MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff Mario Regalado Contreras ("Plaintiff") submits this memorandum of points and authorities in support of the motion for final approval of the class action settlement (the "Settlement") with Defendant Inmar Supply Chain Solutions, LLC ("Defendant") on behalf of the Settlement Class defined as: "all persons currently or formerly employed by Defendant Inmar Supply Chain Solutions, LLC as non-exempt, hourly-paid employees who worked in California during the Class Period. For purposes of this Settlement Agreement, the "Class Period" is defined to mean the period from January 6, 2022, through July 14, 2025."

In this non-reversionary Settlement, the average settlement payment is approximately $273.79 to each participating Settlement Class Member. This is a favorable resolution of the highly disputed wage and hour claims in this case and considering the significant litigation risks that Plaintiff faced. Since this Court granted preliminary approval on August 19, 2026, nothing has changed to impact the propriety, fairness, adequacy and reasonableness of the Settlement. In addition, after receiving notice of the Settlement and of their projected Settlement payments, no Settlement Class member has opted out of the Settlement, not a single Class Member has submitted an objection to any portion of the Settlement, and there have been no disputes.

As explained below, the Court should grant Plaintiff's motion in its entirety because: (1) the Class continues to meet the requirements for class certification for settlement purposes under Code of Civil Procedure section 382; (2) the Settlement warrants final approval because it is a fair, adequate, and reasonable compromise of the disputed claims in this case; and (3) the amounts requested for Class Counsel's attorneys' fees and costs, Plaintiff's Class Representative Enhancement, payment to the Labor Workforce Development Agency ("LWDA") and Aggrieved Employees, and settlement administration costs are all fair, adequate, and reasonable. In light of the foregoing, Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court enter the [Proposed] Order of Final Approval of Class Action Settlement and Final Judgment submitted concurrently herewith.

II. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

On December 6, 2024, Plaintiff filed a putative class action complaint against Defendant in Orange County Superior Court ("Class Action"). Declaration of Milan Moore ("Moore Decl."), ¶ 7. On February 10, 2025, Plaintiff filed a First Amended Complaint. Id. On October 14, 2025, pursuant to the terms of the settlement, Plaintiff filed a stipulation to file a Second Amended Complaint, which is still pending at the time of this filing. Therefore, Plaintiff alleges that Defendant: (1) engaged in minimum wage violations; (2) failed to pay all overtime wages; (3) engaged in meal period violations; (4) engaged in rest period violations; (5) is subject to wage statement penalties; (6) is subject to waiting time penalties; (7) failed to reimburse for all necessary business expenditures; (8) engaged in unfair competition; and (9) is liable for civil penalties under the PAGA. Moore Decl., ¶ 10.

A. Plaintiff's Claims

As explained in detail in the Motion for Preliminary Approval, Plaintiff's primary theories of liability are related to Defendant's alleged unlawful wage and timekeeping policies and practices. Moore Decl., ¶¶ 11-25. Specifically, Plaintiff alleges that he and Settlement Class Members were not fully compensated for all of their time worked. Moore Decl., ¶ 12. Specifically, Plaintiff contends that Defendant did not compensate its non-exempt employees for the time spent preparing for work prior to clocking in and/or time spent working at the end of a shift after clocking out. Id. Accordingly, Plaintiff contends that Defendant did not compensate Plaintiff and other non-exempt employees for all minimum and overtime wages earned. Id.

Plaintiff alleges that he and the Settlement Class Members were not provided with all legally-compliant meal periods beginning before the end of the fifth hour of work, nor were they provided second meal periods when working shifts longer than 10.0 hours. Moore Decl., ¶ 14. Specifically, Plaintiff alleges Defendant's supervisors were responsible for scheduling meal periods and Plaintiff and Settlement Class members were not permitted to take their meal periods unless and until their supervisor affirmatively relieved them from their duties. Id. As a result of this human-controlled process for providing meal periods, and the work demands imposed by Defendant, Plaintiff contends that Settlement Class members were not provided with a meal period until after the fifth hour of work had concluded. Id.

Plaintiff alleges that he and Settlement Class Members were also not authorized and permitted to take all required rest periods due to Defendant's rest period policies and practices. Moore Decl., ¶ 16. Specifically, Plaintiff alleges that due to the nature of the business and supervisors being responsible for releasing employees for rest periods, Plaintiff and Settlement Class members were unable to take any required rest periods. Id.

Plaintiff alleges Defendant failed to reimburse non-exempt employees for all necessary business expenses incurred. Moore Decl., ¶ 18. Specifically, Defendant required Plaintiff and non-exempt employees to use their personal cell phones for work-related purposes but did not reimburse the non-exempt employees for such usage in violation of Labor Code § 2802. Id.

Plaintiff further alleges that Defendant issued inaccurate wage statements in violation of Labor Code § 226 as a result of the alleged unpaid meal and rest period premium wages described above. Moore Decl., ¶ 20. Specifically, Plaintiff contends that this conduct violated Labor Code § 226(a) because the wage statements issued to Settlement Class Members did not include all hours worked and the rate at which they were being paid. Id.

Plaintiff alleges that Defendant is also liable for waiting time penalties under Labor Code section 203 as a result of its failure to pay all wages owed upon termination/separation of employment. Moore Decl., ¶ 22.

