1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 In this PAGA-only action, Plaintiff Drew Oldfield – serving as representative for the 4 State of California – and his counsel sought civil penalties against his former employer, 5 Defendant Adame Landscape, Inc. (“Defendant”) under the Labor Code Private Attorneys 6 General Act of 2004, California Labor Code § 2698 et seq. (commonly referred to as “PAGA”).

7 A PAGA action is a form of qui tam action filed on behalf of the State to assist it with 8 labor law enforcement. Iskanian v. CLS Transp. Los Angeles, LLC (2014) 59 Cal.4th 348, 380-9 382. As such, the state is the real party in interest in a PAGA action. Id. at 382. The State of 10 California was timely served with a copy of the Settlement Agreement¹ and this Motion to 11 Approve the Settlement.

12 As brief background, Defendant employed the “Aggrieved Employees”² to carry out 13 tasks related to Defendant’s landscaping business. And Plaintiff alleged that, in these roles, he 14 and the Aggrieved Employees were subjected to various violations of the California Labor Code.
15 Although Defendant vehemently disputed the claims and denied any such violations, the Parties 16 agreed to mediation, paired with informal discovery and a robust exchange of data and 17 documents, at which time the Parties settled the PAGA claims pending in this action.

18 Now, with a comprehensive Settlement Agreement, Plaintiff seeks (and Defendant does 19 not oppose), this Court’s approval of a $235,000 PAGA settlement on behalf of the LWDA and 20 approximately 450 Aggrieved Employees, which equates to approximately $26.11 per pay period 21 based on the Aggrieved Employees collectively working approximately 9,000 pay periods (but 22 not exceeding 9,900 pay periods) during the PAGA Period. After payment of Plaintiff’s 23 attorneys’ fees of $78,333.33 (1/3 of the Settlement) and actual costs ($16,186.71), as well as the 24

26 ¹ The PAGA Representative Action Settlement Agreement and Release of PAGA Claims (the 27 “Settlement Agreement” or “S.A.”) is attached as Exhibit B to the Declaration of Brian J.
Mankin (“Mankin Decl.”).

28 ² Defined at S.A. ¶ 3 as “all current and former nonexempt (hourly paid) employees employed by Defendant in California at any time during the PAGA Period (May 15, 2023, through May 11, administration expenses ($3,500), approximately $136,979.96 will remain as the Net Settlement Amount, with 75% paid to the LWDA ($102,734.97) and the remaining 25% ($34,244.99) paid to the Aggrieved Employees, as set forth in the following chart:

Settlement Amount	$ 235,000.00
Attorneys' Fees (1/3)	$ 78,333.33
Attorney Litigation Costs	$ 16,186.71
Administrator Costs	$ 3,500.00
Net Settlement Amount ("NSA")	$ 136,979.96
75% of NSA Payable to LWDA	$ 102,734.97
25% of NSA Payable to Aggrieved Employees	$ 34,244.99

Considering that many class actions settle for less than $20 per pay period, settlement merits full approval by requiring Defendant to pay approximately $26.11 per pay period worked by the Aggrieved Employees. Indeed, it fulfills the purpose of PAGA, which is to deter violations of the Labor Code and secure obedience of California's labor laws; to end ongoing violations of the Labor Code either through injunctive relief or a defendant's voluntary changes in light of a PAGA action; and to provide relief that is genuine, meaningful, and consistent with California's goal of benefitting the public through enforcement of labor laws.

The process for approving a PAGA settlement is straight-forward: "The superior court shall review and approve any settlement of any civil action filed pursuant to this part." (Labor Code § 2699(1)(2).) Based on the California Supreme Court's holdings in Arias v. Superior Court (2009) 46 Cal.4th 969 and Iskanian v. CLS Transportation Los Angeles, LLC (2014) 59 Cal.4th 348, there is no requirement under PAGA for Plaintiff to establish the requirements of class certification (i.e., numerosity, typicality, commonality, and adequacy) nor is there the usual two-step preliminary and final approval process as found in class actions. Rather, this PAGA-only settlement merely requires a one-step review and approval process.

For these reasons and those discussed below, the Parties seek Court approval of the Settlement.

1 II. BACKGROUND

2 A. Procedural History

3 After retaining counsel, Plaintiff submitted a letter to the California Labor & Workforce
4 Development Agency (“LWDA”) and to Defendant regarding the alleged violations. (Mankin 5 Decl. ¶ 7; Exhibit A to Mankin Decl.). This notice is required under Labor Code § 6 2699.3(a)(1)(A) to bring a PAGA claim against an employer.

7 Plaintiff filed his initial putative class action complaint against Defendant on May 15, 8 2024, followed by a First Amended Complaint adding PAGA claims on July 22, 2024, after the 9 65-day PAGA exhaustion period elapsed without the LWDA asserting jurisdiction. (Mankin 10 Decl. ¶ 8).

11 Defendant retained counsel and vowed to vehemently oppose the claims. However, after 12 early discussions among counsel, the Parties agreed to attend mediation. But the agreement to 13 mediate was limited in scope because, during early litigation, Defendant provided Plaintiff with 14 an arbitration agreement which it contended was signed by Plaintiff and which Defendant also 15 contended was valid, enforceable, and contains a class action waiver. Thus, the Parties ultimately 16 agreed to attend mediation on a PAGA-only basis. (Mankin Decl. ¶ 9).

