SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA FOR THE COUNTY OF SAN DIEGO

Case Number: _____

JUSTUS L. BUCK-BURTRUM, an individual, on behalf of himself and the State of California,
as a private attorney general,

Plaintiff,

v.

BALLPARK EATS & ENTERTAINMENT,
INC., a California Corporation; GOOD TIME
DESIGN, LLC, a California Limited Liability Company; MOONSHINE FLATS, a Business of Unknown Formation; and DOES 1 TO 50,

Defendants.

Representative Action Complaint For:

1. Penalties Pursuant to the Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 (“PAGA”) for Violations of California Labor Code Sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 210, 226, 226.3, 226.7, 510, 512, 1174, 1185, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 1198.5, 1199, 2802, 2804, and Other Provisions of the California Labor Code.

1 Plaintiff Justus L. Buck-Burtrum (“Plaintiff”), on behalf of himself and the State of California, 2 as a private attorney general, complains and alleges of defendants Ballpark Eats & Entertainment, Inc., 3 Good Time Design, LLC, Moonshine Flats, and Does 1 to 50 (collectively, “Defendants”), and each of 4 them, as follows:

5 I. INTRODUCTION

6 1. This action is a representative action brought pursuant to the California Labor Code 7 Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 (“PAGA”), codified at California Labor Code sections 2698 8 through 2699.6.

9 2. The “PAGA Period” as used herein, is defined as the period from February 26, 2025, 10 and continuing into the present and ongoing.

11 3. This PAGA action is brought on behalf of Plaintiff, the State of California as private 12 attorney general, and on behalf of the following aggrieved employees: All individuals who are or were 13 employed by Defendants as non-exempt employees in California during the PAGA Period (the 14 “Aggrieved Employees”).

15 4. Plaintiff is informed and believes and thereon alleges that the California Industrial 16 Welfare Commission (“IWC”) Wage Order applicable to the facts of this case is IWC Wage Order 5-17 2001 (the “Applicable Wage Order”) and possibly others that may be applicable. (Cal. Code of Regs., 18 tit. 8, § 11050.) Plaintiff reserves the right to amend or modify the definition of “Applicable Wage 19 Order” with greater specificity or add additional IWC Wage Orders if additional applicable wage orders 20 are discovered in litigation.

21 II. JURISDICTION & VENUE

22 5. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over all causes of action asserted herein 23 pursuant to Article VI, section 10, of the California Constitution and Code of Civil Procedure section 24 410.10 because this is a civil action in which the matter in controversy, exclusive of interest, exceeds 25 $25,000, and because each cause of action asserted arises under the laws of the State of California or 26 is subject to adjudication in the courts of the State of California.

27 6. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendants because Defendants have caused 28 injuries in the County of San Diego and the State of California through their acts, and by their violation

1 of the California Labor Code and California state common law. Defendants transact millions of dollars 2 of business within the State of California. Defendants own, maintain offices, transact business, have an 3 agent or agents within the County of San Diego, and/or otherwise are found within the County of San 4 Diego, and Defendants are within the jurisdiction of this Court for purposes of service of process.

5 7. Venue as to Defendants is proper in this judicial district, pursuant to section 395 of the 6 Code of Civil Procedure. Defendants operate within California and do business within San Diego 7 County, California. The unlawful acts alleged herein have a direct effect on Plaintiff and all of 8 Defendants' employees identified above within San Diego County and surrounding counties where 9 Defendants may remotely operate. (See Crestwood Behavioral Health, Inc. v. Superior Court of 10 Alameda County (2021) 60 Cal.App.5th 1069, 1075 ["We hold that venue is proper in any county in 11 which an aggrieved employee worked and Labor Code violations allegedly occurred."].)

12 III. THE PARTIES

13 A. PLAINTIFF

14 8. At all relevant times, Plaintiff, who is over the age of 18, was and currently is a citizen 15 of California residing in the State of California. Defendants employed Plaintiff as a non-exempt hourly 16 employee in the County of San Diego.

17 9. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of himself and the State of California, as a private 18 attorney general, and on behalf of the following group of aggrieved employees: All individuals who 19 are or were employed by Defendants as non-exempt employees in California during the PAGA Period 20 (the "Aggrieved Employees").

21 10. The Aggrieved Employees, at all times pertinent hereto, are or were employees of 22 Defendants during the relevant statutory period.

23 B. DEFENDANTS

24 11. Plaintiff is informed and believes and thereon alleges that Defendants were authorized 25 to and doing business in San Diego County and is and/or was the legal employer of Plaintiff and the 26 other Aggrieved Employees during the applicable statutory periods. Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved 27 Employees were, and are, subject to Defendants' policies and/or practices complained of herein and 28 have been deprived of the rights guaranteed to them by: California Labor Code sections 201, 202, 203,

1 204, 210, 226, 226.3, 226.7, 510, 512, 1174, 1185, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 1198.5, 1199,
2 2802, 2804, and others that may be applicable; and the Applicable Wage Order (Cal. Code of Regs., 3 tit. 8, § 11050).

4 12. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and based thereon alleges, that during the PAGA 5 Period, Defendants did (and continue to do) business in the State of California, County of San Diego.