Plaintiff also seeks civil penalties under the PAGA as a result of the foregoing alleged Labor Code violations. Moore Decl., ¶ 24. As explained infra and in Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Approval, Defendant denies Plaintiff's claims and assert several affirmative defenses, both on the merits and with respect to class certification.

B. Discovery, Mediation and Settlement

In advance of mediation, Defendant produced a sampling of timekeeping and payroll data for the putative class, as well as its wage and hour policies and other relevant documents and information relevant to the claims alleged. Moore Decl., ¶ 26. Inmar Supply also provided sufficient information for Plaintiff to calculate the necessary metrics, including without limitation, class size, number of workweeks, and pay periods. Id. After the detailed review of the documents and data produced by Defendant, Class Counsel drew on their extensive experience in similar cases to assess the strengths and weaknesses of Plaintiff's case. Id. This informal discovery allowed the parties to assess the merits and value of Plaintiff's claims and Inmar Supply's defenses thereto. Id.

In addition to the representative sampling, Inmar Supply produced key data points and all relevant written wage and hour policies in effect during the relevant time periods. Specifically, Plaintiff was provided with the following:

- Plaintiff's personnel files and timekeeping and payroll documents;
- The hire and termination dates for the putative class that enabled Plaintiff to calculate key data points, including total number of employees, workweeks, and pay periods during the relevant time period; and
- Exemplars of the wage statements provided during the relevant time period.

Id. This information coupled with the representative data sampling, enabled Plaintiff to extrapolate to the entire class and aided in Plaintiff's creation of a class-wide exposure model for all the claims at issue, including unpaid wages and penalties potentially owed for alleged minimum and overtime wages, meal and rest period violations, and unpaid wages. Id.

On July 14, 2025, a mediation was held with Michael D. Young, Esq. a well-respected wage and hour mediator. Moore Decl., ¶ 27. During mediation, the Parties vigorously debated their opposing legal positions, the likelihood of certification of Plaintiff's claims, and the legal basis for the claims and defenses. Id. Ultimately, the parties reached a settlement in principle Id. In the weeks that followed, the parties finalized the terms of settlement and executed the Stipulation of Class and PAGA Action Settlement ("Settlement"). Id.

C. Preliminary Approval of Settlement

Plaintiff submitted the Settlement to the Court and the LWDA with his Motion for Preliminary Approval on November 3, 2025. Moore Decl., ¶ 28. On May 29, 2026, the Court required the Parties to amend the settlement agreement and submit a supplemental brief. Id. The Parties executed an Amended Class Action and PAGA Settlement Agreement and submitted it to the Court and LWDA with supplemental briefing on June 30, 2026. Id.

On August 19, 2026, the Court issued an order Granting Preliminary Approval of the Settlement. Moore Decl., ¶ 29; Exh. A. Plaintiff submitted the Order Granting Preliminary Approval to the LWDA on August 19, 2026. Id.; Exh. B.

On September 16, 2026, the Court-approved notice packet (consisting of the Court Approved Notice of Class Action Settlement and Hearing Date for Final Court Approval, Allocation Form, Request for Exclusion Form, and Objection Form) was sent to Settlement Class Members in English, and the Settlement Class members had until November 7, 2026 to submit disputes, objections, and/or requests for exclusion. See Declaration of Jarrod Salinas of PSA ("Salinas Decl."), ¶¶ 5, 7-9. As of the Response Deadline, there have been zero (0) requests for exclusion, no objections, and no disputes received. Id., ¶¶ 7-9. Plaintiff now respectfully submits the Settlement for this Court's final approval.

III. SUMMARY OF THE SETTLEMENT AND NOTICE PROCESS

A. Settlement Class Definition

The Settlement Class encompasses "all persons currently or formerly employed by Defendant Inmar Supply Chain Solutions, LLC as non-exempt, hourly-paid employees who worked in California during the Class Period." For purposes of this Settlement Agreement, the "Class Period" is defined to mean the period from January 6, 2022, through July 14, 2025.

B. Escalator Clause

To protect the value and integrity of the Settlement, the Parties included an escalator clause in the Settlement, which states, "Defendant represents that there are approximately 12,842 workweeks worked by Settlement Class Members through February 9, 2025. If the actual number of workweeks worked by Settlement Class Members during the Class Period is more than 10% greater than this figure (i.e., if there are 14,127 or more workweeks worked by the Settlement Class Members), Defendant will increase the GSA by a proportional amount above the 10% figure (i.e., if there was a 13% increase in the number of workweeks during the Class Period, Defendant would agree to increase the GSA by 3%)." Settlement, ¶ 5.F.

After the data was provided to the Settlement Administrator, it was determined that the escalator clause was not triggered. See Salinas Decl., ¶ 11.

C. Monetary Terms of the Settlement

The Settlement provides for Defendant to pay a Gross Settlement Amount of $160,000.00. Settlement, ¶ 3.1. The Net Settlement Amount is the amount remaining from the Gross Settlement

Amount after deducting requested attorneys' fees ($53,333.33) and verified costs ($11,398.19), proposed Class Representative Enhancement to Plaintiff ($7,500), Settlement Administration costs ($8,500.00), PAGA Penalties to the Labor and Workforce Development Agency ("LWDA") ($6,500.00) and PAGA Penalties to Aggrieved Employees ($3,500.00). Salinas Decl., ¶ 12. Based on these requested amounts, the Net Settlement Amount is calculated to be approximately $69,268.48. Salinas Decl., ¶ 12.

