1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Plaintiff Michael Goldberg hereby moves the Court for an order granting preliminary 3 approval to a proposed non-reversionary class action settlement to resolve wage and hour claims on 4 behalf of approximately 837 individuals who are or previously were employed by Defendant in 5 California and classified as non-exempt employees at any time during the Class Period of March 8, 6 2022 through April 27, 2025. The proposed $650,000 settlement will provide about $349,833 in 7 cash payments to the class, with an average award currently estimated at about $418. The balance 8 of approximately $300,167 will cover reasonable attorney's fees and actual litigation costs, civil 9 penalties to the state, settlement administration costs, and an enhancement award to plaintiff. The 10 settlement is the product of Plaintiff's pre-filing investigation, formal discovery and a pre-mediation 11 exchange of information, and arms-length negotiations overseen by experienced mediator Kevin 12 Barnes, Esq.

13 The proposed settlement is within the "range of reasonableness" for approval and Plaintiff's counsel 14 submit the settlement is a fair result given the substantial risks inherent in this matter. Accordingly, 15 Plaintiff requests the Court enter an order: (1) granting preliminary approval to the proposed class 16 action settlement; (2) conditionally certifying the settlement class as defined below; (3) appointing 17 Zachary M. Crosner and Brandon Brouillette, and Crosner Legal, P.C. as Class Counsel; (4)
18 appointing Plaintiff Michael Goldberg as the Class Representative; (5) appointing Phoenix 19 Settlement Administrators as the Settlement Administrator; (6) approving the form of notice to the 20 class and the notice procedure; and (7) scheduling a final fairness hearing.

21 II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND AND PROCEDURAL POSTURE

22 Defendant GPS provides various services to the oil industry throughout the San Joaquin 23 Valley, Ventura, and the Central Coast. Plaintiff Michael Goldberg ("Plaintiff") worked for GPS
24 for only a short while from March 29, 2023 until he resigned the morning of May 9, 2023. Plaintiff's 25 employment covered a four-week training period at Defendant's training yard in Taft, California
26 and then a single day out in the oil field before he resigned. [Declaration of Brandon K. Brouillette
27 ("Brouillette Decl."), ¶ 4.]

28 Plaintiff alleges a number of wage and hour violations by Defendant. First, he alleges

1 Defendant's failure to provide off-duty meal and rest breaks during the training portion of his 2 employment Defendant's failure to provide a third rest break for shifts greater than 10 hours (covering 3 194,862 class member shifts Defendant's failure to pay meal period premiums when employees worked 4 shifts greater than 10 hours and did not expressly agree to waive their right to a second meal period
5 Defendant's failure to provide wage statements that accurately listed the total hours worked when vacation
6 wages were paid (covering 2,537 class member pay periods) Derivative wage statement and waiting time
7 penalties Based on these allegations, and after notice the LWDA and GPS, Plaintiff On August 6, 2024, 8 Plaintiff filed a class and representative action complaint against Defendant in the Superior Court of the 9 State of California, County of Kern, seeking civil penalties pursuant to Labor Code § 2699, et seq. for 10 alleged violations of the Labor Code, as well as seeking damages for those alleged labor code violations, 11 among others. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 5; Exh. 3.]

12 GPS has at all times denied Plaintiff's allegations and maintained its meal and rest break and 13 payroll policies and procedures comply with California law, that it provided employees with 14 required meal and rest breaks or paid the required compensation for any documented meal/rest 15 violations. Additionally, GPS strongly contends the case cannot be maintained as a class action, 16 arguing for example that to the extent class members missed meal and/or rest breaks, that such 17 breaks were non-compliant, or that class members had to sue their own phones for work it was 18 intermittent and infrequent and evidence of such missed breaks or phone use would be anecdotal, 19 and therefore individualized issues would predominate. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 6.]

