1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 Plaintiff Jonathan Colquitt, Sr. (“Plaintiff”) seeks approval of a proposed representative 4 action settlement for civil penalties pursuant to the California Private Attorneys General Act, Labor
5 Code sections 2698, et seq. (“PAGA”) against Defendant Golden State Foods Corp. (“Defendant”)
6 collectively, the “Parties”). After a full day of mediation with experienced neutral mediator Hon.
7 Daniel Buckley (Ret.), the Parties reached a settlement and thereafter executed a PAGA Settlement 8 Agreement (the “Settlement” or “Agreement”)¹.

9 The Settlement calls for a Gross Settlement Amount of $465,000.00. After deducting 10 Plaintiff’s counsel’s reasonable attorney’s fees and costs awards, and payment for the Settlement 11 Administrator’s cost, approximately $205,324.01 in civil penalties will be paid to the California 12 Labor and Workforce Development Agency (the “LWDA”) and $68,418.84 in civil penalties will 13 be paid to approximately 636 Aggrieved Employees. The average approximate share of the 14 settlement paid to Aggrieved Employees is $107.61. Pursuant to Labor Code section 2699(s)(2), 15 Plaintiff now files this unopposed motion, seeking an order approving the proposed Settlement.

16 The settlement of a PAGA claim requires court approval pursuant to the operative PAGA 17 statute, which states that the “court shall review and approve any penalties sought as part of a 18 proposed settlement agreement pursuant to this part.” Lab. Code § 2699(s)(2). In deciding whether 19 to grant approval of a proposed settlement, the primary issues to be decided is whether the 20 settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable. Villalobos v. Calandri Sonrise Farm LP (C.D. Cal., 21 July 22, 2015, No. CV 12-2615 PSG (JEMx)) 2015 WL 12732709, at *5; see also O’Connor v.
22 Uber Technologies, Inc. (N.D. Cal. 2016) 201 F.Supp.3d 1110, 1135.

23 As set forth herein, the proposed Settlement embodies all the features of a settlement that is 24 fair, adequate, and reasonable, as it is the product of (1) an arms-length negotiation, (2) negotiated 25 by attorneys experienced in wage and hour issues, (3) subsequent to undertaking sufficient

27 ¹ A true and correct copy of the Agreement is attached as Exhibit 1 to the Declaration of William C. Sung in Support of 28 Motion for Approval of PAGA Settlement (“Sung Decl.”). The proposed explanatory letter regarding PAGA settlement is attached to the Agreement as Exhibit A to the Agreement. All defined terms in this Motion have the same definition as that in the Agreement.

1 investigation necessary to evaluate the relative strength and value of the PAGA claim, and (4)
2 reflects a reasoned compromise based directly on the relative strength and value of the PAGA 3 claims, as well as the risks, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation.

4 II. SUMMARY OF THE LITIGATION AND SETTLEMENT

5 A. PLAINTIFF’S CLAIMS AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

6 Defendant owns and operates a food product logistics company with distribution centers in 7 California. Sung Decl., ¶ 8. Defendant employed Plaintiff as an hourly-paid, non-exempt employee 8 from approximately May 2002 to July 29, 2024 as a bulk receiver at Defendant’s City of Industry
9 distribution center. Declaration of Jonathan Colquitt, Sr. (“Colquitt.”), ¶ 2. Plaintiff contends both 10 Plaintiff and Plaintiff’s coworkers were subjected to the same unlawful labor practices during their 11 employment by Defendant. Ibid.

12 On December 7, 2023, Plaintiff submitted the LWDA Letter of alleged Labor Code 13 violations to Defendant and the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency (the 14 “LWDA”). Sung Decl., ¶ 9, Exh. 2 – LWDA Letter. Plaintiff’s administrative exhaustion period 15 expired without the LWDA indicating its intent to investigate the allegations. Ibid.

16 On December 17, 2023, Plaintiff filed the Class Action Complaint alleging causes of action
17 for: (1) Minimum Wage Violations; (2) Overtime Wage Violations; (3) Meal Period Violations; (4)
18 Rest Period Violations; (5) Wage Statement Penalties; (6) Failure to Reimburse Necessary Business 19 Expenses; and (7) Unfair Competition. Sung Decl., ¶ 10.

20 On February 9, 2024, Plaintiff filed the operative First Amended Complaint (“Operative 21 Complaint”) adding a cause of action for Civil Penalties Under the California Private Attorneys 22 General Act. Sung Decl., ¶ 11, Exh. 3 – Operative Complaint. Plaintiff has uploaded the Operative 23 Complaint with the LWDA. Ibid.

24 On July 31, 2024, the Court granted Defendant’s Motion to Compel Arbitration, and ordered 25 Plaintiff to arbitrate his individual claims, dismissal of the class claims, and stay of representative 26 PAGA claims pending arbitration. Sung Decl., ¶ 12. During the pending of arbitration, the Parties 27 agreed to mediate this Action on a PAGA representative basis. Ibid.

28 ///

1 B. DISCOVERY, INVESTIGATION, AND MEDIATION

2 Prior to mediation, the Parties engaged in informal discovery which allowed the Parties to 3 meaningfully mediate this matter. Sung Decl., ¶ 13. Specifically, Defendant produced: (1) PAGA 4 demographics including the number of Aggrieved Employees and PAGA Pay Periods, and 5 breakdown between driver and non-driver employees; (2) time and payroll records for a 25%
6 random sampling of Aggrieved Employees during the PAGA Period; (3) Defendant’s employee 7 handbook, standalone policies and procedures, and collective bargaining agreements between 8 Quality Custom Distributions Services, Inc. and Teamsters Local Union No. 630 and between 9 Teamsters Union Local 63 and Golden State Foods City of Industry Food Processing Division 10 (collectively, the “CBAs”); and (4) Plaintiff’s personnel records and wage statements. Ibid.

