Action Filed: July 10, 2026

1 Plaintiff ROGELIO HERNANDEZ, on behalf of all others similarly situated and the State of
2 California under the Private Attorneys General Act (“Plaintiff”) brings this FIRST AMENDED
3 CLASS AND REPRESENTATIVE ACTION COMPLAINT against Defendants ASHLI
4 HEALTHCARE, INC. and DOES 1 through 50, inclusive (collectively “Defendants”), alleging as 5 follows:

6 INTRODUCTION

- 7 1. This is a class action for wage and hour violations of the California Labor Code.
- 8 2. Defendants failed to compensate Plaintiff and the putative class members for all hours suffered 9 or permitted to work in violation of Labor Code section 1197 and the applicable IWC Wage Order.
- 10 3. Defendants failed to properly pay all earned paid sick leave at the regular rate of pay.
- 11 4. Defendants failed to reimburse Plaintiff and the putative class members for all out-of-pocket 12 expenses incurred as a direct result of their job duties.
- 13 5. Defendants’ wage underpayment was facilitated by their company-wide practices requiring 14 employees to complete work duties while off-the-clock.
- 15 6. Defendants’ employment policies, practices, and payroll administration systems enabled and 16 facilitated these violations on a company-wide basis with respect to the class members.
- 17 7. Defendants failed to pay overtime wages at the correct legal rate for hours worked in excess of 18 eight hours in a day or forty hours in a work week, stemming directly from Defendants' practice of 19 requiring unrecorded off-the-clock work.
- 20 8. Defendants failed to provide legally compliant, uninterrupted meal periods, frequently 21 manipulating schedules or requiring employees to work through breaks due to understaffing and failed 22 to pay the required meal period premiums.

1 9. Plaintiff, on behalf of himself and the covered employees, seeks recovery of all unpaid wages,
2 statutory and civil penalties, liquidated damages, interest, attorney's fees, and costs pursuant to the 3 California Labor Code, IWC Wage Orders, and California a Code of Civil Procedure.

4 JURISDICTION & VENUE

5 10. Jurisdiction of this action is proper in this Court under Article VI, Section 10 of the 6 California Constitution as the causes of action are premised upon violations of California law.

7 11. The monetary damages and restitution sought exceed the minimal jurisdiction limits of 8 the Superior Court.

9 12. This Court has jurisdiction over Defendants because, upon information and belief,
10 Defendants have sufficient minimum contacts in California, or otherwise intentionally avail
11 themselves to the California economy so as to render the exercise of jurisdiction over them by the 12 California courts consistent with traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

13 13. Venue is proper in this Court under Code of Civil Procedure sections 393(a), 395,
14 and/or 395.5 because, upon information and belief, Defendants conducted business and committed 15 some of the alleged violations in this County.

16 PARTIES

17 A. Plaintiffs

18 14. Plaintiff Hernandez is an individual over 18 years of age who worked for Defendants
19 in California as a non-exempt employee from about July 2019 to August 2025. Plaintiff worked as a 20 Home Medical Equipment Technician.

21 15. The State of California, via the Labor and Workforce Development Agency
22 ("LWDA"), is the real party in interest in this action. (Kim v. Reins Int'l California, Inc. (2020) 9
23 Cal. 5th 73, 81 [The "government entity on whose behalf the plaintiff files suit is always the real party
24 in interest."])). To the extent permitted by law, including pursuant Balderas v. Fresh Start Harvesting,

1 Inc. (2024) 101 Cal. App. 5th 533 and Rodriguez v. Packers Sanitation Services Ltd., LLC (2025) 109
2 Cal.App.5th 69, the PAGA claim is brought exclusively as a representative action and does not include
3 arbitrable claims.

4 B. Defendants

5 16. Defendant ASHLI HEALTHCARE, INC. is a California Corporation that maintains
6 operations and conducts business throughout the State of California, including in this county.

7 17. The true names and capacities, whether individual, corporate, or otherwise, of the 8 parties sued as DOES 1 through 50, are presently unknown, unascertainable, or uncertain, and are sued
9 by such fictitious names under Code of Civil Procedure section 474. Upon information and belief,
10 each of DOES 1 through 50 constitutes a legal employer or is otherwise legally responsible in some 11 manner for the acts and omissions alleged herein. This Complaint may be amended to reflect their 12 true names and capacities once ascertained.

13 18. Upon information and belief, Defendants in this action are employers, co-employers,
14 joint employers, and/or part of an integrated employer enterprise, as each of the Defendants exercised
15 control over the wages, hours, and working conditions of the employees, suffered and permitted them
16 to work, and otherwise engaged them as employees under California law.

17 19. Upon information and belief, at least some of the Defendants have common ownership, 18 common management, interrelationship of operations, and centralized control over labor relations and 19 are therefore part of an integrated enterprise and thus jointly and severally responsible for the acts and 20 omissions alleged herein, including pursuant to Labor Code sections 558, 558.1, and 1197.1.

21 20. Upon information and belief, Defendants acted in all respects pertinent to this action as 22 an alter-ego, agent, servant, joint employer, joint venturer, co-conspirator, partner, in an integrated 23 enterprise, or in some other capacity on behalf of all other co-defendants, such that the acts and 24 omissions of each defendant may be legally attributable to all others.

CLASS ALLEGATIONS

21. This action is brought individually and on behalf of the following class pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 382:

- a. All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendants in California at any time from four years prior to the filing of this action through date of class certification.

22. Plaintiff reserves the right to establish various subclass definitions as appropriate at the class certification stage, according to proof.

