1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 Plaintiff Genesis Aguilar (“Plaintiff”) moves the Court for preliminary approval of the Joint 4 Stipulation of Class and Representative Action Settlement Agreement (“Settlement”) between Plaintiff
5 and Defendant RG Legacy II, LLC, dba Pasadena Nursing Center (“Defendant”) (Plaintiff and 6 Defendant, the “Parties”). The Settlement, which was reached after extensive discovery and analysis, 7 and an arm’s-length mediation, satisfies the criteria for settlement approval under California law and 8 provides for substantial payments to approximately seven hundred twenty-one Class Members.
9 (Declaration of Kane Moon [“Moon Decl.”], ¶ 2.) Plaintiff also moves the Court for certification of the 10 putative Class and approval of the proposed Class Notice.

11 II. SUMMARY OF THE LITIGATION AND SETTLEMENT

12 A. Relevant Procedural History

13 On August 24, 2024, Plaintiff submitted to the Labor and Workforce Development Agency
14 (“LWDA”), and sent via certified mail to Defendant, a Notice of California Labor Code Violations 15 (“Labor Code”) and (“Notice”) pursuant to Labor Code section 2699.3(a). (Settlement, ¶ 2.0.) A true
16 and correct copy of the Notice is attached to the Declaration of Kane Moon as Exhibit 1. On August 17 28, 2024, Plaintiff filed a Class Action Complaint against Defendant, which alleged eight causes of 18 action for violation of Labor Code and California Business and Professions Code. (Id. at ¶ 2.1.) On 19 November 1, 2024, Plaintiff filed a First Amended Class and Representative Action Complaint against 20 Defendant, which alleged an additional cause of action for civil penalties under the Private Attorney’s 21 General Act (“PAGA”). (Id. at ¶ 2.2.) On January 14, 2025, Plaintiff filed a Second Amended Class 22 and Representative Action Complaint (“operative Complaint”) against Defendant, which alleged 23 specific damages for Plaintiff’s individual causes of action. (Id. at ¶ 2.3.) On February 18, 2025, 24 Plaintiff filed an Amendment to Complaint, which identified the fictitiously designated DOE 1
25 Defendant as RG Legacy II, LLC dba Pasadena Nursing Center. (Id. at ¶ 2.4.)

26 On April 10, 2025, Plaintiff submitted to the LWDA, and sent via certified mail to 27 Defendant, an Amended Notice of Labor Code Violations and PAGA Penalties. A true and correct 28 copy of the Notice is attached as Exhibit 2. On June 30, 2025, the Parties attempted to resolve the

1 Action through private mediation with experienced wage-and-hour class and representative action
2 mediator, Michael Ludwig, Esq. (Settlement, ¶ 2.5.) A settlement in principle was reached the same
3 day. (Id.) Prior to mediation, Plaintiff obtained, through informal discovery, a 100% sample of the time 4 and corresponding payroll records of the Class, the employee handbook and policies in effect during 5 the Class Period, and other data and documents. (Id. at ¶ 2.6.)

6 B. The Parties

7 Plaintiff worked for Defendant as an Activities Assistant from 2021 to 2023 and as an 8 Activities Director from 2023 to 2024. (Declaration of Plaintiff Genesis Aguilar [“Aguilar Decl.”], ¶ 9 4.) Throughout her entire employment with Defendant, Plaintiff was classified as non-exempt; 10 typically worked five days and forty hours per workweek; and was subjected to the same alleged 11 unlawful labor practices as her coworkers. (Id. at ¶¶ 7-11.) Defendant, a limited liability company
12 located in Pasadena, California, and is a nursing and rehabilitation center (Moon Decl., ¶ 5.)

13 The Class includes all current and former non-exempt employees of Defendant who worked in 14 the State of California from July 27, 2022, to June 30, 2025. (Settlement, ¶ 1.4.) The Aggrieved 15 Employees include all current and former non-exempt employees of Defendant who worked in the 16 State of California from April 10, 2024, to June 30, 2025. (Id. at ¶ 1.3.)

17 C. Plaintiff’s Claims

18 The operative Complaint alleges Defendant, on a class and representative basis, systematically:
19 Failed to Pay Minimum Wages [Labor Code §§ 204, 1194, 1194.2, and 1197]; Failed to Pay Overtime
20 Compensation [Labor Code §§ 1194 and 1198]; Failed to Provide Meal Periods [Labor Code §§ 226.7
21 and 512]; Failed to Authorize and Permit Rest Breaks [Labor Code § 226.7]; Failed to Indemnify
22 Necessary Business Expenses [Labor Code § 2802]; Failed to Timely Pay Final Wages at Termination
23 [Labor Code §§ 201-203]; Failed to Provide Accurate Itemized Wage Statements [Labor Code § 226]; 24 Engaged In Unfair Business Practices [Business and Professions Code §§ 17200, et seq.]; and Is Liable
25 For Civil Penalties Under PAGA [Labor Code §§ 2699, et seq.]. (Moon Decl., ¶ 7.)

26 D. Defendant’s Defenses

27 Defendant denies the allegations in the operative Complaint, denies any failure to comply with 28 the laws identified in the operative Complaint, and denies any and all liability for the causes of action

1 alleged in the operative Complaint and Notice. (Settlement, ¶ 11.1.) First, Defendant asserts it 2 complied with all compensation obligations, including by implementing policies and practices which 3 prohibited and prevented off-the-clock work, and therefore, Plaintiff and other Class Members were 4 paid all wages owed. (Moon Decl., ¶ 8.)

