By C. Tachon ,Deputy Clerk

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA FOR THE COUNTY OF SAN DIEGO

BROCK ALLMARAS, on behalf of others
similarly situated and the State of California
under the Private Attorneys General Act,

Plaintiffs,

vs.

UNIVERSITY MECHANICAL & ENGINEERING CONTRACTORS, INC. and
DOES 1 through 50, inclusive,

Defendants.

Case No. 24CU015473C

REPRESENTATIVE ACTION COMPLAINT

1. Civil Penalties under the Private Attorneys
General Act (Labor Code §§ 2698 et seq.)

1 Plaintiff BROCK ALLMARAS, on behalf of all others similarly situated and the State of
2 California under the Private Attorneys General Act (“Plaintiff”) brings this REPRESENTATIVE
3 ACTION COMPLAINT against Defendants UNIVERSITY MECHANICAL & ENGINEERING
4 CONTRACTORS, INC. and DOES 1 through 50, inclusive (collectively “Defendants”), alleging as 5 follows:

6 INTRODUCTION

7 1. This is a representative action brought under the California Private Attorneys General
8 Act (Labor Code §§ 2698 et seq.)

9 2. Defendants failed to compensate Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees for all hours
10 suffered or permitted to work in violation of the applicable IWC Wage Order.

11 3. Defendants’ underpayment of wages was facilitated by their company-wide practices
12 of requiring employees to complete work while off-the-clock.

13 4. Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were not always given adequate opportunity to 14 take compliant meal and rest breaks, yet Defendants did not pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees
15 for meal or rest period premiums.

16 5. Defendants failed to reimburse Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees for necessary
17 expenses incurred in furtherance of the aggrieved employees’ job duties.

18 6. Defendants also failed to provide Plaintiff with his employee records upon reasonable 19 request to the Defendants.

20 7. Defendants’ employment policies, practices, and payroll administration systems
21 enabled and facilitated these violations on a company-wide basis with respect to the aggrieved 22 employees.

23 8. Defendants are further liable for derivative claims for wage statements, untimely 24 payment, and other associated violations.

25 9. Plaintiff, in his capacity as a private attorney general, seeks to remedy these practices
26 and collect civil penalties for the violations under the Private Attorneys General Act.

1 JURISDICTION & VENUE

2 10. Jurisdiction of this action is proper in this Court under Article VI, Section 10 of the 3 California Constitution as the causes of action are premised upon violations of California law.

4 11. The monetary damages and restitution sought exceed the minimal jurisdiction limits of 5 the Superior Court.

6 12. This Court has jurisdiction over Defendants because, upon information and belief,
7 Defendants have sufficient minimum contacts in California, or otherwise intentionally avail
8 themselves to the California economy so as to render the exercise of jurisdiction over them by the 9 California courts consistent with traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

10 13. Venue is proper in this Court under Code of Civil Procedure sections 393(a), 395,
11 and/or 395.5 because, upon information and belief, Defendants conducted business and committed 12 some of the alleged violations in this County.

13 PARTIES

14 A. Plaintiff Brock Allmaras

15 14. Plaintiff Allmaras is an individual over 18 years of age who worked for Defendants in 16 California as a non-exempt employee from about July 2023 to April 2024. Plaintiff worked as a 17 Apprentice Plumber.

18 15. The State of California, via the Labor and Workforce Development Agency
19 (“LWDA”), is the real party in interest in this action. (Kim v. Reins Int’l California, Inc. (2020) 9
20 Cal. 5th 73, 81 [The “government entity on whose behalf the plaintiff files suit is always the real party 21 in interest.”]) To the extent permitted by law, including pursuant Balderas v. Fresh Start Harvesting,
22 Inc., Court of Appeals Case No. B326759 (2nd App. Dist.) ____ Cal. App. 5th ____ (Mar. 20, 2024, 23 as modified Apr. 18, 2024), the PAGA claim is brought exclusively as a representative action and does 24 not include arbitrable claims.

25 B. Defendants

26 16. Defendant University Mechanical & Engineering Contractors, Inc. is a California
27 corporation that maintains operations and conducts business throughout the State of California,
28 including in this county.

1 17. The true names and capacities, whether individual, corporate, or otherwise, of the 2 parties sued as DOES 1 through 50, are presently unknown, unascertainable, or uncertain, and are sued
3 by such fictitious names under Code of Civil Procedure section 474. Upon information and belief,
4 each of DOES 1 through 50 constitutes a legal employer or is otherwise legally responsible in some 5 manner for the acts and omissions alleged herein. This Complaint may be amended to reflect their 6 true names and capacities once ascertained.

