I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff Angel Cuellar (“Plaintiff”) seek preliminary approval,¹ under Rule 3.769(c) of the California Rules of Court, of a $999,999.00 non-reversionary Settlement on behalf of approximately 1,780 drivers employed by Defendant New Bern Transport Corporation (“New Bern” or “Defendant”) in California between July 25, 2020 and December 3, 2025 excluding any weeks covered by the settlement in Stevens v. PepsiCo, Inc. et al., Case No. 22-cv-00802 (S.D.N.Y) (the “Class Period”).

This is a cash settlement and all Class Members who do not opt out will receive a payment, without a requirement to submit a claim form. In summary, Plaintiff alleges he was required to work off the clock before clocking in, during unpaid meal periods, and after shifts, was not reimbursed for required use of his personal cellphone, was underpaid for sick leave, and had to maintain a company-logo uniform at his own expense without reimbursement.

This case resolved following mediation before experienced wage and hour neutral, Steven Serratore, Esq. Plaintiff argues that Defendant’s maximum realistic liability for all of his claims, excluding PAGA penalties,² is over $15,000,000. This assumes the Class Members would receive compensation for 30 minutes of off-the-clock work every shift, meal premiums for all non-compliant meal breaks, rest break premiums once a week, and monthly business expense reimbursements of $50.

Thus, the $999,999 Gross Settlement Amount represents over 10% of New Bern’s maximum realistic liability for Plaintiff’s direct, non-derivative claims, and over 6.57% for all of Plaintiff’s claims, including derivative waiting time and wage statement penalties. This is an excellent result in light of the risks of continued litigation, and within the range of typical class action settlement recoveries.

II. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

Plaintiff Angel Cuellar filed a class action complaint on July 25, 2024 in San Joaquin

² The settlement of Plaintiff’s PAGA penalties is discussed in Section IV(A)(3), below.

1 Superior Court, on behalf of himself and other New Bern’s California drivers, alleging claims
2 for: (1) failure to pay minimum and/or regular wages; (2) failure to pay correctly-calculated sick
3 pay; (3) failure to provide rest periods; (4) failure to provide meal periods; (5) failure to reimburse
4 business expenses; (6) failure to provide itemized wage statements; (7) failure to timely pay all
5 wages due upon termination of employment; and (8) unfair competition. Decl. of Maggie Realin
6 (“Realin Decl.”), ¶ 2. Plaintiff filed an amended complaint, adding a cause of action under PAGA
7 on September 16, 2024. Plaintiff then agreed to remove his meal and rest period claims as 8 preempted by the Motor Carrier Safety Act’s hours-of-service regulations, consistent with Int’l
9 Bhd. of Teamsters, Local 2785 v. FMCSA (9th Cir. 2021) 986 F.3d 841, 849, and filed the Second 10 Amended Complaint on December 18, 2024. Id., ¶ 3.

11 Plaintiff was employed by Defendant in California from approximately May 2012 until 12 August 2023. Plaintiff worked as an hourly, non-exempt salesperson until about 2021–2022, and 13 then as a truck driver delivering Pepsi products in the Stockton area. Decl. of Angel Cuellar
14 (“Cuellar Decl.”), ¶ 2. He alleges he generally worked 8–10 hours per day and 10–12 hour shifts
15 three to four times per week.

16 Plaintiff alleges he was required to clock in using a wall-mounted timeclock and often 17 waited several minutes before doing so, including time spent outside when facility doors were 18 locked. He also alleges he engaged in brief work-related discussions after clocking out, and used
19 his personal cell phone to respond to work communications outside of paid time. Cuellar Decl., 20 ¶¶ 3-5.

21 Plaintiff further alleges he was required to record meal periods as taken, even when he 22 remained subject to work duties or on-call due to delivery schedules and limited parking
23 availability. He contends that drivers were instructed to keep phones on during meal periods.
24 Cuellar Decl., ¶ 6.

25 Plaintiff also alleges that New Bern failed to reimburse necessary business expenses, 26 including personal cell phone use and maintenance of required Pepsi-branded uniforms. He also 27 alleges that non-discretionary pay, such as “Recognition/Service Awards,” was excluded from 28 the calculation of the regular rate for sick pay. Cuellar Decl., ¶¶ 7-9.

1 After some litigation and discovery, the Parties attended a private mediation on 2 September 4, 2025. The case eventually settled. For purposes of settlement, the Parties stipulated
3 to filing a Third Amended Complaint (“TAC”); all claims released in the settlement are alleged 4 in the TAC. Realin Decl., ¶ 4.

5 III. VIGOROUS PROSECUTION OF THIS ACTION

6 A. Summary of Investigation and Discovery Conducted

7 The Parties conducted a thorough investigation of the claims and facts alleged in this 8 action, and Plaintiff analyzed the legal principles applicable to his claims against New Bern.
9 Defendant produced over 25,000 pages of documents and other information in discovery, and a 10 5% class sample of time and pay records for mediation purposes. Plaintiff engaged an expert to 11 prepare a class-wide damages model. As a result of this careful investigation, the Parties
12 developed a clear understanding of their respective claims and defenses. Realin Decl., ¶ 5.

13 B. Settlement Reached after Arms-Length Negotiations with Assistance of 14 Experienced Mediator

15 Plaintiff retained counsel with extensive experience in prosecuting wage and hour class
16 and representative actions. Decl. of Isam C. Khoury (“Khoury Decl.”), ¶¶ 3-12; Decl. of David 17 Mara (“Mara Decl.”), ¶¶ 3-9; Decl. of Emil Davtyan (Davtyan Decl.), ¶¶ 3-7. Defendant was 18 represented by experienced attorneys at Sheppard Mullin. On September 4, 2025, the Parties
19 mediated this case before Steven Serratore, a mediator with vast experience in wage and hour
20 class actions. After the mediation session, the mediator issued a proposal, which the Parties 21 accepted, resulting in a settlement in principle. Following several additional weeks of 22 negotiations, the Parties finalized the terms of the settlement agreement. Khoury Decl., ¶ 13. The 23 executed version of the Settlement Agreement (“SA”) is attached as Exhibit A to Khoury
24 Declaration.³

25 C. Summary of the Risks to Further Litigation

26 Although Plaintiff remains confident in his position, he recognizes several risks in 27

28 ³ The Settlement Agreement and Motion was submitted to the LWDA, and proof of submission is attached as Exhibit B to Khoury Declaration.