5 Second, Defendant asserts it complied with all meal period and rest break obligations, 6 including by implementing schedules, policies, and supervisory practices that consistently resulted in 7 Class Members taking timely, uninterrupted, off-duty, and full meal periods and rest breaks, and thus, 8 Plaintiff and other Class Members were provided the opportunity to take all code-compliant meal 9 periods and rest breaks to which they were entitled. (Moon Decl., ¶ 9.) Third, Defendant asserts it did 10 not direct Class Members to make business-related purchases and that Class Members did not need to 11 incur losses in direct discharge of their duties, and therefore, Plaintiff and other Class Members are not 12 owed reimbursements for necessary business expenses. (Id.) Fourth, Defendant asserts it did not 13 willfully fail to pay any wages, and thus, Plaintiff and other Class Members are not owed waiting time 14 penalties for wages untimely paid at termination. (Id.; See Pedroza v. PetSmart, Inc. (C.D. Cal. June 15 14, 2012) No. ED CV 11–298 GHK (DTBx), 2012 WL 9506073, *5.)

16 Fifth, Defendant asserts it complied with all wage statement requirements, and thus, Plaintiff 17 and other Class Members suffered no actual damages or harm from inaccurate wage statements. (See 18 Angeles v. U.S. Airways, Inc. (N.D. Cal. Feb. 19, 2013) No. C 12-05860 CRB, 2013 WL 622032, at 19 *10 [“A plaintiff must adequately plead an injury arising from an employer’s failure to provide full 20 and accurate wage statements, and the omission of the required information alone is not sufficient”]; 21 Moon Decl., ¶ 10.) Sixth, Defendant denies further derivative liability on these bases, asserting it did 22 not engage in unfair business practices and is not liable for civil penalties under PAGA. (Id.) Last, 23 Defendant asserts Plaintiff’s claims are individualized and denies that, for any purpose other than 24 settlement, this Action is appropriate for class or representative treatment. (Settlement, ¶ 11.2.)

25 E. Discovery, Analysis, and Settlement Negotiations

26 In preparation for mediation, the Parties agreed to an informal exchange of data and 27 documents. The exchange of data included, but was not limited to, the total number of putative Class 28 Members and Aggrieved Employees, and the total number of Workweeks and Pay Periods worked by

1 all putative Class Members and Aggrieved Employees during the Class and PAGA Periods. (Moon 2 Decl., ¶ 11.) The exchange of documents included a one-hundred percent sample of the time and 3 corresponding payroll records of the Class, the employee handbook and policies in effect during the 4 Class Period, and other data and documents. (Id.)

5 These exchanges enabled Class Counsel and their expert to analyze, among other information, 6 the minimum, overtime, meal period premium, and rest break premium wages and reimbursements
7 received by Class Members during the Class Period, and compare the same to the minimum, overtime, 8 meal period premium, and rest break premium wages and reimbursements to which Class Members 9 were entitled during the Class Period pursuant to the Labor Code. (Moon Decl., ¶ 12.) In turn, this 10 enabled Class Counsel and their expert to determine the violation rates for each cause of action, and 11 thus, Defendant’s maximum monetary exposure. (Id.) Defendant’s maximum monetary exposure is 12 detailed in Paragraph 45 of the Declaration of Kane Moon.

13 On June 30, 2025, the Parties attempted to resolve the Action through private mediation with 14 experienced wage-and-hour class and representative action mediator, Michael Ludwig, Esq.
15 (Settlement, ¶ 2.5.) A settlement in principle was reached the same day. (Id.)

16 F. Material Terms of the Settlement

17 The material terms of the Settlement are set out in the Parties’ Joint Stipulation of Class and 18 Representative Action Settlement Agreement. A true and correct copy of the Settlement is attached to 19 the Declaration of Kane Moon as Exhibit 3. Class Counsel submitted the Settlement to the LWDA on 20 August 13, 2025. A true and correct copy of the LWDA case record of this Action is attached to the 21 Declaration of Kane Moon as Exhibit 4.

28 Settlement is attached to the Declaration of Kane Moon as Exhibit 5.

- 1 3. Class Certification. The Parties stipulate to class certification for Settlement
2 purposes only. (Settlement, ¶ 11.2.)
- 3 4. “Class Counsel Fees Payment” means the court-approved amount allocated to 8 to Class Counsel for reimbursement of their reasonable expenses incurred to 9 prosecute the Action, not to exceed $17,000.00. (Id. at ¶ 1.7.) A true and correct 10 copy of Class Counsel’s expenses to-date is attached to the Declaration of Kane 11 Moon as Exhibit 6.

- 12 6. “Class Notice” means the court-approved Notice of Class and Representative 13 Action Settlement Agreement and Final Approval Hearing to be mailed to Class

21 Court enters a Judgment on its Final Approval Order; and (b) the Judgment is 22 final. The Judgment is final as of the latest of the following: (a) if no 23 Participating Class Member timely objects to the Settlement, the day the Court 24 enters the Judgment; (b) if one or more Participating Class Members object(s) 25 to the Settlement and does not withdraw his or her objection, the day after the 26 deadline for filing a Notice of Appeal of the Judgment; or (c) if a timely Appeal 27 of the Judgment is filed, the day after the appellate court affirms the Judgment 28 and issues a Remittitur. (Settlement, ¶ 1.18.)

