I. INTRODUCTION

As noted, the Settlement provides for a non-reversionary Gross Settlement Amount of $1,560,000.00. See Settlement, §§ 1.10, 3.1. After deducting amounts for requested attorneys' fees ($546,000.00), litigation costs ($24,122.97), Representative Enhancement Payment

¹ The proposed PAGA Settlement Agreement is attached as Exhibit 1 to the Declaration of Sean M. Blakely filed herewith. The proposed Explanatory Letter is attached as Exhibit A to the Settlement Agreement. All terms in the Motion have the same definitions as used in the Settlement.

1 ($5,000.00), and settlement administration costs ($16,500.00), the Settlement provides for a Net 2 Settlement Amount of approximately $968,377.03 to be paid to Aggrieved Employees and the 3 California Labor & Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”). Settlement, §§ 1.15, 3.2.4; see 4 also Declaration of Sean M. Blakely (“Blakely Decl.”), ¶¶ 13, 27, Exhibit 4; Declaration of Sean 5 Hartranft of Apex Class Action, LLC (“Hartranft Decl.”), ¶ 7, Exhibit B.

6 The Net Settlement Amount shall be distributed 65% (approximately $629,445.07) to the 7 LWDA, and 35% (approximately $338,931.96) to Aggrieved Employees, pursuant to the 8 requirements of the PAGA as codified in Lab. Code § 2699(i). See Settlement, § 3.2.4. There are 9 approximately 3,125 Aggrieved Employees, resulting in average Individual PAGA Payments of 10 approximately $108.46 to each Aggrieved Employee. Blakely Decl., ¶ 13.

11 The Settlement represents a positive result for the State of California and Aggrieved 12 Employees. Further litigation may have resulted in a smaller recovery or even no recovery at all, 13 based on the defenses asserted by Bridgestone and the significant ongoing litigation risks.
14 Moreover, the Gross Settlement Amount is greater than other PAGA penalty awards that have 15 been approved as reasonable. The amounts requested for attorneys’ fees and costs, Plaintiff’s 16 representative enhancement payment, and settlement administration costs are all fair, adequate, 17 and reasonable. Thus, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court enter the [Proposed] Judgment 18 and Order submitted concurrently herewith.

19 II. SUMMARY OF THE LITIGATION

20 A. Brief Factual Background and Summary of Claims

21 Bridgestone operates one of the country’s largest network of tire and automotive repair 22 services centers, with over 2,200 locations in the United States. Blakely Decl., ¶ 8. Included 23 within Bridgestone’s portfolio of companies is Firestone Complete Auto Care and Tires Plus. Id.
24 Plaintiff was employed by Bridgestone from approximately April 2023 through April 30, 2025 in 25 the non-exempt position of “Sales and Service Specialist.” See Declaration of Plaintiff Isabelle 26 Escarcega (“Escarcega Decl.”), ¶ 2. Plaintiff, like all Aggrieved Employees, was employed by 27 Bridgestone in California as a non-exempt employee during the PAGA Period and was subject to 28 Bridgestone’s wage and hour policies and practices. Id.

1 Plaintiff's PAGA claim is predicated primarily on allegations that she and other non-2 exempt employees were not compensated for all hours worked, were not provided compliant meal 3 and rest periods, and were not provided with accurate and compliant wage statements. As 4 explained below and in the accompanying Blakely Declaration, Bridgestone denies Plaintiff's 5 allegations and have asserted several affirmative defenses to her claims.

6 B. Relevant Procedural History

7 On June 21, 2024, Plaintiff sent her PAGA notice letter to the LWDA. Blakely Decl., ¶ 9; 8 Exhibit 2 (June 21, 2024 LWDA Letter). On September 9, 2024, after exhausting her pre-filing
9 PAGA requirements under Labor Code § 2699.3(a)(2)(A), Plaintiff filed a Representative Action 10 Complaint (the "Action") in this Court, alleging a single cause of action for civil penalties under 11 the PAGA. Id.