1 prevailing on the certification and the merits. Realin Decl., ¶ 6.

2 As a preliminary matter, in 2019, New Bern resolved a similar action involving its
3 California drivers for $5,000,000 in Helton v. Pepsi-Cola Sales and Distribution, Inc., et al., Case
4 No. 3:17-cv-01135-EMC (N.D. Cal.). That settlement occurred before the Federal Motor Carrier
5 Safety Administration (“FMCSA”)’s preemption of California’s meal and rest break claims took 6 effect. New Bern will contend that, following Helton, it had already implemented measures to 7 address the pay and break practices at issue in the present case, substantially reducing its liability
8 in this action. Realin Decl., ¶ 7.

9 With respect to Plaintiff’s off-the-clock claims, New Bern is expected to argue that its 10 written policies are compliant and expressly prohibit any off-the-clock work, including during 11 meal periods, and that employees are provided with contact information for an anonymous HR
12 hotline to report any violations. Further, New Bern contends that drivers were required by 13 Department of Transportation Regulations to record all on-duty time. New Bern also contends 14 that all drivers were issued company devices capable of clocking in remotely, eliminating any 15 need to wait to use the timeclock inside the building. Additionally, New Bern argues driver shift 16 start times were staggered, thereby reducing or eliminating any alleged delays or lines at the 17 timeclock. Realin Decl., ¶ 8.

18 Regarding meal and rest period claims, New Bern asserts that these claims are preempted 19 under the FMCSA. New Bern further argues that it had no actual or constructive knowledge of 20 Plaintiff working during breaks, which its policies expressly prohibit. Realin Decl., ¶ 9. Further,
21 a review of a class sample of employee timecards shows 96% of meal breaks are compliant. This 22 is likely insufficient to raise a presumption of liability under Donohue v. AMN Services, LLC
23 (2021) 11 Cal.5th 58. See Smith v. 9W Halo W. OpCo L.P. (N.D. Cal. Mar. 28, 2025) 2025 U.S.
24 Dist. Lexis 59497, at 10-12 (3.7% shifts showing a missed second meal break insufficient to 25 invoke the Donohue presumption).

26 As to Plaintiff’s claim that he was paid sick pay at his base rate rather than his regular 27 rate of pay, New Bern argues that the evidence shows only a single occurrence in which Plaintiff
28 was paid two different hourly rates and received sick pay at the lower rate. According to New

1 Bern, this happened because Plaintiff received a raise mid-week and took sick leave during that
2 same week—an exceedingly rare circumstance. Therefore, New Bern will contend that this claim
3 is de minimis in value, at best. Realin Decl., ¶ 10.

4 With respect to unreimbursed business expenses under Labor Code section 2802, New 5 Bern argues that it did not require employees to use personal phones for work, as all drivers were 6 issued company phones. Moreover, if any employee used a personal phone for business purposes,
7 New Bern maintains that it had an internal portal through which employees could submit 8 reimbursement requests. Realin Decl., ¶ 11.

9 Regarding Plaintiff’s claim for unreimbursed uniform maintenance costs, New Bern
10 asserts that it provides each employee with five sets of pants, shorts, and vests, along with one
11 pair of shoes every year, at no cost. Realin Decl., ¶ 12. While employers must provide uniforms, 12 they are only required to cover laundering expenses if the clothing requires “special laundering
13 or care.” See O’Connor v. Starbucks Corp. (N.D. Cal. July 14, 2008) 2008 U.S. Dist. Lexis 14 53877, at *10 (finding employer only responsible for cleaning costs if uniforms required special 15 laundering due to heavy soil or color); Morales v. Paschen Mgmt. Corp. (C.D. Cal. Sept. 27,
16 2019) 2019 U.S. Dist. Lexis 208588, at *33 (dismissing claim for reimbursement of standard 17 uniform cleaning costs).

18 To the extent Plaintiff or other drivers did not request reimbursement for such expenses,
19 New Bern asserts the claim is subject to summary adjudication. See Hammit v. Lumber 20 Liquidators (S.D. Cal. 2014) 19 F. Supp. 3d 989, 1001 (granting summary judgment where 21 employee failed to request reimbursement). Realin Decl., ¶ 13.

22 Finally, Plaintiff’s wage statement and untimely wage claims are derivative of his 23 underlying unpaid time, meal, and rest break claims. Realin Decl., ¶ 14. Accordingly, if Plaintiff
24 does not prevail on the underlying claims, the derivative claims will also fail. See Gomez v.
25 Lincare, Inc. (2009) 173 Cal. App. 4th 508, 524–25. New Bern asserts that unpaid wages cannot 26 serve as the basis for derivative penalties under Maldonado v. Epsilon Plastics (2018) Inc., 22
27 Cal. App. 5th 1308, 1336–37. Id.

D. Stevens v. PepsiCo Settlement

The Parties have excluded from the Class Period the seventeen pay periods between December 5, 2021 and April 8, 2022, which are covered by the settlement in Stevens v. PepsiCo, Inc. et al., Case No. 22-cv-00802 (S.D.N.Y). The claims in the Stevens case arose out of what is commonly referred to as “the Kronos outage” in December 2021, when the Kronos timekeeping system used by New Bern (and other employers), was rendered inoperable due to a ransomware attack directed at the system’s vendor.

The Stevens settlement is a global nationwide hybrid FLSA/State law common fund settlement, with Class and Collective Members who were employed by a number of entities, including New Bern, “during the seventeen pay periods between December 5, 2021 and April 8, 2022.” Realin Decl., ¶ 15. The Stevens release covers “any and all claims under state laws relating to or arising out of the Kronos Outage, including, without limitations, all state and local claims for unpaid wages (including, but not limited to minimum wage and overtime), failure to timely pay wages, failure to record hours worked, paystub requirements, reimbursement, and all related claims for statutory damages or penalties, interest, liquidated damages, attorneys’ fees, costs, expenses, and all other such amount.” Id.

