1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. SUMMARY OF MOTION

3 Plaintiff Miguel Aceves (“Plaintiff”) respectfully requests that this Court grant preliminary 4 approval of the Class Action and PAGA Settlement Agreement (also referred to as “Agreement,” or 5 “Settlement Agreement”) entered into by and between Plaintiff, individually and on behalf of the 6 proposed Class, and Defendant T&R Lube Centers, Inc. (“Defendant”).

7 Subject to Court approval, Plaintiff and Defendant have agreed to settle this lawsuit for a Gross
8 Settlement Amount of $140,000 on a non-reversionary basis.<sup>1</sup> The Gross Settlement Amount includes 9 all amounts to be paid by Defendant in connection with the Settlement, including any employer-side 10 payroll taxes attributable to the wage portion of the Individual Settlement Payments. The employer side 11 payroll taxes shall be calculated by the Settlement Administrator following the Effective Date based on 12 the actual wage allocation and shall be funded by Defendant in accordance with the Settlement 13 Agreement. No portion of the Gross Settlement Amount shall revert to Defendant. [Settlement 14 Agreement ¶ 56 et seq.].

15 The Parties reached the Settlement after engaging in extensive informal discovery, investigation, 16 and arm’s-length negotiations at a full-day mediation. Additionally, the contemplated Class Notice 17 provides the best notice practicable under the circumstances and will allow each Class Member a full 18 and fair opportunity to evaluate the Settlement and decide whether to participate in it. Accordingly, 19 Plaintiff moves the Court to grant preliminary approval of the Settlement and the allocations for the 20 Class Counsel Attorneys’ Fees and Costs, Service Payment to the Class Representative, and 21 Settlement Administration Costs; certify the proposed Class for settlement purposes; direct distribution 22 of the Class Notice; and set a Final Approval Hearing date.

23 II. PROCEDURAL HISTORY AND FACTUAL BACKGROUND

24 A. Procedural History

25 This Settlement settles the following Action filed on or about December 5, 2024, entitled

26
27 <sup>1</sup> The Class Action and PAGA Settlement Agreement (“Agreement” or Settlement Agreement”) is attached 28 to the Declaration of Mehrdad Bokhour as Exhibit A. The proposed Class Notice is attached as Exhibit A to the Settlement Agreement.

1 Miguel Aceves v. T&R Lube Centers, Inc., et al. filed in the Riverside County Superior Court and 2 assigned case number CVRI2406891. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 3.] Plaintiff asserted claims for (1) failure to 3 pay minimum wages; (2) failure to pay overtime wages; (3) failure to provide rest periods and pay 4 missed rest period premiums; (4) failure to provide meal periods and pay missed meal period 5 premiums; (5) failure to maintain accurate employment records; (6) failure to pay wages timely 6 during employment; (7) failure to pay all wages earned and unpaid at separation; (8) failure to 7 reimburse business expenses; (9) failure to furnish accurate itemized wage statements; (10) failure
8 to pay sick leave accurately; and (11) unfair competition law. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 3.]

9 On or about February 18, 2025, the Parties filed a stipulation to grant Plaintiff leave to file a 10 First Amended Complaint (“FAC”) to add a cause of action for PAGA penalties based on the 11 foregoing Labor Code violations. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 4.]. While the FAC was not received by the 12 Court at that time due to a filing error, Plaintiff is filing his FAC adding a cause of action for PAGA 13 penalties concurrently herewith. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 4.].

14 B. Plaintiff’s Claims and Defendant’s Defenses

15 Plaintiff’s core allegations are that Defendant violated the California Labor Code, inter alia, by 16 failing to properly pay minimum and overtime wages, failing to provide compliant meal and rest periods 17 or pay associated premiums, failing to provide compliant wage statements, failing to adequately 18 reimburse incurred business expenses, failing to timely pay final wages upon separation of employment, 19 and failing to pay sick leave accurately. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 5.] Plaintiff contends that Defendant’s 20 conduct constitutes unfair business practices and gives rise to penalties under PAGA. Id.

21 Defendant denies any liability of any kind associated with the claims and allegations and further 22 denies that Plaintiff or the Class Members are entitled to any relief. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 6.] Defendant 23 also denies that the Action is appropriate for class or representative treatment for any purpose other than 24 the Settlement. Id. Defendant maintains, among other things, that it has complied with California laws 25 in all respects. Id.

26 C. Discovery and Mediation

27 Prior to reaching the Settlement, the Parties exchanged substantial information, including 28 payroll and timekeeping data, written policies, and other employment records, and participated in an arm’s length mediations with an experienced wage and hour mediator. The Settlement was reached after extensive negotiations informed by this discovery and the Parties’ assessment of the risks, costs, and uncertainties of continued litigation. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 7.]

III. SUMMARY OF THE SETTLEMENT TERMS

A. The Class for Settlement Purposes

For settlement purposes only, the parties agree to certification of the following Class (individually referred to as “Class Members”): all persons who are or were previously employed by Defendant in California and classified as a non-exempt employee from December 5, 2020 to November 19, 2025 (the “Class Period”).

The PAGA Employees means all persons who are or were previously employed by Defendant in California and classified as a non-exempt or hourly employee at any time from December 5, 2023, through November 19, 2025 (i.e., the “PAGA Period”) [Settlement Agreement ¶¶ 8, 29]. There are approximately 78 class members and 33 aggrieved employees.