From the Net Settlement Amount, the Settlement Administrator will calculate each Settlement Class member's Settlement Award based on the following formula: Each participating Settlement Class member shall receive a proportionate settlement share based on the following formula: Each participating Settlement Class Member shall receive a proportionate settlement share based upon the number of workweeks worked during the Class Period, the numerator of which is the Settlement Class Member's total workweeks worked during the Class Period, and the denominator of which is the total Workweeks worked by all Settlement Class Members who worked during the Class Period Settlement, ¶ 7.B.i.

In addition, $3,500.00, of the Gross Settlement Amount will be allocated to the Individual PAGA Payments. Settlement, ¶ 7.B.ii. Each PAGA Employee shall receive a portion of the PAGA Amount proportionate to the number of pay periods that he or she worked during the PAGA Period, and which will be calculated by multiplying the PAGA Amount by a fraction, the numerator of which is the PAGA Employee's number of pay periods worked during the PAGA Period, and the denominator of which is the total number of pay periods worked by all PAGA Employees.

For purposes of calculating applicable taxes and withholdings, each Individual Class Payment shall be allocated as follows: Twenty percent (20%) allocated to settlement of wage claims (the "Wage Portion"); Eighty percent (80%) allocated to interest and penalties.

Defendant will pay the employer's share of payroll taxes separately from, and in addition to, the Gross Settlement Amount.

D. Summary of Notice Process

1. Mailing of Notices

On September 4, 2026, Defendant provided PSA with the Class Data, data files with the following information for each Class Member: name, employee identification number, last-known mailing address, Social Security number, number of Workweeks, and number of PAGA Pay Periods. Salinas Decl., ¶ 3. After performing address updates and verifications, Phoenix mailed the Class Notice

(consisting of the Court Approved Notice of Class Action Settlement and Hearing Date for Final Court Approval, Workweek Challenge Form, Request for Exclusion Form, and Objection Form) to the 253 Settlement Class Members and 130 Aggrieved Employees on August 14, 2026. Id. at ¶¶ 4-5. Following the initial mailing, 0 Class Notices were returned to Phoenix by the Post Office, and then re-mailed, meaning all Class Notices were delivered. Id. at ¶ 6.

The deadline for Settlement Class members to submit objections, requests for exclusion, or disputes was November 7, 2026. Salinas Decl., ¶¶ 7-9. As of the Response Deadline, there are no requests for exclusion, no objections, and no disputes. Id. at ¶¶ 7-9. Accordingly, as of the date of this Motion, the participation rate amongst the Settlement Class Members is 100%. Beltran Decl., ¶ 10.

With 253 Participating Class Members, the average estimated Individual Class Payment is $273.79, with the highest estimated Individual Class Payment to a Settlement Class member being $873.81 and the lowest estimated Individual Class Payment to a Settlement Class member being $5.39. Salinas Decl., ¶ 12.

With 130 Aggrieved Employees, the average estimated Individual PAGA Payment is $26.92, with the highest estimated Individual PAGA Payment to a Settlement Class member being $42.38, and the lowest estimated Individual Class Payment to a Settlement Class member being $1.37. Salinas Decl., ¶ 13.

E. Timing of Payments

Defendant shall deposit the Gross Settlement Amount of $160,000.00 and Defendant's share of all payroll taxes on the portion allocated as wages into a Qualified Settlement Fund established by the Settlement Administrator within 28 days of the Effective Date.[2]

The Settlement provides Settlement Class Members with 180 days from the date the Settlement Administrator mails the checks to cash such checks, and any funds remaining after 180 days escheat to

[2] This Settlement shall become effective on the "Effective Date" which is defined as the date by when both of the following have occurred: (a) the Court enters a Judgment on its order granting final approval of the Settlement; and (b) the Judgment is final. The Judgment is final as of the latest of the following occurrences: (a) if no Settlement Class member objects to the Settlement, the day the Court enters Judgment; (b) if one or more Settlement Class member objects to the Settlement, the day after the deadline for filing a notice for appeal from the Judgment; or (c) if a timely appeal from the Judgment is filed, the day after the appellate court affirms the Judgment and issues a remittitur. See Settlement, ¶ 5.B.

the California Secretary of State-Unclaimed Property Fund under the unclaimed property laws in the name of the Settlement Class Member. Settlement ¶ 7.E.

F. Notice of Judgment

As stated on the Notice mailed to Settlement Class Members, the final judgment entered by the Court will be posted on the Settlement Administrator's website Contreras-v-inmar-supply-chain-solutions.phoenixcases.com. See Salinas Decl., Exh A.

IV. ARGUMENT

A. This Court Should Confirm its Conditional Certification of the Class for Settlement Purposes Because It Meets All of the Requirements for Class Certification Under Code of Civil Procedure § 382

Under Code of Civil Procedure section 382, a class may be certified if: (1) it is ascertainable and its members are too numerous for joinder to be practical; (2) the representative and absent class members share a community of interest, and questions of law and fact common to the class predominate over questions unique to individual class members; (3) the representative's claims are typical of the class' claims; and (4) the representative will fairly and adequately represent the class' interests. See Richmond v. Dart Industries, Inc. (1981) 29 Cal.3d 462, 470.