1. Settlement Formula and Distribution

Class Members who do not opt out of the Settlement will receive their respective Settlement Payments from the Payout Fund based on the number of workweeks they worked during the Class Period, without the need to submit a claim form. SA, ¶ X.F.2(b)(2). Distribution amounts will be calculated and allocated as follows:

$$\frac{\text{Workweeks Worked by Class Member}}{\text{Total Workweeks Worked by all Class Members}} \times \text{Payout Fund} = \text{Class Member's Payment}$$

*Id.*⁴

Class Members who do not opt out of the Settlement will release Defendant from all claims that relate to the causes of action asserted in this action – or those that could have been asserted in this action based on the facts alleged in Plaintiff’s operative TAC. SA, ¶ X.B.

Settlement checks will be valid and negotiable for 140 days. SA ¶ X.B.12 (p. 25). After the expiration of the 140-day period, the total amount of any uncashed settlement checks will be transferred to the California State Controller with the identity of the class member to whom the funds belong, to be held for the class member per the California Unclaimed Property Law, pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure section 384(b). Id., ¶ X.F.2(d).

⁴ The PAGA Penalty Payment allocated to PAGA-eligible Plaintiffs will be calculated similarly on a pro rata basis, based on the total amount of pay periods PAGA Employees worked during the PAGA Period. SA, ¶ X.F.2(b)(2).

All Settlement Payments are subject to taxation and will be reported to the IRS and state tax authorities. Twenty percent (20%) of each Class Member's Settlement Payment will be allocated as wages, and eighty percent (80%) will be allocated as penalties and interest, with withholding to apply only to the portion allocated to wages. SA, ¶ X.F.2(b)(3). Class Members shall seek their own tax advice regarding this agreement.

2. Attorneys' Fees and Costs

The Parties agreed that, subject to approval by the Court, up to $329,999.67 (one-third) of the Gross Settlement Amount, may be allocated to attorneys' fees, and up to $25,000 may be allocated to reimburse Class Counsel for litigation costs and expenses. SA, ¶¶ X.F(d) and (e). Courts in California wage and hour cases, where the common fund is under $10 million, tend to award attorneys' fees in the 30% - 40% range. Vasquez v. Coast Valley Roofing, Inc. (E.D. Cal. 2010) 266 F.R.D. 482, 491-92 (citing to five wage and hour class actions where courts approved fee awards ranging from 30 to 33%). The trial court has discretion to award attorneys' fees based on either the lodestar/multiplier calculation or the percentage-of-recovery method. Laffitte v. Robert Half International Inc. (2016) 1 Cal.5th 480, 503. Class Counsel intends to brief the fee application using both methodologies, as cross checks.⁵ Any portion of the requested attorneys' fees and costs that are not awarded to Class Counsel shall be part of the Payout Fund distributed to Class Members as provided in the Settlement Agreement. SA, ¶ X.F.2(b)(1).

3. PAGA Payment to Labor Workforce Development Agency

The Parties agree $50,000 of the Gross Settlement Amount will be allocated for payment under PAGA. Of this amount, 65% ($32,500) will be paid to the LWDA, and 35% ($17,500) to PAGA-eligible Plaintiffs, who are those Class Members who worked for Defendant from July 25, 2023 to December 3, 2025. SA, ¶¶ X.F(f), I.L. This amount is reasonable because New Bern will argue that the recent PAGA amendments limit Plaintiff's recovery and that any penalties are capped at 15% under Labor Code Section 2699(g). Defendant will contend it took "all reasonable

⁵ 33.33% of the awarded attorneys' fees will be allocated to Cohelan Khoury & Singer, 33.33% to D.Law, Inc., and 33.33% to Mara Law Firm. The client consented to this fee split agreement in writing. Khoury Decl., ¶ 18.

1 steps” to comply with the law before receiving the PAGA notice, including maintaining lawful
2 wage and hour policies, conducting regular audits, training supervisors, and promptly correcting
3 a minor calculation error. Realin Decl., ¶ 17. Because these compliance measures were in place
4 prior to the notice, Defendant will argue that it qualifies for the 15% cap. Thus, the PAGA
5 penalties to be paid under this Settlement represent 1.6% of the total potential maximum PAGA
6 penalties for Plaintiff’s direct claims, assuming class members could prove they suffered four
7 types of violations in every single pay period (52,089 pay periods) times $100, multiplied by 4 8 penalties for unpaid wages, meal breaks, rest breaks, and unreimbursed expenses per pay period
9 times 15% = $3,125,340). Id. The subsequent penalties should be calculated at $100, not $200
10 per pay period because under Amaral v. Cintas Corp. No. 2 (2008) 163 Cal.App.4th 1157, for a 11 plaintiff to recover $200 per subsequent violation an employer must have been cited first, which 12 has not occurred in this action. Id. at pp. 1207-09; Gunther v. Alaska Airlines, Inc. (2021) 72 Cal.
13 App. 5th 334, 356 (“the increased $200 civil penalty for ‘subsequent violation[s]’ does not apply
14 unless [Plaintiff] presents evidence that the Labor Commission or a court notified [Defendant]
15 that it was in violation of the Labor Code.”); see also Hernandez v. Best Buy Stores, LP (S.D.
16 Cal. June 6, 2017) 2017 WL 2445438, at *2 (holding, based on Amaral, that $100 penalty per 17 pay period is warranted because “no court, commissioner, or any other authority had held [that] 18 Best Buy misclassified” the general managers.”); Trang v. Turbine Engine Components 19 Technologies Corp. (C.D. Cal. Dec. 19, 2012) 2012 WL 6618854, *5 (“courts have held that 20 employers are not subject to heightened penalties for subsequent violations unless and until a 21 court or commissioner notifies the employer that it is in violation of the Labor Code”);
22 Amalgamated Transit Union Local 1309, AFL-CIO v. Laidlaw Transit Services, Inc. (S.D. Cal.
23 Aug. 10, 2009) 2009 WL 2448430, at *9 (finding that California law imposes the “subsequent 24 violation penalty” only after an employer has been notified by “the court or commissioner” that 25 its conduct violates the Labor Code).