B. Essential Terms of the Settlement

Defendant will pay a Gross Settlement Amount of $140,000 on a non-reversionary basis to settle this action. The Net Settlement Amount is the amount remaining after deducting the following from the Gross Settlement Amount: (1) Attorneys’ Fees of up to one-third of the Gross Settlement Amount (i.e., $46,662) and the Class Counsel Litigation Costs of up to Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000) to Class Counsel; (2) the Class Representatives Service Award of up to Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) to Plaintiff; (3) the PAGA Award<sup>2</sup> in the amount of Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000); and (4) Settlement Administration Costs, which are currently estimated not to exceed Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000).

|                          | Total Amount |
| Settlement Amount | $140,000           |

<sup>2</sup> The Parties will seek approval from the Court for a PAGA Payment in the total amount of Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000) from the Gross Settlement Amount. Of this amount, Sixty-Five Percent ($16,250) shall be allocated to the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency as its share of the civil penalties pursuant to the Private Attorneys General Act (the “LWDA Payment”), and Thirty-Five Percent ($8,750) shall be included in the Net Settlement Amount for distribution to the PAGA Class Members in accordance with the Settlement Agreement.

| Attorneys' Fees (33.33%)                       | $46,662               |
| Litigation Costs (not to exceed 40k)           | $20,000               |
| Administrator Costs                            | $10,000               |
| PAGA Penalties to LWDA (65% of 25k allocation) | $16,250               |
| PAGA Penalties to Aggrieved Employees          | $8,750                |
| Plaintiff's Service Award                      | $10,000               |
| Net Settlement Amount            | $28,338 |

Assuming the allocations towards these payments are awarded in full, the Net Settlement Amount that will be available to be allocated to Class Members who do not submit timely and valid Requests for Exclusion ("Participating Class Member(s)") is currently estimated to be at least ($28,338). The entire Net Settlement Amount will be distributed to Participating Class Members and PAGA Class Members, pursuant to the Settlement Agreement, and no portion shall revert to Defendant.

C. Calculation of Individual Settlement Shares

The Settlement Administrator shall calculate each Class Member's estimated individual Settlement Share as follows:

Individual Settlement Payment Calculation for Participating Class Members

Participating Class Members will receive Individual Settlement Payments after the Court issues a Final Approval Order and the Settlement becomes final and binding with no possibility of an appeal or further appeal (i.e., the "Effective Date" of the Settlement is reached). The Settlement Administrator shall calculate each Participating Class Member's Individual Settlement Payment based on the number of workweeks worked by that Participating Class Member during the Class Period ("Work Weeks Worked"). The Settlement Administrator shall determine the value of each workweek by dividing the Net Settlement Amount by the total number of Work Weeks Worked by all Participating Class Members during the Class Period. Each Participating Class Member's Individual Settlement Payment shall be calculated by multiplying the Participating Class Member's total number of Work Weeks Worked by the workweek value.

Payment Calculation for PAGA Employees

All PAGA Employees will receive payments after the Effective Date as defined above. The Settlement Administrator will calculate the total number of pay periods each PAGA Employee worked during the PAGA Period ("Total PAGA Pay Periods"). The PAGA Period is from December 5, 2023,

1 through November 19, 2025. The Settlement Administrator shall determine the value of each PAGA
2 Pay Period by dividing the 35% of the PAGA Award allocated for PAGA Employees by the Total
3 PAGA Pay Periods for all PAGA Employees (“PAGA Pay Period Value”). To determine each PAGA
4 Employee’s payment for their prorated portion of the PAGA Distribution Fund, the Settlement
5 Administrator will multiply the PAGA Employee’s Total PAGA Pay Periods by the PAGA Pay Period 6 value. A Class Member who is also a PAGA Employee will receive a payment under this section for 7 their prorated portion of the PAGA Award, even if they opt out of the Class Settlement, and will be 8 bound by the release of the PAGA claims released through this Settlement.

9       Based on data known at the time of settlement, the total number of workweeks worked by Class 10 Members during the Class Period is approximately 6,134. Thus, if the Net Distribution fund is $28,338 11 (assuming the Court awards the maximum amounts requested for Fees, Costs, the Service Award, and 12 Settlement Administration), then the Class Pay Period Value would be approximately $4.62 work week 13 period (i.e., $28,338 / 6,134) subject to any adjustment necessary to account for updated figures through 14 the end of the Class Period. A Participating Class Member who worked the average number of pay 15 periods would then receive approximately $363.31 (minus applicable withholdings for the wage portion 16 of the payment). Based on the available data, the approximate range of Participating Class Member 17 Individual Settlement Payments would be $5 to $1,200. The average recovery per aggrieved employee 18 is estimated at approximately $6.10 ( $$8,750 / 750 = $11.66$ ).

19       Individual Settlement Payments shall be allocated twenty (20%) percent as wages and eighty 20 (80%) percent as interest and penalties. [Settlement Agreement ¶ 55(e).] The wage portion will be 21 reported on an IRS Form W-2, and the portions allocated to interest and penalties will be reported 22 on an IRS Form 1099. The PAGA Employee payments will be allocated entirely as penalties and 23 included on an IRS Form 1099 to each PAGA Class Member.

24       Based on the data available at the time of settlement, Class Members worked approximately 25 6,134 workweeks during the Class Period, which would result in an estimated average Individual 26 Settlement Payment of approximately $363.31 assuming a Net Settlement Amount of $28,338, 27 subject to adjustment based on final workweek totals.

1           D. Request for Exclusion and Objection Procedures

2           Class Members who wish to exclude themselves from the Settlement must mail a signed 3 Request for Exclusion to the Settlement Administrator no later than forty-five (45) days after the 4 Settlement Administrator mails the Class Notice. [Settlement Agreement ¶¶ 21, 77(a).] To be valid, a 5 Request for Exclusion must be timely submitted and must comply with the instructions set forth in 6 the Class Notice. If a question arises regarding the authenticity of a signed Request for Exclusion, 7 the Settlement Administrator shall have the authority to request additional proof of the Class
8 Member's identity, provide notice of any deficiency, and afford the Class Member an opportunity 9 to cure.

10           A Class Member who submits a valid and timely Request for Exclusion (a Non-11 Participating Class Member) shall not participate in, and shall not be bound by, the Settlement or 12 the Judgment. Any Class Member who does not submit a valid and timely Request for Exclusion in 13 the manner and by the deadline specified in the Class Notice shall automatically become a 14 Participating Class Member and shall be bound by all terms and conditions of the Settlement and 15 the Judgment, including the release of the Released Class Claims, regardless of whether the Class 16 Member objects to the Settlement. Persons who submit a valid and timely Request for Exclusion 17 shall not be permitted to object to the Settlement or to appear at the Final Approval Hearing to 18 voice any objections.