6 13. Plaintiff does not know the true names or capacities, whether individual, partner, or 7 corporate, of the defendants sued herein as Does 1 to 50, inclusive, and for that reason, said defendants 8 are sued under such fictitious names, and Plaintiff will seek leave from this Court to amend this 9 complaint when such true names and capacities are discovered. Plaintiff is informed, and believes, and 10 thereon alleges, that each of said fictitious defendants, whether individual, partners, or corporate, were 11 responsible in some manner for the acts and omissions alleged herein, and proximately caused Plaintiff 12 and the other Aggrieved Employees to be subject to the unlawful employment practices, wrongs, 13 injuries, and damages complained of herein.

14 14. Plaintiff is informed, and believes, and thereon alleges, that at all times mentioned 15 herein, Defendants were and/or are the employers of Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved Employees. At 16 all times herein mentioned, each of said Defendants participated in the doing of the acts hereinafter 17 alleged to have been done by the named Defendants. Furthermore, the Defendants, and each of them, 18 were the agents, representatives, and employees of each and every one of the other Defendants, and at 19 all times herein mentioned were acting within the course and scope of said agency, representation, and 20 employment. Defendants, and each of them, approved of, condoned, or otherwise ratified every one of 21 the acts or omissions complained of herein.

22 15. Plaintiff is further informed, and believes, and thereon alleges, that at all times
23 mentioned herein, that Defendants, and each of them, are the alter egos of one another and that there 24 existed and now exists a unity of interest and ownership between them such that the individuality and 25 separateness of each of them has ceased. Plaintiff is further informed, and believes, and thereon alleges, 26 that at all times mentioned herein, that Defendants, and each of them, have been and now are mere 27 shells and naked frameworks that their principal uses for the conduct of that Defendant's own business, 28

1 property, and affairs, for which Defendants, and each of them, have concealed and misrepresented their 2 identities as the entities responsible for their ownership, management, and financial interests.

3 16. Plaintiff is further informed, and believes, and thereon alleges, that at all times
4 mentioned herein, Defendants, and each of them, were members of and engaged in a joint venture, 5 partnership, and common enterprise, and acting within the course and scope of and in pursuance of said 6 joint venture, partnership, and common enterprise. Further, Plaintiff is informed, and believes, and 7 thereon alleges, that all Defendants were joint employers for all purposes of Plaintiff and the other 8 Aggrieved Employees.

9 IV. COMMON FACTS & ALLEGATIONS

10 17. Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved Employees (collectively, the “Aggrieved Employees”) 11 are, and were at all relevant times, employed by the Defendants within the State of California.

12 18. The Aggrieved Employees are, and were, at all relevant times, non-exempt employees 13 for the purposes of minimum wages, overtime, rest breaks, meal periods, and the other claims alleged 14 in this complaint.

15 19. Specifically, Plaintiff was employed by Defendants within the statutory PAGA Period, 16 working as an hourly, non-exempt barback for Defendants. Plaintiff’s duties included stocking the bars 17 with ice and liquor bottles, cleaning the bars, and putting away supplies.

18 A. PLAINTIFF’S PERSONAL EXPERIENCES

19 20. Plaintiff has worked for Defendants from approximately October 2019, through present, 20 as an hourly, non-exempt barback for Defendants. Plaintiff was responsible for stocking the bars with 21 ice and liquor bottles, cleaning the bars, and putting away supplies.

22 21. Throughout his employment, Plaintiff was paid on an hourly basis. Plaintiff was 23 compensated approximately $17.25 an hour.

24 22. On Plaintiff’s wage statements, mandatory service charge wages, bonuses, and 25 commission are typically not included in the regular rate of pay. Therefore, Plaintiff has not been paid 26 the proper overtime wages, and other forms of wages relying on calculations of Plaintiff’s regular rate 27 of pay.
28

1 23. Plaintiff and the other employees almost never received a rest period. During his six 2 years of employment with Defendants, Plaintiff estimates he was only permitted to take three rest 3 breaks ever, and even then only in cases of emergencies. Plaintiff also missed meal periods and had his 4 meal period interrupted on several occasions due to the bar being busy. Additionally, Plaintiff was not 5 permitted to take a second meal period when working long shifts, such as a ten-hour shift. Plaintiff 6 observed that other employees experienced retaliation in the form of cutting hours and scheduling 7 disadvantages if management learned that fully compliant breaks were being taken. Despite these 8 violations, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the other Aggrieved Employees meal and rest period 9 premiums.

10 24. Plaintiff was required to work approximately five minutes off-the-clock daily to count 11 out tips at the end of the shift after clocking out.

12 25. Plaintiff and other employees were expected to purchase and use their own bottle 13 openers and were never reimbursed for this expense.

14 26. Defendants also failed to track cash tips properly due to inaccurate estimates listed on 15 wage statements. Specifically, while cash tips were calculated and distributed by bartenders without 16 any reporting to management, management would nonetheless report an estimate of both cash and 17 credit card tips on the employees' wage statements. This estimate was often incorrect and over-stated 18 the amount of tips received by Plaintiff and the other employees, resulting in tax deductions that were 19 higher than should have been made if tips had been properly calculated and thus inaccurate.