Here, this Court found that the Class meets all the requirements for class certification for settlement purposes when it granted preliminary approval of the Settlement on August 19, 2026. See Moore Decl., ¶¶ 28-29; Exh. A. After the Court entered an order granting preliminary approval, no events have occurred to cast doubt on the propriety of this determination. In fact, the reaction of the Settlement Class Members thus far to the Settlement has been strongly in support of the Settlement. No Settlement Class Members have objected to any portion of the Settlement and no Settlement Class members have elected to opt-out of the Settlement. See Salinas Decl., ¶¶ 7-8. This Court should therefore confirm its conditional certification of the Settlement Class.

B. This Court Should Finally Approve the Settlement Because it is a Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable Compromise of Disputed Wage and Hour Claims

California courts have a strong policy in favor of settlement. See, e.g., Stambaugh v. Superior Court, 62 Cal.App.3d 231, 236 (1976). Unlike individual settlements, class action settlements involve a court approval process that exists to prevent fraud, collusion, and unfairness to class members. Malibu Outrigger Bd. of Governors v. Superior Court, 103 Cal.App.3d 573, 578-79 (1980). This approval process consists of preliminary settlement approval, notice being given to class members, and a final fairness and approval hearing being held, at which class members have the opportunity to be heard with respect to the settlement. Id. Now that notice has been provided to the Settlement Class, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court finally approve the Settlement as fair, adequate, and reasonable.

1. The Settlement was Reached at Arm's Length, Through Experienced Counsel and An Experienced Mediator, and Was Based on Sufficient Information to Intelligently Negotiate a Fair Settlement in Light of the Claims Asserted and Risks of Continued Litigation

A settlement is presumptively fair where it is reached through arm's length bargaining, based on sufficient discovery and investigation to allow counsel and the court to act intelligently, counsel is experienced in similar litigation, and the percentage of objectors to the settlement is small. Dunk v. Ford Motor Co., 48 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1802 (1996). In deciding whether to approve a proposed settlement, a trial court has broad powers to determine if the proposed settlement is fair under the circumstances of the case. Mallick v. Superior Court, 89 Cal.App.3d 434 (1979). In exercising these powers, the overriding concern is to ensure that a proposed settlement is "fair, adequate, and reasonable." Dunk, supra, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801 (internal quotations omitted). Relevant factors for the Court to consider include, but are not limited:

> [T]he strength of plaintiffs' case, the risk, expense, complexity and likely duration of further litigation, the risk of maintaining class action status through trial, the amount offered in settlement, the extent of discovery completed and the stage of the proceedings, the experience and views of counsel, the presence of a governmental participant, and the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement.

Id. These factors require balancing, are non-exhaustive and, as such, trial courts should tailor the factors to each case and give due regard to "what is otherwise a private consensual agreement between the parties." Id.

"In the context of a settlement agreement, the test is not the maximum amount plaintiffs might have obtained at trial on the complaint, but rather whether the settlement is reasonable under all of the circumstances." Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc., 91 Cal.App.4th 224, 250 (2001). Because settlements inherently involve compromise, even settlements providing for substantially narrower relief than likely would be obtained if the suit were successfully litigated can be reasonable because, "the public interest may indeed be served by a voluntary settlement in which each side gives ground in the interest of avoiding litigation." Id. (quoting Air Lines Stewards, etc., Local 550 v. American Airlines, Inc., 455 F.2d 101, 109 (7th Cir. 1972)).

Here, the Settlement resulted from extensive arm's length settlement negotiations between qualified and experienced counsel, with the assistance of a well-respected mediator, and is fair, adequate, and reasonable for all Settlement Class members. While Plaintiff maintains that his claims are meritorious, Plaintiff acknowledges that his position includes substantial risks and uncertainty which justifies a downward departure from the maximum exposure that Plaintiff calculated each claim carried.

As detailed in Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Approval, there is significant risk of non-certification and/or not prevailing on the merits with respect to each of Plaintiff's claims. For example, with respect to Plaintiff's claim for failure to pay minimum and overtime wages, Defendant contends that it compensated Settlement Class members for all of their time worked. Moore Decl., ¶ 13. Defendant further asserts that Plaintiff would be unable to certify this class given the individualized inquiries that would be required. Id.

As for Plaintiff's meal period claim, Defendant counters that it has always maintained a lawful meal period policy and provided non-exempt employees with an opportunity to take all legally compliant meal periods, and any non-compliant meal periods reflected in employee timekeeping records were solely the result of employee choice, rather than any policy or practice of Defendant. Moore Decl., ¶ 15. Defendant points out that under Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal. 4th 1004, it is only required to "provide" the opportunity to take meal periods, not "ensure" meal periods are taken, and that they have always done so. Id.; Brinker, supra, 53 Cal.4th at 1038 (rejecting "ensure" standard). Finally, Defendant contends Plaintiff's meal period claim is not suited for class certification, given that individual inquiries would be required to assess which employees took non-compliant meal periods, how many meal periods were non-compliant or missed, and the reasons why a particular employee took a non-compliant meal period or missed a meal period during a particular shift. Id.

As for Plaintiff's rest period claim, Defendant contends it has always maintained and enforced lawful rest period policies and practices, and that Settlement Class Members were authorized and permitted to take all off-duty rest periods in compliance with California law. Moore Decl., ¶ 17. Defendant also argues that Plaintiff's rest period claim is inherently unsuited for class treatment as it requires an individualized inquiry into whether each Settlement Class Member was in fact authorized and permitted to take a compliant rest period, which would devolve into an unmanageable series of mini-trials. Id.

