Attorneys for Plaintiff Chelsea Galkoski

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA FOR THE COUNTY OF SAN DIEGO

CHELSEA GALKOSKI, on behalf of others
similarly situated and the State of California
under the Private Attorneys General Act,

Plaintiffs,

vs.

ONEWELL OF CALIFORNIA LLC and DOES
1 through 50, inclusive,

Defendants.

Case No. 37-2024-00027256-CU-OE-CTL

CLASS ACTION

FIRST AMENDED CLASS AND REPRESENTATIVE ACTION COMPLAINT

1. Minimum Wage Violations
2. Failure to Pay All Overtime Wages
3. Meal Period Violations
4. Rest Period Violations
5. Paid Sick Leave Violations
6. Untimely Payment of Wages
7. Wage Statement Violations
8. Waiting Time Penalties
9. Failure to Reimburse Business Expenses
10. Unpaid Reporting Time Wages
11. Civil Penalties under the Private Attorneys
General Act (Labor Code §§ 2698 et seq.)

1 Plaintiff CHELSEA GALKOSKI, on behalf of all others similarly situated and the State of
2 California under the Private Attorneys General Act (“Plaintiff”) brings this FIRST AMENDED
3 CLASS AND REPRESENTATIVE ACTION COMPLAINT against Defendants ONEWELL OF 4 CALIFORNIA LLC and DOES 1 through 50, inclusive (collectively “Defendants”), alleging as 5 follows:

6 INTRODUCTION

7 1. This is a class action brought under the California Code of Civil Procedure section 382
8 for Defendants’ violations of the California Labor Code and Business Professions Code.

9 2. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the class members all minimum and overtime
10 wages due to unlawful policies and practices of unauthorized time editing and off-the-clock work.

11 3. Defendants failed to provide, authorize, and/or permit Plaintiff and the class members 12 to take all meal and rest periods to which they were entitled.

13 4. Defendants failed to pay all reporting time wages to Plaintiff and the class members.

14 5. Defendants failed to properly reimburse Plaintiff and the class members for using their 15 personal cell phones and devices to complete work-related duties.

16 6. Defendants’ employment policies, practices, and payroll administration systems
17 enabled and facilitated these violations on a company-wide basis with respect to class members.

18 JURISDICTION & VENUE

19 7. Jurisdiction of this action is proper in this Court under Article VI, Section 10 of the 20 California Constitution as the causes of action are premised upon violations of California law.

21 8. The monetary damages and restitution sought exceed the minimal jurisdiction limits of 22 the Superior Court.

23 9. This Court has jurisdiction over Defendants because, upon information and belief,
24 Defendants have sufficient minimum contacts in California, or otherwise intentionally avail
25 themselves to the California economy so as to render the exercise of jurisdiction over them by the 26 California courts consistent with traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

10. Venue is proper in this Court under Code of Civil Procedure sections 393(a), 395, and/or 395.5 because, upon information and belief, Defendants conducted business and committed some of the alleged violations in this County.

PARTIES

A. Plaintiff Chelsea Galkoski

11. Plaintiff Galkoski is an individual over 18 years of age who worked for Defendants in California as a non-exempt employee from about January 2023 to May 2024. Plaintiff worked as a Direct Support Aid.

12. The State of California, via the Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”), is the real party in interest in this action. (Kim v. Reins Int’l California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal. 5th 73, 81 [The “government entity on whose behalf the plaintiff files suit is always the real party in interest.”]) To the extent permitted by law, including pursuant Balderas v. Fresh Start Harvesting, Inc., Court of Appeals Case No. B326759 (2nd App. Dist.) ____ Cal. App. 5th ____ (Mar. 20, 2024, as modified Apr. 18, 2024), the PAGA claim is brought exclusively as a representative action and does not include arbitrable claims.

B. Defendants

13. Defendant Onewell of California LLC is a California limited liability company that maintains operations and conducts business throughout the State of California, including in this county.

14. The true names and capacities, whether individual, corporate, or otherwise, of the parties sued as DOES 1 through 50, are presently unknown, unascertainable, or uncertain, and are sued by such fictitious names under Code of Civil Procedure section 474. Upon information and belief, each of DOES 1 through 50 constitutes a legal employer or is otherwise legally responsible in some manner for the acts and omissions alleged herein. This Complaint may be amended to reflect their true names and capacities once ascertained.

15. Upon information and belief, Defendants in this action are employers, co-employers, joint employers, and/or part of an integrated employer enterprise, as each of the Defendants exercised control over the wages, hours, and working conditions of the employees, suffered and permitted them to work, and otherwise engaged them as employees under California law.

16. Upon information and belief, at least some of the Defendants have common ownership, common management, interrelationship of operations, and centralized control over labor relations and are therefore part of an integrated enterprise and thus jointly and severally responsible for the acts and omissions alleged herein, including pursuant to Labor Code sections 558, 558.1, and 1197.1.

17. Upon information and belief, Defendants acted in all respects pertinent to this action as an alter-ego, agent, servant, joint employer, joint venturer, co-conspirator, partner, in an integrated enterprise, or in some other capacity on behalf of all other co-defendants, such that the acts and omissions of each defendant may be legally attributable to all others.

CLASS ALLEGATIONS

18. This action is brought individually and on behalf of the following class pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 382:

a. All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendants in California at any time from four years (plus the additional 178-day statutory tolling period under Emergency Rule 9) prior to the filing of this action through date of class certification.

19. Plaintiff reserves the right to establish various subclass definitions as appropriate at the class certification stage, according to proof.