11 Plaintiff’s counsel retained and worked with an expert data scientist with prior wage and 12 hour class action experience to analyze and review the documents regarding Defendant’s wage and 13 hour policies and practices, the Aggrieved Employees’ time and pay records, and other information 14 provided by Defendant and Plaintiff. Sung Decl., ¶ 14. Plaintiff’s counsel was able to evaluate the 15 probability of success on the merits and Defendant’s maximum and risk-adjusted monetary 16 exposure and prepare a damage analysis prior to mediation. Ibid. The time and pay records of a 17 sampling of Aggrieved Employees allowed Plaintiff’s counsel and their expert to prepare an 18 analysis with a high degree of certainty. Ibid. In conjunction with their extensive factual 19 investigation, Plaintiff’s counsel also investigated the applicable law regarding the claims and 20 defenses asserted in the litigation. Ibid. Thus, Plaintiff and Plaintiff’s counsel’s familiarity with the 21 facts of the case and the legal issues raised by the pleadings allowed them to act intelligently in 22 negotiating the Settlement. Ibid.

23 On August 27, 2025, the Parties participated in private mediation before Hon. Daniel 24 Buckley (Ret.), an experienced, neutral, class action and PAGA mediator. Sung Decl., ¶ 15. The 25 settlement negotiations were at arm’s length and, although conducted in a professional manner, 26 were adversarial. Ibid. The Parties went into the mediation willing to explore the potential for a 27 settlement of the dispute, but each side was also prepared to litigate their position through trial and 28 appeal if a settlement had not been reached. Ibid.

1 After extensive negotiations and discussions regarding the strengths and weaknesses of 2 Plaintiff's claims and Defendant's defenses, the Parties reached a settlement of this Action, the 3 material terms of which are encompassed within the Settlement. Sung Decl., ¶ 16. The Parties 4 recognized that the issues presented in the Action are likely only to be resolved with extensive and 5 costly pretrial and trial proceedings, and that further litigation will lead to inconvenience, 6 distraction, disruption, delay, and expense disproportionate to the potential benefits of litigation.
7 Ibid. Plaintiff considered the risk and uncertainty of the outcome inherent in any litigation when 8 determining whether this Settlement was the correct option. Ibid.

9 C. KEY TERMS OF THE PROPOSED PAGA SETTLEMENT

10 The Settlement covers all of Defendant's non-exempt or hourly paid employees who worked 11 for Defendant in California during the PAGA Period ("Aggrieved Employees"). Agreement, § I.2.
12 The PAGA Period is December 7, 2022 through December 31, 2025. Agreement, § I.11. The 13 Agreement provides an Escalator Clause up to 99,000 Pay Periods and, if the number of Pay 14 Periods exceeds 99,000, Defendant may elect to increase the Gross Settlement Amount or adjust the 15 PAGA Period end date so the number of Pay Periods stay within 99,000 Pay Periods. Agreement, §
16 III.3. Defendant shall verify the number of Pay Periods, and if applicable, make its election no later 17 than 21 days prior to the hearing on this Motion. Ibid.

18 The Gross Settlement Amount of the Settlement is $465,000.00. Agreement, § I.8. The 19 Settlement provides that Plaintiff's counsel will seek an award of reasonable attorney's fees of 20 $155,000.00, which is equivalent to one-third (33 1/3%) of the Gross Settlement Amount, and up to 21 $27,000.00 in litigation costs. Agreement, § III.4.a. Plaintiff's litigation costs are approximately 22 $26,334.65, including estimated future costs in filing this Motion and supporting papers ($77.97), 23 supplemental filings for this Motion ($16.17), Case Anywhere System Access Fee from February to 24 March 2026 ($140.00), and filing of the Settlement Administrator's declaration of compliance re 25 settlement administration ($16.17). Sung Decl., ¶ 17; Exh. 4 – Itemized Costs.

26 The Settlement Administrator will be paid administration costs not to exceed $9,990.00.
27 Agreement, § III.4.b. The Parties jointly selected Apex Class Action LLC as the neutral entity to 28 administer this Settlement based on its bid of $9,900.00. Sung Decl., ¶ 18; see also Declaration of

1 Kimberly Sutherland of Apex Class Action LLC (“Admin. Decl.”), ¶ 7, Exh. B – Administrator
2 Bid.

3 After deducting Plaintiff’s counsel’s attorney’s fee and cost awards and payment to the 4 Settlement Administrator, in the amounts approved by the Court, the remainder, called the Net 5 Settlement Amount, will be distributed as 75% to the LWDA and 25% to Aggrieved Employees.
6 Agreement, § III.5. The amount estimated in the Net Settlement Amount for the LWDA payment 7 and the Aggrieved Employee payment is $273,675.35. Sung Decl., ¶ 19 Accordingly, 8 approximately $68,418.84 (25% of the Net Settlement Amount) will be paid to the estimated 636
9 Aggrieved Employees on a pro-rata basis based on the number of pay periods each Aggrieved
10 Employee worked during the PAGA Period, and the raw average payment to Aggrieved Employees 11 is estimated at $107.58. Ibid; see Agreement, § III.5.b.

12 Defendant will fund the Gross Settlement Amount within 30 calendar days of the Effective 13 Date, which is the date that the Court enters a final order and judgment approving the Settlement.
14 Agreement, §§ I.6, III.2. Within 5 business days of the Effective Date, Defendant will provide the 15 Settlement Administrator with a PAGA list of all Aggrieved Employees, including their full name, 16 last known mailing address, social security number, and number of Pay Periods worked during the 17 PAGA Period or dates of employment. Agreement, § IV.2.