- 1 9. Escalator Clause. It is estimated that there are 10,000 Workweeks during the 2 Class Period. If the actual number of Workweeks during the Class Period 3 exceeds 10,000 by more than 10%, Defendant shall have the option of (a) 4 increasing the Gross Settlement Amount by the percentage increase in the 5 number of Workweeks worked by the Class Members above 10% (e.g. if the 6 number of Workweeks increases by 11%, the Gross Settlement Amount will 7 increase by 1%); or (b) rolling back the Class and PAGA Periods to the date in 8 which 10,000 Workweeks is met. Defendant shall be prepared to inform the 9 Court of its selection at the Preliminary Approval Hearing. If Defendant

- 12 10. Funding of Gross Settlement Amount. The Gross Settlement Amount and all 13 employer payroll taxes owed on the Wage Portions of the Individual Class 14 Payments shall be fully funded by transmission of such funds to the 15 Administrator within thirty (30) calendar days of the Effective Date. (Id. at ¶ 16 4.0.)
- 17 11. “Gross Settlement Amount” means $225,000.00, the total amount Defendant 18 agrees to pay under the Settlement, except as provided in Paragraph 7.0. The 19 Gross Settlement Amount will pay the Individual Class Payments, Individual 20 PAGA Payments, LWDA PAGA Payment, Class Counsel Fees Payment, Class

- 23 12. “Individual Class Payment” means the Participating Class Member’s pro rata

- 26 13. “Individual PAGA Payment” means the Aggrieved Employee’s pro rata share 27 of 35% of the PAGA Penalties allocated pursuant to Labor Code section 28 2699(m) and calculated according to the number of PAGA Pay Periods he or

1 she worked during the PAGA Period. (Settlement, ¶ 1.24.)

- 2 14. “LWDA PAGA Payment” means the LWDA’s 65% share of the PAGA

- 14 17. “PAGA Penalties” means the total amount of PAGA civil penalties to be paid 15 from the Gross Settlement Amount in settlement of the Released PAGA claims, 16 not to exceed $15,000.00. (Id. at ¶ 1.34.)
- 17 18. Release by Participating Class Members: All Participating Class Members fully 18 and finally release and discharge the Released Parties from any and all claims, 19 debts, liabilities, demands, obligations, penalties, guarantees, costs, expenses, 20 attorney’s fees, damages, actions or causes of action of whatever kind or nature, 21 contingent or accrued, that were allegedly or that reasonably could have been 22 alleged based on the facts alleged in the Action, as amended, that accrued in, or 16 (a) The Released PAGA Claims are limited to claims arising during the 17 PAGA Period. In light of the binding nature of a PAGA judgment on 18 non-party employees under Arias v. Sup. Ct. (Angelo Dairy) (2009) 46

22 Payment shall be deemed to have released the Released PAGA Claims, 23 regardless of whether their check for the Individual PAGA Payment is 24 chased or not, and regardless of whether they are a Non-Participating 25 Class Member. (Id. at ¶ 5.2.1.)

26 20. “Released Parties” means Defendant and all of its present and former members, 27 parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, joint venturers, and licensees, and all 28 of their shareholders, officers, directors, employees, agents, servants, registered representatives, attorneys, insurers, successors and assigns, and any other persons acting under them. (Settlement, ¶ 1.40.)

21. "Response Deadline" means forty-five (45) calendar days from the date the Administrator mails the Class Notice to the Class and shall be the last date on which Class Members may: (a) mail a Request for Exclusion from the Settlement; or (b) mail an Objection to the Settlement. (Id. at ¶ 1.41.)
22. Tax Allocation. Twenty percent (20%) of each Participating Class Member's Individual Class Payment will be allocated to the settlement of claims for wages. Eighty percent (80%) of each Participating Class Member's Individual Class Payment will be allocated to the settlement of claims for interest and penalties. (Id. at ¶ 3.1.3.2.) One hundred percent (100%) of each Individual PAGA Payment will be allocated as penalties. (Id. at ¶ 3.1.4.2.)
23. Unpaid Residue. For any Class Member whose Individual Class Payment check or Individual PAGA Payment check is uncashed and cancelled after the void date, or for any Class Member whose envelope is returned and no forwarding address can be located for the Class Member after reasonable efforts have been made, the Administrator shall transmit the funds represented by such checks to the California Controller's Unclaimed Property Fund in the name of the Class Member, thereby leaving no "unpaid residue" subject to the requirements of California Code of Civil Procedure ("CCP") section 384(b). (Id. at ¶ 4.1.3.)

III. THE SETTLEMENT MERITS PRELIMINARY APPROVAL

A. The Circumstances Of The Settlement Support Preliminary Approval

The circumstances of the Settlement support preliminary approval for the following reasons: First, the law favors the settlement of lawsuits, particularly in class actions and other complex cases. Here, the Settlement resolves a putative class and representative action. (See e.g., Neary v. Regents of Univ. of California (1992) 3 Cal.4th 272, 277-81.)

Second, the law favors a discretionary finding that a settlement is fair and reasonable when the settlement terms indicate fairness and reasonableness on balance of the following factors: (1) the

1 strength of the plaintiff's case; (2) the risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further 2 litigation; (3) the risk of maintaining class action status through trial; (4) the amount offered in 3 settlement; (5) the extent of discovery completed and the stage of the proceedings; (6) the experience 4 and views of counsel; (7) the presence of a governmental participant; and (8) the reaction of the class
5 members to the proposed settlement. (See Dunk v. Ford Motor Co. (1996) 48 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1800-6 1801; see also Kullar v. Foot Locker Retail, Inc. (2008) 168 Cal.App.4th 116, 128.) The law also 7 favors a discretionary finding that a settlement is fair and reasonable when the settlement is within the 8 ballpark of fairness and reasonableness. (Kullar, 168 Cal.App.4th at 133; Munoz v. BCI Coca-Cola
9 Bottling Co. of Los Angeles (2010) 186 Cal.App.4th 399, 408-409 [holding that Kullar requires only 10 an "understanding of the amount that is in controversy and the realistic range of outcomes of the 11 litigation."].)

12 Here, the Settlement terms indicate fairness and reasonableness on balance of the above 13 factors. For example, Plaintiff has strong claims supported by the one-hundred percent sample of the 14 time and corresponding payroll records of all Class Members from July 27, 2022, through May 1, 15 2025; the risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation is high (Settlement, ¶¶ 16 11.1, 11.2); the consideration putative Class Members and Aggrieved Employees will receive for their 17 releases is reasonable in light of the strengths and weaknesses of their claims (Moon Decl., ¶¶ 40-46); 18 the amount of discovery completed was exhaustive (Id. at ¶¶ 11-13); Class and Defense Counsel are 19 highly experienced in wage-and-hour class action litigation (See, e.g., id. at ¶¶ 48-58); and the Parties 20 reached the Settlement with the mutual understanding that it is within the ballpark of fairness and 21 reasonableness.