23. The class is ascertainable and shares a well-defined community of interest in this litigation:

- a. Numerosity: The class is estimated to exceed 50 individuals, although the precise membership of the entire class is unknown at this time. The class is so numerous that joinder of all class members is impracticable. The identities of class members are ascertainable by inspection of Defendants' employment and payroll records.
- b. Typicality: Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the other class members. They were subject to the same policies and practices of Defendants, which resulted in losses to the class. Proof of common unlawful business practices, which Plaintiff experienced, will establish the right of the class to recover on the causes of action alleged herein.
- c. Adequacy: Plaintiff is an adequate class representative; will take all necessary steps to protect the class members' interests adequately and fairly; has no interest antagonistic to other class members; and is represented by attorneys who have substantial experience prosecuting, defending, resolving, and litigating wage and hour class, collective, and representative actions in California state and federal courts.

d. Superiority: A class action is superior to other means for adjudicating this dispute. Individual joinder is impractical. Class treatment will allow for common issues to be resolved in a single forum, simultaneously, and without duplication of effort and expense.

e. Public Policy Considerations: Certification of this lawsuit as a class action advances the State of California's strong public interest in ensuring its approximately millions of employed residents are properly paid the wages they earned for the hours they worked. Class actions provide a mechanism for enforcement of labor laws and allow for vindication of employee rights by unnamed class members.

24. Common questions of law and fact as to the class members predominate over questions affecting only individual members. The common questions of law and fact exist as to whether the employment policies and practices formulated by Defendants and applied to the class members constitute violations of California law.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

25. Defendants employed a custom and practice of editing and rounding Plaintiff and the covered employees' time records. Defendant required Plaintiff and the covered employees to record their hours in an electronic timekeeping system. Despite the use of an electronic timekeeping system, Defendant's also required Plaintiff and the covered employees hours to track their hours on paper timesheets that tracked daily activities. The paper timesheets show nearly uniform "time in" and "time out" punches for the majority of shifts.

1 26. Plaintiff and the covered employees were pressured by supervisors to falsely report
2 their hours worked, so as to create the impression of compliance. Plaintiff used to report his time
3 accurately but was told that in doing so he was “creating issues” for Defendants. In reality, Defendants
4 underpaid Plaintiff and the covered employees for the time they actually spent working.

5 27. As an example, Plaintiff’s written timesheets from May 23, 2025, to June 5, 2025, show
6 identical time in and time out times. Clock in at 8:30 am followed by a meal break start at 12:30 am,
7 a meal break end at 1:00 pm and clock out at 5:00 pm, resulting in uniform 8.00 hour shifts.

8 28. Defendant’s wage statements from this same period report 0.65 hours of overtime
9 worked. Notably, the paper time sheets do not accurately reflect the overtime worked by Plaintiff
10 during this period. Defendant’s failed to pay Plaintiff and the covered employees all of their earned 11 wages, and used inconsistent time keeping records as a way to conceal these underpayments.

12 29. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the covered employees overtime wages and the 13 lawful rate of pay for overtime hours worked, resulting in unpaid overtime wages. Plaintiff and the 14 covered employees earned bonuses and non-discretionary pay each pay period. This additional 15 compensation was listed as “Other Pay” or “Misc Pay” on Plaintiff and the covered employees wage
16 statements. Plaintiff’s additional pay was related to on call pay for remaining on call during the 17 weekends. Despite earning this additional non discretionary compensation, Defendants failed to 18 account for this pay when calculating Plaintiff and the covered employees regular rate of pay for the 19 purpose of paying their overtime compensation. Plaintiff’s wage statements consistently show his 20 overtime rate of pay at 1.5x his base rate, and do not account for the true regular rate of pay, when 21 accounting for the additional nondiscretionary earnings.

22 30. Defendants failed to comply with California’s paid sick leave laws with respect to the 23 covered employees. Specifically, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the covered employees their 24 sick pay at the appropriate “regular rate” of pay. As stated above, Defendants paid Plaintiff and the covered employees nondiscretionary bonuses. Despite this, Plaintiff and the covered employees were only paid sick pay at their base rate, without properly accounting for the additional nondiscretionary bonuses they earned.

31. Plaintiff and the covered employees were sometimes unable to take meal periods before the end of the 5th hour of work due to operational needs. As a home medical equipment technician, Plaintiff's duties included driving to patients homes to deliver and help set up medical equipment. On days when Plaintiff and the covered employees were outperforming job duties and could not take their meal period before the 5th hour, Defendants were required to pay Plaintiff and the covered employees a meal premium. Plaintiff's wage statements show no record of meal premiums paid whatsoever.

32. Plaintiff and the covered employees were also pressured to inaccurately report their hours worked so as to appear as if they were actually taking meal periods at the appropriate times. To the extent that the paper time cards do not accurately reflect the missed meal periods that Plaintiff and the covered employees experienced, they are entitled to the meal premiums they were never paid. Additionally, due to the nondiscretionary compensation that Plaintiff and the covered employees earned, any meal premiums paid, should have been paid at the adjusted regular rate of pay.

33. To the extent that Plaintiff and the covered employees' duties prevented them from being able to take compliant rest breaks, they were owed a premium for the lack of an opportunity to take such compliant break. Plaintiff's duties consisted of delivering and setting up medical equipment, repairing and cleaning medical equipment, and general maintenance and upkeep of the warehouse and vehicles. When his extensive duties prevented him from being able to take a compliant rest break, Defendants failed to compensate Plaintiff with a meal break premium at his regular rate of pay.

34. Because Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums in each pay period in which such wages were earned at the lawful rate, Defendants violated Labor Code section 204 and/or 204b (for weekly employees, as applicable). Defendants violated Labor Code sections 204 and 204b by

1 failing to pay all wages and premiums owed on the regular pay days scheduled each pay period within
2 seven calendar days of the close of the payroll period, as a result of the policies and practices set forth
3 in this complaint.