17 In preparation for the mediation, the Parties exchanged documents and information that 18 allowed both sides to calculate the potential PAGA penalties and evaluate potential risk. During 19 this process, Plaintiff and his counsel analyzed, researched, and investigated the potential issues, 20 including matters related to the calculation of total penalties, trial, and appellate issues and risks.
21 During this exchange of information, pursuant to Plaintiff counsel’s informal requests, 22 Defendant produced documents and pay records that enabled Plaintiff to conduct a thorough 23 analysis of claims for unpaid wages, meal/rest break violations and others. (Mankin Decl. ¶ 10).

24 On March 12, 2025, the Parties mediated with Steve Serratore, Esq. At the conclusion of 25 mediation and extensive arms-length negotiations, the Parties reached settlement and entered into 26 this Settlement. Thereafter, the Parties filed a stipulation to convert this action to a PAGA-only 27 case, and Plaintiff filed the operative Second Amended Complaint on May 22, 2025, which 28 alleges only PAGA claims. (Mankin Decl. ¶ 11).

1 The Parties now present this Settlement for approval in compliance with the “PAGA 2 Case Management Order #1” (the “CMO”) used by this Court for PAGA cases.³

3 B. Summary of Claims and Defenses

4 Pursuant to CMO ¶ D(2), Plaintiff submits in the Mankin Decl. at ¶¶ 16-30 a full 5 description of all claims, the maximum and risk-adjusted penalties for which Defendant is 6 potentially liable, and other required items. For the sake of brevity, those items are not repeated 7 here but Plaintiff still addresses the big-picture claims and defenses as follows.

8 Plaintiff alleged eight causes of action on behalf of the Aggrieved Employees. However, 9 as discussed herein, some of the claims are overlapping due to the nature of the violation (so, in 10 essence, there are not 8 distinct penalties recoverable). (Mankin Decl. ¶ 17).

11 For example, Plaintiff alleged unpaid wage claims under two distinct theories of liability.
12 First, Plaintiff argued that the Aggrieved Employees were not paid all required minimum and 13 overtime wages due to the failure to accurately record and compensate for all hours worked (due 14 to, for instance, the job foreman failing to account for all time on the job). But Defendant 15 vehemently opposed this claim on the merits and produced documents showing that – for each 16 day worked – the Aggrieved Employees signed a timesheet verifying the recorded time as 17 accurate. Second, Plaintiff also argued that he and the Aggrieved Employees often earned two or 18 more rates of pay in the same week yet, when calculating overtime, Defendant failed to pay at 19 the proper “weighted average.” Again, Defendant opposed this claim on the merits, arguing that 20 case law permits the use of the “rate-in-effect” method. (Mankin Decl. ¶ 18).

21 Plaintiff also alleged that Defendant failed to provide compliant meal periods and rest 22 breaks to the Aggrieved Employees due to the hectic workload. But Defendant vehemently 23 opposed this claim based on the argument that Defendant had compliant written policies.
24 Additionally, Defendant argued it provided and made available meal and rest breaks to all 25 employees, and any employee who did not take a meal or rest break did so entirely of his own 26

27 ³ Plaintiff notes that the operative CMO in this matter is still the “Class Action Case 28 Management Order #1” issued on May 23, 2024. However, due to the transition to a PAGA-only case, Plaintiff and his counsel are submitting this Motion in compliance with the Court’s CMO issued in other recent PAGA-only cases.

1 volition. As such, Defendant argued these claims were without merit because, for each violation, 2 a fact-finder would have to determine why a break was noncompliant/nonexistent, because if it 3 was by the employee's choice, no liability attaches to Defendant. (Mankin Decl. ¶ 19).

4 As addressed in the Mankin Decl., each of Plaintiff's claims were disputed and 5 Defendant raised strong defenses to each. Thus, because further litigation of the Action would 6 be protracted and expensive, the Parties agreed it is desirable that the Action be fully and finally 7 settled in order to limit further risk, expense and protracted litigation. (Mankin Decl. ¶¶ 17-21).

8 III. THE PAGA AND ITS REQUIREMENTS

9 PAGA provides an enforcement method for California's Labor Code by enlisting 10 individual plaintiffs as private attorneys general to recover civil penalties for the state, with a 11 share also going to the individual plaintiffs and other employees. Prior to the enactment of 12 PAGA in 2003, the recovery of civil penalties for violations of certain Labor Code provisions 13 were solely within the province of the California Department of Labor. Arias, 46 Cal.4th at 980.

14 However, due to the lack of financing for California's agencies, and the substantial 15 number of Labor Code violations by California employers, the California Legislature found that 16 it was in the public interest to allow aggrieved employees to act as "private attorneys general" to 17 enforce and recover civil penalties on behalf of the State of California for Labor Code violations 18 committed by employers. Id. As the Legislature that adopted PAGA observed, "the only 19 meaningful deterrent to unlawful conduct is the vigorous assessment and collection of civil 20 penalties as provided in the Labor Code." Stats. 2003 ch. 906, § 1(b). Moreover, the Labor 21 Code's primary purpose is to "ensure employees are not required or permitted to work under 22 substandard unlawful conditions ... and to protect employers who comply with the law from 23 those who attempt to gain a competitive advantage at the expense of their workers by failing to 24 comply with minimum labor standards." Labor Code § 90.5(a). Therefore, the Legislature 25 determined that "adequate financing of labor law enforcement was necessary to achieve 26 maximum compliance with state labor laws, that staffing levels for labor law enforcement 27 agencies had declined and were unlikely to keep pace with the future growth of the labor market, 28 and that it was therefore in the public interest to allow aggrieved employees, acting as private

1 attorneys general, to recover civil penalties for Labor Code violations, with the understanding 2 that labor law enforcement agencies were to retain primacy over private enforcement efforts.”