20. The class is ascertainable and shares a well-defined community of interest in this litigation:

a. Numerosity: The class is estimated to exceed 50 individuals, although the precise membership of the entire class is unknown at this time. The class is so numerous that joinder of all class members is impracticable. The identities of class members are ascertainable by inspection of Defendants' employment and payroll records.

b. Typicality: Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the other class members. They were subject to the same policies and practices of Defendants,

1 which resulted in losses to the class. Proof of common unlawful business
2 practices, which Plaintiff experienced, will establish the right of the class to 3 recover on the causes of action alleged herein.

4 c. Adequacy: Plaintiff is an adequate class representative; will take all necessary
5 steps to protect the class members' interests adequately and fairly; has no
6 interest antagonistic to other class members; and is represented by attorneys 7 who have substantial experience prosecuting, defending, resolving, and 8 litigating wage and hour class, collective, and representative actions in 9 California state and federal courts.

10 d. Superiority: A class action is superior to other means for adjudicating this 11 dispute. Individual joinder is impractical. Class treatment will allow for 12 common issues to be resolved in a single forum, simultaneously, and without 13 duplication of effort and expense.

14 e. Public Policy Considerations: Certification of this lawsuit as a class action
15 advances the State of California's strong public interest in ensuring its 16 approximately millions of employed residents are properly paid the wages they 17 earned for the hours they worked. Class actions provide a mechanism for 18 enforcement of labor laws and allow for vindication of employee rights by 19 unnamed class members.

20 21. Common questions of law and fact as to the class members predominate over questions
21 affecting only individual members. The common questions of law and fact exist as to whether the 22 employment policies and practices formulated by Defendants and applied to the class members
23 constitute violations of California law.

24 GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

25 22. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the class members the lawful minimum wage for 26 all hours worked.

27 23. Defendants engaged in an unlawful policy and practice of making unauthorized edits
28 to Plaintiff's and the class members' time records.

1 24. For example, when Plaintiff would clock in for work a few minutes before her
2 scheduled shift, her time records were edited to reflect her scheduled shift, resulting in unpaid hours 3 worked.

4 25. To the extent Defendants edited, shaved, or rounded the class members time records to 5 reflect less than all hours worked, this resulted in unpaid minimum wages.

6 26. Defendants further had a policy and practice of unlawfully requiring off-the-clock 7 work.

8 27. For example, as a common policy and practice Plaintiff and the class members were 9 regularly required to clock out at the end of their scheduled shift, but continue working in order to 10 complete their service note in accordance with their respective deadlines.

11 28. Plaintiff and the class members worked off-the-clock each time Plaintiff and the class
12 members were unable to complete their service notes or other job duties during their scheduled shift
13 due to the high demands of the job.

14 29. Additionally, Defendants failed to compensate Plaintiff and the class members for 15 hours worked when completing their onboarding paperwork and training upon hiring.

16 30. Plaintiff and the class members were hired over the phone, then sent the onboarding 17 paperwork, policies, and training modules via email before their first day of work and without the 18 ability to clock in.

19 31. Plaintiff and the class members were not paid for the time it took them to complete 20 their onboarding paperwork and training, resulting unpaid minimum wages.

21 32. To the extent Defendants' unlawful time editing and off-the-clock work policies and 22 practices resulted in unpaid work over 8 hours in a day and 40 hours in a week, this resulted in unpaid 23 overtime.

24 33. Defendants failed to comply with California's paid sick leave laws with respect to the 25 class members. The failure to calculate and pay sick leave at one of the lawful rates set forth in Labor
26 Code § 246(l)(1)-(3) and 247 et seq. was applied as a matter of common policy and practice to class 27 members.
28

1 34. Plaintiff and the class members experienced missed, late, short, and interrupted meal
2 periods in order to keep up with the high demands of the job and constant patient monitoring.

3 35. Plaintiff and the class members were not properly relieved of all duties during their 4 meal periods due to the responsibility of constantly monitoring their patients at all times, even during 5 their unpaid meal periods.

6 36. Defendant in effect maintained an invalid on-duty meal period policy, however, the 7 nature of the work did not prevent the class members from the ability to take duty-free meal periods
8 because at all times there was adequate coverage to stagger employees to temporarily relieve class
9 members for their mandated meal periods.

10 37. Specifically, even though Plaintiff worked the graveyard shift, Defendant's policy is to 11 always have a two staff to one patient ratio, meaning Plaintiff and other class members were not 12 scheduled alone.

13 38. Additionally, Defendants did not maintain a valid, written On-Duty Meal Period
14 Agreement.

15 39. When Plaintiff and the class members experienced these non-compliant meal periods
16 Defendants failed to pay all owed meal period premiums as a matter of common policy and practice.

17 40. Similarly, Plaintiff and the class members were not authorized or permitted to take all 18 rest periods.

19 41. Defendants actively discouraged Plaintiff and the class members from taking compliant
20 rest periods each day, instead encouraging them to go from task to task without a break each day.

21 42. Defendants required Plaintiff and class members to effectively waive or forego their 22 rest periods contrary to California law.

23 43. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the class members all owed reporting time wages.

24 44. For example, when Plaintiff reported to her shift to find her patient was admitted to the 25 hospital or otherwise did not require care, she was only paid for approximately 30-minutes of work
26 instead of "the greater of two hours or half the scheduled shift length" as required by California law.

27 45. Defendants failed to reimburse Plaintiff and the class members for all work-related 28 expenses.

53. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to pay Plaintiff and class members at least the lawful minimum wage for each hour worked in violation of Labor Code sections 1182.12, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1 and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the “Hours and Days of Work” and “Minimum Wages” sections of the applicable orders), including payment at the lawful local and county minimum wage ordinances in effect. As a result, Defendants are liable for all associated damages, including liquidated damages for the minimum wage violations pursuant to Labor Code § 1194.2.