20 Once the matter was at issue, the Parties began meeting and conferring regarding discovery, 21 law and motion, and other case management issues, and ultimately agreed to attempt early 22 mediation. The Parties also agreed on a protocol for an exchange of additional documents and 23 information before the mediation to facilitate the settlement discussions. Consequently, Plaintiff's 24 counsel reviewed payroll records, compensation plans, personnel policies/handbooks, meal and rest 25 break policies, personnel files, and a random of sampling of Class Member paystubs and time 26 records. Defendant also provided data regarding the total number of putative class members, the 27 estimated total amount of workweeks and pay periods they worked, average pay rates, and 28

1 information regarding other non-hourly compensation, among other relevant data. [Brouillette
2 Decl., ¶ 7.]

3 The Parties then engaged Kevin Barnes, Esq., a respected professional neutral with 4 substantial wage and hour and class action experience. In February 2025, the Parties participated in 5 a full day mediation with Mr. Barnes. Throughout the day, the arms-length negotiations were hard-
6 fought and adversarial as the Parties exchanged extensive information on their legal and factual 7 positions, and made numerous offers and counter-offers, and ultimately reached agreement on all 8 major issues. The Parties then collaboratively drafted the Class Action and PAGA Settlement 9 (“Settlement Agreement”) setting forth the settlement terms now before the Court for approval.
10 [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 8.] A fully-executed, true and correct copy of the Settlement Agreement is 11 attached to the Brouillette Declaration as Exhibit 1.

12 III. THE PROPOSED SETTLEMENT TERMS

13 Under the settlement, GPS will pay $650,000 into a common fund, the Gross Settlement 14 Amount (“GSA”). Attorney’s fees of up to $216,666.67 (1/3 of the GSA), litigation costs of up to 15 $20,000, settlement administration costs of no more than $13,500, a service award to Plaintiff of no
16 more than $10,000, and PAGA civil penalties of $40,000, all will be paid from the GSA. The balance 17 of around $349,822 will be allocated pro rata to the Class Members based on their weeks worked 18 during the Class Period. No portion of the GSA will revert to GPS. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 9.]

19 A. Certification of the Settlement Class

20 The settlement provides for conditional certification of a settlement class including all 21 individuals employed by GPS in California and classified as non-exempt who worked for Defendant 22 during the Class Period of June 16, 2019 to July 13, 2024. The Settlement Class consists of about 23 837 individuals. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 10.]

24 B. The Benefit Conferred on the Settlement Class

25 As noted, the settlement obligates GPS to pay $650,000 to resolve the Settlement Class’s 26 claims, inclusive of attorney’s fees and costs. At least $349,833 from the GSA will be distributed 27 to the Participating Class Members. This is a cash settlement that does not require Participating 28 Class Members to submit a claim form to receive their settlement share. Participating Class

1 Members will receive their settlement checks automatically via First Class U.S. Mail. Fifteen 2 percent of each settlement share will be allocated to wages and the remaining eighty-five percent
3 will be allocated to penalties and interest, which allocation is consistent with GPS's potential 4 liability. GPS will pay any and all applicable employer-side payroll taxes separately and in addition 5 to the GSA. Subject to the Court's approval, any amounts not claimed (because a class member 6 does not cash their settlement check) will be forwarded to the State Controller's Unclaimed Property
7 Fund. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 11.]

8 Each Participating Class Member will receive a share of the Net Settlement Amount based 9 on his or her total weeks worked in California as a non-exempt employee during the Class Period, 10 and the settlement awards further will account for whether the individual signed an arbitration 11 agreement – members of the arbitration agreement subclass will receive a reduced pro rata amount 12 relative to the non-arbitration agreement subclass by a factor of fifty percent to account for 13 Defendant's contention that such individuals are excluded from participating in a class action. Thus, 14 each Class Member's Individual Settlement Payment will be calculated using criteria typically used 15 in determining appropriate amounts of unpaid wages, unpaid premium wages for missed meal and 16 rest breaks, and potential statutory penalties under applicable law, and further will account for the 17 arbitration issue. These methods are intended to ensure each Class Member receives a settlement 18 award corresponding to the relative value of their potential claims. The proposed allocation provides 19 a reasonable way to compensate Class Members based on the amount of time they worked for GPS 20 in California and the number of missed/non-compliant meal breaks and/or rest breaks, inaccurate 21 wage statements, etc. The average award is estimated to be around $418. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 12.]