19           All Participating Class Members who do not submit a valid and timely Request for 20 Exclusion shall receive an Individual Settlement Payment without the need to submit a claim form 21 and shall be bound by all terms of the Settlement, including, without limitation, the release of the 22 Released Class Claims. PAGA Employees shall receive their respective share of the employee 23 portion of the PAGA Payment regardless of whether they submit a valid and timely Request for 24 Exclusion and shall be bound by the release of the Released PAGA Claims as set forth in the 25 Settlement Agreement.

26           The Class Notice shall further provide that only Participating Class Members may object to 27 the proposed Settlement. Any objection must be submitted in writing to the Settlement 28 Administrator and postmarked no later than forty-five (45) days after the Settlement Administrator

1 mails the Class Notice and must comply with the instructions set forth in the Class Notice.
2 [Settlement Agreement ¶¶ 21, 77(c).] A Participating Class Member who does not timely submit a 3 written objection in accordance with the Settlement Agreement and Class Notice shall be deemed to 4 have waived any objection and shall be foreclosed from asserting any objection to the Settlement, 5 whether by appeal or otherwise. Non-Participating Class Members shall have no right to object to 6 or otherwise be heard regarding the Settlement.

7 Finally, each Class Member shall have forty-five (45) days from the date the Class Notice is 8 mailed to dispute the number of workweeks allocated to that Class Member during the Class Period.
9 [Settlement Agreement ¶¶ 21, 75.] Any notice of dispute shall be submitted to the Settlement 10 Administrator. In the event of a dispute, Defendant's employment, time, and payroll records shall 11 be presumed accurate, and the Class Member asserting the dispute shall bear the burden of 12 demonstrating the accuracy of the disputed information and shall be afforded an opportunity to 13 submit supporting documentation. Any dispute regarding the number of workweeks shall be 14 resolved by the Settlement Administrator, who may request additional information from 15 Defendant's Counsel and or Class Counsel as necessary to resolve the dispute.

16 E. Scope of the Release

17 The Settlement provides for a release of claims that is limited to those arising out of the same 18 factual predicate as the allegations asserted in the operative Complaint and the PAGA notices submitted 19 to the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency during the Class Period. Specifically, the 20 Released Class Claims include all claims for failure to pay minimum wages, failure to pay all overtime 21 wages and at the appropriate legal rate, failure to provide meal periods and premium payments in lieu 22 thereof at the appropriate legal rate, failure to provide rest periods and premium payments in lieu thereof 23 at the appropriate legal rate, failure to maintain accurate employment records, failure to pay wages 24 timely during employment, failure to reimburse business expenses, failure to provide accurate itemized 25 wage statements, failure to pay sick pay accurately, failure to timely pay all wages due at separation, 26 violation of Business & Professions Code § 17200 et seq., and any and all related penalties that arose
27 during the Class Period [Settlement Agreement ¶ 3.]

28 As of the date the Judgment becomes final and Defendant has fully funded the Settlement,

1 Plaintiff and each Participating Class Member shall fully and finally release and discharge the Released
2 Parties from the Released Class Claims for the period from December 5, 2020 to November 19, 2025.
3 The release does not extend to claims unrelated to the factual allegations in the Action or to claims for 4 vested benefits, wrongful termination, unemployment insurance, disability, social security, workers' 5 compensation, or claims arising outside the Class Period. [Settlement Agreement ¶¶ 3, 8, 31.]”<sup>3</sup>

6 IV. LEGAL STANDARD FOR PRELIMINARY APPROVAL OF THE CLASS ACTION
7 SETTLEMENT

8 California Rule of Court 3.769 requires court approval of a class action settlement and 9 directs the Court to determine whether the proposed settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate. In 10 evaluating a proposed settlement, courts generally apply the standards articulated under Rule 23 of 11 the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. See Reed v. United Teachers Los Angeles (2012) 208
12 Cal.App.4th 322, 337; Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp. (9th Cir. 1998) 150 F.3d 1011, 1026.

13 In assessing fairness, the Court considers factors including the strength of the plaintiff’s 14 claims, the risks, costs, and delay of further litigation, the risk of maintaining class action status, the 15 amount offered in settlement, the extent of discovery completed, and the experience and views of 16 counsel. See Dunk v. Ford Motor Co. (1996) 48 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1801. Where, as here, a 17 settlement is reached through arm’s length negotiations with the assistance of an experienced 18 mediator, it is entitled to an initial presumption of fairness. See Kullar v. Foot Locker Retail, Inc.
19 (2008) 168 Cal.App.4th 116, 130.

20 V. ARGUMENT

21 A. The Settlement Should Be Preliminarily Approved

22 1. Amount Offered in Settlement Given Realistic Value of Claims

23 The Settlement provides a fair and reasonable recovery for the Class despite disputed 24 claims. Plaintiff conducted an in-depth statistical analysis of underpaid wages and penalties due to 25 Defendant's alleged unlawful timekeeping and pay policies/practices, potential meal and rest period 26 violations, failure to reimburse all necessary business expenses, failure to pay wages at the correct

27 _____
28 <sup>3</sup> “Released Party” means Defendant T&R Lube Centers, Inc., together with its current and former owners, officers, employees, and directors.

1 rate of pay, wage statement penalties, waiting time penalties, and PAGA civil penalties. Plaintiff
2 engaged an expert to analyze the records produced by Defendant and conduct a thorough liability
3 analysis. [Bokhour Decl. ¶ 7.] A summary of the results of Plaintiff’s exposure analysis is discussed 4 below.

5                   2.       Failure to Pay Wages Due to “Off The Clock Work” and Improper 6                   “Regular Rate of Pay”:

7           As described above, Plaintiff alleges that Defendant failed to account for non-discretionary 8 bonuses, commissions, and other incentive pay when calculating the “regular rate of pay” when 9 paying overtime, meal and rest premiums, and sick time wages. Additionally, Plaintiff and alleges 10 Defendant failed to pay for “off the clock” work, including time spent on training courses and 11 waiting until their supervisor arrived in order to clock in. Plaintiff estimates that any such 12 underpayment was approximately $10,000. [Bokhour Decl. ¶ 11.]