18 Upon receipt of the PAGA list, the Settlement Administrator will perform a search on the 19 National Change of Address database to update the Aggrieved Employees’ addresses. Agreement, § 20 IV.3. Within 21 calendar days of the Settlement being fully funded, the Settlement Administrator 21 will mail copies of the explanatory letter, attached as Exhibit A to the Agreement and translated 22 into Spanish, along with Individual PAGA Payments to all Aggrieved Employees; and distribute the 23 75% share of PAGA penalties to the LWDA, court-approved attorney’s fees and cost awards to 24 Plaintiff’s counsel; and court-approval administration costs to itself. Agreement, §§ IV.3, IV.5.

25 Any checks for Individual PAGA Payments returned as non-deliverable will be remailed to 26 the forwarding address affixed thereto. Agreement, ¶ IV.4. If no forwarding address is provided, the 27 Settlement Administrator will promptly attempt to determine the correct address, using a skip-trace
28 or other similar search, using the name, address and/or Social Security number of the Aggrieved

Employee involved and will perform a single re-mailing if a new address is located. Ibid. Funds represented by checks returned as undeliverable after a re-mailing, and funds represented by checks remaining un-cashed for more than 180 days after issuance, will be tendered to the State Controller’s Office under the unclaimed property fund laws in the names of the Aggrieved Employees to whom the checks were issued. Ibid.

III. DISCUSSION

A. AVAILABILITY OF CIVIL PENALTIES

The LWDA and its constituent departments and divisions are authorized to assess and collect civil penalties for specified violations of the Labor Code committed by an employer. With a stated goal of improving enforcement of existing Labor Code obligations, the California Legislature adopted the Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act of 2004, permitting, as an alternative, an aggrieved employee to initiate a private civil action “on behalf of himself or herself and other current or former employees . . .” Lab. Code § 2699(a). The penalties collected in these private civil actions are to be distributed 75 percent to the LWDA and 25 percent to the aggrieved employees. Lab. Code, § 2699(m). However, before an employee may file an action seeking to recover civil penalties for violations of any of the Labor Code provisions enumerated in Labor Code section 2699.5, he or she must comply with the Act’s administrative procedures as set forth in Labor Code section 2699.3, subdivision (a), which include providing notice to the LWDA and the employer of the alleged Labor Code violations, and then waiting a prescribed period of time to permit the LWDA to investigate and to decide whether to cite the employer for the alleged violations. Caliber Bodyworks, Inc. v. Superior Court (2005) 134 Cal.App.4th 365, 370; see also Dunlap v. Superior Court (2006) 142 Cal.App.4th 330.

Here, in compliance with Labor Code section 2699.3, on December 7, 2023, Plaintiff provided notice to the LWDA and Defendant. Sung Decl., ¶ 9; Exh. 2. Plaintiff’s administrative exhaustion periods expired without the LWDA indicating its intent to investigate the allegations. Ibid. Accordingly, Plaintiff may proceed with this PAGA representative action.

1 B. THE SETTLEMENT WARRANTS APPROVAL

2 Settlement of PAGA claims must be approved by a Court. Lab. Code § 2699(s)(2). Here, the 3 circumstances weigh heavily in favor of approval, as explained below.

4 1. The Dual Statutory Purposes of Deterrence and Punishment

5 As a result of this litigation, Defendant has had to hire legal counsel, engage in informal 6 discovery, and participate in mediation. Defendant is also now having to pay civil penalties to the 7 LWDA pursuant to the terms of the Settlement. Not including its own attorneys' fees and costs, 8 Defendant is paying $465,000.00 to resolve this matter.

9 2. The Relief is Genuine, Meaningful, and Consistent with the Underlying 10 Purpose of the Statute to Benefit the Public

11 Plaintiff's counsel has conducted a thorough investigation into the facts of this case. Sung 12 Decl., ¶ 20. Based on the foregoing discovery and on their own independent investigation and 13 evaluation, Plaintiff's counsel is of the opinion that the Settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate.
14 Ibid. Furthermore, considering all known facts and circumstances, the risk of significant delay, trial 15 risk, appellate risk, the defenses that could be asserted by Defendant on the merits, the Settlement is 16 in the best interests of the Aggrieved Employees and the State. Ibid. The Settlement avoids the 17 risks, burdens, and the accompanying expense of further litigation. Ibid. Although the Parties have 18 engaged in a significant amount of investigation, informal discovery, and employee data analysis, 19 they have not participated in substantial formal discovery procedures, including depositions and 20 expert discovery. Ibid. Moreover, preparation for trial would remain for the Parties, as well as the 21 prospect of appeals in the wake of any summary judgment ruling. Ibid. As a result, the Parties 22 would incur considerably more attorneys' fees and costs through trial. Ibid.

23 Based on Plaintiff's counsel's analysis of the time and payroll records provided by 24 Defendant and on information from Plaintiff, Plaintiff's counsel evaluated Defendant's maximum 25 and risk-adjusted potential exposure. Sung Decl., ¶ 21. Based on Defendant's disclosures, there 26 were approximately 636 Aggrieved Employees who collectively worked approximately 90,003 pay 27 periods. Ibid.

28 ///

1 Plaintiff's assessment of potential recovery of PAGA penalties in this Motion is limited to 2 $100 initial penalties because, to Plaintiff's knowledge, Defendant has not been subject to any prior 3 court judgments or Labor Commissioner order placing it on notice of any violation pertaining to the 4 claims Plaintiff asserted and the heightened subsequent violation penalty should not apply. Sung 5 Decl., ¶ 22; see Lab. Code § 2699(f)(2)(B) (authorizing heightened $200 per pay period civil 6 penalty if, "[w]ithin the five years preceding the alleged violation, the agency or any court issued a 7 finding or determination to the employer that its policy or practice giving rise to the violation was 8 unlawful.). Plaintiff's counsel's valuation of each theory of liability is set forth below.

