18 court approval of the settlement of a purported class action and allows the Court to preliminarily certify a 19 class for settlement purposes. The basis for this Motion is that the proposed settlement is fair, adequate, 20 and reasonable, and the procedures proposed by the Parties are adequate to ensure the opportunity of class members to participate in, opt-out of, or object to the settlement.

21 This motion will be based on the attached memorandum of points and authorities, the Settlement 22 Agreement and the proposed Notice of Class Action Settlement, the supporting Declarations of Nick 23 Rosenthal, and Plaintiff Jesus Romero, on the complete records and file herein, and such argument as the 24 Court may permit.

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Plaintiff Jesus Romero (“Plaintiff”) brings class and representative claims against Defendant JMS 3 Interiors, Inc. (“Defendant”) under the California Labor Code (Plaintiff and Defendant shall be jointly 4 referred to as the “Parties”). Plaintiff alleges that Defendant had a policy and practice of issuing defective 5 wage statements in violation of Labor Code §§ 226 and 2698, et seq., the Private Attorneys General Act
6 (“PAGA”). Plaintiff now moves for preliminary approval of the proposed class and representative 7 settlement after thorough investigation of the claims alleged, mediation and extended negotiations.

8 Prior to the settlement of this action, the Parties thoroughly investigated the facts relating to the 9 claims alleged in the operative Complaint and engaged in a thorough study of the legal principles applicable
10 to the claims asserted against Defendant. Defendant provided data related to the number of putative class 11 members and wage statements issued to each class member. Thereafter, the Parties commenced settlement 12 negotiations through a private mediator and were ultimately able to reach the current settlement after 13 continued negotiations conducted post-mediation. Significantly, this entire amount is non-reversionary, 14 such that no monies will revert to Defendant.

15 The Parties believe that this amount is fair, adequate, and reasonable, especially given the risks and 16 uncertainty of class certification and the merits of this case.

17 Although Plaintiff and his counsel believe that they can prevail on class certification, as well as on 18 the merits, Plaintiff and his counsel recognize the inherent risks in drawn-out litigation and the specific 19 risks that a class might not be certified and/or that Plaintiff could fail to establish liability. Defendant denies 20 the allegations in the operative Complaint and believes that it can prevail at trial. Based on their own 21 independent investigation and evaluation, the Parties and their respective counsel are of the opinion that 22 the settlement for the consideration and on the terms set forth in the Settlement Agreement is fair, 23 reasonable, and adequate and is in the best interests of the Class and Defendant in light of all known 24 circumstances and the expenses and risks inherent in litigation.

25 Therefore, the Parties respectfully request that the Court grant this Motion for Preliminary Approval 26 of Class Action Settlement.

27 II. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

28 Defendant JMS Interiors, Inc., is a construction company in San Diego County. Plaintiff Jesus 29 Romero was employed by Defendant as a non-exempt, hourly employee from approximately August 2023
30 to May 2024. (Declaration of Jesus Romero (“Romero Decl.”), ¶ 2.)

1 Plaintiff commenced this Action by filing a Complaint on September 17, 2024, alleging violations
2 of Labor Code Sections 201-203, 226(a), 510, 1194, 1197 and Business & Professions Code Section 17200, 3 et seq. against Defendant. (Class Action and PAGA Settlement Agreement (“SA”), ¶ 2.1.) On October 21, 4 2024, Plaintiff filed a First Amended Complaint adding a second cause of action against Defendant for 5 violation of Labor Code § 2698, et seq., the Private Attorneys General Act (“PAGA”) predicated only the 6 underlying alleged Labor Code violations. SA¶ 2.1. The FAC is the operative complaint in the Action (the 7 “Operative Complaint.”)

8 Shortly after Plaintiff filed the operative complaint, the Parties agreed to attempt to resolve the 9 matter. (Rosenthal Decl., ¶ 4). Defendant provided the necessary data for Plaintiff to evaluate the value of 10 the case, after which a settlement was negotiated. In resolution of Plaintiff’s class and PAGA claims, the 11 Parties entered into the Class Action and PAGA Settlement Agreement (“SA”), a true and correct copy of 12 which is attached as Exhibit A to the Declaration of Nicholas Rosenthal. Id., Ex. A.