7 18. Upon information and belief, Defendants in this action are employers, co-employers,
8 joint employers, and/or part of an integrated employer enterprise, as each of the Defendants exercised
9 control over the wages, hours, and working conditions of the employees, suffered and permitted them
10 to work, and otherwise engaged them as employees under California law.

11 19. Upon information and belief, at least some of the Defendants have common ownership, 12 common management, interrelationship of operations, and centralized control over labor relations and 13 are therefore part of an integrated enterprise and thus jointly and severally responsible for the acts and 14 omissions alleged herein, including pursuant to Labor Code sections 558, 558.1, and 1197.1.

15 20. Upon information and belief, Defendants acted in all respects pertinent to this action as 16 an alter-ego, agent, servant, joint employer, joint venturer, co-conspirator, partner, in an integrated 17 enterprise, or in some other capacity on behalf of all other co-defendants, such that the acts and 18 omissions of each defendant may be legally attributable to all others.

19 GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

20 21. Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees worked for Defendants as non-exempt
21 employees, compensated on an hourly basis.

22 22. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees at the lawful minimum
23 wage rate for all hours worked, resulting in unpaid minimum wages. Specifically, Defendants engaged
24 in an unlawful practice of requiring Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to complete work while off-
25 the-clock, without compensation.

26 23. For example, Defendants expected Plaintiff and aggrieved employees to arrive at work
27 thirty (30) minutes before their scheduled shifts and begin working on their tasks. However,
28 Defendants prohibited Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees from logging this additional time worked

1 on their timecards.

2 24. Furthermore, Plaintiff, and on information and belief, other employees, would receive
3 messages and phone calls from Defendants' agents about work-related matters while off-the-clock.
4 Plaintiff alleges that he would be penalized for not responding to these messages and phone calls and 5 was not allowed to log this off-the-clock work on his timecard.

6 25. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees overtime wages at the 7 lawful rate of pay for overtime hours worked, resulting in unpaid overtime wages.

8 26. As mentioned above, Defendants forced Plaintiff and aggrieved employees to work off-
9 the-clock, without compensation. Thus, when Plaintiff and aggrieved employees worked more than 8
10 hours a day or more than 40 hours a week, these practices resulted in unpaid overtime wages.

11 27. Similarly, Defendants failed to comply with California's sick leave laws with respect
12 to the aggrieved employees. Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees worked off-the-clock, overtime
13 hours that were not accounted for when calculating an employee's accrued paid sick leave. Therefore,
14 Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were not awarded the total accrued sick leave time they had 15 earned.

16 28. Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees routinely experienced missed, late, short, and 17 interrupted meal periods due to pressure from Defendants to get their projects completed as soon as 18 possible.

19 29. Upon information and belief, when Defendants did not provide compliant meal periods,
20 Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees a meal period premium in violation
21 of Labor Code section 226.7.

22 30. Similarly, Defendants had an unlawful policy and practice of encouraging Plaintiff and 23 aggrieved employees to work through their rest periods.

24 31. When Defendants did not provide complaint rest periods, Defendants failed to pay
25 Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees a rest period premium in violation of Labor Code section 26 226.7.

27 32. Defendants failed to provide accurate itemized wage statements to the aggrieved
28 employees each pay period as a result of the policies and practices set forth in this notice. Defendants

1 violated Labor Code section 226(a)(1) and (5) by not listing the correct “gross wages earned” or “net
2 wages earned,” as the employees earned wages and premiums that were not paid, resulting in an
3 inaccurate reflection, and recording of “gross wages earned” on those wage statements.

4 33. Likewise, in violation of Labor Code section 226(a)(9), Defendants failed to state on 5 employee wage statements each pay period the applicable hourly rates in effect and the number of 6 hours worked at that rate, as Defendants failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to employees.
7 The amounts stated are instead depreciated and underpaid, resulting in an inaccurate reflection on the 8 pay stub.

9 34. Defendant violated Labor Code section 226(a)(2) by failing to accurately list
10 employees’ “total hours worked,” as the wage statements did not accurately include the 11 uncompensated time Plaintiffs and other aggrieved employees worked due to Defendant’s policy and 12 practice of requiring employees to work off-the-clock.

13 35. Defendants required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to incur costs for work-
14 related purposes without full reimbursement.

15 36. For example, Defendants required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to use their 16 personal cellphones to receive phone calls and messages from Defendants’ agents about work-related 17 matters.

18 37. Additionally, Plaintiff was required to complete tasks that required tools that were not 19 provided by Defendants. However, Defendants did not reimburse Plaintiff and other aggrieved
20 employees for expenses incurred from cell phone usage required for the job or from obtaining tools 21 that were required for the job.

22 38. Thus, in direct consequence of their job duties, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees 23 unavoidably and necessarily incurred these losses, expenditures, and costs as a matter of policy and 24 practice.

