DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

1 Plaintiff NURY MELARA (“Plaintiff”), individually and on behalf of all others
2 similarly situated, brings this Class Action and Representative Action Complaint against
3 UNITED DOMESTIC WORKERS OF AMERICA, UDW/AFSCME LOCAL 3930 and DOES
4 1 through 10, inclusive (collectively, “Defendants”), and on information and belief alleges as 5 follows:

6 PARTIES

7 1. Plaintiff Nury Melara is over the age of eighteen (18) and is a resident of 8 California. Plaintiff worked for Defendants in California as a non-exempt hourly-paid Union
9 Representative from approximately June 2014 through July 2025.

10 2. Upon and information and belief, Defendant UNITED DOMESTIC WORKERS
11 OF AMERICA, UDW/AFSCME LOCAL 3930 is a public sector labor union representing 12 workers throughout California, with its principal place of business located at 4855 Seminole 13 Drive, San Diego, CA 92115.

14 3. Does 1 through 10, inclusive, are persons or entities whose true names and 15 identities are now unknown to Plaintiff, and who are sued by such fictitious names. Plaintiff
16 will amend this complaint to allege their true names and capacities when known. Plaintiff is 17 informed and believes each Doe defendant is the agent, representative, or parent or subsidiary
18 corporation of Defendant UNITED DOMESTIC WORKERS OF AMERICA, UDW/AFSCME
19 LOCAL3930 and is responsible in some manner for the occurrences, events, transactions, and 20 injuries alleged, and that harm suffered by Plaintiff and the proposed Class was proximately
21 caused by them in addition to Defendant UNITED DOMESTIC WORKERS OF AMERICA,
22 UDW/AFSCME LOCAL 3930.

23 4. Plaintiff alleges each of the Defendants, including Defendant UNITED
24 DOMESTIC WORKERS OF AMERICA, UDW/AFSCME LOCAL 3930 and the Doe
25 defendants, acted in concert with each and every other Defendant, intended to and did
26 participate in the events, acts, practices, and courses of conduct alleged, and was a proximate
27 cause of damage and injury to Plaintiff.

28 ///

1 5. At all relevant times each Defendant was the agent or employee of each of the
2 other Defendants and was acting within the course and scope of such agency or employment.

3 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

4 6. Venue as to each Defendant is proper in this judicial district. Code of Civil
5 Procedure § 395. Defendant UNITED DOMESTIC WORKERS OF AMERICA,
6 UDW/AFSCME LOCAL 3930 has its principle place of business in San Diego and conducts 7 business in San Diego County. Each Defendant is within this Court's jurisdiction for service of 8 process. The unlawful acts alleged in this Complaint took place in California and directly affect 9 Plaintiff and other Class Members within California. There is no federal question at issue for 10 removal, as the issues are based solely on California law, including the Labor Code, Business
11 and Professions Code, and the Code of Civil Procedure.

12 7. No federal jurisdiction exists to remove this action to federal court. No federal 13 question is at issue, as the issues are based solely on California law, including the Labor Code,
14 IWC Wage Orders, Code of Civil Procedure, and Business and Professions Code. No diversity
15 jurisdiction exists sufficient for removal to federal court under 28. U.S.C. §§ 1332(a) or 1332(d)
16 because Class Members' individual amounts in controversy do not exceed $75,000 and the class
17 amount in controversy does not exceed $5,000,000.

18 8. PAGA civil penalty actions are not subject to federal jurisdiction and are not 19 subject to removal. 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332(a)-(d).

20 FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

21 9. At all relevant times, Plaintiff, other Class Members, and other aggrieved
22 employees worked for Defendants in California, and Defendants conducted business in 23 California.

24 10. Plaintiff worked for Defendants as a non-exempt hourly-paid Union
25 Representative between June 2014 through July 2025. In this role, Plaintiff's duties included
26 conducting orientations and trainings, assisting individuals with completing required
27 paperwork, providing guidance and support, connecting community members with available
28 resources, and performing other related responsibilities typical of a union representative.

1 11. Defendants failed to provide Plaintiff, other Class Members, and other aggrieved
2 employees all required wages owed, including for all work performed and time subject to
3 Defendants' control resulting in off-the-clock work. For a substantial portion of the class
4 period, Defendants required Plaintiff, other Class members, and other aggrieved employees to 5 perform work while clocked out, without compensation. Specifically, due to pressure exerted
6 by the Defendants to underreport hours worked and record meal breaks even if not taken,
7 Plaintiff routinely recorded compliant 30-minute uninterrupted meal periods despite continuing
8 to work during those times. Plaintiff, other Class Members, and other aggrieved employees
9 were not paid for this time.

10 12. By implementing policies, programs, practices, procedures and protocols which 11 resulted in off-the-clock work, Defendants' willful actions resulted in the systematic 12 underpayment of wages to Plaintiff, Class Members, and other aggrieved employees, including 13 underpayment of minimum, regular and overtime pay over the relevant time period. These 14 policies and practices result in employees working off the clock in violation of California law.
15 As a result of the above described requirements to work off the clock by Defendants, and the 16 other wage violations they endured at Defendants' hands, Plaintiff, other Class Members, and 17 other aggrieved employees were not properly paid all wages earned and all wages owed to them
18 by Defendants, including when working more than eight (8) hours in any given day and/or more
19 than forty (40) hours in any given week.

20 13. As a result of Defendants' unlawful policies and practices, Plaintiff, other Class
21 Members, and other aggrieved employees incurred overtime hours worked for which they were
22 not adequately and completely compensated, in addition to the hours they were required to work
23 off the clock. To the extent applicable, Defendants also failed to pay Plaintiff, other Class
24 Members, and other aggrieved employees at an overtime rate of 1.5 times the regular rate for 25 the first eight hours of the seventh consecutive work day in a week and overtime payments at 26 the rate of 2 times the regular rate for hours worked over eight (8) on the seventh consecutive 27 work day, as required under the Labor Code and applicable IWC Wage Orders. Plaintiff was 28 frequently required to reduce her recorded work hours in the timekeeping system to avoid

1 accruing overtime.