13 III. DISCUSSION

14 Any settlement of a class action lawsuit must be reviewed and approved by the Court. This is 15 done in two steps: (1) an early (preliminary) review by the trial court, and (2) a final review after notice 16 has been distributed to the class members for their comment or objections. The Manual for Complex 17 Litigation, Third § 30.41 states:

18 Approval of class action settlements involves a two-step process. First, counsel submits the 19 proposed terms of settlement and the court makes a preliminary fairness evaluation. If the 20 preliminary evaluation of the proposed settlement does not disclose grounds to doubt its 21 fairness or other obvious deficiencies, such as unduly preferential treatment of class 22 representatives or of segments of the class, or excessive compensation for attorneys, and 23 appears to fall within the range of possible approval, the court should direct that notice...be given to the class members of a formal fairness hearing, at which arguments and evidence may be presented in support of and in opposition to the settlement.

24 (Fed. Jud. Ctr., 3rd ed. 1995).

25 Thus, the preliminary approval by the trial court is simply a conditional finding that the settlement 26 appears to be within the range of acceptable settlements. As Professor Newberg comments, “[t]he strength 27 of the findings made by a judge at a preliminary hearing or conference concerning a tentative settlement 28 proposal may vary. The court may find that the settlement proposal contains some merit, is within the range 29 of reasonableness required for a settlement offer, or is presumptively valid subject only to any objections 30

1 that may be raised at a final hearing.” 4 Alba Conte & Herbert B. Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions § 2 11.26 (4th ed. 2002).

3 The procedures for the parties’ submission of a proposed settlement for preliminary approval by 4 the court also are discussed in 4 Newberg on Class Actions:

5 When the parties to an action reach a monetary settlement, they will usually prepare and 6 execute a joint stipulation of settlement, which is submitted to the court for preliminary 7 approval. The stipulation should set forth the central terms of the agreement, including but 8 not limited to, the amount of settlement, form of payment, manner of determining the effective date of settlement and any recapture clause.

9 Id. § 11.24.

10 Here, the Parties have reached such an agreement and have submitted to this Court in connection 11 with this Motion a copy of the Settlement Agreement fully setting forth the agreement reached among the 12 Parties. The Settlement Agreement sets forth all terms of the agreement reached by the Parties, which 13 include, among other things, the method for calculating the Class Members’ Individual Settlement 14 Payments.

15 The parties also may, at the preliminary approval stage, request that the court provisionally approve 16 certification of the class—conditional upon final approval of the settlement. “[P]re-certification settlements 17 are routinely approved if found to be fair and reasonable.” Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc., 91 Cal. App.
18 4th 224, 240 (2001); accord Dunk v. Ford Motor Co., 48 Cal. App. 4th 1794, 1803 (1996) (although the 19 settlement was reached before any “adversary certification,” the court was satisfied that it was “fair, 20 adequate and reasonable”). As further explained by Professor Newberg:

21 The strength of the findings made by a judge at a preliminary hearing or conference 22 concerning a tentative settlement proposal...may be set out in conditional orders granting 23 tentative approval to the various items submitted to the court. Three basic rulings are often 24 conditionally entered at this preliminary hearing. These conditional rulings may approve a temporary settlement class, the proposed settlement, and the class counsel’s application for fees and expenses.

25 4 Newberg on Class Actions § 11.26.

26 In addition to such terms as class identification, settlement amount and payment procedures, the 27 Settlement Agreement reached among the Parties contains a provision pursuant to which the Parties 28 stipulate to the Court’s provisional certification of the Class for the purposes of this settlement only.
29 Settlement Agreement ¶ 12.1.

30 ///

1 A. Class Definition

2 The proposed class definition is: “all persons who worked for Defendant as non-exempt employees 3 in the State of California at any time from August 19, 2023 through June 24, 2025”. SA, ¶ 1.5.