12 On February 3, 2026, the Parties participated in mediation with Hon. Jeff Winikow (Ret.), 13 a well-respected wage and hour mediator, in an effort to resolve Plaintiff's PAGA claims. Blakely 14 Decl., ¶ 10. Prior to mediation, Bridgestone provided PAGA counsel with information and 15 documents pertaining to Plaintiff and other Aggrieved Employees in order for PAGA Counsel to 16 review the allegations and value the claims prior to mediation. Id. Specifically, Bridgestone 17 provided the number of Aggrieved Employees and the number of aggregate PAGA pay periods
18 worked during the PAGA Period, its relevant wage and hour policies/procedures and employee 19 handbook, Plaintiff's personnel file, as well as timekeeping and payroll records for a 10% 20 sampling of all non-exempt employees. Id. Plaintiff retained an expert to assist in conducting a 21 comprehensive analysis and extrapolation of the data produced by Bridgestone to calculate 22 Bridgestone's potential PAGA exposure. Id.

23 During mediation, the Parties vigorously debated Plaintiff's ability to proceed on a 24 representative basis, the legal basis for Plaintiff's claims and Bridgestone's defenses, the potential 25 amount of penalties, and the Parties' data analyses and conclusions based thereon. Blakely Decl., 26 ¶ 11. With the assistance of Hon. Jeff Winikow (Ret.), the Parties agreed to fully and finally 27 resolve Plaintiff's PAGA claims. Id. Over the following months, the Parties negotiated and 28 finalized the Settlement now before the Court. Id.

As a part of the Settlement, Plaintiff submitted an amended LWDA Letter on April 28, 2026 to allege additional allegations and theories of liability. Blakely Decl., ¶ 12; Exhibit 3 (April 28, 2026 LWDA Letter). After exhausting the amended LWDA letter, on July 16, 2026, Plaintiff filed the operative First Amended Representative Action Complaint in this Court. Id.

III. SUMMARY OF THE SETTLEMENT

A. “Aggrieved Employees” Defined

The “Aggrieved Employees” under the Settlement consist of all current and former non-exempt employees who have worked, or continue to work, for Bridgestone in California during the PAGA Period. See Settlement, § 1.4. The number of Aggrieved Employees, including Plaintiff, is estimated to be approximately 3,125 individuals. Settlement, § 4.1; Blakely Decl., ¶ 13. The PAGA Period is defined as the period from June 21, 2023 through the date the Court signs the approval order. See Settlement, § 1.19.

B. Monetary Terms

The Settlement provides for Bridgestone’s payment of a non-reversionary Gross Settlement Amount of $1,560,000.00. See Settlement, §§ 1.10, 3.1. After deducting requested attorneys’ fees, litigation costs, Plaintiff’s representative enhancement payment, and administration costs, the Settlement provides for the Net Settlement Amount to be distributed 65% to the LWDA and 35% to Aggrieved Employees, per Labor Code § 2699(i). Settlement, §§ 1.15, 3.2.4. The 35% portion to Aggrieved Employees shall be distributed based on the number of pay periods worked by each Aggrieved Employee during the PAGA Period. Id., § 3.2.4.1.

1. Attorneys’ Fees and Costs, Administration Costs, and Plaintiff’s Representative Enhancement Payment

Plaintiff’s counsel requests 35% of the Gross Settlement Amount (i.e., $546,000.00) in attorneys’ fees, and $24,122.97 in litigation costs. See Settlement, § 3.2.1; Blakely Decl., ¶¶ 26-27, Exhibit 4. As discussed in detail below, a fee award of 35% of the Gross Settlement Amount is fair, adequate, and reasonable as a percentage of the settlement fund and is in line with fee awards in other PAGA settlements.