2 14. Defendants failed to provide all the legally required unpaid, off-duty meal
3 periods to Plaintiff, other Class Members, and other aggrieved employees, as required by the 4 applicable Wage Order and Labor Code. Plaintiff, other Class Members, and other aggrieved
5 employees were required to perform work as ordered by Defendants for more than five (5)
6 hours during a shift but were often required to do so without receiving a lawful and timely meal
7 break. Additionally, due to pressure exerted by the Employer to underreport hours worked,
8 Plaintiff routinely recorded compliant meal periods despite continuing to work during those 9 times. As a result, Plaintiff worked off the clock during recorded meal periods. Further,
10 Plaintiff's meal breaks were at times not taken by the end of the fifth hour of work in violation
11 of California law. Plaintiff, other t Class Members, and other aggrieved employees were not 12 paid meal break premiums for these non-compliant meal breaks.

13 15. Defendants also failed to authorize and permit rest periods for Plaintiff, other 14 Class Members, and other aggrieved employees, in violation of California law. Plaintiff was 15 frequently instructed to record rest breaks on a shared calendar to indicate compliance, despite 16 continuing to work during those periods. In reality, the demanding nature of work made it
17 practically impossible for Plaintiff, other Class Members, and other aggrieved employees to 18 take a 10-minute, off-duty rest period for every four hours worked or major fraction thereof. As 19 a result, Plaintiff, other Class Members, and other aggrieved employees were often denied their 20 legally mandated rest periods. Plaintiff, other Class Members, and other aggrieved employees
21 were not compensated with rest break premiums for all missed or non-compliant rest breaks.

22 16. As a result of the above violations, Defendants willfully failed to maintain 23 accurate records, provide accurate, itemized wage statements, and complete, accurate, and 24 timely final wages, to Plaintiff, other Class Members, and other aggrieved employees.

25 17. Specifically, Defendant failed to pay Plaintiff, other Class Members, and other
26 aggrieved employees whose employment was terminated all wages owed to them immediately
27 at the time of discharge.

28 ///

18. Plaintiff, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, also seeks injunctive relief, restitution, and disgorgement of all benefits obtained by Defendants as a result of violations alleged. Business and Professions Code §§ 17200, et seq.

EXHAUSTION OF PAGA NOTICE REQUIREMENT

19. Plaintiff exhausted the notice requirement by filing a complaint with the Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”) in her letter dated April 13, 2026, as required under the California Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act (“PAGA”). A true and correct copy of Plaintiff’s letter is attached as Exhibit A and is incorporated by reference.

20. The LWDA did not assume jurisdiction over the applicable penalty claims alleged; therefore, Plaintiff has exhausted the procedural requirement under the PAGA to pursue any and all penalty claims as provided under the PAGA.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

21. Plaintiff seeks to represent a Class defined as:

Class or Class Members

All current and former, hourly-paid, non-exempt Union Representatives, and other non-exempt employees who performed similar job duties, employed by Defendants in California during the four years before the filing of this Complaint through the date of trial.

22. Plaintiff seeks to certify a subclass defined as:

“Unpaid Wage Subclass”

All Class Members who worked at least one shift less than eight (8) hours per day or forty (40) hours in one week.

23. Plaintiff seeks to certify a subclass defined as:

“Overtime Wages Subclass”

All Class Members who worked at least one shift longer than eight (8) hours per day or forty (40) hours in one week.

24. Plaintiff seeks to certify a subclass defined as:

“Meal Period Subclass”

All Class Members who worked at least one shift longer than five (5) hours in a workday.

25. Plaintiff seeks to certify a subclass defined as:

“Rest Period Subclass”

All Class Members who worked at least one shift longer than three and one-half (3.5) hours in a workday.

26. Plaintiff seeks to certify a subclass defined as:

“Wage Statement Subclass”

All Class Members who received one or more itemized wage statements from Defendants.

27. Plaintiff seeks to certify a subclass defined as:

“Waiting Time Subclass”

All Class Members whose working relationship with Defendants ended at any time during the three years preceding the filing of this Complaint.

28. Plaintiff seeks to certify a subclass defined as:

“UCL Subclass”

All Class and Subclass Members who were subject to Defendants’ unlawful or unfair business acts or practices.

29. Plaintiff reserves the right to amend or modify the Class description, including by division into subclasses or limitation to particular issues. California Rule of Court 3.765(b).

30. Commonality: This action has been brought and may be maintained as a class action pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 382 because there is a well-defined common interest of many persons and it is impractical to bring them all before the court.

31. Ascertainable Class: The proposed Class and Subclasses are ascertainable because they can be identified and located using Defendants’ payroll and personnel records.

32. Numerosity: The potential members of the Class and Subclasses as defined are so numerous that joinder of all members would be unfeasible and impractical. The disposition of their claims through this class action will benefit the parties and this Court. The number of members of the Class and Subclasses is unknown to Plaintiff, but is estimated to be at least 100 individuals. The number and identity of members can be readily ascertained using Defendants’ records.

33. Typicality: The claims of Plaintiff are typical of the claims of all members of the Class and Subclasses because all members of the Class and Subclasses sustained similar injuries and damages caused by Defendants’ common course of conduct in violation of law.

34. Adequacy: Plaintiff is an adequate representative of the Class and Subclasses, will fairly protect the interests of the Class and Subclass Members and has no interests antagonistic to them, and will vigorously pursue this suit. Plaintiff’s attorneys are competent,

1 skilled, and experienced in litigating large employment law class actions.

2 35. Superiority: A class action is superior to other available means for the fair and
3 efficient adjudication of this controversy. Individual joinder of all Class Members is not
4 practicable, and questions of law and fact common to the Class predominate over questions
5 affecting only individual Class Members. A Class action will allow those similarly situated to 6 litigate their claims in the most efficient and economical manner for the parties and the judicial 7 system. Plaintiff is unaware of any difficulties likely to be encountered in the management of 8 this action that precludes its maintenance as a class action.