4 35. Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to covered employees during
5 their employment as set forth in this notice, and also failed to timely pay those amounts to departing
6 employees upon separation of employment. Defendants did not pay waiting time penalties for the late
7 payments. As a result, Defendants violated Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203.

8 36. Defendants failed to provide accurate itemized wage statements to the covered
9 employees each pay period as a result of the policies and practices set forth in this notice. Defendants
10 violated Labor Code section 226(a)(1) and (5) by not listing the correct “gross wages earned” or “net 11 wages earned,” as the employees earned wages and premiums that were not paid, resulting in an 12 inaccurate reflection, and recording of “gross wages earned” on those wage statements. Likewise, in 13 violation of Labor Code section 226(a)(9), Defendants failed to state on employee wage statements
14 each pay period the applicable hourly rates in effect and the number of hours worked at that rate, as 15 Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to employees. The amounts stated are instead 16 depreciated and underpaid, resulting in an inaccurate reflection on the pay stub.

17 37. Plaintiff and other covered employees cannot promptly and easily determine from the 18 wage statement alone the wages paid or earned without reference to other documents or information.
19 Indeed, these wage statement violations are significant because they sow confusion among Plaintiff
20 and other covered employees with respect to what amounts were owed and paid, at what rates, the 21 number of hours worked, and how those amounts were or should be calculated. The wage statements 22 reflect a false statement of earnings and concealed the underlying problems and underpayments of 23 employee wages.

38. Because of the policies and practices set forth in this notice, including the failure to accurately account for wages earned or hours worked, Defendants failed to accurately maintain records in accordance with Labor Code section 1174 and the IWC Wage Orders.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO PAY ALL WAGES OWED

Violation of Labor Code §§ 200, 218, 1194, 1194.2 and 1197

(All Claims Alleged by Plaintiff and Class Members Against All Defendants)

39. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

40. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code §§ 200, 218, 1182.12, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1 and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the “Hours and Days of Work” and “Minimum Wages” sections of the applicable orders), which require non-exempt employees be timely paid at least the state or local minimum wage (if higher) for each hour of work, and further provide a private right of action for an employer’s failure to pay all minimum wages (plus liquidated damages). In addition to minimum wages, Labor Code § 200 states that “wages” includes all amounts for labor performed by employees of every description, whether the amount is fixed or ascertained by the standard of time, task, piece, commission basis, or other method of calculation.”

41. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to pay Plaintiff and class members at least the lawful minimum wage for each hour worked in violation of Labor Code sections 1182.12, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1 and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the “Hours and Days of Work” and “Minimum Wages” sections of the applicable orders), including payment at the lawful local and county minimum wage ordinances in effect. As a result, Defendants are liable for all associated damages, including liquidated damages for the minimum wage violations pursuant to Labor Code § 1194.2.

42. Defendants' unlawful acts and omissions deprived Plaintiff and class members of minimum, regular and overtime wages in amounts to be determined at trial. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the full amount of the unpaid wages, plus liquidated damages in an amount equal to the wages unlawfully unpaid (and interest thereon), in addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law, including under Labor Code sections 1194 and 1194.2, 218.6 and any other applicable statutes.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO PAY ALL OVERTIME WAGES

Violation of Labor Code §§ 510 and 1194

43. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

44. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code §§ 204, 510, 558, 1194, and 1198, which require non-exempt employees be timely paid overtime wages all overtime hours worked, and which further provide a private right of action for an employer's failure to pay all overtime compensation for overtime hours worked.

45. Defendants failed in their affirmative obligation to pay Plaintiff and class members no less than one and one-half times their respective "regular rate of pay" for all hours worked in excess of eight hours in one day, 40 hours in one week, or the first eight hours worked on the seventh day of work in any one workweek, and no less than twice their respective "regular rate of pay" for all hours over 12 hours in one day and any work in excess of eight hours on any seventh day of a workweek for such hours worked, in violation of Labor Code sections 204, 510, 558, 1194, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the "Hours and Days of Work" sections of the applicable orders).

46. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the full amount of the unpaid overtime, in addition to interest, statutory and civil penalties, and attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law.

1 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

2 REST PERIOD VIOLATIONS

3 Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7 and 516

4 52. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

5 53. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code
6 §§ 226.7 and 516, which require non-exempt employees be authorized to take complaint rest periods
7 (or rest period premiums in lieu thereof), and which further provide a private right of action for an 8 employer's failure to lawfully provide all rest periods and/or pay rest period premiums at the lawful 9 regular rate of compensation.

10 54. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to consistently authorize and 11 permit Plaintiff and class members to receive compliant, duty-free rest periods of not less than ten
12 (10) minutes for every four hours worked (or major fraction thereof) in violation of Labor Code
13 sections 226.7, 516, 558, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the "Rest Periods" sections of the 14 applicable orders).

15 55. Further, Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to consistently pay
16 Plaintiff and class members one additional hour of pay at the respective regular rate of compensation
17 for each workday that a fully compliant rest period was not provided, in violation of Labor Code
18 sections 226.7, 516, 558, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders.

19 FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

20 FAILURE TO PAY ALL PAID SICK LEAVE WAGES

21 Violation of Labor Code §§ 200, 218, 246 *et seq.

22 56. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

23 57. Defendants knowingly and intentionally failed in their affirmative obligation to pay
24 sick leave wages to Plaintiff and a paid sick leave subclass in violation of Labor Code section 246

1 et seq. Paid sick leave earnings constitute wages for purposes of California wage and hour law.
2 (Murphy v. Kenneth Cole Productions, Inc. (2007) 40 Cal.4th 1094, 1103 [“Courts have recognized
3 that ‘wages’ also include those benefits to which an employee is entitled as a part of his or her
4 compensation, including money, room, board, clothing, vacation pay, and sick pay”].)