54. Defendants’ unlawful acts and omissions deprived Plaintiff and class members of minimum, regular and overtime wages in amounts to be determined at trial. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the full amount of the unpaid wages, plus liquidated damages in an amount equal to the wages unlawfully unpaid (and interest thereon), in addition to interest, attorneys’ fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law, including under Labor Code sections 1194 and 1194.2.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

FAILURE TO PAY ALL OVERTIME WAGES

Violation of Labor Code §§ 510 and 1194

55. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

56. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code §§ 204, 510, 558, 1194, and 1198, which require non-exempt employees be timely paid overtime wages all overtime hours worked, and which further provide a private right of action for an employer’s failure to pay all overtime compensation for overtime hours worked.

57. Defendants failed in their affirmative obligation to pay Plaintiff and class members no less than one and one-half times their respective “regular rate of pay” for all hours worked in excess of eight hours in one day, 40 hours in one week, or the first eight hours worked on the seventh day of work in any one workweek, and no less than twice their respective “regular rate of pay” for all hours over 12 hours in one day and any work in excess of eight hours on any seventh day of a workweek for such hours worked, in violation of Labor Code sections 204, 510, 558, 1194, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the “Hours and Days of Work” sections of the applicable orders).

58. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the full amount of the unpaid overtime, in addition to interest, statutory and civil penalties, and attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

MEAL PERIOD VIOLATIONS

Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7 and 512

59. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

60. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code §§ 226.7, 558 and 512, which require non-exempt employees be provided complaint meal periods (or meal period premiums in lieu thereof), and which further provide a private right of action for an employer's failure to lawfully provide all meal periods and/or pay meal period premiums at the lawful regular rate of compensation.

61. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to consistently provide Plaintiff and class members compliant, duty-free meal periods of not less than 30 minutes beginning before the fifth hour of hour for each work period of more than five hours per day and a second duty-free meal period of not less than 30 minutes beginning before the tenth hour of hour of work in violation of Labor Code sections 226.7, 512, 558, 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the “Meal Periods” sections of the applicable orders).

62. Further, Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to consistently pay Plaintiff and class members one additional hour of pay at the respective regular rate of compensation for each workday that a fully compliant meal period was not provided, in violation of Labor Code sections 226.7, 512, 558, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the “Meal Periods” sections of the applicable orders).

63. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the full amount of the meal period premiums owed, in addition to interest, statutory and civil penalties, and attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law.

1 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

2 REST PERIOD VIOLATIONS

3 Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7 and 516

4 64. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

5 65. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code
6 §§ 226.7 and 516, which require non-exempt employees be authorized to take complaint rest periods
7 (or rest period premiums in lieu thereof), and which further provide a private right of action for an 8 employer's failure to lawfully provide all rest periods and/or pay rest period premiums at the lawful 9 regular rate of compensation.

10 66. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to consistently authorize and 11 permit Plaintiff and class members to receive compliant, duty-free rest periods of not less than ten
12 (10) minutes for every four hours worked (or major fraction thereof) in violation of Labor Code
13 sections 226.7, 516, 558, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders (the "Rest Periods" sections of the 14 applicable orders).

15 67. Further, Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to consistently pay
16 Plaintiff and class members one additional hour of pay at the respective regular rate of compensation
17 for each workday that a fully compliant rest period was not provided, in violation of Labor Code
18 sections 226.7, 516, 558, and 1198 and the IWC Wage Orders.

19 FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

20 FAILURE TO PAY ALL PAID SICK LEAVE WAGES

21 Violation of Labor Code §§ 200, 218, 246 *et seq.

22 68. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

23 69. Defendants knowingly and intentionally failed in their affirmative obligation to pay
24 sick leave wages to Plaintiff and a paid sick leave subclass in violation of Labor Code section 246
25 et seq. Paid sick leave earnings constitute wages for purposes of California wage and hour law.
26 (Murphy v. Kenneth Cole Productions, Inc. (2007) 40 Cal.4th 1094, 1103 ["Courts have recognized
27 that 'wages' also include those benefits to which an employee is entitled as a part of his or her
28 compensation, including money, room, board, clothing, vacation pay, and sick pay"].)

70. Labor Code section 246(1), in conjunction with Labor Code section 248 et seq., 248.1, 248.2, and 248.6, in addition to the applicable County sick pay ordinances in locales worked by class members, govern how Defendants were required to calculate paid sick leave.

71. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and class members their paid sick leave wages at one of the lawful rates set forth in the statute or ordinance because Defendants failed to include in their sick leave calculation the additional remuneration received by Plaintiff and class members (i.e., at the regular rate of pay and/or calculated based on total wages earned).

72. Furthermore, to the extent the paid sick leave paid constitutes Covid-related paid sick leave, Defendants knowingly and intentionally failed in their affirmative obligation to pay Covid-19 Supplemental Sick Leave wages to class members at the correct accrual rate or hourly pay rate in violation of Labor Code sections 246, 248.1, 248.2, and 248 et seq.

73. As a result, Defendants violated the Labor Code and are liable to Plaintiff and class members for underpaid sick leave wages, in addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

UNTIMELY PAYMENT OF WAGES

Violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 210, 218

74. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

75. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the IWC Wage Orders and Labor Code §§ 204, 204b, and 210 which require non-exempt employees be timely paid all wages owed each pay period, and which further provide a private right of action for an employer's failure to comply with this obligation. Labor Code § 218 authorizes individuals to sue directly for wages and penalties due under these sections, including Labor Code § 210(c)'s statutory late payment penalties.

76. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to timely pay all wages, including paid sick leave and meal and rest premiums, earned by Plaintiff and class members twice during each calendar month on days designated in advance by the employer as regular paydays (for employees paid on a non-weekly basis) and on the regularly-scheduled weekly payday for weekly employees, if any, in violation of Labor Code sections 204 and 204b and the IWC Wage Orders (the “Minimum Wages” sections of the applicable orders).