The Parties have agreed to engage Apex Class Action LLC (“Apex”) as the third-party

1 settlement administrator. See Settlement, § 1.2. Apex will update the Aggrieved Employee
2 addresses using the National Change of Address database, calculate and distribute Individual 3 PAGA Payments, mail payments to all Aggrieved Employees together with the Explanatory
4 Letter, and perform other duties that are integral to the effectuation of the Settlement. Id., §§ 4.1-5 4.2, 4.4-4.4.4. Plaintiff requests that the Court approve $16,500.00 in administration costs to cover
6 all costs incurred by Apex in connection with the Settlement. Id., at § 3.2.2; see also Hartranft 7 Decl., Exhibit B.

8 Finally, Plaintiff requests a Representative Enhancement Payment of $5,000.00, in 9 recognition of Plaintiff's contributions to this case and her efforts in bringing this case to 10 successful resolution. See Settlement, §§ 1.27, 3.2.3; Escarcega Decl., ¶¶ 4-6.

11 2. Payment to LWDA and Aggrieved Employees

12 The Net Settlement Amount will be distributed 65% to the LWDA and 35% to Aggrieved 13 Employees, pursuant to Labor Code § 2699(m); Settlement, § 3.2.4. Based on the above requested 14 distributions, the Net Settlement Amount is estimated to be $968,377.03, with $629,445.07 paid 15 to the LWDA and $338,931.96 distributed to Aggrieved Employees. Blakely Decl., ¶ 13. As 16 noted, there are approximately 3,125 total Aggrieved Employees. Id. Thus, it is anticipated that 17 overall, the Aggrieved Employees will receive average Individual PAGA Payments of 18 approximately $108.46. Id.

19 3. Funding of the Settlement

20 Bridgestone shall fully fund the Gross Settlement Amount by transmitting the funds to 21 Apex no later than thirty-five (35) calendar days after the Effective Date. See Settlement, § 4.3.

22 Within fourteen (14) calendar days after the Settlement has been fully funded, Apex will 23 mail the Explanatory Letter, in English and Spanish, along with Individual PAGA Payments to 24 all Aggrieved Employees via regular First-Class U.S. Mail. See Settlement, § 4.4.

25 Funds from settlement checks remaining uncashed after the void date (180 days after the 26 date of mailing) will be sent by Apex to the California Controller's Unclaimed Property Fund in 27 the name of the Aggrieved Employee. See Settlement, §§ 4.4.1, 4.4.3.

1 IV. LEGAL ARGUMENT

2 A. Standards for Approval of a PAGA Settlement

3 The settlement of a PAGA claim requires court approval pursuant to the PAGA statute, 4 which states that the “court shall review and approve any settlement of any civil action filed 5 pursuant to this part.” Labor Code § 2699(l). Of course, “[s]ettlement is a compromise, which 6 balances the possible recovery against the risks inherent in litigating further.” See In re TD 7 Ameritrade Account Holder Litig., 2011 WL 4079226 at *9 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 13, 2011). “[T]he 8 very essence of a settlement is... ‘a yielding of absolutes and an abandoning of highest hopes,’” 9 as “it is the very uncertainty of outcome in litigation and avoidance of wasteful and expensive 10 litigation that induce consensual settlements.” Officers for Justice v. Civil Service Com., 688 F.2d 11 615, 624 (9th Cir. 1982).

12 Although the PAGA statute does not set forth the criteria by which a PAGA settlement is 13 to be judged, it is presumed that a reviewing court may utilize some of the factors for review of a 14 class action settlement. However, “a PAGA claim asserted on a non-class representative basis...is 15 not considered a class action but a law enforcement action, and therefore does not have to meet 16 the requirements of [a class action].” Casida v. Sears Holdings Corp., 2012 WL 253217 at *3 17 (E.D. Cal. Jan. 26, 2012).