26 This allocation of the PAGA penalties falls within the range of other approved PAGA
27 settlements, as courts frequently approve PAGA awards between 0.2% to 2.2% of the total
28 potential penalties. Carrington v. Starbucks Corp. (2018) 30 Cal. App. 5th 504, 528 (awarding PAGA penalties of 0.2% of the maximum, or $5 per pay period); Ruch v. AM Retail Grp., Inc. (N.D. Cal. Sept. 28, 2016) 2016 WL 5462451, at *2, *7 (settlement allocating $10,000 to PAGA penalties where potential value was over $5.2 million, resulting in 0.2 percent PAGA recovery approved); Van Kempen v. Matheson Tri-Gas, Inc. (N.D. Cal. Aug. 25, 2017) 2017 WL 3670787, at *10 (granting final approval of $5,000 PAGA penalty from $370,000 settlement, or 1.4 percent); Slavkov v. Fast Water Heater Partners I, LP (N.D. Cal. July 25, 2017) 2017 WL 3834873, at *2 (finding that “$7,500 PAGA payment is reasonable when measured against the total overall settlement [of $345,000] and the possible weaknesses in Plaintiffs' case.”); see also Bravo v. Gale Triangle, Inc. (C.D. Cal. Feb. 16, 2017) 2017 WL 708766, at *19 ($10,000 as PAGA penalties found reasonable).

4. Settlement Administration Costs

The Parties selected Apex Class Action LLC (“Apex”) as the Settlement Administrator in this action. SA, ¶ X.B.4(b) (p. 19). The Parties obtained bids from three settlement administrators, and Apex’s was the most competitive bid. Khoury Decl., ¶ 14. The costs of the Administrator, estimated at $16,990, will be deducted from the Gross Settlement Amount. SA, ¶ X.F(c); Declaration of Sean Hartranft of Apex, ¶ 7.

5. Class Representative’s Service Award

Defendant agreed, subject to Court approval, to pay up to $10,000 from the Settlement Amount as a service award to Plaintiff for his services as the class representative. SA, ¶ X.F(b). Any portion of the requested service award not awarded to Plaintiff shall be part of the Payout Fund, and shall be distributed to Settlement Class Members as provided in this Agreement. SA, ¶ X.F.2(b)(1).

B. Settlement Administration

Within 21 calendar days after the preliminary approval, Defendant will provide Apex with a class list containing Class Members’ contact information and their weeks worked within a covered position, as well as applicable Workweek Totals. SA, ¶ X.B.4(a) (p. 19). Within 30 calendar days thereafter, Apex will mail a Class Notice to each Class Member as provided in this Settlement. Id., SA, ¶ X.B.4(c) (p. 20). Apex will determine the eligibility for, and the amounts of, any Settlement Payments under the terms of the Agreement, calculating the amount of the Individual Settlement Awards and all payroll tax deductions to be withheld, processing and distributing Class Members' payments, submitting the LWDA's portion of the PAGA payment to the LWDA, and processing and mailing tax payments to the appropriate state and federal taxing authorities. Id., ¶ X.B.4(b) (pp. 19-20). Further, Class Members will also be able to contact the Settlement Administrator by telephone or e-mail, if they have any Settlement questions or need assistance. See Class Notice, Ex. 1 to SA. Also, any objections to or opt outs from the Settlement must be delivered to the Settlement Administrator. SA, ¶ X.B.5 (pp. 21-22).

V. THE SETTLEMENT SATISFIES THE PRELIMINARY APPROVAL CRITERIA

There is a strong judicial preference for pre-trial settlement of complex class actions. Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm'n of San Francisco (9th Cir. 1982) 688 F.2d 615 625. The trial judge exercises discretion in deciding whether to grant preliminary approval of a class action settlement and "great weight is accorded to [the] judge's views." 7-Eleven Owners for Fair Franchising v. Southland Corp. (2000) 85 Cal. App. 4th 1135, 1145.

Preliminary approval is the first of three steps of the settlement approval process, followed by notice to the class and a final approval hearing. See Manual for Complex Litigation, Second, ¶ 30A4 (1993). The court does not need to perform a final analysis of the settlement's fairness to preliminarily approve a proposed settlement. Rather, a more detailed assessment is reserved for the final approval hearing, after class notice has been sent and class members have had the opportunity to object to or opt-out of the settlement. See Moore's Federal Practice, 23.165[3] (3d ed. 2005). Generally, there is an initial presumption of fairness when a proposed settlement, which was negotiated at arms'-length by Class counsel, is presented for court approval. 4 Newberg on Class Actions (4th ed. 2002), ¶ 11.41, p. 90. In approving a settlement where the class has not yet been certified, the court must first determine that a class exists. Amchem Prods., Inc. v. Windsor (1997) 521 U.S. 591, 613, 619-20 (commonality must be shown at a preliminary approval stage, although not necessarily manageability). Then, the Court should examine the settlement as a whole to determine if it is fair, adequate and reasonable. Id.

A. Settlement Amount Calculations – Kullar analysis

Defendant denies all wrongdoing and liability, asserts full compliance with applicable state and federal wage-and-hour laws and policies (including payment of all wages, provision of meal and rest periods, and prohibition of off-the-clock work), notes no class has been certified, contends meal and rest break claims are federally preempted, and maintains Plaintiff's claims require individualized inquiries that defeat class certification.

According to Defendant's records, Class Members collectively worked approximately 241,768 workweeks as of the date of mediation. The average hourly rate is $30.64. Realin Decl., ¶ 18. Plaintiff has calculated Defendant's maximum exposure as follows:

Unpaid Time Claim: $7,096,354.22.⁶ This is based on Plaintiff's estimate Class Members worked about 30 additional minutes per shift. Thus, New Bern's exposure for unpaid wages is $14,192,708.44 (463,208.50 total unpaid hours times $30.64 hourly rate). However, this claim should be discounted by at least 50%⁷ to account for the risks associated with class certification, given that Defendant denies all liability, and maintains its policies prohibit off-the-clock work and there is no electronic evidence supporting such work—only anecdotal accounts. This results in a realistic exposure of $7,096,354.22. Realin Decl., ¶ 19.

Meal Break Claim: $11,353.65. Where data shows a 4% violation rate, New Bern's exposure for unpaid meal break premiums is as follows: 37,055 unique violations times $30.64 = $1,135,365.2. However, because this claim is preempted by the FMCSA, Defendant argues the claim should be valued at zero. Plaintiff discounts it by 99%, to result in New Bern's nominal exposure for unpaid meal break premiums at $11,353.65. Realin Decl., ¶ 20.