As for Plaintiff's unreimbursed expenses claim, Defendant contends employees were not required to use their personal electronic devices to communicate with team members and would only do so at their own volition, and were prohibited by Defendant's policies from using personal devices. Moore Decl., ¶ 19. Defendant further contends that any purportedly necessary expenses incurred by non-exempt employees were minimal. Id.

In regard to Plaintiff's wage statement claim, Defendant argues that its alleged wage statement violations could not be shown to be "knowing and intentional," and that Plaintiff cannot show that she or any other employee "suffer[ed] injury" as a result of the alleged wage statement violations, as required by Lab. Code § 226(e) for imposition of penalties. Moore Decl., ¶ 21.

As for Plaintiff's waiting time claim, Defendant asserts it has strong defenses to the waiting time claim because there exist good-faith disputes as to Plaintiff's underlying claims, precluding imposition of penalties. Moore Decl., ¶ 23.; see also 8 Cal. Code Regs. § 13520 (a "good faith dispute that any wages are due will preclude imposition of waiting time penalties"); Kao v. Joy Holiday, 12 Cal.App.5th 947, 963 (2017) (holding that "good faith dispute" over whether employee was exempt precluded imposition of waiting time penalties over contested wages owed).

As for Plaintiff's claim for PAGA penalties, Defendant argues that Plaintiff's PAGA claim will fail for the same reasons that his underlying claims will fail. Moore Decl., ¶ 25; see Price v. Starbucks Corp. (2011) 192 Cal.App.4th 1136, 1147 ("Because the underlying causes of action fail, the derivative UCL and PAGA claims also fail."). Defendant also maintains that, given its good faith defenses, this Court would exercise its discretion to substantially reduce any PAGA penalties if it were to find Defendant liable for any of Plaintiff's claims. See Lab. Code § 2699(e)(2); Thurman v. Bayshore Transit Mgmt., Inc.

(2012) 203 Cal.App.4th 1112, 1135 (affirming reduction of PAGA penalties); Fleming v. Covidien Inc. (C.D. Cal. 2011) Case No. ED CV10-01487 RGK (OPx), 2011 WL 7563047, at *4 (reducing PAGA penalties from $2.8 million to $500,000).

These considerations not only bore heavily on the negotiations leading to the Settlement, but also confirm that the Settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable compromise in view of the risks of further litigation. Moore Decl., ¶ 26. As detailed in Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Approval, Plaintiff carefully vetted the claims at issue and conducted a detailed liability analysis of class-wide data to arrive at the calculated damages figures. Id. Thus, while these risks are far from exhaustive, they demonstrate that the Settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable in view of them.

2. The Settlement Fairly, Reasonably, and Adequately Compensates Class Members Because Each Participating Class Member Will Be Paid Based on the Extent of His or Her Injury

Individual settlement payments will be calculated based on the number of Workweeks worked by each Settlement Class Member during the Class Period. This method of distribution compensates Settlement Class Members based on the estimated extent of their injuries, as Settlement Class Members who worked more Workweeks, would have been subject to more of the alleged wage and hour violations than those who worked fewer weeks. Thus, the formula for compensating Settlement Class Members is fair, adequate, and reasonable, as it is tethered to the damages and penalties that could be recovered by them.

3. The 100% Participation Rate and Absence of Any Objections Further Confirms That the Settlement is Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable

Class members' response to a settlement is relevant in evaluating whether it merits final approval. Dunk, supra, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801. The lack of objections and few requests for exclusion supports a fairness presumption. See 7-Eleven Owners for Fair Franchising v. Southland Corp. (2000) 85 Cal.App.4th 1135, 1152-53 (finding 9 objections and 80 opt-outs from a class of 5,454 showed a "particularly impressive" favorable response from class members). Here, not a single Settlement Class Member has objected to the Settlement nor has a single Settlement Class Member elected to opt-out of the Settlement. Salinas Decl., ¶¶ 7-8. The extremely favorable response of the Settlement Class further confirms that the Settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable.

C. The Requested Award of Attorneys' Fees is Reasonable as a Percentage of the Common Fund Confirmed by a Lodestar Cross-Check

Plaintiff and the Settlement Class, as the prevailing parties in settlement, are entitled to recover their attorneys' fees and costs for their wage claims. See Lab. Code §§ 218.5, 226(e) and 2699(g). A fee award is justified where the legal action has produced its benefits by way of a voluntary settlement. See, e.g., Maria P. v. Riles, 43 Cal.3d 1281, 1290-91 (1987); Westside Community for Independent Living, Inc. v. Obledo, 33 Cal.3d 348, 352-53 (1983). When a settlement results in a common fund for the benefit of a class, class counsel may be awarded fees as a percentage of the common fund. See Wershba, supra, 91 Cal.App.4th at 254 (recognizing the "percentage of recovery" method).

The California Supreme Court confirmed in Laffitte v. Robert Half Int'l, Inc., 1 Cal.5th 480, 506 (2016), that "[t]he percentage of fund method survives in California class action cases." Specifically, the Laffitte Court held:

> The recognized advantages of the percentage method—including relative ease of calculation, alignment of incentives between counsel and the class, a better approximation of market conditions in a contingency case, and the encouragement it provides counsel to seek an early settlement and avoid unnecessarily prolonging the litigation—convince us the percentage method is a valuable tool that should not be denied our trial courts.