22 C. Settlement Administration

23 Subject to the Court's approval, the Parties have agreed on Phoenix Settlement 24 Administrators ("Phoenix") as the Settlement Administrator. Phoenix is qualified and has 25 significant experience administering class action settlements, including numerous wage and hour 26 matters. Phoenix's fees and costs will not exceed $13,500. If the Court approves less than the above 27 amount, the difference will remain in the Net Settlement Amount for distribution to the Participating 28 Class Members. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 13; Declaration of Michael Moore, ¶¶ 2-6; Exhs. A-C.]

1 D. The Class Notice

2 The proposed Notice of Class Action Settlement (Exhibit A to the Settlement Agreement)
3 sets out information about this case and explains the basic settlement terms in plain language. The 4 Notice also sets forth the individualized information used to calculate Class Members' Individual 5 Settlement Payments and each Class Member's estimated settlement award. The Notice likewise 6 details the procedures for Class Members to dispute their individual information, the procedure for 7 submitting an objection to the Settlement, the procedure to request exclusion, and the fact that any 8 final judgment will bind all class members who do not opt out. Cal. Rules of Court 3.769(f) and 9 3.766(d). In sum, the Notice provides the Class Members with the information necessary to 10 evaluate the Settlement and decide to participate in, opt out of, or object to the proposed 11 Settlement, and meets all requirements imposed by the California Rules of Court. Coupled with 12 the notice procedure, the Notice provides the best notice practicable. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 14]

13 E. Right to Correct Information, Opt Out, or Object

14 Class Members will have forty-five (45) days to dispute the information in their Notice 15 used to calculate their settlement award, and also have 45 days to submit any objections to the 16 settlement or to request exclusion. If a Class Member disputes their individual information, the 17 Settlement Administrator will review the Class Member's records and any other information
18 submitted, and make a final determination. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 15.]

19 F. Release of Claims

20 All Participating Class Members will release GPS and the Released Parties (including the 21 Clorox Defendants) from all claims alleged in the operative complaint, or that could have been 22 brought based on the factual allegations in the complaint during the Class Period. The release is 23 limited to the claims that were actually pleaded or could have been pleaded based on the alleged 24 facts in the operative complaint. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 16.]

25 G. Plaintiff's Enhancement Award

26 A modest incentive award for Plaintiff is appropriate under applicable law. See Staton v.
27 Boeing (9th Cir. 2003) 327 F.3d 938, 977 (collecting cases awarding class representatives service 28 and incentive payments ranging from $2,000 to $25,000). He devoted time and resources to the

1 litigation, provided documents, assisted Class Counsel with investigating the claims asserted and in 2 preparing for mediation. The service payment provided to Plaintiff as the class representatives is 3 typical in class action cases and reasonable. Rodriguez v. W Publ'g Corp. (9th Cir. 2009) 563 F.3d 4 948, 958-59 (incentive awards are “intended to compensate class representatives for work done on 5 behalf of the class, to make up for financial or reputational risk undertaken in bringing the action, 6 and, sometimes, to recognize their willingness to act as a private attorney general.”). Defendant will 7 not oppose a request for an enhancement award to Plaintiff of not more than $10,000.00 in 8 recognition of his time spent on this matter, the risks he undertook on behalf of the class, and the 9 benefit conferred to the class, as addressed in his declaration filed herewith. If the Court approves
10 less than the above amount, the difference will remain in the Net Settlement Amount for distribution
11 to the Participating Class Members. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 17; Declaration of Michael Goldberg, ¶¶ 12 2-9.]

