1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 Plaintiff John Price (“Plaintiff” or “Class Representative”) moves for an award of the 4 Attorneys’ Fees and Costs to Class Counsel and approval of the Enhancement Payment to Plaintiff as 5 the Class Representative. Plaintiff and Defendant Fort Point Beer Company (“Defendant”) (together
6 with Plaintiff, the “Parties”) have entered into the Joint Stipulation of Class Action and PAGA
7 Settlement (“Settlement Agreement”) and Amendment No. 1 to the Joint Stipulation of Class Action
8 and PAGA Settlement (“Amendment”) (together, the “Settlement”) for a total amount of Three 9 Hundred Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($325,000.00) (“Gross Settlement Amount”).

10 Plaintiff seeks the Court’s approval of an attorneys’ fee award of One Hundred Thirteen 11 Thousand Seven Hundred Fifty Dollars and Zero Cents ($113,750.00), plus reimbursement of Twenty-12 Seven Thousand Two Hundred Seventy-Two Dollars and Three Cents ($27,272.03) in actual litigation 13 costs and expenses. Class Counsel’s request for an award of attorneys’ fees and costs is reasonable 14 and appropriate in light of the outstanding work performed by Class Counsel in the matter, the 15 contingent nature of this action, and the results achieved under the Settlement. (Lealao v. Beneficial 16 California, Inc. (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 19).

17 Plaintiff also requests the Court’s approval of the Enhancement Payment to be paid to Plaintiff 18 in the amount of Ten Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($10,000.00). This amount proposed to be 19 awarded to Plaintiff is fair and reasonable for the reasons Plaintiff provided in his declaration. (See 20 Declaration of Plaintiff John Price in Support of Motion for Final Approval of Class Action and PAGA
21 Settlement [“Price Decl.”] filed concurrently herewith). Courts approve incentive awards to plaintiffs 22 when justified and appropriate to compensate plaintiffs for their time, effort, and inconvenience. (See 23 e.g., Van Vranken v. Atlantic Richfield Co. (N.D. Cal. 1995) 901 F. Supp. 294, 299).

24 II. THE REQUESTED ATTORNEYS’ FEES AND COSTS ARE REASONABLE
25 AND SHOULD BE APPROVED

26 Class Counsel seeks thirty-five percent (35%) of the Gross Settlement Amount (i.e., 27 $113,750.00) for fees for the time spent litigating this matter and reimbursement of actual costs and 28 expenses totaling Twenty-Seven Thousand Two Hundred Seventy-Two Dollars and Three Cents

1 ($27,272.03). (Declaration of Alexandra Rose in Support of Plaintiff’s Motion for Attorneys’ Fees
2 and Costs and Enhancement Payment [“Rose Decl.”], ¶ 2). The requested fees and costs are fair 3 compensation for undertaking complex, risky, expensive, and time-consuming litigation on a 4 contingent fee basis, especially in light of the substantial benefits achieved by Class Counsel for the 5 Class Members. (Ibid).

6 A. Plaintiff’s Fee Request of Thirty-Five Percent (35%) of the Gross
7 Settlement Amount is Proper Under the Common Fund Doctrine

8 Courts have long recognized the “common fund” or “common benefit” doctrine, under which 9 attorneys who create a common fund or benefit for a group of persons may be awarded their fees and 10 costs to be paid out of the fund. (See Serrano v. Priest (“Serrano III”) (1977) 20 Cal.3d 25, 34, 11 quoting D’Amico v. Board of Medical Examiners (1974) 11 Cal.3d 1; Glendale City Employees’
12 Association v. City of Glendale (1975) 15 Cal.3d 328, 341 fn.19; Quinn v. State of California (1995)
13 15 Cal.3d 162, 16 7; see also Boeing Co. v. Van Gernert (1980) 444 U.S. 472,478; Mills v. Electric 14 Auto-Lite Co. (1970) 396 U.S. 375, 391-392).

15 The California Supreme Court has held that, “when a number of persons are entitled in 16 common to a specific fund, and an action brought by a plaintiff or plaintiffs for the benefit of all results 17 in the creation or preservation of that fund, such plaintiff or plaintiffs may be awarded attorneys’ fees 18 out of the fund.” (Serrano III, supra, 20 Cal.3d at 34, quoting D’Amico, 11 Cal.3d 1; see also Boeing, 19 supra, 444 U.S. at 478 (“[A] lawyer who recovers a common fund for the benefit of persons other than 20 himself or his client is entitled to a reasonable attorney’s fee from the fund as a whole.”); Mills, supra, 21 396 U.S. at 391-392 (United States Supreme Court endorsing the common fund approach in class 22 actions)). California Practice Guide: Civil Trials and Evidence (The Rutter Group) at § 17:172.3 23 explains the common fund doctrine as follows:

24 Where the lawsuit results in the recovery of a fund or property benefiting 25 others as well as plaintiff (e.g., a class action), the court has inherent 26 equitable power to order plaintiffs attorney fees paid out of the common fund or property [citations]. Such fee spreading assures that all of those benefited by the litigation pay their fair share of obtaining the recovery.