25 39. Defendants also failed to provide Plaintiff with the opportunity to inspect his time
26 records pertaining to his employment.

27 40. Plaintiff requested copies of his timecards for his time spent working for Defendants.
28 However, to date, Defendants have not provided Plaintiff with those timecards.

1 41. Because of the policies and practices set forth in this notice, including the failure to
2 accurately account for wages earned or hours worked, Defendants failed to accurately maintain records
3 in accordance with Labor Code section 1174 and the IWC Wage Orders.

4 42. These violations create derivative liability for failure to pay all wages owed each
5 payday or upon separation of employment.

6 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

7 CIVIL PENALTIES UNDER THE PRIVATE ATTORNEYS GENERAL ACT

8 Violation of Labor Code §§ 2698 *et seq.

9 (By Plaintiff on Behalf of the State and the Aggrieved Employees Against All Defendants)

10 43. All outside paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated into this section.

11 44. Plaintiff brings this cause of action as a proxy for the State of California on behalf of 12 the following “aggrieved employees” pursuant to the Private Attorneys General Act (“PAGA”),
13 codified as Labor Code §§ 2698 et seq.:

14 a. All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendants in 15 California at any time from one year prior to the postmark date of the initial 16 PAGA notice through date of trial.

17 45. Plaintiff reserves the right to amend, supplement, or add to this description of the 18 aggrieved employees, according to proof.

19 46. The State of California, via the Labor and Workforce Development Agency
20 (“LWDA”), is the real party in interest in this action with respect to this cause of action. (Kim v. Reins
21 Int’l California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal. 5th 73, 81 [The “government entity on whose behalf the plaintiff 22 files suit is always the real party in interest.”])

23 47. Labor Code section 2699(a) provides: “Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any 24 provision of this code that provides for a civil penalty to be assessed and collected by the Labor and 25 Workforce Development Agency or any of its departments, divisions, commissions, boards, agencies,
26 or employees, for a violation of this code, may, as an alternative, be recovered through a civil action
27 brought by an aggrieved employee on behalf of the employee and other current or former employees
28

1 against whom a violation of the same provision was committed pursuant to the procedures specified in 2 Section 2699.3.”

3 48. Any allegations regarding violations of the IWC Wage Orders are enforceable as 4 violations of Labor Code section 1198, which states: “[t]he employment of any employee for longer
5 hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the order is unlawful.”

6 49. Labor Code section 2699.3 sets forth the procedure for commencing an action for civil 7 penalties under the PAGA.

8 50. On or about August 1, 2024, Plaintiff paid the requisite PAGA filing fee and provided
9 written notice (by online electronic filing with the LWDA and by certified mail to Defendants) of 10 Defendants’ alleged Labor Code violations, including the facts and theories to support the alleged 11 violations.

12 51. A true and correct copy of Plaintiff’s written PAGA notice, entitled “Notice of Labor
13 Code Violations” is attached hereto as Exhibit 1 and incorporated by reference as though fully set 14 forth herein (the “PAGA notice”).

15 52. To date, neither Plaintiff nor Plaintiff’s counsel has received a response to Plaintiff’s
16 written PAGA notice from the LWDA.

17 53. Within 33 calendar days of the postmark date of the notice sent by Plaintiff, neither
18 Plaintiff nor Plaintiff’s counsel has received written notice by certified mail from any defendant
19 providing a description of any actions taken to cure the alleged violations.

20 54. Now that at least 65 days have passed from Plaintiff notifying Defendants of these 21 violations, without notice of cure from Defendants or notice from the LWDA of its intent to investigate
22 the alleged allegations and issue the appropriate citations to Defendants, Plaintiff exhausted all 23 prerequisites and commenced this civil action under Labor Code §§ 2699 et seq.

24 55. As set forth in the PAGA notice attached as Exhibit 1 and incorporated into this 25 Complaint, Defendants committed the following violations and are liable for all corresponding civil 26 penalties:

- 27 a. Unpaid Hours Worked/Minimum Wage. Violation of Labor Code §§ 1194, 28 1197, 1198; IWC Wage Orders.

- b. Unpaid Overtime. Violation of Labor Code §§ 510, 1194, 1198; IWC Wage Orders.
- c. Unpaid Paid Sick Leave. Violation of Labor Code §§ 246 through 248.7.
- d. Unpaid Meal Period Premium Wages. Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 512, 1198; IWC Wage Orders.
- e. Unpaid Rest Period Premium Wages. Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 516, 1198; IWC Wage Orders.
- f. Untimely Payment of Wages During Employment. Violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 204b, 210.
- g. Untimely Payment of Wages Upon Separation of Employment. Violation of Labor Code §§ 201, 202, 203, 256.
- h. Non-Compliant Wage Statements. Violation of Labor Code §§ 226, 226.3.
- i. Unreimbursed Employee Expenses. Violation of Labor Code §§ 2802, 2804.
- j. Failure to Provide Employee Records. Violation of Labor Code §§ 226, 432, 1174, 1198.5; IWC Wage Orders.
- k. Failure to Maintain Accurate Records. Violation of Labor Code § 1174; IWC Wage Orders.