5 58. Labor Code section 246(l), in conjunction with Labor Code section 248 et seq., 248.1,
6 248.2, and 248.6, in addition to the applicable County sick pay ordinances in locales worked by class
7 members, govern how Defendants were required to calculate paid sick leave.

8 59. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and class members their paid sick leave wages at one
9 of the lawful rates set forth in the statute or ordinance because Defendants failed to include in their 10 sick leave calculation the additional remuneration received by Plaintiff and class members (i.e., at the 11 regular rate of pay and/or calculated based on total wages earned).

12 60. Furthermore, to the extent the paid sick leave paid constitutes Covid-related paid sick
13 leave, Defendants knowingly and intentionally failed in their affirmative obligation to pay Covid-19
14 Supplemental Sick Leave wages to class members at the correct accrual rate or hourly pay rate in 15 violation of Labor Code sections 246, 248.1, 248.2, and 248 et seq.

16 61. As a result, Defendants violated the Labor Code and are liable to Plaintiff and class
17 members for underpaid sick leave wages, in addition to interest, attorneys’ fees, and costs.

18 SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

19 UNTIMELY PAYMENT OF WAGES

20 Violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 210, 218

21 62. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

22 63. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code
23 §§ 204, 204b, and 210 which require non-exempt employees be timely paid all wages owed each pay 24 period, and which further provide a private right of action for an employer’s failure to comply with 25

1 this obligation. Labor Code § 218 authorizes individuals to sue directly for wages and penalties due
2 under these sections, including Labor Code § 210(c)'s statutory late payment penalties.

3 64. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to timely pay all wages,
4 including paid sick leave and meal and rest premiums, earned by Plaintiff and class members twice
5 during each calendar month on days designated in advance by the employer as regular paydays (for 6 employees paid on a non-weekly basis) and on the regularly-scheduled weekly payday for weekly
7 employees, if any, in violation of Labor Code sections 204 and 204b and the IWC Wage Orders (the 8 "Minimum Wages" sections of the applicable orders).

9 65. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the full amount of the unpaid wages,
10 in addition to a statutory penalty in the amount of $100 for the initial violation for each failure to pay
11 each employee and $200 for all subsequent violations and for all willful or intentional violations for 12 each failure to pay each employee, plus 25 percent of the amount unlawfully withheld under provided
13 in Labor Code § 210, in addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law.

14 SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

15 WAGE STATEMENT VIOLATIONS

16 Violation of Labor Code § 226

17 66. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

18 67. This cause of action is brought by a wage statement subclass pursuant to Labor Code
19 § 226(a) which requires non-exempt employees be provided accurate itemized wage statements each
20 pay period, and which further provide a private right of action for an employer's failure to comply 21 with this obligation.

22 68. Defendants knowingly and intentionally failed in their affirmative obligation to provide 23 accurate itemized wage statements to Plaintiff and class members resulting in injury to Plaintiff and 24

1 class members. Specifically, the wage statements issued to Plaintiff and class members did not
2 accurately state each pay period all of the information required by Labor Code § 226(a)(1)-(9).

3 69. Defendants' unlawful acts and omissions deprived Plaintiff and class members of 4 accurate itemized wage statements, causing confusion and concealing wage and premium
5 underpayments.

6 70. As a result, Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the statutory penalty of 7 $50 per employee for the initial pay period in which a violation occurred and $100 per employee for 8 each violation in a subsequent pay period, up to an aggregate penalty of $4,000 per employee, in 9 addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law, including under Labor
10 Code section 226(e).

11 EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION

12 WAITING TIME PENALTIES

13 Violation of Labor Code §§ 201 *et seq.

14 71. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

15 72. This cause of action is brought by a waiting time subclass pursuant to Labor Code 16 §§ 201 through 203, which require an employer to timely pay all wages earned upon termination of 17 employment, and which further provide a private right of action to recover statutory waiting time
18 penalties each day an employer fails to comply with this obligation, up to a maximum of 30 days 19 wages.

20 73. Defendants willfully failed and continue to fail in their affirmative obligation to pay all
21 wages earned and unpaid to Plaintiff and class members immediately upon termination of employment
22 or within 72 hours thereafter for employees who did not provide at least 72 hours prior notice of his
23 or her intention to quit, and further failed to pay those sums for 30 days thereafter in violation of Labor
24 Code sections 201 through 203 and the IWC Wage Orders.

74. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover a waiting time penalty for a period of up to 30 days, in addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law.

NINTH CAUSE OF ACTION

UNFAIR COMPETITION

Violation of Business and Professions Code §§ 17200 et seq.

75. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

76. Defendants have engaged and continue to engage in unfair and/or unlawful business practices in the State of California in violation of California Business and Professions Code § 17200 by committing the foregoing wage and hour violations alleged throughout this Complaint.

77. Defendants' dependence on these unfair and/or unlawful business practices deprived Plaintiff and continue to deprive other class members of compensation to which they are legally entitled, constitutes unfair and/or unlawful competition, and provides an unfair advantage to Defendants over competitors who have been and/or are currently employing workers in compliance with California's wage and hour laws. These failures constitute unlawful, deceptive, and unfair business acts and practices in violation of Business and Professions Code section 17200 et seq.

78. Plaintiff is a victim of Defendants' unfair and/or unlawful conduct alleged in this Complaint, and Plaintiff, as an individual and on behalf of others similarly situated, seeks full restitution of the moneys as necessary and according to proof to restore all monies withheld, acquired, and/or converted by Defendants pursuant to Business and Professions Code §§ 17203 and 17208.