Id. at 503 (internal citation omitted); see also, e.g., Serrano v. Priest, 20 Cal.3d 25, 34 (1977) ("when a number of persons are entitled in common to a specific fund, and an action brought by a plaintiff or plaintiffs for the benefit of all results in the creation or preservation of that fund, such plaintiff or plaintiffs may be awarded attorney's fees out of the fund."); Serrano v. Unruh, 32 Cal.3d 621, 627 (1982) (in awarding a fee from the common fund obtained for the benefit of all parties, the trial court acts within its equitable power to prevent the other parties' unjust enrichment.); Rawlings v. Prudential-Bache Properties, Inc., 9 F.3d 513, 516 (6th Cir. 1993) (the percentage of the fund method for calculating attorneys' fees more accurately reflects the results achieved for the putative class than the lodestar method and "establishes reasonable expectations on the part of plaintiffs' attorneys as to their expected recovery; and it encourages early settlement, which avoids protracted litigation."); In re Rite Aid Corp. Securities

Litigation, 396 F.3d 294, 300 (3rd Cir. 2005) ("The percentage-of-recovery method is generally favored in common fund cases because it allows courts to award fees from the fund 'in a manner that rewards counsel for success and penalizes it for failure.") (citation omitted).

Laffitte also held that trial courts have discretion to assess reasonableness of fee awards with tools such as the "lodestar cross-check," whereby the trial court calculates class counsel's lodestar (hours worked multiplied by hourly rate) and determines whether the "lodestar multiplier" needed to bring the lodestar on par with the percentage of recovery is reasonable. Laffitte at 503-06. While a trial court may utilize the lodestar cross-check, it need not do so. Id. at 506 ("[w]e hold further that trial courts have discretion to conduct a lodestar cross-check on a percentage fee, as the court did here; they also retain the discretion to forgo a lodestar cross-check and use other means to evaluate the reasonableness of a requested percentage fee.")

Here, Class Counsel request an attorneys' fee award of $53,333.33 (one-third of the Gross Settlement Amount). The fee award will be split as follows: 60% to Haines Law Group, APC and 40% to Lidman Law, APC. Moore Decl., ¶ 40. Plaintiff has provided written approval of the split of attorneys' fees in this action. Moore Decl., ¶ 41.

The fee request of $53,333.33 is fair and reasonable based on a percentage of the recovery confirmed with a lodestar cross-check. First, "regardless whether the percentage method or the lodestar method is used, fee awards in class actions average around one-third of the recovery." Chavez v. Netflix, Inc., 162 Cal.App.4th 43, 66, n.11 (2008); see also, e.g., Cicero v. DirectTV, Inc., No. EDCV 07-1182, 2010 WL 2991486 at * 7 (C.D. Cal. July 27, 2010) (observing that "30-50% [is] commonly awarded in cases in which the common fund is relatively small" and that in California, "courts usually award attorneys' fees in the 30-40% range in wage and hour class actions…"); Williams v. Costco Wholesale Corp., No. 02-cv-2003 IEG (AJB), 2010 WL 2721452 at * 6 (S.D. Cal. July 7, 2010) (collecting cases where courts awarded between 33.33% and 40% in attorneys' fees in wage and hour class actions). This is also consistent with Class Counsel's experience in similar wage and hour class action matters. See Moore Decl., ¶¶ 31, 38-39. Thus, the percentage sought by Class Counsel here (the same percentage sought by class counsel in Laffitte) is reasonable.

Next, as stated, under the lodestar method the court computes the "lodestar" amount by multiplying the number of hours reasonably expended by each attorney or legal staff member by their reasonable hourly rates. See, e.g., Serrano v. Priest 20 Cal.3d 25, 48 (1977). The court then enhances this lodestar figure by a "multiplier" to account for a range of factors, such as the novelty and difficulty of the case, its contingent nature, and the degree of success achieved. Id. at 49; Ketchum v. Moses, 24 Cal.4th 1122, 1132-36 (2001); Thayer v. Wells Fargo Bank, 92 Cal.App.4th 819, 834 (2001) ("There is no hard-and-fast rule limiting the factors that may justify an exercise of judicial discretion to increase or decrease a lodestar calculation").

Under California law, lodestar multipliers can range from 2 to 4 or even higher. See, e.g., Chavez, supra, 162 Cal.App.4th at 49-50 (approving multiplier of approximately 2.5); City of Oakland v. Oakland Raiders, 203 Cal.App.3d 78 (1988) (approving multiplier of ~2.34); Coalition for L. County Planning etc. Interest v. Bd. of Supervisors, 76 Cal.App.3d 241, 251 (1977) (approving multiplier of ~2.04). In class actions such as this one, where the value of the benefit conferred to the class "can be monetized with a reasonable degree of certainty," a court may "adjust the lodestar in comparison to a percentage of the common fund to ensure that the fee awarded is reasonable and within the range of fees freely negotiated in the legal marketplace in comparable litigation." Consumer Privacy Cases, 175 Cal.App.4th 545, 557 (2009). In doing so, "the court determines, retrospectively, whether the litigation involved a contingent risk or required extraordinary legal skill justifying augmentation of the unadorned lodestar in order to approximate the fair market for such services." Id. at 556; see also Laffitte, supra, 1 Cal.5th at 503-05.