56. Plaintiff seeks to collect all recoverable civil penalties for the Labor Code violations alleged in this Complaint and the PAGA notice (including amendments thereto) against Defendants pursuant to Labor Code section 2699(a) and (f), in addition to attorneys' fees, costs, and interest to the extent permitted by law, including under Labor Code section 2699(k).

PRAYER

Plaintiff prays for judgment as follows:

- a. For recovery of damages in amount according to proof;
- b. For all recoverable pre- and post-judgment interest;
- c. For this action to be maintained as a representative action under the PAGA;

- 1 d. For Plaintiff and counsel of record to be provided with all enforcement capability as if
2 the action were brought by the State of California or the California Division of Labor
3 Enforcement;
4 e. For recovery of all civil penalties and other recoverable amounts under the PAGA;
5 f. For reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit, including expert fees, to the extent
6 permitted by law, associated with the PAGA claims pursuant to Labor Code § 2699,
7 and Code of Civil Procedure section 1021.5 and any other applicable sections; and 8 g. For such other relief the Court deems just and proper.

NOTICE OF LABOR CODE VIOLATIONS
CALIFORNIA LABOR CODE SECTIONS 2698 et seq.

VIA CERTIFIED U.S. MAIL
- Electronic Return Receipt -

University Mechanical & Engineering Contractors, Inc.
1168 Fesler Street
El Cajon, CA 92020

- PAGA Notice & Filing Fee -
Submitted electronically to the Labor and Workforce Development Agency

Dear LWDA Officer and Company Representatives:

This letter serves as written notice under Labor Code section 2699.3 on behalf of BROCK ALLMARAS (“Plaintiff”) and all other “aggrieved employees” of the following “Defendant(s)”:

UNIVERSITY MECHANICAL & ENGINEERING CONTRACTORS, INC.

Defendant(s) shall mean and include the foregoing in addition to any other related employer entities, individuals under Labor Code sections 558 and 558.1, and all others who may be later added upon further investigation and discovery as liable employers.

This office serves as legal counsel for Plaintiff. If the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”) does not investigate the facts, allegations, and violations set forth in this notice within the statutorily prescribed 65-day period under Labor Code section 2699.3, Plaintiff intends to commence a civil action against Defendant as a proxy and agent of the State of California under the Private Attorneys General Act (“PAGA”). “PAGA allows an ‘aggrieved employee’—a person affected by at least one Labor Code violation committed by an employer—to pursue penalties for all the Labor Code violations committed by that employer.” Huff v. Securitas Security Services USA, Inc. (2018) 23 Cal. App. 5th 745, 751; Kim v. Reins International California, Inc. (2020) 9 Cal. 73, 79. Plaintiff maintains standing to pursue these claims against Defendant as an aggrieved employee.

Through this notice, Plaintiff requests that Defendant complete an internal investigation and audit of the wage and hour and employment practices at issue and make a good faith effort to correct any violations. Plaintiff attempts to identify the non-compliant policies and practices affecting the aggrieved employees so that the parties may resolve the underlying damages and penalties in judgment or settlement approved by the Superior Court of California under Labor Code section 2699(k). Defendant is notified that any attempt to resolve this case should be conducted in coordination with Plaintiff's counsel to protect the interests of Plaintiff, the aggrieved employees, and the State of California via the LWDA. Plaintiff advises Defendant this letter should be also considered a reasonable attempt at settlement of this matter, subject to an exchange of additional documents and information. Graham v. Daimler Chrysler Corp. (2004) 24 Cal. 4th 553, 561.

- BACKGROUND -

Defendant employed Plaintiff during the PAGA Period in the position of Plumber Apprentice from about July 2023 to April 2024. During their employment Plaintiff and the other aggrieved employees were subject to the wage and hour and employment protections set forth in the California Labor Code and IWC Wage Orders.

Through this notice, Plaintiff informs the LWDA of the Labor Code violations set forth herein. The “aggrieved employees” include Plaintiff and the following individuals:

All current and former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendant in the State of California during one-year period preceding the date of this notice through the current date and the date of trial in any pending action (the “aggrieved employees” and the “PAGA Period”).