9 36. The predominating common questions of law and fact include:

- 10 a. Whether Defendants have a policy and practice of failing to pay wages,
11 including straight, minimum and overtime, for work performed, or time 12 under their control, outside of time clocked in;
- 13 b. Whether Defendants have a policy and practice of paying less than minimum 14 wages for all time worked or under Defendants' control;
- 15 c. Whether Defendants have a policy or practice of failing pay overtime 16 compensation for all overtime hours;
- 17 d. Whether Defendants have a policy or practice of failing to provide compliant 18 meal periods;
- 19 e. Whether Defendants have a policy or practice of failing to authorize or 20 permit compliant rest periods;
- 21 f. Whether Defendants have a policy or practice of failing to provide accurate 22 itemized wage statements;
- 23 g. Whether the Class and Waiting Time Subclass Members are entitled to 24 waiting time penalties under Section 203;
- 25 h. Whether Defendants violated Sections 17200, et seq. of the Business and 26 Professions Code; and
- 27 i. Whether the Class and Subclasses are entitled to equitable relief pursuant to 28 Business and Professions Code, sections 17200, et seq.

CAUSES OF ACTION

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

Failure to Pay Minimum and/or Regular Wages
(By Plaintiff and each Unpaid Wages Subclass Member)

37. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates all preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth in this Complaint.

38. The California Labor Code establishes the fundamental right of all employees in the State of California to be paid wages in a timely fashion for their work. An employer may not pay employees less than the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked. Defendants are required to pay Plaintiff, and the members of the Class, for all hours worked, meaning the time which an employee is subject to the control of the employer.

39. Labor Code section 218 provides, in pertinent part, that “[n]othing in this article [California Labor Code, Division 2, Part 1, Chapter 1 – Payment of Wages, Article 1] shall limit the right of any wage claimant to sue directly or through an assignee for any wages or penalty due to them under this article.”

40. Pursuant to the applicable Industrial Wage Order, Defendants are required to pay Plaintiff, and the members of the Class, for all hours worked, meaning the time which an employee is subject to the control of the employer.

41. At all relevant times during the Class Period, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and other members of the Class wages for all hours worked, in that Plaintiff and the Class performed work while not clocked in to Defendants’ timekeeping program, resulting in unpaid wages, including minimum and/or regular wages. Plaintiff and the Class Members therefore seek unpaid wages and penalties.

42. By failing to pay wages for hours Plaintiff and members of the Unpaid Wages Subclass, or some of them, were under their control but not clocked in, including when working during meal and rest periods, Defendants failed to pay wages and violated Labor Code sections 218, 510, 1194, and 1194.2.

43. Defendants’ unlawful acts deprived Plaintiff and members of the Unpaid Wages Subclass of wages in amounts to be determined at trial, and they are entitled to recover these

1 amounts, liquidated damages for unpaid minimum wages, interest, attorneys' fees, and costs.

2 SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

3 Failure to Pay Overtime Wages

4 (By Plaintiff and each Overtime Wages Subclass Member)

5 44. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates all preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth
6 in this Complaint.

7 45. As applicable here, Labor Code section 510 and the applicable Wage Order
8 provide that employees in California shall not be employed more than eight hours a day and/or 9 forty hours in a workweek unless they receive additional compensation beyond their regular 10 wages in amounts specified by law. Specifically, Labor Code section 510(a) requires that any 11 work in excess of 8 hours a day and/or 40 hours in any one workweek shall be compensated at 12 the rate of no less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for an employee.

13 46. Labor Code section 1194 establishes an employee's right to recover unpaid
14 overtime compensation, and interest thereon, together with the costs of suit, and attorneys' fees.
15 Labor Code section 1198 makes employment of an employee for longer hours than the IWC set 16 or under conditions the IWC prohibits unlawful.

17 47. During the Class Period, Plaintiff and other Class Members have worked more
18 than eight hours a day and/or forty hours in a workweek.

19 48. During the Class Period, Defendants have failed to pay Plaintiff and other Class
20 Members the overtime compensation premium for those unpaid hours they have worked in 21 excess of eight hours a day and/or 40 hours in a workweek as required by Labor Code sections
22 510 and 1198, and the applicable Wage Order. Specifically, Defendants failed to pay any 23 overtime for hours worked in excess of 8 in a workday.

24 49. By failing to pay overtime wages, Defendants violated Labor Code sections 510
25 and 1194 and the "Hours and Days of Work" section of the applicable IWC Wage Order(s).

26 50. Defendants' unlawful acts deprived Plaintiff and members of the Overtime
27 Wages Subclass of overtime wages in amounts to be determined at trial, and they are entitled to 28 recover these wages, interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the fullest extent permissible pursuant to Labor Code sections 218, 218.5, 218.6, and 1194(a).

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
Failure to Provide Required Meal Periods
(By Plaintiff and each Meal Period Subclass Member)

51. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates all preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth in this Complaint.

52. The applicable Wage Order provides, in pertinent part: “[n]o employer shall employ any person for a work period of more than five (5) hours without a meal period of not less than 30 minutes, except that when a work period of not more than six (6) hours will complete the day’s work the meal period may be waived by mutual consent of the employer and the employee.”

53. Labor Code section 512(a) provides, in pertinent part: “[a]n employer may not employ an employee for a work period of more than five hours per day without providing the employee with a meal period of not less than 30 minutes, except that if the total work period per day of the employee is no more than six hours, the meal period may be waived by mutual consent of both the employer and employee. An employer may not employ an employee for a work period of more than 10 hours per day without providing the employee with a second meal period of not less than 30 minutes, except that if the total hours worked is no more than 12 hours, the second meal period may be waived by mutual consent of the employer and the employee only if the first meal period was not waived.”