4 B. Settlement Terms and Evaluation

5 Courts presume the absence of fraud or collusion in the negotiation of settlement unless evidence 6 to the contrary is offered. Priddy v. Edelman, 883 F.2d 438, 447 (6th Cir. 1989); Mars Steel Corp. v.
7 Continental Illinois Nat’l Bank & Trust Co., 834 F.2d 677, 682 (7th Cir. 1987); In re Chicken Antitrust
8 Litig., 560 F. Supp. 957, 962 (N.D. Ga. 1980). Courts do not substitute their judgment for that of the 9 proponents, particularly where, as here, settlement has been reached with the participation of experienced 10 counsel familiar with the litigation. Nat’l Rural Telecomms. Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D. 523, 528
11 (C.D. Cal. 2004); Hammon v. Barry, 752 F. Supp. 1087 (D.D.C. 1990); Steinberg v. Carey, 470 F. Supp.
12 471 (S.D.N.Y. 1979); In re Armored Car Antitrust Litig., 472 F. Supp. 1357 (N.D. Ga. 1979); Sommers v.
13 Abraham Lincoln Federal Sav. & Loan Ass’n, 79 F.R.D. 571 (E.D. Pa. 1978).

14 While the recommendations of counsel proposing the settlement are not conclusive, the Court can 15 properly take them into account, particularly where, as here, they have been involved in informal discovery 16 and negotiations for some period of time, appear to be competent, have experience with this type of 17 litigation, and have exchanged substantial evidence from the opposing party. See Newberg on Class 18 Actions, supra, § 11.47; Nat’l Rural Telecomms. Coop., 221 F.R.D. at 528 (“[s]o long as the integrity of 19 the arm’s length negotiation process is preserved, however, a strong initial presumption of fairness attaches 20 to the proposed settlement...[citations] and ‘great weight’ is accorded to the recommendations of counsel, 21 who are most closely acquainted with the facts of the underlying litigation”).

22 Here, Plaintiff’s counsel has a great deal of experience in wage and hour class action litigation.
23 Plaintiff’s counsel has been approved as class counsel in a number of wage and hour class actions and has 24 extensive litigation experience. Rosenthal Decl. ¶¶ 17-18.

25 This settlement resolves only the alleged Labor Code Section 226 (a) claim and the PAGA claim 26 based on violation of this Section. The remaining claims alleged in the operative complaint are no longer 27 being pursued by Plaintiff, but without prejudice to any class member. Any class member who wishes to 28 pursue them either individually or on a class basis may do so. Regarding the specifics of the alleged Labor 29 Code Section 226(a) violation, it is very simple: Plaintiff contends that the wage statements issued by 30 Defendant to its non-exempt employees failed to pay period start date, as required by Labor Code Section

226(a)(6). (Rosenthal Decl. ¶ 4.) Labor Code Section 226(a)(6) requires that wage statements list the "inclusive dates of the period for which the employee is being paid." In the instant case, the wage statements issued to the Class provided only the end date of the applicable pay period. Defendant denies the allegations in the Operative Complaint, denies any failure to comply with the laws identified in in the Operative Complaint, and denies any all liability for the causes of action alleged. (SA ¶ 2.1.)

Defendant has represented there are 225 putative class members who have received a total of 4,719 wage statements during the class period. Per Labor Code Section 226(e), the penalty for each first wage statement violation is $50 per employee per pay period and then $100 per employee per pay period, meaning the total statutory penalties amount to $460,650 (225 x $50 + 4,494 x $100). Theoretically, discretionary PAGA penalties of an additional $58,987 are also possible. PAGA allows for a discretionary $25 per pay period penalty for violations based on Labor Code § 226. However, under PAGA, a "pay period" is every two weeks, even if wage statements are issued weekly. Thus, $4719/2 \times $25$ equals $58,987. If fully awarded, this would mean a total class aggregate 100% award of his would mean a combined potential award of $519,637. (Rosenthal Decl. ¶ 5).

Risks in the case include that Plaintiff would need to prevail on class certification, and after prevailing on class certification would need to prevail on the merits. Defendant disputes that the wage statements issued to the putative class were in violation of the law. Specifically, Defendant argues that while the wage statements did not specify the pay period start date, they did state "Week Ending" prior to the pay period end date. Thus, Defendant argues that an employee would know that the pay period start date was just seven days prior to the listed pay period end date. (Rosenthal Decl. ¶ 6).

Other risks for Plaintiff include the risk of losing on appeal, and the possibility of law changing, and the time value of money, among other things. Litigating Plaintiff's claims through trial could last two more years if the proposed settlement is not approved, as a motion for class certification has not yet been filed. Further, there would be substantial additional costs to prepare for trial, including expert witness payment. Id.