18 First, in evaluating a PAGA settlement, the court is not concerned with amount(s) received 19 by “aggrieved employees,” but must focus on the total settlement amount in achieving PAGA’s 20 objective. “The remedy sought in a PAGA suit consists of civil penalties, not individual or class 21 damages.” Mendez, 2010 WL 2650571 at *4. Moreover, while “[a PAGA] action is ... designed 22 to protect the public and penalize the employer for past illegal conduct” (Mendez, 2010 WL 23 2650571 at *4), a PAGA settlement involves a compromise that stops short of rendering findings 24 of liability and damages. “Unlike a class action seeking damages or injunctive relief for injured 25 employees, the purpose of PAGA is to incentivize private parties to recover civil penalties for the 26 government that otherwise may not have been assessed and collected by overburdened state 27 enforcement agencies.” Ochoa-Hernandez, 2010 WL 1340777 at *4.

28 Second, consistent with the fact that unnamed employees have no property interest in a

1 PAGA claim, “[u]nnamed employees need not be given notice of the PAGA claim, nor do they 2 have the ability to opt-out of the representative PAGA claim.” Ochoa-Hernandez, 2010 WL
3 1340777 at *5; see also Robinson v. Southern Counties Oil Co., 53 Cal.App.5th 476, 482 (2020)
4 (recognizing that “there is no mechanism for opting out of the judgment entered on the PAGA
5 claim.”). This renders the approval process of a PAGA settlement distinct from a class action
6 settlement, as the Court need not employ the “two-step approval process” required for class action 7 settlements under Fed. R. Civ. Proc. Rule 23(e) and Cal. Rule of Court 3.769.

8 Finally, unlike a class action settlement under Fed. R. Civ. Proc. Rule 23(e) or Cal. Rule 9 of Court 3.769, the scope of release in a PAGA settlement is limited to civil penalties. While 10 “judgment in [a PAGA] action is binding not only on the named employee plaintiff but also on 11 government agencies and any aggrieved employee not a party to the proceeding...the non-party 12 employees, because they were not given notice of the action or afforded any opportunity to be 13 heard, would not be bound by the judgment as to remedies other than civil penalties.” Arias v.
14 Sup. Ct., 46 Cal. 4th 969, 986-87 (2009). Thus, the scope of release in a PAGA settlement is 15 strictly confined to PAGA penalties.

16 1. Factors in Evaluating a Representative PAGA Settlement

17 In deciding whether to approve a proposed settlement, a trial court has broad powers to 18 determine if the proposed settlement is fair under the circumstances of the case. Mallick v. Sup.
19 Ct., 89 Cal.App.3d 434, 438 (1979). In exercising these powers, the overriding concern is to 20 ensure that a proposed settlement is “fair, adequate, and reasonable.” Dunk v. Ford Motor Co., 21 48 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1801 (1996) (internal quotations omitted). Relevant factors for the Court to 22 consider include, but are not limited to:

23 [T]he strength of Plaintiff’s case, the risk, expense, complexity and likely 24 duration of further litigation, the risk of maintaining class action status 25 through trial, the amount offered in settlement, the extent of discovery 26 completed and the stage of the proceedings, the experience and views of counsel, the presence of a governmental participant, and the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement.

27 Id. These factors require balancing, are non-exhaustive, and trial courts should tailor the factors 28 to each case and give due regard to “what is otherwise a private consensual agreement between the parties.” Id.

Because settlements inherently involve compromise, even a settlement providing for substantially narrower relief than might be obtained if the suit were successfully litigated can be reasonable because “the public interest may indeed be served by a voluntary settlement in which each side gives ground in the interest of avoiding litigation.” Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc., 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 250 (2001) (quoting Air Line Stewards, etc., Local 550 v. Am. Airlines, Inc., 455 F.2d 101, 109 (7th Cir. 1972)). In addition, courts review the discovery process and information received through it to aid them in assessing whether the parties sufficiently developed the claims and their supporting factual bases before reaching settlement. Kullar v. Foot Locker Retail, Inc., 168 Cal.App.4th 116, 129-31 (2008).

