1 Plaintiff RICARDO FLORES, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated and
2 the State of California under the Private Attorneys General Act (“Plaintiff”) brings this FIRST
3 AMENDED CLASS AND REPRESENTATIVE ACTION COMPLAINT against Defendants
4 SKAGGS MISSION SUPPORT SPECIALISTS, LLC; SKAGGS MISSION SUPPORT
5 SOLUTIONS, LLC; and DOES 1 through 50, inclusive (collectively “Defendants”), alleging as 6 follows:

7 INTRODUCTION

8 1. This is a class action brought under California Code of Civil Procedure section 382 for 9 Defendants’ violations of the California Labor Code and Business and Professions Code.

10 2. Defendants underpaid the class members’ wages by failing to compensate class 11 members for all hours worked, failing to provide compliant meal and rest periods, and failing to 12 provide compliant paid sick leave.

13 3. Defendants also failed to reimburse Plaintiff and class members for necessary business 14 expenses.

15 4. Defendants’ employment policies, practices, and payroll administration systems
16 enabled these violations on a company-wide basis with respect to the class members.

17 5. Plaintiff seeks to recover the underpaid damages, plus associated penalties, interest,
18 attorney’s fees and costs.

19 JURISDICTION & VENUE

20 6. Jurisdiction of this action is proper in this Court under Article VI, Section 10 of the 21 California Constitution as the causes of action are premised upon violations of California law.

22 7. The monetary damages and restitution sought exceed the minimal jurisdiction limits of 23 the Superior Court.

24 8. This Court has jurisdiction over Defendants because, upon information and belief,
25 Defendants have sufficient minimum contacts in California, or otherwise intentionally avail
26 themselves to the California economy so as to render the exercise of jurisdiction over them by the 27 California courts consistent with traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.
28

9. Venue is proper in this Court under Code of Civil Procedure sections 393(a), 395, and/or 395.5 because, upon information and belief, Defendants conduct business and committed some of the alleged violations in this county.

PARTIES

A. Plaintiff Ricardo Flores

10. Plaintiff Flores is an individual over 18 years of age who worked for Defendants in California as a non-exempt employee from about October 2022 to May 2023. Plaintiff worked as a Support Specialist.

11. The State of California, via the Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”), is the real party in interest in this action. (Kim v. Reins Int’l California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal. 5th 73, 81 [The “government entity on whose behalf the plaintiff files suit is always the real party in interest.”])

B. Defendants

12. Defendant Skaggs Mission Support Specialists, LLC is a limited liability company that maintains operations and conducts business throughout the State of California, including in this county.

13. Defendant Skaggs Mission Support Solutions, LLC is a limited liability company that maintains operations and conducts business throughout the State of California, including in this county.

14. The true names and capacities, whether individual, corporate, or otherwise, of the parties sued as DOES 1 through 50, are presently unknown, unascertainable, or uncertain, and are sued by such fictitious names under Code of Civil Procedure section 474. Upon information and belief, each of DOES 1 through 50 constitutes a legal employer or is otherwise legally responsible in some manner for the acts and omissions alleged herein. This Complaint may be amended to reflect their true names and capacities once ascertained.

15. Upon information and belief, Defendants in this action are employers, co-employers, joint employers, and/or part of an integrated employer enterprise, as each of the Defendants exercised control over the wages, hours, and working conditions of the employees, suffered and permitted them to work, and otherwise engaged them as employees under California law.

16. Upon information and belief, at least some of the Defendants have common ownership, common management, interrelationship of operations, and centralized control over labor relations and are therefore part of an integrated enterprise and thus jointly and severally responsible for the acts and omissions alleged herein, including pursuant to Labor Code sections 558, 558.1, and 1197.1.

17. Upon information and belief, Defendants acted in all respects pertinent to this action as an alter-ego, agent, servant, joint employer, joint venturer, co-conspirator, partner, in an integrated enterprise, or in some other capacity on behalf of all other co-defendants, such that the acts and omissions of each defendant may be legally attributable to all others.

CLASS ALLEGATIONS

18. This action is brought individually and on behalf of the following class pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 382:

- a. All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendants in California at any time from four years (plus the additional 178-day statutory tolling period under Emergency Rule 9) prior to the filing of this action through date of class certification.

19. Plaintiff reserves the right to establish various subclass definitions as appropriate at the class certification stage, according to proof.

20. The class is ascertainable and shares a well-defined community of interest in this litigation:

- a. Numerosity: The class is estimated to exceed 50 individuals, although the precise membership of the entire class is unknown at this time. The class is so numerous that joinder of all class members is impracticable. The identities of class members are ascertainable by inspection of Defendants' employment and payroll records.
- b. Typicality: Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the other class members. They were subject to the same policies and practices of Defendants, which resulted in losses to the class. Proof of common unlawful business practices, which Plaintiff experienced, will establish the right of the class to recover on the causes of action alleged herein.

c. Adequacy: Plaintiff is an adequate class representative; will take all necessary steps to protect the class members' interests adequately and fairly; has no interest antagonistic to other class members; and is represented by attorneys who have substantial experience prosecuting, defending, resolving, and litigating wage and hour class, collective, and representative actions in California state and federal courts.

d. Superiority: A class action is superior to other means for adjudicating this dispute. Individual joinder is impractical. Class treatment will allow for common issues to be resolved in a single forum, simultaneously, and without duplication of effort and expense.

e. Public Policy Considerations: Certification of this lawsuit as a class action advances the State of California's strong public interest in ensuring its approximately millions of employed residents are properly paid the wages they earned for the hours they worked. Class actions provide a mechanism for enforcement of labor laws and allow for vindication of employee rights by unnamed class members.