13           However, in response, Defendant argued that it correctly calculated the “regular rate of 14 pay,” and such discretionary payments were properly excluded from regular rate of pay 15 calculations. Defendant also contested that any “off the clock” work was performed and tried to 16 argue that any underpayment was in good faith and de minimums. [Bokhour Decl. ¶ 12.]

17           Due to this and in light of Defendant’s other defenses, Plaintiff discounted this claim by 18 50%, resulting in $5,000 in damages. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 13.]

19                   Meal Period Violations:

20           Plaintiff further alleges that Defendant failed to provide Plaintiff and other Class Members 21 with all first meal periods of at least thirty (30) minutes prior to the fifth hour of work, and second 22 meal periods of at least thirty (30) minutes before the tenth (10th) hour of their shift. [Bokhour 23 Decl., ¶ 14.] Plaintiff further allege that Defendant failed to adopt a policy/procedure of paying 24 meal period premiums at the “regular rate of pay” for missed/non-compliant meal periods.
25 Defendant’s payroll records demonstrate that Class members were consistently unable to take 26 second meal periods at all for shifts in excess of 10 hours. Id.

27           Plaintiff’s analysis of the data demonstrates 1,945 unique meal period violations comprising 28 a 15.6% violation rate based on the payroll data analyzed. Plaintiff calculates $42,498.25 in unpaid

1 meal period premiums (1,945 non-compliant meal periods x $21.85 average regular rate of pay for 2 meal period premium). Id. As such, the total damages for meal period violations are estimated at 3 $42,498.25. Id.

4 However, Defendant claims that it maintained legally compliant meal period procedures 5 throughout the Class Period, such that it allowed non-exempt employees to take compliant and 6 timely meal periods. Id. Defendant further claimed that all or a portion of the hourly employees had 7 signed second meal period waivers and/or otherwise voluntarily waived a second unpaid meal 8 period that was made available by the company so they could go home sooner rather than taking a 9 second 30-minute unpaid meal break. Id. Defendant also contends that this claim would not be 10 certified due to the lack of any common evidence tying together the reason that Class Members 11 experienced an alleged meal period violation. Id. Lastly, Defendant asserts that the presence of 12 these affirmative defenses as to the voluntariness of a particular meal period decision would 13 preclude class certification. Id.; see Duran v. U.S. Bank National Association (2014) 59 Cal.4th 1, 14 25.

15 In light of these defenses and arguments, Plaintiff discounted Defendant's maximum 16 exposure by 25% for the risk of non-certification, and an additional 25% to account for Defendant's 17 defenses on the merits, to arrive at an estimated total of $21,249.12. Id.

18 3. Rest Period Violations:

19 Plaintiff alleges that Defendant failed to authorize and permit all legally compliant rest 20 periods throughout the Class Period. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 15.] More specifically, Plaintiff alleged that 21 Defendant's rest period policy required Class members to remain on the company premises during 22 rest periods. Id. Instead of providing required rest periods, Defendant regularly added rest breaks to 23 employees' meal periods, in violation of the law. Plaintiff's analysis of Defendant's data 24 demonstrates there were approximately 12,200 rest period eligible shifts. Id. For this claim, Plaintiff 25 assumed a 35% violation rate and calculated Defendant's maximum exposure on this claim at 26 $93,299.50 (35% x 12,200 non-compliant rest periods x $21.85 rest period premium). Id.

27 However, Defendant denies Plaintiff's rest period allegations and asserts that they 28 maintained compliant rest period practices throughout the Class Period and authorized and

1 permitted all rest periods to Class Members. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 16.] In addition, Defendant argued 2 that, in practice, Class Members were allowed to be free and did, in fact, leave the premises during 3 rest periods. Further, Defendant contends that this claim is not amenable to class treatment because 4 individualized inquiries would be required to determine which employees failed to take rest periods, 5 and the reasons why each employee failed to take a rest period on a particular shift. Id.

6 As such, Plaintiff discounted Defendant's maximum exposure by 25% to account for the 7 risk of non-certification, and an additional 25% to account for Defendant's defenses on the merits, 8 to arrive at an estimated exposure of approximately $46,649. Id.

9 4. Wage Statement Violations:

10 Plaintiff contends that, because of the foregoing Labor Code violations, Defendant issued 11 inaccurate wage statements in violation of Labor Code section 226(a). [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 17.] More 12 specifically, Plaintiff alleged that the wage statements issued uniformly failed to reflect all net 13 wages earned, gross wages earned, the appropriate overtime rate, all premium pay, and the 14 appropriate rate of premium pay for non-compliant meal and rest periods. Id.

15 Plaintiff's data analysis reveals there were approximately 1,030 wage statements issued 16 during the one-year liability period. Id. Therefore, Plaintiff calculates Defendant's maximum 17 exposure for this claim at $100,850. Id.

18 Based on Defendant's arguments that: (i) no violations occurred; (ii) any alleged violations 19 were not "knowing and intentional" as required by Labor Code § 226(e); (iii) no actual injury was 20 suffered; and (iv) that its wage statements always accurately reflected hours worked and amounts 21 paid to employees, see Maldonado v. Epsilon Plastics, Inc. (2018) 22 Cal.App.5th 1308 (agreeing 22 with employer's "commonsense position that the pay stubs were accurate in that they correctly 23 reflected the hours worked and the pay received), Plaintiff discounted Defendant's calculated 24 maximum exposure by 25% for a risk of non-certification, and an additional 25% for a risk of being 25 unsuccessful on the merits, to arrive at an estimated total of $50,425. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 18.]

26 5. Waiting Time Penalties:

27 Defendant's records reflected approximately 49 former Class Members who separated from 28 their employment with Defendant during the Class Period. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 19.] Based on an

1 average hourly rate of $21.85, Plaintiff estimated the average waiting time penalty per former 2 employee to be $5,244 ($21.85 x 8 hours per day x 30 days). Id. Therefore, Plaintiff estimated 3 Defendant’s maximum exposure for potential waiting time penalties to be $256,956 (49 former 4 employees * $5,244 average waiting time penalty). Id.