⁷ Settlements are routinely approved as fair and reasonable when the maximum valuation is substantially discounted to account for the class certification and merits risks. See e.g., Milburn v. PetSmart, Inc. (E.D. Cal. Oct. 29, 2019) 2019 WL 5566313, at *4 (approving settlement as fair and reasonable where plaintiff applied forty to fifty percent discount each for class certification and risks on the merits); see also Galvan v. Superior Tank Co Inc. (C.D. Cal. July 19, 2016) 2016 WL 11502115, at *7 (approving settlement as fair and reasonable where maximum valuation was discounted for the risk of non-certification, i.e. the rest period claim was discounted by 85% for a risk of non-certification and by 65% on the merits).

1 Rest Break Claim: $56,770.83. Plaintiff estimates he was not able to take a rest break
2 once a week. Thus, New Bern's realistic exposure for unpaid rest break premiums is 926,417
3 shifts over 3.5 hours times $30.64 divided by 5 = $5,677,083. However, because this claim is 4 preempted by the FMCSA, Defendant argues the claim should be valued at zero. Plaintiff
5 discounts it by 99%, to result in New Bern's nominal exposure for unpaid rest break premiums
6 at $56,770.83. Realin Decl., ¶ 21.

7 Unreimbursed Business Expenses Claim: $2,305,620. Plaintiff estimates he was owed 8 $40 per month ($10 per workweek) in cellphone reimbursement, and $10 per month ($2.5 per 9 workweek) for uniform maintenance, for a total of $50 in unreimbursed monthly expenses (or 10 $12.5 per workweek). Thus, Plaintiff calculates Defendant's total potential exposure under the 11 Section 2802 claim is $2,882,025 (based on 230,562 workweeks at $12.50 per workweek).
12 Plaintiff has reduced this amount by 20% to account for the portion attributable to uniform
13 maintenance expenses, as New Bern provided uniforms to class members and did not require any 14 special cleaning procedures. Accordingly, New Bern's estimated exposure for the Section 2802
15 claim is $2,305,620. Realin Decl., ¶ 22.

16 Sick Pay Claim: $7,811.32. In the pay period ending January 21, 2023, Plaintiff received 17 sick pay at a rate of $28.62 per hour, but he alleges his regular rate was $31.45 per hour, resulting 18 in an underpayment of $2.83 per hour. Extrapolated across the class, this would yield a potential 19 exposure of $781,132 (based on 276,018 total sick hours taken by class members multiplied by 20 $2.83). However, Plaintiff has assigned his claim only a nominal value and discounted by 99%,
21 as the underpayment resulted from a unique circumstance in which Plaintiff received a mid-week 22 raise and took sick leave during that same week—an exceedingly rare situation not reflected in 23 the broader class data. Accordingly, New Bern's estimated exposure for this claim is $7,811.32.
24 Realin Decl., ¶ 23.

25 Wage Statement Penalties Claim: $2,362,000. This is based on 1,181 Class Members and 26 52,089 pay periods during the applicable limitations period, with $50 for the initial violation per 27 employee ($50 × 1,181 employees = $59,050) plus $100 for each subsequent violation (($100 × 28 50,908 pay periods (52,089 total pay periods – 1,181 initial pay periods) = $5,090,800)), resulting

1 in a total exposure of $5,149,850. However, this amount equates to an average recovery of 2 $4,360.58 per employee, which exceeds the statutory cap of $4,000 per employee. Accordingly,
3 Plaintiff has calculated New Bern’s total exposure for this claim to $4,724,000 ($$4,000 \times 1,181$
4 class members). Plaintiff has discounted further by 50% to account for the fact this is a purely 5 derivative claim, resulting in a realistic exposure of $2,362,000. Realin Decl., ¶ 24.

6 Waiting Time Penalties Claim: $3,361,153.50. Plaintiff calculated daily wages for 7 approximately 708 former employees at $326.51 (10.33-hour shift length at $30.64/hour), times
8 30 days, for a total of $6,722,307. Realin Decl., ¶ 25. It should be further discounted by 50% to 9 account for the fact this is a purely derivative claim, resulting in a realistic exposure of 10 $3,361,153.50. Id.

11 Based on these figures, Plaintiff asserts this settlement represents 10.55% of New Bern’s
12 maximum realistic exposure for Plaintiff’s direct, non-derivative claims, and 6.57% of New 13 Bern’s potential total liability for all of Plaintiff’s claims. This result is well within the range of 14 – and exceeding - settlements commonly approved by California state and district courts. Realin
15 Decl., ¶ 26; See also Section V(B)(2) below for a detailed explanation.

16 B. The Proposed Settlement is Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable

17 The court must determine whether the settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable. See 18 Dunk v. Ford Motor Co. (1996) 48 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1801, citing Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d.
19 at p. 625. The “fair, reasonable and adequate” test stems from Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of 20 Civil Procedure. Consumer Advocacy Group, Inc. v. Kintetsu Enters. of Am. (2006) 141
21 Cal.App.4th 46, 61. In the absence of California law, the court might follow the federal authority.
22 However, California courts have never adopted Rule 23 as “a procedural strait jacket;” to the 23 contrary, trial courts have been urged to be flexible in dealing with class actions. Wershba v.
24 Apple Computer, Inc. (2001) 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 240, citing Cartt v. Super. Ct. (1975) 50
25 Cal.App.3d 960, 970, n.16. Generally, the opinions of counsel should be given considerable 26 weight because of counsel’s familiarity with the litigation, and previous experience with cases
27 such as this one. Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at p. 625. “We note that... settlement [is] the 28 preferred means of dispute resolution...especially in complex class action litigation.” 7-Eleven

1 Owners, 85 Cal.App.4th at p. 1151.

2 At the preliminary approval stage, the Court considers if:

3 (1) the proposed settlement appears to be the product of serious, informed,
4 noncollusive negotiations, (2) has no obvious deficiencies, (3) does not 5 improperly grant preferential treatment to class representatives or segments of the class, and (4) falls with the range of possible approval.