21. Common questions of law and fact as to the class members predominate over questions affecting only individual members. The common questions of law and fact exist as to whether the employment policies and practices formulated by Defendants and applied to the class members constitute violations of California law.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

22. Plaintiff and class members worked for Defendants and were compensated on an hourly basis as nonexempt employees.

23. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and class members at least the applicable minimum wage on several occasions. For example, Plaintiff and class members underwent an uncompensated

1 security check before the start of each shift, which was unpaid. Further, as discussed below, Plaintiff
2 and class members worked through part or all of several meal periods while clocked out. Finally,
3 Defendants occasionally required Plaintiff and class members to complete work-related errands, such
4 as retrieving security badges from different worksites, while clocked out after the class members'
5 shifts. Defendants did not compensate Plaintiff or class members for time the class members spent 6 completing these necessary work activities.

7 24. To the extent this off-clock work resulted in unpaid overtime (i.e., hours exceeding 8
8 in a day or 40 in a week due to the off the clock work), Plaintiff alleges Defendants failed to pay those 9 overtime wages to class members. Further, Plaintiff and class members earned non-discretionary
10 income, which Plaintiff alleges Defendants failed to factor that additional income into the regular rate
11 of pay for purposes of overtime rate calculation.

12 25. Additionally, due to understaffing, tight scheduling, and the constant flow of business,
13 Plaintiff and class members suffered deficient meal and rest periods. For example, when guest buses
14 would arrive back-to-back, as often was the case for Plaintiff's team, Plaintiff and class members
15 needed to remain on duty to facilitate passenger arrival and avoid delays for dependent departments.
16 In the week of March 17, 2023, to March 22, 2023, alone, Plaintiff suffered four late meal periods.
17 For these same reasons and practices, Plaintiff and class members often suffered deficient rest periods
18 as well.

19 26. Defendants did not pay Plaintiff any meal or rest period premiums for these 20 deficiencies, and Plaintiff alleges Defendants likewise failed to pay premiums to class members who 21 suffered meal or rest period violations.

22 27. Plaintiff also alleges Defendants failed to consistently provide compliant paid sick
23 leave to class members. Although Defendants provided Plaintiff with a bank of paid sick leave in early
24 March 2023, (five months after Plaintiff commenced employment), Plaintiff alleges that Defendants
25 did not previously provide paid sick leave or notice of paid sick leave to class members prior to this 26 date.

27 28. Further, Defendants maintained an unlawful company-wide payroll schedule, resulting 28 in consistently late wages to Plaintiff and class members. Specifically, Defendants violated Labor

1 Code sections 204 and 204(b) by failing to pay all wages and premiums owed on the regular pay days
2 scheduled each pay period within seven calendar days of the close of the payroll period. Defendants
3 likewise failed to pay Plaintiff and class members within the required semi-monthly period following
4 the payroll period.

5 29. For example, in the pay period February 11, 2023, to February 24, 2023, Plaintiff
6 performed work within the first and fifteenth day of February which was not paid within the sixteenth
7 and twenty-sixth of February 2023, in violation of Labor Code section 204. Defendants instead paid
8 Plaintiff two weeks after the close of the pay period on March 10, 2023.

9 30. Likewise, in the pay period January 28, 2023, to February 10, 2023, Plaintiff performed
10 work within the sixteenth and last day of January which was not paid within the first and fifteenth day
11 of the following month, February 2023. Defendants instead paid Plaintiff two weeks after the close of 12 the pay period on February 24, 2023.

13 31. Because of these violations, Defendants failed to provide accurate, itemized wage
14 statements to class members that included the accurate gross or net wages earned, as the employees
15 earned overtime, sick leave, and premiums which were not paid at the lawful rate.

16 32. Further, Defendants did not consistently list the hours worked and applicable hourly
17 rate for all wage categories on Plaintiff and class members' wage statements. For example, in 18 Plaintiff's wage statement for pay period October 22, 2022, to November 4, 2022, Defendants show
19 Plaintiff had "Additional Earnings" of $112 in the pay period, but Defendants only displayed this 20 amount as a lump sum with no applicable hours worked or hourly rate for this wage category.

21 33. These violations create derivative liability for failure to pay all wages owed each pay
22 day and upon separation of employment. Specifically, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff his final 23 wages and accrued but unused vacation wages on the date of Plaintiff's termination, May 19, 2023.
24 Instead, Defendants did not initiate the mailing process of Plaintiff's final check until May 22, 2023,
25 and Plaintiff had still not received his final wages as of November 2023.

26 34. Finally, Defendants failed to reimburse Plaintiff and class members for necessary
27 business expenses the class members incurred in furtherance of the employee's job responsibilities.
28 Defendants expected Plaintiff and class members to utilize their personal cell phones to clock in and

1 out of their shifts each day and manage scheduling using the app QuickBooks. Further, Plaintiff and 2 class members needed to utilize their personal phones to communicate with supervisors through the
3 WhatsApp application. Additionally, Plaintiff and aggrieved employees occasionally incurred mileage
4 expenses for work-related travel using the employees' personal cars. For example, when Plaintiff
5 needed a different security badge, Defendants, through their supervisors, instructed Plaintiff to drive
6 to another worksite while clocked out, in his own car, to obtain the badge or he would not be able to 7 work the next shift. Defendants did not reimburse Plaintiff for any of these expenses, and Plaintiff
8 alleges Defendants likewise failed to reimburse other class members for similar expenses.

9 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

10 MINIMUM WAGE VIOLATIONS

11 Violation of Labor Code §§ 1194, 1194.2 and 1197

12 (All Claims Alleged by Plaintiff and Class Members Against All Defendants)

13 35. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

14 36. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code
15 §§ 1182.12, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1 and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the "Hours and Days
16 of Work" and "Minimum Wages" sections of the applicable orders), which require non-exempt
17 employees be timely paid at least the state or local minimum wage (if higher) for each hour of work,
18 and further provide a private right of action for an employer's failure to pay all minimum wages (plus 19 liquidated damages).