5 Defendant also presented several defenses to this claim, most notably asserting that, because 6 it possessed good-faith defenses to the underlying claims, any failure to pay wages was not 7 “willful” as a matter of law. Id. Defendant further contends that no waiting time penalties are 8 recoverable as a matter of law as to Plaintiff’s claims predicated on a failure to provide meal and/or 9 rest periods, as a Court of Appeal recently held in Naranjo v. Spectrum Security Servs., Inc. (2019)
10 40 Cal.App.5th. 444, 473-75 (review granted Jan. 2, 2020). To account for Defendant’s defenses, 11 Plaintiff discounted the maximum exposure by 25% for the risk of non-certification and an 12 additional 50% for the risk of losing on the merits and/or not receiving the maximum penalties 13 sought to arrive at an estimated exposure of $64,239. Id.

14 6. Unreimbursed Business Expenses:

15 Plaintiff alleges that Defendant failed to reimburse Plaintiff and other Class Members for all 16 necessary business expenses during the Class Period. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 20.] Plaintiff alleges that 17 the business expenses incurred by Plaintiff and other Class Members were for the required use of 18 their personal cell phones for, amongst other things, text messaging staff/co-workers and customers.
19 Plaintiff calculated Defendant’s maximum exposure under this theory of liability to be $19,500 20 ($250 unreimbursed business expenses x 78 putative class members). Id.

21 In response, Defendant contended that Plaintiff and other putative class members never 22 requested reimbursement from Defendant for these items, that Plaintiff and putative class members 23 were not required to incur these expenses in the course of their employment, and/or that Defendant 24 did not know and had no reason to know that the alleged business-related expenses were incurred
25 and not reimbursed. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 21.]

26 Defendant contended that the California Labor Code only requires reimbursement of 27 “necessary” expenses—as opposed to any expense that is incurred in the course of performing 28 work—and argued that distinguishing a necessary expense from an unnecessary one would require

1 individualized inquiry. Id.; See, Cal. Lab. Code § 2802; Gattuso v. Harte-Hanks Shoppers, Inc.
2 (2007) 42 Cal.4th 554. Defendant further contended that the reason why a putative class member 3 undertook certain expenses, while not others, and failed to receive reimbursement for certain 4 expenses while not others, would raise individual issues that could not be certified. [Bokhour Decl., 5 ¶ 22.] Indeed, whether an expense was necessary would depend, in part, on the reasonableness of 6 the employee's choice, and whether an expense was incurred would have to be established by way
7 of extensive individual factual inquiry and/or statistical evidence. Id.; Cochran v. Schwan's Home
8 Services, Inc. (2014) 228 Cal.App.4th 1137.

9 In light of these defenses and arguments, Plaintiff discounted Defendant's maximum 10 exposure by 35% for the risk of non-certification, and an additional 35% to account for Defendant's 11 defenses on the merits, to arrive at an estimated total of $5,850. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 23.]

12 7. PAGA Penalties:

13 Based on the data provided by Defendant, there were approximately 1,031 pay periods
14 worked during the relevant PAGA Period. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 24.] Based on the alleged Labor Code 15 violations described above, Plaintiff contends that Defendant could be subject to PAGA civil 16 penalties of one hundred dollars ($100) per pay period for initial violations during the PAGA 17 Period. Accordingly, Plaintiff estimates Defendant's maximum potential PAGA exposure to be 18 approximately $103,100 (1,031 pay periods × $100). Id.; Amaral v. Cintas Corp. No. 2 (2009) 163 19 Cal.App.4th 1157, 1207 (holding that the "initial" penalty rate applies until the employer is placed 20 on notice of the alleged violations).

21 However, Defendant asserts a host of credible defenses to Plaintiff's PAGA claims. First, 22 Defendant argues that these penalties derive from the underlying wage and hour violations
24 Lawrence Service Co. (C.D. Cal. 2013) Case No. LA CV12-06155 JAK (VBKx), 2013 WL 25 3907506, *5, n.5 (explaining that a PAGA claim's success was determined by the merits of its 26 underlying claims). Defendant further contends that the Court would drastically reduce any award 27 of PAGA penalties as "confiscatory." Id.; see also Thurman v. Bayshore Transit Mgmt., Inc.
28 (2012) 203 Cal.App.4th 1112, 1135 (affirming reduction of PAGA penalties); Fleming v.

1 Covidien Inc. (C.D. Cal. 2011) Case No. ED CV10-01487 RGK (OPx), 2011 WL 7563047, at *4 2 (reducing PAGA penalties from $2.8 million to $500,000).

3 Therefore, Plaintiff discounted the maximum figure by 25% for risk of losing on the 4 merits, and an additional 50% to account for the possibility of this Court reducing penalties, to 5 arrive at an estimated exposure of $25,775. Id.

6 Based on the foregoing, the total discounted damages are approximately $219,187, 7 calculated as follows:

- 8 • Unpaid Wages: $5,000
- 9 • Meal breaks: $21,249
- 10 • Rest breaks: $46,649
- 11 • Wage Statement penalties: $50,425
- 12 • Waiting time penalties: $64,239
- 13 • Reimbursement: $5,850
- 14 • PAGA: $25,775
- 15 • Total: $219,187

16 In sum, while Plaintiff asserts that this is a suitable case for certification, he realizes there is 17 always a significant risk associated with class certification proceedings and considering 18 Defendant's various defenses on the merits and to class certification, difficulties of proof, and other 19 risks as described above, Plaintiff predicted that the potential likely recovery for the Class at trial 20 would be approximately $219,187

21 The proposed settlement of $140,000, therefore, represents approximately 63.8% of the 22 reasonably forecasted recovery for the Class and, therefore, represents a fair, reasonable, and 23 adequate resolution of this lawsuit. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 28.] Preliminary approval is appropriate since 24 the Settlement will provide significant monetary relief to Class Members, which is consistent with 25 what Plaintiff's counsel believes could have been recovered had the case proceeded through trial. It 26 would also provide the Class with a prompt and certain recovery rather than an uncertain recovery 27 after years of potential additional litigation and appeals.

1                   8.       Experience and Views of Counsel

2           “Parties represented by competent counsel are better positioned than courts to produce a 3 settlement that fairly reflects each party’s expected outcome in litigation.” In re Pacific Enterprises
4 Securities Litigation (9th Cir. 1995) 47 F.3d 373, 378. Here, Plaintiff is represented by competent, 5 experienced counsel who possess extensive experience prosecuting and defending wage-and-hour 6 class actions, and who have been appointed as class counsel in numerous cases alleging similar 7 claims.