Further, even if there were a finding of liability, the amount of PAGA penalties is at the discretion of the Court. See e.g., Fleming v. Covidien, Inc. (C.D. Cal. Aug. 12, 2011) 2011 WL 7563047, at *4 (reducing PAGA penalties by 82%). In this particular instance, it is possible the Court could find that this would find the instant violation to be "technical" in nature and significantly reduce the amount of PAGA penalties. Id.

1 In sum, the proposed $99,099 settlement is an excellent result. It represents nearly 20% of the total 2 possible award in this case were Plaintiff to prevail on every procedural turn, and obtain 100% for the 3 alleged Labor Code violation, and also 100% of the PAGA penalties. This is a strong recovery for the class.
4 (See, e.g., In re Mego Fin. Corp. Secs. Litig., 213 F.3d 454, 459 (9th Cir.2000) (holding that class action 5 settlement recovering 16% of potential exposure was fair and reasonable; “[i]t is well-settled law that a 6 cash settlement amounting to only a fraction of the potential recovery does not per se render the settlement 7 inadequate or unfair. Rather, the fairness and the adequacy of the settlement should be assessed relative to 8 risks of pursuing the litigation to judgment”; noting that whether the settlement is fair and adequate depends 9 on the “the difficulties in proving the case”); Bellinghausen v. Tractor Supply Co., No. 13-CV-02377-JSC, 10 2015 WL 1289342, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 20, 2015) (holding that class action settlement recovering 11 between 8.5% and 25% of the defendant’s potential exposure was fair); Van Ba Ma v. Covidien Holding 12 Inc., U.S. Dist. Ct. Case No. 8:12-cv-02161 (C.D. Cal. 2014) (court granted preliminary approval of wage 13 and hour class settlement which obtained only 9.1% of projected damages, given the risks of continued 14 litigation); Villegas v. J.P. Morgan Chase & Co., No. CV 09-00261 SBA EMC, 2012 WL 5878390, at *6 15 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 21, 2012) (holding that gross class action settlement of approximately 15% of the potential 16 recovery was fair and reasonable).

17 Despite the asserted fairness of the settlement terms, as set forth in the Notice of Class Action 18 Settlement (“Class Notice”), should any Class Member wish to pursue his or her own case for the claims 19 being released herein, each Class Member has the right to submit a request for exclusion (i.e., opt-out) from 20 the settlement. SA, ¶ 7.5. Moreover, as set forth in the Class Notice, Class Members are advised of their 21 right to attend the final approval hearing and object to any of the terms contained in the Settlement 22 Agreement. SA, ¶ 7.7.

23 1. Amount and Manner of Distribution of the Compensation to be Provided to 24 Class Members Including the Amount, or an Estimate, of What Each Class
25 Member Will Receive

26 The Settlement Agreement provides for One Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($99,099.00) 27 as the Gross Settlement Amount. SA, ¶ 1.23. Defendant will fund the Gross Settlement Amount within 28 twenty-one (21) days of the Effective Date of the Settlement Agreement. Id. ¶ 4.3.

29 The Net Settlement Amount, calculated after deduction of attorneys’ fees (up to $33,033.00), costs 30 (up to $10,000.00), Class Representative Service Award (up to $10,000.00), payment of PAGA penalties to the LWDA ($6,5000.00), and Settlement Administration Costs (up to $8,000.00), is estimated to be approximately $31,566.00. The Settlement Administrator will allocate the Individual Settlement Payments by distributing the Net Settlement Amount to the Class on a pro-rata basis from two funds. The Net Settlement Amount will be split into a Class Amount and a PAGA Amount. The PAGA Amount will be 35% of the total amount allocated for the satisfaction of claims for civil penalties under the PAGA, which is currently estimated to total Three Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($3,500.00). The Class Amount will be the remaining Net Settlement Amount after deduction of the PAGA Amount, currently estimated to be $28,066.00. SA ¶¶ 3.24-3.25. Thus the total amount allocated to the Class and Aggrieved Employees is currently estimated at $31,566.00. However, Plaintiff's counsel anticipates this number will increase, as their costs in this matter are currently significantly below $10,000.