6 In re Tableware Antitrust Litig. (N.D. Cal. 2007) 484 F.Supp.2d 1078, 1079 (citing Manual for 7 Complex Litigation, ¶ 30.44 (2d ed.1985)). This Settlement meets all of these criteria.

8 1. The Settlement is the Product of Serious, Informed and Noncollusive
9 Negotiations

10 This Settlement is the result of extensive and hard-fought negotiations. Khoury Decl., ¶
11 15. Plaintiff's counsels' law firms specialize in wage and hour class action litigation, and 12 Defendant was represented by experienced attorneys at Sheppard Mullin. Id., ¶ 16.

13 Class Counsel analyzed New Bern's document production and diligently investigated Class
14 Members' claims. Realin Decl., ¶ 5; Section III(A), supra. Defendant produced policies, handbooks, 15 data points, and a 5% class sample of time and pay records. Realin Decl., ¶ 5.

16 The vigorous litigation of this case gave both parties a clear view of the strengths and 17 weaknesses of their respective positions. See Adams v. Inter-Con Sec. Sys., Inc. (N.D. Cal. Oct.
18 30, 2007) 2007 WL 3225466, at *3 (preliminarily approving the settlement agreement after 19 finding it was reached through extensive negotiations and plaintiff's counsel's thorough
20 investigation of the claims); Kullar v. Footlocker (2008) 168 Cal.App.4th 116, 129-130 (trial
21 court should have sufficient information about the potential value of the case and litigation issues 22 to independently review the reasonableness of the settlement.).

23 Before this action settled, the Parties participated in mediation before an experienced 24 neutral. Khoury Decl., ¶ 13; Section III(B), supra. That indicates the settlement was free of 25 collusion. "The assistance of a well-respected mediator with substantial experience in 26 employment litigation...supports approval of the settlement." Murillo v. Pac. Gas & Elec. Co.
27 (E.D. Cal. 2010) 266 F.R.D. 468, 479; Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at pp. 1802-03.

28 The Parties have been cooperative, yet aggressive, and displayed capable and experienced

1 advocacy on both sides. Accordingly, “[t]here is ... every reason to conclude that settlement
2 negotiations were vigorously conducted at arms’ length and without any suggestion of undue
3 influence.” In re Wash. Public Power Supply Sys. Sec. Litig. (D. Ariz. 1989) 720 F.Supp. 1379, 4 1392.

5 2. The Settlement has no “Obvious Deficiencies” and Falls within the Approval
6 Range

7 “[T]he very essence of a settlement is compromise, ‘a yielding of absolutes and an 8 abandoning of highest hopes.’” Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at p. 624 (quoting Cotton v. Hinton
9 (5th Cir. 1977) 559 F.2d 1326, 1330). Thus, when evaluating the amount offered in settlement, 10 the Court should consider “the complete package taken as a whole,” and the amount should “not 11 be judged against a hypothetical or speculative measure of what might have been achieved by 12 the negotiators.” Id. at pp. 625-28.

13 (i) The Class Recovery Compares Favorably with Similar Wage and Hour
14 Class Action Settlements

15 Courts routinely approve class action settlements where the settlement amount is a lower 16 percentage of the claimed amount of damages. Stovall-Gusman v. W.W. Granger, Inc. (N.D. Cal.

18 value); see also Thomas v. Cognizant Tech. Sols. U.S. Corp. (C.D. Cal. June 24, 2013) No.

23 Cal. 2014) 303 F.R.D. 611, 623-24 (settlement between 9% and 27% of total potential liability
24 fair, adequate and reasonable given the uncertainty of continued litigation); In re Mego Fin. Corp.
25 Sec. Litig. (9th Cir. 2000) 213 F.3d 454, 459 (16.67% of potential recovery adequate in light of 26 plaintiff’s risks). Simply put, “the fact that a proposed settlement may only amount to a fraction
27 of the potential recovery does not mean that [it] should be disapproved.” 7-Eleven Owners, 85
28 Cal.App.4th at 1150, citing Linney v. Cellular Alaska P’ship (9th Cir. 1998) 151 F.3d 1234, 1242.

Here, the Settlement represents 10.55% of Defendant’s maximum realistic liability for Plaintiff’s direct claims, and 6.57% of Defendant’s maximum realistic liability for all of Plaintiff’s claims, without any risks, costs, and uncertainty of prolonged litigation. Realin Decl., ¶ 26. Without accounting for the length of each Class Member’s employment with Defendant, a Class Member will recover on average $319 as a result of this settlement, or $2.35 per workweek. Id., ¶ 16. This is a fair result, well within the range of approved settlement payments. See e.g., Villegas v. J.P Morgan Chase & Co. (N.D. Cal. Nov. 21, 2012) 2012 WL 5878390, at *2, *6 (approving settlement with approximately $255 settlement payment per class member).

(ii) The Formula of Allocation based on Workweeks is Fair and should be Approved

Class Members will receive a portion of the Gross Settlement Amount based on the number of workweeks they worked for New Bern during the Class Period. This formula is realistic because Class Members’ individual recovery is proportionate to the amount of time the Class Members worked for Defendant. Realin Decl., ¶ 27. As discussed in Section III(C), supra, when considering the substantial risks in further litigation and that a $999,999 verdict would not otherwise have been attainable, the substantial recovery for class members is reasonable. In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec. Litig., 213 F.3d at p. 458; Sandoval v. Tharaldson Empl. Mgmt. (C.D.Cal. June 15, 2010, No. EDCV 08-482-VAP (OPx)) 2010 U.S.Dist.LEXIS 69799, at *7.

3. The Settlement does not Improperly Grant Preferential Treatment to the Class Representative or Segments of the Class

Class Representative will receive $10,000 for his time and efforts in representing the Class. SA, ¶ X.F(b). “Incentive awards [for class representatives] are fairly typical in class actions.” Cellphone Termination Fee Cases (2010) 186 Cal.App.4th 1380, 1393, citing Rodriguez v. West Publ’g (9th Cir. 2009) 563 F.3d 948, 958. California courts agree that class representatives are entitled to such an award. Cellphone Termination, 186 Cal.App.4th at p. 1394. “Since without a named plaintiff there can be no class action, such compensation as may be necessary to induce him to participate in the suit could be thought the equivalent of the lawyers’ nonlegal but essential case-specific expenses, such as long-distance phone calls, which are

1 reimbursable.” Clark v. Am. Residential Servs. (2009) 175 Cal.App.4th 785, 804, citing Matter
2 of Cont’l Ill. Sec. Litig. (7th Cir. 1992) 962 F.2d 566, 571.