13 H. Attorney’s Fees and Costs

14 The terms of the Parties’ settlement also allow Plaintiff’s counsel to apply for an award of 15 attorney’s fees of up to one-third of the GSA, or $216,666.67 and reimbursement of actual costs 16 and expenses of up to $20,000.00. Plaintiff’s counsel will submit a request for attorney’s fees and 17 actual litigation costs at final approval per the terms of the Settlement Agreement and applicable 18 law, and will provide the Court with appropriate information and evidence regarding hourly rates, 19 tasks performed, and time expended on the case. If the Court approves less than the above 20 amounts, the difference will remain in the Net Settlement Amount for distribution to the 21 Participating Class Members. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 18.]

22 I. PAGA and Notice to the LWDA

23 As noted, the Parties allocated $40,000 to resolution of Plaintiff’s alleged claims under 24 PAGA. Consistent with PAGA, $30,000 of that amount will go to the LWDA for the State’s 25 share of the civil penalties, while the remaining $10,000 will be distributed pro rata to eligible 26 Aggrieved Employees. Prior to filing this motion, Plaintiff provided notice of the proposed 27 settlement of the PAGA claims and the approval hearing to the LWDA. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 19; 28 Exh. 4.]

1 IV. ARGUMENT

2 A. Standard of Review for a Class Action Settlement

3 The law favors settlement, particularly in class actions where substantial resources can be 4 conserved by avoiding the time, costs and rigors of formal litigation. H. Newberg & A. Conte, 4 5 Newberg on Class Actions (4th ed. 2002) § 11.41; Class Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle (9th Cir.
6 1992) 955 F.2d 1268, 1276, cert. denied, 506 U.S. 953; Potter v. Pacific Coast Lumber Co. (1951)
7 37 Cal.2d 592, 602. Nevertheless, to ensure the rights of absent class members are not unjustly 8 compromised, settlement of a class action requires court approval. Cal. Rule of Court. 3.769;
9 Wershba v. Apple Computer (2001) 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 245; Dunk v. Ford Motor Co. (1996) 48
10 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1801. This judicial review protects against fraud or collusion, and ensures 11 fairness to the absent class members. Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1800-01. Judicial review occurs 12 via a two-step process to determine, under all of the circumstances, if the proposed settlement is 13 fair, reasonable and adequate. Id. at 1801; Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 245.

14 The first step is a motion for preliminary approval, through which the parties present the 15 court with the proposed settlement and seek a determination that it is sufficiently fair and 16 reasonable to warrant notice to the class and further proceedings as to its fairness and adequacy.
17 Cal. Rule of Court 3.769(c). This preliminary evaluation determines if the proposed settlement is 18 within the “range of reasonableness” and if notice should be provided to the class regarding the 19 settlement’s proposed terms and conditions, and whether a final fairness hearing should be 20 scheduled. Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 234-35; North County Contractors Ass’n, Inc. v.
21 Touchstone Ins. Servs. (1994) 27 Cal.App.4th 1085, 1089-90. Considering the strong judicial 22 policy favoring settlement of class actions, courts generally apply a presumption of fairness to 23 class action settlements when (1) the settlement results from arms-length bargaining, (2) 24 investigation and discovery are sufficient to allow counsel and the court to act intelligently, (3)
25 counsel is experienced in similar litigation, and (4) the percentage of objectors is small. Dunk, 48 26 Cal.App.4th at 1802; Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 245.

27 If the court grants preliminary approval, it then orders the class be given notice in an 28 appropriate manner, establishes a schedule and procedures for class members to request exclusion

1 or object, and sets the matter for a final fairness hearing. Typically, any motion for attorney’s fees 2 and costs is filed subsequent to preliminary approval and heard with the motion for final approval, 3 as part of the second step of the two-step approval process. Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1800;
4 Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 232. The proposed settlement in this matter warrants preliminary 5 approval under the liberal standard discussed above, as it is fair, reasonable and adequate under all 6 the circumstances, and represents a favorable result for the class.