9 As a preliminary matter, as to all of Plaintiff's PAGA claims, Defendant argued that 10 Aggrieved Employees were either covered by the CBAs and were exemption from California's 11 overtime and paid sick leave laws or were transportation delivery drivers exempt from California's 12 overtime and meal and rest period premiums under the Motor Carrier Exemption. Sung Decl., ¶ 23².
13 Based on Plaintiff's expert's analysis of the records, the expert estimates 657 unionized Class
14 Members working 62,126 Pay Periods earned an hourly rate of more than 30% the minimum wage 15 and are exempt from California's overtime and paid sick leave requirements; 156 Class Members 16 working 13,400 pay periods were drivers exempt from California's overtime and meal and rest 17 period requirements; and only 87 Class Members working 2,202 pay periods earned less than 30% 18 more than the minimum wage and are not subject to any exemption. Ibid.

19 Furthermore, as to all claims, Defendant argues the Court will exercise its discretion to 20 reduce PAGA penalties. Sung Decl., ¶ 24. Pursuant to Labor Code § 2699(e)(2), the Court can 21 decline to award the full amount of PAGA penalties where "... if, based on the facts and 22 _____

23 ² See Lab. Code § 514 ("Sections 510 and 511 do not apply to an employee covered by a valid collective bargaining 24 agreement if the agreement expressly provides for the wages, hours of work, and working conditions of the employees, 25 and if the agreement provides premium wage rates for all overtime hours worked and a regular hourly rate of pay for 26 those employees of not less than 30 percent more than the state minimum wage."); Lab. Code § 245.5(a)(1) ("As used in 27 this article: (a) 'Employee' does not include . . . an employee covered by a valid collective bargaining agreement if the 28 agreement expressly provides for the wages, hours of work, and working conditions of employees, and expressly provides for paid sick days or a paid leave or paid time off policy that permits the use of sick days for those employees, final and binding arbitration of disputes concerning the application of its paid sick days provisions, premium wage rates for all overtime hours worked, and regular hourly rate of pay of not less than 30 percent more than the state minimum wage rate."); International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Local 2785 v. Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (9th Cir. 2021) 986 F.3d 841, 845 (extending the Motor Carrier Exemption to overtime to California's meal and rest period rules).

1 circumstances of the particular case, to do otherwise, would result in an award that is unjust,
2 arbitrary and oppressive, or confiscatory.” Indeed, courts have affirmed the reduction of PAGA 3 penalties in the past. As shown in Carrington v. Starbucks Corp. (2018) 30 Cal.App.5th 504, 517, 4 the Court of Appeal affirmed the trial court’s reduction of PAGA penalties by 90%, citing the 5 employer’s good-faith attempt at complying with the law. (See also Thurman v. Bayshore Transit
6 Mgmt., Inc. (2012) 203 Cal.App.4th 1112, 1135 [affirming reduction of PAGA penalties]; Fleming
7 v. Covidien Inc. (C.D. Cal. 2011) Case No. ED CV10-01487 RGK (OPx), 2011 WL 7563047, at *4
8 [reducing PAGA penalties by over 82% in part because employer “not aware” of violations]. Here, 9 Defendant argued that based on their compliant policies and practices, their defenses on Plaintiff’s
10 theories of liability on the merits, and the hyper technical nature of the regular rate claims, the Court 11 will significantly reduce any award of PAGA penalties based on its good-faith compliance with the 12 Labor Code. Sung Decl., ¶ 24.

13 Off-the-Clock Work. Plaintiff alleges that he frequently worked off the clock without pay 14 during his meal breaks and post-shift because Defendant only permitted him and his coworkers to 15 work up to 11.5 hours in a shift. Sung Decl., ¶ 25. Any off-the-clock work would not be reflected in 16 the records. Ibid. Estimating that non-driver Class Members worked off the clock in approximately 17 25% of pay periods, Plaintiff’s expert estimates Defendant’s maximum penalty exposure for off the 18 clock work to be approximately $1,635,720. Ibid.

19 In response and in addition to the penalty reduction and exemption defenses, Defendant 20 argues it has compliant policies that prohibit working off the clock and require all employees to 21 receive wages for all hours worked. Ibid. The sampling shows that Defendant paid over 330,000
22 overtime hours and overtime premiums (i.e., 0.5 premium rate) of over $6,300,000 and over 41,000 23 double time hours and double time premiums (i.e., 1.0 premium rate) of over $1,000,000. Ibid.
24 Defendant thus contends that Plaintiff’s off-the-clock work claim is individualized and not 25 manageable as there is no evidence of a common policy or practice forcing Aggrieved Employees 26 to work off the clock and numerous individual inquiries would be needed to assess which 27 Aggrieved Employees, if any, worked off the clock, how often, the reasons why a particular 28 Aggrieved Employees worked off the clock, and whether Defendant knew or should have known

1 that Aggrieved Employee worked off the clock for the imposition of classwide liability. Ibid; see,
2 e.g., Williams v. Superior Court (2013) 221 Cal.App.4th 1353, 1369, as modified (Dec. 24, 2013)
3 (standard for liability for off-the-clock work). Thus, Plaintiff discounted Defendant's maximum 4 exposure by 80% to account for the risk of the Court reducing penalties and further discounted the 5 exposure by 50% to account for the risk of being unsuccessful on the merits or failure to recover the 6 full amount sought, to arrive at a realistic exposure of $163,572.50. Ibid.