a. The Strength of Plaintiff’s Case

Although Plaintiff steadfastly maintains her claims are meritorious, Plaintiff acknowledges that there are substantial risks and uncertainty in proceeding to trial, as set forth in more detail in the concurrently filed Blakely Declaration. Blakely Decl., ¶¶ 14-23. While Plaintiff was prepared to litigate her claims through trial, Plaintiff faced substantial challenges in prevailing in this matter and obtaining a better result than will be provided through the Settlement. Thus, this factor supports approval.

b. Risk, Expense, Complexity, and Duration of Further Litigation

Although the Parties engaged in significant informal discovery prior to mediation, the Parties still had much formal discovery to conduct if the case did not settle. Substantive motion work and preparation for the PAGA trial also remained for the Parties, as well as potential appeals. As a result, the Parties would likely incur considerably more attorneys’ fees and costs through trial and possible appeal. The Settlement avoids those risks and the accompanying expense.

c. Amount Offered in Settlement Given Realistic Value of Claims

The proposed Settlement provides a fair and reasonable monetary recovery for the State of California and Aggrieved Employees in the face of hotly disputed claims. Based on data provided by Bridgestone, there were approximately 201,273 Pay Periods worked by the 1 Aggrieved Employees during the PAGA Period. Blakely Decl., ¶ 24; Settlement, § 4.1.

2 Labor Code § 2699(f)(2)(A) provides for PAGA civil penalties in the amount of $100 for 3 each employee per pay period. See Labor Code § 2699(f)(2)(A). The PAGA reform that applies 4 to cases filed after June 19, 2024 provides that the heightened $200 per pay period penalty applies 5 only if the Labor Commissioner or any Court has issued a finding or determination that the 6 employer’s policy or practice was unlawful, or the Court finds that the employer’s conduct was 7 malicious, fraudulent, or oppressive. See Labor Code § 2699(f)(2)(B). Therefore, assuming that 8 Plaintiff could prove at least one Labor Code violation in each and every pay period during the 9 PAGA Period, Plaintiff calculated Bridgestone’s maximum PAGA exposure at $20,127,300 10 (201,273 pay periods * $100 per violation). Blakely Decl., ¶ 24.

11 In light of Bridgestone’s arguments and defenses described in the accompanying Blakely 12 Declaration, Plaintiff discounted that figure by 65% for a risk of losing on the merits and/or not 13 recovering a PAGA penalty in each and every pay period, and by an additional 75% for risk of 14 the Court reducing penalties, to arrive at a realistic exposure of approximately $1,761,139.
15 Blakely Decl., ¶ 24; see also, e.g., Thurman, 203 Cal.App.4th at 1136 (affirming reduction of 16 PAGA penalties); Fleming, 2011 WL 7563047 at *5 (reducing PAGA penalties by over 82%); 17 Carrington, 30 Cal.App.5th at 529 (affirming PAGA civil penalty of just $5 per pay period).

18 In the face of Bridgestone’s defenses on the merits and the Court’s discretion to reduce 19 PAGA penalties, Plaintiff felt that the negotiated settlement of $1,560,000, which represents 20 approximately 88.5% of Plaintiff’s reasonably forecasted total recovery, was clearly in the best 21 interests of the LWDA and the Aggrieved Employees and was well within the range of 22 reasonableness. Blakely Decl., ¶ 24; See Linney v. Cellular Alaska Partnership, 151 F.3d 1234, 23 1242 (9th Cir. 1998) (“The fact that a proposed settlement may only amount to a fraction of the 24 potential recovery does not, in and of itself, mean that the proposed settlement is Maximumly 25 inadequate and should be disapproved.”) (internal quotations omitted).

26 Approval of the Settlement is appropriate, as the Settlement will provide tangible 27 monetary relief to Aggrieved Employees and the State of California while avoiding the risks and 28 costs of continued litigation and trial.