Plaintiff reserves the right to expand or narrow the definition of the “aggrieved employees” in the forthcoming civil action. Furthermore, Plaintiff seeks all recoverable civil penalties for Defendant’s violations and reserves the right to supplement this notice as further investigation is completed and further facts, witnesses, and violations are uncovered.

- PAGA CLAIMS -

Unpaid Hours Worked/Minimum Wage Violation of Labor Code §§ 1194, 1197, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendant violated Labor Code sections 1194, 1197, and 1198, along with the California Minimum Wage Order, the applicable local minimum wage ordinances, and the “Hours and Days of Work” and “Minimum Wages” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Orders with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 1194 renders it unlawful for an employee to receive less than the legal minimum wage for hours worked in California. Labor Code section 1197 further mandates that “[t]he minimum wage for employees fixed by the commission is the minimum wage to be paid to employees, and the payment of a lower wage than the minimum so fixed is unlawful.” Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The California Minimum Wage Order and the applicable sections of the IWC Wage Orders further require payment of minimum wages for all hours worked. The “Minimum Wages” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Order provide that “[e]very employer shall pay to each employee, on the established payday for the period involved, not less than the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked in the payroll period, whether the remuneration is measured by time, piece, commission, or otherwise.” The foregoing California wage laws require payment of “not less than the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked in the payroll period” and California law does not allow averaging of pay over the hours worked in the pay period, even if the total pay results in an average above the minimum wage. Armenta v. Osmose, Inc. (2005) 135 Cal. App. 3d 314, 324.

Defendant failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees at the lawful minimum wage rate for all hours worked, resulting in unpaid minimum wages. Defendant engaged in an unlawful practice of requiring Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to complete work while off-the-clock, without compensation.

First, Defendant expected Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to arrive at work thirty minutes before their scheduled shifts and begin working on their tasks. However, Defendant prohibited Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees from logging this additional time worked on their timecards. Plaintiff alleges that Defendant would penalize him and the aggrieved employees if they did not complete at least thirty minutes of off-the-clock work.

Second, Plaintiff would receive messages and phone calls from Defendant’s agents about work-related matters while off-the-clock. Plaintiff alleges that he would be penalized for not answering these messages and phone calls and was not allowed to log this off-the-clock work.

Defendant failed to retroactively input and compensate Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees spent for all hours spent working off-the-clock. Due to this unlawful practice, all hours were not directly compensated, resulting in the underpayment of wages to Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Unpaid Overtime
Violation of Labor Code §§ 510, 1194, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendant violated Labor Code sections 510, 1194, and 1198, along with the “Hours and Days of Work” sections of the applicable IWC Wage Orders with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 510 requires “[a]ny work in excess of eight hours in one workday and any work in excess of 40 hours in any one workweek and the first eight hours worked on the seventh day of work in any one workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for an employee;” and “any work in excess of 12 hours in one day shall be compensated at the rate of no less than twice the regular rate of pay for an employee;” and “any work in excess of eight hours on any seventh day of a workweek shall be compensated at the rate of no less than twice the regular rate of pay of an employee.” Labor Code section 1194 renders it unlawful for an employee to receive less than the legal overtime rate for overtime hours worked in California. Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders further require payment of overtime wages for all overtime hours worked, including the “Hours and Days of Work” sections.

Defendant failed to pay Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees overtime wages at the lawful rate of pay for overtime hours worked, resulting in unpaid overtime wages. As stated in the “Unpaid Hours Worked” section above, Defendant forced Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to work off-the-clock, without compensation. Thus, when Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees worked more than 8 hours a day or more than 40 hours in one week, these practices resulted in unpaid overtime hours.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Unpaid Paid Sick Leave
Violation of Labor Code §§ 246 through 248.7

Defendant violated Labor Code sections 246 through 248.7 with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 246 requires employers to provide paid sick leave to its workforce on the terms set forth in the statute. Employers must comply with the accrual, use, and notice provisions of Labor Code sections 246, 246.5, 247, and must further ensure that they maintain the paid sick leave records required by Labor Code section 247.5. Employers have the option of providing 24 hours of paid sick leave to employees or to allow employees to accrue paid sick leave each pay period. If an employer chooses the accrual method, employees must accrue sick leave at a rate of one hour for every thirty hours worked in a given pay period as set forth in Labor Code section 246(b)(1). Under the accrual method, employees must begin accruing paid sick leave at the commencement of employment.

Employers must pay sick leave in accordance with one of the three permissible methods provided in Labor Code section 246(l): (1) “the same manner as the regular rate of pay for the workweek;” (2) “by dividing the employee’s total wages, not including overtime premium pay, by the employee’s total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days;” or (3) “for exempt employee ... in the same manner as the employer calculates wages for other forms of paid leave time.” Labor Code sections 248.6 and 248.7 similarly require paid sick leave to be paid at a regular rate-based calculation in excess of the base hourly rate and at the lawful accrual rate.