3 Here, the service award to Plaintiff is based on the extent of Plaintiff’s participation in this 4 action and not conditioned upon Plaintiff’s support of the settlement. Cf. Radcliffe v. Experian Info.
5 Solutions, Inc. (2013) 715 F.3d 1157, 1165. Throughout this action, Plaintiff assisted in 6 investigation, participated in multiple call conferences with counsel, provided and reviewed
7 documents and pleadings, and was on standby during mediation. See Cuellar Decl., ¶¶ 14-16.

8 Courts award incentive awards in this range. Ross v. U.S. Bank Nat’l Ass’n (N.D. Cal.
9 Sept. 29, 2010) 2010 WL 3833922, at *3 (approving an award of $20,000 to each of four named
10 plaintiffs based on their contributions to litigation and the risk that being a class representative
11 would harm their reputation); see also Ridgeway v. Wal-Mart Stores Inc. (N.D. Cal., Sept. 14,
12 2017) 2017 WL 4071293, at *19 ($15,000 incentive awards for each of the named plaintiffs
13 awarded); Low v. Trump University, LLC (S.D. Cal. 2017) 246 F.Supp.3d 1295, 1316 ($15,000 14 incentive award approved where plaintiffs “devoted significant amounts of time and energy” to 15 the action); Glass v. UBS Fin. Servs. (2007) 2007 WL 221862, at *17 ($25,000 for each class
16 representative in wage and hour action). Thus, the proposed service award is reasonable.

17 4. The Stage of the Proceedings is Sufficiently Advanced to Permit Preliminary 18 Approval of the Settlement

19 “A court is more likely to approve a settlement if most of the discovery is completed 20 because it suggests that the parties arrived at a compromise based on a full understanding of the 21 legal and factual issues surrounding the case.” Nat’l Rural Telecomms. Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc.
22 (C.D.Cal. 2004) 221 F.R.D. 523, 527. However, the settlement can be approved even in the 23 absence of any discovery, if other factors are satisfied. In re TD Ameritrade Account Holder
24 Litig. (N.D. Cal. Sept. 13, 2011) 2011 WL 4079226, at *6. The bottom line is that “the parties 25 have sufficient information to make an informed decision about the settlement.” Durham v.
26 Cont’l Cent. Credit, Inc. (S.D. Cal. Jan. 10, 2011) 2011 WL 90253, at *3, citing Linney, 151 F.3d
27 at p. 1239.

28 Here, the Parties developed a comprehensive understanding of their respective claims and

1 defenses prior to settlement, through both written discovery and the informal exchange of 2 information for mediation purposes. See section III(A), supra; Realin Decl., ¶ 5. Specifically,
3 Class Counsel had investigated Class Members’ claims, examined documents and data, and 4 prepared a damage model. Id. As a result of the work performed in this case, the real value of the 5 class claims was well known, and Class Counsel determined that the settlement with Defendant
6 is fair, reasonable, adequate, and in the best interest of the Class. Young v. Polo Retail, LLC (N.D.
7 Cal. Mar. 28, 2007) 2007 WL 951821, at *4.

8 C. The Proposed Class Meets the Qualifications for Certification for Settlement
9 Purposes⁸

10 To prevail on a motion for class certification, a plaintiff needs to show that “the question 11 is one of a common or general interest, of many persons, or...the parties are numerous, and it is 12 impracticable to bring them all before the court.” Cal. Code of Civ. Proc. § 382. The party seeking 13 certification needs to prove that the class is both ascertainable and that there is a well-defined
14 community of interest among class members. See Sav-On Drug Stores, Inc. v. Super. Ct. (2004)
15 34 Cal.4th 319, 326. In Sav-On Drug Store, the court adopted a test for “community of interest,” 16 which consists of the following prongs: (1) there are predominant common questions of law or 17 fact; (2) class representatives have claims typical to those of the class; and (3) class
18 representatives can adequately represent the interests of the class. Id.

19 1. An Ascertainable and Numerous Class Exists that can be Determined from 20 Payroll Records

21 A class is ascertainable when: (i) under the class definition the members are clearly 22 identifiable, and (ii) the members can be located and notified through a reasonable expenditure
23 of time and money. See Reyes v. San Diego County Board of Supervisors (1987) 196 Cal.App.3d
24 1263, 1274-75; Sevidal v. Target Corp. (2010) 189 Cal.App.4th 905, 919-20. Typically, class
25 members are ascertainable when they can be easily identified by reference to official or business
26 records. Archer v. United Rentals, Inc. (2011) 195 Cal.App.4th 807, 828; Sevidal, 189
27

28 ⁸ Defendant agrees to certify a class for settlement purposes only, and their agreement to do so shall not be construed as an admission of the propriety of class certification outside of the settlement context. SA, ¶ X.A.

1 Cal.App.4th at p. 919.

2 Here, the Class is composed of approximately 1,780 current and former drivers of 3 Defendant in California, who can be identified and located from Defendant's business records.
4 Defendant will provide the Settlement Administrator with a database with all Class Members'
5 names, contact information, and the number of relevant workweeks, and further steps will be 6 taken to locate the Class Members for whom the addresses are not current. SA, ¶ X.B.4(b)-(c)
7 (pp. 19-20); see also Section VI, infra. Numerosity is satisfied, and the class is ascertainable.

8 2. Common Issues of Law and Fact Predominate over any Individual Issues

9 "As a general rule if the defendant's liability can be determined by facts common to all 10 members of the class, a class will be certified even if the members must individually prove their 11 damages." Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1022. The court 12 only determines whether or not "the theory of recovery advanced by the proponents of 13 certification is, as an analytical matter, likely to prove amenable to class treatment." Sav-On Drug
14 Stores, 34 Cal.4th at p. 327.