20 27. Plaintiff's experiences in this section are provided by way of example and do not 21 represent the sum total of Labor Code violations experienced by Plaintiff, which are further detailed 22 below. Nor were these violations unique to Plaintiff. Rather, they were regularly experienced by the 23 other Aggrieved Employees, who were subject to the same uniform policies and practices.

24 B. MINIMUM WAGE VIOLATIONS

25 28. Labor Code section 1197 requires employees to be paid at least the minimum wage fixed 26 by the IWC, and any payment of less than the minimum wage is unlawful. Likewise, the Applicable 27 Wage Order also obligates employers to pay each employee minimum wages for all hours worked.
28

1 (Cal. Code of Regs., tit. 8, § 11050.) Labor Code section 1198 makes unlawful the employment of an 2 employee under conditions that the IWC Wage Orders prohibit.

3 29. These minimum wage standards apply to each hour that employees work. Therefore, an 4 employer's failure to pay for any particular time worked by an employee is unlawful, even if averaging 5 an employee's total pay over all hours worked, paid or not, results in an average hourly wage above
6 minimum wage. (Armenta v. Osmose, Inc. (2005) 135 Cal.App.4th 314, 324.)

7 30. Here, Defendants failed to fully conform their pay practices to the requirements of the 8 law during the relevant statutory periods. The Aggrieved Employees were not compensated for all 9 hours worked including, but not limited to, all hours they were subject to the control of Defendants 10 and/or suffered or permitted to work under the California Labor Code and the Applicable Wage Order.
11 Among other violations, the Aggrieved Employees were subject to the control of Defendants while off-12 the-clock and did not receive minimum wage for each hour worked.

13 31. Labor Code section 1197.1 authorizes employees who are paid less than the minimum 14 wage fixed by an applicable state or local law, or by an order of the IWC, a civil penalty, among other 15 damages, as follows:

16 (1) "For any initial violation that is intentionally committed, one hundred 17 dollars ($100) for each underpaid employee for each pay period for 18 which the employee is underpaid."

19 (2) "For each subsequent violation for the same specific offense, two 20 hundred fifty dollars ($250) for each underpaid employee for each pay 21 period for which the employee is underpaid regardless of whether the 22 initial violation is intentionally committed." (Lab. Code, § 1197.1, subd.

23 (a).)

24 32. As set forth above, Defendants failed to fully compensate the Aggrieved Employees for 25 all minimum wages. Accordingly, through PAGA and to the extent permitted by law, Plaintiff and the 26 Aggrieved Employees are entitled to recover penalties pursuant to California Labor Code section 27 1197.1 in addition to any other applicable penalties.
28

1 C. OVERTIME VIOLATIONS

2 33. Labor Code section 510 requires employers to compensate employees who work more 3 than eight hours in one workday, forty hours in a workweek, and for the first eight hours worked on 4 the seventh consecutive day no less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for an employee.
5 (Lab. Code, § 510, subd. (a).) Further, Labor Code section 510 obligates employers to compensate 6 employees at no less than twice the regular rate of pay when an employee works more than twelve 7 hours in a day or more than eight hours on the seventh consecutive day of work. (Lab. Code, § 510, 8 subd. (a).) These rules are also reflected in the Applicable Wage Order.

9 34. In accordance with Labor Code section 1194 and the Applicable Wage Order, the 10 Aggrieved Employees could not then agree and cannot now agree to work for a lesser wage than the 11 amount provided by Labor Code sections 510 or the Applicable Wage Order.

12 35. Here, Defendants violated their duty to accurately and completely compensate the 13 Aggrieved Employees for all overtime worked. The Aggrieved Employees periodically worked hours 14 that entitled them to overtime compensation under the law but were not fully compensated for those 15 hours.

16 36. Moreover, during the relevant statutory periods, Defendants had a policy and practice 17 of failing to pay overtime wages at the proper rate when it actually paid overtime. Specifically, when 18 Defendants paid overtime wages to the Aggrieved Employees, Defendants failed to include all 19 compensation when calculating the regular rate of pay used in overtime calculations and when paying 20 overtime.

21 37. For instance, the Aggrieved Employees would often receive, along with their hourly 22 rates of pay for their working hours, additional remuneration and/or non-discretionary bonus pay.
23 Defendants, however, calculated the regular rate of pay for the Aggrieved Employees without factoring 24 into the regular rate of pay all other non-hourly pay earnings received during the pay period. As a result, 25 the Aggrieved Employees were underpaid overtime wages when they worked in excess of eight hours 26 in any workday and/or forty hours in a workweek when such additional forms of remuneration were 27 earned. By its practice of periodically requiring the Aggrieved Employees to work in excess of eight 28 hours in a workday and/or forty hours in a workweek without compensating them at the rate of one and

1 one-half (1½) their regular rate of pay, Defendants willfully violated the provisions of Labor Code 2 sections 510, 1194, and 1199.