Under Labor Code section 246(i), employers must provide employees “with written notice of the amount of paid sick leave available ... for use on either the employee’s itemized wage statement ... or in a separate writing provided on the designated pay date with the employee’s payment of wages.”

Defendant failed to comply with California’s paid sick leave laws with respect to the aggrieved employees. Defendant failed to provide Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees with all sick leave accrued. Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees worked off-the-clock, overtime hours that were not accounted for when calculating an employee’s accrued paid sick leave. Therefore, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees were not awarded the total accrued sick leave time they had earned.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Unpaid Meal Period Premium Wages Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 512, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendant violated Labor Code sections 226.7, 512, and 1198, along with the related sections of the IWC Wage Orders with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 512 and the IWC Wage Orders require that employers provide an uninterrupted 30-minute meal period after no more than five hours of work and a second meal period after no more than 10 hours of work. See Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal. 4th 1004, 1049. Labor Code section 226.7 requires that if a meal period is late, missed, short, or interrupted, the employer must pay one additional hour of pay at the employee’s “regular rate” of compensation. Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 858, 862 (“We hold that the terms are synonymous: “regular rate of compensation” under section 226.7(c), like “regular rate of pay” under section 510(a), encompasses all nondiscretionary payments, not just hourly wages”). “[T]ime records showing noncompliant meal periods raise a rebuttable presumption of meal period violations, including at the summary judgment stage.” Donohue v. AMN Services, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 58, 61. Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders, including Section 11 (Meal Periods), further require one uninterrupted 30-minute meal period after no more than five hours of work and a second meal period after no more than 10 hours of work and an additional hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate of compensation for each workday that a compliant meal period is not provided. Pursuant to Section 11(A) of the IWC Wage Orders, the California Supreme Court has held that the on-duty meal period exception is “exceedingly narrow” and applies only when (1) “the nature of the work prevents the employee from being relieved of all duty” and (2) both “the employer and employee have agreed, in writing, to the on-duty meal period.” Augustus v. AMB Security Services, Inc. (2016) 2 Cal. 5th 257, 266-276 (emphasis added). If these two requirements are not met, then the employer owes the employee one hour of premium pay for each non-compliant meal period taken under the purported on-duty meal arrangement. Naranjo v. Spectrum Security Services, Inc. (2019) 40 Cal. 5th 444, 459.

Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees routinely experienced missed, late, short, and interrupted meal periods due to pressure from Defendant to get their projects completed as soon as possible. Upon information and belief, when Defendant did not provide compliant meal periods, Defendant failed to pay Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees a meal period premium in violation of Labor Code section 226.7.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Unpaid Rest Period Premium Wages Violation of Labor Code §§ 226.7, 516, 1198; IWC Wage Orders

Defendant violated Labor Code sections 226.7, 516, and 1198, and the related sections of the IWC Wage Orders with respect to Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code sections 226.7 and 516 and the IWC Wage Orders require that employers authorize and permit an uninterrupted 10-minute rest period for each four-hour period (or major fraction thereof) that an employee works. Labor Code section 226.7 requires that if a rest period is non-compliant, the employer must pay one additional hour of pay at the employee’s “regular rate” of compensation. Ferra v. Loews Hollywood Hotel, LLC (2021) 11 Cal. 5th 858, 862 (“We hold that the terms are synonymous: “regular rate of compensation” under section 226.7(c), like “regular rate of pay” under section 510(a), encompasses all nondiscretionary payments, not just hourly wages”). Labor Code section 1198 renders “employment of any employee for longer hours than those fixed by the order or under conditions of labor prohibited by the [IWC Wage Orders]” unlawful. The IWC Wage Orders, including Section 12 (Rest Periods), further require one uninterrupted 10-minute rest period for each four-hour period (or major fraction thereof) worked and an additional hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of compensation for each workday that a compliant rest period is not authorized or permitted.

Defendant had an unlawful policy and practice of encouraging Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees to work through their rest periods without being paid rest period premiums. Plaintiff alleges that his manager had the discretion to provide rest breaks, however he never allowed Plaintiff the ability to take them. When Defendant did not provide compliant rest periods, Defendant failed to pay Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees a rest period premium in violation of Labor Code section 226.7.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Untimely Payment of Wages During Employment Violation of Labor Code §§ 204, 204b, 210

Defendant violated Labor Code sections 204 and/or 204b and 210, as applicable, with respect to Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 204(a) requires payment of "all wages" for non-exempt employees at least twice each calendar month. Labor Code section 204(d) states all wages due must be paid "not more than seven calendar days following the close of the payroll period." Labor Code section 204b applies to employees paid on a weekly basis and also requires the payment for all labor within the required pay periods. Labor Code section 210 provides "every person who fails to pay the wages of an employee as provided in Section ... 204 ... shall be subject to a civil penalty" of $100 for an initial violation and $200 plus 25% of the amount unlawfully withheld for a subsequent violation.