1 77. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the full amount of the unpaid wages,
2 in addition to a statutory penalty in the amount of $100 for the initial violation for each failure to pay
3 each employee and $200 for all subsequent violations and for all willful or intentional violations for 4 each failure to pay each employee, plus 25 percent of the amount unlawfully withheld under provided
5 in Labor Code § 210, in addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law.

6 SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

7 WAGE STATEMENT VIOLATIONS

8 Violation of Labor Code § 226

9 78. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

10 79. This cause of action is brought by a wage statement subclass pursuant to Labor Code
11 § 226(a) which requires non-exempt employees be provided accurate itemized wage statements each
12 pay period, and which further provide a private right of action for an employer's failure to comply 13 with this obligation.

14 80. Defendants knowingly and intentionally failed in their affirmative obligation to provide 15 accurate itemized wage statements to Plaintiff and class members resulting in injury to Plaintiff and 16 class members. Specifically, the wage statements issued to Plaintiff and class members did not 17 accurately state each pay period all of the information required by Labor Code § 226(a)(1)-(9).

18 81. Defendants' unlawful acts and omissions deprived Plaintiff and class members of 19 accurate itemized wage statements, causing confusion and concealing wage and premium
20 underpayments.

21 82. As a result, Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover the statutory penalty of 22 $50 per employee for the initial pay period in which a violation occurred and $100 per employee for 23 each violation in a subsequent pay period, up to an aggregate penalty of $4,000 per employee, in
24 addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law, including under Labor
25 Code section 226(e).

1 EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION

2 WAITING TIME PENALTIES

3 Violation of Labor Code §§ 201 *et seq.

4 83. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

5 84. This cause of action is brought by a waiting time subclass pursuant to Labor Code
6 §§ 201 through 203, which require an employer to timely pay all wages earned upon termination of 7 employment, and which further provide a private right of action to recover statutory waiting time
8 penalties each day an employer fails to comply with this obligation, up to a maximum of 30 days 9 wages.

10 85. Defendants willfully failed and continue to fail in their affirmative obligation to pay all
11 wages earned and unpaid to Plaintiff and class members immediately upon termination of employment
12 or within 72 hours thereafter for employees who did not provide at least 72 hours prior notice of his 13 or her intention to quit, and further failed to pay those sums for 30 days thereafter in violation of Labor
14 Code sections 201 through 203 and the IWC Wage Orders.

15 86. Plaintiff and class members are entitled to recover a waiting time penalty for a period
16 of up to 30 days, in addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law.

17 NINTH CAUSE OF ACTION

18 FAILURE TO REIMBURSE BUSINESS EXPENSES

19 Violation of Labor Code § 2802

20 87. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

21 88. Defendants willfully failed in their affirmative obligation to reimburse Plaintiff and a
22 reimbursement subclass for all necessary expenditures, losses, expenses, and costs incurred by them
23 in direct discharge of the duties of their employment, in violation of Labor Code section 2802.

24 89. Defendants' unlawful acts and omissions deprived Plaintiff and class members of 25 lawful reimbursements for business expenses in amounts to be determined at trial. Plaintiff and class
26 members are entitled to recover the amount unreimbursed expenses of Plaintiff and class members in
27 addition to interest, attorneys' fees, and costs to the extent permitted by law, including under Labor
28 Code section 2802.

1 a. All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendants in 2 California at any time from one year prior to the postmark date of the initial 3 PAGA notice through date of trial.

4 3. Plaintiff reserves the right to amend, supplement, or add to this description of the 5 aggrieved employees, according to proof.

6 4. The State of California, via the Labor and Workforce Development Agency
7 (“LWDA”), is the real party in interest in this action with respect to this cause of action. (Kim v. Reins
8 Int’l California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal. 5th 73, 81 [The “government entity on whose behalf the plaintiff
9 files suit is always the real party in interest.”])

10 5. Labor Code section 2699(a) provides: “Notwithstanding any other provision of law,,
11 any provision of this code that provides for a civil penalty to be assessed and collected by the Labor
12 and Workforce Development Agency or any of its departments, divisions, commissions, boards,
13 agencies, or employees, for a violation of this code, may, as an alternative, be recovered through a civil 14 action brought by an aggrieved employee on behalf of himself or herself and other current or former 15 employees pursuant to the procedures specified in Section 2699.3. “

16 6. Labor Code section 2699(f) provides: “For all provisions of this code except those for 17 which a civil penalty is specifically provided, there is established a civil penalty for a violation of these 18 provisions, as follows: ... (2) If, at the time of the alleged violation, the person employs one or more
19 employees, the civil penalty is one hundred dollars ($100) for each aggrieved employee per pay period
20 for the initial violation and two hundred dollars ($200) for each aggrieved employee per pay period for 21 each subsequent violation.”

22 7. Any allegations regarding violations of the IWC Wage Orders are enforceable as 23 violations of Labor Code section 1198, which states: “[t]he employment of any employee for longer 24 hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the order is unlawful.”

25 8. Labor Code section 2699.3 sets forth the procedure for commencing an action for civil 26 penalties under the PAGA.

27 9. On or about June 4, 2024, Plaintiff paid the requisite PAGA filing fee and provided 28 written notice (by online electronic filing with the LWDA and by certified mail to Defendants) of Defendants' alleged Labor Code violations, including the facts and theories to support the alleged violations.

10. A true and correct copy of Plaintiff's written PAGA notice, entitled "Notice of Labor Code Violations" is attached hereto as Exhibit 1 and incorporated by reference as though fully set forth herein (the "PAGA notice").

11. To date, neither Plaintiff nor Plaintiff's counsel has received a response to Plaintiff's written PAGA notice from the LWDA.

12. Within 33 calendar days of the postmark date of the notice sent by Plaintiff, neither Plaintiff nor Plaintiff's counsel has received written notice by certified mail from any defendant providing a description of any actions taken to cure the alleged violations.