8           B.       The Preliminary Approval Standard Is Met

9           At this stage, the Court can grant preliminary approval of the settlement and direct that 10 notice be given if the proposed settlement: (1) falls within the range of possible approval; (2) 11 appears to be the product of serious, informed, and non-collusive negotiations; and (3) has no 12 obvious deficiencies. See Manual for Complex Litigation § 30.41 (3rd Ed. 1995); 4 Newberg on 13 Class Actions § 11:24-25 (4th Ed. 2013).

14                   1.       The Settlement Is Within the Range of Possible Approval

15           The proposed settlement reflects approximately 63.8% of the estimated recovery the Class 16 could reasonably expect in light of the significant litigation risks, and will provide tangible, 17 monetary compensation for hotly disputed claims. Indeed, the percentage of the liability exposure 18 recovered in this case exceeds percentages routinely approved by courts. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 28].

19           As detailed in the settlement calculation discussion above, a Participating Class Member will 20 receive approximately $363.31 (minus applicable withholdings for the wage portion of the payment).
21 This estimated average Individual Settlement Payment is higher than the average payments 22 achieved in other wage-and-hour class action settlements. Thus, Plaintiff submits that the proposed 23 Settlement is within the range of possible approval, such that notice should be provided to the Class 24 so that they can consider the Settlement. The Court will have the opportunity to again assess the 25 reasonableness of the Settlement after the Class has had the opportunity to opt out or object.

26                   a.       The allocation for the Class Representatives Service Payment is 27                               reasonable.

28           Subject to Court approval, Plaintiff will receive a service payment of $10,000, in addition to 1 his Individual Settlement Payment. This service payment is intended to compensate Plaintiff for the 2 time and effort expended in assisting Class Counsel and for undertaking the responsibilities and 3 risks of serving as Class Representative. Incentive awards of this type are routinely approved in 4 California class actions. See In re Cellphone Fee Termination Cases (2010) 186 Cal.App.4th 1380, 5 1393 to 1394..

6 Here, Plaintiff spent considerable time and effort producing relevant documents and past 7 employment records, and providing the facts and evidence necessary to support the allegations. [See 8 Declaration of Plaintiff in Support of Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement; 9 Bokhour Decl., ¶ 29.] Plaintiff was available whenever counsel needed and tried to obtain documents 10 and information that would benefit the Class, and review documents and information provided by 11 Defendant. [Id.] Accordingly, it is appropriate and just for Plaintiff to receive a reasonable Class 12 Representative Service Payment for services rendered on behalf of the Class.

13 b. The Class Counsel Fees Payment and Class Counsel Litigation
14 Expenses Payment are reasonable.

15 Class Counsel meets the requirements under California law. Class Counsel conducted extensive 16 research, investigation, and analysis of the potential value of the claims. Additionally, Class Counsel are 17 highly experienced in wage-and-hour litigation and class action cases. See [Bokhour Decl., ¶¶ 34-39; 18 see Declaration of Amir D. Benakote in Support of Plaintiff’s Motion for Preliminary Approval of 19 Class Action Settlement (“Benakote Decl.”) ¶¶ 3-8]; As such, appointment of Bokhour Law Group, 20 P.C. and Golden State Employment Lawyers as Class Counsel is appropriate.

21 The Settlement establishes a Gross Settlement Amount of $140,000 and provides for Class 22 Counsel to apply for $46,662 om attorneys’ fees, which represents one-third of the settlement amount.
23 Class Counsel will apply for attorneys’ fees at the time of seeking final approval of the proposed 24 Settlement.

25 Under California precedent, it is appropriate to award attorneys’ fees as a percentage of the 26 “common fund” created by a class action settlement. See Laffitte v. Robert Half Int’l, Inc., 1 Cal.5th 27 480 (2016) (holding “the percentage of fund method survives in California class action cases”). The 28 goal is to award “reasonable compensation for creating a common fund.” Paul, Johnson, Alston & Hunt

1 v. Grauly, 886 F.2d 268, 272 (9th Cir. 1989). In reviewing a fee award request, courts consider the 2 following factors: (1) the results achieved; (2) whether there are benefits to the class beyond the 3 immediate generation of a cash fund; (3) the risks of litigation; (4) the skill required of counsel and 4 quality of the work performed; (5) the contingent nature of the fee and the foregoing by counsel of other 5 work; and (6) the reactions of the class. Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp. (9th Cir. 2002) 290 F.3d 1043, 6 1048-50; In re Toyota Motor Corp., 2013 WL 3224585 (C.D. Cal. June 17, 2013). Of these factors, the 7 most significant factor is the “degree of success obtained.” Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 436 8 (1983).

9 Here, the Class Counsel Fees Payment provided for by the Settlement is reasonable, particularly 10 in light of the time and effort expended by Class Counsel. Class Counsel litigated this case for over a 11 year, with the possibility of an unsuccessful outcome and no fee recovery of any kind. [Bokhour Decl., 12 ¶ 31]. The ongoing work has been demanding and ultimately successful in achieving a substantial 13 Settlement. Given the strengths and weaknesses of the claims and the risk and expense of further 14 litigation, Plaintiff believes that his counsel achieved an excellent result on behalf of the Class.
15 Considering the amount of the fees to be requested, the work performed, and the risks incurred, the 16 Class Counsel Attorneys’ Fees and Costs provided for by the Settlement are reasonable and should be 17 awarded. See Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051.

18 Once the Court grants preliminary approval of the Settlement Agreement and the Class 19 Notice is disseminated, Plaintiff’s counsel will submit a request for attorneys’ fees and costs with 20 its final approval motion.