3 Penalties recovered under PAGA “shall be distributed as follows: 75 percent to the Labor 4 and Workforce Development Agency for enforcement of labor laws and education of employers 5 and employees about their rights and responsibilities under this code ...; and 25 percent to the 6 aggrieved employees.” Lab. Code § 2699(i).

7 Before filing a PAGA action, an aggrieved employee must first provide written notice to 8 the LWDA and the employer of the particular Labor Code violations the aggrieved employee 9 alleges the employer has violated. Labor Code § 2699.3(a)(1). This notice provides the LWDA 10 with the opportunity to investigate and prosecute the claim. The employee may only sue on the 11 state’s behalf if the LWDA fails to respond to the notice within 65 days, responds that it does not 12 intend to investigate, or investigates and does not issue a citation within 185 days. Labor Code 13 §§ 2699.3(a)(2), 2699(h). In this case, Plaintiff provided the LWDA with notice letters advising 14 it of the alleged Labor Code violations, but the LWDA deferred the prosecution of these 15 violations to Plaintiff and his attorneys. Accordingly, the Settlement, and the common fund 16 created by it for the benefit of the State and Aggrieved Employees, is solely the result of the 17 work performed by Plaintiff and his attorneys on this case.

18 Any settlement of a PAGA action brought by an aggrieved employee must be approved 19 by the court. Lab. Code § 2699(1)(2). In 2009, the California Supreme Court considered the 20 PAGA approval process and, more specifically, whether an aggrieved employee needs to meet 21 class certification requirements. Arias, 46 Cal.4th at 976. After review of the legislative history 22 of PAGA, the Court held that an aggrieved employee's representative PAGA action does not 23 need to meet the requirements for class certification nor does there need to be notice to the other 24 employees. Id. at 975, 980-88. As the Court held, a plaintiff bringing suit under PAGA does so 25 as the proxy or agent of California's labor law enforcement agencies. Id. at 986. Thus, the Court 26 simply reviews the settlement and approves it if it is deemed to be fair and reasonable.

27 Accordingly, the Parties to this PAGA action have reached such an agreement and now 28 seek this Court’s approval of the settlement.

1 IV. THE SETTLEMENT AND DISTRIBUTION OF PAGA PENALTIES

2 The following is a summary of the principal terms of the Settlement Agreement.

3 A. Terms of the Settlement and Distribution of PAGA Penalties

4 The settlement provides that Defendant will pay a non-reversionary settlement amount of 5 $235,000 (the “Settlement Amount”), subject to increase if the “Escalator Clause” is triggered 6 (see S.A. ¶¶ 12, 43), and this amount is inclusive of payments to the LWDA and Aggrieved
7 Employees, attorneys’ fees and litigation costs, as well as third party administrator (“Settlement 8 Administrator”) costs. (S.A. ¶¶ 27, 37). After payment of the attorneys’ fees/costs, 9 administration costs, the remainder of approximately $136,979.96 will form the Net Settlement 10 Amount and, pursuant to Labor Code § 2699(i), 75 percent shall be paid to the LWDA (which 11 shall be used to assist in the enforcement of labor laws and education of employers and 12 employees about their rights and responsibilities under the Labor Code), and the remaining 25 13 percent being paid to the Aggrieved Employees on a pro rata basis. (Id.)

14 As noted above, and as shown in the Mankin Decl. ¶ 8, the LWDA will receive 15 approximately $102,734.97 (75% of the Net Settlement Amount) and approximately 450 16 Aggrieved Employees will collectively share in $34,244.99 (the remaining 25% of the Net 17 Settlement Amount), which will be paid on a pro-rata basis based on the number of pay periods 18 worked during the PAGA Period. (S.A. ¶ 37).

19 B. Payment and the Notice

20 Defendant will fund the Settlement Amount within 60 days after the Effective Date 21 occurring.⁴ (S.A. ¶ 44). Also, by no later than October 1, 2025, Defendant is required to provide 22 the Settlement Administrator with the “Aggrieved Employee List” containing all information 23 necessary for the Settlement Administrator to determine if the Escalator Clause is triggered and 24 then apportion and issue payments. (S.A. ¶ 42). In the event that the Escalator Clause is 25 triggered, then the Parties shall submit a supplemental filing advising the Court of whether 26 Defendant elected to increase the Settlement Amount or shorten the PAGA Period. (S.A. ¶ 12).

27

⁴ S.A. ¶ 10 (“Effective Date” is “the date the Court enters the Final Order” with “Final Order” defined at S.A. ¶ 13 as “the order that will be entered by the Court to approve the Settlement”)

1 The Settlement Administrator must then distribute all Court-approved payments no later 2 than 10 calendar days after receipt of the Settlement Amount. (S.A. ¶ 45). Aggrieved Employees 3 will have 180 days to cash their checks; if for any reason a check is un-cashed, then the check 4 will be voided and the funds issued to the California State Controller in the name of the 5 Aggrieved Employee who may claim the funds at a later date. (S.A. ¶ 46).

6 A Notice informing the Aggrieved Employees of the nature of the payment will be 7 provided with the settlement check. (See Exhibit E to Mankin Decl.).