20 37. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to pay Plaintiff and class
21 members at least the lawful minimum wage for each hour worked in violation of Labor Code sections
22 1182.12, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1 and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the "Hours and Days of 23 Work" and "Minimum Wages" sections of the applicable orders), including payment at the lawful
24 local and county minimum wage ordinances in effect. As a result, Defendants are liable for all
25 associated damages, including liquidated damages for the minimum wage violations pursuant to Labor
26 Code § 1194.2.

27 38. Defendants' unlawful acts and omissions deprived Plaintiff and class members of 28 minimum, regular and overtime wages in amounts to be determined at trial. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the full amount of the unpaid wages, plus liquidated damages in an amount equal to the wages unlawfully unpaid (and interest thereon), in addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law, including under Labor Code sections 1194 and 1194.2.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO PAY ALL OVERTIME WAGES

Violation of Labor Code §§ 510 and 1194

39. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

40. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code §§ 204, 510, 558, 1194, and 1198, which require non-exempt employees be timely paid overtime wages all overtime hours worked, and which further provide a private right of action for an employer's failure to pay all overtime compensation for overtime hours worked.

41. Defendants failed in their affirmative obligation to pay Plaintiff and class members no less than one and one-half times their respective "regular rate of pay" for all hours worked in excess of eight hours in one day, 40 hours in one week, or the first eight hours worked on the seventh day of work in any one workweek, and no less than twice their respective "regular rate of pay" for all hours over 12 hours in one day and any work in excess of eight hours on any seventh day of a workweek for such hours worked, in violation of Labor Code sections 204, 510, 558, 1194, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the "Hours and Days of Work" sections of the applicable orders).

42. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the full amount of the unpaid overtime, in addition to interest, statutory and civil penalties, and attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

MEAL PERIOD VIOLATIONS

Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7 and 512

43. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

44. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code §§ 226.7, 558 and 512, which require non-exempt employees be provided complaint meal periods (or meal period premiums in lieu thereof), and which further provide a private right of action for an

1 employer's failure to lawfully provide all meal periods and/or pay meal period premiums at the lawful
2 regular rate of compensation.

3 45. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to consistently provide 4 Plaintiff and class members compliant, duty-free meal periods of not less than 30 minutes beginning
5 before the fifth hour of hour for each work period of more than five hours per day and a second duty-
6 free meal period of not less than 30 minutes beginning before the tenth hour of hour of work in
7 violation of Labor Code sections 226.7, 512, 558, 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the "Meal Periods"
8 sections of the applicable orders).

9 46. Further, Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to consistently pay
10 Plaintiff and class members one additional hour of pay at the respective regular rate of compensation
11 for each workday that a fully compliant meal period was not provided, in violation of Labor Code 12 sections 226.7, 512, 558, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the "Meal Periods" sections of the 13 applicable orders).

14 47. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the full amount of the meal period 15 premiums owed, in addition to interest, statutory and civil penalties, and attorneys' fees, and costs to 16 the extent permitted by law.

17 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

18 REST PERIOD VIOLATIONS

19 Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7 and 516

20 48. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

21 49. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code
22 §§ 226.7 and 516, which require non-exempt employees be authorized to take complaint rest periods
23 (or rest period premiums in lieu thereof), and which further provide a private right of action for an 24 employer's failure to lawfully provide all rest periods and/or pay rest period premiums at the lawful
25 regular rate of compensation.

26 50. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to consistently authorize and 27 permit Plaintiff and class members to receive compliant, duty-free rest periods of not less than ten 28 (10) minutes for every four hours worked (or major fraction thereof) in violation of Labor Code sections 226.7, 516, 558, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the “Rest Periods” sections of the applicable orders).

51. Further, Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to consistently pay Plaintiff and class members one additional hour of pay at the respective regular rate of compensation for each workday that a fully compliant rest period was not provided, in violation of Labor Code sections 226.7, 516, 558, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO PAY ALL PAID SICK LEAVE WAGES

Violation of Labor Code §§ 200, 218, 246 et seq.

52. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

53. Defendants knowingly and intentionally failed in their affirmative obligation to pay sick leave wages to Plaintiff and a paid sick leave subclass in violation of Labor Code section 246 et seq. Paid sick leave earnings constitute wages for purposes of California wage and hour law. (Murphy v. Kenneth Cole Productions, Inc. (2007) 40 Cal.4th 1094, 1103 [“Courts have recognized that ‘wages’ also include those benefits to which an employee is entitled as a part of his or her compensation, including money, room, board, clothing, vacation pay, and sick pay”].)

54. Labor Code section 246(l) governs how Defendants were required to calculate paid sick leave:

[A]n employer shall calculate paid sick leave using any of the following calculations:

(1) Paid sick time for nonexempt employees shall be calculated in the same manner as the regular rate of pay for the workweek in which the employee uses paid sick time, whether or not the employee actually works overtime in that workweek.

(2) Paid sick time for nonexempt employees shall be calculated by dividing the employee’s total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee’s total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days of employment.

1 (3) Paid sick time for exempt employees shall be calculated in the same manner
2 as the employer calculates wages for other forms of paid leave time.

3 55. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and class members their paid sick leave wages at one
4 of the lawful rates set forth in the statute because Defendants failed to include in their sick leave
5 calculation the additional remuneration received by Plaintiff and class members.

6 56. Furthermore, to the extent the paid sick leave paid constitutes Covid-related paid sick
7 leave, Defendants knowingly and intentionally failed in their affirmative obligation to pay Covid-19
8 Supplemental Sick Leave wages to class members at the correct rate in violation of Labor Code 9 sections 246, 248.1, 248.2, and 248 et seq.

10 57. Pursuant to Labor Code section 248.1, Defendants were required to provide up to 80
11 hours of Covid-19 Supplemental Paid Sick Leave to employees for the period of April 20, 2020 to 12 December 31, 2020. Labor Code section 248.2 required Defendants to provide up to 80 hours of 13 Covid-19 Supplemental Paid Sick Leave for the period of January 1, 2021 through at least September 14 30, 2021. Labor Code section 248.6 extended Covid sick leave protections and requires employers to 15 provide up to 80 hours of Covid-19 Supplemental Paid Sick Leave for the period of January 1, 2022
16 to September 30, 2022, and may be extended thereafter.