54. California Labor Code section 226.7(b) provides: “An employer shall not require an employee to work during a meal or rest or recovery period mandated pursuant to an applicable... order of the Industrial Welfare Commission...”

55. California Labor Code section 226.7(c) provides: “If an employer fails to provide an employee a meal or rest or recovery period in accordance with a state law, including, but not limited to, an applicable... or order of the Industrial Welfare Commission..., the employer shall pay the employee one additional hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate of compensation for each workday that the meal or rest or recovery period is not provided.”

56. Defendants failed to provide meal periods of at least thirty (30) minutes for shifts of five hours or more, which began before the end of the fifth hour of work; provide second

1 duty-free meal periods of at least thirty (30) minutes for shifts of ten hours or more, which
2 began before the tenth hour of work; and pay premium wages of one (1) hour of pay at 3 employees' regular rate of compensation for each workday a meal period was not provided. By 4 doing so, Defendants willfully violated the provisions of Labor Code sections 226.7 and 512,
5 and the "Meal Periods" section of the applicable IWC Wage Order(s).

6 57. Defendants' unlawful acts deprived Plaintiff and members of the Meal Period
7 Subclass of premium wages in amounts to be determined at trial, and they are entitled to recover
8 these amounts, along with interest, attorneys' fees, and costs.

9 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION
10 Failure to Provide Required Rest Periods
11 (By Plaintiff and each Rest Period Subclass Member)

12 58. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates all preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth
13 in this Complaint.

14 59. California Labor Code section 226.7(b) provides: "An employer shall not require 15 an employee to work during a meal or rest or recovery period mandated pursuant to an 16 applicable... order of the Industrial Welfare Commission..."

17 60. California Labor Code section 226.7(c) provides: "If an employer fails to provide 18 an employee a meal or rest or recovery period in accordance with a state law, including, but not 19 limited to, an applicable... or order of the Industrial Welfare Commission..., the employer shall 20 pay the employee one additional hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for 21 each workday that the meal or rest or recovery period is not provided."

22 61. The applicable Wage Order provides, in pertinent part: "[e]very employer shall 23 authorize and permit all employees to take rest periods, which insofar as practicable shall be in 24 the middle of each work period. The authorized rest period time shall be based on the total
25 hours worked daily at the rate of ten (10) minutes net rest time per four (4) hours or major
26 fraction thereof. However, a rest period need not be authorized for employees whose total daily
27 work time is less than three and one-half (3 ½) hours. Authorized rest period time shall be 28 counted as hours worked for which there shall be no deduction from wages."

62. The applicable Wage Order further provides: “[i]f an employer fails to provide an employee with a rest period in accordance with the applicable provisions of this order, the employer shall pay the employee one (1) hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate of compensation for each workday that the rest period is not provided.”

63. By failing to authorize and permit Plaintiff and Class Members a paid rest period of at least 10 minutes for every four hours or major fraction worked per day, and by failing to provide premium wages at the regular rate of compensation when not permitted or authorized, Defendants willfully violated the provisions of Labor Code section 226.7 and the “Rest Period” section of applicable IWC Wage Order(s).

64. Defendants’ unlawful acts deprived Plaintiff and members of the Rest Period Subclass of premium wages in amounts to be determined at trial, and they are entitled to recover these amounts, along with interest, attorneys’ fees, and costs.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION
Failure to Provide Accurate Wage Statements
(By Plaintiff and each Wage Statement Subclass Member)

65. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates all preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth in this Complaint.

66. California Labor Code section 226(a) provides: “[e]very employer shall, semimonthly or at the time of each payment of wages, furnish each of his or her employees, either as a detachable part of the check, draft, or voucher paying the employee’s wages, or separately when wages are paid by personal check or cash, an accurate itemized statement in writing showing (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked by the employee [...], (3) the number of piece-rate units earned and any applicable piece rate if the employee is paid on a piece-rate basis, (4) all deductions, provided that all deductions made on written orders of the employee may be aggregated and shown as one item, (5) net wages earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the period for which the employee is paid, (7) the name of the employee and only the last four digits of his or her social security number, [...], (8) the name and address of the legal entity that is the employer, and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee....”

68. Any employee suffering injury due to a willful violation of Labor Code section 226(a) may, under Labor Code section 226(e), collect the greater of actual damages or $50 for the first inadequate pay statement and $100 for each inadequate statement thereafter, up to $4,000. Defendants willfully failed to provide Plaintiff and Class Members with required adequate wage statements. Labor Code § 226.

69. As a consequence of Defendants' knowing and intentional failure to comply with Labor Code section 226(a), Plaintiff and members of the Wage Statement Subclass are entitled to recover the greater of actual damages or penalties not to exceed $4,000 for each employee with interest and attorneys' fees and costs.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION
Failure to Timely Pay Wages Due at Separation
(By Plaintiff and each Waiting Time Subclass Member)

70. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates all preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth in this Complaint.

71. An employer who discharges an employee must pay all compensation due and to that employee immediately upon discharge. Labor Code § 201. An employer must pay all compensation due to an employee who quits within 72 hours. Labor Code § 202.

72. During the Class Period, Defendants willfully failed to pay Plaintiff and the members of the Class who are no longer employed by Defendants all their earned wages, specifically, meal and rest period premiums not paid for missed or interrupted meal and rest periods, and wages for all hours worked, either at the time of discharge or within seventy-two hours of their leaving Defendants' employ in violation of California Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203.

73. If an employer willfully fails to timely pay such wages the employer must, as a penalty, continue to pay the subject employee's wages until paid or until an action is commenced. Labor Code § 203. The penalty cannot exceed 30 days of wages.

74. Waiting Time Subclass Members, including Plaintiff, are no longer employed by Defendants.

75. Defendants willfully failed to pay Waiting Time Subclass Members the sum due at the time of their termination or within seventy-two (72) hours of their resignation, and failed to pay those sums for thirty (30) days thereafter. Defendants' unlawful acts deprived Plaintiff and members of the Waiting Time Subclass of these wages, and they are entitled to recover waiting time penalties.

SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION
Violation of the Unfair Competition Law
(By Plaintiff and each UCL Subclass Member)

76. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates all preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth in this Complaint.

77. The California Unfair Competition Law ("UCL"), Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code sections 17200, et seq., defines unfair competition to include any "unlawful," "unfair," or "fraudulent" business act or practice. Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200.

78. Defendants' conduct as described above constitutes unlawful business practices because Defendants violated: the California Labor Code, including but not limited to Sections 510 and 1194 (minimum and overtime wages), and 226.7 (meal and rest periods); and sections of the applicable IWC Wage Order(s).

79. Defendants' conduct as described above constitutes unfair business practices because their denial of lawfully earned wages outweighs any utility of such practices.

80. As a result of Defendants' unlawful and unfair conduct, Plaintiff and Class Members suffered injury in fact.

81. Plaintiff and Class Members seek declaratory and injunctive relief, restitution, and other appropriate equitable relief. Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17203, 17204.

1 82. Pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure section 1021.5, Plaintiff and
2 Class Members are entitled to recover reasonable attorneys' fees, costs, and expenses incurred
3 in bringing this action.

4 83. This cause of action is brought as a cumulative remedy and is intended as an
5 alternative remedy for restitution for Plaintiff, and each Subclass Member, for the four (4)-year
6 period before the filing of this Complaint, and as the primary remedy during the fourth year
7 before the filing of this Complaint. Business and Professions Code § 17205.

8 EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION
9 Violation of Private Attorneys General Act ("PAGA")
10 (By Plaintiff and each Aggrieved Employee)

11 84. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates all preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth
12 in this Complaint.

13 85. Labor Code sections 2698 and 2699 (The California Private Attorneys General
14 Act of 2004, or "PAGA"), expressly establish that any provision of the California Labor Code
15 which provides for a civil penalty to be assessed and collected by The Labor and Workforce
16 Development Agency ("LWDA"), or any of its departments, divisions, commissions, boards,
17 agencies or employees for a violation of the California Labor Code, may be recovered through a
18 civil action brought by an aggrieved employee on behalf of other current or former employees.

19 86. Whenever the LWDA, or any of its departments, divisions, commissions, boards, 20 agencies or employees has discretion to assess a civil penalty, a fact-finder in a civil action is 21 authorized to exercise the same discretion, subject to the same limitations and conditions, to 22 assess a civil penalty.

23 87. Plaintiff is an "aggrieved employee" as defined by Labor Code section 2699(c),
24 because she is or was an employee of Defendants, and personally experienced the Labor Code
25 violations alleged herein during the relevant time period.

26 88. Plaintiff asserts all of her claims in this Complaint against Defendants on behalf
27 of all aggrieved employees, as well as the general public, in her capacity as a "private attorney 28 general," and seeks all statutory penalties available under the Labor Code. Plaintiff is not seeking PAGA penalties for any of her individual claims including but not limited to her individual PAGA claims. Plaintiff is proceeding solely under the PAGA, on behalf of the State of California for all aggrieved employees of Defendant, including himself. See Balderas v. Fresh Start Harvesting, Inc. (2024) 101 Cal.App.5th 533, 538; Rodriguez v. Packers Sanitation Servs. LTD., LLC (2025) 109 Cal.App.5th 69, 80-81.

89. By reason of the above and pursuant to Labor Code section 2699, Plaintiff, on behalf of all aggrieved employees, as well as the general public, is entitled to payment of penalties, plus interest, as provided in the PAGA statute.

90. In addition, Plaintiff, on behalf of all aggrieved employees, as well as the general public, seeks and is entitled to have 65% of all recovered penalties and interest allocated to the LWDA and 35% to the aggrieved employees. Further, Plaintiff is entitled to seek and recover reasonable attorneys' fees, expenses and costs pursuant to Labor Code section 2699, and any other applicable statutes.

91. Plaintiff complied with the notice requirements of Labor Code section 2699.3(a)(1) prior to commencing this action. A copy of the letter submitted to the California LWDA on April 13, 2026, via online filing, and copied to Defendants' Agent for Service of Process in California on the same date, via certified mail, in accordance with Section 2699.3(a), is attached as Exhibit A, and by reference incorporated.

92. As of today's date, the LWDA has not responded to Plaintiff's notice.

93. Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees are entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs, pursuant to the PAGA statute, California Labor Code sections 2698, et seq.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for the following relief on behalf of herself and the Class against Defendants:

1. Certification of this action as a class action and appointment of Plaintiff and Plaintiff's counsel to represent the Class;

2. Provision of class notice to Class Members as defined above;

3. A declaratory judgment that Defendants knowingly and intentionally violated:

a. California Labor Code sections 218, 510 and 1194 by failing to pay

1 minimum and overtime wages;

2 b. California Labor Code sections 226.7 and 512 by failing to provide meal
3 and rest periods;

4 c. California Labor Code section 203 by failing to pay waiting time
5 penalties;

6 d. California Business and Professions Code sections 17200, et seq. by 7 engaging in unlawful or unfair business practices.

8 4. That Defendants be permanently enjoined from engaging in the unlawful or 9 unfair acts and practices alleged;

10 5. An order requiring Defendants to pay restitution of all amounts owed to Plaintiff
11 and Class Members, in an amount according to proof, pursuant to California Business and 12 Professions Code section 17203;

13 6. That this action be maintained as a PAGA representative action, and that 14 Plaintiff and her counsel be provided with all enforcement capability as if the action were 15 brought by the California Division of Labor Standards Enforcement;

16 7. Compensatory damages according to proof;

17 8. Statutory damages under the Labor Code;

18 9. Liquidated damages under the Labor Code;

19 10. Pre-judgment interest on all sums collected;

20 11. Reasonable attorneys' fees and costs, pursuant to California Code of Civil 21 Procedure section 1021.5, the California Labor Code, the PAGA, or other applicable law;

22 12. Costs of suit; and,

23 13. Such other relief as the Court may deem appropriate.