13. Now that at least 65 days have passed from Plaintiff notifying Defendants of these violations, without notice of cure from Defendants or notice from the LWDA of its intent to investigate the alleged allegations and issue the appropriate citations to Defendants, Plaintiff exhausted all prerequisites and commenced this civil action under Labor Code section 2699 et seq.

14. As set forth in the PAGA notice attached as Exhibit 1 and incorporated into this Complaint, Defendants committed the following violations and are liable for all corresponding civil penalties:

- a. Unpaid Hours Worked/Minimum Wage. Violation of Labor Code §§ 1194, 1197, 1198; IWC Wage Orders.
- b. Unpaid Overtime. Violation of Labor Code §§ 510, 1194, 1198; IWC Wage Orders.
- c. Unpaid Paid Sick Leave. Violation of Labor Code §§ 246 through 248.7.
- d. Unpaid Reporting Time Wages. Violation of Labor Code § 1198; IWC Wage Orders.
- e. Unpaid Meal Period Premium Wages. Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 512, 1198; IWC Wage Orders.
- f. Unpaid Rest Period Premium Wages. Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 516, 1198; IWC Wage Orders.

- g. Untimely Payment of Wages During Employment. Violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 204b, 210.
- h. Non-Compliant Wage Statements. Violation of Labor Code §§ 226, 226.3.
- i. Unreimbursed Employee Expenses. Violation of Labor Code §§ 2802, 2804.
- j. Failure to Maintain Accurate Records. Violation of Labor Code § 1174; IWC Wage Orders.

15. Plaintiff seeks to collect all recoverable civil penalties for the Labor Code violations alleged in this Complaint and the PAGA notice (including amendments thereto) against Defendants pursuant to Labor Code section 2699(a) and (f), in addition to attorneys' fees, costs, and interest to the extent permitted by law, including under Labor Code section 2699(g).

NOTICE OF LABOR CODE VIOLATIONS CALIFORNIA LABOR CODE SECTIONS 2698 et seq.

VIA CERTIFIED U.S. MAIL
- Electronic Return Receipt -

Onewell of California LLC
8745 Aero Drive Ste. 300
San Diego, CA 92123,

- PAGA Notice & Filing Fee -
Submitted electronically to the Labor and Workforce Development Agency

Dear LWDA Officer and Company Representatives:

This letter serves as written notice under Labor Code section 2699.3 on behalf of CHELSEA GALKOSKI (“Plaintiff(s)”) and all other “aggrieved employees” of the following “Defendant(s)”:

ONEWELL OF CALIFORNIA LLC

Defendant(s) shall mean and include the foregoing in addition to any other related employer entities, individuals under Labor Code sections 558 and 558.1, and all others who may be later added upon further investigation and discovery as liable employers.

This office serves as legal counsel for Plaintiff. If the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”) does not investigate the facts, allegations, and violations set forth in this notice within the statutorily prescribed 65-day period under Labor Code section 2699.3, Plaintiff intends to commence a civil action against Defendants as a proxy and agent of the State of California under the Private Attorneys General Act (“PAGA”). “PAGA allows an ‘aggrieved employee’—a person affected by at least one Labor Code violation committed by an employer—to pursue penalties for all the Labor Code violations committed by that employer.” Huff v. Securitas Security Services USA, Inc. (2018) 23 Cal. App. 5th 745, 751; Kim v. Reins International California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal. 73, 79. Plaintiff maintains standing to pursue these claims against Defendants, as Plaintiff experienced one or more of the alleged violations during the relevant statutory period, which continue through the present date. Cf. Johnson v. Maxim Healthcare Servs., Inc., 281 Cal. Rptr. 3d 478, 481 (Cal. Ct. App. 2021).

Through this notice, Plaintiff requests that Defendants complete an internal investigation and audit of the wage and hour and employment practices at issue and make a good faith effort to correct any violations. Plaintiff attempts to identify the non-compliant policies and practices affecting the aggrieved employees so that the parties may resolve the underlying damages and penalties in judgment or settlement approved by the Superior Court of California under Labor Code section 2699(k). Defendants are notified that any attempt to resolve this case should be conducted in coordination with Plaintiff's counsel to protect the interests of Plaintiff, the aggrieved employees, and the State of California via the LWDA. Plaintiff advises Defendants this letter should be also considered a reasonable attempt at settlement of this matter, subject to an exchange of additional documents and information. Graham v. Daimler Chrysler Corp. (2004) 24 Cal. 4th 553, 561.

- BACKGROUND -

Defendants employed Plaintiff during the PAGA Period in the position of Direct Support Aid from about January 2023 to May 2024. During their employment Plaintiff and the other aggrieved employees were subject to the wage and hour and employment protections set forth in the California Labor Code and IWC Wage Orders.

Through this notice, Plaintiff informs the LWDA of the Labor Code violations set forth herein. The “aggrieved employees” include Plaintiff and the following individuals:

All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendants in the State of California during one-year period preceding the date of this notice through the current date and the date of trial in any pending action (the “aggrieved employees” and the “PAGA Period”).

Plaintiff reserves the right to expand or narrow the definition of the “aggrieved employees” in the forthcoming civil action. Furthermore, Plaintiff seeks all recoverable civil penalties for Defendants’ violations and reserves the right to supplement this notice as further investigation is completed and further facts, witnesses, and violations are uncovered.