17 58. Under Labor Code section 248.1, employees must be paid for Covid-19 Supplemental 18 Paid Sick Leave at the highest of the following: (1) the regular rate of pay for the last pay period, 19 (2) state minimum wage, (3) local minimum wage.

20 59. Under Labor Code section 248.2, non-exempt employees must be paid supplemental 21 paid sick leave according to the highest of the following four methods:

22 (I) Calculated in the same manner as the regular rate of pay for the workweek in which 23 the covered employee uses COVID-19 supplemental paid sick leave, whether or not 24 the employee actually works overtime in that workweek.

25 (II) Calculated by dividing the covered employee's total wages, not including 26 overtime premium pay, by the employee's total hours worked in the full pay periods
27 of the prior 90 days of employment.

28 (III) The state minimum wage.

1 (IV) The local minimum wage to which the covered employee is entitled.

2 60. Labor Code section 248.6 requires employers to pay supplemental sick leave using
3 either method (I) or (II), as identified above.

4 61. On information and belief, Defendants failed to pay Covid-19 Supplemental Sick
5 Leave in the manner described above because Defendants failed to include in their sick leave
6 calculation the additional remuneration received by class members.

7 62. As a result, Defendants violated the Labor Code and are liable to Plaintiff and class
8 members for underpaid sick leave wages, in addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs.

9 SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

10 UNPAID VACATION WAGES

11 Violation of Labor Code §§ 201, 202, 203, and 227.3 and 1194, and 1198

12 63. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

13 64. This cause of action is brought by an unpaid vacation wages subclass pursuant to Labor
14 Code §§ 200, 201, 202, 203, and 227.3 and 1194, and 1198, which require non-exempt employees be 15 timely paid all vested vacation wages at their final rate of pay upon separation of employment, and 16 which further provide a private right of action for an employer's timely failure to pay all vacation
17 compensation upon termination.

18 65. Defendant offered Plaintiff and class members an employment contract or policy
19 providing for the accrual of vacation and/or paid time off. Plaintiff and class members accrued
20 vacation and/or PTO pursuant to the contract or policy.

21 66. Upon separation of Plaintiff and class members, Defendants willfully failed in their 22 affirmative obligation to timely pay Plaintiff and class members all accrued but unused vacation at 23 their final rate during their employment with Defendants, in violation of Labor Code sections 201(a), 24 202(a), and 227.3.

25 67. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the full amount of the accrued
26 vacation wages owed, in addition to interest, statutory and civil penalties, and attorneys' fees, and 27 costs to the extent permitted by law.

1 SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

2 UNTIMELY PAYMENT OF WAGES

3 Violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 210, 218

4 68. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

5 69. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code
6 §§ 204, 204b, and 210 which require non-exempt employees be timely paid all wages owed each pay
7 period, and which further provide a private right of action for an employer's failure to comply with 8 this obligation. Labor Code § 218 authorizes individuals to sue directly for wages and penalties due 9 under these sections, including Labor Code § 210(c)'s statutory late payment penalties.

10 70. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to timely pay all wages,
11 including paid sick leave and meal and rest premiums, earned by Plaintiff and class members twice 12 during each calendar month on days designated in advance by the employer as regular paydays (for 13 employees paid on a non-weekly basis) and on the regularly-scheduled weekly payday for weekly 14 employees, if any, in violation of Labor Code sections 204 and 204b and the IWC Wage Orders (the 15 "Minimum Wages" sections of the applicable orders).

16 71. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the full amount of the unpaid wages,
17 in addition to a statutory penalty in the amount of $100 for the initial violation for each failure to pay
18 each employee and $200 for all subsequent violations and for all willful or intentional violations for 19 each failure to pay each employee, plus 25 percent of the amount unlawfully withheld under provided
20 in Labor Code § 210, in addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law.

21 EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION

22 WAGE STATEMENT VIOLATIONS

23 Violation of Labor Code § 226

24 72. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

25 73. This cause of action is brought by a wage statement subclass pursuant to Labor Code
26 § 226(a) which requires non-exempt employees be provided accurate itemized wage statements each 27 pay period, and which further provide a private right of action for an employer's failure to comply 28 with this obligation.

1 74. Defendants knowingly and intentionally failed in their affirmative obligation to provide
2 accurate itemized wage statements to Plaintiff and class members resulting in injury to Plaintiff and 3 class members. Specifically, the wage statements issued to Plaintiff and class members did not
4 accurately state each pay period all of the information required by Labor Code § 226(a)(1)-(9).

5 75. Defendants' unlawful acts and omissions deprived Plaintiff and class members of 6 accurate itemized wage statements, causing confusion and concealing wage and premium
7 underpayments.

8 76. As a result, Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the statutory penalty of 9 $50 per employee for the initial pay period in which a violation occurred and $100 per employee for 10 each violation in a subsequent pay period, up to an aggregate penalty of $4,000 per employee, in 11 addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law, including under Labor
12 Code section 226(e).

13 NINTH CAUSE OF ACTION

14 WAITING TIME PENALTIES

15 Violation of Labor Code §§ 201 *et seq.

16 77. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

17 78. This cause of action is brought by a waiting time subclass pursuant to Labor Code 18 §§ 201 through 203, which require an employer to timely pay all wages earned upon termination of 19 employment, and which further provide a private right of action to recover statutory waiting time
20 penalties each day an employer fails to comply with this obligation, up to a maximum of 30 days 21 wages.