22 Last, a presumption of fairness and reasonableness is triggered when the following factors are 23 present: (1) the investigation was sufficient to allow class counsel and the court to act intelligently; (2) 24 the settlement was reached through arm's-length bargaining; (3) class counsel is experienced in similar 25 litigation; and (4) the percentage of objectors is small. (Dunk, supra, 48 Cal.App.4th at p. 1800.) Here, 26 the above factors are present, and therefore, this presumption is triggered:

27 1. The Investigation Was Sufficient To Allow Class Counsel And The Court
28 To Act Intelligently

1 The investigation was sufficient to allow Class Counsel and the Court to act intelligently for 2 two main reasons: First, the investigation was comprised of an exhaustive data analysis. The data
3 analysis involved Class Counsel and their expert examining a one-hundred percent sample of the time
4 and corresponding payroll records of all Class Members from July 27, 2022, through May 1, 2025.
5 These records, with other documents produced by Defendant and testimony by Plaintiff, enabled Class
6 Counsel to determine and/or make fact-based assumptions about the following information: the total 7 number of shifts worked by all Class Members; the average hourly rate of pay, average hourly regular 8 rate of pay, and average overtime rate of pay of all Class Members; the total amount of minimum, 9 overtime, meal period premium, and rest break premium wages paid, underpaid, and not paid to Class 10 Members; the total amount of reimbursements made and not made to Class Members; the total number 11 of code-compliant meal periods and rest breaks that were taken, missed, short, and/or not taken by 12 Class Members; the dates on which Class Members were paid, including the dates on which 13 terminated Class Members were paid their final paychecks; and the accuracy and completeness of the 14 wage statements issued to Class Members. This information enabled Class Counsel to approximate 15 Defendant's maximum monetary exposure for all claims, in the event Plaintiff prevailed on all claims 16 at trial, including all claims for unpaid minimum, overtime, meal period premium, and rest break 17 premium wages, unreimbursed expenses, and statutory and civil penalties. At mediation, Class 18 Counsel used Defendant's maximum monetary exposure as the upper limit of a fair and reasonable 19 settlement.

20 Second, the investigation was comprised of a comprehensive evaluation of all factors 21 reasonably affecting full recovery of Defendant's maximum monetary exposure, or Defendant's 22 maximum potential liability, including, but not limited to, the evidence supporting Plaintiff's claims; 23 the evidence supporting Defendant's defenses; the risks, expenses, and length of further litigation, 24 including the class certification and appeal processes; the present state of the law as it applies to wage-25 and-hour class actions; the present value of the Settlement versus the long wait necessitated by any 26 potential judgment in the Class' favor; and the burdens of proof necessary to establish liability against 27 Defendant. This evaluation resulted in Class Counsel reasonably reducing Defendant's maximum 28 monetary exposure, such that each claim was lowered in proportion to the presumed effect of any

1 applicable mitigating factors. For example, the estimated risk-inclusive exposure for the unpaid wages 2 claim due to unpaid off-the-clock work is $7,572.75, which reflects a 95% discount; for the meal
3 period claim is $107,701.00, which reflects an 80% discount; for the rest break claim is $28,238.15 4 which reflects a 95% discount; for the unreimbursed expenses claim is $3,801.60, which reflects a 5 95% discount; and for all derivative statutory and civil penalty claims is $128,022.21, which reflects a 6 97% discount. The total projected reasonable recovery was therefore $275,335.71. (Moon Decl., ¶¶ 40-7 46.) In the Settlement, the Parties stipulate to a Gross Settlement Amount of $225,000.00, which is 8 81.72 % of the total projected reasonable recovery. (Id. at ¶ 45.)

9 These facts support the assertion that the investigation was sufficient to allow Class Counsel 10 and the Court to act intelligently, as they demonstrate the Gross Settlement Amount (1) was reached in 11 view of an upper limit, which was calculated by Class Counsel and their expert according to the data 12 and documents produced by Defendant; and (2) reflects a comprehensive comprise, which accounts for 13 all conceivable, relevant risks and uncertainties. (See, e.g., Viceria v. Mistras Grp., Inc. (N.D. Cal.
14 2016) No. 15-cv-02198-EMC, 2016 WL 5907869 [approving wage-and-hour class action settlement
15 amounting to 8.1% of potential damages]; Dunleavy v. Nadler (9th Cir. 2000) 213 F.3d 454, 459 16 [approving settlement which represented “roughly one-sixth of the potential recovery.”].)

17 2. The Settlement Was Reached Through Arm’s-Length Negotiations

18 The Settlement was reached through arm’s-length negotiations between the Parties at private 19 mediation, which was presided over by experienced wage-and-hour class and representative action 20 mediator Michael Ludwig, Esq. (Moon Decl., ¶¶ 11-13.) The Parties’ use of a neutral to intermediate 21 their disparate factual assertions, legal arguments, and valuations supports this fact. (Kullar, supra, 168 22 Cal.App.4th at p. 129 [“The court undoubtedly should give considerable weight to the competency and 23 integrity of counsel and the involvement of a neutral mediator in assuring itself that a settlement 24 agreement represents an arm’s length transaction...”].) The Parties’ comprehensive exchange of 25 informal discovery ahead of mediation supports the same because it shows the Settlement was based 26 on evidence, rather than an arbitrary or collusive procedure. (See Moon Decl., ¶¶ 11-13.)