- PAGA CLAIMS -

Unpaid Hours Worked/Minimum Wage Violation of Labor Code §§ 1194, 1197, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 1194, 1197, and 1198, along with the California Minimum Wage Order, the applicable local minimum wage ordinances, and the “Hours and Days of Work” and “Minimum Wages” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Orders with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 1194 renders it unlawful for an employee to receive less than the legal minimum wage for hours worked in California. Labor Code section 1197 further mandates that “[t]he minimum wage for employees fixed by the commission is the minimum wage to be paid to employees, and the payment of a lower wage than the minimum so fixed is unlawful.” Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The California Minimum Wage Order and the applicable sections of the IWC Wage Orders further require payment of minimum wages for all hours worked. The “Minimum Wages” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Order provide that “[e]very employer shall pay to each employee, on the established payday for the period involved, not less than the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked in the payroll period, whether the remuneration is measured by time, piece, commission, or otherwise.” The foregoing California wage laws require payment of “not less than the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked in the payroll period” and California law does not allow averaging of pay over the hours worked in the pay period, even if the total pay results in an average above the minimum wage. Armenta v. Osmose, Inc. (2005) 135 Cal. App. 3d 314, 324.

Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees at the lawful minimum wage rate for all hours worked, resulting in unpaid minimum wages.

First, Defendants had a policy and practice of editing employees’ time records to reflect less hours worked on their timesheets (i.e. timeshaving). Specifically, Plaintiff often clocked in a few minutes earlier than her scheduled shift to ensure she began work on time, but was routinely only paid for her scheduled hours. Due to this time shaving practice, all hours worked were not directly compensated, resulting in minimum wage violations. The revisions were made without employees’ knowledge or consent. Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were deprived of regular wages each time Defendant altered their time sheets.

Second, Defendants required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to complete off-the clock work. For example, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were routinely required to stay past their scheduled hours to complete service notes according to their deadlines. Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were directed to clock-out, but stay and continue to work each time they were unable to complete these notes during their scheduled shift. This resulted in unpaid off-the-clock work.

Finally, Defendants failed to compensate Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees for the time it took them to complete their onboarding paperwork. Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were hired over the phone, and then sent onboarding policies and training via email before their first day of work without the ability to clock-in. Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were never paid for the time it took them to complete their onboarding documentation process electronically, including reviewing Defendants’ policies and procedures and completing required training modules.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code sections 558 ($50/$100), 1197.1 ($100/$250), 1199 / “Penalties” section of the IWC Wage Orders

($50/$100), and 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unpaid Overtime
Violation of Labor Code §§ 510, 1194, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 510, 1194, and 1198, along with the “Hours and Days of Work” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Orders with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 510 requires “[a]ny work in excess of eight hours in one workday and any work in excess of 40 hours in any one workweek and the first eight hours worked on the seventh day of work in any one workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for an employee;” and “any work in excess of 12 hours in one day shall be compensated at the rate of no less than twice the regular rate of pay for an employee;” and “any work in excess of eight hours on any seventh day of a workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than twice the regular rate of pay of an employee.” Labor Code section 1194 renders it unlawful for an employee to receive less than the legal overtime rate for overtime hours worked in California. Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders further require payment of overtime wages for all overtime hours worked, including the “Hours and Days of Work” sections.

Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees overtime wages and the lawful rate of pay for overtime hours worked, resulting in unpaid overtime wages.

As stated in the “Unpaid Hours Worked” section above, Defendants engaged in an unlawful policy and practice of requiring off-the-clock work and editing employees’ time records. To the extent that these unlawful practices resulted in unpaid hours worked, over 8 hours in a day or 40 hours in a week, this resulted in unpaid overtime.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code sections 558 ($50/$100), 1199 / “Penalties” section of the IWC Wage Orders) ($50/$100), and 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unpaid Paid Sick Leave
Violation of Labor Code §§ 246 through 248.7

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 246 through 248.7 with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 246 requires employers to provide paid sick leave to its workforce on the terms set forth in the statute. Employers must comply with the accrual, use, and notice provisions of Labor Code sections 246, 246.5, 247, and must further ensure that they maintain the paid sick leave records required by Labor Code section 247.5. Employers have the option of providing 24 hours of paid sick leave to employees or to allow employees to accrue paid sick leave each pay period. If an employer chooses the accrual method, employees must accrue sick leave at a rate of one hour for every thirty hours worked in a given pay period as set forth in Labor Code section 246(b)(1). Under the accrual method, employees must begin accruing paid sick leave at the commencement of employment.

Employers must pay sick leave in accordance with one of the three permissible methods provided in Labor Code section 246(l): (1) “the same manner as the regular rate of pay for the workweek;” (2) “by dividing the employee’s total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee’s total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days;” or (3) “for exempt employee ... in the same manner as the employer calculates wages for other forms of paid leave time.” Labor Code sections 248.6 and 248.7 similarly require paid sick leave to be paid at a regular rate-based calculation in excess of the base hourly rate and at the lawful accrual rate.

Under Labor Code section 246(i), employers must provide employees “with written notice of the amount of paid sick leave available ... for use on either the employee’s itemized wage statement ... or in a separate writing provided on the designated pay date with the employee’s payment of wages.”

Defendants failed to comply with California’s paid sick leave laws with respect to the aggrieved employees. The failure to calculate and pay sick leave at one of the lawful rates set forth in Labor Code § 246(l)(1)-(3) and 247 et seq. was applied as a matter of common policy and practice to aggrieved employees.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unpaid Meal Period Premium Wages
Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 512, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226.7, 512, and 1198, along with the related sections of the IWC Wage Orders with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 512 and the IWC Wage Orders require that employers provide an uninterrupted 30-minute meal period after no more than five hours of work and a second meal period after no more than 10 hours of work. See Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal. 4th 1004, 1049. Labor Code section 226.7 requires that if a meal period is late, missed, short, or interrupted, the employer must pay one additional hour of pay at the employee's "regular rate" of compensation. Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 858, 862 ("We hold that the terms are synonymous: "regular rate of compensation" under section 226.7(c), like "regular rate of pay" under section 510(a), encompasses all nondiscretionary payments, not just hourly wages"). "[T]ime records showing noncompliant meal periods raise a rebuttable presumption of meal period violations, including at the summary judgment stage." Donohue v. AMN Services, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 58, 61. Labor Code section 1198 renders "employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]" unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders, including Section 11 (Meal Periods), further require one uninterrupted 30-minute meal period after no more than five hours of work and a second meal period after no more than 10 hours of work and an additional hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for each workday that a compliant meal period is not provided. Pursuant to Section 11(A) of the IWC Wage Orders, the California Supreme Court has held that the on-duty meal period exception is "exceedingly narrow" and applies only when (1) "the nature of the work prevents the employee from being relieved of all duty" and (2) both "the employer and employee have agreed, in writing, to the on-duty meal period." Augustus v. AMB Security Services, Inc. (2016) 2 Cal. 5th 257, 266-276 (emphasis added). If these two requirements are not met, then the employer owes the employee one hour of premium pay for each non-compliant meal period taken under the purported on-duty meal arrangement. Naranjo v. Spectrum Security Services, Inc. (2019) 40 Cal. 5th 444, 459.

First, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees routinely experienced missed, late, short, and interrupted meal periods due to the pressure to keep up with the high demands of the job, understaffing, and constant patient monitoring.

Additionally, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees regularly experienced non-compliant meal periods due to the responsibility to constantly monitor patients, even during their unpaid meal period. Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were not properly relieved of all duties during this time, and Defendant in effect maintained an invalid on-duty meal period policy. However, the nature of the work did not prevent the aggrieved employees to take duty-free meal periods because at all times there was adequate coverage to temporarily relieve staff. Specifically, even though Plaintiff worked the graveyard shift, it was company policy to always have a two caregiver to one patient ratio, meaning Plaintiff was never scheduled alone. Additionally, Defendants did not maintain a valid On-Duty Meal Period Agreement.

Each time Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees experienced a non-compliant meal period, they were owed a meal period premium. As a matter of policy and practice, Defendants failed to pay all owed meal period premiums.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unpaid Rest Period Premium Wages Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 516, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226.7, 516, and 1198, and the related sections of the IWC Wage Orders with respect to Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code sections 226.7 and 516 and the IWC Wage Orders require that employers authorize and permit an uninterrupted 10-minute rest period for each four-hour period (or major fraction thereof) that an employee works. Labor Code section 226.7 requires that if a rest period is non-compliant, the employer must pay one additional hour of pay at the employee's "regular rate" of compensation. Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 858, 862 ("We hold that the terms are synonymous: "regular rate of compensation" under section 226.7(c), like "regular rate of pay" under section 510(a), encompasses all nondiscretionary payments, not just hourly wages"). Labor Code section 1198 renders "employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]" unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders, including Section 12 (Rest Periods), further require one uninterrupted 10-minute rest period for each four-hour period (or major fraction thereof) worked and an additional hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for each workday that a compliant rest period is not authorized or permitted.

Due to the reasons explained in the "Unpaid Meal Period" section above, such as patient care the pressure to keep up with the high demand of the job Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were not authorized or permitted to take their rest periods. Defendants discouraged Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees from taking compliant rest periods by encouraging them to go from task to task without a break each day. Defendants required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to effectively waive or otherwise forego their rest periods contrary to the law.

As a matter of common policy and practice, each time Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees experienced a non-compliant rest period Defendants failed to pay all owed rest period premiums.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unpaid Reporting Time Wages
Violation of Labor Code § 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 1198 and Section 5 (Reporting Time Pay) of the applicable IWC Wage Orders concerning reporting time wages with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Section 5 of the applicable IWC Wage Orders requires an employer to pay reporting time pay if an employee shows up for a scheduled shift and is not put to work or is furnished with less than half of the scheduled shift. In this situation, the employer owes the employee reporting time pay in the amount of the greater of two hours or half the scheduled shift length. Section 5 further requires an employer to pay reporting time pay if an employee is required to report to work for a second time and is furnished with less than two hours of work on the second reporting. In this situation, the employer owes the employee reporting time pay in the amount of the greater of two hours or half the scheduled shift length. Labor Code section 1198 authorizes enforcement of the reporting time pay provisions of the IWC Wage Orders.

Defendants maintained an unlawful policy and practice of failing to pay reporting time wages to the aggrieved employees. Specifically, Plaintiff and, on information and belief, the aggrieved employees were not paid for reporting to shifts when their patient was admitted to the hospital that day or otherwise did not require care. In these instances, Plaintiff was only paid for 30-minutes of work instead of “the greater of two hours or half the scheduled shift length” as required by California law.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees as provided under Labor Code sections 558 ($50/$100), 1199 / “Penalties” section of the IWC Wage Orders, and 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Untimely Payment of Wages During Employment
Violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 204b, 210

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 204 and/or 204b and 210, as applicable, with respect to Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 204(a) requires payment of “all wages” for non-exempt employees at least twice each calendar month. Labor Code section 204(d) states all wages due must be paid “not more than seven calendar days following the close of the payroll period.” Labor Code section 204b applies to employees paid on a weekly basis and also requires the payment for all labor within the required pay periods. Labor Code section 210 provides “every person who fails to pay the wages of an employee as provided in Section ... 204 ... shall be subject to a civil penalty” of $100 for an initial violation and $200 plus 25% of the amount unlawfully withheld for a subsequent violation.

Because Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums in each pay period in which such wages were earned at the lawful rate, Defendants violated Labor Code section 204 and/or 204b (for weekly employees, as applicable). Defendants violated Labor Code sections 204 and 204b by failing to pay all wages and premiums owed on the regular pay days scheduled each pay period within seven calendar days of the close of the payroll period, as a result of the policies and practices set forth in this notice. Indeed, Defendants failed to pay all regular overtime, premiums, sick leave, and other earning on time each pay period.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, and Labor Code section 210 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Non-Compliant Wage Statements Violation of Labor Code §§ 226, 226.3

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 226(a) and 226.3 with respect to the aggrieved employees by failing to furnish itemized wage statements each pay period that accurately list all information required by Labor Code section 226(a)(1) through (9).