22 79. Defendants willfully failed and continue to fail in their affirmative obligation to pay all
23 wages earned and unpaid to Plaintiff and class members immediately upon termination of employment

14 CIVIL PENALTIES UNDER THE PRIVATE ATTORNEYS GENERAL ACT

15 Violation of Labor Code §§ 2698 *et seq.

16 (By Plaintiff on Behalf of the State and the Aggrieved Employees Against All Defendants)

17 90. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

18 91. Plaintiff brings this cause of action as a proxy for the State of California on behalf of 19 the following “aggrieved employees” pursuant to the Private Attorneys General Act (“PAGA”), 20 codified as Labor Code section 2698 et seq.:

- 21 a. All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendants in 22 California at any time from one year prior to the postmark date of the initial 23 PAGA notice through date of trial.

24 92. Plaintiff reserves the right to amend, supplement, or add to this description of the 25 aggrieved employees, according to proof.

26 93. The State of California, via the Labor and Workforce Development Agency
27 (“LWDA”), is the real party in interest in this action with respect to this cause of action. (Kim v. Reins
28

1 Int'l California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal. 5th 73, 81 [The “government entity on whose behalf the plaintiff
2 files suit is always the real party in interest.”])

3 94. Labor Code section 2699(a) provides: “Notwithstanding any other provision of law,,
4 any provision of this code that provides for a civil penalty to be assessed and collected by the Labor
5 and Workforce Development Agency or any of its departments, divisions, commissions, boards,
6 agencies, or employees, for a violation of this code, may, as an alternative, be recovered through a civil 7 action brought by an aggrieved employee on behalf of himself or herself and other current or former 8 employees pursuant to the procedures specified in Section 2699.3. “

9 95. Labor Code section 2699(f) provides: “For all provisions of this code except those for 10 which a civil penalty is specifically provided, there is established a civil penalty for a violation of these 11 provisions, as follows: ... (2) If, at the time of the alleged violation, the person employs one or more
12 employees, the civil penalty is one hundred dollars ($100) for each aggrieved employee per pay period
13 for the initial violation and two hundred dollars ($200) for each aggrieved employee per pay period for 14 each subsequent violation.”

15 96. Any allegations regarding violations of the IWC Wage Orders are enforceable as 16 violations of Labor Code section 1198, which states: “[t]he employment of any employee for longer 17 hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the order is unlawful.”

18 97. Labor Code section 2699.3 sets forth the procedure for commencing an action for civil 19 penalties under the PAGA.

20 98. On or about November 21, 2023, Plaintiff paid the requisite PAGA filing fee and 21 provided written notice (by online electronic filing with the LWDA and by certified mail to 22 Defendants) of Defendants’ alleged Labor Code violations, including the facts and theories to support
23 the alleged violations.

24 99. A true and correct copy of Plaintiff’s written PAGA notice, entitled “Notice of Labor
25 Code Violations” is attached hereto as Exhibit 1 and incorporated by reference as though fully set 26 forth herein (the “PAGA notice”).

2 Plaintiff nor Plaintiff's counsel has received written notice by certified mail from any defendant
3 providing a description of any actions taken to cure the alleged violations.

4 102. Now that at least 65 days have passed from Plaintiff notifying Defendants of these
5 violations, without notice of cure from Defendants or notice from the LWDA of its intent to investigate
6 the alleged allegations and issue the appropriate citations to Defendants, Plaintiff exhausted all 7 prerequisites and commenced this civil action under Labor Code section 2699 et seq.

8 103. As set forth in the PAGA notice attached as Exhibit 1 and incorporated into this 9 Complaint, Defendants committed the following violations and are liable for all corresponding civil 10 penalties:

- PAGA Notice & Filing Fee -
Submitted electronically to the Labor and Workforce Development Agency

Dear LWDA Officer and Company Representatives:

This letter serves as written notice under Labor Code section 2699.3 on behalf of RICARDO FLORES (“Plaintiff(s)”) and all other “aggrieved employees” of the following “Defendant(s)”:

SKAGGS MISSION SUPPORT SPECIALISTS, LLC; SKAGGS MISSION SUPPORT SOLUTIONS, LLC

Defendant(s) shall mean and include the foregoing in addition to any other related employer entities, individuals under Labor Code sections 558 and 558.1, and all others who may be later added upon further investigation and discovery as liable employers.

This office serves as legal counsel for Plaintiff. If the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”) does not investigate the facts, allegations, and violations set forth in this notice within the statutorily prescribed 65-day period under Labor Code section 2699.3, Plaintiff intends to commence a civil action against Defendants as a proxy and agent of the State of California under the Private Attorneys General Act (“PAGA”). “PAGA allows an ‘aggrieved employee’—a person affected by at least one Labor Code violation committed by an employer—to pursue penalties for all the Labor Code violations committed by that employer.” Huff v. Securitas Security Services USA, Inc. (2018) 23 Cal. App. 5th 745, 751; Kim v. Reins International California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal. 73, 79. Plaintiff maintains standing to pursue these claims against Defendants, as Plaintiff experienced one or more of the alleged violations during the relevant statutory period, which continue through the present date. Cf. Johnson v. Maxim Healthcare Servs., Inc., 281 Cal. Rptr. 3d 478, 481 (Cal. Ct. App. 2021).

Through this notice, Plaintiff requests that Defendants complete an internal investigation and audit of the wage and hour and employment practices at issue and make a good faith effort to correct any violations. Plaintiff attempts to identify the non-compliant policies and practices affecting the aggrieved employees so that the parties may resolve the underlying damages and penalties in judgment or settlement approved by the Superior Court of California under Labor Code section 2699(k). Defendants are notified that any attempt to resolve this case should be conducted in coordination with Plaintiff’s counsel to protect the interests of Plaintiff, the aggrieved employees, and the State of California via the LWDA. Plaintiff advises Defendants this letter should be also considered a reasonable attempt at settlement of this matter, subject to an exchange of additional documents and information. Graham v. Daimler Chrysler Corp. (2004) 24 Cal. 4th 553, 561.

- BACKGROUND -

Defendants employed Plaintiff during the PAGA Period in the position of Support Specialist from about October 2022 to May 2023. During their employment Plaintiff and the other aggrieved employees were subject to the wage and hour and employment protections set forth in the California Labor Code and IWC Wage Orders.