3 38. These actions were and are in clear violation of California’s overtime laws as set forth
4 in Labor Code sections 510, 1194, 1199, and the Applicable Wage Order. (Cal. Code of Regs., tit. 8, § 5 11050.) As a result of Defendants’ faulty policies and practices, the Aggrieved Employees were not 6 compensated for all hours worked or paid accurate overtime compensation.

7 D. REST BREAK VIOLATIONS

8 39. Pursuant to Labor Code section 226.7 and the Applicable Wage Order, Defendants were 9 and are required to provide the Aggrieved Employees with compensated, duty-free rest periods of not 10 less than ten minutes for every major fraction of four hours worked. Under the Applicable Wage Order, 11 an employer must authorize and permit all employees to take ten minute duty free rest periods for every 12 major fraction of four hours worked. (Cal. Code of Regs., tit. 8, § 11050.)

13 40. Likewise, Labor Code section 226.7 provides that “[a]n employer shall not require an 14 employee to work during a meal or rest or recovery period mandated pursuant to an applicable statute, 15 or applicable regulation, standard, or order of the Industrial Welfare Commission” (Lab. Code, § 16 226.7, subd. (b).) Labor Code section 226.7 also provides that employers must pay their employees one 17 additional hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate for each workday that a “meal or rest or recovery 18 period is not provided.” (Lab. Code, § 226.7, subd. (c).) The “regular rate” for these purposes must 19 factor in all nondiscretionary payments for work performed by the employee, including non-20 discretionary bonuses, commissions, and other forms of wage payments exceeding the employees’ base 21 hourly rate. (Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal.5th 858, 878.) Thus, the Wage 22 Orders set when and for how long the rest period must take place and the Labor Code establishes that 23 violations of the IWC Wage Orders are unlawful and sets forth the premium pay employer must pay 24 their employees when employers fail to provide rest periods.

25 41. The California Supreme Court has held that, during required rest periods, “employers 26 must relieve their employees of all duties and relinquish any control over how employees spend their 27 break time.” (Augustus v. ABM Security Services, Inc. (2016) 2 Cal.5th 257, 260.) Relinquishing 28 control over employees during rest periods requires that employees be “free to leave the employer’s

1 premises” and be “permitted to attend to personal business.” (Id. at p. 275.) The Brinker Court 2 explained in the context of rest breaks that employer liability attaches from adopting an unlawful 3 policy:

4 “An employer is required to authorize and permit the amount of rest break time 5 called for under the wage order for its industry. If it does not—if, for example, 6 it adopts a uniform policy authorizing and permitting only one rest break for 7 employees working a seven-hour shift when two are required—it has violated 8 the wage order and is liable.” (Brinker Rest. Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 9 Cal.4th 1004, 1033.)

10 42. Here, Defendants periodically did not permit the Aggrieved Employees to take 11 compliant duty-free rest breaks, free from Defendants’ control as required by Labor Code section 12 226.7, the Applicable Wage Order, and applicable precedent. (See Augustus v. ABM Security Services, 13 Inc. (2016) 2 Cal.5th 257, 269 [concluding that “during rest periods employers must relieve employees 14 of all duties and relinquish control over how employees spend their time.”].) At all relevant times, the 15 Aggrieved Employees were periodically not provided with legally-compliant and timely rest periods 16 of at least ten minutes for each four hour work period, or major fraction thereof due to Defendants’ 17 unlawful rest period policies/practices. The Aggrieved Employees were often expected and required to 18 continue working through rest periods to meet the expectations of Defendants and finish the workday.
19 In some cases when the Aggrieved Employees worked more than ten hours in a shift, Defendants failed 20 to authorize and/or permit a third mandated rest period. As a result, the Aggrieved Employees were 21 periodically unable to take compliant rest periods.

22 43. In such cases where Defendants did not offer the Aggrieved Employees the opportunity 23 to receive a compliant off-duty rest period, “the court may not conclude employees voluntarily chose 24 to skip those breaks.” (Alberts v. Aurora Behavioral Health Care (2015) 241 Cal.App.4th 388, 410 25 (2015) [“If an employer fails to provide legally compliant meal or rest breaks, the court may not 26 conclude employees voluntarily chose to skip those breaks.”]; Brinker Rest. Corp. v. Superior Court, 27 supra, 53 Cal.4th at p. 1033 [“No issue of waiver ever arises for a rest break that was required by law 28

1 but never authorized; if a break is not authorized, an employee has no opportunity to decline to take 2 it.”].)

3 44. In addition to failing to authorize and permit compliant rest periods, the Aggrieved 4 Employees were not compensated with one hour’s worth of pay at their regular rate of compensation
5 when they were not provided with a compliant rest period in accordance with Labor Code section 6 226.7, subdivision (c). Thus, Defendants have violated Labor Code section 226.7 and the Applicable 7 Wage Order.