Re: Notice by Nury Melara, on behalf of aggrieved employees of United Domestic Workers of America, UDW/AFSCME Local 3930

Dear PAGA Administrator and United Domestic Workers of America, UDW/AFSCME Local 3930 Representative:

The purpose of this correspondence is to notify you that Nury Melara ("Claimant"), on behalf of all other Union Representatives who worked for United Domestic Workers of America, UDW/AFSCME Local 3930 ("Employer") in California ("aggrieved employees"), intends to assert the legal rights granted to them under the Private Attorneys General Act ("PAGA") as set forth in California Labor Code ("Labor Code") section 2698 et seq. against Employer. This correspondence includes the current facts and theories to support the Labor Code violations alleged by Claimant. This correspondence will also be sent, by certified mail, to the agent(s) for service of process for Employer pursuant to Labor Code section 2699.3 (1)(A), satisfying the notice requirements of the Labor Code.

If the LWDA does not intend to investigate the alleged violations, Claimant intends to file a representative civil action for PAGA penalties.

FACTUAL STATEMENT AND THEORIES OF LIABILITY

Employer hired the Claimant on or about June 1, 2014, to serve as a Union Representative. In this role, the Claimant's primary responsibilities included conducting orientations and trainings, managing timesheets, providing community resources, and engaging with stakeholders. The Employer terminated the Claimant's employment in July 2025.

The demands of the Claimant's job duties prevented the Claimant from taking uninterrupted meal periods. Additionally, due to pressure exerted by the Employer to underreport hours worked, Claimant routinely recorded compliant meal periods despite continuing to work during those times. As a result, Claimant worked off the clock during recorded meal periods. The Employer did not provide meal period premiums for these noncompliant breaks, nor did the Employer compensate Claimant for wages earned during the time worked.

Employer also failed to authorize and permit rest periods for Claimant. Rest breaks were not incorporated into Claimant's work schedule, and the demanding nature of Employer's policies made it effectively impossible for Claimant to take a compliant 10-minute, off-duty rest period for every four hours worked, or major fraction thereof. As a result, Claimant was frequently required to forgo rest breaks entirely. Employer did not provide rest period premiums for these missed breaks.

Employer failed to provide the Claimant with accurate, itemized wage statements. To the extent such statements were issued, they did not accurately reflect Claimant's actual hours worked or wages earned, as described above.

Additionally, Employer failed to pay the Claimant all wages due and owing, including meal and rest period premiums, as well as regular, minimum, and overtime wages, both during the course of employment and upon separation from employment, in accordance with applicable legal requirements. Employer failed to pay Claimant any wages within the timeline prescribed by Labor Code section 201(a).

Thus, Claimant alleges Employer, as to aggrieved employees:

1. Failed to pay minimum, regular, and overtime wages;
2. Failed to provide legally compliant off-duty meal periods or pay compensation in lieu thereof;
3. Failed to provide legally compliant duty-free, rest periods or pay compensation in lieu thereof;
4. Failed to provide accurate and itemized wage statements;
5. Failed to pay all wages due during and upon separation of employment; and
6. Failed to maintain accurate records.

Claimant intends to seek civil penalties on behalf of aggrieved employees for each violation set forth below.

FAILURE TO PAY MINIMUM, REGULAR, AND OVERTIME WAGES

(Labor Code §§ 218, 510, 1194, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, and 1199(c) and the "Minimum Wages" and "Hours and Days of Work" Sections of the applicable Wage Order)

Labor Code section 510 provides in pertinent part: "Eight hours of labor constitutes a day's work. Any work in excess of 8 hours in one workday and any work in excess of 40 hours in any one workweek and the first eight hours worked on the seventh day of work in any one workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for an employee. Any work in excess of 12 hours in one day shall be compensated at the rate of no less than twice the regular rate of pay for an employee. In addition, any work in excess of eight hours on any seventh day of a workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than twice the regular rate of pay of an employee."

Labor Code section 1194(a) states: “Notwithstanding any agreement to work for a lesser wage, any employee receiving less than the legal minimum wage or the legal overtime compensation applicable to the employee is entitled to recover in a civil action the unpaid balance of the full amount of this minimum wage or overtime compensation, including interest thereon, reasonable attorney’s fees, and costs of suit.”

Labor Code section 1198 provides: “The maximum hours of work and the standard conditions of labor fixed by the commission shall be the maximum hours of work and the standard conditions of labor for employees. The employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the order is unlawful.”

Labor Code section 1197 states: “The minimum wage for employees fixed by the commission or by any applicable state or local law, is the minimum wage to be paid to employees, and the payment of a lower wage than the minimum so fixed is unlawful. This section does not change the applicability of local minimum wage laws to any entity.”

Labor Code section 1197.1 states: “Any employer or other person acting either individually or as an officer, agent, or employee of another person, who pays or causes to be paid to any employee a wage less than the minimum fixed by an order of the commission shall be subject to a civil penalty, restitution of wages, liquidated damages payable to the employee, and any applicable penalties imposed pursuant to Section 203 as follows: (1) For any initial violation that is intentionally committed, one hundred dollars ($100) for each underpaid employee for each pay period for which the employee is underpaid... (2) For each subsequent violation for the same specific offense, two hundred fifty dollars ($250) for each underpaid employee for each pay period for which the employee is underpaid regardless of whether the initial violation is intentionally committed...”

Pursuant to the “Hours & Days of Work” Section of the applicable Wage Order, an employer may not pay non-exempt employees less than the applicable overtime rate for overtime hours worked in excess of 40 hours per workweek.