Through this notice, Plaintiff informs the LWDA of the Labor Code violations set forth herein. The “aggrieved employees” include Plaintiff and the following individuals:

All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendants in the State of California during one-year period preceding the date of this notice through the current date and the date of trial in any pending action (the “aggrieved employees” and the “PAGA Period”).

Plaintiff reserves the right to expand or narrow the definition of the “aggrieved employees” in the forthcoming civil action. Furthermore, Plaintiff seeks all recoverable civil penalties for Defendants’ violations and reserves the right to supplement this notice as further investigation is completed and further facts, witnesses, and violations are uncovered.

- PAGA CLAIMS -

Unpaid Hours Worked/Minimum Wage Violation of Labor Code §§ 1194, 1197, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 1194, 1197, and 1198, along with the California Minimum Wage Order, the applicable local minimum wage ordinances, and the “Hours and Days of Work” and “Minimum Wages” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Orders with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 1194 renders it unlawful for an employee to receive less than the legal minimum wage for hours worked in California. Labor Code section 1197 further mandates that “[t]he minimum wage for employees fixed by the commission is the minimum wage to be paid to employees, and the payment of a lower wage than the minimum so fixed is unlawful.” Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The California Minimum Wage Order and the applicable sections of the IWC Wage Orders further require payment of minimum wages for all hours worked. The “Minimum Wages” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Order provide that “[e]very employer shall pay to each employee, on the established payday for the period involved, not less than the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked in the payroll period, whether the remuneration is measured by time, piece, commission, or otherwise.” The foregoing California wage laws require payment of “not less than the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked in the payroll period” and California law does not allow averaging of pay over the hours worked in the pay period, even if the total pay results in an average above the minimum wage. Armenta v. Osmose, Inc. (2005) 135 Cal. App. 3d 314, 324.

Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees at the lawful minimum wage rate for all hours worked, resulting in unpaid minimum wages. Before Plaintiff and aggrieved employees were able to clock in for their shifts, the employees had to go through a security point, badge scan, and temperature check that took approximately 3-7 minutes each shift. Defendants did not record or compensate this time, despite requiring Plaintiff and aggrieved employees to undergo these procedures before beginning work.

Further, as discussed below, Plaintiff and aggrieved employees worked through several meal periods, uncompensated. When Plaintiff and aggrieved employees worked through part or all of their unpaid meal periods, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and aggrieved employees at least the applicable minimum wage for those hours worked.

Finally, Defendants occasionally required Plaintiff and aggrieved employees to conduct errands to other worksites while clocked out and uncompensated. For example, to obtain a replacement security badge, Defendants required Plaintiff to drive to another worksite, while clocked out, after his 12-hour shift. Defendants did not compensate Plaintiff for this time.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code sections 558 ($50/$100), 1197.1 ($100/$250), 1199 / “Penalties” section of the IWC Wage Orders ($50/$100), and 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unpaid Overtime

Violation of Labor Code §§ 510, 1194, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 510, 1194, and 1198, along with the “Hours and Days of Work” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Orders with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 510 requires “[a]ny work in excess of eight hours in one workday and any work in excess of 40 hours in any one workweek and the first eight hours worked on the seventh day of work in any one workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for an employee;” and “any work in excess of 12 hours in one day shall be compensated at the rate of no less than twice the regular rate of pay for an employee;” and “any work in excess of eight hours on any seventh day of a workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than twice the regular rate of pay of an employee.” Labor Code section 1194 renders it unlawful for an employee to receive less than the legal overtime rate for overtime hours worked in California. Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders further require payment of overtime wages for all overtime hours worked, including the “Hours and Days of Work” sections.

To the extent Plaintiff and aggrieved employees’ off-clock work resulted in unaccounted overtime hours, Plaintiff alleges Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees overtime wages at the lawful rate of pay for overtime hours worked, resulting in unpaid overtime wages. Further, to the extent Plaintiff and aggrieved employees earned supplemental forms of non-discretionary remuneration, such as commissions, bonuses, or other incentive pay, Plaintiff alleges Defendants maintained an unlawful policy and practice of excluding that supplemental pay from the regular rate of pay for purposes of overtime pay calculation.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code sections 558 ($50/$100), 1199 / “Penalties” section of the IWC Wage Orders) ($50/$100), and 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unpaid Vacation Wages
Violation of Labor Code § 227.3

Defendants violated Labor Code section 227.3 with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 227.3 requires “whenever a contract of employment or employer policy provides for paid vacations, and an employee is terminated without having taken off his vested vacation time, all vested vacation shall be paid to him as wages at his final rate in accordance with such contract of employment or employer policy respecting eligibility or time served; provided, however, that an employment contract or employer policy shall not provide for forfeiture of vested vacation time upon termination.”

Defendants maintained an unlawful policy and practice of failing to pay all accrued and unused vacation wages upon separation of employment at the lawful rate of pay, resulting in forfeiture of vested vacation time and wages. Defendants terminated Plaintiff's employment on May 19, 2023, and did not mail his final check, including his unused vacation wages, until May 22, 2023. Plaintiff still has not received his final pay and unused vacation wages as of the date of this notice. Defendants did not pay waiting time penalties for the late payments. Plaintiff alleges that Defendants likewise failed to timely pay out unused vacation wages upon termination for other aggrieved employees.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unpaid Paid Sick Leave
Violation of Labor Code §§ 246 through 248.7

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 246 through 248.7 with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 246 requires employers to provide paid sick leave to its workforce on the terms set forth in the statute. Employers must comply with the accrual, use, and notice provisions of Labor Code sections 246, 246.5, 247, and must further ensure that they maintain the paid sick leave records required by Labor Code section 247.5. Employers have the option of providing 24 hours of paid sick leave to employees or to allow employees to accrue paid sick leave each pay period. If an employer chooses the accrual method, employees must accrue sick leave at a rate of one hour for every thirty hours worked in a given pay period as set forth in Labor Code section 246(b)(1). Under the accrual method, employees must begin accruing paid sick leave at the commencement of employment.