Labor Code section 226(a) requires an employer to furnish wage statements to employees semimonthly or at the time of each payment of wages, “an accurate itemized statement in writing showing:” (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked, (3) the number of piece rate units earned and applicable piece-rate in effect, (4) all deductions, (5) net wages earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the pay period, (7) the name of the employee and last four digits of SSN or an EIN, (8) the name and address of the legal name of the employer, and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee.

Defendants failed to provide accurate itemized wage statements to the aggrieved employees each pay period as a result of the policies and practices set forth in this notice. Defendants violated Labor Code section 226(a)(1) and (5) by not listing the correct “gross wages earned” or “net wages earned,” as the employees earned wages and premiums that were not paid, resulting in an inaccurate reflection, and recording of “gross wages earned” on those wage statements. Likewise, in violation of Labor Code section 226(a)(9), Defendants failed to state on employee wage statements each pay period the applicable hourly rates in effect and the number of hours worked at that rate, as Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to employees. The amounts stated are instead depreciated and underpaid, resulting in an inaccurate reflection on the pay stub.

Defendant violated Labor Code section 226(a)(2) by failing to accurately list employees' "total hours worked," as the wage statements did not accurately include the uncompensated time Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees worked due to Defendant's policy and practice of editing time records and requiring off-the-clock work.

Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees cannot promptly and easily determine from the wage statement alone the wages paid or earned without reference to other documents or information. Indeed, these wage statement violations are significant because they sow confusion among Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees with respect to what amounts were owed and paid, at what rates, the number of hours worked, and how those amounts were or should be calculated. The wage statements reflect a false statement of earnings and concealed the underlying problems and underpayments of employee wages.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code sections 226.3 ($250/$1,000) and 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Unreimbursed Employee Expenses Violation of Labor Code §§ 2802, 2804

Defendants violated Labor Code section 2802 with respect to the aggrieved employees by failing to reimburse the aggrieved employees for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred as part of their job duties.

Labor Code section 2802 requires an employer to "indemnify his or her employee for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred by the employee in direct consequence of the discharge of his or her duties, or of his or her obedience to the directions of the employer, even though unlawful, unless the employee, at the time of obeying the directions, believed them to be unlawful." See, e.g., Espinoza v. West Coast Tomato Growers, LLC, 2016 WL 4468175 at *4, n.2 (S.D. Cal. Aug. 24, 2016, No. 14-CV-2984 W (KSC)).

Labor Code section 2804 affirms that "[a]ny contract or agreement, express or implied, made by any employee to waive the benefits of this article or any part thereof, is null and void, and this article shall not deprive any employee or his personal representative of any right or remedy to which he is entitled under the laws of this State."

Defendants required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to incur costs for work-related purposes without full reimbursement. Specifically, Plaintiff was required to use her personal cell phone, for work related tasks such as completing service notes, communicating with patient family members, maintaining contact with colleagues, and completing onboarding and training. Defendants failed to properly reimburse Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees for these costs. In direct consequence of their job duties, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees unavoidably and necessarily incurred these losses, expenditures, costs, and as a matter of policy and practice.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code section 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Failure to Maintain Accurate Records
Violation of Labor Code § 1174; IWC Wage Orders

Defendants violated Labor Code sections 1174 and the IWC Wage Orders by failing to maintain accurate employee payroll records with respect to Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 1174 requires that employers maintain accurate “payroll records showing the hours worked daily by and the wages paid to, and the number of piece-rate units earned by and any applicable piece rate paid to, employees employed at the respective plants or establishments.” Section 7(A) of the IWC Wage Orders, which may be enforced through Labor Code section 1198, mandates similar recordkeeping obligations.

Because of the policies and practices set forth in this notice, including the failure to accurately account for wages earned or hours worked, Defendants failed to accurately maintain records in accordance with Labor Code section 1174 and the IWC Wage Orders.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code section 1174.5 ($500) and 2699 ($100/$200), along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Attorneys’ Fees and Costs
Labor Code § 2699(g)

Plaintiff has been compelled to retain the services of counsel to protect the interests of other aggrieved employees and the State of California. Plaintiff continues to incur attorneys’ fees and costs, which are recoverable under California law, including Labor Code section 2699(g).

- LITIGATION HOLD NOTICE -

This letter imposes a duty upon all defendants and their respective employees, officers, directors, executives, attorneys, human resource and payroll personnel, accountants, and other agents to preserve all physical and electronic evidence, including electronically stored information and emails, which relate to the employment of Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees specified in this notice. Evidence includes, but is not limited to, Defendants' written employment and payroll policies and handbooks; the aggrieved employees' personnel files and payroll records, such as paystubs, time records, wage statements, compensation reports, as well as the underlying electronically data in Excel or similar format. Memoranda and internal and external correspondence relating to the subject matter of this notice shall also be maintained. Failure to preserve and retain relevant evidence may constitute spoliation of evidence and result in an adverse inference or sanctions.

If you have any questions regarding the scope of your obligations to preserve evidence, please consult your legal counsel and always err on the side of caution. Periodic or regularly scheduled purges or deletions of information covered by this hold must be suspended immediately.

- CONCLUSION -

If the LWDA does not pursue enforcement, Plaintiff intends to bring representative claims on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees seeking civil penalties for violations of the Labor Code and the IWC Wage Orders, along with attorneys' fees, costs, interest, and other appropriate relief.

Please advise if the LWDA intends to investigate any of the factual or legal allegations set forth in this notice. Defendants may contact Plaintiff's counsel with any questions regarding this letter or the forthcoming lawsuit.