1 d. Discovery Completed and the Status of Proceedings

2 As noted, the Parties engaged in substantial informal discovery to evaluate the value of 3 the PAGA claim. Bridgestone provided Plaintiff with, inter alia, payroll and timekeeping records 4 for approximately 10% of all non-exempt employees, additional relevant data points, and relevant 5 written policies and practices. Blakely Decl., ¶ 10. Plaintiff retained an expert to assist in 6 conducting a comprehensive analysis of the data produced by Bridgestone to calculate 7 Bridgestone’s potential PAGA exposure. Id., at ¶ 10. Only after engaging in mediation and 8 adversarial discussions about the likelihood of proceeding on a representative basis and prevailing 9 on the merits, did the Parties reach the proposed Settlement. Thus, this factor supports settlement 10 approval.

11 e. The Experience and Views of Counsel

12 “Parties represented by competent counsel are better positioned than courts to produce a 13 settlement that fairly reflects each party’s expected outcome in litigation.” In re Pac. Enter. Sec.
14 Litig., 47 F.3d 373, 378 (9th Cir. 1995). Plaintiff is represented by experienced counsel with 15 decades of combined experience, who believe this Settlement to be fair and adequate for all 16 involved. Blakely Decl., ¶¶ 2-6; Declaration of Paul K. Haines (“Haines Decl.”), ¶¶ 3-9. This 17 factor supports settlement approval.

18 B. The Requested Award of Attorneys’ Fees is Reasonable as a Percentage of 19 the Settlement Fund

20 Plaintiff is entitled to attorneys’ fees in this PAGA action under Labor Code § 2699(g)(1), 21 which provides that “[a]ny employee who prevails in any [PAGA] action shall be entitled to an 22 award of reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs.” See also Gouskos v. Aptos Village Garage, Inc., 23 94 Cal.App.4th 754, 765 (2001) (holding that attorneys’ fees to prevailing party are mandatory 24 when the statute uses the word “shall”). It is undisputed that by obtaining PAGA penalties for the 25 LWDA and Aggrieved Employees, Plaintiff has prevailed. See Graciano v. Robinson Ford Sales, 26 144 Cal.App.4th 140, 153 (2006) (“[P]laintiffs may be considered ‘prevailing parties’ for 27 attorney’s fee purposes if they succeed on any significant issue in the litigation that achieves some 28 of the benefit the parties sought in bringing suit.”)

1 A fee award is justified where the legal action has produced its benefits by way of 2 settlement. See, e.g., Maria P. v. Riles, 43 Cal.3d 1281, 1290-91 (1987); Westside Comty. for 3 Independent Living, Inc. v. Obledo, 33 Cal.3d 348, 352-53 (1983); Serrano v. Priest, 20 Cal.3d 4 25, 34 (1977) (“when a number of persons are entitled in common to a specific fund, and an action 5 brought by a plaintiff...for the benefit of all results in the creation or preservation of that fund, 6 such plaintiff...may be awarded attorney’s fees out of the fund.”); Serrano v. Unruh, 32 Cal.3d 7 621, 627 (1982) (in awarding a fee from the common fund obtained for the benefit of all parties, 8 the trial court acts within its equitable power to prevent the other parties’ unjust enrichment); 9 Rawlings v. Prudential-Bache Properties, Inc., 9 F.3d 513, 516 (6th Cir. 1993) (the percentage 10 of the fund method for calculating attorneys’ fees more accurately reflects the results achieved 11 for the putative class than the lodestar method and “establishes reasonable expectations on the 12 part of Plaintiff” attorneys as to their expected recovery; and it encourages early settlement, which 13 avoids protracted litigation.”); In re Rite Aid Corp. Sec. Litig., 396 F.3d 294, 300 (3d Cir. 2005) 14 (“The percentage-of-recovery method is generally favored in common fund cases because it 15 allows courts to award fees from the fund ‘in a manner that rewards counsel for success and 16 penalizes it for failure’”).