21 2. The Settlement Resulted from Serious, Informed Negotiations

22 The Settlement resulted from an exchange of substantial information, arm’s-length 23 negotiations by counsel, a full-day mediation before an experienced wage-and-hour mediator, and 24 additional months spent negotiating the long-form settlement agreement. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 40].
25 Thus, the Settlement is entitled to an initial presumption of fairness. See Kullar, supra, 168
26 Cal.App.4th at 130. Here, the parties actively litigated this case since it commenced. Class Counsel 27 conducted a thorough investigation into the facts of the case, including, inter alia, interviews with 28 Plaintiff, and diligently investigated the allegations in this lawsuit. Class Counsel reviewed a large

1 volume of documents and data produced by Defendant and obtained through other sources, including 2 and not limited to, Plaintiff and other Class Members, employment records (including, inter alia, time 3 and payroll data, timecards, earning statements, and personnel records), as well as excerpts of 4 Defendant's employee handbook (such as excerpts pertaining to meal and rest break policies), class-5 wide data, various documents regarding Defendant's wage-and-hour policies, various internal 6 memoranda various agreements, various training and on-boarding material, and various forms, among 7 other information and documents. The parties exchanged information and documents informally.
8 [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 45].

9       The parties reached the Settlement after reviewing all available evidence, arm's-length 10 bargaining, and participating in mediation by a well-respected mediator experienced in handling 11 complex wage-and-hour class action litigation. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 46]. Prior to the mediation, the parties
12 exchanged information and Plaintiff retained an expert to analyze the records produced by Defendant 13 for liability. Id. During the mediation, the Parties discussed various aspects of the case, including and 14 not limited to, Plaintiff's claims, the risks and delays of further litigation and of proceeding with 15 certification and/or representative adjudication, the law relating to rounding theory, meal and rest 16 periods, wage-and-hour enforcement, and PAGA representative claims, the evidence produced and 17 analyzed, and the possibility of appeals, among other things. Id.

18       During settlement discussions, the parties conducted their negotiations at arm's length from an 19 adversarial position. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 47.] Arriving at a settlement that was acceptable to both parties 20 was not easy. The data and documents produced and obtained in this case enabled Class Counsel to 21 prepare damages/valuation models in preparation for the mediation, to determine the value and 22 strength of the claims. With the aid of the mediator's evaluation, the parties agreed that the Action was 23 well-suited for settlement given the legal issues relating to the claims, as well as the costs and risks to 24 both sides that would attend further litigation. Id. The Settlement takes into account the strengths and 25 weaknesses of each side's position, as well as the uncertainty about how the case might have concluded 26 at certification, trial, and/or on appeal. Id.

27       The Settlement is based on this large volume of facts, evidence, and investigation, and the 28 parties' negotiations during each mediation. While the parties disagree over the merits and certifiability

1 of Plaintiff's claims, Plaintiff and Class Counsel agree that the Settlement is fair, reasonable, adequate,
2 and in the best interest of the Class, in light of all known facts and circumstances. [Bokhour Decl., ¶ 3 48.]

4                   3.       The Settlement Is Devoid of Obvious Deficiencies

5           Preliminary approval of the Settlement is also warranted because there are no obvious 6 deficiencies. The Settlement will provide monetary relief to Class Members. The amounts proposed 7 for the Class Counsel Attorney's Fees and Costs, the Class Representatives' Service Payment, 8 Settlement Administration Costs, and the PAGA Penalties are all reasonable and appropriate based 9 on the facts of this case. Because the Settlement lacks obvious deficiencies, this factor supports 10 preliminary approval.

11 VI.   CERTIFICATION OF THE PROPOSED CLASS IS APPROPRIATE UNDER CAL.
12 CIV. PROC. SECTION 382

13           Class certification under California law is appropriate where: (1) the Class is so numerous that 14 joinder would be impractical; (2) common questions of law and fact predominate over individual 15 questions such that class certification is the most efficient and desirable way to maintain this 16 litigation; (3) Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of absent Class members; and (4) Plaintiff 17 and their counsel will fairly and adequately represent Class members' interest. See Cal. Civ. Proc.
18 § 382. The proposed Class meets all of these requirements.

19           A.       Ascertainable and Numerous

20           The proposed Settlement Class satisfies the requirements of Code of Civil Procedure section 21 382. The Class is readily ascertainable from Defendant's payroll records and sufficiently numerous 22 to render joinder impracticable. Common questions of law and fact predominate because the claims 23 arise from uniform wage and hour policies and practices. Plaintiff's claims are typical of those of 24 the Class, and Plaintiff and Class Counsel will adequately and fairly represent the interests of the 25 Class for settlement purposes.

26           B.       Commonality

27           A settlement class has sufficient commonality if there are predominant questions of law or fact.
28 See Sav-On Drug Store, Inc. v. Superior Court (Rocher) (2004) 34 Cal.4th 319, 326. Here, the

1 Class Members seek remedies under California's wage-and-hour laws for violations arising from 2 common, uniform, and systematic practices that applied to all Class Members during the Class Period.
3 See e.g., Benton v. Telecom Network Specialists, Inc., 220 Cal.App.4th 701, 726 (2013) (certifying 4 meal and rest period claims); Williams v. Superior Court 221 Cal.App.4th 1353, 1371 (2013) 5 (certifying class based on uncompensated work time). Accordingly, the commonality requirement is 6 satisfied for settlement purposes.

7 C. Typicality

8 The typicality requirement is satisfied where the Class Representative has claims that are 9 typical of those of the rest of the class. B.W.I. Custom Kitchen v. Owens-Illinois, Inc. 191 10 Cal.App.3d 1341, 1347 (1987) (finding typicality satisfied where named plaintiffs purchased the 11 same goods as the putative class in a consumer class action). Here, Plaintiff's claims are typical of 12 those of the Class Members, though some factual differences may exist among them, as the claims arise 13 from the same events or course of conduct and are based upon the same legal theories. Given the 14 structure of the Settlement, the proposed Class satisfies the typicality requirement for settlement
15 purposes as Plaintiff's claims arise from the same factual basis and are based on the same legal theories 16 as those applicable to all other Class Members.

17 D. Adequacy of Representation

18 The adequacy requirement examines conflicts of interest between named parties and the 19 class(es) they seek to represent. See Capital People First v. State Dept. of Developmental Services
20 155 Cal.App.4th 676, 697 (2007).