Because Defendant failed to pay all wages and premiums in each pay period in which such wages were earned at the lawful rate, Defendant violated Labor Code section 204 and/or 204b (for weekly employees, as applicable). Defendant violated Labor Code sections 204 and 204b by failing to pay all wages and premiums owed on the regular paydays scheduled each pay period within seven calendar days of the close of the payroll period, as a result of the policies and practices set forth in this notice. Indeed, Defendant failed to pay all premiums, overtime, regular, sick leave, and other earnings on time each payday.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Untimely Payment of Wages Upon Separation of Employment
Violation of Labor Code §§ 201, 202, 203, 256

Defendant violated Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203 with respect to the aggrieved employees by failing to pay all wages and premiums owed upon termination of employment.

Labor Code section 201 requires that if an employer fires an employee, the wages must be paid immediately. Labor Code section 202 requires that if an employee quits without providing 72 hours' notice, his or her wages must be paid no later than 72 hours thereafter. Labor Code section 202 states that if an employee provides 72 hours' notice, the final wages are payable upon his or her final day of employment. Labor Code section 203 requires an employer who fails to comply with Labor Code sections 201 or 202 to pay a waiting time penalty for each employee, up to a period of 30 days additional compensation.

Defendant failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to aggrieved employees during their employment as set forth in this notice, and also failed to timely pay those amounts to departing employees upon separation of employment. Defendant did not pay waiting time penalties for the late payments. As a result, Defendant violated Labor Code sections 201, 202, and 203.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Non-Compliant Wage Statements
Violation of Labor Code §§ 226, 226.3

Defendant violated Labor Code sections 226(a) and 226.3 with respect to the aggrieved employees by failing to furnish itemized wage statements each pay period that accurately list all information required by Labor Code section 226(a)(1) through (9).

Labor Code section 226(a) requires an employer to furnish wage statements to employees semimonthly or at the time of each payment of wages, "an accurate itemized statement in writing showing:" (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked, (3) the number of piece rate units earned and applicable piece-rate in effect, (4) all deductions, (5) net wages earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the pay period, (7) the name of the employee and last four digits of SSN or an EIN, (8) the name and address of the legal name of the employer, and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee.

Defendant failed to provide accurate itemized wage statements to the aggrieved employees each pay period as a result of the policies and practices set forth in this notice. Defendant violated Labor Code section 226(a)(1) and (5) by not listing the correct "gross wages earned" or "net wages earned," as the employees earned wages and premiums that were not paid, resulting in an inaccurate reflection, and recording of "gross wages earned" on those wage statements. Likewise, in violation of Labor Code section 226(a)(9), Defendant failed to state on employee wage statements each pay period the applicable hourly rates in effect and the number of hours worked at that rate, as Defendant failed to pay all wages and premiums owed to employees. The amounts stated are instead depreciated and underpaid, resulting in an inaccurate reflection on the pay stub.

Defendant violated Labor Code section 226(a)(2) by failing to accurately list employees' "total hours worked," as the wage statements did not accurately include the uncompensated time Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees worked due to Defendant's policy and practice of requiring employees to work off-the-clock.

Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees cannot promptly and easily determine from the wage statement alone the wages paid or earned without reference to other documents or information. Indeed, these wage statement violations are significant because they sow confusion among Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees with respect to what amounts were owed and paid, at what rates, the number of hours worked, and how those amounts were or should be calculated. The wage statements reflect a false statement of earnings and concealed the underlying problems and underpayments of employee wages.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Unreimbursed Employee Expenses Violation of Labor Code §§ 2802, 2804

Defendant violated Labor Code section 2802 with respect to the aggrieved employees by failing to reimburse the aggrieved employees for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred as part of their job duties.

Labor Code section 2802 requires an employer to "indemnify his or her employee for all necessary expenditures or losses incurred by the employee in direct consequence of the discharge of his or her duties, or of his or her obedience to the directions of the employer, even though unlawful, unless the employee, at the time of obeying the directions, believed them to be unlawful." See, e.g., Espinoza v. West Coast Tomato Growers, LLC, 2016 WL 4468175 at *4, n.2 (S.D. Cal. Aug. 24, 2016, No. 14-CV-2984 W (KSC)).

Labor Code section 2804 affirms that "[a]ny contract or agreement, express or implied, made by any employee to waive the benefits of this article or any part thereof, is null and void, and this article shall not deprive any employee or his personal representative of any right or remedy to which he is entitled under the laws of this State."