7 B. The Proposed Settlement Class Should Be Conditionally Certified

8 The purpose of conditional class certification for purposes of settlement is to facilitate 9 provision of notice of the proposed settlement’s terms, and the date and time of the final fairness 10 hearing. In this context, courts apply lesser scrutiny than they would otherwise in the context of 11 certifying a class. Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1807, n.19; Global Minerals & Metals Corp. v.
12 Superior Court (2003) 113 Cal.App.4th 836, 839 (“[I]t is well established that trial courts should 13 use different standards to determine the propriety of a settlement class.”)

14 In the present matter, conditional certification is proper since this matter satisfies all 15 requirements for class certification under Code of Civil Procedure section 382. First, the class is 16 both sufficiently numerous, consisting of approximately 837 individuals, and ascertainable by 17 reference to Defendant’s personnel and payroll records. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 20.] Next, Plaintiff is 18 an adequate class representative, as his claims do not conflict with and are not antagonistic to the 19 claims of other class members. [Goldberg Decl., ¶¶ 2-9; Brouillette Decl., ¶ 21.] Further, his 20 claims are typical as he is a member of the class and his claims arise from the same employment 21 practices and course of conduct giving rise to the claims of the other class members. [Id.] Lastly, 22 his counsel is experienced and adequate class counsel. [Brouillette Decl., ¶¶ 36-46.]

23 Next, common questions of law and fact predominate – particularly for purposes of a 24 settlement class – as the Class Members all were paid via substantially similar company-wide 25 policies that resulting in missed/non-compliant meal and rest breaks, etc. Since the focus of the 26 claims against GPS concerns the legality of common policies applied uniformly to the entire class, 27 common issues predominate over individualized inquiries concerning liability. For instance, 28 GPS’s policies regarding meal and rest breaks during training either resulted on “on duty” breaks

1 or they did not. Regardless of that determination, it will decide liability for all Class Members one
2 way or another. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 22.]

3 By now it is well-settled a theory of recovery asserting the existence of a uniform policy
4 violating California law is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for class certification. Jones v.
5 Farmers Ins. Exch. (2013) 221 Cal.App.4th 986, 996 (“Claims alleging that a uniform policy 6 consistently applied to a group of employees is in violation of the wage and hour laws are of the 7 sort routinely, and properly, found suitable for class treatment”); Williams v. Superior Court 8 (2013) 221 Cal.App.4th 1353 (“A company-wide practice can sustain a common question fact or 9 law that supports commonality for class certification”). Lastly, a class action is superior to other 10 means for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 23.]

11 C. The Proposed Settlement Meets the Dunk and Kullar Factors and is 12 within the Range of Reasonableness

13 The proposed settlement resulted from serious, arms-length negotiations facilitated by 14 respected mediator Kevin Barnes, Esq., who has extensive experience mediating wage and hour 15 class actions. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 9.] Plaintiff’s counsel Brandon Brouillette and Zachary Crosner, 16 and Crosner Legal PC, have years of litigation experience, including litigating wage and hour class 17 actions. Plaintiff’s counsel are well-qualified to evaluate the risks and benefits of pursuing further 18 litigation or settling the matter. [Brouillette Decl., ¶¶ 36-46.]

19 California law recognizes several factors bearing on the fairness, adequacy, and 20 reasonableness of a proposed class settlement. Kullar v. Foot Locker Retail, Inc. (2008) 168 21 Cal.App.4th 116, 128. In relevant part, these factors include: 1) the amount offered in settlement 2) 22 the strength of plaintiff’s case; 3) the risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further 23 litigation; 4) the risk of maintaining class action status throughout trial; 5) the experience and views 24 of counsel; and 6) the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement. Id. As demonstrated 25 below, the proposed settlement satisfies these requirements.