8 C. Settlement Allocation to the Aggrieved Employees

9 As noted, 25% of the Net Settlement Amount ($34,244.99) will be allocated and paid to 10 the Aggrieved Employees on a pro-rata basis according to the number of Eligible Pay Periods.
11 Based on data and information obtained from Defendant, Plaintiff estimates that the 450 12 Aggrieved Employees will receive an average payment of $76.10. (Mankin Decl. ¶ 14).

13 D. The Release

14 The California Supreme Court has explained that a judgment in “a representative action 15 brought by an aggrieved employee under the Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 16 ... is binding not only on the named employee plaintiff but also on government agencies and any 17 aggrieved employee not a party to the proceeding.” Arias, 46 Cal. 4th at 985-986.

18 The release here strictly complies with CMO ¶ D(7) in that it: (a) “bind[s] only the named 19 plaintiff and the State of California”, (b) only releases “the defendant named in the complaint, 20 together with its officers, directors, employees and agents”, and (c) “release[s] only those claims 21 described in the notice sent by the plaintiff to the LWDA, and only to the extent that they are 22 alleged in the complaint.” This full compliance is evidenced by the following provisions in the 23 Settlement Agreement:

24 S.A. ¶ 22: “Released PAGA Claims” means the PAGA claims that 25 Plaintiff alleged against the Released Parties, based on the facts stated in the 26 relevant LWDA notice letters and only to the extent that they are alleged in 27 the Complaint, including all PAGA claims seeking civil penalties premised 28 upon: (1) failure to pay minimum wages, (2) failure to pay overtime wages,
(3) failure to provide meal periods, (4) failure to provide rest breaks, (5) failure to reimburse business expenses, (6) failure to timely pay wages each period, (7) failure to timely pay wages upon separation of employment, (8) failure to provide accurate itemized wage statements, and (9) all other claims for civil penalties recoverable under the Private Attorneys General Act, Labor Code §§ 2698 et seq. based on the facts or claims alleged in the LWDA notice letters and Complaint. The time period governing the PAGA Released Claims shall be the PAGA Period. The Released PAGA Claims release Defendant for penalties that could have been sought by the Labor Commissioner for violations identified in the LWDA letter dated May 15, 2024, and operative Complaint but do not release any Aggrieved Employees' claims for wages or damages.

S.A. ¶ 23: “Released Parties” means Defendant, together with its officers, directors, employees, and agents.

S.A. ¶ 49: Upon the Effective Date occurring and Defendant fully funding the Settlement Amount, Plaintiff – in his individual capacity and on behalf of the State of California and the LWDA – shall completely release and discharge the Released Parties of the Released PAGA Claims.

As the release is narrowly related to the claims alleged, the Parties contend that the release is proper and reasonable.

V. THE SETTLEMENT IS FAIR, REASONABLE, AND WARRANTS COURT APPROVAL

In 2016, PAGA was amended to require the Court to “review and approve any settlement of any civil action filed pursuant to this part.” (Labor Code § 2699(1)(2).) The amendment also required that the “proposed settlement shall be submitted to the agency at the same time that it is submitted to the court.” As such, the Settlement and this Motion have been concurrently submitted to the LWDA in accordance with this section. (Mankin Decl. ¶ 46 and Exhibit D).

A. Evaluation of the PAGA Settlement

Although PAGA and its legislative history do not seem to require a Court to analyze a PAGA settlement in comparison to the “value” of the claims, the penalties herein are reasonable when considered in this context as well.

Here, Plaintiff obtained extensive data and information prior to mediation to investigate the claims and negotiate an appropriate settlement. After evaluation of this information, Plaintiff’s counsel estimated that there were 8,686 pay periods worked by 440 Aggrieved Employees through the date of mediation. From this data, and when applying the various facts and theories of liability, Plaintiff’s counsel formulated detailed a PAGA penalty model and

1 calculated the maximum PAGA penalties, assuming all claims were successful through trial, as 2 $2,325,800. Then, by applying the observed violation rates, and considering all of the risks and 3 defenses to the claims herein, Plaintiff's counsel calculated $465,160 as the "risk-adjusted" value 4 of PAGA penalties, taking into account "the weight of evidence, the clarity of the applicable law, 5 and the strength of any factual or legal defense likely to be asserted by the defendant." (See 6 CMO ¶ D(2)(d)). As required by CMO ¶ D(2), the full analysis of these claims, the maximum 7 and risk-adjusted values, and other factors, is contained in the Mankin Decl. at ¶¶ 16-30 (and, for 8 the sake of brevity, that information is not duplicated in this Motion).

9 When considering these risks and defenses, Plaintiff contends that the Settlement, which 10 binds Defendant to pay a total Settlement Amount of $235,000 – equal to $26.11 per pay period 11 at 9,000 pay periods. Many class actions settle for less than $20 per pay period, so to achieve 12 this result in a PAGA-only case is indeed a great result. Clearly, this settlement is fair, adequate, 13 and reasonable in light of the risks and uncertainties associated with the PAGA claims in this 14 case, and it is sufficient to accomplish the objectives of PAGA while not being unjust, arbitrary 15 and oppressive, or confiscatory.

16 B. Plaintiff's Separate Individual Settlement is Proper

17 Plaintiff separately resolved his individual, non-PAGA claims against Defendant, and the 18 information required for Plaintiff's separate individual settlement is disclosed in the Mankin 19 Decl. at ¶¶ 40-44 as required by CMO ¶ D(4).