7 Meal Period Violations. Plaintiff alleges that he and other employees frequently worked off 8 the clock during their meal breaks and did not receive compliant meal breaks. Sung Decl., ¶ 26.
9 Any instances of such meal period violations would be not reflected in the records. Ibid. Estimating 10 that non-driver Class Members worked off the clock in approximately 25% of pay periods, 11 Plaintiff's expert estimates Defendant's maximum penalty exposure for meal period violations to be 12 approximately $1,608,200. Ibid.

13 In response and in addition to the penalty reduction and exemption defenses, Defendant
14 counters that it has maintained compliant meal period policies and practices throughout the PAGA 15 Period and always provided compliant meal periods in line with those policies. Ibid; see Brinker 16 Rest. Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1040-1041 (holding employers need only 17 "provide" meal periods to employees and are not obligated to "police" meal periods). Defendant 18 points to the fact that the sampling time records showed superior meal period compliance rate 19 (Plaintiff's expert found less than 2% of shifts had a facial meal period violation) and that it paid 20 approximately over 400 meal period premiums, including to Plaintiff, as evidence of its superior 21 meal period compliance practices. Ibid. As such, Defendant maintains Plaintiff's meal period claim 22 is unmanageable since individual inquiries would be needed to assess which employees, if any, took 23 non-compliant meal periods, how many meal periods were non-compliant, and the reasons why a 24 particular employee did not take a meal period on a particular shift and a meal period premium was 25 not paid. Ibid. Thus, Plaintiff discounted Defendant's maximum exposure by 80% to account for the 26 risk of the Court reducing penalties and further discounted the exposure by 50% to account for the 27 risk of being unsuccessful on the merits or failure to recover the full amount sought, to arrive at a 28 realistic exposure of $160,820. Ibid.

1 Rest Period Violations. Plaintiff alleges that he and other employees frequently were unable 2 to take their rest breaks. Sung Decl., ¶ 27. Any rest period violations would not be reflected in the 3 time or payroll records. Ibid. Any instances of such meal period violations would be not reflected in 4 the records. Ibid. Estimating that non-driver Class Members worked off the clock in approximately 5 25% of pay periods, Plaintiff's expert estimates Defendant's maximum penalty exposure for meal 6 period violations to be approximately $1,608,200. Ibid.

7 In response, Defendant counters that it has maintained compliant rest period policies and 8 practices throughout the PAGA Period and always provided compliant rest periods in line with 9 those policies. Ibid. As such, Defendant maintains Plaintiff's rest period claim is unmanageable 10 since individual inquiries would be needed to assess which employees, if any, took non-compliant 11 rest periods, how many rest periods were non-compliant, and the reasons why a particular employee 12 did not take a rest period on a particular shift. Ibid. Thus, Plaintiff discounted Defendant's 13 maximum exposure by 80% to account for the risk of the Court reducing penalties and further 14 discounted the exposure by 50% to account for the risk of being unsuccessful on the merits or 15 failure to recover the full amount sought, to arrive at a realistic exposure of $160,820. Ibid.

16 Regular Rate Violations. Regular rate of pay, which can change from pay period to pay 17 period, includes adjustments to the straight time rate, reflecting, among other things, shift 18 differentials and the per-hour value of any nonhourly compensation the employee has earned.”
19 Alvarado v. Dart Container Corp. of California (2018) 4 Cal.5th 542, 554; see also Ferra v. Loews 20 Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 858, 863 (meal and rest period premiums to be paid at 21 regular rate of pay); Lab. Code § 246(l)(1) (paid sick leave to be paid at the regular rate of pay or at 22 a rate based on a 90-day lookback of compensation earned).

23 Here, Plaintiff claims that Defendant failed to incorporate non-discretionary incentive 24 compensation, including shift differentials, into the paid sick leave rate of pay. Sung Decl., ¶ 28.
25 Excluding unionized Aggrieved Employees who are exempt from Labor Code § 246, Plaintiff 26 expert estimates Defendant's maximum exposure for paid sick leave regular rate violations to be 27 approximately $115,300. Ibid. In response, Defendant argues that any underpayment of paid sick 28 leave is “pennies and cents” and grossly disproportionate to a $100 penalty per pay period. Ibid.

1 Thus, Plaintiff discounted Defendant's maximum exposure by 80% to account for the risk of the 2 Court reducing penalties to arrive at a realistic exposure of $23,060. Ibid

3 Failure to Reimburse Necessary Business Expenses. Plaintiff states he was required to use 4 his personal cellphone for work because Union Pacific would contact him on his cellphone. Sung
5 Decl., ¶ 29. In response, Defendant argues that only a handful of employees worked in Plaintiff's 6 positions where contact with railroad is needed and in any event, Defendant provided employees in 7 this position, including Plaintiff, with radios, and any cellphone use was strictly out of Plaintiff's 8 own convenience. Ibid. In light of Defendant's defenses, Plaintiff does not assign any value to this 9 claim. Ibid.

10 Derivative Wage Statement and Waiting Time Penalties. As a result of the unpaid wages and 11 meal and rest period premium wages described above, Plaintiff contends that Defendant failed to 12 comply with its final pay obligations set forth in Labor Code §§ 201 to 202 to former employees
13 and failed to issue accurate itemized wage statements to Class Members as set forth in Labor Code 14 § 226(a). Sung Decl., ¶ 30. Thus, the claims for waiting time and wage statement penalties are 15 derivative of the underlying claims. Ibid.