27 The percentage-of-the-fund approach appears to be the preferred method of awarding fees in 28 traditional common fund cases, such as this case. Where the settlement amount is a “certain or easily

1 calculable sum of money,” use of the percentage-of-the-fund method is appropriate. (Serrano III, 20 2 Cal. 3d at 35).

3 In Quinn v. State of California (1995) 15 Cal.3d 162, 167, the California Supreme Court stated:
4 “[O]ne who expends attorneys’ fees in winning a suit which creates a fund from which others derive 5 benefits may require those passive beneficiaries to bear a fair share of the litigation costs.” Similarly, 6 in City and County of San Francisco v. Sweet (1995) 12 Cal.4th 105, 110-111, the California Supreme 7 Court recognized that the common benefit doctrine has been applied “consistently in California when 8 an action brought by one party creates a fund in which other persons are entitled to share.”

9 Numerous appellate courts have similarly found. (See e.g., Knoff v. City and County of San 10 Francisco (1969) 1 Cal.App.3d 184, 203-204 (court upheld a “contingent percentage” award of 11 attorneys’ fees in a representative action as the proper exercise of the court’s broad equitable powers); 12 Rider v. County of San Diego (1992) 1 I Cal.App.4th 1410, 1423 (attorneys’ fees and expenses properly 13 awarded from common benefit composed of illegally imposed sales and use tax); Bank of America v.
14 Cory (1985) 164 Cal.App.3d 66, 89-92 (fees awarded from common benefit created by action 15 compelling state to claim dormant bank accounts)).

16 The Supreme Court noted that several courts have expressed frustration with the alternative 17 “lodestar” approach for deciding fee awards, which usually involves wading through voluminous and 18 often indecipherable time records. (Laffitte v. Robert Half Int’l Inc. (2016), 1 Cal.5th 480, 503; see 19 Lealao v. Beneficial California, Inc. (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 19, 31 n.5 citing In re Activision Sec. Litig.
20 (N.D. Cal 1989) 723 F. Supp. 1373, 1375). The percentage approach is preferable to the lodestar 21 because: (1) it aligns the interests of class counsel and absent class members; (2) it encourages efficient 22 resolution of the litigation by providing an incentive for early, yet reasonable, settlement; and (3) it 23 reduces the demands on judicial resources. (In re Activision Sec. Litig., 723 F. Supp. at 1378-79). The 24 Ninth Circuit now routinely uses the percentage of the common fund approach to determine the award 25 of attorney’s fees. (Lealao, 82 Cal.App.4th at 30-31; see e.g., In re Pac. Enters. Sec. Litig. (9th Cir.
26 1995) 47 F.3d 373, 378-79 (approving attorney’s fee of 33%)).

1 A fee of thirty-five percent (35%) of the Gross Settlement Amount (i.e., $113,750.00) is easily 2 within the range of reasonableness. Historically, courts have awarded percentage fees in the range of 3 20% to 50%, depending on the circumstances of the case. (See In re Activision Sec. Litig., 723 F.
4 Supp. at 1378). According to Professor Newberg: “No general rule can be articulated on what is a
5 reasonable percentage of a common fund...Usually 50 per cent of the fund is the upper limit on a 6 reasonable fee award from a common fund, in order to assure that fees do not consume a 7 disproportionate part of the recovery obtained for the class, though somewhat larger percentages are 8 not unprecedented.” (Newberg on Class Actions (4th Ed.), § 14.6). Class Counsel’s requested fee is 9 reasonable and falls well within the historical range of attorney’s fee awards under the common fund 10 theory. Based on Class Counsel’s showing of reasonableness, the Court should approve the requested 11 fees pursuant to the common fund approach.

12 B. The Circumstances of this Case Support a Thirty-Five Percent (35%) Fee
13 Award

14 Given the significant results achieved under the circumstances of this litigation, the requested 15 fee award is reasonable. As discussed in Sumitomo Copper Litigation, supra, 74 F. Supp. 2d at 396:

16 No one expects a lawyer whose compensation is contingent on the 17 success of his services to charge, when successful, as little as he 18 would charge a client who in advance of the litigation has agreed to 19 pay for his services, regardless of success. Nor, particularly in 20 complicated cases producing large recoveries, is it just to make a fee 21 depend solely on the reasonable amount of time expended.