Pursuant to the “Minimum Wages” and “Hours & Days of Work” Sections of the applicable Wage Order, an employer may not pay employees less than the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked and provides that an employer may not pay non-exempt employees less than the applicable overtime rate for overtime hours worked in excess of 40 hours per week.

Employer violated Labor Code sections 218, 510, 1194, 1197, and 1198, and the “Minimum Wages” and “Hours and Days of Work” Sections of the applicable Wage Order because it did not pay Claimant and other aggrieved employees all minimum, regular, and overtime wages. First, Employer failed to pay for time it required to be worked off-the-clock during recorded meal periods. Second, Employer failed to pay overtime wages for hours worked in excess of 8 hours in a workday.

Accordingly, Claimant now seeks civil penalties pursuant to the PAGA on behalf of aggrieved employees based on the alleged violations of the California Labor Code and applicable IWC Wage Orders.

FAILURE TO PROVIDE MEAL AND REST PERIODS

(Labor Code §§ 226.7, 512, and 1198, and the “Meal Period” and “Rest Period” Sections of the applicable IWC Wage Order)

Labor Code section 512(a) states in pertinent part: “An employer may not employ an employee for a work period of more than five hours per day without providing the employee with a meal period of not less than 30 minutes. An employer may not employ an employee for a work period of more than 10 hours per day without providing the employee with a second meal period of not less than 30 minutes....” Labor Code section 226.7(b) states that “An employer shall not require an employee to work during a meal or rest or recovery period mandated pursuant to an applicable statute, or applicable regulation, standard, or order of the Industrial Welfare Commission....”

The “Rest Period” Section of the applicable IWC Wage Order states, “Every employer shall authorize and permit all employees to take rest periods, which insofar as practicable shall be in the middle of each work period. The authorized rest period shall be based on the total hours worked daily at the rate of ten (10) minutes net rest time per four (4) hours or major fraction thereof.” If an employer fails to provide an employee a rest period in accordance with the applicable provision of the order, the employer shall pay the employee one (1) hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate of compensation of each workday that the rest period is not provided.

During Claimant’s employment, Employer failed to provide Claimant and other aggrieved employees with off-duty meal and rest periods as required by Labor Code sections 226.7 and 512, and Sections 11 and 12 of the applicable IWC Wage Order, due to Employer’s policy of not providing Claimant and other aggrieved employees with one or more uninterrupted, thirty-minute off-duty meal break, and uninterrupted, ten-minute off-duty rest breaks. Furthermore, Employer failed to pay one (1) hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate of compensation for each workday that the meal and/or rest period was not provided, in accordance with California law.

Labor Code section 226.7(c) states: “If an employer fails to provide an employee a meal or rest or recovery period in accordance with a state law, including, but not limited to, an applicable statute or applicable regulation, standard, or order of the Industrial Welfare Commission ... the employer shall pay the employee one additional hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate of compensation for each workday that the meal or rest or recovery period is not provided.”

Accordingly, Claimant now seeks civil penalties pursuant to the PAGA on behalf of aggrieved employees based on the alleged violations of the California Labor Code and applicable IWC Wage Orders.

FAILURE TO PROVIDE ACCURATE AND ITEMIZED WAGE STATEMENTS

(Labor Code § 226, and the “Records” Section of the applicable IWC Wage Order)

Labor Code section 226(a) states in pertinent part that every employer shall provide an accurate itemized statement in writing with respect to each one of its employees showing: 1) gross wages earned; 2) total hours worked by an employee, except for any employee whose compensation is solely based on a salary and who is exempt from payment of overtime under subdivision (a) of Section 515 or any applicable order of the Industrial Welfare Commission; (3) the number of piece rate units earned and any applicable piece rate if the employee is paid on a piece-rate basis; (4) all deductions, provided that all deductions made on written orders of the employee may be aggregated and shown as one item; (5) net wages earned; (6) the inclusive dates of the period for which the employee is paid; (7) the name of the employee and the last four digits of his or her social security number or an employee identification number other than a social security number; (8) the name and address of the legal entity that is the employer . . .; and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee.

“An employee suffering injury as a result of a knowing and intentional failure by an employer to comply with subdivision (a) is entitled to recover the greater of all actual damages or fifty dollars ($50) for the initial pay period in which a violation occurs and one hundred dollars ($100) per employee for each violation in a subsequent pay period, not exceeding an aggregate penalty of four thousand dollars ($4,000), and is entitled to an award of costs and reasonable attorney's fees.” Cal. Labor Code § 226(e)(1).

Employer failed to provide Claimant and other aggrieved employees with accurate, timely, itemized wage statements complying with the requirements of the Labor Code and the applicable IWC Wage Order. Furthermore, Claimant’s wage statements did not include the correct number of wages earned due to Employer’s policy of not paying Claimant and other aggrieved employees proper wages and premiums for non-compliant meal and rest breaks.

Accordingly, Claimant now seeks civil penalties pursuant to the PAGA on behalf of aggrieved employees based on the alleged violations of the California Labor Code and applicable IWC Wage Orders.

FAILURE TO TIMELY PAY WAGES DUE

(Labor Code §§ 201, 202, 203, 204, 256, 1198, and 2699)

Labor Code section 201(a) states: “If an employer discharges an employee, the wages earned and unpaid at the time of discharge are due and payable immediately.” Labor Code section 202(a) states: “If an employee not having a written contract for a definite period quits his or her employment, his or her wages shall become due and payable not later than 72 hours thereafter, unless the employee has given 72 hours previous notice of his or her intention to quit, in which case the employee is entitled to his or her wages at the time of quitting.”

Labor Code section 203(a) states, in relevant part: “If an employer willfully fails to pay, without abatement or reduction, in accordance with Sections 201, 201.3, 201.5, 201.6, 201.8, 201.9, 202, and 205.5, any wages of an employee who is discharged or who quits, the wages of the employee shall continue as a penalty from the due date thereof at the same rate until paid or until an action therefor is commenced; but the wages shall not continue for more than 30 days. An employee who secretes or absents themselves to avoid payment to them, or who refuses to receive the payment when fully tendered to them, including any penalty then accrued under this section, is not entitled to any benefit under this section for the time during which the employee so avoids payment.”