26 Prior to mediation, the parties engaged in extensive formal informal discovery to facilitate 27 settlement discussions. As a result, Plaintiff reviewed documents and information regarding GPS’s 28 payroll practices, pay stubs and time records for a sampling of class members, meal and rest break

1 policies, etc., and information from Defendant regarding class size and breakdown of job positions, 2 work weeks, rates of pay, and other information used to formulate a damages model. This extensive 3 information then was analyzed by a consulting expert to look for meal and rest break violation rates,
4 time spent working off the clock, etc., and other issues relevant to liability and damages. Plaintiff's 5 counsel are confident they obtained sufficient information to enable them to understand the law and 6 facts of this case and make an informed decision regarding the proposed settlement and whether it
7 is in the best interests of the class. [Brouillette Decl., ¶¶ 7, 24.]

8 Next, the proposed settlement falls within the range of reasonableness warranting 9 preliminary approval. The proposed settlement involves a significant sum that, when distributed, 10 will confer direct monetary benefits on the class members. As described above, each class member 11 will be entitled to a monetary payment without having to file a claim and each payment will be 12 relative to the value of his or her potential claims.

13 Using that data, Plaintiff ran various calculations and estimated GPS's likely maximum 14 exposure on the class claims at approximately $15,633,150, including approximately $5,323,700 on 15 the meal period claims, about $5,323,700 on the rest period claims, around $2,241,650 on the wage 16 statement claims, and $2,444,100 on the waiting time penalty claims. While Plaintiff's complaint 17 alleges claims for unpaid wages, his investigation and discovery did not suggest any potentially 18 widespread violations for unpaid wages that could be addressed via a class or representative action.
19 Accordingly no value was attributed to those claims for purposes of settlement. [Brouillette Decl., 20 ¶¶ 25-26.] Plaintiff and counsel substantially discounted the value of these claims, however, in light 21 of Defendant's multi-layered defenses on both class certification and on the merits, and the 22 considerable risks posed by proceeding with the litigation.

23 On the meal and rest break claims, Plaintiff alleged multiple violations. First, he argued 24 that during four weeks of training to learn the technical and safety requirements of the job, 25 Defendant provided Plaintiff with a timely 30-minute meal period and two rest breaks for shifts 26 that were generally 8 hours long. However, Plaintiff alleges that per company policy he and other 27 trainees were not permitted to leave the premises for these meal and rest breaks and Defendant 28 failed to provide Plaintiff meal and rest period premiums to compensate for these breaks during

1 which Plaintiff and class members were not relieved from all duty. Unlike working in an oil field,
2 the training was not in a remote setting – it was in Taft with multiple restaurants and gas stations 3 nearby – and there were no practical limitations that would have prevented employees from 4 leaving the training site for a meal and rest break. Moreover, Plaintiff argued the training would 5 not satisfy the requirements for an on-duty meal period and, regardless GPS did not require 6 written on-duty meal period agreements as mandated by the applicable Wage Order. Wage Order
7 16, § 10(D). [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 27.]

8 Next, Plaintiff alleged Defendant failed to provide employees with second breaks when 9 they worked greater than 10 hours and maintained a policy that entitlement to a second meal break 10 was “dependent upon their work schedule.” Further, there was no evidence that GPS obtained 11 blanket meal waivers from its employees as part of its onboarding process. Rather, its meal policy 12 provided that second meal breaks may be waived, in some circumstances, by the mutual consent 13 of GPS and the employee but must be disclosed on the time card. Thus, per Plaintiff, under 14 Defendant’s own policy an employee’s failure to state they waived a meal period on the time card
15 would invalidate any voluntary waiver argument made by Defendant. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 28.]

16 In addition, Plaintiff argued Defendant maintained an unlawful rest period policy that only 17 provided employees with two 10-minute rest breaks per shift and did not provide for the required 18 third break on shifts of 10+ hours. Nothing in the policy indicated that employees ever were 19 entitled to or provided with more than two rest breaks if they work shifts more than 10 hours, all 20 in violation of the Labor Code and Wage Orders. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 29.]