19 In that vein, this Court should consider the contingent nature of this case, the uncertainty of 20 the outcome, the quality of the counsel, and the preclusion from other employment.

21 C. The Contingent Nature of This Matter

22 From the outset of the case to the present, prosecution of this matter has involved significant 23 financial risk for Class Counsel. Class Counsel undertook this matter solely on a contingent basis, 24 with no guarantee of recovery. Class Counsel has placed its own resources at risk to prosecute this 25 matter with no guarantee of success. The risks of this matter are apparent in that class certification 26 would likely have been a hard-fought issue, especially given the uncertainty regarding certification of 27 cases such as this. Moreover, even if class certification were granted over Defendant’s opposition, 28 there was no assurance that Plaintiff would succeed at trial. Despite such challenges, Class Counsel

1 was able to persuade Defendant that it faced significant liability exposure such that it was willing to 2 pay $325,000.00 to settle the Class Members' claims.

3 D. The Experience, Reputation, Ability of Counsel, and Skill in Litigation

4 Class Counsel has substantial experience in wage-and-hour and other class action litigation, 5 including litigation involving the legal issues in this matter. (Rose Decl., ¶ 5). Class Counsel's skill 6 in developing a factual record and convincing Defendant of its litigation exposure under California 7 law was essential to achieving the Settlement. Through its skill and reputation, Class Counsel was 8 able to obtain a settlement that provides an outstanding result for Class Members. (See generally Rose 9 Decl.).

10 E. The Results Achieved

11 The excellent results achieved by the Settlement support Class Counsel's request for attorneys' 12 fees. The efficiency with which this litigation was conducted and resolved should be rewarded. After 13 preparing and investigating the cases prior to filing the actions, Class Counsel strongly litigated and 14 then resolved the cases in an efficient manner. The Class Members will directly benefit from the 15 prompt and fair resolution of their claims. They will be receiving a significant award in a relatively 16 short period of time, as opposed to waiting years to recover some undetermined amount if they 17 succeeded at trial, which is an uncertainty in itself.

18 F. Preclusion of Other Employment

19 As California law recognizes, Class Counsel's commitment to this litigation should not be 20 assessed in a vacuum. (See Serrano, supra, 20 Cal.3d at 49). A relevant factor in determining 21 attorneys' fees is whether the litigation required Class Counsel to forego other employment. (See 22 ibid). Class Counsel had to consider its workload during this litigation when considering taking on 23 additional work that was available, and which Class Counsel had to forego in order to devote the time 24 necessary to pursue this litigation. (Rose Decl., ¶ 4).

25 G. The Requested Fees Are Also Justified Under the Lodestar Method

26 Fee calculations under the lodestar method would result in a similar award, demonstrating the 27 fairness of Class Counsel's percentage fee request. Under the lodestar method, a base fee amount is 28 calculated from a compilation of time reasonably spent on the case and the reasonable hourly

1 compensation of the attorney. The base amount is then adjusted by use of a multiplier in light of 2 various factors. (Serrano III, supra, 20 Cal.3d at 48). Class Counsel’s hourly rates are summarized 3 in the Rose Decl. at ¶¶ 4-5.

4 One difficulty in determining the hourly rate of attorneys of similar skill and experience in the 5 relevant community is the scarcity of hourly fee-paying clients in class action litigation. (Rose Decl., 6 ¶ 6). As a practical matter, few if any employees or consumers pay attorneys’ fees on an hourly basis 7 for such extensive litigation, and thus retainer agreements in such cases are based on a stepped-up 8 contingency fee (with the percentage increasing from one third to forty-five – and sometimes even 9 fifty percent, which is on par with personal injury contingency fee agreements – if the case goes to 10 trial). (Ibid). Therefore, there is no customary hourly billing rate for work that is routinely based on 11 a contingent fee relationship, but the nature of class action work should be strongly considered by the 12 Court. (Ibid). Wage and hour work presents a specialized and challenging area of law that is not 13 within the knowledge of many lawyers. (Ibid). This kind of class action work requires specialized 14 learning and the willingness to take large risks. (Ibid).

15 Class Counsel has spent approximately 196.30 total hours in this matter.¹ (Id., ¶ 6). In addition 16 to time spent during litigation, reasonable hours also include the time spent before the actions were 17 filed, including time spent interviewing the client, investigating the facts and the law, preparing the 18 initial pleadings, as well as litigating the cases. (Webb v. Board of Educ. (1985) 471 U.S. 234).
19 Further, the fee award should include fees incurred to establish and defend the attorneys’ fee claim.
20 (Serrano v. Priest (1982) 32 Cal .3d 621, 639 (“Serrano IV”). Based on the rates of Class Counsel, 21 the total fees incurred to date are $178,303. (Rose Decl., ¶ 6).