20 The California Labor Code specifically permits Plaintiff to resolve claims for individual 21 damages, separate and distinct from a settlement of PAGA claims. See Labor Code § 2699(g)(1) 22 ("[n]othing in this part shall operate to limit an employee's right to pursue or recover other 23 remedies available under state or federal law, either separately or concurrently with an action 24 taken under this part"). The rule permitting employees to pursue separate individual claims while 25 maintaining a PAGA claim aligns perfectly with the general understanding that PAGA claims 26 (which seek civil penalties on behalf of Aggrieved Employees) are separate and distinct from 27 individual claims for unpaid wages, statutory penalties, and other individual claims.
28

1 The California Supreme Court explained this principal in the landmark Iskanian decision, 2 holding that “[t]he civil penalties recovered on behalf of the state under the PAGA are distinct 3 from the statutory damages to which employee may be entitled in their individual capacities.” 4 Iskanian, 59 Cal.4th at 381. In fact, Iskanian directly discussed the separation between 5 individual and PAGA claims, and held that when an employee pursues both types of cases, a 6 defendant must respond to both cases: “Iskanian must proceed with bilateral arbitration on his 7 individual damages claims, and CLS must answer the representative PAGA claims in some 8 forum.” Id. at 391. In the event of a bifurcation of individual and PAGA actions one case may 9 proceed first, while the other case is stayed. Id.

10 In addition, the California Supreme Court recently expounded upon this position in ZB, 11 N.A. v. Superior Court (2019) 8 Cal.5th 175. There, when discussing the difference between 12 statutory damages/penalties (for an individual) versus civil penalties (under PAGA), the court 13 clearly held that “[p]ursuing civil penalties does not prevent an employee from separately or 14 concurrently pursuing unpaid wages and other remedies already available to her.” Id. at 187.

15 The framework discussed in Iskanian is exactly what happened here. Plaintiff separately 16 negotiated a fair resolution for the PAGA case, and then separately settled his individual claims, 17 in conformity with California law. Thus, Plaintiff respectfully submits that this Court should 18 approve the Settlement Agreement.

19 VI. THE REQUESTED ATTORNEYS’ FEES AND LITIGATION COSTS ARE FAIR
20 AND REASONABLE

21 For their efforts and the risks they undertook in obtaining a common fund settlement that 22 benefits the LWDA and Aggrieved Employees, Plaintiff’s Counsel seeks $78,333.33 for 23 reasonable attorneys’ fees, which is one third of the Settlement Amount. Defendant does not 24 oppose this request. These fees are warranted under the law and within the range of fees 25 commonly awarded in similar cases. Additionally, the Parties agreed Plaintiff’s Counsel could 26 seek reimbursement for their actual litigation costs of $16,186.71.

27 ///

28 ///

1 A. Plaintiff’s Counsel are Entitled to Recover Attorney’s Fees Under The 2 Common Fund Doctrine In This Qui Tam Action

3 PAGA, at Labor Code § 2699(g)(1), provides that a Plaintiff is entitled to recover 4 reasonable attorneys’ fees, expenses, and costs: “Any employee who prevails in any action shall 5 be entitled to an award of reasonable attorney’s fees and costs.” Additionally, as discussed 6 below, in a qui tam action, reasonable attorney’s fees and costs are typically awarded under the 7 common fund doctrine where, as here, the litigation creates a common fund of money in a 8 specific amount for the benefit of others.

9 “A qui tam action is one brought under a statute that allows a private person to sue as a 10 private attorney general to recover damages or penalties, all or part of which will be paid to the 11 government.” People ex rel. Stratham v. Acacia Research Corp. (2012) 210 Cal.App.4th 487, 12 491-492. “A qui tam action ‘is a type of private attorney general lawsuit’ [citation], in which ‘the 13 qui tam plaintiff stands in the shoes of the state or political subdivision [citation].’” Id. at p. 501.
14 As the name of the PAGA statute makes clear (e.g. “Labor Code Private Attorneys General 15 Act”), a PAGA action is a qui tam action because the statute allows the employee plaintiff, 16 acting as the proxy of the state’s labor law enforcement agency, to sue his or her employer for 17 Labor Code violations and recover civil penalties that otherwise would have been assessed and 18 collected by the Labor and Workforce Development Agency (LWDA). Iskanian, 59 Cal.4th at 19 380. “A PAGA representative action is therefore a type of qui tam action.” Id. at p. 382. Indeed, 20 the majority of the civil penalties recovered in a PAGA action are paid to the state, with a 21 smaller portion paid to the aggrieved employees (e.g. 75% paid to the state; 25% paid to the 22 aggrieved employees). See Lab. C. 2699(i).

23 As here, where a common fund is created in a qui tam action by the successful litigation 24 of a plaintiff and her attorneys, the plaintiff’s attorneys are entitled to recover their fees from the 25 common fund. Bank of America v. Cory (1985) 164 Cal.App.3d 66, 89-91. In Bank of America, 26 California taxpayers compelled the State Controller to enforce the Unclaimed Property Law 27 against banks who were retaining accounts that should have been turned over to the State.
28 Because of the success of the taxpayers’ lawsuit, a common fund was created in favor of some

1 depositors and the State of California. Id. When the taxpayers’ attorneys sought recovery of 2 their attorney’s fees from the judgment under the common fund doctrine, the Controller opposed 3 the request. However, the Court of Appeal affirmed the trial court’s fee award to the taxpayers’ 4 counsel under the common fund doctrine holding, as stated at Id. at 91:

5 Those benefiting from the recovery of the fund, in this case some depositors 6 and eventually the People of the State of California, must bear their share 7 of the cost of litigation. Fees for taxpayers’ attorneys will be deducted from 8 the judgment, and each claimant’s share reduced proportionately. To the 9 extent the judgment relies upon section 1021.5 for recovery of attorney fees, 10 it must be modified to confine the award of fees to the common fund theory.