27 3. Class Counsel Have Substantial Experience In Class Action Litigation

28 Class Counsel have substantial experience, in both state and federal court, and in all facets of 1 class action litigation, including discovery, law and motion practice, trial, appeals, arbitration, and 2 mediation. (Moon Decl. ¶¶ 48-58.) For example, Class Counsel have litigated numerous wage-and-3 hour class actions on behalf of plaintiffs and have been lead counsel, or otherwise exercised significant 4 case handling responsibilities in numerous cases, resulting in millions of dollars in class action

5 settlements. (Id.) Class Counsel are, therefore, qualified to evaluate the strength of Plaintiff’s claims, 6 the strength of Defendant’s defenses against certification and on the merits, and the fairness of the 7 Settlement. (See id.)

8 4. The Percentage Of Objections Is Likely To Be Small

9 The percentage of objections to the Settlement is likely to be small, as the average recovery for 10 each Class Member is considerable and reliable, given the arm’s-length negotiations and experience of 11 Class Counsel. (Moon Decl., ¶¶ 48-58; see In re Lifelock, Inc. Marketing and Sales Practices 12 Litigation (D. Ariz. 2010) 2010 WL 3715138, *6 (relatively few objections and requests for exclusion 13 support approval); Kullar, supra, 168 Cal.App.4th at p. 128 (among the factors to be considered in 14 evaluating a class action settlement include “the reaction of the class members to the proposed 15 settlement.”)

16 The foregoing indicates that the Settlement is comprised of all factors which trigger a 17 presumption of fairness and reasonableness. In addition, it indicates that other discretionary factors the 18 court considers in making a finding of fairness and reasonableness are also present. On these bases, the 19 Settlement merits preliminary approval.

20 B. The Terms Of The Settlement Are Fair And Reasonable

21 The terms of the Settlement, including the Class Counsel Fees Payment, Class Counsel
22 Expenses Payment, and Class Representative Service Payment, are fair and reasonable for the reasons 23 outlined below. (See Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc. (2001) 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 234-235 [“In 24 general, questions of whether a settlement [is] fair and reasonable, whether certification of the class [is] 25 proper, and whether the attorneys’ fee award [is] proper are matters addressed to the trial court’s broad 26 discretion.”].) The Class Counsel Fees Payment is not to exceed $75,000.00 or one-third of the Gross
27 Settlement Amount; the Class Counsel Expenses Payment is not to exceed $17,000.00; and the Class
28 Representative Service Payment is not to exceed $7,500.00. (See Settlement, ¶¶ 3.1, et seq.)

1 1. The Class Counsel Fees Payment Is Fair And Reasonable

2 The Class Counsel Fees Payment is fair and reasonable because it (1) was calculated using the 3 common fund doctrine and aligns with leading treatises on awards calculated using the common fund
4 doctrine, (2) comports with Labor Code section 2699(g); and (3) is commensurate with Class 5 Counsel’s significant experience, reputation, and ability in class action settlements.

6 a) The Class Counsel Fees Payment Was Calculated Using The 7 Common Fund Doctrine And Aligns With Leading Treatises On 8 Awards Calculated Using The Common Fund Doctrine

9 (i) The Common Fund Doctrine Is Applicable.

10 The common fund doctrine provides that, when a number of persons are entitled in common to 11 a specific fund, and an action brought by a plaintiff for the benefit of all results in the creation or 12 preservation of that fund, the plaintiff may be awarded attorneys' fees and costs out of the fund.
13 (Progressive West Ins. Co. v. Superior Court (2005) 135 Cal.App.4th 263, 273.) The common fund 14 doctrine is therefore applicable in class action settlements, as class action settlements produce a 15 specific fund to which a number of persons are entitled in common and are the product of an action 16 brought by a plaintiff for the benefit of a class. (See Petrovic v. Amoco Oil Co. (8th Cir. 1999) 200 17 F.3d 1140, 1153.)

18 (ii) The Common Fund Doctrine Is Favorable.

19 The common fund doctrine was recognized in Quinn v. State of California (1995) 15 Cal.3d 20 162 as the favorable method for calculating the attorneys’ fees award in class actions. In Quinn, the 21 California Supreme Court explained that the common fund doctrine promotes “...fairness to the 22 successful litigant, who might otherwise receive no benefit because his recovery might be consumed 23 by the expenses; correlative prevention of an unfair advantage to the others who are entitled to share in 24 the fund and who should bear their share of the burden of its recovery; and encouragement of the 25 attorney for the successful litigant, who will be more willing to undertake and diligently prosecute 26 proper litigation for the protection or recovery of the fund if he is assured that he will be 27 properly...compensated should his efforts be successful.” (Quinn, 15 Cal.3d at 162.) Even before 28 Quinn, California Courts routinely used the common fund doctrine to determine a reasonable award of attorneys' fees. (See, e.g., In re Pacific Enterprises Securities City and County of San Francisco Litigation (9th Cir. 1994) 47 F.3d 373, 378-79; see also City and County of San Francisco v. Sweet (1995) 12 Cal.4th 105, 110 [recognizing that the common fund doctrine has been applied "consistently in California when an action brought by one party creates a fund in which other persons are entitled to share"]; Vincent v. Hughes Air West, Inc. (9th Cir. 1977) 557 F.2d 759, 769 [finding the common fund doctrine attempts to "spread litigation costs proportionally among all the beneficiaries so that the active beneficiary does not bear the entire burden alone."].)

The common fund doctrine is also recognized as the favorable method for calculating the attorneys' fees award in class actions when compared to the alternative lodestar approach, which requires courts to wade through, oftentimes, voluminous and indecipherable time records to determine the reasonable hours expended by class counsel. Commenting on the lodestar approach, Chief Judge Marilyn Hall Patel opined in In re Activision Securities Litigation (N.D. Cal. 1989) 723 F.Supp. 1373: "This court is compelled to ask, 'Is this process necessary?' Under a cost-benefit analysis, the answer would be a resounding, 'No!' Not only do the Lindy Kerr-Johnson analyses consume an undue amount of court time with little resulting advantage to anyone, but in fact, it may be to the detriment of the Class Members" because it incentivizes counsel to expend unnecessary time and/or take superfluous action in litigation, prolonging a lawsuit to increase their prospective award. In contrast to the loadstar approach, the common fund doctrine encourages the efficient resolution of litigation by providing an incentive for early settlement, reducing the demands on judicial resources, and endorsing practice by experienced attorneys. (Id. at pp. 1378-79.)