79. Plaintiff does not have an adequate remedy at law for past or future violations, to the extent the statute of limitations on each of the alleged causes of action do not extend to the four year limitation provided under the UCL or to the extent the underlying Labor Code and IWC Wage Order violations do not provide a private right of action.

80. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to injunctive relief against Defendants, restitution, and other equitable relief to return all funds over which Plaintiff and class members have an ownership interest and to prevent future damage and the public interest under Business and Professions Code § 17200 et seq. Plaintiff and class members are further entitled to recover interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law, including under Code of Civil Procedure § 1021.5.

TENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

CIVIL PENALTIES UNDER THE PRIVATE ATTORNEYS GENERAL ACT

Violation of Labor Code §§ 2698 et seq.

(By Plaintiff on Behalf of the State and the Aggrieved Employees Against All Defendants)

81. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

82. Plaintiff brings this cause of action as a proxy for the State of California on behalf of the following “aggrieved employees” pursuant to the Private Attorneys General Act (“PAGA”), codified as Labor Code section 2698 et seq.:

a. All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendants in California at any time from one year prior to the postmark date of the initial PAGA notice through date of trial.

83. Plaintiff reserves the right to amend, supplement, or add to this description of the aggrieved employees, according to proof.

84. The State of California, via the Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”), is the real party in interest in this action with respect to this cause of action. (Kim v. Reins Int’l California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal. 5th 73, 81 [The “government entity on whose behalf the plaintiff files suit is always the real party in interest.”])

1 85. Labor Code section 2699(a) provides: “Notwithstanding any other provision of law,,
2 any provision of this code that provides for a civil penalty to be assessed and collected by the Labor
3 and Workforce Development Agency or any of its departments, divisions, commissions, boards,
4 agencies, or employees, for a violation of this code, may, as an alternative, be recovered through a civil
5 action brought by an aggrieved employee on behalf of the employee and other current or former
6 employees against whom a violation of the same provision was committed pursuant to the procedures
7 specified in Section 2699.3. “

8 86. Any allegations regarding violations of the IWC Wage Orders are enforceable as 9 violations of Labor Code section 1198, which states: “[t]he employment of any employee for longer
10 hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the order is unlawful.”

11 87. Labor Code section 2699.3 sets forth the procedure for commencing an action for civil 12 penalties under the PAGA.

13 88. On or about June 10, 2026, Plaintiff paid the requisite PAGA filing fee and provided 14 written notice (by online electronic filing with the LWDA and by certified mail to Defendants) of 15 Defendants’ alleged Labor Code violations, including the facts and theories to support the alleged 16 violations.

17 89. A true and correct copy of Plaintiff’s written PAGA notice, entitled “Notice of Labor
18 Code Violations” is attached hereto as Exhibit 1 and incorporated by reference as though fully set 19 forth herein (the “PAGA notice”).

20 90. To date, neither Plaintiff nor Plaintiff’s counsel has received a response to Plaintiff’s
21 written PAGA notice from the LWDA.

22 91. Within 33 calendar days of the postmark date of the notice sent by Plaintiff, neither
23 Plaintiff nor Plaintiff’s counsel has received written notice by certified mail from any defendant
24 providing a description of any actions taken to cure the alleged violations.

92. Now that at least 65 days have passed from Plaintiff notifying Defendants of these violations, without notice of cure from Defendants or notice from the LWDA of its intent to investigate the alleged allegations and issue the appropriate citations to Defendants, Plaintiff exhausted all prerequisites and commenced this civil action under Labor Code section 2699 et seq.

93. As set forth in the PAGA notice attached as Exhibit 1 and incorporated into this Complaint, Defendants committed the following violations and are liable for all corresponding civil penalties:

- a. Unpaid Hours Worked/Minimum Wage. Violation of Labor Code §§ 1194, 1197, 1198; IWC Wage Orders.

- g. Untimely Payment of Wages Upon Separation of Employment. Violation of Labor Code §§ 201, 202, 203, 256.
- h. Non-Compliant Wage Statements. Violation of Labor Code §§ 226, 226.3.
- i. Failure to Maintain Accurate Records. Violation of Labor Code § 1174; IWC Wage Orders.

94. Plaintiff seeks to collect all recoverable civil penalties for the Labor Code violations alleged in this Complaint and the PAGA notice (including amendments thereto) against Defendants pursuant to Labor Code section 2699(a) and (f), in addition to attorneys' fees, costs, and interest to the extent permitted by law, including under Labor Code section 2699(k).

NOTICE OF LABOR CODE VIOLATIONS
CALIFORNIA LABOR CODE SECTIONS 2698 et seq.

VIA CERTIFIED U.S. MAIL
- Electronic Return Receipt -

Ashli Healthcare, Inc.
2201 Zeus Ct.
Bakersfield, CA, 93308

- PAGA Notice & Filing Fee -
Submitted electronically to the Labor and Workforce Development Agency

Dear LWDA Officer and Company Representatives:

This letter serves as written notice under Labor Code section 2699.3 on behalf of ROGELIO HERNANDEZ (“Plaintiff(s)”) and all other “covered employees” of the following “Defendant(s)”:

ASHLI HEALTHCARE, INC.

Defendants shall mean and include the foregoing in addition to any other related employer entities, individuals under Labor Code sections 558 and 558.1, and all others who may be later added upon further investigation and discovery as liable employers.