11 In this case, the PAGA Settlement created a common fund for the benefit of the 12 employees and the State of California. Thus, these beneficiaries must bear their share of the 13 costs and attorney’s fees, which fees and costs must be deducted from the settlement amount 14 under the common fund theory. Id. Moreover, such fees are deducted as a percentage of the 15 settlement amount. Boeing Co. v. Van Gemert (1980) 444 U.S. 472, 478-482; Six (6) Mexican 16 Workers v. Arizona Citrus Growers (9th Cir. 1990) 904 F.2d 1301, 1311; Williams v. MGM- 17 Pathe Communications Co. (9th Cir. 1997) 129 F.3d 1026, 1027; Staton v. Boeing Co. (9th Cir.
18 2003) 327 F.3d 938, 967.

19 The California Supreme Court also upheld the use of the common fund theory of 20 recovery for attorney’s fees in Laffitte v. Robert Half Int’l Inc. (2016) 1 Cal.5th 480, 506. In 21 Laffitte, the settlement created a common fund of $19 million dollars. This ruling is consistent 22 with the Court’s prior rulings recognizing that “when a number of persons are entitled in 23 common to a specific fund, and an action brought by ... plaintiffs for the benefit of all results in 24 the creation or preservation of that fund, such ... plaintiffs may be awarded attorneys’ fees out of 25 the fund.” Serrano III v. Priest (1977) 20 Cal.3d 25, 34; Boeing Co. v. Van Gemert, 444 U.S. at 26 478 (“[A] lawyer who recovers a common fund . . . is entitled to reasonable attorneys’ fees from 27 the fund as a whole;” Mills v. Electric Auto-Lite Co. (1970) 396 U.S. 375, 393-394 [discussing 28 the acceptance of awarding attorneys’ fees and expenses from a settlement where “litigation has conferred a substantial benefit on the members of an ascertainable class”]; see also Lealao v.
Beneficial California, Inc. (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 19, 26 (“[f]ee spreading occurs when a

1 settlement or adjudication results in the establishment of a separate or so-called common fund for 2 the benefit of the class.”].).

3 Accordingly, the common fund doctrine allows a court to award attorneys’ fees based 4 upon a percentage of the total fund that is created for the satisfaction of beneficiaries’ claims 5 when the fund consists of a “certain or easily calculable sum of money.” Dunk v. Ford Motor Co.
6 (1996) 48 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1809; Jutkowitz v. Bourns, Inc. (1981) 118 Cal.App.3d 102, 110 7 [application of the percentage of the fund recovery depended on “[t]he critical point” that “a fund 8 was created from which attorneys’ fees could be paid”]; A. Conte & H. Newberg, Newberg on 9 Class Actions, § 14:6 (4th ed. 2002).

10 California law has long upheld, and continues to uphold, the percentage of the recovery 11 method for awarding attorneys’ fees where a fund is established. See, e.g., Serrano, 20 Cal.3d at 12 34; Bell v. Farmers Insurance Exchange (2004) 115 Cal.App.4th 715, 726; Chavez v. Netflix, 13 Inc. (2008) 162 Cal.App.4th 43, 65-66 [“fees based on a percentage of the benefits are in fact 14 appropriate in large class actions...”]; Sanders v. City of Los Angeles (1970) 3 Cal.3d 252, 261, 15 263 [affirming award of attorneys’ fee based on percentage of recovery];; see also Consumer 16 Cause, Inc. v. Mrs. Gooch’s Natural Food Markets, Inc. (2005) 127 Cal.App.4th 387, 397 [the 17 common fund doctrine is “frequently applied in class actions when the efforts of the attorney for 18 the named class representatives produce monetary benefits for the entire class”]; Wershba v.
19 Apple Computer, Inc. (2001) 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 254 [“courts recognize two methods for 20 calculating attorney fees in class actions: the lodestar/multiplier method and the percentage of 21 recovery”].

22 Based on the foregoing, awarding attorneys’ fees of one-third of the Settlement Amount 23 is fair and warranted in light of the settlement that was reached on behalf of the State of 24 California and Aggrieved Employees. Accordingly, awarding fees on this basis in this amount is 25 reasonable and appropriate.

26 B. The Percentage Fee of the Settlement Amount Is Fair and Reasonable

27 An award of fees from the Settlement Amount under the common fund doctrine prevents 28 unjust enrichment of those who benefit from the common fund created through the successful

1 efforts of plaintiff’s counsel and furthers the important goal of attracting competent counsel to 2 handle representative actions enforcing minimum labor standards. Laffitte, 1 Cal.5th at 503. The 3 California Supreme Court summarized the benefits of the percentage method of recovery stating:
4 “The recognized advantages of the percentage method—including relative ease of calculation, 5 alignment of incentives between counsel and the class, a better approximation of market 6 conditions in a contingency case, and the encouragement it provides counsel to seek an early 7 settlement and avoid unnecessarily prolonging the litigation [citations]—convince us the 8 percentage method is a valuable tool that should not be denied our trial courts.” Id.