Employers must pay sick leave in accordance with one of the three permissible methods provided in Labor Code section 246(l): (1) “the same manner as the regular rate of pay for the workweek;” (2) “by dividing the employee’s total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee’s total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days;” or (3) “for exempt employee ... in the same manner as the employer calculates wages for other forms of paid leave time.” Labor Code sections 248.6 and 248.7 similarly require paid sick leave to be paid at a regular rate-based calculation in excess of the base hourly rate and at the lawful accrual rate.

Under Labor Code section 246(i), employers must provide employees “with written notice of the amount of paid sick leave available ... for use on either the employee’s itemized wage statement ... or in a separate writing provided on the designated pay date with the employee’s payment of wages.”

Plaintiff alleges Defendants failed to comply with California’s paid sick leave laws with respect to the aggrieved employees. Although Defendants provided Plaintiff with a bank of paid sick leave in early March 2023 (five months after Plaintiff commenced employment), Plaintiff alleges that Defendants did not previously provide paid sick leave or notice of paid sick leave to aggrieved employees prior to this date. Therefore, Defendants did not consistently comply with California’s paid sick leave laws.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unpaid Meal Period Premium Wages Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 512, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226.7, 512, and 1198, along with the related sections of the IWC Wage Orders with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 512 and the IWC Wage Orders require that employers provide an uninterrupted 30-minute meal period after no more than five hours of work and a second meal period after no more than 10 hours of work. See Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal. 4th 1004, 1049. Labor Code section 226.7 requires that if a meal period is late, missed, short, or interrupted, the employer must pay one additional hour of pay at the employee’s “regular rate” of compensation. Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 858, 862 (“We hold that the terms are synonymous: “regular rate of compensation” under section 226.7(c), like “regular rate of pay” under section 510(a), encompasses all nondiscretionary payments, not just hourly wages”). “[T]ime records showing noncompliant meal periods raise a rebuttable presumption of meal period violations, including at the summary judgment stage.” Donohue v. AMN Services, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 58, 61. Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders, including Section 11 (Meal Periods), further require one uninterrupted 30-minute meal period after no more than five hours of work and a second meal period after no more than 10 hours of work and an additional hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate of compensation for each workday that a compliant meal period is not provided. Pursuant to Section 11(A) of the IWC Wage Orders, the California Supreme Court has held that the on-duty meal period exception is “exceedingly narrow” and applies only when (1) “the nature of the work prevents the employee from being relieved of all duty” and (2) both “the employer and employee have agreed, in writing, to the on-duty meal period.” Augustus v. AMB Security Services, Inc. (2016) 2 Cal. 5th 257, 266-276 (emphasis added). If these two requirements are not met, then the employer owes the employee one hour of premium pay for each non-compliant meal period taken under the purported on-duty meal arrangement. Naranjo v. Spectrum Security Services, Inc. (2019) 40 Cal. 5th 444, 459.

Plaintiff and aggrieved employees suffered many late, short, missed, and/or interrupted meal periods. For example, as seen on the time records below, Plaintiff consistently took late meal periods due to busy periods where buses would arrive unpredictably, and Plaintiff and aggrieved employees needed to remain on duty to facilitate passenger arrival and avoid delays for dependent departments.

Plaintiff’s time records for March 17, 2023, to March 22, 2023, showing Plaintiff took four meal periods after his fifth hour of work.

Defendants did not pay Plaintiff any meal period premiums for these deficiencies, and Plaintiff alleges that Defendants likewise did not pay other aggrieved employees meal premiums for deficient meal periods.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unpaid Rest Period Premium Wages
Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 516, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226.7, 516, and 1198, and the related sections of the IWC Wage Orders with respect to Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code sections 226.7 and 516 and the IWC Wage Orders require that employers authorize and permit an uninterrupted 10-minute rest period for each four-hour period (or major fraction thereof) that an employee works. Labor Code section 226.7 requires that if a rest period is non-compliant, the employer must pay one additional hour of pay at the employee's "regular rate" of compensation. Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 858, 862 ("We hold that the terms are synonymous: "regular rate of compensation" under section 226.7(c), like "regular rate of pay" under section 510(a), encompasses all nondiscretionary payments, not just hourly wages"). Labor Code section 1198 renders "employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]" unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders, including Section 12 (Rest Periods), further require one uninterrupted 10-minute rest period for each four-hour period (or major fraction thereof) worked and an additional hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for each workday that a compliant rest period is not authorized or permitted.

For the same reasons as stated above for meal periods, Plaintiff and aggrieved employees were not consistently able to take their full rest periods. Plaintiff alleges that Defendants maintained a policy and practice of not paying rest period premiums for aggrieved employees' deficient rest periods.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Untimely Payment of Wages During Employment
Violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 204b, 210

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 204 and/or 204b and 210, as applicable, with respect to Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 204(a) requires payment of "all wages" for non-exempt employees at least twice each calendar month. Labor Code section 204(d) states all wages due must be paid "not

Plaintiff's wage statement from pay period January 28, 2023 to February 10, 2023, showing that work performed from the 28th and the last day of January 2023 was not paid within the 1st and 15th of February 2023, or within seven days of payroll period close, February 10, 2023.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, and Labor Code section 210 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Untimely Payment of Wages Upon Separation of Employment Violation of Labor Code §§ 201, 202, 203, 256

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203 with respect to the aggrieved employees by failing to pay all wages and premiums owed upon termination of employment.

Labor Code section 201 requires that if an employer fires an employee, the wages must be paid immediately. Labor Code section 202 requires that if an employee quits without providing 72 hours' notice, his or her wages must be paid no later than 72 hours thereafter. Labor Code section 202 states that if an employee provides 72 hours' notice, the final wages are payable upon his or her final day of employment. Labor Code section 203 requires an employer who fails to comply with Labor Code sections 201 or 202 to pay a waiting time penalty for each employee, up to a period of 30 days additional compensation.

Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to aggrieved employees during their employment as set forth in this notice, and also failed to timely pay those amounts to departing employees upon separation of employment. Further, as mentioned above regarding vacation wages, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff his due wages upon termination. Despite terminating Plaintiff's employment on May 19, 2023, Defendants did not mail Plaintiff his final wages until May 22, 2023, and Plaintiff still has not received his final wages. Defendants did not pay waiting time penalties for the late payments. As a result, Defendants violated Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties on behalf of aggrieved employees and the State of California as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Non-Compliant Wage Statements
Violation of Labor Code §§ 226, 226.3

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226(a) and 226.3 with respect to the aggrieved employees by failing to furnish itemized wage statements each pay period that accurately list all information required by Labor Code section 226(a)(1) through (9).

Labor Code section 226(a) requires an employer to furnish wage statements to employees semimonthly or at the time of each payment of wages, “an accurate itemized statement in writing showing:” (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked, (3) the number of piece rate units earned and applicable piece-rate in effect, (4) all deductions, (5) net wages earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the pay period, (7) the name of the employee and last four digits of SSN or an EIN, (8) the name and address of the legal name of the employer, and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee.

Defendants failed to provide accurate itemized wage statements to the aggrieved employees each pay period as a result of the policies and practices set forth in this notice. Defendants violated Labor Code section 226(a)(1) and (5) by not listing the correct “gross wages earned” or “net wages earned,” as the employees earned wages and premiums that were not paid, resulting in an inaccurate reflection, and recording of “gross wages earned” on those wage statements. Likewise, in violation of Labor Code section 226(a)(9), Defendants failed to state on employee wage statements each pay period the applicable hourly rates in effect and the number of hours worked at that rate, as Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to employees. The amounts stated are instead depreciated and underpaid, resulting in an inaccurate reflection on the pay stub. In further violation of 226(a)(9), Defendants did not consistently state the hours worked or applicable hourly rate of all wage categories. An example of Defendants’ wage statement violations is below.

Employee Earnings

Description	Rate	Hours	Current
Regular Hours Hourly
Overtime
Double Overtime
Total Hours Worked		0.0
Additional Earnings			$112.00
Gross Earnings			$112.00

Plaintiff's wage statement for pay period October 22, 2022, to November 4, 2022, showing that plaintiff earned $112 in "additional earnings" that period with no applicable hourly rate or hours worked.

Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees cannot promptly and easily determine from the wage statement alone the wages paid or earned without reference to other documents or information. Indeed, these wage statement violations are significant because they sow confusion among Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees with respect to what amounts were owed and paid, at what rates, the number of hours worked, and how those amounts were or should be calculated. The wage statements reflect a false statement of earnings and concealed the underlying problems and underpayments of employee wages.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code sections 226.3 ($250/$1,000) and 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unreimbursed Employee Expenses Violation of Labor Code §§ 2802, 2804

Defendants violated Labor Code section 2802 with respect to the aggrieved employees by failing to reimburse the aggrieved employees for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred as part of their job duties.

Labor Code section 2802 requires an employer to "indemnify his or her employee for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred by the employee in direct consequence of the discharge of his or her duties, or of his or her obedience to the directions of the employer, even though unlawful, unless the employee, at the time of obeying the directions, believed them to be unlawful.” See, e.g., Espinoza v. West Coast Tomato Growers, LLC, 2016 WL 4468175 at *4, n.2 (S.D. Cal. Aug. 24, 2016, No. 14-CV-2984 W (KSC)).

Labor Code section 2804 affirms that “[a]ny contract or agreement, express or implied, made by any employee to waive the benefits of this article or any part thereof, is null and void, and this article shall not deprive any employee or his personal representative of any right or remedy to which he is entitled under the laws of this State.”

Defendants required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to incur costs for work-related purposes without full reimbursement. In direct consequence of their job duties, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees unavoidably and necessarily incurred these losses, expenditures, costs, and as a matter of policy and practice. Defendants expected Plaintiff and aggrieved employees to utilize their personal cell phones to clock in and out of their shifts each day and manage scheduling using the app Quikbooks. Further, Plaintiff and aggrieved employees needed to utilize their personal phones to communicate with supervisors through the WhatsApp app.

Additionally, Plaintiff and aggrieved employees occasionally incurred mileage for work-related travel using the employees’ personal cars, which Defendants did not compensate. For example, Defendants required Plaintiff to drive to another worksite after his shift, while clocked out, to obtain a replacement security badge, and back to his original worksite to continue working. Defendants did not reimburse Plaintiff for the mileage incurred on his personal vehicle to make this trip. Plaintiff alleges that Defendants likewise required other aggrieved employees to conduct work-related errands in their personal vehicles without mileage reimbursement.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Failure to Maintain Accurate Records Violation of Labor Code § 1174; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 1174 and the IWC Wage Orders by failing to maintain accurate employee payroll records with respect to Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 1174 requires that employers maintain accurate “payroll records showing the hours worked daily by and the wages paid to, and the number of piece-rate units earned by and any applicable piece rate paid to, employees employed at the respective plants or establishments.” Section 7(A) of the IWC Wage Orders, which may be enforced through Labor Code section 1198, mandates similar recordkeeping obligations.

Because of the policies and practices set forth in this notice, including the failure to accurately account for wages earned or hours worked, Defendants failed to accurately maintain records in accordance with Labor Code section 1174 and the IWC Wage Orders.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code section 1174.5 ($500) and 2699 ($100/$200), along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Attorneys' Fees and Costs
Labor Code § 2699(g)

Plaintiff has been compelled to retain the services of counsel to protect the interests of other aggrieved employees and the State of California. Plaintiff continues to incur attorneys' fees and costs, which are recoverable under California law, including Labor Code section 2699(g).