16 Estimating a 25% violation rate for non-driver Aggrieved Employees and the same paid sick
17 leave regular rate violation rate for driver Aggrieved Employees, Plaintiff's expert estimates 18 Defendant's maximum exposure for derivative wage statement penalties to be approximately 19 $1,716,900. Ibid. In response, Defendant advances the same defenses as for the underlining claims.
20 Ibid. Thus, Plaintiff discounted Defendant's maximum exposure by 80% to account for the risk of 21 the Court reducing penalties and further discounted the exposure by 50% to account for the risk of 22 being unsuccessful on the merits or failure to recover the full amount sought, to arrive at a realistic 23 exposure of $171,690. Ibid. Estimating every single formerly employed Aggrieved Employee 24 experienced at least one violation, and at $100 per former employee, Plaintiff's expert estimates 25 Defendant's maximum exposure for derivative waiting time penalties to be approximately $24,600
26 and Plaintiff does not apply any further discount to this claim. Ibid.

27 Maximum Exposure and Realistic Recovery at Trial. Based on the foregoing, Plaintiff's 28 counsel believes the realistic recovery at trial on these claims to be $704,562.50. Sung Decl., ¶ 31.

1 The $465,000.00 settlement is a fair result and amounts to “genuine and meaningful” relief 2 “consistent with the underlying purpose of the statute to benefit the public” as it represents 3 approximately 66.00% of Plaintiff’s realistic recovery. Ibid.; see Villalobos v. Calandri Sunrise
4 Farm LP (C.D. Cal., July 22, 2015, No. CV 12-2615 PSG (JEMx)) 2015 WL 12732709, at *5; see 5 also O’Connor v. Uber Technologies, Inc. (N.D. Cal. 2016) 201 F.Supp.3d 1110, 1135. This is a 6 fair and equitable result, particularly because, under the Settlement, Aggrieved Employees will 7 receive timely, guaranteed relief and will avoid the risk of not being able to recover anything. Sung 8 Decl., ¶ 29.

9 C. THE REQUESTED ATTORNEYS’ FEES AND COST AWARD SHOULD BE 10 APPROVED

11 For the reasons set forth below, Plaintiff requests that the Court approve an attorney’s fee 12 award of $155,000.00 and cost award of $26,334.65 to Plaintiff’s counsel.

13 1. Plaintiff’s Counsel Request an Award of Fees Based on the Common 14 Fund Method

15 California courts have long awarded attorneys’ fees as a percentage of the benefit created by 16 counsel in pursuing claims on behalf of a class. (See, e.g., Serrano v. Priest (1977) 20 Cal.3d 25. The 17 California Supreme Court has held, “when a number of persons are entitled in common to a specific 18 fund, and an action brought by a plaintiff or Plaintiff for the benefit of all results in the creation or 19 preservation of that fund, such plaintiff or Plaintiff may be awarded attorney’s fees out of the fund.” Id.
20 at 34.

21 Plaintiff’s counsel seeks an award of attorneys’ fees on the “percentage of recovery/common 22 fund” theory. The purpose of this approach is to “spread litigation costs proportionately among all the 23 beneficiaries so that the active beneficiary does not bear the entire burden alone.” Vincent v. Hughes Air 24 W., Inc. (9th Cir. 1977) 557 F.2d 759, 769. In Quinn v. State of Cal. (1975) 15 Cal.3d 162, 167 the 25 California Supreme Court stated, “one who expends attorneys’ fees in winning a suit which creates a 26 fund from which others derive benefits, may require those passive beneficiaries to bear a fair share of 27 the litigation costs.” Similarly, in City and County of San Francisco v. Sweet (1995) 12 Cal.4th 105, 28 110-111, the California Supreme Court recognized that the common fund doctrine has been applied

1 “consistently in California when an action brought by one party creates a fund in which other persons[]
2 are entitled to share.” The reasons for applying this doctrine include:

3 fairness to the successful litigant, who might otherwise receive no benefit because his 4 recovery might be consumed by the expenses; correlative prevention of an unfair 5 advantage to the others who are entitled to share in the fund and who should bear their 6 share of the burden of its recovery; encouragement of the attorney for the successful litigant, who will be more willing to undertake and diligently prosecute proper litigation for the protection or recovery of the fund if he is assured that he will be properly and directly compensated should his efforts be successful.

7 Id. at 111.

8 Several courts have expressed frustration with the alternative “lodestar” approach for deciding 9 fee awards, which usually involves wading through voluminous and often indecipherable time records.

10 Commenting on the lodestar approach, Chief Judge Marilyn Hall Patel wrote in In re Activision
11 Securities Litigation (N.D. Cal. 1989) 723 F.Supp.1373:

12 This court is compelled to ask, “Is this process necessary?” Under a cost-benefit analysis, 13 the answer would be a resounding, “No!” Not only do the Lindy and Kerr-Johnson 14 analyses consume an undue amount of court time with little resulting advantage to anyone, but, in fact, it may be to the detriment of the class members.

15 Id. at 1375. The percentage approach is preferable to the lodestar because: (1) it aligns the interests 16 of class counsel and absent class members; (2) it encourages efficient resolution of the litigation by 17 providing an incentive for early, yet reasonable, settlement; and (3) it reduces the demands on 18 judicial resources. Id. at 1378-1379. California Courts now routinely use the percentage of the 19 common fund approach to determine the award of attorney’s fees. See, e.g., In re Pac. Enter. Sec.
20 Litig. (9th Cir. 1995) 47 F.3d 373, 378-379 (approving attorneys’ fee award of 33%).