(iii) *The Class Counsel Fees Payment Aligns With Leading Treatises
On Fee Awards Calculated Using the Common Fund Doctrine.*

The Class Counsel Fees Payment aligns with leading treatises on fee awards calculated using the common fund doctrine, which concur that "[n]o general rule can be articulated on what is a reasonable percentage of a common fund. Usually, [fifty percent] of the fund is the upper limit on a reasonable fee award from a common fund in order to assure that the fees do not consume a disproportionate part of the recovery obtained for the class, although somewhat larger percentages are not unprecedented." (See Conte & Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions (3rd Ed.) § 14.03.) Here, the

1 Class Counsel Fees Payment is not to exceed $75,00.00 or one-third of the Gross Settlement Amount, 2 which aligns with prevailing guidelines established in California case law and academic literature and 3 is consistent with prior awards approved in California. (Compare, Settlement, ¶ 3.1.2 with Chavez v.
4 Netflix, Inc. (2008) 162 Cal.App.4th 43, 66, n.11 [“Empirical studies show that, regardless of whether 5 the percentage method or the lodestar method is used, fee awards in class actions average around one-
6 third of the recovery.”]; see also Van Vranken v. Atlantic Richfield Company (N.D. Cal. 1995) 901
7 F.Supp. 294 [stating that cases where 30-50 percent was awarded involved “smaller” settlement funds 8 of under $10 million.])

9 b) The Class Counsel Fees Payment Comports With California Labor
10 Code Section 2699(g)

11 Labor Code section 2699(g) states: “any employee who prevails in any action shall be entitled 12 to an award of reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs.” This fee-shifting provision reflects the 13 understanding that counsel must accept significant risk of substantial expenses and consumption of 14 time and other resources in litigating a PAGA action, and thus, that it is reasonable for counsel to 15 recover reasonable fees and costs if successful in litigating the same. Notably, the reasonableness of an 16 award is unaffected when the fees are larger than the total recovery for the aggrieved employees at the 17 conclusion of the case because once counsel undertake the litigation, they are committed to pursuing 18 the case to its conclusion, placing the fiduciary duty to the aggrieved employees ahead of all other 19 concerns. Here, this Action arose, in part, under Labor Code sections 2699, et seq. Therefore, Labor 20 Code section 2699(g) applies. The prosecution of this Action involved significant financial risk to 21 Class Counsel, as they undertook this matter solely on a contingency basis, with no guarantee of 22 recovery. (Moon Decl., ¶¶ 59-63.) The Class Counsel Fees Payment therefore comports with the fee-23 shifting provision of Labor Code section 2699(g).

24 c) The Class Counsel Fees Payment Is Commensurate With Class
25 Counsel’s Significant Experience, Reputation, and Ability In Class
26 Action Settlements

27 Here, the experience, reputation, and ability of Class Counsel support the Class Counsel Fees 28 Payment, as fees are generally awarded commensurate with the experience, reputation, and skill of 1 counsel, and Class Counsel have significant and specific experience in litigating class and 2 representative actions on behalf of employees. (Moon Decl., ¶¶ 48-58.) Moreover, Class Counsel have 3 been involved as lead or co-counsel in a multitude of class and representative actions resulting in 4 beneficial results to class members in California. (Id.) This experience has familiarized Class Counsel 5 with this rapidly evolving area of law, such that they possess significant expertise in this narrow field.

6 (Id.)

7 2. The Class Counsel Expenses Payment Is Fair And Reasonable

8 The Class Counsel Expenses Payment is fair and reasonable because class counsel are entitled 9 to recover the out-of-pocket litigation costs they reasonably incur in investigating, prosecuting, and 10 settling a class and representative action, and the Class Counsel Expenses Payment reflects such costs.
11 (Staton v. Boeing Co. (9th Cir. 2003) 327 F.3d 938, 974.) Here, Class Counsel has reasonably incurred 12 $14,386.45 in litigation costs. Such costs were reasonably incurred because they were actually incurred 13 and required to prosecute the Action. (Moon Decl., Exhibit 6.) For example, they include, but are not 14 limited to, the complaint filing fee and mediation fee. (Id.) The complaint filing fee was required for 15 Plaintiff to initiate this Action, and the mediation fee facilitated the Parties' settlement discussions, 16 which ultimately led to the Settlement. (Id.; Settlement, ¶ 2.5.) The Parties have agreed to 17 reimbursement of litigation costs not to exceed $17,000.00, and any un-awarded litigation costs shall 18 become part of the Net Settlement Amount for allocation to Participating Class Members. (Settlement, 19 ¶ 3.1.2.)

20 3. The Class Representative Service Payment Is Fair And Reasonable

21 The Class Representative Service Payment is fair and reasonable, as named plaintiffs in class 22 action lawsuits "are eligible for reasonable incentive payments to compensate them for the expense or 23 risk they incur in conferring a benefit on other members of the class," and the Service Payment here is 24 reasonable and compensate Plaintiff for the benefit she conferred on the Class. (Munoz, supra, 86 25 Cal.App.4th at 412; Clark v. Am. Residential Servs. LLC (2009) 175 Cal.App.4th 785, 806; See In re
26 Cont'l Ill. Sec. Litig. (7th Cir. 1992) 962 F.2d 566, 571 ["Since without a named plaintiff there can be 27 no class action, such compensation as may be necessary to induce him to participate in the suit could 28 be thought the equivalent of the lawyers' nonlegal but essential case-specific expenses, such as long-

1 distance phone calls, which are reimbursable”.].) Here, Participating Class Members will receive an 2 average payment of $135.23, equating to approximately 5.39 hours of work, based on their average
3 hourly rates. (Moon Decl., ¶ 45.) In addition to this monetary benefit, Plaintiff has likely effectuated 4 lawful wage-and-hour policies and practices at Pasadena Nursing Center from which currently 5 employed Class Members are deriving benefit in the form of proper pay and working conditions.

