risk that the Court would either substantially reduce any penalty ultimately awarded or conclude that the conduct was insufficient to support a penalty award.
Third, it would be essentially impossible to formulate an objectively reliable means of summarizing

1 testimonial experiences, other than by an extraordinarily detailed survey. And formulating such a survey
2 would have been important, since frequency of violations would need to be established before any 3 penalties could be recovered. At least as to claims such as meal period and rest break violations, the 4 decisions of aggrieved employees are a major factor in assessing liability. In sum, the evidence collected
5 to date leads Plaintiff to conclude that, direct testimony would have been required from as many of the 6 roughly 175 aggrieved employees as could be obtained, which would be, at best, very difficult. Proof of 7 this sort gives rise to a manageability argument that could substantially reduce the size of the aggrieved 8 employee group.

9 The second element (the PAGA purposes element) is also satisfied here. As held by Moniz,
10 PAGA's purposes include (1) remediation of present labor law violations, (2) deterrence of future
11 violations, and (3) maximization of enforcement of state labor laws. Here the allocation of a major 12 portion of settlement funds to class members still advances the goal of labor law violation remediation.
13 Class members benefit from payments intended to offset the harm of alleged violations of wage and hour
14 requirements. The allocation of a major portion of settlement funds to class members also deters future 15 violations, since, from the perspective of an employer, where settlement funds go is less significant than 16 the fact that settlement funds are issuing at all. Finally, allocation of a major portion of settlement funds
17 to class members still advances the goal of enforcement of state labor law. This settlement is, by 18 definition, a response to alleged violations of state labor laws, balanced against the competing factors of 19 uncertainty of proof and other risks.

20 A final note on the analysis discussion in Moniz is appropriate. Moniz was concerned with the 21 standard applied to a standalone PAGA action, not a settlement in which money was allocated between 22 class and PAGA claims. Here, the adequacy of the settlement as a whole impacts the factors approved of 23 by Moniz. It would be misleading to examine only the PAGA portion of the settlement without asking 24 how this Settlement as a whole is consistent with the purposes of PAGA. Second, the discussion of 25 "fairness" to those impacted by the settlement in Moniz does not play a role in this matter. In Moniz, the 26 Court found the record lacked any support for the disparate allocation of PAGA penalties between 27 different types of employees: "[T]he settlement's allocation of shares of civil penalties to Colleagues that 28 are fifteen times greater than the shares allocated to Associates does not seem to have been justified below and may be contrary to PAGA’s purposes.” Moniz, 72 Cal. App. 5th at 87. Here, PAGA penalties are allocated by pay period, irrespective of job classification, an equitable method of allocation.

In addition, there is no evidence that a court or a commissioner had informed Defendants that any conduct violated the Labor Code. Amaral v. Cintas Corp., 163 Cal. App. 4th 1157, 1209 (2008); Willis v. Xerox Bus. Servs., LLC, 2013 WL 6053831, *7-8 (E.D. Cal. 2013) (“Under California law, courts have held that employers are not subject to heightened penalties for subsequent violations until and unless a court or commissioner notified the employer that it is in violation of the Labor Code.”) And in Cotter, the court found a significant reduction of the PAGA claim would be appropriate because “[t]his does not appear to be a case where a company has deliberately sought to evade the law.” Cotter v. Lyft, Inc., 176 5 F. Supp. 3d 930, 941 (N.D. Cal. 2016). Here, Defendants can state a strong case that, as the Court concluded in Cotter, the efforts to devise compliant operational policies do not indicate an organization that has deliberately sought to evade the law. This is a very significant risk factor.

Finally, the PAGA allocation is fair. The LWDA is receiving $60,000.00. The Class is receiving, net, an estimated $493,000.00 for the releases for eight theories of recovery (including the $20,000.00 as the aggrieved employees’ share of the PAGA Allocation). The allocation to the LWDA is not unfair and satisfies the policies underlying California’s wage and hour laws.

VI. THE COURT SHOULD SCHEDULE A FINAL FAIRNESS HEARING

The last step in the settlement approval process is the fairness hearing, where the Court makes a final determination about the propriety of settlement. Plaintiff requests that the fairness hearing in this case be scheduled for about 135 days after issuance of the Court’s Order granting preliminary approval of the Settlement. Under the Settlement, the Defendants will have 20 days to provide the mailing data to the Settlement Administrator, which will then have 14 days to mail out class notice. Class Members have 60 days after mailing of the notice to submit exclusions or objections (with a 14-day extension available for late-returned and re-mailed notices). Therefore, Plaintiff proposes a final approval hearing scheduled for the first available hearing date that is about 135 days after preliminary approval is granted.

VII. CONCLUSION

For all the foregoing reasons, because the Class meets the requirements for certification, because the Settlement bears all requisite indicia of fairness, reasonableness, and adequacy, and because the

1 proposed notice procedure and forms comport with Rule 3.766 and due process, this Court should grant
2 this Motion for Preliminary Approval, adopt the [Proposed] Order Granting Preliminary Approval of 3 Class Action Settlement submitted herewith, and schedule a Final Fairness Hearing.