8 E. MEAL BREAK VIOLATIONS

9 45. Labor Code section 512 and the Applicable Wage Order require employers to provide 10 employees with a thirty-minute uninterrupted and duty-free meal period within the first five hours of 11 work. (Lab. Code, § 512, subd. (a) [“An employer shall not employ an employee for a work period of 12 more than five hours per day without providing the employee with a meal period of not less than 30 13 minutes”]; Cal. Code of Regs., tit. 8, § 11050 [“No employer shall employ any person for a work 14 period of more than five (5) hours without a meal period of not less than 30 minutes”].)
15 Additionally, an employee who works more than ten hours per day is entitled to receive a second thirty-16 minute uninterrupted and duty-free meal period. (Lab. Code, § 512, subd. (a) [“An employer shall not 17 employ an employee for a work period of more than 10 hours per day without providing the employee 18 with a second meal period of not less than 30 minutes”].)

19 46. “An on-duty meal period is permitted only when the nature of the work prevents an 20 employee from being relieved of all duty and the parties agree in writing to an on-duty paid meal 21 break.” (Lubin v. The Wackenhut Corp. (2016) 5 Cal.App.5th 926, 932.) The written agreement must 22 include a provision allowing the employee to revoke it at any time. (Ibid.) Generally, the California 23 Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Labor Standards Enforcement (“DLSE”) and courts 24 have “found that the nature of the work exception applies: (1) where the work has some particular 25 external force that requires the employee to be on duty at all times, and (2) where the employee is the 26 sole employee of a particular employer.” (Id. at p. 945, internal quotation marks omitted; Abdullah v.
27 U.S. Security Associates, Inc. (9th Cir. 2013) 731 F.3d 952, 958–959.) “[I]t is the employer’s obligation 28 to determine whether the nature of the work prevents an employee from being relieved before requiring

1 an employee to take an on-duty meal period.” (Lubin v. The Wackenhut Corp., supra, 5 Cal.App.5th at 2 p. 946.)

3 47. Here, the Aggrieved Employees were never asked to sign any enforceable document 4 agreeing to an on-duty meal period. Moreover, nothing in the nature of their work involved the kind of 5 “external force” that might justify on-duty meal breaks. (Lubin v. The Wackenhut Corp., supra, 5 6 Cal.App.5th at p. 945.) Nevertheless, Defendants periodically did not provide compliant off-duty meal 7 periods within the first five hours of work for the Aggrieved Employees.

8 48. As with rest breaks, meal breaks must be duty-free. (Brinker Restaurant Corp. v.
9 Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1035 [“The IWC’s wage orders have long made a meal period’s 10 duty-free nature its defining characteristic.”].) Relinquishing control over employees during meal 11 periods requires that employees be “free to leave the employer’s premises” and be “permitted to attend 12 to personal business.” (Augustus v. ABM Security Services, Inc., supra, 2 Cal.5th at p. 275.) Under 13 Labor Code section 512, if an employer maintains a uniform policy that does not authorize and permit 14 the amount of meal time called for under the law (as specified in the Labor Code and/or applicable 15 IWC Wage Order), “it has violated the wage order and is liable.” (Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior 16 Court, supra, 53 Cal.4th at p. 1033.)

17 49. During the applicable statutory periods here, the Aggrieved Employees were 18 periodically denied legally-compliant and timely off-duty meal periods of at least thirty minutes due to 19 Defendants’ unlawful meal period policy and practices. As a result of Defendants’ uniform meal period 20 policies and practices, the Aggrieved Employees were often not permitted to take compliant first meal 21 periods before the end of the fifth hour of work. The Aggrieved Employees were also periodically not 22 permitted to take second meal periods for shifts in excess of ten hours. Defendants thus violated Labor 23 Code section 512 and the Applicable Wage Order by failing to advise, authorize, or permit the 24 Aggrieved Employees to receive thirty-minute, off-duty meal periods within the first five hours of their 25 shifts.

26 50. Labor Code section 226.7 provides that “[a]n employer shall not require an employee 27 to work during a meal or rest or recovery period mandated pursuant to an applicable statute, or 28 applicable regulation, standard, or order of the Industrial Welfare Commission.” (Lab. Code, § 226.7, 1 subd. (b).) Labor Code section 226.7, subdivision (c), and the Applicable Wage Order further obligate 2 employers to pay employees one additional hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate of compensation 3 for each workday that the meal period is not provided. (Lab. Code, § 226.7, subd. (c); Cal. Code of 4 Regs., tit. 8, § 11050 [“If an employer fails to provide an employee a meal period in accordance with 5 the applicable provisions of this order, the employer shall pay the employee one (1) hour of pay at the 6 employee’s regular rate of compensation for each workday that the meal period is not provided.”].)

7 The “regular rate” for these purposes must factor in all nondiscretionary payments for work performed 8 by the employee, including non-discretionary bonuses, commissions, and other forms of wage 9 payments exceeding the employees’ base hourly rate. (Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021)
10 11 Cal.5th 858, 878.)

11 51. Accordingly, for each day that the Aggrieved Employees did not receive compliant meal 12 periods, they were and are entitled to receive meal period premiums pursuant to Labor Code section 13 226.7 and the Applicable Wage Order. Defendants, however, failed to pay the Aggrieved Employees 14 applicable meal period premiums for many workdays that the employees did not receive a compliant 15 meal period. Thus, Defendants have violated Labor Code section 226.7 and the Applicable Wage 16 Order.