6 Courts routinely approve class action settlement agreements containing enhancements for class 7 representatives, acknowledging they are necessary to provide incentive to represent classes and 8 appropriate given the benefit class representatives help bring about for the class. (See Rodriguez v. W.
9 Publ'g Corp., (9th Cir. 2009) 563 F.3d 948, 958-59.) “[C]riteria courts may consider in determining 10 whether to make an incentive award include: 1) the risk to the class representative in commencing suit, 11 both financial and otherwise; 2) the notoriety and personal difficulties encountered by the class 12 representative; 3) the amount of time and effort spent by the class representative; 4) the duration of the 13 litigation; and 5) the personal benefit (or lack thereof) enjoyed by the class representative as a result of 14 the litigation. (In re Cellphone Fee Termination Cases, (2010) 186 Cal.App.4th 1380, 1394-95.) Here, 15 to bring about her goal of remediation and deterrence, Plaintiff had to initiate this Action and actively 16 participate in its litigation for nearly a year, which should be fairly compensated given the classwide 17 benefits.

18 Incentive awards are particularly important to plaintiffs in wage-and-hour cases because they 19 (1) promote the important public policies underlying the wage-and-hour laws, and (2) compensate 20 employees for the significant risk they face to their future employability. (See California Labor Code 21 section 90.5(a) [“It is the policy of [the State of California] to vigorously enforce minimum labor 22 standards [to] ensure employees are not required or permitted to work under substandard unlawful 23 conditions or for employers that have not secured the payment of compensation, and to protect 24 employers who comply with the law from those who attempt to gain a competitive advantage at the 25 expense of their workers by failing to comply with minimum labor standards.”]; Gentry v. Super. Ct., 26 (2007) 42 Cal.4th 443, 460-61 [the California Supreme Court recognizing that “retaliation against 27 employees for asserting statutory rights under the Labor Code is widespread,” despite anti-retaliation 28 statutes designed to protect employees]; see also Frank v. Eastman Kodak Co., (W.D.N.Y. 2005) 228

1 F.R.D. 174, 187.) Here, Plaintiff’s action promoted the State of California’s explicit intention to 2 protect hourly employees from underpayment, non-payment, and non-compliant working conditions, 3 which further supports a fair enhancement award.

4 In light of the benefits she helped produce for the Class, the risks she undertook in pursuing 5 this Action, the important public policy her efforts supported, and the time and work Plaintiff spent 6 assisting Class Counsel in the case, Plaintiff should be awarded the full Service Payment of $7,500.00, 7 which the Parties have agreed to under the Settlement. (Moon Decl., ¶¶ 65-68; Settlement, ¶ 3.1.1.; see 8 generally Aguilar Decl.)

9 IV. CERTIFICATION FOR SETTLEMENT PURPOSES IS WARRANTED

10 A. Legal Standard

11 For the reasons set forth below, and for purposes of settlement, the Class satisfies the 12 prerequisites for certification under the California Code of Civil Procedure section 382: that there be 13 an ascertainable class; and that there be a well-defined community of interest in the questions of law 14 and fact involved affecting the parties to be represented. (Daar v. Yellow Cab Co. (1967) 67 Cal. 2d 15 695, 704.) There is an ascertainable class when: the class is identifiable, is numerous, and shares a 16 well-defined community of interest. (Miller v. Woods (1983) 148 Cal.App.3d 862, 873.) There is a 17 well-defined community of interest when there are predominant questions of law or fact; the class 18 representative possesses claims or defenses typical of the class; and the class representative can 19 adequately represent the class. (Richmond v. Dart Indus., Inc., (1981) 29 Cal. 3d 462, 470.)

20 1. The Class Is Identifiable

21 Here, the Class is identifiable because its definition is precise and comprised of objective 22 criteria rendering Class Members discernable. The objective criteria include the nature of the position 23 held by the Class Member, i.e., non-exempt; the time period during which the Class Member held the 24 position, i.e., July 27, 2022, through June 30, 2025; the state in which the Class Member worked, i.e., 25 California; and the employer of the Class Member, i.e., Defendant. (Settlement, ¶ 1.4.) Such objective 26 terms are sufficient for finding a class identifiable. (See e.g., Wilner v. Sunset Life Ins. Co., (2000) 78 27 Cal.App.4th 952, 959-60.)

28 2. The Class Is Numerous

1 Here, the Class is numerous because it consists of an estimated seven hundred twenty-one 2 Class Members, and such a class size has regularly been found sufficient for finding of numerosity.
3 (See e.g., id., citing Bowles v. Super. Ct. (1955) 44 Cal.2d 574 [“Thus, our Supreme Court has upheld a 4 class representing the ten beneficiaries of a trust in an action for removal of the trustees.”]; see Rose v.
5 City of Hayward, (1981) 126 Cal.App.3d 926, 934 [“The requirement of California Code of Civil 6 Procedure section 382 that there be ‘many’ parties to a class action suit is indefinite and has been 7 construed liberally”] [“Where a question is of common interest to ‘many’ persons, an action may be 8 maintained as a class action even where the parties are numerous, and it is in fact practicable to join 9 them all”] [“No set number is required as a matter of law for the maintenance of a class action.”].)