21 2. The Requested Fee is in Line with Typical Cases

22 “No general rule can be articulated on what is a reasonable percentage of a common fund.
23 Usually, 50% of the fund is the upper limit on a reasonable fee award from a common fund in order to 24 assure that the fees do not consume a disproportionate part of the recovery obtained for the class, 25 although somewhat larger percentages are not unprecedented.” Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions 26 (3rd ed. 1992) § 14.03. Attorneys’ fees that are 50% of the fund are typically considered the upper limit, 27 with 30–40% commonly awarded in cases where the settlement is relatively small. Ibid.; see also Van 28 Vranken v. Atlantic Richfield Co. (N.D. Cal. 1995) 901 F.Supp. 294, 297 (stating that most cases where 1 30–50% was awarded involved “smaller” settlement funds of under $10 million).

2 Here, Plaintiff request attorneys’ fees equal to 33 1/3% of the Gross Settlement Amount, which 3 is in line with the prevailing guidelines established under California case law and in academic literature
4 and is consistent with awards in California. Chavez v. Netflix, Inc. (2008) 162 Cal.App.4th 43, 66, n.11
5 (“Empirical studies show that, regardless whether the percentage method or the lodestar method is used, 6 fee awards in class actions average around one-third of the recovery.”).

7 3. The Matter Involves a Fee and Cost Shifting Provision under PAGA

8 Labor Code section 2699 provides for the recovery of reasonable attorney’s fees as well as 9 costs of suit. Lab. Code § 2699(k)(1). Specifically, it states: “Any employee who prevails in any 10 [PAGA] action shall be entitled to an award of reasonable attorney’s fees and costs . . .” Ibid. This 11 fee/cost-shifting provision reflects the understanding that PAGA Counsel must accept significant 12 risk of substantial expenses and consumption of time, energy, and other resources in litigating a 13 PAGA claim, and thus, that PAGA Counsel is not only permitted, but entitled, to recover 14 reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs if successful in litigating a PAGA claim.

15 This Settlement is beneficial in that it limits the risk of continued expenses and consumption
16 of time, energy, and resources facing Defendant while at the same time rewarding Plaintiff’s 17 counsel for their decision to assume risk by taking on this matter. Sung Decl., ¶ 32. In fact,
18 prosecution of this action involved significant financial risk for Plaintiff’s counsel. Ibid. Plaintiff’s 19 counsel undertook this matter solely on a contingent basis, with no guarantee of recovery. Ibid.
20 Once Plaintiff’s counsel undertook this litigation on behalf of the Aggrieved Employees, they 21 committed to pursue it to its conclusion, placing their fiduciary duty to the Aggrieved Employees 22 ahead of all other concerns. Ibid.

23 4. The Experience, Reputation, and Ability of Plaintiff’s counsel Support
24 the Requested Fee Award

25 As demonstrated by their past experience in pursuing class and representative actions on 26 behalf of employees, Plaintiff’s counsel possess considerable expertise in litigating class action and 27 representative matters. Sung Decl., ¶¶ 2-6. Plaintiff’s counsel have been involved as lead counsel or 28 co-counsel in a multitude of class and representative actions resulting in beneficial results to class

1 members and aggrieved employees in California. Sung Decl., ¶ 4. Because it is reasonable to 2 compensate Plaintiff's counsel commensurate with their skill, reputation, and experience, Plaintiff's 3 counsel's requested fee award is supported here.

4 Plaintiff's counsels' experience in wage and hour class and representative actions was 5 integral in evaluating the strengths and weaknesses of the case against Defendant and the 6 reasonableness of this Settlement. Sung Decl., ¶ 33. Practice in the narrow field of wage and hour 7 litigation requires skill and knowledge concerning the rapidly evolving substantive law (state and 8 federal), as well as the procedural law of representative action litigation. Ibid. Based on these and 9 other factors, Plaintiff's counsel have recently received fee awards based on a percentage of the 10 gross recovery. Ibid. Therefore, the requested fee award is reasonable and fair.

11 5. While the Lodestar Method is Not Necessary in Common Fund Cases, 12 the Court May Perform a Cross-Check to Award Fees

13 “Despite its primacy, the lodestar method is not necessarily utilized in common fund cases.”
14 (Lealao v. Beneficial Cal., Inc. (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 19, 27. Courts have criticized the lodestar 15 method as a drain on the judicial system and a disincentive on attorneys to take on high-risk, 16 challenging cases. Ibid. at p. 29. Indeed, the lodestar approach: “(1) ‘increases the workload of an 17 already overtaxed judicial system,’ (2) is ‘insufficiently objective and produce[s] results that are far 18 from homogenous,’ (3) ‘creates a sense of mathematical precision that is unwarranted in terms of 19 the realities of the practice of law,’ (4) ‘is subject to manipulation by judges who prefer to calibrate 20 fees in terms of percentages of the settlement fund or the amounts recovered by the Plaintiff or of 21 an overall dollar amount,’ (5) ‘encourages lawyers to expend excessive hours, and . . . engage in 22 duplicative and unjustified work,’ (6) ‘creates a disincentive for the early settlement of cases,’ (7) 23 deprives trial courts of ‘flexibility to reward or deter lawyers so that desirable objectives, such as 24 early settlement, will be fostered,’ (8) ‘works to the particular disadvantage of the public interest 25 bar,’ and (9) results in ‘confusion and lack of predictability.’” Ibid. (quoting Third Circuit Task 26 Force, Court Awarded Attorney Fees (1985) 108 F.R.D. 237, 246-249).

27 Although California courts support the common fund doctrine, the lodestar method can be 28 used to cross-check fee awards. “It may be appropriate in some cases, assuming the class benefit

1 can be monetized with a reasonable degree of certainty, to ‘cross-check’ or adjust the lodestar in 2 comparison to a percentage of the common fund to ensure that the fee awarded is reasonable and 3 within the range of fees freely negotiated in the legal marketplace in comparable litigation.” In re
4 Consumer Privacy Cases (2009) 175 Cal.App.4th 545, 557 (quoting Lealao, 82 Cal.App.4th at 49-5 50).