21 Plaintiff's interests align with those of other Class Members, as he was employed as non-exempt
22 employees by Defendant within the State of California. Plaintiff's claims are typical of those of Class 23 Members, which are confined to a limited group of similarly situated employees who worked for 24 Defendant during the Class Period. Class Counsel are highly experienced in employment class action 25 and complex wage-and-hour litigation, having handled many cases before and having been appointed 26 class counsel in many other cases. See generally, Bokhour and Benakote Declarations. Plaintiff 27 contends that Class Counsel's experience in litigating similar matters was integral to obtaining the 28 Settlement.

1           E.       Adequacy of The Method of Notice

2           A class notice must give the “best notice practicable” under the circumstances by providing 3 “individual notice to all members who can be identified through reasonable effort.” See Eisen v.
4 Carlisle & Jacquelin 417 U.S. 156, 173 (1974). A class notice is adequate if it “generally describes 5 the terms of the settlement in sufficient detail to alert those with adverse viewpoints to investigate and to 6 come forward and be heard.” Churchill Vill. LLC v. Gen. Elec., 361 F.3d 566, 575 (9th Cir. 2004). The 7 notice must also be neutral and objective in tone and should neither promote nor discourage the 8 assertion of claims.

9           Here, the proposed Class Notice provides the best notice practicable and is adequate in light of 10 the fact that Defendant is in possession of the addresses for Class Members. While Class Counsel 11 considered alternative methods such as publication or notice via the web or social media, it ultimately 12 determined that first class mail was the best choice given that the identities of the Class Members are 13 known and readily identifiable from Defendant’s records. [Bokhour Decl. ¶ 50.] The Class Notice 14 provides information on, inter alia, the nature of the lawsuit, the definition of the Class, the terms of the 15 Settlement, the scope of the Released Claims, the binding effect of the Settlement, and the allocations
16 for the Class Counsel Attorneys’ Fees and Costs, Class Representatives Service Award, and Settlement
17 Administration Costs. Each Class Member’s Class Notice will state his or her number of pay 18 periods/workweeks, estimated Individual Settlement Payment, and estimated PAGA Employee 19 payment. The Class Notice summarizes the proceedings and provides the date, time, and place of the 20 Final Approval Hearing.

21           All Class Members and PAGA Members can and will be identified by Defendant through a 22 review of their business and employment records. After receiving the Class Data from Defendant, the 23 Settlement Administrator will mail a Class Notice to each Class Member. Accordingly, the proposed 24 Class Notice is adequate and is the best notice practicable under California law.

25           The Class Notice also meets the neutrality requirement for class notices. The Class Notice 26 provides a brief, neutral explanation of the case from the perspective of both parties and recognizes that 27 the Court has not yet granted final approval of the Settlement. The Class Notice sets forth in an accurate 28 and informative manner the procedures and deadlines governing the submission of Requests for

1 Exclusion, objections, and workweek disputes. The proposed Class Notice satisfies all due process
2 requirements and complies with the standards of fairness, completeness, and neutrality. Accordingly, 3 the Court should approve the proposed Class Notice.

4 On information and belief, the Class Notice has been drafted in a manner that is likely to be 5 readily understood by the members of the Class. Class Members vary in age, education and experience.
6 All Class Members read and comprehend English. As such, the Class Notice has been drafted in plain 7 English and is readily understandable to current and former employees.

8 VII. APPOINTMENT OF ILYM AS THE ADMINISTRATOR

9 The parties have selected ILYM as the Settlement Administrator to handle the notice and 10 administration of the Settlement. ILYM will mail a Class Notice to each Class Member; receive, review, 11 and process Requests for Exclusion, objections, and workweek disputes; calculate estimated Individual 12 Settlement Payments; withhold applicable taxes and withholdings; prepare and transmit necessary tax 13 documentation and filings; and transmit all required payments. ILYM will also handle inquiries from 14 Class Members regarding the Settlement and perform any other usual and customary duties for 15 administering a class action settlement.

16 Settlement Administration Costs are currently estimated not to exceed Ten Thousand Dollars 17 ($10,000) and will be paid out of the Gross Settlement Amount, subject to approval by the Court.
18 Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court appoint ILYM as the Settlement Administrator and direct 19 distribution of the Class Notice in the manner and in accordance with the proposed schedule, set forth in 20 the Settlement Agreement and discussed in Section VIII, infra.

21 VIII. DEADLINES FOR NOTICE AND ADMINISTRATION

22 The Court is respectfully requested to approve the proposed deadlines for the notice and 23 settlement administration process. Within fourteen (14) calendar days following preliminary approval of 24 the Settlement, Defendant will provide the Settlement Administrator with the Class Data.<sup>4</sup> Within ten 25

26 <sup>4</sup> “Class Data” means a complete list that Defendant will diligently and in good faith compile from its 27 records and provide to the Settlement Administrator on one Confidential spreadsheet and shall include the 28 Settlement Class Members’ full names, last known addresses, Social Security Numbers, and number of Work Weeks Worked or Pay Periods Worked as non-exempt or hourly employees of Defendant during the Class Period and the PAGA Period, respectively for each Settlement Class Member.

1 (10) days of receiving the Class Data, ILYM will send a Class Notice to each Class Member. Prior to 2 mailing the Class Notices, ILYM shall attempt to locate Class Members' updated addresses by a search 3 of the National Change of Address Database. If a Class Notice is returned as undeliverable, ILYM will 4 promptly re-mail it to a forwarding address, if provided, or to an updated address obtained from a skip-5 trace search.

6 Requests for Exclusion, Objections, and Workweek Disputes must be mailed to ILYM and 7 postmarked by the applicable Response Deadline.

8 All settlement checks issued to Class Members and/or PAGA Class Members will remain valid 9 and negotiable for one hundred eighty (180) calendar days from the date it is mailed. Thereafter, the 10 funds associated with any such checks that remain uncashed or are returned as undeliverable, if any, will 11 be paid to the California State Controller's Unclaimed Property Fund in the name of the Participating 12 Class Member, and the Participating Class Member will remain bound by the Settlement. [Settlement
13 Agreement ¶ 81.]

14 IX. CONCLUSION

15 For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court preliminarily approve the 16 Settlement and schedule a Final Approval Hearing.