17 F. UNTIMELY WAGES DURING EMPLOYMENT

18 52. Labor Code section 204 expressly requires employers who pay employees on a weekly, 19 biweekly, or semimonthly basis to pay all wages “not more than seven calendar days following the 20 close of the payroll period.” Labor Code section 210, subdivision (a), makes employers who violate 21 Labor Code section 204 subject to a penalty of:

22 “(1) For any initial violation, one hundred dollars ($100) for each failure to 23 pay each employee.

24 “(2) For each subsequent violation, or any willful or intentional violation, two 25 hundred dollars ($200) for each failure to pay each employee, plus 25 26 percent of the amount unlawfully withheld.” (Lab. Code, § 210, subd.
27 (a).)
28

1 53. Notably, the penalty provided by Labor Code section 210 is “[i]n addition to, and 2 entirely independent and apart from, any other penalty provided in this article” (Lab. Code, § 210, 3 subd. (a).)

4 54. Due to Defendants’ failure to pay the Aggrieved Employees the wages described above, 5 along with rest and meal break premiums, Defendants failed to timely pay the Aggrieved Employees
6 within seven calendar days following the close of payroll in accordance with Labor Code section 204 7 on a regular and consistent basis. (See Parson v. Golden State FC, LLC (N.D. Cal., May 2, 2016, No.
8 16-CV-00405-JST) 2016 WL 1734010, at p. *3–5, 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 58299 [finding that a failure 9 to pay rest period premiums can support claims under Labor Code sections 203 and 204].)

10 G. UNTIMELY WAGES AT SEPARATION

11 55. Labor Code section 203 provides “if an employer willfully fails to pay . . . any wages 12 of an employee who is discharged or who quits, the wages of the employee shall continue as a penalty” 13 for up to thirty days. (Lab. Code § 203; Mamika v. Barca (1998) 68 Cal.App.4th 487, 492.) As a result 14 of Defendants’ failure to pay the Aggrieved Employees for the wages described above, along with rest 15 and meal break premiums, Defendants violated and continue to violate Labor Code section 203.

16 56. Due to Defendants’ faulty pay policies, those Aggrieved Employees whose employment 17 with Defendants concluded were not compensated for each and every hour worked at the appropriate 18 rate. Defendants have failed to pay formerly-employed Aggrieved Employees whose sums were certain 19 at the time of termination within at least seventy-two hours of their resignation and have failed to pay 20 those sums for thirty days thereafter.

21 H. FAILURE TO REIMBURSE BUSINESS EXPENSES

22 57. At all relevant times herein, Defendants were subject to Labor Code section 2802, which 23 states that “an employer shall indemnify his or her employees for all necessary expenditures or losses 24 incurred by the employee in direct consequence of the discharge of his or her duties, or of his or her 25 obedience to the directions of the employer.” The purpose of this section is to “prevent employers from 26 passing along their operating expenses onto their employees.” (Gattuso v. Harte-Hanks Shoppers, Inc.
27 (2007) 42 Cal.4th 554, 562.)
28

1 58. At all relevant times herein, Defendants were subject to Labor Code section 2804, which 2 states that “any contract or agreement, express or implied, made by any employee to waive the benefits 3 of this article or any part thereof, is null and void, and this article shall not deprive any employee or his 4 personal representative of any right or remedy to which he is entitled under the laws of this State.”

5 59. Thus, the Aggrieved Employees were and are entitled to reimbursement for the expenses 6 they incurred during the course of their duties. The duty to reimburse even extends to the use of 7 equipment the employee may already own and would be required to pay for anyway. (Cochran v.
8 Schwan’s Home Serv., Inc. (2014) 228 Cal.App.4th 1137, 1144 [“The threshold question in this case 9 is this: Does an employer always have to reimburse an employee for the reasonable expense of the 10 mandatory use of a personal cell phone, or is the reimbursement obligation limited to the situation in 11 which the employee incurred an extra expense that he or she would not have otherwise incurred absent 12 the job? The answer is that reimbursement is always required. Otherwise, the employer would receive 13 a windfall because it would be passing its operating expenses on to the employee.”].)

14 60. Here, Defendants failed to fully reimburse the Aggrieved Employees for necessary 15 expenditures incurred as a direct consequence and requirement of performing their job duties, including 16 the costs associated with their bottle openers they required to perform their work. Consequently, 17 Defendants failed to comply with Labor Code section 2802.

18 I. WAGE STATEMENT VIOLATIONS

19 61. Defendants also failed to provide accurate itemized wage statements in accordance with 20 Labor Code sections 226, subdivisions (a)(1), (2), (5), and (9). Labor Code section 226, subdivision 21 (a), obligates employers, semi-monthly or at the time of each payment to furnish an itemized wage 22 statement in writing showing:

- 23 (1) The gross wages earned;
- 24 (2) The total hours worked by the employee;
- 25 (3) The number of piece-rate units earned and any applicable piece rate if 26 the employee is paid on a piece rate basis;
- 27 (4) All deductions, provided that all deductions made on written orders of 28 the employee may be aggregated and shown as one item;

- 1 (5) The net wages earned;
- 2 (6) The inclusive dates of the period for which the employee is paid;
- 3 (7) The name of the employee and only the last four digits of his or her social
- 4 security number or an employee identification number other than a social
- 5 security number;
- 6 (8) The name and address of the legal entity that is the employer; and
- 7 (9) All applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the
- 8 corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the
- 9 employee.