17 Fee awards of 35% of the settlement fund are often awarded in California courts in class 18 and representative PAGA actions. The California Supreme Court confirmed its approval of the 19 use of the “percentage of fund” method in Laffitte v. Robert Half Int’l, Inc., 1 Cal.5th 480, 506
20 (2016), where it announced “the percentage of fund method survives in California class action 21 cases...” Specifically, the Laffitte Court held:

22 The recognized advantages of the percentage method—including relative ease 23 of calculation, alignment of incentives between counsel and the class, a better 24 approximation of market conditions in a contingency case, and the 25 encouragement it provides counsel to seek an early settlement and avoid unnecessarily prolonging the litigation—convince us the percentage method is a valuable tool that should not be denied our trial courts.

26 Id., at 503 (internal citation omitted). Indeed, “[F]ee awards in class actions average around one-27 third of the recovery.” Chavez v. Netflix, Inc., 162 Cal.App.4th 43, 66, fn. 11 (2008); see also 28 Chavez v. Saticoy Lemon Ass’n, 2015 WL 5561118 (Ventura Cty. Super. Ct., Aug. 29, 2015)

1 (approving attorneys' fees of one-third of settlement fund in PAGA settlement); Clavel v. Lupe's
2 Thousand Oaks Mexican Restaurant, Inc., 2016 WL 1601223 (Ventura Cty. Super. Ct., Mar. 25, 3 2016) (same). This is also consistent with Plaintiff's counsel's experience in similar wage-and-4 hour class and PAGA matters. Blakely Decl., ¶ 26.

5 Here, Plaintiff's fee request of 35% of the Gross Settlement Amount (estimated to be 6 $546,000.00), is fair and reasonable based on the percentage of the recovery method.

7 Critically, Plaintiff's recovery for the State of California and the Aggrieved Employees of 8 approximately $968,377.03 (Net Settlement Amount) significantly exceeds other PAGA awards
9 approved by California courts. See, e.g., Aguirre v. DSW, Inc., No. DCV-11-01522-GW (SPx), 10 2012 WL 11875296 at *3 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 29, 2012) (approving $10,000 PAGA payment); Jamil
11 v. Workforce Res., LLC, No. 18-CV-27 JLS (NLS), 2020 WL 6544660 at *6 (S.D. Cal. Nov. 5, 12 2020) (approving $10,000 total PAGA payment, finding the amount "fair and adequate in view 13 of the purposes and policies of PAGA"); Garcia v. Gordon Trucking, Inc., No. 1:10-cv-0324-14 AWI-SKO, 2012 WL 5364575 at *7 (E.D. Cal. Oct. 31, 2012) ("approving $10,000 total PAGA 15 payment, finding that "[t]his comports with settlement approval of PAGA awards in other cases.
16 [Citations.]"); Boyd v. Bank of Am. Corp., No. SACV-13-0561-DOC (JPRx), 2014 WL 6473804
17 at *8 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 18, 2014) (approving $18,750 PAGA payment); Franco v. Ruiz Food 18 Prods., No. 1:10-cv-02354-SKO, 2012 WL 5941801 at *14 (E.D. Cal. Nov. 27, 2012) (approving 19 $10,000 PAGA payment); Chu v. Wells Fargo Inv., LLC, 2011 WL 672645 at *1 (N.D. Cal. Feb.
20 16, 2011) ($10,000 PAGA payment).

21 As discussed above, this case presented significant risks to Plaintiff's counsel, who took 22 this case on a purely contingency basis. Plaintiff's counsel conducted extensive research 23 regarding the merits of Plaintiff's claims, her ability to recover PAGA civil penalties, and 24 Bridgestone's potential defenses. Blakely Decl., ¶¶ 14-23. Since undertaking representation of 25 Plaintiff, Plaintiff's counsel has dedicated substantial resources to this litigation without receiving 26 any compensation to date. Id., ¶¶ 26-27. Plaintiff's counsel also performed extensive analysis of 27 data and information produced by Bridgestone with the help of a retained expert, used this 28 analysis to evaluate Plaintiff's claims, and drafted a comprehensive mediation brief. Id., at ¶ 26.