22 In cases where a common fund analysis is not used, once the court establishes the lodestar 23 amount, it should adjust the fee award by a multiplier in order to make an appropriate fee award.

26 ¹ In Martino v. Denevi (1986) 182 Cal.App.3d 553, 559, the court addressed the issue of what evidence is required in 27 California to support a fee application. The court held: “Testimony of an attorney as to the number of hours worked on a 28 particular case is sufficient evidence to support an award of attorney fees, even in the absence of detailed time records.”
Id. There is no need to attach the voluminous invoices prepared in a case as a basis for an award of fees and costs. Id.
Through Class Counsel’s declaration in support of this application, however, Plaintiff presents a thorough breakdown of the hours spent and costs incurred in prosecuting this class action. Pursuant to Martino, supra, this presentation is sufficient to support the amount requested.

1 (Serrano III, supra, 20 Cal.3d at 48). In applying the multiplier, Newberg on Class Actions states that 2 “[m]ultiples ranging from one to four frequently are awarded in common fund cases when the lodestar 3 method is applied. A large common fund award may warrant an even larger multiplier.” (4 Newberg 4 on Class Actions 4th (4th ed. 2002) § 14.6). If the class members paid the fees that the market would 5 bear, they would pay a fee of anywhere from one-third to forty-five percent of any recovery. Since 6 this is the market rate, the lodestar calculation should be enhanced to reflect what the class members 7 would pay on the open market. (Lealao, supra, 82 Cal.App.4th at 47-48).

8 In Lealao, the court held that trial courts should award lodestar fees by examining the 9 percentage-of-the-benefit and adjusting the lodestar calculation accordingly. (Id. at 49 & 53). The 10 court indicated that this is an upward adjustment and should be akin to a contingency fee recovery; 11 the court stated, “[a]n adjustment reflecting the amount of the class recovery is not significantly 12 different from an adjustment reflecting a percentage of that amount; and California courts have 13 evaluated a lodestar as a percentage of the benefit.” (Id. at 46). The Lealao method appears 14 particularly appropriate because class actions generally are contingency fee cases for plaintiffs - and 15 the class action clients do not expect to pay an hourly fee.

16 The rationale of Lealao comports with the purpose of the multiplier. The multiplier is 17 “primarily to compensate the attorney for the prevailing party at a rate reflecting the risk of 18 nonpayment in contingency cases.” (Ketchum v. Moses (2001) 24 Cal.4th 1122, 1138). The Lealao 19 court reasoned:

20 Given the unique reliance of our legal system on private litigants to enforce 21 substantive provisions of law through class and derivative actions, attorneys 22 providing the essential enforcement services must be provided incentives 23 roughly comparable to those negotiated in the private bargaining that takes 24 place in the legal marketplace, as it will otherwise be economic for 25 defendants to increase injurious behavior. It has therefore been urged (most 26 persistently by Judge Richard Posner) that in defining a reasonable fee in 27 such representative actions, the law should mimic the market.

28 In the class action context, that would mean attempting to award the fee that informed private bargaining, if it were truly possible, might have reached.
The simplest way for the law to duplicate the bargain that informed parties would reach if agency costs were low is to look to fee award levels in actions brought by sophisticated private parties under the same or comparable statutes.

(Lealao, 82 Cal.App.4th at 47-48 (internal citations and quotations omitted)). The court added:

1 [T]rial judges need the flexibility Serrano III provides, as it enables them to 2 relate fee awards to the economic realities that determine the efficacy of the private enforcement contemplated by our civil justice system.

3 Accordingly, we hold that, in cases in which the value of the class recovery 4 can be monetized with a reasonable degree of certainty and it is not otherwise inappropriate, a trial court has discretion to adjust the basic lodestar through the application of a positive or negative multiplier where 5 necessary to ensure that the fee awarded is within the range of fees freely negotiated in the legal marketplace in comparable litigation.

6 (Id. at 49-50).

7 In looking at similar cases, including those set forth above, Class Counsel's requested fee 8 comports to the market. Based on the reasonable hourly rates suggested by Class Counsel and the 9 collective hours worked in this matter, the requested fee award would represent a negative multiplier 10 over the current total fee lodestar. In this regard, Class Counsel's fee request is reasonable.