10 62. Due to Defendants' failure to pay the Aggrieved Employees properly as described 11 above, the wage statements issued do not indicate the correct amount of gross wages earned, total hours

12 worked, or the net wages earned, or the applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the 13 corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate. Thus, Defendants have violated Labor 14 Code section 226, subdivisions (a)(1), (2), (5), and (9).

15 63. In addition to Labor Code section 226, subdivision (a), Defendants also knowingly and 16 intentionally failed to provide the Aggrieved Employees with accurate itemized wage statements in 17 violation of Labor Code section 226, subdivision (e). Defendants knew that they were not providing 18 the Aggrieved Employees with wage statements required by California law but nevertheless failed to 19 correct their unlawful practices and policies. (See Garnett v. ADT LLC (E.D. Cal. 2015) 139 F.Supp.3d

20 1121, 1134 [finding the defendant knowingly and intentionally violated Labor Code section 226

21 because the "[d]efendant knew that it was not providing total hours worked to plaintiff or other 22 employees paid on commission" even though it believed that employees paid solely on commission or 23 commission and salary "are exempt and therefore we do not record hours on a wage statement."].)

24 J. RECORDKEEPING VIOLATIONS

25 64. Labor Code section 226, subdivision (a), requires employers to keep an accurate record

26 of, among other things, all hours worked by employees. Labor Code section 226.3 provides, in pertinent

27 part, as follows:

28

1 “Any employer who violates subdivision (a) of Section 226 shall be subject to a 2 civil penalty in the amount of two hundred fifty dollars ($250) per employee per 3 violation in an initial citation and one thousand dollars ($1,000) per employee 4 for each violation in a subsequent citation, for which the employer fails to 5 provide the employee a wage deduction statement or fails to keep the records 6 required in subdivision (a) of Section 226. The civil penalties provided for in 7 this section are in addition to any other penalty provided by law.” (Lab. Code, § 8 226.3, emphasis added.)

9 65. Likewise, Labor Code section 1174, subdivision (d), requires every employer, including 10 Defendants, to:

11 “Keep, at a central location in the state or at the plants or establishments at which 12 employees are employed, payroll records showing the hours worked daily by 13 and the wages paid to, and the number of piece-rate units earned by and any 14 applicable piece rate paid to, employees employed at the respective plants or 15 establishments. These records shall be kept in accordance with rules established 16 for this purpose by the commission, but in any case shall be kept on file for not 17 less than three years. An employer shall not prohibit an employee from 18 maintaining a personal record of hours worked, or, if paid on a piece-rate basis, 19 piece-rate units earned.” (Lab. Code, § 1174, subd. (d), emphasis added.)

20 66. As explained in detail above, Defendants failed to provide the Aggrieved Employees 21 with accurate itemized wage statements. Defendants did so, in part, because they failed to accurately 22 track hours worked by the Aggrieved Employees. Defendants have thus failed to keep accurate records 23 of the “total hours worked by the employee[s]” in violation of Labor Code section 226, subdivision (a), 24 and are therefore subject to the penalties provided by Labor Code section 226.3. These penalties are 25 “in addition to any other penalty provided by law.” (Lab. Code, § 226.3.)

26 67. The failure to accurately track hours worked also resulted in a failure of Defendants to 27 keep a record of all “payroll records showing the hours worked daily by” Defendants’ employees, 28 including Plaintiff, in violation of Labor Code section 1174, subdivision (d).

1 V. EXHAUSTION OF REMEDIES

2 68. Plaintiff has fully and completely exhausted administrative remedies under PAGA prior 3 to proceeding with the PAGA claims stated in this complaint. Plaintiff filed a PAGA notice online with 4 the Labor Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”) and sent a letter by certified mail to Defendants 5 setting forth the facts and theories of the violations alleged against Defendants, as prescribed by PAGA.
6 (Lab. Code, §§ 2698–2699.6.)

7 69. As required by PAGA, Plaintiff submitted the $75.00 filing fee with the LWDA by 8 regular mail. Pursuant to Labor Code section 2699.3, subdivision (a)(2)(A), no notice was received by 9 Plaintiff from the LWDA evidencing its intention to investigate within sixty-five calendar days of the 10 postmark date of the PAGA notice. Plaintiff is therefore entitled to commence and proceed with a civil 11 action pursuant to Labor Code section 2699.

12 VI. CAUSES OF ACTION

13 First Cause of Action

14 Penalties Pursuant to PAGA for Violations of Labor Code Sections 201, 202, 203, 15 204, 210, 226, 226.3, 226.7, 510, 512, 1174, 1185, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 16 1198.5, 1199, 2802, 2804, and Other Provisions of the California Labor Code
17 (Against All Defendants)

18 70. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference all previous paragraphs.