This office serves as legal counsel for Plaintiff. If the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”) does not investigate the facts, allegations, and violations set forth in this notice within the statutorily prescribed 65-day period under Labor Code section 2699.3, Plaintiff intends to commence a civil action against Defendants as a proxy and agent of the State of California under the Private Attorneys General Act (“PAGA”). “PAGA allows an ‘aggrieved employee’—a person affected by at least one Labor Code violation committed by an employer—to pursue penalties for all the Labor Code violations committed by that employer.” Huff v. Securitas Security Services USA, Inc. (2018) 23 Cal.App.5th 745, 751; Kim v. Reins International California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal.5th 73, 79. Plaintiff maintains standing to pursue these claims against Defendants as an aggrieved employee.

Through this notice, Plaintiff requests that Defendants complete an internal investigation and audit of the wage and hour and employment practices at issue and make a good faith effort to correct any violations. Plaintiff attempts to identify the non-compliant policies and practices affecting the aggrieved employees so that the parties may resolve the underlying damages and penalties in judgment or settlement approved by the Superior Court of California under Labor Code section 2699(s). Defendants are notified that any attempt to resolve this case should be conducted in coordination with Plaintiff's counsel to protect the interests of Plaintiff, the aggrieved employees, and the State of California via the LWDA. Plaintiff advises Defendants this letter should be also considered a reasonable attempt at settlement of this matter, subject to an exchange of additional documents and information. Graham v. Daimler Chrysler Corp. (2004) 24 Cal.4th 553, 561.

- BACKGROUND -

Defendants employed Plaintiff during the PAGA Period in the position of Home Medical Equipment Technician from about July 2019 to August 2025. During their employment Plaintiff and the other covered (i.e., aggrieved) employees were subject to the wage and hour and employment protections set forth in the California Labor Code and IWC Wage Orders.

Through this notice, Plaintiff informs the LWDA of the Labor Code violations set forth herein. The “aggrieved employees” include Plaintiff and the following individuals:

All current and former non-exempt employees, including those misclassified as non-exempt, and exempt employees who worked for Defendants in the State of California during one-year period preceding the date of this notice through the current date and the date of trial in any pending action (the “covered employees” and the “PAGA Period”). As defined, these covered current and former employees are “aggrieved employees” under PAGA.

Plaintiff reserves the right to expand or narrow the definition of the “covered employees” in the forthcoming civil action. Furthermore, Plaintiff seeks all recoverable civil penalties for Defendants’ violations and reserves the right to supplement this notice as further investigation is completed and further facts, witnesses, and violations are uncovered.

- PAGA CLAIMS -

Unpaid Hours Worked/Minimum Wage Violation of Labor Code §§ 1194, 1197, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 1194, 1197, and 1198, along with the California Minimum Wage Order, the applicable local minimum wage ordinances, and the “Hours and Days of Work” and “Minimum Wages” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Orders with respect to the covered employees.

Labor Code section 1194 renders it unlawful for an employee to receive less than the legal minimum wage for hours worked in California. Labor Code section 1197 further mandates that “[t]he minimum wage for employees fixed by the commission is the minimum wage to be paid to employees, and the payment of a lower wage than the minimum so fixed is unlawful.” Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The California Minimum Wage Order and the applicable sections of the IWC Wage Orders further require payment of minimum wages for all hours worked. The “Minimum Wages” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Order provide that “[e]very employer shall pay to each employee, on the established payday for the period involved, not less than the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked in the payroll period, whether the remuneration is measured by time, piece, commission, or otherwise.” The foregoing California wage laws require payment of “not less than the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked in the payroll period” and California law does not allow averaging of pay over the hours worked in the pay period, even if the total pay results in an average above the minimum wage. Armenta v. Osmose, Inc. (2005) 135 Cal.App.3d 314, 324.

Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the covered employees at the lawful minimum wage rate for all hours worked, resulting in unpaid minimum wages. Specifically, Defendants employed a custom and practice of editing and rounding Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees’ time records. Defendant required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to record their hours in an electronic timekeeping system. Despite the use of an electronic timekeeping system, Defendant’s also required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees hours to track their hours on paper timesheets that tracked daily activities. The paper timesheets show nearly uniform “time in” and “time out” punches for the majority of shifts. An illustrative example of the paper timesheets is shown below:

The time records above indicate perfectly identical time punches. Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were pressured by supervisors to falsely report their hours worked, so as to create the impression of compliance. Plaintiff used to report his time accurately but was told that in doing so he was “creating issues” for Defendants. In reality, Defendants underpaid Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees for the time they actually spent working. Below is an excerpt from Plaintiff’s pay records from the same period as above as an illustrative example:

Important Notes
 Basis of pay: Hourly

The pay records above show 0.65 hours of overtime worked by Plaintiff. Notably, the paper time sheets do not accurately reflect the overtime worked by Plaintiff during this period. Defendant's failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees all of their earned wages, and used inconsistent time keeping records as a way to conceal these underpayments.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the covered employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Unpaid Overtime Violation of Labor Code §§ 510, 1194, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 510, 1194, and 1198, along with the "Hours and Days of Work" sections of the applicable IWC Wage Orders with respect to the covered employees.

Labor Code section 510 requires "[a]ny work in excess of eight hours in one workday and any work in excess of 40 hours in any one workweek and the first eight hours worked on the seventh day of work in any one workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for an employee;" and "any work in excess of 12 hours in one day shall be compensated at the rate of no less than twice the regular rate of pay for an employee;" and "any work in excess of eight hours on any seventh day of a workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than twice the regular rate of pay of an employee.” Labor Code section 1194 renders it unlawful for an employee to receive less than the legal overtime rate for overtime hours worked in California. Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders further require payment of overtime wages for all overtime hours worked, including the “Hours and Days of Work” sections.

Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the covered employees overtime wages and the lawful rate of pay for overtime hours worked, resulting in unpaid overtime wages. As described above, Defendants employed unlawful time editing, rounding and time tracking policies. To the extent these practices resulted in overtime hours being underreported or otherwise compensated, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees are entitled to their full overtime pay.

Additionally, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees earned bonuses and non-discretionary pay each pay period. This additional compensation was listed as “Other Pay” or “Misc Pay” on Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees wage statements. Plaintiff’s additional pay was related to on call pay for remaining on call during the weekends. Despite earning this additional non discretionary compensation, Defendants failed to account for this pay when calculating Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees regular rate of pay for the purpose of paying their overtime compensation. Plaintiff’s wage statements consistently show his overtime rate of pay at 1.5x his base rate, and do not account for the true regular rate of pay, when accounting for the additional nondiscretionary earnings.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the covered employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Unpaid Paid Sick Leave Violation of Labor Code §§ 246 through 248.7

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 246 through 248.7 with respect to the covered employees.

Labor Code section 246 requires employers to provide paid sick leave to its workforce on the terms set forth in the statute. Employers must comply with the accrual, use, and notice provisions of Labor Code sections 246, 246.5, 247, and must further ensure that they maintain the paid sick leave records required by Labor Code section 247.5. Employers have the option of providing 40 hours of paid sick leave to employees or to allow employees to accrue paid sick leave each pay period. If an employer chooses the accrual method, employees must accrue sick leave at a rate of one hour for every thirty hours worked in a given pay period as set forth in Labor Code section 246(b)(1). Under the accrual method, employees must begin accruing paid sick leave at the commencement of employment.

Employers must pay sick leave in accordance with one of the three permissible methods provided in Labor Code section 246(l): (1) “the same manner as the regular rate of pay for the workweek;” (2) “by dividing the employee’s total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee’s total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days;” or (3) “for exempt employee ... in the same manner as the employer calculates wages for other forms of paid leave time.” Labor Code sections 248.6 and 248.7 similarly require paid sick leave to be paid at a regular rate-based calculation in excess of the base hourly rate and at the lawful accrual rate.

Under Labor Code section 246(i), employers must provide employees “with written notice of the amount of paid sick leave available ... for use on either the employee’s itemized wage statement ... or in a separate writing provided on the designated pay date with the employee’s payment of wages.”

Defendants failed to comply with California’s paid sick leave laws with respect to the covered employees. Specifically, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees their sick pay at the appropriate “regular rate” of pay. As stated above, Defendants paid Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees nondiscretionary bonuses. Despite this, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were only paid sick pay at their base rate, without properly accounting for the additional nondiscretionary bonuses they earned.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the covered employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Unpaid Meal Period Premium Wages Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 512, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226.7, 512, and 1198, along with the related sections of the IWC Wage Orders with respect to the covered employees.

Labor Code section 512 and the IWC Wage Orders require that employers provide an uninterrupted 30-minute meal period after no more than five hours of work and a second meal period after no more than 10 hours of work. See Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1049. Labor Code section 226.7 requires that if a meal period is late, missed, short, or interrupted, the employer must pay one additional hour of pay at the employee’s “regular rate” of compensation. Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal.5th 858, 862 (“We hold that the terms are synonymous: “regular rate of compensation” under section 226.7(c), like “regular rate of pay” under section 510(a), encompasses all nondiscretionary payments, not just hourly wages”). “[T]ime records showing noncompliant meal periods raise a rebuttable presumption of meal period violations, including at the summary judgment stage.” Donohue v. AMN Services, LLC (2021) 11 Cal.5th 58, 61. Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders, including Section 11 (Meal Periods), further require one uninterrupted 30-minute meal period after no more than five hours of work and a second meal period after no more than 10 hours of work and an additional hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate of compensation for each workday that a compliant meal period is not provided. Pursuant to Section 11(A) of the IWC Wage Orders, the California Supreme Court has held that the on-duty meal period exception is “exceedingly narrow” and applies only when (1) “the nature of the work prevents the employee from being relieved of all duty” and (2) both “the employer and employee have agreed, in writing, to the on-duty meal period.” Augustus v. AMB Security Services, Inc. (2016) 2 Cal.5th 257, 266-276 (emphasis added). If these two requirements are not met, then the employer owes the employee one hour of premium pay for each non-compliant meal period taken under the purported on-duty meal arrangement. Naranjo v. Spectrum Security Services, Inc. (2019) 40 Cal.5th 444, 459.

Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were sometimes unable to take meal periods before the end of the 5th hour of work due to operational needs. As a home medical equipment technician, Plaintiff’s duties included driving to patients homes to deliver and help set up medical equipment. On days when Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were out performing job duties and could not take their meal period before the 5th hour, Defendants were required to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees a meal premium. Plaintiff’s wage statements show no record of meal premiums paid whatsoever.

As stated above, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were also pressured to inaccurately report their hours worked so as to appear as if they were actually taking meal periods at the appropriate times. To the extent that the paper time cards do not accurately reflect the missed meal periods that Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees experienced, they are entitled to the meal premiums they were never paid.

Additionally, due to the nondiscretionary compensation that Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees earned, any meal premiums paid, should have been paid at the adjusted regular rate of pay.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the covered employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Unpaid Rest Period Premium Wages
Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 516, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226.7, 516, and 1198, and the related sections of the IWC Wage Orders with respect to Plaintiff and the covered employees.