In this case, Class Counsel have a lodestar of $112,907.50 which is 2.12 times more than $53,333.33 fee request. See Moore Decl., ¶ 36. A general summary showing the number of hours of work performed by each attorney and paralegals is set forth below. Id., Exh. D. The billing rates used are reasonable especially in light of the hourly rates identified based on years of experience in the Laffey Matrix, submitted concurrently herewith. Moore Decl., at ¶ 37, Exh. E.

Name	Rate	Hours	Pre-Multiplier Lodestar
Scott M. Lidman (27th Year Attorney)	$950	36.1	$34,295.00
Paul K. Haines (19th Year Attorney)	$975	11.2	$10,920.00
Milan Moore	$725	70.8	$51,330.00

(10th Year Attorney)
Tiara Gose-Hardy (7th Year Attorney)	$625	18.9	$11,812.50
Paralegals	$250	18.2	$4,550.00
Total Lodestar			$112,907.50

The fee award requested here is justified because Class Counsel achieved a significant monetary recovery for the Settlement Class in an uncertain and risky case, while bearing the substantial burdens of representation on a contingency basis, and the fees requested are in line with the market rate. Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 1048-51 (9th Cir. 2002) (finding that exceptional results in a contingency case, significant risk and the absence of supporting precedents, are proper considerations in awarding attorneys' fees). First, Class Counsel negotiated a substantial recovery for the Settlement Class, resulting in a current participation rate of 100%, and not a single Settlement Class Member has validly objected to the Settlement or to Class Counsel's requested fees as of the Response Deadline. See Salinas Decl., ¶¶ 8, 10.

Additionally, the average settlement payment in this case of approximately $273.79 is well above settlement payments in similar wage and hour class action settlements. See, e.g., Sorenson v. PetSmart, Inc., Case No. 2:06-CV-02674-JAM-DAD (E.D. Cal. 2008) (wage and hour class action settlement approved where average class member recovery was approximately $60); Schiller v. David's Bridal, Inc., No. 1:10-cv-00616-AWI-SKO, 2012 WL 2117001, at *18 (E.D. Cal. 2012) (finding that average payment to class members of less than $200 was a "good" result); Williams v. Centerplate, Inc., Nos. 11-CV-2159-H-KSC, 12-CV-0008-H-KSC, 2013 WL 4525428, at *4 (S.D. Cal. 2013) (granting final approval of class action settlement where average recovery for each class member was approximately $108). The fact that Class Counsel achieved these results in the face of serious defense challenges and an uncertain legal landscape confirms the strength of the results achieved.

As discussed above, this case presented significant risk as to both class certification and merits considerations. Accordingly, it is fair and reasonable to account for these risks in compensating Class Counsel. Class Counsel should also be compensated for the risks involved in undertaking this litigation and expending considerable effort, all while working on a pure contingency basis. Since undertaking representation of Plaintiff, Class Counsel have borne all the costs of litigation without receiving any compensation for over two years of work. Moore Decl., ¶ 35. During this time, Class Counsel have expended a total of $11,229.15 in actual costs, have devoted substantial time to this litigation, and expect to incur approximately $169.04 future costs for filing this motion, the final declaration regarding distribution of settlement, service and messenger fees, and/or postage fees.[3] Id., Exh. E. Class Counsel's efforts have included pre-filing investigation, analyzing Plaintiff's claims, conducting legal research, reviewing Defendant's documents and policies, propounding written discovery, analyzing Settlement Class Members' timekeeping data and payroll records, drafting a mediation brief, preparing for and attending mediation, negotiating and revising the memorandum of understanding, negotiating and revising the long-form Settlement, drafting the preliminary approval motion and attending the hearing, fielding calls from Class Members, communicating with the Settlement Administrator, preparing this Motion, and otherwise litigating the case. Moore Decl., ¶ 32. Moreover, Class Counsel have expended time, effort, and money that they could have expended on less risky cases instead. Moore Decl., ¶ 42. Given the considerable potential for adverse outcomes in this case, including, but not limited to losing on class certification and/or merits issues, the contingent risk borne by Class Counsel was great.

Class Counsel's previous experience in litigating wage and hour class actions also supports the reasonableness of the fee request. Class Counsel are well-versed in plaintiff and defense-side wage and hour class action litigation, with substantial experience litigating claims for minimum and overtime violations, meal and rest period violations, and other wage and hour claims and related penalties. See Moore Decl., ¶¶ 2-5; Declaration of Scott M. Lidman ("Lidman Decl."), ¶¶ 3-8; Declaration of Tiara Gose-Hardy ("Gose-Hardy Decl."), ¶¶ 2-4; Declaration of Paul K. Haines ("Haines Decl."), ¶¶ 2-8. They have been certified as class counsel in numerous other cases. Id. Their experience in similar matters was integral in evaluating the strengths and weaknesses of the case against Defendants and the reasonableness of the Settlement. See Moore Decl., ¶¶ 24, 34. Practice in the narrow field of wage and hour litigation requires skill and knowledge concerning the rapidly evolving substantive state and federal law, as well as the procedural law of class action litigation. Moore Decl., ¶ 34. Because it is reasonable to compensate Class Counsel commensurate with their skill, reputation, and experience, a fee award of one-third of the Gross Settlement Amount is reasonable.

[3] This includes total costs incurred by both law firms.