21 In response, GPS argued its written meal and rest break policies are fully compliant, and 22 that it provided employees with the opportunity to receive all required breaks, including second 23 meal breaks and third breaks. On the second meal break claim, GPS also argued employees 24 regularly waived their second break, regardless of whether it was noted on a time card or not, and 25 that determining whether a waiver occurred would require innumerable individualized inquiries 26 that would render class certification impossible on that issue. Defendant also argued were not 27 subject to employee control while on a break, including during their training period, and otherwise 28 were permitted to leave the work premises as appropriate. On the rest break issue, GPS also noted

1 the applicable Wage Order provides that rest periods “shall take place at employer designated 2 areas, which may include or be limited to the employees’ immediate work area.” Wage Order 16, 3 § 11(A). Lastly, GPS maintained that, in light of its compliant policies, whether a class member 4 missed a meal period, received a late meal period, or missed a rest break would have been 5 aberrational and against company policy, and accordingly these issues again would not be 6 amenable to class or representative treatment since their resolution would require individualized 7 inquiries as to why a break was missed or non-compliant. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 30.]

8 On the inaccurate wage statement claim, Plaintiff contended Defendant issued wage 9 statements that failed to correctly list the total hours worked when vacation wages were paid. For 10 example, for pay date May 12, 2023, Plaintiff worked 11.75 hours and was paid out 3.08 hours of 11 vested vacation time. However, the wage statement states in inaccurate total for the total hours 12 worked by Plaintiff, providing 14.83 total hours worked, presumably due to a systematic error to 13 include certain non-working hours, including vacation time as ‘hours worked.’ Accordingly, per 14 Plaintiff, each wage statement that included any vacation pay automatically misstated the actual 15 hours worked for that pay period, in violation of Labor Code section 226 (a)(2). [Brouillette Decl., 16 ¶ 31.]

17 The claims under Labor Code sections 203 and 226 also are derivative of the primary 18 claims for failure to pay premium wages for meal/rest break violations, and accordingly are 19 subject to the same risks and uncertainties plus additional risks posed by the need to take into 20 account the discretionary nature of such awards and the “good faith” and other defenses available 21 to Defendant. Amaral v. Cintas Corp. No. 2 (2008) 163 Cal.App.4th 1157, 1203-4 (employer did 22 not willfully fail to pay wages under Labor Code § 203 even though class prevailed on underlying 23 claim for failure to pay living wages). Thus, while these claims largely are derivative of the 24 unpaid wage claim, they also are subject to additional defenses. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 32.]

25 As far as potential PAGA liability, the allegedly aggrieved employees theoretically are 26 entitled to penalties totaling around $6 million in civil penalties should Plaintiff prevail on all claims 27 and establish violations of the multiple Labor Code sections as to each and every pay period at issue.
28 [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 33.] As with the class claims, Plaintiff discounted the potential PAGA penalties

1 based on Defendant's various defenses on the merits and also accounted for the Court's wide 2 discretion to reduce such penalties, or to decline to award penalties at all. Labor Code § 2699(e)(2); 3 Carrington v. Starbucks Corp. (2018) 30 Cal.App.5th 504 (trial court awarded penalties of $5 per 4 pay period after a bench trial, which decision was upheld on appeal); In re Taco Bell Wage and 5 Hour Actions (E.D. Cal. Apr. 8, 2016) 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 48557 (PAGA penalties denied after 6 trial).

7 Accordingly, the Parties allocated $40,000 to PAGA penalties, and Plaintiff submits this 8 amount is reasonable under the circumstances and in line with comparable settlements in other wage 9 and hour class actions in California. E.g., Van Kempen v. Matheson Tri-Gas, Inc. (N.D. Cal. Aug.
10 25, 2017) 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 137182 (granting final approval of $5,000 PAGA penalty from 11 $370,000 settlement, or 1.4 percent of total settlement); Slavkov v. First Water Heater Partners I 12 (N.D. Cal. July 25, 2017) 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 116303 (finding a $7,500 PAGA payment 13 reasonable when measured against the overall settlement of $345,000 and the possible weaknesses 14 in Plaintiffs' case, or 2.2 percent of total settlement). Additionally, the LWDA has been informed of 15 the terms of the PAGA portion of the settlement, and will be able to weigh in as necessary. Jennings 16 v. Open Door Mktg. Inc. (N.D. Cal. Oct. 3, 2018) 2018 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 171356, at *27 (approving 17 settlement with PAGA penalties of 0.6% where "[p]laintiffs [have] submitted the settlement 18 agreement to the LWDA, and the LWDA has not objected to the settlement.