11 H. Plaintiff's Cost Request is Reasonable

12 Class Counsel seeks reimbursement of a total amount of Twenty-Seven Thousand Two 13 Hundred Seventy-Two Dollars and Three Cents ($27,272.03) in costs and expenses in this matter.
14 (Rose Decl., ¶ 8 and Exh. 3). All costs and expenses were reasonably incurred in prosecution of this matter.

15 VI. THE REQUESTED ENHANCEMENT PAYMENT TO PLAINTIFF IS 16 REASONABLE

17 The named Plaintiff should be awarded an Enhancement Payment in the amount of Ten 18 Thousand Dollars and Zero Cents ($10,000.00) for his services as the Class Representative and the 19 risks in connection with that role. (Id., ¶ 12). Enhancement awards in wage and hour cases typically 20 range from $5,000.00 to $20,000.00, although some awards are higher. (Ibid.). Often, multiple class 21 representatives receive awards in the above range. (See e.g., Munoz v. BCI Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of 22 Los Angeles (2010) 186 Cal.App.4th 399, 412 [approving an enhancement request of $10,000.00 per 23 named plaintiff in a 188 member class]; Cook v. Niedert, 142 F.3d 1004, 1016 (7th Cir. 1998); Thornton 24 v. East Texas Motor Freight, 497 F.2d 416, 420 (6th Cir. 1974) ["We also think there is something to 25 be said for rewarding those drivers who protect and help to bring rights to a group of employees who 26 have been the victims of discrimination."]). Here, the requested Enhancement Payment is modest, 27 reasonable, and should be approved.
28

1 Plaintiff's actions establish that: (1) he sought to protect the interests of the Class above his 2 own personal interests; (2) the Settlement Class Members will be benefitted from his actions by 3 receiving a payment without having to do anything; and (3) Plaintiff has put forth a significant amount 4 of time and effort pursuing the litigation and seeing it through to resolution. (See, generally, Price
5 Decl.; see also Clark v. American Residential Services LLC (2009) 175 Cal.App.4th 785, 804 6 (discussing the criteria for determining class representative enhancement awards in concluding that a 7 requested award of $25,000 for two class representatives was too high)).

8 The requested award for Plaintiff is also reasonable given the financial and personal risk he 9 took in commencing the actions, and in light of the benefits that his actions have conferred upon the 10 Class. (Price Decl., ¶ 8; See also Van Vranken v. Atl. Richfield Co. (N.D.Cal. 1995) 901 F.Supp. 294, 11 299-300). Additionally, in considering a requested class representative enhancement award, courts 12 take into consideration a plaintiff's reasonable fear of retaliation. (Staton v. Boeing Co. (9th Cir. 2003) 13 327 F.3d 938, 977). Here, it is easy to see that a potential future employer could expend little effort 14 to discover Plaintiff brought the lawsuit – and based thereon, decline to offer Plaintiff employment.
15 In fact, a simple Google search shows multiple websites regarding this action. (Price Decl., ¶ 8).

16 In sum, Plaintiff has performed considerable services on behalf of the Class during the 17 litigation. (See, generally, Price Decl.). Class Counsel cannot emphasize enough the importance of 18 the role of an employee who is willing to search out an attorney and step forward to assume the risk 19 of litigation and retaliation in order to represent a class and put the interests of the class before their 20 own interests. Plaintiff has understood that this is a class action where he is serving as the Class 21 Representative and must protect the Class Members' interests. (Id., ¶ 11). Plaintiff was the catalyst 22 to the benefit reached for the Class Members, and has actively protected the Class Members' interests 23 during the pendency of this matter and will continue to do so even if the case was required to go to 24 trial. (Ibid.). Plaintiff spent numerous hours participating in this matter by searching for an attorney, 25 communicating with his attorneys on numerous occasions, searching for and producing relevant 26 documents related to his employment, responding to his attorneys' inquiries, assisting his attorneys in 27 preparation for mediation, reviewing the settlement documents, and approving the Settlement on 28 behalf of all Class Members. (See, generally, Price Decl.).

1 In contrast, without having to take on any of the risk incurred by Plaintiff or time spent by 2 Plaintiff in litigating this matter, Settlement Class Members will automatically be issued a payment 3 for their claims. Thus, the Enhancement Payment to Plaintiff is warranted to compensate him for his 4 time and effort, the fear and stress associated with assuming the responsibility of serving as the Class 5 Representative, and the concrete risks he assumed as the Class Representative.

6 IV. CONCLUSION

7 For all of the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court approve: (1)
8 Class Counsel's request of $113,7500.00 as an award of attorneys' fees; (2) the requested litigation 9 cost award of $27,272.03; and (3) the requested Enhancement Payment to Plaintiff in the amount of 10 $10,000.00.

11 Respectfully submitted,