Other factors also show that the fees requested in this case are reasonable under the circumstances. This case involved nuanced legal issues including questions surrounding Defendant's obligation to "provide" meal periods and "authorize and permit" rest periods, and the propriety of statutory penalties, to name just a few. Moore Decl., ¶ 34. Thus, Class Counsel's requested fee award is fair, reasonable, and adequate and should be approved.

D. The Requested Cost Amount Warrants Final Approval as Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable

Class Counsel seek to be reimbursed a total of $11,398.19 in litigation costs. Class Counsel's request is fair, adequate, and reasonable, as all of these costs are documented and reasonably incurred. See Moore Decl., ¶ 33; Exh. C. Moreover, the costs Plaintiffs seek are the types of costs routinely approved by courts. See, e.g., Harris v. Marhoefer, 24 F.3d 16, 19 (9th Cir. 1994) (counsel should recover "those out-of-pocket expenses that would normally be charged to a fee paying client"); Ashker v. Sayre, No. 05-03759 CW, 2011 WL 825713, at * 3 (N.D. Cal. 2011)("costs of reproducing pleadings, motions and exhibits are typically billed by attorneys to their fee-paying clients" and are reimbursable); Trustees of Const. Industry & Laborers Health and Welfare Trust v. Redland Ins. Co., 460 F.3d 1253, 1258-59 (9th Cir. 2006) (legal research costs are reimbursable); In re Immune Response Securities Litigation, 497 F. Supp. 2d 1166, 1177-78 (S.D. Cal. 2007) (mediation expenses, consultant and expert fees, legal research, copies, postage, filing fees, messenger and overnight delivery costs are reimbursable). Because the expense reimbursements requested by Class Counsel were reasonably incurred, and no Settlement Class member has objected to them, Plaintiff respectfully requests the Court grant the request for actual costs incurred.

E. The Court Should Finally Approve the Requested Administration Costs

Plaintiffs also request that the Court approve $8,500.00 in administration costs to the Settlement Administrator, Phoenix Settlement Administrators ("PSA"). As detailed in the declaration of Natalie Beltran submitted herewith, PSA performed duties in connection with this Settlement that were integral in effectuating the Settlement and the Notice process. See Salinas Decl., ¶ 2. Among other things, PSA calculated each Settlement Class Member's individual settlement and PAGA payment, updated addresses contained in the class data supplied by Defendant, formatted Notices for mailing, mailed Notices to all 253 Class Members, kept the Parties informed of any objections or requests for exclusion, and have otherwise administered the Settlement. See Salinas Decl., ¶¶ 2-15. For these reasons, PSA's requested costs are fair, reasonable, and adequate, and should be finally approved.

F. Plaintiff's Requested Enhancement Payment Is Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable in View of His Efforts and the Risks that He Assumed on Behalf of the Class

Courts routinely approve service payments to compensate named plaintiffs for the services they provide and the risks they incur during class action litigation. See, e.g., Bell v. Farmers Ins. Exchange, 115 Cal.App.4th 715, 726 (2004) (upholding "service payments" to named plaintiffs for their efforts in bringing the case); Van Vranken v. Atlantic Richfield Co., 901 F. Supp. 294 (N.D. Cal. 1995) (approving $50,000 service payment).

Here, Plaintiff seeks an enhancement of $7,500.00 and believes this request is reasonable given Plaintiff's efforts in this case and the risks he undertook on behalf of Class Members. Moore Decl., ¶ 43. Plaintiff provided substantial factual information and documents to Class Counsel, attended multiple conferences with Class Counsel to discuss the claims and theories at issue in the litigation, was available for mediation, as well as undertaking significant risks by agreeing to serve as the named plaintiff in this case. Moore Decl., ¶ 43; Declaration of Mario Regalado Contreras ("Regalado Contreras Decl."), ¶¶ 6-10. Further, Plaintiff understood the risk that he could be liable for Defendant's costs if he lost the case and accepted this risk because he wanted Defendant to compensate their current and former employees for various wage and hour violations. Regalado Contreras Decl., ¶ 11. In addition, Plaintiff understood that the lawsuit is a matter of public record and being part of it could stigmatize him and/or affect future employment. Regalado Contreras Decl., ¶ 7. Plaintiff estimates he spent approximately 10-12 hours on activities related to this case. Regalado Contreras Decl., ¶ 8. Additionally, Plaintiff has agreed to a general release of all claims subject to a waiver of Civil Code § 1542. Moore Decl., ¶ 43; Regalado Contreras Decl., ¶ 10.

Moreover, after receiving notice of the proposed Class Representative Enhancement Award for Plaintiff, no Class Member has objected to the proposed award as of the Response Date. See Salinas Decl., ¶ 8. Thus, the service award to Plaintiff is appropriate and justified as part of the Settlement and should be finally approved.

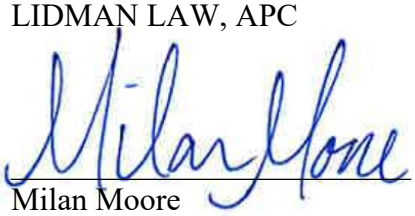

V. CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated herein, Plaintiff respectfully submits that this Court should grant Plaintiff's motion in its entirety and adopt the [Proposed] Order of Final Approval of Class Action Settlement and Final Judgment submitted herewith.

Based on the terms of the Settlement, Plaintiff proposes the deadline to file the Settlement Administrator declaration regarding the disbursement of Settlement be set for 16 court days before the compliance hearing which should be set for November 18, 2027 at 2:00 p.m.