Labor Code sections 226.7 and 516 and the IWC Wage Orders require that employers authorize and permit an uninterrupted 10-minute rest period for each four-hour period (or major fraction thereof) that an employee works. Labor Code section 226.7 requires that if a rest period is non-compliant, the employer must pay one additional hour of pay at the employee's "regular rate" of compensation. Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal.5th 858, 862 ("We hold that the terms are synonymous: "regular rate of compensation" under section 226.7(c), like "regular rate of pay" under section 510(a), encompasses all nondiscretionary payments, not just hourly wages"). Labor Code section 1198 renders "employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]" unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders, including Section 12 (Rest Periods), further require one uninterrupted 10-minute rest period for each four-hour period (or major fraction thereof) worked and an additional hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for each workday that a compliant rest period is not authorized or permitted.

To the extent that Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees duties prevented them from being able to take compliant rest breaks, they were owed a premium for the lack of an opportunity to take such compliant breaks. As discussed above, Plaintiffs duties consisted of delivering and setting up medical equipment, repairing and cleaning medical equipment, and general maintenance and upkeep of the warehouse and vehicles. When his extensive duties prevented him from being able to take a compliant rest break, Defendants failed to compensate Plaintiff with a meal break premium at his regular rate of pay.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the covered employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Untimely Payment of Wages During Employment Violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 204b, 210

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 204 and/or 204b and 210, as applicable, with respect to Plaintiff and the covered employees.

Labor Code section 204(a) requires payment of "all wages" for non-exempt employees at least twice each calendar month. Labor Code section 204(d) states all wages due must be paid "not more than seven calendar days following the close of the payroll period." Labor Code section 204b applies to employees paid on a weekly basis and also requires the payment for all labor within the required pay periods. Labor Code section 210 provides "every person who fails to pay the wages of an employee as provided in Section ... 204 ... shall be subject to a civil penalty" of $100 for an initial violation and $200 plus 25% of the amount unlawfully withheld for a subsequent violation.

Because Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums in each pay period in which such wages were earned at the lawful rate, Defendants violated Labor Code section 204 and/or 204b (for weekly employees, as applicable). Defendants violated Labor Code sections 204 and 204b by failing to pay all wages and premiums owed on the regular pay days scheduled each pay period within seven calendar days of the close of the payroll period, as a result of the policies and practices set forth in this notice.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the covered employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Untimely Payment of Wages Upon Separation of Employment
Violation of Labor Code §§ 201, 202, 203, 256

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203 with respect to the covered employees by failing to pay all wages and premiums owed upon termination of employment.

Labor Code section 201 requires that if an employer fires an employee, the wages must be paid immediately. Labor Code section 202 requires that if an employee quits without providing 72 hours' notice, his or her wages must be paid no later than 72 hours thereafter. Labor Code section 202 states that if an employee provides 72 hours' notice, the final wages are payable upon his or her final day of employment. Labor Code section 203 requires an employer who fails to comply with Labor Code sections 201 or 202 to pay a waiting time penalty for each employee, up to a period of 30 days additional compensation.

Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to covered employees during their employment as set forth in this notice, and also failed to timely pay those amounts to departing employees upon separation of employment. Defendants did not pay waiting time penalties for the late payments. As a result, Defendants violated Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the covered employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Non-Compliant Wage Statements
Violation of Labor Code §§ 226, 226.3

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226(a) and 226.3 with respect to the covered employees by failing to furnish itemized wage statements each pay period that accurately list all information required by Labor Code section 226(a)(1) through (9).

Labor Code section 226(a) requires an employer to furnish wage statements to employees semimonthly or at the time of each payment of wages, "an accurate itemized statement in writing showing:" (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked, (3) the number of piece rate units earned and applicable piece-rate in effect, (4) all deductions, (5) net wages earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the pay period, (7) the name of the employee and last four digits of SSN or an EIN, (8) the name and address of the legal name of the employer, and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee.

Defendants failed to provide accurate itemized wage statements to the covered employees each pay period as a result of the policies and practices set forth in this notice. Defendants violated Labor Code section 226(a)(1) and (5) by not listing the correct “gross wages earned” or “net wages earned,” as the employees earned wages and premiums that were not paid, resulting in an inaccurate reflection, and recording of “gross wages earned” on those wage statements. Likewise, in violation of Labor Code section 226(a)(9), Defendants failed to state on employee wage statements each pay period the applicable hourly rates in effect and the number of hours worked at that rate, as Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to employees. The amounts stated are instead depreciated and underpaid, resulting in an inaccurate reflection on the pay stub.

Plaintiff and other covered employees cannot promptly and easily determine from the wage statement alone the wages paid or earned without reference to other documents or information. Indeed, these wage statement violations are significant because they sow confusion among Plaintiff and other covered employees with respect to what amounts were owed and paid, at what rates, the number of hours worked, and how those amounts were or should be calculated. The wage statements reflect a false statement of earnings and concealed the underlying problems and underpayments of employee wages.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the covered employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Failure to Maintain Accurate Records Violation of Labor Code § 1174; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 1174 and the IWC Wage Orders by failing to maintain accurate employee payroll records with respect to Plaintiff and other covered employees.

Labor Code section 1174 requires that employers maintain accurate “payroll records showing the hours worked daily by and the wages paid to, and the number of piece-rate units earned by and any applicable piece rate paid to, employees employed at the respective plants or establishments.” Section 7(A) of the IWC Wage Orders, which may be enforced through Labor Code section 1198, mandates similar recordkeeping obligations.

Because of the policies and practices set forth in this notice, including the failure to accurately account for wages earned or hours worked, Defendants failed to accurately maintain records in accordance with Labor Code section 1174 and the IWC Wage Orders.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the covered employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Labor Code § 2699(k)(1)

Plaintiff has been compelled to retain the services of counsel to protect the interests of other covered employees and the State of California. Plaintiff continues to incur attorneys' fees and costs, which are recoverable under California law, including Labor Code section 2699(k)(1).