9 Among the factors considered in determining whether the requested fee percentage is 10 reasonable are: (1) the results achieved; (2) the risk of further litigation; (3) the skill required of 11 plaintiff’s counsel and the quality of work performed by plaintiff’s counsel; (4) the contingent 12 nature of the fee and the financial burden carried by the plaintiff; and (5) awards made in similar 13 cases. Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp. (9th Cir. 2002) 290 F.3d 1043, 1048-50.

14 All these factors support an award here of one-third of the common fund. First, 15 Plaintiff’s counsel achieved a good PAGA settlement in a case that involved highly contested 16 issues that were primarily related to small periods of time that were allegedly unpaid, as well as 17 purported meal and rest break violations, and alleged wage statement violations, despite facially 18 accurate wage statements. Second, Plaintiff faced significant risks going forward with the 19 litigation. As discussed above, Defendant raised various defenses and, as such, Plaintiff faced 20 risky issues going forward with this litigation, and it would have taken significant time to realize 21 any recovery in this action. Third, Plaintiff’s Counsel are experienced representative action 22 litigators, including having been selected as a “Super Lawyer” in employment litigation, and 23 have achieved some of the largest PAGA awards. (Mankin Decl. ¶¶ 2-6). This experience and 24 expertise, combined with the high quality of work performed in this case by Plaintiff’s Counsel, 25 resulted in the settlement achieved in this case. Fourth, as discussed above and as set forth in the 26 Declaration of Plaintiff’s Counsel, the request for attorney’s fees falls well within the norms 27 accepted by state and federal courts in California in comparable wage and hour actions actually 28 handled by Plaintiff’s Counsel.

1 For all of the above reasons, a fee award in the amount of one-third of the Settlement 2 Amount is fair and reasonable.

3 C. A Lodestar Cross-Check Confirms the Reasonableness of the Fee Request

4 Despite recognized limitations of the so-called lodestar method, some California and 5 federal courts acknowledge the utility of a lodestar “cross-check.”⁵ (Lealao, 82 Cal.App.4th at 6 46-47.) Under the “lodestar multiplier” method of cross-checking the reasonableness of 7 attorneys’ fees in class actions, the court ascertains Class counsel’s total “lodestar” amount by 8 multiplying the number of hours reasonably expended by each attorney or legal staff member by 9 their hourly rates, and then enhances or reduces this lodestar figure by a “multiplier” to account 10 for a range of factors, such as the novelty or difficulty of the case, its contingent nature, and the 11 degree of success achieved. PLCM Group, Inc. v. Drexler (2000) 22 Cal.4th 1084, 1095-96; 12 Press v. Lucky Stores, Inc. (1983) 34 Cal.3d 311, 322; Lealao, 82 Cal.App.4th at 43 [court has 13 discretion to use a multiplier to ensure that the “fee awarded is within the range of fees freely 14 negotiated in the legal marketplace in comparable litigation”]).

15 Historically, California courts have approved multipliers of 1.5 to 4. See Coalition for 16 Los Angeles County Planning v. Board of Supervisors (1977) 76 Cal.App.3d 241, 251 17 (multiplier of 2+ approved); Sternwest Corp v. Ash (1986) 183 Cal.App.3d 74, 75. The 18 multiplier requested by Plaintiff’s Counsel below is within the range of multipliers found to be 19 appropriate by various federal and state courts in California. In Sternwest Corp. v. Ash, for 20 instance, the Court of Appeal remanded for a lodestar enhancement of “two, three, four or 21 otherwise.” Id. at 76; see also Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 255 (“Multipliers can range from 2 22 to 4 or even higher”); City of Oakland v. Oakland Raiders (1988) 203 Cal.App.3d 78, 83
23 (affirming 2.34 multiplier); Coalition for Los Angeles County Planning in the Pub. Interest v.
24 Board of Supervisors, 76 Cal.App.3d 241, 251 (affirming multiplier of approximately 2); 25 Craft v. County of Los Angeles (C.D. Cal. Apr. 1, 2008) 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 27526 26

27 ⁵ In practice, the lodestar method is difficult to apply, time-consuming, inconsistent in result, and 28 capable of manipulation. In addition, the lodestar method creates inherent incentive to prolong litigation until sufficient hours have been expended. Herr, David F., Manual for Complex Litigation, § 14.121 (1988); See also In re Activision (N.D. Cal 1989) 723 F.Supp 1373.

(applying 5.2 multiplier); Steinder v. Am. Broadcasting Co., Inc. (9th Cir. 2007) 248 Fed.Appx. 780, 783 (approving multiplier of 6.85 and citing cases with comparable or higher multipliers); Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051 (finding no abuse of discretion in awarding a multiplier of 3.65); Torchia v. WW Grainger, Inc. (E.D. Cal. 2014) 304 F.R.D. 256, 275-278 (approving attorneys' fees of $550,000 constituting a 3.57 multiplier on class counsel's total lodestar).

The actual aggregated lodestar between the Plaintiff's attorneys that worked on this case is approximately $98,000 as reflected in the Mankin Decl. ¶¶ 31-39 and Carlson Decl. ¶ 10. This results in a negative multiplier, as summarized in the submitted declarations of Plaintiff's counsel.