19 71. Based on the above allegations incorporated by reference, Defendants violated Labor 20 Code sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 210, 226, 226.3, 226.7, 510, 512, 1174, 1185, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 21 1197.1, 1198, 1198.5, 1199, 2802, 2804, and others that may be applicable; and the Applicable Wage 22 Order (Cal. Code of Regs., tit. 8, § 11050), and others that may be applicable.

23 72. As a result of the acts alleged above, Plaintiff seeks penalties under Labor Code sections 24 2698 through 2699.6 because of Defendants’ violation of Labor Code sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 210, 25 226, 226.3, 226.7, 510, 512, 1174, 1185, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 1198.5, 1199, 2802, 2804, 26 and others that may be applicable; and the Applicable Wage Orders (Cal. Code of Regs., tit. 8, § 11050), 27 and others that may be applicable.
28

1 73. Under Labor Code section 2699, subdivision (f)(2), and 2699.5, for each such violation, 2 Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees are entitled to penalties in an amount to be shown at the time
3 of trial. These penalties must be allocated sixty-five percent to the Labor and Workforce Development 4 Agency (“LWDA”) and thirty-five percent to the affected employees. With limited exceptions provided 5 in Labor Code section 2699, subdivision (i), these penalties may be stacked separately for each of 6 Defendants’ violations of the California Labor Code.

7 74. For violations of Labor Code section 226, subdivision (a), Plaintiff seeks the default 8 penalty provided by Labor Code section 226.3. Labor Code section 226.3 provides that “[a]ny 9 employer who violates subdivision (a) of Section 226 shall be subject to a civil penalty in the amount 10 of two hundred fifty dollars ($250) per employee per violation in an initial violation and one thousand 11 dollars ($1,000) per employee for each violation in a subsequent citation, for which the employer fails 12 to provide the employee a wage deduction statement or fails to keep the records required in subdivision 13 (a) of Section 226.” Accordingly, through PAGA and to the extent permitted by law Plaintiff and the 14 Aggrieved Employees are entitled to recover penalties for violations of Labor Code section 226.3 and 15 seek default PAGA penalties for each of Defendants’ numerous violations of Labor Code section 226, 16 subdivision (e).

17 75. Labor Code section 210 provides that “in addition to, and entirely independent and apart 18 from, any other penalty provided in this article, every person who fails to pay the wages of each 19 employee as provided in Sections . . . 204 . . . shall be subject to a civil penalty as follows: (1) For any 20 initial violation, one hundred dollars ($100) for each failure to pay each employee; (2) For each 21 subsequent violation, or any willful or intentional violation, two hundred dollars ($200) for each failure 22 to pay each employee, plus 25% of the amount unlawfully withheld.” As a result of the faulty 23 compensation policies and practices, Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees are also entitled to recover 24 penalties under Labor Code section 210 through PAGA.

25 76. Labor Code section 1197.1 authorizes a civil penalty, restitution of wages, and 26 liquidated damages, in the amount of: (1) one hundred dollars ($100) for any initial violation that is 27 intentionally committed for each underpaid employee for each pay period for which the employee is 28 underpaid, and (2) two hundred fifty dollars ($250) for each subsequent violation for the same specific

1 offense for each underpaid employee for each pay period for which the employee is underpaid 2 regardless of whether the initial violation is intentionally committed. Accordingly, through PAGA and 3 to the extent permitted by law, Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees are entitled to recover pursuant 4 to Labor Code section 1197.1.

5 77. Plaintiff was compelled to retain the services of counsel to file this action to protect his 6 interests and those of the Aggrieved Employees, and to assess and collect the wages and penalties owed 7 by Defendants. Plaintiff has thereby incurred attorneys' fees and costs, which Plaintiff is also entitled 8 to recover under Labor Code section 2699, subdivision (k)(1).

9 VII. PRAYER FOR RELIEF

10 Plaintiff prays for judgment for himself and for all others on whose behalf this suit is brought 11 against Defendants, as follows:

- 12 1. For the failure to maintain accurate employment records, penalties pursuant to Labor 13 Code sections 226.3, 1174.5, and others that may be applicable;
- 14 2. For the claim of penalties pursuant to PAGA and other provisions of the California 15 Labor Code, a civil penalty as specified in Labor Code section 2699, subdivision (f)(2), 16 in the representative action brought on behalf of Plaintiff and the Aggrieved Employees 17 pursuant the Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act of 2004, and for civil penalties 18 available under Labor Code section 210;
- 19 3. Prejudgment interest on all due and unpaid wages pursuant to Labor Code section 218.6 20 and Civil Code sections 3287 and 3289;
- 21 4. On all causes of action for which attorneys' fees may be available, for attorneys' fees 22 and costs as provided by Labor Code sections 218.5, 226, Code of Civil Procedure 23 section 1021.5, and others as may be applicable;
- 24 5. For an order enjoining Defendants, and each of them, and their agents, servants, and 25 employees, and all persons acting under, in concert with, or for them, from acting in 26 derogation of any rights or duties adumbrated in this complaint; and 27
28

1 6. For such other and further relief, this Court may deem just and proper.