Defendant required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to incur costs for work-related purposes without full reimbursement. In direct consequence of their job duties, Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees unavoidably and necessarily incurred these losses, expenditures, and costs as a matter of policy and practice. Defendant required Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees to use their personal cellphones to receive phone calls and messages from Defendant's agents about work-related matters. Further, Plaintiff was required to complete tasks that required tools that were not provided by Defendant. However, Defendant did not reimburse Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees for expenses incurred from cellphone usage required for the job or from obtaining tools that were required for the job.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Failure to Provide Employee Records
Violation of Labor Code §§ 226, 432, 1174, 1198.5; IWC Wage Orders

Defendant violated Labor Code sections 226, 432, 1198.5, and 1174 with respect to the aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 226(b) requires employers to “afford current and former employees the right to inspect or receive a copy of records pertaining to their employment, upon reasonable request to the employer.” Labor Code section 432 states that “[i]f an employee ... signs any instrument relating to the obtaining or holding of employment, he shall be given a copy of the instrument upon request.” Labor Code section 1198.5 grants “[e]very current and former employee, or his or her representative, ... the right to inspect and receive a copy of the personnel files that the employer maintains relating to the employee’s performance or to any grievance concerning the employee.” Section 7(A) (Records) of the IWC Wage Orders, which may be enforced through Labor Code section 1198, mandates that employers maintain and make available “time records showing when the employee begins and ends each work period” as well as time records showing “[m]eal periods, split shift intervals, and daily hours worked[.]” Labor Code section 1174(d) requires these and other records be maintained for at least three years.

Defendant does not have a complete and accurate record of Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees’ records on file. Specifically, Plaintiff requested copies of his timecards for his time spent working for Defendant. However, to date, Defendant has not provided Plaintiff with those time cards. Consequently, Defendant has failed to afford Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees the opportunity to inspect the records pertaining to their employment.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, as provided under Labor Code sections 226.3 ($250/$1,000), 1174.5 ($500), and 2699 ($100/$200) per violation per pay period per employee, along with all other civil penalties permitted by law.

Failure to Maintain Accurate Records
Violation of Labor Code § 1174; IWC Wage Orders

Defendant violated Labor Code sections 1174 and the IWC Wage Orders by failing to maintain accurate employee payroll records with respect to Plaintiff and other aggrieved employees.

Labor Code section 1174 requires that employers maintain accurate “payroll records showing the hours worked daily by and the wages paid to, and the number of piece-rate units earned by and any applicable piece rate paid to, employees employed at the respective plants or establishments.” Section 7(A) of the IWC Wage Orders, which may be enforced through Labor Code section 1198, mandates similar recordkeeping obligations.

Because of the policies and practices set forth in this notice, including the failure to accurately account for wages earned or hours worked, Defendant failed to accurately maintain records in accordance with Labor Code section 1174 and the IWC Wage Orders.

As a result, Plaintiff may recover civil penalties as an individual and on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees, up to the maximum amount allowed as set forth under the Labor Code.

Attorneys’ Fees and Costs
Labor Code § 2699(g)

Plaintiff has been compelled to retain the services of counsel to protect the interests of other aggrieved employees and the State of California. Plaintiff continues to incur attorneys’ fees and costs, which are recoverable under California law, including Labor Code section 2699(g).

- LITIGATION HOLD NOTICE -

This letter imposes a duty upon all defendants and their respective employees, officers, directors, executives, attorneys, human resource and payroll personnel, accountants, and other agents to preserve all physical and electronic evidence, including electronically stored information and emails, which relate to the employment of Plaintiff and the aggrieved employees specified in this notice. Evidence includes, but is not limited to, Defendants’ written employment and payroll policies and handbooks; the aggrieved employees’ personnel files and payroll records, such as paystubs, time records, wage statements, compensation reports, as well as the underlying electronically data in Excel or similar format. Memoranda and internal and external correspondence relating to the subject matter of this notice shall also be maintained. Failure to preserve and retain relevant evidence may constitute spoliation of evidence and result in an adverse inference or sanctions.

If you have any questions regarding the scope of your obligations to preserve evidence, please consult your legal counsel and always err on the side of caution. Periodic or regularly scheduled purges or deletions of information covered by this hold must be suspended immediately.

- CONCLUSION -

If the LWDA does not pursue enforcement, Plaintiff intends to bring representative claims on behalf of the State of California and the aggrieved employees seeking civil penalties for violations of the Labor Code and the IWC Wage Orders, along with attorneys' fees, costs, interest, and other appropriate relief.

Please advise if the LWDA intends to investigate any of the factual or legal allegations set forth in this notice. Defendant may contact Plaintiff's counsel with any questions regarding this letter or the forthcoming lawsuit.