6 Applying the lodestar method is a two-step process. The first step is to multiply the number 7 of hours reasonably expended by a reasonable hourly rate, and the second step is to apply a 8 multiplier to the lodestar to account for various factors. Id. at 556. “The purpose of such adjustment 9 is to fix a fee at the fair market value for the particular action. In effect, the court determines, 10 retrospectively, whether the litigation involved a contingent risk or required extraordinary legal skill 11 justifying augmentation of the unadorned lodestar in order to approximate the fair market rate for 12 such services.” Ibid. “Under certain circumstances, a lodestar calculation may be enhanced on the 13 basis of a percentage-of-the-benefit analysis.” Id. at 556-557. Further, “California case law permits 14 fee awards in the absence of detailed time sheets.” Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc. (2001) 91 15 Cal.App.4th 224, 255.

16 Under California law, lodestar multipliers can range from 2 to 4 or even higher. See, e.g., 17 Chavez v. Netflix (2008) 162 Cal.App.4th 43, 49-50 (approving multiplier of about 2.5); Coalition
18 for L.A. County Planning etc. Interest v. Bd. of Supervisors (1977) 76 Cal.App.3d 241, 251 19 (approving multiplier of about 12.8). In representative actions such as this one, where the value of 20 the benefit conferred to the representative group “can be monetized with a reasonable degree of 21 certainty,” the court may “adjust the lodestar in comparison to a percentage of the common fund to 22 ensure that the fee awarded is reasonable and within the range of fees freely negotiated in the legal 23 marketplace in comparable litigation.” Consumer Privacy Cases (2009) 175 Cal.App.4th 545, 557.

24 Moreover, the use of a multiplier is permitted in a PAGA action. PAGA provides that “[a]ny 25 employee who prevails in any action shall be entitled to an award of reasonable attorney’s fees and 26 costs.” Lab. Code § 2699(k)(1). Although PAGA does not provide a specific standard for 27 evaluating attorney’s fees in connection with a settlement of PAGA claims, California Courts have 28 employed a lodestar analysis and use of multipliers for this purpose. “Where a settlement produces a common fund for the benefit of the entire class, courts have discretion to employ either the lodestar method or the percentage-of-recovery method. . . To guard against an unreasonable result, the Ninth Circuit encourages district courts to “cross-check[] their calculations against a second method. . . . Accordingly, the Court calculates attorneys’ fees in the instant case using the percentage-of-recovery method and then cross-checks its calculations against the lodestar method.” Hermosillo v. Davey Tree Surgery Co. (N.D. Cal. July 7, 2021, No. 18-CV-00393-LHK) 2021 WL 2826697, at *1 (quoting In re Bluetooth Headset Prods. Liab. Litig. (9th Cir. 2011) 654 F.3d 935, 942, 944-945). The court in Hermosillo granted, in part, a plaintiff’s counsel’s unopposed motion for attorney’s fees and costs in a PAGA-only settlement, wherein 33.33% of the gross settlement fund was requested for fees. Id. at *1–3.

Here, Plaintiff’s counsel’s current lodestar is $64,815.00, broken down as:

Name	Laffey Matrix Fee	Actual Billing Rate	Hours Billed	Lodestar
William C. Sung (14 th Year Attorney)	$948	$850	83.00	$70,550.00
Tiffany L. Luu (5 th Year Attorney)	$581	$500	54.50	$27,250.00
		Total:	137.50	$97,800.00

Sung Decl., ¶¶ 34-38. Plaintiff’s counsel’s requested fee award represents a 1.58 lodestar multiplier. Sung Decl., ¶ 34. Additionally, Plaintiff’s counsel estimate they will devote no less than 10 hours, although likely more time, to additional tasks, which are hours not included in the foregoing lodestar total. Sung Decl., ¶ 39. These additional hours will include time spent to obtain and monitor approval of the Settlement and requested awards, oversee the settlement administration process and distribution of funds, respond to inquiries, and communicate with Plaintiff regarding the case. Ibid.

Plaintiff’s counsel also bear the risk of taking whatever actions are necessary if Defendant fails to pay. The amount of fees requested under the Settlement is warranted based on the contingent risk that Counsel incurred, the difficulty of the questions involved, the substantial benefit conferred on the Aggrieved Employees and State of California as a result of the Settlement, and the skill displayed by Plaintiff’s counsel. Thus, the request for attorneys’ fees satisfies a

1 lodestar check. Accordingly, the Court should find that the circumstances of the present case justify 2 an award of 33 1/3% of the Gross Settlement Amount for attorney's fees.

3 6. Plaintiff's Counsels' Costs Are Reasonable and Actually Incurred

4 Plaintiff's counsel are entitled to recover the out-of-pocket costs and expenses they 5 reasonably incurred in investigating, prosecuting, and settling a case. (Staton v. Boeing Co. (9th Cir.
6 2003) 327 F.3d 938, 974; Lab. Code § 2699(g)(1). Under the proposed Settlement, Plaintiff's
7 counsel may request reimbursement of costs up to $27,000.00. Agreement, § III.4.a. Plaintiff's 8 litigation costs are approximately $26,334.65, including estimated future costs in filing this Motion 9 and supporting papers ($77.97), supplemental filings for this Motion ($16.17), Case Anywhere
10 System Access Fee from February to March 2026 ($140.00), and filing of the Settlement 11 Administrator's declaration of compliance re settlement administration ($16.17). Sung Decl., ¶ 17;