Each Participating Class Member who does not opt-out of the Settlement will be awarded a portion of the Net Settlement Amount on a pro-rata basis, based upon the number of pay periods each respective Participating Class Member worked during the Covered Period. Id. ¶ 3.24. Each Non-Participating Class Member will receive only a pro rata portion of the PAGA Amount, based upon the number of pay periods worked during the Covered Period. Id. ¶ 3.25.

Based thereon, on a raw average, each Participating Class Member may potentially recover approximately $123.78. Rosenthal Decl. ¶ 13. The amount actually paid to each Participating Class Member may increase or decrease depending on the actual number of pay periods he or she worked during the Covered Period and/or the number of timely Requests for Exclusion received. Id. In this instance, the average class member only worked approximately 18 pay periods (i.e., 4.5 months) for Defendant during the class period. If a class member worked for Defendant for the entire class period, they will receive in excess of $350.

Finally, the terms of the settlement provide that uncashed checks (upon the expiration date) shall be distributed to the State Controller and held in the name of the individual employee. Settlement Agreement ¶ 4.4.3.

2. Whether, and Under What Circumstances, Amounts Available for Payment in Settlement Might Not Be Paid to Class Members or Might Revert to the Defendants

None of the settlement funds will revert to Defendant. SA, ¶ 3.1.

1 3. Scope of the Release of Class Members’ Claims

2 As a condition of participating in this settlement, members of the Class shall waive and release 3 “all claims for violation of Labor Code 226.” SA, ¶ 5.2.

4 Settlement Aggrieved Employees, or Class Members who submit a valid Request for Exclusion, 5 shall waive and release “all claims for PAGA penalties that were alleged based on violation of Labor 6 Code Section 226.” SA, ¶ 5.3.

7 4. Tax Treatment of Settlement Amounts

8 As Plaintiff’s lawsuit only sought penalties, the Parties have agreed that the Individual Settlement 9 Payments to Participating Class Members and Settlement Aggrieved Employees shall be classified 100% 10 as civil and statutory penalties, for which an IRS Form 1099 will be distributed. SA, ¶ 3.2.4.1.

11 5. Affirmative Obligations to be Undertaken by Class Members or Class
12 Counsel and the Reasons for Any Such Obligations

13 As stated above, Class Members do not need to do anything should they wish to receive their share 14 of the settlement funds. Thus, this substantially decreases the amount of burden each Class Member must 15 bear in order to receive their settlement share. If a Class Member does not wish to take part in this settlement 16 and be bound by the release, the Class Member must submit a Request for Exclusion. SA ¶ 7.5.1.

17 (A). Notice to Class Members

18 Within fifteen (15) of the preliminary approval of this settlement, Defendant will confidentially 19 transmit to the Settlement Administrator a spreadsheet containing each Class Member’s full name, last 20 known home address, telephone, Social Security Number, number of Qualifying Pay Periods worked 21 during the Covered Period, and any other data necessary for the Settlement Administrator to identify and/or 22 contact the Class Members and Settlement Aggrieved Employees (“Class List”). SA ¶ 4.2. Upon receipt of 23 the information and prior to mailing the Notice of Class Action Settlement (“Class Notice”), the Settlement 24 Administrator shall perform a search based on the National Change of Address Database for information 25 to update and correct for any known or identifiable address changes. Id. ¶ 7.4.2. The Class Notice will be 26 distributed in English and Spanish. (Rosenthal Decl., ¶ 20.) Within ten (10) business days of receipt of the 27 Class List, the Settlement Administrator shall mail the Class Notice to all Class Members. Id. ¶ 7.4.3. The 28 Settlement Administrator will re-mail the Class Notice to Class Members for whom the notice is returned 29 with a forwarding address and perform a skip-trace or other search on Class Members and re-mailing for 30 whom a Class Notice is returned as undeliverable. Id. ¶ 7.4.3.

As set forth in the Class Notice, Class Members will be allowed to opt out of the settlement by a certain deadline, or object to the settlement in writing or by appearing at the final approval hearing. SA, ¶ 7.5, 7.7.