1 Plaintiff's counsel attended a full-day mediation, and expended significant effort in preparing 2 settlement documents, this Motion and supporting documents, and will oversee the settlement 3 administration process. Id. Given the considerable potential for adverse outcomes in this case, the 4 contingent risk borne by Plaintiff's counsel was great. The quality of Plaintiff's counsel's work, 5 and the efficacy and dedication with which it was performed, should be compensated. Thus, 6 Plaintiff submits the requested fee award is fair, reasonable and adequate and should be approved.

7 Plaintiff's counsel have over three decades of combined wage-and-hour class and 8 representative action experience and have been certified as class counsel in numerous class 9 actions. Blakely Decl., ¶¶ 2-6; Haines Decl., ¶¶ 3-9. Because it is reasonable to compensate 10 counsel according to their skill, reputation, and experience, a fee award of 35% of the Gross 11 Settlement Amount is reasonable. This case involved nuanced legal issues, including the legality 12 of Bridgestone's timekeeping policies and practices and obligations to "provide" meal periods 13 and "authorize and permit" rest periods, as well as the availability and amount of PAGA civil 14 penalties for the alleged Labor Code violations. Blakely Decl., ¶ 26. Also, Bridgestone was 15 represented by experienced wage-and-hour litigation counsel. Id. Thus, Plaintiff submits the 16 requested fee award is fair, reasonable and adequate and should be approved. Id.

17 C. The Requested Litigation Costs and Settlement Administration Costs Are 18 Fair, Reasonable, and Adequate

19 Plaintiff's request for reimbursement of costs of $24,122.97 is also fair and reasonable.
20 All of Plaintiff's litigation costs are reasonably incurred and were necessary to further the 21 prosecution of this case on behalf of the State of California and the Aggrieved Employees. See 22 Blakely Decl., ¶ 27, Exhibit 4. Moreover, the costs Plaintiff seek are the types of costs routinely 23 approved by courts. See, e.g., Harris v. Marhoefer, 24 F.3d 16, 19 (9th Cir. 1994) (counsel should 24 recover "those out-of-pocket expenses that would normally be charged to a fee paying client").

25 Likewise, the request for administration costs of $16,500.00 is also fair and reasonable.
26 Blakely Decl., ¶ 25. Apex was selected because it is an experienced settlement administrator and 27 returned a reasonable bid. Id. See Settlement, § 1.2.; See also Hartranft Decl. and Exhibits.
28 Moreover, Apex will perform several important functions that are integral to the implementation

1 of the Settlement. Blakely Decl., ¶ 25. Its requested fee is therefore reasonable.

2 D. The Court Should Approve Plaintiff's Requested Representative
3 Enhancement Payment Because It Is Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable in 4 View of Plaintiff's Efforts and the Risks She Assumed in This Litigation.

5 Courts routinely approve enhancement payments to compensate named plaintiffs for the 6 services they provide and the risks they incur during representative litigation. See, e.g., Bell v.
7 Farmers Ins. Exch., 115 Cal.App.4th 715, 726 (2004) (upholding "service payments" to named 8 Plaintiff); Van Vranken v. Atlantic Richfield Co., 901 F. Supp. 294 (N.D. Cal. 1995) (approving 9 $50,000 incentive payment). Here, Plaintiff seeks a Representative Enhancement Payment of 10 $5,000.00. See Settlement, §§ 1.27, 3.2.3. This request is reasonable given Plaintiff's efforts in 11 this case and the risks she undertook on behalf of the Aggrieved Employees. Escarcega Decl., ¶¶
12 4-6; see also Blakely Decl., ¶ 28. Plaintiff provided substantial factual information and documents 13 to counsel, assisted in identifying potential witnesses, and participated in numerous discussions 14 with Plaintiff's counsel regarding the case. Id. Accordingly, Plaintiff's requested Representative 15 Enhancement Payment is appropriate and justified as part of the Settlement.

16 V. CONCLUSION

17 For the reasons stated herein, Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court grant Plaintiff's 18 Motion and adopt the [Proposed] Judgment and Order Granting Settlement Approval submitted 19 concurrently herewith.