15 Here, common issues of fact and law predominate because the California statutes relating 16 to each of Plaintiff's claims, and Defendant's defenses thereto, apply with equal force and effect
17 to all Class Members. Factually, Plaintiff contends that Defendant's policies and practices apply 18 class-wide, and Defendant's liability can be determined by facts common to all members of the 19 Class. The wage and hour issues are both numerous and substantial, and a class action is the most 20 advantageous method of dealing with the claims of the Settlement Class Members. See also
21 Cuellar Decl., ¶¶ 3-10, 13.

22 A class action is superior to numerous individual actions, and the maintenance of this 23 action as a class action will save judicial resources, and help avoid inconsistent judgments. See
24 Savon Drugs, 34 Cal.4th at p. 326. Class Members' interests are relatively small, so they are 25 unlikely to prosecute separate actions. Plaintiff's claims arise from his work for Defendant in 26 California.

27 3. Plaintiff's Claims are Typical of the Claims of Class Members

28 Typicality does not mean that the interests of representative plaintiffs must be identical

1 to those of the absent class members. Classen v. Weller (1983) 145 Cal.App.3d 27, 46; Staton v.
2 Boeing Co. (9th Cir. 2003) 327 F.3d 938, 957. They only need to be “reasonably co-extensive
3 with those of absent class members.” Parsons v. Ryan (9th Cir. 2014) 754 F.3d 657, 685. Further,
4 the representative plaintiff must be a member of the class she seeks to represent. La Sala v.
5 American Sav. & Loan Assn. (1971) 5 Cal.3d 864, 875.

6 Here, Plaintiff’s claims arise from the same facts and legal theories as the Class Members’
7 claims. Plaintiff is a member of the class of non-exempt drivers of New Bern in California, and 8 subject to the same policies and practices of New Bern with respect to timekeeping, pay, meal
9 and rest breaks, and expense reimbursement. See also Cuellar Decl., ¶ 2, attesting that his claims
10 are typical of the claims of absent Class Members. Thus, typicality is met.

11 4. Plaintiff and Class Counsel will Adequately Protect the Interests of the Class

12 The adequacy of representation involves two conditions: the named plaintiff must be 13 represented by counsel qualified to prosecute class actions of this type; and the named plaintiff’s
14 interests cannot be antagonistic to those of the class. See McGhee v. Bank of America (1976) 60
15 Cal.App.3d 442, 450.

16 Here, Plaintiff retained counsel with extensive experience in prosecuting wage and hour
17 class and representative actions. Khoury Decl., ¶¶ 3-12; Mara Decl., ¶ 3-9; Davtyan Decl., ¶ 3-7.
18 In addition, Plaintiff has the same interests as the rest of the Settlement Class, because he was 19 allegedly injured in substantially the same manner. Cuellar Decl., ¶¶ 2, 11. Thus, the Court should 20 certify Plaintiff’s class claims for the purposes of this Settlement.

21 VI. THE PROPOSED NOTICE TO THE CLASS SHOULD BE APPROVED

22 A. Proposed Notice Plan

23 Within 30 calendar days after receiving Class List from Defendant, the Settlement
24 Administrator will send Class Notice to Class Members via first class mail. SA, ¶ X.B.4(c) (p.
25 20). Before mailing the Notice, one National Change of Address (“NCOA”) search will be 26 performed on Defendants’ records to ascertain updated contact information for all Plaintiffs. Id.
27 Any Notices returned to the Settlement Administrator as non-delivered before the Notice
28 Deadline Date specified below shall be sent to the forwarding address affixed thereto within three

(3) business days of receiving notice that a Notice was undeliverable. Id. If no forwarding address is provided, then the Settlement Administrator shall attempt to determine a correct address by using a single computer or other search using the social security number of the individual involved and shall forward the Notice to the correct address. Id. The Objection/Exclusion Deadline Date shall be extended by seven (7) calendar days if the Notice was re-mailed as provided in this section. Id.

The Class Notice will summarize the terms of the Settlement Agreement, advise the Class Members of their estimated individual settlement payment(s), and inform Class Members of their right to object to or exclude themselves from the Settlement within 35 calendar days after the Notice mailing. SA, Ex. 1. Because this is a California-only class, and the mailing will occur only in California, 35 days to opt out from or object to the Settlement is sufficient. Khoury Decl., ¶ 17. Further, because Class Members worked as drivers throughout California locations, communicating with New Bern and others in English, English-only notice is sufficient. Id.

B. The Proposed Notice to the Class is Fair and Adequate

The Parties agreed on the language of the proposed class notice. Khoury Decl., ¶ 13. If the Court concludes after a preliminary evaluation of the settlement that the relief offered and notice provided are fair and adequate, the Court should order that the class notice be provided. Manual for Complex Litig., Second, § 21.632 at 321. The threshold requirement regarding the sufficiency of class notice is whether the means proposed for distributing the notice are reasonably calculated to apprise the class of the pendency of the action, the proposed settlement, and the right to opt out of or object to the settlement. Eisen v. Carlisle & Jacquelin (1974) 417 U.S. 156, 173; Mullane v. Cent. Hanover Bank & Trust Co. (1950) 339 U.S. 306, 315; see also Cal. Rules of Court, Rule 3.766.

Here, the Notice is more than sufficient, because it gives Class Members, in an easy to understand and clear language: (1) basic information about this action and the Settlement; (2) an estimate of the weeks Class Members worked during the Class Period, and an explanation how Class Members can dispute this calculation; (3) an explanation how the payout from the Settlement will be calculated for each Class Member, and an estimate of a Class Member's

1 Settlement Payment(s); (4) an explanation how Class Members can exercise their right to opt-
2 out from, or object to, the Settlement; (5) an explanation that any claims against the Defendant
3 that could have been litigated in this Action will be released if the Class Member does not opt
4 out; (6) name of Class Counsel and information regarding attorneys' fees and costs; (7) the date
5 of the Fairness Hearing and an explanation of eligibility to appear at the Fairness Hearing; and 6 (8) the telephone and e-mail number, as well as website address, where Class Members can obtain
7 additional information. See SA, Ex. 1 (proposed Class Notice).

8 Thus, the Notice plan proposed by the Settlement is fair and adequate, and complies with 9 the California Rules of Court, Rules 3.766 and 3.769(f).

10 VII. CONCLUSION

11 For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff's unopposed motion should, respectfully, be granted.