(B). Typicality and Adequacy of Representation

1. Class Representative's Claims are Typical of the Class

The commonality requirement is met when there are questions of law and fact common to the class. See Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1019 (1998) ("The existence of shared legal issues with divergent legal factual predicates is sufficient, as is a common core of salient facts couple with disparate legal remedies within the class"). Commonality requires only that some common legal or factual questions exist; the plaintiffs need not show that all issues in the litigation are identical. See Richmond v. Dart Industries, Inc., 29 Cal. 3d 462, 473 (1981). Defendant's conduct is central to the commonality inquiry. See City of San Jose v. Superior Court, 12 Cal. 3d 447, 460 (1974); Vasquez v. Superior Court, 4 Cal. 3d 800, 812-13 (1971). Where the employer's conduct is uniformly directed at a class of employees, as it is here, the class wide impact of the Defendant's policies satisfies the commonality requirement. See Stephens v. Montgomery Ward & Co., 193 Cal. App. 3d 411, 421 (1987).

Plaintiff alleges that Defendant, as a matter of its corporate policy, practice, or procedure violated the Labor Code by issuing defective wage statements. Romero Decl., ¶ 3. In other words, Plaintiff was subjected to the same policy and practice as other Class Members. Thus, Plaintiff's claims are typical to those of Class Members.

Moreover, Plaintiff does not have any interests adverse to the Class, nor have any such issues been raised or presented. Romero Decl. ¶ 4. Plaintiff has taken all necessary steps to represent the interests of the Class, and by providing information and documents to Plaintiff's counsel. Id. ¶ 5. For such reasons, Plaintiff has adequately represented the Class Members and will continue to do so. Defendant denies that the claims are typical, but agrees to certification of the class for settlement purposes only.

2. Class Counsel Has Adequately Represented the Class and Has Experience with Wage and Hour Class Actions

From the inception of the case, Class Counsel has zealously represented the interests of the class. The settlement was obtained for the benefit of the Class, as opposed to the individual Class Representative. Further, Class Counsel has been approved as class counsel on a number of prior cases, have litigated numerous other class action cases, and are competent to represent the Class. Rosenthal Decl. ¶¶ 17-18.

1 C. Costs and Fees

2 1. Attorneys' Fees and Costs

3 California state and federal courts have recognized that an appropriate method for determining 4 award of attorneys' fees is based on a percentage of the total value of benefits to Class Members by the 5 settlement. Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc., 91 Cal. App. 4th 224, 254 (2001); Serrano v. Priest, 20 Cal.
6 3d 25, 34 (1977); Boeing Co. v. Van Gemert, 444 U.S. 472, 478 (1980); Vincent v. Hughes Air West, Inc., 7 557 F.2d 759, 769 (9th Cir. 1997). The purpose of this equitable doctrine is to avoid unjust enrichment of 8 counsel and to "spread litigation costs proportionally among all the beneficiaries so that the active 9 beneficiary does not bear the entire burden alone." Vincent, 557 F.2d at 769.

10 The common fund doctrine is predicated on the principle of preventing unjust enrichment. When a 11 litigant's efforts create or preserve a fund from which others derive benefits, he may require the passive 12 beneficiaries to compensate those who created the fund. Both California state and federal courts have 13 embraced this doctrine. Serrano III, 20 Cal. 3d at 35; Vincent, 557 F.2d at 769. Similarly, in City and 14 County of San Francisco v. Sweet, 12 Cal. 4th 105, 110 (1995), the California Supreme Court recognized 15 that the common fund doctrine has been applied "consistently in California when an action brought by one 16 party creates a fund in which other persons are entitled to share." The reasons for applying the common 17 fund doctrine include: "fairness to the successful litigant, who might otherwise receive no benefit because 18 his recovery might be consumed by the expenses; correlative prevention of an unfair advantage to the 19 others who are entitled to share in the fund and who should bear their share of the burden of its recovery; 20 encouragement of the attorney for the successful litigant who will be more willing to undertake and 21 diligently prosecute proper litigation for the protection or recovery of the fund if he is assured that he will 22 be properly and directly compensated should his efforts be successful." Id.