The hourly rates utilized by Plaintiff's counsel are comparable to those of other attorneys with equal or similar experience, if not somewhat lower (i.e., the Laffey Matrix at www.laffeymatrix.com indicates that the benchmark rates are $878/hour for an 11–19-year attorney and $1,057/hour for a 20+ year attorney). The reasonableness of Plaintiff's counsel's rates is reinforced by facts showing that local attorneys in Los Angeles engaged in complex litigation bill at rates far higher than Class Counsel – and far higher than the Laffey Matrix. Recent public filings confirm that the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power is paying outside counsel at minimum rates of $1,800 for partners, $1,180 per hour for associates with 7 years of experience or more, and LADWP even pays first year associates $745 per hour. See <https://www.latimes.com/california/story/2025-02-14/law-firm-1975-an-hour-defend-against-palisades-fire-lawsuits> (last visited June 5, 2025).

Moreover, the Wolters Kluwer 2023 Real Rate Report ("Real Rate Report") provides directly applicable information in this regard. The Real Rate Report is based on an enormous and statistically significant compilation of data, comprising millions billing entries from a hundred thousand individual timekeepers who worked at thousands of law firms. The Real Rate Report then compiles and analyzes this data to provide the hourly rates for partners and associates in major metropolitan areas. For the southern California area: (a) the rate for partners in Los Angeles is between $840 and $1,159 per hour for the middle and upper quartiles, and (b) the rates for associates with seven or more years of experience, the upper quartile rate is $888 per 1 hour. And, perhaps most importantly, the information provided in the Real Rate Report is not 2 based on self-reported numbers, surveys, sampling, or reviews or other publications – instead, 3 the Real Rate Report is based on the actual hours and fees billed by law firms, which makes it “a 4 much better reflection of true market rates than self-reported rates in all practice areas.” Brown v.

5 CVS Pharmacy, Inc. (C.D. Cal. Apr. 24, 2017) 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 182309, at *21; PLCM 6 Group, 22 Cal.4th at 1085 (holding that rates should be premised upon precisely this form of 7 independent, “objective” rate data that reflects “fair market” rates actually billed to clients “in 8 the community for similar work”).

9 Plaintiff’s Counsel are also highly experienced in Class/PAGA litigation, including 10 having been named by the LA Times as one “Southern California Leading Lawyers” in the May 11 2023 issue of Consumer Attorneys of Southern California (a recognition given to 17 employment 12 and labor law attorneys in 2023), having been selected as “Super Lawyer” in employment 13 litigation over the last 5 consecutive years, having achieved large settlements, having prevailed 14 at trial in PAGA-only actions and Class Action jury trials. (Mankin Decl. ¶¶ 2-6; Carlson Decl.
15 ¶¶ 3-9). Indeed, Plaintiff’s Counsel’s rates are typical of the rates charged by defense counsel 16 with similar experience doing similar employment law work in this region.

17 Thus, not only are Plaintiff’s Counsel’s rates reasonable and typical, but the attorneys’ 18 fees are in line with the lodestar, which confirms that the fee request is fair and reasonable.

19 D. The Requested Litigation Costs are Fair and Reasonable

20 Plaintiff’s Counsel requests reimbursement of their actual out-of-pocket expenses 21 incurred to prosecute this action. These expenses were incidental and necessary to the effective 22 representation of the employees. See Harris v. Marhoefer (9th Cir. 1994) 24 F.3d 16, 19.
23 Plaintiff’s Counsel are permitted to recover their litigation costs and expenses under the common 24 fund doctrine. See Serrano III, 20 Cal.3d at 35 (common fund doctrine permits recovery of fees 25 and costs from the fund); Rider v. County of San Diego (1992) 11 Cal.App.4th 1410, 1424 n.6 26 (costs are recoverable from the common fund “[o]f necessity, and for precisely the same reasons 27 discussed above with respect to the recovery of attorneys’ fees by . . . [Plaintiffs’] attorneys”).
28 Furthermore, Plaintiff’s Counsel are entitled to recover “those out-of-pocket expenses that would 1 normally be charged to a fee-paying client.” Harris, 24 F.3d at 19.

2 The Settlement Agreement authorized Plaintiff’s Counsel to recover litigation costs up to 3 $25,000. However, the actual costs through the approval hearing are projected to be $16,186.71, 4 which is the amount requested. (Mankin Decl. ¶ 39; Exhibit D to Mankin Decl.). These costs are 5 reasonable, uncontested, and should be approved.

6 VII. SUBMISSION TO THE LWDA

7 As set forth in the Mankin Declaration at ¶ 46, the settlement agreement and this motion 8 are concurrently being submitted to the LWDA in accordance with Labor Code § 2699(1)(2).
9 The proof of electronic submission is attached as Exhibit D to the Mankin Declaration.

10 VIII. THE SETTLEMENT ADMINISTRATOR

11 Xpand Legal will serve as the Settlement Administrator and will be responsible for 12 processing and issuing the settlement payments and providing notice of the settlement payment 13 to the Aggrieved Employees. Xpand provided an all-in bid to administrator the Settlement for 14 $3,500, which is the amount that will be paid from the Settlement Amount. (Mankin Decl. ¶ 45; 15 Declaration of Xpand Legal and Exhibit B to same [Xpand’s bid]).

16 IX. CONCLUSION

17 For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff requests, and Defendant does not oppose, the Court’s 18 approval of the Settlement under the PAGA.