10 3. The Class Shares A Well-Defined Community Of Interest

11 Here, the Class shares common questions of law and fact that predominate over individual 12 issues. The questions of law and fact center around (1) whether Defendant had legally compliant 13 policies and practices to: pay employees all wages owed; provide employees with code-compliant 14 meal periods; authorize and permit its employees to take code-compliant rest breaks; and ensure 15 reimbursement of all necessary business expenses incurred; (2) whether Defendant timely paid final 16 wages to employees; and (3) whether Defendant had legally compliant wage statements. The operative 17 Complaint establishes that all Class Members would need to answer these same questions of law and 18 fact to prevail on their injuries; all Class Members have suffered from and seek redress for the same 19 injuries; and all Class Members’ legal remedies would be identical in the event they prevailed. Such is 20 sufficient for finding a class shares common questions of law and fact. (See, e.g., Clothesrigger, Inc. v.
21 GTE Corp. (1987) 191 Cal.App.3d 605.)

22 Here also, the Class Representative has claims typical of the Class. A class representative has 23 claims typical of the class when his or her claims arise from the same event, practice, or course of 24 conduct, and if the claims rest on the same legal theories. (Classen v. Weller (1983) 145 Cal.App.3d 25 27, 47 [“The only requirements are that common questions of law and fact predominate and that the 26 class representative be similarly situated” vis-à-vis the class.”].) This is precisely the case here. Like all 27 other Class Members, Plaintiff was a former non-exempt employee of Defendant; Plaintiff worked for 28 Defendant in California; Plaintiff typically worked five days and forty hours per workweek; and

1 Plaintiff was subjected to the employment policies and practices of Defendant, which are the basis of 2 her individual and class claims and legal theories in support thereof. The Class Members are also all 3 non-exempt employees of Defendant; who worked for Defendant in California; who worked the same 4 average workday and workweek as Plaintiff; and who were also subjected to the same policies and 5 practices as Plaintiff, which are also the basis of their claims and alleged legal theories. The Class 6 Representative, therefore, has identical claims to those of the Class.

7 Here, last, the Class Representative adequately represents the Class. A class representative 8 adequately represents the class when he or she is represented by counsel qualified to conduct the 9 pending litigation; and his or her interests are not antagonistic to those of the class. (McGhee v. Bank of 10 America, (1976) 60 Cal.App.3d 442, 451.) Plaintiff retained counsel with extensive experience in 11 prosecuting complex class actions, including similar class actions that previously settled. (Moon Decl., 12 ¶¶ 48-58.) With their combined experience, Class Counsel are unquestionably “qualified, experienced 13 and generally able to conduct the proposed litigation.” (Miller, supra, (1983) 148 Cal.App.3d at 875.)
14 In addition, Plaintiff has no conflicts of interest with any Class Members, and Plaintiff has, with 15 counsel, helped bring about the Settlement in this Action and diligently reviewed the Settlement terms, 16 showing her dedication. Plaintiff’s willingness to serve as a representative demonstrates her goal to 17 bring about the best results possible for the Class. (McGhee, 60 Cal.App.3d at 451.)

18 4. A Class Action Is Superior To A Multiplicity Of Litigation

19 If a Court finds all other requirements for class certification are satisfied, it must finally 20 determine that a class action is superior to alternative means for the fair and efficient adjudication of 21 the litigation. By consolidating many potential individual actions into a single proceeding, this Court’s 22 use of the class action device enables it to manage a litigation in a manner that serves the economics of 23 time, effort, and expense for the litigants and the judicial system. Absent class treatment, similarly 24 situated employees with small but meritorious claims for damages would, as a practical matter, have 25 no means of redress because of the time, effort, and expense required to prosecute individual actions.
26 (Gentry v. Super. Ct., (2007) 42 Cal. 4th 443, 457-62; Leyva v. Medline Ind., (9th Cir. 2013) 716 F.3d 27 510, 515.) For this reason, and those detailed in this Section, the Class satisfies the requirements for 28 provisional certification.

1 V. THE CLASS NOTICE MERITS APPROVAL

2 A. The Class Notice Satisfies State Law

3 Notice requirements are set forth in the California Rules of Court rules 3.766(e) and 3.766(f).
4 California law vests the Court with broad discretion to fashion an appropriate notice program. (Cartt v.
5 Super Ct. (1975) 50 Cal.App.3d 960, 973-74.) There is no statutory or Due Process requirement that 6 all class members receive actual notice. However, as the Court of Appeals has explained, “[t]he notice 7 given should have a reasonable chance of reaching a substantial percentage of the class members...”
8 (Id. at p. 974.) Here, the Class Notice will be provided to Class Members by direct mailing through 9 First Class U.S. Mail, the best possible form of notice under the circumstances. (Settlement, ¶ 6.4.2.)

10 B. The Class Notice is Accurate and Informative

11 The Class Notice, in substantially the form attached to the Settlement as Exhibit A, should be 12 approved for dissemination to the Class Members. The Class Notice informs the Class Members of the 13 purpose and terms of the Settlement; their right, and the steps that must be taken, to be excluded from 14 the Settlement; and their right, and the steps that must be taken, to object to the Settlement and be 15 heard at the Final Fairness Hearing. Accordingly, the Class Notice meets all requirements of California 16 Rules of Court rule 3.769(f).

17 The Class Notice also fulfills the requirement of neutrality in class notices: it summarizes the 18 proceedings to date and the terms and conditions of the Settlement in an informative and coherent 19 manner; makes clear that the Settlement does not constitute an admission of liability by Defendant, 20 which denies all liability; and recognizes that this Court has not ruled on the merits of this Action.
21 (Conte & Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions (3rd Ed.) § 8.39.) It also states that Final Approval has 22 not yet been granted. Accordingly, the Class Notice complies with the standards of fairness, 23 completeness, and neutrality required of a combined settlement-certification class notice.

1 VI. CONCLUSION

2 For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff respectfully requests the Court to grant preliminary 3 approval of the Settlement and set a Final Fairness Hearing.