23 Indeed, most recently, the California Supreme Court has also now held that the award of attorneys' 24 fees in common fund wage and hour class action settlements should start with the percentage method. See 25 Laffitte v. Robert Half Int'l, 1 Cal. 5th 480, 503 (2016) ("We join the overwhelming majority of federal 26 and state courts in holding that when class action litigation establishes a monetary fund for the benefit of 27 the class members, and the trial court in its equitable powers awards class counsel a fee out of that fund, 28 the court may determine the amount of a reasonable fee by choosing an appropriate percentage of the fund 29 created").

30 The California Supreme Court in Laffitte affirmed a fee award representing 33 1/3 percent of the fund. Laffitte, 1 Cal. 5th at 506. And this was based on a lodestar amount that required a multiplier of 2.13. Id. at 487. As the Court held, only when the multiplier is “extraordinarily high or low [should] the trial court [] consider whether the percentage method should be adjusted so as to bring the imputed multiplier within a justifiable range.” Id. at 505.

The Parties have agreed to a payment of a maximum of one-third of the Gross Settlement Amount (or $33,033.00) for payment to Class Counsel as attorneys’ fees.¹ The Parties have agreed to a payment of the foregoing attorney’s fees and, thus, this payment should be presumed to be fair.

Further, the Parties have agreed to reimbursement of Class Counsel’s litigation costs in an amount up to $10,000.00. Class Counsel has expended costs at their own risk, for example, to file this instant action, effect service of process, and pay of other litigation-related costs. However, Class Counsel anticipates their total costs will be well under the $10,000 cap. (Rosenthal Decl., ¶ 11).

Based on the foregoing, the Court should preliminarily approve the attorneys’ fees and costs being requested by the Parties.

2. Proposed Payment to the Class Representative

Class Representative Jesus Romero requests a service award of $10,000.00. Settlement Agreement ¶ 3.2.1. The Class Representative met and conferred with Class Counsel on a number of occasions to discuss the case, provided documents and information to Class Counsel, and reviewed the Settlement Agreement. As part of his duties as Class Representative, Plaintiff provided invaluable information and documents that resulted in this settlement. Romero Decl. ¶ 5. In addition to the invaluable services that he provided, Plaintiff also took a significant risk, both professionally and monetarily, in acting as the Class Representative and seeking benefits on behalf of the Class. Because the claims alleged by the Class Representative involved the payment of costs to the prevailing party, Plaintiff could have possibly faced paying the costs of Defendant had he not prevailed in this action.

Furthermore, given that future employers are much less likely to hire individuals who have filed suit against their prior employer, particularly cases of this nature, Plaintiff may face prejudice in the future from other potential employers. Plaintiff took this risk upon himself and the whole Class benefited from these risks taken by Plaintiff. Class Members did not have to file individual lawsuits and bear the risks of ¹ Any fee award will be divided in the following manner: 33.33% to M Law Attorneys, APC; 40% to The Kick Law Firm, APC; and 26.67% to The Law Office of Nick Rosenthal, APC. Plaintiff has given written approval of this fee split. Rosenthal Decl., ¶ 11.

1 payment of costs if they did not prevail, nor did they have to face the potential for retaliation and not getting 2 future employment had they filed a public lawsuit.

3 3. Settlement Administration Costs

4 The Parties have agreed to a maximum payment of $8,000.00 to the Settlement Administrator, 5 Phoenix Settlement Administrators, to send notices and to administer this settlement. Settlement 6 Agreement ¶ 3.2.3. Phoenix Settlement Administrators is a well-recognized class action settlement 7 administrator. The Parties believe that the administration fee is reasonable and should be approved.

8 D. Notice to the LWDA

9 Concurrently with this filing, Plaintiff submitted the Motion and settlement agreement to the 10 LWDA. Rosenthal Decl. ¶ 19.

11 IV. CONCLUSION AND ACTION REQUESTED AS PART OF THE MOTION FOR 12 PRELIMINARY APPROVAL

13 Here, the proposed settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable. It will result in both substantial 14 monetary benefits to Class Members; it is non-collusive; and it was achieved as the result of informed, 15 extensive, and arm's length negotiations conducted by counsel for respective parties who are experienced 16 in wage and hour class action litigation. For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the 17 Court grant preliminary approval of the proposed settlement, sign the proposed Order, approve and 18 authorize mailing of the proposed Notice of Class Action Settlement, and set a date for a final approval 19 hearing.