Labor Code section 204(a) states, in pertinent part: “All wages . . . earned by any person in any employment are due and payable twice during each calendar month, on days designated in advance by the employer as the regular paydays.” The “Minimum Wages” Section of the applicable Wage Order further states “every employer shall pay to each employee, on the established payday for the period involved, not less than the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked in the payroll period.”

Labor Code section 256 states: “The Labor Commissioner shall impose a civil penalty in an amount not exceeding 30 days of pay as waiting time under the terms of Section 203.”

As detailed above, Employer failed to pay Claimant and other aggrieved employees all wages that were due and owing to them including meal and rest period premiums, and minimum, regular, and overtime wages within the required time during their employment and upon their separation of employment, in violation of the Labor Code and the applicable IWC Wage Order because of the violations alleged herein. Employer also failed to pay Claimant and other aggrieved employees all wages Employer agreed were owed to them within the timelines prescribed by Labor Code section 201(a). As a result, Employer violated the above sections of the Labor Code.

Accordingly, Claimant now seeks civil penalties pursuant to the PAGA on behalf of aggrieved employees based on the alleged violations of the California Labor Code and applicable IWC Wage Orders.

FAILURE TO MAINTAIN ACCURATE RECORDS

(Labor Code §§ 1174, 1174.5, 2699, and the “Records” Section of the applicable IWC Wage Order)

Labor Code section 1174(d) requires every person, including Employer, employing labor in the state to “[k]eep, at a central location in the state or at the plants or establishments at which employees are employed, payroll records showing the hours worked daily by and the wages paid to, and the number of piece-rate units earned by and any applicable piece rate paid to, employees employed at the respective plants or establishments. These records shall be kept in accordance with rules established for this purpose by the commission, but in any case, shall be kept on file for not less than three years. An employer shall not prohibit an employee from maintaining a personal record of hours worked, or, if paid on a piece-rate basis, piece-rate units earned.”

CA Labor & Workforce Development Agency
United Domestic Workers of America, UDW/AFSCME Local 3930
Re: Nury Melara
April 13, 2026

Labor Code section 1174.5 provides: “Any person employing labor who willfully fails to maintain the records required by subdivision (c) of Section 1174 or accurate and complete records required by subdivision (d) of Section 1174, or to allow any member of the commission or employees of the division to inspect records pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1174, shall be subject to a civil penalty of five hundred dollars ($500).”

Section 7(A) of the applicable IWC Wage Order provides: “Every employer shall keep accurate information with respect to each employee including the following: ... (3) time records showing when the employee begins and ends each work period. Meal periods, split shift intervals and total daily hours worked shall also be recorded.” Employer failed to accurately record the hours worked and meal periods for Claimant and other aggrieved employees.

Employer failed to accurately record all hours worked by Claimant and other aggrieved employees including the beginning and ending period for each work period, and failed to record all accurate wages to be paid, in part as a result of Employer’s policy of not paying Claimants and other aggrieved employees for off-the-clock hours worked.

Employer failed to maintain accurate payroll records for Claimant and other aggrieved employees showing the hours worked daily by, and wages paid to, them.

Accordingly, Claimant now seeks civil penalties pursuant to the PAGA on behalf of aggrieved employees based on the alleged violations of the California Labor Code and applicable IWC Wage Orders.

DUTIES OF EMPLOYER

(Labor Code §§ 1174, 1174.5, 1175, and 1198, and the applicable Wage Order)

Labor Code section 1174 describes certain duties of every employer in this state. Subsection (d) of this labor code section requires that payroll records show the hours worked daily by employees and the corresponding wages to be paid for the hours worked. Employer violated this requirement by its failure to accurately record employee hours worked and/or paid including wages owed for meal and rest period premiums. Labor Code section 1174.5 imposes a civil penalty of $500 for an employer’s failure to maintain accurate and complete records. This civil penalty is addition to the civil penalty of $100 per pay period, per aggrieved employee that would be imposed pursuant to Labor Code section 2699 for a violation of Labor Code section 1174(d). Furthermore, Claimant and all other aggrieved current and former employees are entitled to collect 35% of the penalty imposed pursuant to Section 2699(m).

Employer failed to accurately record all hours worked, and failed to record all accurate premium wages to be paid, in part as a result of Employer’s policy of not providing Claimant and other aggrieved employees with compliant meal and rest breaks.

Claimant will pursue all remedies on behalf of current and former employees, including recovery of attorney’s fees, costs, damages and penalties to the extent allowed by law.

ATTORNEY'S FEES, COSTS, INTEREST AND PENALTIES
(Labor Code §§ 218.6, 226(e), 1194, 1194.2, and 2699, et seq.)

Labor Code sections 218.6, 226(e), 1194, 1194.2, and 2699, et seq. give employees the right to recover in a civil action the unpaid balance of the full amount of minimum wages, regular wages, overtime compensation, damages, liquidated damages, and penalties, including interest thereon, reasonable attorney's fees, and costs of suit.

Pursuant to Labor Code sections 2699, et seq., aggrieved employees are entitled to collect 35% of the penalty assessment and 100% of the underpaid wages. Accordingly, Employer is liable for these items in addition to the unpaid wages. Claimant has already incurred in actual damages, and (on a contingent basis) costs and attorney's fees and will continue to incur costs as a result of Employer's unlawful actions.

CONCLUSION

Claimant will pursue all remedies on behalf of other aggrieved employees, including recovery of attorney's fees, costs, and penalties to the extent allowed by law. The facts and claims contained here are based on the information available at the time of this writing. Therefore, if through discovery and/or expert review, Claimant becomes aware of additional claims, he reserves the right to revise these facts and/or add any new claims by amending the claim letter or by adding applicable causes of action in the complaint.