19 The settlement obviates the significant risk that this Court may find any kind of class or 20 representative resolution unachievable or deny certification of all or some of Plaintiff's claims.
21 Furthermore, even if Plaintiff obtained certification of all or some of the claims, continued 22 litigation would be lengthy and expensive as the parties pursued merits discovery, a probable 23 motion to decertify, as well as trial and possible appeals, and would further and substantially delay 24 any recovery by the class with no assurance of recovering significantly more than the proposed 25 settlement. While Plaintiff is confident in the merits of these claims, legitimate controversies exist 26 regarding each one of them. Plaintiff also recognizes proving the amount of wages and penalties 27 due each Class Member would be an expensive, time-consuming, and uncertain proposition.

28 [Brouillette Decl., ¶¶ 34-35.]

1 Plaintiff and counsel discounted the value of the class claims consistent with the risks 2 discussed above, and carefully weighed the likelihood of the class receiving substantially greater 3 benefit if the litigation continued. Plaintiff and counsel concluded – in light of these very real and 4 substantial risks – settlement on the proposed terms and without prolonged and costly litigation 5 was in the best interests of the class, and the overall $650,000 recovery represents a significant 6 percentage of Defendant’s potential exposure. Given these risks, a total recovery for the class of 7 $650,000, which will result in average award of over $418 per class member, is a significant result 8 well within the range of reasonableness considering all potential outcomes, and it will provide 9 direct monetary awards to all Class Members without further delay. [Brouillette Decl., ¶ 35.]

10 Importantly, the mere fact that a settlement does not provide the same recovery as might be 11 achieved at trial is not a proper indicator of whether the settlement is fair, reasonable, and 12 adequate. Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 246, 250 (“Compromise is inherent and necessary in the 13 settlement process...even if the relief afforded by the proposed settlement is substantially 14 narrower than it would be if the suits were to be successfully litigated, this is no bar to a class 15 settlement because the public interest may indeed be served by a voluntary settlement in which 16 each side gives ground in the interest of avoiding litigation”); Lane v. Facebook, Inc. (9th Cir.
17 2012) 696 F.3d 811, 819 (“[T]he question whether a settlement is fundamentally fair . . . is 18 different from the question whether the settlement is perfect in the estimation of the reviewing 19 court”); 7-Eleven Owners for Fair Franchising v. Southland Corp. (2000) 85 Cal.App.4th 1135, 20 1150 (“The fact that a proposed settlement may amount to only a fraction of the potential recovery 21 does not, in and of itself, mean that the proposed settlement is grossly inadequate and should be 22 disapproved”); White v. Experian Information Solutions, Inc. (C.D. Cal. 2011) 803 F.Supp.2d 23 1086, 1098 (rejecting contention settlement was not fair and reasonable even though it represented 24 99% discount off the maximum value of the claims). Importantly as well, the proposed settlement 25 is non-reversionary and will provide timely benefits to the Class Members without a claims 26 process. White, 803 F.Supp.2d at 1098; c.f., Federal Judicial Center, Managing Class Action
27 Litigation: A Pocket Guide for Judges (3d ed. 2010) at 20, available at http://
28 www.fjc.gov/sites/default/files/2012/ClassGd3.pdf (reversionary provisions and/or cumbersome

1 claims process may indicate lack of fairness). Plaintiff and his counsel submit the settlement is 2 within the “range of reasonableness,” and is fair and adequate for the Class.

3 V. CONCLUSION

4 For all the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court grant this motion, 5 conditionally certify the settlement class, grant preliminary approval to the proposed class action 6 settlement, and enter the [Proposed] Order filed herewith.
